Steamer Seal Gets to Marooned People at Belle Isle.

Quebec, Jan. 3.—The Newfoundland steamer Seal has rescued the marooned lighthouse keepers, their families and the wireless operators at Belle Isle, according to a telegram received here last night from a lower gulf village, which reported the receipt of the following message: "All hands successfully taken off Belle Isle and now safe on board the steamer Seal, bound for Newfoundland."

LADY JELICOE IS GOING HOME

Illness Prevents Her Completing Tour with Her Husband.

New York, Jan. 3.—Admiral Viscount Jellicoe is the guest of Charles E. Schwab at his Riverside Drive residence. Today the admiral will see Lady Jellicoe off to England on the steamer Adriatic. Lady Jellicoe has been forced by illness to abandon plans to accompany her husband further on his tour. Admiral Jellicoe will leave for Washington on Sunday.

LOCAL NEWS

ADJUSTING LOSSES. Losses have been adjusted in the recent Dock street fire as follows: Jacobson Bros., $1,200; Columbus and Cohen, $100; J. Marcus & Son, $22,000, total loss.

CHILD DEAD. Friends will sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. George Turner in the loss of their son Arthur, aged eight years and ten months. The death occurred this morning after a week's illness at their home, 98 Somerset street. Besides the parents there are two brothers and four sisters. The funeral will be conducted privately tomorrow.

FUNERALS. Services in connection with the funeral of Mrs. Thomas V. Barie took place last night at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Brantley White, Protection street, and were conducted by Rev. W. R. Robinson. The body was taken to Hampton on the early train this morning for interment in the cemetery. The funeral of Mrs. William Nowell took place this afternoon from her late residence, City road. Service was conducted by Rev. Nell J. McLachlan and interment was made in the Methodist burying ground.

ST. JOHN TO HAVE BRANCH. An organization has been formed throughout Canada, especially in upper Canada, with its head office at Toronto, with the purpose of having an independent association absolutely free from any political party and independent of any government council or corporation and thus able to give its members a support independent under any other conditions. This association is the Grand Army of Canada, with L. M. Montgomery as dominion secretary and J. Fred Marsh, organizing secretary, and its main purpose is declared to be to aid returned soldiers, their dependents and the widows and orphans of returned men, and assist generally in the reconstruction and re-establishment of civil vocations in Canada. The association has reached out to all parts of Canada, yet has only recently come to St. John, and it is the intention to form a branch or post in this city. A. G. Wilber is the local organizer and he reports good progress.

WOMAN RAN BIG VESSEL

Mrs. Oram Took Command on Long Voyage with Husband Dying.

Portland, Me., Jan. 3.—With her husband, Captain William Oram, critically sick, Mrs. Isabella Oram brought the four-masted sailing schooner, Jean Somerville, across the Atlantic Ocean in forty-three days from Las Palmas, Canary Islands, to Pensacola Bay, off the Florida Coast. There the vessel was picked up by tugs sent out from Pensacola and towed to Mobile, Ala. The captain had been dead since Dec. 27, and his body lay in the "midship hatch." According to a message received from Pensacola by Miss Alice Oram and Dr. Julius C. Oram, of South Portland, daughter and son of Mrs. Oram, the plucky woman was the only person on board able to navigate the ship when her husband was taken seriously ill. She was hampered by what she termed a "miserable crew."

JUVENILE COURT JUDGE

Woodstock, N. B., Jan. 3.—Fire last night almost totally destroyed the feed store owned and operated by Thomas Nodden. The loss of the contents will reach about $4,000, with no insurance. A small insurance was carried on the building. The night was intensely cold and the firemen by super-human efforts were able to keep the flames from spreading to other buildings in close proximity.

GIRL KILLED IN DOCTOR'S OFFICE

Louisville, Ky., Jan. 3.—A coroner's jury here yesterday reported it was unable to determine who killed F. Griffiths Dr. C. G. Schott's seventeen-year-old office girl, who was found dead in the doctor's office on Dec. 24, with a bullet through her heart.

Some 3,000 Gathered In Government Net

Radicals in States Are Given a Jolt.

Wholesale Deportations to Follow—Officials Believe Backbone of "Red" Movement in the United States Broken.

(Special to Times) Boston, Mass., Jan. 3.—Hundreds of alien "Reds" were swept up in raids throughout Massachusetts and other parts of New England last night as this sections contribution to the nationwide clean up of radicals. Today it is estimated that 700 aliens had been caged, including fifty-seven in Boston. There was great fear that the sweep in Chicago made twenty-four hours before the original time set would have warned the radicals here, but that was not fulfilled. Men and women were herded in concentration centres through this district, after the sensational descent of agents and police. From coast to coast nearly 8,000 Reds have been jailed, according to figures that have reached Boston secret service agents. In New England the showings in Boston, fifty-seven; Ansonia, Conn., twelve; Berlin, N. H., forty; Bridgeport, Conn., thirteen; Bridgewater, six; Cambridge, three; Central Falls, ten; Chelsea, thirty; Chicopee, sixteen; Claremont, eighteen; Derry, N. H., twenty-three; Fitchburg, twenty-six; Hartford, Conn., twenty; Haverhill, twenty-one; Lowell, thirty; Lunenburg, twenty; Lynn, 100; Manchester, N. H., sixty; Meriden, Conn., three; Nashua, 161; Norwood, three; Portsmouth, thirty; Providence, thirteen; Pawtucket, three; Reading, one; South Manchester, Conn., three; Springfield, 100; Danbury, Conn., seven; Weymouth, two; Worcester, fifty; Woonsocket, two. Of course New York leads off, having 650; Detroit has 400, Newark, N. J., 157; Buffalo and Chicago 150 and Philadelphia 121.

As Undesirable Aliens

The arrests were made on deportation warrants from the immigration department on the grounds that the men are undesirable aliens. The arrested men will be brought to Boston for hearings before the immigration authorities. There were thirty Russians taken at 97 Staniford street, at a meeting of the Communist Party, and twenty-seven at 215 Washington street, headquarters. In Cambridge Adam Bulski, secretary of the branch there, was captured with all his papers. The Communist Party in St. John was also raided. The charter of the branch was seized and granted Nov. 1, 1919, from the party headquarters in Chicago. It is signed by E. Batherson, president, secretary, and H. M. Wicks, member of the executive council and is made out in English to the "Comrades of the Russian Branch 2, Boston, Mass."

In Chelsea a Red flag, three women and twenty-one men were the toll. Ike Kaplan, who was a disturbing factor in the Lawrence strike last spring, was among those captured in that city. In the round up now in progress there are involved no spies and no espionage. The act of citizenship proved by any of those caught in the round up automatically freed them from custody. The burden of proof, however, is on the prisoner. Some of those taken last night have already been released and others will probably be freed when they appear before the immigration authorities. Many of those arrested are Russians; Lithuanians were also included in the roundup. One of those brought to the federal headquarters was a girl very pretty and stylishly dressed. She was not at all the type of a "Red" as the others. She was of most manifest refinement and intelligence. She seemed little concerned at her position, displaying hardly any nervousness. After questioning she was let go.

These raids are not finished, and it would not be surprising now that the arrests have been stirred up as many more would be netted. Despite the fact that the American Legion protested against allowing Berger, a Socialist, to speak last night he did so, though his talk wasn't quite as bad as usual. His train was late and the audience waited two hours for him. The police stopped the train at the station and the members of the legion were able to enter and a big row, for the ex-soldiers are some because the concert would not concede their demands, as was done in Cambridge.

Berger, who is out on bail on elementary charges, was unseated by congress and re-elected by the German element in Wisconsin, told his hearers that if he had the last two years to live over again, he would do everything he did before, write the articles for which he was indicted and make the same speeches, only stronger, because he knows more now. RELATES THE STORY OF THEFT OF TUBS OF BUTTER

Prisoner on Stand Recounts Circumstances of Stealing of Nine Tubs from N. C. Scott.

Preliminary examination in the case against Arthur A. Harris, Walter Dixon and Albert Ritchie, charged with stealing butter from N. C. Scott, Main street, was commenced this morning in the police court. Dixon said he was formerly in the employ of Mr. Scott and about four days before he was arrested met Ritchie, and after some conversation in which these words were used, "Is there anything in Scott's that is any good?" He said he told him there was nothing there but some butter, but that would not be much good and besides the witness questioned the matter of transporting the butter from the warehouse, but Ritchie said, "We can get an automobile and take it away," so witness said, "Let's make it over that I have already been looking over plans for a palatial home to be erected with the profits of the first year. You know if you can make your end go Hanner an' I'll be a millionaire." It's got to be a great scheme," said Hiram, "an' I'll be a millionaire." It's got to be a great scheme," said Hiram, "an' I'll be a millionaire."

IN HONOR OF WOLFE

London, Jan. 3.—At the annual banquet held at Westminster in commemoration of the death of Wolfe, the hero of Quebec, revived for the first time since the war, several descendants of officers serving under Wolfe attended the dinner. The affair was held in the famous George and Dragon Inn, in the old world village, and many Canadian and Londoners also journeyed out to attend. The banquet was presided over by Mr. Ward, chief constable of Kent, a descendant of Colonel George Wolfe, who was present. The toast of the evening was given by the speaker, who declared that notwithstanding differences of opinion which had been expressed, all sections of Canada were loyal to the British crown and had been clearly shown by the recent tour of the prince. The question of confederating the dominion would make a strong nation out of the scattered settlements for which Wolfe and Montcalm had died.

PAVING BLOCKS IN

A carload of paving blocks, numbering 4,000, was received by the city yesterday from Spring Island. They will be used in the paving work to be carried out next spring.

FOR VANCOUVER MAYORALTY

Vancouver, B. C., Jan. 3.—Mayor R. B. Gale, seeking a third term, and Alderman Thomas, for some years chairman of the civic finance committee, have been nominated for the mayoralty for 1920.

PHILIP AND PFERDAND

A case against Philip and Pferdand, limited, charged with adulterated cattle food, was resumed, but at a request by counsel was postponed until Monday afternoon for the prosecution and J. D. P. Lewin for the defence.

Charles Creary, for wandering about with a dog, was fined $10 in jail, but this was allowed to stand.

A case against George McKinnon, charged with assaulting Charles White, charged with stealing five pairs of moccasins from Max Stecher, was also postponed until Monday.

Several people in jail were brought before the court yesterday. The magistrate surveyed him a few moments with a stern glance, and said, "Committed to jail for two months." The accused resigned to his fate, when the magistrate said, "Dixon, come here! Will you promise me that you will not think any more about it? The accused shook his head. The magistrate continued, "Will you promise me that you will not drink any intoxicating liquor unless I am present?" "O'no, your Honor!" "Who won't you do that, then when you are in jail? Will you promise me that you will not think any more about it? The accused shook his head. The magistrate continued, "Will you promise me that you will not drink any intoxicating liquor unless I am present?" "O'no, your Honor!"

OUR WHEAT.

Winnipeg, Jan. 3.—The Telegram published last night a set of figures which it said had been obtained by a correspondent from the British wheat commission, asserting that the Canadian wheat board has disposed of 65,000,000 bushels of 1919 export wheat to Britain, France and Italy by Nov. 15, 1919, and on that date was negotiating the same of another 10,000,000 bushels to the British government.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "There is an opportunity for you and me to stop the slaughter of herons in breeding time to provide pigeons for women's hats, and at the same time make for ourselves a pot of money. Even an ostrich farm has lost all interest for me since I read about the Sussex man who got the price of a cow for a turkey."

"What was you thinkin' of doin'?" queried Hiram. "Forming a partnership," said the reporter. "What woman would not be proud to see an ostrich farm? Then there's the slogan of our friends the Manufacturers' Association: 'Buy Canadian made goods.' They would be glad to back us up. You would raise the turkeys—I would look after the publicity—and we would both grow rich. I can see myself now, going to the Admiralty and the Natural History Society and all lovers of animal life, and getting their blessing in the great crusade."

Gets Million Check And Then Disappears

Toronto Theatrical Man Missing for Weeks

Last Seen at Grand Opera House—Had Just Sold His Interests to a Syndicate and Deposited Check in Bank.

Toronto, Jan. 3.—The World this morning publishes the following story: Ambrose J. Small, well known theatrical manager of Toronto, manager of the Grand Opera House and controlling a line of theatres across Canada, is missing. More than four weeks ago he was seen at his office and disappeared from sight and hearing of his friends as if the earth had opened and swallowed him up.

REBUILD LAVAL

Pastoral Letter in Support of Fund of Four to Five Millions.

Montreal, Jan. 3.—A pastoral letter of the Episcopate of the Ecclesiastical Province of Montreal, signed by the five bishops of the province, urging the faithful to share in the campaign for the rebuilding of the University of Montreal, formerly known as Laval University, was read New Year's Day in all the English speaking churches of the province. The university buildings were destroyed by fire last month and damage to the extent of a million dollars was done. Recently a campaign to raise four to five million was inaugurated. The pastoral letter presents the university as a fortress to science and morals and invites all Catholics to become benefactors of the work of restoration and assure the university the necessary funds for its ample equipment.

TWENTY-FOUR BELOW ZERO IN CAPITAL

Very High Grade Poultry Imported—News Notes of Fredericton.

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, Jan. 3.—The minimum temperature recorded at the meteorological station at the U. N. B. last night was twenty-four below. This morning at nine o'clock it was nineteen and a half ago.

Probably the highest grade poultry ever imported into New Brunswick arrived yesterday consigned to A. C. McCulloch, provincial poultry superintendent. The shipment consisted of two barred rock cockerels which were reared in Oregon. These are closely related to the only living barred rock hens (two in number) which have a laying record of 300 eggs in a year.

W. E. B. Tall, of Dorchester, is the purchaser of the pair of cockerels which he will mate with the hens which were winners in the egg-laying contest in Prince Edward Island. These cockerels will be shown at the provincial poultry show in Moncton. Poultry fanciers in Fredericton and vicinity will send 175 birds to the show.

The condition of City Treasurer G. R. Perkins is reported improved today. W. J. Glen, manager for Fraser Companies Limited at Victoria Mill, in this city, is recovering slowly from the effects of the injury which he sustained a few days ago.

The names of Councillor Tabor C. Everett of Kingsclair and Councillor H. B. Dougan of Manssers Sutton are mentioned in connection with the York wardenship. The municipal council will open its January session on Tuesday afternoon when Warden J. C. Hallett will retire.

The provincial government is to open its monthly session here on Tuesday night.

FLOODS INUNDATE LOWLANDS OF FRANCE. Paris, Jan. 3.—Scores of villages in lowlands throughout the country are suffering from floods and people living near streams have been forced to vacate. Parts of Meaux, Meudon and Chalons-Sur-Marne are flooded, while many miles of river bottom between Sedan and Charleville are under water. No loss of life is reported as yet, but the property damage will probably be heavy.

MR. HAWKE IMPROVES. Moncton, Jan. 3.—John T. Hawke is reported slightly improved today.

