We Have Learned

To look on trade from the public's point of view. It is an absolutely bad thing for us to sell you a wrong article, or to have you keep a thing you are not satisfied with. A bargain benefits both seller and buyer, or it is not a real bargain. And a real bargain is such, whether it be a patent leather dress boot, that meets your need and your liking at its regular price, of four dollars, or a dollar and a half shoe you really need, and which by chance we may sell at a third less than its worth. This different shoe store is common ground, where a continually-increasing number come to find a continually-improving collection of footwear. Our ways are easier appreciated than explained.

Ebullition in Southern China

The Wealthy Chinese Hurrying Away From Canton.

Jesus Fathers and 100 Native Christians Murdered in the Southern Part of Chi Li—Admiral Seymour's Position—

Large Chinese Force Proceeding to Pekin—How Tien Tsin Was Relieved.

London Wednesday June 27.—3:45 a.m.—The Jesuit fathers and 100 native Christians have been murdered in the southern part of the province of Chi Li.

A fresh phase of the ebullition in China is the probability of immediate outbreaks in the great southern provincial centers. The populace there is daily assuming a more hostile attitude towards foreigners and the latter perceive symptoms of a general rising, especially at Nanking, where, according to a dispatch to the Daily Express, dated yesterday, Kang Wu, one of the most truculent enemies of foreigners, has arrived by way of the Grand Canal, armed with full powers from the emperor to deal with the southern provinces. The friendly attitude of Viceroy Liu Kun Yih towards foreigners has brought him into disgrace with Prince Tuan, president of the Tsung Li Yamen.

UNREST AT CANTON.

The unrest at Canton is described by a dispatch from that city to the Daily Telegraph, dated Monday, via Hong Kong, yesterday: "It is feared that we are on the eve of a scene of bloodshed and anarchy in the two Quangs only paralleled during the Tai Ping rebellion. The signs of a murderous uprising are so manifest that wealthy Chinese are hurrying from Canton and the vicinity, taking their wives, families and valuables."

LI SENT TO PEKIN.

"Li Hung Chang has been again temporarily ordered to Pekin. His enemies declare that they will murder him before he can reach the capital."

The presence alone restrains the revolutionary elements here. His departure will let loose the Black Flags and Red Girdles. Knowing this, Li's trusted officers are sending their families to Hong Kong. The viceroy himself trusts the Americans in this crisis. He says that they alone want no territory, and he places himself largely—almost unreservedly—in their hands.

All the missionaries have been notified through the medium of runners. They are leaving Canton hurriedly, and only a few are now here.

"Commander McLean, of the United States steamship Don Juan de Austria, is the first here to protect foreign interests. He is capable and energetic, and is reinforced by his majesty's ship Red Pole. Two hundred foreign residents of Shamsena are armed. The Canton population reaches 2,000,000, in addition to 250,000 living on junks and sampans (flat-bottomed river boats). Most of these people are disaffected, and incendiary proclamations are increasing the number of the virulent."

THE RELIEF OF TIEN TSIN.

A Che Foo dispatch, dated June 26, says: The Americans and British entered Tien Tsin, first silencing the guns of the Chinese lines. The foreigners were close behind. The Russians lost four killed and 30 wounded. The losses of the other nationalities were small.

WHERE SEYMOUR IS.

Admiral Seymour's force is about ten miles from Tien Tsin. It is surrounded by Chinese troops and Boxers, and hampered by the presence of sick and wounded. It is reported that all foreigners were landing at Taku, and that the Chinese guard, and it is assumed that they are with Admiral Seymour.

A Washington telegram says: This is the first word of any kind that has reached the party of 2,500, under Vice-Admiral Seymour, and including Capt. McCalla, with about 100 United States marines.

In Admiral Kempff's information it discloses that Admiral Seymour's force, last heard of at Lang Fang, short of supplies and water, and with a menacing army of Chinese about it, retraced a good part of the distance previously covered, and is now back within ten miles from Tien Tsin. The distance from Tien Tsin to Lang Fang is 55 miles, and to Pekin about 80 miles. It is to succor this party that the latest expedition left Tien Tsin on June 24, according to the closing words of Admiral Kempff's report. The first body of foreign troops, about 450 in number, and including 56 American marines, which went to Pekin to guard the legations, is thought to have gotten through.

JAPS LANDING AT TAKU.

A Che Foo dispatch says: One thousand Japanese are landing at Taku, and 2,000 more are expected tomorrow, when a battalion of French is also due.

The Netherlands cruiser Holland has left Java for Che Foo.

Shanghai cables say that the French consul there has received a telegram from Shang Tung asserting that 11,000 Chinese troops are making a forced march from Shan Tung to Pekin.

WANT AN ALLIED ARMY OF A HUNDRED THOUSAND.

The foreigners everywhere are urging the immediate concentration of an army of 100,000 men, or at least 50,000 men, for an advance on Pekin. Many persons familiar with the Chinese character think the foreign ministers

JAPAN'S CONTRIBUTION TOWARDS OUTLAY.

Yokohama, June 27.—The emperor has sanctioned an outlay of 15,000,000 yen towards the cost of military operations in China.

It is reported in Seoul that there is increasing hostility toward Christians in Korea. It is said, repudiates the land contract which gave to Russia a site for a coal depot and a naval hospital, as Russia wished to apply towards the price the amount of the pending claims against Korea.

MISSIONARIES LEAVE PEKIN UNDER ESCORT.

Paris, June 27.—The French consul-general at Shanghai, telegraphing under date of yesterday, announces that the allied troops have entered Tien Tsin. He also states that the foreign ministers have departed from Pekin for the north, accompanied by a Chinese escort. The viceroy of Nankin and the viceroy of Thiang Gichetong have requested the consul to announce to the French Government that they are protecting the interests of some of the missionaries and some of the foreign merchants in that region.

A Yang Tse telegram of the same date states that the French consul at Che Foo confirms the news of the deliverance from Tien Tsin, and the fact that the foreign missionaries left Pekin under an escort.

LABOR MATTERS

End of the Long Strike in Chicago Seems in Sight.

The Ironworkers' Conference Will Affect 40,000 Men.

Chicago, June 27.—At 2:15 this morning the Bricklayers' Union withdrew from the Building Trades' Council. It is said this marks the practical ending of the strike that has been in progress for months, tying up building operations in Chicago, and keeping many thousands of men idle. This afternoon the arbitration committee of the bricklayers will meet the arbitration committee of the Chicago Masons' and Builders' Association, and sign a working agreement to extend to April, 1902, and the bricklayers will immediately be given work. As the bridge and structural iron workers, gas fitters, plumbers, plasterers and hod carriers have been on the verge of quitting the trades council for over a week, they will now in all probability follow the course of the bricklayers. The bricklayers have a membership of over 3,000. The strike has lasted from October, 1899, until June, 1900, involving a loss in wages to laborers in and within a radius of 100 miles of Chicago of over $150,000 a day. About 50,000 men are said to have been idle most of the time. Not since the great railroad strike of 1894 has there been a strike in this country which approached the proportions of the amalgamated building trades in Chicago. It began, practically Oct. 1, 1899, but for more than a year prior buildings had been constructed under unsatisfactory conditions, and at a cost vastly higher than was warranted.

FORTY THOUSAND IRON MEN AFFECTED.

Detroit, June 27.—An important conference between the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers and the chief officers of the two big iron and steel trusts, the Republic Iron Company and the American Steel Hoop Company, is being held in the Union Trust building, the outcome of which is eagerly watched for by nearly 40,000 men throughout the country. So far the conference are now no nearer a decision than they were before. Yesterday was spent in discussing the "puddling and finishing" scale. It seems now more than likely that the conference will adjourn without taking any action, and it will be necessary to call another conference for some future date.

Seymour

Connection Opened Between the Admiral and the Relief Column.

London, June 27.—A special from Shanghai, dated last evening, says that communication with Admiral Seymour was opened by the Tien Tsin relief force Sunday. Admiral Seymour was at that time said to be ten miles from Tien Tsin. Three hundred of the members of his party were reported sick, and wounded, and only a few had been killed. They were short of provisions, and were returning without having rescued the legations.

Shanghai, June 27.—A German paper has an uncredited statement to the effect that Admiral Seymour is eight miles from Tien Tsin, with 62 killed and 200 wounded.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT

The Militia Estimates—More Arms To Be Bought—The New Rifles.

