BEAVER BOARD
If you are building or going to complete some unfinished room, let us show you some colored samples, illustrating the beautiful color effects obtained by using this sanitary and durable board for walls and ceilings in all classes of buildings.
We carry a large stock in assorted sizes.

MAIL ORDERS
We select out of town orders which receive our personal attention. The length of time taken to fill orders is governed very largely by how busy we are in the department of our factory in which the particular goods are made. While we have exceptional facilities for promptly turning out goods, it is important to place orders as far ahead as possible. Orders are filled by us in the rotation in which they are received, and customers can always depend on our doing everything in our power to give prompt despatch.

SAD STORY OF A HOMELESS MAN.

Calvin Hansen Sent Back From Restigouche County.—Not Known Here.

Calvin Hansen, who gives his age as 77 years, appeared in the police court this morning for the third time in the past two weeks. Arrested originally by Officer McAlnak on Charlotte street on a charge of vagrancy, and later given transportation to Restigouche county, whence he claimed to have walked, held up by the Moncton police and shipped back to St. John, and after being looked after and well cared for by the local police, authorities sent again on his way to what was understood to be his home, the old man arrived in the city on the Halifax express on Monday night and was later taken to the central station. As the old man sat in the prisoner's dock this morning in grey flannel shirt and no boots, his clothing having been left by him in the jail, stooped with age, grey mustache and a week's growth of beard, his frame racked at intervals with a bronchial cough, he presented a pathetic spectacle. The old man's story is to the effect that he had lived for some sixty-two years the life of a trapper at Green River, some distance from Dalhousie. On his arrival at Dalhousie, he says, he was taken in hand by the civic authorities, and despite his remonstrances was bundled unceremoniously aboard a train en route to St. John.

Mr. Henderson is in receipt of a letter from the Mayor of Dalhousie stating that the name of Calvin Hansen does not appear on the electoral list, and objecting to the man being sent to that town.

Officer Davidson, of the I. C. R., who took the old man in charge at the Union depot last night about 10.30 o'clock, informed the court this morning that according to the old man's story he had been without food for two days, his sole nourishment in that time being some cold water.

Mr. W. S. Clawson, who was in court, understood to see that the man would be placed in the Municipal Home until definite information could be gleaned as to the exact location of his residence.—St. John Globe

NARROW ESCAPE AT I. C. R. DEPOT

Jos. LeClare of Little Metis Struck by West Local—Lost an Arm.

Jos. LeClare, of Little Metis, who was a passenger on the I. N. R. express, was struck at the I. C. R. depot here Tuesday evening about ten o'clock and severely injured. How he escaped death is a miracle.

The I. N. R. express had just arrived at the west end of the station when LeClare, who did not observe the West Local approaching, stepped in front of the moving engine.

He was struck and carried some distance. His left arm was so badly crushed that it had to be amputated. His left arm was so badly bruised.

Dr. Price was called and had the injured man removed to the hospital. Enquiry at the hospital this morning elicited the information that the injured man was improving and that he was resting fairly well.

FOUND DEAD IN HIS BED.

J. F. McCarthy, Druggist of Bathurst Succumbs Monday Night.

John F. McCarthy, a prominent and popular druggist of Bathurst was found dead in bed Tuesday morning. Death was caused by heart disease, from which he had been suffering for some time.

Mr. McCarthy was 27 years old and leaves a wife, formerly Miss Maud Nickerson of Campbellton, and two small children. He was a native of Moncton and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McCarthy, and part of the family still reside there.

The community was greatly shocked at the news of his sudden death.

Mr. McCarthy worked here for some time with the White Drug Co. and many friends were grieved to learn of his sudden death.

CHRISTMAS WITH CAL CHURCHES.

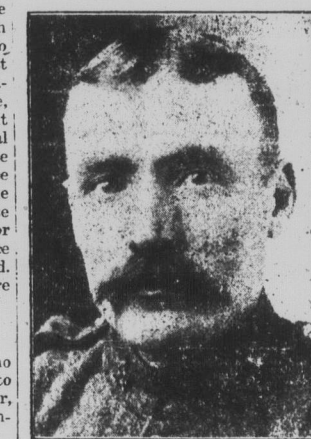

Sunday, Dec. 24th, Will be Generally Observed as Christmas Sunday.

Sunday next, December 24th, will be observed as Christmas Sunday by the various local churches. Sermons appropriate to the joyous Christmas season will be the order of the day, and special Christmas music and anthems, which will be a feature of the services, will be rendered by the choirs of the different churches.

SUCCESSFUL SALES.
The amount to be raised by each held a tea and sale in the church hall last Thursday evening. It proved a most successful affair, realizing a little over $100.00.

The ladies of the Methodist church a sale of fancy articles and home cooking in the Vestry of the church Tuesday evening and cleared $100.00.

The young ladies of the Tipperary club recently held a sale of fancy articles in the Red Cross rooms and cleared $150.00.

Pte. James Albert Kaine, 132nd Battalion. Died in England.

VETERAN ARRIVES HERE.

Pte. Geo. LaCaroz, of Montreal, who as a French reservist was called to the colors in August, 1914, arrived here on Tuesday's Limited, with his wife and family, and are visiting Mrs. LeCaroz's sister, Mrs. Louis Cyr as well as other relatives here.

Pte. LaCaroz was wounded in the knee some time ago, and has a month leave the sky blue uniform of the army of France, the first seen here. Although he has been through much of the service fighting for over two years he has only once been severely wounded.

SCHOOL CLOSING.

The Christmas school closing in the Grammar school will take place on Friday morning commencing at 9.30 in the different departments. At 11.30 in the Assembly Hall of the school there will be the presentation of the Governor General's Medal to Whitney Stevens for the highest standing in the Matriculation examinations for the county of Restigouche, also the presenting of the Lieutenant Governor's Medal to Miss Muriel Stevens for the highest mark in the county in the High School Entrance papers. Miss Stevens also made the highest mark in the province in these examinations. The certificates for those passing the high school entrance examinations will also be presented. Parents and all friends interested are invited to be present.

THE NEW BRUNSWICKERS.

Among the returned soldiers who came across on S. S. Northland to Halifax were Sapper William Biggar, Sussex, N. B., and Pte. Norman Renne, Bathurst, N. B.

HANDSOME ART CALANDER

Mr. J. J. Bernier, The Tailor, has presented his customers with a beautiful art calander.

HAVE NOT SAILED.

The draft of the 12th Field Battery at Newcastle, which had orders to leave last Wednesday for Halifax, has had these orders cancelled and will leave at a later date.

BATHURST HAD TWO FIRES, FRIDAY.

A Bathurst despatch says the residence of Amos Gallant was damaged by the first of two fires which occurred in that vicinity Friday. The Gallant blaze broke out in the morning. Most of the contents of the house were removed undamaged and the loss on the building is estimated variously between $1,000 and $2,000, covered by insurance.

The other fire occurred about noon at St. Mary's, about three miles from town, and resulted in the complete destruction of Mr. Andrew Courture's house, with most of its contents. There was no insurance, loss $1,500.

TIME EXTENDED

Orders have been received at the New Brunswick command headquarters announcing that the offer of pardon for deserters, which was open until Dec. 15, had been extended for another month. It is announced also that returned deserters would be given free issue of uniform and equipment.

