BAPTIST ASSOCIATION HOLDS 84TH SESSION

84th Baptist Association. Fathers? The Amherstburg Regular Baptist Association held her eighty fourth session in the Hill St. Baptist Church on Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. The Moderator, Rev. H. Talbot, pastor of Windsor Baptist Church was in the chair. Address of welcome by the Mod. Registering of delegates from various churches.

The address of welcome given by Mr. G. Fountain of London and responded to by Mr. James of Toronto. The sermon by Rev. Shaw of Sandwich was very stirring and impressive.

They then retired for dinner.

The Women's Home Mission held their session with Mrs. Munroe, the pres. in the chair. The session was a very enjoyable one and many very interesting discussions. The evening programme was a very pleasing event many taking an active part. Some very splendid solos were rendered.

Friday was a splendid business day throughout. Letters were received and read. The Sunday School convention was held at 2.30. Mrs. Hunter made the address of welcome which was responded to by Mr. A. McDowell. Mr. Henderson is the President and Miss Smith the Secretary.

The session was interesting. Rev. Shaw opened a discussion as to "What is a Sunday School". It was a lively question which everyone enjoyed.

The evening programme was a wonderful success.

Saturday was the closing day for work. Much had been accomplished. At 1 p.m. the delegates went sight seeing, after which the Mayor welcomed the delegation. At 8 p.m. the Rev. Penick preached a very powerful sermon. Among the visitors the delegation was blessed with the presence of Rev. S. R. Drake, Supt. of the B. M.E. Conference, Rev. Henderson, Supt. of the A.M.E. Conference, Rev. Stewart, pastor of the B.M.E. Church who gave some very encouraging remarks.

One of the most vital points in Rev. Henderson's address was "Girls and Boys, fit yourselves for your position."

Sunday was the banner day for the organization. 11.00 a.m. Rev. E. M. Wood preached the memorial sermon "Keep the Faith." It was very powerful as well as impressive.

REV. HENRY H. TALBOT, Moderator of the Amherstburg Baptist Association which has just closed its 84th Session in London, Ont.

The choir rendered special music with the assistance of Mrs. Shaw, Mrs. Hunter and Mrs. Berry rendered two very touching solos.

The church was beautifully decorated and the spirit of welcome was in the air. The committee did its work of entertaining wonderfully leaving nothing undone to make it pleasant for the delegates.

All parted on Monday morning, rejoicing. Session next year will be held in Toronto at the University Ave. Baptist Church.

Rev. H. L. Talbot, who was elected Moderator, officiated at the laying of the corner stone of the new Hill St. Baptist Church.

"I have built a house of habitation for thee."

With the repetition of these words Rev. H. L. Talbot laid the corner stone of the new Hill Street Baptist Church which marked one of the closing services of the 84th annual session of the association. The ceremony was one of the most impressive ever held in the colored Baptist circles of London, and was most fitting in view of the presence of some 40 delegates to the association's session which joined in the services together with a congregation which filled the church lawn to capacity.

While our joys may not exceed our expectations, our expenses always do.

Cayuga Baptist Church Holds 76th Anniversary

The North Cayuga Baptist Church has just celebrated its 76th anniversary by conducting most impressive services. The pastor, Rev. R. J. Devine gave an historic sketch of the church from both spiritual and material standpoint. He asserted that ten runaway slaves met and laid the foundation of the church. Among this number was Steven Street whose log cabin was first used as a place of worship. He afterwards donated the ground on which the church now stands. Many of the grand children and great grand children of the ten founders are members and supporters of the church which their forefathers established. The present edifice is a beautiful brick edifice which was built in 1882. The Rev. S. G. Harris opened the new church and he also preached the 50th Anniversary sermon 26 years ago.

Rev. Devine spoke at the morning services. He spoke on the sure foundation on which Jesus builded the church. Rev. Trueblood delivered a most able sermon at the evening service.

The choir rendered special music. The offering for the day was $43.65.

Negro Heads The Largest Presbytery

Negro heads largest prebytery.

Pittsburg, Pa., Sept.—(By The Associated Negro Press)—At the final meeting of the semi-annual session of the Pittsburgh Presbytery, Tuesday, the Rev. Dr. C. H. Trusty, pastor of Grace Memorial Presbyterian Church, was elected Moderator of that body. The local presbytery, representing 300 churches is the largest in America. Dr. Trusty is the first Negro Moderator to be elected to that in a mixed Presbytery.

