News of Maritime Province Men In the War

Dr. Harry McDonald, who has been preaching for the last two or three years in New Bedford, C. B., has been accepted for service with the Canadian Overseas Forces. James W. Madin, ex-M. P. barrister, practicing in Sydney, has joined the 50th Nova Scotia Highlanders as a private. The Post says: "As a matter of fact he was asked to take a commission as a captain in the new provincial battalion of Highlanders. He talked the matter over with Major Borden and took the stand that while he felt the call to go to the trenches and fight shoulder to shoulder with the men of Cape Breton and Nova Scotia, he did not feel that it would be the confidence of his fellow-provincials to have an untrained man, took a commission and a command of men 'out away'."

ASQUITH NOT BACK FOR A WEEK OR MORE

London, Oct. 20.—Premier Asquith's illness has had the effect of producing a greater air of calm in political circles than otherwise would have attended the resignation of Sir Edward Carson from the attorney-generalship, and from present appearances there will be no more resignations from the cabinet.

It is quite likely that Premier Asquith's absence will be extended to nine or ten days, and this enforced cessation of political passions is expected to give time for the reconciliation of the differences. It seems that Sir Edward Carson had intended to make public a statement yesterday, but the premier's illness resulted in Sir Edward Carson's resignation from the attorney-generalship, and from present appearances there will be no more resignations from the cabinet.

French Fight Robbers

Paris, Oct. 20.—One of the small wars which France is carrying on, but of which little is heard, is being waged in Tunis. It consists chiefly of engagements with robber bands, crossing the frontier from Tripoli. Important fighting of this kind took place in the Debutat region from September 25 to October 9, during which time the French garrison of 300 men kept a large number of robbers at bay until relief arrived.

Says Germans Have Lost The War

London, Oct. 20.—A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Petrograd quotes Alexei Khvorostoff, the minister of the interior, as saying in reply to a question concerning the proclamation of martial law in Moscow: "The Germans have got into a condition of utter exhaustion. They have really lost the war, and now will strive to put a drag on our activity and our production of munitions, by stirring up strikes and causing confusion and disorganization in our rear."

THE APPEAL TO MEN

What is the real meaning of the talk about conscription in England? In the simplest words it means that the Empire is in such great danger that every available man is needed.

Let us get the thought of that danger and that need fixed in our minds, and not waste time in discussing the ethics of conscription.

If every man of enlisting age can be got to realize the conditions which have given rise to such discussion there will surely be no need of conscription.

Canada has not done her full duty. Kitchener calls for another army of 4,000,000 men. How many men will Canada send? She can send more than three or even four times as many as have thus far crossed the Atlantic.

It is absolutely clear that most people are not yet aware of the gravity of the situation. We may be in good shape and we may make progress, we may even conquer in some places, and we may hold the enemy generally, but if we cannot supply the deficiencies that are constantly being caused in our ranks then we cannot bring the war to a triumphant conclusion.

There is need for more and more ardor in the home campaign for enlistment. There is need for more and more activity in Canada in the same cause.

Australia has sent more men in proportion to population than Canada has, and yet Canada is more vitally interested in the issues of the war than Australia can be.

We must do more in New Brunswick which is not doing as well as most other provinces. Nova Scotia recruited nearly 1,600 men for the 88th Battalion in less than a month. How long will it take New Brunswick to fill the ranks of the 88th?

The more quickly men can be sent to the front the sooner the war will end, and it must end in the complete destruction of German military power.

The present war will only prove the prelude to a greater one in years not far distant. Germany must be utterly crushed, and only men and munitions can achieve that end.

THE WAR NEWS

The Allies are proceeding with great vigor in the development of the Balkan campaign. Larger forces are being landed at Saloniki, and an Italian squadron will, it is said, co-operate with the British and French fleets in the Aegean Sea.

Russia is also expected to send troops. Russia has declared war on Bulgaria, and may be expected to follow that declaration by a definite movement against the new enemy.

The British and Russian governments have notified Greece that they do not agree with her interpretation of the Greco-Serbian treaty, and that they will land more troops at Saloniki.

Meanwhile the Serbians are offering a very stubborn resistance to the German invaders as well as the Bulgarians, and the general outlook is more hopeful.

It is asserted that the operations at the Dardanelles will not be abandoned, but that more troops will be sent there.

The Russians continue to hold the Germans in check in the east, and have hurled them back at some points along the extended line.

In the west the Germans have defeated in vigorous attempts to break the French and British lines, and the dead-locked there continues.

In England the illness of Premier Asquith has occurred at a critical moment, but Mr. Lloyd-George led the House yesterday and skilfully evaded all awkward questions, the disposition of the members being to give the government a fair field.

Lord Derby is to be given a fair chance to work out his scheme to avoid conscription, but if he fails there will be no other alternative.

Kitchener must have the men he needs.

THE UNITED STATES

Summarizing a recent speech by President Wilson, Bradstreet says: "We have, he said, come to a time of special stress and test, when the rest of the world from which our politics were drawn seems for the time in the crucible."

There never was, he urged, a time in which it was more necessary clearly to consolidate the American principle and to ask that every man and woman who thinks first of America should rally to the standards of our life.

There is too general an impression, Mr. Wilson continued, that a very large number of our fellow citizens born in other lands have not entertained with sufficient intensity and affection the American ideal.

In his view their numbers are not large and those who seek to represent them are very vocal but not very influential.

Declaring that he was not deceived as to the balance of opinion among the foreign-born citizens of the United States, Mr. Wilson said that he was anxious to have a line-up and let the men who were thinking first of other countries stand on one side and those who are for America first, last and all the time on the other.

