IT IS A FACT, THAT YOU SHOULD SECURE

talent to aid you in purchasing Machinery, to avoid the mongrel infringing machines, and secure the best of its kind at a reasonable price; for while one Machine contains an important improvement for some specialty, another is devoid of it, or only has a false attempt at an equivalent. Again we say, money can be saved by employing

The services of those who make it their study to thoroughly understand the merits of all Wood and Iron Working Machinery, Steam Engines, Boilers, Belting, and all General Supplies.

We shall endeavor to give every patron a fair equivalent for every dollar's worth of Machinery he may purchase of us, and WARRANT EVERY MACHINE TO BE JUST AS RECOMMENDED BY US. Prices and Freights will be as cheap as though purchased of manufacturers.

☞ We respectfully solicit your orders, and shall be pleased to have you call on or correspond with us, whether you purchase or not. Your Ob't Servants,

CAR DEPARTMENT, NEW YORK & NEW HAVEN, R. R. Co., NEW HAVEN, CONN., March 11, 1870.

MESSRS A. S. & J. GEAR & Co., 56 Sudbury Street, Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN,—You are justly entitled to the credit of furnishing the New York & New Haven R. R. Co. with a combination of Iron and Wood Working Machinery which is seldom collected together in one shop, and which, I am pleased to say, gives us entire satisfaction.

I have long been of the opinion that no one manufacturer could produce all the best and latest improved machinery, good machines being secured by patents, and no one person or company controlling the whole. I cordially recommend your services and manner of furnishing "the best of machinery produced regardless of its maker," as valuable, and every way worthy the consideration of all purchasers.

TILTON McFARLAND SAFE MANUFACTURING CO.

BURGLAR AND FIRE-PROOF SAFES,

Steel Vaults and Combination Bank Vaults.

Manufacturers of McFARLAND'S Patent BANK VAULTS & IRON SAFES of Improved Patterns.

From the Official Report of the Judge at the Eleventh Exhibition of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanics' Association.

BURGLAR PROOF SAFE.—In his efforts to produce a Burglar Proof Safe, the inventor has evidently made a long stride in the right direction. This Safe is no copy of those in general use, but is quite original; the outer shell or frame (with well-rounded corners), being one continuous band of iron and steel welded together at the ends; the front and back being secured to this shell in a remarkably strong and ingenious manner. All the bolting is done from the inside, and the points of the steel bolts are hardened. Taken as a whole, it is the most formidable obstacle ever placed between the "burglar" and his coveted treasure. We recommend the award of a gold medal.

THE QUICKEST ROUTE FROM ENGLAND TO CALIFORNIA.

"Having just made the tour from California via the Rocky Mountain route, the Pacific Railway, and as the opening of this route is attracting travel to it, we ask of you a short space to show the quickest route from England through to California, and that is via the Canadian route from Liverpool to Quebec and Montreal, and thence by the Grand Trunk Railway through Canada to Detroit, Michigan; thence by the Southern Michigan Railway to Chicago; thence by the Chicago, Rock Island, and Pacific Railway for Omaha, at which point you take the Union Pacific Railway carriages for the end of its track at Promontory Point, and thence the Central Pacific Railway carriages for Sacramento, California. The distance from Omaha to Sacramento is 1776 miles; from Sacramento to San Francisco, 120 miles by water.

"The Chicago and other Western papers have lately had their eyes opened as to the Canadian route, it being the direct one from England; and the Chicago journals of late assert that by means of the Montreal ocean steamers and the Canadian Railway, the trip is soon to be accomplished between England and Chicago in ten days. That being so, then San Francisco, via the Canadian route, will be reached in sixteen days, or less, from England. The time through now, as it is performed at this time, is about thus:—Leaving England on Thursday for Montreal, on the following Monday week the passenger is on the Grand Trunk Railway train en route west; Wednesday morning finds him at Detroit, Michigan; the same night in Chicago; Thursday afternoon at Omaha; Sunday at the end of the Union Pacific; and Tuesday night will place him in San Francisco, California, in some eighteen days from England. This time can be made, and that only, by the Canadian route.—Yours, &c.,

PREFACE.

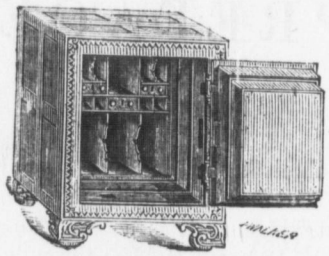
THE PUBLISHER, in submitting his FIRST EDITION OF THE MARITIME PROVINCES DIRECTORY to the Public, feels confident that it will be found deserving of general patronage, as it is a complete and reliable Record of the Names, Occupations, &c., of the Property-Holders throughout the several Provinces.

Great exertions have been made to render each Province much more comprehensive and accurate in detail than in either of the former editions of the "Provincial Directories;" and as the Publisher determined to spare neither expense nor trouble to make this edition as correct and acceptable as possible, he visited Edinburgh, in order that the Work might be printed by Ballantyne & Co., one of the largest and most enterprising printing establishments in Great Britain.

The Publisher feels that he must bring before the notice of those residing in the several Cities the almost incredible difficulties he has had to overcome in consequence of the imperfect numbering of the houses. It would be impossible to over-estimate the great advantage to Householders were each house systematically numbered. He much regrets that many people persistently refuse to give their proper names and addresses.

The Publisher is greatly indebted for information and lists of names furnished by the Inspectors of Schools, Teachers, and others, mostly belonging to the Educational Departments of each Province; and among others, he begs to return his best thanks to J. F. L. Parsons, Esq., Halifax, N.S.; Rev. G. Armstrong, M.A., Annapolis Co., N.S.; H. C. Upham, Esq., Colchester Co., N.S.; F. W. George, Esq., Cumberland Co., N.S.; A. McIsaac, Esq., Antigonish Co., N.S.; S. R. Russell, Esq., Guysboro' Co., N.S.; Rev. D. H. Welton, M.A., Hants Co., N.S.; John Y. Gunn, Esq., Inverness Co., N.S.; Rev. R. Somerville, B.A., King's Co., N.S.; W. M. B. Lawson, Esq., Lunenburg Co., N.S.; Daniel McDonald, Esq., Pictou Co., N.S.; Remi Benoit, Esq., Richmond Co., N.S.; Rev. W. H. Richan, Shelburne Co., N.S.; G. F. Farish, M.D., Esq., Yarmouth Co., N.S.; Daniel Morrison, Esq., Carleton, N.B.; E. C. Freeze, Esq., Fredericton, N.B.; Thomas W. Woods, Kent Co., N.B., and the Educational Departments of Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

The Historical Sketches will be found well worthy of a careful perusal. The Cities of Halifax, N.S.; St John, N.B.; St Johns, N.F.; and Charlottetown, P.E.I., with their Business Directories, will be found full and satisfactory, as also the Appendixes to each Province; and the copious Contents and Indexes afford the Public an opportunity of easy reference to every part of the volume.



The Publisher begs to take this opportunity of returning his best thanks to the Advertisers and Subscribers for the very liberal patronage accorded him.

HALIFAX, 1*st November* 1870.

An important SUBSTITUTE for Condition Powders, is

THE ARABIAN FOOD.

Its increasing favor amongst the Farmers is the best proof of its merits.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Wholesale at Woolrich's English Pharmacy.

WOOLRICH'S ARABIAN FOOD,

For Preserving Good Health and Prime Condition in

HORSES, CATTLE, SHEEP, PIGS, CALVES,

POULTRY, &c.

An increase of RICH MILK and BUTTER is produced in every case where the ARABIAN SPICE is used. Horses and Oxen, run down and in low condition, are brought round in an astonishing short space of time. Ragged, beggarly-looking Sheep are soon clothed with a fleece of valuable wool. Calves are fattened in half the usual time. The squeaking pig soon becomes fat and happy when fed on food seasoned with the ARABIAN SPICE. The Poultry Fancier acknowledges the ARABIAN SPICE to be a superior article for all members of the Feathered Tribe.

SOLD EVERYWHERE.

Wholesale Depot—WOOLRICH'S ENGLISH PHARMACY.

THE ARABIAN FOOD

Is a Spiced Condiment for fattening Horses, Cows, Sheep, Pigs, and Poultry.

NOVA SCOTIA DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH OF HALIFAX CITY AND COUNTY.

THE city of Halifax, the capital of the province of Nova Scotia, was founded in the year 1749, by the Lords of Trade, and was named, in compliment to George Montague, Earl of Halifax, then at the head of the Board. The scheme for the establishment of the town is said to have originated with the people of Massachusetts, who, in calling the attention of Government to the claims and encroachments of the French on the territory of Acadia, suggested the necessity as well as the great commercial advantage to be derived from such an undertaking. A plan was accordingly submitted to Government in the autumn of 1748, and being warmly supported by Lord Halifax, advertisements soon appeared under the sanction of his Majesty's authority, holding out excellent inducements for emigration. The prospects appeared so inviting, that in a short time 1176 settlers, with their families, were found to volunteer, and the sum of £40,000 being appropriated by Parliament for the purpose, the expedition was placed under the command of Colonel the Honorable Edward Cornwallis, M.P., as Captain-General and Governor of Nova Scotia, and set sail for Chebucto Bay early in May 1749.

The fleet consisted of thirteen transports, carrying 2376 passengers, men, women, and children, and a sloop of war, the Sphinx, with the Governor and his suite on board. The total number of males was 1545, of which above 500 were man-of-war sailors.

On or about the 21st June, the Sphinx arrived in the harbor of Chebucto, and the Governor and suite soon after landed on George's Island.

On the 14th July the civil government was organised on board the Beauport transport, and the following gentlemen sworn in councillors, viz. :—Colonel Paul Mascarine, Captain Edward Howe, Captain John Gorham, Benjamin Greene, John Salisbury, and Hugh Davidson. The formation of the Council was announced by a general salute by the ships in the harbor, and the day was devoted to amusement and festivity.

In the month of July, Mr Bruce, a civil engineer, and Mr Morris, a surveyor, were ordered to lay out the town, which was surveyed and the plan completed by the 14th September. The town was laid out in squares or blocks of 320 by 120 feet—the streets being from 55 to 60 feet wide. The width of Granville Street is but 55 feet. Each block contained sixteen town lots, 40 feet front and 60 feet deep. The whole was divided into five divisions or wards. Buckingham Street was at first fixed as the north, and Salter Street as the south limit, but the north limit was subsequently extended to Jacob Street. The settlers drew for the lots, and the names and number were entered on a register kept for that purpose, still in existence, and known as the allotment books. The north and south suburbs were surveyed about the same time, and the German lots in the north laid off in the following year.

On clearing the ground for settlement, a number of dead bodies were discovered among the trees, partly concealed beneath the underwood, which were supposed to have been the remains of soldiers of the Duke d'Anville's expedition, which wintered in Chebucto in 1746.

On the 17th July the French deputies waited upon the Governor on board the Beauport transport. They were again received by the Governor and Council on the 29th July, when they rendered their allegiance to the new Government, which was accepted. The Indians also had an audience on the 14th August, and treaties of peace between them and the colonists were drawn up and signed on the following day. These treaties do not appear to have been much respected, however, as the Indians continued to give the settlers considerable trouble; and several new companies of volunteers were raised in the following October to prevent their incursions. About this time nearly one thousand persons are said to have fallen victims to a fearful epidemic which swept over the country. Laws, similar to those in force in the colony of Virginia, being found the most applicable to the circumstances of the new town, were constructed.

The town of Dartmouth was commenced in August 1750, by 350 settlers, who arrived in the ship Albany. In the December following the first ferry was established, and John Connor appointed ferryman by order in Council.

Dartmouth and the vicinity of Halifax suffered considerably at this time from the depredations of the French and Indians, stimulated by French emissaries; and to prevent their incursions a militia force was formed, consisting of all the male inhabitants between the ages of sixteen and sixty.

Between the years 1751 and 1752, 1958 German settlers arrived in the colony. In June 1763, 1500 of them embarked for Malagash harbor in Mahone Bay, where they afterwards built the town of Lunenburg. The remainder continued in Halifax, and were located in the north suburbs, called Dutchtown, Brunswick and Lockman Streets, now known as the north end, and were the first settlers of that part of the peninsula.

Notwithstanding the advantages held out by the Government, and the fact that up to the year 1757 the enormous sum of £560,000 sterling had been expended on the settlement, the people at that date were rapidly removing to the old colonies. The fisheries, one of the main inducements for emigration, being almost entirely neglected, and the population reduced to much less than half its original numbers, subsisted chiefly on the money expended by the army and navy, and were dependent on Boston for their provisions, and all other necessary supplies. Halifax was of incalculable importance, however, to Great Britain in a military point of view, and to its position as a military and naval station may be ascribed, in a great measure, the downfall of the French power in America.

