1870-71.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF ST JOHN CITY AND COUNTY.

POPULATION in 1861, 48,922; in 1851, 38,475—increase, 10,447. Area, 414,720 acres; improved in 1861, 23,286 acres—increase of improved land in ten years, 1561 acres.

St John county is bounded on the north by King's county, on the west by Charlotte county, on the south by the Bay of Fundy, and on the east by Albert county. The agricultural capabilities of this county are not great. It has a low percentage of arable land, and with the exception of the marshes of Lancaster and Simonds, even that which can be cultivated is not of good quality; but the abundance of lime in the vicinity, and the proximity to a great city—the best produce market in the Dominion—give the farmers fine facilities for obtaining manures as well as for supplying the market at remunerative prices.

Although St John was discovered as early as 1604, very little progress had been made in settling it until the Loyalists landed in 1783. Its progress since that time has been constant; but when compared with that of Western cities, not very rapid.

The city of St John is situated upon a rocky peninsula which juts out into the bay; a part of it, however, lies upon the western side of the harbor, and is called Carleton. The population of the eastern part of the city in 1861 was 23,093, and of Carleton, 4224—in all, 27,317.

Owing to the almost entire suspension of shipbuilding in Carleton, its population has rather diminished than increased since that time. It is supplied with water, which is conducted about seven miles in a pipe composed of sheet-iron and hydraulic cement. The public buildings are a fine City Hall, a Masons' Hall, in course of erection, and a Temperance Hall. The only manufactories are five steam sawmills, one steam foundry, and a nail factory.

The east side literally teems with manufactories of various descriptions. Its tanneries, foundries, sawmills, sash and door factories, edgetool factories, nail and tack factories, boot and shoe factories, with many others of less note, drive a flourishing and apparently a profitable business. They have nearly annihilated the importation of the several articles which they produce.

The facilities afforded for the constant interchange of commodities between St John and the western parts of Nova Scotia, and the effects of confederation in removing the restrictions imposed upon trade by the customs departments, have stimulated commerce in general, and even created a large trade in the articles manufactured in St John.

The enterprise exhibited by the proprietors of newspapers exceeds even that of the merchants and manufacturers. Three daily newspapers, one semi-weekly, and ten weeklies, are doing a good business.

The three banks in St John are considered to be the safest in the Dominion. The stock of the Bank of New Brunswick has been selling at a very high premium—a sure indication that its business is large and profitable. The Bank of British North America, too, is a favorite with business men; the urbanity and popularity of the manager serve to augment its business, and give it a hold upon the community. The Bank of Montreal, lately established in the city, does the principal part of the Government business.

ALEXANDRA WORKS SAW FACTORY, corner North and George Streets, St John, N.B.

C. E. BURNHAM, Hair Cloth by the Yard or Piece, 53 & 55 Germain St, St John, N.B.

A ferry steamer plies between the two sides of the harbor during the day, but the accommodation rendered by it is unsatisfactory; it is irregular and uncertain even in fine weather; and in foggy or stormy weather its trips are suspended altogether.

Through the energy and perseverance of an American gentleman, W. K. Reynolds, Esq., St John has a street railway extending from Reid's Point Wharf to Indian Town in Portland, for the conveyance of passengers alone. The road is well managed, the cars are very good, and the low fare makes it available to every class of citizens.

The shore-fishing of the city of St John is very important, being, in 1861, worth $87,240, while that of the whole county was worth $115,923.

The parish of Portland lies northward from the city of St John. Its cotton mill, paper mill, sawmills, foundry, carriage factory, and shipyards, and, above all, its being the terminus of the river navigation, give it an importance, in proportion to its population, no less than that of the city itself. The terminus of the European and North American Railway being nearly on the boundary which divides Portland from the city, the land along that line has, in consequence, lately greatly increased in value, and the rugged heights of the southern part of the parish are dotted here and there with splendid mansions half hidden by the natural evergreens which clothe the sides of the hills.

The principal objects of interest are the bridge which connects Portland and Lancaster, and the falls which lie under it. The bridge is suspended 70 feet above high-water by wire cables which pass over massive granite towers, and presents a very fine appearance. It was built by W. K. Reynolds, Esq., and reflects much credit upon the architect. From the bridge one can get a very good view of the falls, which ought to be seen at high-water, as well as at low-water. At low-water he will see the waters of the River St John, which have been accumulating during a course of 450 miles, rush under his feet into the sea through a gorge 450 feet wide. The soft limestone which composes the walls of the fissure is gradually breaking away with the force of the torrent, and the falls are slowly changing their form. But what is most likely to attract the attention of a stranger is the fact that the torrent runs about as violently up the river at high-water as it does down the river at low-water. This phenomenon is thus explained:—The tide in the harbor below the falls rises to a much higher level than the waters of the St John above the falls, and so at high-water the tide must rush through the gorge into the river until the river waters rise, and the harbor waters subside to the same level; at that instant they are perfectly still, but the next minute they begin to move in an opposite direction. The water is still twice every tide, and for the space of about forty-five minutes the passage through the falls is safe for rafts and boats and vessels.

Lancaster, in point of population and manufactures, comes next after Portland. It contains some of the best sawmills, and some of the most enterprising lumber dealers in the province, among whom E. D. Jewett & Co. and A. Cushing & Co. deserve particular mention. Mr Jewett has lately erected a magnificent residence on the Carleton heights overlooking the city; and Robert C. Adams, Esq., a young and enterprising manufacturer of lumber, occupies a very fine building which he erected at great expense in the immediate neighborhood.

Fairville is a lively village near the terminus of the Western Extension Railway. It has a foundry, a carriage factory, and several stores; but the people depend chiefly upon the mills in the neighborhood for employment. Near it are the New Brunswick Oil Works, which were erected in 1853 to extract oil from the asphaltic coal raised in the county of Albert. Since the crude oil, however, has been obtained from wells, these works could not be run at a profit, and very little has for some years been done with them.

The parish of Simonds has a rough and broken surface. It contains the Almshouse, the Cemetery, the Penitentiary, a very extensive pottery, three cloth factories, and several shipyards. Here, too, lies the beautiful Loch Lomond, with several other smaller lakes in the same chain. These lakes being easily accessible from the city of St John, are the resort of many who can spare a leisure day for fishing or boating.

The parish of St Martin's lies in the eastern part of the county of St John. It contains numerous small streams which are turned to good account by the inhabitants. In 1861 there were 32 sawmills on it propelled by water. A great portion of the parish is still a forest, from which is drawn logs for the mills, and timber for the shipyards. Quaco is the only village in this parish, and a beautiful village it is. From Quaco West to Quaco East the distance is about four miles, thickly settled with a thriving population. Some years ago this was the centre of a large ship-building business, but since the recent decline in the price of wooden ships most of the yards have been unoccupied. James Moran, Esq., deserves particular mention in connection with the ship-building trade in Quaco. His ample fortune was made in the business; and even now, in the face of small gains or probable loss, he carries it on, giving remunerative employment to the industrious poor of the surrounding county.

GOOD STABLING ON THE PREMISES.

IMPORTANT TO BUILDERS.

Warren's Fire & Waterproof Roofing.

THE ADVANTAGES OF THE ABOVE-NAMED ROOFING MAY BE SUMMED UP AS FOLLOWS:—

It is both water-tight and fire-proof.
It will not expand and contract with heat and cold like metal roofs.
One inch to the foot is all the inclination required on the roof.
The roof can be used for drying purposes.
It is not injured by the jarring of machinery.
It will withstand more than double the heat of zinc, tin, or galvanized iron, without danger to the boarding beneath.
Firemen can stand upon it in perfect security, and control the fire in adjoining buildings.
Its cost is very much less than that of any other fire-proof roofing in use. Insurance is effected in the best offices at same rates as on buildings covered with other fire-proof materials.

AYER'S
HAIR VIGOR,

FOR RESTORING ITS NATURAL COLOR AND VITALITY TO THE HAIR.

IT has been prepared to meet the everywhere prevailing want of a safe and effectual restorative for the hair, which personal ornament is so essential to both our comeliness and comfort. A delightful dressing, it renders the hair soft, pliant and glossy, and perfumes it with an odour of rare delicacy, which is much admired. The VIGOR is in large request and high appreciation by ladies whose hair is so abundant as only to require a rich dressing. Where a preparation is not needed to restore color to the hair, this is highly beneficial in maintaining its vitality, and therewith its healthy growth and preservation. Stimulating the scalp, it promotes the natural moisture of the hair, and thus keeps it fresh, soft, and lustrous; hence weak, brashy hair is speedily invigorated and restored. As a dressing, it is superior to any other, and may be relied on to produce the desired effect without being offensive or injurious to the hair.

For RESTORING its natural color to faded or gray hair, use the VIGOR daily for a week or two. It never fails. When the full shade shall have returned, apply the VIGOR about once a week, as may be necessary to maintain it. There is no dye or coloring substance at all about the VIGOR. It makes no deposit of color which will rub from the hair; cannot soil the dress or the bedding, or leave any unpleasant odour, stickiness, or foulness upon the hair. Those who have plenty of hair, but unfortunately gray, will rejoice over the effect of the VIGOR, when they find that it restores their faded locks to the color and freshness of youth. All should keep their personal appearance agreeable to those around them; and fresh, bright hair does greatly soften the austerity of age. Gray hair gives, especially to ladies, a harsh, hard aspect, which, happily, now they do not need to wear, since this VIGOR so readily restores its color, and calls back the distinctive feature of youth again. Men, as well as women, are greatly improved by the restoration of their gray hair to its original color.

To color the whiskers, they should be thoroughly rubbed with the VIGOR at night, and then wrapped in a handkerchief or cloth, to retain the heat and moisture until morning. This treatment must be continually repeated, as the whiskers change much more slowly than the hair.

DANDRUFF in the hair betokens an unhealthy condition of the scalp, which, if not remedied, will ultimately destroy the roots of the hair. By its stimulating effect upon the scalp, the VIGOR restores its healthy action, and thus at once stops the uncleanly formation—a result which may be surely effected by a few applications of the VIGOR, and should not be neglected, because at that stage the preservation of the hair is so easy and so certain.

Heat or humor in the scalp, which makes the hair come out, is often wholly cured by a few applications of the VIGOR diluted with an equal part of water.

BALDNESS.—To reproduce hair on bald heads in persons advanced in years, it is sometimes, but not always, successful. Nothing will restore the hair where the glands are decayed and gone; but, if they are merely inactive, the VIGOR will correct this; and a new growth of hair follows naturally. The places where the new hair first starts are generally around the margin of the bald part, near the permanent hair, gradually extending upwards till the crown is covered more or less thickly with fine, soft hair. When the new hair has become plainly visible, excessive brushing should be guarded against; but the scalp should be sponged occasionally with soft water, and gently pressed and moved on the bone beneath by the finger-ends. This quickens the circulation, and removes the hardness which characterises places long bald. After a trial of a few weeks, if no effect is seen, then it is useless to continue the application; for, if new hair does not appear in a month, it will not at all.

When the hair has been lost by fevers or other active inflammatory diseases, the VIGOR rarely fails to reproduce it, and often in its full original strength and thickness.

ALBERT COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE county of Albert is bounded westerly by King's and St John counties, northerly and easterly by Westmoreland county and the Petitcodiac River, and southerly by the Bay of Fundy. It contains an area of 433,560 acres, and the population in 1861 amounted to 9444. It is divided into six parishes, namely, Hopewell, in which is situated the shiretown ; Hillsboro', famous for its agricultural resources and mineral wealth ; Elgin, abounding in fine forests of the sugar maple ; Coverdale, skirted with extensive and productive marshes ; Harvey, noted also for its fine marshes, and for its shad-fishery ; and Alma, bordering on St John county.

