TURKEY'S OPPORTUNITY HOW ENGLAND COULD SOLVE THE

Efforts of Germany to Set the Porte and King Humbert at Loggerheads-Gen.

SOUDAN PROBLEM.

London, Feb. 14.-Many members of the liberal party are openly expressing a belief that the best solution of the Egyptian difficulty is to hand over to Sultan Abdul Hamid control of the Soudan. Gen. Gordon said last August in an official communication to the British government:"If you do not make a convention with the sultan I shall never get out of the Soudan alive." This unintentional prophecy has been terribly fulfilled. Gordon is dead, the Arabs are inflamed and intoxicated with success and no weapon but their own can be used against them. An allience between Turkey and England will be humiliating to statesmen who labeled the sultan as "the unspeakable Turk," but it is admitted that Abdul Hamid's name and pedigree would be more potent than an English army in quelling the so-called rebellion among fanatical Soudanese. It is also believed that England should perform her share of obligations entered into at the signing of the Berlin treaty. This agreement rehability on condition that she is the place of the Berlin treaty. This agreement rehability of the Distress is England.

Fifteen hundred Irish have been dismissed from buildings in course of construction in the east of London, their fellow workmen other than Irish nationality being unwilling to work beside men whom they regard as possible dynamiters. Reports have been received that a similar movement has started in Manchester, Liverpool and other provincial centres.

The Distress is England.

Kassals. In support of this demand made upon the government the bravery of the garrison at Kassals in gallantly defending the place for nearly a year against large odds is pointed out as sufficient reason for sending a British expedition to resoure them before they meet the same fate that befell other garrisons who remained loyal to England and were then compelled by starvation to surrender to the mahdi. It is suggested in some quarters that the obligations entered into at the signing of the Berlin treaty. This agreement rehabilitated Turkey on condition that she should behave herself. Turkey has since London, Feb. 14. remained very quiet and continental powers argue that she should be left alone to work out her own salvation. She has formally remonstrated through Fehmi Pasha against England's occupation of territory which is her vassalage, and the result was the Turkish envoy was categorically told by Lord Granville, English secretary of foreign affairs, that England proposed to run the matter for the present according to her own ideas.

Complications with some of the continental powers are almost certain. There is no doubt statesmen of the Berlin school are doing their best to embroil Italy and Turkey in revenge for the former's aid to England. Turkey just now is averse to war, but vehemently protests against continued occupation of Egypt by Eugland. Among many rumors afloat there is none more certain than the statement that Turkey has promised to garrison the more certain than the statemens that Turkey has promised to garrison the Soudan as soon as the British troops retire.

ITALY ON HER DIGNITY.

She Denies the Right of France to Ques-Rome, Feb. 15.—It is denied that the Italian government has sent any explanation to the French authorities regarding the Italian expedition to the Red sea. Liberta, Rassegna and Tribuna all speak in a common tone, refusing any right on the part of France to interfere with Italy's sction directly or indirectly. The colonial policy of Italy, they say, has developed For the Italian government to give France assurances limiting the action of Italy would be to act with feebleness. ich France has no claims.

An Assab Bay despatch states that the Somali natives have revolted against the Egyptian government. This is an important territory in the Somali region annexed by Egypt during the reign of Ismail Pasha. Italian traders and colonists bave claimed the protection of the Italian government.

THE ANNEXATION OF SAMOA.

A Report That it Was Done With England's Sanction. London, Feb. 15 .- It is stated that the annexation of the Samoan islands by Germany in pursuance of a secret agreement between the governments of Germany and England. The officials of the colonialoffice believe the agitation of the Australians only temporary, and they say there is a growing feeling both in Australia and England that Germany will be a good neighbor, and it is wise to give Germany an interest in the Pacific islands to offset the aggressions of France. In the meanwhile the recidivist bill has been passed in the French senate and is almost contain in the French senate and is almost certain to be passed in the chamber of deputies. Roussean refuses to state whether or not the government intends to send convicts to the new colonies. Lord Derby, English nial secretary, maintains that Australia is too strong to fear the arrival of any neighbors from Europe.

