TERRIFIC FIRE REPELS GREATEST RAID ON LONDON

Germans Lose Heavily in Attack on British North of Ypres

FOE'S HEAVY ASSAULTS REPULSED BY BRITISH

Germans Sustain Big Losses in Attacks North of Ypres and East of Polygon Wood—Enemy Occupies Two Advanced Posts.

London, Oct. 1.—Several heavy attacks were delivered by the Germans today against British positions north of Ypres and east of the Polygon Wood, according to the official communication from British headquarters tonight. All the attacks were repulsed with heavy casualties, except near the southeast corner of the Polygon Wood, where the enemy entered two British advanced posts.

The text reads: "At five thirty o'clock this morning the enemy launched a powerful attack on a front of more than a mile against our new positions north of the Ypres-Menin road and east of the Polygon Wood. The German infantry, advancing in three waves, suffered heavy casualties from our rifle fire and artillery barrage, and were driven back in disorder. We followed up the retreating enemy and captured a few prisoners.

Attacks Renewed.
"In the course of the next three hours the enemy twice renewed his attacks with strong forces on the same front, and again was repulsed at all points except opposite the southeast corner of the Polygon Wood, where he succeeded in occupying two of our advanced posts. The hostile artillery has shown some activity today in the neighborhood of Bullecourt and south and north of Lens."

ATTACK AT DAWN

London, Oct. 1.—(Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency.)—Reuter's correspondent at British headquarters in France telegraphs today: At dawn this morning the Germans developed a heavy counter-attack on our positions in the neighborhood of Tower Hamlets on a stretch of the front for which the enemy has already fought his hardest. A bombardment of great intensity preceded the attack. Our guns responded in considerably greater violence.

The weather was most misty, making it difficult for our airmen to carry out reconnaissances to any appreciable degree, but as the sun rose conditions improved considerably.

Battered to Pieces.
The first infantry attack was launched at 6.15 a.m. astride the Menin road on a wide front. The first and second waves were so badly battered by the artillery that they never reached our positions. The third wave got into actual contact with our infantry, but met with such a steady and devastating volume of rifle and machine gun fire that it broke and fled back. Simultaneously a body of our men, cheering, broke forward in pursuit and established themselves one hundred yards in advance of their previous line. The second attack was delivered at 8.30, and also repulsed nearly everywhere, at one point the enemy succeeded in pressing back our posts slightly. The fighting continued. The operations have been terribly costly to the Germans.

OFFER HALDIMAND TO MICHAEL CLARK

T. R. Lalor, M.P., Offers Red Deer Member the Nomination.

Dunville, Oct. 2.—The following telegram was sent this evening by T. R. Lalor, M.P., for Haldimand, to Dr. Michael Clark, Red Deer, Alberta: "Referring to your conversation in Ottawa I am still willing to withdraw my nomination to a great winter convention in Haldimand County. Your patriotic stand as a pronounced Liberal in favor of the war policy of Sir Robert Borden entitles you to the support of every loyal Canadian. I feel sure the people of Haldimand would be honored in endorsing you as their candidate if endorsed by convention, as I feel sure you would. I will support you and guarantee your election by a substantial majority."

London, Oct. 1.—Gen. Haig, in his official report says: "During the month of September we captured a total of 5296 German prisoners, including 146 officers. We also captured during the same month eleven guns, including three heavy pieces, 57 trench mortars and 377 machine guns."

BRITISH AIRMEN RAIN BOMBS UPON GERMANS

More Than Eleven Tons of Explosives Dropped on Airdromes and Biltets—Four German Machines Downed

London, Oct. 1.—The following official communication dealing with the aerial branch of the army at the front, was issued tonight: "The visibility improved Sunday and a great deal of artillery and photographic work was accomplished by our airplanes. Bombing continued without respite day and night. Over eleven tons of bombs were dropped on enemy airdromes and hostile billets and communications in the battle area and on a district in the head-quarters near Cambrai. The enemy also carried out many bombing raids during the night, but did little damage of military importance. A photograph taken of the results of our bombing at the Gontrode airdrome shows that Saturday night one shed of the airdrome was hit. The same photograph shows three large German machines which landed in a field five miles south of the Gontrode airdrome. Two of these machines clearly were damaged, and reconnaissance today showed all three machines still lying in the field. A large airship which is now used for the accommodation of Gotha airplanes at this airdrome is reported to have been set on fire last night. "The enemy aircraft were not very active yesterday, but a few large formations were encountered. Four German machines were downed and eight driven down out of control. Five of our airplanes are missing."

PRICE OF FLOUR HAS TAKEN DROP

Fixation of Price of Ontario Wheat Has Important Result.

BASED ON MONTREAL

Net Return to Farmer Will Depend Upon Cost of Freight.

The most important result of the fixation of the price of Ontario wheat, as announced yesterday at $2.22 in Montreal, from a public standpoint, was that the price of Ontario flour, as decided upon by the Toronto Board of Trade price committee, dropped 40 cents per barrel. The price of flour is based on the new price for wheat, and indicates that the millers in Ontario will in most cases be able to procure wheat at lower prices than was formerly the case. This is due to the fact that the new fixed price for wheat is based on Montreal, and this price which the farmer will receive will depend altogether on how far he is distant from this point. In other words, the farmer from the western Ontario will be paid the fixed price less what it will cost to ship to Montreal, which will mean that he will get $2.22, less about 10 or 11 cents for freight. In Toronto and local points the farmer will get in the neighborhood of $2.14. Up till the end of last week, the millers have been forced to pay up as high as $2.25 to the farmer. With the price fixed on the present basis it will be seen that the farmer cannot receive more than $2.22, from which the freight charges to Montreal must be deducted.

Local grain dealers report that, generally speaking, the farmers have not been anxious to sell their grain, but with the price fixed as it is, there will be no advantage in holding off as might have been the case had the price been dependent on the law of supply and demand.

FRENCH REPEL SHARP ATTACK ALONG MEUSE

Paris Reports Bitter Struggle Between Bois le Chaume and Bezonvaux.

ROAR OF HEAVY GUNS

Artillery Fighting of Formidable Character on the Aisne Front.

Paris, Oct. 1.—Heavy artillery fighting is reported by the war office tonight on the Aisne front. There has also been infantry fighting of a stubborn character on the right bank of the Meuse, where the Germans attacked the French line, but were eventually repulsed. The text of the statement reads: "On the Aisne front there were quite spirited artillery actions in the sectors of Laffaux and Allis, and in the region between the Miette and the Aisne. North of Bray-en-Laonnois, one of our detachments, composed of an officer and twelve men, carried out a surprise attack on an enemy trench and brought back, without having suffered any losses, thirteen prisoners.

"On the right bank of the Meuse, after a violent bombardment, the Germans delivered an attack, between the Bois le Chaume and Bezonvaux. A stubborn engagement ensued in our advanced elements, which the enemy had succeeded in entering, and ended to our advantage. Our line was completely re-established, and we took about fifteen prisoners.

"Belgian communication: On September 30 and October 1 the regions around Ramscoelle, Oostcappelle, Rouge Dame, Loo, and Knocke have been exposed to the enemy fire; many of our advanced posts have been violently bombarded. We repulsed the Diksmuide and Clewken and retained numerous German organizations. Our artillery has bombarded enemy communications and cantonments in reprisal for numerous attacks thrown at different points on our rear zone.

"The aviators have been very active during the course of the last two days, carrying out numerous missions of reconnaissance, chase and (Concluded on Page 7, Column 1).

