The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

My work was dragging wretchedly to the other day. I was cross nervous as a witch and quite unable to see anything worth living for or working for.
At first I couldn't understand what had put me in such a state of mind.
And then I happened to remember that, except once to mail some letters and once to feed the birds, I actually hadn't been outside the house for three days.
And I was thoroughly ashamed of myself.
Was it any wonder that I saw the world indigo purple?
Is it any wonder that any of the thousands of women who do that same thing get to feeling "as if I would fly," and to nagging their husbands and scolding their children, and hating their homes, and having little private crying spells every day?
Not a bit. It's only a wonder to me that they don't do worse things.
Sometimes, at the end of a spell of bad weather, a neighbor will run in to see mother, and will say, "I do declare. This is the first time I've been out in five days."
My, but I'm glad I didn't have to be a housemaid of that woman the last two or three days.
Seems to me a woman ought to be ashamed of not having been out and aired herself as of not having aired her bed.

There is no cure for household disturbances like going out and getting into a fresh atmosphere, both mental and physical. The reason men do not take household disturbances and little quarrels so seriously as women is because they get out into the air and see people and get a fresher, saner perspective on the whole matter, while women stay at home and brood.
I know a very bright and wise woman who unless never to miss a day without going out for a brisk walk and chat with some congenial friend, and who paraphrases Pederewski's famous statement about his finger exercise this way:
"If I miss my outing one day I know it."
"If I miss it two days my family knows it."
"And if I miss it three days even the butcher boy knows it."
If every woman went out and aired her lungs with outdoor ozone and her mind with the breath of sanity that comes from contact with other minds, this world would be a much happier place to live in.
Of course this daily airing takes time, but remember, it also saves time by increasing your efficiency to do your work, and probably gives you a balance on the credit side in the end.
So don't say you can't afford to take the time.
More likely you can't afford not to.

Ruth Cameron

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription

Is the best of all medicines for the cure of diseases, disorders and weaknesses peculiar to women. It is the only preparation of its kind devised by a regularly graduated physician—an experienced and skilled specialist in the disease of women.
It is a safe medicine in any condition of the system.
THE ONE REMEDY which contains no alcohol and no injurious habit-forming drugs and which creates no craving for such stimulants.
THE ONE REMEDY so good that its makers are not afraid to print its every ingredient on each outside bottle-wrappers and attest to the truthfulness of the same under oath.
It is sold by medicine dealers everywhere, and any dealer who hasn't it can get it. Don't take a substitute of unknown composition for this medicine of known composition. No counterfeit is as good as the genuine and the druggist who says something else is "just as good as Dr. Pierce's," is either mistaken or is trying to deceive you for his own selfish benefit. Such a man is not to be trusted. He is trifling with your most priceless possession—your health—may be your life itself. See that you get what you ask for.

Household Notes.

Carbolic soap should be freely used about the house to keep down vermin. It is easier to scale fish if they are first dipped for an instant into boiling water.
To clean white ribbons so that they will not turn yellow, wash them in gasoline.
Honey should be stored in a dark place, for if it is kept in the light it will soon granulate.
If a wooden chopping bowl is turned upside down after use there will be no danger of its splitting.
A pinch of borax stirred into a quart of milk will keep it sweet, if you object to the taste after boiling.
To clean white paint dip a clean cloth in hot water, then in bran and rub it. Rinse with clear water.
Bacon fat may be saved and used to fry fish. It gives a good flavor and keeps the fish from falling apart.
Never buy meat that is palish pink, for it is diseased. Good meat is red, with the fat clear, white and firm.
Wooden tubs should be used for washing glass and delicate china, as there is far less danger of breakage.
To scour brass, dip half a lemon in table salt, rub briskly over the surface, wash off with clear water and dry.
Good proportions for French dressing are one teaspoonful of vinegar, three of oil and salt and pepper to taste.
To keep clothes from running where the colors are not fast, use a cupful of salt to each gallon of washing water.
To mend a glove, turn it wrong side out and sew the rent over and over with cotton thread. Silk thread will wear out.
Tell the children in making soap bubbles to put a few drops of glycerine into the water, and the bubbles will be more lasting.
To blanch almonds, pour boiling water over them and leave them till the water is cold, when the skins will be quite loose.
The creaking of a door can be stopped at once by rubbing the hinge with a piece of soap or with the lead of a black pencil.
To clean paint, use powdered whitening on a damp cloth and rub evenly with the grain of the wood. This will not spoil the paint.
To make a heavy sewing table cushion, fill a stout cover with rice. This makes a very heavy cushion that can be used as a weight.
It is a wise thing to raise some okra and dry the pods. They will keep indefinitely, and there is no better flavor for soups and bouillions.
Dish cloths should always be well washed in hot water after being used, or they will soon become not only sadly discolored, but full of bacteria.
A kitchen churn that holds but one quart is useful for turning cream into butter and also as a cake mixer and for beating eggs for angel cake.
Cold water should be poured on grease as soon as it is spilled on the floor, as it will harden the grease and prevent it soaking into the wood.
To destroy fleas in the house wipe the furniture, wherever possible, with spirits of naphtha, but do not let the children get near it until it is dry.

THE WOE OF THE WEAK-STOMACHED MAN

Relieved by Father Morrissey's "No. 11"

Did you ever see a happy dyspeptic? Or a man cheerful over his indigestion? No wonder you didn't, for the man who cannot digest cannot enjoy very much. When the stomach refuses to work the whole system goes wrong, and there follows fever, headache, constipation, bad breath and severe pain. Then the mind is affected; a person becomes irritable, sarcastic, surly—in fact, almost unbearable.
Father Morrissey gave this matter special study, and devised a tablet now known as "Father Morrissey's No. 11," which relieves the misery. Each tablet is capable of digesting 1/2 pounds of food—a good square meal. One tablet after eating, with a half tumbler of water, insures perfect digestion, providing reasonable care is taken to avoid foods that have been found especially disagreeable to the stomach.
If you have suffered from a weak stomach, why not do as thousands have done—take Father Morrissey's No. 11 Tablets? And be cured? Get your dealer's, or from Father Morrissey's Medicine Co., Ltd., Chatham, N.E. 50

Lenten Sermon.

St. Rev. Monsignor Roche preached the second of the series of Lenten sermons at the Cathedral on Wednesday night.