THE BIG BEAR ON THE PROWL. Russian Troops Within Forty Miles

London, Feb. 14. - The government seems to have only just become aware of the fact that Russian troops are within forty miles of Herat, in Afghanistan, as the newspapers have been ssserting for weeks past, and that the seizure of Herat by the Russians is possible at any moment. The seizure of Herat in the near future is The seizure of Herat in the near future is almost certain, and it will have a very depressing effect on the English markets, but the operators in American products long for the crash to come, as they fully believe that the result of the seisure of any part of Afghanistan would be the blockading of Russiah ports by the British fleet, thus preventing Russia from competing with America in the English and Continental markets for the grain and petroleum trade.

A Sad State of Affairs. London, Feb. 15.—There is a growing movement in the cocks of London and among builders and other tradesmen to disense with the services of Irish laborers.

London, Feb. 14. The widespread distress prevalent throughout Great Britain has emboldened the anarchists in England. Justice, the organ of the democratic feder ation party, in an article to day warns the government that horrible bloodshed and perhaps a revolution will ensue if it continues to insult and neglect the workingmen. It is estimated that thousands of laborar are daily refused work at laborers are daily refused work at the docks of London and also at Liverpool and other large shipping ports.

The Untrustworthy Arabs.
London, Feb. 15.—The story of th sengers from Khartoum, who arrived at Korti to-day, to the effect that Gordon held Khartoum Feb. 3, the day they left that city, has caused a gensation throughout England, chiefly because it accords with out England, chiefly because it accords with the persistent belief of the mudir of Dongola that the mabdi had not yet captured. Khartoum. But notwithstanding the fact that several messengers brought the same news of Gordon, the story is generally distrusted beth by government officials and the public at large, chiefly on the ground taken by Sir Charles Wilson that the Arabs were likely to tell a story best pleasing to Wolseley in order to be more favorably received into the British camp.

A Gloomy View of the Situation Lendon, Feb. 15.—The Army and Navy azette takes a gloomy view of the position at Gubat. According to the Gazette the troops can neither retreat across the desert nor down the Nile. They are compelled from the very necessities of their situation to encrench themselves where they are, and there hoard their ammunition, live on camel meat, and remain on the defensive until released. The Gazette also says masses of hostile Arabs from Khartou will soon throw themselves in line between the Gubat and Gakdul wells and capture the latter place, and perhaps even push northward and attack Korti itself.

A Ballcon Corps. London, Feb. 15 .- The war office organized a force of balloonists from the right and intention to search the vessels in engineer corps of the army for experimental service in the Soudan. The balloonists start Monday for Alexandria. They will be provided with three large balloons cap-able of carrying a number of men 24 hours at a time, and many small balloons fo signalling purposes.

Yet Another Version. London, Feb. 15.-Wolseley telegraph to day an account of the fall of Khartoum as given by a native eye-witness. The native says the mahdi's forces entered Khartoum at daybreak Jan. 26 Gordon was killed by a volley from rebel riflemen while on the way from his headquarters to the Austrian consulate. The Austrian consul was killed in his residence. The Grock consul is held a prisoner. A cayase consul was killed in his residence. The Greek consul is held a prisoner. A cavass of I brahim Bey Ruchdi, who left Khartoum a fortnight ago, states that Faraz admitted the rebels to Khartoum. The cavass with his master went to government house and met Gordon coming out with Mahomed Bey Mustapha and twenty cawasses. While proceeding to the Austrian consulate the rebels fired a volley, and Gor-don and Mahomed Mustapha fell dead. The mudir of Dongola is now convinced Khartoum has fallen and that Gordon is

MONDAY MORNING, FEB. 16, 1885. John Bright on Canada.