The fleets and troops under Lords Howe and Loudon, sent out for an attack on Louisburg, in 1757, made Halifax their rendezvous. After the siege, which lasted two months, the fleet and army returned to Halifax, and remained some time to refit. The country was sacked for provisions, and many of the sailors, being enriched by the campaign in Louisburg, procured their discharge and became settlers; and all the ammunition and stores, with a quantity of private property being removed to Halifax, the town once more began to assume a prosperous appearance.

Halifax was again the resort of the army and navy, under Wolfe, during the following year, 1759; and in 1763 the town was enlivened by the presence of a large army and navy, and many gentlemen of standing made the place their home.

In December 1760, King George III. was proclaimed at Halifax with great ceremony.

Representative government was established in Nova Scotia in 1758.

A great gale of wind, in 1769, caused much destruction of property and loss of life. The winter was remarkably severe, the harbor being choked with ice for several days in the month of February, and the snow on the ground, in March following, was in many places five feet deep.

From 1770 to 1776 was a period of great public excitement; emissaries from the revolted colonies were numerous, and all meetings of a political nature were forbidden.

The Parliament, elected in 1770, sat for fourteen years without being dissolved.

After the close of the French war, the town declined in prosperity for a few years; but eventually it again became the depot of the troops and shipping, and a more prosperous era began to dawn. After the evacuation of Boston, ten thousand soldiers, sailors, and loyalists who arrived with the fleet, were quartered in the town. Many of the transports, being in a leaky condition, landed their people. Every house was crowded to excess. From the commencement of hostilities to the termination of the war, the town was thronged with troops and refugees from the revolted provinces, and the scarcity of provisions increased to an alarming extent. Beef was 2s. 6d. per pound, and butter 5s.

The loyalists soon distributed themselves throughout the Province, and the population again rapidly decreased. In 1783, however, great numbers of loyalists came from New York, and the population, thus augmented, was suddenly increased to double its former numbers; yet it is very remarkable that, in September 1791, within eight years after, the population had again so fallen off as scarcely to exceed five thousand.

In the year 1787, Nova Scotia was erected into a Bishop's See, and Halifax made the residence of the Bishop.

On December 27, 1798, a tremendous hurricane visited the town, and swept away all the wharves, and damaged most of the shipping in the harbor. The loss of property was estimated at £100,000.

From the year 1749, the defences of the town consisted of pallisades or pickets placed upright with block-houses, built of logs, at convenient distances. This fence extended from where St Mary's Cathedral now stands to the Beach, south of Fairbanks' wharf, and on the north along the line of Jacob Street to the harbor.

There were also block-houses at Point Pleasant, Fort Massey, and various other points near the town.

The lumber yard, ordnance yard, and King's wharf, were all commenced about the year 1784 or 1785; but the buildings now existing at these localities were not put up till a much later date.

Citadel Hill was cut down, and ramparts of earth constructed on the site by Prince Edward, when commander-in-chief of the garrison, a number of wooden fortifications by which the hill had been occupied having been removed for the purpose.

The towers on George's Island, Point Pleasant, Eastern Battery, Meagher's Beach, and York Redoubt, were built about this time. He also established telegraph stations between Halifax and Annapolis—the first post being on the hill behind his own residence, on Bedford Basin. The Parade Ground was levelled and the wall built by him. Until the year 1780, the streets of the town were in a very rough condition, and from stumps of trees and rocks, impassable for carriages.

The first Government House was erected soon after the laying out of the town. The frame and the material were brought from Boston. The building was completed early in October. It was a small low building of one storey, and stood in the centre of the square, now occupied by the Province Building. It was surrounded by hogsheads of gravel and sand, on which small pieces of ordnance were mounted for its defence. This building was removed, and a more spacious and convenient residence put up about 1757 or '58, which in turn was pulled down shortly after the year 1798.

Saint Paul's Church, now probably the oldest building in the city, was built in 1750, at the expense of Government. The old German Church, in Brunswick Street, bears the date of 1761. It was erected by private subscription, as a Lutherian Church, and is now one of the few relics of the old German settlement.

A printing office seems to have been established as early as March 1756 by Isaac Curry. The first newspaper in Halifax appeared in January 1769. It was published by Anthony Henry, edited by Captain Buckley, and called the Nova Scotia Chronicle, or Weekly Gazette. There was another printing office, in 1776, in Grafton Street, with a steeple and a hand holding a pen for a vane.

The first Court-house stood where Northup's Country Market now stands, at the corner of Buckingham and Argyle Streets. The building recently occupied by the Halifax Grammar School is also a very old one. The Legislature held its sessions there about 1765. It has also been used as a Court-house and as a Guard-house.

There were numerous and well-kept houses of public entertainment at a very early period. A large three-storey building, called the Great Pontiack, was erected previous to 1757, at the corner of Duke and Water Streets. It has been since known as Michael Bennett's Corner. There was also the Crown Coffeehouse, kept by William Fury, in 1769, on the beach near the Dockyard, and the Jerusalem Coffeehouse destroyed by fire in 1837. The latter building stood on the site now occupied by the warehouse of that name.

Between 1753 and 1780, public gardens and promenades were much in vogue, of which Adlam's Garden, south of the citadel, near the present Artillery Park, was the principal. The Artillery Park was then kept on the grand Parade. The Parade was not levelled at that time, and the descent at the north-east corner was very abrupt. The Artillery Barracks stood in a line with the present Engine-house. Spring Gardens was another place of resort. The old Governor's Gardens were south of Government House, now the residence of the Rev. George W. Grant. About the year 1768, there were lamp-posts at all the principal corners, the town being then lit with oil, at the public expense.

The first jail was situated in Hollis Street, at the foot of Salter Street.

The Queen's Dockyard was first established in 1758. It was extended and improved in 1769. The present wall was built in 1770; this date is inscribed on the gate, and is situated in the north end of the city. It now contains workshops, warehouses, and stores of various descriptions, besides commodious residences for the officers and workmen. It contains several war trophies, and it was at this place His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales first landed in Nova Scotia in the year 1860.

After the return of His Royal Highness the Duke of Kent, and between that period and 1840, the town of Halifax did not make such rapid progress as many other towns on this continent. During the American war of 1812, several valuable prizes were taken into port, which caused a considerable sum of money to circulate; but comparatively few buildings of any note were erected. The foundation-stone of Mason Hall was laid by the Duke of Kent about 1800. The Provincial Building was erected between 1812 and 1820, and Dalhousie College about 1820. Saint Paul's Church was enlarged about 1812. A crusty old Admiral removed, about this time, the principal Dockyard to Bermuda. The emancipation of the slaves in the West India colonies, in 1834, caused a serious interruption to the important trade carried on between Halifax and those islands. This was followed by Asiatic cholera, in 1835; this again by commercial regulations respecting the admission of Baltic timber into the British markets about 1837; and that was followed by the withdrawing of the troops during the trouble in Canada—all combined to cause a stagnation in trade, and to give a desolate appearance to the city. But within the last quarter of a century Halifax has made rapid progress, both in population and material wealth. A class, of what was then considered commodious steamers, was placed upon the ferry between Halifax and Dartmouth. About the year 1839 or 1840 the Cunard line of steamers was established, the Liverpool and Boston boats calling at Halifax, on the way to and from Boston. A West India line, plying between Halifax and the West India Islands, was also started in connexion with it, but did not succeed. The Gas Company was incorporated about the year 1840.

About the same year, an act of incorporation was obtained from the Legislature, since which time great improvements have been made in the general appearance and public institutions of the city. Under the Act of Incorporation the city is divided into six wards, each being represented in the City Council by three Aldermen—who, with the Mayor and the Recorder, transact all the financial and civil business. A Stipendiary Magistrate was appointed by the Government in 1865, who is judge in all cases before the Police Court.

The Water Company was subsequently organised, who introduced a supply of excellent water from the lakes, some five or six miles in the rear of the city; but these works have since been purchased by the Corporation, and placed under the control of commissioners, appointed by the city government.

Last year 130,000 dols. were expended in laying pipes to connect Spruce Hill Lakes with the city. These lakes being more elevated than the lakes of the previous supply, give the advantage, in addition to a full supply of water for a city of 80,000 inhabitants, of a copious flow of water to the highest part of the citadel, or the most elevated buildings on the peninsula.

Halifax has suffered severely from fire on several occasions; at one time nearly three blocks were consumed, extending from Hollis to Barrington Street, and covering, what was then and is now, the finest part of the city. The greater part of the space thus laid bare has since been covered with handsome freestone, granite, and brick structures, which are not surpassed by any on this continent. One of those fires consumed a large wooden erection near the Province Building, which originally was the Provincial Parliament Building, and besides gave accommodation to the Supreme Court, the Secretary and Treasurer's Office, with a commodious hotel. Latterly it was known as Hare's Building, and was occupied as shops and offices by persons engaged in various lines of business. After the fire the Government purchased the site, and erected a handsome edifice upon it, which has cost from twenty to thirty thousand pounds, and is expected to contain the Custom-house and Post-office, together with accommodations for various other public offices.

Of the other public buildings now standing, the old Provincial Building is the chief. It is built of gray freestone, is one hundred and forty feet in length, seventy in width, and forty-two in height. On the ground flat are the offices of the Attorney-General, Provincial-Secretary, Commissioners of Mines, Commissioners of Crown Lands, and Superintendent of Education. On the second flat are the Halls and Committee Rooms of the two houses of the Provincial Parliament, and the Legislative Library. It is a building of fine architectural proportions, but by being placed in an unfavorable locality, is less imposing in appearance than, under other circumstances, it would be.

Besides the Province Building there are the Government House, the Admiralty House, Dalhousie College, the Asylum for the Insane in Dartmouth (which has been greatly enlarged), the Wellington Barracks, the Court-house, the City and Provincial Hospital, the Penitentiary, the City Prison, and the City Market, which may be classed as public buildings, and some of them are very attractive and imposing in appearance.

During the past year the British Government erected a Military Hospital in the Garrison field at a cost of 150,000 dols.

The Poors Asylum, completed also last year, is built of brick and granite, at a cost of 260,000 dols. It is situated on the South Common, west of the Provincial Hospital, and is the most imposing edifice in the city. The Blind Asylum, east of the Hospital, is a fine two-storey brick and stone building, just now ready for occupation. Its origin is due to the philanthropy of the late James Murdoch, Esq., who bequeathed £5000 towards the education of the blind in Nova Scotia.

The Halifax Club Building, the Temperance Hall, and the offices of several Banking and Insurance Companies are owned by the respective corporations bearing their names, and represent a very large accumulation of surplus capital. The Bank of Nova Scotia, in Hollis Street, was built in 1856–57, of freestone, and cost upwards of six thousand pounds.

The Banking House belonging to the Union Bank was built in 1863, at a cost of about ten thousand pounds. The Public School in Barrington Street, built in 1864 by the Roman Catholics, and taught by the Christian Brothers, is a substantial brick and granite structure. The Richmond Schoolhouse, erected in 1868, and capable of accommodating 240 pupils; the Morris Street Schoolhouse, built in 1869 at a cost of about 26,000 dols., and having accommodation for 500 pupils; and the Schoolhouse in Albro Street, erected in 1870, and capable of receiving 600 pupils, are all substantial edifices of brick and stone, erected to supply the increasing demand for school accommodation since the introduction of the Free School system. Some of the private business establishments and warehouses also are such as will do credit to any city. Among these there may be named the wholesale warehouses of the Messrs Kenny, Doull & Miller, Duffus & Co., Power & Co., Burns & Murray, S. Howard & Son, and many others in Hollis and Granville Streets, and the still more durable and commodious wharf warehouses of Cunard & Co., Collins' (now Seaton's), and many others, with which the wharves are studded, from Pryor's wharf to the Dockyard, and which are annually fitted with merchandise of various sorts, in which an extensive and lucrative trade is carried on with Great Britain, the United States, British and Foreign West Indies, and the neighboring provinces.

Manufactures of almost every kind are yet comparatively in their infancy in Halifax. There are in the city and Dartmouth five or six iron foundries and machine shops, in some of which steam engines and other heavy machines are neatly constructed. The machine shops of the Provincial Railway, at Richmond, comprise a number of commodious structures, and give employment to from one hundred to one hundred and fifty men. Besides these there are two or three extensive tobacco factories, two pianoforte factories, several furniture factories, a powder mill, one or two nail factories, sawing and planing mills, sash factories, &c., all which are doing an extensive business, and yielding a handsome return for capital invested. A sugar refinery has been erected on Granite wharf, and another is in course of erection in Dartmouth. A large flour mill has been completed, in connexion with a bakery, occupying from Grafton to Argyle Streets. This bakery establishment is capable of working off one hundred barrels of flour per day.

There are several colleges and academies, and a great number of private academies, schools, &c., in the city. The Free School system has lately been inaugurated in the Province, and 5000 children are now attending the Free Public schools in Halifax city.