Ottawa, June 26.—The House has been in committee of supply all day with the militia estimates under discussion. These votes are, of course, important, and it is quite proper to have a fair amount of discussion and to call for necessary explanations. Here, however, as in other branches of government, the opposition in answering questions, and from his familiarity with the affairs of the department he was able to rapidly respond to all interrogations. Sir Charles Tupper was not in the house yesterday, but was engaged with Dr. Montague up in Haddington. The opposition leader was unaware of what transpired last night, when Dr. Borden made his statement upon militia affairs generally and the policy for the future, so far as determined upon and today he thirted for information as to what the minister proposed to do to encourage rifle-shooting. Therefore, in order to satisfy the curiosity of Sir Charles, Dr. Borden had to go over much of the ground he had already covered. This was somewhat exasperating, and involved a waste of time, but the minister responded with charming good nature. The sale of obsolete rifles, which were returned to store when many of the militia corps were rearmaged with new magazine rifle, had to be rehearsed by the opposition, although it was fully threshed out last session. The weapons had been in use for years, and were almost worn out. In order to get rid of them and save the cost of their care, tenders were invited by advertisements published in the public press, and the rifles were sold at from 75 to 80 cents each. The government got the highest price that could be obtained at public competition, and no criticism can be founded on their action. Nevertheless, the opposition were bound to revive the story, in the hope of making a little cheap capital and blocking business. The first bidding was for $12,000, but the second succeeded only too well. No fault, perhaps, could be found with the discussion on the point raised by Mr. Foster at an earlier period in the day, when he questioned whether the country was getting an adequate return on the money annually spent in drilling the militia. The ex-finance minister readily admitted that he had no practical knowledge of drill, but he thought that at annual camps the exercise of troops en masse might be abandoned for the loose formation shown to be necessary by the South African war. In his opinion recent warfare had demonstrated that it did not require much training to make good soldiers, and render them self-reliant. The minister was able to inform Mr. Foster that at attack in solid formation had for years been discarded, and rarely, except on parade occasions, were troops massed together. He came out squarely against any reduction in the period of annual drill; it should rather be increased than lessened. He assured the ex-minister that the militia would strive to profit in every way by the lessons of the campaign in South Africa. Col. Dornville expressed a desire to see the annual camps lengthened to four or five days, and he made a practical suggestion that every corps should be given to the instruction of the troops in rifle-shooting. Dr. Sproule protested against any tendency to the development of the militia as a military force, and he was so attentive as to cause young men to accept it in preference to other vocations. The discussion raised by Mr. Foster was not altogether without merit, but much of the talk that went on later was sheer waste of time.

Tonight the opposition expressed a good deal of simulated indignation over what they termed the refusal of the minister of militia to furnish particulars with respect to a vote of $240,000 for arms and ammunition. There was no ground for the charge, but, of course, that did not matter much. The sum is the balance of the $3,000,000 voted in 1895 for the purpose of equipping the militia with modern artillery rifles. The minister stated that it was intended to purchase three batteries of 12-pound guns at a cost of $500,000 per battery, leaving $900,000 to be expended upon rifles. The purchases, he said, would be made through the war office, and subject to war office inspection. It was seemingly difficult to satisfy the opposition, for they pressed for information as to the kind of rifle to be used. The minister explained that it was scarcely possible at the present time to state definitely that the rifle would be the best obtainable. Improvements were constantly taking place in the character of small arms, and the war office, which would be relied upon to give advice in the matter, might be able to suggest improvements. This vote would only purchase some four or five thousand rifles. Mr. Foster chose to construe the minister's remarks into an admission that the Lee-Enfield rifle would be abandoned, and wanted to know what authority there was for condemning that weapon. Time and time again it was pointed out that the advice of the war office would be followed, whether it was to purchase the Lee-Enfield or an entirely new rifle. Sir Charles Tupper, in his exaggerated style, termed the minister's action as acts of extreme folly. This brought Dr. Borden to his feet with the statement that the leading periodicals teemed with articles by prominent British officers, showing that Britain did not possess the best cannon and the best rifle extant. He would spend no more money on ordnance or rifles until he was satisfied that he could get for Canada the best possible weapon, which could be purchased. The vote finally passed, but the day's discussion placed the opposition on record as practically opposed to annual drill and the purchase of the most improved rifle for the Canadian militia.

DELAWARE

Grand Rally of the Campbell Clan at the Home of Mrs. John Brodie.

Delaware, June 27.—Mrs. Brodie, relict of the late John Brodie, of Caradoc, celebrated her 70th birthday anniversary on Monday, June 25, when the Campbell and Brodie clans from London, Toronto, Warwick, Glenora, Dunwich, Ekfrid and Southampton assembled. John Campbell, ex-mayor of London, addressed the meeting, and said in the course of his remarks that there was not a black spot on the escutcheon of the clan.

Robert Campbell, of Warwick, recited a number of poems composed by himself.

Talcolm Campbell, ex-reeve of Ekfrid and ex-warden of Middlesex, 82 years of age, hale, hearty, alert and in full possession of his intellectual forces, also addressed the gathering.

James Campbell, of Warwick, congratulated himself at being a happy participant of the enjoyable scenes enacted.

Rev. Mr. McNair, Presbyterian minister of Oakville, and G. Elliott, ex-reeve of Ekfrid, extended their congratulations. The clan dispersed, wishing the hostess a long life and a happy one. Before parting the guests sat down to a splendid repast.

Mrs. Brodie is a native of Glasgow, being born there on June 25, 1830. She quit the land of her nativity in 1846, a charming damsel of 16 years. Shortly after her arrival here she was wooed and won by Mr. John Brodie, who predeceased her 18 years. Seven children blessed their union, three sons and four daughters. The daughters are: Mrs. (Rev.) McNair, of Oakville; Mrs. Holland, of California; Mrs. Cobban, of Caradoc; Miss Sarah Brodie, who, having taught school for a number of years, is now at the home; Messrs. Hugh, Duncan and John Brodie have established themselves on adjacent farms to the homestead.

The income tax in India is levied on all incomes of £53 and upward, and then only one man in 700 comes within its scope.

BACK FROM SOUTH AFRICA

Windsor Gave Ernest Craig a Warm Welcome—3,000 People Turned Out Last Night.

Windsor, June 27.—Ernest Craig is the first Windsor soldier to return home from service in South Africa. He arrived yesterday afternoon and the news of his home-coming soon spread all over the city. A number of people were at the station to greet him. A carriage was provided to take Craig home, and when he appeared on the street he was greeted by three rousing cheers. Upon his arrival at his parents' home on Victoria avenue he was hospitably welcomed by a number of ladies who had gathered to welcome him. He was afterwards driven to his father's carriage factory as the employees had expressed a wish to meet him.

"Hun," as he is known all over the city, looks well. He still has to use a cane on account of his leg, which was wounded by a piece of shell. He sustained a compound fracture of the right ankle while on the field at the battle of Paardeberg, and owing to the physicians at first taking it for a severe sprain the fracture was not attended to for several days. This was the reason for his being sent to the hospital in England.

In speaking of his experiences to a representative of the Detroit Free Press, he said that he had been well treated from the time he left Windsor until his return. The Canadian regiment had done outpost and other fatigue duties all along the line from De Aar to Belmont. This work had seasoned the recruits and in a way fitted them for the duties of the remainder of the campaign. The boys had all performed their duties like men, and had won the respect and admiration of all the officers.

He gave a short sketch of the part the Canadians took in the battle of Paardeberg. "It was in the charge in this battle," said Mr. Craig, "that poor Walter White lost his life. He was shot through the head and instantly killed. His body was found within a few feet of the Boer trenches. But none of his companions were surprised when they learned that White had been foremost in the battle. It was the same from the time we reached Cape Town until he lost his life. He was the first to volunteer for outpost or picket duty, and would stand more hardships than all the rest of us. He was a born soldier if ever there was one, and there was not a man who could take his place in the regiment for personal bravery and endurance."

MET ROBERT BARR.

"I left Cape Town on April 5 for England, and upon arrival there was assigned to Herbert Hospital, Woolwich. Here my leg was attended to until I went on a visit to Robert Barr, the novelist. I was then mustered out of the imperial army and sent home. The other wounded boys in England will be home shortly, and from what I heard in England it is altogether likely that the Canadian regiment will be sent home inside of two months."

