A Bit of Advice.

(By Fricilla Leonard.)

Don't cover your eyes with pretence. It is hard enough to be true. It needs all your courage to carry out a bit of advice.

No take up your burden bravely. And it will surely grow. More light each day, as along life's way. Your steadfast footsteps go.

A big, broad-shouldered, good-looking young fellow of about eight-and-twenty was sitting in a dingy little room in Bloomingburg, answering a letter he had just received.

Harry Ballard had been looking out for a chance of accompanying a reading party abroad during the long vacation, and by good luck an even better offer had come his way. An old friend of his father—Mr. Fulk—had written to him to engage his services as tutor and general business agent to his son, young Revard Fulk, during a forthcoming winter tour.

Young Revard wanted to get abroad and see the chance had fallen his way. He was resolved to make the most of it. Young Revard, his pupil, was a thoroughly nice lad, and the whole expedition seemed to partake more of the nature of a holiday than of serious work. The two trudged along through lovely valleys, up tart clad slopes, over rock bound, magnificent mountains, drinking in the clear air and enjoying themselves rather like two schoolboys than a tutor and his pupil.

Revard wanted to climb a mountain. Harry discouraged the idea. He told the boy of the fate of his uncle, Sir Robert Ballard.

'Yes, Sir Robert of hearing of that when I was quite small,' said Revard sympathetically. 'Were the bodies never recovered?'

'No, never,' answered Harry, 'and probably never will be.'

'They walked in silence a little way. Then Harry said, "Do you know, Revard, I should like to see the place. Suppose we go up to Montvert? We can do it in two days from Chamouville. Your father put no restrictions on our movements."

'Then let's go,' replied the boy, keenly.

Montvert had become quite a fashionable resort within the last few years. The old inn had been much enlarged. It boasted all sorts of modern improvements—among them, a drawing room, a band and a victrola.

Harry was studying the letter when he was startled by the names 'Mr. James Rennie and Miss Rennie, and maid, Glasgow.'

'My cousin, by Jove!' he muttered. 'I've never seen anything of them for years—not since Mr. Rennie had come in for all Sir Robert's money. The daughter, Muriel, he had never seen. James Rennie he knew by repute as a hard and canny Scotchman; and here they were staying at the same hotel.'

'And this is my daughter, Muriel,' Rennie said.

Harry looked up and saw a soft dot of a girl in a black evening gown, who gave him a warm, impulsive handshake.

Harry was a new man. The inevitable was happening.

Then the Rennies gave a picnic. It turned out a brilliant, sunny day, and it was decided to go up the valley to a wood near the lower end of the Alguilte Vert glacier. It was at this picnic that for the first time struck Mr. Rennie that Harry was a trifle more attentive to Muriel than there was any occasion for. He did not say anything, but he made up his mind to two things: First, to watch the young couple pretty carefully that day; second, to leave Montvert to-morrow.

Harry and Muriel slipped off amongst the trees, and soon found themselves quite alone. They strolled down to where, from under its arch of muddy ice, the glacier river started on its foamy career, and seated themselves near by on a great mossy stone under a pine tree. The blizzard made the shade most welcome, and the two sat there quietly drinking in the warm scent of the woods.

'Build our holidays will soon be over,' she said. 'We have to be home by the first of October.'

Harry experienced a curious shock. With extraordinary suddenness he realized what life would be without Muriel.

'Muriel!' he said quickly and earnestly. 'Muriel, will you care?'

Apparently she did, for when, five minutes later an interested spectator walked quietly up behind them over the crest of noiseless pine needles, he saw a sight that made his smooth face livid with rage.

The two cousins were sitting close together that strict courtship altogether had entailed, and Muriel's head was leaning on Harry's shoulder.

James Rennie lost his temper. 'You sneaking young rascal!' he said with a sudden emphasis that made the leaves jump to their feet.

'I beg your pardon, sir,' said Harry quietly. There was a dangerous gleam in his eye. 'You were saying—'

'That you are a scheming fortune hunter. Your uncle cut you off and you think to regain the money in a low, underhand way by marrying my daughter!'

A great piece of ice, loosened by the heat, had fallen away from the glacier edge, and something else, too—something dark—had slipped from the broken mass and lay on the debris below.

For a moment no one moved. Then Harry stepped forward and stood by the fallen figure. The others followed. It was the body of a man. He was dressed in rough tweeds, and when they turned him over his upturned face had a quiet, peaceful expression. He might have died an hour ago.

'You know who it is?' he asked.

'Yes, it is Sir Robert,' he answered in a low voice.

They picked up the body and lifted it into the shade of the pines. As they did so a folded paper fell from the torn jacket.

'That evening Harry met Muriel in the hotel garden.

'Your father has told you what it was we found?' he said.