In the year 1828 there were six newspapers published in Halifax; there are now nineteen—five daily, six tri-weekly, and four political weekly journals; four are devoted to the interests of religious denominations, and one to temperance; besides these, a journal of agriculture, and a journal of education, both monthly, are published under the management of the Provincial Boards appointed to these two departments, and one on mines and minerals.

There are now twenty-three places of worship in the city, including two in the course of erection. Six of these belong to the Presbyterians, five to the Episcopalians, three to the Roman Catholics, three to the Wesleyans, three to the Baptists, one to the Congregationalists, two to the colored population, principally Baptists and Methodists; they are all generally well filled on each returning Sabbath.

The Halifax Banking Company was organised in 1825, and is consequently the oldest Banking Company in the city. It was followed by the Bank of Nova Scotia and the Bank of British North America. There are now in all seven Commercial Banks, and two or three Savings Banks in the city. There are also Building Societies, four Public Libraries, three Reading Rooms, and several Benevolent Societies of various descriptions and nationalities (of which the North British Society was the first established).

Since the opening up of railway communication with the interior of the Province, the city has increased rapidly in wealth. Since 1858, railways have been in operation from Halifax to Windsor, on the Bay of Fundy, and from Halifax to Truro, at the head of Cobequid Bay. The latter line is now continued to Pictou Harbor, in the Straits of Northumberland, where it has already attracted a large trade from the Gulf of St Lawrence, besides bringing the coal mines of Pictou county within easy reach of the city. The Windsor line of railroad has been extended to Annapolis, 120 miles from Halifax. The intercolonial road is being rapidly pushed forward, and before the close of 1871 Halifax will be in unbroken communication with the Upper Provinces and the United States. The discovery of gold in the Province, and the extensive investment of capital and employment of labor in the gold mines, has also to some extent aided the commerce of the city, by providing a new and valuable export with which to pay for goods purchased in Great Britain. For the last few years, the population of the city has been rapidly increasing; and when the projected lines of communication by rail and steamships with neighboring Provinces and the United States are completed, Halifax must come to be one of the foremost cities in population and wealth, as she is already one of the most important in geographical position, on the continent of America.

HALIFAX COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE first English settlement in Halifax county was Halifax city, founded by Governor Cornwallis in 1749. Previous to that time the French had formed a small settlement near the mouth of a harbor about 20 miles east of Halifax, since known by the name of Chezzetcook, and still inhabited almost exclusively by French. The terror caused by the expulsion of the Acadians in 1755 caused this place to be deserted, in which condition it was found by Surveyor Morris in the following year.

In 1754 20,000 acres of land, lying from 6 to 12 miles east of Halifax city, were granted to twenty persons for settlement, and named in honour of the Governor "Lawrencetown."

As soon as Halifax became established, the inviting situation and facilities of Dartmouth caused several families to commence a settlement near the mill sites at the head of the Cove. While Halifax was protected by forts and palisades, the few families across the water were in a defenceless condition. This was taken advantage of by the Indians, who from the shores of the Bay of Fundy organised an attack, and having sailed up the Shubenacadie river, and through the chain of lakes to Dartmouth, fell upon the houses at the dead of night, killing some of the inmates, and carrying others into captivity. This incident chilled outside enterprise. Lawrencetown was deserted, and no further plans for settlement carrried out till after the expulsion of the French and peace with the Indians gave guarantee of safety.

From the head of Margaret's Bay, Dartmouth, and Jeddore, communication with the coast of the Bay of Fundy by means of the chains of lakes and rivers was comparatively easy. Each of these was a place of resort for the nomadic aborigines. With his canoe of birch-bark upon the back of his squaw (wife), and the few cooking utensils, &c., in the hands of his children, the Indian could readily pass over the "carrying-place," from lake to lake, or from river to stream. Small mounds along the shores of the above-named places, covered with green sward, have long been known to the whites as "Indian camping-grounds." When opened, these have invariably been found composed of broken shells, ashes, charred sticks, bark, and bones, and occasionally a stone hammer, chisel, or arrow-head of jasper or chalcedony has rewarded the antiquarian research. Jeddore harbor is remarkably well adapted for such communication. The salt water rolls up 12 miles into the interior from the headland, and to within a quarter of a mile of one of the largest lakes of Nova Scotia. This was the great Atlantic rendezvous for the Mic-mac tribe, and such it is yet at certain seasons to a remnant, the descendants of those who roamed over the country, and claimed all the land as their own. The massacre of several men who had gone thither from Halifax in a boat was perpetrated by Indians at Jeddore in 1753. There is at present an Indian village of about fifteen families near the first Dartmouth lake.

At the time of the first General Assembly of Nova Scotia in 1758, Halifax county comprised the territory now included in the counties of Halifax, Guysboro, Pictou, and Antigonish. Gradually settlements were made along the coast, and lands cleared and cultivated in the interior, giving sufficient population and importance for the formation of the three last-named counties, and the settlement of the bounds of Halifax county proper at the present limits. The county is about 120 miles in length, by 32 miles in average breadth. The surface is rugged, and to a considerable extent unfit for agricultural purposes, though the valley of the Musquodoboit, Sackville, Lawrencetown, and several other places, are farming districts. The staple product of the county is fish. The shore, rough and uninviting, is everywhere indented with harbors of the safest and most convenient kind. These have all been settled by Europeans and their descendants of various nationalities—each harbor possessing, in many instances, customs and names of people peculiar to itself. The majority of the settlements along the shore possess cultivated fields reclaimed from nature, and the fisherman or the fisherman's family are farmers part of the year. But some settlements are on the solid rock of the seaboard. Wood in many places, and water in times of drought, have to be carried from a long distance to supply the wants of these people. Salmon, herring, mackerel, cod, and halibut are the principal fish. Shore-fishing is prosecuted for the first four varieties mentioned; bank-fishing for the two last. Many fishermen have cleared from 400 to 800 dollars each during eight weeks of the spring of 1870, from the salmon-fishery alone.

In the year 1796, Maroons, or runaway negroes, to the number of 500, were transported from the island of Jamaica to Halifax. Land was allotted to them back of Dartmouth, and they were supported by funds from Jamaica and Britain. They were found to be wasteful, lazy, and vicious, and at the end of four years, after £38,000 sterling had been expended on them, they were happily shipped off to Sierra Leone. During the war with the United States in 1812-15, and while the British fleet was anchored in the Potomac, hundreds of slaves fled from their masters in Maryland and Virginia, and found freedom under the British flag. They were brought to Nova Scotia and scattered through all the counties. Four distinct settlements were formed by them in Halifax county on farms of ten acres each, allotted by Government, at Preston, Beech Hill, Hammond's Plains, and Guysboro Road. They have proved better in every respect than the Maroons, but the benefits accruing from their presence have apparently been few. Though there are some old folks among them yet who were born in slavery, yet the numbers seem not to have increased, and it is asserted that there are less black people in Nova Scotia now than there were thirty years ago. The selling of brush and berries in the Halifax market seems to be their principal employment.

After peace was restored in 1760, many French refugees sought again a home in Acadia. In most cases their old homes were in possession of the Saxon. Chezzetcook was an exception, and thither different families came and peacefully settled. Others of the same nationality followed them. There, without emigration, they have lived and increased, till now 250 families are settled around the harbor. They are a peaceful, industrious, sober, virtuous people, living in a manner not unlike that described by Longfellow in his poem, "Evangeline." "Benedict Bellefontaine" is a neighbor to many people in the village of Chezzetcook.

At Ingram River, Sackville, Fall River, Ship Harbor, and Sheet Harbor are extensive mills for manufacturing logs into boards, &c.

In the summer of 1860 gold was discovered at Tangier, in Halifax county. There had been rumors for years before that there was gold in Nova Scotia, and without knowing where to find it or how, men searched—surreptitiously for fear of those who held the monopoly of the mines and minerals—for the precious metals. In June of that year a party of men from Musquodoboit started on a search for gold. As they journeyed through the wilderness the pebbles of every brook were scanned, and the mud and sand of every pond or lake examined. Everything tinged with yellow brought the exclamation, "Here's gold," from one or another of the company. At last, one afternoon about four o'clock, as they, in looking out a camping-spot, stood on the brink of a rivulet flowing into Tangier river, about half way between Musquodoboit settlement and the sea, and about 60 miles east of Halifax city, one of them saw something yellow glistening on a pebble in the bed of the brook. Stooping to pick it up, he said "Here's gold," which was received with a laugh, till, after rubbing it upon his sleeve, he exhibited a piece of yellow metal about the size of a grain of wheat firmly embedded in the solid whitish rock. It was indeed gold. The news was soon known. Hundreds travelled through the wilderness to the diggings, to come back wiser but not richer than they went. It was soon found out that gold was to be found in quartz, or quartzite sand, and people searched in many places. Tangier, Oldham, Montague, Waverley, Lawrencetown, Hammond's Plains, Wine Harbor, St Mary's, Ovens, and Gold River were proclaimed gold districts; and within a year, villages teeming with a busy population sprung up where there was nothing but barren or wilderness. The six places first mentioned are in Halifax county, and the first four have been among the most prolific gold fields of the province. Gold-mining is uncertain, and the population and business at the mines fluctuating. One month may present a busy scene, next month apparent stagnation. Not one hundredth part of the county has yet been thoroughly prospected. For example, only last winter a very rich seam of quartz was discovered within ten yards of the first spot where gold was found in 1860, and is now worked with profit to the company. Nova Scotia has scarcely entered upon her career of gold-mining. When the country comes to be fully prospected and known, Halifax county must be found to abound in the precious metal. Previous to the discovery of gold the eastern shore of Halifax was little known and seldom travelled; there was no road along the shore; people went from place to place in boats. Gold discovery brought enterprise and development.

The year of 1864 brought a greater blessing by far to Nova Scotia than mineral wealth. In that year a law was passed declaring all schools to be free, and supported by general assessment. The effect up to the present has been wonderful in the whole province. Halifax county, owing to previous backwardness, has benefited most largely. The number of schools and children attending school has nearly trebled in this county within the five years preceding 1870. On the eastern shore, where not more than four or five schools were previously kept in operation, there were 33 schools during the summer of 1869, with about 1500 pupils in attendance.

The fishery having proved a failure on the coast, for several years hard times were experienced, but 1870 promises to bring success to the fisherman's door. If the destitution has taught the people economy, it will prove a blessing in the end rather than an injury. As trade was depressed in the whole province by the repeal of reciprocity with the United States, the metropolitan county had to bear a large share of the stagnation; but as trade has now to a great extent been directed into other channels, all branches of industry are entering upon a new activity. Halifax county possesses many advantages, and we trust that man's art and industry will profit to the full by the bounties so magnificently bestowed by nature.

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

ANNAPOLIS county is rich in historic interest. It was in this county that European colonisation began its wondrous and beneficial career on the Continent of North America. It was here that, in 1605, nearly 270 years ago, the French, under De Monts, commenced their first colony in America, on the beautiful peninsula at the head of that capacious and most beautiful sheet of water now called the Annapolis Basin, which connects, at its western extremity, with the Bay of Fundy. By its founder this settlement was called Port-Royal, which name it retained for 108 years, the period during which, with some interruptions, the French flag waved from its battlements. After a frequent change of masters, French or English, resulting either from the fortune of war between those nations, or the acts and wiles of diplomacy, the French finally ceded Acadia or Nova Scotia to Great Britain by the Treaty of Utrecht in 1713; and Port-Royal was merged in Annapolis Royal, which designation was given in honor of Queen Anne, the British sovereign of that time. For thirty-six years at least Annapolis Royal was the capital of Nova Scotia, till in the year 1749 it yielded that honor to Halifax, the young and important city planted by England's enterprise and power in a commanding position on Chebucto Bay, and affording probably the finest harbor in the world.

Though beautifully located, and possessing much historic interest, Annapolis Royal has not attained the growth and prosperity one would expect. The population does not exceed 500. It is the shire town. Here the courts are held, and the public business for the most part transacted. Here the county academy is located, with three departments in operation

Annapolis Royal has not done much in the way of manufactures, though its commercial activity and operations are very considerable. But having recently been made the western terminus of the "Windsor and Annapolis Railroad," which connects it with Halifax and intermediate places on the route, and being the depot for the St John steamers, connecting with said railroad here, it is confidently expected that this staid and ancient town will henceforth expand, and give convincing evidence of great enterprise and enduring prosperity. Indeed, Annapolis Royal is becoming distinguished for commercial enterprise. An agency of the Union Bank, Halifax, has been recently opened here for the accommodation of western trade; and still more recently, as we learn, an association to insure against marine risks, and called the Nova Scotia Lloyds' of Annapolis, has been formed, and with a prospect of large business and success. These movements indicate progress, and will, it is believed, under present management, contribute much to the advancement of Annapolis and Digby.