" Albert is exceedingly well watered, having, besides its eighty miles of ship navigation, numerous streams penetrating it in various directions." The soil of this county is generally fertile, and " no other county in the province possesses, in proportion to its extent, so great an abundance of marine and upland alluvial manures, or such facilities for bringing them into use. In addition to extensive tracts of interval, there are about 5000 acres of marsh skirting the Petitcodiac and other rivers." Hence the farmers of Albert are in a position to compete with those of any other county in the province.

MINERALS.—The minerals of Albert are coal, gypsum, limestone, grindstone, copper-ore, manganese, &c. The Albert Coal Mine, situated in Hillsboro', produces a peculiar quality of coal of great commercial value. It gives employment to about one hundred men. The establishment is under most judicious and efficient management, and the locality, with its beautiful church, schoolhouse, neat cottages, and cottage-gardens, together with the residence and grounds of the manager, presents to the visitor an interesting picture. The annual product of this mine probably amounts to about 100,000 dollars. Gypsum is also quarried largely in Hillsboro'. The company have an excellent steam mill in which it is ground and calcined, giving employment to upwards of sixty men.

Besides coal and gypsum, Albert exports lumber in considerable quantities, grindstone, building-stone, hay, &c., &c.

CARLETON COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

NEXT above York county, on the river St John, is Carleton, and, like it, is crossed diagonally by that stream. For agricultural purposes this county probably surpasses any in the Province. The land is exceedingly fertile and unbroken, there being scarcely a lot but what is capable of cultivation. This county is bounded on the south by York county, north by Victoria county, and west by the United States. It contains about three fourths of a million acres of land, and is well watered by numerous streams emptying into the St John, furnishing abundant water-power for mills and factories.

Large deposits of iron ore abound, and smelting is carried on quite extensively at Upper Woodstock. The metal is said to be of a very superior quality.

Woodstock, a town of some extent, sixty-two miles above Fredericton, is situated on the right bank of the St John, and is the shire-town of the county. The population of the county is rapidly on the increase, and "progress" is evidently their motto. Probably in no part of this Province can a poor man more readily make himself a home.

The new settlements of Glassville, Knowlsville, and Johnsville, on the eastern side of the river but a few years ago in a wilderness state, are now prosperous places, exporting grain and stock. The St Andrews Railroad has its terminus at Richmond, with a branch to Woodstock of about eleven miles in length, while a second branch is in course of construction to Holton, on the American side. The St Andrew's line, now tapped by Western Extension, will be extended, it is thought, to River de Loup in the province of Quebec.

Carleton contains eleven parishes, six on the western and five on the eastern side of the St John. The roads in this county are very good, and the industry and enterprise of the people are not surpassed in the Province; and no county exceeds it in the increase of its population. This, as well as the counties of York and Sunbury, is incorporated, and its affairs managed by a municipal council, two councillors being chosen for each parish by the people. Persons travelling can now, during the greater part of the summer, reach Woodstock by steamboat; or, if preferred, can take the cars either at St John, St Andrews, St Stephens, or Fredericton, and reach it the same evening. The schools of this county are in a tolerably prosperous condition, numbering over sixty, several of which are known as superior schools.

Religiously the inhabitants are much divided, more in name, however, than in spirit. The Free Baptist, having the largest following, may be said to be the most influential body in the county.

The following statistics are taken from the last census:—Population, 16,373; acres of land improved, 81,000; bushels of wheat raised, 27,000; potatoes, 213,000; lbs. of butter made, 486,000; and tons of hay, 30,000.

While Carleton may be said to be an agricultural county, yet large quantities of both lumber and metal are exported annually.

CHARLOTTE COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

CHARLOTTE county lies in the south-west part of New Brunswick, and is bounded on the south by the Bay of Fundy, on the west by the State of Maine, on the north by York and Sunbury counties, and east by Queen's, King's, and St John counties.

Although some points in this county were known and inhabited shortly after the discovery of the Province, little progress had been made in settling it until about a century ago. At intervals small parties from Scotland, Ireland, and the United States settled in the county; and the names of the parishes, St Andrew, St Patrick, St George, St David, &c., serve to indicate the nationality of the principal inhabitants of them.

The geology of this county is not calculated to allure the intelligent agriculturist by high hopes of an easy life. It contains but a low percentage of good land, but when the soil is cleared of stones, and cultivated with tolerable care, it yields the ordinary crops, with the exception of wheat, in average quantities.

The fisheries of Charlotte are very important, and form a considerable item of its commerce. Grand Manan, an island of about twenty miles in length, Campo Bello, an island about eight miles long, Deer Island, about twelve miles in length, with parts of St George and Pennfield, containing in all a population of about 4500, are the principal fishing stations. In 1861 these places produced fish for exportation to the value of 182,206 dollars. It is probable, however, that the reckless destruction of young herrings, which are killed for the oil which they contain, will, if permitted to continue, not only diminish the catch of herrings, but also that of the larger fish whose natural food they are.

The prosecution of the lumber trade, which was more or less directly the means of settling the wild lands of Charlotte, still continues to be the principal basis of its commerce.

St Andrews, the shire-town, situated on a beautiful peninsula which juts out into the Passamaquoddy Bay, owes its origin chiefly to the trade in pine-timber; the same may be said of St George, while the towns upon the St Croix have been built up by the trade in small lumber.

St Stephen, 23 miles above St Andrews, is situated upon the left bank of the St Croix River. Being at the head of the tide, it soon became a powerful rival to St Andrews in competing for the up-river trade. St Andrews was distanced in the race; and previous to the opening of the St Andrews and Woodstock railway, the grass began to cover its once well-trodden and busy streets; the opening of that line, however, revived and improved it very much, and for a time the game went against St Stephen. The merchants of St Stephen soon discovered that they must build a railroad to connect with the St Andrews and Woodstock line, or allow St Andrews to enjoy the advantages of the trade of the Upper St John. A branch to St Stephen has lately been built, and now the merchants of St Stephen carry on a lucrative trade with the counties of Carleton, Victoria, and adjacent parts of the State of Maine. Among the most successful lumber merchants of Charlotte may be mentioned Alexander Gibson, Esq., who lately removed to York; Hon. William Todd; F. H. Todd, Esq.; George Boardman, Esq.; E. Eaton, Esq.; John McAdam, Esq., M.P.; and James Murchie, Esq. Those gentlemen have done much to develop the resources of the county and add to its material wealth.

Milltown is a beautiful little town about three miles above St Stephen proper, and on the same side of the St Croix. As indicated by the name, it is the seat of many of the best watermills in the Province, and the background is studded with the mansions of its enterprising merchants, who in a short time have made themselves rich in the lumber business. The energy and care with which these men prosecute the lumber business would surprise men from the northern and eastern parts of the Province. The hemlock, after being denuded of its bark, is here left to rot in the forest, but there it is gathered with the greatest care and converted into valuable planks and boards. An immense amount of money is every year spent in building dams, sluices, and canals upon the head waters of the St Croix, in order to afford facilities to float the logs to the mills.

Opposite to St Stephen, on the right bank of the St Croix, lies her twin sister, Calais, in the State of Maine. During the war of 1812 the inhabitants of these two towns agreed to live peaceably with each other, and the two Governments winked at the arrangement. The friendship and goodwill existing at that time has been increasing ever since, and now the people are so thoroughly united, that, were it not for the River St Croix, a stranger would be unable to tell where Her Majesty's dominion ended, and where that of President Grant began.

The soil of Charlotte, resting upon trap and granite formations, is not nearly so well adapted to making and maintaining good roads as the gravelly soil of the coal measures to be met in the northern and eastern parts of the Province, and hence the roads are expensive and usually not very good.

Population in 1861, 23,663; in 1851, 19,938; increase, 3725. Area, 783,360 acres; improved in 1861, 54,686 acres; increase of improved land in ten years, 9030 acres; unimproved in 1861, 251,333 acres; ungranted in 1861, 477,241.

GLOUCESTER COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county, lying in the north-east of New Brunswick, is separated from the Province of Quebec by the Bay Chaleur. Its shire-town is Bathurst, which was settled by one Enard, a Frenchman, about the year 1639; but the English settled there about sixty years ago. The town is connected by a magnificent bridge, about half a mile long, with St Peter's village. This village threatens at no distant day to be the town, and what is now the town will be its suburb. The Intercolonial Railroad will pass through it, and one of the principal depots will be located there. As one emerges from the Miramichi road, weary, lonely, and hungry, the sight of Bathurst and the village is truly enchanting. A more beautiful spot than Bathurst village is not to be found in New Brunswick.

The Acadian French formed considerable settlements at Petit Rocher, Caraquet, Shippegan, and Tracadie, and some other points in the county, and their descendants still form a large majority of the inhabitants of Gloucester. In the parishes of Beresford, Bathurst, and New Bandon, the English and French populations are about equally divided; but in Caraquet, Shippegan, Inkermann, and Saumerez, the population is almost entirely French, who are poor, ignorant, and superstitious. Few of them attempt any commercial transactions, and their wretched system of farming would soon exhaust any soil. Except Bathurst and Beresford, Gloucester rests upon a sandstone formation. It is gently undulating; the soil is generally light, but well adapted to raising root crops and cereals; and under the hands of Scotch and Irish settlers it yields abundantly. In the parishes of Bathurst and Beresford, however, owing to the abundance of lime available, the prospects for farming successfully are much more encouraging; and where it is conducted upon scientific principles, the returns are very satisfactory. The best upland farm in New Brunswick is situated near the village of St Peter's, or Bathurst village, and is owned by Senator Ferguson, whose operations, being conducted in the light of science and modern art, are rewarded by remunerative returns. Mr Ferguson's land yields about 28 bushels of wheat, 32 bushels of oats, and $2\frac{3}{4}$ tons of hay, to the acre. Unlike the southern and western counties of the Province, in both Gloucester and Restigouche wheat is considered a sure crop. Buckwheat is beginning to be more cultivated than formerly, but it is not considered here a more profitable crop than oats.

The roads in this county are very good, and the bridges which have been recently built reflect much credit upon the Hon. Mr Kelly, the chief commissioner of the Board of Works. A new road from Tracadie to Bathurst is in course of construction, and upon it lie about 5000 acres of good land, recently surveyed by the Government, and ready to be sold to actual settlers at merely nominal rates.

The steam-mills of the Hon. J. Ferguson are the only manufactories of lumber of any note in the county. Although the Nigadoo, the Bass River, the Tetagouche, and the Nepisaguit could furnish an immense amount of water-power at a trifling expense, these natural advantages are not turned to any account.

In the parish of New Bandon there are several strata of grey sandstone, which are quarried into excellent grindstones; these can be obtained of any desired magnitude, and almost of any grit. The trimmings of the grindstones might furnish material for large quantities of scythestones, but they are allowed to lie upon the beach in heaps until the waves reduce them again to sand. From one to two hundred men are usually employed during the summer in these quarries. The men form the grindstones upon the shore and take them in lighters to vessels lying in the offing. They are usually sold in Boston and New York.