In reply to the question as to his thought of the Boers, Craig said that he did not think much of them. "They had been cracked up as being good shots, but they did not show their good marksmanship at the battle of Paardeberg. If they had, there would have been very few left alive out of the Canadians and Cornwalls. The British had to fight in the open all day, while the Boers could not be seen, and had every chance to do sniping and sharp-shooting. They were brave enough when they were behind a pile of rocks, but if they were caught in the open they either ran or surrendered. They are also very treacherous. Time and again they fired on our ambulance wagons. They also abused the white flag privileges, as they often hoisted one simply to lead our fellows into an ambush. These outrages became so frequent that at the battle of Paardeberg our orders were to fire on all white flags until the Boers laid down their arms as a token of surrender."

THREE THOUSAND TURNED OUT LAST NIGHT.

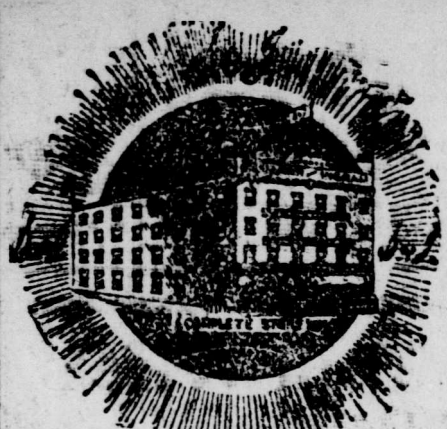

Last evening Craig was tendered a reception such as no citizen of Windsor ever received before. Four companies of the 24th Regiment turned out to meet him at the Craig residence on Victoria avenue. The soldiers were followed by a crowd of people anxious to catch a glimpse of Craig, and it is estimated that fully 3,000 people were present. Some of the leading citizens had been invited to the house, where they were lined up and fired a feu-de-joie and gave three cheers and a tiger for Craig. A large number of people went inside the house and greeted Craig, he being unable to stand out doors on account of his lame leg. Speeches were delivered by a number of persons, and the reception closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

A PYTHON LOOSE ON A GUN-BOAT.

An exciting and amusing affair which recently occurred on board H. M. S. Retribution, while it lasted, gave the ship's company a lively quarter of an hour, is thus described by the Singapore Free Press:

"There are two pets on board, a big Borneo orang-utang, and the other a fine specimen of a python, about 10 or 20 feet in length. This creature, which had dined heartily on a deer about three weeks before, had begun to feel its appetite come back again, and in searching about its box for an exit found a place in the side in which to pair. His snakeship was through that in a twinkling unobserved, and, seeing the orang-utang, who was chained up a few yards off, invited himself to the feast of the moment to not look upon that unfortunate quadruman. The python at once rolled for his spring—his mode of saying grace before meat—when suddenly the quartermaster, Dickson, taking all at a glance, promptly cut poor excited Retribution in two with a cut-throat razor, and while it lasted gave the ship's company a lively quarter of an hour, is thus described by the Singapore Free Press:

The Census Man.

[James W. Foley, jun., in Bismarck Tribune.]

Are you ready for the census?
Have you read the census?
Have you studied your ancestors,
For a dozen cycles back?
Have you counted up your freckles?
Have you figured up your sins?
For you know you'll have to tell 'em
When the census man begins.

Have you added up the children?
Have you figured up your cash?
Did you ever find a button
In a dish of corn beef hash?
Are you deaf or blind or ugly?
Do you toe out or toe in?
All this you'll have to answer
When the census man begins.

Do you lisp or squint or stammer?
Ever have the whooping cough?
Are you handy with the hammer?
Ever do a stunt at golf?
Are you fond of checkered neckties?
Ever fall at bark your shins?
Did you swear? You'll have to tell it
When the census man begins.

If your partner gave trump signal
Would you lead him back the deuce?
Ever wear a porous plaster?
Was it hard to get it loose?
Are you fond of pickled onions?
Do you smoke or chew or swear?
Have you any corns or bunions?
What's the size of shoe you wear?

Oh, you might as well look pleasant,
For you know you'll have to tell.
Would you use a bit more sugar
When the jelly don't tell?
What the nature of your labors?
Do you sugar your baked beans?
Are you friendly with the neighbors?
Do you live beyond your means?

Are you lean or stout or medium?
Do you suit yourself that way?
Did your vaccination take well?
Did you move the first of May?
If a bob-tailed flush called aces,
Could you tell me which one wins?
Oh, you'll have to come to center
When the census man begins.

Are the children well this summer?
Are they troubled with the hives?
Don't you think pink teas are tiresome?
Did you ever play high fives?
Didn't see you at the party?
Don't you go out any more?
When the morning? Can you tell me
Who the family is next door?

PRESIDENT KRUGER BROKEN BY WAR.

Captain Allum, the Norwegian military attaché with the Boer forces, publishes in today's Politiken a conversation he had with President Kruger in Pretoria.

When introduced by Mr. Retz to the president he saw that he was very much aged in appearance. Specially noticeable was an affection of the eyes, which so troubled the president that, in spite of his gray spectacles, he was obliged to keep his eyes closed during the whole of the interview.

Besides this he was very depressed and silent. "When," writes the captain, "Mr. Retz informed him of my errand, he suddenly cried out: 'What are we poor Boers to do! The English

"President Kruger referred to a report he had just received of a Kaffir invasion by way of Derdepoort.

"I got the impression," continues the writer, "that not only President Kruger but all the other government officials looked upon everything but their honor as lost, but in spite of that had no intention of giving in."

A UNIQUE GIFT.
[London Canada Gazette.]
There is apparently an individual in Western Canada who thinks that Manitoba wheat is worth its weight in silver.

At any rate, a well-known Victoria couple were married a few days ago, and their friends in England had shipped them a handsome wedding present of plate. The box duly arrived at its destination; but when opened the plate had gone and in its place was a bushel of Manitoba grain.

A KAFFIR NEWSPAPER.
It is not generally known that the Kaffirs of South Africa, popularly supposed to be a tribe of wild savages, publish a newspaper. It is called the "Imvo," and has for its editors Mr. Tongo Jabaire and Mr. Makubali. Contrary to the reports of the lemmings of the Kaffirs in the present war, the Imvo strongly sympathizes with the Boers.—Baltimore News.

Sharkey Knocked Out by Ruhl
—London Ball Team Loses to Chatham—Bay City Will Likely Take Grand Rapids' Place in the International.

BASEBALL

LOST TO CHATHAM.

London's easy win from Chatham on Monday gave them an overdue confidence, and yesterday they were turned down in a style by the visitors. Chatham's star twirler, Andy Thompson, who hails from Woodstock, was in the box for the outsiders, and was one too many for the local batsmen. He pitched a great ball, and was especially effective at critical points of the game. Wiggs, who did the slab work for the home team, was in good form, and only allowed the visitors seven hits, three of them made by Grimshaw, formerly with London. Errors were responsible for four of the Chatham's six runs, and Grimshaw's homer another. The sixth was given to them by Wiggs, who issued a pass, made a wild pitch, and the next man up singled. The visitors scored in the second inning on a wild throw of Radcliffe's and Lohman let a ball go through him a little later, costing another tally. Pete repeated the same performance in the seventh, and the cost was the same, another run. Wiggs steadied right down, and kept the visitors guessing. In the third inning, with three men on bases, he struck out the last man, and in the seventh, with the bases all filled, he struck out the last two men. Neal, who covers the left pasture for the Chathams, is one of the best fielders in the league. He had six difficult chances, without an error, covering all kinds of ground. The score:

FLYS.

Looking over a rule book back in '82, a fan came upon one or two rules that would make good in any more modern book years to come.

giving the umpire a right to call it a balk when the pitcher held the ball too long and delayed the game. Another imposed a fine on the player not coming to bat promptly at the umpire's call. A third amusing rule, which will be remembered, said that in case the ball was lost for any cause, at the expiration of five minutes the umpire should replace it with a new ball and allow the game to go on.

A friendly game of ball was played at Springfield last night between the clerks of Reid's and Westman's vs. McLean's and Taylor's. It resulted in favor of the latter 16 to 1. Batteries—Reid's and Westman's, Neithy and Brown; McLean's and Taylor's, Johnson and Taylor.

