OF READING.

A good child will do as he is bid.

Mark the child that does well, and do so too.

Do thou to all men as thou wouldst wish they should do to thee.

Do not tell a lie.

THE GOOD GIRL.

Ann Rose was a good girl, but Tom Rose was a bad boy. Ann learned her book, and did as she was bid.—

Ann and Tom one day get some pence from a friend.
Ann did not go and buy too much fruit, as Tom did sometimes, but kept her money to buy a doll.

That same day, as Tom and Ann stood at the door, a black man came up and asked for something to buy bread. When he held his hat to Tom, Tom made game of him, which was very rude; but Ann gave him the money she had.

As she came home from school one day, a great mad dog ran at her to bite her, and would have hurt her much, had not the black man come by just at the time, and beat down the dog with his crutch, and then went home with her.

How well it was for Ann that she made this poor black man her friend! I hope, too, all good boys and girls mind how they treat poor folks, for they cannot tell but one of them may prove a friend when they least think of it.

To be good and kind to all, will make all whom we know love us.

HYMN.

Come, let us praise God, for he is great; let us bless God, for he is very good.

The little birds sing praise to God, when they warble sweetly in the green shade.

I will praise God with my voice; for I may praise him, though I am but a little child.

A few years ago, and I was a little infant, and my tongue was dumb within my mouth.

And I did not know the great name of God, for my reason was not come into me.

But now I can speak, and my tongue shall praise him; I can think of all his kindness, and my heart shall love him. Let him call me, and I will come unto him; let him command, and I will obey him.

THE GOOD BOY.

There was once a good boy, who took so much pains to learn his book, and to read and spell, that while some boys could scarce tell an O from an A, he would read his book all through, and tell what each of the words meant.

He did not play as he went to school, and lose his time; but made as much haste there as he could, and when school was done, went straight home.

His friends, when they saw how good he was, did all they could to please him, and gave him fine good books. He read all the tales in them, and then told them to the good boys and girls he knew.

When he came from school he did not bring boys and girls in at once, but went to his friends to ask leave to play with them; and in all things was so good, that he went by the name of the king of the good boys.

His name was James Bright, and when the good boys and girls came to see him, they sat by the fire, and did not make a noise, or dirt the room, but each told a tale in his turn.

When James had leave from his friends they would play at blind-man's buff, but that was when there was no fire in the room.

For it is not right that boys and girls should play at t he that when there is a fire in the king room.

Poor Bob Short will have cause to think of that; for once he was at play so, and while he was blind, all the boys went out of the room that he might not find them, and he went too near the grate, and his clothes caught fire, and he was burnt so much that he was lame all his life.

while a-go, you know, you could on-ly read lit-tle words, and you were forced to spell them: c-a-t, cat; d-o-g, dog. Now you can read pret-ty sto-ries, and I am going to write you some.

Do you know why you are bet-ter than puss: puss can play as well as you, and can drink milk, and she can lie up-on the car-pet, and she can run as fast as you, and fast-er too, a great deal, and she can catch mice, which you can-not do. But can puss talk? No. Can puss

No-he will not learn. I ne-ver saw a lit-tle dog or a cat learn to read. But lit-tle boys can learn. If you do not learn, Charles, you are not good for half so much as puss: you had bet-ter be drown-ed. HYMN.

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

THOUGH I'm now in younger days,
Nor can tell what shall befal me,
I'll prepare for every place
Where my growing age shall call me.

Should I e'er be rich or great,
Others shall partake my goodness;
I'll supply the poor with meat,
Never shewing scorn or rudeness.

Where I see the blind or lame,
Deaf or dumb, I'll kindly treat them;
I deserve to feel the same,
If I mock, or hurt, or cheat them.

I'll

Wh

As

If I meet with railing tongues,
Why should I return them railing?
Since I best revenge my wrongs
By my patience never failing.

When I hear them telling lies,
Talking foolish, cursing, swearing,
First I'll try to make them wise,
Or I'll soon go out of hearing.

What though I be low and mean,
I'll engage the rich to love me;
While I'm modest, neat and clean,
And submit when they reprove me.

If I should be poor and sick,
I shall meet, I hope, with pity;
Since I love to help the weak,
Though they're neither fair nor witty,

I'll not willingly offend,
Nor be easily offended;
What's amiss I'll strive to me d,
And endure what can't be mended.

May I be so watchful still
O'er my humours and my passion,
As to speak and do no ill.
Though it should be all the fashion.

Wicked fashions lead to hell;
Ne'er may I be found complying;
But in life behave so well,
Not to be afraid of dying.

Be you to others kind and true, As you'd have others be to you; And never do nor say to men, Whate'er you would not take again.