Both deep-sea and shore fishing are prosecuted by the inhabitants of Gloucester with much ardor and energy. The Freeings and the Robins have made themselves rich in the trade; and lately another firm, the Petries, have come in to participate in the gains. The Hon. Robert Young at Caraquet, John Young, Esq., at Tracadie, and the Hon. William Taylor at Shippegan, also prosecute the fisheries to a considerable extent. The firm of Armstrong & Co. of Youghall has lately erected an extensive apparatus for freezing salmon by artificial means. In a few hours they can freeze a cartload of salmon, so that each fish shall be as hard as a rock. In this state they are kept in cool chambers until winter, when they are shipped of to Boston and New York. These gentlemen can hardly fail of making a fortune as a reward for their skill, enterprise, and energy.

Population in 1861, 15,076; in 1851, 11,704—increase in ten years, 3372. Area, 1,037,440 acres; improved in 1861, 35,355; increase in ten years, 16,043 acres; unimproved, 147,389 acres; ungranted, 864,746 acres.

KENT COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

ONE hundred years ago this county was an unbroken wilderness, and for some years later was inhabited only by a few Acadian French squatters, who eked out a precarious subsistence by fishing and cultivating a few vegetables. Some time after, English and Scotch settlers began to make it their home; and finding abundance of pine timber, as well as material suitable for building ships, they soon began to prosecute the timber and shipbuilding trades to a considerable extent. After the large pine suitable for square timber was exhausted, the deal trade began to take its place, and between 1830 and 1850 shipbuilding and manufacturing deals formed the basis for the commerce of the county. In the mean time, Scotch and Irish immigrants had taken possession of what are now fine settlements; and the French too, following their example, began to form back settlements upon the Cocagne, Buctouche, Mihalas, the North-West, and Kouchibouguac rivers.

Richibucto is the shire-town, and is situated a few miles from the mouth of the Richibucto River. It is a very pleasant town; the streets are well laid out and remarkably clean; but the appearance of the town would be much improved if many of the primitive shanties would give place to more modern structures.

Kingston is a very pleasant village about two miles above Richibucto. Formerly great activity prevailed here in shipbuilding; but this branch of business has now almost vanished from the county, though the Jardine Brothers still carry on the shipbuilding business here. They have already made themselves rich in it; and although certain that their profits must now be small, they prosecute their works in the face of a dull market. They give employment to the inhabitants of a large village, and sustain the best school in the county. George McLeod, Esq., transacts a large lumber and shipping business here; his fine mills on the Kouchibouguac River do credit to his enterprise and energy.

Kent lies upon the same sandstone formation which extends from Bathurst to the shore of the Bay of Fundy. It is gently undulating, and well watered by streams, necessarily small on account of their number and the proximity of the watershed which divides them from the waters that fall into the Bay of Fundy. The mouths of the Cocagne, the Buctouche, and the Richibucto rivers would form excellent harbors but for the "bars" or sandbanks at the entrance to them.

The soil of Kent is generally light, but well suited to general farming. Wheat is considered not a very sure crop, but all other cereals and the root crops are raised here in great abundance; and the settlements which are not inhabited by lumbering farmers and fishing farmers present a fine appearance. In Cocagne, Buctouche, Galoway, Mihalas River, and Kouchibouguac, the farmers are generally in a state of independence and comfort. Lately they have turned their attention in the winter season to raising large quantities of mussel-mud and other marine deposits, by means of gins worked by horses, which, being applied to the land, increases its fertility very much; and the proximity of the European and North American Railway gives them ready access to the markets of St John.

The population of Kent is about equally divided between the French and English; and the French being—involuntarily perhaps—mixed with the English-speaking inhabitants, are much less uncivilised than those of Gloucester and Northumberland. Many of the more intelligent of them, seeing that the business of the county is carried on in English, are halting between veneration for their mother-tongue, which they regard almost as a religious duty, and the prospect of commercial, political, and social advantages, which can be attained only by a knowledge of English.

PATRICK BOWERS, Bookseller and Stationer, Water Street, St Stephen.

CARMAN & SMITH, Dealers in Lumber, Buctouche Village and Richibucto.

The advantages possessed by the inhabitants of this county for prosecuting the fishing business are not utilised to any great extent. The river-fisheries have been destroyed by damming up the streams, and the oyster-fishing is in danger of the same fate by reckless raking. Lately an enterprising American set up a fishing establishment at Richibucto; but generally speaking the immense shoals of spring and fall herrings, mackerel, and salmon—some of which swarm on the shores at all times of the summer season—are allowed to return again to the ocean in perfect safety.

Population in 1861, 15,854; in 1851, 11,410—increase, 4444. Area, 1,026,400 acres; improved in 1861, 55,186; increase of improved land in ten years 19,690 acres; unimproved in 1861, 164,732; ungranted, 806,482.

KING'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

GEOGRAPHICALLY King's county is favorably situated. But a short distance from the sea-board, its "broad acres" and fertile valleys are beyond the rock-bound coast and dense fogs of the Bay of Fundy. It is in shape trapezoidal, its parallel sides running longitudinally. Westward it is intersected by the St John River, emptying into which from the east are the Kennebecasis, about eighty miles long, and the Bellisle, each of which is fed by many tributary streams; the Kennebecasis by Ward's Creek and Hammond River from the south, and by Smith's Creek and Millstream from the north. Both of these spread out into spacious bays before entering the St John, on the borders of which, and to their sources, the scenery is varied and magnificent, and the soil fertile, making this one of the richest, if not the richest, agricultural region of the Province. The county at the western extremity is narrow, the soil for the most part less fertile, and the country hilly and dotted with numerous small lakes; but as the county widens towards the north and east into the broad fertile valleys of the Kennebecasis, Bellisle, Hammond, and Sussex, the agricultural importance of the county becomes greater. The soil of the county, especially in the central and upper portions, is well adapted for the growth of hay, oats, buckwheat, potatoes, and vegetables, which, with butter and cheese, are sent in great quantities to St John and other markets.

Within the past few years three cheese factories have been established in the county—at Sussex, Penobsquis, and Dutch Valley. These are well patronised, and produce about 1000 pounds per day of cheese of superior quality. The inhabitants of this section have fine grazing farms, and push farming operations with steadiness and industry, not allowing other pursuits to divide their time and energies.

The mineral wealth of King's county is but partially known, but the different mines that have been discovered and worked are found to be of fine quality and productive. Iron ores exist in abundance, and ores of lead in Norton Parish. Many public and private buildings in St John and elsewhere are built wholly or in part of the granite found and quarried on the right bank of the St John, above Long Reach, in this county. Fine oilstone and slate are procured from the banks of the Moosehorn Brook at Norton. Saltsprings exist at Sussex Vale and on a small tributary of the Hammond River. Those at Sussex Vale have for some years produced salt of peculiarly fine quality; but owing to the destruction of the works by fire this important manufacture has for the time become dormant. The origin of these springs is unsettled. Some suppose the cause to be from some chemical action in the bowels of the earth; others, that they are produced by the solution of beds of rock-salt. Certain it is that the soil for some distance around these springs is strongly impregnated with salt. Manganese is being profitably worked at the "Markhamville Manganese Mines" in Hammond, near Sussex. About forty men are employed. Returns show that in 1867-68 861 tons were exported, valued at 19,019 dollars.

The papermill at Penobsquis bids fair to become one of the most important manufacturing institutions in the Dominion. Over sixty persons are employed, and the number is being steadily increased. Not only is the manufacture well patronised by consumers in New Brunswick, but large quantities are exported to other parts of the Dominion. We have been informed by one of the company engaged in the enterprise that new machinery will shortly be introduced, and that henceforth they will endeavor to make the supply equal to the demand.

At Hampton there is a large lumber factory, connected with which is a factory for the manufacture of matches. These, with a company for the manufacture of the "Excelsior Blacking," are under the superintendence of the Messrs Flewelling, and are all doing a flourishing business. Ship-building is prosecuted to a considerable extent at Clifton and other points on the Kennebecasis. There are in the county eighty sawmills, fifty gristmills, twenty tanneries, and twelve carding and weaving establishments. It is a noteworthy fact that the manufacturing interests of King's county, where properly directed, have not suffered from lack of adequate support. A few days since, I called upon the head of one of the manufacturing establishments above mentioned soliciting advertising patronage for the Directory. He said it could be no possible benefit for him to advertise, as he had more than he could do to attend to present demand—an answer that is certainly deserving of note, showing, as it does, that our industrial interests in the manufacturing line might be prosecuted on a more enlarged scale.

In this county there are thirteen parishes, namely—Westfield, Greenwich, Kingston, Kars, Springfield, Studholm, Havelock, Sussex, Norton, Hammond, Upham, Hampton, and Rothsay.

Kingston Village has hitherto been the shire-town, but Ossekeag, on the line of railway, has lately been selected as a more convenient site.

Hampton, twenty-five miles, and Sussex, forty-four miles from St John, are large villages, Sussex especially having risen rapidly in importance during the past few years.

King's county was settled by the loyalists at Kingston and Sussex.

Population in 1861, 25,247; area, 561,186 acres.

NORTHUMBERLAND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county is bounded on the north by Gloucester county and Restigouche; on the east by the Gulf of St Lawrence; on the south by Kent; and stretches towards the west till it meets Victoria, York, and Sunbury counties.

The harbor of Miramichi, the only one in the county, is obstructed at its mouth by a "bar" or sandbank. The Miramichi River empties into it. This is a magnificent stream, and second in size only to the St John; but above the tide it is too rapid and too shoal for navigation, other than for canoes and scows. These scows, loaded with merchandise, are drawn against the current by horses for fifty miles. The bottom of the stream is so smooth that this work can be performed with ease and considerable rapidity. Spruce and pine logs are driven more than a hundred miles; and the lumber cut in the winter is floated this great distance in the following spring without dams or sluices.

The towns are:—Chatham, on the right bank of the Miramichi, and about thirty miles from its mouth. Chatham, is a straggling dingy town, about a mile long, and three or four blocks wide. It is situated on a pretty spot, but it was spoiled in the making. Douglastown is a good-sized village, about two miles above Chatham, upon the opposite bank of the river. Formerly a large business was transacted in it; but now it impresses upon the traveller a disagreeable sense of decay. Above Douglastown, and about four miles distant, is Newcastle, the shire-town of the county. It is not so large nor so important a place as Chatham is, but its neat and tidy appearance strikes a traveller favorably.

The French settlements in this county boast of considerable antiquity. As early as 1673, a considerable French village existed near the mouth of the river, and there was a small town on Beauberes Island, about a mile above Newcastle; but the British settlements do not date back more than a hundred years.

Previous to 1825, the valley of the Miramichi was almost an unbroken pine forest. The summer of that year was very dry, and the drought extended far into October. The forests had for many years been the scene of great activity; the dry pine branches, and the chips from the squared timber, lay through the woods in great quantities—a spark would set the whole county in a blaze. Unfortunately, on the 7th of October 1825, that spark was applied. The fire raged with inconceivable fury; the immense heat soon disturbed the equilibrium of the superincumbent atmosphere, and a gale of terrific violence set in from the north-west, which fanned the already too dry fuel into irresistible flames. Every means of escape were cut off from those who lived at any considerable distance from the river; the wild animals were terrified into tameness, and the tame animals were driven to distraction. The moose, the wolf, the bear, the deer, mingled with the horses, the cows, the sheep, the dogs, and human beings; and all, forgetful of their natural instincts, crouched together in the heated waters of the Miramichi. Towards evening the fire approached Newcastle, and pen or pencil can never give any adequate idea of the horrors of that awful night. The church, the stores, and the houses, in the morning presented a mass of smoking ruins, and the wretched survivors saved their lives only by escaping to the river. Northumberland never recovered from that terrible blow; one hundred and sixty persons perished; a million dollars' worth of goods were destroyed, and more than three millions of acres of the best timber lands in the Province were rendered valueless. The heads of the river and its affluents, which escaped that terrible conflagration, afford a good supply of lumber still; but lumbering is not a profitable business now, although it is prosecuted to a considerable extent. Ten steam sawmills and a few watermills are employed every year cutting deals and battens, which are exported to Europe. In 1869 there were shipped at Miramichi 24,608,180 sq. feet of deals and battens, and 1,096,600 sq. feet of boards.