The text was from the gospel of the day read at Mass and included verses 38-42 in the 12th chap. of St. Matt.: "Then certain Scribes and Pharisees answered saying Master we would see a sign from thee." The Rev. preacher with clear enunciation and in choice diction went on to show the necessity of doing penance and keeping the Lenten fast, gracefully and easily, buttressing his remarks by quotations from the Old and New Testament. By scriptural quotation he made it plain that fasting and acts of pleasure were enjoined and practised in the Jewish dispensation. The great example in the New Law was our Divine Lord himself who fasted 40 days and nights in the wilderness. The Church ordained the Lenten fast in honor and imitation of Our Lord. It was necessary to subdue our passions and appetites and to keep the body in subjection to the spirit. There were two distinct natures in man, one capable of the highest, and the other of the lowest evil, they were at all times warring against each other. St. Paul himself gave proof of this in one of his epistles. The great enemies to man, trying to live a good life were the world, the flesh and the Devil. These foes were always at work trying to kill him down. Prayer, fasting and meditation on the great truths of religion, attending the Church services and approaching the Sacraments of penance and the Blessed Eucharist could keep the three great enemies in subjection with the Grace and assistance of God.
The Monsignor concluded by making an eloquent appeal to the congregation to spend the Lenten season well, to practice self-denial and frequent the services of the Church, and above all to make a good confession and receive Holy Communion worthily.
Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was after the sermon imparted by Rev. Father O'Callaghan.
There was a large congregation and it seemed to be more than usually impressed by the sermon.

Good Luck to the Sealers.

From a Newfoundland Abroad.
On the evening of the 18th of March great numbers of people will assemble at the docks and every available spot along the waterfront of the busy little city of St. John's to witness the departure of the seal hunters as they all on the perilous voyage to the frozen plains; there will be farewells and sandshaking as friends of these brave men wish them good luck and bumper tips.
They are off are the words one will hear as the staunch and well fitted ships steam out of the Narrows carrying with them many hundreds of the bravest men that ever lived—the Newfoundland seal hunters, men who are performing deeds of heroism every day among their fellowmen and shipmates, heroic deeds that are never written and therefore are never known to the world outside their own circles, and never receive any reward from the public, as the heroes are always too humble to acknowledge their own brave deeds. But nevertheless there is a greater reward for them than the world could ever offer them.
I noticed in the Evening Telegram last week an account of the number of sealing ships being equipped with wireless telegraphy, which I am sure must be a great convenience to them, and I trust it will be the means of them securing better trips and less accidents which will mean considerable for the crews, and that the owners will not feel the extra expense which is not a little.
So wishing them all good luck and hoping to hear on their return of no mishap and bumper trips in the sheltered wish of an interested friend.

HALT!

LEGISLATION THAT IS IN THE INTEREST OF LAND GRABBERS SHOULD NOT BE COUNTERACTED BY THE LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL AND GOVERNOR.

The startling yet profoundly wise speech delivered by Sir Robert Bond in the House of Assembly yesterday afternoon, and a synopsis of which is published in another column of this newspaper, should call a halt in the legislation being proposed by the Government and if it is passed in the House of Assembly, then the public have a right to look to the other two branches of the Legislature—the Legislative Council and His Excellency the Governor—to protect them. We entertain no doubt whatever that behind the "Crown Lands Bill" that was stripped of its covering yesterday by Sir Robert Bond there is danger, very great danger, of irremediable injury being inflicted on this country. The whole of the facts in connection with the Land Grants have not been disclosed as yet, but we understand that the Leader of the Opposition has them in his possession. A Royal Commission should be appointed by His Excellency the Governor TO INQUIRE INTO THIS BUSINESS ON OATH, and it will then be discovered who are behind the scenes, and who are the parties principally interested in the Crown Lands Bill and the "Get Rich Quick Scheme" that it is calculated to further.

Death of Mr. E. H. Davey, M.H.A.

The whole community was saddened by the death of Mr. Edward H. Davey, Member of the House of Assembly for Burin District. This sad event occurred at 12.30 this morning after an illness of short duration. The deceased gentleman was the senior partner in the well known firm of E. H. and G. Davey, and carried on a very successful business as a contractor with his brother, Mr. George Davey, for many years. Mr. Davey was a man possessed of much energy and great executive ability, coupled with intelligence, tact and judgment which led to the success he achieved in business. He was taken into partnership with his father in 1879, and at the death of his parent in 1884 associated with him his brother, Mr. Geo. Davey, building up a reliable and lucrative business. Contesting Burin District in 1900 in the Liberal interest he was elected, and in each succeeding political contest had the confidence and support of the people of the district he so worthily represented. With his colleagues on either side in the Assembly he was justly popular, and though a good loyal party man never allowed his political connections to interfere with personal friendship. Imbued with an innate sense of fair play he conceded to his political adversaries perfect freedom to think and act within the bounds of their own particular predilections. He was not alone popular and highly esteemed in the city of St. John's and in the District of Burin, but many friends all over the island justly paid him the tribute of their regard, and his death will be keenly regretted by them. In society matters Mr. Davey took much interest, was a member of the Masonic fraternity and took an active and prominent place in the councils of the S.U.F. and S.O.E. He was a devoted and faithful adherent of the Anglican Communion and for a lengthy period was the People's Churchwarden in the Cathedral, an office which he filled with credit to himself and satisfaction to both people and clergy. Socially he was a favorite also and in athletic circles was popular, being a member of the Avalon Cricket Club for years and an expert at the willow. Sorrows were multiplied with Mr. Davey during recent years and this contributed in no slight degree to the decline of an erstwhile vigorous constitution. The passing of his adored children and the sudden death of a beloved wife some months ago were trials which left their baneful impress on the spirit and health of the deceased. Several weeks ago Mr. Davey was afflicted with pneumonia, rendered more acute and dangerous because of other serious organic complications, so that his friends saw with keenest regret that the end was approaching. He had been unconscious for over 24 hours until the Angel of Death released him from his sufferings at the hour named above, and his spirit ascended, may we hope, to the land where grief and bereavement which falls on the brothers and other relatives of the deceased the Telegram joins with the whole public in expressing to them its most sincere condolence.

All Night Session in the British House of Commons.

Special Evening Telegram.
LONDON, Noon.
A nineteen hours session of the House of Commons marked the stormiest scenes since 1901. The sitting closed at ten o'clock this morning after a riotous debate lasting all night. Bitter personalities were exchanged, and for a time it looked as though the police would have to be called. The greatest uproar prevailed when the Speaker (?) rebuked the Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill for irrelevancy in his speech on the Budget. The Unionist leaders leaped to their feet, denouncing the Home Secretary for his tactics, amidst tumult and shouting. Finally Mr. Churchill moved to report passages in deliberations on measure under discussion and the disorder quieted.