ANOTHER REPORT ON THE BRITISH RAILWAY MATTERS

London, Jan. 3.—Railroad workers seem to have won important concessions from the government in negotiations preliminary to the tentative settlement of the wage dispute reported yesterday. Details of the agreement show that men of the lowest grade will receive a minimum of forty shillings a week, with other grades running up to seventy-five shillings, according to the Herald Laborite organ. Decreases under the sliding scale agreed upon cannot reduce wages below the minimum agreed upon.

(Moncton Transcript.) Early on Thursday morning, January 1, at 70 Pearl street, James Robert Thompson died. He was nearly eighty years of age and had resided in Moncton for about forty years. He is survived by a sister in the States, and by a daughter a non-resident of the city.

It may be remembered that mention of his illness was made some time ago in the press. At that time Chief Rideout and a local doctor prevailed upon the deceased, then very ill, to go to the hospital, where he would receive the best of care.

He preferred, however, to remain in his home among his own surroundings, and stoutly refused to be taken to the hospital. A short time after that time a second visit was made to his home and at that time he appeared to be resting much better. No doubt death was due to pneumonia as he had a heavy cold when visited in his home.

It is said that a few days ago he settled his business, settling all his property on his sister, who was expected at that time soon to reach the city. It is likewise said that property and money, bordering the $80,000 mark, was left by him.

SIR JOHN SIMON IS DEFEATED

Tom Myers, Labor Candidate, Wins in British Election.

London, Jan. 3.—Sir John Simon, former secretary for home affairs, Liberal candidate for the House of Commons in the Spyn Valley by-election, was defeated by Tom Myers, the Labor candidate. The returns of the election, which was held on Dec. 20, show the following results: Myers, Laborite, 11,902; Sir John Simon, Liberal, 10,244; Colonel Bryan Fairfax, Coalition-Liberal, 3,154.

Mr. Myers also was a candidate at the last elections but was defeated by Sir Thomas Whitaker, Liberal, deceased.

Coal, Fire, and Cotton-Liberal candidate in the election just held, had the personal endorsement of Lloyd George, who openly opposed the candidacy of Sir John Simon.

SOME 3,000 GATHERED IN GOVERNMENT NET

(Canadian Press) In Thirty-three Cities

Washington, Jan. 3.—In a sweeping drive against radicalism, agents of the department of justice were completing today nationwide raids against communist organizations in which several thousand radicals were taken in custody with the view to deportation.

They were ordered in thirty-three cities over the United States, and promptly at the hour of nine last night the operation moved with clock-like precision in the round-up of communist workers and sympathizers. Early this morning the number of arrests had risen to the highest figure of any similar raid in history of the country.

The government hopes to fill another "Soviet ark" and send it floating across the Atlantic to Bolshevik Russia, where the radicals will be permitted to rejoin their kith and kin. The department of justice estimated that 4,000 "undesirables" would be caught in the dragnet spread over the nation, and with their deportation it was believed the backbone of radicalism in America will have been broken.

The raids were conducted particularly against communist and communist labor groups of radicals, the department of justice announced with the object of obtaining evidence to submit to the department of labor for deportation of very large number of our most dangerous anarchists and radical agitators.

The general charge of attempting to overthrow the government by force and violence was placed against those arrested.

Organize Negroes. The agents particularly searched for incriminating documents, some of which they contended revealed plans to establish Soviets throughout the country to the later merged under a Soviet council similar to the Russian council. Attempts to organize the negroes in a movement to overthrow the present political and economic situation of the United States were disclosed, officials of the department said, and they admitted that the propaganda was of such far-reaching effect that trouble may yet be expected in some negro communities.

Officials said that fruitful fields for the radical propaganda were found special among the ignorant and foreign workers. A manifesto issued by the communist party stated that the party was the "conscious expression of the struggle of the workers against capitalism, and it proposed to 'end capitalism and organize a worker's industrial republic'."

Deport Many. New York, Jan. 3.—Radicals held here today as a result of New York's share of last night's country wide round up of apostles of anarchy, violence and sedition numbered between 100 and 150. The remainder of the six or seven hundred seized were released during the night after an investigation and were to be watched by federal agents. Exact figures were withheld.

It is understood that all aliens named in the warrants will be deported as soon as possible and that American citizens among the "Reds" will be turned over to police authorities for prosecution. It was said that 800 deportation warrants are ready for New York's agitators alone.

Mr. J. Flynn, chief of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice who directed last night's raids said: "We have succeeded, I think, in breaking the backbone of the radical, revolutionary movement in America. These raids mark the beginning of the decline of organized, rabid revolutionism throughout the country. We planned this movement very carefully and the results have exceeded our expectations."

One of the more important arrests made was that of Harry Winitsky, secretary of the communist party in America, and an American citizen. Winitsky has been at liberty under $5,000 bail following his indictment last summer for criminal anarchy. He is a lawyer. Two of the men arrested with Winitsky said they had served in the American army and were wearing army overcoats.

LATER. Now 4:50. Washington, Jan. 3.—Arrests in the radical raid last night and today had exceeded 4,500 at noon. More than half of this number probably will be held for deportation.

Halifax, Jan. 3.—A Boston special to the Morning Chronicle says Boston lobster circles are much concerned over a bill at Washington putting a partial embargo on live lobster shipments from Canada. The size limit is raised to 10 1/2 inches on all foreign imports. Dealers and the trade generally join forces in opposing the bill. Protests are heard on every creek.

MONTCALM IS AWAY TO AID OF THE SPINNER. Latter Drifting With Ice Floes and in Some Danger of Hitting Anticosti Reefs. Quebec, Jan. 3.—The Canadian government steamer Montcalm, which has left North Sydney yesterday morning for Belle Island, was informed that the Seal had reached the island and succored the marooned colony so the ice-breaker was immediately ordered to speed up the assistance of the Canadian Spinner, which is drifting with the ice in the lower St. Lawrence. It is expected the Montcalm will reach the Spinner before the latter meets with further dangers.

This morning the Spinner was reported near Fame Point, about fifteen miles off shore, still stuck in solid fields of ice and drifting fast with the floes towards the sea.

There is a danger of the Spinner being pushed along the reefy coast of Anticosti, but with the Montcalm speeding towards her, anxiety has been considerably relieved.

A DIFFERENCE SLIGHT BUT DEADLY.

(New York Times.) Between wood alcohol and grain alcohol—methyl and ethyl alcohol, the chemists call them—there is in composition only a small difference, and it is a difference of molecular structure, not of material or substance, for neither contains anything except carbon in combination with hydrogen and oxygen. But, though the difference is so small, it is of vital consequence to the person who drinks it.

Grain, or ethyl alcohol, is the more complex of the two, but, curiously enough, it is unaffected by the destructive acids and ferments, and its oxidation and elimination from the body are rapid and complete. This accounts for its comparative harmlessness. Wood, or methyl alcohol, on the other hand, promptly and quickly breaks up after ingestion, and a considerable part of it is converted to formaldehyde and formic acid. Both are active poisons, and the latter is particularly virulent one, and its elimination is slow—so slow that the quantity taken is more than slight death occurs before it can be metabolized.

The action of methyl alcohol is direct on the nerves and is terribly destructive. It is a characteristic symptom of wood alcohol poisoning, and also for the unconsciousness into which the victims soon fall and the not long deferred cessation of the heart's movements.

Another difference between the two alcohols is that ethyl alcohol can easily be made by anybody, anywhere, with this of a few simple and inexpensive apparatus, though the quality of the amateur product is bad and cannot be improved except by highly expert manipulation. Methyl alcohol is much harder to manufacture, in its raw state is quite undrinkable by the most thirsty of quippers, and the process of refining it to a potable liquid is so long and delicate that amateur chemists are not likely to attempt the task and still less likely to succeed in it. None of the illicit stills which the revenue agents are finding in the manufacture of methyl alcohol.

Appointed Parish Priest of Cathedral

A new appointment went into effect in the Cathedral on New Year's Day, that of parish priest and the duties of the office have been assigned to Rev. Wm. Duke, rector. The selection will give much satisfaction to the people of the parish, as it is felt that Rev. Father Duke is very capable of attending to the responsibilities involved. All will join in extending best wishes to him.

The development of Alexandra Heights was discussed by the St. John town planning commission at a meeting in the mayor's office, city hall, yesterday afternoon, with W. F. Burditt presiding. It was the opinion of the meeting that the governmental housing board was able to look after the matter and that all the conditions mentioned by the commission will be adhered to by the operators. It was also thought that instead of the ordinary twenty-five foot lots, the building sites should be made forty foot lots, at least.

CONFESSES MURDER

Frank Kelly, Who Killed Servant, Admits He Shot Ticket Agent.

New York, Jan. 3.—Frank Kelly, the self-confessed slayer of Catherine Dunn, a Flatbush servant girl, confessed in the office of District Attorney Harry E. Lewis that he shot and killed Mrs. Emma McDonald, a B. R. T. ticket agent whose body was found on Oct. 28 in a sand pit in the flatlands district of Brooklyn. The negro was also questioned about the murder of Miss Mary Elizabeth Riddell, whose body was found in a lot in the Glen Morris section of Richmond Hill in January of last year. He denied knowing anything of this crime.

Kelly and Emma Robinson, his accomplice in the robbery of the home of Clarence S. Clark in Flatbush and the killing of Catherine Dunn, were brought back from Newark. Kelly met Mrs. McDonald while he was employed as a porter on the Fulton City Line. According to the story told by the police Kelly in the belief that he would be able to get her a place as stewardess on a West Indian steamship line.

In the confession, which he signed, he said he met Mrs. McDonald on the night of the murder. They walked down to the sand pits at East Ninety-second street, Brooklyn, and he said that he accidentally his revolver fell out of his overcoat pocket and went off. The bullet struck Mrs. McDonald. Who said she was wounded, the negro said, she begged him to shoot her, as she feared the disgrace that might come when her friends learned she had been killed and had been wounded while alone with him. Because she pleaded, according to the confession, Kelly raised the gun and killed her.

Kelly and Emma Robinson were arraigned before County Judge Gratton MacMahon, accused of the murder of Catherine Dunn.

ORDERS RELEASE FROM ASYLUM

Montreal, Jan. 3.—Mr. Justice Ducloux, sitting in the practice division of the superior court, ordered the authorities of the asylum at Longue Pointe immediately to liberate L. J. H. Marcell, agent, who had been brought to court on a petition presented last week, complaining that he was being detained in the institution without cause or reason.

When the petition was presented, Justice Coderre ordered that a medical doctor should be given opportunity daily to examine the petitioner.

Marcell was questioned by the lawyers in the case, and his demeanor and clear answers led the judge to say that he was manifestly sane as any man in court.

Marcell told the court that he was the victim of a bad turn which had been threatened against him "one of these days."

Justice Ducloux, in ordering immediate liberation, said that he needed a right motive so futile as those arising out of family quarrels.

TROUBLES IN IRELAND

Dublin, Jan. 3.—The smashing of seven motor cars within the last two days and serious attacks on automobile drivers is believed to be the work of striking motor vehicle drivers who, it is reported, are attempting to force the government to abandon its order requiring motorists to obtain permits to operate their cars.

On Tuesday night near Mullingar, Westmeath, a car was riddled by bullets fired from the roadside and the chauffeur escaped only by throwing himself in the bottom of the vehicle.

Motor owners of the county of Queens have been notified in a circular that all motor vehicles will be forced to stop until the government order is cancelled.

A large force of military police raided a music shop in Dublin yesterday afternoon. The five storey building was thoroughly searched, but nothing was found and no arrests were made. Large crowds stood by and hoisted the riders.

The police yesterday visited Sinn Fein headquarters, the Sinn Fein Bank and the headquarters of the Faile Eireann, all in Harcourt street, and notified the occupants to close the premises in accordance with the order of Nov. 29, suppressing the Sinn Fein organization, the Irish Volunteers, the Gaelic League and other societies in all counties and boroughs of Ireland.

Dublin, Jan. 3.—(By The Associated Press)—A large force of military and police yesterday held up traffic on the O'Connell Bridge while they searched the premises of the New Ireland Assurance Society, among the directors of which are prominent Sinn Feiners. The search apparently was fruitless. Sinn Feiners here deny that members of their faction were concerned in the raid on the Limerick post office.

Two hundred members of the transport union of Dublin struck yesterday at the Anglo-American Oil Company as a protest against the government requiring motor drivers to secure permits. The effect of this strike will be to check the supply of petrol to the few cars which are now in the streets.

A KIDNEY REMEDY

Kidney troubles are frequently caused by badly digested food which overtaxes these organs to eliminate the irritating acids formed. Help your stomach to properly digest the food by taking 15 to 30 drops of Extract of Mother Seigel's Curative Syrup, and your kidney disorder will promptly disappear. Get the genuine.

MUCH WORK TO DO.

Looking to the new year St. John has many matters of importance to command the attention of the citizens. There is the settlement with the New Brunswick Power Company, which is still in the air. There is the question of telephone service and rates, soon to come before the Public Utilities Commission and calling for immediate attention. There is the extension of the breakwater to Partridge Island and the provision of facilities at West St. John. There is the matter of the McGinley section at St. John for handling through traffic over the Valley Railway. There is the question of cheaper power, to encourage the industrial growth of the city. There is the question of better housing, which is very urgent. There are also the matters of hospital improvement, municipal building, street improvement, recreation grounds, and development of athletic sports and others of importance. The long winter evenings afford time for discussion and for planning to ensure a year of notable progress. It would be a very serious blunder if the mere pursuit of pleasure diverted attention from these various subjects of such vital importance to the welfare of St. John.

AN APPEAL FOR UNITY.

The cities of western Canada, between the lakes and the Rockies, have experienced what Canadian finance describes as a period of class warfare. It was precipitated by the Winnipeg strike last summer, with minor labor troubles in the cities farther west. Following the bitter struggle in Winnipeg, in which the citizens at large asserted their rights and overthrew the faction which sought to introduce the Soviet form of government, the issue was taken to the polls; and in the various city elections labor was again defeated, though not overwhelmingly so. Now that the matter has been settled for the present, there is an appeal to both parties to get together and prevent the continuance of class feeling. This appeal is admirably voiced by Canadian Finance, and it would be well if its influence were felt in every city where there is danger of class warfare. We quote: "Western Canadians are bracing themselves up for the big business expansion which seems to be so near at hand. There is a feeling of optimism abroad—western industrial and agricultural development is proceeding apace. There is confidence in the future, and every man, woman and child is interested in the maintenance of that spirit of confidence. Can we afford to imperil the prosperity which appears imminent by a perpetuation of the bitter class warfare which featured our municipal elections? No matter which viewpoint we assume in dealing with the question, the answer is clearly the same in each case. The people of western Canada cannot afford to nourish class enmity. The employer and employee, the capitalist and the laborer—each of these has a common ideal if they are worthy citizens. They strive to be better men and to make this country a better place in which to live. The labor element may appear to advance radical proposals at times, and the extremist in the ranks of capitalism also steps beyond the bounds of reasonable suggestions quite frequently. But there is a strong body of citizens which, in normal times, refuses to listen to class agitators. They look upon their brother citizen as a fellow Canadian. They are open minded and amenable to reason. So, during the happy Yuletide season, let us get back to normal and be Canadians."

JUVENILE COURTS.