LAURIER'S RETIREMENT PERSISTENTLY RUMORED

By a Staff Reporter.
Ottawa, Oct. 1.—Dissolution of parliament by formal proclamation is expected tomorrow or Thursday, with a probability that the election date will not be fixed at the time, but considerably later.
The projected reorganization of the cabinet, in part at least, is expected in the course of a few days.
The proclamation which will be issued dissolving parliament will set forth that "whereas we have thought fit, by and with the advice and consent of the privy council, to dissolve parliament accordingly, and the senate members of the House of Commons are discharged from their meeting and attendance."
Laurier to Retire?
The rumored retirement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier from the leadership of the party is persistently heard in Ottawa and from outside points, where it is reported that advice is being given to the party not to pledge themselves to any "win-the-war" or union candidates pending a reorganization of the Liberals themselves. Sir Wilfrid is in Montreal today. One story was that his visit was purely for purpose of organization, and another that he went to sound his lieutenants on the question of party reconstruction, including the leadership. There is a more or less divided opinion among the Liberals as to whether, everything considered, they would be better off in the election with or without Laurier as leader. If he should retire, a complete reorganization will follow, and notice of an election, the latest sizing up of the situation suggests that the election may be deferred until after the new year. Several details incidental to the new election acts have to be worked out that an early vote seems impossible, and while dissolution will take place this week, and notice of an election thus be served, the writs may not issue till near the end of the month.

Canadian Heroes of Lens

By Stewart Lyon.
Canadian Headquarters in France, Oct. 1.—(Via London.)—The Military Cross has been awarded the following officers for gallantry during the battle of Lens:
Acting Major D. R. Charleson, and Lieuts. Herbert Bloxham Abbott, Ray Holland Wilson, Geo. Gordon, W. H. Allsopp, D. B. Weldon and G. G. Earing, of a British Columbia battalion; Captain D. B. Martyn and Lieutenants John B. Wood and Harold Robertson, of a Manitoba battalion; Lieutenants Harry Beaumont and R. J. Goodman, of an Ontario battalion; Capt. Benjamin Ethelbert Nicholls, also of an Ontario battalion, has been awarded a far to his military cross. His conduct was particularly gallant. His company, during an attack, was held up by an enemy strong point, in which were many guns and bombers. Although wounded, Capt. Nicholls led a party which charged and captured the position. He himself shot four of the defenders whereupon the remainder surrendered. The Military Cross has also been awarded Lieuts. Alex. G. Scott, W. F. Tucker and Clark R. Hopper of a Canadian machine gun corps, and Lieut. J. Harold Ramsay of the Canadian Engineers.
Distinguished Conduct Medals have been awarded Sergeants J. E. McInnes, F. R. Marshall and J. Bishop of a British Columbia battalion; Sergeants W. Ethridge and R. E. Richards and Lance-Corps H. C. Bull and G. H. Biles of a Saskatchewan battalion; Sergt. E. B. Johnson of a Manitoba battalion; Sergts. C. A. Edie and P. Coombe of an Ontario battalion, and Sabin Tetu of the Canadian Engineers.
Sergt. Bishop has a remarkable record. He was twice completely buried by shell fire in one day while operating his machine gun. On both occasions, when dug out, he went back to work under a heavy fire and recovered from the body of a runner who had been killed an important message which had a bearing on the success of the operations. Bishop already has the military medal.
Sergt. Richards gets his D.C.M. for heroism in saving wounded men.

Four Groups of Planes Attack Coast Towns Before Moving Upon Metzopolis --- Numerous Bombs Dropped in Thickly Populated Districts --- Terrific Barrage is Reponse

London, Oct. 1.—The strongest air attack yet attempted on London and the coast towns by the Germans was carried out tonight by four groups of hostile airplanes. Some of the machines got thru to London and bombarded the southwestern district. A terrific barrage was sent up from the defence guns, and the roar of battle lasted intermittently for two and a half hours.
The Germans bombed coast towns as they passed over and proceeded towards London. Two of the groups succeeded in getting a number of machines thru the sky barrage. Numerous bombs were dropped on the southwestern district, which is thickly populated with the homes of the upper and middle classes. The fire from the defending guns was longer and louder than ever before. A rain of shrapnel fell in all sections of the town, and the streets were virtually deserted except for a few police.

Lord French's Report.
Lord French, commander of the home defence tonight issued the following report dealing with tonight's raid: "A group of hostile airplanes crossed the Essex coast at 7 o'clock this evening and proceeded across Essex towards London."
"This group of machines was followed at about a quarter of an hour's interval by a second group, which hurled the same course."
"The first attack on London was delivered from the east about 7.45 p.m. Most of the raiders were turned back but one or more of the machines penetrated the defences and dropped bombs in the southwestern district."

"About 8.15 p.m. the second group of raiders attempted to cross the defences at various points in northeast and north London, but without success until shortly after 9 o'clock, when a few of the machines passed across London and bombs were again dropped in the southwestern district."
"Meanwhile a third group of raiders crossed the Kentish coast and dropped bombs at various places. This group did not penetrate very far westward."
"A fourth group of enemy machines crossed the Essex coast about 8.50 o'clock and proceeded towards London, which was approached shortly before 10 o'clock. They did not penetrate farther than the northeast outskirts of London, where some bombs are reported to have been dropped."
"No reports of casualties or damage have yet been received."

Weather Favors Fo.
The weather was perfect for air operations, as there was a bright, full moon, with no clouds or wind. The people of London expected a raid and were waiting for signals. Soon after 7 o'clock motors of the volunteer corps sped thru the streets blowing their sirens and displaying an illuminated notice, "Take Cover." The telephone exchanges notified their subscribers and invited the audience and stage hands to vote on the question of continuing the night performances. All voted in favor of carrying them on as usual.

Berlin Deutsche Zeitung Has Again Been Suppressed

Amsterdam, Oct. 1.—The Berlin Deutsche Zeitung, which recently was suppressed for a day, has again been suppressed, according to the Vossische Zeitung, for drawing persons ages of the supreme army command into the current political discussion.

And you might look a little more mournful.
Joseph Star: That's all very well. But even the Preacher won't stand for profiteering any longer. And the people say as I pass, "There's the undertaker without a job." They won't stand for the superfluous middleman either. Couldn't you put it over on Sam Hughes or Wesley Allison?

DYNAMITE PLOT IN REGINA SUSPECTED

Police Warned of Conspiracy, Presumably Aimed at Parliament Buildings.

Regina, Sask., Oct. 1.—A supposed plot to blow up the parliament buildings was discovered today when the police received a telephone message from the superintendent of the General Hospital asking for an investigation.

Detective-Sergeant Hays was sent and was told that yesterday one of the patients had overheard the plot discussed by the woman in the bed next to her with three or four persons who had come to see her.

The woman who overheard the plot speaks German, and the other woman is believed to be of Serbian extraction.

Listening, the woman, from the trend of the conversation, understood that a plot was on foot to blow up a large building in Regina. She did not obtain sufficient information as to just what building was threatened, only a large building of gray stone construction. As soon as possible she communicated what she had heard to the hospital authorities.

COL. KELLY-EVANS
PRAISES GUTHRIE

In Resigning as Federal Candidate, Says He Would Assist Liberal.

Special to The Toronto World.
Guelph, Oct. 1.—A meeting of the executive committee of the South Wellington Liberal Conservative Association was held in the old city hall today, about forty members being present, the various parts of the riding being well represented, the rural sections turning out particularly strong. It was an enthusiastic gathering and the utmost unanimity prevailed.