The shipbuilding and lumber businesses have, from a variety of causes, been rather disastrous to those engaged in them. The houses of Gillmore & Rankine of Douglastown, Hon. William Muirhead, and Alexander Morrison, Esq., of Chatham, do a large business still.

During the year 1869, the firm of J. & J. Miller erected a very extensive manufactory at Derby, about eight miles above Newcastle, for obtaining the extract of hemlock bark, which they export at highly remunerative prices. The factory consumes about sixty cords of bark a day, and goes winter and summer. The destruction of hemlock, from which this great quantity of bark is taken, must be immense; and when it is considered that the trunks of the trees are permitted to lie in the woods and rot, it may well be doubted whether, after all, this branch of industry will be a permanent advantage to the county.

As a general rule, the land in Northumberland is not well suited to successful farming, but the soil on some of the rivers is very good. Along the valleys of the Tabusintac, the Bartibogue, the Napan River, the Black River, the Renous, the North-west, and the Little South-west, the land is very productive, and, with the high prices almost always obtainable in Miramichi, farming might be made a profitable business.

Owing to the depression of the shipbuilding and lumbering businesses, there has been, for a few years past, a large exodus of people from the upper and middle parishes of this county to the United States, so considerable that probably the census of 1871 will not show a great increase of population over that of 1861, if, indeed, taking out the railway operatives, it will not show a decline.

The salmon-fishing of Miramichi is a very considerable item in its commerce. Formerly nearly the whole of these valuable fish were put up in cans hermetically sealed, and exported to Europe and the United States; but now large quantities of them are every year packed in ice, and shipped via St John to Boston and New York.

Population in 1861, 18,801; in 1851, 15,064—increase in ten years, 3,737. Area, 2,980,000 acres; improved in 1861, 40,800 acres; increase of improved land in ten years, 10,579 acres; unimproved in 1861, 223,571 acres; ungranted, 2,715,629 acres.

QUEEN'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

QUEEN'S county is bounded on the north by Sunbury county, on the east by Kent and Westmoreland counties, on the south by King's county, and on the west by Charlotte county. The river St John divides it into two very unequal parts, and the Washadamoak and Grand Lakes divide one of these yet again into three other parts.

Although settlements were made in this county shortly after the discovery of the river St John in 1604, no considerable progress had been made in developing its resources until some of the loyalists settled here in 1784; since that time Queen's county has been slowly but steadily advancing.

Gagetown, the capital of it, situated upon the right bank of the St John, about forty miles from its mouth, is a very pleasant village; the neat cottages and the extensive tracts of intervale in its neighborhood give it an air of ease and comfort really refreshing.

The alluvial deposits along the banks of the St John are exceedingly fertile, yielding in some parts, without culture, two or three tons of hay to the acre. This intervale hay, besides being a source of wealth to the owners of the soil, is exceedingly valuable to the remote settlers, who are enabled, on very easy terms, to get the rough hay, which is unfit for exportation, to feed their own cattle upon their farms, thus adding at once to their available property and the fertility of their lands.

The dark sandstone of the coal region, which readily undergoes disintegration when exposed to the action of frost and the atmosphere, underlies the soil of a large portion of this county. The upland, therefore, although well suited to raising grain and root crops, does not produce great crops of hay without careful cultivation. Wheat is rather an uncertain crop in this county, but its place is supplied by buckwheat, oats, and barley, which are produced in great abundance.

The Western Extension Railway passes through a corner of this county, but it never can be of great use to a large number of the farmers; the river St John must always be their great highway. Although the county is scarcely thirty miles wide, the river and lakes give it about one hundred miles of steamer and schooner navigation. During the winter the farmers cut large quantities of cordwood, and draw it to the shores of the river and lakes, without interfering to any considerable extent with their agricultural operations, and ship the wood during the following summer with a certainty of a ready market, cash payments, and a quick return. Upon the whole, the farmers of Queen's county have admirable opportunities of securing, not only a competency on easy terms, but even of amassing considerable wealth.

The shores of the Washadamoak and Grand Lakes were originally settled by Scotch Highlanders, whose numerous descendants still occupy prominent positions in the county. The Robertsons of Scotch Town, the McLeans of Cumberland Bay, the McAlpines, the McDonalds, the Murrays of Cambridge, and the Penders of Jerusalem, represent much of the energy and intelligence of the county. John Robertson, Esq., of Cambridge, opposite to Scotch Town, conducts his agricultural operations with an extraordinary degree of intelligence and success. He is sure to be the first in the market with all kinds of native garden or field vegetables; and during the summer and autumn, twice every week the steamers bring quantities of produce from his farm to supply the markets of St John.

John Terris, Esq., member of the House of Commons, is one of the few who made an ample fortune by the lumber trade, and still sustains his position. By his energy and business capacity he advanced from small beginnings to be the most wealthy and influential man in the county.

Although more or less coal underlies the greater part of the county, paying veins have been found only in the parishes of Canning and Chipman. The coal is highly bituminous, and runs together while burning; it is an excellent coal for smiths, but not so well suited for house use. In 1861, 2800 tons were raised; but since that time the annual produce has been much increased by the opening of several new mines in the parish of Chipman. The conveniences for transporting the coal to market are very good. It is drawn in carts from the mines, and shipped on board schooners, which carry it to St John. A cheap railroad might be built from the shore to the Rapids, where the best coal is raised. This would greatly reduce the cost of transportation, and be a profitable investment to the owners of it.

The lumber business of Queen's county, like that of all other parts of New Brunswick, has been rather disastrous to the majority of those engaged in it. However, it is nearly at an end now, and the only sources of industry will shortly be mining and agriculture, both of which, when prosecuted with reasonable intelligence and industry, yield fair returns.

Population in 1861, 13,359; in 1851, 10,634—increase, 2725; area, 961,280 acres; improved land in 1861, 85,423 acres; increase of improved land in 10 years, 21,704 acres; unimproved in 1861, 268,151 acres; ungranted, 607,606 acres.

RESTIGOUCHE COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county lies in the extreme north of New Brunswick, and is separated from the Province of Quebec by a portion of the Bay Chaleur and the Restigouche River, which is about 250 miles long, draining some of the best timberlands in the province. Robert Ferguson, Esq. of Athol House (three miles above Campbelton), was the first permanent settler in the county. His good lady is living still, and his sons, worthy representatives of such a father, occupy the old homestead. For some years after Mr Ferguson's settlement, the increase of immigrants was small; the Indian and the beaver, unmolested by the presence of civilisation, held undisputed possession of the country; magnificent forests skirted the shores of the bay, and huge pines proudly stretched their branches over the sea, almost reaching the ships which were destined to carry their trunks across the Atlantic.

About forty years ago, a colony of Highlanders from Arran, an island off the west coast of Scotland, arrived and spread themselves along the coast from Dalhousie towards Belledune. Of course roads were unknown, and the only means of transit was by boats, or "beaching it" along the strand; and many a lady still hale and hearty will interest the tourist by relating incidents of their journey on horseback for more than forty miles to Bathurst to be married, fording the mouths of rivers, and travelling along the gravelly beach when the tide was out, and clambering up the banks, grazing their horses, and gathering wild fruits or flowers at high-water. But the axe and the hoe of these sturdy Highlanders soon changed the picture; the margin of the forest by degrees receded from the shore, the blazed path through the dense underbrush was succeeded by the turnpike road, and the saddle gave place to the cart and the waggon.

The agricultural resources of this county are second to none in the Province. Lime and marl are abundant; a very large percentage of the land is arable, and it has very justly been pronounced by Professor Johnston to be the best upland in the Province. The land is remarkably free from stone; and even among the high mountains of the upper parishes, the soil is deep and exceedingly fertile. The common cereals, with the exception of Indian corn, are produced in abundance, and the weight of them compares favorably with that obtained even in Prince Edward Island; but hitherto the absence of a good market has damped the enterprise of the farmers. This cause of discouragement, however, will shortly be removed, for the Intercolonial Railway enters the county about 15 miles above Campbelton, and traverses the whole length of it. At present, the land skirting the shore only is occupied in most places, and abundance of Government land, within a short distance of the railway, can be had at merely nominal prices.

The climate of Restigouche has been represented as being much more rigorous than that of the rest of the Province, and its snowstorms as being something dreadful; but these are not facts. The winter is much more pleasant here than in St John or Westmoreland. The humid atmosphere of the counties skirting the Bay of Fundy being a much better conductor of heat than the dry atmospere of the north, one feels more uncomfortable in St John, with the mercury at zero, than he does in Dalhousie, with its ten degrees below that point.

The banks of the Restigouche and its tributaries abound in lumber of the very best description; and although it can be put into the tide at a trifling expense, the state of the markets abroad does not induce capitalists to embark largely in this branch of industry.

The salmon-fishing furnishes a great, but somewhat precarious source of wealth to those engaged in it. Some of the fish are packed in snow, and shipped to the Upper St Lawrence; but by far the greatest part is put up in cans, hermetically seated, and exported to Europe. This "canning" is considered a risky business. When the fish come to be shipped, great quantities are often found to be wholly spoiled. This, no doubt, is due to certain causes which chemistry has not yet pointed out with exactitude sufficiently clear to enable manufacturers to escape occasional loss and disappointment. But when the Intercolonial Railroad shall have given the fishermen of the Bay Chaleur ready access to the markets of the United States, the canning of these valuable fish will cease, and they will be packed in ice, and exported west and south.

The roads of Restigouche are admirable, and, owing to the nature of the soil, when they are once built, they cost very little for repairs. The settlements being nearly in one continuous line, the postal system is exceedingly simple and economical, although a daily mail is established throughout the county up to the Metapediac.

The natural scenery is the most magnificent to be found on this continent; it is unsurpassed by even the Highlands on the Hudson River in New York; and many tourists of means and leisure from other parts of Canada, and from the United States, spend some weeks here every year, to enjoy the delightful climate, and fine piscatorial sports of the Restigouche.

The population in 1861 was 4874; in 1851, 4161; increase, 713. Total area, 1,500,000 acres; improved land in 1861, 14,628 acres; increase in ten years, 5733 acres; unimproved, 63,318 acres; ungranted, 1,422,061 acres.

SUNBURY COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

SUNBURY county is one of seven through which the River St John flows, being nearly bisected by it. Although once the home of the whole Province, or the only county in the Province, it is now the smallest of the fourteen counties.

On the south-east it is bounded by Queen's county, on the north-west by York county, and is divided into six parishes, three on each side of the river.

The scenery upon the river is very pretty, and the lands in the parishes of Mangerville and Sheffield are very productive, being flooded every spring by the freshets. Hay is produced in abundance, and goes far to supply the St John market.