New Caledonia, more commonly called Granville Ferry, just opposite Annapolis Royal, on the north side of Annapolis River, is a little town of much enterprise and wealth. An ordinary boat-ferry, shortly to be superseded by a commodious steam-ferry, connects Annapolis Royal and New Caledonia. Shipbuilding is carried on here with much energy and success, and the place is steadily increasing in importance and influence. It is much to be regretted that its educational facilities are not in keeping with the ability and requirements of the place. A boot and shoe factory is established here, and is doing, it is said, a large and lucrative business.

Bridgetown, beautifully situated at the head of navigation on the Annapolis River, 15 miles east from Annapolis Royal, occupies a fine central position, and is the seat of a large export and import trade. This is a place of growing importance. And it would seem that Bridgetown would rival Annapolis Royal as respects the honors of shire town. In accordance with an act of the Provincial Legislature, one of the two annual sessions of the Supreme Court for this county is to be held here, and to this extent dividing the honor which has heretofore been awarded the ancient capital. The Free Press newspaper is owned, edited, and published here. This indicates spirit and progress. Here is also an iron foundry and a furniture factory, from both of which excellent work is turned out.

CHALONER'S Worm Lozenges, a Sure Remedy.

Bridgeport, at the extreme western limits of the county, is pleasantly situated at the head of navigation on Bear River, about 15 miles west of Annapolis Royal. Much commercial enterprise and energy exist here. The lumber business is prosecuted entensively. Shipbuilding is carried on with much vigor and success. The exports and imports are large, and the place prosperous.

Clementsport, 8 miles west from Annapolis, occupies a pleasant position at the mouth of Moose River, and carries on considerable trade. Rich deposits of iron ore are abundant in the vicinity, and formerly smelting works were in operation here, to prepare iron for market. Regret is felt that so important a branch of industry has not been found remunerative here, or for some cause had to be abandoned.

Paradise, on the Annapolis River, 4 miles east from Bridgetown, is beautifully located, and is distinguished for thrift, enterprise, and progress. Within a year past a cheese factory has been opened here, and it is said by competent judges that the products of this factory will enhance the high reputation which Annapolis cheese has so long maintained.

Lawrencetown, situated in the midst of a fine country, 7 miles east from Bridgetown, exhibits much spirit and energy. The place is evidently improving. In the vicinity, at Williamston, a cheese factory, with reputation and prospects similar to that at Paradise, is in operation.

Middleton, 5 miles east from Lawrencetown, is the centre of a large and increasing trade, and is quite a pleasant place.

Nictau, on the south side of the river, is a fine old settlement, while the Falls in the vicinity and the South Mountain afford picturesque and beautiful scenery. The ironworks at the Falls have been abandoned. It is thought that with the facilities for transportation now afforded by the "Windsor and Annapolis Railroad," those works could be carried on with profit to the company, and great benefit to the province.

Farmington, or Gibbonsville, 3 miles east from Middleton, exhibits considerable energy and progress. The most eastern railroad station in the county is here; and thus this place is directly connected with Middleton, Lawrencetown, Paradise, Bridgetown, Round Hill, and Annapolis Royal in the county, and with Halifax and intermediate stations on the route. Each of these places has four trains a day.

Melvern Square, near the eastern boundary of the county, about two miles north from the railroad, is a beautiful and thriving village.

Margaretville, situated on the Bay of Fundy, about 5 miles north of Melvern, is an important shipping place, and the centre of considerable trade.

Port-George, a few miles farther west on the same bay, affords similar facilities for shipping and trade.

Port-Williams, situated on the Bay of Fundy, 5 or 6 miles west of Port-George, is a place of considerable importance and trade. Valuable fisheries are prosecuted here, as at the other places already named on the Bay of Fundy, as also at Hampton and other places farther west along the shores of this bay, as far as Digby Gut, the extreme western limit of the county. Around the shores of Annapolis Basin, in Clements and Lower Granville, the fisheries are prosecuted with vigor and success. The population of Annapolis county reaches nearly 20,000, to the larger portion of which agriculture gives employment, and well rewards the toil and skill expended in this way. The marshes and rich upland yield vast quantities of the best hay, and a large amount of farm stock is kept for home use, and for St John, Halifax, and other markets, as required; while from the dairies of Annapolis are produced in abundance cheese of excellent quality. Potatoes of the best description are raised in great plenty, and other esculents also in corresponding quantity. Probably the best apples grown on this continent are raised in the Annapolis valley, and the quantity raised and exported year by year is enormous.

This branch of fruit culture can be carried on here to almost any extent; indeed, the entire valley of the Annapolis is admirably adapted to the cultivation of the apple on a large and successful scale, and it is believed that at no distant period this important and promising enterprise will command more capital and insure more attention and skill to its development and perfection in this county.

Manufactures are not forward in this county, but are progressing. The Lumber business is large, important, and growing. Shipbuilding is a very valuable and growing interest in Annapolis county. The Fisheries, as already stated, are prosecuted with energy and success on the shores of Annapolis Basin and along the Bay of Fundy.

The county is in general well provided with facilities for supplying a good common school education, while superior educational advantages are to be had in the larger towns and some other places.

The County Academy is located at Annapolis Royal, and is fully competent to furnish a good academic training, and prepare youth for college. Bridgetown, Bridgeport, Paradise, and Lawrencetown have each a graded school, with two departments in operation.

Christian churches, Christian ministers, Sabbath schools, and temperance organisations are found at convenient distances, and thus afford abundant means for the moral and religious culture of the people, both old and young. The scenery of Annapolis County, particularly the Annapolis Valley, with the North Mountain on the one side, and the South Mountain on the other, is picturesque and beautiful, and much admired by intelligent travellers.

Annapolis is not only the oldest, but among the most beautiful and prosperous counties of Acadia, and its people among the most intelligent, orderly, and loyal in the province.

ANTIGONISH COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

ANTIGONISH, formerly Sidney county, is, like Annapolis, almost exclusively agricultural, but its people follow grazing and the raising of stock more than the cultivating of cereals or fruit. The district of Tracadia is peopled chiefly by the Acadians, but the inhabitants of the rest of the county are almost exclusively of Scottish Highland descent. The college of St Francis Xavier is located in Antigonish, the shire town, where also is the residence of the Roman Catholic Bishop for the diocese of Arichat. Antigonish has one newspaper. The town is principally settled by immigrants from the Highlands of Scotland. The chief occupation of the inhabitants is mercantile pursuits, shipbuilding, &c. A large trade is carried on in cattle and butter, considerable quantities of which are exported to Newfoundland. There are quite a number of fine buildings, churches, &c. in the town.

Antigonish county is one of the principal farming localities in Nova Scotia.

The population of the county in 1861 was 14,871, since which time there has been a moderate increase.

CAPE BRETON COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county, one of the four into which the island of Cape Breton is divided, has a population of various origins, but chiefly of Scotch descent. A large part of its area is well adapted for agricultural purposes; and it has besides immense deposits of coal, which are now being extensively worked. The fisheries are also prosecuted with success by a portion of the inhabitants. The shire town is Sydney, formerly the seat of Government when Cape Breton Island was a separate colony; but it is being outstripped by North Sydney or North Bay, where vessels are loaded with coal from Sydney Mines, and where the Newfoundland mail-boats call on their way to and from Halifax. A weekly newspaper is published in the town of Sydney. It contains several churches and a very fine school-house. The masonic and temperance societies have a fine hall. The town is situated on the south-east side of the river; and from the old fort on Barrack Point there is a splendid view of North Bar and Sydney Mines. It is also the principal resort of the French fleet, and in the summer months they make the locality quite gay.

The principal trade of Sydney is with the coal mines; and the farmers export a large quantity of butter to Newfoundland and Halifax. The population of the county in 1861 was 20,866; but it has largely increased since that date in consequence of the rapid extension of the mining operations.

COLCHESTER COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

LONG before Nova Scotia finally came under the dominion of Britain, the French had flourishing settlements in this county, on the rich alluvial lands around the head of Cobequid Bay; but at present it contains no inhabitants of French origin, its people being descended from emigrants from the North of Ireland, the Highlands of Scotland, and the New England States. Its soil, throughout nearly its whole extent, is very fertile. It contains rich deposits of iron, which is being extensively worked by the Acadia Charcoal Iron Company. Some deposits of coal have also been discovered, but not of sufficient extent to induce capitalists to invest in them. A profitable fishing and shipbuilding business is carried on by the inhabitants along the shore of Cobequid Bay, from Onslow to Five Islands.

Truro (shire town) is one of the most healthy, and pleasantly situated, and prettiest towns in the province. It is the seat of the Provincial Normal School, the Model School, and other handsomely-built institutions of learning. There is an extensive boot and shoe factory and a large ironfoundry in the town. The chief occupation of the inhabitants is trading, farming, &c.

Truro is the market for the farmers of the county. It has been connected with Halifax by railway since 1858, and will become a station of importance upon the completion of the projected Intercolonial Railway.

CUMBERLAND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS large county in its general outline forms a triangle of considerable irregularity. From Malagash Point in the east, to Cape Chiegnecto in the west, the distance in a straight line is about 90 miles, and by the mail-road 120 miles. From Tidnish Head on Bay Verte to the Colchester boundary line on West Chester is directly 40 miles, and by road 60 miles. The eastern shore is rather tame. The scenery on the Bay of Fundy is bold, even grand. Thus situated, between the navigable waters of the Bay of Fundy and Northumberland Strait, the county possesses unsurpassed facilities for profitable trade with the adjacent provinces and the United States. The Intercolonial Railway, now in course of construction, and the long projected ship-canal through the Isthmus of Bay Verte, 15 miles in length, when completed, will confer great advantages on Cumberland.

Nova Scotia contains about 36,000 acres of marsh, 16,000 of which are within the limits of this county. The marsh land has been formed by the regular action of the tide, which in the Bay of Fundy rises to the height of 60 feet, and is the most fertile alluvial soil in the world. An acre produces two tons of hay, which usually sells at $8 or $10 per ton. The estimated value of an acre of marsh is $80, which, for 16,000 acres, would amount to $1,280,000.

The uplands are generally of good quality, and for the most part covered with forests. The Cobequid Hills, with their outlying spurs, extend through the county from Cape Chiegnecto to Colchester. This region is noted for its scenery. Large quantities of sugar are manufactured from the groves of maple trees which are found in many localities. Lumbering is carried on extensively throughout the county, particularly along the course of River Philip.

The carboniferous system is largely developed. The Joggins Shore, from Minudie to Apple River, presents one of the finest geological sections in the world, and has attracted some of the ablest savans from America and Europe. Coal is found abundantly in the district stretching from the Joggins to Springhill, a distance of over 20 miles. The principal mine exists at the Joggins, on the very edge of the cliff, at the bottom of which there is a small wharf where vessels are loaded with the coal. The other mines are little wrought at present, but the building of the railway is likely to infuse new vigor into coal-mining. The Joggins coal resembles the Sydney, the Springhill, and the Pictou. Nearly 18,000 tons were raised in 1866. It is probable that further discoveries of coal may be made in the direction of Black River, an affluent of River Philip. Clay ironstone in small quantities is found on the Joggins Shore and elsewhere. Grindstones are quarried chiefly on the property of Gilbert Seaman, Esq., by G. W. Cutter, Esq., and Messrs G. Seaman & Co. In 1861, Nova Scotia produced 46,496 grindstones, of which most were made in Cumberland. A factory for scythestones has been begun within a year or two. Valuable freestone quarries are wrought within a short distance of Wallace Village, and considerable quantities are exported. Limestone and gypsum are found from Minudie to Pugwash and Wallace, especially at Nappan River and Pugwash. Black bituminous limestone exists on the Joggins Shore, which is worth three times the price of ordinary limestone, since it contains bones and scales of fishes.

The rivers are the Wallace, Pugwash, Philip, Shinimicas, Tidnish, Nappan, Maccan, Hebert, &c., of which River Philip is the largest and most important, containing fine salmon.

The Bay of Fundy and Northumberland Strait are excellent fishing-grounds, the former noted for shad, and the latter for herring, cod, mackerel, and gaspereaun.

The county is intersected in all directions by a network of roads, which, in the low-lying localities, it is difficult to keep in a state of repair.

Amherst, the county town, is situated on a gentle undulation at the edge of the marsh, 4 miles from the New Brunswick boundary line. It contains about 1000 people, and has five places of public worship. There is a good academy, with a staff of four teachers. Four good hotels supply the wants of the travelling public. It has a stove foundry, machine shop, and several tanneries, &c. The stoves, especially that of B. Douglas & Co., are remarkably good. The neighbourhood is pretty thickly settled.

Aniline Dyes—CHALONER'S Drug Store—Aniline Dyes.

C. & W. ANDERSON, Importers of English Essences of all kinds, Duke cor Barrington St.

Minudie, 8 miles from Amherst by the ferry, is a pretty village. Its prosperity is due to the marshes and grindstone quarries in its vicinity.

