Thrilling Story of Canadian Bravery in Battle of Langemarck

Sometimes The Germans Were Fifty to One and Generally Ten to One-- Brilliant Capture of Guns From The Enemy---Wounded Men Eager to Get Back to The Front---Uhlans and Prussian Guards For Once Lost Their Nerve

Toronto, May 5.—London.—(Special cable by F. A. McKenzie, copyrighted at department of agriculture, Ottawa.) "Tales of the great battle as told by wounded, now lying in English hospitals, present one great fantastic picture of days of almost delirious excitement, men in the open moving forward without shelter, digging themselves in under fire, an almost ceaseless rain of shells from field and heavy artillery, of narrow escapes, and splendid gallantry. Every boy has some tale to tell of the bravery of his comrades, but is silent concerning his own. One shows a dented, twisted cartridge, which saved his life by deflecting a fragment of shell; another shows a jack-knife he carried smashed by a bullet.

It is evident, despite the utmost endeavors of comrades, the wounded suffered heavily. Many had to lie twenty-four to thirty-six hours on the field before aid reached them. One lad told how after lying thirty hours, knocked out by gas and with a big shrapnel wound, he made his way four miles, rolling, crawling, and dragging himself along the ground until an English doctor met him and had him conveyed to the base. There is no complaining. "Everyone recognizes this as inevitable in the immense conflict, but it helps us realize what our boys endured.

"German poison gas gets you just as though some one threw a handful of cayenne pepper in your face," said M. J. Wall of the 14th Battalion, who took part in the famous Highland Regiment charge. "We had been relieved in the trenches and were resting Thursday afternoon, when the Algerian troops shouted 'Allemands! Allemands!' Major Shaw commanded us to extend five paces across the road. Then came our march during the night, our charge in the woods, and our continual bayonet work. The Germans had built themselves little shelters with sand bags in the woods. They were heavily equipped with full loads. We had dropped everything before the charge except our rifles, bayonets and ammunition; so when we got on them they could not escape. Ficked German regiments, the flower of their army, were facing us, Uhlans and Prussian Guards. After a time I threw away my Ross rifle, picked up a German soldier's rifle and fought with it. The Ross is splendid for target practice, but it is not a gun for a fierce fight. Our different regiments were mixed up, but all worked together. Thus carried two wounded of the 48th to the rear on my back. We do not want to claim special credit for any regiment. It was Canada that fought and all did the same. The most surprising thing was the terrific number of German troops. They came on like a flock of bees. We shot them down line after line, but all returned for the second gun, then the third and fourth. One shell killed John-

HER SON KILLED IN BATTLE

Charlottetown, P. E. I., May 5.—Mrs. Ellen Watson, of the staff of the P. E. I. Hospital here, received a cable yesterday that her son, George, aged 24, had been killed in battle. He was a soldier in a British battalion at the Dardanelles. Mrs. Watson and daughter came here from England last fall. Sixteen, ten islanders have been wounded.

WAR BRIEFS

Twenty-one recruits of the company of the 1st Battalion, London, were examined today, Lieut. Gardiner, of the 50th, being the examining officer. Information was given out at the war office, London, today that Joseph Bennett, a member of the Canadian contingent, has been accidentally shot in camp by a friend who was cleaning a rifle. Gabriel D'Annunzio, the Italian poet, wrote the editor of Figaro: "The die is cast. You will receive great news from Genoa on May 5. Italy and France will be allies." Nine British trawlers were sunk by German submarines on Monday. No lives are reported lost. The British naval losses in the entire war were up to the end of April as follows in an official statement:—Killed, 392 officers, 4,981 men; wounded, 61 officers, 1,284 men; missing, 7 officers, 72 men; prisoners, 11 officers, 224 men; total, 423 officers, 8,144 men. The strike of 1,800 carpenters at Woolwich arsenal is at an end. The trawler Fortia has reached Hull after an exciting chase in which she managed to elude the submarine which was after her. A steamship was sunk and killed the horse of lead team. I was thrown from the horse and the gun wheels passed over my wounded arm, smashing it. Brown was badly wounded and lies in a hospital in France today. I am going to get better and hurry back to the front again. Private G. Gordon, of Toronto, 4th Battalion, with fractured leg, minimizes his wound. "The greatest agony about it was made our advance," he said, "then dug ourselves in and remained until German night, when we were relieved by reinforcements. We came back Saturday morning on the front line and stayed until Sunday night, when we were again relieved in the trenches beside the canal. I shall burst quite near me, and here I am." (Signed F. A. McKenzie.)