Death of Mrs. W. H. Whiteley.

At 10.30 this morning a worthy old lady passed away in the person of Mrs. Louisa A. Whiteley, after an illness of some months duration. Louisa A. Whiteley was a Londoner by birth and daughter of Charles Thomson, Esq., a well-to-do hostler and glove maker of Chesapeake. She was born in 1834, finished her scholastic training at Brussels, and for five years immediately previous to her marriage was an active member of the Clermont Chapel and a teacher in the Ragged School held in connection with that great church. She was married in 1854 and accompanied her husband back to Bonne Esperance, where she devoted a lifetime and her gifts and accomplishments to all who could be helped and comforted in the long years before Grenfell missions and hospitals were known. Possessed of a splendid physique and active disposition she did a great work in those days, and the house at Bonne Esperance was a harbor of refuge and a hostel of hospitality for all, where there was always good cheer and a kindly welcome for rich and poor alike. To her sons and daughters, now scattered far and wide, the Evening Telegram extends a word of sympathy in their bereavement.

In the rooms of the Gower Street people the united Associations of Governer and Cochrane Methodist young men held the weekly session of the Mock Parliament when the first reading of an Education Bill was brought up. Later the House went into Committee on the Cull of Codfish. Mr. Hudson in the chair. The provisions of the Bill were keenly contested by the Oppositionists, and in the debate there took part Premier Bradley and Messrs. Curtis and King; Mr. Soper, Leader of the Opposition and Messrs. Grimes, Mews, Hearder and Young. Three sections of the Act passed the committee. The next session will be held in the C. A. A. rooms on Tuesday.

Train Notes.

The west bound express that left here last evening at 6 o'clock arrived at Whitbourne at 4.05 this morning.
No. 2 local arrived at Tickle Harbor at 7.30 a.m. and is due at St. John's this p.m.
A train from Millertown Junction is due here at 8 to-night.
The local from Carbonar is due here at 3 p.m. The train is coming by the Broad Cove line and the snow on the track is causing the delay.
The express that left here last evening was hung up at Whitbourne all night owing to snow. She got clear at noon to-day.
The train that left here Wednesday with two engines and a plow has been stuck at Tickle Harbor in the snow banks on the line. The train was not clear at noon to-day.
The express coming east is also there, having arrived from Millertown Junction, working to get through the snow banks in the cut. It is expected that the line will be clear right through this afternoon.
The express bound west was held at Whitbourne till daylight, blocked. The men could not work on account of the wind and drift on Tickle Harbor Barrens. The weather was very stormy there the past 48 hours.
One of the big rotary plows went west over the Topsails this morning. The other is at Arnold's Cove disabled and waiting for the material to put it in order that was sent on Wednesday's train.
A message was received by the R. N. Co. at 12.30 that the road was all clear.
If there come no snow storms as heavy as the last, the R. N. Co. expect to be able to run trains on time from this time forward.

Indigestion & Dyspepsia

In all its Forms can be Cured.
It is quite a daily occurrence to hear persons say: "Oh, what a feeling of distress I have after meals, fullness of the stomach, heaviness and headache, I feel too tired to do anything, I have no heart to exert myself and at times I care for nothing. I often have a pain in the pit of my stomach, no appetite, my heart beats rapidly on the slightest exertion. I feel just as tired when rising in the morning as when retiring to bed. My sleep is often disturbed, and I often awake with a sense of suffocation and a difficulty of again going to sleep. I have to be careful of what I eat, and my life seems a veritable burden."
Now, it seems a shame and a pity for persons to be suffering like that when it is in their power to get cured by taking a Box of Dr. Stafford's Prescription A. A sure cure for persons afflicted with stomach troubles. It can be obtained at

Eczema's Tortures

All treatments failed for three long years—Cure complete with DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT.
Mrs. Link, 12 Walker St., Halifax, N. S., writes: "After three years of miserable torture and sleepless nights with terrible eczema, and after trying over a dozen remedies without obtaining anything but slight temporary relief, I have been perfectly and entirely cured by Dr. Chase's Ointment. After the third or fourth application of this great ointment I obtained relief, and a few boxes were sufficient to make a thorough cure. It is six months since I was freed of this wretched skin disease, and there has been no return of the trouble I consider the cure a permanent one."
Such cures are not brought about by imitations and substitutes for Dr. Chase's Ointment. It is therefore necessary for you to be certain that the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M. Another Incident
SIR ROBERT BOND—The most important bill, in some of the most important stages before the Legislature, shall presently demonstrate because it places too much in the hands of the Executive, and secondly because it takes the acquisition and the forest areas by special municipal combinations.

Section 2 of this Bill amends section 25 of the Crown Lands Act by doing away with the distinction between timber and pulp lands, reducing the expenditure of license upon the area leased, giving absolute power to the Executive Government to determine long a license may hold, without erecting a mill or pulp factory thereon. I do not see any objection to doing away with the distinction between timber and pulp lands, but I entertain a strict objection to reducing the expenditure upon the area leased, giving absolute power to the Executive Government to determine long a license may hold, without erecting a mill or pulp factory thereon. I do not see any objection to doing away with the distinction between timber and pulp lands, but I entertain a strict objection to reducing the expenditure upon the area leased, giving absolute power to the Executive Government to determine long a license may hold, without erecting a mill or pulp factory thereon.

Another Powerful Indictment of the Morris Government.

SIR ROBERT BOND on the CROWN LANDS BILL.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY.

MARCH 9th, 1911.

SIR ROBERT BOND—This is the most important bill in some respects the most important that has ever come before the Legislature, as I shall presently demonstrate; but I must record my objection to it, first, because it places too much power in the hands of the Executive Government, and secondly because it facilitates the acquisition and holding of our forest areas by speculators and monopolistic combinations.

