Compromise With Japanese Demand Saves League Situation

EARTHQUAKE SHOCKS FELT IN CITY

LEAGUE COUNCIL AGREES TO FIRST JAP AMENDMENT

Provides for Appeal to the League After Ruling by World Court.

JAPANESE VICTORY Parts of Second Amendment May be Included in Solution.

BY HENRY WOOD (United Press Staff Cor.) Geneva, Sept. 30.—The League of Nations council has compromised with Japan and saved the protocol of arbitration and security.

While the latest amendment to the protocol, which is to be made the basis for world peace and security, was declared unacceptable, the council was understood to have agreed to accept Ambassador Aoki's first amendment, offered last week.

The French supported the Japanese view from the first, and the British are understood to have come around.

Solution of the Japanese deadlock was expected to be announced at a meeting of the special sub-committee considering the proposed amendments.

Complete Accord. Geneva, Sept. 30.—A complete accord was reached this morning by the three statements entrusted with the task of finding a solution of the difficulty.

Signor Scialoja told the correspondents after the meeting that the accord that had been reached would be presented to the sub-committee of the judicial commission at 3 p.m. A full meeting of the arbitration commission is now convoked for 3.45 for final discussion of the accord.

League officials explain that the controlling idea behind today's committee agreement concerns the right to appeal to the council. When the council or world court declares that a dispute involves a matter within the domestic jurisdiction of one party to the dispute, the other interested state will have the right to appeal to the council for a decision but for amicable intervention looking toward a solution.

SOME EMPLOYEES OF C.N.R. LAID OFF

Moncton Paper Reports Matters in Various Departments of Road

The Moncton Transcript of Monday, Sept. 29: "W. G. Atkinson, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Railroad Firemen and Engineers, said today, in connection with the lay-offs which are resulting from the curtailment of the train services which came into effect yesterday on the C. N. R. Atlantic Region, that the same condition existed over the whole system and the other railways in both the United States and Canada had been forced to pursue the same policy owing to the depression which is continent-wide. "It is expected in all sections, he said, that business will improve within the next month and that the men now being laid off will be taken back on again. The fact that the wheat is later in moving will have a beneficial effect in the east as the all-water route shipments from Port Arthur and Fort William will be cut down and the wheat, which is sold for winter delivery, will be forced over the rail to eastern ports. Such traffic does not begin, however, until the St. Lawrence river freezes. "Eight laborers have been given notice of a lay-off in the purchasing department of the C. N. R. The lay-off to come into effect two weeks from last Friday night, according to a statement made by W. B. Logan, head of the stores department, Atlantic Region. "The lay-off is the result of a decision received by monthly paid men, who have been on short hours for some time, that in future they will work the full number of hours, and it was necessary in order that the payroll be equalized. The stores department embraces the lumber yard, the reclaiming plant and the stock yard. "There have been no reductions in the staff of the iron department, Earl Barnes, who is in charge, said, and George McCoy told the Transcript that the car department which he heads, contemplated no reductions in staff. "It was learned in official circles by more than three train crews and three engine crews would be effected by the change from summer to winter services and these are those which are customarily made. "As a result of the taking off of Nos. 9 and 10, Halifax-St. John expresses, one train crew has been taken off as has one engine crew, the others being taken care of in the extension of the St. John suburban service. "A train crew has been taken off on the Cape Tormentine run with the cutting of the service to one train a day and the same has occurred on the Point du Chene run."

RICH OLD MAN SLAIN WITH AXE BY THIEF

Martin Roughan, 80, is Discovered Dead in a Shed on Farm.

New York, Sept. 30.—Martin Roughan, 80 years old, a wealthy farmer of Bedford Hills, was beaten to death in a woodshed near his home last Friday afternoon by a person or persons who sought to rob him. The aged man's body, partly concealed beneath a rubber coat, was discovered by his grandson, James Roughan of New York, who had gone to the farm to spend the week-end with his grandfather.

It was nearly 6 o'clock when the boy reached there Friday. The farmhouse was closed, but thinking that his grandfather had gone to town for supplies, the lad waited about the front yard. When twenty minutes had passed, the boy began to feel uneasy and started back toward the house. In passing the woodshed, James saw his grandfather's leg protruding through the doorway and found the old man dead. His skull had been beaten in, apparently with a bloodstained axe, which lay nearby. Roughan's keys lay near his body.

Upon entering the Roughan farmhouse they found that the place had been thoroughly ransacked. The stove pipe was pulled down, pictures torn from the wall and furniture turned topsy-turvy. Even mattresses had been ripped open and the floor was littered with the contents of bureau drawers.

For nearly five years, since the marriage of his daughter, who now lives in Connecticut, Roughan had lived alone. He had prospered and owned considerable land in the vicinity of Mount Kisco. He was reputed to be worth about $50,000, and there was a popular rumor that he kept much of this money in his house.