BOUGHT PROPERTY.

St. Alban's (Anglican) church of Salmon Beach, near Bathurst, has secured from Mrs. Milton Doherty a piece of ground for a cemetery. The situation is a most desirable one from every point of view and St. Alban's is to be congratulated. The price was a nominal one.

RETURN THE BROOM.

Will the party who borrowed the brush broom from the Methodist church Sunday school hall please return same at once and save further trouble.

HANDSOME CALANDER

The North American Life Assurance Co. through its local agent Mr. M. A. Kelly is distributing a handsome and useful calander. The picture is as usual that of an Indian.

GONE TO QUEBEC.

Coun. D. A. Arseneau, who has been quite ill for some time left this morning for Quebec, where he will enter the hospital for treatment. His son is a resident doctor of that city.

DOGS MISSING.

Mrs. O'Keefe had her large mastiff dog poisoned recently and Mr. B. O. Bates' dog was run over and killed by a train.

REGISTERED HOLSTEINS.

Mrs. A. F. Chamberlain received last week two very fine Holstein cows. They arrived after their long journey in good condition and will be a valuable addition to her already fine herd.

Miss M. McDonald of Acadia Ladies College, Wolfville, is the guest of her mother Mrs. James McDonald for the holiday season.

COLORED PORTER KILLED IN WRECK

Train of Empty Passenger Cars Piled up in Ditch at Routherville, Que.

A serious smashup of rolling stock and the loss of one life took place after midnight Sunday at Routherville, Que., about thirty miles west of here.

The train consisted of "deadhead passenger equipment" and was in charge of Conductor P. Jamieson and was hauled by engine No. 449 in charge of Engineer McDavid.

When the train left Campbellton shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, it was hauled by one of the Pacific Type engines the fastest of this type on the road.

Everything went all right until the train reached Routherville, about thirty-two miles north of Campbellton. Here, while the 449 was running along at about thirty miles an hour, the third car of the train suddenly jumped the rails and toppled over the embankment. Several cars behind were also tripped, and left the rails. One followed the first car over the embankment, while the others piled up across the bank. The breaking of the air hose applied the brakes on the rear cars and brought them to a stop.

The locomotive and the first cars did not leave the track.

Jas. McCutcheon, a colored porter asleep in his car was instantly killed and A. W. Wright, another colored porter was injured severely and it is not known whether he will live or not. These men are not employed by the Canadian Government Railways, and it is thought they belong to the Grand Trunk Railway, but this is not definitely known.

The men have usually been quartered in the rear of the train, but during the cold weather complained of the cold and were moved up near the engine. Theirs was the first car to leave the track.

The train and engine crews proceeded as quickly as possible to the cars which had gone over the dump, and discovered that one porter was dead and the other badly hurt.

Wrecking crews hastened to the scene of the accident from both Campbellton and Riviere du Loup. Wreck equipment was also sent up from Moncton.

MARITIME CANCELLED
No. 4, south bound Maritime Express, due here at 2:20 o'clock Monday morning was cancelled. No. 200, Ocean Limited, coming south, and due here at 10:45 o'clock was detoured over the N. T. R. from Chaudiere Curve. The line was cleared about 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

TRAMS TO THE RIGHT INSTEAD OF TO THE LEFT

Fredericton, Dec. 13.—Concurrent legislation calling for the passing of teams and other vehicles to the right, instead of to the left, will probably be passed at the approaching sessions of the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia legislatures. Hon. B. Frank Smith said this morning that this matter was now being taken up and intimated that a change would likely be made in the present law. Hon. Mr. Smith, however, said that passing to the left was an old established custom and the change would not be made unless requested by a great majority of the people of this province. He also stated that he had received during the past few months several resolutions from various organizations interested in the traffic laws in the province and all of these advocated a change.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BELIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

LETTER OF SYMPATHY FROM HON. MR. HAZEN

The following letter was received by Mr. Dempsey of Jacquet River. Pte. Edmund Dempsey enlisted with a western battalion.

Ottawa, Dec. 8, 1916.

Dear Mr. Dempsey:
I have learned from the Militia Department that Pte. Edmund A. Dempsey who was previously reported wounded and missing is now believed to have been killed on September 26th.

I am writing this letter for the purpose of extending my very sincere sympathy to you in your sad bereavement. Nothing of course can lessen the effect of the blow and of the sorrow caused to you and his family and intimate friends but at the same time it is a satisfaction to know that he died serving his country, fighting in defence of those who are left at home and the free institutions that are so dear to the hearts of every Canadian and Britisher.

Again expressing my very deep sympathy, I am,
Yours truly,
J. D. HAZEN

OBITUARY.

The death occurred at Point a la Garde, Que., on Thursday, November 30th of Mrs. Andrew Carroll. She had been in failing health for some time. She was one of the oldest residents and was loved and respected by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind wife and loving mother, a husband and three daughters, Mrs. Frank Hamilton of Boston, Mrs. Jos. Ellement and Minnie at home and two sons, Joseph of Point a la Garde and William of the 132nd Battalion in England. The funeral took place on Saturday, Requiem Mass being celebrated by the Rev. Father Laidore. The pall-bearers were Messrs. Martin Perkins, Henry Perkins, Paul Willmot, John Doucet, Alphonse Gaudreau and Ludovic Gaudreau. Much sympathy is felt for the family in their bereavement.

MEASLES Important Notice

Measles being transmitted by direct contact in nearly every instance, parents are asked not to let their children go to houses where the disease exists and so, help greatly to stamp out the present epidemic. The disease is most frequently transmitted through schools, therefore, during Christmas vacation, if the children are kept away from gatherings of all kinds, children parties, and especially from entering in contact with companions, the disease will likely disappear before the re-opening of the schools.

For the information of the laity I may add some particulars about this infectious disease. As I said before, it is generally transmitted by direct contact with the person suffering of measles, although it may be carried by a third person, providing a short time had elapsed from contact with the infected one.

The germs of measles do not live long and a room, previously occupied by a measles patient, does not need disinfection, and without danger, can be used by other children providing there was a good aeration of the bedding for one or two days.

Its incubation lasts nine to eleven days and the rash appears 2 or 4 days after the appearance of the first symptoms. The disease may be transmitted from the time of the first cathartic symptoms, such as, redness of the eyes, sore throat, elevation of temperature and possibly before and until the disease reaches its height. The infectiousness is very marked early and is probably greatest about the time the eruption is coming out. When the eruption begins to fade the danger of transmission diminishes, and during the stage of desquamation, it is very slight if there is any at all. Nevertheless it is better to allow at least two weeks from onset, to elapse before the child mingles with others.

NOTIFICATION TO THE SECRETARY OF THE BOARD OF HEALTH IS COMPULSORY IN EVERY CASE.

We hope that every householder will do his best to help stamp out the present epidemic of measles.

L. G. PINAULT, M. D.
Chairman of the Local Board of Health.

Send the Graphic as a Christmas present to a friend. A weekly remembrance for a full year for $1.50.

WHAT HAD UNCLE SAM TO BE THANKFUL FOR YESTERDAY?