The Trades and Labor Council last evening put itself on record, along with the Rotary Club, the Y. M. C. A., the Council of Women and many other organizations, representative of the whole community, in favor of a properly constituted juvenile court in St. John. It is interesting to note that in Toronto, where they have had such a court for years, there is now a vigorous effort being made, led by the Big Sister Association and the Big Brother Association, to secure immediate additions to working plant in connection with the court. The plea is made for a proper detention home for girls and boys attached to the court, including school, hospital and psychiatric specialist in attendance, to carefully study the children and advise the court of their mental condition. It is contended that the detention home should be so equipped that it could be used as a corrective institution, so that a child might be placed there for a few months to be "checked up" and trained, which treatment might eliminate the necessity of sending him or her to an industrial school. The detention homes at New York, Philadelphia and Detroit are cited as efficient institutions worth studying. At present in Toronto the offenders of various ages and degrees of delinquency are kept together while under detention, and have no proper training or exercise. A report says: "While living in the present shelter there is nothing provided to occupy the minds of the children, no schooling, no outdoor exercise, no indoor gymnastics, no games, only a few books and magazines and the privilege of keeping the place clean. The boy who may be detained there a few hours for disturbing the peace, or breaking a window or for some other trifling offense may become intimate with the boy who is the hardened repeater, or one who has been found by the courts to be criminally insane and who is waiting for a vacancy at the Ocella Asylum. A criminally insane boy was there for months recently. Another boy, a moral degenerate, was there for over three months. Consider, Mrs. Small says, the effect of such cases on the 802 boys who went to the detention home last year. It is to secure a proper detention home, so very necessary in a city the size of Toronto, that the associations of social workers are now laboring, in order that the work of the juvenile court may be made more effective in saving the children.

The users of telephones all over the province are interested in the request of the New Brunswick Telephone Company for higher rates and a measured service. What are the various municipalities, the Union of Municipalities, the boards of trade and other business organizations doing to see that their interests are properly represented at the hearing? The company will be able to represent. Of that there need be no doubt in any mind. The company is organized; the public is not. It is therefore essential to have such concerted action by public bodies as will insure the presence of representatives who can aid the Public Utilities Commission in bringing out every fact that is essential to a decision alike fair to the company and the people.

The continued round-up of radicals in the United States is an expression of the feelings of the majority of the people. They believe that democracy as defined in the American constitution, however defective it may still be in some respects in its operation, is good enough for them; and that necessary changes and reforms may be brought about by peaceful means. They deny the right of foreign agitators to overthrow the constitution, and if necessary will deport every one of them.

George E. Foster and George R. Parkin, not so many years ago, were teachers in Fredericton. Now Sir George Foster is acting premier of Canada and Sir George Parkin is secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust with headquarters in London. Thus is the little New Brunswick city linked up with the larger affairs of Canada and the Empire. And these are but two of many links in the chain.

London cables continue to tell of a most encouraging revival of trade and industry. The labor situation is becoming normal, except of course that the scale of wages is much higher than before the war.

Britain has another little war on the Indian border. Any disturbance in that quarter is the more unfortunate because the Bolsheviks of Russia are looking eastward in the hope of stirring up serious trouble.

Pilot Borden has left the bridge and the ship of state at Ottawa is plunging along through the fog to an unknown destination, with rocks on every side.

Statistics compiled and published by the board of trade show that St. John had a year of progress in 1919.

THE LIBERTY BOND.

I've a hundred-dollar bond, that I bought from Uncle Sam, when the war across the pond gave this universe a slam. It's a document I prize with its coupons twenty-four; and I wish, with heartfelt sighs, that I had a dozen more. People try to get my bond, handing me all kinds of bunk, but it won't be sold or pawned, or be swapped for any junk. "Come and buy a motor car," says the dealer, bold and brash; "I will take your bond at par, if you care to sell it." "I'll take it," says the dealer, "but the distance is broad," says the faker, strolling by, "and I'll trade it for your bond." "I've an under-water farm where all kinds of fish are spawned," says the skate whose accents charm; "you may have it for your bond." All the get-rich-quickly shams come and hammer at my door, and I smile at their remarks till their talk becomes a bore. Then I say, "You've cringed and fawned, and you've argued and you've lied, all to get my cherished bond, with its coupons down at the bottom of the sea. I will trust my Uncle Sam, but I cannot bank on you. Of that document I'm fond," I exclaim, in thunder tones; "no one gets that little bond, which is worth a hundred bones."

SIR PEREGRINE MAITLAND.

On January 3, 1818, Sir Peregrine Maitland was appointed lieutenant-governor of Upper Canada, bringing to Canada the young wife he had first met at the famous ball at Brussels on the night before the battle of Waterloo. Sir Peregrine had won great fame as a warrior before he accepted the post at York, Upper Canada. His wife was Lady Sarah Lennox, the graceful daughter of the Duke of Richmond, who offended her father greatly by marrying the warrior. But later he forgave them and when he became governor of Canada he visited them at York. While on his way back to Quebec he was bitten by a pet fox and died in Richmond, Que.

THE RIGHT TO STRIKE.

(Toronto Globe.)

Justice Metcalf's charge to the jury in the Winnipeg section trial raises the question of the legal limits of a strike movement. Some Labor leaders profess to read into it a serious abridgment of rights which were guaranteed long ago. They quote from the telegraphic summary of his lordship's remarks his assertion that the sympathetic strike and the practice of picketing are illegal. The people of Canada would dissent from any suggestion that in ordinary industrial disputes the strikers are an unlawful weapon, or an improper one after other methods have failed. As to picketing, the British courts have expressly affirmed its legality and it would be surprising if the Canadian law were different. The trouble in Winnipeg began with a strike, perfectly legitimate, of metal workers, who claimed the right to negotiate with their employes through representatives of their own choice. The dispute had become an industrial strike, the leaders of which called out groups of municipal, provincial and federal employees. By stopping services necessary to community organization, particularly that of a large centre of population, they aimed to reduce citizens to such a state of distress and hardship that the municipal government would be forced to come to their relief by surrendering. Extremists were not content with the original dispute, but grasped the opportunity to spread revolutionary propaganda, and probably nursed the hope that they would be able to overthrow the municipal government of the hands of the regular authorities. The majority of the strikers, however, had no revolutionary designs. They merely the too passive followers of the strike committee.

THY CHRIST AND MINE.

"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places."—Ephesians vi, 12.

You sneer at this Christ of mine, And you tell me He's not Divine; You talk of your Science, Cause and Effect, In literature, language so correct; You submit He was ethical, moral and good; Strange! for it's more than they said when He stood "Despised and rejected of men; a man of sorrows, and acquainted with grief." He was wounded for our transgressions, He was bruised for our iniquities, the chastisement of our peace was upon Him, and with His stripes we are healed."

You should kneel at this Christ of mine; Thank God that He is Divine; That He stands by His stand, at God's command, A glorified man, at His right hand, In Immanuel, and you heed Him not, He speaks, and you hear Him not, He pleads, He pities, He pardons, But you want Him not, He loves, and you know Him not.

You should learn this Christ of thine, So loving and so Divine; He stands in His place, and with heavenly grace, He offers us each our place, In the Father's house and the Father's heart, Why fear ye to meet Him face to face? Rather, be ye afraid to hear Him say, "I know ye not, from Me depart."

LIGHTER VEIN.

"Talk about hard luck! The Joneses certainly had theirs the other night. First the dog ran away, then the coal left, then the baby fell sick, and the house caught fire. Can you beat that? And not a soul to help them, either!" "Great Scott! Why didn't they send for help? Haven't they got a telephone?" "Sure, they've got a telephone. But you wouldn't want to read to them troubles in a time like that, would you?"

Johnson had been dining out with some friends when he left to go home he found himself in a very thick fog. Stumbling along a narrow pathway, he found himself descending a flight of steps. This he felt sure was not right, and hearing footsteps ascending he paused. "Pardon me," he said to the dim figure which presently loomed through the fog, "but can you tell me where I am going to?" "Certainly, sir," replied the stranger, politely. "If you go straight on you will walk into the river. I have just come out."

A SHOTGUN STORY.

A party of gentlemen at a hotel were telling stories one night of famous shots and how many quail, partridges, ducks and other birds had been killed, at a single discharge. After listening to what seemed a wifful exaggeration by different narrators a stranger who was present volunteered his experience of his

BRITAIN'S MYSTERY PORT.

I suggested a short time ago that no anti-waste candidate would be able to make much capital out of the mystery port of Richborough, in Thanet, and I see that Mr. Harmsworth has had the courage to express his conviction that there is a great future before the new Channel port, says the writer of a letter to the London Evening Standard.

I recently paid a visit to this wonderful place, with its shipyards and docks and the Channel train ferry plying between there and France and Belgium—carrying forty-five railway wagons of fifty-four lorries besides other material. At the moment, the port is a clearing house for the huge stocks of material from the war areas, but as an admiral who had much to do with its construction tells me, there are great possibilities as a future shipping centre, and to adopt the suggestion that it should be scrapped would be an example of waste in excelsis.

The new port is about two miles from its famous predecessor, Sandwich, now about that distance inland through the recession of the sea. Sandwich, from the Conquest to the time of Richard II, was the royal port for all fleets, and at one time 1,500 able seamen belonged to the navy of the port and about 100 large ships.

LABOR DIVORCED FROM WORK.

It is this aesthetic divorce of labor from work that is behind much of what we may call "industrial unrest." There is a great clutter about rights and only a few whisperings about work. The prevailing tendency is to agree with those who assert that the war made a "new world" and that the great calamity of war swept away all of the unloveliness and hardship which have been with us for so many thousands of years. But if you will look about, you will discover that the fish are just as hard as ever to take from the sea, that grain does not grow any more readily or more quickly than ever it did, that the mines do not give up their contents by tapping them with a wand, and that there are no fairies about ready to clothe and feed the multitude. In fact, the more you examine into this old world the less you can discover in the way of improvement wrought by several years of war. It is poorer than it was, it is producing less than it did, and has its sense of values considerably jarred and twisted.—Samuel Crompton in the World's Work.

SOUVENIRS OF STONE AGE.

Digging into the tomb of a mound-builder chief near Newark, O., scientists recently discovered ancient trinkets which they declare established the fact that the stone-age inhabitants of the locality belonged to the same tribe whose earth monuments are found in other parts of the state, notably Ross county, where similar research work has disclosed surprising evidence of pre-historic culture. The sepulchre is located near the flint quarries from which aborigines obtained material for arrowheads and other implements. It is made of small stones, and buried in a circular mound of earth,

Will Prices Come Down When Packers Unscramble?

"The consumer doesn't care a snap of his fingers about the dissolution of a trust unless it means lower prices or better quality, or both," says the New York Globe, which sees "no reason to believe that the withdrawal of the packers from all lines except meat and dairy products will benefit the consumer an iota."

There is scarcely any other subject that so vitally concerns the public as that covered by the leading article in THE LITERARY DIGEST for January 3rd. The "Digest" has secured statements from the highest sources representative of every angle of opinion upon the recent decision of the packers to withdraw from all lines except meat and dairy products.

PROBLEMS OF THE NEW YEAR

(Rev. Gordon Dickie, M. A., in St. John's, Nfld., Evening Telegram.)

The year 1919 has seen the solution of many problems, but as it draws toward its close we are confronted with the thought that there are many still to solve. War always has its aftermath, and unless we build wisely upon the foundations which remain, there is little promise that the new order will be better than the old, or that it will abide any longer. Men are seeking leadership today to guide them to the truth, and happy is the people to whom prophets have been given to know the truth and sincerely make it known. So that in undertaking our problems we may work worthily and well.

There are three of these problems I would like to specify:

1.—The Problem of Peace.

Like many other great reforms it has taken a long time to develop—so long in fact that oftentimes it seemed as though it must perish from the earth entirely. Men have cried peace when there was no peace. Peace has often been turned back in its course just as the river current is turned back by the tide, and it seemed uncertain whether it should ultimately prevail.

The problem of peace lies in the fact that although we have been thinking in terms of peace we have been living in the spirit of war. And even yet it lingers with us. Hatreds are still smoldering, while here and there is the blaze of open conflict. Is it possible that in a little while we shall see the outbreak of another terrible conflagration consuming what is left of the world's wealth and the world's manhood?

Such thoughts as these often force themselves upon men's minds and inspire them with a great fear. The Christmas season with its spirit of peace from above and good will to men should provide the answer to all such forebodings, and give us the occasion for establishing a peace of which there shall be no end.

2.—The Problem of Power.

Greed and cunning divorced from principle have menaced the prosperity and stability of many countries. Men who have the power to get have violated the plain instincts of humanity in their eagerness to acquire. "Everything is permitted to the strong" has been their philosophy of life. They have spent their time figuring how they could throw the competition, monopolize the necessities of life, inflate the market and create artificial conditions in the world of trade and commerce. Time has revealed the fact that to accomplish these purposes public officials have been brow-beaten, laws juggled, secret agreements formed, and the labor world demoralized. These things should not be.

There is also the power of labor which is continually growing greater. Many people say that Mr. Gompers is greater than President Wilson, not as a man but rather because as president of the American Federation of Labor he can use and exert more power than the president of the United States. There is danger in such power. It needs a good man and unusually wise to be so great.

The crisis in the industrial world today has come about through the abuse of power. On one side, so many hours at so much an hour with certain conditions attaching to the work; on the other, so much work, the least compensation, the strongest bars. The ideals of religion "render to all their dues," and

"we no man anything but love" do not enter into their contracts. Agreements are made in cold blood, oftentimes after a bitterness of strikes and shutdowns, and by the shrewdest professional skill. As a result capital and labor are more hostile today than ever in the world's history, and some solution must be found if the world is to move on in moral progress.

3.—The Problem of Reform.

If we expect to continue as a nation we must do something more toward the solution of social problems than we have done hitherto. A tree to produce fruit must be well planted. Rootage precedes fruitage. We are often interested in leaf and twig when we ought to dig about the roots and enrich the soil in which the tree stands. A tree is known by its fruit but the fruit gains the nourishment and perfection from the things which make the tree grow. The greatest business on earth is feeding the roots of our social life. All reforms will blossom and bear fruit to the blessing of the world if only they are nourished by the great underlying truths of life.

In this connection our chief hope is likely to be the child. It is hard to teach an old dog new tricks. The best orders may be disobeyed today, but a properly trained youth will see to it that they are carried out tomorrow. A better social life will be created by giving to the children of our generation a better training than was given to the men and women of the present generation not only in method but in motive. We often work with the wrong people to secure moral progress. The messages for a better social order which have been given the past years with imperceptible results would change a nation in a generation if taught to the youth of our land. Why not return at this Christmas season to the prophet's message, so often repeated, so seldom followed, "A little child shall lead them." Where others have failed, it may succeed.

ANOTHER SHIPLOAD OF REDS TO GO SOON

Anarchists to Be Sent to Ellis Island First.

(New York Evening Post.)

Another shipload of radicals from various parts of the country, some already in custody and others, whom it is expected will be arrested by agents of the department of justice, will be deported through New York within the next few weeks.