Roughan was not miserly, neighbors aid, and many tramps passing through Mount Kisco had taken advantage of the old man's hospitality to stop there for a few days. Chief of Police Mills believes that the murder was committed by some one of this type, who killed the old man when he returned home from a trip to the village and found the tramp ransacking his home. The police are hunting two men for questioning. One of these has been in the vicinity of the Roughan home for two weeks. The other is an employe discharged by Roughan several months ago.

Roughan had three children, all married.

ST. JOHN, N. B., SEPTEMBER 30, 1924

AN AWKWARD ONE

If we in Canada were some day to be threatened by an unrestrained influx of Japanese or of some other foreigners into British Columbia, people of the sort experience had told us were wholly undesirable in large numbers, we would not like it. And it would not help matters at all to be told that the World Court of Justice, having in mind the mighty question of world peace, had decided that the business of accepting or rejecting any particular class of immigrants was not one of purely domestic policy and so was not within our own control.

Because such would be our feeling, and because the issue would be one very deeply affecting us, we can do the better appreciate the delicate position at Geneva created by Japanese objection to the proposal that the World Court shall decide, and finally, what questions are or are not of domestic concern purely. Behind the Japanese protest is the fear that the World Court might uphold the action of the United States, or of any other nation, in asserting that a sovereign state may decide for itself, as a matter of inalienable natural right, whether or not it will permit the immigration of citizens of any other country, that it may shut them out wholly if it so desires, or may receive them under regulations of its own devising, establishing any degree or method of restriction it may deem necessary in its own interest.

The World Court, we may think, would be most unlikely to decide that any country must submit to the unrestricted influx of foreigners whom it deemed undesirable, even though differences between nations over this issue might well lead to war. Japan itself reserves the right to control immigration, and imposes severe restrictions as regards Chinese, Koreans and some others, and would doubtless regard as beyond dispute its right to extend the list at will. The United States has gone on record strongly and definitely in asserting its complete control over immigration, and Japan, while it mentions the treatment accorded its nationals in South Africa, is chiefly moved in the present instance by the fear that the World Court's decision in this matter of immigration would be a substantial endorsement of the position taken by the United States, a position to which the Republic is committed irrevocably. Japan wants the question of immigration left open for diplomatic negotiation between the nations affected, and its delegates at Geneva say the Japanese people would never submit to having the issue otherwise decided.

The American contention is that disputes over immigration are justiciable, that is, are not such as may be submitted to any authority outside the nation itself. Curiously enough that is in effect the contention of the Japanese representatives at Geneva. They argue that Japan should not be deemed an aggressor state and so open to punishment by the League, should Japan go to war because of what it regarded as grave injustice and a national affront arising out of a dispute over immigration. The Japanese appear certain that the decision of the World Court would uphold the United States Immigration Act.

It is not easy to understand why the Japanese should believe they would fare better if the question were left to their own diplomacy, for, if one thing more than another appears to be settled, it is that the United States will not either weaken its anti-Japanese legislation or submit the question of immigration to any authority other than that of its own Congress.

It is to be noted, too, that as complete domestic control over immigration must ever be a matter of grave concern, any proposal to remove that issue from national control would be wonderfully powerful ammunition for those Americans who are determined that their country shall not join the League of Nations.

WHAT OF ST. JOHN?

The winter port season is drawing near. It will mean much to this city whether there is work for large numbers of men on the waterfront during the winter, or whether there will be many longshoremen idle.

Heretofore we have had to reckon with the competition of American ports, but now Vancouver is in the field and has already booked over 1,000,000 bushels of grain for export during October and November, chiefly to British ports. Vancouver has gone into the prairie provinces looking for business. She has not waited for the traffic to find its way to her wharves. Realizing that business worth having is worth going after, the alert business men of Vancouver bestirred themselves and presented to western grain shippers and claims and advantages of her port.

But much more was done. British Columbia, through its Premier and others, made its influence felt at Ottawa. The press during the last year carried many reports of speeches by Premier Oliver, who came east to Montreal and put the case for his province with great clearness and force. It was made clear that the Pacific Province was dissatisfied, and the whole country read the story.

What of St. John? Will this city secure an advocate to go west and present the case for this port to those who direct the shipment of grain and produce? Will its needs be pressed at Ottawa? Will its port charges be made low enough to attract business in competition with other ports? Will the C. N. R. do a large business here this winter—or only a small one? Will the just claims of the port be recognized? Will they deserve to be recognized as an appreciation of the enterprise of its people? Will we have a good winter for labor on the waterfront, or a poor one?

These questions concern every citizen, and should be answered in the right way.

THE CROW'S NEST RATES.

The matter of the Crow's Nest Pass rates is now in the hands of the Railway Commission, and Chairman McKeown says judgment will be given as soon as possible. It will be necessary to go over the great mass of conflicting evidence very carefully before arriving at a decision. The Ottawa Citizen thus summarizes the situation at the present moment.