Section 2 of this Bill amends section 25 of the Crown Lands Act, 1903, by doing away with the distinction between timber and pulp licenses; by reducing the expenditure of the licensee upon the area leased; and by giving absolute power to the Executive Government to determine how long a license may hold a lease without erecting a mill or pulp factory thereon. I do not see any great objection to doing away with the distinction between timber and pulp licenses, but I entertain a strong objection to reducing the expenditure of the licensee upon the area leased. Under the 25th section of the Crown Lands Act, 1903, which is repealed by the section under review, the licensee had "to erect a mill or mill in connection with such license of a capacity to cut at a rate of a thousand feet board measure in twenty-four hours for every five square miles of limits comprised in the license." Under the law now proposed he will only have to carry out the obligation as to mill and cut in respect to double the former area. To put it another way, under the law as it now stands the holder of a license to cut over 500 square miles of territory would have to erect a mill or mills capable of turning out one hundred thousand feet of lumber in twenty-four hours, while under the proposed amendment he would only have to erect a mill or mills capable of cutting one-half that quantity. What necessity is there for the proposed change? By making it you reduce the expenditure of the lessee on account of plant, and you reduce labor to the people of this country. You facilitate the acquisition of large areas and at the same time reduce the revenue to be obtained from such areas. The greater the cut the more labor and the greater the revenue. Are we in a position at this time to cut off any source of revenue or of labor? I think not. Again, this clause facilitates the acquisition of large holdings without any condition attaching as to the erection of mills or cut of lumber. For instance: A man by himself or the agency of others may obtain any number of areas of nine miles in extent, and under this new clause or amendment he could hold them without erecting a mill or sawing a stick. True, under the old law there was a defect in this respect, but you are now doubling the evil by enlarging the prescribed area from 5 to 10 square miles. The defect should be remedied and not increased.

The Most Serious Objection to This Amending Clause, However, is That it Does Away With the Time Limit, For Erecting Mills or Pulp Factories.

and places an uncontrolled power in the Executive Government to say whether they shall be erected within two years or ten years. We can imagine without any great flight of thought or stretch of imagination, corrupt ministry in power, a ministry the majority of whom are interested in the acquisition and holding of large forest areas for speculative purposes. Such a ministry under this amendment might hold, for purposes of speculation, vast timber areas for an indefinite period without erecting a saw mill or a pulp factory upon such areas. On the other hand, if they did not acquire the land themselves they could extend the favor to their friends and supporters. It will be perceived then what wrong, what injustice, what fraud may spring up under this proposed amendment. We are supposed to be here to safeguard public interests and not to remove safeguards that exist. The law as it stands is a safeguard against the fraud to which I have alluded, this amendment is a removal of that safeguard, and should not be approved by this House.

Again, Section 3 of this Bill repeals Section 31 of the Crown Lands Act of 1903, and thereby still further facilitates the holding of timber areas by speculators. The Act of 1903 provided that an applicant for a timber license "shall at his own expense cause the limit mentioned in his application to be surveyed by a Surveyor and the boundary lines of said limit to be cut a width of three feet." The object of this provision was to prevent the overlapping of areas, to guard against the robbing of the public domain by the lessee or his employees, and to test the bona fides of the applicant, for no man would go to the enormous expense of cutting a line three feet wide around hundreds of miles, if it may be of forest area unless he meant to establish a business on that area. A mere land speculator would not do so, and to this extent it was a safeguard to public interests. The proposed amendment does away with the cutting of boundary lines and substitutes the blazing, or chipping with an axe, of the trees in a given direction. This of course reduces the survey to a farce, for any man with an absolute sense must know that it is impossible to survey through a dense forest without cutting a chain line. It does away with the large expenditure that the cutting of a chain line three feet wide would entail.

It Thereby Enormously Facilitates the Speculators in Acquiring and Holding Timber Areas.

while on the other hand it necessarily must lead to the overlapping of claims and the involving of the Crown Lands Department in possible litigation and certain confusion. Again, the 3rd Section still further facilitates speculators in holding large timber areas. Under the Act of 1903 the Governor in Council for good and sufficient reason might extend the time but no longer, survey for "one year, but for the year on payment of an extra bonus and then past, and an extra bonus and rental of two dollars per square mile." This, then, permitted an applicant to hold a timber area for two years and no longer by a payment of six dollars per square mile to the Crown. The Bill before us proposes that an applicant may hold a timber area, without a survey being made, for three years, by a payment of four dollars per square mile. This is clearly in the interest of the Speculator and at a loss to the revenue. And, again, the Bill before us provides in Section 4 that before we provide licenses for timber areas under the Act of 1903 may exchange them for licenses under the Bill before us and thus get rid of the obligations imposed by the Act under which they obtained their first title. The object of this measure is so apparent that I am amazed that it was ever brought forward. It is an Act purely and simply in the interest of the speculators and timber grabbers who hold in their possession to-day the whole of the timber areas of Newfoundland, and of the Labrador as well. Through the Web and Wool of our Legislation let us run the Golden Thread of Justice.

I can perceive nothing but injustice and inequity running through this Bill. If it becomes law it will work an injustice upon the people of this country, by locking up our public lands in the hands of speculators; by depriving this country of the revenue that should flow from those lands; by fostering and aiding monopolistic combinations which have proved the curse of every land where they have held sway. If it becomes law it will be injurious, because it will have become such by the vote of those members of this House who have a personal interest in the timber areas held under license, and therefore a personal interest in this legislation.

Since the present Government came into power they have approved applications for immense areas of public, so-called timber lands. Since January 1, 1910, they have approved applications for or seventy-eight thousand one hundred and twenty-five square miles of timber areas. The fees that were payable upon that vast area under the Act of 1903 amounted to Three hundred and twelve thousand five hundred dollars, but, I observe from the statements tabled by the Department of Agriculture that only Fifty-nine thousand two hundred and sixty-four have been paid by the applicants leaving a balance due to the Crown of Two hundred and sixty-three thousand two hundred and thirty-six dollars. Unless this Bill becomes law Fifty million acres of land now held by speculators and land grabbers must revert to the Crown, because of non-compliance with the law under which the applications were approved. Let this Bill become law and those Fifty million acres may remain locked up in the hands of the speculators and land grabbers for the next three years. There cannot be the shadow of a doubt in the mind of any observant man but that those applications were made looking to free export of pulpwood to the United States. In the year 1909 the American Newspaper Publishers Association made an appeal to the United States Government for reci-procely with Canada, based upon free export of pulp wood from Canada to the United States.

Here is an extract from the "brief" that was presented:—

"A reciprocal arrangement with Canada for free paper and free pulp" is advisable to insure the continuance of the present supply of free logs from Canada. The threatened retaliatory export duty upon logs to be imposed by Canada would ultimately fall upon the newspaper consumer. The present consumption of pulp wood by the pulp and paper mills of the United States, including mill, book, and writing, is stated, upon authority of the Paper Maker, a trade journal, at 2,000,000 cords per annum, which consumption requires the entire stripping of pulp timber on 625 square miles per annum.

"Our spruce wood supply is limited. We, therefore, urge that the commission should take advantage of the present opportunity and immediately secure a sufficient supply of spruce freed from tariff complications.