Nothing says an American journal.

Let us see. There's surely something.

He's just re-elected a president. "Too proud to fight"—He's proud of the achievement, consequently thankful. He should be thankful for the manner that his President held the Hun to "strict accountability"—for the murder of his citizens. Thankful that he didn't see the medal struck to commemorate that occasion. He is probably thankful for the murder of more citizens on board the Maine and thankful that the Hun got no Americans in the Arabia—sunk without warning.

Thankful for the proud spirit of his naval officers who instead of throwing their destroyers between passenger ships and the pirates—as we protected Dewey from the Rocks at Manila—accepted the doctrine of "Safety First" and drew off to watch women and children thrown overboard in cockle shells. Thankful for the billions of British gold sucked into his grasping maw—the only consecrated thing he knows.

Consecrated! Yes every dollar consecrated by the moans of a dying boy—the tears of a heart broken mother and the curses of a helpless father. Curse you! Curse you bitterly—came not up to the help of the Lord—to the help of the Lord against the Mighty.

Thankful in his churches yesterday that he is not as others—

"Because he kept us out of war!"—Curse him!

But thankful above all else for a British navy to protect a Munroe doctrine that Sammie never dare again mention above a whisper. Thankful that the British people had honor enough to come to the rescue of Belgium and France thus keeping the Hun from over-running South America and Mexico. Thankful that George Washington and Abraham Lincoln were both gathered to their fathers thereby being spared the sight of the national disgrace.

A wonderful Thanksgiving! The above was written by a Sydney business man and was inserted in a Sydney paper as a part of an advertisement on the day following the U. S. Thanksgiving day.

MUST FILL OUT CARDS

What Information Every Male in Canada Between the Ages of Sixteen and Sixty-Five Must Give.

The following notice has been issued by R. B. Bennett, M. P., Director-General of National Service:

NATIONAL SERVICE

Public notice is hereby given under the authority of the "War Measures Act," 1914, that during the first week in January, 1917, an inventory will be made by the post office authorities of every male between the ages of sixteen and sixty-five, residing in Canada. National Service cards and address envelopes for their return to Ottawa have been placed in the hands of all postmasters for distribution amongst the persons required to fill in such cards. Every male person of the prescribed ages is required to fill in and return a card enclosed in an envelope within ten days of its receipt.

Any person who fails to receive a card and envelope may obtain the same upon application to the nearest postmaster.

R. B. BENNETT,
Director-General.
Ottawa, 15th December, 1916.

NEWSPAPER PRICES.

(Ottawa Citizen)
Owing to the tremendous increase in the cost of white paper and the abnormal increase in all materials entering into the production of a newspaper the Toronto dailies are adopting a step which would seem to be inevitable throughout the country, in charging more for their issues. The problem which confronts the newspaper today is not one of increasing or even maintaining profits—it is one of preventing serious loss. In many of the larger cities of the United States the price of newspapers has been raised as a measure of self preservation. In Canada the time cannot long be deferred for similar action; indeed, it is difficult to see how many journals can survive present conditions.

CHRISTMAS BUSINESS GOOD

The snow has brightened up the Christmas trade and all the stores have been busy this week. The Christmas trade gives evidence of being equal to or even better than previous years.

PLUNTY SNOW

Snow fell last Saturday and at intervals since until now there is about a foot in the country districts. It is said there are about two feet in the woods. We did not have the heavy easterly storm which prevailed further south.

AGAIN IN EVIDENCE

The Andrew Street crossing was again blocked by a long train at church time Sunday evening. Pedestrians were obliged to wade through the deep snow in order to pass. Another long train was also over the Cedar St. and Prince William St. crossings. This condition will continue until the proposed Central St. subway is provided. Steps should be taken this winter to see that this necessary work is undertaken at an early date.

SEN'I APPEALS TO SOLDIER'S

The following copy of a post card is self explanatory and we hope many of our readers will send papers and magazines to the soldiers. The Graphic each week sends many copies to soldiers both at the front and in hospital.

Dear Sir:
Will you please ask your readers to send New Brunswick papers to
Rev. Wm. KIDD, (Chaplain)
64 Bulwer Rd.
Leytonstone,

Back, England.

For the sake of wounded and sick New Brunswick soldiers in London hospitals, this appeal is earnest and urgent, also that apples and dainties by mail will also be very acceptable, as will small contributions to the Tobacco Fund will be gladly received and acceptable.

Mr. Kidd is chaplain to Canadian wounded in several of the 169 hospitals in London, who are calling for N. B. papers.

Very truly

RESTIGOUCHE BOY IN HOSPITAL

Mr. F. W. Summer.

Dear Sir: I received a letter from you this morning, and will be pleased to call and see you when I get out of hospital. I was wounded in the back. It was not very bad. I think I will be fit for light duty again soon. I was in France nearly six months, but in the first battle we had at Loos I had the luck of getting it, but we got the point we made for and took about eleven hundred prisoners. If you have a New Brunswick paper, would you please send me one. My home address is: Dawsonville, Restigouche Co., N. B. When I see you I will be able to tell you more about the front. Close, with kind regards, from

SOLDIER'S COMFORT ASSOCIATION SHIPMENT

The next shipment of the Soldier's Comforts Association will be made on Friday, December 29th.

There has been a special appeal for socks and anyone having parcels are asked to have them at Mrs. Max. M. Mowat's home on Thursday, December 29th.

MAIL FOR SOLDIERS

Mail for soldiers in England should not be addressed care Army Post Office, but should contain name of camp at which regiment is quartered. If soldier is at the front in France or the Balkans, care Army Post Office is then necessary. Be particular in this regard, as much mail fails to reach our boys because of the above defects in address.

THE PATRIOTIC FUND.
According to figures submitted to the provincial government, New Brunswick's share towards the Canadian Patriotic Fund for 1917 is something over half a million of dollars. It is proposed to raise this amount by taxation upon the different municipalities, cities and towns in the province during next year.

It will be admitted by all that by assessment upon the ratepayers as a whole, the burden will fall equally upon all, according to value of property, and those who, for various reasons, during the past two years have refused to contribute to this fund, will now be compelled to pay taxes for this purpose.

The amounts to be assessed by each municipality has not yet been announced, but at a recent meeting held at St. John the matter was discussed, and this was left in the hands of the government. It is said that Restigouche will be called to contribute about $17,000, a pretty heavy burden if it is to be assessed in one year, but we must remember that this is for war purposes and we must be willing to bear our share of the burden.

The matter of how this money will be raised will be fully discussed at the January meeting of the Restigouche county council and we hope the Councilors will study the matter fully and come prepared to deal with it in the best interests of the county.

Mr. Editor:—
My attention has been called to an editorial published in the St. John Standard, of the 18th November, dealing with improvements to Bathurst Harbor. The Standard, replying to an anonymous writer in the Campbellton Graphic, who, it appears, took the St. John Daily to task for giving all the credit for the Bathurst harbor improvements to Hon. J. D. Hazen, goes out of its way to attack Hon. Wm. Pugsley, minister of Public Works under the Liberal administration. Had the Standard confined itself to a discussion of the works carried on here by the present government I would not have taken the trouble to write this article, but it has so grossly misrepresented the facts, and so unjustly attacked the persons who were instrumental in starting the much needed improvements in our harbor, that, being in possession of all the facts as I am, I feel it my duty to reply to the Standard and give some idea of the methods adopted by the St. John organ of the Conservative party to mislead the public.