FISTIO.

RUHLIN PUT SHARKEY TO SLEEP.

Seaside A. C., Coney Island, New York, June 26.—For the first time in his pugilistic career Tom Sharkey went down to decisive defeat tonight in the historic arena of the Seaside A. C., and big Gus Ruhl, the Ohio pugilist, was his conqueror. It was a clean knock-out that came after fifteen rounds of fight that made a memorable ring battle. Save in the matter of aggressiveness, Ruhl led from the start off in every feature of the game, and at all times had the fight well in hand. Sharkey did not give up his place in the line of the first-class heavy-weights without a desperate struggle. In the fifteenth round Tom was first up. He closed, but Gus sent him away with short left and right jolts on the head. Tom looked tired, and Gus followed him and jabbed his head back and crossed his right arm to the jaw. Tom staggered, and Ruhl stepped in and banged him with both hands, until the sailor staggered to the floor. He was up at the count, but unable to make a defense, he again heaved to the ground. Ruhl stepped in and with bulldog gameness he struggled again to his feet. Gus by this time was hardly able to use his hands, but when Tom again regained his feet he staggered to the game and after a short rest, he rights to the head, that looked as if they would not hurt a child. But Tom was so badly done for that he again went down under them. Again Tom rose blindly to his feet, and thus allowed Ruhl to clinch him, and with a straight left to the face, and right uppercut to the jaw Tom toppled forward, all out, and Referee Johnny White waved Ruhl to his corner. The sailor pugilist's seconds carried him to his corner, where he gradually revived and was soon able to leave the ring.

ASTONISHED THE EDITOR.

Editor S. A. Brown, of Bennettville, S. C., was once immensely surprised. "Though long suffering from dyspepsia," he writes, "my wife was greatly run down. She had no strength or vigor and suffered great distress from her stomach, but she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and, after using four bottles, she is entirely well, and can eat anything. It's a grand tonic, and its gentle, laxative qualities are splendid for torpid liver." For Indigestion, Loss of Appetite, Stomach and Liver troubles it's a positive, guaranteed cure. Only 50c, at W. T. Strong & Co.'s drug store.

The value of Transvaal mining machinery is not far from $400,000. Most of the machinery (about $400,000 worth) is on the Witwatersrand.

THE RAILWAYS.

Following are the official returns of traffic on the G. T. R. for the week ended June 21, 1900, as compared with the corresponding period last year: 1900, $453,573; 1899, $419,099; increase, $34,474. In this return the Chicago and Grand Trunk earnings are omitted.

The traffic returns of the C. P. R. for the week ended June 21, 1900, amounted to $594,000, as compared with $583,000 for the corresponding week of last year.

LAKE SHORE.

Lake Shore, Bosanquet, June 27.—Miss Lena Mackey, of Milleta, Manitowish, spent last week very pleasantly at the home of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. A. Johnson, here. She has gone to visit in London for a few weeks, and will spend about two months with her Watson and Beatty cousins in Manitowish, Manitowish Island, and will also visit her brothers in Kewatin, and spend a week with friends in Winnipeg; and about Sept. 1 will resume her duties as music teacher in Milleta.

Miss Mackey has very greatly improved in health since her last visit to Lake Shore, Bosanquet.

Mrs. Howland, of Forest, has gone to visit her granddaughters—Mrs. George Brown and Mrs. McKee, of Port Huron, and her son, Rev. T. F. Howland, of Scotton Avenue Baptist Church, Detroit.

Mrs. Kate Watson is very ill at her home here, and her daughter, Mrs. Anthony, has come to be with her for a season.

The Sons of Scotland picnic at Valley Grove, on the 22nd, was a success in spite of the rain, which lasted nearly all day.

On the whole, the crops are rather light in the greater part of Bosanquet.

A POPULAR MISTAKE.

Regarding Remedies for Dyspepsia and Indigestion.

The national disease of Americans is indigestion, or in its chronic form, dyspepsia, and for the very reason that it is so common many people neglect taking proper treatment for what they consider trifling stomach trouble, when as a matter of fact indigestion lays the foundation for many incurable diseases. No person with a vigorous, healthy stomach will fall a victim to consumption. Many kidney diseases and heart trouble date their beginning from poor digestion; thin, nervous people are really so because their stomachs are out of gear; weary, languid, faded out women owe their condition to imperfect digestion.

When nearly every person you meet is afflicted with weak digestion, it is not surprising that nearly every secret patent medicine on the market claims to be a cure for dyspepsia, as well as a score of other troubles, when, in fact, as Dr. Wertheimer says, there is but one genuine dyspepsia cure which is perfectly safe and reliable, and moreover, this remedy is not a patent medicine, but it is a scientific combination of pure pepsin (free from animal matter), vegetable essences, fruit salts and bismuth. It is sold by druggists under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. No extravagant claims are made for them, but for indigestion or any stomach trouble, Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are the only remedy that has been discovered. They act on the food eaten, no dieting is necessary, simply eat all the wholesome food you want and these tablets will digest it. A cure results, because all the stomach troubles are a rest, which Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets give by doing the work of digestion.

"Success" for July is fascinatingly good. It has a score of features worth mentioning, particularly a sketch of Helen Gould by Congressman Landis, a story of Lincoln under fire in the Confederate sharpshooters by Secretary Cox of the National Museum, and a symposium by James B. Dill, Dr. George F. Shady, and Rev. Newell Dwight Hillis, on the question, "Are the three great professions declining?"

The Canadian Mahdi.

It is the prerogative of an Opposition leader to profess to be optimistic with regard to his prospects. If that comfort were not conceded to Sir Charles Tupper at the present time, how depressing would be his message to his supporters? Yet there is such a thing as a leader drawing too much upon the credulity of his supporters, and that the Nova Scotia Knight is in the habit of doing to an extent that simply makes his prognostications at all times worse than valueless. For example, on Saturday last Sir Charles Tupper went up into Pontiac county, taking Mr. Bell, M.P., from Nova Scotia, and Mr. McInerney, M.P., from New Brunswick, with him. The Opposition leader there once more gave utterance to his prophecy—which he has repeated so often that we verily believe he has convinced himself, if no one else, that it is true—that the Opposition at the next Dominion general election will sweep all before them, and he professes to see all around him evidences of Liberal decay and Conservative vitality. Now, Pontiac is a county lying right alongside North Renfrew, where the other day there was an election. The seat had been held till the death of Mr. White, the late member, by the Conservatives, and it was announced by Sir Charles Tupper's Ottawa organ that in the by-election the Liberals would be hopelessly defeated. In this regard, the organ was but crowing as the "old cock" had decreed the crowing should be. The Opposition forces were marshaled by Hon. Peter White, speaker in the last Parliament, and a recognized leader in the Conservative party. An Opposition candidate was put in the field, many say with no intention of running, but as a means of temporarily pacifying those who had put their faith in Sir Charles Tupper's prognostications. But neither this candidate nor anyone else on the Opposition side, had the courage to accept nomination, and the Liberal nominee captured this hitherto Conservative constituency hands down.

Does such an experience as this, following the winning of such old-time Conservative constituencies as Bagot, in Quebec, and Brockville, in Ontario, by the Government candidates, afford proof that Sir Charles is doing anything else than talking through his head?