NO CAUSE FOR DEPRESSION, SAYS GENERAL HUGHES

Germans Lost 12,000 in Killed Alone While Total Canadian Casualties Were Only 6,000

Ottawa, Ont., May 5.—(Special)—Speaking this morning of the fighting in which the Canadians have been engaged, General Hughes said: "That is what you went over for, and I see no cause for a feeling of depression. The Germans admit that they lost 12,000 killed, and make no mention of their losses in wounded, which must have been heavy. The total Canadian casualties were only 6,000 killed, wounded and missing. With poisonous gases and overwhelming numbers used against them at Langemarck, it is amazing to me that the Canadian losses have been so large, and that our boys were able to inflict such losses on those who attacked. With the leaders they have I fear nothing. I love the utter faith in the Canadian boys. I know the stock they come from. What they have done they will continue to do." Montreal, May 5.—"We have sent over the third and second contingents, the third ready to go. The fourth will soon be prepared, but we will not stop here. We mission on the charges made by L. A. Dugal, M.P.P., last session in connection with the Valley Railway and the Crown Lands. As soon as the premier had submitted the reports J. L. White, Victoria, arose in his place and moved a long resolution, which was virtually a whitewash for ex-Premier Fleming. The resolution, in brief, picked out those portions of the reports which were favorable to Mr. Fleming. The substance of the resolution was that the legislature agrees with the finding of the commission that Mr. Fleming was not guilty, as charged, in the crown timber lands matter. In connection with the Valley Railway charges the resolution mentioned, and laid emphasis upon, the fact that Mr. Fleming, when he received the $2,000 from John Kennedy, accepted the money in a sealed packet and turned it over to the treasurer of the campaign fund without opening it. The resolution went on to say that this money was given by Mr. Kennedy before he had received a second contract, and at a time when he had no idea that he would be seeking a second contract. The resolution was seconded by George P. Jones, of Kings, and without a word from any of the twenty-five members present, was passed unanimously without a dissenting vote. TRY TO WHITENASH MR. FLEMING IN DYING HOURS OF LEGISLATURE SESSION

Few in House; Resolution Given a Railroading Through Legislature Agrees That Ex-Premier is Not Guilty, as Charged, in Timber Lands Case.—Try to Prove Innocence in Railway Charges by Statement That Fleming Did Not Open Packet of Money Received From Contractor Kennedy—Not a Dissenting Voice is Heard

In gross violation of the rules of the house, without notice, and in the closing hours of the session, there was rushed through the legislature this afternoon a resolution whitewashing J. K. Fleming. J. L. Stewart was not in the house. He had been assured there would be no business but prorogation. In the face of the report of the Royal Commission this act of the legislature stamps its members as utterly unworthy of the confidence of the people of New Brunswick.

A Fredericton despatch to The Times says:—The announcement was made in the house this morning that prorogation would take place at four o'clock this afternoon. At 1:30 o'clock this afternoon Premier Clarke laid on the table of the house the report of the Royal Commission on the charges made by L. A. Dugal, M.P.P., last session in connection with the Valley Railway and the Crown Lands. As soon as the premier had submitted the reports J. L. White, Victoria, arose in his place and moved a long resolution, which was virtually a whitewash for ex-Premier Fleming. The resolution, in brief, picked out those portions of the reports which were favorable to Mr. Fleming. The substance of the resolution was that the legislature agrees with the finding of the commission that Mr. Fleming was not guilty, as charged, in the crown timber lands matter. In connection with the Valley Railway charges the resolution mentioned, and laid emphasis upon, the fact that Mr. Fleming, when he received the $2,000 from John Kennedy, accepted the money in a sealed packet and turned it over to the treasurer of the campaign fund without opening it. Four German Brigades Trapped By the Russians

The Latest German Move Can Have No Lasting Significance—Libau and Mitau Still in Russian Hands

