OTTAWA. May 23.—In the house to day a message was read from his excellency announcing the house would prorogue at three o'clock today. Sir Wilfrid Laurier announced that MacKennie & Mann's claim against the government in connection with the Yukon contract was originally $50,000, but that $200,000 had been taken off and still further reductions were expected. Before coming to any conclusion in regard to the claim it would be referred to a judicial audit. On the question of the advisability of short speeches Wallace scored those who tried to block honest criticism. He soored Blair for refusing to lay papers on the table, and give information as with regard to the intentions of the government in regard to the joint high commission. He submitted that the Alaskan boundary should be settled at once, because delay endangered the standing of Canada.

Laurier stated that it was the expectation that the commission would reach a decision. He had nothing to any about the Alaskan boundary beyond the statement that he resignizes the importance of settling it at once. If no agreement is reached arbitrators will be seked to rettle the dispute.

Mr. Haggart attacked lair's policy as open to grave smalleng of correction. The conservative in the commission should reach a decision. The Record of Sir Wilfrid Laurier's Supporters During the Present Session of Parliament.

OTTAWA, May 21.-When parlie ment opened this year Sir Wilfrid Laurier referred to his followers as constituting a business like gov ment. They have yet to justify statement. If it meant anything, meant that public business would given that serious consideration who it deserves; that questions of in ance would be viewed from a point commensurate with the occasion and that as little of the time of th house as possible would be waste None of these things have been do themselves a business-like gov ment Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his lowers have shown that there is al-ways a tendency on their part to make light of questions which, if given that thought which they deserve, would have a tendency to improving the political conditions of this country. If me scandal is brought to the notice of the house certain persons in the liberal ranks will invariably endeavor to laugh it out of the court. It may be that no charge has been made against the government and that their attention has been drawn to the matattention has been grawn to the mat-ter with a view to investigation rather than condemnation, but it matters lit-tle so long as there is a possibility of any reflection being cast upon those who hold office.

Such a course of conduct has led men who have watched the parliament of Canada for years to declare that the house is rapidly becoming a scan-dalous affair. Last week, in the midst of the debate on railway subsidies (a question which all will admit is a very ent supporters commenced to sing orus. Over in another corner on an had his feet on the design gentleman had his feet on the desk and was whistling some refrain of his boyhood days; others were chatting an such a loud tone of voice that there could be little heard of the remarks of those who were conscientiously endeavoring to discharge the duties which they were sent to parliament to attend to. Hon. Mr. Tarte jumped no his feet and sharply criticized the conduct of those behind him. The minister of public works was very indignant that such scenes should be enacted, but those who were responsible for the disorder seemed rather sorry that it was at an end. On another occasion, R. L. Borden, the leader of the opposition, was addressing the house on some very important question when he was frequently interrupted by the disorder which prevailed behind the premier. Mr. Borden in the most dignified manner informed the speaker that unless order question when he was frequently interrupted by the disorder which prevailed behind the premier. Mr. Borden in the most disnified manner informed the speaker that unless order

When Mr. Hackett called the attention of the house to the stealing of ballot boxes in P. E. I. the accusation was viewed as something almost unworthy of consideration. The member for West Prince had the courage of his convictions, however, and despite the attempt to cry him down he placed himself on record as opposed to stealing self on record as opposed to stealing of ballot boxes and the employment of other disgraceful methods connected with elections in this country.

All these indidents go to show th business is not the primary object many of the gentlemen who have be sent to parliament. It certainly cannot be very elevating to electors whappen to take a seat in the galle nappen to take a seat in the galler; to see the men whom they are supposed to look up to acting like a lot of undisciplined school boys. Last night Dr. Macdonald, the deputy speaker, had his hands full in restraining the untrained natures of some of those who have found their way into the commons. When it is considered that the most important business was under discussion at the time it will be seen that there is lots of room for improvement in the personnel of the present government and its following.

There was a lively time in the house yesterday, when a claim of the Gilbert Dredging Company for $10,000 was submitted for consideration in the shape of a re-vote. Mr. Clancy led up to a most interesting debate by condemning in the strongest terms an arrangement by which the auditor general was to be overruied. The latter, supported by the opinion of Mr. Z. A. Lash, K. C., ex-deputy minister of justice, and one of the most eminent lawyers in Canada, declined to pay the account. Mr. Blair, who was defending the merits of the claim, was placed in a rather uncomfortable position when Mr. Belcourt, the member for Ottawa, came to his rescue. This young gentleman, it may be stated, was the solicitor for the Gilbert Dredging Company, and irred their claims before the railway department. He admitted this and the admission led to some revelations which will furnish tood for redection to those who consider that our government should be conducted on lines similar to those laid down in the old country.

Mr. Bennett, the member for East

Mr. Bennett, the member for East Sincoe, called attention to the acceptance by members of parliament of claims to be presented to different departments of the government. He submitted that it was all important submitted that it was all important that a member of parliament of refrain from using his position to poloit private interests. He accommon to parliament the parliament of th plicated half a dozen the government side of the ho the acceptance of $1,500 each in order that a railway scheme might be sent through committee. It was only by refunding the money that the gentlemen involved escaped exposure. Mr. Bennett claimed that it was high time that such conditions were forced out of the life of Canadian politics. If it is proper for Mr. Belcourt to go before the railway department and ask that the claims of the Gilbert Dredging Company be paid, then it is equally proper that every member of parliament walk into the house with a fee in his pocket and lend his support to the acceptance of $1,500 each in orde in his pocket and lend his support to some scheme, the promoter of which has been willing to pay up.