'Yes, dear,' she answered. 'And he told me, too, about your suggestion. Harry, you are generous, and do you know, father appreciates it.'

'I'm glad he doesn't think badly of me any longer, darling,' said Harry.

'But, you know, we shall be rich on half the money, shan't we?'

Muriel's answer quite satisfied him.

Beware of Cocaine Medicine.

Thousands of Drug Fiends have been started on their downward course through Catarrh snuffs containing this habit forming drug. Profits From Alfalfa.

Here is what one farmer—Rude Asper—did with thirteen acres of alfalfa on the D. E. Dick farm. The thirteen acres averaged five bushels to the acre, or a total of sixty-five bushels. This is sold at $1.80 a bushel, or $250. Besides this he sold the hay for $50, or a little better than $43 an acre. This itself is remarkable, but when it is remembered that this was done by Rude Asper, who admits that he is the poorest farmer in Osborne county, it is little less than miraculous. If the entire 150 acres contained in this farm were sown to alfalfa and made such a yield the value of the crop would be $6,850.—Dorus News.

Are You Pale, Anaemic?

Anemic means colorless blood—means languor, blanched lips, faded cheeks. You grow dyspeptic, nervous, suffer functional irregularity. This condition can't exist if there is plenty of healthy blood. Ferronec makes good blood, rich nutritious blood—that's why it cures. In concentrated form Ferronec contains certain rare qualities that render it unailing in Anemia, languor, poor color and loss of weight. To build up—feel young and vigorous, nothing is better than Ferronec. At all dealers in soc. boxes.

Sanctum Suggestions.

The organization of a branch of the Canadian Club has been suggested in Wolfville. While we apparently have a full supply of societies of various kinds we believe the suggestion to be a good one. No town in the province is better qualified to support such an institution, and if the matter was taken hold of by our people generally an excellent club would not doubt be the result. There is no doubt as to the advantage which would come from such an organization here, and elsewhere. The study of Canadian affairs and the inculcation of national ideals by our people is the great need of today.

Civic Affairs.

Tuesday was nomination day for the town election, which takes place on Tuesday, Feb. 4th. Following the wise course generally pursued in the past by our town there will be no election for the office of mayor, Mr. W. M. Black being again elected by acclamation. Mayor Black has already filled the mayor's chair for two terms, and has proved himself a most efficient official. The experience gained through his past connection with civic affairs should make him still better qualified to fulfil the duties of the important office of chief magistrate.

Five candidates were nominated for the council, of which number three are to be elected. Messrs. Fitch and Abbott, the retiring councillors, are offering for re-election, and Messrs. C. R. H. Starr, F. J. Porter and J. W. Selfridge are also candidates. Messrs. Starr and Porter have both already occupied seats in the council and their qualifications for the position are well known. Mr. Selfridge is a good citizen and would make a creditable member of the council. Following are the candidates and by whom nominated:

Chas. S. Fitch—nominated by R. E. Harris, E. L. Collins, L. W. Sleep, I. B. Oakes, J. D. Chambers and Rev. R. F. Dixon.

Geo. W. Abbott—nominated by the same gentlemen.

C. R. H. Starr—nominated by J. D. Chambers, R. E. Harris, Dr. Bars and Rev. R. F. Dixon.

J. W. Selfridge—nominated by Dr. Bars, J. W. Vaughn and C. B. Godfrey.

F. J. Porter—nominated by Prof. R. V. Jones and W. A. Chipman.

A Safe Medicine For Any Children.

All so-called "soothing" syrups and most of the powders advertised to cure the ailments of babies and young children contain poisonous opiates, and an overdose may kill the child. Baby's Own Tablets are absolutely safe. You have the guarantee of a government analyst to the truth of this statement. Good for the new born babe and the well grown child. The Tablets positively cure such ailments as colic, sour stomach, indigestion, constipation, diarrhoea and teething troubles. They also cure simple fever, break up colds, prevent cramp and destroy worms. Every mother who has used this medicine praises it highly. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The Halifax Echo of Tuesday of last week has the following account of the meeting of Orpheus Lodge, I. O. O. F., referred to in last issue of THE ACADIAN:

Orpheus Lodge, No. 92, I. O. O. F., Wolfville, received an official visit last evening from the Grand Master of this jurisdiction, W. Stetson Rogers, of Halifax. A number of members of the order accompanied the Grand Master from Halifax, among them being, brothers J. H. Balcorn, Grand Treasurer; J. H. Laidlaw, Grand Representative, and the orchestra of Myrtle Lodge, No. 18, composed of 10 members under the leadership of brother Tezer. Besides the Wolfville members quite a goodly number attended from lodges located at Windsor, Hantsport, Kentville, and in addition, Berwick, Kingston, and even as far west as Westport were represented. Altogether the attendance was somewhat over 100. Had the Windsor brethren been able to make satisfactory arrangements with the railway, and also if there had been sufficient snow for sleighing, the lodge room at Wolfville would certainly not have accommodated those who planned to be on hand.