John B ight is not the man to say a goo word for Canada, but he need not show himself so pager as he appears to be to pu in a bad word for this country at every opportunity. On Thursday, Jan 29, he made a speech at Birmingham, reports of which are to hand by mil. He ridiculed the idea of imperial federation, and was even bitter in denouncing the system of pretection which has been adopted in Canada. He thought it extraordinary that Sir John Macdonald should, after having established p otoction here, have the 'f.ce' to appear at meetings in London as ar gavocate of federation. But the truth i that Sr J ha took particular good care to avoid anything that could be called false pretences. He gave it distinctly to be inderstood from the first that in no case whatever would Canada agree to any arrangement that would involve the sanifice of her right to frame her own tariff to suit her own circumstances. And this view of what was necessary was accepted by Mr. Forster, also by the London Times, both saying in effect that

The demand for the power of making our own treaties has been made by Mr Blake, and Mr. Bright takes this to mean s paration. "That," said he, "is very much like, not federation, but the entir freedom of Canada"-and he adds tha when Canada wants to go E gland wit not hinder. An explanation from Mr Blake would be in order now.

powers already given to the colonies could

Mr. Bright characterizes as "child:s and absurd" the idea of Canadians and Australians sicting in the inperial par liament; and there we are happy to agrewith him. But let us add that this "childish and absurd" idea is tertainly no favored by Canadian protectionists. For were we to send representatives to th Buish house of commons, we should hav o surrender the commercial independence which we now possess. And that we car taidly are not going to do.

As has been said in these columns be fore, Canadians will certainly not sur render the solid reality of commercial in dependence for the glitteriag bauble o imperial representation. No dog and shadow business for Canada, if we can

We dare say there are people in Eag land who have hoped to see Canadians, s well as other colonists, so tickled with the shadew as to drop the substance in orde to get hold of it. But we fancy that an such hope as that indicated is a good de fainter now than it was a few months ago The real truth of the matter is that th more imperial federation in examined and discussed, the more clearly it is seen to b visionary and impracticable. Sir Job said this in effect when he was in England and had Mr. Bright been more caudid on better posted, he might have had the pleasure of saying that on this point he the Eng i h free trader, was happy to agre with the Canadian protectionist.

But though imperial federation be more illusion, an alliance of Great Britai and all her colonies may yet become a rea ity. Mr B ight would jamp at the chanc of an alliance with the United Stateswhy not one with the colonies to begi with? If protection he the barrie then the American tar ff is higher tha ours. Americans and Canadians are boti protectionists, and Great Bitain treat both alike in her markets. Why, then, a mili and persuasive to our neighbors while so harsh and repellent to us, Me Bright will probably claim that, as a E glishman, he is a lover of fair play; so, let him bestow upon Canada as muc friendly consideration as he does upon th United S ates.

Cheap Emigration.

The Trades and Labor council appea to think that if they can only get the dominion government to abolish the sys tem of absisted passages, the juffax of des titute emigrante into Canada will coas: But if so they are laboring under a grea de asion. For the steamship companie and the railway companies together ar quite able and determined to keep the business going whether the governmen give any assistance or not. Some figures recently published by th London Times show this in a strikin light. Competition between the open lin's has long been keen and outling, bu now it is flercer than ever before. From Liverpool, Antwerp, Hamburg and Breme large ships sail weekly, each one with it several hundreds of passengers for Amer los. Cabin rates are pretty well kept up but it is in steerage rates that the war i and some lines sell tickets at the figure given below:

Liverpool to New York.

Liverpool to New York for eight dollars.

And for only one dollar more to Chicago, a chousand mites further, by rail, if he chooses. That thousand miles more for one dollar shows that the steamship companies that the steamship companies the sentence of t gether. The T mes says that it is almost should reform of the senate, but it is diffi-as easy to go from Liverpool to Montreal or ould to foretell what they may consider the New York as to go from Somerset to York-less of two evils.

