ANOTHER "INTERESTING EVENT."

The Evening news gontly observes: "The forthcoming marriage of Lord Terence Blackwood to Miss Florence Davis, of New York, though in no sense a marriage for convenience, will be useful to the house of Dufferin from a money point of view. York, though in no sense a marriage for convenience, will be useful to the house of Dufferin from a money point of view. Never very rich, Lord Dufferin has always foil it his duty to devote the last farthing of his diplomatic salary and allowances to the purpose for which they were granted, those of representation, and though the offices which he has held have been very lucrative, such as the Viceroyalty of India and Canada, and the ambassadorships at Constantinople, St. Petersburg and Rome, he has saved nothing. He is a grand seigneur in his ways, and though he receives £10,000 a year with allowances as ambassador to France, it is not likely that he can put by any of this. He has an estate in Ireland, but, as in the case of most of the great landowners of that island, he is land poor. Lord Dufferin's experience is not exceptional in the British diplomatic service. Lord Augustur Loftus was a bankrupt. Earl Granville and Earl Lytton left their families in very straitened circumstances. The rich dowry of Miss Florence Davis will not under such circumstances come amiss to Lord Alackwood."

ADVICE ABOUT CANNED FRUIT.

[New York Times.]

Now that the season of canned fruit is again upon us, housekeepers will do well to repeat the caution which forgetful maids need periodically—to empty the provisions out of the can as soon as it is opened. Often a most dangerous acid is formed by the chemical action of the air upon the soldering of the cans.

It is this acid, indeed, which is responsible for much of the prejudice against canned food. Many of the reported accidents would, if they could be thoroughly investigated, be found to have resulted from kitchen carelessness. The thrifty cook who, wishing everything in ample time, opens her can of corn or peas an hour or more before it is put into the saucepan exposes the family to a danger which is none the less serious because untill yavoided. Open the cans if necessary, but empty their counts at the case of the case and more set. ed. Open the cans if necessary, but empty their contents at once, and never set a remnant away in them for future use.

Many a man has been betrayed by a kiss after taking a drink of whisky.

The late Cardinal Lavigerie, the "Grand Old Missionary of Biskra," used to wear a Florentine cap such as Dante wore, half covering his ears and falling to his neck. The walls of his simple apartments were absolutely bare except for a small statue of the Virgin which faced the crucifix over the mantel-piece.

The Indiana Supreme Court has decided as unconstitutional the Apportionment Act passed by the Legislature two years ago, under the provisions of which the Legislature which meets next month was chosen. The finding is that the apportionment laws of 1891, 1885 and 1879 are all unconstitutional. in sheep and hogs the average cardiac pursations are 76 per minute. As a rule arterial pulsations may be felt wherever an artery crosses a bone or is otherwise forced outward too near the surface. In horses the pulse beats are usually examined on the cord which crosses over the bone of the lower jaw just in front of the large, rounded "hinge curve."

The Harriers.

Mr. E. F. Painter, of the London, Eng., Athletic Club and Ranelagh Harriers, suffered from a straimed tendon, and no remedy he tried did him any good until he used St. Jacobs Oil, which soon enabled him to resume his running and sports. It is the remedy preferred by all athletes.

Shall All Saloons and Bars in London be Closed at Seven C'clock Every Night as at Present on Saturday Nights?

Twelve Good Reasons Why You Should Vote for Early Closing.

A Straightforward, Yet Mederate Appeal to Men and Wemen Who Pea-sess the Responsibility of the Franchise.

We want an expression of your opinion by vote on the occasion of the coming municipal election, Monday, Jan. 2, 1893, whether it would not be better, in the interests of the community, as a suggestion to the license communistenses, to make the hour of closing the bars for the license year, beginning next May, 7 o'clock p.m. Our reasons for this movement are:

1. Because we believe Hon. W. E. Gladstone's statement—"Greater calamities are inflicted upon humanity by intemperance than the three historic scourges of war, pestilence and famine." The more bars and the longer hours the more drinking and consequently the more intemperance. The following London statistics indicate this:

Cares Dandrug, Premotes Growth o. the Kair, Provents Failing Out and Imparts to the Bair a Beautiful Gloss.