The Central Theological Circle is to meet in the Wolfville Baptist church on Monday, Feb. 3rd. At the morning session Rev. W. S. Jenkins, of Hantsport, is to give an address on "Hypnotism." Rev. Neil Henshaw, of Windsor, will, at the afternoon session, review the new book by Rev. J. R. Campbell, of London. Dr. Hatchinson will speak on the new extension courses for pastors and other Christian workers which is to be carried on under the direction of the Theological Department of Acadia University. It is also expected that this latter subject will be spoken to by other speakers.

The New Brunswick Legislature has been dissolved. Nomination Day is fixed for Feb. 25th and election on March 2nd.

The Man on the Street.

With the permission of THE ACADIAN I shall, when other duties permit, endeavor to discuss in brief paragraphs some of the matters which have caught the attention of 'the man on the street,' with the hope that nothing contained in my contributions may prove injurious and much beneficial to the interests of our town.

From time to time I have noticed your reference to the need of a public hall in Wolfville. That such a need exists there can be no question. A well fitted up opera house would undoubtedly prove a paying institution, and it is a wonder that something has not been done before this in the direction of supplying the need. Many good entertainments that now are obliged to pass our town by would gladly pay us a visit if suitable accommodation could be secured. Such good entertainments would tend to draw people into town from the surrounding districts, and thus benefit the place and its people.

One thing that is much needed in Wolfville is a good ground for athletic sports. THE ACADIAN has frequently referred to this, and 'the man on the street' gladly seconds the motion. The benefit of well conducted athletic sports is too well known to require further remark. At present we have little or no accommodation for such. Will not some one of our moneyed citizens donate a suitable ground to the town for such a use. Every year the possibility of securing such a ground becomes less, and the best available lot should be obtained at once.

The project undertaken by the Board of Trade two years ago of securing and beautifying the railway lot at the corner of Elm avenue and Front street has not proved as successful as it was hoped it would. The idea is an excellent one. First impressions are most lasting, and when a passenger steps off a train his first view of a town is likely to cause him to form an estimate of the town and its citizens. So far, while there has undoubtedly been some improvement, the appearance of the ground is by no means ideal. It is to be hoped the committee having the matter in hand may be infused with new vigor and that another season may see a vast improvement made. Citizens, I am sure, will render every assistance in their power to this laudable enterprise.

In the New Year number of the Halifax Herald Mayor Black attempted to give an answer to the inquiry, 'What does our town most need?' I was somewhat curious to read his letter and rather disappointed in his treatment of the subject. The question is certainly a most pertinent one, and I would like to see in your columns a number of brief letters from citizens containing their views. My opinion is that what is needed more than anything else is more unity among our people—a greater willingness displayed to pull together for whatever tends to the betterment of the community. This continual pulling apart is good for neither the public nor the private interest. There are many things that might be accomplished by a united, harmonious action of the citizens.

I was pleased to read your editorial of last week concerning the needed improvement in our streets. The matter is certainly a most important one. Main street should first be attended to, and then the other streets and avenues. In New England and in Ontario many towns so larger than Wolfville have beautiful and well-kept thoroughfares. What is needed is a more systematic plan of work. The right methods would produce a wonderful change with no greater expenditure of money.

In passing that part of the town familiarly known as 'Mad Creek' a few days ago I was struck with the change that has been made within a few years. This suggests the feasibility of the move suggested frequently of filling in the basin and converting the ugly spot into a public park. Main street could then be straightened and the appearance of the town much improved. It may take time but it will come.

Report of County Health Officer.

DR. P. N. BALCOM FOR YEAR 1907. To A. E. Mahon, Esq., Warren, Municipality of Kings: Sir,—As Health Officer for the County of Kings I have the honor to submit this my report for the year 1907.

During the year a number of complaints regarding nuisances and unsanitary places in different parts of the Municipality have been received, all of which have received attention.

The usual number of epidemic diseases of the milder class, such as measles, whooping cough, La Grippe, chicken-pox, etc., have existed in different sections, but the attention of the Health Officer has been more particularly directed to the severer forms of contagious disease such as scarlet fever, diphtheria and smallpox, which have appeared in several localities of the county.

Epidemics of scarlet fever of mild type have broken out at different times. All possible precautions were taken to control the disease and prevent its spread.

Early in the summer a few cases of diphtheria occurred in Ward 4. Prompt action was taken; strict quarantine was established and the disease did not spread beyond the two families affected.