Reports from Washington say that a large number of alleged anarchists are in custody in Detroit and Chicago, and that these will be ready for deportation at an early date. In addition there are twenty-five on Ellis Island.

An effort was made to get some out of town to this city in time to sail on the Buford Sunday, but it failed, and preparations are now being made to deport them when the next "Soviet ark" leaves for some unknown port, probably in Russia.

While definite figures are not available for the passenger list of the next deportation draft reports say the number will reach 400 or more.

On the next vessel to leave, wives and children of those deported on the Buford are expected to sail, and with them relatives of some of the next batch of anarchists sentenced to leave American soil. Upward of twenty of the Reds who are somewhere on the high seas aboard the Buford are married and of this number several had children or other dependents.

No information about the port to which the Buford is destined will be made for the present. Heisingfords has been mentioned in this connection, but army officers refuse to confirm or deny the statement that the Finnish port will receive the Russian anarchists.

"What would you do if you had your life to live over?" said the serious constituent. "I'd learn to play the violin," replied Senator Sorghum. Cut Coal Bills Down

Get All the Heat from Every Ton

Many a scuttle of slightly burned coal is cast out among unburned ashes, and, as a result, wasted, thus increasing coal bills which should, and can be, so easily cut down by means of which, as shown in the illustration, can be worked by a boy. Simply empty the ashes into the hopper, turn the crank, and the half burned coal passes into the attached scuttle, and the fine dust into the barrel beneath.

THE "DAISY" ASH SIFTER

is worked exactly the same as the "Hustler," but is not quite so sturdy.

LOCAL NEWS

THE METAGAMA.

The C. O. S. Rice Metagama is due here Monday from Liverpool with 1084 passengers, 494 cabin and 590 steerage. It will be her first trip to this port this season.

ST. JOHN'S HIGH PROPORTION.

An interesting fact lies in the comparison of the dominion's gain in customs receipts for 1919 with that of St. John. In a despatch from Ottawa yesterday it said that the gain for the whole of Canada was $15,500,000. St. John showed an increase of more than $2,200,000, or about one-seventh of the total increase.

ENGAGED IN NEW YORK.

St. John people will be interested in the announcement of the engagement of Miss Ethel Butt Bustin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Dupuy, of 95 Lancaster street, Albany, N. Y., to Leon E. Docker, district manager for a New York stock and bond house. Mrs. Dupuy was formerly wife of the late William H. Bustin, of St. John. Miss Bustin attended the Mount St. Vincent Academy at Halifax. The date of the wedding has not been announced.

THE TWO SISTERS FLOATED.

Word was received from Quaco light this morning that the schooner Two Sisters, which grounded near the light, Thursday, had been refloated and towed to St. Martins. The stern post of the schooner is gone and she has two holes in her hull. It is said there is some doubt whether or not she can be repaired. She is owned by Newton Pugsley of Parrsboro. The cargo, which is owned by George McKean & Co., Ltd., of this city, was saved.

HARD TO GET THERE.

Word was received at the local office of the Marine and Fisheries department this morning from the captain of the government steamer Laurentine, saying that he endeavored to reach Harborville to render, if possible, any assistance to the schooner Two Sisters, but owing to a heavy gale and vapor he had been unable to do so, and had returned to Spencer's Island. He will make another attempt as soon as weather conditions permit.

BOARD OF TRADE NOTES.

The board of trade has received a telegraphic enquiry respecting silica deposits in this section. The inquirer wants a deposit which will show an analysis of about 95 per cent. General order No. 276 of the Railway Commission of Canada is as follows: "Ordered that, subject to the provisions of the Railway Act, 1919, the tolls of the railway companies subject to the jurisdiction of the board, in effect as of this date, are hereby continued in effect on and from January 1, 1920."

N. B. CROPS.

The annual report of the provincial department of agriculture received by the board of trade, shows an increase in the numbers of all classes of live stock in the province, and an increase in all field crops with the exception of spring wheat. The most interesting items is that of the potato crop. The total crop was 13,489,000 bushels but twenty per cent. of this amount was deducted on account of rot. The net value of the crop was placed at $18,457,700.

BY-LAW CASES.

Several by-law cases were taken up in the police court this morning. Geo. W. Ketchum, was reported by Policeman Colwell, for driving on the wrong side of Mill street and also for driving over the crossing without getting the proper signal. The defendant explained that he was not in the car. Satisfactory arrangements were made and the case dismissed.

N. L. Brennan was reported by Policeman Dykeman for driving past a street while passengers were alighting. He also said he was in the car, and after an explanation was made the case was dismissed.

James McKinney, was charged with exceeding the speed limit in Main street on Thursday, January 1. Policeman Hogg gave evidence. The defendant said he was delivering goods and did not think he was exceeding the speed limit. A fine of $10 was imposed but allowed to stand.

INCORPORATION OF HAMPTON

A meeting of a committee to consider the feasibility of the incorporation of the community of Hampton, was held last night, with the chairman, A. C. Thompson, in the chair. It was decided to have an act prepared to suit the conditions of the vicinity and present it to the legislature at present in session to pass it. Before this is done, however, the act will be presented to the people at a public meeting for their sanction. The intention at present is to incorporate for water and sewerage purposes in order to prevent conditions that may exist at any time on account of the poor system of drainage.

CHASE-BOONE WEDDING.

Miss Edith Louise Boone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Westley Boone of New Glasgow, formerly of this city, and Arthur B. Chase, son of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Chase, 124 Essex street, Swampscott, were married in St. Stephen's Episcopal church in Lynn by Rev. William Appleton Lawrence, the rector, the double ring service being used. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Moore of Lynn, while the groom was accompanied by his brother, Gardner M. Chase. The bride was attired for the wedding in a traveling costume of dark blue and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Following the wedding the bride and groom left for a wedding trip to Springfield, Chester and other places, and on their return will make their home at 124 Essex street, Swampscott. Mrs. Chase has recently been in charge of the ribbon department at the store of the T. W. Rogers Company in Lynn, while Mr. Chase is employed by the United Shoe Machinery Company in Beverly.

THAT CARLETON CO. VAGANCY.

Harland Oberer, during the last two weeks there has been an active movement among returned soldiers of Carleton county and elsewhere pressing their claim to representation in the legislature. A committee has interviewed the local government and they say the government is willing to accord them the vacant seat in Carleton if the other parties will agree to allow their candidate to take his seat by acclamation. The name of S. G. Barber, of Harland, is mentioned as the candidate most likely to be selected at a convention to be held in Woodstock, Jan. 14.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS

The co-operation of advertising patrons is requested in the direction of getting "copy" into the business office on or before 4.30 p. m. on the day previous to publication. Very often the receipt of a large advertisement or even regular changes after that hour serves to dislocate the regular work of getting the paper made up in time to catch the mails—and not infrequently such ads. are at the last moment left out.

This situation is not of service to either the advertiser or our readers and we, therefore, request that copy be received in the business office not later than 4.30 p. m.

FOR THE YOUNG OF FAIRVILLE

Need of Recreation Centre—
Big Plan is Urged—Present Efforts to Get Skating Place.

Last evening a community meeting was held in Temperance Hall, Fairville, to discuss further the best ways and means of establishing some sort of recreation centre for the boys and young men of the neighborhood. About a dozen men were present and were unanimous that some such institution was an urgent necessity, with the young manhood of the village having present means of wholesome recreation nearer than St. John.

Rev. W. P. Dunham, rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, was in the chair and introduced Captain Stokes, of the Y. M. C. A., St. John. Captain Stokes spoke from his experience and advised interesting the whole community in a big project, big enough to have the spice of daring in it, and which would appeal to all classes for support. He discussed gymnasium buildings, costs, sizes, etc., and advocated such a plan for Fairville as would permit competition with outside teams.

Captain Stokes' address was followed by a general expression of opinion. The need to take the boys off the streets was vehemently urged by all, and it was recognized that only an effort big enough and supported by all classes would be the right enterprise to undertake.

A committee was named and further data will be obtained. It was decided to go ahead immediately with the establishment of a free open air rink at the reservoir, if permission could be obtained from the owners. Captains Thomson and Inspector Ring have already examined the property and it is hoped the reservoir may be flooded early next week.

It is understood the next time and place of meeting will be announced in the local churches, which has been the medium used so far in getting word to the people. Judging from appearances, the community spirit is reawakening in Fairville. Those present, however, recognized that the project is too big for a few to handle and if the larger scheme is to be carried out the interest of the whole community must be secured.

Sunday School Treats

Last evening the Fairville Methodist Sunday school observed their annual treat and Christmas entertainment before an audience of parents and friends that completely taxed the capacity of the large vestry.

A beautiful Christmas tree had been trimmed and when during a pause in the programme the candles were lit on the tree the sight drew an audible expression of delight from most of the children and many grown ups. The superintendent presided and the following programme was carried out:

- Hymn—"The Song of Wondrous Beauty."
- Chorus—"This Christmas Time."
- Exercise—The Bells, Mrs. Arthur McColgan's class.
- Recitation—Doris Taylor.
- Recitation—Margaret Catherwood.
- Recitation—Evelyn Fitzgerald.
- Exercise—The Christmas Basket, Miss Eva Taylor's class.
- Song—Jesus Loves Me, Marie Lester, Lily Wright, Elva Fitzgerald, Florence Neal, Margaret Catherwood.
- Exercise—Gifts, Margaret Stott, Lily Wright, Marie Lester, Irvine Chesman, Harold Stott, Bert Kelly, Hazel Craft.
- Recitation—Beulah Craft.
- Song—By ten little girls.
- Recitation—Leonard McColgan's class.
- Song—Mrs. E. Kirkpatrick's class.
- Exercise—The Wanderer, Walter Polley, Louisa Coutie, Flossie Polley, Gertrude Byers, Hazel McCumber.
- Flag drill—Twelve boys.
- Exercise—Jubilee of Peace, Mrs. H. M. Stott's class.
- Chorus—Merry Bells.

When the programme was over Santa Claus appeared, the classes were all called up to the platform and Saint Nicholas presented to each scholar a Christmas box filled with candy and nuts. In St. Columba Presbyterian church, the annual Sunday school treat was held last night before a large audience. A good programme by the children was carried out and then the treat was distributed. Everybody had a good time, and the children thoroughly enjoyed the occasion.

A Money-Saving Opportunity in

CUSTOM TAILORED CLOTHES

Jan. 3, '20.

This is known as the in-between season in Custom-Tailoring. The winter business is practically finished and most men do not order their spring clothes until they actually need them and they want the order executed in a hurry.

To overcome this to a certain extent and to keep our workroom organization intact we have made large selections from our $55 and $60 woolsens, both suitings and overcoatings and are offering them at the one price of

$48.00

Regular $55 and $60.

To you men who prefer custom-tailored clothes this offers an unusual opportunity to get the same good clothes and the same good tailoring that Oak Hall is noted for—at a remarkable discount—simply because we wish to keep our workroom busy in the off-season.

By placing your order early you have an unusually large range of cloths to select from and will get delivery at as early a date as you desire.

FRANCE FACES 3-YEAR BEET SUGAR SHORTAGE

Cultivation in Six of Eight Departments Impossible This Year Debris is Cleared.

Soissons, Jan. 3.—The sugar shortage in France, due to the German invasion, will not be relieved for three years, according to government reports and commercial statistics furnished to the correspondent of The Associated Press by the authorities who arranged his trip of inspection through devastated regions to witness reconstruction work.

Of the country's 206 new raw sugar plants, 145 virtually were razed during the war, the figures show, and most of the half million acres of sugar beet land were devastated by the ravages of battle.

None of the larger sugar plants has resumed operations because of lack of buildings, and sugar beet production this year was said to be almost nil. Both of these conditions are due in a measure to insufficient transportation facilities. Estimates of a special committee of the Chamber of Deputies, which forecast a sugar shortage lasting three years, however, gave encouragement for half the normal output of the country within two years.

At the present time the absence of sugar in France has resulted in the inability of persons holding sugar cards to get any of the commodity for weeks at a time.

Raising of sugar beets has virtually ceased in six of the eight beet-raising departments, due to the churning of the ground by shell explosions, the necessity of clearing away unexploded ammunition, and the presence of barbed wire and other debris. About one-twentieth of the land is considered useless for many years, and at least one-tenth is declared to have suffered depreciation of half its value. The loss in land is in addition to the destruction of buildings and the stripping or removal of machinery.

Direct loss to plants in the sugar industry is estimated by the Chamber committee to be 675,000,000 francs.

PORTLAND HANDLED BIG LOT OF GRAIN

Portland, Maine, Jan. 3.—Grain shipments amounting to 29,527,000 bushels from this port to Europe in 1919, the largest in the history of the port, are shown in statistics compiled by the Chamber of Commerce. In 1918 total shipments were 25,169,504 bushels and in 1917, 11,270,732.

Details of New Government Offer to Union to Be Announced Soon.

London, Jan. 3.—The long pending wages dispute between the government and the railway union seems to have been settled. The victory apparently is on the side of the railway men.

The details of the new offer by the government, which the national union of railway men has accepted will be announced on Sunday. In broad outline they amount to a minimum wage of sixty shillings a week for the lowest grade of workers, some of whom previously have been paid only fifty shillings, with proportionate increases for men of higher grades. Moreover, under the plan, should the cost of living increase before next September, wages will be increased one shilling for every five per cent in the rise in prices. After September there will be a sliding scale, varying with the cost of living.

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 3.—Four unmasked robbers entered the Farmers and Merchants National Bank of Benson, a suburb of Omaha, lined six employees and five customers against the wall and robbed the vault of $115,000, chiefly in negotiable paper and Liberty bonds.

Chicago, Jan. 3.—Four safe blowers blew the locks off two vaults in the factory of the Gold Furniture Company and escaped with cash and valuables worth $15,000 to $20,000. They broke into the plant at one a. m., tied the night watchman to a chair and spent four and a half hours at their work.

MAY CALL NATIONAL LABOR CONFERENCE

Winnipeg, Man., Jan. 3.—A national conference of delegates representing all factions of labor in Canada may be held in Winnipeg before the end of this month, according to labor officials here.

The purpose, according to Ernest Robinson, secretary of the Trades and Labor Council, is to ascertain labor's status in the light of the conviction of R. B. Russell, strike leader.

REAL ESTATE

Owners of Property

To the property owner we ask
the question:

DO YOU WISH TO SELL?

If that is your purpose you could do no better than communicate with us at once. We have a constant stream of inquiries for all classes of property, and yours may be just the property that some one is looking for. We make no charge for listing or advertising; your only outlay is in paying the commission if we make a sale.

Don't wait till after the first of February as the buying is
by that time fairly well cooled
off. Phone us for appointment and it will be a pleasure to call upon you and give you any further detailed information desired.

This is our best season for the sale of house property. It is because the purchaser is certain of occupancy by May 1st on account of February being
"Notice Month."

Again, surely the first of the new year is the permanent time to make as one of your resolutions to be your own landlord.

PROGRESS OF
MASONRY IN MOTHERLAND

Prince of Wales to Be Installed as Master of Lodge of Which He Became Member - Prince Albert Will Be Initiated.