"The trust in spruce has increased and that ownership is more than sufficient to give it a wood supply for a long period of years on the trust which can be utilized to operate large plants in competition with the trusts, so that all that might be done in the United States towards the enlistment of capital, the development of new enterprises, or the conversion of manilla mills to news, or extension of pulp or sulphite mills to news production, would be inconsiderable in comparison with the wiping out of the duty on paper and the opening of Canada to our relief."

The publicity given to this demand and the favourable manner in which it was received opened the eyes of speculators and land grabbers to the resources of Newfoundland and Labrador, and during the past two years we have witnessed a mad rush to the Crown Lands Department for timber areas. Men who did not wish their names to appear put forward their applications through others, and in the Royal Gazette we have seen Postal clerks, office keepers, and other public officials; importunate loafers and keen witted lawyers vying with one another in the scramble for timber areas. The appeal of the American Newspaper Publishers Association to the Government of the United States was successful and reciprocity will Canada based upon a free export of pulp wood is an accomplished fact.

So far it has not matured as regards this country, but the public have been told that the question is still open and in the meantime these speculators and land grabbers want to hold on to their areas at the least possible expense. This Bill, if it becomes law, will make them do so. There is a moral as well as financial consideration attached to this matter. The holders of these so-called timber areas we know, for the greater number, have no knowledge of the character of the land they hold. It is almost certain that a vast quantity of the areas is as barren as the summit of Mount Platic. Yet the fact that it is leased by the Government as timber land gives it a certain value on the market and helps

The Speculator in Preying upon the Credulity of Others.

Has not the Government a duty to perform in the premises? I certainly think so. Quite recently an almost similar condition of things was proceeding in connection with public lands in Australia, and the Prime Minister of New South Wales conceived it to be his duty to warn the British public through the English press.

Now what do we find as respects this Colony and the English press? Let me read you a few extracts from the "Standard of Empire" to show you how the British public are being fooled in the matter of these lands.

"Standard of Empire" is very properly subsidized by this Colony in order to advertise its public lands and other natural resources, and people naturally turn to it for reliable information. This paper has been availed of to circulate the most misleading and false statements respecting timber areas and their transfer. During the past two years a persistent attempt has been made to direct attention to these lands that are held by speculators. Week after week cable despatches have been transmitted such as the following to the

ANOTHER PULP DEAL.

December 1st, 1909.

Only last week news came about the completion of the great pulp deal on the Gander River North. On Saturday a still larger deal was completed, and the proceeds were paid to the original grantees by Mr. W. S. Kimber and associates of New York. The property consists of 305 square miles in good timber country along Fihel's, Crabbe's and Robinson's Rivers, on the West Coast. The motive power will be obtained from Robinson's River and the company has a paid-up capital of $25,000,000. Sir Edward Morris's Government has been very liberal to the new company.

proctly with Canada, based upon free export of pulp wood from Canada to the United States.

Here is an extract from the "brief" that was presented:—

"A reciprocal arrangement with Canada for free paper and free pulp" is advisable to insure the continuance of the present supply of free logs from Canada. The threatened retaliatory export duty upon logs to be imposed by Canada would ultimately fall upon the newspaper consumer.

The present consumption of pulp wood by the pulp and paper mills of the United States, including mill, book, and writing, is stated, upon authority of the Paper Maker, a trade journal, at 2,000,000 cords per annum, which consumption requires the entire stripping of pulp timber on 625 square miles per annum.

"Our spruce wood supply is limited. We, therefore, urge that the commission should take advantage of the present opportunity and immediately secure a sufficient supply of spruce freed from tariff complications.

"The trust in spruce has increased and that ownership is more than sufficient to give it a wood supply for a long period of years on the trust which can be utilized to operate large plants in competition with the trusts, so that all that might be done in the United States towards the enlistment of capital, the development of new enterprises, or the conversion of manilla mills to news, or extension of pulp or sulphite mills to news production, would be inconsiderable in comparison with the wiping out of the duty on paper and the opening of Canada to our relief."

The publicity given to this demand and the favourable manner in which it was received opened the eyes of speculators and land grabbers to the resources of Newfoundland and Labrador, and during the past two years we have witnessed a mad rush to the Crown Lands Department for timber areas. Men who did not wish their names to appear put forward their applications through others, and in the Royal Gazette we have seen Postal clerks, office keepers, and other public officials; importunate loafers and keen witted lawyers vying with one another in the scramble for timber areas. The appeal of the American Newspaper Publishers Association to the Government of the United States was successful and reciprocity will Canada based upon a free export of pulp wood is an accomplished fact.

here has now been taken up by the great pulp and paper making concerns, in addition to an area of 25,000 square miles in Labrador.

The great Hearshe deal is now practically settled. It covers an immense extent of fine woodland, and has the advantage over all the Northern pulp and paper factories of the ice-free port, whence the paper can be shipped every day all the year round to New York. The spruce wood makes excellent tough paper. There are several more pulp and paper deals now in course of negotiation, mostly with United States capitalists.

January 19, 10.

The amount of fees received by this branch of the Government for licenses for timber areas for the manufacture of pulp and paper is by far the largest ever received. For the full year from July 1, 1908, to June 30, 1909, the amount received for licenses, etc. was $23,000. In the last six months, from July 1 to December 31, 1909, $87,000 has been already taken.

2000 MILES OF PULP AREAS.

In this department there has been an immense increase of business. The permanent head of the Department informed me that there was a dozen grants of pulp areas at Labrador, and they averaged each about two thousand square miles. There was not in Newfoundland, he declared, more than one or two hundred square miles of woodland not taken up for areas.

March 16, 10.

Another important pulp deal has been negotiated this week, a pulp timber area covering upwards of one thousand square miles having been sold to a United States syndicate.

The situation is in the Bay Despatit district, and the transfer includes a splendid ice-free shipping port.

The same syndicate is negotiating an extensive timber deal in the Straits of Belle Isle, Labrador.

Sir E. Morris's Government would gladly have sold these and other valuable pulp areas to British syndicates, but while English investors are hesitating the business men of the United States are seizing all the best sites and paying promptly for them.

April 27, 10.

The Government has concluded a very important pulp deal, by which an area of 2,500,000 acres of timber in the Hamilton Inlet district of Labrador will be leased to a company possessing a capital of $25,000,000 (£5,136,356) at a rental of $50,000 (£10,273) per annum.