In November a severer type of the disease broke out in Ward 9 near Grand Pre. Five families were affected. Some eighteen cases occurred two of which were fatal; prompt and decided measures were taken, and with the most valuable assistance of the local Sanitary Inspector, Dr. Chipman, who had all the affected families strictly quarantined, the schools closed and public gatherings forbidden, and with the liberal use of anti-toxin, the disease was speedily brought under control.

In early spring smallpox of the mild type that had been prevalent in different parts of the province made its appearance in New Ross, Lunenburg County. That the disease was of an extremely mild type is probably the reason that its true character was not recognized in its early stage and that it was allowed to become general in the town. It was recognized at the attendant physician, Dr. Middleton. The Health Officer visited the case in consultation, established strict quarantine, vaccinated other members of the family, and the same happy result followed—no new cases.

When the disease was recognized in New Ross the Health Officer of Lunenburg County took active measures to prevent a general spread of the contagion in that County. He had the roads leading to Mahone and to Chester strictly guarded. The result was to turn the general travel to Kentville and to Aylesford. At a joint meeting of Boards of Health of Ward 5 and 13 the necessity of strictly inspecting all parties coming from infected neighborhoods, was urged upon the Health Officer. After carefully looking over the situation it was decided that the only way to prevent the spread of the disease was to establish quarantine gates on New Ross Road and on Aylesford Road. Consequently, Mr. Richard Alders, of New Ross, was appointed Local Inspector (as authorized by the act) and for the period of twenty days he was instructed to allow only such persons to pass into this County from New Ross as had certificates from Health Officer that they did not have the disease and had not been exposed thereto. The same scheme was carried out to travel toward Dalhousie and Aylesford.

The very mild type in which the disease appeared rendering it, in many cases, very difficult of detection, made it much more necessary that strict precautions be taken. There is reason to believe that the interest generally created as well as the precautions taken had much to do with bringing the epidemic to an early termination.

While there is yet much to be done in the way of educating the general public in regards to sanitary regulations, much interest has been taken during the past year and we may look forward hopefully to the time when we shall be able to control these severer forms of contagious disease, and a lively interest will be taken in all our sanitary regulations.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

P. N. BALCOM, Health Officer County of Kings, Aylesford, Dec. 31, 1907.

We would like to see an Edison Phonograph in every home. We know that you will find in the Edison Phonograph the greatest amount of amusement, either for yourself, for your friends or both. Nothing makes an evening's party "go" so much as an Edison Phonograph. The faithfulness of its reproduction of all kinds of music is marvellous. Come into the store at any time and hear it, and especially ask to see and hear the new model with the big horn.

Local Happenings.

Town elections next Tuesday. Evangeline rink will be opened this (Friday) evening to the public.

Law office of Shafter and Pines—over store of R. E. Harris & Son. Open every Wednesday.

The heaviest snow-storm at the season took place yesterday, and it now looks as though we might have some sleighing after all. It certainly will be appreciated.

A watch and fob, lady's fur muff and a pair of gents gloves have been left at the rink. Owners may have them by proving property and paying for this adv., on application to the manager.

Mr Emery will give his fourth Invitation Musicales Feb. 28th. The program will be rendered by three of his pupils—Miss Joy Lawrence, pianist, Miss Rose Thorpe, mezzo soprano, and Mr Herman DeWitt, baritone.

The dance given by the Canning Quadrille Club will be repeated on Tuesday evening, Feb. 4th, at the Cornwallis Trading Co's warehouse, Canning, at 8 o'clock. The same cordial invitation extended as before. Gentleman 50c.

Two interesting games of hockey were played in Evangeline rink on Tuesday evening. The Shamrocks, of this town defeated the Canning team by a score of 8-6, and the high school defeated Acadia-Villa by a score of 12-0.

If you want to grow the best orchard with the least outlay, write soon to G. M. Peck, Son & Co., Wolfville Nurseries, for terms and particulars of their Home-Grown Fruit Trees, Grafted Seedlings or Root-grafts and Raspberry plants.

Dr. Roach, who has purchased the dental practice of Dr. Lawrence, arrived in town last week. This Acadia gladly gives him a welcome to our town and trust he may find his residence here profitable and pleasant. His professional card appears elsewhere in this paper.

The annual roll-call of the Gasperan Baptist church is to be held on Sunday, Feb. 2nd. Rev. L. D. Morse, pastor of the Wolfville Baptist church, is to speak in the afternoon, and in the evening Dr. Hutchinson will be present and deliver an address. A very enjoyable meeting is anticipated.

The Parrish Leader has changed hands and is now the property of Rev. Mr. Woodland. Under the management of the late publisher, Mr. Outhill, the Leader has been a well conducted journal, and the new proprietor promises changes and improvements that will make the paper even more attractive and useful to its readers. Success to him.