Among other misleading statements the Standard makes the following: "The Standard has no intention of engaging in a controversy with the Campbellton publication but it is just as well to keep the record straight. Hon. Wm. Pugsley, when minister of Public Works, made numerous promises of dredging in Bathurst harbor, but he never got beyond that stage, except to have a plan prepared, but no tenders asked, or no contract awarded. I do not know where the Standard obtained its information. Had the records, which are available, been consulted, it would have hesitated to make such a glaring false statement as the one above quoted.

What are the facts:
In 1908, Mr. Turgeon, M. P. for Gloucester, drew the attention of the Department of Public Works to the urgent necessity of improvements in Bathurst harbor. In 1909, Hon. Wm. Pugsley had a thorough survey made of the outside and inside of the harbor by Engineer Voligny. This plan contemplated the dredging of a channel from the outside loading ground to the steel bridge that spans the Nepisiguit river, near the Pulp Mill, 25 feet deep at low water and ranging in width from 200 to 250 feet, with a large turning basin near the pulp mill.

The plan prepared by Mr. Voligny was accepted by the minister, and in order to proceed with the work as speedily as possible, in the winter of 1910, an order-in-Council was passed approving of the purchase of a very powerful suction dredge to be used exclusively for improvement of Bathurst harbor. Acting under this order, the Minister of Public Works purchased the suction dredge Nerius, now known as dredge No. 3. Work was begun on July 27th 1910, and continued until October 9th, the amount excavated in that time being 93,800 cubic yards.

The following year this same dredge excavated 146,777 cubic yards from May 15th to November 11th. During the season of 1911 negotiations were begun for the engagement of a second powerful suction dredge, so that one could work inside and another outside the harbor. Arrangements were also completed for the construction of two steel scows of a capacity of 500 cubic yards each to be used by the government owned dredge. With the arrangements thus contemplated the engineers estimated that excavation could be carried on to the extent of close on to 500,000 cubic yards per season.

Up to the election of 1911 and within a period of two years, Mr. Turgeon had obtained, through Hon. Wm. Pugsley, an expenditure for improvements to Bathurst harbor, amounting to $157,731.

The Standard says that "no tenders were asked, and no contract given." That is quite true, but the Standard knew full well, when making that statement, that it was not necessary to call for tenders or give a contract while the dredging was being done by government owned boat, as the cost of such work came out of the estimates voted each year for harbor improvements in general. If one were to judge the cost of dredging carried on by the government boat and the cost per cubic yard under the present system as carried on by the Northern Dredging Co. it was a wise move on the part of Hon. Wm. Pugsley to have government do its own dredging here instead of farming it out to political favorites.

The cost of dredging by the government suction dredge was 14 cents per cubic yard, whilst the present contractors started in at 25 cents per yard in 1913, and had this increased to 30 cents per yard in 1914.

While the Standard blames Hon. Mr. Pugsley for doing nothing for the improvement of Bathurst harbor it conceals an expenditure of $31,432.27 in 1909 by the dredge Hawyard, which is now employed in our harbor by the company that has the contract of dredging.

The original plans called for a channel of a minimum width of 200 feet and a depth of 25 feet at low water. Since the advent to power of the present government this plan has been modified and it is now proposed to give us a channel of only 17 feet at low water.

The above facts, Mr. Editor, will, I am sure, convince every reasonable person of the unfairness of the Standard's statements in connection with Bathurst harbor improvements.

Since the Standard has deemed it fit and proper to severely criticize Mr. Pugsley, and give the entire credit to Mr. Hazen, it might not be out of the way were I to throw a few side-lights on the way dredging has been carried on here under the watchful eye of our present Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

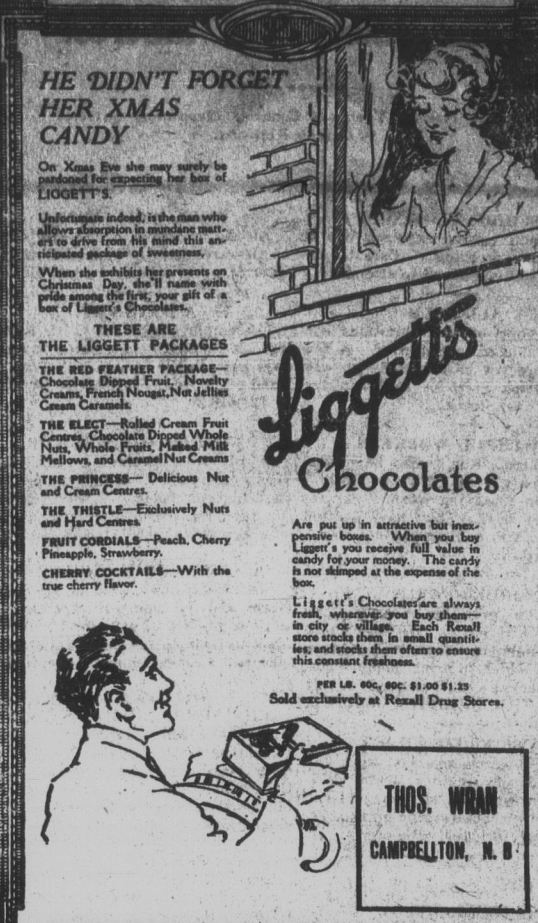

In 1912, Hon. Mr. Pugsley and Mr. Turgeon, M. P., seeing that the estimates contained nothing for Bathurst harbor improvements, drew the attention of Hon. Mr. Monk, then Minister of Public Works, to the importance of continuing the work begun in 1910.

Mr. Monk replied that, owing to numerous and urgent calls for public works other parts of the Maritime provinces, it was his intention to leave Bathurst improvements in abeyance for some time. But just before the final adoption of the estimates Mr. Monk, on again being urged by Messrs. Pugsley and Turgeon, consented to allow the suction dredge Nerius to continue work in Bathurst harbor during the season of 1912, and in this season excavation amounted to 118,501 cubic yards.

It was now apparent to the business men of Bathurst, that unless a very strong effort was made to force matters at Ottawa, the contemplated improvements would go very slowly, if not suspended for indefinite period.

At a public meeting held in our town a delegation of 5 was sent to Ot-

Had this work been originally planned employing careful suction dredges, the work would have been done at the cost per yard would not exceed at the outside, 18 cents. At the present time, 1,200 yards would have cost about $300,000. Of course friends had the pull and, in his anxiety to meet the demand, Mr. Hazen did not hesitate to do the "front work" he is doing for the Standard may be honest, but Mr. Hazen does the praise it accords him in connection with our port, but I am the people of Bathurst, who pay the expenses of several years to Ottawa to put some has thus been engaged at our port during the years 1913-14-15-16. During that time they have dredged in the vicinity of 1,200,000 yards at a cost approximating $360,000.