London, May 5.—The Petrograd correspondent of the Times telegraphs that he hears that three brigades of cavalry and one of infantry, composing the German riders of the Baltic provinces, have been trapped. He adds that probably none will escape unless they succeed in reaching ships from the coast. London, May 5.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Petrograd writes: "Apparently no unfavorable inferences should be drawn from the fact that the chief general staff communication omitted mention of the German raids through Kovno government, in the direction of Libau and Mitau. I am assured on the best authority that these towns are still in Russian hands, as a proof of which it is added that a telegram was received from the former place late Sunday afternoon. "In any event this latest move by the enemy can have no lasting strategic significance. Its aims are evidently purely tactical, and directed to the annoyance of Russia and to the education of public opinion in Germany, rather than to any influence on the main current campaign." The Russians have had at least a partial revenge for the defeat inflicted upon them in Western Galicia by the Austrians and Germans by badly beating the Turkish who had invaded Persia. The defeat took place in a three days battle near the frontier, and Petrograd reports that the Russians inflicted heavy losses on the Ottomans. If the success of the Muscovites has been followed up, military observers declare that Persia should be free of her uninvited guests. London, May 5.—The Russian reports concerning the recent fighting in Western Galicia, are being accepted by British military critics, as reducing the German claims of victory in this battle to mere just proportions. Following his custom, Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief in the field, has not hesitated to admit a reverse, and confirms the German statement that his antagonists have succeeded in breaking across the Danube River. But the Grand Duke adds that he is holding them fast on the bank of the stream, and he seems to intimate that he has little anxiety concerning the ultimate outcome of the fierce fighting which has been going on in this region for a week past. Observers in London are of the opinion that the fact that the Russians have not been diverted from their objective elsewhere, and that the battles in the Stry region continue with unabated energy, is good evidence that the situation of the Russians is not so critical as has been painted, and the idea is being advanced in London, that political reasons may have something to do with the huge importance attached to this success by the German and Austrian government in their official communications concerning it.

Enemy Still Savagely Attacking the British

Rushing All Available Reinforcements in Effort to Push Back British Lines North of Ypres, But Without Effect

London, May 5.—The Daily Telegraph's correspondent at Rotterdam telegraphs:— "Fierce fighting is reported from the northeast of Ypres, where the Germans are making strenuous efforts to advance south from Gravenstede, toward which the British have held a wedge, and to straighten their line from St. Julien to Zonnebeke. "The British are clinging tenaciously to a group of villages and hamlets in the corner, although at several points they are subjected to a flank fire from the enemy in the positions between Zonnebeke and Gravenstede. "Troop movements in Belgium indicate the Germans are sending all available reinforcements to this small zone of fighting in a desperate attempt to push back the British from the line which, if held, threatens to prevent the enemy from reaping advantage from the ground captured in last week's advance. Paris, May 5.—(2:40 p.m.)—The French war office this afternoon gave out a statement on the progress of hostilities reading as follows:—"The British are holding the line north of Ypres, the Germans yesterday evening delivered an attack against the left sector of the British front. They were repulsed and taken prisoners by the French artillery. They suffered serious losses. "Nothing has been reported from the remainder of the front."

A MYSTERIOUS ASSAULT CASE

Evidence of Two Prisoners Taken in Connection With Attack on Cobbler—Blame it on the Stranger

The preliminary hearing against William Pelley, Joseph Kelly and Robert E. Walker for assaulting James Xenos, a young Greek, in a shoe repair shop in Dock street, last Saturday, was continued in the police court this morning. Detective Worrell testified that about two o'clock on Saturday afternoon in reply to a telephone request he went to 15 Dock street, where he met with special Patrolmen Jeffrey and Barrett. He saw the complainant, Xenos, bleeding from a laceration in his head. The defendant, Walker, was sitting on a chair in the back of the store and the defendant, Kelly, was standing in the doorway. A statement of the plaintiff, Xenos, he told the two defendants that he would have detain them in the shop. He then took possession of the hammer with which he had struck the complainant, and he told the two defendants that he was returning to central station, Kelly and Walker said they wanted to make statements, and he cautioned them about doing so. As they insisted he took them into the office separately. Kelly's statement was as follows:—"We met a man, whose name I don't know, and asked him the way to Courtney Bay. We then went into a saloon and had two drinks. We started off for Courtney Bay and, while going up the street, Walker said that he wanted to put my overalls on. Bob Walker and I were talking together and the other fellow was arguing with the foreigner. Soon afterwards the foreigner ran to the door with blood on his face; he ran out and held the door and I didn't see him again. We waited for the police." Walker's statement follows:—"Kelly and I went into the Wooden Taps in Mill street and while in there met a man, whose name I do not know. We had several drinks together. The stranger said he could get us a passage to Boston. When we were passing the shop, he (the stranger) and Kelly, who were in front of me, turned in and followed. Kelly and I stood by the table. The stranger went over to a fellow who was repairing shoes. I afterwards saw the shoemaker jump towards the door. There was blood running down his forehead." Detective Worrell testified of the arrest of Pelley and of the trouble he experienced trying to get into the house in Sewell street, where Pelley was residing. He said he knocked at the door for a couple of hours and those inside would not let him in. Later, he got a search warrant and broke open the door and arrested Pelley, who was identified as Xenos, which was later confirmed by the police. Dr. D. C. Malcolm, superintendent of the general public hospital, was the next witness called. He testified that the plaintiff, Xenos, came to him on Monday morning and, upon request, he examined his head and found that there was a scalp wound on the side of the head. It was about five-eighths of an inch in length and extended to the bone. He said such a wound could be made