"The issue grows out of the tariffs filed by the railways last July, when the act suspending the Crow's Nest Pass agreement lapsed. These tariffs were confined to points on the C. P. R. at the time the agreement was made in 1897. H. J. Symington, K. C., counsel for the prairie provinces, has asked the Railway Board to rule that rates on the Crow's Nest Pass list of commodities be equalized to all other places affected, and was supported in this general position by Isaac Pitblado, K. C., for the Canadian Manufacturers' Association; G. G. McGeer, for British Columbia, and by counsel for several cities. R. E. Finn, K. C., asked that the Crow's Nest basis be extended to the Maritime Provinces. Representations were made further by Mr. Pitblado, Mr. McGeer and others, that if the board found it could not revise the rates downward, it should at all events remove discriminations by revising them upwards. The railways, represented by Eugene Lafleur, K. C., N. W. Tilley, K. C., and Alistair Fraser, K. C., argued that the board was not bound by the Crow's Nest Pass agreement, and that the proper way to remove discriminations was by raising the rates to and from places now enjoying the Crow's Nest scale. They claimed further that, if the board held that they were bound by the agreement, they were prevented from reducing as well as from raising those rates. Much was made by the complainants of decisions of the board in the past that the Crow's Nest rates could be altered only by Parliament, but the railway counsel replied that that issue had been decided only incidentally by the commission and that the decisions were not therefore binding on it."

"With regard to what may happen, the Citizen entertains some doubts. On this point it says:—
"It is regarded as likely that, whether the board accepts the views of the railways or of the complainants, that the case will go to the Supreme Court and possibly to the Privy Council before it is decided. It is quite possible that Parliament itself will be asked to pass upon the whole problem anew."

NOTE AND COMMENT.

Mr. Churchill, in joining the Conservatives and in seeking to unite all the anti-Socialists, becomes again a formidable figure in British public life. Conscientious Liberals must answer when he asks whether they favor or oppose Socialist rule. But when he challenges the Liberal leaders to state specifically "the large, practical measures which separate them fundamentally from their Unionist fellow-countrymen," he deliberately ignores the question of protection. The challenged Liberals will find in many of Mr. Churchill's former speeches a great number of closely reasoned and hard-hitting passages upholding free trade and condemning the protectionist policy which so many of his present allies so strongly advocate.

The return of Canadians from the United States, observes the Toronto Globe, should be given as much publicity as the exodus. True; and a wide reading of Canadian newspapers today indicates that the turning tide is being pretty thoroughly advertised. It is the sort of good news that is welcome in most newspaper offices.

Press Comment

THE SEDATE UNCLE SAM.

(Toronto Globe)

President Coolidge denounces the principle of Government ownership and operation of railroads and other public utilities. His Democratic rival, Mr. Davis, takes the same position, in regard to the railways at least. It is possible that nationalization would not be the best solution of the railway problem in the United States. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis may both be right in that respect. In Canada the railways recently incorporated in the National System would still be in private hands if they had not been heading for bankruptcy. They were acquired by the Government to protect the national credit. There may be no analogy to this in the situation in the United States. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis probably express public opinion on the question more accurately than does Senator La Follette. At any rate, they have the characteristic mental attitude of the majority of their countrymen toward policies and doctrines, especially in the economic sphere, which are in any degree radical or innovating. Mr. Coolidge and Mr. Davis would both oppose a priori such an enterprise as the Ontario hydro-electric scheme. It is this conservatism in many departments of life and thought that prompts Mr. Chesterton to describe the United States as older than Europe. He writes:

"The truth is, I suspect, that Europe is younger than America. Europe is too young for America. It is nesting the good old stick-in-the-mud stolidity of America with its incessant new movements and new ideas. It is Europe that has the faults of a young nation. It is Europe that is the charming and irritating child. It is the American who is the respectable old gentleman, a little stiff in his ideas and a little bewildered in his impressions. It is that venerable relative whom we describe very appropriately as Uncle Sam. It is difficult to recognize the America of Walt Whitman in this picture, but it has more truth in it than have some of Mr. Chesterton's paradoxes. Politically, economically and intellectually the United States has become one of the most stable—some would prefer to call it stable—of countries. Yet Europe once looked on the young Republic of the New World as a revolutionary portent. It is an ironic memory, now that the Republic views Europe in the same light, and has become the champion of the old order."

AUTUMN.

(Ottawa Journal.)

Summer has ended and Autumn is here. It does not require an official announcement to acquaint us of the fact. The chill of the night and the tang in the early morning air, the shortening hours of sunshine, the misty mellowness of these September days are unmistakable evidence that Autumn is at hand.