11 being a purely Vegetable Compound, it may be used freely without injury to the mest delicate scale, Yeeper Bottle Guaranteed.

28 Fichmond street, Lendon, sole province and manufacturer, Lendon, Following Joundary and the Jongste Household of the Streep It. All orders by miliare promptly attended at the Jongste house are the bane of our young men, who are allured by the blandishments of friendship and the attraction of copen bars. Therefore we appeal to the parents of London, whether abstainers or not, to vote with us, if not for their own sake for that of their neighbore children.

3. Because the wages of the laborer and artisan, homeward bound, are often divertical waterworks office. None but good work waterworks office. None but good waterworks office. None but good waterworks office. None but good work waterworks office. Non

4. Because if you are a friend of the early closing movement you ought to give the bartender a chance to close upearly!

5. Because healthy men do not need liquor, and the sick man who prescribes it for himself has a fool for a patient. Indeed he ought to be prosecuted for practicing medicine without a diploma!

6. Because beer only makes the constant drinker appear well when his benes are like sticks in a bag of water. It's all "beet bloat!"

6. Because beer only makes the constant drinker appear well when his bones ar like sticks in a bag of water. It's all "beer bloat!"

7. Because a large proportion of the liquor sold under high sounding names, is fraudulent and absolutely poisonous. Hon Geo. Giford, American consul, La Rochelle, France, wrote in 1882: "All French brandy might properly, and perhaps ought to be, excluded from the United States on sanitary grounds," simply because such a thing as pure brandy is almost, if not entirely, unknown even in France, and what is true of brandy is true of so-called foreign winos.

8. Because, as Ruskin says, "The encouragement of drunkenness for the sake of the profit on the sale of drink is certainly one of the most criminal methods of assassination for the money hisherto adopted by the bravoes of any country." It it were only the drinker was killed it would not be so bad. You have but to look at the murder of Detective Phair to see what a few cents' worth of fliquor can do! And the end is not yet. Every man hanged in London for crime was brought to the gallows through intemperance.

9. Because the public have to foot the bills! Who pay she jailers, turnkeys, the extra policemen, the witnesses and lawyers in criminal cases, three-fourths of which are caused by drink? And now, when we want to vote on a resolution introduced by an almost unanimous vote of the council, without any expense to the city, these license-holders want to prevent you from expressing an opinion on this question and to save you the trouble of writing yes or no on your ballet papers or election day, put the city to the expense of defending their action in Court of Chancery, Toronto! How considerate they are of your rights and privileges!

10. Because, if the Scripture be true. The definition of the Scripture is the seller from doing any genunlely religious work.

How many license-holders are regular attendants at church—are Sünday scheol teachers, elders, deacons, class-leaders, Y. M. C. A. workers, sick and prison visitors, etc.? "By t subtered more than they sy the solid fink. We want to help them out of the business.

11. Because it is your duty to vote.

Do you only vote in a Parliamentary election when you are sure your candidate will be elected? Hus there not been a lessening of drinking in the past? What caused it? The men in the business? The indifferent, like some of you, or, as you are fond of saying, "public opinion? Whe created public opinion? Those who never gave, spoke, or voted to hinder the traffic? Do not call us cranks and Janatics while you do nothing yourself. Does it not seem sometimes, even to you, that "if these should hold their peace the very atones would ery out."

12. Because it is important in every way that you should show where you stand. You remember the Master's statement, "He that is not with me is against me, Can you be neutral on such a question? Canon Farrar says, "I feel convinced, if men, if Christians, had a heart of pity in them, have any spark of nobleness in them, they would do everything in their power to show that it is an evil that is destroying our brothers and risters in multitudes.

They would do their best in some way or other to save the continuance of this evil in their midst." What will you do?