Of course the far larger share of all this emigration goes to the United States; Canada gets comparatively little of ft. Bat over the border scarbely anything is said mainst it; the prevailing belief being that is is for the good of the country. That it was so some years ago need not be doubted, but the begefit f it at the present time is ather open to question.

Now, suppose that assisted passages anada were stopped altogether, would hat much mend the matter, in the way that the Trades and Labor council desire? We think not. Without any government subsidy at all the companies would still actively mpete with each other for emigrants, for he reason that even then, and at present ow rates, steerage passengers pay better than freight. The companies will find his country with emigrants from Europe, et the government do what it may. What he government might try as a check it i. not so easy to say. It will scarcely be proposed to levy a heavy head-money tax n every emigrant coming into the counry, we should say. The state of Now York levies a head money tax, but only ifty cents per head, we believe, which is nerely to cover the expense of Castle while, when freight business improves, the teamship companies will increase their ates. Here we beg to differ, even from o great an authority as the Times. As ong as coal, and iron, and labor are bundant in the old country, more steam hips will be built, and there will always e more of them on the great ocean rout han the traffis will suffice for. For thieason we look upon the phenomenon of heap passage across the ocean to New York and Montreal, thence to Toronte, nicago, Winnipeg, and the R cky moun ains, if you please, as something perman nt-something that has come to stay Vhat anybody in Canada is going to de bout it does not very clearly appear. lowever, let us in the meantime get hold f the fact that emigrants are carried across he ocean for eight dollars, and we shall be n the way to a tair understanding of the

It is always a desperate matter for the mmander in chief to lead a charge, as hi eath might disarrange and imperil every hing. Napoleon took the risk at Lidi as matter of life or death, and the good luck nat attended his au lac ty made his men clieve that he bore a charmed life, but had e fallen there would have been an end of verything for his army. The work mus tave been hot at Birti when Gen. Earle eemed it expedient to put himself in the an. Fortunately his troops were cool and is successor capable, else matters might be uch worse than they are.

The bloodthirsty desire which a number f. Canadians profess to entert in for hance to kill somebody in the Sudar vinces a disposition to fly in the face of rovidence. Here we are in the erj y nent of peace within our borders and vithout our gates, and still some of ou cople must fain travel thousands of miles o slay the Egyptians as Moses did, but vithout the provocation that Moses had Vere Britaiu's territory or honor in seri us peril a response to a call for aid could e appreciated, but as no such emergency xiste, or is likely to arise, our Canadia raves had better restrain their ardon ntil the summer months when they can o out and slay the ferocious chipmunk os assacre the predatory potato bug.

"A's ruon de Courtensy ha spything he told it all, which made the ther fellows | alous and fatigu d. In the enate Mr. Plumb is an extinct volcano, in sure it's quite easily pronounced."

A fuller report than that received by cable of Mr. B ight's speech at B cribg ham shows that while the quaker erator was severe upon Sir John A. Mredonald's incepsiarency as a protectionist in Canada and an imperial federationist in E gland, he quite misconceived Mr. Blake's position upon these and kindred gles one. He speech imp ies ignorance of the fact that years ago Mr. Blake started out with a quotation from Tenny son and a plea for imperial federation, and never got any fur ther. Mr. Beight is also mistaken in the belief that Mr. Blake is a free trader. H does not admit as much. H2 has spoke in favor of incidental protection and a rev nue tariff, but no man knows just what he means by these generalities. Mr B igh also stated that Mr. Bake intends submit ting during the present session a resolu io asserting Canada's right to make her ow treaties, which would practically mesh in ependence. This is another of those ques tions upon which the opposition leade never gets beyond the talking point. It i quite possible that the time will come when e Cibden olub leader will find himsel lite as much disappointed with Mr Blak as he is now with Sir John. In fact th time is past when Canadian leaders coul off rd to take the word from Manchester

REUBEN.