Mr. Belcourt simply laughed at such a claim, so did the majority of those who sit on the same side of the house with him. That a gentleman should be restrained from making all he can was most ambsing to Sir Wilfrid's followers. Mr. Belcourt endeavored to draw the discussion in other directions by asking the opposition if they contended that a lawyer could not take, up any case to be argued against the crown. The answer was very definite. Mr. Belcourt was told that the conservative side of the house had no objec-tion to offer, it members of parlia-ment had to argue cases in which the ter. Under existing circumstances means that in order to get a sche through parliament it is almost an absolute necessity that ment member of the house be interested in it, and yet Mr. Belourt defends this. He can see no impropriety in it and he tells the country that he is to keep on taking money from corporations paid him in order that he might use his influence parliament to secure neces egislation to serve the interests of his Only a few days ago Mr. Belcour was interested in promoting the interests of another concern. On that oc casion he appeared before parliament the champion of the Bell Telephone Company: He had also been paid in his case to secure for his employed the monopoly of the telephone business of the Dominion of Canada. Since the ell Telephone Company sought to inrease their capital, petitions hav en received from every city and undreds of towns in all parts of anada, protesting against such un-mited privileges being given to one ncern. After many stormy scenes in e senate chamber and before the nate committee, the upper house imsenate committee, the upper house imposed such conditions that the measure was withdrawn. Mr. El. F. Clarke of Toronto, in the meantime, introduced a bill to interpret a restricting clause in an act of 1892 respecting the rates to be charged by the company. There seems to have been an ambiguity about this section which enabled the company to increase their charges beyond the figure intended by the framer of the clause. Mr. Clarke's object was to bring about the conditions as it was originally intended they should it was originally intended they should have been. Mr. Belcourt, when the matter of telephone service. The latter admitted that he had accepted Gilbert Dredging Company. If this is not a direct violation of the spirit of the law which decrees than no memper of parliament shall accept any gift or bribe, there are many members of parliament who fail to see wherein the difference lies.

Over in the senate chamber, the same scenes have been enacted. Hon. R. W. Scott, the secretary of state, was openly accused in the senate of being the paid advocate in that chamber of the Beil Telephone Company. The greatest indignation was expressed on that occasion in regard to the position taken by a member of the government in opposing the interests of the people in order that a private corporation might pay big dividends. But even with Mr. Belcourt in the house and Mr. Scott in the senate, the company failed to win out and were forced to withdraw their bill: Over in the senate chamber, the

Among the members of the senate who fought the bill to a finish were Senator Miller of Richmond, Nova Scotta, and Senator Wood, Westmorland. Before the bill had reached an advanced stage it was evident that the Bell Telephone Company were asking for more capital than they would require in carrying on their business in the upper provinces. It then became apparent that there was to be an attempt made to buy up all lines in the maritime provinces and thus form a monopoly from one end of Canada to the other. Those who have had experience with this monster know that to be under the control of the Bell Company means that subscribers must Company means that subscribers must submit to many injustices. It is im-possible to get telephone connection unless the company feels disposed to-wards an applicant. The rates, too, wards an applicant. The rates, too, are excessive, and altogether it is a bad proposition. Appreciating the effect that would be produced by the introduction of such conditions into the maritime provinces, Senator Miller introduced an amendment which had the effect of killing the bill. Senator troduction of government business has been an unusually quiet one. The combinet ministers have had nothing extraordinary to submit to parliament, and it seems as if the statement of the finance minister that we are "on the crest of the wave" is about to be realized. Up to the Easter holidays there was absolutely no business brought down by the government. The alien labor law, the binder twine ordinances the question of encourag-Mr. Belcourt of coming to parliament the paid solicitor of a corporation and advocating openly and without shame the payment of an account which had been declared to be valueless by the auditor general and an eminent law-yer. Mr. Bennett stated that during the last session correspondence had been produced in the house which im-

Canada, transportation and other matters of equal moment were all brought forward by those in opposition. In the questions of alien labor law and binder twine the government forced to adopt in a very large measure the suggestions of those of the op-posite side of the house. Both have been the subject of agitation in the dominion parliament for years, and to have them disposed of means the re-moval of two subjects which from their controversial character had become almost a byword in parliamen

It cannot be said that there has no been ample opportunity for the government to seriously engage fixelf with leading questions of the day. Although the policy of the administration in regard to transportation was called for early in the session, nothing definite has yet been approximately as a property of the session of the session of the day. definite has yet been submitted, and in the meantime Portland is gathering in the trade which should pass through Canadian ports. Mr. Tarte, the min-ister of public works, is apparently the only man in the government who seemed equal to the task of giving serious thought to this great problem His speeches on the question were the only ones made from the ministeria benches which were worthy of atten tion. From the back seats in the liberal ranks some excellent suggestions were offered, but the government has not yet acted upon them, nor is it likely to accept them in the spirit which will lead to practical results. Apparently it is a matter of indiffer ence to Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his following whether this country is suc-cessful in its transportation problem or not. It is generally admitted that some thing must be done, and done at once, if the entire forwarding business of Montreal, Quebec and the maritime province ports is not to be transferre to American centres. Suggestion have been made in regard to the providing of terminal facilities at different points, but there is something needed in addition to grain elevators and wharves. That something is push, enterprise and untring effort to bring steamship companies. ship companies to our ports. Canada has been talking of im-While Canada has been talking of improving her waterways so as to make them serviceable in connection with thing in order that the business of their communities may be increased. That is what we want in Canada, and we can only reach this goal when the leaders of the government of Canada unite in their efforts to make some definite advance in the direction of a practical pol' 7 for the encourage ractical pol' for the encourage practical pol' for the encouragement of transportation companies. Another year has passed and we find the question where it has been ever since the government came into power. True, they have promised that next year great things will be accomplished, but Sir Wilfrid's "next years" are like the "tomorrows" of the everyday individual whose broken good resolutions invariably lead him to ruin.