THE PHILOSOPHY OF GREED. The man is called greedy who takes all he can get, tries to get more, honestly, if possible, but in any case more, and, failing, feels very bad about it. A man is called greedy, also, who, having had his inning, wants the next man's also-will work for it and fight for it, and if he fails to get it will feel bad about it and let every one know he feels bad. For instance, if a greedy man has a brewery he will want land as well; if he has land he will want to sell it perhaps to some government or to some big corporation upon either of which he may have "a so as to get the outside price per pull," so as to get the outside price per acre. If, again, a greedy man has a seat in Parliament, he wants to keep it always. He is not satisfied to have it for five or ten years—he must have it all his life no matter whether the people want him there or not. If he can get it honestly well and good; if not—he must get it, if he can.
If he loses an alection he will not acquiesce in the loss, but will-if possible-turn out his successful opponent and try it again. Then, if he cannot get a majority of votes, ne will, perhaps, procure the good offices of some judge on whom he has "a pull" to seat him in the face of all common honesty and decency. If he is a VERY greedy man he will, after a lifetime spent in grabbing all he can get, expect (over and above what he has been able to grab), all men to praise him and continually to speak of him as a kind, and continually to speak of nim as a kind, courteous, moderate, liberal, benevolent, sweet-tempered, able (though, perhaps, he has never shown ability except for grabbing)—altogether lovely, HONEST old man. And if anyone objects, and in the middest way hint: that he has not all these sweet and hints, that he has not all these sweet and hints, that he has not all these sweet and beautiful qualities, he will write, or get his friend the judge or some other friend to write for him editorials on the "Philosophy of Hatred."

THE QUESTION OF APPEAL.

THE QUESTION OF APPEAL.

The London ADVERTISER returns to its old bone, and insists that in the Carling election case an inferior court "over-rode" a superior court's decision. If the present writer was a paety to a suit, and lost it by reason of an inferior court having given a verdict contrary to a verdict given in a similar case by a superior court—in other words, if the inferior court took upon itself to over-ride the superior court—this writer would promptly appeal and win. So would the London Grits if any such thing had occurred.—[Hamilton Spectator.

None are so blind as those who do not

None are so blind as those who do not lesire to see, and that is the Spectator editor's condition.

We have again and again shown that Judge Elliot, in giving Mr. Hyman's seat to Mr. Carling, decided directly against the views of not one superior court, but two superior courts, and against the opinions of six superior court judges.

Our contemporary says that the "Grits," if they were defrauded of their rights, should have appealed to another court, and it insinuates that the only reason which prevented their doing so was their knowledge that they were in the wrong.

This is a gross libel, which can only have been penned by the Spectator in ignorance or with the determination to misrepresent the position of over one-half the electors of London.

Six judges in the Superior Courts decided that the Liberals were right and that Judge Elliot was wrong, but it so happens that by the Dominion Franchise Act this unty court judge was enabled to set at defiance the decision of his superiors, and do as he pleased when he finally came to consider how he should square his afterelection judgment with his editorial writngs in the Free Press.

In order to provide for just such rascalities as this, the Dominion Franchise Act, passed by the Spectator's friends, enacts that there should be no appeal from the final judgment of the county judge, no matter how outrageous it may be. Will our contemporary tell us how the majority of the electors could get the case into another court under such circumstances? If it tells us, and is prepared to back its statement with reliable legal indorsement, the case will be in court before the year clapses.

There was one court in which the charges against Judge Elliot could be heard. That was the Court of Parliament, and into that court the friends of Mr. Hyman took the case. They asked for a full and free investigation. They cared not that the jury would centain a majority politically opposed to Mr. Hyman. What they wanted was a complete exposure of the manner in which Judge Elliot had over-ridden the decision of the superior courts, and of his partisan conduct throughout the campaign leading up to his contemptible action. Judge Edliot and his friends had been guilty of no wrong-doing, one would have thought that they would have been glad of an opportunity, in the house of their friends, to prove that fact, and to bring confusion to their accusers. Instead of that, Sir John Thompson, acting on the counsel of Mr. Carling, the holder of the stolen seat, refused even a preliminary Parliamentary investigation, and so the rascality was condoned

The only appeal from the Court of Parlia ment is to the people, and if we judge the opinion of the electorate aright it is waiting patiently for an opportunity to bring con-fusion to the men who have done a great wrong to this city, and brought it into unenviable notoriety throughout the world. The High Court of Public Opinion will undo that injustice which Sir John Thompson and his coadjutors either had not the courage or the will to remedy.