The resignation of Lieut.-Col. Kelly-Evans as the standard-bearer of the party for the Dominion Parliament, which was forwarded some time ago, but on account of no meeting having been held, it had not been acted upon. Kelly-Evans was present, having come from Toronto on the afternoon train. He was asked to address the meeting, and he did so in a brief speech that was well applauded. He explained that personal matters prevented his continuing to act in the position which he had honored him with, and then he dealt with the political situation.

Praise for Guthrie.
Lieut.-Col. Kelly-Evans expressed himself in no measured terms as pleased at the attitude of Mr. Hugh Guthrie, M.P., and his votes cast in the house in furtherance of his political questions. Convinced, as he was, of the sincerity of Mr. Guthrie's actions, he felt it only right to say that he could not have opposed the Liberal member. More than that, if he could do anything to help, he would do so. The resignation was accepted.

Discussion then took place on the political situation in this riding, and it was finally resolved that a general gathering of Conservatives be held at some future date, this to be decided by a committee of three, comprising L. Gold, H. Gummer and Mayor Newstead.

By a Staff Reporter.
Hamilton, Oct. 1.—Milk jumped in price today from 10 to 12 cents per quart retail as a result of the action of the Hamilton Milk Producers' Association refusing to agree to Food Controller Hamilton's request that the old price of 11.60 be continued until the department had an opportunity to investigate the causes leading up to the increase.

NO ACTION BY BOARD.

Until the food controller tells them to "get busy" the board of control will not further interest themselves in the milk situation. "There is nothing on the agenda for tomorrow's meeting concerning milk, and I don't think it will be discussed," said a member of the board. "The producers have ignored the request of the food controller, and I should imagine it is strictly up to them to take action. We'll certainly lend our hearty co-operation to anything that will keep the price down, however the war keeps it up."

Definite Decision Reached Will Serve to Guide Local Tribunals.

PROFIT BY EXPERIENCE

Listing of Exempted Occupations in Britain Found to Be Unsatisfactory.

Ottawa, Oct. 1.—No special occupation will receive exemption when men are called to the colors under the Military Service Act. In Great Britain certain occupations were, as a result of a certain exemption granted, as long as the man remains at specified conditions prevailing in his occupation, may be granted a special exemption. In Canada, there will be no trades or occupation granted exemption as a whole. This decision is understood, and local tribunals will be guided by it.

It is pointed out that the Military Service Act does not provide for a listing of occupations, especially calling for exemption. The plan was not found to work satisfactorily in England. Further, the extreme variation in conditions prevailing in different parts of Canada render such a plan even less suitable here.

Paris, Oct. 1.—The following official statement on aviation was issued this afternoon: "The enemy last night bombarded the country in the vicinity of Bar-le-Duc, causing material damage and resulting in several victims. "During the day of September 30 five German airplanes were brought down in the course of aerial combats, while seven other enemy machines fell in a damaged condition within their own lines. "French bombardiers sprayed with projectiles the railroad stations and barracks at Fresnoy-en-Grand, where fierce fires were observed, and also those of the town of Muzieres and those of Thionville, Muzieres and Dieuze, and on the Sutherland, Minnesota, Minn.; Bomb. Two Hostile Machines Destroyed and Two Others Driven Down.

London, Oct. 1.—Two hostile machines were destroyed and two others were driven down by British air pilots on the night of September 30-October 1. The British bombers made two raids, recouping bombing raids over Belgium on Saturday night, and air combats that resulted from previous activities. The statement reads: "During Saturday night bombing raids were made by naval aircraft over the following objectives: The light railways at Zebrugges, the Saint Denis Western airbase, the Thourout aerodrome, and the Brugloz works aerodrome. Several tons of bombs were dropped with good results, a large area being caused at the Saint Denis Western aerodrome. "During patrol several aerial combats occurred, with the result that two enemy machines were destroyed and one driven down completely out of control. A German plane was driven down, and it is thought to have been damaged. "All our machines returned safely."

GOVERNOR-GENERAL VISITS SUDBURY

First Time Royalty Pays Intimate Visit to Nickel District.

Special to The Toronto World.
Sudbury, Oct. 1.—Their Excellencies the Duke and Duchess of Devonshire were accorded a royal welcome by the citizens of Sudbury today in what is to be a two-day visit to the Sudbury nickel district. A civic welcome at ten o'clock this morning ushered in the day, which was followed by a civic holiday. The royal party, accompanied by Mayor Morrison, reviewed the children of all the schools, visited the hospitals, and at one o'clock their excellency was tendered a luncheon at the Nickel Range at which over two hundred of the business and professional men of the district were present. The Duke and Duchess were entertained at "Bell-rock," the home of W. J. Bell.

"This afternoon the vice-regal party visited the smelter of the Mond Nickel Co. at Coniston. Tomorrow morning they motor to the new mines and works of the British-American Nickel Corporation at Nickelton, and later in the day become the guests of the Canadian Copper Co.

They will have luncheon with President Miles, of the Canadian Copper Co., and Mrs. Miles tomorrow, and after touring the smelter and works at Coniston will visit the Great Creighton Mine Tuesday afternoon. It is the first time in the history of the nickel district that the Duke and Duchess have been paid the district by a representative of the crown. A feature of the day was the instance of a section of the French-Canadian population presenting an address in the French language, the opportunity being offered during the reception at school children, to which his excellency replied briefly in French.

WAR SUMMARY
THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

LAST night the southeast coast of England was subjected to the strongest attack by air yet attempted by the enemy. This makes the sixth raid on England in the last eight days. London and the coast towns were visited by four groups of German airplanes, and the southwestern district of the metropolis, which is thickly populated, was heavily bombed. Perfect weather conditions helped the raiders. The attack was expected by the authorities and a terrific barrage was sent up from the distance. The battle lasted for two and a half hours. The extent of the damage was not made known in the despatch.

The latest British official communication states that several heavy attacks were delivered yesterday by the Germans against the British positions north of Ypres and east of Polygon Wood. In the latter section the enemy entered two British advanced posts. The other attacks were repulsed with heavy loss.

Ypres salient is again the centre of terrific fighting, and with the development of events the battle of Menin road promises to be one of the most important of the war. The defenders of Zonnebeke, where the conflict is fiercest, have repeatedly repulsed the onslaughts of the storm battalions, and the village is firmly held. From a strategic point of view the latest thrust of the British forces along the Menin road is of the highest value to the allies, as the enemy's line of communication to the Belgian coast is in danger. To a large extent the enemy depends on the Oeten-Lille Railway to supply his naval bases at Ostend and Zeebrugge, the latter being the home of the German high sea submarine flotillas, and by the latest drive the British will be able to train their heavy guns on this line. By their mechanical improvements and the perfecting of their methods of attack the allies are rapidly proving their superiority over the Germans. This was clearly demonstrated in the recent fighting on the western front, where the waste has been so great that the enemy is obliged to hold forty divisions in reserve as a minimum guarantee for the safety of his battle line. He realizes the significance of the Menin road defeat and will no doubt make desperate efforts to regain the lost positions. Already he has directed several counter-attacks with great skill and determination without success. These attacks have betrayed signs of deteriorating stamina.