This is the anniversary year of the Borden Homestead in Town Plot, Cornwallis. It was purchased by Thomas Borden, father of the late Daniel Borden, in the year 1808. The farm is still in possession of Daniel Borden's widow. It is not often that we find a property remains in one family for so long a time as one hundred years.

The program of the Song Recital which Mr Emery rendered last autumn in Berwick, assisted by Miss Joy Lawrence, will be repeated at Mr Emery's residence the early part of next month, as so many have requested. The program includes the famous Indian Love Lyrics by Finden and the Mother Goose Melodies in a unique and new setting.

It will pay careful buyers to read J. D. Chambers' advertisement this week. The annual February Cash Sale begins Monday, February 3rd, and will be continued two weeks. This will be a splendid opportunity to purchase Dry Goods of every description at very low prices. A discount of 20 per cent. is offered on everything excepting gray and white cottons and threads. On these 20 per cent. will be allowed. A splendid variety of Dress Goods will be shown, also some new lines in Embroideries and Print Cottons, all subject to 20 per cent. discount. Hundreds of remnants will be laid out and marked at cost or in many cases away below cost to clear. Ladies' coats and skirts will be sold at one-third and at half price. This is a home for cash clearance sale as Mr Chambers intends running a cash business and stock must be reduced.

Wolfville Hockey Team too Strong for Lunenburg. The first game of the new Western Nova Scotia Hockey League this season was played Wednesday night between Lunenburg and Wolfville, and resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 6 to 3. Four members of the Lunenburg team were new players, this being their first senior game. Robert Silver, Lunenburg's crack goal tender, by his excellent playing, saved a larger score. Three college men on the Wolfville team played a star game, as also did Spicer, Wolfville's leading player in the new style of play, the point running down the ice and scoring. This style of play was effective and spectacular. The game was hotly-contested and was witnessed by about 400 people. John Bates of Acadia, referred to in an impartial manner. The Lunenburg players were entertained at Young's cafe. A return match will be played in Lunenburg on February 11th.

Mathematical.

THE ACADIAN has received the following solutions of the mathematical problem published in last issue: Norton St., New Haven, Conn., Jan. 27th, '08.

Editor of the Acadian, DEAR SIR:—Enclosed is a solution of the mathematical problem you published in your issue of Jan. 24th: Let x equal number of lbs. of wool.

34 lbs. lost 34c. on the wool and since the original cost of the cloth was 50c, he made only 1c. per yard on the transaction, but he gained a profit of twenty per cent. for one cent is twenty per cent of 50c. There is no limit to the amount of cloth sold.

Yours truly, WILLIAM S. H. HAMILTON, Sheffield Scientific School, Yale University.

Value received for 1 yd. of cloth equals 60c. Value received for 1 lb. of wool equals 15c. Hence 4lbs. wool are equivalent in value to 1 yd. cloth. Customer is allowed $1.00 for 4lbs. of wool, therefore he is charged $1.00 per yd. for the cloth.

Militarism in the Schools.

An Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto News recently recounted, in a somewhat commendatory spirit, a plan which is being tried to introduce military drill in the public schools of the maritime provinces, beginning with Nova Scotia. The avowed object of this move is to improve the physical stamina of the people, and add to the military strength of the nation. Deeply interested in whatever affects the educational future of this country, The Farmer's Advocate desires to call attention to the far-reaching significance of this proposition, and of the suggestions which are made for giving it effect.

A survey of the situation in different provinces indicates that educational policies are at present passing through a transition stage, and it behooves every man and woman concerned for the future of the country to acquaint himself and herself as thoroughly as possible, before we are committed to the initial step, with the tendency of proposals like the one under review.

Those who are promoting the Nova Scotia experiment will no doubt want to see it extended to the other provinces of Canada.

As outlined by the correspondent of The News, the Nova Scotia arrangement takes the form of an agreement between the Dominion militia authorities and the provincial department of education, whereby drill will be included in the school curricula, and the militia department will provide the instructors, who will be competent, to enable teachers, in turn, to qualify themselves to impart such instruction.

In the second place, the inducement held out of an annual bonus of from $50 to $100 to teachers who will (a) instruct the pupils, and (b) join the militia. Foreseeing difficulties likely to arise at this point, provision is made for the two classes of certificates ('A' and 'B'), the former for men, and meaning that they are capable of granting military instruction; the latter for women, who are presumed to be able to rise to the standard of being able to impart physical instruction and drill and teach the youth how to sit, stand erect, and move in order. But the militia department grants them no bonuses which are for the men in possession of the grade 'A' certificates, which they obtain by taking courses at military centers.

As a consideration favorable to the carrying out of the scheme, it is thought the bonus will be so inducing to the return of men to the teaching profession who, in Ontario and elsewhere, have drifted out because of low salaries.