$40,000 AT ISSUE IN TEST CASE

Question Whether Valley Railway Bonds Are Liable For Debts of Hibbard Construction Company Before Supreme Court

Federicton, May 5.—(Special)—The supreme court met this morning and heard argument in a special case involving the relations of the Hibbard Construction Company and St. John and Quebec Railway Company. H. A. Powell, K.C., appeared for St. John and Quebec Railway Company, F. W. Hibbard of the Montreal bar, and P. R. Taylor, K.C., for the Hibbard Company, and R. B. Hanson for certain creditors of the latter concern. The point which has to be decided is whether the amounts owed by the Hibbard Company for work and supplies are properly chargeable against the bond issue of $10,000,000 made by government to the railway company last year. Mr. Powell argued that the railway company was responsible for its own indebtedness and for guarantee obligations. It was not responsible for debts of the Hibbard Company. After Messrs. Hibbard, Taylor and Hanson had argued the contract the court announced that judgment would be reserved. The amount involved is between thirty and forty thousand dollars. There are also claims which have been filed with the government.

IN HONOR OF GARIBALDI

Genoa, via Paris, May 5.—Every train which arrived in this city yesterday and last night was crowded with prominent persons from all parts of Italy who have come here on their way to Quarto Santo Spirito, to attend the dedication of the monument erected in honor of Garibaldi and his famous thousand who sailed from the little town in Sardinia, on the expedition which resulted in the annexation of Sicily to Italy. These ceremonies have been regarded as of peculiar political significance because of the proposed consideration of the king might be considered a direct affront to Austria at a time when diplomatic relations were strained almost to the breaking point. The abandonment of the king's plans, is considered therefore to mean that the negotiations between Italy and the dual monarchy are to be continued on a new basis.

ARRESTED 148 TIMES

In the police court this morning Andrew Irvine appeared for the one hundred and forty-eight time to answer a charge of drunkenness. When he was given his freedom on Monday he promised Magistrate Ritchie that he would not drink any more liquor until after the war. Tuesday, however, he imbibed too freely and in a few hours was again in custody. He said he had only taken two drinks of gin from a bottle and he did not think that it would make him drunk. Policeman McNamee testified that he saw the defendant coming along Mill street yesterday afternoon in a drunken condition. When he got in front of the Union Station he shouted out that he was going to jump the train, which was at that time crossing the street. Thinking that the man might get injured and, besides, considering that he was not in a condition to take care of himself, the witness said he placed him under arrest. The prisoner was remanded to jail until the magistrate decided what to do with him.

London, May 5.—The plan adopted by David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, for regulation of the liquor traffic is not entirely satisfactory, as the chancellor himself admitted in the House of Commons yesterday. He announced that he was to have a conference tomorrow with brewers and distillers in regard to his new taxes on spirits, wines, and beer, and that he was anxious to come to an agreement with the trade.

Common Council Unfortunate in Attempts to Hold Open-Door Sessions—Clashed Today With County Finance Committee

The noon-day committee meetings of the common council seem fated to meet misfortune. At the meeting of the council last week, it was decided to meet in open committee each Wednesday and Friday at noon. Today was the first opportunity for the new rule to go into effect, and for an hour after noon it seemed that another meeting was to miss fire.

Hair Came Out, Scalp Itched and Burned, Scales Like Sawdust, Cuticura Healed in Six Weeks.
The Pst. Manitoba—"Four years ago I began to lose my hair. It used to come out any time that I combed it. I think it was because my head was full of dandruff. Whenever I brushed it the scales flew off like sawdust. My scalp also itched and burned and my head was like a dry crust. The dandruff showed very plainly. I applied several remedies but found no improvement till I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. After using Cuticura Soap and Ointment a few days I found a great difference so I continued with them six weeks and they completely healed me." (Signed) L. D. Lockwood, June 4, 1914.