The government have made a name for themselves in one direction, that of broken pledges. Their much vaunted treaty of reciprocity with the United States has been relegated to a place among the many dead issues which threaten to overwhelm the administration. When it was found that free Fielding? All that can be shown is an expenditure of nearly $70,000,000 per annum and an ever growing tendency to further increase this enormous budget. With every dollar added to the yearly expenditure of Canada, the possibility of a reduction in tariff is still further removed. This may ultimately prove a blessing, but it can be secured without purchasing it at a price which means the addition of millions of dollars to Canada's debt.

Only the other day the professions of the government in regard to railway subsidies were shown to be as hollow as has been those in almost every other direction. In 1890 the minister of trade and commerce and the prime minister himself strongly condemned a policy which they claimed was leading Canada to destruction. They gave their guarantee that when the liberal party came into power there would be no more further bonusing of railroads, that iniquitous practice was looked upon as one of the worst evils under the national policy. In 1896 Alexander upon as one of the worst evils under the national policy. In 1896 Alexander Smith, secretary of the Ontario Lib-eral Association, issued a pamphlet which was distributed among the patrons of that day, which read as follows: "Clause 11. Prohibition of Appropriation been made for the sole purpos of purchasing the support of constitu-encies, and vast sums of public money have been voted without regard to the public interest, while millions of acres of land that should have been held in trust by the government for the future homes of party and deserving settlers, have been handed over, without consideration or justification, to charter hawkers, whose intervention actually retards the construction of the lines, which franchises they control for the purpose of extorting money from the ultimate builders of the roads. The policy of granting these subsidies has repeatedly been condemned in parlia-ment by the liberal party, and the re-solution is in harmony with the attitude of the liberal party upon this question. (See resolutions 3 and 6, liberal platform.)"

Although Mr. Richardson of Lisgan called the attention of the government to these pledges, given only five years ago, the government succeeded in vot-ting three and a balf millions of railway subsidies to what they were good enough to term "charter hawkers."
They did this because they knew that Canada is disposed to favor the national policy, and as this was one of the leading planks in the platform laid down by Sir John A. Macdonald, the peral administration are powerless to otherwise than continue that successful programme, which resulted in such lasting benefits to this country. But no other course would be expect from Mr. Blair, because it seems the there is any likelihood of trickery existing in a policy which was fixed upon by the conservative party, Blair has made a special effort to incorporate that measure into his own olicy, and has even succeeded in going his predecessors one better in every

When the conservatives were power they were condemned for allowing the railway subsidies to lay over until almost the last days of parliament. Sir Richard Cartwright com plained very bitterly of this sort of reatment, and he was never satisfied with the information furnished the house by the then minister of rail-ways. But Mr. Blair can discount anything in "ye olden times." It was only on Saturday, within four days of the closing of the house, that the sul sidies were discussed. Mr. Blair told Mr. Haggart that there had been no correspondence in regard to these large grants. Nobody seems to have asked the government for a cent except verb-ally, and one would be almost inclined to think from the remarks made by the minister of railways and cana that his department has men or around the country looking for rail-roads which might prove fit subjects for subsidies. Not a map was produced by which the house could form an telligent opinion as to the require ments of the sections through which these railroads were to pass. certainly a ludierous sight to the expedients to which member have been perfecting a plan whereby they will take advantage of the source of the source of the source of the source of the ports of New York, Boston and Portland to natural conditions, but the thrown on the subject. Royally Observed in St John Friday

Large Crowds Enjoy the Various Excursions and Patronize the Attractions in This City.

The holiday was royally observed in St. John on Friday. All the attrac-tions provided were liberally patron-ized. Large crowds left the city on the various excursions, and the base ball games and performances at the Opera House attracted large numbers. Out at Millidgeville the Royal Ken-nebeccasis Yacht Club held its first programmed event—a cruise as far as the Long Reach and back. About ten o'clock a fleet, consisting of the Avis, Rupert Turnbull; Scionda (steam), Commodore Thomson and party; Windward, Messrs. Kerr, Ritchie, Boyd and others; Taniwha, Robert Seeley and friends; Pastime, Edward Sears, jr., and friends; Can-ada, Howard Holder, Vice-Commodore ada, Howard Holder, Vice-Commodore Heans; and Marjorie, Frank Whelp-ley, got under way. The Robin Hood, T. T. Lantalum; Jubilee, Stanley and Fred Elkin, and Zephra, Norman True-man and others, left for up river Thursday night.

Secretary Williams and a large contingent of Y. M. C. A. members carried out a programme of sports at the Chalet that has rarely been equalled. Large numbers went out to witness the exercises of the day, which included boating and general amusements. At Rockwood park there was a large crowd in holiday attire. The bears and other animals of the park were kept busy during the afternoon as gifts in the shape of sweetmeats, etc., vere showered upon them by their

The Young People's Association St. Mary's church held a picnic in the afternoon at the summer residence of Rev. W. O. Raymond, Rothesay. Long before the advertised hour for departure the steamer Victoria was filled with happy excursionists, who, in spite of the very unfavorable appearance of the weather, were determined to enjoy the holiday. It is estimated that upwards of seven hundred people took advantage of the ex-cursion to Fredericton. While the steamer was lying at the wharf prevlous to her departure, the Carleton Cornet band, in all the splendor of their new uniforms, rende some choice selections from the hurricane deck.

Immediately after the Victoria moved off the David Weston came up to the Star Wharf and passengers bound for different river points began at once to pour aboard. As the Victoria would not stop at any intermediate points, all the private fishing and picnic parties going to local points were compelled to wait for the Weston. She got away shortly before nine o'clock with fully two hundred passengers, all out

The handsome steamer Prince Edward took quite a large number of excursionia's to Digby. Perof excursionia to Digoy. Perhaps the threatening aspect of the weather deterred some who were afraid of sea-sickness, but there was a very happy looking crowd of ladles en deck as the vessel swung from her wharf and gl'ded down the harbor.