Had this work been continued as originally planned employing two powerful suction dredges, the work would have been far more advanced and the cost per yard would not have exceeded at the outside, 18 cents, or in other words these 1,200,000 cubic yards would have cost about $216,000 instead of $360,000. Of course political friends had the pull and Mr. Hazen, in his anxiety to meet their wishes, did not hesitate to do their bidding. And thus he must be praised for the "great work" he is doing for Bathurst. The Standard may be honestly convinced that Mr. Hazen deserves all the praise it accords him in connection with our port, but I am sure that the people of Bathurst, who had to pay the expenses of several delegations to Ottawa to put some life into him, do not share its views. If Mr. Hazen could be depended upon, why did our towns people have to send so many delegations to Ottawa? And why have the appropriations each year since 1913 been so small that on several occasions the dredging company had to cease work before the appropriation was exhausted? And again if Mr. Hazen was so careful looking after our harbor improvement, why had private corporations to offer to finance the dredging until the close of the season after notice had been received that funds were exhausted? Surely, such facts as these do not go to prove that Mr. Hazen was over zealous in his advocacy of Bathurst Harbor improvements.

The Standard further says that "Since 1911 the government has spent more money in Bathurst Harbor improvement than their predecessors devoted to the whole county during their fifteen years of office."
It certainly is impossible to find a newspaper more unfair than the Standard, especially when dealing with a political opponent. Here is a most glaring distortion of facts, and the Standard need only examine the available records to know the truth. But apparently the truth did not suit in this case, and it decided to "go it" blindfolded regardless of fact of rhyme. A rapid glance at the record will show the following expenditures in Gloucester County from 1900 to 1911:

Breakwater a Petit Rocher $79,000
Wharf at Bathurst 9,000
Dredging at Bathurst 167,731
Stonehaven Breakwater extension, etc. 20,069

Mr. Chas. C. Dupuis, formerly of the 22nd French Canadian Battalion, C. E. F., and a returned hero was in town on Saturday in company with A. L. Vermette of Campbellton.

Mr. C. J. Callaghan of St. John was a guest at the Queen Hotel on Thursday.

Mr. Jack Craig of Charlott was in town on Tuesday.

The parents of Pte. Thomas Butler of the Fighting 26th, have received word that their son has been decorated with the Distinguished Conduct Medal for gallant conduct under fire. Pte. Butler enlisted with the 55th Batt. but transferred into the 26th and left Canada with that most glorious regiment. He is the first Dalhousie boy to be honored in this way and we offer congratulations to this shiretown hero. Mr. and Mrs. John McNeish are receiving congratulations on the arrival of a baby girl at their home on Sunday.

The town council held their monthly meeting on Wednesday night last week. The usual routine business was carried on and the meeting adjourned.

The Dalhousie Curling Club held a meeting on Tuesday evening of last week for the purpose of electing officers for the coming season. Mr. D. G. Stewart was elected president, Mr. A. R. McKinnon, vice-president, Mr. R. G. Mowat, secretary and Mr. Bernard Troy, treasurer. After some discussion the meeting was adjourned until Thursday evening, when a number of important questions came up before the club and after these had been decided the meeting closed with understanding that the rink would be chosen on or after 20th of December.

The building which Mr. M. Rinzler is having made into an up-to-date store is now near completion. Although the contractors are putting on all possible speed it will not be ready for the Christmas shopping. However M. Rinzler shall begin the New Year with one of the nicest stores in town. The members of the "Mina Grant" Mission Band held their annual Thank offering concert on Wednesday of last week and realized a good sum for their work. Everybody spent a very pleasant evening being conducted by the Rev. J. H. McLean to Japan and return.

OBITUARY.

The death of Mr. William Nichol of Glen Levit took place in one of the New York hospitals on Sunday, after an operation. Word to this effect was received Monday and caused sorrow throughout the community. The body arrived here Tuesday and was taken to his late home. Deceased was 55 years of age, and one of the best known and highly respected residents of this community, and the bereaved family had the sympathy of all. It is only a few weeks since word was received that a son, Boyd, had been killed in action.

The funeral, was held yesterday afternoon and was very largely attended. Services at the house and graves were conducted by Rev. H. Miller. Interment was in the Flatlands burying ground. The pall bearers were Messrs. James, John and Simon Pollock, John Quinn, James and Robert Nichol.

A FINE COLLECTION.

Pte. C. C. Dupuis, who is visiting his brother here has displayed in the window of Vermette's pool room a fine collection of regimental badges, buttons, cartridges, medals, coins, pictures, etc. These embrace souvenirs of many famous British, French and German regiments. The display is attracting considerable attention.

Reduction Works	30,000
Lamou Wharf	25,000
Miscou Wharf	30,000
Little Lamou Wharf	23,000
Dredging at Shipagan	20,000
Shipagan Breakwater	35,000
Tracadie Wharf	10,000
Tracadie Protection works	10,000

The above items of expenditure from Department of Public Works since represent $138,000. I. I. were to include the numerous expenditures for new light houses, railways facilities and public buildings, etc. the figure would easily reach one million dollars. The $10,000 expended at Tracadie for harbor protection was the initial step taken to carry out a plan of dredging this harbor but Hon. R. Rogers, minister of Public Works, refused to carry out the works planned for Tracadie by his predecessor under the Liberal regime.
The above facts are, but another proof of the want of truthfulness of the Standard when it attacks on opponent.
Yours truly

DRAFT OF 132nd OFF TO FRANCE

A letter from an officer of the 132nd says that 400 of the men have been drafted into battalions in France, and that not one of the thirty-three officers was permitted to go with them. The officers have been sent to brigade headquarters in England for training. So if a man really wants to fight for his country now he must enlist as a private, neither seeking nor accepting a commission. World.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

THE FRENCH SOLDIER'S PHILOSOPHY

An officer just returning from the front gave me the following epitome of the French soldier's philosophy, which helps to explain his wonderful sangfroid: "When you are a soldier, you are one of two things, either you are at the front, or you are behind the lines. If you are behind the lines you need not worry. If you are at the front, you are one of two things. You are either in a danger zone or you are not. If you are not you need not worry. If you are in a danger zone you are one of two things. You are either wounded or you are not. If you are wounded you need not worry. If you are not wounded you are one of two things. You are either seriously wounded or slightly wounded. If you are slightly wounded you need not worry. If you are seriously wounded one of two things is certain. Either you get well or you die. If you get well you need not worry. If you die you can't worry. Therefore, there is no need to worry at all."—London Financier.

BLACK LANDS.
On Friday morning 15th inst, the remains of the late Mrs. William D. Miller, formerly of Sunnyside arrived at New Mills on the Maritime from South Windham, Maine. Owing to the condition of the roads the remains were taken to New Mills church, where a funeral service was held at 3 o'clock. Her son, W. E. Miller of Fall River accompanied the remains.

Much sympathy is felt for the family in their loss of a kind and loving mother. She was exceedingly kind of heart and many can recall acts of kindness done by her. She is survived by one brother, David Hamilton of Black Lands and one sister, Mrs. Mary LeFurgey of Ferguson Manor, Campbellton. Her family of three sons and two daughters all live in the U. S. A.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. F. L. Jobb. He spoke touchingly and expressively to the sorrowing relatives and friends from the words, "We all do fade as a leaf." Isaiah 64-6.
Mr. Jobb in his comparison, spoke of the uncertainty and brevity of the life of a leaf while connected with the tree, its duties and fulfillment of same while on the tree, its greatest beauty showing forth when near its severance from the tree. He likened this autumnal beauty to the beauty of character, sweetness of disposition, lovingness of heart, purity of mind and gentleness of will, which should characterize the closing years of the aged Christian's life and urged all to live unselfish and useful lives that the hope of a glorious resurrection might be assured.