One of the most striking passages in the president's address was that in which he declared that he looked forward to the necessity in every political agitation in the years that are immediately ahead of calling upon every man to declare himself where he stands.

Is it America first or is it not? It does not yet appear to have become clear to President Wilson that the very ideals of which American boys are now in greater danger than ever before in the world's history; and that those "who are for America first, last and all the time" could best serve American interests by contributing actively to the destruction of a power which threatens them.

Mr. Wilson should win in this war what would the Kaiser care for American ideals, and who would be able to defend them? By all means ask the people to stand up and be counted for or against America and the ideals of America.

The result would show a great majority in favor of American ideals, but if President Wilson goes far enough in his analysis he will see that this majority is also against Germany, and German ideals, and that in self-defence it should contribute to the destruction of the latter.

Can New Brunswick fill the ranks of the 88th in a month? Why not? How many hundreds of young men will St. John contribute to the ranks of the 88th? Sir Robert Borden says the government will supply all necessary machine guns and other equipment for the troops. He also intimated that what the people have subscribed for machine guns will be returned to them by the government in the form of larger grants for patriotic funds.

"Whether the doctrine that might is right shall prevail and shall supersede the recognized canons of civilization, whether the creed of the jungle or the creed of Christianity shall impinge and guide humanity in the years to come; that is the issue forced upon the world in this war. To such a demand humanity can give but one answer, and Canada will do her part in making the answer complete and final."—Sir Robert Borden.

McRobbie Foot-Fitters King Street. SENTENCED TO DEATH FOR KILLING A BOY. King Declared a Vicious Pervert—Was Brought to Canada From Old Country. Judge Clute, of Owen Sound, has pronounced the death sentence on Herbert T. King, for the murder of 12-year-old Eddie Nicholson, on a country road near here last spring. The sentence is to be carried out on December 22. Before sentencing the prisoner the presiding judge said that, owing to certain circumstances in connection with the case, he would make a special report to the Department of Justice, and that it was possible they would exercise clemency, that being the prerogative of the crown. But with the unqualified finding of guilty of the jury, he said he could do nothing but impose the death penalty. Killed Young Boy. The crime for which King is convicted was a most heinous one. On the evening of March 28 he hired a livery rig, intending to drive out to the farm of his brother, William King, of Derby. Before he left town he picked up the little Nicholson boy for the purpose of holding the horse while he, King, made several calls on people with whom he was acquainted. Going out into the country he called on a farmer, Howard Henderson, and at that time the boy

The Mail and Empire says editorially: The man, Herbert T. Of the forty-one years of his life a large part is said to have been spent in English prisons and asylums. A Really Handsome Shoe

This season we have added to our line of Men's Six Dollar Boots a real Kangaroo Skin Laced Boot, made on the "Princeton" last with a good heavy sole.

There is not much genuine Kangaroo leather used in boots nowadays on account of its scarcity and high price. Some dealers have been known to offer Vici Kid as Kangaroo. The advantage of Kangaroo is that it is as soft as kid, but will not peel, check or become defaced. The last we have had these boots made on will appeal to the man who seeks a modest shapely shoe, devoid of all freakish tendencies.

AMERICAN WOMAN RUNS UNIQUE FIELD HOSPITAL

Burbridge, Belgium, Oct. 2.—(Correspondence)—While rushing through Belgium, three cars full of officers and correspondents stopped at a unique field hospital conducted by Mrs. Mary Borden Turner of Chicago. It is constructed of portable sections, electrically lighted and most of the features of a permanent hospital.

When the party arrived, American ambulance drivers were removing tea-men who had recovered sufficiently to be taken to hospitals farther away from the firing line. After a tour of the wards, Mrs. Turner entertained the party at tea in her own little wooden office building, and talked of the work.

"When Dunkirk was bombarded," she said, "my friends at home were worried because we were so much nearer the Germans, but it is so satisfying to be where we can see such results. And these complaining soldiers are splendid. We have 185 here now."

"The only complaining one is a British soldier. He hurt his ankle badly playing football. He said he was ashamed to see letting him stay. As a rule we move farther to the rear all who can go, to make room for those brought from the trenches."

In Argentina the laws provide that a father must leave his children four-fifths of his fortune; and a husband, if he has no children, must leave all his property to his wife. An unmarried son is compelled to leave his parents two-thirds of his property, and only unmarried persons without parents or descendants can make will disposing of their possessions as they see fit.

ENGLISH WOMEN GOOD MECHANICS

Clad in Overalls, They Do Work in Munitions Plants Formerly Done by Men

London, Sept. 20.—(Correspondence)—The real movement among women toward filling up gaps in labor in Great Britain is shown in all classes of work, but nowhere more strikingly than in the big munitions iron works.

If any particular kind of working place was considered a year or more ago as sacred to men workers it was the iron works, with its humming lathes, whirling and slapping pulley belts, banging hammers and grating files. The woman worker has not only invaded the iron works but also justified her invasion, and Britain's premier has paid tribute to the excellence of the results.

At a works on the lower reaches of the Thames may be seen seven days a week huge sheds full of women mechanics. Some are so-called amateurs, who may come to the works every morning in a motor car and others are every day work girls. "Amateurs" and professionals draw the same wages, but the "amateurs" wear khaki overalls and caps. Amateur and professional are working at line after line of lathes and screw cutting and other machines running down the long sheds. A girl with one stray wisp of bright fair hair poking from under her cap was busy boring a shell. The solid cylinder of steel lay in the lathe. As the steel shavings came out in a spiral worm, the lathe worker found a moment to rub her hands on a wad of cotton waste. Then she drew from the pocket of her overalls a small lace edged handkerchief to wipe spots of lubricant from her face.