Pugwash is a neat little village of about 1200 people, situated at the mouth of Pugwash River. The harbor is the best between Pictou and Miramichi. Lumbering, shipbuilding, and fishing are the principal branches of industry. There are fine churches and a good public school.

Wallace is a pretty little village of 300 people on the harbor of that name, and carries on ship-building, lumbering, quarrying, and farming. Three hotels provide ample accommodation for travellers. There are several places of worship and a good school.

Oxford, at the head of tidewater on River Philip, is a thriving village. It has a number of saw-mills, and a woollen factory. There are two hotels and a church.

Mill Village, Parrsborough, is a place of about 600 inhabitants. It has five places of worship and a schoolhouse. There are three hotels. Shipbuilding and trade are carried on to some extent.

Advocate Harbor is a scattered village on an inlet west of Cape d'Or. Shipbuilding and trade are carried on to a considerable extent. There are two churches and two schools.

At Port Greville, midway between Mill Village and Advocate, shipbuilding is carried on.

The population of the county, which in 1817 was only 2398, and in 1861 19,533, must now be about 24,000. The inhabitants at first were partly United Empire Loyalists and Yorkshiremen from England. The bulk now are English, Scotch, Irish, and French, in their origin or descent.

The religious denominations represented are, the Wesleyans, Baptists, Presbyterians, Episcopalians, and Roman Catholics.

The education of the county has made great strides since the introduction of assessment in 1864. According to the Report for 1868, there were 121 school sections and 116 schools in operation, with an aggregate of 5000 pupils, which showed an increase of 2936 pupils in four years.

DIGBY COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

It is some thirty-five years since Digby county was set apart from Annapolis, with which it was formerly connected. The southern portion of the county, known as the district of Clave, is settled almost exclusively by the descendants of the old French colonists or Acadians, and is the largest settlement of people of that origin now in Nova Scotia.

Digby (shire town) is situated near the entrance from the Bay of Fundy, called Digby Gut; the waters of the Annapolis River empty into its harbor, which is both safe and large. The inhabitants of Digby are chiefly engaged in fishing, lumbering, and mercantile pursuits. The waters in the vicinity abound in fish, some of which are of the choicest kind. There is a newspaper published in this town.

Bear River, which is partly considered a continuation of Clementsport, is a thriving settlement, and shipbuilding is carried on to a considerable extent. St Mary's Bay and Weymouth are also thriving places, but most especially in Weymouth is shipbuilding extensively done. It is growing very fast, and ere long, no doubt, it will compare with Digby in size and population.

Agriculture in some parts is carried on extensively and prosperously, and is the chief occupation of the inhabitants, who numbered in 1861 nearly 15,000.

GUYSBOROUGH COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS county is situated in the north-eastern section of the province, and extends from the Strait of Canso westward to Halifax county. The land along the Atlantic coast is exceedingly rocky and sterile, but there is some fine tillage land in the interior, where farming is successfully carried on.

Guysborough (shire town), which takes its name from Sir Guy Carleton, and was first settled by disbanded soldiers in 1790, is beautifully situated on the west side of Milford Haven. A fine bluff head commands the entrance to the commodious harbor, on which the remains of the old fort still exist. It has a large academy in a very flourishing condition. Shipbuilding and mercantile pursuits chiefly occupy its inhabitants. The people of the county are principally engaged in fishing, farming, and gold-mining—the latter, in consequence of the rich leads found at Wine Harbor and other places, fast becoming prominent, and placing this county in natural resources second to none in the province. The Strait of Canso, which separates this county from Richmond and Inverness counties, is a magnificent sheet of water, giving yearly passage to thousands of tons of shipping bound to all parts, and said by shipmasters to pass more keels than any other strait in the world, excepting Gibraltar, and furnishing Port Mulgrave, the principal seaport in this county, with a large foreign trade.

HANTS COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.*

THE county of Hants occupies the central part of Nova Scotia proper, contains 1073 square miles, and is divided into seven townships—namely, Windsor, which is the shire town, Falmouth, Newport, Douglas, Rawdon, Kempt, and Uniacke.

The Mic-mac tribe of Indians were the first inhabitants of the county, as also of the province. Some sections of the county were claimed by particular families of the tribe as their peculiar hunting-grounds. The Paul family has from time immemorial claimed the district on the west side of the Shubenacadie River, where a reservation of land has been made on their behalf by the Government, and a number of families are now settled and engaged in agricultural pursuits, and where they have erected a chapel, in which they perform their religious services. Several rivers in the county are still called by the names they received from the Mic-macs, as the Shubenacadie, the Kennetcook, and the Coqmagun.

The Acadian French were the first European settlers in the county, and although it may be difficult to ascertain the precise date of their first settlement here, it was most probably about the year 1640, as in the year 1634, Charles Etienne La Tour received from the King of France a grant of that part of Nova Scotia then called Minas, and which no doubt included the counties of Kings and Hants ; and it is stated in a proclamation issued by Governor Lawrence in 1758, inviting persons in the New England colonies to settle in Nova Scotia, that "one hundred thousand acres of land had been cultivated, and had borne wheat, rye, barley, oats, hemp, flax, &c., for the last century without failure." From the quantity of marsh land they had reclaimed from the tide-water, and cultivated, with other improvements, there can be no reasonable doubt that they had been settled here more than a century before their removal.

Near every marsh of any considerable extent in the county, their cellars, wells, and fruit-trees still mark the localities where their villages once stood. Their principal village or settlement appears to have been at Windsor, the large tracts and superior quality of the marsh land having attracted greater numbers to that place than to other parts of the county. They had a chapel in Windsor, near the site of which the Indians, until within a late period, resorted to bury their dead, as also to the site of another chapel, on the west side of the Shubenacadie River, on a farm now owned by Mr Daniel Snyde, and which still retains the name of the Mass-house Farm.

The greater number of the Acadian French were removed from the county in 1755. The Rivers St Croix, Herbert, and Petite still bear the names given them by the French settlers.

Shortly after the settlement of Halifax in 1749, a blockhouse and other fortifications were erected at Windsor, on what is now called Fort Hill. This fortification was deemed necessary to protect the early English settlers of the adjacent lands from sudden attacks from the Indians and many of the Acadian French, who had associated with them, and who were still encouraged by the hope that while Canada was held by the French, efforts would be made by their countrymen in that quarter, and also by the French Government, to recapture Nova Scotia, and re-establish them in the possession of their lands. But when they received information of the taking of Quebec by General Wolfe in 1759, and that the whole of Canada had fallen into the hands of the English, their hopes were entirely frustrated ; and the French, who had for some years lived in retired and secluded places with the Indians, soon after retired from the country, and the Indians, being no longer instigated by the French in annoying the English, soon became quiet and peaceable towards them.

* For the information contained in this sketch, I am entirely indebted to my venerable friend Benjamin Smith, Esq., of Douglas, who very kindly placed in my hands a historical essay on Hants county, written in 1865. I would hereby gratefully acknowledge my obligations to him.

Several of the French and Indian encampments at this period may still be pointed out near the head of the tide on the Kennetcook River, to which the French drove many of their cattle, and had them slaughtered for their subsistence. Those encampments long retained the name of the French Barracks.

The principal part of the township of Windsor was granted to gentlemen either connected with the Government or belonging to the army, but few of whom ever resided on the lands conveyed to them, which operated unfavorably to the improvement of the township in its early settlement; but many of those grants have since been sold and subdivided, by which a very favorable change has been effected.

The advantageous conditions of Governor Lawrence's proclamation issued in 1758, and widely circulated in the New England colonies, induced a large number from those colonies—principally from Massachusetts and Rhode Island—to remove with their families for the purpose of forming settlements in this county in 1759 and 1760. They obtained grants of land in the townships of Falmouth and Newport, the grant of the township of Falmouth being dated July 1759, and that of Newport in 1761. The township of Newport was granted to seventy proprietors, nearly all of whom had come from the colony of Rhode Island. The grant was laid off in farm lots, containing both marsh and upland, wood lots and town lots, each proprietor being allowed at least one lot of each description, with a right in a large quantity of land, both marsh and upland, that had not been included in the first division. There were also glebe and school lots laid off at the same time. The greater number of the present inhabitants of the township are descended from these early proprietors.

Douglas is the most extensive township in the county, and has for some years been divided into three districts for the support of the poor. The settlements of Kennetcook, Gore, Nine Mile River, and Five Mile River, were included in a grant passed in 1784 to Lieutenant-Colonel John Small, for the purpose of settling the 2d Battalion of the 84th Regiment, disbanded after the close of the American Revolutionary war.

Noel is situated on an inlet from the Cobequid Bay, and is surrounded by a large quantity of marsh land, which has been settled by the Acadian French. The principal part of what is now called Noel Village was granted to and settled by two families from the North of Ireland, by the name of O'Brien and Densmore, the first locating on the west side of Noel Bay, and the second on the east side. The descendants of these families still occupy the place, and the greater number of the inhabitants of the district bear their name.

The township of Kawdon was granted in 1784 to a number of loyalists, who had removed to this county from the Southern States at the close of the American Revolutionary war.

The township of Kempt was not settled at so early a period as the adjoining township of Newport. The first settler in that township, after the removal of the Acadian French, was a Mr William Parker, who located himself upon the Petite River, near where the village of Walton now stands. A considerable proportion of the present inhabitants of the township are Mr Parker's descendants.

The township of Uniacke was so called as a mark of respect for the late Hon. Richard John Uniacke, who about the year 1820 induced the Government to form that part of the county into a separate township, in order to enable the inhabitants to transact their local business without being obliged to proceed to other townships for that purpose, in none of which this tract had been included by any specific boundaries.

Few counties in Nova Scotia exceed Hants in its agricultural capabilities. A large portion of Windsor, Newport, and Falmouth townships consist of dyked marsh of a very superior quality.

The whole county lies upon a bed of gypsum, which crops out in numerous places, and which is exported in large quanties to the United States The following figures exhibit the amount exported in the year ended December 31, 1869:—Windsor, 81,276 tons; Cheverie, 9348 tons; Walton, 4760 tons; Maitland, 1180 tons; Hantsport, 3860 tons—total, 100,424 tons.

The principal gold districts in Hants county are at Renfrew and Uniacke, though gold has been discovered at Ellershause, Stillwater, Ponhook, River Hebert, and other places. The mines at Renfrew produced in the year ended September 30, 1867, 9401 ounces of gold, the product of 7770 tons of quartz. For the same year, Uniacke produced 947 ounces of gold from 1212 tons of quartz.

Manganese, slates, freestone, pipeclay, grindstone, limestone, moulding sand, &c., are also found in Hants county.

Shipbuilding is extensively carried on in this county. In this respect it is second only to Yarmouth county. There were launched in the county and sent to sea during the year ended December 31, 1864, thirty-one vessels, registering 11,922 tons. From 1860 to 1865, the total tonnage in the registrar's office increased from 29,058 to 63,640. And these figures, it may be observed, do not exhibit the total tonnage built in the county, as the ships built at Maitland are mostly registered in Halifax. Ezra Churchill, Esq., of Hantsport, is probably the largest shipowner in Nova Scotia.

The population of Hants county at the present time is about 20,000; of Windsor, about 3000. Windsor is 45 miles from Halifax.

INVERNESS COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

INVERNESS is the second county of Cape Breton in point of extent and population. The population, with the exception of a district in its northern part, whose inhabitants are of French origin, are wholly descended from Scotch Highlanders.

Port Hood (shire town), situated on the east side of the harbor of the same name, on undulating ground, carries on considerable business with the fishermen and farmers in the vicinity. The harbor is a great resort for the North Bay mackerel fleet in bad weather—300 sail, chiefly American, sometimes gathering there at once; and the beauty and excitement of their simultaneous departure on the return of fine weather, with their clouds of canvas and clinking patents, beggars description.

The recent opening of a coal mine there, and the building of a Government wharf, from which a steamer now plies to Pictou railway depot, places the inhabitants in easy communication with the capital, and has given life and impetus to its trade. Farming is the principal occupation of the people of the county, though fishing is carried on to some extent. The discovery of coal deposits in several places gives hopes of its future rapid advancement.

KING'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

KING'S COUNTY.

A LARGE, and the most valuable, portion of this county is formed by a continuation of the Annapolis valley, and possesses the same general characteristics of extreme fertility and successful farming and fruit culture. The most valuable dyked land in the province is in this county, some of it being worth £60 to £80 per acre. The inhabitants of Canning, Scott's Bay, and other places, are largely interested in shipping.

Kentville (shire town) is an inland town, situated on the Cornwallis River. The waters in the vicinity are noted for the quality and quantity of their trout. Acadia College, located in Kentville, is one of the foremost seats of learning in the province.

The county of King's ranks next to Annapolis as a farming and fruit-growing county.

LUNENBURG COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

LUNENBURG county is one of the six counties of Nova Scotia proper that lie on the Atlantic coast. It adjoins Halifax and Hants on the north and east; King's and Annapolis on the north and west; Queen's on the south and west; and is washed on the south and east by the Atlantic Ocean.