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

A hen is not supposed to have much common sense or tact. But every time she lays an egg she cackles forth the fact. A rooster is largely feathers, with little intellect to show. But none the less most roosters have enough good sense to crow. The mule, the most despised of beasts, has a persistent way. Of letting people know he's round, by his insistent bray. The little bees they buzz, bulls bellow and cows moo. And watchdogs bark and ganders quack and doves and pigeons coo. The peacock spreads his tail and quakes, pigs squeal and robins sing. And even serpents know enough to hiss before they sting. But man, the greatest masterpiece that nature could devise, Will often stop and hesitate before he'll advertise.

AUTOINTOXICATION OR SELF-POISONING

The Dangerous Condition Which Produces Many Well Known Diseases.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST THIS TROUBLE

"FRUIT-A-TIVES"—The Wonderful Fruit Medicine—will Protect You

Auto-intoxication means self-poisoning, caused by continuous or partial constipation, or insufluent action of the bowels.

Instead of the refuse matter passing daily from the body, it is absorbed by the blood. As a result, the Kidneys and Skin are overworked, in their efforts to rid the blood of this poisoning.

Poisoning of the blood in this way often causes Indigestion, Loss of Appetite and Disturbed Stomach. It may produce Headaches and Sleeplessness. It may irritate the Kidneys and bring on Pain in the Back, Rheumatism, Gout, and Rheumatic Pains. It is the chief cause of Eczema—and keeps the whole system unhealthy by the constant absorption into the blood of this refuse matter.

"Fruit-a-tives" will always cure Auto-intoxication or self-poisoning—as "Fruit-a-tives" acts gently on bowels, kidneys and skin, strengthens the bowels and tones up the nervous system.

Christmas Romance

By WRIGHT A. PATTERSON

Me preparing for Christmas—yes, goodness knows I wait! I was, both Christmas doing ain't for me no more. And just because I was a-baking something to eat to-morrow, which happens to be Christmas, she thought I was preparing for that day a special."

Betty Green sighed as she placed the pie in the oven, and pulled a kitchen chair up beside the stove. The new neighbor, who had but recently moved into the town, and who knew nothing of Betty's history, had just left. With the Christmas spirit every-where she had thought of course Betty was preparing a feast for the day.

"Now, if Jim hadn't never sailed away on that water-logged old Maggie Ann, as he did a-going on four years ago, I guess I could a been preparing for Christmas like other folks. If there hadn't been nobody else, Jim and me could a enjoyed Christmas, and then maybe there'd a been some-thing else—somebody what just about now would a been liking dolls or the cars, and if so Jim and me would a been having a Christmas tree for that some-body, and we'd be a having the best Christmas in all South Cove."

"My, how I did try to keep 'em from sailing in that Mary Ann. Anybody what know anything about ships knew she wasn't fit to go a sea in, but Jim says it's the only berth she's likely to get, and taking it would bring about our having just that much sooner, and the Mary Ann."

or Jim ain't never been heard of since she left that South American place to go round the Horn on her way to China."

The bright eyes of Betty Green were wet with tears as she opened the oven door to raise the pie to a higher shelf. Ever since Jim Busby failed to return in time for the wedding which Betty had so carefully prepared for four years ago—a wedding which was to be the big event of the Christmas season at South Cove—she had had a lonesome life.

Two months after the Christmas that was to have been their wedding day her aged father had been carried to the village cemetery, leaving her alone in the world. With no other relatives, and with no friends except those at South Cove Betty remained in the little fishing town in which she had been born nearly twenty-seven years ago.

With the baking finished, Betty left the kitchen and went into her bedroom. She wanted nothing so much as to be alone in that room that had been her father's—in that room where she kept carefully preserved the wedding clothes she had lavished so much care upon four years ago. These clothes and the faded photograph of Jim Busby on her bureau were all that were left her of her romance.

With these she would spend her Christmas eve, would live over again the courting days. And Jim should be there with her. That would be her Christmas.

With care she took each garment from its wrappings in the bureau drawer and spread them on the bed. The pretty wedding dress which Sarah Glover had helped her make—yes, she would put it on to-night just as she had planned for four years ago. Jim would like her to do that; he had always like to see her prettily dressed, and maybe Jim might come her from the spirit world to-night.

As she fastened the gown she almost forgot that Jim could not be there, that it was all a make-believe. As she stood before the mirror the smile of four years ago came back again. She noted the color in her cheeks; it was like a bridal blush.

A rap at the door dispelled the illusion she had permitted herself for a few moments. She could not go to the door in that dress. The caller would have to wait, but he did not wait. She heard the door swing, a heavy step on the floor, and a voice—oh! such a familiar voice—calling Betty.

"Jim! My Jim!" she answered, as she pulled open the door of her bedroom and sprang into the arms of a strong, bronzed sailor.

Far into the night she listened to Jim's tale of shipwreck on the Patagonian coast, of the months and years of practical captivity before he could get back to a seaport.

"And now," he said, "I am home to claim my Christmas bride."

"And I have our Christmas baking done," said Betty.

SUPERSTITIONS

If you will go to the cross-roads between eleven and twelve on Christmas night you will hear what most concerns you in the coming year.

It is unfortunate to carry anything forth from the house on Christmas morning until something has been brought into it.

If the fire burns brightly on Christmas morning it betokens prosperity; if it smoulders, adversity.

"They are to be married on Christmas day," said one of the "Yule-tied."

"Would you call that 'Yule-tied'?" Christmas seems to have been first observed between 180-180 A.D.

Old Christmas fare did not include the turkey, now the modern Christmas bird. In the olden days a roasted peacock took its place on the festive board.

SANTA CLAUS' TREASURE BOX

Christmas was at hand, and Philip Draper's heart was heavy. For a number of years he had been to the particular pet of misfortune. As an artist his work displayed the magic touch of genius, and he was in a fair way to achieve fame and worldly success when the first of a series of calamities befell him. Soon after Philip's marriage to pretty Lucille Girard, his father failed in business and died within a month thereafter, leaving nothing but a mass of debts as a legacy to his son.

Philip, who had just been taken into partnership with his father, and whose outlook on the future was tinged with the color of the rose, was crushed by this blow; but with a quixotic sense of duty he set himself the tremendous task of paying off the debts of the firm. To accomplish this he had nothing to depend upon but the sale of his pictures; yet, year in and year out, he toiled on stubbornly and uncon-plainingly, while he and Lucille and their little boy were deprived of many of the comforts of life that the bulk of his earnings might go to his creditors. The house in which they lived was a roomy old mansion on the outskirts of the city, left to Philip by a maiden aunt, who had passed away since the death of his father, and which Lucille had persuaded him not to sell. This house, by the way, had originally belonged to an eccentric old sea captain, Jeremiah Suggs by name, who was reputed to be something of a miser, and who lived and died a recluse.