(Christian Science Monitor).
London, England-The Prince of Wales evidently is not going to remain
content with the mere formal admission into the ranks of the craft, as he will logically wish to be his own free will
and accord, elected to become a member.
His brother, Prince Albert, who is about to be initiated, will be initiated in that ceremony by his quarry, Maj.
Louis Greig.

An interesting visit has just been paid to the Grand Lodge of Scotland by Lord Amphill, the pro-grand master of England; Sir Francis Davies, commander-in-chief of the Scots command and provincial grand master for Worcestershire;
V. scout Maitland, past grand secretary,
together with the Earl of Donoughmore, grand master, and Lord Plunkett, grand secretary of Ireland, to witness the re-installation of Brig-Gen. Robert Gordon Gilmour as grand master mason of Scotland.

Relations Between Lodges.
Lord Amphill presented the Duke of Atholl with his commission as grand representative of the Grand Lodge of England at the Grand Lodge of Scotland. The Duke of Atholl, in returning thanks, recalled the fact that he was a descendant of former grand masters of England. In his address Lord Amphill said that the time had come when they must further cement the amicable relations subsisting between the lodges.
The brethren of all the English-speaking jurisdictions should stand together, in supporting one policy and upholding the ancient landmarks of their institution.
They had a world-wide organization and were united by ideals about which there was no disagreement. Therefore, they had immense power, and they ought to use that power for the good of the world
and for the good of future generations.

Lord Ragon has resigned the appointment of provincial grand master for the Isle of Man, an office which he has held for nearly eight years. Even this tiny little island has eleven masonic lodges
and two Royal Arch chapters, the eleventh lodge having just been consecrated.
American Brethren Received.
The Red Triangle Lodge, Liverpool, consecrated fourteen months ago, has already established an enviable record.
In addition to the liberal contributions to the Masonic institutions, the lodge has offered the Y. M. C. A. £1,000 toward a proposed new building on condition that a site be secured immediately. About 1,000 American military brethren have been received at the Masonic Club, adjoining the lodge, some 500 friends being also entertained.

Many of the English bishops are, as
is well known, active members of the craft, and the newly appointed Bishop of Worcester has just become the master of the newly consecrated lodge in his own diocese. The lodge is held at Malvern and takes its name from St. Wer-stan, a local saint, who, driven from Deerhurst by the Danes, took refuge at Malvern in a cavern on the hillside.
There his life as a hermit led to his canonization. Incidents in the saint's career form the subject of five stained-glass windows in Malvern Priory.

The appointment of Archdeacon Waterfield, past grand chaplain, to the deanery of Hereford, vacant by the resignation of the Very Rev. and Hon. Dr. J.
Wentworth Leigh, past grand chaplain and provincial grand master for Herefordshire, will be hailed with appreciation by all brethren of the craft and particularly by all old Cheltenhamians, which college Mr. Waterfield ruled for so many years. Archdeacon Waterfield has had a distinguished career and was chosen to be the tutor to Prince Arthur of Connaught, past grand warden, in 1892 and 1893. He was appointed assistant master at Rugby and thence proceeded to Cheltenham as head master.

On resigning this post a few months
since he was immediately appointed Archdeacon of Cheltenham. Great was the affection of Hereford churchmen
for Dean Leigh, it is safe to prophesy that Dean Waterfield will not be less popular.

Master of Guildhall Lodge Elected.
Alderman Sir Edward Cooper, Lord
Mayor of London, has been elected master of the Guildhall Lodge (a lodge composed entirely of city functionaries) in succession to Sir Horace Brooks Marshall, the former Lord Mayor.

The Bradford lodges have decided upon the purchase of a site, on which they have offered an option, for the erection of a masonic hall. It is estimated that the scheme will cost some £20, 000.

An estimable way of celebrating a jubilee was observed lately when the

Closely-Knit Stockings
To keep boys warm

Winter days, outdoor sports! Boys must have warm stockings.

Buster Brown Stockings are closely knit and snug-fitting—just the stockings to protect the health of your boy during the cold weather. And in these days of soaring prices you'll find them quite an economy.

You know the special Buster Brown features. They require less mending, because they're triple re-inforced at the heels and toes. Smoothly knitted from extra-long yarn. Shaped to fit. Fast dyes keep them from fading.

Ask for Buster Brown durable hosiery—the economical kind.

BUSTER BROWN'S SISTER'S STOCKINGS are knitted from fine two-thread English mercerized lisle, in Black, Leather Shade Tan, Pink, Blue and White. Well shaped, splendid wearing stockings, moderately priced.

The Chipman Holton Knitting Co., Limited, Hamilton, Ont.

The BUSTER BROWN STOCKING SUNSHINE REGISTERED

Marwood lodge, Redcar, in commemoration of their jubilee made a special donation of fifty guineas to be divided between the boys' and girls' institutions.
The Freemasons of West Lancashire have arranged to hold a musical festival at the Philharmonic Hall, Liverpool, in January, in aid of the memorial to fallen soldiers and of the provincial masonic institutions. They held one in January
three, Sussex, one; North China, one;
Cheshire, West Yorkshire, South Africa,
and Bengal, one each; and Queensland
three.

Knight Templary is participating in the impetus and a new preceptory has just been consecrated at Perth.

Effort of Italian Brethren.
Italian brethren all over the world are collecting donations to a fund started by the Neapolitan brethren for the erection of a residence for General Diaz, the Italian military leader.

Progress in all branches of Freemasonry is being maintained. During the past 782 Mark certificates and 172 Royal Ark Mariner certificates have been issued, thirteen new Mark lodges have been warranted and three Royal Ark Mariner lodges. It is interesting to note the distribution of the Mark lodges;
Cornwall claims one; Northumberland,
three; Sussex, one; North China, one;
Cheshire, West Yorkshire, South Africa,
and Bengal, one each; and Queensland
three.

TRADES AND LABOR COUNCIL ELECT

At its annual meeting last night, with Fred A. Campbell in the chair, the Trades and Labor Council put itself on record as being in favor of a juvenile court in the city; passed a resolution of sympathy for the family of the late
sympathy for the family of the late
water and sewerage department staff,
and confirmed the acceptance of the conciliation board finding in the recent dispute between the freight handlers and the Canadian Pacific Railway.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of Fred A. Campbell as president; D. Martin was elected vice-president and the other new officials are:
A. D. Colwell, recording secretary; C. G.
Langbein, secretary-treasurer; G. D. Colwell, sergeant-at-arms; George R. Melvin, F. Hamilton and C. H. Stevens, auditors; F. A. Campbell, George R.
Melvin and A. D. Colwell, trustees of the building fund. The standing committees are: Legislative—C. H. Stevens, Sr., S. Day, Robert Winchester; Educational—P. C. Sharkey, A. D. Colwell, J.
Moore; Organizing—Thomas Killen, F.
A. Campbell; Arbitration—C. G. Lang-
bein, C. H. Stevens, Sr., F. A. Campbell, Labels—A. D. Colwell, G. R. Melvin, J.
O'Brien.

There was a large attendance of delegates and considerable routine business was transacted.

WORK FOR BOYS
BY PLAYGROUNDS
ASSOCIATION

The executive of the Playgrounds Association met last night in the Y. M. C.
A. building, the president, Capt. A. J.
Mulcahy in the chair. Capt. Mulcahy, in a pleasing speech, presented to the members the greetings of the season and hoped that in the new year the work would be as successful as in other years.
Mrs. W. C. Good, the secretary, in reply expressed the hope that the work would be even more successful and that under the guidance of its present leader the work would steadily advance. Mrs. Geo.
Dishart, the treasurer, reported all the bills for the summer in and paid. Mrs.
H. C. Groat handed to the treasurer $15, subscribed by members, and $25, the gift of the Royal Standard Chapter of the
I. O. D. E.

An excellent report of the work of the Boys' Club was submitted by A. M.
Belding and the meeting thoroughly endorsed the action of the president in appointing Mr. Dow as physical director for the club. A splendid account of the work the boys are doing was given and it was said that they were now having drills four nights each week and hope-
soon to be able to give an exhibition.
Permission was granted to the East End Improvement League to use the hall
of the club for holding an entertainment,
the proceeds of which are to go to the League but at which the boys will be guests. Thanks were extended to F. E.
Williams for the free tickets which he had presented to the members of the club and which entitle the boys to skate
in the Victoria Rink each afternoon.

A winter programme committee was appointed, with Mrs. W. C. Good as convener and the following members:
Mrs. J. E. Secord, Mrs. H. C. Groat, Mrs.
J. H. Dooey, Mrs. George Dishart, Mrs.
A. C. D. Wilson, Mrs. A. M. Belding.

Mrs. A. J. Mulcahy and Mrs. T. N. Vincent.
A letter was read from the physical director of the Y. M. C. A., asking the association to appoint two delegates to a general committee which is being formed among the leading societies for the promotion of healthful recreation. In response to this communication Capt.
Mulcahy and A. M. Belding were chosen as delegates.

When the regular meeting had adjourned, the winter programme committee was called together by the convener, Mrs. Good, and arrangements were made for holding the annual treat
for the boys later in this month. Mrs.
H. C. Groat was appointed convener of the refreshment committee for the entertainment.

As it had been announced that the

NO NEED FOR LEAP
YEAR IN NEW GUINEA
The maiden who finds herself modestly wasting away with love which has never been expressed, should take courage. It has recently been revealed to our shocked sensibilities that there is no need for her to wait until Leap Year to attain happiness—she has merely to lure the object of her affections to New Guinea.
Authentic records state that the men of that island consider it beneath their dignity to notice women, and they would much less consider making overtures of marriage. It therefore falls to the women to arrange these matters. The American girl might even improve upon the methods at present in vogue at New Guinea, for despite the delicate symbolism in sending a piece of string to the mother or sister or other relative of the One Man, as a means of making one's sentiments known, the act somehow lacks romance. And there is no romantic courtship to follow, for such a pursuit would also be offensive to the island man's imposing dignity. If he feels that he would like to wed the lady he meets her alone, they talk it over, and in an entirely dignified manner arrive at a decision.

BRITISH CLERGY ASK FOR DRINK CONTROL Deputation From Temperance Council Confers with Lloyd George on Inclusion of "Nine Points" in Future Laws.

(Christian Science Monitor.) London, England.—A deputation from the Temperance Council of the Churches of England and Wales waited upon the prime minister at 10 Downing street, to urge the importance of temperance reform. It is understood that none of the speakers proposed total prohibition, but an official account of their representations is held over, as is the reply made to them by the Prime Minister. The proceedings were not open to the press. The deputation included representatives from fourteen denominations.

The Archbishop of Canterbury introduced the deputation and the speakers were Sir Alfred Pearce Gould, the Rev. Henry Carter, the Bishop of London, Bishop Bidwell, representing the Cardinal Archbishop, the Bishop of Exeter, the Bishop of Crediton and Dr. Clifford. The four principal points submitted for the premier's consideration were: (1) Assurance of the support of the Christian churches in any legislation making for sobriety. (2) Maintenance of the present restrictions in any new legislation. (3) Insistence on the importance of the "Nine Points." (4) The attitude of the churches toward the Trade Bill.

In regard to the matter of restriction, memorials were presented from the House of Convocation, Free Church leaders, and members of the medical profession. Each of these bodies included in its memorial the following resolution: "In view of the great advantages to the nation, and to public health and order which have followed the restrictions placed on the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor during the war, we earnestly request His Majesty's government to maintain those restrictions until a satisfactory measure of reform has been enacted by parliament." The "Nine Points" on which the Temperance Council of the churches and today's deputation strongly insist are: (1) Sunday closing; (2) restriction of hours for the sale of drink on week days; (3) reduction of the number of licensed premises; (4) increase of the power of local licensing authorities; (5) control of clubs; (6) the abolition of grocers' licenses; (7) the prohibition of

Whatever You Do Don't Neglect Your Eyes, Says Dr. Lewis, Who Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50% in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home. Philadelphia, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye strain or other eye weaknesses? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. He says neglect causes more eye troubles and poor sight than any other thing. Many whose eyes were failing say they had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says after trying it: "I was almost blind; could not see to read at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they would pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me. A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seems clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now discard them in a reasonable time and multitude more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Suffered Three Years Until She Tried "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

DAME PETER LAMARRE

Pointe St. Pierre, P. Q. "I think it my duty to tell you how much your medicine has done for me. I suffered for three years with terrible Eczema. I consulted several doctors and they did not do me any good. Then, I used one box of 'Sootha-Salva' and two boxes of 'Fruit-a-tives' and my hands are now clear. The pain is gone and there has been no return. I think it is a marvellous cure because no other medicine did me any good and I tried all the remedies I ever heard of, without benefit until I used 'Sootha-Salva' and 'Fruit-a-tives' which removed the cause of the disease and 'Sootha-Salva' completed the cure." the sale of intoxicating liquor to young persons; (8) local option (defined as the right of a locality to vote on three options, viz., "no change" reduction "no license") and (9) the provision of alternatives to the liquor tavern for non-alcoholic refreshment, recreation, and social intercourse. The prime minister was reminded that in December, 1918, he had written that so far as he was able to judge from the terms of a letter submitted to him, the fundamentals embodied in the "Nine Points" were those which he had upheld for many years, and that he was of opinion that the time would soon arrive when this question would have to be dealt with in a comprehensive manner. Meanwhile he felt that the country ought to try to benefit from the experiences during the war in relation to the regulation and control of the drink traffic by the state.

In regard to the Liquor Trade Licensing Bill, 1919, the deputation offered a number of criticisms, while approving the provision that clubs must make annual application for registration, and the prohibition of the "long pull," the moralists condemned the proposal to abolish the licensing justices and a number of other proposals including the extension of the present Sunday hour for the sale and supply of drink from five to seven in London, and from five to six in the country. The prime minister replied to each of the representations made to him, and undertook that they should have careful consideration. Apart from this, the only information which the deputation felt at liberty to communicate afterward was that it considered the results of the meeting with the prime minister and H. A. L. Fisher very satisfactory.

CHER AMI'S SERVICE. The Meuse-Argonne offensive was a challenge to the swift wing of the pigeon. Four hundred and forty-two birds were used and 408 important messages were delivered. Owing to the rapid change of American units, the distance to be flown varied from twenty to fifty kilometers. Not more than ten per cent of the little messengers failed to return to their lofts, and no important message went astray, says a writer in the Luce Sector.

As an example of the fine work done by these birds in this drive there is the record of "Cher Ami," a liberated pigeon Grand-Fre at 2.35 on the afternoon of October 21, with an important message, during intense machine gun and artillery fire, the bird flew to its loft at Rampant, a distance of forty kilometers, in twenty-five minutes. Upon examination it was found that one leg had been cut off and the breast pierced by a machine gun bullet. The message tube, intact, was hanging by the ligaments of the torn leg.

With the end of the war the pigeons, like the horses and mules, were put on the auction block. With more than 500 of them, however, that had especially distinguished themselves even the army did not have the heart to part, and they were sent back to America. They can be seen today, most of them, at Potomac Park at Washington.