Another pulp deal of an extensive character is now engaging the attention of the Government, and is likely to be put through in the course of a few days. The area concerned is about 7000 square miles, and the rental offered is in the neighbourhood of $200,000 (£40,545). Other inquiries are also under consideration, two of them being English capitalists.

May 11, 10.

Another pulp and paper company in the United States, with a capital of $25,000,000, has been formed to work an extensive timber area.

The opportunities thus snatched up for United States financiers were offered first to British capitalists.

May 12, 10.

With regard to the big pulp deal at Labrador, the company is registered in the Anglo-American Development Company. Its capital is $25,000,000 and it is composed of a group of financiers and paper manufacturers. The deal is a very large one, covering one hundred square miles; explorers declare that it is one of the finest timber limits in these latitudes, and the work will be started at the opening of navigation next month.

THE REVENUE.

Nothing shows more clearly an distinctly the recent progress of Newfoundland than the contrast between the revenue of the Department of Agriculture and Mines for 1908-9 and the present year's collection. In 1908-9 the whole revenue for mineral and timber grants was $4,000. This present year it will be $250,000. The Anglo-American Company paid nearly as much in one cheque as the whole amount received in 1908-9. There is still an immense area of undeveloped timber lands both on Labrador and Newfoundland. The largest owners of all are the Reid's.

February 22, 10.

The figures for the fiscal year in our Colony show great and steady prosperity and advancement. The following table shows a summary of the day by the Minister of Finance and Customs—Estimated Customs revenue for fiscal year, $300,000; Revenue received by the Government, $200,000 over 1909. Every other source of revenue shows increase also. Revenue estimates of probable surplus indicate this is certain to reach $450,000, possibly half a million.

The greatest increase of all is in the Lands Department. Last year it was $54,000. This year it has come up to $251,000, and I am informed by the head of this Department, that there are over one hundred applications for pulp areas in Newfoundland and Labrador covering 30,000 square miles.

May 20, 10.

The great Labrador pulp deal will involve the erection of three mills. A sum of $54,000 will be paid to the Government, as rent for the first two years, and subsequently $27,500. There are quite a number of other deals being negotiated, which will give immense employment. Labrador is a very large country, and the supply of timber is like the iron ore at Bell Island—simply inexhaustible. In the near future the Government will have a revenue from pulp and the iron mines of $200,000 a year.

June 13, 10.

United States capitalists are unfortunately the largest buyers of timber lands, and already control extensive areas of the finest timber in the Colony, but from enquiries which I have made it appears there are at present about 6000 square miles of timber land now open for sale by private owners. Practically the whole of this is well watered and admirably situated for the establishment of lumber and pulp mills. The majority of it has been granted (and so can be purchased) in blocks of from 200 to 600 square miles. The price at which these areas can be acquired to-day varies according to location, from anything between one in our Colony are controlled by English and United States capitalists.

The head of the Department, Mr. Taylor, tells me that there are over one hundred applicants for pulp areas, besides those I have mentioned. There is a large grant at Sandwich Bay, Labrador, to an English capitalist, Mr. Phillips.

November 9, 1910.

Another large pulp factory is being erected at St. George's Bay for United States capitalists. It will begin operations with an output of 200 tons per day, which will gradually be materially increased.

January 18, 1911.

An important pulp deal is announced on behalf of land speculators in the Hamilton Inlet, on the Labrador coast, nearly 10,000 square miles in extent, has been sold to an English capitalist.

It is reported that a very big pulp and timber deal has been concluded with British capitalists. It embraces 9,700 square miles of fine timber country on Hamilton Inlet, Labrador. The lessee paid a Government rental of $33,400, and have now sold it to an English syndicate at a big profit. It is gratifying to see that British capitalists are waking up to the importance of Newfoundland and Labrador as a field for enterprise in this direction.

June 29, 1911.

Owing to the progressive policy of Sir E. Morris's administration with regard to pulp and mineral areas, the revenue from Crown Lands in the year ending to-morrow is five times greater than it was in 1909, the revised figures showing a total of upwards of $250,000 (£51,363) (Standard of Empire Correspondent).

One of the causes which have contributed to the present attitude of the United States in seeking a reciprocal treaty with Canada and Newfoundland is the great demand for pulp wood in the States. Several of the great paper makers have purchased extensive wood areas, and are building mills in Canada. One of the very largest contracts has just gone down to the Government from here to Hamilton Inlet, Labrador. It is understood that they will build three mills on their big grant of thirteen thousand eight hundred square miles of densely wooded timber areas.

Then I would direct your attention to the following extract from a specially prepared article evidently written on behalf of land speculators in this city. It was published in the "Standard of Empire" under the date January 3, 1910 by

"A Special Correspondent."

This is the extract I refer to:—

"In order to offer every possible encouragement to the outside capitalist, the Government of the country offers most generous terms for the leasing of their timber lands. The price as compared with the timber areas of Canada and the United States is the one hand, or Scandinavia on the other, is ridiculously low.

All persons desirous of acquiring from the Crown timber areas in the country must approach in the first place the office of the Minister of Agriculture and Mines. I visited this Department when I was shown a map of the country, from which it appears that every available square inch of timber land in the Colony has been divided up among the hands of different individuals. It would seem from this, therefore, in so far as timber for either the lumber or pulp industry is concerned, there is no opening to the British capitalist; at least it would appear there is no opening for the British capitalist if he wants to get it on the "ground floor" terms, and become one of the pioneers of this country's future development.

But this is not so, for the reason that those shrewd inhabitants of the Colony who, foreseeing the inevitable boom in the timber lands of the country, have acquired the areas from a speculative point of view, and hundreds of square miles can be acquired to-day from the natives at a very small margin of profit over and above the nominal sums which they paid to the Government in recognition of the concessions issued to them.

Many of these properties, of course, have already been disposed of, and others are now under option or negotiation.

United States capitalists are unfortunately the largest buyers of timber lands, and already control extensive areas of the finest timber in the Colony, but from enquiries which I have made it appears there are at present about 6000 square miles of timber land now open for sale by private owners. Practically the whole of this is well watered and admirably situated for the establishment of lumber and pulp mills. The majority of it has been granted (and so can be purchased) in blocks of from 200 to 600 square miles. The price at which these areas can be acquired to-day varies according to location, from anything between one dollar, and five dollars per acre. The majority of these forest lands are estimated to lie between ten and twenty cords of pulp wood to the acre. A cord and a half of wood will make a ton of paper so that on the basis of twenty cords we have a yield of fifteen tons to the acre; or, in other words at a dollar per acre, it will work out about 3d. per ton of paper.