The crown prince has again fallen in a determined attack on Verdun, where he made use of liquid fire in an effort to obtain a definite victory. He also brought into use several shock battalions, but their attacks were everywhere repulsed with heavy loss. In this move the crown prince had had hoped to nullify the British plans by concentrating on the French position. So far his efforts have been frustrated. A terrific artillery duel proceeds between the French and the Germans along the Aisne front and on both sides of the Meuse River. Intense artillery fire is also announced in the Belgian communication.

The French army yesterday took their revenge on the enemy for raiding Bar-le-Duc and heavily bombed the German town of Stuttgart from the air, dropping a half-ton of explosives in all. In a combined attack the French and British airmen destroyed railroad stations and military works in northern France and Belgium. Damage was also done to the submarine base at Zebrugges.

General Cadorna still presses on east of the Isonzo and his troops valiantly withstood several heavy counter-attacks by the Austrians against the newly-won positions of the Italians on the Bainsizza Plateau. Everywhere the Austrians met with complete repulse. In the past three days in this region Gen. Cadorna has captured 2019 prisoners.

In the Riga region the Russians had forced the German forces to give ground for a depth of from 800 to 1000 yards. Russian airmen, to the south, dropped large quantities of explosives on the enemy camps near Kovel.

On the other fronts very little activity is reported, except in the nature of artillery duels, which continue violent on certain sectors of the Macedonian theatre.

Solving the Problems of the Autumn Wardrobe

New Effects in the Indispensable Blouse

A. Radium lace makes for the airy softness of this little luncheon or tea party blouse. It offers itself with a lining and vestee of either moire or flesh pink nixon, a wide band of satin ribbon running round on this lining midway between neck and waistline, and fastening with gilt and silvery buttons. Price, $9.00.

C. A semi-circle of French blue embroidery characterizes the embroidery on this blouse of flesh pink Georgette crepe, supplying a pretty touch of contrasting color. The same model may be had, too, in moire, peach, ivory and white, with embroidery in harmonizing tones. Price, $5.00.

D. Again Georgette crepe, cleverly embroidered, this model in ivory white, with hemstitching and embroidery in coral pink, offers with a delicate drawn-work effect of Alice blue. Or if you prefer, you may have it in grey, flesh pink, rose or maize Georgette, with some happy touch of contrasting color in the ornamentation. Price, $5.00.

B. All for tailored simplicity is this China silk shirt blouse, which may be had in either ivory or black. The sleeves are stitched flat in men's shirt fashion, and heavy pearl buttons are employed for fastening it. The silk is of excellent quality. Price, $9.95.

E. Here is a charming model—fashioned of a beautifully heavy quality crepe de Chine in a luscious pale pink shade, the fronts laid in small box pleats, and the collar, embroidered in an original design of ruby red beads and heavy pink silk. Hemstitching and heavy pearl buttons add the finishing touch to an exceptionally well-tailored blouse. The same model is developed in ivory and in maize. Price, $7.50.

Model Gowns From Paris

And Such Captivating Productions as They Are—Morning, Afternoon, and Evening Dresses From Douillet, Premet and Jeanne Lanvin. So Simple and Thoroughly Wearable, Too.

MODISH, BUT NOT CONSPICUOUS; distinctive, but not bizarre—such seems to have been the motto of the great designers this season of 1917. For how charmingly wearable are these Paris models now on view in the little Rose and Grey Rooms in the women's dress department, several of which, it may be mentioned, appear among the illustrations in "Vogue" of October 1st.

Among them are gowns for all occasions of daytime and evening wear—from tailored serges to frilly dinner frocks. Thus:

By Jeanne Lanvin, a delightful dinner gown in black satin, showing overdress of black net frilled with black ribbon, which is dotted along the edges with white beads. The neck is cut low in front and high in the back, while long transparent sleeves of black net complete the smart effect. Price, $75.00.

By Douillet is a wonderfully modish dress in fine navy blue serge, in semi-empire style, with vestee, narrow underskirt and sleeves of Copenhagen blue homespun. Price, $100.00.

Strictly plain tailored is a clever gown in navy blue serge, the skirt boasting a new flaring tunic. This is a Premet model—priced $100.00.

Another Premet model in navy blue charmeuse has a chic little vest and collar of cherry color silk. Price, $75.

And a very lovely dinner gown in white satin, with narrow skirt and short sleeves, banded with Hudson seal (seal rat), is $145.00. —Third Floor, James St.

Drop Head Sewing Machines Wednesday, To Clear, $22.50

With Five Drawers and Eatonia Model Works—Guaranteed for Ten Years

THIS IS WITHOUT DOUBT the greatest event of its kind in sewing machine history in the Store. For they are machines that we have sold for 20 years, and never before have we been able to offer this model at so low a figure. This is all the more remarkable, considering the advance in cost of production.

And it is an offering that we cannot duplicate, from present indications, as it was practically a chance purchase. They are a high quality machine, of which the man in charge of the department for many years says: "There is no machine goes out of this department in which I have greater confidence, and which has given more thorough satisfaction."

These are all new machines just received from the factory—the second largest sewing machine factory in the world. There are 300 of them.

The design is attractive, but the outstanding feature is the "Eatonia" mechanism. It has automatic drop head, with full size high arm with 5 1/2 x 8 inch space through which bulky work can be easily handled.

It has large self-threading shuttle, and disc tension which automatically releases the thread when machine stops, so it can be easily pulled through needle and cut.

It has cam-driven positive take-up, which means that there are no springs to weaken and make variation in speed. It has steel-capped needle bar, double width feed so that heavy work can be sewn without danger of puckering. The working parts are of best quality steel and all exposed working parts are nickel-plated. Case is of golden oak with ball-bearing stand. A complete set of attachments for plain and fancy sewing with each machine. Guaranteed for ten years.

We will fill telephone, telegraph or mail orders as long as possible. Extra salespeople for quick service. If you want to share in a remarkable sewing machine bargain, come Wednesday. Extra special, each, $22.50. —Second Floor, Furniture Building, James and Albert Sts.

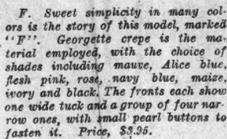

This is Interesting

THE PARIS OPENINGS number of Vogue is out this week, and lo, in the sketches that introduce the story of the styles we are greeted by models which repose at the present moment in the showcases in the little Rose and Grey Rooms here. That captivating novelty, the coat-tunic, as created by Jenny, may therefore be seen in its actuality of black velvet and beaver. Also the gown opposite, of black cloth and caracule. On the following page, 52, the dress named "Ma Cherie," which "Vogue" declares to be Jenny's most famous model, is here at hand for your close inspection. And, again, on page 64, the little poem on chic simplicity, the "wrap-over" frock called "Parisienne," from the Malson Douillet, is likewise in the collection in the dress department. As for the practical aspect of price, the amounts at which the models are available run from $100.00 to $135.00.

There is a little book you should put into the next box you are sending overseas to any friend or relation who has lately become an officer. "A General's Letters to His Son on Obtaining His Commission" has all the value of an authorized text book, and all the charm of a well-told tale. The author, it is stated, is "A Senior General Officer who is on the active list." He gives his advice in a simple, direct manner, as one well versed in the traditions of the Service, and devoted to those high standards of honor and duty which have made for the glory of British arms. Discipline, the temptations of London, billets and care of the men, the art of command, money—these are some of the subjects he treats of in delightfully human and understanding fashion. General Sir H. L. Smith-Dorrien has this to say of the book: "These letters give all necessary information, and if young Officers will only study them carefully and shape their conduct accordingly, they need have no fear of proving unworthy of his Majesty's commission." The price of the little volume is 85 cents.