At the mouth of the Oromocto, eleven miles below Fredericton, in the parish of Burton, is quite a village, at which vessels are almost constantly in course of construction. A little below this, on the bank of the River St John, are the courthouse and gaol; thence to Queen's county line, the parish is thickly settled, many families having moved from the low grounds on the opposite side to reside upon the high lands of Burton. The parish of Blissville, in the western part of the county, has the advantage of a railway (Western Extension), which passes through it, with a branch to Fredericton; this, with the fertile soil on the two branches of the Oromocto stream, gives it an advantage that few inland or remote parishes have. There are several lakes in the county, the principal of which are French and Maquapet; these abound with fish, and afford very pleasant scenery.

The agricultural capabilities of the county, like those of the Province at large, have never yet been fully tested. Now that the timber has been nearly exhausted by the past lumbering operations, by the late severe gale, and by the more recent fires, the people will be obliged to turn their attention more to farming, which will not only add to the beauty of the county, but place its business on a less fluctuating basis, and make the people feel more independent, giving leisure for self-improvement, thus adding to their present general intelligence, and hence to their happiness.

The schools, although not rapidly increasing in numbers, are improving in efficiency. Besides the common schools, amounting to about twenty-five in number, there are the Sheffield Academy, or County Grammar School, with between eighty and one hundred pupils, and some two or three superior schools, doing excellent work.

Almost every denomination of religion known in the Province is represented here. The places of worship are comfortable, and sufficiently large to accommodate the people. Taken as a whole, a more orderly and moral people cannot be found in the Province.

Although the county is small, much of the land is capable of cultivation, yet such are its advantages from water conveyances and railroads, and its numerous opportunities for manufacturing, that it is destined to play no mean part among the counties of the Province, and, in some respects, will not be excelled by any.

VICTORIA COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county, which was formerly a part of Carleton, lies to the extreme north and west of the Province, having for its southern boundary, Carleton county; western, the State of Maine; northern, the Province of Quebec and county of Restigouche.

The River St John forms the boundary on the American side, till within about two miles of the Grand Falls, at which point the boundary (a north and south line), established by the Ashburton Treaty, strikes the river.

Grand Falls, the shire-town, about 200 miles above the St John City, receives its name from the magnificent cataract found at this place. In grandeur, taking into account the gorge below, and the wild rushing of the waters through the almost perpendicular rocks, it is probably not surpassed, save by that of the Niagara, in all America.

This town, being the centre of the lumber trade on the Upper St John, is a place of some importance; and in proportion as that trade fluctuates, so must the prosperity of the "Falls," as the shire-town is laconically styled.

Above this point are four parishes, settled chiefly by French, who are not enterprising in any sense; yet they are a happy and contented people, living chiefly by farming, and being of a prudent turn, they are generally prosperous. The common schools among these people are quite numerous, numbering above twenty, besides the "St Basil Academy;" yet there is but little ambition to procure a better education for their children than to enable them to repeat the Catechism. An improved state of feeling on this point is being awakened.

Should the St Andrew's Railway be continued to River de Loup, which must pass through this county, as is now confidently expected, this section of the Province will be vastly benefited. At and below the Falls, the inhabitants are of English descent, and show greater signs of enterprise and progress.

The land on the Tobique—a large and long stream flowing into the St John from the east, about twenty-four miles below the Grand Falls—is rapidly becoming settled. This section of the county on the Tobique River is destined to be one of the most prosperous parts of the Province.

The land in this county, as well as that of Carleton, is well adapted for agricultural purposes; hence these counties, although comparatively new, are prosperous. The schools in this part of the county show great room for improvement; too much indifference is manifested by all classes on this important subject. Victoria is not yet incorporated; its local affairs being managed by a bench of magistrates. This, with the other six river counties, forms a rich and varied scenery rarely surpassed, and to the enterprising they open up fields of unequalled opportunities for business in almost any and every avocation.

The population in 1861 was 7701, with 33,000 acres of cleared land. The census of 1871 will most likely show a rapid increase in the prosperity of the county.

WESTMORELAND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

WESTMORELAND is situated in the south-east angle of the Province of New Brunswick, and is connected with the county of Cumberland, Nova Scotia, by an isthmus of twelve miles, across which it is proposed to construct a canal. South-west of the isthmus, it faces Cumberland and Chignecto bays; and is divided from Albert county by the Petitcodiac river for the greater part of the distance. Westerly, it bounds on King's county; northerly, on Kent county; and easterly, for about sixty miles, on the Bay and Straits of Northumberland.

This county has a navigable water frontage of one hundred and twenty miles; and the interior is traversed by numerous rivers and small streams, some of which, running in opposite directions, interlock with each other.

A detailed description of the agricultural and commercial capabilities of this county, and the progress made in their development, together with its other attributes, would far exceed the limits allotted me in the pages of your Directory.

Westmoreland is divided into seven parishes, namely—Salisbury in the west, Moncton and Shediac in the north-west, Dorchester, Sackville, and Westmoreland in the south-east, and Batsford in the east. The county contains 878,440 acres.

Its chief harbors and shipping ports are at Dorchester, Sackville, Shediac, and Bay Verte. There are several other good harbors for small-class vessels.

The surface of this county is generally undulating. There are a few hilly ridges, however, which extend, like the fingers of the human hand, towards the head waters of the Bay of Fundy; and west of the town of Moncton a few hills of moderate height range across the country.

The progress of Westmoreland may be ascertained from the following brief description of its parishes:—

Dorchester, the shire-town of the county, has extensive tracts of marsh lining the banks of the Memramcook and Petitcodiac rivers. That on the former, together with the rich uplands which extend inland from the marshes, render this parish a good agricultural section. The Eastern Extension Railway traverses a considerable extent of the parish. Descendants of the Acadian French form a large part of its inhabitants. At Memramcook the Roman Catholics have a collegiate institution of education, which is under the control of very efficient teachers. In 1851 the population of this parish numbered 3620; in 1861 it was 4845; and at present it numbers about 6200.

Sackville has the largest extent of marsh land of any parish in the Lower Provinces. The uplands facing the marsh are beautifully situated, and highly adapted for tillage; and in the interior, there are also extensive tracts of good land. Along its marsh frontage is one of the most compact and thickly-settled communities in the Provinces. Here the Methodists have two academies, male and female, a theological college, and lecture hall. The academical institutions and college are highly efficient, and exercise a great influence over the community as well as over the Lower Provinces. The stores, farmhouses, and other buildings are neat structures. It is intersected by the railroad. It has its ships and shipyards. Sackville boasts of two newspapers, the Borderer and Chignecto Post. These papers are well sustained, and exercise a healthy influence over the country at large. Population in 1851, 3078; in 1861, 3759; and at present, about 4400.

Westmoreland Parish is one of the oldest settlements in the Lower Provinces. The country near Kent, Cumberland, and the old French road to Bay Verte, which follows nearly in the path of the present road, were settled about a century and a quarter ago. This parish, like that of Sackville, has large tracts of rich marsh land, sharing with that parish in the "Great Marsh," besides considerable tracts at Bay Verte. Its oldest settled uplands, first occupied by the Acadians, are far inferior to the unsettled lands of the interior, where a hundred families might obtain a hundred acres of good land each. The railroad tops its south-west extremity. Villages are growing at Bay Verte and Port Elgin. Population in 1851 was 1622; in 1861, 2119; and at present it probably numbers 2500.

Batsford is chiefly noted for its agricultural progress. It is the only parish in the county deprived of railway accommodation. It has considerable tracts of good marsh land, from which, together with its excellent uplands, large quantities of hay are produced. Its easterly cape is the point of arrival and departure of the Prince Edward Island mails during winter. Population in 1851, 2430; 1861, 3350; and in 1870, about 4300.

Shediac has extensive settlements facing the seaboard and along the banks of its streams. Its harbor is the easterly terminus of the St John and Shediac railway; it is also the chief port of debarkation of the Gulf steamers. This, along with its milling establishments, has done much to build up a populous community around its harbor. At Point des Chene and the railway station, towns are rising and businesses concentrating. In this and the adjoining parishes of Batsford and Moncton, the descendants of the Acadian French form a large part of the population. Population in 1851, 2895; in 1861, 4585; and in 1870, about 6400.

Moncton.—Settlements extend north-westerly into the interior; but the chief improvements line the bank of the river Petitcodiac and its affluents. The town of Moncton, once incorporated, is situated on a noted bend of the river. Its progress has been slow but steady. Its shipyards have added a number of excellent vessels to the mercantile fleet. Manufactories of various kinds have sprung up. The town of Moncton has been selected as the junction of the Intercolonial Railroad with the St John and Shediac line, and also as the seat of the machine shops for these railroads. Its future can hardly fail to be prosperous. The country both above and below the town is progressive. A little below the town of Moncton is to be seen that peculiar phenomenon of the Bay of Fundy, the Bore, or one tide swelling above another. Population in 1851, 2665; in 1861, 4171; and at present, about 5900. Moncton has long been the seat of a newspaper, the Moncton Times.

Salisbury.—This flourishing parish is traversed by the Petitcodiac river, and the St John and Shediac railway. Both its front and rear settlements are prosperous. The nucleus of towns are formed at Petitcodiac and Salisbury Corner. A monthly paper is published in the parish. Population in 1851, 1504; in 1861, 2418; and at present, about 3500.

The total population of the county of Westmoreland is estimated at 33,200. The census to be taken next year will probably show this county as ranking second in the Province in population, and probably first in agricultural wealth and general progress. Its marshes are the most extensive of any in the Lower Provinces.

Every parish in the county has the benefit of postal and telegraphic communication, and every settlement has its school.

The trade of this county in 1869 stood thus:—

	Exports.	Imports.	Duty.
Dorchester,	$2,515	$11,793	$1,503
Moncton,	1,541	38,808	8,024
Sackville,	12,971	66,577	5,598
Shediac,	141,494	241,806	1,002
Bay Verte,	4,050	588	23
North Joggins,	10,311	5,970	285
Totals,	$172,882	$365,542	$16,435

The fisheries on the coasts of Westmoreland are the shad in the head waters of the Bay of Fundy, and the herring, gaspereaux, and oysters of the Straits. These are all profitable sources of industry.

"The chief minerals of this county," says Professor Bailey, in his report of 1864, "are:—At Cape Maranquin, clay, ironstone, and coal; at Dorchester Island, nodular and hematite; on Taylor's Farm, cannel coal, clay, ironstone; on Ayer's Farm, Petitcodiac, asphaltum, petroleum spring; on Goodes' Farm, maltha; at Grand Aunce, gypsum; at Memramcook, albertite in beds, and in veins running through limestone; at Sackville, Wood's Point, coal; and at Tedish river, coal." To the above list may be added the oil-producing shale and valuable stone quarries of Dorchester; and also the extensive stone quarries of the North Joggins, Shediac, and Little Cape, in Batsford. These mineral resources are useless from the want of free trade with the United States.

In addition to the natural resources and progressive development of this fine county, thus briefly sketched, Westmoreland has beautiful scenery and an interesting history. From the heights of Sackville and Fort Cumberland may be seen some of the finest landscapes in the Lower Provinces. At the latter place, the Beausejour of La Coru, built a century and a quarter ago, may be seen the "Great Marsh," with other extensive tracts of the same fertile lands, lined by thickly-settled towns and villages. Sackville on the one side, and the flourishing town of Amherst, the shire-town of Cumberland, on the other, with Fort Lawrence, the English headquarters of history, intervening. At the latter place, recent railway excavations exhumed some of the bodies of the ancient pioneers of the country. Within cannon-shot of Fort Cumberland lies Beau Bassin, Cumberland Bay; and within musket-shot of the same fort are still to be traced the breastworks of the English while attacking the fort. In the vicinity of Fort Cumberland are still visible the old marsh-dykes of a century and a half ago. Here also may be seen the ravages done by the great tidal wave of the autumn of 1869, which was the counterpart of a similar phenomenon of a century ago. The wave of last year overtopped, at a height of six or eight feet, the highest dykes, destroyed two human lives, swept from their anchorage several vessels, destroyed dykes, bridges, hay in vast quantities, cattle and sheep in large numbers, and removed many barns and other structures. No correct estimate has been made of the loss. Other places also suffered by the same phenomenon.