ENTERTAINMENTS FOR CHRISTMAS IN SUNDAY SCHOOLS

There were many children made happy by Christmas entertainments yesterday. At the Wiggins Male Orphanage the twenty-six boys had a wonderful evening. They were all assembled sharp on time and before eight o'clock the directors and a large number of visitors began to make their appearance. Each had a friendly and cheery greeting for the boys. The members of the board present were: A. W. Adams, president; Senator Thorne, Premier Foster, Dr. W. White, J. P. Knight, Dr. J. Roy Campbell, Rev. H. A. Cady. Among the other guests were: Canon R. A. Armstrong and party, H. J. Dibble, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Armstrong, Dr. and Mrs. Curran, Mrs. DesSoyes and many more. A. W. Adams, Premier Foster and Mr. Cady each made a short address to the boys. The boys entertained their guests by presenting an excellent concert programme of songs, physical exercises and recitations and in all only seven minutes after the concert the whole gathering went upstairs and spent a delightful time around a Christmas tree. The members of the board distributed the presents to the boys. Following the stripping of the tree supper was served in the dining room and Mrs. Curran and Mrs. Dibble presided at the serving of the refreshments. In St. Mary's school two entertainments were given and both brought much joy and pleasure to those present. The infant class of the Sunday school had their Christmas treat in the afternoon, when Rev. R. Taylor McKim presided and led in the programme of amusements. A fine programme was carried out among those who took part were: Rita McMann, Bertha Barton, Vera Driscoll, Margaret Adams, James Parsons, Caroline Chamberlain, Florence Pike, Doris Ingraham. After the programme the children were given a Christmas supper and were then introduced to Santa Claus and his reindeer. The rest of the scholars were given their treat in the evening. A bright programme of recitations and songs was given and was taken part in by the following: Dorothy Lane, Jean Burns, Jean Thompson, Doris Crawford, Arthur Sifton, Doris Hunt, Doris Ingraham and Enid Nutter. The children of the Ludlow street Baptist church were entertained at their Christmas treat, which was presided over by R. H. Parsons, the superintendent, presiding. The school room was gayly decorated.

CANADIANS IN NEW YEAR'S HONOR LIST

In the New Year's honor list, Dr. George Parkin, a brilliant New Brunswicker, secretary of the Rhodes Scholarships Trust, has been created a knight. He taught school in Bathurst and Fredericton and was principal of Upper Canada College, Toronto, for some time. Sir Ernest Hatch, prominent in hospitality to overseas forces, has been made a K. C. B. F.; Hon. Alicia Cecil, Hon. Carolyn Grosvenor, Miss Grace Lefroy and Lady Lucy Markham have been made C. B. E. Charles L. Doherty, Arthur L. Sifton, Canadian representatives at the peace conference; Sir Thomas White, former Canadian minister of finance, and Frederick Guest, treasurer of the king's household, were made privy councillors. Ottawa, Jan. 2.—The creation of three new privy councillors in Canada, Messrs. White, Doherty and Sifton, draws attention to the exclusiveness of this decoration. There are in all only seven men in Canada who enjoy the distinction as follows: Sir Robert Borden, Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, Sir George Rhodes, Sir Louis Davies, Sir Thomas White, Mr. Justice Duff, of the supreme court of Canada, Rt. Hon. Charles Doherty and Rt. Hon. Arthur Sifton. In all of the British empire there are only five hundred men who enjoy the distinction and only twenty-five outside of the United Kingdom. In precedence they rank next to the chancellor of the exchequer and above barons, baronets and knights.

Realizing that conservation and expansion of forests is a vital problem at present, the new Czechoslovak republic is devoting special attention to the disposition and management of the Hapsburg crown lands which reverted to it when the Austro-Hungarian monarchy fell. These cover an enormous expanse, totalling about 12,000,000 acres, nearly all of which is forest.

A GOOD RESOLVE FOR NEXT YEAR

Put System in Shape to Combat Disease; Build up Body, Purify Blood—Use "Liv-rite Tonic."

Among your New Year's resolutions should be one to see that your system is put in good shape to combat the year and which will take place upon it during 1920. You should put your internal organs in proper condition. The liver is one of the most important of these and by having it in good working order you will regulate your other organs accordingly for much of the work done by them depends upon your having a liver which performs its duties in the required way. "Liv-rite Tonic" is earnestly recommended to those whose systems are run down, who need their blood purified and their body built up. If you wish to consult a physician you can do so free of charge by bringing or sending an empty "Liv-rite" box to its makers, the Maritime Drug Co., 108 Prince Wm. St., and they will give you an order upon a reliable doctor. "Liv-rite" can be had at Crockett-McMillin's, Main and Union street stores; C. R. Wasson's, Main street; Hazen Dick's, Charlotte; Short's Pharmacy, Garden and the Ross Drug Co., King street. If your druggist can't supply you send his name to the company, or one dollar and they will do so.

INDUSTRIAL PLAN Employers in Seattle Would Strengthen Relations With Men.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 3.—Employers of Seattle have announced a comprehensive programme to bring about closer relations between employers and employees and to assure a square deal for the workers and the public, according to the Associated Industries, an organization composed of most of the employing firms of this city.

"No plan of industrial relations would be American which did not only make employment open to all, but also insure for all possible gainings between conditions to employees," says the employers' platform. "No plan is American which does not recognize industry and ability and furnish incentive for better work."

"In adopting the American plan the Associated Industries has resolved to make every effort to improve the condition of employees at the same time that it increases the efficiency and output of the industries of Seattle by co-operation with employees by just and fair treatment and the maintenance of wage standards and by wage increases when justified. We have provided committees of the organization through which we can treat with the employees and study and perfect plans for bringing about better conditions."

"The Associated Industries is pledged to maintain present standards of wages in Seattle so long as living costs hold their present level."

The formation of a wage scale committee and its plan of procedure provides for collective bargaining between employers and employees and gives the employees added protection in the right to appeal individually or collectively to the committee, when efforts to reach an adjustment fail. The functioning of the committee places a check upon any employer who might be inclined to take advantage of a surplus of labor to reduce wages regardless of living costs or prevailing scales.

The first act of this committee was to call upon all industries represented in the Associated Industries to file their present wage scales as a basis of a future adjustment of differences between the organization of employees into shop committees or other forms of internal organization is declared to be essential to the maintenance of proper relations between employees and employers. The Associated Industries encourages such organization and representation and has named a committee to study the forms of organization suitable to the various industries and to make recommendations to the employers and the associated industries.

Profit sharing has been introduced with varying success, it is pointed out, in several industries, and it is a principle that appeals to many employers. In line with the Associated Industries' desire to give to employees as great a share as possible in the product of industry, the organization has appointed a committee to study the subject of profit sharing.

The purpose behind the movement throughout the United States to prevent further radical increases of wages is to stop the increase in the cost of living. It would be unfair to wage earners if that movement were not coupled with a movement to prevent the taking of undue profits by employers. The Associated Industries therefore has undertaken to cover this ground within its own organization, and has named a committee to promulgate it. Co-operation in this plan already has been assured by employers in several industries and it will be the endeavor of the Associated Industries to make it universal throughout Seattle and the Pacific northwest.

The plan of the Associated Industries is in line with the recent statement of Industrial principles announced by the Seattle chamber of commerce and other organizations of this city. Many of the leading industries are now working on the "open shop" basis and others are joining the movement rapidly. Mount Vernon, N. Y., Jan. 3.—William A. Davidson of Port Chester, county attorney of Westchester county, is the first official in New York state to relinquish voluntarily $10,000 of his salary to aid subordinates. Mr. Davidson was appointed for six years at a salary of $10,000 a year, but when he learned that the Republican organization for the county, headed by William L. Ward, the leader, insisted on economy in the big offices of the county he offered to have his salary reduced from $10,000 to $7,500 a year. Mr. Davidson was appointed for six years at $10,000, and has just served two years. There was no reason for breaking his contract but his own volition to have his salary reduced so that some poor janitors and street sweepers of the county might gain an increase in pay.

By Mme. Frances
The Famous Creator of Fashions

THE debutante of this season finds herself in a whirl of mid-winter gayeties. A frock that frankly says, "I came to dance," is her idea of joyous loveliness. Whether at a dansant or evening theatre party, the opera or a college play, she wears the loveliest gowns. Airy draperies and the softest fabrics envelop her twinkling feet.

The debutante claims many materials that also belong to the older women, but they are differently devised for the young girl. White is, of course, the color for the debutante. It is the purity, the "innocence" of white that makes its association with youth traditional, and yet the vivid colors are exquisite on vibrant youth.

For daylight wear there are jaunty suits of tricotine, gabardine, duvetyne and velour—at least these fabrics have names as lovely as their textures. These materials are not new, but they are better than new. Their style is sustained because they have been tried and not found wanting in any of the qualities that make for utility and enduring charm. It is the enduring charm that tells the story.

Velvet is an ideal winter material for the young girl. The dark shades of blue and brown are lifted with gumpes or sleeves of lace, net or mousseline de soie, that exquisitely sheer fabric, so expressive of the freshness of youth.

Charmeuse and crepe metair also make attractive afternoon gowns. Pearl gray is lovely in charmeuse and so is seal brown. There is a gown of mustard yellow duvetyne designed for a vivid young brunette. The hat for this costume also carries a suggestion of this shade in taffeta ribbon brilliantly embroidered. "Tres chic" you will admit, from the toe of her short vamped French slippers to the tip of her tawny hat, and yet there is a sophistication about this color that is not so pleasing as those I have designed especially for this page.

Tulle is the fabric of youth. Diaphanous as a fairy's dress, it seems to float and billow and "fluff" into the ideal evening gown for a young girl. A debutante who is of the tall, slender, statuesque type should be clad in classic lines. Velvet is her metier—velvet in all the lovely shades. Ivory with a touch of green silver cloth and a band of skunk, pink draped in lines of loveliness that demand little or no trimming, or jade green, that exquisite shade that seems to embody all the beauty of the fresh green of spring, the pale green that comes fearfully over the earth, lest frost still lingers.

The bright, youthful face is beautifully framed in furs. Brown furs are especially good for daylight wear. Beane marten, beaver, Kolinsky and sable are lovely on blondes or brunettes. The blue-eyed girl looks well in squirrel because its gray tones contrast so beautifully with blue. This fur is never better than when mounted on dark blue suits or gowns.

Seal coats are given a youthful "swing" by the addition of the colored fur collars. For evening wear ermine is the fur de luxe. Wonderfully lovely evening coats are supplied with deep ermine collars and cuffs. Velvet is an ideal fabric for the youthful evening wrap. Brocades are more suited to the older woman.

The evening coat illustrated is charming for a debutante. The gracefully becoming collar that this fur takes so beautifully. To this cape of ermine is attached a gathered skirt of pink chiffon velvet that follows the ermine drapery to the neck. The lining, always such an important feature of a wrap, is turquoise blue chiffon, garlanded with an applique of pink velvet flowers. Could anything be more fitting to envelop the loveliness of youth?

The airy tulle frock, that might be a coming-out dress, is a mortalization of Terpsichore herself. First there is a camisole lining and a tightly draped drop skirt of white charmeuse. Over this falls a full gathered skirt of white tulle, edged with narrow folds of pale, oh, so pale, blue charmeuse. Then there is the exceedingly full bouffant overskirt, embroidered in paillettes that glimmer and glisten with every floating movement of the tulle.

The distension of the skirt is accented by a wreath of white roses on which paillettes glisten like drops of morning dew. The bodice is V-shaped, one side being tulle, spangled with paillette embroidery and the other side is plain white tulle, softly drawn over the body.

The girle of this gown is particularly attractive. Pale blue charmeuse is drawn around the figure. Over this is tied a sash of white tulle bound with pale blue satin. There are really two bows of tulle that cross and tie in huge bows at either side, to give the bouffant line in an unusual way. A garland of the roses outlines one side of the bodice.

The evening gown of jade green velvet is designed for the tall statuesque debutante. The décollete is filled in with flesh tulle and the kimono bodice is draped in lines somewhat surplice. A narrow fold of lemon yellow outlines the green bodice and finishes the short sleeves.

The skirt of this gown is draped to give a panther on one side and a flat line on the other. The fold of lemon yellow is repeated on the skirt drapery that extends into a slender graceful train. The flowers on the corsage are made of silver cloth. Velvet needs little embellishment and the perfect lines of this fabric are charmingly expressed in this model.

For afternoon wear I have designed the frock of black velvet. "Time cannot wither nor custom stale its infinite variety." It is becoming to every age. This frock of black velvet is relieved with an interesting trimming of Chinese brocade that shows a glint of vivid colors running from coppery yellow to turquoise blue, with gold and silver wrought in the warp and woof.

The bodice is kimono in its inspiration, but the sleeves are scarcely sleeves at all and so need a gumpes sleeve of mousseline de soie and cream lace to give the lingerie touch so charming on youthful dresses. The large armhole of the velvet is outlined with skunk and the surplice fastening of the blouse is bound with Chinese brocade. This brocade is repeated on the girle. The skirt is a charming variation of the flounce model. The flounces are attached to a drop skirt edged with skunk. The three flounces are run in slightly biased lines across the front and back. The back of the bodice of this gown is plain and the skirt is the same back and front.

Cabinet Man Thinks Government Safe

None to Take Its Place, He Says, in Discussing Conditions in England

They're Still Talking About Carpenter's Victory—Should the Ten Seconds be Extended?—Some Flats in London at Last Available—A Chess Master At Work—News Letter From Empire Capital.

(From our own Correspondent.)
London, Dec. 31—I was talking this week to a prominent member of the cabinet who, while he was mainly concerned about the future of the Home Rule bill, discussed very frankly the general political outlook so far as the government is concerned. He did not show himself unduly perturbed as the talk of an impending break-up of the coalition over the anti-dumping bill, and even if the government had to go to the country he was quite confident that it would be re-elected by a substantial, though reduced majority.

He was on the look out for such a blow. To say that Beckett's champions have lost faith in their man would be quite untrue. I still hear the constant prediction that if it could take place all over again the result would be different. The fight had scarcely begun; Beckett had not warmed up. For a tenth part of a second he was off his guard, and then—a mountain of regrets.

The actual boxing ability of the two men was scarcely tested, though those who watched the opening phase insist that Carpenter was overwhelming superior at every point. Still one would have liked to see a longer test. Was Beckett hypnotized by Carpenter? It is not the first time this suggestion has been made as an explanation of the French fighter's marvelous lightning victories. There is undoubtedly something about Carpenter's personality that has an effect on his opponents. Before he took up boxing, Carpenter assisted at hypnotic entertainments. Can it be true, quite unconsciously, Carpenter possesses, because of this, some influence which, allied with his physical development, is a great factor in his wonderful successes?

The Count Out.

Many learned disquisitions are being indulged about the knock-out blow. The mysterious construction of man, by which a heavy tap on one particular point of the jaw can produce insensibility for a fraction of a minute, leaving him unathwarted and unharmed is perfectly familiar to doctors. The dazed condition lasts only a few seconds longer than the time given to a boxer to recover himself. Should the period of grace be extended? Fifteen seconds would probably be enough in some cases to enable a man to recover, but twenty would provide an ample margin. In the interests of scientific boxing, and as a discouragement to this summary method of settling rival claims there is something to be said for the suggestion. We expect a great deal from our heroes, and make no allowance for the glare of the fish lights, the hungry gaze of a vast multitude, and the nervousness induced by the importance of the consequences involved. True the conditions are the same for both combatants, but temperaments differ. Public opinion turns eagerly now towards Carpenter's next match for the world's championship with Dempsey.