AUSTRALIANS SUBSCRIBE $65,000,000 FOR NEW LOAN

Melbourne, Australia, Sept. 11.—(Correspondence)—Much to the gratification of the Australian government the first issue of the Commonwealth popular war loan of $100,000,000, consisting of $25,000,000 applications for which expired upon Aug. 31, was largely oversubscribed.

On Sept. 8 in the course of representatives, amid cheers from the members of the prime minister, Andrew Fisher, read a letter from the governor of the commonwealth bank in which the latter announced that the number of applications received for the issue was nearly 17,000 and the total amount applied for was just short of $600,000,000.

"It is evident," said Mr. Fisher, addressing the house, "that the amount subscribed will be substantially over $18,000,000, which is practically two-thirds of the total amount of the loan."

The Commonwealth Bank and various private banks were large subscribers; to the latter also two insurance companies (the Broken Hill Proprietary Company (the owner of the federative silver, zinc and lead mines at Broken Hill and the steel plant at Newcastle) and Sir Samuel McCaughey, (the Australian "sheep king").

Diamonds. The "War" has not increased the demand for Diamonds—the reason being, no doubt, that of all commodities "The Diamond" is affected less by business panics or depressions than any other. It is stable. It holds its value, while other classes of merchandise suffer. It is thus a safe investment at all times. Our prices have not advanced. We can show you some excellent values. Ask Your Jeweler. Your jeweler is an expert on watches. Go to him and ask his advice. He has been studying watches for many years. Ask him about Waltham Watches. He will know all about our wonderful factory, the largest in the world, and the birth place of most watch improvements in the last fifty years. He will tell you how reliable, what genuinely fine instruments Waltham Watches are, and he will show you how much more satisfactory it is to own a really good watch than one of the flimsy kind of which there are so many. If you will send us your name and address, we will gladly mail you free our new Waltham booklet. Waltham Watch Company Canada Life Bldg., St. James St., Montreal

MONOTONOUS BUT DEADLY BUSINESS. What Trench Fighting is Really Like. ONLY ONCE IN A WHILE. But Conflict is Fierce When it Does Come—Trench Homes Cross Between Furrow and Apartment House. At the time of the last great Russian retreat it was observed that, whereas on the western front the allies advanced by inches, on the eastern front they retreated by miles. There has been no war in ancient or modern history where advance was so difficult as it is against the Germans in France or Flanders; and those who have not grasped the situation are disposed to wax facetious at the reports of the French War Office to the effect that upon a front of one hundred yards two trenches were captured and a couple of hundred prisoners on one side or the other matter little in this great conflict; but the gain of a hundred yards of trenches may effect the whole front, and may indeed be the beginning of a terrific battle that will engage millions of troops. A member of the American ambulance corps who has been serving in France has written home one of the most vivid accounts of trench warfare that we have come across. At the Front of the Front. While there are no two actions exactly alike, the process by which trenches are taken does not greatly vary, except in the length and intensity of the artillery fire that always precedes the infantry attack and the strength of the resistance, which depends to some extent upon the work of the artillery. It should be borne in mind that along four or five hundred miles of battle front extending from the English Channel to Switzerland the German armies and the armies of Britain, France and Belgium face each other from trenches. There they have spent the past year, fighting sometimes, but just as often playing cards or writing letters home. Being their permanent homes, the trenches have been improved until some of them are a cross between an apartment house and a furrow. As a rule, however, the first line trenches, those that are in the front of the front, and probably not more than forty yards from the enemy, are built for use rather than for comfort. The Overture. Here the rival armies crouch behind concrete breastworks and bags of sand, which are placed every yard or so by staked planks which have slits through which the muzzle of a rifle may be poked. The German trenches are the same. Should a man show himself on either side he is likely to be shot, for the marksmanship at the front is very good and the range close. The monotony of constant watching is broken occasionally by an attack. It is made almost invariably at night or in the early hours of the morning. If the attack is to be made at 3 a. m., the preliminaries begin about midnight, when the artillery placed far in the rear begins the work of demolishing the sections of trenches to be destroyed. It is said that the famous French 75 guns can be trained within a yard or two, and not many of their shells fall wide. After a bombardment lasting from half an hour to three hours, which is answered by the German guns, directed upon the French trenches which contain the troops the Germans know are about to make a dash, the soldiers, pushing aside the sandbags, emerge. Across the Deadlines. They do not form in line and make a picturesque race across the forty yards that intervene between the trenches. However level the ground might have been before the war began, it is now pretty sure to be deeply pitted by shells, and the men advance for the most part on hands and knees. In the meantime searchlights are playing upon them, and the French guns are playing upon the searchlights. The Germans drop explosive flares, and as they illuminate every inch of debatable ground, the attackers drop to the earth until the light dies down. Thus halting and advancing they make their way to the German trenches. If the artillery has done the work expected of it the task of capturing the small salient that was the object of the attack is an easy one. The Germans in the trenches were either killed or wounded, or they were so nervously wrecked by the terrific cannonade that they held up their arms and beg their "kammerads" not to kill them. Reversing the Trenches. As soon as the trench is captured, the prisoners are sent to the rear and preparations are made to repulse the counter-attack that is almost certain to follow. The trench is reversed, that is to say, its unfortified rear is strengthened by sandbags, while its concrete front is demolished, and if there is time barred wire entanglements are arranged in expectation of the German attack. In the meantime the 75 guns have lengthened their range and are firing at the German second and third line trenches with the idea of breaking up a counter-attack before it can be launched. Similarly the range of the German guns has been altered, and they are firing upon the trenches that were formerly in their hands. The German infantry is busy in cutting off the connection of their lost trenches with the other trenches in their possession, for if they failed to do this, what began as an attack upon a few hundred yards might develop into an action that would threaten the whole front. The work is monotonous in its regularity. It is deadly to those engaged in it, and the whole conduct of the war depends upon it. An Imperial family pass for a year is one of the prizes in the patriotic drawing.