At a conference early this spring at St. John's, the Prime Minister said that assuming the value of the timber land of the Colony to be $45,000 per square mile the "valuation" of this wooded territory would be, in potential labour alone $20,000,000.

The man who can go there now and put down his gold can acquire timber areas which within the next few years will yield to him many hundred per cent. profit, whilst in the meantime his investment costs nothing to keep and is as safe and sure as the finest of city freeholds."

In these extracts we have a persistent effort to inveigle the British public into this timber lands scheme. It is a scheme to which the Government and the Legislature of this Colony should lend themselves! If we adopt this bill we most certainly do lend ourselves to it. There will be a rude awakening for this country if British investors discover that they have been cruelly deceived and deliberately defrauded. The fair name of this Colony is at stake. The future credit of the Colony is endangered by this land scheme, and we as public trustees should look to it. I lay it down as a sound principle that before the Government seeks to make any alteration in the Crown Lands Act, 1903, they should by the enforcement of that Act get back these fifty million acres of land which I have been dealing in the public domain. If the bill does not become law these fifty million acres must revert to the Crown because of non-compliance with the law under which the applications were approved.

But, Sir, let this bill become law and that vast area will remain locked up in the hands of speculators and land grabbers for the next three years. When those lands have reverted to the Crown steps should immediately be taken to have them examined, reported upon, and such as may properly be described as forest areas plotted and laid off on a plan. If the Government then determined to sell or lease, the purchaser or lessee would know what he was paying for. This is precisely what all other Governments have done. Then again, every civilized country in the world with the exception of China and Turkey is conserving its forest areas, recognizing that at the present rate of consumption in thirty years from now there must ensue a timber famine unless reforestation and conservation takes place. We are giving out our forest lands to any one who applies for them for the sake of a few immediate dollars return in rental and bonus, and we are permitting indiscriminate cutting without any return in all directions. Perhaps I shall be asked, are we to obtain no revenue from these lands? Perhaps it may be contended that owing to natural obstacles pulp mills cannot be advantageously operated on the Labrador.

My Answer is That the Government Should Hold the Balance of Our Timber Areas Here and on the Labrador as Feeders for Pulp Mills Erected and to be Erected in Newfoundland.

If the climate of the Labrador is adverse to the successful operation of mills down there, then the pulp wood may as easily be transferred to this country for the building up of a great pulp and paper industry, as it can be to any other country, and from this extern supply the Colony can swell its revenue and enormously increase the demand for labor. Nothing would compensate us for the loss the Colony would sustain by the export of its pulp wood to foreign countries. Entertaining the views I have expressed in relation to this matter, I cannot do other than vote against this bill.

The Hockey Match

Newfoundland vs. Nova Scotia—Nfld. Wins by 5 to 4 Goals.

The Prince's Rink was crowded last night on the occasion of the match between the St. John's team and the Swastikas from Nova Scotia. The Newfoundland team won by five goals to four.

Amongst the spectators were His Excellency the Governor, Lady Williams and Secretary.

When the teams stepped out on the ice the cheers were given by their supporters. The home team wore the Victoria uniform, and the visitors that of Windsor.

The line up was as follows:

Nova Scotia	goal	W. Walsh
Devan	point	G. Herder
Bennett	cover	G. Marshall
Saxton	cover	G. Bulley
McGrath	cover	H. Herder
Smith	left	C. Piusent
Chisholm	right	R. Stick

The ice was not in good condition being a little soft, so the best combination work could not be done. The visiting team did not appear to be in as lively a condition as the home team, evidently they are suffering yet from the effects of the long trip from Canada, and will likely be in good condition to-night.

From the start the home team kept the play lively around the visitors' goal. There was good combination work amongst our boys and in about a minute after the play began Piusent sent to the net No. 1 for Newfoundland. The rink rang with applause.

Play being resumed the visitors worked down on the Newfoundland territory. Saxton secured the rubber and made a promising dash but lost it at half rink up. McGrath then got possession and started into do business. Marshall stopped his game and sent the rubber to Bulley whose work was spotted by being counted "off side." A lively mix-up followed and resulted in Gus Herder being sent off for three minutes for fouling McGrath. Saxton then got busy and made a promising attempt on the "home" goal but Marshall was too alert and warded off the danger. McGrath then got in some fast play which elicited cheers of encouragement from his friends; his efforts were not backed up by his men at the same pace, and he failed to do any scoring. Bulley and Stick how followed with a fierce attack on the Canadian goal, by good combination work they managed to pass Devan, and Stick sent in No. 2 for the Old Colony and made the rafters ring with the applause.

The visitors began to hustle hard and put in lively work. Saxton took the disc down the ice and Shaw was given a chance to do some business but he missed the goal by a narrow margin. McGrath followed with two promising attempts but could not alter the score. Marshall was a strong defence and played an excellent game, proving too many goals for McGrath on every visit to his territory. A good chance to notch up was lost by Shaw for being off side. Play livened up a bit after the lights were put in order, and Hubert Herder from centre worked forward on the Canadian territory and sent in No. 3 for the home team.

Chisholm who got into a mix up was sent off for three minutes. Herder and Marshall kept up the pace in good style and had the best of the play for the next ten minutes, nearly all the time they kept the rubber close on the Windsor goal, but no scoring was done till Hubert Herder's chance came again and enabled him at the end of fifteen minutes to safely drive No. 4 into the net of the visiting team.

Smith and Shaw of the latter put on a combination sport and worked the rubber down the rink. Walsh of the home team was on the watch and saved three hot shots. Chisholm followed in a promising shot but failed. Piusent lost a beautiful chance to score. Bulley and Marshall made a well combined dash but Bennett was alive and averted the danger. McGrath made a determined run but Herder was waiting for him and taking the puck carried it right to the mouth of the goal, but as he was about to shoot it was whisked away from him. The visitors now worked down the ice and Chisholm got a good chance but failed by missing a "pass." The fight raged fast and furious at the Canadian twines. H. Herder did brilliant work but failed to reach the net. A mishap followed and enabled the Canadians to get the rubber out of danger. McGrath and Chisholm did some combative work which resulted in the former getting control of the puck and sending in No. 1 for the Nova Scotian team. Cheers for the visitors were given with a will, the crowd admiring the brilliant run made by McGrath.