YORK COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE county of York, like that of Sunbury, is very nearly equally divided by the River St John. Fredericton, its shire-town and the capital of the province, is situated on the right bank, and is a town of upwards of 6000 inhabitants. It is beautifully situated upon a point of land, formed by a bend in the river, toward the north. There are five streets of nearly a mile in length, running parallel with the river, and crossed by some nine or ten others, at right angles, thus dividing the city into a large number of rectangular blocks. The streets are wide, and many of them well shaded with trees of various kinds, but chiefly elms. The city, being built chiefly of wood, has suffered much by fires; it has, however, a very pleasant, tidy, and healthy appearance; yet it is lacking in stir and business-like appearance, which always indicates enterprise and thrift. Large quantities of lumber are annually manufactured here by steam mills.

The city has recently undergone changes, which must affect its trade; the removal of the troops (a regiment being usually kept here), and the construction of the Fredericton Branch Railroad, which connects with Western Extension at Hartt's Mills, in Sunbury county, a distance of twenty miles. These changes have been so recently made, it is hard to predict what effect they may have upon the trade of the city. One thing is certain, however, until it becomes a manufacturing locality, but little increased prosperity can attend it.

The common schools are numerous, there being over eighty in the county, and about fifteen in the city. The University, which is beautifully situated on a rising ground at the rear of the city, the Collegiate School, Baptist Seminary, St Dunstan's Academy, Infant, Madras, and Provincial Training Schools, are all located here, and exercise a very favorable influence on the rising generation. The religious bodies of the city are as follows:—Church of England, Roman Catholic, Presbyterian, Wesleyan Methodist, Baptist, Free Baptist, and Free Kirk (Presbyterian)—all having commodious church edifices. For pleasantness of site, and agreeableness of association, there are few places which excel Fredericton.

There are thirteen parishes in this county; seven on the western, and six on the eastern side of the river. The people are nearly all well-to-do, those especially who are paying particular attention to agriculture. Lumbering is carried on extensively in this county, too often to the neglect of the more important and lucrative employment of farming.

The St Andrews Railway crosses York on the western side, giving, with the river St John, good outlets for the products of the county, and adding largely to the convenience of trade. With its more than eighty schools, numerous churches, and everywhere passable roads, with an active, energetic, and enterprising people, this county will not be likely to lag in the race for public improvement.

It is represented by one member in the Commons at Ottawa, four in the Local Legislature, and twenty-six at the Municipal Board.

The census of 1861 gave a population of 23,393, with 90,000 acres of improved land, 11,000 bushels of wheat, 266,500 bushels of potatoes, 555,000 lbs. of butter, and 36,000 tons of hay. By adding 30 per cent., we may find nearly the present condition of the county.

REGISTRATION.—Letters for registry must be posted fifteen minutes previous to the closing of the mail by which they are to be sent. The postage as well as the registration fee must be prepaid. The registration of a letter addressed to any place in New Brunswick or the Dominion is 2 cents, to the United States 5 cents, to the United Kingdom 8 cents, to Australia and all other places, when passing through the United Kingdom, a fee equal to one-fourth rate.

Registration is applicable to all descriptions of letters and parcels, whether they contain articles of value or not. Registration is not an absolute guarantee against the miscarriage or loss of a letter; but a registered letter can be traced when one unregistered cannot, and the posting and delivery or non-delivery can be proven. A registered letter is thus secured against many of the casualties which, from incorrect address, forgetfulness of the receiver, or other error, may affect an unregistered letter. "Moreover the safety of an unregistered letter is dependent on the integrity of a post-office clerk during the whole time it remains in his custody, frequently for hours, and even days; whilst a registered letter will almost invariably have to be acknowledged at the moment of its passing into an officer's hands, and cannot therefore be suppressed without leaving him individually accountable for its disposal." "If the consequences were limited to the mere risk of the loss of the money so sent, the senders of money in unregistered letters might reasonably urge, that if they choose to encounter the risk, they should be free to do so; but higher considerations are involved in the question, and the chance of loss to the careless remitter is really but the smallest part of the evil associated with the practice." The attentive perusal of the above remarks by those who are in the habit of sending money by mail in unregistered letters is strongly recommended, and it is further suggested that letters containing money should invariably be secured with wax, and not by the usual method, by mucilage, or self-sealing envelope.

All letters are charged by weight, irrespective of distance, and a uniform rate of postage of 3 cents per ½ oz. has been established throughout the Dominion of Canada. The rates of postage mentioned all refer to a single letter. If it exceeds the ½ oz. it is charged double, and so on, according to weight. Ship letters, 5 cents; letters for consignees free.

Principal Rates of Postage.

Letters.

On letters passing between any two places within the Dominion of Canada, a uniform rate (irrespective of distance) of 3 cents per ½ oz., if prepaid; and 5 cents per ½ oz., if posted unpaid.

On letters between any place in the Dominion and any place in the United States—

6 cents per ½ oz., if prepaid;
10 cents do., if posted unpaid.

On letters to or from the United Kingdom, in mails by Canada packets, to or from Quebec in summer, or Portland in winter; or by mail packet to or from Halifax, 6 cents per ½ oz.

On letters in mails via New York packets, 8 cents per ½ oz.

On letters to Prince Edward Island, if prepaid, 3 cents per ½ oz.; if posted unpaid, 5 cents per ½ oz.

On letters to British Columbia and Vancouver Island, 10 cents per ½ oz.
On letters to Red River, 6 cents per ½ oz.
} to be in all cases prepaid.

Newspaper Rates.

Newspapers printed and published in Canada may be sent by post to subscribers from the office of publication to any place in Canada at the following rates, if paid quarterly in advance, either by the publisher, at the post-office where the papers are posted, or by the subscriber at the post-office where the papers are delivered:—

For a paper published once a week, 5 cents per qr. of a yr.
Do. twice ,, 10 ,, ,, ,,
Do. three times 15 ,, ,, ,,
Do. six times 30 ,, ,, ,,

If the above rates are prepaid by the publisher, the postmaster receiving payment must be careful to have the papers so prepaid separately put up, and marked distinctly as prepaid.

When the above rates are not paid in advance, by either the publisher at the office of posting, or by the subscriber at the office of delivery, the papers are to be charged one cent each on delivery.

Canadian newspapers, addressed from the office of publication to subscribers in the United Kingdom, the United States, Prince Edward Island, British Columbia, Bermuda, or Newfoundland, may be forwarded, on prepayment at the office in Canada where posted, at the above commuted rates, applicable to such papers within the Dominion.

Publishers of newspapers in Canada may post such numbers of their papers addressed to parties within the Dominion who are not subscribers at a rate of one-half cent prepaid by stamp.

Exchange papers passing between publishers in Canada,

SCHOFIELD & BEER, Produce Merchants, St John, N.B.

SAMPSON'S Worm Lozenges have never failed in doing their duty, Queen St. Fredericton, N.B.

and between publishers in Canada and publishers in the United States, Prince Edward Island, Bermuda, and Newfoundland, are to pass free—one copy of each paper to each publisher.

Transient newspapers include all newspapers posted in Canada, other than Canada newspapers sent from the office of publication; and when addressed to any place within the Dominion, to the United Kingdom, to the United States, Prince Edward Island, Bermuda, or Newfoundland, must be prepaid two cents each by postage stamp.

Newspapers coming into Canada will be subject to the following charges on delivery:—

If from the United Kingdom, by mail packet to Quebec, Halifax, or Portland, free on delivery.

By mails via the United States (New York), two cents each.

If from the United States, and posted by a publisher, one cent each. Transient papers two cents each, to be rated at the Canada frontier or exchange office receiving mails from the United States.

If from Prince Edward Island, Bermuda, or Newfoundland, when received by regular subscribers in Canada from the office of publication, the ordinary commuted rates applicable to Canada newspapers.

Transient papers, two cents each.

The Canada postage rates on newspapers coming from or going to the United Kingdom and United States will thus be the same as those charged in the United Kingdom and the United States on newspapers there received from or sent to Canada.

Canada newsagents may post to regular subscribers in Canada British newspapers free, and the United States newspapers unpaid; such papers, in the latter case, must be duly rated one cent each for collection on delivery.

Books.

Book-packets can be forwarded by post from Canada to the United Kingdom, Bermuda, and British West Indies, and vice versa, at the following rates:—

For each packet weighing under 1 oz., 3 cents.

Above 2 oz. and not exceeding 4 oz., 7 cents.
Above 4 oz. and not exceeding 8 oz., 12½ cents.
Above 8 oz. and not exceeding 12 oz., 19 cents.
Above 12 oz. and not exceeding 16 oz., 25 cents.

Every book-packet must be without a cover, or in a cover open at both ends, and must not contain any writing whatever.

It must not exceed 4 lbs. in weight, nor the size exceed 2 feet in length, or 1 foot in width or depth.

Must be prepaid by stamps.

Printed Papers, Circulars, Prices Current, Hand Bills, Books, Pamphlets.

The rate on printed matter of this description posted in Canada, and addressed to any place in Canada, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, or United States, will be one cent per ounce, to be prepaid by postage stamp; and a like rate will be payable on delivery when received from the United States, Prince Edward Island, or Newfoundland.

Periodical Publications.

When posted in Canada for any place in Canada, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, or United States, the rate will be one cent per four ounces, to be prepaid by stamp.

A like rate will be payable on delivery in Canada, when received from the United States, Prince Edward Island, or Newfoundland.

Periodicals weighing less than one ounce per number, when posted in Canada for any place within the Dominion, Prince Edward Island, Newfoundland, or the United States, may, when put up singly, pass for one-half cent per number, to be prepaid by postage stamp.

As the postage rates on periodicals, other than newspapers, will be payable in advance, and as certain classes of such periodicals, printed and published in Canada, and sent from the office of publication to regular subscribers, have for some time past been exempted from postage, when exclusively devoted to the education of youth, to temperance, agriculture, and science, or for other reasons; it has been ordered that all such special exemptions and privileges shall cease.

Parcel Post.

The rate on parcels, by parcel post, will be 12½ cents per 8 oz. that is to say,

On a parcel not exceeding 8 oz., 12½ cents.

LIGHTHOUSES.

Commissioner of Lighthouses in the Bay of Fundy—George W. Smith, Esq.

Cape Sable Seal Island Light—The first light in approaching the Bay of Fundy is on the south point of Seal Island. This is a plain white light, elevated about 80 feet above high-water mark, and may be seen in approaching the island from any point of the compass. A very dangerous rock, under water, but upon which the sea always breaks, called Blonde Rock, lies about 3½ miles S. by W. by compass from the lighthouse. Between this rock and the island there are some dangers—the ground is rocky throughout, and large vessels, therefore, ought not to attempt passing between them.

Brier Island Light—In advancing up the Bay, the next light is situated on Brier Island, about half a mile N.E. from the N.W. point thereof. A plain white light.

Digby Gut Light—The next light, on the coast of Nova Scotia, is placed on the west side of Digby Gut—from Brier Island north eastward. The coast is very bold, and not indented; the light is, therefore, chiefly intended as a guide into Digby Basin—a white light.