At the conclusion of the inquest into the death of William Burroughs, found dead in the Gem lodging rooms, King Square, last Thursday, the jury recommended that all lodging houses in the city be licensed under the direct supervision of the board of health and that one of the provisions in the license be the compulsory registration of boarders.
T. M. Burns, secretary of the board of health, Dr. G. G. Melvin, medical health officer, and George Blake, chief of the fire department, gave evidence at the inquest. The jury returned a verdict that death was probably due to alcoholism.

The Evening Times and Star

ST. JOHN, N. B., MAY 3, 1918. The St. John Evening Times is printed at 27 and 29 Canabook Street every evening (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing and Publishing Co., Ltd., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act.

THE WAR NEWS

"The ultimate issue of the war is not in doubt, only its duration." In these words Chancellor Lloyd George in the British commons yesterday renewed his expression of confidence that the Allies would triumph in the war.

A PARAMOUNT DUTY.

The London Times recently expressed the view that there was in England too much light-hearted confidence in respect to the war. The same criticism might be offered in Canada, although the shock caused by the news of 6,000 casualties among Canadians in one battle must have impressed upon all a deeper consciousness of the very serious nature of the whole situation.

Neither the premier nor the chancellor ventured to predict an early end of the war, but rather conveyed the impression that they expected the struggle to be a long one. The chancellor, however, while compelled to admit that the first eight months of the war had cost $307,000,000, and that if it lasted during the whole of the fiscal year it would cost over $1,000,000,000, was able to congratulate parliament upon the present financial situation, and to announce that no fresh taxes were now contemplated.

Both the premier and the chancellor referred to the splendid response of the people to all the appeals made for recruits for the army. The premier, addressing a meeting of a committee formed to encourage recruiting among employees of commercial houses, referred to the "gravity of the struggle and the imperious need for the unflinching exercise of the national qualities of patience, constancy, resolution and fortitude."

THE ELECTIONS

The London Times does not see any reason why there should be a general election in Canada at this time. While admitting that the question is one which Canada must decide for herself, the Times says: "Perhaps we shall not be thought to go too far if we say that recognition between the parties in the Canadian parliament grate just now upon the national sense of what is seemingly dignified."

There is a paragraph in the speech of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux in Montreal on Saturday which ought to appeal to Sir Robert Borden. He said: "Speaking not as a Liberal but as a Canadian, I say that an election today is no more necessary than it was in November last. This is a time for recruiting, so as to fill the awful gaps made by the enemy in the ranks of our regiments. I think of the irony of things, to issue writs for an election when all our energy should be bent towards organizing the assistance of Canada to the Mother Country."

The inquiry before Coroner Roberts into the circumstances of the death of William Burroughs has directed attention to the fact that it is very difficult in St. John to get official action of an effective nature in such cases as that of the lodging house which figures in this case. In matters relating to sanitation and the public health it is better to err on the side of harshness than of leniency, and there should be such a working agreement between the board of health and the courts as would ensure the prompt carrying out of whatever measures the former deemed to be for the public welfare. No doubt the recommendations of the jury in this case will be noted by those having authority in matters of legislation.

He said: "Speaking not as a Liberal but as a Canadian, I say that an election today is no more necessary than it was in November last. MR. STEWART READ OUT OF PARTY

Premier Clarke Denounces Independent Member For Northumberland as an Enemy of The Government

Fredericton, May 4.—J. L. Stewart, M.P.P., was read out of the government party today by Premier Clarke at a brief but stormy session of the house.

that he was independent as he had been elected to support the government. Mr. Stewart pointed out that he had been elected as an independent Conservative with the right to support or oppose the measures of the government as his judgment dictated.

Mr. Stewart moved a resolution requiring the government to name the bridges for which appropriations were made instead of granting a lump sum and leaving the work to the judgment or political exigencies of the minister of public works.

VALLEY RAILWAY LEGISLATION

Provisions of New Bill Introduced in Legislature — Other Business of the House

Fredericton, N. B., May 4.—After being considered five hours in caucus during the day, the long promised St. John Valley Railway bill was brought down in the legislature this evening. Although the house was called to meet at 8.30 it was not 10 o'clock when Acting Speaker Melanson took the chair.