In support of the propaganda, the case of Japan is cited, where children from six to ten are given physical and squad drill; from ten to twelve, company drill; from thirteen to eighteen, the care of arms, rifle exercises, and so on, as far as a preparation for efficiency in war. But Canada is not lying along in a settled deplored like Russia, and these kidded Anglo-Saxon nations should proceed upon the peace and arbitration theory, and not upon the theory of unseemly horrors and waste of a fratricidal war.

In North America, the surest way to bring on war is to prepare for it by raising the military spirit; the surest way to avoid war is to turn the people's thoughts and aims towards the arts and triumphs of peace.

The pretence is made that the objects of military drill in the public schools can be obtained without subtracting from the energy and working time of the people—an absurdity upon its face.

To this military propaganda among the youth of our land, we must enter our protest, for two reasons, one that the war spirit is wrong the other that it will divert the educational energies of our teachers.

Our school systems need reformation, but it is in the direction of the arts of peace, not in the arts of war—Framers' Advocate.

The following from the Danbury News of Danbury, Conn., gives further details of the death and burial of Dr. A. P. Smith, of New York, which was referred to by THE ACADIAN last week.

The funeral of Dr. A. P. Smith, of New York, who died suddenly at his home in that city Monday, took place in Brookfield, his native town, this morning. Dr. Smith was a practicing physician in this city for a short time several years ago, and for a number of years practiced his profession in Sandy Hook, where he succeeded Dr. W. C. Wile.

His death was the result of heart failure, following a severe sickness of pneumonia. He had nearly recovered from the pneumonia and was thought to be somewhat improved when the disease attacked his heart which was much weakened by the illness and he passed away suddenly and very unexpectedly.

The funeral took place this morning at his old home in Brookfield and the interment was in the Brookfield cemetery. Dr. Smith was an uncle of Will C. Smith, of this city.

Dr. H. B. Webster and Mr. W. E. Porter are candidates for the mayoralty of the town of Kentville. Mr. W. E. Roscoe, the retiring mayor, who has filled the position for two terms, and has proved an ideal chief magistrate, declined to run in a election for a third term.

Acadia Seminary Notes.

The Planforte Recital which was postponed from last Friday evening will be given this evening in Alumni Hall. Those who were privileged to hear the rehearsal last Friday evening were greatly delighted with the program. The several numbers were well rendered and the addition of the Elocution and Vocal selections added greatly to the pleasure of the listeners.

It is hoped a large audience of Wolfville friends and patrons of the school will be present this evening.

The number of resident pupils in the Seminary this term has reached a total of 105. Two or three more pupils are expected. The total number of resident pupils for the year will reach 112. Of these 69 are from Nova Scotia, 35 from New Brunswick, 3 from Prince Edward Island and 5 from elsewhere on the continent.

The correspondent of the Daily Herald says: "The Acadia Choral Club is doing good work under the direction of Professor Ringwald. The dates of the festival have been fixed for May 7 and 8." It is probable that the Symphony Sextette and several well known singers who have been heard before in Wolfville will be engaged. Announcement will be made in the near future.

During the fiscal year 5000 people were killed and over 76,000 injured on the railroads of the United States. That is equal to one casualty for every three miles of track. In Canada the number of casualties run about 1,800 a year or one to some twelve miles of track.

Unable to Digest THE FOOD

The digestive system is a wonderful piece of machinery, but power is necessary to make it perform its duty. The power, in this case, is the nerve force which the nervous system supplies. If the nervous system becomes weakened, the digestive system becomes hopelessly clogged with indigestion, flatulency, nervous pain and spells of weakness, dizziness and discouragement.

'It's only my business in so far as I can be of help in settling this dispute,' answered the Samaritan mildly. 'This ain't no dispute,' growled the man.

'No dispute? But, my dear friend—' 'I tell you it ain't no dispute,' insisted the man. 'She's jerking his chin towards the woman—' 'She ain't going to get my neck a-weird, and I know darn well she ain't. Where's the dispute in that?—' 'Everybody's Magazines.'

Eight Lessons From the Bee.

1. The bee teaches us to be industrious. No bee ever shirks his work. 2. He teaches us to be loyal and obedient. Bees obey and love the queen who rules them.

3. They teach us to be fond of our homes. No bee leaves his home except for a while, if he can help it. 4. They teach us to be clean. Nothing can be cleaner than a home of a bee.

5. They show much sympathy or kind fellow-feelings for each other in distress, and will never leave a friend in trouble without trying to help him. 6. They are very early risers.

7. They delight in fresh air. 8. They are very peaceful, and seldom quarrel or fight among themselves.—Exchange.

Don't Take the Risk.