BASE BALL GAMES

The base ball season opened yester-day with two games between the old rivals. They were fast enough and sufficiently close to make it interesting to the cranks. The north end boy got away with their rivals in bot contests. There were a number of corrests there were a number of cerrors, perhaps excusable on account of the earliness of the season. Despite the weather good crowds turned out to both games, and they got good value for their money.

very interesting contest, with the result always in doubt. There was plenty of good sharp hitting and some good fielding. The new men did well. Daley is not cut out for a first baseman, but his all round work was good, and he made a couple of nice, timely hits. McLan's backstop work was as good as ever, but he played in harl luck at the bat. Manton did good work for the Alerts as a catcher and cracked out a nice two-bagger in the fifth. Both pitchers very two-bagger in the fifth. Both pitcher did good work. Friars was hit more frequently than White, but his own good work and that of his field saved the day. White's delivery was a ruzzle to the Roses until the fifth inning, and after that they dropped on his curves for nine hits. The field work was good at times. The north end boys excelled in that department. In the ninth inning the game was won and lost, but the three errors malked up against the Alerts in that inning were difficult chances. The Alerts evened up in the sixth and added one in the seventh, while on their half of that inning three of the Roses chased over the plate on a single of Daley's, O'Neil's two bag-ger, and a case of rattles among the Alerts. In the ninth W. White was out, Burke to Daley. Manton got a life on Thomson's poor throw to first.

Instructive Addresses on the Public Health, the Communicability of Tuberculosis, and the Disinfection of Home Made Clothing.

The Next Meeting Will be Held at St. John, N. B.-Membership of the Methodist Church in the District.

The eighth annual meeting of the National Council of Women opened in London, Ontario, May 16th, some 100 delegates being present. Lady Taylor presided. A letter of greeting to the executive was received from Lady Aberdeen, accompanied by badges of colors and Lady Aberdeen's favorite motto, "Altior," which were presented to each member of the executive.

A letter was received from the man agers of the woman's department of the Pan-American exhibition, inviting the National Council to visit Ruffalo. Encouraging reports were submi ters of business discussed.

A public reception was given to the Council of Women in the City Hall in the evening. The hall was exquisitely Routine business was disposed of on Friday, 17th, and Saturday morning was devoted to some phases of the subject of education, which was brought before the council by a national committee of teachers appoint ed in Victoria, B. C., at its last meeting. After a lively discussion the fol-lowing resolution was unanimously "Resolved, that in the opinion of the National Council of Wome of Canada it is advisable that a do ninion certificate for teachers should be obtainable.' A second educational resolution which had been sent by the Montreal local council was as follows: "That the National Council of Women of Canada, believing that the main tenance of the high standard of purity of speech and accent is an important factor in the development and classi-fication of nations, and that in Canada the value of a correct use of the mother tongue is not sufficiently recognized, do suggest to local councils that, in the training of the young, more attention be given to the modulation of the voice and to the enu ation of English, and, further, that a definite standard of English speech and accent be recognized approxi-mating, as is the rule for all lan-guages, to the best usage in the country whence it is derived; and country whence it is derived; and hat this recommendation be undertood to apply also to the use of the french language by Canadians of the suggestion of the Kingston At the suggestion of the suggestion At the suggestion of the Kingston At the suggestion of the Kingston At the suggestion of the Kingston At the suggestion At the suggestion of the Kingston At the suggestion that this recommendation be under-stood to apply also to the use of the French language by Canadians of

He thought the time of the school day should be shortened so as to allow the pupils to get more exercise, and that the holidays should be increased. Board of Health, addressed the meet-ing on Disinfection and Inspection of Home-made Clothing. He said, the ever-increasing complexity of society in our rapidly developing country is bringing into existence conditions which have been the despair of legis-lators who have endeavored to cope with the evils which through centuries have grown up in the crowded cities pe. These evils are also spread of Europe. These evils are also spreading in the urban population of Canada and the United States. The causes are producing the same results in Canada as in the already crowded countries like England. Then there is an unsolved problem of how to get the free individual to be directed into productive channels. The difficulty especially exists in regard to the women. We find an ever-increasing dislike for the so-called menial duties of the household servant and we find young women hold servant, and we find young women of every class competing for work in offices, schools and stores, or in the workroom of factories, or even in larger numbers for the chance to obtain manfactured goods, to be taken to their ufactured goods, to be taken to their houses to be made into garments. It is apparent that no great good can come out of the sweating system. Legislation has followed, and there now exist on the dominion statute books, laws regulating the conditions of labor in the matter of supplies of clothing made under government contracts. The poor woman who takes work from the manufacturer home at which to labor with her daughters and other help at from $1.50 to $4 a week. would gladly live in a large house with more sanitary surroundings, but how can she afford it? He believed that the great difficulty underlying the problem was a moral one. It is the problem was a moral one. It is the moral status of the people as a whole which will determine just what our legislation shall be and how it will be administered. How then are we to bring about an amelioration of conditions which will ensure the removal of evils which are manifest to all? We have to reply in several ways: (1) By personal example: (2) by giving carpersonal example; (2) by giving certain definite direction to education; (3) by influencing legislation; (4) by individual and combined effort to investi-gate existing evils and through organi-zation to create a public sentiment which will at once suggest reforms and guide to their practical realization. We have at present smallpox existing in Ontario, and one has only to suppose a mild case existing undlagnosed or aunch friends in London, w ame to hear for the have since expressed themselves as deeply in sympathy with its aims and objects, and anxious in the future to be identified with it.