Talk about smart knitting bags and the adornment thereof, it is safe to venture that you never saw so many fascinating tassels gathered together in one place as those to be found at the present moment among the dress trimmings. Silk tassels, bead tassels, chenille tassels—there is every imaginable kind of tassel that Paris and New York know how to evolve for the finished touch of chic to a bag, a scarf, a sash, or a lamp shade.

The Scribe

F. Sweet simplicity in many colors is the story of this model, marked "F". Georgette crepe is the material employed, with the choice of shades including mauve, Alice blue, flesh pink, rose, navy blue, maize, ivory and black. The fronts each show one wide tuck and a group of four narrow ones, with small pearl buttons to fasten it. Price, $7.95.

H. Crepe de Chine of delightfully heavy quality composes this wonderfully nice blouse, with double hemstitching, many pin tucks and some beautiful embroidery by way of adornment. The collar is ready to meet your fancy for either high or low wear; elastic runs through the waistline, and flesh pink, ivory white, maize and black are the shades in which it is obtainable. Price, $7.00. —Third Floor, Centre.

MAYOR WILL TALK WITH SCAVENGERS

To Address Mass Meeting to Be Held This Afternoon.

CONTROLLERS ACT

Request Men to Resume Work and Withdraw Their Letter.

The strike in the street cleaning department was the principal topic of debate and conversation at the city hall yesterday.

From the office of the mayor to the outside guards there was speculation as to the outcome and what steps the men would take.

It was after five o'clock before the word reached the city hall in reply to a letter from the mayor the men would hold a meeting in Victoria Hall this afternoon at which the mayor will speak.

Early yesterday morning the mayor conferred with the men's committee at their headquarters in Victoria Hall and asked that they withdraw their letter asking for the dismissal of Street Commissioner Wilson and return to work this morning.

Several letters were received yesterday by the mayor, some in favor of the commissioner or some other course of action.

Lieut. Col. Henry Brock, former director of national services in the military district, suggested arbitration in a letter.

He suggested that the president of the Trades and Labor Council, the president of the city treasurer, from his military experience, he said, be appointed as a mediator.

Other letters were received yesterday by the mayor, some in favor of the commissioner or some other course of action.

BLOOR VIADUCT IS NOW ALMOST READY

Opening Depends Upon Civic Officials and When Rafts Are Laid.

TARVIA ROADBED

New Construction Said to Be Durable, Quiet and Easy to Replace.

The Bloor street viaduct is now nearing completion. The entire deck of the structure has been finished, and only a few touches are necessary to finish off the road grade work.

"Of course we have the usual clearing up to do yet," stated T. T. Black, the engineer in charge, "but that will not take long."

"When do you expect the bridge will be opened to traffic?" he was asked.

"That depends entirely on the civic officials and how soon the rails and the road bed are laid," he replied.

"The work on the viaduct is now well advanced. The deck of the bridge has been completed with the exception of one or two bases which have been put in to support the steel girders and poles on the edge of the sidewalk. The raised sockets which will support the trolley poles, which will be of the same type as those used on Spadina avenue, are completed, and everything is now waiting for the laying of the road, which will be done as soon as the rails are laid."

This type of road has only lately been used in Toronto, it being noted as well as being an easy road to lay and repair. The process is as follows: First a coat of tar is spread over the concrete bed of the bridge; this is followed by spreading a mixture of cement and finely sifted sand over the entire surface, and the road is then followed by a layer of coarse gravel. This is very carefully scraped out flat and then the blocks of wood 8 x 4 x 4, then stem rollers, and another coat of tar and silted cement complete the road.

This method has already been started on the smaller bridge of the two, and the work is well under way about the blocks of wood 8 x 4 x 4, and the railway tracks in this section have been laid.

When the bridges are very near completion there seems to be no hurry on the part of the civic authorities to start on the road which will enter into the viaduct.

The viaduct is expected that the western bridge, extending from Castle Frank road to the corner of Parliament and the railway tracks in this section have been laid.

OVER SIX HUNDRED MEN ARE EXAMINED

All Medical Examination Records Broken Yesterday at Toronto Centre.

EIGHTY-FIVE ATTESTED Certificates From "A" to "H" Will Be Distributed Tonight at Armories.

All medical examination records were broken yesterday at the Toronto mobilization centre when a total of 622 men passed thru the hands of the medical officers between the hours of 9 a.m. and 9 p.m. So great was the crowd of applicants at 9 o'clock that the officers in charge found it expedient to close the centre to give the doctors an opportunity to clear up their waiting lists.

The new medical inspection room went into operation, and was used for examination purposes in the morning and afternoon. During the past week has been equipped for medical inspection work.

Eighty-five men were attested and sent forward to the following units: First Depot, 2nd C.O.R., 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 5th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th, 12th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 18th, 19th, 20th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th, 26th, 27th, 28th, 29th, 30th, 31st, 32nd, 33rd, 34th, 35th, 36th, 37th, 38th, 39th, 40th, 41st, 42nd, 43rd, 44th, 45th, 46th, 47th, 48th, 49th, 50th, 51st, 52nd, 53rd, 54th, 55th, 56th, 57th, 58th, 59th, 60th, 61st, 62nd, 63rd, 64th, 65th, 66th, 67th, 68th, 69th, 70th, 71st, 72nd, 73rd, 74th, 75th, 76th, 77th, 78th, 79th, 80th, 81st, 82nd, 83rd, 84th, 85th, 86th, 87th, 88th, 89th, 90th, 91st, 92nd, 93rd, 94th, 95th, 96th, 97th, 98th, 99th, 100th.

IT CAN'T BE DONE. STRIKE'S FIRST DAY PASSES QUIETLY

No Attempt Made to Clean Streets or Move Garbage.

MEN ARE DETERMINED

Show No Indication of Weakening in Their Many Demands.

The first day of the strike of Toronto street cleaners and scavengers passed off without any trouble. No garbage was picked up in any part of the city, and by night-fall some of the down-town streets had begun to look a little the worse for the lack of attention at the hands of the men who, under ordinary conditions, keep them in their usual spick and span condition. Pickets representing the strikers were present at all the departments' yards, sent all the day passed off practically without incident, which was largely due to the fact that no attempt was made by Commissioner Wilson to replace the men on strike or to move any of the wagons. The committee allowed the stablemen to collect dead animals from the Willcot avenue station and also horse feed was drawn from one stable to others. The night watchmen are also to stay on the job, and the city was given out yesterday, to protect the property of the city.

At the men's headquarters, Victoria Hall, yesterday morning, his worship the mayor called to ask if the committee would get the men together at a mass meeting for last night, when the mayor would address them. In answer to this request the following letter was sent:

Dear Mr. Mayor: In reply to your request that a mass meeting of the men be held tonight in order that you may make an appeal to them to resume work pending an investigation by the city council, we respectfully submit to you the reply.

The men do not wish to hold any mass meetings to discuss anything, but when they can return to work under the direction of another commissioner, either temporary or permanent, under no other condition will they resume work.

Agreed to by the men: Under no other condition will they resume work. Yours respectfully, W. D. Kennedy, C. J. Mitchell, C. Lamey and M. Leslie.

Following this letter and in reply to another communication received by the committee from the mayor later in the afternoon it was finally decided to hold a mass meeting at the Victoria Hall, today at 3 o'clock, at which will be represented the board of trade, the Trades and Labor Council, and several prominent citizens who will be chosen by the mayor.