Premier Clarke immediately arose and submitted the bill which is entitled "An Act Respecting the St. John & Valley Railway Company." The premier described it as a "good bill" and devoted half an hour in explaining its provisions, provoking some applause from his supporters. The bill, while it does not actually eliminate Gould and his associates from connection with the railway, calls upon them to make satisfactory arrangements for the completion of the line and adjust all claims now outstanding to the satisfaction of the lieutenant-governor-in-council, and failing to do so the latter may appoint a commission, composed of not more than three persons, to take charge of the uncompleted portion of the railway.

The preamble of the bill gives the history of the undertaking and tells of the financial assistance given by the province, and the fact that the same is still being advanced by the contractors and sub-contractors, have refused to continue the work unless some arrangement was made to pay them for work already done, and tells how said contractors subsequently agreed to accept from the government in payment of their claims bonds guaranteed by the province.

Information is vouchsafed that the agreement entered into by the St. John & Valley Railway Company with the Quebec & St. John Construction Company, by which the former agreed to pay the latter ten per cent in addition to the cost of the work, was contrary to the representations made to the government. It is further set forth that the company has admitted its inability to complete the construction of the railway, in accordance with its contract, and that the company, or the commission, if such commission be appointed, is authorized to borrow the money advanced by the province and to issue bonds to make arrangements with the C. P. R. for a right of way in Fredericton; extend the railway and to appoint from time to time persons to hold in trust for the province shares of the capital stock of the company, such shares to be disposed of in such manner as may be determined by order in council.

AN INVITATION TO SICKNESS

Impure Blood Means a Breakdown in Your Health

Impure blood is an invitation to sickness. The blood is at work day and night to maintain the health, and any lack of strength or purity in the blood is a weakness in the defence against disease. Anemia is the doctor's name for lack of blood. There may be an actual loss in the quantity of the blood, or one or more of its constituents may be lacking. Its least symptom is pallor. Anemia is particularly common in young girls. It is not, however, confined to them alone. For it is this same lack of blood that prevents full recovery after a grippé, fever, malaria and operations. It is also present, when old age and in persons who have been under unusual mental or physical strain. If you are suffering from this trouble take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. They make pure, new blood with every dose and this new blood means health and strength. Thousands have proved the truth of these statements, among them Mrs. Minnie Bartoux, Annapolis (N. S.), who says: "Following the birth of my third child I was a complete wreck. I felt as if I did not have a drop of blood in my body. My heart would palpitate so violently that I could not walk upstairs without being completely exhausted. Night after night I would have to sit up in bed to get my breath. I had no appetite and suffered from severe headaches. I was taking doctor's medicine all the time and naturally felt very much discouraged. While in this miserable condition my husband brought home a couple of boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and before they were gone I could feel some improvement. I gladly continued their use until I had again, I think, ten boxes, when I was completely cured, and I never was so well in my life as I have been since."

"Ebony Swells Minstrel." t.f. NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY

A. R. Sprenger, engineer, delivered an interesting address to the members of the Natural History Society last night at their rooms on "Stellar Space and the Units Employed in Measuring Space." It was a highly interesting but sadistic address. It was illustrated by reticent scope projections. Mr. Sprenger was warmly thanked for his address. The following new members of the society were elected: Ordinary, J. J. Carick; Associate, Miss C. Williams, Miss S. Vaughan and Mrs. R. W. Tilton. It was announced that the following gifts had been received: Indian relics from E. E. Island by W. May, Charlotte; Basuto shield, Mrs. W. Gribble; three shells, Mrs. J. STREET RAILWAY AND COMMON COUNCIL

Agreement on Suburban Connections, But Market Square Matter Goes Over Until Friday—Cans Stop at Crossings

At the meeting of the common council yesterday afternoon the council agreed to the street railway company's proposal to lay their connections at Kane's corner and the One Mile House in concrete. The new work in straightening the lines at Market square was the subject of long discussion and, finally, was referred to Commissioner Potts with instructions to submit a report on Friday, of the cost of temporary repairs to the street, following the changes in the rails.

ALLIES MAY EMPLOY SIMILAR EXPEDIENTS AGAINST GERMANS.