This donning of the mantle of prophecy, in order to bamboozle the unthinking electorate, has even been the resort of the Opposition leader. Who does not remember the extravagant prognostications of coming victory which Sir Charles gave utterance to in this city on the eve of the general election in 1897? Then he was just as confident of victory, so he said, as he professes to be now. He proved equally a Canadian edition of the Mahdi, when the general elections in the Province of Nova Scotia took place two years ago. He then undertook to organize the Conservative forces in that Province, where he is ever boasting that he is a great power. He came back to Ottawa from a tour through Nova Scotia, and maintained to an interviewer from a local journal that he had marshaled the Opposition for the greatest victory it had ever attained. "A splendid organization," he asserted, "had been formed in every county of the Province, experienced leaders had been chosen, and all classes were ready to aid in the success of his followers." The result once more showed how reckless of speech this man is, for of the 33 seats 35 were carried by the Liberals, only three members of the Opposition being left to tell the tale. Again, in the fall of 1898, Mr. Foster, ex-Finance Minister, organized the Conservative forces against the Government of Hon. Mr. Emerson, with a view of promoting the interests of the Conservatives for the coming federal campaign. Sir Charles Tupper gave the movement his blessing; denounced Hon. Mr. Costigan, because he would not fall in with the crusade; and predicted that Hon. Mr. Blair's followers—the campaign being in reality directed against the Minister of Railways—would be literally snowed under. The election was held, and the result, as gathered by a well-informed correspondent, has been: (1) The Emerson Government holds 40 out of the 46 Provincial seats; (2) Mr. Foster's faction is disorganized and demoralized, and Mr. Foster himself is on the hunt for a seat; (3) those Conservatives who supported Mr. Blair, and now support Mr. Emerson, because they believe in keeping Provincial and Dominion issues separate, will give their support to the Liberals in the forthcoming campaign. Among them is Hon. Mr. Tweedie, who has hitherto, in all Dominion elections, been a power for the Conservative party, and Hon. John Costigan, who was a member of the Governments of Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson, and subsequent Administrations.

The fact is that the Opposition leader is as rash in making prophecies as he is in hurling accusations at the heads of all who will not accept his dictum. His prognostications can safely be discounted by from 50 to 75 per cent.

The Boers are just like the average descendants of the sturdy northern races. They do not seem to know when they are "licked."

Progress in Canada.

The past year has been the most prosperous in the history of our country.—Mr. B. E. Walker, general manager of the Bank of Commerce.

Yet we have some politicians in Canada who pretend that they would gladly replace the present condition with those which prevailed in 1895 and the first half of 1896. Then we had a divided Government—one-half calling the other "a nest of traitors"—mismanagement of public affairs, poor immigration results, and a big expenditure of public money without corresponding benefit to the taxpayers. Now the country is being run on business principles, and the beneficial result is apparent on every side.

A Gubernatorial Conundrum.

There is something funny in the British Columbia gubernatorial situation. During the late campaign, Mr. W. W. B. McInnes, ex-M.P., who was running for a seat in the Legislature, assured the electors that his father was very tired of the office of lieutenant-governor, and had for two years been pressing on the Dominion Government to accept his resignation. Now, after he has dismissed one cabinet after another, and had his action in selecting Joseph Martin as his chief adviser, condemned by the electors, it is asserted by Lieutenant-Governor McInnes' friends that he refused to accept a polite hint to resign, as is the constitutional course. In other words, he was earnestly anxious to go out of office, yet equally earnest in holding on to it. His honor is a riddle. Who can solve him? We give him up.

Britain's Recent Wars.

Great Britain has had 40 wars since her Majesty came on the throne in 1837. One has been with Russia, three with Afghanistan, four with China, two against the Sikhs, three with the Kaffirs, three against Burmah, nine in India, three in Ashanti, one against Abyssinia, one with Persia, one against the Zulus, one against the Basutos, one in Egypt, three in the Sudan, one in Zanzibar, one against the Matabels and two in the Transvaal. The last conflict in South Africa has been the most expensive, and its expense is not by any means yet ended. There has been no war with China since 1860. Let us hope that the present conflict may not develop into another expensive embroglio.

Will the "open door" in China have to be battered down before the powers are able to establish peaceful entry?

Many of the Chinamen around Taku, the Chinese city where the European allies have been in conflict with the Boxers, have red hair. Did you ever see a red-headed Chinaman in Canada?

One of the text-books of the Chinese military college at Peking contains this sage instruction: "A wise general plays sweet music before going into battle in order to lull his enemies into a deep sleep." Need we wonder that the Japs easily beat the Chinese in the conflict of a year or two since, or that a couple of thousand well-trained British soldiers have at times overcome 50,000 Mongolians?

CANAL ALL RIGHT

U. S. Engineers Decide Lake Carriers Have No Reason to Kick.

Washington, June 27.—No restraining order will be issued by the war department to stop the flow through the Chicago drainage canal. The Lake Carriers' Association has lost its fight, but does not feel so badly about it, because boat captains are already beginning to handle their vessels more easily in the changed current.

Major Willard, of the corps of engineers stationed at Chicago, says in his report to the war department that the whole matter has been given careful consideration, and while it is true that the canal has changed the current right about, the benefits to Chicago are very great, and lake captains are rapidly becoming used to the new way of the river. Concerning the discharge of water, the major estimates that at the average the current is a mile an hour, and at the maximum one and a half.

FOREPAUGH'S WIDOW

Becomes the Bride of a Philadelphia Bank Clerk.

New York, June 27.—Mrs. Adam Forepaugh, widow of the famous showman, as a bride of the bride Atlantic, sailed for Europe with her husband, Walter Nagle, a Philadelphia bank clerk, the day after they were secretly married at Grace Church, in this city. The Italian was much interested in the news today. It was a complete surprise, except to a few intimate friends. They deny that there was any particular secrecy about the affair.

The bride's maiden name was Mary C. Fatman. She is 33 years old. Her family lives in Philadelphia, where Mrs. Nagle long was regarded as one of the most chic and best gowning women in society. All of her gowns were Parisian creations, made by Worth, Felix and other well known masters in the dress-making art, and Mrs. Forepaugh's appearance was striking. She has frequently visited this city, where she has a host of friends.

Her marriage with Mr. Nagle has a tinge of romance, although their acquaintance has been of several years' duration, and for the last two years they have been betrothed.

Mr. Nagle is said to be handsome and a little more than 40 years of age. He is employed at the Girard Bank, one of the oldest financial institutions in the Quaker City. He resigned his position in the bank before his marriage. Mrs. Forepaugh, after her husband's death, lived with Mr. and Mrs. Fish in one of the most luxuriously appointed houses in Philadelphia.

Guerilla

Operations Led by Commandant Christian Dewet.

Boer Commandos Split Up Into Small Parties—Lord Roberts' Columns Converging—E. bellion in Cape Colony Ended.

London, Wednesday, June 27.—3:20 a.m.—The Boer commandos in the eastern part of the Orange River Colony appear to have been broken up by their leaders for the time into small portions that harass large columns of the British, incessantly cutting off scouts, sniping pickets and making a show of force here and there. Commandant Christian Dewet, Gen. Steyn's principal commander, is the genius of these guerilla operations. He is the hero of the Boer side in these last days of hostilities.

Lord Roberts' columns are steadily contracting the circles of their advance.

Transvaal officials who were interviewed yesterday at Machadodorp by a correspondent of the Daily Express, asserted an intention to hold out to the last.

KRUGER.

President Kruger will probably retire to Watervalder or Nelspruit. His physician thinks his condition of health will not allow him to go to the high veldt. The British prisoners at Noodledabot are now more comfortable. Large quantities of food and blankets have been forwarded to them, and their inclosure is lighted by electricity.

Pretoria telegrams say that supplies of warm clothing are reaching Lord Roberts' infantry, who had been ragged and had suffered from the cold. Commandant-General Buller is uncommonly active east of Pretoria. The Canadians are doing splendid outpost work.

REBELS SURRENDER.

London, June 26.—11:25 p.m.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

Pretoria, Residency, June 26.—Sir Charles Warren reports that the rebellion in Cape Colony, north of the Orange River, is now over. The last formidable body, under Commandant de Villiers, surrendered on June 20, consisting of about 230 men, 230 horses, 18 wagons, 260 rifles and 100,000 rounds of ammunition.

General Baden-Powell reports that pacification is going on satisfactorily in the Rustenburg district.

THE STRATHCONAS.

Pretoria, June 26.—Strathcona's Horse has done one of the great deeds of war of the present campaign. A month ago, they went to Durban by water, and then proceeded up country, reaching Gen. Buller's force in time to do splendid service in the advance from Newcastle on towards Standerton and Pretoria—service for which they received special mention in General Buller's dispatches to the war office, approved by Lord Roberts. Now they have done a deed which will live in history. They have blown up the railway bridge at Koomati Poort on the railway between Pretoria and Koomati Poort, and have cut off all communication of the Boers with the sea. All the Delagoa Bay Railway rolling stock, the Boer artillery, the whole Boer army, including the gold taken by President Kruger from the mint here, are west of that break, and must now inevitably fall into our hands. Strathcona's Horse has effectually bottled up the Boers.