Nature has not yet taken on her gorgeous garments of the Fall, but patches of color in the woods and fields, and along city avenues, too, are the first heralds of the colorful pageant that is on the way. The falling leaves, drifting down from the boughs overhead, circling in dainty spirals as they descend, are proclaiming in the gentlest whispers the lovely spectacle that is in preparation.

at moments a tense stillness fills the air. For some, this Fall time has a melancholy significance, for to them it is the decline which leads to winter's lifeless aspect. But if it is a period of decay, it is also one of unsurpassed beauty and loveliness, and if humans grow sad, Nature herself goes out in a glorious display of brilliancy scarcely in keeping with the mental attitude it commonly is said to inspire. In Canada, particularly, is the year more enchanting in its going than in its coming. And fitly so, for what is autumn's magnificence but a gorgeous symbol of Nature's preparation for the winter sleep which shall renew her energy for another year of fullness and reward?

Canadian Pacific Railway—
An Epic in Nation Building

TIME, the relentless measure of men and institutions, has applied to the Canadian Pacific every acid test—of opposition, skepticism and ridicule in the beginning; of opposing forces of nature and apathy of men during the period of construction; of difficulties and crises in financing; of giant struggles to develop and achieve.

—And today the Canadian Pacific stands out as the greatest transportation achievement in the world.

The Canadian Pacific gave effect to Canadian Confederation. Without it the federation of 1867 would have remained an unfulfilled desire, a vain dream.

With it the Dominion of Canada became a living reality from the Atlantic to the Pacific—the potential of the nation which has now taken its place among those of the earth.

The people of Canada achieved the Canadian Pacific and made it the greatest transportation system in the world, and the Canadian Pacific achieved the nationhood of Canada.

With over 20,000 miles of railway tracks owned and controlled, with a great chain of hotels across the country, with farms for the production of supplies for its hotels and dining cars; with 125,000 miles of telegraph line linking up with cables to all parts of the world; with its great irrigation system on the 3,000,000 acre block east of Calgary; with its colonization and development work costing over $68,000,000; with the great mining and lumbering industries it has developed, and the sound financial position it has achieved; with the standing that position has given Canada in the financial world, the Canadian Pacific is marked as a vital economic and industrial factor in the country.

Canada and the Canadian Pacific, in present interest and in future prosperity, are one and indivisible. Canadian development, Canadian prosperity, Canadian progress are essential to the growth and expansion of the Canadian Pacific.

The expansion of the Canadian Pacific brings to Canada new growth in population, in credit, in investments, in prosperity, in everything that helps to develop and strengthen the position of the Canadian people as a factor in modern progress.

King George, as Prince of Wales, once truly said:—
"We all know how the Canadian Pacific Railway helped to make a nation."

JUBILEE BANQUET

Anniversary Celebration at Coburg Street Church is Brought to Close.

About 150 sat down to the banquet served at the Coburg street Christian church last evening as a close to the jubilee exercises and all thoroughly enjoyed the evening. The chair was occupied by J. M. Barnes. Mayor Potts delivered an excellent address in his reply to the toast to the city.

The other toasts were to Our Neighboring Churches, For Tabernacle Baptist, Rev. A. L. Tedford; for Exmouth street Methodist, Rev. E. E. Styles responded to by J. S. Flagg; Our Younger Members, by C. D. Campbell; Our Women, by Mrs. H. H. Gills and Mrs. G. A. Horton; Bible School, by William Mumford, superintendent of Sunday school, and to the Press, responded to by Mrs. M. H. B. Good. The Misses Scott and Leonard played a piano duet.

Those seated at the head table were Mr. Barnes, Mayor Potts, Mrs. G. A. Horton, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Flagg, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Johnston, Rev. and Mrs. A. L. Tedford, Rev. E. E. Styles, G. E. Knight, Mrs. Fred Smith and Rev. and Mrs. George Orman. Rev. Mr. Orman said grace before meat.

His Worship urged the Christian people before him to take an interest in the young people, especially the boys of the city, who needed Big Brothers and a sympathetic interest to make them worth while. This note was struck by Rev. Mr. Tedford, who emphasized that the future children must be bred of good parents to make the future sure for higher living. Rev. Mr. Styles dwelt on the subject of unity of thought on fundamentals. Much happy humor was interjected giving keen relief to the extended addresses.

The banqueters about 8:30 o'clock went upstairs to the auditorium of the church, where a programme was carried out with a stirring address by Mr. Knight and the roll call, to which a large number responded. The church history was given by the pastor and several hymns were sung, closing the celebration with a ring of optimism that the next 50 years were to be even better than the last. Special services were held on Sunday to commemorate the occasion.

MAN HAS CHOICE OF TWO BURDENS

Dr. Campbell Morgan Contrasts Doing Will of God With Selfishness.

Calling upon all men to look earnestly at themselves and discover if self was not their ruling passion, Rev. Dr. Campbell Morgan, in his address in Centenary church last night, gave the first of three evening addresses on the last four verses of the eleventh chapter of Matthew. He declared that a choice of two burdens lay before everyone, a choice of doing God's will and bearing a light burden and of doing the will of self and carrying a heavy burden. Large congregations attended both meetings yesterday.