Rob Dusting Day of Its Drudgery. The old corn-broom, with its flying dust, its wearisome strain on the back from hours of toil by the earlier sweeping methods, has had its day; even the more modern carpet sweeper has been improved, so you have with it a thoroughly practical and durable suction cleaner in the TORRINGTON VACUUM SWEEPER which does more and better work in far less time and is much easier on carpets and rugs. The revolving brush takes up the surface litter, while the powerful bellows removes the introduced dust. A thumb-pressure opens the big, roomy dustpan, and the large, open-topped, wire-framed bag empties at a tap. Price With Carpet Sweeper Attachment...$4.50 SEE OUR (LOWER) KING ST. CAUTION!

WARNING—The Collect-Dust Sweeping Powder Co., who manufacture their goods under four different patents granted by the Canadian Patent Office, for the highest grade sweeping powder on the market, warns the public against worthless imitations. FIELD COMFORTS THAT ARE APPRECIATED MUCH BY SOLDIERS

Letters received from the front by J. J. Colman, London commissioner of the Canadian War Contingent Association which distributes field comforts sent from Canada, contain some very interesting information about the tastes and manner of life of the soldiers. The article perhaps most in demand and hailed with the warmest thanks is soap. When a soldier returns from the trenches plastered from head to foot with tenacious Belgian mud which hardens into a glass when it dries, his one object is to get clean.

Allies Shelling Dedeaghat

Italian Squadron Puts to Sea - Report From Sir John French - Greater Effort at Gallipoli Foreshadowed

New York, Oct. 19.—A news agency despatch from London, published here this afternoon says: "It was officially announced here today that Dedeaghat, the strongly fortified Bulgarian port on the Aegean Sea, was being bombarded by the Allied fleet."

Paris, Oct. 19, 9.30 p.m.—An Italian squadron has left for the near east under sealed orders, supposedly to participate in the blockade of the Bulgarian coast, according to a Brindisi despatch received here this evening, but which had been delayed in transmission.

Athens, Oct. 19.—British and French troops continue to disembark at Saloniki.

The number of those troops is so large that it is impossible to forward them all promptly by rail to Serbia. Some of the troops are making forced marches across Greek territory in the direction of Serbia.

Paris, Oct. 19.—The French premier, M. Viviani, has telegraphed Sergius Sazonoff, Sir Edward Grey and Baron Sonnino, respectively, the foreign ministers of Russia, Great Britain and Italy, that at the moment of a change in the French ministry he wished to declare to them that the modification did not involve any modification in the policy which France was pursuing in concert with the Allies.

The three ministers replied, thanking Premier Viviani, and assuring him of cordial collaboration in the cause for which the Allies are fighting.

Petrograd, Oct. 19, via London, Oct. 20.—The following imperial manifesto has been issued: "We hereby make known to all our loyal subjects that the treason of Bulgaria to the Slav cause, prepared with perfidy since the beginning of the war, has now, although it seemed impossible, become an accomplished fact. Bulgarian troops have attacked our loyal ally, Serbia, already bleeding in the struggle against a stronger enemy."

"Russia and the great powers, our allies, tried to dissuade the government of Ferdinand of Coburg from taking this fatal step. The realization of the ancient aspirations of the Bulgarian people regarding the annexation of Macedonia was assured to Bulgaria by other means, in conformity with Slav interests, but underhand methods, prompted by the German and fratricidal hatred of the Serbians, triumphed."

"Bulgaria, our co-religionist, liberated but a short time ago from the Turkish yoke by the fraternal love of the Russian people, openly took sides with the enemies of the Christian faith, Slavism and Russia."

"The Russian people regard with sorrow the treason of Bulgaria, which was so near to it until these last few days, and, with bleeding heart, it draws its sword against her, leaving the fate of the betrayer of the Slav cause to the just punishment of God."

SIR JOHN FRENCH MAKES DETAILED REPORT.

London, Oct. 19.—Field Marshal Sir John French sends the following report from headquarters in France:

"Since my communication of October 14, the artillery on both sides has been very active on our front south of La Basses Canal. The enemy has made a number of bombing attacks, all of which have been repulsed."

"The continued reports to the German communiques of the repulse of British attacks northeast of Verdun have no foundation in fact. The positions where the fighting mentioned above has taken place would be more correctly described as southwest of Auchy Les La Basses, from which it is about fifteen hundred yards distant. It lies about three thousand yards northeast of Verdun."

"The new front now leaves our old line at a point about twelve hundred yards southwest of Auchy Les La Basses and runs thence through the main trench of the Hohenzollern redoubt in an easterly direction, four hundred yards south of the southern bulge of Fosse No. 5, to the southwestern corner of the quarry. We also hold the southeastern corner of the quarry, our trenches running thence southeast, parallel to and four hundred yards from the southwestern edge of Cite Saint Elie, to a point five hundred yards west of the north edge of Hailuck."

"The line then runs along the Lens-La Basses road to the chalk pit, fifteen hundred yards north of the highest point of Hill 70, and then runs southwest to a point one thousand yards east of Loos church, where it bends southeast to the northwest slope of Hill 70, and runs along the western slopes of the hill, bending southwest to a point 1,200 yards south of Loos church, whence it runs due west back to our old line."