Howsoever determined that the men are determined to stand together and to continue their strike until their demands are met. The men are determined to stand together and to continue their strike until their demands are met.

ADULT EDUCATION NEEDED IN CANADA

De-Educational Influences Worse Than No Educational Help, Says Prof. MacIvor.

WOMEN FOR BOARD

Home and School Council Will Support Movement for Feminine Representation.

The first regular meeting of the home and school council for the coming year took place in the social service building, Queen and Park, last evening. Professor R. M. MacIvor, Toronto University, who was the speaker of the evening, touched upon the importance of education in adult life. He said that the country was in a real attempt upon this side to provide, as has been done in England by the formation of a "workers' educational association" for the need of education in adult life or after school. The child leaving school is in a subject to de-educational influences, being the far worse condition than having no positive educational help.

The press, said Mr. MacIvor, was largely responsible for the greatest de-educational influences, being the very opposite of educational in effect upon the majority of the people of today. It was not the fault of the press for sensation, not concerned with the truth.

He outlined the aims of a club of women, to be formed for the purpose of educating the public, and called the "Canadian Problems Club," with the idea behind it being to educate the public on the subject of education. The club will be formed for the purpose of educating the public, and called the "Canadian Problems Club," with the idea behind it being to educate the public on the subject of education.

TUESDAY MORNING, OCT. 2.

An Earnest of Victory.

Cheerful news has been the rule from the battle fronts for a year at least. Progress is, of course, slow, but this is due to the fact that large bodies move slowly, and the average man has not the dimmest idea of the magnitude of the mass that has to be moved when one of our modern armies make an advance. There are three million men at least in the British forces in France, and it is probable that in any one of the actions so successfully carried out this year at least half a million men were engaged. This would mean moving a body of men equal to the population of Toronto. Very few people of Toronto with their necessary equipment, baggage, food supplies, besides arms, ammunition and other military necessities, and transport them over such a breadth of territory as has been covered in even the least of the advances made. And this without taking into account the opposition to be overcome, and the fierce fighting which is part of the operation. So we must not expect the war to move at the rate in which battles were settled in the days of Waterloo, when there were not more than 150,000 men engaged altogether on both sides. On the present scale of warfare Waterloo was only a skirmish.

It is on this huge scale that the war should be regarded, and people should adjust their conceptions of the war to the tremendous character of the operations. There is good cause for rejoicing, therefore, over the excellent news from Mesopotamia, which came in opportunely to fill the gap created by the censorship of all news from the western front. General Maude, who was looked upon by many while he was in Canada as a carpet knight, has shown how utterly impossible and, of course, unfair it is to judge a man of his job. When General Maude was given his work he showed that there could be none abler. His record in the east is one of unbroken efficiency. He has retrieved all the errors of his predecessors, and he has made a solid and secure position for the British troops out of a situation that was certainly dangerous and even threatened disaster.

It had been supposed that the hot weather would have suspended General Maude's operations, but he recognized a possible danger to his position in the efforts of the Turks to divide the Russian and British forces on the east, and to flank the British movements towards the west. Ramadiah is on the Euphrates some 75 miles west of Bagdad, and there are desert intervals in every direction in this region, so that the advance represents an operation of very considerable difficulty. The Turks apparently thought themselves secure of attack, and were taken by surprise after a forced night march which will probably be found to have been a brilliant manoeuvre. The battle was carried on, after this march on Thursday night, during Friday with severe fighting. As a result the Turkish position was surrounded, and when the attack was resumed on Saturday morning the enemy were in a hopeless position and surrendered freely. Thousands of prisoners were taken, including the commander, Ahmed Bey, and his staff, and great stores, guns, ammunition and other booty.

This is a most gratifying result of a highly business-like campaign, but it should be doubly encouraging as a sample of the work that the British army is capable of and is doing. The same class of work is being done in France and Flanders, but it is on an immensely larger scale, and consequently requires much more time and patience. But we have confidence that it will achieve corresponding results. The present days of silence may preface some coup of similar import in the western campaign; and in due time, there can be no doubt, we may look for the end which every military leader has in view—the rounding up of the enemy, the reduction of his forces, and the inevitable elimination of his main army as a fighting unit. A blow of this kind is necessary to a conclusion of the war. We may be confident that the British army is being led to this end, and we may accept General Maude's operations as an earnest of what the British forces are capable of doing.

Mr. Montagu's Forward Policy.

In the appointment of a new secretary of state for India in the person of Edwin S. Montagu, it is the general opinion that a distinct advance has been made towards a settlement of the many problems that are under discussion in that eastern empire. It is impossible to disseminate education and the broad and liberal views which accompany British education among any body of men, and more especially among such keenly intelligent races as those of India, without arousing all the aspirations for democratic methods, self-government, and modern methods of administration that are demanded by the British people themselves. Queen Victoria's promise of self-government to India in 1858 remains as a goal to be attained, and there have been many advances in that direction in the interval, while other steps taken have been regarded as retrograde. For example, the transfer of the capital from Calcutta to Delhi, which was hailed by many as a splendid thing, has been looked upon by perhaps the greater number of those immediately affected as a decision to move the Canadian capital from Ottawa to Quebec might be regarded in Ontario.

Before the war Mr. Montagu was under-secretary of state for India, and afterwards a member of Mr. Asquith's war cabinet. He is regarded as an able administrator and has taken special pains to acquaint himself with Indian affairs, having visited India when under-secretary, and holding highly sympathetic views towards the aspirations of the Indian peoples. It is well to recognize the peoples of India, for there are many great nations among the 270,000,000 of her population, and this it is which renders her problems more complex. Mohammedans and Brahmans constitute the great bulk of the people religiously, but over 2,000,000 follow the Sikh religion, the Jains are an influential body, and the Parsees, the one of the smallest, are among the wealthiest and most powerful. Naturally, also, the Christian bodies exert considerable influence, the natives allege that it is not of a uniting character, but rather tends to separate the native races from the European population.

There is no difference of opinion about the vast improvements that have been effected by the British Raj in matters of irrigation, of transportation, of the abatement of famine, of education; but there still remains a huge task to be accomplished. Only ten per cent. of the population, it is said, can read and write, but this is scarcely a fair standard to judge the people by, as they are trained in their ancient classics to a degree that would be regarded as remarkable in the west, and which could only be paralleled by having our children commit to memory the Bible and Shakespeare. It is obvious that even could one not read and write a culture of this description creates a different type from our commercial and utilitarian education. The point is not whether it is better or worse, but what is the best way to deal with it.

There is a very obvious lesson in the immediate results of the Russian revolution. It is impossible to say, but prudent statesmen would not take the risk of creating in India such conditions or anything approaching such conditions as at present exist in Russia. The great majority of enlightened Indian opinion is quite agreed as to that. But there must be progress. Mr. Montagu has pointed out that "recent British policy, including its latest phases, reveals an orderly progression."

There is undoubtedly more and more of a disposition to listen to the proposals of the national congress, which meets annually and represents every phase of Indian thought, but voices its conclusions in well-considered, and on the whole exceedingly moderate terms. There has never been the slightest doubt of the loyalty of the Indian Empire, and recent misconceptions which led to the temporary imprisonment of Mrs. Besant by the government of Madras Province, but who was released after a short time, and has been chosen president of the next national congress, are likely to yield to Mr. Montagu's intelligent supervision.