This was in the form of a large bound vol-ume, entitled "Illustrated London," spectors that every article on being returned to the factory shall be passed through a simple steam disinfection. It was his conviction that the evils which we so greatly deplore were due rather to lack of appreciation by manufacturers of the posibility of removing existing evils than of the brutal or selfish indifference to the welfare of and containing the history of its pro grees both in words and by pictures. It was decided to accept the invita-tion of St. John, New Brunswick, for the next annual meeting, which it is hoped may be held at such a time as the operatives. RICHMOND HILL, May 24, (Special).—A: sensation was caused in this township when it was reported that the Rev. F. Elliott had published a strong letter in the papers endorsing a patent medicine. This happened some little time ago, but the matter has not been forgotten. The medicine in question was the famous Dodd's Kidney Pills and the Rev. Mr. Efficit is still in the receipt of frequent enquiries about his experiences with them.

To a recent questioner who asked To a recent questioner who asked him about Dodd's Kidney Pills Mr. Elliott was quite outspoken.

"I believe Dodd's Kidney Pills to be an excellent remedy," said he. "I see no reason whatever why I should not recommend them; they have helped me and I believe they will help others. If they were not a strictly honest, meritorious, reliable cure for everything they are claimed to be, nothing would be more objectionable or further from my thoughts than for me to endorse them to anyone, much less lend my name to a printed statement. But as the facts stand I hold by my former course and shall always be happy to recommend Dodd's Kidney Pills by any means in my power."

The letter referred to in which Mr. Elihott endorses Dodd's Kidney Pills was published in this paper some time ago. It reads as follows:

"I feel it my duty to inform you of the great benefit I have derived from using Dodd's Kidney Pills. Last spring in particular when suffering from Lame Back, the pain and weakness was so great I could hardly turn or get out of bed. Knowing it all came from disordered Kidneys, I began to use Dodd's Kidney Pills and my pain and lameness soon disappeared. I consider Dodd's Kidney Pils a good reliable medicine for the disease in which they are recommended.

"When I hear people complain of Lame Back or Rheumatism, I always say, 'Why don't you take Dodd's Kidney Pills.' I wish to add that this testimonial is entirely unsolicited and only 'good will to men' would induce me to allow my name to be published in this connection.—Rev. F. Elliott." Yarmouth Girl Escapes from Refuge Home - Hot Weather-Concerning Chief Clark and Judge Landry - Recent Deaths-The Markets

(From Our Own Correspondent.) BOSTON, May 25.—The first really hot weather of the year arrived this week, considerably behind schedule time. The thermometer did not reach ninety, but easily got within speakand wet weather was the signal for the beginning of the exodus of the prosperous residents to the country. The spring is nearly three weeks behind hand in this section of New Eng land, while visiting provincialists say that the season is much further advanced than usual in New wick.

The birthday of her late Majesty was informally observed by the British charitable and other societies here. In Worcester last night prominent Englishmen and Canadians formed the Victoria Association. The objects of the association are to create a fund for the purpose of expending the same in some permanent memorial to Queen Victoria, and to encourage efforts to bring about international good feeling among the Anglo-Saxon nunities of the world. It is proposed to raise at least $10,000 for the memorial. M. J. Whittall, a well nown manufacturer, is president. Chief of Police Clark of St. John and Mrs. Clark were in Boston this week ing old acquaintances. Chief Clark left for New York on Thursday to attend the international convention of police chiefs. The chief was interested in the suicide of the unknown woman at Halifax early in the month. He thinks that her identity will probably remain a mystery. There is a theory in Portland that the woman boarded a train there one night, going to St. John, and later to the Nova Scotia capital.

Rev. Canon Ketchum of the Epis-copal diocese of Fredericton was an interested spectator at the annual Diocesan convention of Maine at Port-land, Wednesday. He heard some lively ecclesiastical sparring, and was also a witness of the clash between Catholic and the Protestant parties. The Catholic wing endeavored to have, the word "Protestant" in the churches' title, "Protestant Episcopal," expunged, but the move was defeated by a vote of 25 to 12. Although the new Bishop of Maine is a high churchman, and the use of in-the low churchmen still manage to out-vote the other party. The high church leaders in the church at large are preparing a vigorous plan of campaign, which they expect to carry out at the national convention in San Francisco next fall. While the high church party has fitteen or sixteen bishops, most of them in the northwest, certering around Fond du Lac, of which the celebrated extreme ritualistic Bishop Charles C. Grafton is the head, and will no doubt muster a large delegation of priests Grafton is the head, and will no doubt muster a large delegation of priests and laymen, yet on a straight vote they will fall considerably short of the strength of their pponents. Hitherto, the differences in the English church have not been reflected in this country to any extent, but it seems now as if the same issues would have to be threshed out in this country. Following the dispute over the famous Fond du Lac consecration ceremony, which will likely be aired at San Francisco, the ritualistic party now propose that the American dioceses should be grouped into seven or eight ecclesiastical provinces, with an archbishop at the head of each, and a metropolitan with constitutional authority over all. There are no archbishops in this country in the Episcopal church.

Several days ago the Boston police were asked to keep an eye open for Miss Lena Prout, a 20 year old Yar-mouth girl, who had been in the care of a refuge home here. This is the young lady whose case was mentioned in the Sun some time ago, when her Yarmouth relatives, against the wishes of her relatives here, placed her in the home. Her sister, Mrs. Burrill of Yarmouth, thought she would be bet-ter in a quiet, respectable home than taking her chances in the world and earning her own living, the young lady having decided not to stay in Nova Scotia, where some of her folks are well off. Ernest Pitman of Brook-line, Mrs. Huriburt and other rela-tives placed the case in the hands of a lawyer in an effort to secure her release, but they were not successful. Now is appears that Miss Prout has

Judge P. A. Landry, the popular Dorchester jurist, is becoming famous beyond the borders of his own coun-try. In an editorial paragraph this week, the Boston Daily Advertiser remarks:

"That pair of snow-white kid gloves which were placed on Judge Landry's desk, when he opened the circuit court in St. Andrews, N. B., signified, accorning to an ancient custom, that there was no criminal business before the court. However, as the gloves were made from a kid, and a kid will become a goat, if he is allowed to do so; and as a goat is a very mischiev-ous creature, the emblem of vice and crime; those snow-white gloves may have been intended to serve a doub purpose; one purpose being to remind his honor, and all others concerned. that there would soon be plenty of criminal business before the court, if the education and moral training of the young people were not looked to."