G. Herder fouled Shaw and was sent to the gangway for five minutes. Piusent was found playing off side frequently. McGrath and Chisholm combined now in good style and got through the enemy's lines and passing Walsh scored another goal for "Our Lady of the Snows." Marshall had to leave the ice with a broken skate, and Bennett dropped out from the visitors to level up. Half time was rung in with the score standing:—St. John's, 4; Swastikas, 2.

THE SECOND HALF.

The pace on both sides was livelier in the opening of the second half and some clever stick handling was witnessed on both sides. Smith and Shaw of the visiting team captured the puck and took it down the rink but lost to Gus Herder who passed the rubber to Bulley who quickly turned the tide towards the Canadian goal but failed to score. Saxton and Chisholm combined and made a spirited attack on the city goal but were repulsed. Piusent lost a good chance by being off side. Smith and Shaw took the rubber back to the city goal and the former sent in a swift one but Walsh was on the qui vive and saved in the nick of time. Marshall made a deer bound dash but lost to Bennett who sent on the goods to Chisholm who passed nicely to McGrath who failed however to land it in the purse scene. The home team now had the best of the game and kept close on the Canadian ground. Bulley caused a mix up and was sent off for three minutes. Chisholm and Smith took the puck out of danger and sent in "whisper" to Walsh. Shaw was sent off for fouling. H. Herder got busy and sent in a swift one by Devan's car. He met it in time and kept the score unaltered. For fouling H. Herder was given two minutes penance. Stick helped by Piusent was now given a chance to score but failed. McGrath got in some of his old St. Bon's lively work but was not backed up well enough by his men. H. Herder took the disc down the rink with a hold dash but was stopped by Bennett. Marshall then went with the rubber and tried twice to get into the twines but failed. H. Herder for rough play was sent off the ice again. The visiting team played well now having put on a sport. Saxton made a brilliant dash up the ice and sent the rubber to McGrath who did the needful and sent the puck into the net. Jack was greeted with vociferous applause.

Gus Herder tried a shot now but failed by a few inches. McGrath worked the puck back again and sent in a beauty but Walsh stopped it. A mix up followed out of which Hubert Herder secured the rubber and rushing for the net sent in No. 5 for the Nfld. team.

Chisholm took the goods up the ice and passed to Smith who sent in No. 4 for the visiting team.

No more scoring was done and time up found the slate 5 to 4 in favor of the city team.

After the match last night Manager Regan spoke in high terms of the refereeing of Mr. W. J. Higgins, whose decisions were all right and who did his work impartially and without favor to either side. Mr. Higgins well deserves the eulogium of the manager. He has for years refereed hockey and football matches in St. John's and never has there been even a hint that his decisions were anything but fair and unbiased. It will be hard to fill Mr. Higgins' place when he retires.

The consensus of opinion among Democrats of both Houses is that at the extraordinary session of Congress only a very limited sort of tariff revision must be attempted. While no definite plan is settled on before the organization of Congress, it is now expected that an effort will be made to clear up the Canadian Reciprocity agreement.

That measure will pass the House of Representatives with little delay, and is expected to get through the Senate. There will come the question of Tariff Revision, without the guiding strings of the agreement sent to Congress by the President. If this programme, which seems practically certain, is carried through, the Canadian Reciprocity agreement will become law in substantially the same form as it was originally transmitted to Congress by President Taft.

The programme includes the building of five Dreadnoughts, three protected cruisers, one unarmoured cruiser, twenty destroyers, six submarines, and to increase the personnel of the navy by three thousand men.

The Naval building proposals caused much discussion. According to reports, the Admiralty wanted six new Dreadnoughts laid down this year. McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, favored five, but the Radical section of the Cabinet and the Liberal party insisted four would suffice.

You could scarcely imagine a more severe test of this ointment than the cure of Mrs. Clark recorded here. For twenty years she suffered all the tortures of this terrible disease and tried in vain the prescriptions of doctors and the cures commonly recommended. Mr. Fred W. Trained Nurse on Zam-Buk.

Read What She Has Found.

Miss J. Keith, of Ildis, Alta., a trained nurse, who has had a wide experience of Zam-Buk, speaks of it as follows: "I wish to express my high appreciation of Zam-Buk. I have personally tested it in a great number of cases and find it excellent. I have introduced it to several patients, with highly satisfactory results. Indeed in many cases I have been warmly thanked for its introduction."

"Speaking professionally, I would give all sufferers from skin disease, the following advice: Cleanse the parts affected and apply Zam-Buk freely and regularly. Use clean linens and clean, soft rags for drying. Zam-Buk and cleanliness will be found sufficient for the most stubborn case of skin disease."

Zam-Buk will also be found a sure cure for abscesses, ulcers, blood-poison, varicose ulcers, scald sores, eruptions, children's rashes, piles, cuts, burns, abrasions, scratches, scalds and all skin injuries and diseases. See box, all druggists and stores. Try Zam-Buk soap, too; 25c per tablet.

This evening at 8.30 Haddon of St. John's, and Patterson, of the visiting hockey team, will meet in a three mile skating race; but it is not likely that the 3-mile race between Haddon and Woods set for Tuesday night will occur, as Haddon wishes to start from the end of the rink and opposite his opponent, while Woods wants both to start together. It is hoped however that this can be adjusted and that the race will come off.

TERRA MARE GREEN

In beginning my story I wish to take my readers back to the 1888, memorable to the people of centia and Fortune Bay, and the whole southern coast, as the enforcement of the Bait Act.

At this time the small craft... I may say, innumerable sleds of 40 tons, though the greater number were in the neighbourhood of St. Pierre merchants, because they found the capital was with them bought and sold, they somehow always managed to have the people inclined to the value of their schooners (the those who built their own schooner and afterwards did their business with the St. Pierre merchants). Small son, then, that the people for they purchased schooners could pay for them.

Well, the Bait Act after a few of strict vigilance on the part of "Bonhard Admiral" and the ironclads put all these small boats of commission, and they quit their business on the shores of the home, others were seized by French merchants, while the capital invested in the whole trade completely on the profit and less accept of the French merchants' led. Those were hard times that follow but the steady perseverance and of our people soon made itself manifest and we saw several of the fine spirits again building vessels, a larger size, purposely for export in the codfishery. This proved a cess and others followed in the wake, until we find our shores, who made previous to the Bait ten pounds in the herring season, to ten pounds in the codfish season, making thirty to thirty-five from the middle of April to the end of September, and now speaking of it as formerly in St. Pierre, but having all good value of their service, with a easy, better end of a voyage to say nothing of a larger and more comfortable vessel, and in grab a great improvement on the hard French "bait" "old bay" tea.

We will leave out the details of