In the evening Dr. Morgan told of the financial support given to the mission to date explaining that a budget was prepared for the whole of his tour and the expenses had been apportioned according to the ability of a community to raise the money. He said that before last night's meeting there had been contributed $370 and there was still $850 required to be raised in St. John. He hoped it would be his joy again this year as it had been on his previous visit to find that from the collections taken there was enough money to give a substantial sum to the orphanage.

He said that it was never his custom to answer in the meetings questions sent to him but that he had received an anonymous letter which he could not answer in any other way. The writer asked if it would be right to do certain things and Dr. Morgan wished to reply that no man could tell another what would be right for him to do. Dr. Morgan recommended his inquirer to take the matter to God in prayer and to have nothing to do with any practices which in his own mind he held in doubt.

The challenge was issued at a

"Dear Sirs:

After eating Kellogg's Bran twice a day for one month I find it not only an "Easy Way to Avoid Constipation," but an easy and most pleasant way to cure it. I have been troubled with constipation for more than twenty years. . . . after adopting the milk and bran diet I find my stomach greatly improved, and find it a specific for constipation. . . . I deem it only just that you should know what your product has done for me, and what it is capable of doing for others."

ELKS INITIATE 61 NEW MEMBERS

Last night was initiation night for the Canadian Order of Elks and the ceremonies were conducted in the Orange Hall, Germain street, with much success. The candidates numbered 61, and the officers in charge of the ceremonies had their hands full in the making of new Elks. The many candidates appeared on the scene at 7:30 o'clock and, owing to their large number, the officers and members were kept busy for about three hours making the new ones go through the stunts to make them full fledged Elks.

The degree team was composed of John A. Sinclair, Exalted Ruler; T. R. S. Smith, Esteemed Leading Knight; Dr. Arthur Westrup, Esteemed Lecturing Knight; B. Faraday, Esteemed Loyal Knight; Stanley H. Taylor, Esteemed Esquire; J. S. Ivor, Inner Guard; John J. Murray, Tyler. After the initiation proceedings were finished the entire party boarded 30 automobiles and a procession was made through the principal streets of the city to the Elks Home, 16 Queen Square, where an efficient committee was on hand to meet them. There was a real get-together of old and new Elks, a banquet was served and following the repast there was a toast list. Among those who delivered addresses were His Worship Mayor Potts and Exalted Ruler J. H. Sinclair and other prominent officers of the order.

BOY SACRIFICES HIS LIFE FOR DOG

Youngster, Fearing for Animal's Life, Jumps Into Canal After It.

New York, Sept. 28.—Charles Evans, 11 years old, of Brooklyn, lost his life in a vain attempt to save his pet dog from drowning in the Gowanus Canal.

With a companion, Mateo Giordano, the lad had been playing near the canal at the foot of Bond street. The boys were throwing stones in the water, and the dog, a collie, jumped in in an effort to retrieve one. Fearing that the dog would be unable to return to the bank, young Evans jumped in after the animal and succeeded in getting his arms around its neck. Then he sank.

Mateo screamed for help, and Policeman Cornelius Donahue tried to rescue the boy and dog. His efforts were fruitless, and it was not till an hour later that the boy's body, with his arms still encircling the dog's neck, was recovered with grappling irons.

The boy was one of seven children,

Cloudy teeth—dull teeth

How to make them whiter—quickly
The new way world's dental authorities advise. What to do

THOSE whiter teeth that you envy. Don't think they are beyond you. You can lighten dull and dingy teeth—make them gleam and glisten.

Modern science has discovered a new way. A method different in formula, action and effect from any you have ever used. This offers you a test. Simply use the coupon; it brings free a 10-day tube.

Look for film on your teeth—that's the cause. How to combat it

Look at your teeth. If dull, cloudy, run your tongue across them. You will feel a film. That's the cause of the trouble. You must fight it.

Film is that viscous coat which you feel. It clings to teeth, gets into crevices and stays. It hides the natural luster of your teeth.

It also holds food substance which ferments and causes acid. In contact with teeth, this acid invites decay. Millions of germs breed in it. And they, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

So dingy teeth mean more than loss of good appearance. They may indicate danger, grave danger to your teeth.

New methods now that mean greater tooth beauty plus better protection from tooth troubles

Ordinary tooth pastes were unable to cope adequately with that film. Not one could effectively combat it. Harsh grit tended to injure the enamel. Soap and chalk were inadequate.

Now modern dental science has found new combatants. Their action is to curdle film and then harmlessly remove it. They are embodied in a new-type tooth paste called Pepsodent—a scientific method that is changing the tooth cleaning habits of some 50 different nations.

Don't you think it worth while to try it for 10 days; then to note results yourself?

Pyorrhea is a disease of the gums—not the teeth

You may take good care of your teeth and still get Pyorrhea. Once Pyorrhea secures a firm hold, pus pockets form, gums become weak and flabby, the teeth loosen and fall out no matter how white and sound they may be.