AWAY GO THE CRUTCHES—Every Sufferer Made Well Quickly

Old age is usually afflicted with rheumatism. Very few past fifty escape its tortures. Many it bends and deforms. Upon the countenances of others it marks the effects of its awful suffering. Nerviline will cure rheumatism. It takes the pain out of throbbing muscles and swollen joints. It unties gnarled knuckles. It does this quickly and surely. Nerviline is not used internally. You just rub it on—lots of hard rubbing is required for a minute or two, and then you feel Nerviline penetrating through the tissues; you feel it drawing out the congestion, feel it sink in deeper and deeper till at last it touches the core of the joint or the heart of the muscle affected. You won't stay in pain with Nerviline—no one ever does. Just try it—you will be amazed at its magical power over pain, a power it gets from the extracts and juices of certain rare herbs and roots it contains. It's harmless—any child can use Nerviline, can rub it on for a sore throat, for a bad cold, for stiff neck, for earache. No family remedy half so useful. The large 80 cents bottle is the most economical; trial size 25 cents. At dealers, or the Cataractose Co., Kingston, Canada.

ACHING BONES AND SORE JOINTS CURED! ALL RHEUMATIC TENDENCIES DESTROYED!

The New Waltham Military Watch "Design Reg'd"
The regular Waltham Military Watch, as already supplied in great numbers to Canadian soldiers, is a splendid sturdy timekeeper.
We now offer an improvement of the advantage of which will be noted from the above illustration. The watch has its own armor plate which protects and partially covers the crystal.
This is the most substantial wrist watch made for military men. It has a solid back case with two bezels, rendering it weather proof.
We venture to say that the strength and reliability of these watches will well correspond with the same fighting qualities of the Canadian soldiers who wear them.
Ad to see the new watch at your jewellers. It is supplied in 7 Jewel grade at $12. and 15 Jewel grade at $15.

Immense Cost of War to Britain. Lloyd George, However, Does Not Need Any New Taxation at Present--Recruiting Announcement. London, May 4, 4.45 p. m.—In presenting the budget to the House of Commons today the Chancellor of the Exchequer, David Lloyd George, estimated that if the war lasted during the whole of the fiscal year Great Britain's expenditure in that time would be £2,136,534,000 ($5,622,570,000).

One of the most important announcements made by the chancellor was that no fresh taxes were now contemplated. In this connection he called attention to the buoyancy of the income tax and the super-tax, the actual yield being £98,399,000, or an increase of nearly £6,000,000 over the estimates.

If Hon. Robert Rogers is boss of the administration he will have an election, but if he has an election there will be no administration left for him to boss.
Looks as if the Hon. Bob is bound to lose out either way.

Just supposing there is an election and a harder task for the imagination than the government is returned, how would they reward their faithful party workers this time? Would they have to fire some of their own previous appointees to make room or would they find another 500 new offices to fill?

Just for a change of them—did you notice that the common council has decided that the street cars can stop at the crossings? A few loud cheers, please.

The civic department of public works seems to be poor but proud. Commissioner Fette says he has not enough money to run the department, but he seems to ask the aid of the wealthy corporations in Market Square for paving projects by which they would benefit.

Premier Clarke has no use for a supporter who insists on using his own judgment.

One cannot blame him; a member of the local government party who uses his judgment would be distinctly out of fashion.

And they threaten to fire A. R. Gould before the show is over, if they do, Mr.
Gould might ask for the return of his initiation fees.

A Compensation.
That new interpretation of the postal law under which it is held that no letters or circulars can be delivered in any way except through the mails has some bright spots. A pupil in one of the city schools discovered one of them. He had been absent from school for a day and teacher did not consider his explanation adequate.

"Bring an excuse this afternoon," she ordered.
"Sorry, but I can't do it," he said.
"Why not?"
"Cause it is against the law."

"How dare you say such a thing to me? What do you mean by it?"
"Please, teacher, it isn't my fault. I brought the excuse I might get soaked $20 for competing with the post office."

The teacher smiled. "Very well then," she countered, "Let one of your parents mail it to me."

"My afraid dad wouldn't stand for a two cent stamp for an excuse," was the apologetic but triumphant reply that ended the argument.

Still Another One.
There was great rejoicing on the West Side this morning. In fact there was all over the city generally as soon as the news got abroad that "Nature had a little sun."

GAVE THEIR HUSBANDS
FOR THEIR COUNTRY

Widows of Canadian Officers Returning—Captain Darling's Body to be Buried in Toronto

New York (May 5)—On board the steamer Transylvania, which arrived last night from Glasgow and Liverpool, are Mrs. Robert Clifford Darling and Mrs. Trumbull, widows by war of Captains Darling and Warren, of the 6th Canadian Highlanders, of Toronto. Mrs.
Darling has with her the body of her husband, which will be interred in Toronto. Captain Warren was killed instantly by a bursting shell, and Captain Darling was shot through the left lung and died in a private hospital in London. Both casualties occurred at Ypres.
Before departing for New York, memorial services were held in All Saints chapel in London, which was attended by numerous relatives, friends and sympathizers.