"The chord of the salient we have created the enemy's line, measured along our old front, is seven thousand yards in length. The depth of the salient at the chalk pit is three thousand two hundred yards."

"Since September 28 the enemy has reinforced his troops holding the front we attacked by forty battalions, which include a division of the guard. After a heavy bombardment the enemy attacked our front this afternoon between the quarries and Hailuck, but was everywhere repulsed."

London, Oct. 19.—Owing to the illness of Premier Asquith and the delicate negotiations which are proceeding between the Allies, the engagement which today's meeting of the house of commons was expected to throw on the Balkan operations, over which the cabinet is believed to have resigned from the cabinet, and on the substitution of Major General Monro for General Sir Ian Hamilton to command in the Dardanelles, was not forthcoming. There were more than a hundred questions in the house on the orders of the day, dealing chiefly with near eastern affairs, the Dardanelles and the method of raising necessary men for the army, and, while the ministers answered many of them, in no case was the information which the public was anxiously awaiting supplied."

It is generally supposed, however, that for the moment at least, the controversy over recruiting has been silenced, for the conscriptionists, on a majority of them, have decided to give Lord Derby's new scheme a fair trial, and to assist in every way to get the men to increase the size and fill the gaps in the army. It is understood that the voluntary system is receiving its best trial, and despite the opposition throughout the country those favoring national service for all will endeavor to force its adoption, should Lord Derby fail in his efforts.

PESSIMISM DISAPPEARS.

So far as the Dardanelles and the Balkans are concerned, a good deal of pessimism which reigned a week ago has disappeared. It is believed that instead of any idea existing of abandoning the attempt to open the straits and sea route to Constantinople, the appointment of General Monro means a more strenuous effort, and that when the right moment comes the Italian navy, if not the Italian troops, will cooperate.

It is known that the forces on Gallipoli have not been weakened for the Balkan campaign, and while the task is difficult, the majority of the British public are confident that it will ultimately be accomplished.

In the Balkans the Austro-German and Bulgarian armies continue to claim progress against the Serbians, but, except in the north, where the Serbs are being forced back into the mountains, the various reports do not go so far toward clarifying the situation.

The Bulgarians have cut the railway between Uskup and Nish, and so it is likely that, except in the extreme south, where they have the support of the Anglo-French troops landed at Saloniki, the Serbs are falling back to stronger natural positions. Itip and Kotschani, it is said, have already been evacuated.

ITALY DECLARES WAR.

Italy, which singularly enough, is still technically at peace with Germany, has declared war on Bulgaria, and Russia is expected to follow.

low her example almost immediately. When this formality is completed, it is possible that the action which Italy and Russia intend to take in the Balkans will be defined.

The Allies have also made a new diplomatic move with respect to Greece, the British and Russian ministers having delivered a note to Athens, explaining that the Allies do not agree with the Greek government's interpretation of the Greco-Serbian treaty, and notifying Premier Zaimis of their intention to land more troops at Saloniki.

It is not expected, however, that anything but allied success will have any influence with Greece, or, for that matter, with Roumania, Russia is trying for this in Galicia and Volynia, where General Ivanoff has won several local victories and is keeping the Austro-Germans busy.

Otherwise, interest in the eastern front centers in the north, where the Germans continue to attack south of Riga, and the Russians to the south and west of Dvinsk. Both sides lay claims to gains.

The Germans are being considerably hampered by British submarines in the Baltic, for besides sinking a large number of steamers engaged in the ore trade between Germany and the Baltic, they are interfering with transports between German ports and the Courland coast.

THE OLD MEN OF TROY.

(London Mail.) The Old Men of Troy, they sat on the wall, A mighty council, chirping away That never, never could come the day When Troy would fall. The Old Men of Troy, they sat on the wall, "Nine years hath our city withstood the Greek, Our gates are untouched, our citizens sleep, Why should Troy fall?" "We have warriors in plenty, young and tall, Some men must guard the flocks on the hill, And some must barter, and some must till; How can Troy fall?" "Some, too, must feast in their painted halls; And sing and dance, so the foe shall say; Such laughter we hear by night and by day, Troy will not fall!" "And the women must spin and weave, one and all, As they ever have; it would never be right They should do man's labor to let man fight; Troy cannot fall!" The Old Men of Troy, they sat on the wall, And they talked and talked, till the flames shot high, And blood was on earth, and blood in the sky; And—did Troy fall? Five hens of this strain have laid 1,188 eggs in forty-seven weeks. The average hen lays about seventy eggs a year.

RED ROSE TEA "is good tea"

PREMIER BORDEN AT THE IMPERIAL

Gives Comprehensive Review of Canada's Part in the War

WILL FIGHT UNTIL VICTORY WON

"The Creed of the Jungle or the Creed of Christianity." That is the Issue—Says Government Intended to Provide Machine Guns and Will Return Citizens' Generosity at Future Time

Sir Robert Borden was well received by an audience that crowded the Imperial Theatre to its utmost last night. His address received the position that Canada had taken up since the outbreak of war and especially dealt with the Creed of Christianity. That is the issue—Says Government Intended to Provide Machine Guns and Will Return Citizens' Generosity at Future Time

He made a long explanation of the machine gun position. He said that citizens had already paid $7,700,000 for that purpose which the government intended to use later. As to the future, he said the steps taken in Great Britain and the overseas dominions led him to believe that in the immediate future the British troops would be as well supplied with guns and ammunition as the enemy troops and that a man might be heard who was not beyond all doubt how this struggle would end. The end would have to be a victory completely and unmistakable so as to free the whole world of the militarism that had pressed upon it for the past twenty years.