JOHN BROWN RAID TOOK PLACE IN 1859

(By Fred. Landon)

Sixty-five years ago this month John Brown and his men made their famous raid on Harper's Ferry, Va., the most dramatic incident in the slavery struggle before the Civil War. Though the plan to free the slaves was doomed to failure from the start, there persists the feeling expressed by Governor John Al Andrew at that time that "John Brown himself was right." Emerson and Thoreau in America and Victor Hugo in Europe, vied in their tributes to his life but time has paid the greatest tribute of all in the fact that "his soul goes marching on." The old song that northern boys of 1861 sang as they marched to battle was sung again half a century later by the youth of Britain. Canada and America once again going out in what seems to be the age-long struggle for liberty, democracy and righteousness.

John Brown, Puritan, fanatic, call him what you will, lived with the one idea that slavery was a great evil. His duty was to strike at it whenever he could. To that end he gave his life, enlisted the ardent support of his own family and others and finally made the complete sacrifice upon the scaffold at Charleston. Yet Brown himself rose to more dignity of purpose and moral grandeur during the weeks in prison awaiting death than ever before in his life. Like Paul he had fought a good fight, finished his course, kept the faith, and was now ready to be offered.

The Harper's Ferry Raid of October 1859 has special interest for Canadians because it was in the little Western Ontario town of Chatham, in May 1858, that the plans were laid which came to fruition in Virginia more than a year later. Brown had long meditated a bold stroke against slavery, convinced that the "milk and water principles" of the abolitionists, as he called their moral suggestion ideas, would never accomplish the great end of freeing the Negroes from their bonds. Direct action, a phrase that has significant meaning today, was Brown's idea of the way to rid the country of the evil and in the early part of 1858 he laid before some New England friends a plan by which he felt that the power of slavery could be broken.

AN INDISCRETION.

At the Canadian National Exhibition, which was recently held in Toronto, one of the most attractive features was community singing. All who cared to do so gathered in an enclosure where comfortable seats had been previously arranged. There was a leader, a piano accompanist and a big canvas, on which the verses were screened. The community singing was a big success since it was a departure from the regular routine of things and since it gave an opportunity for the rich, the poor, the high and the lowly to rub elbows and to feel the common bond of unity and sympathy that runs from breast to breast through all humanity. The Toronto Exhibition should be congratulated upon the addition of the community singing to its programme.

However, we are of the opinion that a great indiscretion was made when some one allowed the following verse to be screened. First came the instruction: "Sing loud for your singing is being broadcasted all over." Then came the verse:

"I went down South to see my Sal,
Sing polly wally doodle all the day,
I jumped upon a nigger for I thought
he was a horse,
Sing polly wally doodle all the day."
Or some such crazy lines as that. Of course our objection is to the word "nigger" as may be expected. It is reported that there were more than one thousand colored people visiting the fair from out of town. Many were from the States and there were several from so far as the Southern States. These colored visitors claim to have thoroughly enjoyed the Exhibition up to the time they were asked into the company of the community singers where they were requested to sing of the "nigger" who served as the faithful beast of burden. And during the singing of this special stanza it is claimed that all the colored folks were singled out as objects to be peered and laughed at. A very prominent Southern gentleman expressed himself in the following manner: "I am from the South where it is a common thing for the poorer class of whites to refer to us as niggers," but nowhere in the South would a fair board openly insult the colored people by allowing its community songs to include a stanza which contained the word "nigger" and then refer to him as a beast of burden. Remember too, you Torontonians told us to sing loud for our voices were being broadcasted."

We must admit that the incident was an insult not only to the colored visitors but to all of our group, still we trust it was not intentional on the part of the board of directors of the Exhibition. We are hoping however, that the indiscretion will not occur again at any time in the future.

Of course I know, as you will say, that we colored folk are sensitive souls. But when one has to meet similar slurs day after day, when you must "work like a nigger," when you must be the nigger in the wood pile, when work is fit only for "niggers and mules," you dear friend, even your calm soul would become a little sensitive.

It will be remembered that some years ago the colored people of New York State rose in their might against the practice of "hit the nigger on the head and get a cigar." Their protest caused a law to be enacted against the practice. We trust that we colored Canadians will not be forced to do a similar act.

EDITORIAL COMMENT.