INTERESTING TIME
OVER THIS CASE

The case of the King vs. David Hennessy came up this morning before Judge Forbes, the prisoner having been previously remanded for sentence. The court was ready to sentence him when Mr. Mullin, K. C., the defendant's counsel, was called upon. He stated that in his opinion the court had no jurisdiction in the matter, on the ground taken on behalf of the attorney-general that a prisoner pleading insanity could not make his election to be tried under the Speedy Trials Act, in which opinion he concurred.

When the prisoner was remanded for sentence, said Mr. Mullin, the attorney-general was to be consulted. He had consulted the attorney-general and the attorney-general said that the court had no jurisdiction.

The judge, however, said he was going to sentence the prisoner. Mr. Mullin then said that the prisoner should never have been asked to elect, as he had before that been indicted by the grand jury in the Circuit Court, and had pled-ded guilty to the indictment. Mr. Mullin argued that the matter was in the hands of the Circuit Court and His Honor had no jurisdiction, as the prisoner was not properly before the court.

After a lengthy discussion, His Honor decided to remand the prisoner, and said he would see the attorney-general himself.

SERGEANT STAIRS,
55TH BATTALION,
AND HIS CAREER

Formerly Conducted Canada Bureau in Washington While Congressional Correspondent—Sergeant Stringer's Promotion

The Times last evening referred to Sergeant Stairs as a member of the headquarters staff of the 55th, which is not just the case. He was detailed to special duties as a recruiting sergeant at the first of last month, cooperating for the 55th at the general recruiting office at the armory under Lieut.-Col. Beverley Armstrong's superintendency, and Captain J. R. Miller's directed.

Sergeant Stairs came to St. John direct from Washington, D. C., where he had conducted the "Canada Bureau" for the last two years in connection with his professional work as the Canadian Press syndicate's congressional correspondent.

He enlisted as a private March 30, was promoted, and had the honor of being the first non-commissioned officer of the 55th appointed by Lieut.-Col.
Kirkpatrick, being given sergeant's rank April 3 and detailed as recruiting officer.

Major E. C. Weyman, having been assigned the recruiting office as headquarters at the armory, Sergeant Stairs has been established there, assisting at orderly room sergeant's duties in addition to enlisting work, and has not been with the regimental staff at Pettingill's since.

Regimental orders of the 55th Battalion make known the promotion of Corporal Frederick William Stringer of the St. John 55th detachment to be sergeant from May 1. Previous to enlisting, early in February, Sergeant Stringer was a popular member of the staff of the Imperial Theatre, resigning to join the colors.

Major Edward C. Weyman, officer in charge of the local organization centre of the 55th detached Private Stringer, as he ranked on enlistment, to conduct physical training classes and instruction in infantry drill for the recruits obtained here for the battalion, which duties he performed in March and April winning promotion on April 5 as a corporal. He now becomes a sergeant on his further recommendation of his superior officer, concurred in an authorized by Lieut.-Col. Kirkpatrick, and issued in orders, dated from Saturday.

Born in London, Sgt. Stringer has five years British service in the Middlesex Royal Engineers, his credit before coming here and since last year, with the 62nd Regiment here. He enrolled in the 55th on February 13, the second day Colonel Armstrong began enlisting for the third contingent. He is a typical soldier, tall and well set up, and has a future ahead of him.

IT WAS THE FISH MAN TALKING

"No, business does not fall off so much after Lent as you might think. You see there is not the same stock available at that time of year as there is later and when the new lines arrive on the market there is always a brisk demand.
Take this month, for instance. The spring catch begins to come in and the sales begin to go up. Then towards the end of the month we begin to get a few salmon and in June the salmon season is in full swing."

"You may be surprised to learn that we do a bigger business in both May and June than we do in any period of the same length during Lent."

"People are eating more fish than they did a few years ago, too. I don't know whether it is because the doctors and the diet experts tell them that it is a good thing to do or because the higher cost of meat is driving them to it, but I can tell that they are by the volume of sales. There are three fish stores in this district now, all doing good business, where there was only one a few years ago.
I know that I am selling as much fish as that one store did and the sales of the other two stores represent just that much extra fish eaten, as far as I can see."