When you have a bad cough or cold do not let it drag along until it becomes chronic bronchitis or develops into an attack of pneumonia, but give it the attention it deserves and get rid of it. Take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are sure of prompt relief. From a small beginning the sale and use of this preparation has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries. Its many remarkable cures of coughs and colds have won for it this wide reputation and extended use. Sold by Rand's Drug Store.

How the Pendulum Was Found.

Like many of the commonest mechanical instruments in daily use, the invention of the pendulum is due entirely to chance. Galileo, when under twenty years of age, was standing one day in the metropolitan church of Pisa, while some painters were at work on the ceiling of the church.

A suspended lamp which was hanging before the altar was disturbed in some manner, and the scientist was struck with the almost perfect regularity with which it swung back and forth. He was struck with the fact that such an instrument found instant application in his brain, and he completed the system in use to this day.

Lame Shoulder Cured.

Lame shoulder is only caused by rheumatism of the muscles and quickly yields to a few applications of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. Mrs. F. H. McElroy, of Boistown, New Brunswick, writes, 'Having been troubled for some time with a pain in my left shoulder, I decided to give Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial, with the result that I got prompt relief.'

For sale by Rand's Drug Store. Seeds Higher Than Last Year. Farmers will probably have to pay high this year for seeds, as a shortage in the crop has caused a considerable advance in the price of some lines. The most marked advance is in the price of clover, which is quoted at 5 cents a pound higher than last year. A number of the wholesalers have already made purchases and the travelers are now out taking orders. It has been the custom in years past for Canadian seed to be exported to France, but this year some French seed is being imported to Canada.—St. John Times.

The Pure Food Law.

Secretary Wilson says, 'One of the objects of the law is to inform the consumer of the presence of certain harmful drugs in medicines.' The law requires that the amount of alcohol, opium, morphine and other habit forming drugs be stated on the label of each bottle. The manufacturers of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy have always claimed that their remedy did not contain any of these drugs, and the truth of this claim is now fully proven, as no mention of them is made on the label. This remedy is not only one of the safest, but one of the best in use for coughs and colds. Its value has been proven beyond question during the many years it has been in use. James R. Keene, the famous New York financier, at a dinner, said of the recent panic: 'The way men hungered after money reminded me of Tom Fergus, a friend of my Frisco days.'

'Tom, one morning, expected a man to call and pay a bill. While he was waiting for the man a summons came for him to go out. Before going he put this notice on the door: 'Have gone out for half an hour. Will be back soon. Been gone twenty minutes already.'

Fever Sores. Fever sores and all chronic sores should not be healed entirely, but should be kept in healthy condition. This can be done by applying Chamberlain's Balm. It is also most excellent for chapped hands, sore nipples, burns and diseases of the skin. For sale by Rand's Drug Store.

This setting down and lodging our arms and waiting for something to turn up, is just about as rich a speculation as going out into a four-hundred acre lot, setting down on a sharp stone with a pale between our knees, and waiting for a cow to be back up and be milked.—Josh Billings.

The late evangelistic campaign held at Waukegan under the direction of Dr. Chapman, proved a great success. One of its best results was the establishing of a league of service with hundreds of members, each pledged to gather up the fruits of the campaign and conserve its results.

The middle and lower class business men and women are instead of tobacco, the carter sent a vast quantity of these seeds to the Massachusetts recently as a present.

His Name Was Alexander.

There was a chap who kept a store, And though there might be grander, He asked his wife to change her name. His name was Alexander.

He mixed his goods with cunning hand, He was a skillful trader; And since his sugar was half sand, They called him Alex-sander.

He had a girl. One day she came, Then lovingly he wooed her; Then asked her would she change her name? A girl did Alex-sander.

'Oh, yes,' she said, with smiling lip, 'If I can be commander' And so they framed a partnership, And called it Alex-sander.

Gloves.

The origin of gloves is very ancient. Some authorities assert that they were known in the Bible times, from references made to 'shoes' which were thought to be identical with gloves. The first clear account of gloves comes, however, from Xenophon. This speaks of the Persians wearing gloves on their hands to protect them from the cold. Homer describes Laertes working in his garden with gloves upon his hands to protect them from the thorns, and Varro mentions this apparel as being worn by the Romans.

Gloves have been tokens of solemn and important things from the ninth century. They were adopted as a title from the charters and later the transferring of lands or titles was always attended with the presentation of gloves. In the seventh century the method of challenging to single combat by throwing down a glove was instituted, and this custom still remains in some countries. Gloves were not worn by women until after the Reformation.