Forhan's means healthy gums

It contains the right proportion of Forhan's Astringent, as used by the dental profession in treating Pyorrhea. Forhan's protects the gums, keeps them in a firm, healthy condition, and leaves the mouth sweet, fresh and wholesome. If you don't care to discontinue your regular tooth paste, at least brush your teeth and gums once a day with Forhan's. Forhan's is more than a tooth paste; it checks Pyorrhea. YOUNG FACTORY GIRL IS GENIUS Associated Industries Puts Her at Head of All New England Workers.

Boston, Sept. 30.—A search for youthful genius in the factories of New England with the idea of lifting from humdrum tasks to wider opportunities those who might otherwise remain in them, has developed a young woman of exceptional promise, five boys of marked ability and the belief that there may be other gifted children found at bench, frame or spindle, according to the report made today by a committee of the Associated Industries, which has been engaged in the work for eighteen months, assisted by Harvard educators. The young woman, 23 years old, brighter than any of the boys whom she passed examinations that placed them in the class with the highest 5 per cent. out of 100,000 cases in army testing, is a product of the Central West, where she attended high school. Explaining that she had combined substitute work in the employment department of a large corporation with her regular duties as school teacher, the committee said it was not quite exact to say she might be called a "gift child in industry," but added that in the course of its investigation it had found "signs that there may be such."

The young woman is not named. The committee says of her that she "spent two years in college, had been employed as travel relief agent of the Michigan Central Railroad, had acted as business manager for a taxi company, and had served as laboratory technician and a physical educational director for a girls' training school in Texas." It was said that she "had an unquenchable ambition to go through a medical school so as to fit herself for the practice of medicine, with especial reference to children's diseases and to industrial medicine work." Lack of financial support prevented, but it was indicated that this would be forthcoming as a result of the survey.

Mr. J. E. Worcester of this city, who originated the idea, conducted a survey in five factories, out of which she obtained twenty boys and one girl of unusual promise. Harvard professors went to the factories and examined the youngsters of possible genius, but under the stiff tests that they imposed in order to find only the "extremely exceptional child," reduced the twenty-one to six. These six, five boys and the young woman, went to Harvard for further physiological and intelligence tests, with the result that, although the college specialists said all rated Class A in the tests, the girl scoring highest in personality and intelligence, none of the boys possessed the very high qualities sought. But the girl did qualify.

"She showed poise, outlook, a fine physique, excellent practical judgment and great ambition," the committee said. IN HONOR OF NURSES. For the pleasure of Miss Hilda Harris and Miss Anna Flynn, nurses from the General Public Hospital, who have just completed their three months of training at the East St. John Hospital, a dance and bridge was held last night in the nurses' home at the East St. John Hospital where the nurses were the hostesses. The evening was very much enjoyed.

MOTHS
The Scourge of Good Housekeeping Conquered at Last

A GREAT boon was opened to Canadian households last year, when Snyder's, Limited, secured rights in this country to the Sani-Bilt mothproofing process and put Snyder's Sani-Bilt Mothproof Furniture on the Canadian market under an absolute and unconditional guarantee. So prominent a place did Sani-Bilt assume in the Canadian trade that soon, like mushrooms, appeared a host of imitations.

"Look," said they. "Mothproof furniture is nothing to boast about. We are mothproof, too." Manufacturers and selling agents who, one year ago, said mothproof furniture was "impossible," "mere talk," a "fad" and so forth, are themselves now claiming that they have mothproof furniture.

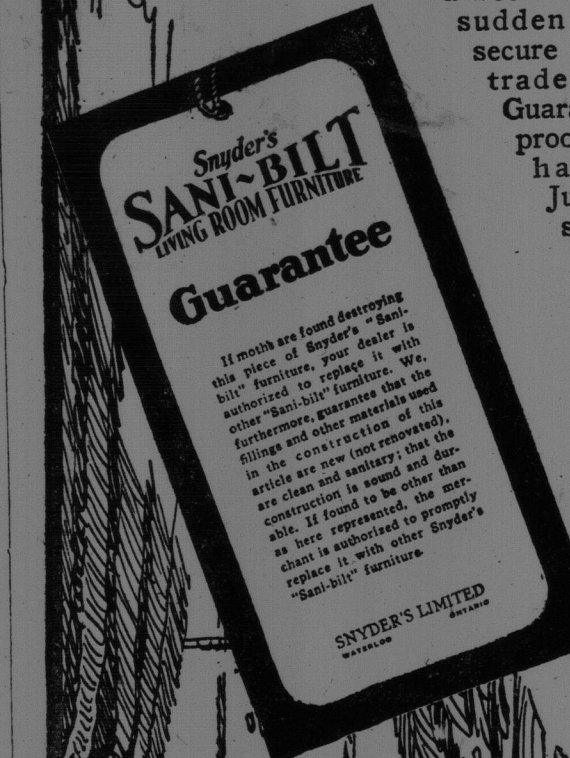

Sani-Bilt Furniture Is Mothproof Absolutely
The Sani-Bilt mothproofing process is the result of twenty years of scientific experiment and research on the part of a group of famous chemists.