All depended on the supreme effort of the mother land and her colonies. It was a struggle for the supremacy of the ideas of the jungle or of Christianity. The desire for the consolidation of the empire had grown since war broke out in every part of Canada. These words and such as these were listened to with attention and the crowd there was a feeling of renewed confidence in the part the dominion was taking.

In the course of the evening a bouquet was handed to Lady Borden, who occupied a box with Lady Tulley and ladies of the patriotic societies in the gallery. The choir of Trinity church sang the March of the Men in Black very nicely and Walter Pidgeon sang O Canada as a solo. The theatre had been splendidly decorated by W. H. Gidding with the allied flags.

Mayor Frink. The mayor in opening said that the whole empire was now charged with one thought and the citizens of St. John from the beginning of the war had been their utmost in men and money to maintain the objects that had been before the empire. The types and the money to continue. His worship then made an appeal on behalf of the Red Cross Society for tomorrow and mentioned that a special service was being organized at Trinity church for the fund. He then extended a welcome to Sir Robert Borden, paying a compliment to the way he had borne the burden which fell upon him as prime minister at such a crisis as the present. It was not a time for party politics and Sir Robert had shown that he was able to deal with the problems in a calm and judicial manner.

Appause. Sir Robert Borden was received with applause. He remarked in passing that he had not visited St. John recently but was pleased to learn that business prospects for the port for the coming winter were favorable and would probably exceed any recorded in the past. He hoped the wharves, not only the older ones but the newer ones, too, would be occupied to their fullest capacity.

Premier Borden spoke as follows: "Owing to the very great demands upon my time and energies since the present government assumed office I found myself unable to visit Canada for four years to visit many great communities of our dominion as often as I desired. Nevertheless I have not failed to watch with the greatest interest and appreciation the splendid progress which your city has made in the meantime. During that period the trade of the port has wonderfully expanded and I am informed by those who are in a position to speak on the subject that its volume during the coming winter will probably be greater than ever before. I do not doubt that the facilities provided by the works now under construction will be utilized to the full in the early future.

"The events of a magnitude almost surpassing comprehension through which our empire has moved during the past fifteen months are still supreme in our thoughts. When the war broke out we were not doubtful of the justice of the cause our empire could have obtained from entering this conflict only at the sacrifice of its honor and prestige. Its future influence throughout the world and, in all probability, of its further existence. In this historic province founded in the first instance upon the devotion and self-sacrifice of the Loyalists there never any doubt as to the response of the people. In New Brunswick as elsewhere you have given of your best and you will continue to give. It has been my privilege in France and in Great Britain during the past summer to meet some of New Brunswick's gallant sons who have served with marked distinction at the front and to congratulate them as I congratulate you upon the splendid valor, resourcefulness and heroism which had marked their action under the fiercest test and the most trying ordeal. For a hundred years Canada has been involved in no

WHAT THEY HAVE DONE AND FOR WHAT THEY ARE STILL DOING

APART from its hospital near Shorncliffe, the Canadian War Contingent Association makes no attempt to provide for the wounded but devotes its energies to the relief of the comforts among the men at the front. Let there be no misunderstanding as to the situation in this respect. Canadian troops are as thoroughly equipped and carefully provided for as those of Great Britain or of any of the belligerent nations. In Canada as in Great Britain not less than sixty-six different articles of equipment are provided by the government for each soldier who goes to the front. But many useful articles of various kinds, designated as comforts, which the war office or the militia department could not undertake to supply are provided and sent to the troops at the front by various patriotic associations. The government whether in Great Britain or in Canada is grateful for the provisions that made, and the men in the trenches are especially grateful to supply and provided and sent to the troops at the front by various patriotic associations. The government whether in Great Britain or in Canada is grateful for the provisions that made, and the men in the trenches are especially grateful to supply and provided and sent to the troops at the front by various patriotic associations.

Britain, one found a thorough realization of the greatness of the cause for which the allied nations are contending; wonderful patience all that they had suffered; a fine spirit of determination to return to the front and continue their military service in the most difficult conditions. How slight seem all the minor-ills of life compared with what these men have endured and what some of them must continue to bear throughout their life. In some of the great hospitals I have addressed gatherings of 500 convalescents gathered from every part of the empire, all renewing their strength under the same roof all united in a splendid comradeship, which means much for the empire's future. Their thunderous response to my expression of firm determination to fight until we triumph left no doubt as to their own stern resolve. In all I visited between forty and fifty hospitals including every Canadian hospital except those at the Dardanelles and one of those in France. In equipment, organization and general efficiency our hospitals are second to none; in all the hospitals every care and attention are provided for the comfort and solace of the wounded.

My visit to Great Britain and France during the past summer was crowded with the most impressive incidents which I have ever experienced. In France I saw a nation in arms for the preservation of its existence; men of spirit and clean conscience who had summoned it to rise, and eagerly anxious to do their part in freeing the soil of France from the foreign invader. These physically unfit for military service, the old men, the women and the children of the nation, were in the munition factories; the whole country abuzzed with their labor and bearing abundant crops of the entire nation animated by a resolute and united spirit. The people of Great Britain to whom the realities of war have been brought home by the Zepplins are not less determined and big as the men of France. They threaten their national existence.

La Grippe and Colds. In La Grippe and Colds, Anti-Kamnis (A-K) Tablets are unsurpassed, as they stop the pain, soothe the nerves, and bring the system to health. Physicians have used these tablets for over twenty years. In the treatment of colds, flu, and grippe, they have found no other remedy more useful in these conditions. Anti-Kamnis Tablets are so inexpensive, so pleasant to take, so safe, and so effective, that they are the only conditions where there is pain, that A-K Tablets are the only remedy.