Second-Hand Art.

Not long ago a famous duke took a celebrated actress down to the Chelsea studio of a great painter to have her portrait done. The Bohemian artist happened to be out, sampling the beer at a neighboring famous artist tavern. The duke patron was annoyed at being kept waiting about forty minutes. "Who do you know whom you have kept waiting here?" His Grace asked haughtily. "This is Miss de la Roche," the artist replied, "the absolutely nonchalant Bohemian painter, whose name is among the first flight of portrait painters. The Duke nearly exploded. 'I want her portrait painted,' he sharply cut in. The painter looked thoughtfully at the lady, and said: 'I'm sorry, it's impossible. I never paint what has been already painted.'"

Flats To Let

It seems almost incredible that flats are again to let in London. Only a few months ago one might search from end to end of London in vain for anything of the kind, unless there were perhaps occasionally a few very expensive flats available in the Hyde Park neighborhood. But now the agents say that quite a number of average flats are coming into the "to let" market, and although the applicants still outnumber the available flats by probably 100 to one, it is a sign and a symbol. The explanation of this phenomenon is variously given. Obviously, a certain number of residents are now leaving town, I fancy the real explanation is that war jobs are being shut down at least. The last men to be demobilized, whether in our own or in the overseas forces, are naturally the clerical staffs, but these are now bidding adieu to London. And also the hotels are being thrown back into service again. Gradually we shall work back to more normal conditions, and London will perhaps forget in another twelve months that it was ever overcrowded.

Blooming Harumfoddlers!

An experiment gravely tried by one suburban household, in despair of solving the domestic servant problem, is likely to become popular in London. As a matter of fact, it is being tried by quite a number of households and, I believe, always with enthusiastic success. An agency of discharged service men has been formed, which advertises modestly its willingness to undertake any sort of domestic work at fixed rates, usually eighteen pence an hour. In response to a telephone call there arrives a smart, engaging ex-Tommy or Jack Tar, equipped with pail, scrubbing materials, soap, polish and rags. He undertakes all sort of housework, and does it conscientiously, including even that arduous job known as cleaning the fires.

Heart Fluttering Easily Corrected

GOOD ADVICE TO FOLKS BOTH SUFFERED WITH PALPITATION, WEAKNESS, ETC.

If your heart flutters, be careful. An attack is liable to come on at any time. Excitement, over-exertion or emotion may cause it. If blood rushes to the head, if palpitation and short breath are noticeable, there's cause for alarm. If you want a good honest remedy try Ferronose. We recommend Ferronose because we know it's just right for heart trouble. It cured A. F. Beattie, who lives at Allen Hotel, Bay City, Mich. See if your symptoms resemble these:

Some Symptoms of Weak Heart:
Nervousness, Palpitation, Trembling, Disinnes, Sinking Feeling, Heart Pain, Short Breath, Weakness.
Mr. Beattie says: "I was weak and miserable. 'I was subject to heart palpitation and distressing nervousness. 'As I grew worse I began to have trembling and sinking sensations. 'Ferronose strengthened my heart, gave me a cheerful spirit, that they propose to make it a permanency."

breakfast, bring up the indispensable and dyspeptic cup of tea, and generally make distressed householders feel at home. Friends, when necessity has driven to the experiment are so pleased with the success of it, both as to efficient service and cheerful spirit, that they propose to make it a permanency.

Mr. Capablanca.

As a rule the great masters of chess are shaggy persons, with pronounced scholarly stoop and monastic pallor, and neglectful alike of smart tailoring and smart barbering. The Cuban champion is not of this genre at all. Mr. Capablanca, who is attached to the Cuban embassy, is smartness itself. He does not play his multiple games, wear old style masters, and he dresses with scrupulous regard for convention. His complexion is naturally somewhat sallid, but his good figure and alert features suggest a Spaniard rather than the former Isles of Spain. Nor does he, when playing his multiple games, wear the pale cast of deep thought. He strolls briskly round from board to board, probering lightly for a moment perhaps—or perhaps not—and makes his move with a quick decisive gesture. He shows absolutely no sign of stress or strain, and seems just a little bored.

In the Fog.

Here is a true golf story, not very exciting perhaps, but how full of encouragement to ordinary mortal golfers. During the foggy mornings with which we have recently been blessed in London, two good professionals have been playing each other over a nine holes, morning it was so thick that they could hardly do more than see the ball on the tee. Both drove bravely off. One of the players declared he had sliced his ball horribly. The other said he had most vilely pulled his. So each set out in opposite directions, and each was left to search for the missing balls, the flight of which had been quite indistinguishable. And each professional golfer found his opponent's ball.

Ranker Officers.

At present the army has more commissioned officers than it requires. But I understand that Mr. Churchill looks with favor on a scheme for ensuring a more certain and regular addition to the officer ranks of capable and good soldiers from the ranks. The proposal is that 60 per cent of the appointments annually arising should be made from

Mothers! Never Neglect Whooping Cough

Many mothers make the mistake of thinking that whooping cough is not of serious importance, but unfortunately this mistake often leads to the neglect of this dangerous child's disease. Never neglect whooping cough, for it may be followed by some serious lung trouble. Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is highly recommended by mothers everywhere for the relief of this trouble. It will clear the clogged-up air passage of the mucous and phlegm that has collected, and in this way bring on the "whoopy" which brings the so-much-sought-for relief. Mrs. Francis Burlington, New Gate, B. C. writes:—"This spring three of my children took the whooping cough, and they had it so bad I thought they would choke. I was getting pretty worried when my sister wrote me, telling me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I sent for some right away, and I believe me, I will never forget how it worked. It will always have it in the house." There are many imitations of Dr. Wood's on the market. Get the genuine when you ask for it. It will pay in the end. Put up in a yellow wrapper; 3 pine trees the trade mark; price 25c. and 50c. Manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

OUT O' LUCK Never mind! Just take Cascarets if Bilious, Constipated

Everyone must occasionally give to the bowels some regular help or else suffer from constipation, bilious attacks, stomach disorders and sick headache. But do not whip the bowels into activity with harsh cathartics. What the liver and bowels need is a gentle and natural tonic, one that can constantly be used without harm. The gentlest liver and bowel tonic is "Cascarets." They put the liver to work and cleanse the colon and bowels of all waste, toxins and poisons without griping—they never sicken or inconvenience you like Calomel, Salts, Oil, or Purgatives. Twenty-five million boxes of Cascarets are sold each year. They work while you sleep. Cascarets cost so little too.

Kidney Back Pains Permanently Cured

Catarrh, spells, headache and reeling sensation will be quickly remedied. Distressing bladder complications, frequent calls, brick dust and sediment in the urine, will disappear under Dr. Hamilton's Pills. If your rundown and languid condition can't be cured by Dr. Hamilton's Pills, then you are hopeless. In thousands of cases Dr. Hamilton's Pills have restored health and more vigor than you have ever known. Where can you find a remedy in efficiency to approach Dr. Hamilton's Pills. To be candid, you can't. All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills in yellow boxes, 25c.

The Finsbury Park Mystery.

The famous poem of Bret Hartle is recalled by the solution, now obtained, of the rather promising Finsbury Park mystery. When some charred bones were found in a parcel left in the cloak-room at Finsbury Park station the London evening papers scented "copy." Scarcely a day had passed when the headlines and flaming bills put Londoners wise to the fact that another great London crime mystery was just about to begin. The discovery in the parcel with the gruesome relics of some hairpins was a thrilling feature, of which the Londoners were justly proud. It was a woman, presumably young and delightfully frivolous, who had been foully done to death. Her hairpins were found in a parcel left in the cloak-room. The hairpins were hers. Her husband is said to have been a stock broker. The mystery ends. But the episode of the widow's husband who was "left luggage" remains imperishable.

ENQUIRY INTO CAUSE OF THE ONAWA WRECK

Testimony Given Showed That Orders From Chief Train Despatcher Were Correct.

Brownville, Junction, Maine, Jan. 2.—Testimony to the effect that members of the crew of the freight train wreck were responsible for the collision between a freight and immigration train on the Canadian Pacific Railway near Onawa, was given at a hearing conducted by the Maine utilities commission here today. Twenty-three persons were killed and fifty injured in the wreck. The witnesses examined were R. V. Shaw, night train despatcher at Brownville Junction; Arthur M. Kingdon, night operator at Morkill, where the freight engine received orders to pass the four sections of the immigrant special at Bodfish Sliding, two miles west of Onawa; Lester M. Valley, who rode on the freight from Greenville Junction to Morkill to relieve Kingdon, and Owen L. Chase, a locomotive engineer, who was riding in the freight caboose and who took to Conductor Isaac Manuel of the freight, the orders regarding the immigrant train.

WOMEN WORKERS.

In almost every line of war activities the women of this country have done well and have taken front rank for doing work that released thousands of men for service overseas. Some women have been over-ambitious and, at the expense of their health, have filled places once occupied by men. Every woman who because of overwork has brought on some ailment peculiar to her sex, should depend upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore her health and strength, as this remedy is now recognized as the standard and has restored multitudes.

A SCOTTISH GATHERING.

Liver Trouble And Heartburn

All liver diseases of whatever character are diseases of the highest importance and demand close attention.

The liver is the largest and one of the most important organs of the body. Its duty is to prepare and secrete bile, and serve as one of the filters of the body, cleansing it of all impurities and poisons. Therefore when the liver gets out of order it is the starting of trouble in nearly every part of the body. Keep the liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn, constipation, biliousness, sick or bilious headaches, dull, yellow eyes, brown blotches, sallow complexion, coated tongue, jaundice, catarrh of the stomach, or the painful protruding internal or bleeding piles. Mrs. John Kadey, Chipman, N. B. writes:—"I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for some time and can recommend them to any one suffering from heartburn and liver trouble. I have tried other remedies, but they only relieved me for a short time. I always recommend Laxa-Liver Pills to all my friends as I think they are a valuable remedy."

First, Doctors—Then a Skin Specialist

Then a bottle of D.D.D.

We shall publish every week for the benefit of skin sufferers in this section, a few words written by Canadian people—some of them of prominent position—all heartiest stories of relief from terrible suffering. A sentence or two from a letter from J. W. Corns, 25 Melbourne Ave., Toronto, a man of fine standing. "I have been a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I went to three or four different doctors. I went to a skin specialist. All of no use. I used one dollar bottle of D.D.D.—that is all. Today I am perfectly well." If you wish to try a bottle of this prescription that Mr. Corns found so remarkable, we will guarantee relief from the first bottle, or your money back. Stop that itch today. $1.50 a bottle. Try D. The School And The Home paper by Mrs. R. A. Jamieson Read at Session of Teachers' Institute Here.

The Times here publishes the text of paper read by Mrs. R. A. Jamieson, on the relationship of the parent and the teacher, at the recent teachers' institute here. It was very favorably commented on at the time. Mrs. Jamieson said: The subject to be considered in this paper is of such magnitude and importance as to make the writer feel unworthy to deal with it. It is an axiom that church, school, and home are at the three most benignant and the three most powerful institutions that exist upon the earth, the sphere of their influence being without limit of either time or space, and we are asked to deal with the relationship which exists or should exist, between two of them.

Well, after all, it may be that this is the best approach to the simplest, most common-sense way, if only that way is not lacking in reverence.

Home, which textographers tell us means "an enclosed place of rest and security," but which the child simply thinks of as the place where he "belongs" is, we think, the most potent force outside his own individuality in determining the sort of man into which a child shall grow up, but we admit the school to be a close second to it.

As school and home are the places in which, during alternating portions of the days, weeks, and years, the future men and women of the race are trained, educated and developed, the relationship of the two institutions must, of necessity, be both intimate and influential. Would that it were also invariably sympathetic, understanding, and mutually helpful.

One sometimes feels that it might help matters a good deal if only parents and teachers alike would recognize that the real object of education is to build up character; that the foundation must be laid in the home during the very early years before school life begins, and that, if the structure is to be strong and beautiful, the builders must work together in harmony, each seeking to strengthen and to perfect the result of the other's labors.

Obedience. Perhaps the first lesson a child has to be taught is that of obedience to recognized authority. For the child's own safety and well-being he must learn to obey before he is able to reason why. If parents taught this lesson faithfully from the first, what quantities of thorns and briars would be removed from the teacher's path! Then, all through childhood and youth, the teachers of our boys and girls should be every possible opportunity to foster in their pupils an instructive deference to home authority and to home ideals. (It is sadly true that some children come from homes which seem to be devoid of ideals, but these are the unfortunate exceptions, not the rule.)

When parental authority, or, perhaps parental lack of authority, interferes with regular attendance at school, proper preparation of lessons, far better appeal to the mother on the ground

COAL CHIEF OF ALBERTA.

W. H. Armstrong, director of coal operations for Alberta, post somewhat similar to that of "Fuel Controller."

of her child's best interests, than to your efforts as they should, and continue, through their children, to "yex your soul daily," let nothing tempt you, young teacher, to make contemptuous remarks or impatient criticisms upon them in the presence of their children, not only because such a course is decidedly wrong, but also whatever tends to weaken a child's respect for parental authority, will likewise prove subversive to discipline in the school room.

I believe that most teachers will support me in the statement that they have far less trouble with pupils whose parents insist upon their authority being recognized, even though their opinions are not up to the latest lights, than those whose parents, by reason of moral laxness, lack of conscience, or an appallingly wrong conception of what is the best training for human beings to the formative period, exert no authority and maintain no discipline in their homes. This indolent, irresponsible and irrational mode of procedure, many such parents seek to justify by telling us in swelling periods which they deliver with a rapt expression of countenance, that corporal punishment is a relic of the dark ages, that children should be ruled only by the gentlest and most loving moral suasion, that the development of their individual personalities should be perfected by means of self-mediation, and so on, until the listener, if he be at all conversant with the results of this system, sympathizes most heartily with the character who said of the incorrigible young son of one of her employers, "His mother says she's bringing him up by love alone, and you take it from me, love alone, has a hash of it."

Now, at the risk of being classed as a stupid, old-fashioned, and fifty better than Solomon, whom these advanced thinkers regard as a reprehensibly brutal old man, whose views on child training are simply beneath contempt, I submit as my humble opinion that certain faults in certain kinds of children can be dealt with more effectively, may even more kindly, by means of a little judicious corporal punishment administered not in anger, but like nauseous medicine, with kindly intent to cure, than in any other way yet known to mortals.