Gannet Rock Light—This light is intended to warn vessels of their approach to a very dangerous range of shoals and ledges, which extend from the Old Proprietor to the Seal Islands off Machias, a distance of about 20 miles. It is a flash light—white—twenty seconds dark and forty light in each minute. The lighthouse is painted in stripes, vertical, black and white. Bearings and distance by compass from the Gannet Rock Lighthouse:—The light bears from the lighthouse on Brier Island, N.N. ¾ W. 22 miles; from the Gannet Rock to the Old Proprietor, E. ½ S. distance 7 miles; from the Gannet Rock to the Black Rock, off White Head Island, N.E. ½ E. 7 miles; from the Gannet Rock to the south-west head of Grand Manan, N.N.W. 6½ miles; from the Gannet Rock to the northernmost of the Murr Ledges, N.W. ½ N. 2½ miles; to the southernmost of ditto, called St Mary's Ledge, W.S.W. 2 miles; from the

SCHOFIELD & BEER, Commission Merchants, St John, N.B.

Choice Syrups, Fruit, &c. at SAMPSON'S Confectionery Establishment, Fredericton, N.B.

Gannet Rock to Machias Seal Island, W. and by N. 13 miles; from Brier Island Light to Old Proprietor, N. and by W. ¼ W. 18½ miles; the Blonde Rock from the southernmost point of the Cape Sable Seal Island, S. and by W. 2½ miles.

Note—Between the northernmost and southernmost of the Murr Ledges there is a range of dangerous rocks and shoals, many of them always above water, and which extend westward from the lighthouse about four miles; from this range, farther westerly, about six miles from the Gannet Light, lies a dangerous breaker called the Bull. This may be avoided by keeping three remarkable headlands near the S.W. end of Grand Manan open.

Machias Seal Island Lights—There are two fixed white lights upon the Machias Seal Islands, elevated about forty-five feet above high-water, and bear from each other E.S.E. and W.N.W. distant about 200 feet, by which circumstance of two lighthouses at the same station, they will be immediately distinguished from all other lights upon the coast (British or American). Both the buildings are painted white. The following are the bearings from them, viz.:—To the southernmost Murr Ledge (St Mary's), E.S.E. easterly; to the Gannet Rock Light, E. by S. ½ S. 13 miles; to the southern head of Grand Manan, E. by N. ½ N.; to the northern head of Grand Manan, N.E. ½ E.; to the N.E. Rock, distant 2 miles, N.E. by N.; to the Little River head, N. by W.; to the Libby Island Lighthouse (American), N.W. by W. Vessels standing to the northward, between these lights and the Gannet Rock, should tack or haul off the moment they bring these lights in one, as they will not then be more than three-fourths of a mile from the Murr Ledges, if more than five miles to the east of the lights.

N.B.—It is recommended that the ship's compasses should be well compared and adjusted (particularly in new ships), before they leave Partridge Island, as serious errors have frequently occurred from want of attention on this point; and as the variation in the Bay of Fundy is seventeen degrees westerly (or 1½ points), it will be found by the latest published Admiralty charts that the course from Partridge Island down the Bay (south channel) between the Old Proprietor and N.W. Ledges is S.W. ½ S.; but the course to be steered must depend on the direction of the wind on leaving Partridge Island.

Head Harbor Light—Next in order after passing Grand Manan, and the plain white light (American), on West Quoddy Point, is Head Harbor Light. This is placed on the north-east extremity of Campo Bello, and is a guide to vessels entering the main channel to West Isles, Moose Island, and the inner Bay of Passamaquoddy; it enables vessels also at all times to enter Head Harbor—it is a fixed white light. The building is painted white with a with a red cross on it.

Point Le Preaux—Upon this projecting headland two lights are placed, one above the other, in the same house, and distant 28 feet. Both lights can be seen from every point of compass where they may be useful—both are fixed and white. The lighthouse is painted red and white, in stripes of five feet broad horizontally.

Partridge Island Light—This light, at the entrance of the river and harbor of St John, having been established upwards of forty years, requires no particular notice, further than that it is a fixed white light, and that the lighthouse is red and white in vertical stripes. A fog horn or steam whistle (the first of the kind ever used for this purpose), was placed on Partridge Island, near the lighthouse, in Sept. 1860, and is sounded at intervals of ten seconds in every minute, during the prevalence of fogs and snowstorms. The whistle can be distinctly heard at the distance of four to six miles. There is also a bell buoy anchored at extremity of the ledges at the eastern end of the island, which is very useful to vessels in thick or rough weather. The sound of the bell can be heard three miles distant.

Beacon Light—Within Partridge Island, and upon a spit or bar which extends about half a mile S.S.E. off Sand Point, and which dries at two-thirds ebb, stands the Beacon Tower. Upon this tower a light is established, which is eminently useful to the coasting trade of St John, and to all other vessels having pilots on board, as it enables them to enter the harbor at all hours of the night. A fixed white light.

Quaco—A revolving white light is placed on a small rock off Quaco Head, showing twice full and twice dark in a minute. This light can be seen from any quarter where a vessel can approach. The lighthouse is painted white and red in horizontal stripes.

Cape Enrage Light—On the point of that name, in Westmoreland, nearly opposite Apple River harbor, N.S. A plain white light. The house is painted white, and is about 120 feet above tide-mark.

West Quoddy Light—This is an American light, and is placed on the west side of the entrance into the St Croix by Lubec and Eastport.

Cape Forchu Light—On Cape Forchu, on the western side of the entrance to Yarmouth (Nova Scotia), in lat. 43° 39′ N., long. 66° S.W. It exhibits a plain revolving light—visible one minute and a quarter, and invisible half a minute. The building is painted white, and is elevated 135 feet above the level of the sea.

Grindstone Island Light—An octagonal tower, sixty feet above the level of high water, on Grindstone Island, in Chignecto Bay, in lat. 45° 43′ 13″ N., lon. 64° 37′ 25″ W. The tower is painted white, as is also the keeper's house, one story, situate about 50 feet to the eastward of the tower. Bearings and distances of several places from the above lighthouse, as follows:—Cape Enrage Light by compass, S. 61½ W. 10 1-7 miles; highest point of St Mary's Ledge by compass, N. 40 W., 6-10 miles; the point of low water off the light, by compass, S. 78 W., 2-10 miles; Jones' Ledge, N. 10 W., 3-10 miles, it dries at low springs, and has about 2½ fathoms on it at half-tide; the Sand Bank, S. 15 W., 3-10 mile, it has 1¾ fathoms on its shoalest part at low-water springs.

Grand Manan—There is a lighthouse and keeper's house at the "Swallow Tail" on the north-eastern part of the island of Grand Manan, in the Bay of Fundy. The light is 45 feet from base to deck; the point on which it stands is 103 feet above high-water, making 148 feet elevation. This is a conspicuous mark in the south channel between Brier Island and Grand Manan. Both houses are painted white.

Richibucto Head Light—This is a fixed white light, situated on Richibucto Head, Northumberland Strait, in the Gulf of Saint Lawrence. The light is placed at an elevation of 70 feet above high-water, and should be seen in clear weather from a distance of 14 miles. The illuminating apparatus is dioptric, or by lenses of the fourth order. The tower is square, about 50 feet high from base to vane, painted white, and stands in latitude 46° 39′ 40″ N., longitude 64° 43′ 30″ W. of Greenwich.

Latitude, longitude, and variation of the compass, at the following light stations in the Bay of Fundy, belonging to New Brunswick:—Partridge Island, lat. 45° 14′ 20″ N., long. 65° 3′ 50″ W., var. 16° 30′ W.; Beacon, lat. 45° 15′ N., long. 65° 2′ 36″ W., var. 16° 30′ W.; Head Harbor, lat. 44° 57′ 40″ N., long. 66° 53′ 55″ W., var. 16° 20′ W.; Point Le Preaux, lat. 45° 3′ 50″ N., long. 66° 27′ 4″ W., var. 16° 30′ W.; Gannet Rock, lat. 44° 30′ 40″ N., long. 66° 42′ 50″ W., var. 16° 20′ W.; Machias Seal Island, lat. 44° 30′ 3″ N., long. 67° 6′ 10″ W., var. 16° 20′ W.; St Andrews, lat. 45° 4′ 10″ N., long. 67° 4′ W., var., 16° 20′ W.; Quaco, lat. 45° 19′ 33″ N., long. 65° 31′ 55″ W., var. 16° 30′ W.; Cape Enrage, lat. 45° 36′ N., long. 64° 46′ 40″ W., var. 16° 50′ W.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

SPECIAL interest attaches to Newfoundland, as being the most ancient of all the colonies of Great Britain. On this island the foot of the Briton first trod the soil of the New World, and here the flag of England was first unfurled in token of sovereignty over a portion of the newly-discovered territory. The genius of the Anglo-Saxon achieved its first triumph in maritime explorations by the discovery of this island beyond the stormy waves of the North Atlantic, and in its settlement tried its first experiment in colonisation.

The close of the fifteenth century witnessed the grandest event of modern times—the discovery of the New World by Columbus. A boundless field for human enterprise was thus thrown open, and many of the boldest and noblest spirits of Europe were fired with enthusiasm to go out and explore the wonders and mysteries of the new realms. Among those who felt this quickening impulse most keenly, was John Cabot and his son Sebastian. He was an Italian by birth, a native of Venice, who had for several years been settled in Bristol, where he was engaged in trade, and where his son Sebastian was born. The father was a thoughtful, speculative man, who took a deep interest in those maritime discoveries that were then stirring the pulses of the world; while his son Sebastian, who was destined to be the first discoverer of continental America, and thus to secure a fame second only to that of Columbus, inherited his father's predilections, and early entered on a seafaring life. The speculations of these two thoughtful men led them to believe that, by taking a north-west course across the Atlantic, instead of that which conducted Columbus to his great discovery, they would reach new and unknown lands, or perhaps find a shorter passage to "Cathay," or to the eastern shores of Asia. When the astounding news of Columbus' discovery reached England, Henry VII. must have been sorely mortified to think that he had missed the honour of being the patron of the discoverer of the New World, and of being proclaimed sovereign of vast realms, with all their untold treasures, beyond the western waves. When, then, John Cabot and his son made the proposal to the King of undertaking a voyage of discovery from Bristol to regions far north of those which Columbus was then exploring, Henry lent a willing ear to the offer of the adventurers, and speedily furnished them with letters patent sanctioning their undertaking.

In these letters John Cabot is named, as well as his three sons; but there is no evidence to show that any one of them but Sebastian took part in the enterprise. This bold seaman, in the spring of 1497, five years after Columbus' first voyage, sailed from the port of Bristol, across those boisterous seas of the North Atlantic, never before furrowed by European keel. It is greatly to be lamented that no journal was kept of this voyage, on the results of which England's claims on the New World were to rest. But for the achievement of this intrepid navigator, the Spaniards might have monopolised discovery in North, as well as South America and Mexico; and the English tongue might not have been spoken over the northern half of the continent. Notwithstanding that such momentous consequences depended on the results of the voyage, no journal of it was kept; and we are left to gather whatever knowledge of it we can from the scattered and imperfect records of contemporary writers. All we can learn is, that on the 24th day of June 1497, the voyagers sighted land, which the commander gratefully named Bona Vista—happy sight—an Italian designation still borne by Cape Bonavista, on the eastern shores of Newfoundland. It would appear that Cabot then shaped his course further to the north-west, until he reached the coast of Labrador; then turning south, he made the coast of Nova Scotia, and sailed along the Atlantic shore of the continent as far south as Florida. Thus to Cabot belongs the glory of first discovering the continent of America, for at that time only some of the islands were discovered by Columbus; and it was not till fourteen months afterwards that the Genoese navigator, without being aware of it, touched the continent in the neighbourhood of Veragua and Honduras. It is sad to think that England has raised no monument to the memory of her great sailor, and that not even the name of a cape, bay, or headland in the New World reminds us of the glory of his achievement. After a most adventurous and honorable career, he died in London, at the age of eighty; but no one knows where his ashes repose. The following entry in the account of the privy-purse expenses of Henry VII., shows what sort of reward the avaricious monarch bestowed on the intrepid navigator:—"To him that found the New Isle, £10."