The crowning calamity came to Philip Draper when the debt was all out cleared off. It was then he was overtaken by a wasting illness, which kept him confined to his bed for almost a year, and leaving him destitute. The butcher and the baker threatened to deny him further credit, and his home was heavily mortgaged. The outlook was gloomy.

"And tomorrow is Christmas," he remarked to his wife, with a grim smile. "Never mind, dear; let us hold fast to our courage," said Mrs. Draper, trying to speak cheerfully, though there was an ominous quaver in her voice.

What hurts me most is the thought that Christmas is so close at hand and that there is no Santa Claus for Bobby."

"Poor little dear!" said Mrs. Draper. Suddenly she started up with an anxious glance about the room. "I wonder where that child can be? I haven't seen him for at least two hours."

"Oh, don't be alarmed. I dare say he is rummaging about in the cellar or attic or some out-of-the-way closet, and is wholly absorbed in his investigations."

Mr. Draper had hardly finished speaking when Bobby popped into the room, held out a grimy little fist, and, as he opened the chubby fingers, revealed a twenty-dollar gold piece lying on his upturned palm.

"Money!" gasped Philip. He snatched the coin and examined it critically. Where did you get this? What does it mean?"

"I found it in the attic!" explained Bobby. "There are lots more there. Come on, I'll show you where."

The next moment the father and mother each grasping a hand of the frightened youngster, were hastening up the stairs. When they reached the attic the whole astounding truth was laid bare to them. Bobby had been rummaging, as usual. Finding a loose brick in the masonry of the over-cast-iron brick in the crumbling masonry of the big chimney, he had pulled it out and made a startling discovery.

"I wanted to find out how Santa Claus comes down the chimney," said the boy, regretfully. "I didn't mean to do any harm."

An exclamation from his father interrupted him. Philip, tearing away the bricks to enlarge the opening, had thrust his arm into the cavity and drawn forth two small boxes, accompanied by a shower of yellow coins. Among them was a scrap of paper which was written:

"I have no heirs, no kith nor kin. This property goes to the finder, and he may enjoy it. It consists of $30,000 in gold and government bonds, and twice that amount in gems."

"JEREMIAH SUGGS"

Bobby was the hero of the hour, and the rejoicing that followed may better be imagined than described. Was it a Merry Christmas for the Drapers? Ask Bobby, who firmly believes he found Santa Claus' treasure box.

Surprised Her

A servant girl was looking for a situation in the out skirts of Edinburgh. She had heard that the mistress was a rather strict disciplinarian, and was doubtful about applying. Upon entering the gate she saw an old man working in the garden and, plucking up courage, told him her fears, and asked him for his advice.

He advised her to see the lady, saying, "I've been with her for a long time, and we get on verra well."

In a short time the girl emerged from the house, smiling.

"I like her looks," said she, "an I'm engaged. Come, an I'll stan' ye a dram."

"Eh, ma lassie, I daurna," replied the old man; "the mistress might smell it, an' she wad be angry."

"Nae fears," returned the maid. "I'll gie ye a sweetie, an' that'll hide the smell."

However, the old man resisted the temptation.

Having been in the house for some-days the girl was wondering why she had not seen her old friend, the gardener, again; but, to her surprise, one night she saw him coming down-stairs in evening dress.

Grasping a fellow-servant by the arm, she gasped: "Who's that man?"

"O" replied Mary, reassuringly, "that's the master."

BONAVENTURE.

Historical Sketch of the Quaint Village and Surroundings

(By Margaret Grant MacWhirter)
Among the earliest settlements on the Bay Chaleur was Bonaventure, forty miles from the mouth of the bay, on its northern side. Emigrants from France established a flourishing settlement at this place, but with the advent of Captain Byron in pursuit of the French store-ship in 1760 disaster overtook the people. Byron determined to make a clean sweep of all that came in his way on the Bay Chaleur, and the few Acadian refugees at Carleton alone escaped. When we recall the privations and hardships endured by this handful of settlers from the dispersion of 1755 till their final settlement beneath the mountains of Tracadie, we are thankful that their few humble homes escaped the vigilant eye of the British commander. Later, when peace was declared the home-people of Bonaventure returned and augmented by other settlers set to work to rebuild their ruined homes, secure under the flag of the conqueror.

In 1780 a church was built and the nucleus of the present flourishing settlement came into existence. Today the Roman Catholic church is one of the finest edifices in the Gaspé Peninsula. Rebuilt in 1895 at a cost of $40,000, it has a seating capacity for 1200. The building is 150 feet long by 56 feet wide, and is famous for its paintings and statuary.

The Roman Catholic parish is thirteen by fifteen miles in extent, comprising a population of 3115 souls, among which are fully 530 families.

Educational matters are not neglected: fifteen schools open their doors to the children of the municipality.

The Bonaventure river flows into the Bay is about 114 miles in length. The main river is augmented by numerous branches on both sides. Five miles from its mouth on its east side is Hall's river, where is a large and prosperous settlement. So high are the banks on this stream that in many places it is difficult to break the landings, as lumber, pitching over headlong is in danger of being smashed.

Six miles farther is Duval. At its mouth are the Duval Rapids, which are extremely dangerous in freshet time. The river is un navigable for either canoe or boat, but large quantities of lumber are carried down its turbulent waters. Between Hall and Duval here are miles of level plateau, and far below the rapid river rushes on its way. In many places the Duval resembles a canyon, fully 150 feet on each side the iron-bound cliffs rise precipitously from the water's edge. Should a jam occur when driving lumber the men are lowered from the top by ropes, which are sometimes stretched across from one bank to the other.

Other branches are the Little West, First East, Second East, Big West and the Third East—the main river comes from the North West. On an average the river is fully 150 yards wide. For many miles in various places the river flows between high mountains; in some places the banks rise perpendicularly from the water's edge to the height of 500 feet. At other places the mountains recede, and rich flats, perhaps a mile deep are to be found. On the lower waters rich farms have been reclaimed from the forest, and comfortable homes testify to the industry of the Scotch and French inhabitants.

About fifty-two miles up there is a jam across the river from one side to the other, and at least 350 yards in extent. To the uninitiated the river seems to have reached its source; all trace of the stream having vanished. Travellers beyond this point are compelled to carry their canoes, luggage, etc. over the portage, which is solid

Take Good Care Of The Colts

It's cheaper to raise colts than to buy horses. But it's costly if you lose the colts. Keep a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure handy. For thirty-five years has proved it the safe, reliable remedy for spavin, splint, curb, ringbone, bony growths and lameness from many causes.

ground whereon great trees and shrubs are growing. At various places there are back runs of water where the river pushes its way along—always bringing earth, uprooted trees and other debris, which add to the strength and size of the jam. A few miles further there is another jam—above which the country is largely black spruce.

Four miles up across one of the back runs in the remains of an old mill dam, which ante-dates the memory of the oldest inhabitant. Old settlers claim that a number of years ago there were traces to show that the dam crossed the main river also. No doubt it is a relic of old French life.