Coast.—The principal bays and harbors are Chester Basin, Mahone Bay, Lunenburg Harbor, and the estuary of the Lahave River. The coast is bold, and has several good, though not large harbors.

Surface.—The surface of the county is in general undulating, but nowhere much elevated. The highest point is Aspotogon.

"While breezy Aspotogon Lifts high its summit blue."

Rivers and Lakes.—The three largest rivers are the Lahave, Gold, and Petite. Numerous smaller rivers and brooks intersect the county in every direction. There are no very large lakes, but numbers of small ones.

Climate.—The climate is healthy, and rather more equable and mild than in the eastern counties, though there is more wet weather and fog. Cattle require to be housed more than half the year. The N.E. and S.W. are the prevailing winds.

Soil.—The "primary" system of rock formation occupies this county; and as the soils of this formation are generally stony and rather unproductive, it follows that agriculture will not be so fully engaged in as in other parts of the province. At the same time, many fine farms may be seen along the shore, and in the upper part of the county, which is watered by the tributaries of the Lahave river, producing much land valuable for farming purposes. Large quantities of sea-weed are thrown up on the shore during easterly storms, whereby the inhabitants are provided with manure for their lands.

Minerals.—Lunenburg produces but few minerals. Gold is the only one found in any quantities, and that in but few localities. In June 1861, it was discovered on a peninsula extending several miles into the Atlantic, and terminating in a bluff promontory, 40 to 50 feet in height, called the "Ovens," from a number of caverns worn in the solid rock by the action of the waves. Quartz and slate are the most abundant rock. From the disintegration of the slate, a cove has been worn by the sea, south of the point, on the beach of which the gold was discovered in the form of coarse "dust." The amount of gold obtained there in 1861 has been roughly estimated at upwards of $120,000. When the "gold fever" was at its height, quite a little town might be seen, and nearly 1000 people; but it is now almost entirely deserted. Gold has been found at a few other places; but, with the exception of one or two localities, in too small quantities to be remunerative.

Inhabitants.—The population of the county was, in 1827, 9405; in 1838, 12,058; in 1851, 16,395; in 1861, 19,632. The order of population, according to origin, is German and Swiss, French, English, Scotch, and American; according to religions, in 1861, Episcopalians, Lutherans, Baptists, Presbyterians, Wesleyans, Universalists.

Divisions.—The county has three townships—Chester, Lunenburg, and New Dublin; these are further subdivided into eleven polling districts.

Towns.—The towns are Lunenburg (county town), Chester, Mahone Bay, and Bridgewater.

The town of Lunenburg is situated on a peninsula sloping to the water's edge, near the head of a beautiful sheet of water well known as Lunenburg Harbor. It is distant from Halifax by land 69 miles, by water about 45. It has a population of about 1200, and contains five churches, a court-house, temperance hall, county academy, drill-shed, and gaol. There is a trade with the West Indies steadily increasing, and the town is otherwise improving.

Chester.—The town of Chester was settled in the year 1760 by emigrants from New England, the township being erected at the same time. The settlers were 30 families amounting to 148 persons, who brought with them from New England the materials necessary for forming a new settlement, including a large stock of cattle. The town was regularly laid out with broad streets. It commands a fine prospect on the north side of Mahone Bay, numerous islands being in view, some of them in their natural state, others in good cultivation. The celebrated "Oak" island, famed for its traditional treasures buried there by Captain Kidd, is almost in view of the town. Loyalist and German families have joined the original settlers. The town is 25 miles from Lunenburg, 45 from Halifax, and 35 from Windsor. It contains three churches and two schoolhouses.

Bridgewater, 12 miles from Lunenburg, is beautifully situated on the River Lahave, about 14 miles from its mouth. It is one of the most thriving villages in the province, containing about 160 houses, twenty stores, three foundries, one carriage factory, one furniture factory, four tanneries, four churches, drill shed, temperance hall, &c. Its trade is extensive, consisting chiefly in lumber, timber, staves, wood and bark, which are exported to the United States, West Indies, Newfoundland, &c. Shipbuilding is carried on extensively, the facilities for this branch being of a superior order. Population above 900.

Mahone Bay is situated on a bay of the same name, though the proper name is "Prince's Inlet." The village extends along the south and west side of the bay for about a mile, the head being 7 miles from Lunenburg. It is a prosperous village, and shipbuilding is carried on to a great extent. The scenery of the country surrounding the bay is in the spring and autumn scarcely to be excelled in the whole province.

History of Lunenburg County.—Lahave is remarkable as having been the first locality in Lunenburg county visited by foreigners. During the sixteenth century, the coast was frequented by French fishing-vessels; but no permanent settlement was made until the beginning of the seventeenth. Malagash (now Lunenburg) is the next point of interest. The name is an Indian one, signifying "milky," from the aspect the water of the harbor presented during and after a storm. There was an Indian settlement at Malagash more than a century before the permanent settlement by the British in 1753, of which we will now give a brief sketch. A number of Germans and Swiss having been induced by a proclamation to emigrate to Nova Scotia, arrived at Halifax, and when a sufficient number had assembled there, it was thought fit to form a new settlement, and Malagash was selected as the locality. Accordingly 1453 persons were embarked on May 27, 1753, under convoy of H.M.S. Albany, Captain John Rous, with Colonel Lawrence as commander of the expedition. They arrived at their destination on June 7. The town was laid out in six divisions, named from persons prominent in the settlement, and named Lunenburg. The Indians becoming very troublesome, the inhabitants built a picket fence across the peninsula from the front to the back harbor, and a chain of nine blockhouses to protect themselves from their incursions. Four other blockhouses were built at outlying points to keep the Indians in check. Although they took all precautions, yet the unfortunate settlers were greatly harassed, and kept constantly on the alert, till at length, worn out by their exertions, and incited by other causes, they rose in rebellion, December 15 of the same year, and were with difficulty appeased. Regular troops were sent down, and were very useful in keeping the Indians in awe. The first general election was held at Lunenburg, July 31, 1758, when Mr Philip Knaut and Mr Alexander Kedy were elected members of the first General Assembly, convened by Governor Lawrence. In 1760, a peace was made with the Indians, whereby Lunenburg was freed from their molestations. The population of the town was, on November 20, 1760, in all 1464. From that time until the beginning of the American war, Lunenburg rapidly increased in population and wealth. During the war it met with several losses. On Monday, July 1, 1782, six American privateers entered the harbor and landed ninety men, who took and plundered the town. The loss of property was estimated at £12,000. In 1791, the township of Lunenburg contained above 2200 persons.

Mahone Bay.—In the spring of 1754, Captain Ephraim Cook left Halifax with materials for forming a blockhouse at Mush-a-mush, seven miles from Lunenburg. A sloop of war was sent down with a squad of forty-two men, under command of a Captain Lewis, an old companion of his. He changed the name to Mahone Bay.

Bridgewater.—The first house was erected here over forty years ago by a Mr Hutchins. The place exhibited very little progress for some fifteen years, when settlers from Annapolis began to build and improve it.

Since 1861, gang-mills have been erected on the Lahave River, worked both by water and steam, adding largely to the lumber-producing power of the county. Logs are brought down the river from King's and Annapolis counties to supply the mills. A small steam-tug is kept in good employment on the river; and a steamer, connecting Halifax with Yarmouth, touches once a-week each way at the port of Lunenburg. Mail accommodation is good all over the county; a four-horse coach, conveying mails and passengers, leaves Halifax three times a-week for Lunenburg, Liverpool, and Shelburne, returning the following days; and after July 1, it is said the coach will run daily.

A small but growing trade is kept up with the West India islands; and several vessels carry on trade with Europe and other parts of the world, taking fish and lumber of native produce. The architectural tastes of the people are rapidly improving. The dwelling-houses, though not built so large as formerly, have a style and appearance about them which mark a new era. Churches and schools increasing on all sides manifestly prove that the soul and the intellect are not to be left behind in the increase of bodily comforts.

Railways have not yet been built in this county, but a commencement has been made in the appliance of steam by the steam-tug and steam-mill on the Lahave; and though the county has begun modestly, it is not going to rest there; for the fruitful farms and fisheries, which are to be the main sources of support and supplies, are mines of wealth to the industrious population of the county; and their improvement, though slow, is steady, uninterrupted, and sure. The iron-foundry established at Bridgewater; the extensive orchards of imported fruit-trees; the gang-mills of the Messrs Davidson and Machin; the improvements in dwelling-houses, vessels, boats, and agricultural implements; the advanced style of schoolhouses and school furniture; the growing commerce,—all these things evince a spirit among the people that will not be satisfied without an advance upward and onward, in things intellectual and spiritual, as well as in things material.

PICTOU COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THIS fine county lies on the southern shore of the Straits of Northumberland. It is about 40 miles long by about 20 in breadth. Its coast is indented by a number of harbors, the principal of which are River John, Carriboo, Pictou, and Merigomish. Into these flow River John, the east, west, and middle rivers of Pictou and Sutherland, French and Barney's rivers of Merigomish, besides smaller streams, so that it is well watered throughout. Near the shore the land is comparatively level; but in the interior, ranges of hills extend in every direction, presenting scenery of the most varied and beautiful description. A higher range, being a branch of the Cobequid Hills, extends along its western border. Another range, though not rising to as great an elevation, traverses the southern portion of the county.

It has no marsh land, but along its rivers is much valuable intervale, and much of the upland soil, even to the summits of the hills, is fertile, and generally it is capable of cultivation. It has also abundance of mineral resources, especially coal, iron ore, freestone, gypsum, and limestone.

Pictou is mentioned by Charlevoix as the seat of an Indian village; but the French had made no settlement here. They had visited the place shortly before the peace of 1763, and had made preparations for occupying it, but never accomplished their purpose.

In the year 1765, a grant of 200,000 acres, embracing the western portion of the county, and part of the county of Colchester, was made to fourteen persons in the city of Philadelphia, usually known as the Philadelphia Company. The condition of their grant was that they should settle so many families upon it within a certain time. Before, however, their grant was actually laid out, an officer in the army obtained an order of survey for a block of land on which the town of Pictou now stands, and extending a considerable distance along the shore of the harbor. This land was afterwards transferred to Walter Patterson, Esq., afterwards governor of Prince Edward Island, it is said, for a horse and saddle, and has generally since been known as the Cochrane Grant.

The Philadelphia Company sent the first band of settlers, consisting of six families, who left Philadelphia in May 1767, and after calling at Halifax, arrived in Pictou on the 10th June following. The prospect before them was dreary. One unbroken forest extended to the water's edge, an alder-swamp occupied the lower portions of the town of Pictou, and there were no inhabitants but Indians, whom they feared as savages. Of these six families two removed to Truro. The remaining four set vigorously to work to prepare their new homes. The Philadelphia Company's grant was so laid out that it contained no portion of the shore of the harbor suitable for a town. One was laid out, however, at Waller's Point, about a mile above the site of the present town, but it was never built. About a year after their arrival they were joined by two families from Truro, and two or three from Cumberland; and in the year 1771 a few more families arrived from Philadelphia. But coming from a warm climate, several became discouraged by the length and severity of the winter, and did not remain, so that for a few years the settlement made little progress.

In the year 1773 arrived the ship Hector, from Loch Broom, with about thirty families, embracing about 180 souls, most of them Highlanders, sent out by an agent of the same Company. They landed on the 15th September, in poverty, and too late in the year to get any crop that season. These had arrived to settle the Philadelphia grant, but finding that it had only a small frontage on the shore, and that taken up by those who had previously arrived, they refused to occupy it, and the agent of the Company refused them provisions. They endured, therefore, incredible hardship for a time, the men being obliged to proceed to Truro, and there obtaining a few potatoes or a little flour for their labor, to return on foot through the woods, carrying them on their backs, or in winter hauling them on handsleds, for the support of their families. Most of these removed away to other parts of the province, though in subsequent years they generally returned. Those who remained gradually surmounted the difficulties of the first settlement. They caught the fish, which were abundant in the rivers, and they learned to hunt, especially the moose, which supplied them with venison. In the year after their arrival they managed to prepare a cargo of pine timber for the British market. By clearing the soil they also obtained abundant returns of wheat and potatoes. They were thus beginning to surmount the difficulties of a first settlement, when they received an influx of settlers in poorer circumstances than themselves. These consisted of about fifteen families, originally from Dumfriesshire, in Scotland, who arrived in Prince Edward Island in the year 1774, having endured everything but starvation there, in consequence especially of a visitation of mice, and were glad to exchange total want for the scanty allowance that the settlers in Pictou could afford them. The next addition to the settlers was at the close of the American war, in the fall of the year 1783 and the summer of 1784, when a number of disbanded soldiers and their families were settled on what has since been called the 82d Grant. In the last of these years, eight families from the Highlands, who had arrived in Halifax, removed to Pictou.