Mr. Montagu is going once more to India to consult with the government, with the local authorities, and, as he says, with all who can help him. He hopes in this way to eliminate the interminable delay that would result from an endeavor to get into such direct touch with these elements thru the postoffice. He hopes to bring the British authorities into direct touch with the Indian people by his visit, and so in a manner deal with the problem on the spot. It is a great step in advance to have the existence of a problem recognized, and Mr. Montagu has expressed himself in sanguine terms as to the result. He thinks that the extremists are more vocal than numerous, and that the natural growth of a progressive policy in government could be looked forward to without apprehension.

The first marked step in advance is the recognition of the equality of commissions given to Indian officers in the army with those of British officers. Hitherto any British subaltern ranked the most senior officer of Indian birth, thus virtually reducing all Indian commissions officers to the rank of non-coms. This anomaly has been abolished, and many other steps in advance are in contemplation.

Other People's Opinions

The Fly in the Ointment.

London Free Press (Oct. 1): The genius of Joseph Flavelle made him king of the production business in Canada. Twenty years ago in Toronto he was a struggling young man, with a failure in Lindsay, his native town, as his only asset. We say asset because out of his failure came experiences that were valuable. When the munitions business of this country had grown to so enormous proportions that it required the handling of the most competent director upon whom the government might rely, Joseph Flavelle answered the summons from Ottawa and agreed to serve his country without remuneration. It is no secret that Joseph Flavelle, as presiding head of the imperial munitions board in Canada, has saved this country and Great Britain millions of dollars, in this country and in large profits that otherwise might have been exacted by the munitions makers. In the fervor of his patriotism, wiping the perspiration from his brow, Joseph Flavelle cried out: "To hell with the country!" The country believed that there was an example of the patriotism that should sway all men in the nation's critical hour. The government, in recognition of the saved millions and the great munitions output, gave a baronetcy to Joseph Flavelle. The struggling young man of a few years ago had become Sir Joseph Flavelle, Bart., millionaire, patriot. And then a fly got into the ointment.

The Dead Hand on Downtown Toronto.

Editor World: Let me ask you what is wrong with downtown Toronto? Send a reporter along King street, west of Bay, and ask the owners of the empty stores, and the storekeepers still in business, what is the matter with this street. My opinion is that people cannot get down town or to the centre of the city to do business without paying two fares and losing a lot of time in making transfers. Not can the people who travel from outside towns and districts get direct to the centre by radials. Nor are there any compulsion tickets in and out of the city by the steam railways. The new railway act, which contained, among other things, a clause compelling the railways to give suburban trains and commutation tickets to Toronto and surrounding towns similar to what they give to Montreal and neighbourhood. Radials and suburban trains would bring a lot of business to downtown Toronto. They would also let the suburbs of the city down town. But Mayor Church and his colleagues apparently have no initiative. They profess to be waiting on Sir Adam Beck. He can't help them much. He says to wait till he can work out his big scheme for radials concentrating in the bay front—half a mile or more from the corner of Yonge and Queen streets! The radials should come to the centre thru the city on streets where business is now located.

If the Board of government have cleaned up the Canadian Northern and the Transcontinental, and coupled them up with the Intercolonial into one system, why can't Sir William Hearst and Sir Adam Beck and Mayor Church do the same thing for Toronto and Ontario? I heard a public man say not long ago that Sir Thomas White had said that "once we've cleaned up the railways" meaning the Canadian Northern—Toronto and the Ontario hydro radials could clean up the situation within their jurisdiction."

It seems to me that this is the liveliest topic for business men and property-owners of Toronto. They've got to settle it themselves. If they remain supine they'll die of the sleeping sickness. Where are the storekeepers who are paying the taxes? Business is going to the Board and to Danforth. Another year of this and values will be cut in two. Ex-Policeman.

Finish every day and be done with it; you have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt creep in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow is a new day; begin it well and serenely.

TAKING CARE OF TORPEDOED SEAMEN

BY LINCOLN LORENZO.

Great Britain, whose merchant seamen have been the heaviest sufferers thru Germany's submarine warfare of all the mercantile sea forces in the world, has only now instituted thru the marine department of its board of trade a new and increased scale of compensations and pensions for torpedoed seamen and their widows and dependents.

Previously there was no recognized compensation for loss of personal effects by what are called "war risks," such as the loss of personal effects arranged being solely on private arrangements with the ship-owner or arranger. Now, however, compensation for loss of effects goes on a government footing, to masters down to $50 to lesser sailors, firemen and trimmers. The importance of this move becomes apparent when it is remembered that practically every submarine victim loses all the personal effects he has in his chest—except in the case of Lascars and Chinese, who often grab their own off a sinking vessel before they take to the boats.

The scale of compensation for personal effects is as follows:

Merchant Vessels.	$500 00
Certificated officers, surgeons, purser, wireless operators, etc.	250 00
Uncertificated officers and apprentices	200 00
Carpenters (for tools)	175 00
Rating in stewards' department above the rank of assistant	150 00
Ditto—not above the rank of assistant	75 00
Boatwain, steward, quartermaster, etc.	50 00
Seamen, firemen, etc.	37 50
Native Rating.	75 00
Native stewards and cooks	50 00
Tindals and leading firemen	35 00
Lascars, sailors, firemen and trimmers	20 00
Fishing Vessels.	150 00
Skipper	75 00
Second hand	75 00
Engineerman	50 00
Boatwain, fireman, cook, etc.	35 00

These are maximum sums of compensation, except where proof can be made by ratings entitled to a maximum above $35, in the case of the compensation allowed.

These are maximum sums of compensation, except where proof can be made by ratings entitled to a maximum above $35, in the case of the compensation allowed. The pay on which these sums are calculated is the pre-war pay, or the pay actually received six months before the war's outbreak, i.e., in February, 1914. Thus, to the widow of an officer who earned $50 a month at sea in February, 1914, a pension of $125 a year, minus the value of the annuity which her compensation under the old Workmen's Compensation Act—$1500—could buy, or the actual sum of $121, is paid annually until her death or remarriage. This is in addition to the old compensation which the Workmen's Act affords her, or the $1500 which is administered for her benefit by the county court. To this sum is added the usual children's allowances. Or to the widow of a seaman, who, in February, 1914, earned $27.50 a month, a pension of $100 a year is granted until death or remarriage, in addition to her compensation of $1500 and her children's allowances.

Beneficiaries who, in February, 1914, were earning over $1250 a year—who are not covered by the Workmen's Compensation Act—a pension of $450 a year is granted, besides the children's allowances. In addition to these, financial provisions for the dependents of submariners, who are conducted privately the great seamen's orphanages, which have been well equipped since the German sea ruthlessness started.

The largest of these are the Seamen's Orphanage in London and the Seamen's Orphanage in Liverpool. Here the orphan children of seamen are kept until they reach the age of 15, the girls taught to become domestics, clerks and dressmakers, and the boys raised principally to follow the occupations at which their fathers have been killed. In the Liverpool institution, the girls taught to become domestics, clerks and dressmakers, and the boys raised principally to follow the occupations at which their fathers have been killed. In the Liverpool institution, the girls taught to become domestics, clerks and dressmakers, and the boys raised principally to follow the occupations at which their fathers have been killed.

MEDICAL BOARD.

Oct. 1.—The medical board which will examine the men of this city who will be called upon to serve in the city today, and are preparing for the examinations which they hope to commence tomorrow. The personnel of the board is: Major Burgess of Leamington, president; Captain Wilson of Parkhill, and Dr. Gemmill of Stratford.