DEATH OF PTE. LARUE.

Ottawa, June 26.—In the house this afternoon the minister of militia read the following:

"Cape Town, June 25.—Regret to report that No. 7318, Pte. E. Larue, Canadian Regiment of Infantry, died of enteric fever at Wynberg Hospital, on June 24. (Signed) Milner."

Larue was an officer of the 87th Battalion, and a distinguished soldier. He was wounded on Feb. 18 at Paardeberg. He was a son of Dr. Larue, of Quebec.

The following non-commissioned officers and men of Canadian special service forces have been invaded from South Africa to England: No. 12, Corp. E. Grey, brigade division, field artillery; No. 321, Pte. Wood, 1st Battalion, Canadian Mounted Rifles; No. 56, Pte. G. Ferguson, 2nd Battalion, Canadian Mounted Rifles.

WEATHER VS. WHEAT

Hot Winds, Hail and Drought Do Much Damage to Grain.

St. Paul, Minn., June 27.—Returns from North Dakota, Manitoba, and North Minnesota show that wheat and flax are a total failure, four days' hot winds having burned it up. No amount of rain can revive it. The situation is nearly as bad in South Dakota. Farmers in the northwest will be obliged to buy wheat for seed next spring. Two hundred thousand acres of wheat already has been plowed up and planted to fodder for cattle. Grass is wholly destroyed east of the Missouri River.

Denver, Idaho, June 27.—A disastrous hailstorm has visited this section.

Falling Hair

PREVENTED BY CUTICURA SOAP.

TREATMENT.—Cleanse the scalp and hair with warm water, dry, and apply a light dressing of Cuticura. Rub the dressing into the scalp, and rub the Cuticura into the scalp. This treatment will clear the scalp of dandruff, and make the hair grow, when all else fails.

IN SPITE OF DISCOURAGEMENT.

Winnipeg, June 27.—In spite of the failure of the crops in Manitoba, the Manitoba agent reports a very large movement to the province this fall. During March and April 5,000 persons and 800 cars of stock went up from Ontario. The next home-seekers' excursion will have fully 1,000 persons. The home-seekers are mostly sons of Ontario farmers, who aid them by stocking the farms.

Yorkton, Man., had two hours' heavy rain Monday morning. Other weather reports show light showers in several places and two minutes' to two hours' rain in the northern and western sections.

DROWNING SEASON

Well Under Way—Expert Loses His Life in Diving for Apples.

Toronto, June 27.—Arthur Tyler, 15 years old, residing at 20 Harbord street, went out with St. Paul's Presbyterian Sunday school to a picnic on the Humber River yesterday. He was amusing a number of people by diving for apples thrown into a deep hole in the river, and failed to come up, being probably entangled among weeds at the bottom. The boy was found after half an hour, but life was extinct.

Cayuga, Ont., June 27.—An unknown man was found floating on Sunday in the Grand River, about six miles from the mouth. The coroner was notified and an inquest was held. Nothing was found to indicate how the man came to be drowned, or who he is.

WEEKLY REVIEW.

The wheat market has ruled uneasy
all week, but shows a little disposition to settle down today. No further reports of damage are coming in, so no further advances are expected until the new crop is out. The market has been steady, at today's session $1.20 was frequently paid for No. 1 red, and it is said several private deals have been made at $1.25 for extra fine lots.

Oats were a shade lower, 91c to 92c, but they are still easily affected, any little rush of deliveries pushing the price down. No other kinds of grain offered.

The receipts of hay were fairly good, but not so much as last week.
Prices were a little higher, at $7.50 to $8, and closing steady.

Dressed hogs were high during the first three days of the week, sales ranging from $3 to $3.25, but a little later on prices declined to $2.75 to $3, and indications are for still further reductions in prices.

The live hog market was also easier, sales at Monday's session being made at $6.25.

The exodus of Chinese from Shanghai is unabated. Every steamer is thronged, and the authorities have been obliged to resort to the use of the fire boarding the vessels.

The commander of the British first-on the settlement, into which the foreigners from the out-stations are rapidly congregating.

RUSSIANS HAVE NO PICNIC.
According to a dispatch from New ly able to cope with the situation. The Chinese, it appears, are burning all the railroad material, killing isolated Russians at every opportunity, and destroying the coal mines.

The St. James Gazette expresses the opinion that China is "teaching Amer-cort out of the city.

ON THE WHOLE ENCOURAGING

Summary of the Latest Dispatches
From the Orient.

London, June 27.—2:03 p.m.—The cable messages from the far east today are so conflicting in their tenor that almost any desired view of the situation is deducible therefrom. On the whole, however, the news is encouraging, and it seems safe to assume that Vice-Admiral Seymour and the legations, whether together or separately, will ultimately reach a place of safety. Various reports locate the legations at diverse places, but it seems agreed that they are safely away from Pekin.

The latest Shanghai report says that Prince Tuan (the head of the Chinese foreign office, and father of the heir apparent) has sent the legations to Sian Fu under escort, and adds that Sian Fu will be the new capital, instead of having been occupied by the international forces.

Admiral Seymour, it is asserted, succeeded in getting a message into Tien Tsin on Monday, according to which he was then eight miles from the city. The message, it is said, could only have been delivered after he had killed another two days, and had 63 killed and over 200 wounded. He did not mention the ministers or others from Pekin.

It is thought at Shanghai that now the result is relieved the combined international forces will have no great difficulty in reaching Pekin, though it is expected it will be found that all the foreigners have left already.

REPORTS OF DAMAGE HIGHLY COLORED.

It is claimed that the reports as to the damage done at Tien Tsin and the casualties among the foreign residents have been highly colored.

The exodus of Chinese from Shanghai
is unabated. Every steamer is thronged,
and the authorities have been obliged

LITTLE VIXEN

CHAPTER XXXIX.

They rowed for a mile or two, keeping close to the shore. Then Tracy ceased from his labors and let the little bark rock idly at its will upon the tide while he studied with eager eyes Dawn's fair, sweet face, that drooped from his gaze a little, while a soft, shy color entered her cheeks.

"How lovely she is!" he thought, with passionate admiration for her beauty, which was so Hebe-like and perfect that it showed not a blemish in the clear light of the perfect day.

"Dawn, you know why I have brought you here," he said, eagerly. "I wanted to speak to you alone, to tell you something of my sad story—a painful secret that you must keep secret still—the reason why I dare not break truth with Aurora Douglas and lay my heart at your feet."

And in the stillness of the summer morning, broken only by the sighing of the sea, she listened to the story she already knew so well from her lover's lips—the story of his parents' sin, that only his marriage with Aurora Douglas could hide from the knowledge of man.

When he had finished she did not utter one word; she did not even look up at him, for fear that he should read the secret of her great love in her tender eyes.

After an abstracted pause he said, sadly: "You can not despise me so much now, Dawn, when you know that I am not selling myself for sordid gold; that it is only to save my parents from disgrace and punishment that I have consented to sacrifice my love on the altar of duty."

"Duty! It is a cold, hard word," she said, musingly.

"Is it not?" he said, bitterly. "But it is my watchword now. Oh, Dawn, in the long nights, when I toss sleeplessly on my pillow, thinking always of you, I often recall those passionate words that Tennyson wrote of 'Love and Duty'."

"For Love himself took part against himself To warn us off, and Duty, loved of Love— O this world's curse, beloved but hated—came, Like death, between thy dear embrace and mine. And, crying, 'Who is this? Behold thy bride!' And pushed me from thee."

She lifted her lowered lids and looked at him. There was a mist of tears glittering on the thick gold-brown lashes that he was quick to see. "Oh, Dawn, I have never dared to ask you if it were possible, were I free, for me to win your heart. Perhaps I had no right even to tell you of my love. But how strange, how sad, it seems that the girl who was to crucify you at Sunnyside, and whom I hated for your sweet sake, should be my destined bride. Tell me, do you think I am right to wreck my happiness to save my parents'?"

"It is your duty. There is no other way," she replied gently, while to herself she said, tenderly: "Oh, my darling, how good, how noble, you are! I would not have you willing to forsake your duty even for the sake of the great love you have for me. Oh, it is worth all this suspense, all this concealment, to prove your honest worth, my own Prince Charming, and to punish wicked Lettie!"