FOR ACID STOMACHS USE MAGNESIA. Quickly Stops Sour Burning Feeling and Makes Digestion Pleasant. The almost universal use of magnesia by physicians and specialists in the treatment of stomach troubles, is due to the fact that it stops food fermentation and neutralizes the acid—the direct cause of nearly all stomach troubles. Of the many forms of magnesia, the one prepared by leading specialists is bisulphate magnesia, a teaspoonful of which in a little warm water immediately after your druggist and apply a little of this fragrant antiseptic cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every sinus of the head, soothing and healing the swollen or inflamed mucous membrane, giving you instant relief. Head colds and catarrh yield like magic. Don't stay stuffed-up and miserable. Acid is sure.

CHILD GETS SICK CROSS, FEVERISH IF CONSTIPATED

A laxative today saves a sick child tomorrow. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, which become clogged up with waste, liver gets sluggish, stomach sour, and after these things have been done, the child is cross, feverish, and restless. "California Syrup of Figs" then don't worry, because it is perfectly harmless, and in a few hours all that constipation poison, our bile and fermenting waste will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. A healthy child "cleansing" is oftentimes all that is necessary. It should be the first treatment given in any sickness.

Be wary of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs, which has full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-up people printed on the bottle. Look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

NURSE'S KIDNEY COMPLAINT

She Was Too Weak to Walk Alone. In Prolonged Pain for Hours at a Time. Had Undergone Two Operations. Faced With a Third Operation. She Took DR. CASSELL'S TABLETS And Was Cured.

Two years ago Nurse Dowdall, of St. Alfred Street, Gloucester, England, wrote to say that Dr. Cassell's Tablets had cured her of acute kidney trouble. I feel I can never sufficiently praise your splendid medicine. Kidney trouble had reduced me to such a state of weakness that I could not walk and began to lose flesh. In a remarkably short time I was thoroughly well and strong. Now, if ever I feel a little run-down—and my work as a nurse is sometimes very trying—I just take a dose or two of Dr. Cassell's Tablets, and they never fail to set me up again. They are just splendid!

These cured are real cures, complete and lasting, and the accounts related, true beyond all question, are given out of sheer gratitude for new health, strength, and vitality brought about by Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Bad Complexions Are Now Easily Discarded. Every woman has it, in her own hands to possess a beautiful and youthful complexion. No matter how the skin is discolored, the ordinary irascible woman will actually remove it, and Nature will substitute a skin as soft, clear and healthy as a child's. The action of the wax is not drastic, but gentle and agreeable. Minute particles of inert skin come off gradually, yet no evidence of the treatment is discernible. One gradual complexional improvement. One box of medicated wax, procurable at any drug store, suffices for most cases. It is put on in the morning with warm water. It is certain to remove all discarding freckles, liver spots, moths, patches, and spots. Wrinkles can be treated with benefit by bathing the face in a lotion prepared by dissolving 1 ounce powdered saffron in 4 ounces of water. The saffron is usually sold as saffron.

Swift Campaign For Canadian R. R. Workers

Five Hundred Construction Workers, All British Subjects, For Emergency Railroad Work in Russia, Raised and on Their Way in a Fortnight—Great Obstacles Overcome by Energy and Lavish Expenditure

(Montreal Financial Times) Accustomed as Canadians are becoming to whirlwind recruiting campaigns, one which has just been completed and received no comment whatever is among the most romantic. A few weeks ago attention was called in The Financial Times to the fact that railroad workers were being sought, through the advertising columns of the daily papers and other mediums, for special railroad construction work in Russia. Five hundred men were needed, and needed in a hurry. The five hundred men, all skilled laborers, were raised from Anticosti on the one side Vancouver on the other, all in the short space of two weeks and are at the present time aboard a steamer bound for a Russian port almost in the Arctic Ocean. To Carry Munitions The Russian government, it appears, decided some time ago that the demand for munitions was such that existing facilities for transporting them to the front were not compatible with the speed with which it was necessary to get them to the scene of action. Flung about for greater facilities it was decided that a certain port on the northern coast, open all the year round, but having no communication by railroad, was the logical port of entry if only the necessary railroad accommodation could be provided—and that right quickly. As a result of late the Russian government sought the advice and co-operation of a great English firm of engineers. The result of the conference was that the government decided on the connecting up of the port indicated in the foregoing with the nearest direct line to Petrograd, a matter of 150 miles. The English firm which had been consulted undertook to build the line and to get it completed in six months or as close as possible to that time. It is at this point that Canada's con-

HARVARD WILL ASK YALE NOT TO STOP ATHLETES

Consider Their Absence From Big Game Would Be Detrimental

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 20.—As the result of an informal meeting of Harvard football leaders and authorities it was expected in Cambridge on Tuesday that efforts would be made to persuade Yale to reconsider the action in dropping five prominent athletes because of their summer baseball activities. When it was learned that Legore and Easton, two football players, had been included in the list of Yale ineligibles, Capt. E. W. Mahan of the Harvard varsity football team called a meeting in which the matter was discussed. All of those present declined to be quoted Tuesday, but it is known that Captain Mahan conferred with Chief Coach Haughton, former Captain Robert Storer, Richard Wigginworth and two members of the student advisory board and that the general sentiment seemed to be that the absence of Legore would deprive the Harvard-Yale contest in Nov. 20 of one of its best features. The view said to have been expressed that as the violation of the intercollegiate agreement had been a technical one and as the players had made proper amends when their attention was called to a violation of the rule, an exception might be made in their cases. No definite action, however, was taken at an unofficial way the attitude of Harvard.