A tickling cough, from any cause, is quickly stopped by Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. And it is so thoroughly harmless and safe, that Dr. Shoop tells mothers everywhere to give it without hesitation even to very young babies. The whole some green leaves and tender stems of a lung-healing mountain shrub, furnish the curative properties to Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. It calms the cough, and heals the sore and sensitive bronchial membranes. No opium, no chloroform, nothing harsh used to injure or suppress. Simply a resinous plant extract, that helps to heal aching lungs. The Spaniards call this shrub which the Doctor uses, 'The Sacred Herb.' Demand Dr. Shoop's. Take no other. A. V. Rand.

Dunning. No doubt's great many of us have dunned people for various things, and perhaps some of us have been unfortunate enough to be dunned, but it is doubted if many know where the phrase originated. It has been said that it originally came from the French verb dunner.

This may be true, but the word probably came from Joe Dun, a famous ballist of Lucoke, about the time of Henry VII. Dun was so noted for his ability to extract money from debtors that his name became proverbial, and it got to be a custom to say, 'Why don't you Dun him?'

No Appetite.

Every day comes the good news of wonderful cures with Ferrozene. In Petersburg it worked marvels for Louis Meehan—put him right on his feet—made him entirely well.

'About three years ago,' says Mr. Meehan, 'I had the Grippe which left me in a very run-down condition that finally developed into Dyspepsia. I was unable to eat but a few things and had a craving for acid. I gave up treating with the doctors because they did not help me and on the advice of a friend used Ferrozene. It not only cured me of Dyspepsia and Bilio-nousness, but has built up my strength to what it was before I had the Grippe. I can recommend Ferrozene as an ideal restorative.'

Ferrozene gives you force, energy, vim. It strengthens the stomach cures indigestion, prevents headaches—guarantees good health. Thousands use Ferrozene—they look better—feel better; try it yourself—sold in Soc. boxes by all dealers.

Stomach Trouble Cured.

If you have any trouble with your stomach you should take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. Mr. J. P. Kline, of Edina, Mo., says: 'I have used a great many different medicines for stomach trouble, but had Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets more beneficial than any other remedy I ever used.' A good solution for cleansing silver is composed of one-third pint of ammonia, two-thirds of a pint of alcohol and a tablespoon of white shaken well together. Dampen a small sponge with the liquid and go over the silver quickly, wiping it off with a clean white cloth before it dries. Silver will polish much better. Chamberlain's skin is used instead of lard.

A TRULY IDEAL WIFE

HER HUSBAND'S BEST HELPER. Vigorous Health is the Great Source of Power to Inspire and Encourage—All Women Should Seek It.

One of the most noted, successful and richest men of this century, in a recent article, has said, 'Whatever I am and whatever recovery I have attained in this world I owe all to my wife. From the day I first knew her, she has been an inspiration, and the greatest helpmate of my life.'

Mrs. Beattie Ansley. To be such a successful wife, to retain the love and admiration of her husband, to inspire him to make the most of himself, to be his constant study, and to be his life-long friend, is a woman's duty that her energies are flagging, that she gets easily tired, dark shadows appear under her eyes, she has backache, headache, nervousness, irregularities of the bowels, she drops things, fidgets and writhes helplessly, a tonic with specific action is needed.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: 'Ever since my child was born I have suffered, as I hope I have never again, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache, and various headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.'

What Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for Mrs. Ansley it will do for every sick and ailing woman. Following we publish, by request a letter from a young wife:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: 'I was born I have suffered, as I hope I have never again, with inflammation, female weakness, bearing-down pains, headache, and various headaches. It affected my stomach so I could not enjoy my meals, and half my time was spent in bed.'

A husband and wife, who both had expensive tastes, were one day discussing the advantages of economy, and mutually agreed to practice it. A few days later the husband observed a new purchase on the part of his wife, and said to her reproachfully:—'My dear, in view of the present hard times, I thought we were going to practise economy for a while.'

'Oh, that's the lady answered, 'I went to town and countermanded the order you had given your tailor for a twenty-guinea over-lined overcoat, and got instead an ermine wrap that only cost fifteen guineas, having, you see, of five guineas. Not bad for one day, was it?'

Bronchial Colds AND BRONCHITIS

Hard coughing is the cause of the greatest suffering from bronchitis, and because Dr. A. W. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine loosens the cough and relieves the demand for the chest it is a most acceptable treatment.

Not only acute cases but also those of long standing usually yield to the persistent use of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Which some to act as a specific in this ailment, and the immense popularity of this great medicine was built up largely on its reputation as a cure for bronchitis.

Cough, whooping cough, asthma, cough and colds really yield to the soothing and healing influence of this great medicine. 25 cents a bottle, at all dealers of Edmondson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Mrs. A. Barnum, Ingersoll, Ont., writes: 'My husband was so bad with a bronchial cold that he could not speak above a whisper and medicine seemed of no avail until we used Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine which cured him in two days.'