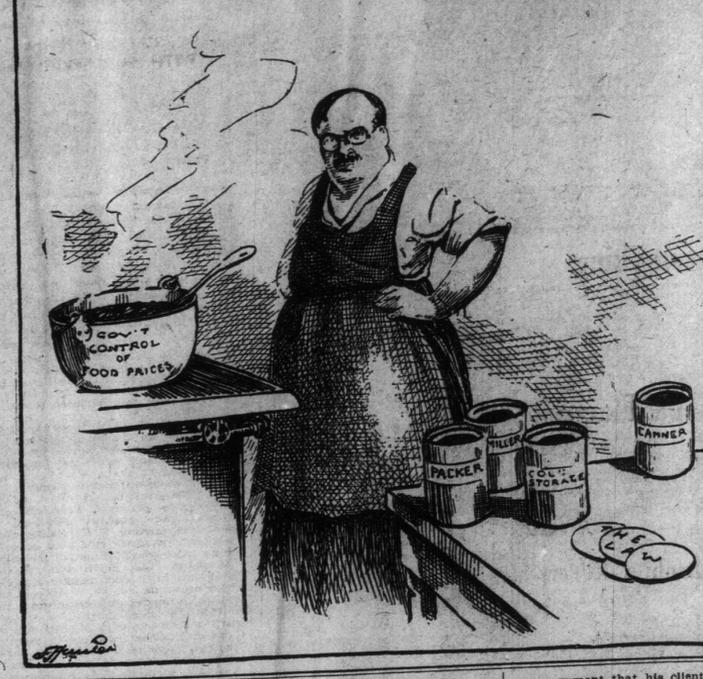

THE MIDDLEMAN

A FARMER raised a peck of wheat in Tennessee; he had a boarder at a wheated loaf "way down in Tennessee; the loaf the boarder fed upon cost him as much and more as did the farmer's peck of wheat a month or so before. "Now why is this," the boarder raved, "they hold me up on bread!" And why is wheat so "bleat" cheap?" the plodding farmer said.

A guy beyond the Rocky Ridge raised twenty pound of limes; another guy in old New York was kicking on "ade," and, poor forlorn glout, had paid one-half the market price for these twenty pounds of fruit. "Now why is this," they seek me thus for this wet sip of "ade?" And why, exclaimed the orchard man, "am I so poorly paid?"

Now hold your horses steady there, you say beside the Dea; go easy there, you hungry guy in sunny Tennessee; central venery, you orchard man, forbear this angry talk, and you beside the soda fountain. "Now why is this," they seek me thus for this wet sip of "ade?" And why, exclaimed the orchard man, "am I so poorly paid?"

ISN'T IT UP TO HANNA TO DO SOME "CANNING"?

Long Live the King!

Long Live the King. By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Illustrated by Arthur Hecher. Published by Thomas Allen, Toronto. $1.50.

In the course of her literary career Mrs. Rinehart has written a great variety of fiction—mystery stories, romance, tales of plot and action, humorous skits—and all of them with noteworthy success. In this last book she has combined something of nearly all the different methods, for the tale is highly romantic, it possesses a complicated plot, there is much and constant action, and, if there is little sentiment, it is made good by much humor. But she will win the reward of her audacity—and of her ingenuity and skill—for she has written a story that is different from any of the others of that sort, and has made it pleasurable and appealing. The figure of the crown prince is particularly appealing in its flatness, its loveliness and its real manliness.

The Long Lane's Turning.

The Long Lane's Turning. By Halle Erminie Rives. Published by McClelland, Goddard & Stewart, Toronto. Illustrated in color. $1.50 net.

A gripping love story of the south is told in this latest novel by Halle Erminie Rives, in which a lawyer and his sweetheart play the prominent parts. Harry Sevier is the lawyer, who has gained a reputation by never losing a case. He takes to drinking in secret, and in court makes such poor argument that his client is convicted and sentenced to ten years. The only person in the court room who realizes that Sevier is drunk is his rival, the head of a liquor trust. The rival attempts to influence the judge by threatening to publish incriminating letters 20 years old if a certain judgment is not given in favor of the trust. The girl, in order to save her father, sends a letter to Sevier in which she states that she cannot marry him. This of course makes Sevier turn again to drink, after a year's fight to keep away from it. The girl goes to the rival's home at midnight in order to get possession of the letters, and by a strange coincidence Sevier also is there, after having been drinking. He gets mixed up with two burglars who are robbing the house, and in the general mix-up his rival is sentenced to 20 years. In time he escapes, returns to his home and is elected for governor. His rival recovers from the shock of his escape, and Sevier comes home to find his father's house, and everything ends happily.

The story is good, well written and full of interest.

WHEAT TENDENCY IN MINE SHARES

Liquidation in McIntyre Depressed Stock—Dome Weakened.

The bear element in the mining market has derived much satisfaction from the behavior of the stocks yesterday. Fresh liquidation broke out prices generally suffered in consequence.

The tone of the market was distinctly soft and as is usually the case in such a market, little headway was made in the afternoon.

Perhaps if silver started on another of its soaring jaunts it might pull the market out, but the authorities in New York had the situation pretty well in hand.

Whether the present silver indication is a further decline to 95¢, perhaps too, when the ticker service is resumed, the market will rather narrow, but at present it is rather narrow.

The recession in McIntyre occasioned by heavy liquidation was the feature of the market, the stock touching a new low for months.

The action of this stock of the week time back has suggested that the stock was quietly being placed on the market as fast as it could be sold.

Official Silver Prices

The so-called official quotation for silver is being criticized as not representative of the actual price for any means.

Silver is changing hands around $1.00 an ounce without difficulty, while the official quotation is below a dollar.

One explanation of the official price is that such is the bid and that no transactions are being made. The bid quotation may be ten cents lower and it would convey about the same meaning.

Stops have been taken to stop silver speculation in China, but these restrictions can have but a temporary effect upon the actual price of the metal.

RAILWAY SHARES SHOW WEAKNESS

Standard Issues Fall to Lowest in Decade at New York.

New York, Oct. 1.—Recurrent liquidation of rails, generally attributed to the greater necessities of foreign holders, now has neutralized the firmer tendencies shown by other stocks in the course of today's irregular market.

Offerings of new securities were in demand in larger volume than at any recent period, some standard issues falling to lowest quotations of a decade.

Additional reasons for the weakness were furnished by the poor showing of Pennsylvania, New York Central and St. Paul.

The market opened with an all-round demonstration of strength, leaders soon advancing one to three points under the favorable influences engendered by the opening of the Standard Liberty loan campaign, and indications of relaxed money conditions.

Steele and other industrials, together with the bulk of the so-called war group, featured the rise, but the movement soon yielded to pressure upon such stocks as transcontinentals.

St. Paul common and preferred, at 125 and 140 respectively, established new minimums at 125 and 140, respectively, the lowest level of the year.

U. S. Steel's price was cut in half later, and the price of its shares fell to almost twenty years.

CORN UNSETTLED DUE TO FROST

No Effort is Being Made on Chicago Exchange to Remove Maximum Price.

Chicago, Oct. 1.—Indications that damage by frost last night had been done to the quality of corn rather than to quantity led to a reaction today from an advance which at first took place in prices.

The market closed unsettled at $1.18 for December, and $1.15 for May. It may be off to a shade up as compared with Saturday's finish.

Business in oats was narrow and simply reflected the changes in the corn market. Provisions, like wheat, advanced with corn.