ANOTHER MYSTERY SOLVED. Body of W. C. Anslow of Newcastle, Missing for Nearly Four Years,

Word was received by telephone in this city Friday night that explains the istances of a mysterious tragedy, which caused great speculation throughout this province nearly four years ago. In the fall of 1897, W. C. Anslow. editor of the Newcastle Advocate, a man widely known and highly esteemed, left his home for a brief hunting trip in the woods near that place, and never returned. The country was roused and a thorough search insti-tuted and kept up for several weeks with no result. J. J. Anslow of the Hants Journal, Windsor, N. S., visited the place, and spent many days in fruitless search for his missing brother, who was finally given up as dead. it having been supposed that he had been drowned in one of the lakes of that vicinity.

Friday night a party of lumbermen arriving in Newcastle reported the dis-covery of a man's remains on the bank of a small stream not more than eight miles from the village. Only the skele-ton remained, covered with scattered shreds of clothing, but the watch, knife and some money found lying by were sufficient to identify the remains as those of the long missing Mr. An-slow, who without doubt had become lost in the woods, and after becoming fatigued with wandering, had succumbed to the inclemency of the late fall season and died from exposure.

Burns, the teacher of Lancaster school, did the honors of oridesmaid and groomsman very gracefully. The four parties all made a neat and pretty appearance on the floor. The bridal presents were useful, handsome and numerous. Amongst them were a number of pieces of beautiful silverware, accompanied by them were a number of pieces of beautiful silverware, accompanied by a tenderly touching address from the bride's Sunday school class. Miss Wallace has been a devoted teacher in the Sunday school for many years held in the home of Mrs. Carpenter. Dr. Hartley was the officiating clergyman.

FISHING WITH DYNAMITE.

The accident by which a fisi lost his life while engaged in killing fish with dynamite has led to a renewal of the discussion of this method of fishing. It seems obvious that the use of dynamite, as practiced by some fishermen at the mouth of the Bay and probably in other places, is mischievous. A correspondent of the St. Croix Courier says that fully fifty per cent, of the fish killed sink to the bottom and are lost, besides polluting the waters. Others are mutilated. Some fishermen say that the fish so killed do for a short fime by the prior claim of a not cure so well as others, in consefor a short time by the prior claim of a not cure so well as others, in consecret contractor, who is said to represent British capital, to an old Cuban concession for the performance of this large numbers of fish would be killed which would be too small for use. HICTORICAL STUDIES.

The report of the Council of the Royal Society of Canada speaks of he great value and importance of the work of local and provincial historical societies. Concerning the progress of this class of work in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, the report says:

New Brunswick, the report says:

It is satisfactory to the students of Acadian annals to find that an addition has just been made to the printed archives of the maritime provinces, under the auspices of the Nova Scotta Historical Society. The documents selected relate to the internal administration of the province during Walpole's long peace, and throw light on the experiment of governing a French population by a handful of Englishmen, and the tenacity with which this Acadian center of the Empire was held for England;

It is to be hoped that the example of the Nova Scotta Historical Society will be followed by other associations in all the provinces. Very much could be done in this direction in New Brunswick, where there are a large number of archives relating to the Loyalists, who founded that province, which ought so be collected and published, with the aid by private and public subscriptions. It is consequently most satisfactory to hear that the Rev. W. O. Raymond, of St. John, New Brunswick, a most accurate and pains akins historical student, is to edit at once the papers of the eminent Loyalist, Judge Edward Winslow, which are to be printed by the aid of the Historical Society, and Mr. F. E. Winslow, in the same province.

It covers a time in the detory of the provinces concerning which little has been published, though there is no period of greater interest than that following the arrival of the loyalists, and the organization of the provincial government. Mr. Raymond has already in his papers based on the Chipman documents thrown muc light on the condition of New Bruns light on the condition of New Bruns-wick in the twenty years before the loyalists came. His notes on the Winslow papers, biographical and his-torical, interpret what would other-wise be obscure, and with them the student may make his way with safety through an obscure period of New Brunswick history.

He recently obtained a contract to move some wood at Horseshoe Bay in Howe Sound, and hiring a team of horses from W. A. McDonald of the Western Transfer Company, went up to the steamer Defiance on Wednesday, to commence work. He appears to have been disappointed with the prospect, as he returned to Vahcouver on Thursday night, and appeared rather despondent. PROVINCIAL NEWS

SACKVILLE, N. B., May 23.—On Friday, May 24, the Mt. Allison Art Museum, with its rich stores of pic-tures and statuary, is opened free to the public for the art students annual exhibition. For several days past the staff have been busy arranging the pupils' work on the walls of the studios, and owing to the courtesy of Prof. Hammond the Sun's reporter was admitted for a good view before the rush begins. The room toward which the knowing visitor bends his which the knowing visitor bends his steps, and where he is apt to return for a lingering look, is Prof. Ham-mond's studio. The walls are entirely re-arranged, nothing exhibited before is on view now, the pictures being all new to the public. The largest and st striking is the scene from Oro Nest Pass, the Elk River Falls with the Rockies in the distance. It is a composition somewhat different from Mr. Hammond's usual line and shows the wonderful breadth and versatility of this gifted man. Between beetling craigs in the foreground rushes a foam crested torrent; so well is the idea of movement conveyed it is hard to realize the mighty waters make no sound. Beside this bold work are two little gems in the painter's happlest style, "Gaspie Fishing Scene," which is a misty view of the Bay of Fundy, and a golden hued picture of St. John harbor at sunset. An interesting bit of Dutch scenery is the "Ganal Dordrecht." "Evening on the Tantra-Nest Pass, the Elk River Falls with of studies in Venice, Holland, France and the Rockies cover a wide field of talent. It is much to be regretted that the four large pictures Hammond is exhibiting at the Pan-American could not have been seen here, as they are extremely fine. In the pupils' department there is an excellent exhibit in black and white.