THE MILITIA CAMP.

THE MILITIA CAMP.

The Sarnia Canadian says:

"Hon J. C. Patterson, the newly appointed Minister of Militia, is threatened with 'fire in front and rear.' Windsor, his old home. wants the military camp of the first military district held in that city next year, and cannot well see how the Minister can refuse to grant the request of old friends, seeing that Mr. Patterson represented Essex so long in Parliament. But there Goderich puts in a claim to the camp, on the ground that, as Mr. Patterson is the member for West Huron, he is bound to do something for the people that returned him to Parliament rather than for the people of Essex that helped to defeat him. Rival claims will continue to be urged, and pressed with all the influence that claimants can command, always leading to much embarrassment to the Government of the day and to the public men, who are unwillingly forced to take sides for or against certain localities, the interests of the volunteer force never The Sarnia Canadian says: public men, who are unwillingly forced to take sides for or against certain localities, the interests of the volunteer force never being taken into consideration at all. To put an end to this pulling and hauling, the Government should permanently locate the camp in London, the most suitable place in the district, not only as regards the cost of transportation, but as regards the health and comfort of the force."

This is a fair presentation of the case. In recent years, as we all know, the Dominion Government, to implement rash pre-elec-tion promises, has again and again sacrition promises, has again and again sacrificed the interests of the volunteers. It ordered the camp to Stratford, though it well knew that neither in point of convenience or as giving decent comfort to the men was the camp ground to be compared with the grounds here. The same remarks apply to St. Thomes, where the camp was them because Mr. Ingram had been author-apply to St. Thomes, where the camp was taken because Mr. Ingram had been authorized to use it as an election bait for the citizens of that place.

This reprehensible practice of turning the militin into a body to advance the political fortunes of one Parliamentary candidate as against an opponent is all wrong. Far too long have the citizen soldiers had their interests neglected in wrong. Far too long have the citizen soldiers had their interests neglected in order that needy politicians might profit by their discomfiture. It is time that the recommendations of the commander-inchief should be scrupulously obeyed, even though politicians may suffer. The majorgeneral long since, in the strongest possible language, condemned the system that sible language, condemned the system that loud have been the protests against the system of peddling the camp from town to town to buttress the fortunes of hardpressed politicians. It is high time that an end were put to all this nonsense.

THE services of many hundreds of hangers on in the Dominion Government employ could be dispensed with and no injury be done the public. But economy is not an object with the present Administration.

BY THE last census the total wealth of the total capital invested in manufacturing $2,900,735,884, or but 5 per cent. of the whole. The record upholds the view that if there is to be special legislation it should favor the 95, not the 5 in the community. Cleveland and his friends have taken that ground. It is safe ground, in Canada as well as in the United States, to assume that the best Government is that which collects least taxes from the people and leaves them to do what they please with their honest earnings.

IT is reported in the Journal du Jordin d'Acclimatation that eight or ten days be fore the appearance of cholera in Hamburg last summer, all the sparrows and other birds left the town and suburbs and did not return until the plague had completely disappeared. The same thing happened in Marseilles and Toulon in 1884 a day or two before the cholera visited those towns. Similar migrations have been noticed in different parts of Italy, Austria and Russia, always some days before the appearance of cholera. The experience in this country. when cholera broke out 40 years ago, was remarkably similar to that now chronicled in Europe. Hamilton was the first point in the Dominion reached by the plague, and it came in by way of the United States. At that time there was a considerable population of natives of the United States n Hamilton, and they were celebrating the 4th of July when the unusual phenomenon of huge flocks of birds of almost every description known in the neighborho came flying across the lakeand bay from the United States side. Though remarked on as peculiar at the time, little was said about the influx of the feathered tribe until next day, when the dread news was cir culated that a participant in the richie had returned home and had died of cholera in a few hours. That was the beginning of the ravages of the scourge, and the birds have ever since been regarded as the forerunners

A FAIR PLAY FRANCHISE.