It is interesting to know that the name of the ship in which Cabot made his first voyage, was The Matthew of Bristol, as appears from the following extract from an ancient Bristol manuscript:—"In the year 1497, the 24th June, on St John's Day, was Newfoundland found by Bristol men, in a ship called The Matthew." It is not difficult to trace the origin of the name "Newfoundland." On the old maps the whole of the northern region is designated Terra Nova, or New Land, the epithet applying to all the English discoveries in the North. In the course of time the name settled down on this single island, just as the term "West Indies," which once applied to the whole of America, is now limited to a group of islands on its eastern side. Cabot is said to have called the island Baccalaos, from the abundance of the codfish he observed in its waters, the native term for which is Baccalao. Hence the designation of a small rocky islet, north of St John's, Baccalien.

For almost a century no attempts were made by Englishmen to follow up this discovery of their countrymen by colonising Newfoundland. The Portuguese were the first to turn their attention to these northern regions discovered by Cabot. In the year 1500, Gaspar Cortereal ranged the coast of North America, discovered and named Conception Bay and Portugal Cove, in Newfoundland, and established the first regular fishery on its shores, and in seventeen years after forty sail of Portuguese, French, and Spaniards were engaged in the cod fishery; and in 1527, an English captain wrote a letter to Henry VIII., from the haven of St John's, Newfoundland, in which he declares that he found, in that one harbour, eleven sail of Normans, and one Breton, engaged in the fishery. In 1578, the number of vessels employed in the cod fishery had increased to 400, of which only fifty were English, the remainder being French and Spanish.

The next effort at colonisation was in 1610, when James I. granted a patent to Mr Guy, an enterprising Bristol merchant, for a "plantation" in Newfoundland. No very satisfactory results followed this attempt, although Bacon headed it.

In 1615, Captain Richard Whitbourne, of Exmouth, in Devonshire, was sent to Newfoundland by the Admiralty, to establish order and correct abuses which had grown up among the fishermen. He empanelled juries and dispensed justice, after a fashion, in the most frequented harbors. On his return home, in 1622, he wrote a "Discourse and Discovery of Newfoundland," which quaint production of the brave old sea captain is a valuable fragment of Newfoundland history.

A year later, Sir George Calvert, afterwards Lord Baltimore, a native of Yorkshire, educated at Oxford, a Roman Catholic gentleman of superior abilities, and much capacity for business, renewed the attempts at colonising the island. Sharing largely in the popular enthusiasm of his countrymen in favor of "plantations" in America, he obtained, when Secretary of State for James I., a patent, conveying to him the lordship of the whole southern peninsula of Newfoundland. One object he had in view was, to provide here an asylum for his co-religionists who were sufferers from the intolerant spirit of the times. The immense tract thus granted to him extended from Trinity Bay to the Bay of Placentia, and was named by him Avalon, from the ancient name of Glastonbury, in Somersetshire, where, according to tradition, Christianity was first preached in Britain. Lord Baltimore planted his colony at Ferryland, forty miles north of Cape Race, where he built a fine house, and resided for many years with his family. He afterwards quitted Newfoundland for the more inviting region of Maryland, where he founded the city of Baltimore.

Soon after the departure of Lord Baltimore, Viscount Falkland, Lord-Lieutenant of Ireland, sent out a number of emigrants from that country, to increase the scanty population of Newfoundland; and in 1654, Sir David Kirk, with the sanction of Parliament, introduced another body of settlers. This may be regarded as the first introduction of the Celtic element into the population of the island, which, in more recent times, was swelled to considerable dimensions by emigrants from Ireland, so as at length almost to equal the Saxon portion of the inhabitants.

In 1650, or about a century and a half after its discovery, Newfoundland contained only 350 families, or nearly 2000 inhabitants, distributed in fifteen small settlements, chiefly along the eastern shore. These constituted the resident population; but in addition there was a floating population of several thousands, who frequented the shores during summer, for the sake of the fisheries, which had now attained vast dimensions. Even so early as 1626, one hundred and fifty vessels were annually dispatched from Devonshire alone, and the French were even more active in carrying on the fisheries than the English. These lucrative fisheries, on the part of the English, were carried on by shipowners and traders residing in the West of England. They sent out their ships and fishing crews early in summer—the fish caught were salted and dried ashore; and when winter approached, the fishermen re-embarked for England, carrying with them the products of their labor. Hence it became the interest of these traders to discourage the settlement of the country, as they wished to retain the harbors and fishing-coves for the use of their servants in curing the fish; and they regarded all settlers on the land as interlopers, hostile to their pursuits. Their most strenuous efforts were directed to keep the resident population within the narrowest limits. Unfortunately the British Government fell in with their views; and looking upon the Newfoundland fisheries as a nursery for seamen, they prohibited all attempts at settlement. No more efforts at colonisation were countenanced. The most stringent laws were promulgated forbidding fishermen to remain behind at the close of the fishing season; and masters of vessels were compelled to give bonds to bring back such persons as they took out. The commanders of the convoys were ordered to bring away all planters; settlement within six miles of the shore was prohibited; and all "plantations" were to be discouraged. This wretched, shortsighted policy was persevered in for more than a century. With such laws in force, the wonder is, not that the colony did not advance, but that any resident population should be found to occupy its shores.

Another element that retarded the prosperity of the colony was the presence and continual encroachments of the French. Their rule gradually extended over Nova Scotia (Acadia), Cape Breton, and Canada; and as Newfoundland was the key to their transatlantic possessions, and commanded the narrow entrance to the most considerable of them, it became a paramount consideration with France to establish herself in Newfoundland, and to control its valuable fisheries. In 1635, the French obtained permission from the English to dry fish in Newfoundland, on payment of a duty of five per cent. of the produce; and in 1660, they founded a colony in Placentia, and erected strong fortifications. When war broke out between the rival nations, on the accession of William III. to the throne, the island became the scene of several skirmishes, naval battles, and sieges. St Johns fell before a French attack in 1696, and the whole of the settlements, with the exception of Bonavista and Carbonear, shared the same fate. The treaty of Ryswick restored all these conquests to England, leaving France in possession of her settlements on the south-west coast. During the wars which followed, in the reign of Queen Anne, St Johns again fell into the hands of the French in 1708, and for some years they had entire possession of the island. The celebrated Treaty of Utrecht, in 1713, ended hostilities, and gave the sovereignty of the entire country to Great Britain, but unfortunately secured to France the right of catching and drying fish on the extent of coast from Cape Bonavista to Point Riche, on the western side. The consequences have been disastrous to Newfoundland—practically excluding the inhabitants from the half of the island most favorable for agricultural pursuits, and thus driving them to the precarious returns of the fisheries, as the sole source of their subsistence.

The state of misrule under which the people found themselves in early times may be judged of from the character of the laws that were enacted. In the reign of Charles I. the Star Chamber enacted that if a person in Newfoundland killed another, or stole to the value of forty shillings, the offender was to be sent to England, and placed under the power of the Earl Marshal, who could order execution on the testimony of two witnesses. Another notable enactment of this arbitrary tribunal was, that the master of the first ship from England entering a harbor, was to be admiral therein for the fishing season, and be empowered to decide all complaints. Even in the reign of William III., when more constitutional principles were guiding the rulers of the nation, a code of laws for the government of Newfoundland was enacted, in which some of the worst abuses of the past were perpetuated, and confusion intensified. By this extraordinary statute, the fishing admirals of Star Chamber origin were reinstated, with unlimited powers. We can readly imagine what kind of justice was dealt out to the resident inhabitants by these rough, ignorant sea captains, who regarded them as interlopers, whose presence was barely tolerated.

Under every discouragement, however, the population continued slowly to increase. At length, in 1728, the dawn of a better day appeared. Lord Vere Beauclerk, who then commanded the naval force on the station, was clear-sighted enough to discover the causes of the prevailing abuses, and honest enough to make effectual representations to the home Government. Up to this date all applications for a Governor had been refused; but now this policy was abandoned, and Captain Henry Osborne was appointed as first Governor of Newfoundland, with a commission to nominate justices of the peace, and establish some form of civil government. Thus at length the country rose into the rank of a British colony. For many years the governors found themselves almost powerless, in consequence of the authority possessed by the fishing admirals, founded on the statute of William III., and the refusal of these functionaries to recognise the jurisdiction of the new ruler. The Government, however, were firm in their adherence to the improved policy, being at length awakened to the necessity of reforming prevailing abuses, and in 1750 made an important addition to the powers of local government by the appointment of Commissioners of Oyer and Terminer, before whom felons could be tried within the limits of the island.

Three years after the fall of Quebec before the victorious soldiers of Wolfe, a French expedition arrived in the Bay of Bulls, twenty miles from St John's, and in June 1762 a force was landed there, which marched overland, and surprised and overpowered the feeble garrison of the capital. The French triumph, however, was short-lived. A British force was speedily collected and landed at Torbay, six miles north of St John's. The troops marched on the capital, which, after a sharp struggle, was carried by assault, and the French garrison capitulated. This proved to be the last of the many vain attempts of the French to occupy Newfoundland. In 1763, the Peace of Paris ended the Seven Years' War, but left the French in the enjoyment of the same fishery rights in Newfoundland as had been secured to them by the Treaty of Utrecht. The fixed inhabitants of the island had increased at this date to 8000, while 5000 more were summer residents who returned home every winter.

Additional strength was imparted to the local government in 1765 by the extension of the Navigation Laws to Newfoundland, and the formal recognition of the island as one of His Majesty's "plantations." A customhouse was established at the same time, and Labrador was attached to the governorship of Newfoundland, thereby greatly increasing its importance. A survey of the coasts was at the same time commenced by the celebrated navigator Captain Cook. A new Act, entitled commonly "Palliser's Act," for the regulation of affairs in Newfoundland, was passed in Parliament; but it still aimed at perpetuating the old system of a ship-fishery from England, and obliged masters of ships, under a heavy penalty, to secure the return of seamen to England each season.

In 1784, entire religious liberty was granted by proclamation of Governor Campbell. Previous to this, the Roman Catholic faith was proscribed, and its adherents subjected to civil disabilities. All disabilities were now removed, and freedom of worship granted to all denominations.

In 1785, the population of St John's was only 1600, and that of the whole island 10,000. The houses of the capital were of the poorest and meanest description, the streets narrow and filthy, and the buildings irregularly huddled together on narrow strips of ground, the precarious tenure of which had been reluctantly wrung from some Governor. During the absence of the Governor in the winter season there was no proper administration of justice. And as no efforts were put forth in the interests of education, and securing the people religious instruction, it is not wonderful that disorder, immorality, and crime should be often rife.

A great step in advance was taken in 1792, when the British Parliament instituted a Supreme Court of Judicature for the island. Chief Justice Reeves received the first appointment from His Majesty to preside over this court.