Other "mothproofing" processes applied to upholstered furniture were, in some cases, the inspiration of a week or a day in the sudden stampede to secure some of the trade Sani-Bilt Guaranteed Mothproof Furniture has created. Judge how long such furniture stays moth-

Letters To The Editor

AN APPEAL FOR THE BLIND.

To the Editor of The Times:

Sir—There are probably few men who have had the privilege of writing your much respected paper on the different subjects of the day, who feel as backward as I. But I am a firm believer that there comes to all, both young and old, rich and poor, certain duties which he or she must fulfill in later life they will have many regrets. So I, a humble citizen of this city, make bold to bring before you the subject of the School for the Blind, situated in Halifax, N. S.

This school, as you must know, is not new. Nova Scotia people are more than any of the Maritime Provinces, and I as the father of a little blind girl cannot help but see the difference between the School for the Blind, situated in Halifax, N. S. and the school in need of our financial support as a city more than ever it has in the past. It might be if other citizens in the Maritime Provinces showed as much indifference as this city, the school would have to close its doors. This might easily be explained. When I say on account of the school being situated in Halifax, it does not interest the people of St. John; but when you consider there are twelve or fourteen children from this city alone, outside of many others from your province, you can't help but see the need of your support. The people of this city are quite quick to respond to the different calls for money when it comes in the line of sports, such as playgrounds for the children, ball grounds for the baseball fans, rowing contests for ones interested in this line of sport, and the demands for the different funds such as the Red Cross, the milk fund and many others. I would not infer that these are not all right and proper, but they do not when the time comes (which will be soon) show the people of the Maritime Provinces that although we enjoy sports in St. John, and are quite willing to promote them, yet we are not forgetting one of the most important things in life, such as educating the blind, making life worth living for those who otherwise would wish they never were born; making useful citizens of those who would be helpless if we did not have this wonderful school supervised by a smart and intelligent man, E. Chesley Allen founded by a man that the King saw to honour for his so doing. Yet I am afraid this city shows less interest than any other city throughout our province.

In closing allow me to state that regardless of how much money a man might possess, that if Sir Frederick Fraser and other noted men had not founded these schools for the blind, all the money that one might possess would not educate those that are sightless.

If the citizens of this city could only visit this school in Halifax they could not help but be impressed by the way the students are educated and cared for while receiving their education.

Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space, I remain,

Sincerely yours,
E. R. WATSON,
Water St., West St. John, Sept. 30.

NOTES GATHERED FROM WORLD OF STAGE AND SCREEN

SPLENDID ONE

John Barrymore Delights Audiences in "Beau Brummel"

Imperial Theatre has favored the people of this city with some truly class film productions of notable history of many nations, including a few of our own motherland. In "Beau Brummel," a now the attraction there, a glimpse of the Georgian period British royal circles is to be had in a most artistically mounted, most artistically and, historical experts say, faithfully reproduced. The theatre is literally packed at all showings, showing that St. John appreciate the better class of and worthwhile subject-matter.

GREAT STORM TALE AT QUEEN SQUARE

Powerful Drama is Presented by Strong Cast of Players.

Cold that shrank the mercury down to zero minus degrees, blinding snow, an icy gale, terrific buffeting, laden with stinging arrows of sleet! Does that give the reader a chill and a shiver of blood that recalls those records, death-dealing blizzards our North Atlantic States sometimes have in winter worse than the terrible cold of the Arctic? For the "real" sensation, and so many other thrills that only "seeing is believing," one must go to the Queen Square Theatre and witness "Judgment of the Storm," the Palmer Photoplay.

Corporation's initial screen production. The whole dramatic climax of this powerful story, written by Mrs. Ethel Styles Middleton, is staged in a terrible ill-balance of the sort described. In rhythmic thrills and realism of the storm, however, one must not overlook the fact that it is only one part of interest in a picture filled with startling contrasts, gripping situations and spectacular effects, superimposed upon the foundation of a powerfully dramatic story.

OPERA HOUSE PLAY IS GOOD COMEDY

"Johnny Get Your Gun" Provides Gale of Merriment for Crowd.

There is a time-tested adage to the effect that "you can lead a horse to water but you cannot make him drink." So also now must it be acknowledged, particularly after seeing what happened to the Johnny of the gun, that you can transplant a cow-puncher to the drawing rooms of Long Island, but you cannot make him assimilate. This is the boisterous theme on which was hung the story of the present, whimsical comedy of the Opera House and provides a continual gale of merriment.