"I knew you would agree with me," he said. "I shall tell my mother what noble words you have spoken to me. She will know then that you are not the coquette she deemed, but an angel."

"And you never loved her—you never cared in the least for Lettie?" she asked him, eagerly.

"No, never! How can you ask me?" he answered, with a reproachful look. She smiled, but did not answer, but deep down in her heart was a well-spring of exultant happiness.

"Only a little longer, my own Prince Charming," she said to herself, "then the sun shall shine for you again, and life be one sweet dream of love!"

When they rowed back again to the Hygeia, they found Lettie and Mr. Greville waiting on the pier for them. The false heiress came up to Dawn with a little malicious smile.

"Oh, Miss Douglas, I have a favor to ask of you," she purred; as you are such good friends with my intended husband, I am sure you will grant it. You know we are going to be married the third day of September. The marriage will be at Cedarhurst, my beautiful home in Virginia. Some of my friends are going down with us next week to stay until after the wedding. I have asked Mrs. Elmore, and she says yes. Will you come, too and be my bridesmaid?"

"Thank you, I shall be delighted," Dawn answered, with her brightest smile.

CHAPTER XL.

It was quite a pretty party that went down with the Tempests and Douglasses to Cedarhurst to stay until after Aurora's wedding. There were Miss De Navarre and three more young ladies, all prospective bridesmaids; there were Lindsay Greville, Herbert Arden, Mr. Wentworth, and Captain Langdon. Two of the invited guests, Mrs. Elmore and Dawn Douglas, promised to follow them a week after. They must go to Washington first, they declared.

In truth, Dawn was pining for a sight of her father's face. He owned that he was not brave enough to come to Old Point until Dawn was ready to disclose her secret.

"I could not look upon the face of my dear wife and not claim her at once. I am not, stoical enough for that," he said, "and indeed, it would not be safe for me to meet her, for I feel sure that Virginia would recognize me soon, if not immediately. So, my sweet daughter, I will wait as patiently as I can your pleasure."

Dawn wrote the kind, patient letter, and resolved that his probation should not last much longer.

On the same day that the Cedarhurst party left Old Point, Mrs. Elmore and Dawn returned to Washington. Before leaving, the girl went shyly up to Mrs. Douglas, whom she had found for a moment alone. She held out her beautiful white hand.

"Will you forgive me? You see I have not taken Mr. Tempest from your daughter," she said, gently.

"My dear, do not remind me of my folly," she exclaimed. "I was a silly old woman, and you did right to anger with me. I could not be angry with you if I would. I suppose I am under the spell of your beauty, like all your other admirers, for I find myself often looking at you with real fondness."

Dawn knew it was the mother's instinct asserting itself in the gentle lady's heart, and tears sparkled in her blue eyes.

"You are very kind to me," she said. "Believe me, I value your regard more than that of all the admirers of whom you speak. I should prize your friendship more than that of any woman I know."

The fearful eyes, the pleading words and the winning air of beautiful Dawn went thrilling to the heart of the lovely, unhappy woman, and she exclaimed, tenderly:

"Let us be friends, then, dear—the best of friends! Oh! I wish indeed that you were my own daughter. You must promise to come and stay with me sometimes when my daughter is married and I am left alone."

She uttered the last words with such pathetic mournfulness that Dawn, knowing all the happiness soon coming to this sad heart, could scarcely keep her happy secret a moment longer, but with an effort she kept back the impulse to speak and reveal all, when if she had only done so, bitter suffering might have been spared her. She said gently:

"Yes, I promise you, Mrs. Douglas. I shall be glad to come. I have never known a mother's love, for I was never a child, and I shall like to fancy that you are my mother sometimes."

"Darling!" Mrs. Douglas cried, with tender enthusiasm, and then she continued:

"Aurora has been telling me that you have promised to come down to Cedarhurst and be her bridesmaid."

"Yes," Dawn answered. "And, dear friend, I have a boon to crave of you. May I include my adopted father in the invitation to your home and your daughter's wedding?"

BLEEDING, ITCHING PILES

A Middlesex Farmer Who Suffered Intense Agony for About Five Years—Cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

It is doubtful if there ever was a remedy that was endorsed by such an overwhelming mass of evidences as is Dr. Chase's Ointment. The remarkable soothing, healing qualities of Dr. Chase's Ointment are a mystery to physicians, and though they are slow to recognize merit in any discovery they join heartily with people of other callings in endorsing and recommending Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most successful treatment ever devised for piles and itching skin diseases.

The following letter from a prominent farmer of Middlesex county is a sample of thousands of such letters on file in these offices. It goes to prove the claim that Dr. Chase's Ointment is an absolute cure for piles, and this claim is made because in the past 30 years Dr. Chase's Ointment has never been known to fail to cure piles.

Mr. F. G. Harding, retired farmer, living at Nilestown, Middlesex county, Ont., writes as follows: "I have been troubled with bleeding and itching piles for four or five years, and suffered intense agony at times. I had tried almost everything, but could get nothing that would give relief. On hearing of Dr. Chase's Ointment I procured a box, and it only required part of it to cure me. I am recommending it to all afflicted as I was."

Dr. Chase's Ointment is sold by all dealers in every part of this continent, and is recognized as the one positive cure for piles and itching skin diseases. 80 cents a box. By mail, post paid, on receipt of price by Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Passports are not required in Europe. That is to say, a passport is not needed to secure admission to any of the countries except Russia and Turkey.

THE BRIGHTEST FLOWERS must fade, but young lives endangered by severe coughs and colds may be preserved by Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Croup, whooping cough, bronchitis, in fact all affections of the throat and lungs, are relieved by this sterling preparation, which also remedies rheumatic pains, sores, bruises, piles, kidney difficulty, and is most economic.

Bombay receives its water from three large lakes, which receive their supply from a region that is intensely malarious.

The most efficacious stimulants to excite the appetite are Angostura Bitters, prepared by Dr. J. G. B. Siegest & Sons. Beware of imitations. Ask for the genuine article.

There is no beauty of complexion or form, or behavior, like the scintillating joy and not pain around us—Virgil.

Kumassie

Relief of the British Likely to Be Soon Affected.

Rumors of an Attempt to Assassinate Emperor William—Hon. J. I. Tarte Sends a Loyal Message to the Queen.

BELEAGUED KUMASSIE.

London, June 27.—The government has received dispatches from Ashante indicating that the relief of Kumassie should be accomplished this week. About 850 men of the British Central African native forces sailed June 22 for Ashante, where they will be employed to quell the rising. This is the first time that British Central Africa has been called upon to participate in the responsibilities of the empire.

HON. J. I. TARTE'S MESSAGE TO THE QUEEN.

Hon. J. I. Tarte sent the following message to her majesty Queen Victoria: "Your majesty's Canadian subjects now in Paris beg to present to you, on the occasion of the celebration of their national festival, St. Jean Baptiste, an expression of their profound respect and loyalty, and they unite in saying, 'God save the Queen.'"

AN IDLE RUMOR.

Berlin, June 27.—A rumor was circulated in Berlin and other cities that an attempt had been made to assassinate Emperor William. The Kiel police declare it to be pure fiction.

A TRADE PROPOSITION.

London, June 27.—At the congress of the Association of Chambers of Commerce of the United Kingdom a solution, proposed by the Toronto Board of Trade, advocating the adoption of a commercial policy, based on the principle of mutual benefit, by which each part of the empire may receive substantial advantage in trade as the result of its national relationship, led to a prolonged and heated discussion. The matter was temporarily shelved, however, by the appointment of a committee to define a proposal for consideration by the congress. This was done in spite of the strenuous opposition of Canadians. The Manchester delegates promised to oppose any compromise and to introduce a resolution in favor of unlimited free trade.

FOUR RUSSIAN AMBASSADORS AT PARIS.

The Paris correspondent of the Daily Express says: Four Russian ambassadors are here, by accident or design. Count Cassini, ambassador to the United States; Count de Nelidoff, ambassador to Italy; Count Kappeler, ambassador to Austria-Hungary, and Prince Ourousoff, ambassador to France. It is said that Count Muraviev's successor at the Russian foreign office will be one of these, and I am informed that Count Cassini stands the best chance.

RAIN IN INDIA.