Drawing from casts is not easy, even after learning how, much time, prac-tice and some talent is required to turn out a satisfactory picture. The average for this year is high, but for obvious reasons only a small portion of the year's work can be shown. Among noticeable pictures are "Venus de Milo," "Venus de Medici," and "Quoit

Thrower," by Miss Humphrey; "Raphael's Young Girl" and "Gladiator," by F. McMullin; "Venus de Milo," Florentine Gentleman," by M. Hew "Raphael's Young Girl," by A. Whittiker; "Quoit Thrower" and "Gladiator," by B. Fawcett; "Boy Extracting Thorn," by K. Pearson; "Venus de Milo," by F. Harris, in which the poise is extremely good. There are others worthy of more than a passing glance In the studies from still life there is attractive showing, conspict among which are "White Chrysanthe-muns," and "Apples," by Miss Mundy; "Daffodils" and "Oranges," by M. Hewson; "White Chrysanthemums," by Miss Vroom; "Oranges," by E. Bor den; "Yellow Chrysanthemums," by E Humphrey. The work of B. Fawcet and K. Pearson is also worthy of mention. An excellent piece of work is the painting from a cast of "Dying by F. Harris. In the oils from copies there is good coloring and accuracy displayed. Especially commendable are "The Political Disunion," by J. Kay; "The Old Net," by L. Comben; Millet's "Cattle in a Storm," by Miss Leigh; "Returning Home," by E. Johnston; "Scheveningen Beach," by Miss Fuller; "Ducks," by N. Poole; "Study of Man's Head," "Coast of Cornwall," by E. Bigney. Promising beginners are Misses DeBlois, Crisp and Clark. The usual interest gathers round many dainty specimens. A novelty is a child's mug, with children's figures on it, painted by Miss Mundy; the amount of expression thrown into the little faces shows great cleverness. little faces shows great cleverness.

Miss Mundy's cream and sugar set, with conventual design, and salad bowl, are also excellent. There is an elegant cup and saucer by Mrs. Borden, and a set of fish plates, with design of seaweed and shells, from the artistic brush of Mrs. Powell. Miss Vroom shows bread and buffer plates with dainty painted roses, and a handsome cream and sugar set in green lustre and gold with medallions. Miss Humphry has a tray with original design in roses, and a bon bon dish with pine cones that are charming. Two very pretty dressing table sets are those of Misses Tremaine and McMullen, and a plaque with head on it, by Mis Leigh, is noticeable. There is other work worthy of mention, but lack of space forbids.

animo The modelling class has been attended the chiefly by the younger members a fifty of the school. The work is mostly in disam bas relief. Pieces of merit are the signal ("Plumes," by G. Borden; "St. Cecilia." evolution by L. Richardson; "Raphael's Young olinen Girl," by A. Whitaker.

IT IS ALWAYS SO. The Rev. Luther McSweeny says, in th

Catholic World:

"A great manufacturing company in Massachusetts recently paid its workmen on Saturday evening seven hundred $10 bills, each bill being marked. By the following Tuesday four hundred and ten of these marked bills were deposited in the bank by the saloon keepers of the town. Four thousand and one hundred dollars had passed from the banks of workmen on Saturday night and Sunday, and left them nothing to shew for this great sum of money but headaches and poverty in their homes. Well might these men cry out to the state: "Save us from ourselves!" And their hapless wives and children: "Save us from our husbands and fathers on the Lord'e day, at least!"

courts recently made these remarkable statements, which deserve publicity and should be read by every thinking Christian throughout the world. He said:

"You may ransack the pigeon holes all over the city and country, and look ever such annual reports as are made up, but they will not tell half the truth. Not only are the salcons of Chicago responsible for the cost of the police force, the fifteen justice courts, the county jail, a great portion of Joliet prison, the long murder trials, the coroner's office, and the madhouse. Go anywhere you please, and you will find almost invariably that whiskey is at the root of the evil. The gambling houses of the city and the bad houses of the city are the direct outgrowth of the boon companions of drink. Of all the prostitutes of Chicago, the downfall of almost every one can be traced to drunkenness on the part of their parents of husbands, or drunkenness on their own part. Of all the boys in the reform school at Pontiac, and in the various reformatories about the city, 35 per cent are the children of parents who died through drink or became criminals through the same cause. Of the fasane and demented disposed of here in the court every Thursday, a moderate estimate is that 30 per cent are alcoholic and its effects.

"I saw estimated the other day there were the thousand destitute hoys in Chicago, who are not confined at all, but are running at large. I think that is a small estimate. Men are sent to prison for drunkenness, and what becomes of their families for to destruction. The boys turn out thieves, and the gris and mothers generally resort to the sums. The sandbaggers, murderers and thugs generally of today, who are prosecuted in the police courts and in the eriminal courts, are the sone of men who fell victims to drink. The percentage in this case is fully 65 per cent."

PROOF OF CURE.