Furthermore, the greatest and most unselfish kind of life is not that which supplies permits its object to destroy itself, but that which bravely faces the pain of giving pain to the loved one if he can thereby be greatly benefited, as a mother allows her child to go through life a cripple rather than compel him to undergo a surgical operation to which he strenuously objects, or would not call it love but idiocy. Will the person who decries Solomon because he lived before the Christian era please note that in the New Testament, which tells us that "God is Love," we are also told that "Whom the Lord loveth He chasteneth and scourgeth every son whom He receiveth." All of us (and I am sure we could include both Solomon and St. Paul, if they were present) are heartily agreed that if reformation can be brought about by an appeal to a child's nobler qualities, such as the ideal method; but, failing that, let him learn that retribution follows swift and sure upon the heels of evil doing. This will be of immediate benefit to the unfortunate victims of "the untrammelled expression of his individuality" and he himself will at least be benefited gradually by the establishment of better habits, and will be far more likely to become a useful citizen instead of an anarchist. And, in nine cases out of ten, as the child grows older and his reasoning powers are developed by the study of mathematics, and his imagination is stirred by the glorious examples he meets in history and literature, he will desire to be a noble character and a useful member of society, and having learned, albeit perforce, to submit to discipline, he will be able to discipline himself in order to improve himself.

But discipline is far from being the only point in which Home and School, parent and teacher should cooperate. The best results are to be obtained, they must work together faithfully and perseveringly to produce in their young charges the habit of intelligent observation, the power to think clearly and logically, the taste for "whatever things are pure, lovely and of good report," the faculty of remembering the really worth while things, and "self-reverence, self-knowledge, self-control."

Now how are mothers and teachers to occupy such relations to each other as will make their work of character building fit solidly together, in a strong and beautiful edifice, instead of being only a shaky structure the parts of which fall to correspond?

Working Together. The solution would seem to be that the teacher should strive after a truly parental attitude to her pupils, while the mother should never forget her responsibility as such—and the most important one—of the teachers of her own children. If the mother does her share of teaching, and if the teacher does her share of mothering, each will come to a sympathetic understanding of the other's work.

I am aware that this is "a fairly large order" for both mothers and teachers, and that it cannot be accomplished unless each is prepared to bring to the task all her energies of body, mind and soul, but the end is abundantly worth all it costs.

In the earlier grades, and nearly all the way through preparatory school, the chief advantages lie with the mother. She has been her child's first teacher, she holds the first place in his affections, and, when he first goes to school at least, he regards her as the fount of all wisdom. And if she is a wise mother and teaches him to regard her as a sort of general practitioner, whose advice must not be disregarded, but who, just because she is wise, is ready to defer in certain matters to the judgment of the teacher, who is a specialist in her own line she will still remain his highest court of appeal. Should she really feel convinced, after trying faithfully to look on both sides of the matter, that the teacher is making a mistake in regard to her child, she should not tell the child so, but should seek an interview with the teacher—and let me beg her not to seek this interview during school hours. Try to remember, mother, that during those five hours per day the teacher is charged not only with the care of your child, but also with the care of thirty or forty other lively boys and girls, and it is scarcely possible for her to give you her undivided and sympathetic attention, while she is in turn wondering when she will be able to get to the spelling lesson which your entrance has interrupted, and praying that you may take your departure before Willie Jones and Tom Brown get entangled out of hand. Go to her privately and talk the matter over with her kindly and courteously, telling her why you think she is wrong, and if you do not find the teacher ready to meet you fairly and either grant your request or furnish you with excellent reasons, why she should not do so, yours will be an exceptionally unfortunate experience, and I fear we will have to admit that that particular teacher has mistaken her vocation.

All through these earlier years stand by the teacher, lend the weight of your own authority to the support of hers, and you will receive the benefit of the reflex action in the increased respect of your own child, think thus and so, and if you do not find the teacher ready to meet you fairly and either grant your request or furnish you with excellent reasons, why she should not do so, yours will be an exceptionally unfortunate experience, and I fear we will have to admit that that particular teacher has mistaken her vocation.

When children reach the high school age conditions are somewhat reversed, as by that time our children are beginning to discover that our judgment is not infallible, nor our knowledge unlimited, while the capable high school teacher is so obviously a person of eminently superior attainments as to appeal strongly to the admiration of the "teen age" boy or girl, and it now becomes the teacher's turn to emphasize, whenever she can naturally and effectively do so, the duty and the beauty of filial reverence and devotion, and the fact that desirable as knowledge is, wisdom is still better.

But mothers should try hard to justify the teacher's "teaches to them." They should endeavor to know all their children's sources of thought, the books they read, the friends they make, the studies they pursue, and the manner in which those studies are presented to them, and should try hard to get abreast of their intellectual interests.

I do not go the length of saying that a busy mother should, or can, attempt to do the same Latin and mathematics as her son or daughter who is attending high school, but she can read the same history and literature, and can put into the child's hands supplementary reading which will help him to remember the history and to understand the literature. She can encourage the child to talk over with her the various things he has learned in class, and can take an intelligent interest in them, and try to remember them and to be able at a future time to refer to them with some aptitude. All this will take some time and trouble, but time and energy could not be more wisely spent, nor more richly rewarded. To regain through life the complete respect and confidence of one's children, and thereby to be able to save them from many a pitfall, is worth all effort and all sacrifice, and the mother who achieves this high task will find that the high school period has not put a gulf between herself and her child, but has drawn them closer together.

I began with firmness, let me end with love. No one who does not love children should ever presume to enter the teaching profession, for what we do not love, we can never fully understand; and, beside, what satisfactory relationship could possibly exist between a mother who loves her child far more than she loves her own life, and a teacher who has no loving interest whatever in him?

Further, the teacher who does not love children is doomed to a most unhappy existence, for only love can supply the patient kindness which is so essential in the correcting of a child's faults and the development (often by slow and painful degrees) of his finer qualities, and without patience, a teacher's life would be well nigh intolerable.

And mothers and teachers alike have much need to constantly seek the aid of Him who is the source of all love and of all wisdom, and to "continue therein with patience unto the end." "O'er wayward childhood wouldst thou keep firm rule, And sun thee in the light of happy faces, And both supporting, does the work of both." Yet haply there will come a weary day, When, overtaken at length, Both Love and Hope beneath the load give way.

3rd Prize, $35.00 in Cash. 4th Prize, $25.00 in Cash
5th to 9th Prizes—Each $10.00 in Cash.

TOGETHER WITH MANY MERCHANDISE PRIZES

Herewith will be found the picture of a Leg Hat in the Woods. At first glance all you see is a man, a woman and a dog. If you look closely the faces of 8 other persons will be found. Can you find them? It is so easy to do by patience and endurance can be accomplished.

You may win a cash prize by doing so. Many have done this as will be shown by the names and addresses which we will send you. If you find the faces mark each one with an X, cut out the picture and send it to us, together with a slip of paper on which you have written the words which you have found in the faces and marked them. Write these blue words plainly and neatly, as in case of lines, both writing and neatness are considered factors in this contest.

This contest runs on a little of your time but as TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS in cash and many merchandise prizes are given away, it is well worth the little trouble over this matter. Remember all you have to do is to find the faces, cut out the picture and write on a separate piece of paper the words. I have found all the faces and marked them.

WE DO NOT ASK YOU TO SPEND ONE CENT OF YOUR MONEY IN ORDER TO ENTER THIS CONTEST

Send your answer at once; we will reply by Return Mail telling you whether your answer is correct or not, and we will send you a complete Prize List, together with the names and addresses of persons who have recently received over Five Thousand Dollars in Cash Prizes from us, and full particulars of a simple condition that must be fulfilled. (This condition does not involve the spending of any of your money.) Although these persons are exactly unknown to us they are our references. An enquiry from any one of them will bring you the information that our contests are carried out with the utmost fairness and integrity.

Winners of cash prizes in our late competitions will not be allowed to enter this contest.

This Contest will be judged by two well known business men of undoubted integrity, who have in connection with this Contest, whose decisions must be accepted as final.

Your opportunity to win a good round sum is equal as good as that of anyone else as all previous winners of cash prizes are debarré from entering this contest.

All courses are FREE, but a registration fee of $2 will be collected for each course, to be returned if the student attends the classes satisfactorily.

On the Amiable Vanity of Chocolates

A GREAT deal has been written on the food value of Chocolates, or candies (as some people call them). Well, as an emergency ration, a box of Neilson's or any other good Chocolates has a sound food value.

But it is our belief that people buy Neilson's Chocolates because they are luscious to the taste and delightfully satisfy one's craving for something sweet. Every maiden should know that when her "man" or her "boy friend" (as she may call him) comes bearing a gift of Neilson's he is bringing to her the most delicious Chocolates that money can buy.

Why DID Smith leave home?
Was it because he didn't get enough to eat?
Because he didn't get along well with his mother-in-law?
Because he was henpecked?
Because he couldn't have breakfast in bed?
Because they didn't want him to come home late at night?
Because he smoked cigars and threw his ashes on the parlor carpets?
Because he sought adventure?
Or was it because he was in love?

BASEBALL. Red Sox Sign Coach.
Boston Globe: Paddy Livingstone, who was a catcher for the Athletics in 1909, '10 and '11, was yesterday signed as a battery coach for the Red Sox.
Livingstone has been very successful in coaching pitchers in recent years and Manager Barrow considers himself lucky in having been able to secure him. He is an old-timer, and with Robt. Marquand made a pennant winning battery when the two were on the Indianapolis team several years ago. Livingstone has been ordered to start for Hot Springs Feb. 27 and will have quite a bunch of pitchers to work when he gets there. These include: Joe Bush, Pennock, Russell, Hoyt, Harper, Dumont, Musser, Winn, Kerr, Fortune, Leasur, Holborow, Flaherty, and a couple more. The other players will follow soon thereafter.

HOCKEY. Toronto Defeats Princeton.
Cambridge, Mass., Jan. 3.—The University of Toronto hockey team defeated Princeton Varsity here last night, 11 to 0. The Toronto team outclassed the Princeton men, showing greater speed and superior team work.

It is Broken.
Winnipeg, Jan. 3.—The three-cornered tie for the lead in the Winnipeg Senior Hockey League race was broken here last night when the Monarchs nosed out a 4 to 3 victory over the Victorias, jumping into top place and relegating their victims to the cellar.

Yale Wins.
Toronto, Ont., Jan. 2.—Yale chalked up the second win of its Canadian hockey tour by defeating a team representing St. Michael's college at the Arena here tonight, 8 to 2. Plenty of speed and earnestness was shown, but very little hockey.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR FAST SKATING

There Should Be Keen Competition to Decide City Championships.

That there will be some good ice racing this year is evident from the interest being manifested by the speed skaters about the city. Charles Gorman, former champion of the city, who has returned from overseas, is out again and is skating well. Eddie Gibbons, a speedy little North Ender, is also showing up well and should make the best of them this winter, while "Bud" Tracey and Murray Bell are working out at every opportunity getting in condition for the longer events. Coleman, who was one of the fastest short distance skaters in these parts a few years ago, is in training and expects to stage a "come back" this season. The Barton brothers are expected to make a good showing this winter as well as McLellan, Bridges and others.

A meet to decide the city championship would undoubtedly be greatly enjoyed by the hundreds of skating enthusiasts throughout the city.

ST. JOHN FANS TAKE NOTICE

The great wrestling match between Archie Jeannett, champion of the U. S. Army and Navy and former international champion, and Bridson Greene, welterweight champion of New England, will take place in the Opera House Monday evening after the first vaudeville performance. Jeannett will go through wonderful strong man feats prior to the main bout, after which there will be two or three preliminaries. This should be a great night for local sports. Tickets 50c. for gallery, 75c. for back seats in balcony, $1 for four front rows in balcony and the entire lower floor, $1.50 for ring side seats.

BAN'S OPPONENTS FIND NEW WEAPON AND MAY USE IT

New York, Dec. 31.—While aimlessly browsing through the American League constitution yesterday afternoon, Business Manager Harry Sparrow, of the Killies, stumbled upon a new weapon with which to plague Ban Johnson and his supporters, in case of need. By its use the New York, Chicago and Boston insurgents could prevent the adoption of a playing schedule for the season of 1920 and compel the league to suspend operations for the year.

The constitution provides that the playing schedule shall be drawn by the president, but stipulates that it shall not become effective until or unless it is ratified by three-fourths of the club members of the league. Three adverse votes would kill any schedule that Johnson might submit at the February meeting of the league—and the triple entente is still voting as a unit.

With the help of the Faithful Five, Johnson can do many things to vex or annoy his enemies, but he cannot possibly secure ratification of a playing schedule without the consent of the insurgent forces. In this particular direction they have him stopped so completely that for all his vaunted majority he cannot move a step. This is one contingency in which he is absolutely at their mercy.

REFORM ORGANIZATIONS TO CELEBRATE PROHIBITION

Washington, Jan. 3.—Conventions of national reform organizations usually held in Washington in December will meet January 11 to 16 to inaugurate the first "saloonless year" on the effective date of the constitutional prohibition amendment. It was announced Wednesday that many senators and representatives were on the programmes. Among the organizations which will meet here in annual convention or executive conference will be the W. O. T. U., International Reform Bureau, National Temperance Council, World Prohibition Federation, Methodist Board of Temperance, Prohibition and Public Morals, National Prohibition Foundation.

A "victory" banquet will be held on January 16.

"The next moral victory in Congress" will be the subject of discussion at the meeting of the reform bureau.

SAYS HUNS STOLE 26,000 DOGS

Paris, Jan. 3.—M. Noulens, Minister of Agriculture, has just filed with the Reparations Commission a claim for restitution of 26,000 dogs stolen by the Germans in the invaded districts. In each town the Germans entered all the dogs were gathered in a square and divided into classes for military uses, for hunting, shooting, etc.

Those which were not stolen for such purposes were killed.

It was officially recorded that Von Kluck took a pointer of the finest pedigree and the winner of many prizes; that the Crown Prince seized setters and pointers at Ranscourt, and that Rupprecht, of Bavaria, had his kennel specialists select the best dogs at Lille. Many thousands of these stolen dogs were registered, and the French demand the return of the same dogs. However, as an alternative, it is proposed that France accept setters, pointers and stiffs-haired Griffons for those dogs which cannot be returned. The French also demand dogs in return for deer and foxes destroyed by the Germans.

DRAMATIC TALE OF HOW TURKS ESCAPED BRITISH

German Airship Was Used in Flight of Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey.

Stockholm, Jan. 3.—Colonel Dalbeck, a Swedish officer at the head of the Lithuanian air force, who has just returned from Kovno, has related a thrilling story of the narrow escape of Enver Pasha and Talaat Bey, former Turkish ministers, now in exile, from being captured by British officers and Lithuanian troops a few weeks ago. One day, said Colonel Dalbeck, an unusually large airplane built entirely of aluminum appeared over Danaberg, but was obliged to descend in the neighbourhood owing to motor trouble.

Besides the pilot and the engineer the airplane contained two passengers. All of them were arrested, but later were allowed to move freely under a guard in the town. The next day after the en-

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Sir Robert Borden left Ottawa last night to join Admiral Jellicoe in New York. They will go to Florida and perhaps later to South Africa. Lady Jellicoe was on the same train. She has just recovered from a slight illness which prevented her going with her husband. Sir Robert plans a four months' trip for his health.

With warrants for the arrest of 4,000 alleged "Reds," United States government agents last night began a series of raids upon their establishments in different cities and by midnight it was reported some 1,500 had been arrested. Their newspaper offices, in particular, were visited and "copy" seized.