London, June 27.—The viceroy of India, Lord Curzon of Kedleston, cables that the monsoon has considerably improved the west coast. Six inches of rain has fallen in Bombay city, extending to Benar and the Central Provinces, while there have been frequent showers in the Submontane district and the northwestern provinces.

BRITAIN WILL CO-OPERATE.

London, June 27.—In the House of Commons A. J. Balfour said the British Government will welcome the dispatch of troops by any power which may be able to act at once for the suppression of the disturbances in China. The Russian admiral is the head of the international force on water.

CABLE NOTES.

Count Cassini may succeed the late Muraviev as Russian foreign minister. Two hundred thousand bushels of American corn for famine sufferers have reached Bombay, India.

German officers have been hired to instruct the Guatemalan army. British Central African natives are being used in the British effort to relieve Kumassie.

Editor Wisnold Keifgebe has been arrested for high treason at Ostrowa, Prussia, charged with favoring the resurrection of Poland.

RELIEF OF INDIA

The Curzon Government Has Spent $28,000,000 in Battling With the Famine.

Chicago, June 27.—Lady Curzon, viceroy of India, writing to the Chicago India famine relief committee, says: "The famine is greater in its intensity than at any previously recorded visitation. Fewer persons will die, yet incomparably more persons are suffering. The government has reduced the rate of mortality and known to go dry. The figures show only a slight excess over the normal rate. The government has spent $28,000,000 on direct relief."

New York, June 27.—J. W. Johnson and family, missionaries of the Christian Alliance in India, have just arrived in New York. Speaking of the conditions in India, Johnson said: "When we left India, on May 15, 6,000 people were on the government relief lists. In Ahmedabad, a place of 60,000 people, over 600 died of cholera in the course of the week before we started. When we left the government was transferring 7,000 or 8,000 people from place to place because of lack of drinking water. In my station, where there are 40,000 people, there were only two wells left with water in them. The people were hauling the water from wells sunk in the bed of a stream never before known to go dry. Government engineers have discovered that the level of the water in the ground has sunk fifteen feet in three years, which is the cause of all the difficulty. There is plenty of grain in the country if the government would only put a little pressure on the greedy merchants."

"Hunger is the Best Sauce."

Yet some people are never hungry. Whatever they eat has to be "forced down." There is, of course, something wrong with these people. By taking Hood's Sarsaparilla a short time they are given an appetite and then they enjoy eating and food nourishes them. If you find your appetite failing, just try a bottle of Hood's. It is a true stomach tonic, and every dose does good.

The best family cathartic is Hood's Pills.

GOOD ROADS

The Coming International Good Roads Congress at Port Huron.

The agitation in favor of good roads has already accomplished a great deal towards improving the condition of highways, but much more yet remains to be done in this direction. An international good roads congress will be held at Port Huron, Mich., a convenient point for a gathering of the kind, lasting four days, commencing on the 2nd of July. It is being actively promoted by the office of public road inquiries, Washington, a branch of the United States department of agriculture, and many prominent Americans are energetically working for its success. The signers of the call include Andrew Patullo, M.P.P., president of the Ontario Good Roads Association, and A. W. Campbell, provincial road commissioner for Ontario; state and local road improvement societies, boards of trade, farmers' institutes, wheelmen's leagues and other organizations have been invited to send delegates, and a very large representation is expected. In addition to the discussions of the congress, practical topics bearing upon road-making and the best means of arousing public interest in the subject, there will be a series of entertainments of an appropriate character, including bicycle races, automobile tests, and a parade of horse-drawn carriages, and members of the L. A. W. One mile of macadam road, for which the people of Port Huron have subscribed the funds, will be built during the sittings of the congress, under the supervision of Mr. R. G. Harrison, road expert, who will explain the technical details of the process to the delegates. The congress may be expected to be a good fruit in educating the public as to the necessity of a great improvement in our highways.

Conservatory Recital.

The second of the closing recitals of the Conservatory of Music was held last night, and attracted an audience that completely taxed to the full the capacity of the recital hall of the Conservatory. The programme was wonderfully well planned, and was well executed by the pupils of Miss Steele, A.L.C.M., and the vocal pupils of Miss B. Brown. All acquitted themselves creditably and amply sustained the high reputation of their instructress and the Conservatory. Those worthy of special mention were Miss Boake, Miss Campbell, Miss Reid and the Misses Dearness, while the closing duet by Mr. Brown and Miss Steele was a genuine treat. All three vocalists rendered their numbers in excellent form. The programme follows: "Dorothy" (Smith), Miss Kathleen Brodick; "The Mill" (Jensen), Miss Beatrice Hobbs;

OIL AND GOLD MINES.

Visitors Speak of the Food Used.

Major Desborough, writing from Fresno, Calif., says: "I found Grape-Nuts food 45 miles in the mountains in an old oil camp, where the whole crowd, men, eat it for breakfast every day and every Sunday have it in a pudding for dinner."

General E. C. Machen, an old Confederate soldier, has just returned from the Mexican border, investigating mining properties. He says: "No matter where I traveled, I always found it possible to get Grape-Nuts and Postum Food Coffee of which I am very fond."

The Grape-Nuts breakfast food is especially valued by campers and frontier people, as it is already cooked and ready for instant service, and being concentrated, furnishes unusual strength and nourishment, in a small quantity. It is believed that a man can travel farther and exercise more continuously, on a few teaspoons of Grape-Nuts than on like quantity of any other food known.

The reason for this is that there are selected elements in Grape-Nuts that furnish direct to the brain and nerve centers, the necessary particles to rebuild the delicate gray matter contained in these parts, therefore a man continuously fed on Grape-Nuts is absolutely certain of a good condition of the nervous system, which is really the controller of the entire body.

LARGELY ATTENDED

Successful Closing Exercises of the Sacred Heart Convent—Presentation of Prizes.

The closing exercises of the pupils of the Sacred Heart Convent, which were held yesterday afternoon, were attended by a large number of the students' friends and many clergymen. Among the latter were Bishop McEvay; Vicar-General Girard, of St. Thomas; Rev. Fathers Brady, of Windsor; Traher, Aylward, McCann, Reach, C. S. B., of Assumption College, Sandwich; Boubat, Ridgetown; McKeon, Strathroy; Noonan, Blidulph; Ladouceur, Sarnia, and Waters, of Detroit.

After dinner had been served to the clergy by the ladies of the convent, a programme of musical numbers was introduced. Their rendition was exceedingly enjoyable. A solo and chorus, the former being sung by Miss McCrae, of Glencoe, was particularly enjoyable. One of the most pleasing parts of the programme was a dialogue by the little children.

The prizes for the successful students were presented by the bishop. Among them was one of his own gifts, a beautiful gold-mounted rosary. A gold medal for arithmetic was presented to Miss Coughlin by Rev. Father Aylward. While giving the prizes, his lordship spoke encouragingly to the pupils and commended those who had been successful.

For ease in running, their very mechanism is a guarantee of it, developed to the highest degree of perfection by the most skilled experts, having at their disposal the most improved appliances known in the world of mechanics—every detail of making fitted with the accuracy of a watch and warranted to stay so.

BRIGHT'S DISEASE.

Doan's Kidney Pills Rescue an Ottawa Lady From the Clutches of This Deadly Malady.

Bright's disease has always been considered incurable until Doan's Kidney Pills proved in case after case that it could be relied on to cure this deadly malady.

No other medicine can show such a record of cures of severe kidney diseases as these pills, and none has been so shamelessly imitated by unscrupulous manufacturers.

But people who want to be cured of their kidney ailments, promptly and completely, always insist on Doan's Kidney Pills, the kind that cured Miss Dell C. Guertin, 108 Stanley Avenue, Ottawa, Ont.

Read her statement: "I have been in very poor health for the past two years previous to taking your pills."

"I suffered so much at times that I thought there could possibly be no cure for me, and I was greatly discouraged. I was unable to work and the pains were so severe that I thought I would be better dead; my appetite was poor and I could not sleep. Several physicians here said I had Bright's disease of the kidneys, and there was no hope for me."

"Doan's Kidney Pills, however, have given me a new lease of life. I am now able to work without fatigue, and have no pain. My appetite is splendid and I enjoy sound refreshing sleep."

"Many people here know of my wonderful restoration to health, and consider it a miracle. May great success go with Doan's Kidney Pills in their good work."

(Signed) "DELL C. GUERTIN."