In the year 1786 the Rev. James, afterwards Dr McGregor, settled in Pictou; and as he preached in the Gaelic language, many Highlanders from other parts of the province removed there, that they might hear the gospel in their own tongue; and for some years a steady emigration from the Highlands set in, until most of the land fit for cultivation was occupied.

A town had been originally planned by Governor Patterson where the town of Pictou now stands. In the year 1787 the wood was cut down, and it is said that in the following year the first house was erected. The founding of the town on its present site is generally attributed to John Patterson, long known as Deacon Patterson. He purchased a farm lot, on the front of which the town now stands, from Governor Patterson; and by erecting small buildings upon it to rent to tradesmen, and by selling off small lots, fixed the town in its present position.

For some time Pictou formed part of the district of Colchester, then called Cobequid, and the court of Quarter-Sessions was held at Onslow. In the year 1790 the people of the former place petitioned to be relieved from attendance there. At that time, according to their statement, there were 400 families in the settlement. Accordingly, an order was issued in 1792 for holding an inferior court, and the opening of a poll, thus erecting it into a separate district. The same year the road was opened to Pictou, and in the following year a jail was built.

The wars of the French Revolution, especially by the closing of the Baltic ports, and the consequent demand for timber in Britain, gave a great impulse to the trade of Pictou. From the year 1805 to the year 1819, upwards of one hundred sail of vessels were annually loaded there with timber for the British market, and its annual exports amounted to about £100,000 per annum. During the same time a trade sprang up with the West Indies in fish and lumber, which has since been discontinued. During the same period shipbuilding was carried on largely, and has always formed one of the staple trades of the county. At the close of the war, the introduction of Baltic timber into Britain, and the exhaustion of the timber, as well as other causes, caused a decline in the trade of Pictou in subsequent years. But of late years the people are relying on resources of a more permanent character. Agriculture, which was neglected in the days of lumbering, now receives more attention, is conducted in an improved manner, and now forms the employment of the large majority of the population. But the principal trade which has sprung up in later years has been the coal trade. Coal was first discovered in the year 1798, on a brook on the east side of the East River, and soon after persons began to dig for their own use, and for the supply of blacksmiths. In the year 1815 there were exported 631 chaldrons. But operations on a large scale were first commenced by the General Mining Association of London, in the year 1827. Of late three other companies have commenced work—the Acadia, the Intercolonial, and the Nova Scotia —and are prepared, or preparing, to raise coal in large quantities.

The facilities afforded by this county for manufacturing consist, first, in the power afforded by its coal as an agent for producing steam, and the water power of its rivers. On the various brooks, saw, grist, and fulling mills have been erected; but the main rivers might be utilised to a much larger extent than they have been. Secondly, in the materials for manufactures. Iron ore of the best quality is found on the East River, and from the indications of it in several other places, will likely be discovered extensively. The interior of the county, particularly its southern portions, is still to a large extent covered with wood, and from much of the land in that quarter being unfit for cultivation, will supply wood for a long period. Farmers are beginning to turn their attention more to the production of wool. In the neighbourhood of New Glasgow there is superior clay for the production of pottery, and a company has commenced operations for its manufacture. Hemlock bark is still abundant, and leather forms one of the staple manufactures of the district.

The population in 1817 was 8737; in 1827, 13,949; in 1861, 28,785.

QUEEN'S COUNTY DIRECTORY.

QUEEN'S COUNTY.

THIS county, like all those lying along the Atlantic coast, is rocky and unsuited for cultivation near the sea-shore, but possesses some good land in the interior, and the farmers are mostly all thriving, and in good circumstances. It is the principal occupation of the inhabitants.

Lumbering and shipbuilding is carried on quite extensively. There have been very fine vessels, some of large tonnage, built in different parts of the county, but the largest proportion in the vicinity of Liverpool.

Fishing and trading are also successfully carried on, and—as in all localities in Eastern British America—the fishing interest is to some extent neglected, and thousands of fish are left in the waters year after year to strike off into deeper waters, and never return to the same place again.

The population in 1861 was 9365. The census will be taken in 1871, and no doubt it will show a considerable increase.

Liverpool is the shire town, and will in time be a city of considerable importance. It has a very good harbor. The mercantile community seems to be in a healthy position, and, as a rule, are quite energetic; in a number of cases they have obtained a competency, and are living on the fruits of their labors. Manufacturing in some branches is improving in Liverpool and its vicinity. There is ample room for a number of branches of manufacture, it being somewhat central for the surrounding countries. A commercial paper is published here, and a steamer plies between here and Halifax, calling at Lunenburg on the trip each way. Liverpool, no doubt, is one of the most important towns in Nova Scotia. Milton, a town within three miles of Liverpool, is also a thriving place. Lumbering is done on an extensive scale, and a large quantity of the trees of the forest is sawn into lumber of different dimensions by several sawmills, which are kept continually at work, and there has been quite a number of men employed in this business. There are also some factories in this place, and fishing to some extent is carried on with success. Milton has been supposed to be a future rival to Liverpool.

RICHMOND COUNTY DIRECTORY.

RICHMOND COUNTY.

THIS, the third county of Cape Breton in point of population, is almost exclusively a fishing and trading county; but there are a few farming settlements in that portion of it bordering on the Bras d'Or Lake.

Arichat (shire town) situated on the west side of Isle Madame, is extensively engaged in fishing and trading—the leading houses, however, being branches of Jersey establishments. Its inhabitants have invested largely in shipping, of which several thousand tons have long been lucratively employed in the coal trade. Its capacious harbor, with two fine entrances, and furnishing ample accommodation for vessels of the largest class, leaves no room to doubt of its ultimate importance as a seaport. It has telegraph cable communication, and a well-conducted ferry with the mainland. A packet, drawing Government subsidy, plies regularly to Guysborough.

The inhabitants of the county generally are of French descent, and fishing is the leading pursuit. Valuable coal mines exist at River Inhabitants and Carribou Cove. This county has several fine harbors; and the beautiful Passage of Lennox, as well as the sheets of water in the vicinity known as the Big and Little Basins, with their surrounding scenery, furnish a rich treat for the lover of Nature.

SHELBURNE COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE county of Shelburne is situated in the extreme south of Nova Scotia. The surface, with the exception of small tracts upon the margins of the river, is very rocky. The soil is fertile, but, in consequence of the difficulty of cultivating it, little is done in the department of agriculture. The principal industrial pursuits are fishing, lumbering, and shipbuilding. The county is divided into two townships—viz., Barrington and Shelburne.

Shelburne, the county town, is situated upon an excellent harbor of the same name, about 100 miles S.W. from Halifax. This town was founded in 1783 by a number of British loyalists from the United States. These settlers, being wealthy, built fine houses, and for a time carried on an extensive business. After a few years, however, trade declined, many people removed from the place, and the town became much reduced. It has rallied to some extent during the past few years, and many fine vessels have been launched from its shipyards. An academy, with four departments, is now in successful operation. Two gang sawmills are in course of erection upon the river which flows into Shelburne harbor.

At Jordan, seven miles from Shelburne, a powerful mill has recently been erected, which will saw 7,000,000 feet of lumber during the present year. There is also machinery connected for the manufacture of clapboards, shingles, laths, &c.

Lockeport, formerly called Locke's Island, is a thriving town, situated upon a peninsula in Ragged Island Bay. It carries on a large business in fishing and trade. About 40,000 qtls. of cod and a large quantity of pickled fish were exported during the year 1869.

The vicinity of the River Clyde is peopled by industrious settlers, mostly of Scotch descent, engaged in farming and lumbering. There is also a shipyard, in which employment is found for a considerable number of men.

Port la Tour is a prosperous settlement, engaged mainly in the fishing business.

The head and both sides of the harbor of Barrington are occupied by industrious and moral people, in comfortable circumstances, employed in fishing, shipbuilding, farming, mercantile, and maritime pursuits.

Cape Sable Island contains a population of more than a thousand. The people are mostly engaged in fishing, by which they obtain a comfortable subsistence. Many of the men are shipmasters. Scattered over the island are a large number of very respectable dwelling-houses, five schools, and three churches.

Shag Harbor and Woods Harbor are fishing settlements a little west of Cape Sable Island. They suffered the loss of many men and some vessels on Bank Quero in the autumn of 1867, and the subsequent partial failure of bank-fishing has affected them seriously, especially the latter. They are now rallying, however, from their depression. Woods Harbor has recently made noble strides in moral and intellectual progress.

Throughout the county educational interest is increasing. About fifty schools are now in operation, some of which have attained to a good degree of efficiency.

VICTORIA COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

THE county of Victoria, in Nova Scotia (one of the four counties into which the Island of Cape Breton is divided), is bounded on the northern and eastern sides by the Atlantic and the county of Cape Breton, and on the southern and western sides by the county of Inverness. It is about 80 miles in length and 15 in breadth. In the year 1851, it was separated from the county of Cape Breton. The general appearance is mountainous, particularly the northern section; and the soil varies from a rich alluvial to one wholly unfit for cultivation. The interior of that part of the county north of St Anne's Harbor is still in a wilderness state, with an appearance of sterility that has hitherto discouraged any attempt at settlement. The population of the county is estimated at 10,000, and consists principally of Celtic Scotch from the Western Islands of Scotland and the Mainland adjacent, and of a few from the southern counties; there are also some Irish, American, and English families. The climate is healthy, but the winters are long and severe, and the proximity to the drift-ice in the Gulf of St Lawrence renders the spring at times late; and the movements of the ice being governed by the winds, the weather, as the season advances, may one week be cold and chilly, and the next oppressively warm. In the winter all the rivers are frozen, and the ice on the Bras d'Or Lake at times from one to three feet thick. Of late years the ice on the Grand Lake is not so thick as formerly.

The harbors on the sea-coast are Ingonish, St Anne's, and Big Bras d'Or. Ingonish affords no shelter during heavy easterly gales. A precarious one may be obtained at White Point, Aspy Bay, during westerly gales, and small craft may find good shelter in the middle and northern lagoons, and in the lagoon at the southern bay, Ingonish. The entrances to these, however, are very narrow, and require to be entered at high-water.

The harbors on the Bras d'Or Lake are Round Cove, at the entrance to the Big Bras d'Or, Plaster Harbor, Baddeck Bay and Harbor, Strait of Sheelah or Little Narrows, Cranberry Harbor, Milecete or Big Harbor, Grand Narrows, Brooklesby Inlet, and Washabukt Inlet. The inlets are fit only for small craft.

The principal streams are the Wagamatcook or Middle River, the Baddeck River (both near the southern extremity of the county), the streams that run into the middle and northern lagoons at Aspy Bay. None of these streams are navigable, except for a few miles by small boats. Salmon in small quantities are obtained in these streams. On the eastern coast there are the Barasoi, Indian, and French rivers, rapid small streams which penetrate far into the interior through lands unfit for cultivation beyond a mile or so from the sea-shore. No fresh-water lakes of any extent have been discovered in the county.

The county is rich in mineral wealth; coal, iron, salt, freestone, limestone (carbonate and sulphate) abound. Gold has been found on the Wagamatcook, and gold and silver between the Grand Narrows and Baddeck. One sample of these, examined in 1865 by a respectable and competent person, yielded 51.38 dols. of silver to the ton of 2000 pounds of ore; another of 2000 pounds of compact ore afforded 18 ounces, 9 pennyweights, 3 grains of gold, worth 381.85 dols., and 97 ounces, 10 pennyweights, 4 grains of silver, worth 126.76 dols.—in all, 508.61 dols.

The wood in the county consists principally of black, yellow, and canoe birch (Betula lenta,

JOHN D. DEVOE, English and Foreign Groceries, 34 Water Street, St John, N.B.

Betula excelsa, and Betula papyracea), beech (Fagus ferruginea), the white, black, and rock maple (Acer dasycarpum, Acer nigra, and Acer saccharinum), yellow pine (Pinus resinosa), hemlock (Pinus Canadiensis), larch (Pinus microcarpa), fir (Pinus balsamea), black spruce and red spruce (Pinus nigra and Pinus rubra); also some oak, ash, and elm.