BY DERMAN THOMPSON. It was a legacy from the father who had died before Reuben was 10 years old, and left him to the care of U cle J sah, the brother of R-upen's long dead mother. The strongest memory R uben retained of his father was a mind-picture of a white haired man sitting up in bed, with the beloved violin in his hands, fi ling the poor attic room with sweet sounds H was partially paralyzed even ther, and later, when his firgers became helpless, from scraping a catgut, and more than once is ant destruction was threatened to R uben's one plea-ure. H, grew af aid to raise the sweet sounds he loved in ide the farm house, and would steal away to practive the lessons his father had taught him by the brook side, in the whispering woods

Only Daisy really understood the sensitive as une, the tender heart, the starving longing intellect. Break his votio ! Destroy his deares friend, his sole comfort! But for Datsy!

What would be not do for Daisy.

Perhaps Uncle Josiah was right! Per haps if he had no cutlet for the dream-tract field his soil, they would cease to haunt him, and he would co quer the maz-rousne of form drudgery that was such a heart breaking problem to him. Perhap-wried all the phantoms that broke into restry upon his violin were driven away. h. w. uld be the practical farmer to whom Under Josish would give Daisy. Musing thus very sorrowfully, Rauben took the violin from its case and went to the woods, to an opening the country folks called the fairy ring. Here he sat upon a high stone and played his farewell, a dirge of hope. Great tears fell over his pale checks, as the weird, melarcholy strain coroid through the space around him Then he wrapped the violin once, twice in his arms, kissed it tenderly and lifed it his arms, kissed it tenderly and in outhingh in the air to much is on the rock.

"This is the Brook's Hymn," Reuben

said, and the rippling stream was mocked and echoed in quaint fantastic music "Who wrote these? the stranger asked "They were never written. They came from my heart," was the quiet repy. "1 win play you some written music."

And ag in the violin obeyed the how as the works Rouhen had studied from his farher's music rose upon the summer air. And you were shout to break your vio

A Funeral from the New Fort

The funeral of the late F. W. Gathercole, sergt, major of the Infantry school corps, fort on Saturday afternoon to the garrison burial ground. The deceased was drill instructor of the 16th regiment when stationed here, and was well known to the officers who passed the military school at that time. He was more recently drill instructor of the Queen's Own, and later of the tor of the Queen's Own, and later of the Grenadiers, from which position he exchanged with the Infantry school corps on its formation. The respect in which the decessed was held could be plainly seen by the attendance at the grave on Saturday. Lt. Col. Other, officers and men of the new fort, of course, formed the chief part of those present. The staff was represented by Lt. Col. Alger, the Queen's Own by Lieut. Mutton and the sergt. major, the Grenadiers by the adjutant, Lieut. Michie and the sergt. major: besides these there were many officers in sides these there were many officers mufti and non-commissioned officers and men from the other city corps. The band of the Grenadiers supplied the music, and as the procession passed out of the gates of he fort, with the main guard standing at the present," the sight was a sad one The coffin, covered with the union jack and the hat of the decessed, was carried by gix of his contrades, three on each side, ith arms locked across their shoulders The grave had with much difficulty been dug by a fatigue party from the fort and the remains were lowered, amid the sorrowful "three volleys in the air," into their the state of the sorrowful "three volleys in the sir," into their the state of the stat last resting place. The feeling of the present was that it would be a long time before such a drill instructor would again be found in Toronto as Sergt. Major Gath

A Decimal System of Time. At the regutar meeting of the Canadian institute on Saturday evening a paper of the decimal system applied to time meas urement was read by W. J. Loudon, B.A. of University college. After dilating at same length on the inconveniences arising some length on the inconveniences arising from the present system, especially the usofithe a.m. and p.m., and the still greater inconveniences that would result from the adoption of the twenty-four hour system for the ordinary purposes of life, the reader proposed the following scheme based on the decimal system.