Like many other streams in the Maritime Province, the Bonaventure has a reputation for salmon. A fishing club has its preserves on this river, employing seven guardians to watch that poachers do not trespass. These go on duty June 1st, and remain till the end of November. During June the guardians remain on duty all night; later the hours are shortened. A part of each day and night is sufficient.

The fish spawn from seven miles upward. Among the best salmon pools may be mentioned: Salmon Hole, Deep Water, Comical John, Snake Pool, Red Pine, and Rock Pool.

An old Indian, who has lived on the Bonaventure River declares that the freshest during May 1912 was the highest in fifty years; traces remain even yet which indicate how much above the ordinary the flood has risen.

Bonaventure village has a number of stores, among which is that of C. E. C. as Robin, Jones and Whitman is still known in the Gaspé Peninsula. Opposite the church, beautifully situated on the Bay is the new up-to-date hotel of R. N. LeBlanc.

About a mile from the mouth of Bonaventure River is the new bridge, completed in 1912, occupied a year in its construction. Plans and specifications were prepared by L. A. Vallee, Engineer and Director of Railways for the Province of Quebec, and his assistant Ivan E. Vallee, B. A. S. Both engineers, the charge of the work, which cost $15,000. One-half of this amount was raised by the municipality; the other was obtained from the Provincial Government through the efforts of John Hall Kelly, Esq. M. P. for the County, who by his interest in this direction has conferred a boon on his constituents—not only on the district immediately concerned, but the whole Bay shore has been benefitted by this public-spirited representative.

The contractors were Messrs Bourdon. The superstructure was furnished and erected by the Phoenix Bridge and Iron Works, Ltd., of Montreal.

Mr. Vallee of the Public Works, Quebec in response to a letter of enquiry has kindly given particulars of the bridge as follows:

The steel superstructure of that bridges is a "Double Intersection Baltimore Truss" of 250ft. clear span supported on two T concrete abutments on piles foundations. The concrete abutments have each 18 feet in height from

THE CANADIAN INDIAN IN THE WAR

Few possibly realize the contribution the Canadian Indian is making to the war, in men and money, and the work and gifts of their women.

The number who have enlisted is probably over the thousand mark, while the different tribes have asked the Canadian Government to pay over $20,000 to Red Cross, patriotic, Belgian relief, and other funds, from their own trust funds, and on many a Reserve the women are sewing and knitting like their white sisters.

In doing this the Indian is only repeating history, when, during 1812, the tribes under the British flag chose to remain, here despite inducements to forsake it; and the services of a Brant and a Tecumseh are being repeated by many a young brave to-day; indeed a Brant has already made the great sacrifice in the present struggle.

One notes the dark-faced sons, these original Canadians, in many a battalion, in every province of the Dominion and many have already shown their mettle in the contest with an implacable foe.

All honor to the dusky sons of Canada for their loyal response to the Empire call.

PEERAGE CONFERRED ON SIR MAX AITKEN

London, Dec. 18.—The King has conferred a Peerage on Sir William Maxwell Aitken, (formerly eye-witness with the Canadian troops) and the Right Honorable Charles B. Stuart-Wortley, member of Parliament respectively for Aston Under-Lyne and the Ham division of Sheffield. Thus two Unionist seats in the House are vacated for members of the new cabinet.

top of concrete platform to bridge seat; their thickness at bridge seat level is 5ft. and base 8ft. their width is at top 22 feet, at base 23ft. 6in. with two right angle wings of 7in. in length at the top and 4ft. 9in. in length at base; the whole supported on a concrete platform 27ft. 6in. by 16ft. 9in; this latter rests on 45 piles placed at an average of 3ft. centre to centre. The front and sides of said abutments are protected with stone rip-rap.

Concrete used a mixture of 1 cement 2 sand and 4 broken stone. The approaches are stone and earth filling and are 18 ft. width at top with a slope on each side of 1 1/2 per 1 of rise. Their lengths respectively 98 and 90 ft. At top of said embankments wooden railings are placed.

The clear width of the bridge is 16 ft. and its flooring is a wooden one of 4 in. in thickness. The opening of the trusses are filled with a steel lattice fence railing. The bridge is calculated to carry a live load of 2400 lbs. distributed 8 ft. by 6 ft.

At the village is built the mill of Messrs Edwards and Maclean. The mill is 130 feet long by 60 feet wide and 26 feet post. The mill is fitted with four horizontal tubular boilers, total horsepower of 275; one pair twin horizontal engines, total horsepower 250; one gun shot steam feed carriage, steam nigger and kickers, double edger, butter tables, one lath machine and boiler; slashers one planer, surfaces and matcher; eight shingle machines principally the Dunbar Model and one Perkins shingle machine.

Long lumber is principally sawn in to 3 in., also 2 in., 1 1/2 in. and 1 in; the greater part of it is spruce and credited with being the best on the Gaspé coast. Shingles are all cedar: no hemlock or balsam is cut.

The yearly out-put of long lumber is five and a-half million feet, twenty-five millions of shingles, and three millions of laths.

The mills, stables, lodge and all out-buildings are lighted by electricity (Fairbanks Dynamo & 25 H. P. Engine). Quite recently a new smoke-stack has been added to the mill, said to be the largest on the coast—108 ft. long by 5 in. diameter; 3ft. 16in. plate put up with a 75 G. pole; the stack including guys and guy-bands aggregates 12,500 lbs. and was hoisted with a capstan.

Work begins at the mill the tenth of May, and closes the fifteenth of November; about 200 men are employed at the mill and on the drive.

The lumber limit on the Bonaventure River and tributaries belonging to Messrs Edwards and Maclean consist of 1500 square miles.

A portage road extends between the Little Cascapedia and Bonaventure rivers. Drawing near the latter the road is somewhat too steep for comfort, and it is current report that a number of public men were once taken along this road and notwithstanding the urgency of their request the driver having perchance an eye to a public grant—refused to permit them to dismount—and holding on as best they could down the steep, rocky road they descended, fortunately without mishap, thanks to the skill of their Jégu.

No description of Bonaventure would be complete which omitted "Day's Mill." This grist-mill is one of the old landmarks of the Bay Chaleur country. Built in 1827 for the late James Day Sr. (father of the present proprietor) of Paspébiac on Robinson's Brook it was the first grist-mill that manufactured flour in the District of Gaspé.

The stone mill was seventy days in course of erection, at a cost of ten thousand dollars,—the machinery was cast in Wm. Day's Foundry in England at a cost of £1000 sterling. The millwright was sent from England to install the machinery. Lumber was formerly sawed, but has lately been discontinued.

The mill remains a monument to the mason—strong and enduring. The situation is exceedingly picturesque; the brook upon which it is built is crossed by the king's high-way, and the traveler is attracted by the charming surroundings, which possess sufficient wildness to make them interesting. The roller-mill was unknown and undreamed of by the pioneers of the Bay Chaleur. To the "Stone-Mill" for many miles up and down the Bay came the farmers with their grist, even as they do to-day. The pioneers of Bonaventure have passed away, newhouses people and opportunity have supplanted the old, but unchanged the great wheel revolves beneath the restless waters of the picturesque brook, watching the steady, rhythmic motion the words of the old refrain comes to mind as though re-echoed from the busy wheel, and fraught with suggestive lessons to the young spectator: "You cannot grind with the water that is past."