The moose (Cervus alces) is still found in the county, particularly in the northern parts; also the caribou (Cervus tarandus furcifer). The black bear (Ursus Americanus) still prowls throughout the county. These, with the loup cervier (Felis Canadiensis), the black, red, and the silver-grey fox (Canis vulpes, Canis fulvus, and Canis argentatus), the musk-rat (Fiber zibethicus), the beaver, nearly extinct (Castor fiber), the mink (Putorius bison), the marten (Putorius martes), and the rabbit or hare (Lepus Americanus), are the principal wild animals. There are two kinds of snakes—one greyish, and about two to three feet long; the other a bright green, and about a foot long; the bite of both are dangerous, but if unmolested they will hurry away. About thirty-five years ago, a bone was dug out of the alluvial on the Wagamatcook four feet in length, but it had evidently been a good deal longer. In the middle of its length it was eight inches in diameter. Some years before this bone was found, and near the same place, several teeth, said to be four inches square on the upper surface, were also found; the whole evidently the remains of an animal (probably the mastodon) that had roamed the Cape Breton forests ages ago, when the climate and the vegetation were very different from those of the present day. On the sea-coast, salmon (Salmo salar), cod (Godus morhua), haddock (Godus eglisinus), pollock (Godus pollachius), mackerel (Scomber communis), herring (Clupea harengus), and halibut, are taken in considerable quantities. The soil produces potatoes, oats, barley, some wheat, turnips, and rye. The exports are neat cattle, sheep, butter, oats, hay, codfish, herring, mackerel, and fish oil, a few horses, and a small quantity of lumber and coal. Gypsum is beginning to form to some extent an article of export.

There are four lighthouses on the coast—one a fixed white light at Black Rock, eastern side of the entrance to Big Bras d'Or; one on the northern Bird Island, off Cape Dauphin, alternate red and white revolutions at intervals of one minute; and on St Paul's, an island about 18 miles northeastward of Cape North, two lighthouses, one at each extremity of the island—the northern one, a white fixed light, and the southern one, a white light, revolving once in a minute. During foggy weather a bell is tolled, and every four hours a gun is fired.

The county sends two members to the Provincial House of Assembly, and one to the Dominion House of Commons. The county town, Baddeck, is situated on a small but good harbor at the entrance to St Patrick's Channel, Bras d'Or Lake. The harbor has a sufficient depth of water for vessels of 500 tons, or even more. The town contains about 200 inhabitants, and in it the Supreme Court is held annually in June and in October. It has a very neat court-house, a jail, one Roman Catholic and two Presbyterian houses of worship, and a post-office, deemed one of the neatest in the province, and for order, regularity, and punctuality, second to none. The mails sent and received weekly are no fewer than 124, one a daily mail to and from Halifax, about 260 miles distant.

From the Strait of Sheelah to the Whycocomah Postage, and thence to the Grand Narrows, and to McKay's Point, near Baddeck, and thence to and including the Washabakt Settlement, the settlers are nearly all Roman Catholics. Westward of Washabakt to the county line, and thence by the northern shore of St Patrick's Channel, including the settlement of the Wagamatcook, to the county town at Baddeck, they are chiefly Presbyterians. Baddeck and Baddeck River, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Baptists, Methodists, and Episcopalians. St Anne's and North Shore, nearly all Presbyterian. Ingonish, chiefly Roman Catholic, with some of the other denominations just named. Aspy Bay and Bay St Lawrence, chiefly Roman Catholic and Presbyterian. North shore of Big Bras d'Or, and that part of Boularderie Island in the county, Presbyterians.

The county is well supplied with grist, saw, and shingle mills, one carding-mill, and one for fulling and dyeing cloth, of which many thousand yards are made annually, which in appearance and durability is superior to much of what is imported. Between the head of Baddeck Bay and Baddeck River there is a spring the waters of which have been found of much efficacy in many complaints.

A steamboat leaves Sydney (Cape Breton) every Tuesday morning at six o'clock for West Bay, Bras d'Or Lake, and returns to Sydney on Wednesday, calling at Baddeck on the way to and from the Bay; and every Thursday leaves Sydney for Whycocomah at six o'clock A.M., and returns to Sydney on Friday, calling also at Baddeck on the way to and from Whycocomah.

A few of the Mic-mac Indians are still in the county of Victoria, the remains of a once numerous tribe. All the lands worth occupying, owned by them in the county, have been sold by the Government (or rather given away) to trespassers, who took forcible possession, and set the Government at defiance to remove them. The Indians, thus driven from their homes, have been compelled to resort to the villages and seaports, where they are morally and physically hastening to ruin. The iniquities of the fathers upon the children are being visited on the now wretched Spaniard for the atrocities inflicted on the Indians of South America. Let Nova Scotia beware lest a similar punishment for a similar crime be awaiting her.

YARMOUTH COUNTY DIRECTORY.

HISTORICAL SKETCH.

YARMOUTH COUNTY is divided into two townships—Yarmouth and Argyle. Of these, Yarmouth is the largest, best cultivated, and most populous. The settled portion of this county is 34 miles in length and 20 in breadth, and contains a population of 20,000, of which three or four thousand are French Acadians. The county was originally occupied by the ancestors of these Acadians, who formed settlements at the mouths of the Cape Fourchee, Chebogue, Chegoggin and Tusket rivers. They were a branch of the colony of Port la Tour. Upon the removal of the French in 1755, their lands and property were offered by the British Government to the colonists in New England; and on the 9th day of June 1761, a number of them came to Chebogue and took possession of the site of the French village there. They endured many privations during the following winter on account of the loss of the vessel that was to bring them supplies, and the unparalleled severity of the season. For several years after this they received accessions from Massachusetts and Connecticut, attracted by the extensive marshes, the prolific shore-fisheries, and the abundance of game. When the French Acadians were allowed to return, they found the more valuable parts of the country occupied, and had to content themselves with the less fertile localities, as Eel Brook, Pubnico, and the mouth of the Tusket, which their descendants still occupy in considerable numbers. After the American rebellion, some of the loyalists who had come to Shelburne, finding no means of subsistence there, removed to Tusket and Yarmouth, forming a new element in the English-speaking population, who were, till then, composed altogether of New England fishermen. Since then the county has received numerous accessions from Great Britain and the United States, which have been instrumental in modifying the character of the inhabitants. The principal river in the county is the Tusket, which is one of the largest in the province. It is navigable for ships nine miles from its mouth, above which the rapids furnish unlimited water-power. It abounds in fish, especially gaspereaux. Large numbers of salmon are also caught and exported to the United States. There are several other rivers of less importance, all furnishing harbors at their mouths, and in their courses sites for mills and factories.

Yarmouth is the chief and county town, and Tusket Village is the next largest settlement, and the business centre of Argyle, containing the court-house and public offices for that district. Yarmouth is the third town in the province in point of population. It is situated three miles from the sea on Yarmouth Harbor, which was discovered in 1604 by Le Sieur de Champlain, and which he named Cape Fourchee Harbor, from the forked cape at its mouth, "inasmuch as its figure is so." It is distant from Halifax 216 miles, and contains many fine buildings, stores, &c., which are lighted with gas. The public buildings in the town consist of nine churches, a court-house and gaol; and upon a ridge in the rear of the town are situated, at distances of about a mile from each other, three large new schoolhouses, equal, if not superior, to any in the province, and capable of accommodating more than a thousand children. There are two weekly papers, a commercial reading-room, a social library, established fifty years ago, and a rural cemetery of 40 acres a mile from the town. There are two local banks, and an agency of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and five local marine insurance companies. There are daily mails by land to Halifax, both by the eastern route viâ Shelburne, and the northern route viâ Annapolis. The latter connects with the Windsor and Annapolis Railway, which it is contemplated to extend to Yarmouth at an early day. Yarmouth will then be in direct railway communication with Halifax, St John, Montreal, and the other Canadian cities and the United States. There is also weekly steam communication during the summer with Boston, St

John, and Halifax. The fares are—to Halifax, by land, 10 dollars, by steamer 6 dollars, to St John, by two lines of steamers, 3 dollars, to Boston 6 dollars. A marine railway is in course of construction, and a fine tugboat has been lately placed upon the harbor. The Dominion Government has put a powerful fog-trumpet upon Cape Fourchee. This county now owns 82,000 tons of shipping, double what it owned in 1861. The greater part of this is engaged in the foreign carrying-trade, but there is an extensive business with the West Indies and the United States in fish, lumber, and other produce. The value of fish alone exported in 1869 was half a million dollars. Among the numerous factories may be mentioned a machine-shop, which has turned out several first-class steam-engines, two foundries, one of which is largely engaged in the manufacture of stoves, three ships' block factories, two sash and door factories, a steam salt mill, and several minor establishments for the manufacture of furniture, buckets, brooms, farming utensils, &c. The town possesses three fire-engines and a hook-and-ladder company. The county is not deficient in the precious metals. Gold mining is carried on at Cranberry Head, eight miles from Yarmouth town, and a crusher is in operation on the Chegoggin River in its vicinity.

Tusket is chiefly occupied in the shipbuilding business. There are four shipyards, each of which turns out two or more ships annually, some of them over a thousand tons burthen. It contains three churches and a new schoolhouse. The court-house has lately been enlarged and thoroughly rebuilt. There are also two hotels, several stores, and a fire-engine.

Beaver River, situated upon the border of Digby county, is also an important business centre, on account of its facilities for shipbuilding.

Hebron, on the post road, four miles above Yarmouth, manufactures large quantities of boots, shoes, and leather, and possesses the latest improvements in machinery for that purpose.

Arcadia, at the head of Chebogue River, contains, besides other industries, an extensive sash, door, and washing-machine factory. A handsome and commodious poor's asylum for the township is situated here, built at a cost of 11,000 dollars.

Carlton, on the Upper Tusket River, possesses valuable water-power, and carries on a flourishing business in the manufacture of lumber, shipbuilding materials, barrels, boxes, furniture, &c., by machinery. There are also numerous mills on other parts of this river, which manufacture a great quantity of lumber, &c. In this locality is the Club Farm, established by a company in Yarmouth for the purpose of raising the standard of agriculture, and for the improvement of stock.

Argyle, Pubnico, and the Wedge in Argyle township, contain important fishing establishments, and own a numerous fleet of vessels of a superior class, fitted up with all the necessary appliances for successfully carrying on both the shore and deep-sea fisheries.

Official letters addressed to the Provincial and Military Departments are exempt from prepayment.

Registered letters for the Provincial Public Departments and the Military Departments, addressed to Halifax, can be sent without prepayment of postage or registry fee.

REGISTRATION.—Letters for registry must be posted half an hour previous to the closing of the mail by which they are to be sent. The postage as well as the registration fee must be prepaid. The registration of a letter addressed to any place in Nova Scotia or the Dominion is 2 cents, to the United States 5 cents, to the United Kingdom 8 cents, to Australia and all other places, when passing through the United Kingdom, 25 cents. No registered letters forwarded between two way offices.

Registration is applicable to all descriptions of letters and parcels, whether they contain articles of value or not. Registration is not an absolute guarantee against the miscarriage or loss of a letter; but a registered letter can be traced when one unregistered cannot, and the posting and delivery or non-delivery can be proven. A registered letter is thus secured against many of the casualties which, from incorrect address, forgetfulness of the receiver, or other error, may affect an unregistered letter. "Moreover the safety of an unregistered letter is dependent on the integrity of a post-office clerk during the whole time it remains in his custody, frequently for hours, and even days; whilst a registered letter will almost invariably have to be acknowledged at the moment of its passing into an officer's hands, and cannot therefore be suppressed without leaving him individually accountable for its disposal." "If the consequences were limited to the mere risk of the loss of the money so sent, the senders of money in unregistered letters might reasonably urge, that if they choose to encounter the risk, they should be free to do so; but higher considerations are involved in the question, and the chance of loss to the careless remitter is really but the smallest part of the evil associated with the practice." The attentive perusal of the above remarks by those who are in the habit of sending money by mail in unregistered letters is strongly recommended, and it is further suggested that letters containing money should invariably be secured with wax, and not by the usual method, by mucilage, or self-sealing envelope.

Letters prepaid by stamp dropped into the box during the night, and up to 4 a.m., will be forwarded by the mails dispatched the same morning.

Semi-daily mail to and from Dartmouth, postage 3 cents. If unpaid, 5 cents.

All letters are charged by weight, irrespective of distance, and a uniform rate of postage of 3 cents per ½ oz. has been established throughout the Dominion of Canada. The rates of postage mentioned all refer to a single letter. If it exceeds the ½ oz. it is charged double, and so on, according to weight. Ship letters, 5 cents. Letters for consignees free.

When the above rates are not paid in advance, by either the publisher at the office of posting, or by the subscriber at the office of delivery, the papers are to be charged one cent each on delivery.

Canadian newspapers, addressed from the office of publication to subscribers in the United Kingdom, the United States, Prince Edward Island, Bermuda, or Newfoundland,

Publishers of newspapers in Canada may post such numbers of their papers addressed to parties within the Dominion who are not subscribers at a rate of one-half cent prepaid by stamp.

If from Prince Edward Island, Bermuda, or Newfoundland, when received by regular subscribers in Canada from the office of publication, the ordinary commuted rates applicable to Canada newspapers.

The Canada postage rates on newspapers coming from or going to the United Kingdom and United States will thus be the same as those charged in the United Kingdom and the United States on newspapers there received from or sent to Canada.

Canada newsagents may post to regular subscribers in Canada British newspapers free, and the United States newspapers unpaid; such papers, in the latter case, must be duly rated two cents each for collection on delivery.