The complete day would be divided into the periods, each called an hour and corresponding of course to two hours and twenty-four minutes of present time. This hour would be sub-divided into one hundred minutes, each of the new minutes dred minutes, each of the new minutes being equivalent therefore to one and even twenty fifths of the present minute.

A clock was exhibited based on the bove, showing the time in hours and minutes; it was constructed from an ordinary eight day clock by addition of sev eral wheels and is the first of the kind probably ever made.

The advantages to be derived from decimal system of time would be the fol lowing:
1. All advantages belonging to any decimal system.

2. The abolition of the a, m. and p. m 3. The fact that the actual numbers o the face indicate immediately the hour and minute.

The president, James Mason, in presenting his report, said that it was a source of much satisfaction to the promoters of the club that been relieved of all his money except a so, in just two hours. The constable says he will probe the matter to the bottom and find out, if possible, who took the man's money.

Another alleged robbery was reported.

Another alleged robbery was reported Saturday. A laborer from Jack Fish bay named O Gorman reached the city Friday and begistered at the Simcoe house, expressing his intention of, semaining a few days. He then called for a cigar, for which he paid, and left about 5 o'clock, saying he would return in time for supper. He did not come back, and Mr. Green, the propietor, who says the man-had a large roll of bills with him, fears he has met with one of the sharks.

I called the city Friday requesting. The virtue of this had been readily recognized by five of the city banks which had taken up no less than sixty shares for their employes. The sum of $250 make the trotting meeting at Woodbine would in a short time reach a figure with other available funds, that would enable the directors to extend the usefulness of the club by providing further amusements and recreations for its members.

The second entertainment of the crack billiardists Schaefer and Wallace at Albert hall on Saturday night in point of attendance was a decided failure, a smaller audience even than on the first evening being present. The result is the loss of a conpresent. The result is the loss of a considerable sum of money to the gentlemen bringing them here. Next time if they go in for anything of the sort they will realize that no matter how big the reputation of the principals may be nothing can be done without a liberal use of principals ink. If Schaeffer and Wallace had been properly advertised hundreds would have flocked to see them who as it was probably did not know they were coming. It is the one know they were coming. A Montreal paper states that Lady Archibald and Sallie Berry have been sold o go to the States. They have not, but are now under Charley Wise's care at the Richmond stables, Lestieville. Her ladyship is being prepared for the opening of the season, and Sallie Berry recently visited Dr. Craig's great stallion Daystar at Montreal. By the way, Wise has his string in admirable condition. Scalper has filled out and rounded remarkably. Except for his method of carrying his rather ugly head and neck he is now really a grand head and neck he is now really a grand looking horse. He is feeding well and evidently feeling well, and it would acarcely surprise any one if the sea-son of 1885 should see him absolutely king of the steeplechasers. The house was delighted with Mr. Clemens but did not appear to take much stock in the southern novelist. The sixteenth anniversary of St. John's lodge, I.O.G.T., was held in their hall, Alice and Yonge streets, Friday evening. Over 150 members and friends sat down to tea, after which the meeting was called to order by James H. Macmullen, chairman, when a choice program of songs, duets, recitations and piano solos was acceptably rendered.

A Policy Wanted. From the Bobcaygeon Independent.

The time has arrived when the liberals ould formulate their opinions and set hem clearly before the people, Mr. Blake's eaches are really very fine speeches, od language, nicely expressed ideas, ach excellent advice, and some splendid clamation, only when they are concluded you don't know what they are about. I hey lead to no definite conclusions. A 25c. razor is a very protty article; a hand-some haft; a finely tempered blade; beautifully polithed, nicely balanced; elaborately fully polished, nicely balanced; elaborately got up; it has every good point a razor ought to have except one—it won't cut. For all other purposes except shaving, a 25c. razor is perfection. No with Mr. Blake's speeches, they have every good point a speech ought to have, except one—they don't convince. For all other purposes except that of defining a paticy they are perfection. A razor that won't shave, and a speech without a meaning, are both a little deficient in utility.