Miss Emma Chaput, Lake Talon, Ont., writes:—"I cannot thank you enough for the good I have derived through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I honestly believe that but for them I would now be in my grave. My health was completely broken down. My face was as white as chalk, and if I made the least effort to do any housework I would almost faint from the exertion, and my heart would beat violently so that I feared I would drop where I stood. I was a great sufferer from headaches, and dizziness as well, and my appetite was so poor that I scarcely ate at all. I tried several medicines, but they did not help me, and then I decided to send for some of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I got six boxes, and before I used them all I was as well as I had ever been, with a good healthy color, a good appetite and an entire freedom from the ailments that had made me so miserable. You may be sure I will always have a warm regard for your invaluable medicine."

But you must get the gennine, and only the genuine have the full name "Dr. Williams Pink Pills for Pale People" on the wrapper around every box. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail post paid at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50, by addressing the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BAY CITY, Mich., May 24.-A spe ial to the Tribune from Tawas City

The tug Columbia of Detroit, with a government steam dredge and two loaded lighters, was caught in the storm. The lighters and dredge were lost, parting their six inch cable. The crew of six men is missing. While searching today for her tow, the Columbia picked up two men of the Baltimore on a raft. They were nearly dead. Another man was on the raft, but was lost despite the efforts to save

The schooner Montmorency, which went acround on the Charity Islands several days ago, has gone to pieces. BAST TAWAS, Mich., May 14.—The wooden steamer Baltimore foundered in Lake Huyon near Ausabe this morning, and 12 of her crew of 14 were drowned. Two men were tossed about in the lake for several hours, lashed to a piece of wrackage, and were finally picked up by the tug Columbia and brought here. Vohn McGinnis, a deckhand, one of the rescued, became insane from his experience. The other survivor. Thomas Murphy of Milwaukee, second engineer, was able to tell the story of the disaster.

"We were bound from Lorain to Sault Ste. Marie," he said, "and had in tow a large steam drill and scow. When of Thunder Bay last night. Captain Place saw that the steamer was making bad weather, and decided to turn about and run for Tawas for shelter. Everything went all right until we were of Ausable, when the steamer struck heavily on the bottom.

"The every man for himself now, shouted Captain Place. The look of despair on Mrs. Place's face was something I shall never forget. It was awful. McGinnis and I lashed ourselves to a ring bolt in a plece of the after cabin, and we were washed overboard shortly afterward.

"The strain was too much for McGinnis, and he went cravy before we had been in the water long. Twice he believe.

"The Columbia finally came along and picked us up just as I was about to give up hope. I am afraid all of the rest of the crew were drowned, including Mrs. Place."

The Baltimore was rated at $40,000.

whereby Edward Hill of Howis Ridge, near Millville, York Co., a 8 of Wm. Hill, lost his life. Just he know. The young man was river driving for John R. McConnell, a large operator on Aroostook waters. He had been working for some time, was well liked by his companions and was a good lad at his task. The accident happened at what is known as the Giberson Gut, above Little Moose Lake. He was stationed on a turn. It is supposed he tried to cross the gut on a log, but he was alone and no one saw him go under. His cries were heard. Men hurried to the spot whence the cry came, but could find no trace of the young man. His peevy was found near by. At first search was unsuccessful. Next day Wm. McGuire, the boss of the crew, and Donell Donohue, went to the spot in a cance, and after some searching found the body in a bit of dead water about ten feet deep. The body, was brought to Houlton by Mr. Donohue, who also accompanied it to Woodstock, where it was met by an incie.

who also accompanied it to Wood stock, where it was met by an uncleasured Hill. The remains were take to his late home via Milville in Saturday. Every one speaks in high term of the unfortunate young man. He was 23 years of age.

The committee entrusted with the building of the new jail had a special meeting this afternoon, when the met H. H. Mott of St. John, whe was asked to meet with them here. The agreed to give Mr. Mott the contract He to furnish plant, superintend, the building and do everything to the satisfaction of the committee for 5 percent, of the money expended on the building. On Saturday no word had been received from the previousle.

ANDOVER, N. B., May 25.—J. C. Manzer has moved into the house lately occupied by T. J. Carter. Miss. Louise Plokett leaves on Monday for Montreal, where she will visit her brother, Adolphus Pickett, who has charge of the Montreal office of the James Acton Publishing. C. Work in the Andover creamery started on the 22nd, There was a good supply of milk. The company hope to double the work done last year.

Empire day was fittingly kept in the schools. In the afternoon the schools assembled in the principal's room, which was beautifully dedorated with flags and appropriate drawings on the blackboards. The words, "In memory of Victoria the Good, born. May 24th, 1819, died Jan. 22nd, 1901," were very nicely executed by Edmund Miles, a former pupil of the Grammar School. In compliance with the request of the board of education, the exercises of the afternoon dealt chiefly with the life and reign of our late beloved Queen. All parts of the programme were well carried out, and reflected credit upon the principal, Arthur Shea, B. A., and his assistants, Miss Scott and Miss Baxter. Two essays, due on The Life of Queen Victoria, by Miss Ethel Barker, the other on the British Empire, by Gilbert Peat:

a recitation, The Queen's Last Ride, by Miss Helen Perley, and an original poem, In Memory of Queen Victoria, by Jean Kelly, a girl of 12 years, were worthy of special praise. Fred Hoyt did the duties of organist in a very acceptable manner. A large number of visitors attended. Speeches were made by Rev. S. B. Hillock, Rev. J. W. Campbell, C. H. Elliott and Geo. E. Baxter.

On the 24th two games of base ball were played, between a nine from Carlbou, Me., and the Andover mne. In both games the score stood in favor of the Andover boys.

There was also a sale and supper in Beveridge's hall, conducted by the ladies of St. James Presoyterian church. The fancy work table was looked after by Miss Waite and Miss Baxter; the ice cream by Miss Cameron and Miss McQuarrie, and the aupper table by Mrs. H. H. Tibbits, Mrs. R. Wiley, Mrs. Wm. Curry, Mrs.