If men have the better brains, men will rule in any case; but they will rule more wisely when they have to secure the suffrages of women as well as of men. To entranchise the most unwise men and distranchise the wisest women is to recognize a mimacy of inferiors ever superiors.

August Flower"

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." G. G. The Export Apple Trade.

Montreal Trade Bulletin: Recent cable advices report a healthier market in England with sales of Canadian apples in Liverpool at 12s 6d to 16s 2d for the general run of transactions. This is certainly a much better range than the sale of light receipts expected for the Christmas holidays, it is thought that values will show a still further advance. It is to be hoped that the foreign demand will absorb the surplus shipments yet to go forward from this side at prices that will make up for the heavy losses so far incurred by Canadian shippers. Here prices are about steady at $25 to $275 for fair to choice round lots of winter varieties.

—A sensational report gained currency in Montreal yesterday that Mr. L. J. Seargeant, general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, had met with a serious accident, but his many friends will be pleased to learn that the case was greatly exagerated. Mr. Seargeant, while walking to his office on Saturday, slipped and fell, dislocating his arm. On a dector being called it was found that the injury was not serious, and Mr. Seargeant was able to resume his duties shortly afterwards.

The Oil Duties.

A meeting of gentlemen interested in the oil industry will be held in London at an early day to take into consideration the propriety of petitioning Parliament to remove the duty on crude oil, so as to enable London refiners to obtain crude oil on as favorable terms as it can be purchased by United States refiners. There are several refineries in London standing idle, but if cheap crude could be brought in here they could be set going.

The New York Sun's Latest Declaration

The New York Sun's Latest Declarations on the Subject.

New York, Dec. 19.—The Sun, in its leading editoral to-day, says: It is now apparent that the movement in the Dominion of Canada for casting its lot with the continent to which it belongs has begun in earnest. It is spreading allies through the country districts and the towns and oities, through Ontario, Quebec, the Maritime Provinces and adjacent islands. It is supported by statesmen and political leaders of all grades and parties, and finds its adherents in all occupations and callings without reference to origin or race. Similar movements have been begun before, and more than once they promised to result in the independence of Canada and is amalgamation with the United States, but none of them ever became so general as the one now claiming our attention or reached such magnitude in so short a time of renewed agitation. The idea of joining the Canadian country with the dominating power of the North American continent has received the present extraordinary stimulus chiefly from the fact that our tariff puts Canada on the same trade footing as other foreign countries, and shuts its Fall of a Red-Hot Meteor.

ALBANY, Ore., Dec. 17.—About 50'clock yesterday morning Fred Reis saw a bright meteor approaching from the southeast. It traveled very rapidly, and with a ruehing sound fell into the street, followed by a wake of bright sparks. Reis hastened to the spot where the meteor struck the earth and found a rock about fourteen inches in circumference. It was still very hot and charred the board upon which it was placed. The rock had the appearance of a volcanic production.

Cholera On Wings. One mystery of the dissemination of cholera is disclosed by recent investigations in the Hamburg Medical Society with recholera is disclosed by recent investigations in the Hamburg Medical Society with respect to its propagation by flies, as reported by a correspondent of the Manchester Guardian. "Nine flies were captured which had been in contact with infected cholera material and were placed in flasks containing nutrient gelatine. In six of the nine vessels numerous colonies of comma bacilli were successfully cultivated—of course, from the infection conveyed by the flies." A new danger, and the most difficult to cope with, as yet known, is thus revealed to our health officers in battling with the insect vultures that eagerly gather to the feast of death—whether in cholera, typhoid, smallpox, or other infectious plagues. It had already been shown that they are carriers of consumption. It has been said that flies are scarce during epidemics of cholera or yellow fever. If this be so, whether from fly choleraorsomeother cause, the difficulty of dealing with the flies will perhaps be within control. At all events, the ingenuity of insect-killing inventors will be in demand for the isolation of hospitals and chambers of infectious diseases.