We have no apology to make for the portrait of the Mayor which was painted by an artist of our group. Keep your eyes to the ground, pray, watch and wait.

HAMILTON NOTES

A very pleasant event took place at the home of Mrs. Mary Rhodes, when a reception was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rhodes. Mrs. Rhodes was formerly Miss Vera Alligood. Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes were quietly married on Sept. 4th by Dr. C. Emery Allen, then pastor of St. Paul's AME Church. The reception was given by Mrs. Rhodes and Mrs. Alligood, mothers of the bride and groom. About forty guests sat down to a delicious wedding supper, the rooms and tables being decorated with pink and white asters and gladioli. Toasts were proposed by all to the bride and groom. The many gifts showed the esteem the young couple held among their many friends. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome player piano.

Rev. Thomas Jackson passed through the city enroute from Brantford to Toronto and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Brown.

Mrs. Catharine Saunders of Buffalo passed through the city enroute to Chicago to attend the Hair Dressers Convention. Mrs. Saunders called and had dinner with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Hammond.

Mr. Johnny Preston spent the week end in Buffalo the guest of his sister, Mrs. Catherine Saunders.

Mr. Will Berry of Toronto was in the city visiting relatives and renewing old acquaintances.

The funeral of Mrs. Murdock, mother of Mrs. Waters took place from St. Paul's AME Church on Wed. at 2 p.m. Services were conducted by Rev. M. Hewitt.

Mrs. Charles Duncan of Cayuga, Mrs. Minnie Moxley of Brantford and daughters were the guests of Mrs. Morton, Charlton Ave. over the week end.

FRIENDS

(By S. E. G. Allen)

There were myriads of Angels, before this world was,

There are myriads that heaven still on messages sends.

Sometime I will join this great army because

Jesus and I are friends.

Yes, the friendships of earth may be noble and true,
Even glorified where Divine Presence extends.

But when He is the Master and governor too,

Then Jesus and I are friends.

And to answer the old question, "lovest thou me"

While on he this all-conquering love so descends,

I must give in return what I can full and free,

Then Jesus and I are friends.

How can I this love prove? How can I this love show?

For on Him all true happiness ever depends.

If I labor and live for Him, I'll surely know,

That Jesus and I are friends.

WINDSOR NOTES

All three services at the B M E church last Sunday were well attended. At 3 p.m. Rev. Howell of Detroit with his splendid choir, conducted the communion service.

Don't forget the social Tuesday, the 30th, under the auspices of the Stewardess Board. Lunch served with the admission 10 cents.

Hear Prof. Greenlaw, Bass soloist and his able wife, Mme. Mae Wood Greenlaw, elocutionist at the BME church on October 1st.

Mr. C. Parker, accompanied by the Misses Madeline, Esther and Mr. A. Parker motored to London to attend the Association.

Miss Grace Dungey is visiting her brother, Mr. J. Freeman in Lima, O.

The W.S.S. meets at the home of Mr. W. Brooks, Sandwich on Friday evening.

Mesdmes Munroe, Levi, Howard, S. A. Talbot and Mr. S. A. Brown enjoyed a wonderful motor trip through Sarnia and Port Huron on their return from London.

Mrs. A. Dungey of Chatham is visiting her grandchildren.

Miss W. Dobbins left this week for Oshawa where she will attend school, taking a nurse's course.

Miss R. Smith of Windsor Ave. left on Saturday for Nashville, Tenn. where she will attend school.

Miss Corinne Providence reports a delightful visit to the London Association.

Mrs. McDowell and Mrs. John Wells remain quite ill. Mr. John Seldom is much improved after his painful accident last week.

Mrs. (Rev) Jones is quit ill in bed at this writing.

Miss Lucey Stanfield, formerly of Toronto, is prospecting in Windsor where we trust she will become a permanent resident.

MOTHER

(by Gertrude Sarah Stacey)
Who rubs our aching head
Or cools our fevered brow,
And watches o'er our bed
When paid has laid us low?
Mother.

Who never knows fatigue
And herself things denies,
And works, and works, and works,
And pretties for us buys?
Mother.

And when we're far from home,
And having care and strife
And everything looks dark
With trouble in this life,
Whose voice is it we hear
Giving us sound advice,
Bidding us good cheer,
And smile this darkest life.
Mother.

It is said Egyptian girls are very pretty at fourteen but immediately begin to fade.