"The Uninvited Guest" Includes Natural Colored Undersea Scenes.
Murmurs of surprise and whispers of delight hailed "The Uninvited Guest," which opened at the Unique Theatre yesterday. It is produced with undersea scenes by the Submarine Film Corporation with natural color photographs by the technicolor process.
As the plot of the story, written by Curtis Benton, progressed, thrilling rescues and realistic undersea scenes were seen to make this production unusual. A gripping love story which starts in New York, goes through a dream of the South Sea Isles, and winds up in the Westchester estate of a millionaire, would be enough to classify "The Uninvited Guest" as an exceptional picture.

SAYS GRAND FALLS OUTLOOK IS GOOD
Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith Reviews Work and Speaks of Prospects.
Hon. Dr. E. A. Smith, chairman of the New Brunswick Electric Power Commission, who arrived in the city last evening, expressed himself as much pleased with the result of the Grand Falls survey, which has just been completed.
He said an immense amount of work had been done, including a survey of the St. John River for 30 miles above Grand Falls and that this would show the effect of the development proper upon the riparian lights on both sides of the river.
On the St. Francis river the survey included Glazier and Beau Lakes. It is proposed to erect a dam at the outlet of Glazier Lake that will make one reservoir on these two lakes and the other on the Beau Lakes. The banks are generally steep very little of the possible damage the formation of the possible damage the forestry department had been asked to make a survey of both shores and they were to prepare a plan showing the stand of timber on the areas affected. Further up the St. Francis river, Boun Lake, which lies almost wholly in the Province of Quebec, had been surveyed.
In the State of Maine an immense combined artificial storage and power site had been surveyed and, while this storage did not affect the preliminary development, sufficient data had been secured to show there was an important power site on the St. John river in Maine which would one day be engaged in value by the development of storage farther up the river.
In addition there had been a survey made of Lake Temiscouata, in Quebec, to determine the elevation at which water might be held in that lake with water to be improved property.

Gas Launch is Made Ready in Saint John for the Work.

The appearance of a strange gas launch of between 15 and 20 tons painted battleship grey, without any name on her this morning in Market Slip attracted considerable attention and much speculation concerning her identity. The vessel turned out to be one of the patrol boats built by the Canadian Government during the war and which had been laid up. This boat was known as "G" and has been in the marine dock on the west side for more than two years.

A short time ago the vessel was painted and overhauled and she is now to be placed on a special assignment by the Government to prevent smuggling of the Nova Scotia coast. The boat, which has no name at present, will have headquarters at Yarmouth and will operate in that vicinity. Mr. Young, who is in charge of this work and is at Sydney, will also have control of this vessel. The other vessel at present engaged in this work is the Sagmore, principally operating off Cape Sable.

The Government during the last session granted a sum of money for this line of work. The object is to seize all vessels endeavoring to run liquor into Canada. There have been many schooner reported hovering off the Nova Scotia coast and this move is aimed to stop illegal operations.

This vessel is commanded by Captain Loran A. Kenney, formerly of the C. G. S. Abreola, and he has an engineer and cook with him at present. A supply of more than 100 gallons of gasoline has been taken on board.

The vessel was formerly in the Marine and Fisheries Department but has been handed over to the Customs for this work. The boat has a speed of about 10 knots an hour. The vessel has no armament at present and no word has been received as yet regarding this item.

Mr. Sims recently put a crew of men at work to restore the building. The plaster is being torn away, the roof replaced and the rear wall repaired. The entire building is to get a thorough renovating. Mr. Sims said yesterday afternoon. He declared that he was still undecided whether to turn the building into apartments or divide it into offices.

He said they had found the house well built and all the walls, except the one in the rear, in fine condition. The inside walls were also found in good. He said that every lock had been taken off the doors, closets torn out and all the lead pipe stolen during the years the building was untenanted.

Many citizens have watched with interest the passing of the old Vendome Hotel which cornered the corner for so many years. Even after the hotel closed its doors the sign has still remained over the Duke street entrance to indicate its former use.

FEW DOLLARS WILL MAKE FUND $1,050

Two Bazaars and a Concert Bring Money for the Babies.

Five dollars and a few cents will send the Times-Star fund for milk for the babies up to the $1,050 mark. That and more should be forthcoming surely when one thinks of the purpose of the fund and of the great amount of good that every single dollar will do in helping the little ones.

The total was swelled today by the receipts from two bazaars and a concert held to raise money for the good cause. Of this the sum of $8 was the outcome of a bazaar held at 37 Victoria street by Leola Ward, Margaret Akreley, Helen Brookings and Lillian Waiters. Another event of the same kind, held by Edna Snodgrass and Vera Peere at 102 Victoria street, netted $5.33. A concert was given by Minnie Hamilton, Florence Day, Florence Hamilton and Lena Day at Duke street, West St. John, and helped the fund to the amount of $2.50. All these are gratefully acknowledged in appreciation of the efforts made and in hope that they will be a spur to others to help in the good work.