STOMACH TROUBLES

Digestion is largely a mechanical process. When there are stomach troubles there is usually a weakness of the muscles upon which digestion so largely depends. To strengthen these muscles and overcome stomach troubles our druggists, The Ross Drug Co., and Watson's Drug Store, guarantee Vinol, a reliable non-secret remedy, which contains iron to purify and enrich the blood, the medicinal extractives of fresh cod livers, without oil, and the nourishing properties of beef peptone, all combined in a delicious native wine. If you are suffering from stomach trouble, it will pay you to try it.

SIEGE BATTERY IS FILLING RAPIDLY

175 Men on the Roll—Four Yesterday For 88th—Two Recruiting Meetings Tonight

There are now 175 men on the roll of the siege battery and only 48 more are required. The officers will make careful choice of the best men offering to fill the battery. Though interest in recruiting yesterday was somewhat overcome with the interest in the visit of Sir Robert Borden, yet four recruits signed the 88th muster roll, while many others enlisted with the siege battery. Thomas E. Garry, Chipman, N. B.; D. H. Mayras and Ernest Crew of this city and James E. McCormick of Parrishboro, N. S. were accepted for service with the 88th. A meeting is planned for the old Alexandra Hall in Main street tonight, to be addressed by Mayor Frink, John Connor and H. A. Powell, K. C. Cigar will be provided, there will be songs and music and a pleasant time is anticipated. Another meeting will be held in the Mill street recruiting offices tonight. The steamer Mississinable reached England yesterday with 1,714 Canadians and it is estimated that Colonel John Hughes, brother of Sir Sam and camp commander at Valenciennes, has been made a brigadier-general. For Returned Soldiers At a conference of the premiers of the various Canadian provinces in Ottawa yesterday, it was decided to co-operate as fully as possible with the federal government in the matter of providing employment for returned soldiers. A commission is to be appointed in each province whose duty it will be to make places for the men. Wedded in England A wedding of interest to friends here was solemnized on September 29 in England when Miss Ethel Gwendolin Bustin, of Redland, Bristol, became the bride of

THE MEASURE OF GERMANY'S MARTIAL SUCCESS

(Moncton Transcript.)

Germany's raid upon Paris checked. Germany's two dashes upon Calais checked. Germany's first invasion of Russia checked. Germany's second invasion of Russia checked. Germany's attempt by fast cruisers to destroy British commerce checked. Germany's attempt to wear away the British imperial navy by submarine warfare checked. Germany's attempt to prevent British and neutral merchant ships doing "business as usual" with the British Isles checked. Germany's attempted disruption of South Africa by a rebellion checked. Germany's attempt by a "Holy War" to array the Mohammedan masses in the African and Asiatic dependencies of the Allies checked. Germany's Turkish catpaw raid upon Egypt via the Suez Canal checked. Germany's offensive tactics on both the Eastern and Western battlefronts checked and transformed into a defense. The hour of Germany's opportunity for world conquest has passed for ever. Germany has lost her offensive and despite fitful splutterings now and again she has lost it for ever. Taking No Chances. "Lemme get those unrepentant hidden before you let them in!" Binks hastily interposed as Mrs. Binks moved toward the door in response to the bell. "Do you think our guests will steal umbrellas?" Mrs. Binks demanded contemptuously. "Maybe not—but they might recognize 'em!" Binks replied.

BARRY GETS $14,840 FROM WORLD'S SERIES

World's series fame is now being shared lavishly on Duffy Lewis of the Red Sox, just as it was showered in the past on Mathewson, Rube, Adams, Coombs, Baker, Collins and Gowdy. But world's series money has travelled along a different avenue. "Let 'em pitch all the shutouts they want to and let 'em hit all the home runs they want," mused little Jack Barry. "There is all right for a few days or weeks, but it doesn't draw interest like coin. Jack will take the coin, boys, and you can have all the glory that goes with world's series."

And every British subject can obey Lord Nelson's injunction to the extent of helping along the Red Cross work, at least.

Did you notice that President Wilson voted for woman suffrage yesterday? Of course, the fact that he is a fiance may not have anything to do with it, but still.

Encouraging Matrimony

Cupid must be a hitherto unrecognized ally of the empire or else he has a special post at the War Office. First they provided separation allowances for soldiers' wives, and now they are talking of a mild form of conscription under which the bachelors will be taken first.

A Zepplin was wrecked in France yesterday through colliding with a chimney, which again shows the everlasting folly of "bitting the high spots."

The occupants probably learned also what the lamented J. J. Lee felt like when he first struck the "Big Smoke."

Where's the Inspector?

Some people who thought butter in packets during the last few days, learned that the difference between a one pound print and one pound was about six ounces.

And, of course, purchasing in quantities of five or ten pounds, the householder is paying a little more than war prices for the table necessity.

As a caption, we asked as to the whereabouts of an inspector for the purpose of enforcing honest weight in stamped packages, but we're not sure that there is such a being.

The Turkish fleet no longer exists, says headline. Well, most people thought that both ships had been demolished long ago.

A New Classification

It may be possible for some people to tell any other kind of a Canadian from a Nova Scotian, and the latter from a Scandinavian, but some others cannot. A dispatch from Quebec to the local press yesterday told of the finding of the body of an unidentified sailor on the Gaspe coast. Because of his being fair-haired, it said, he was taken for "either a Nova Scotian or a Swede."

Political and Other Machines

They were watching the procession in honor of Sir Robert Borden yesterday, and the honor paid two of our prominent politicians who rode in the car with the prime minister.

"But why is Mr. Borden in the car with Sir Robert and Lady Borden?" one of them asked.

"Oh, the Hon. Mr. Borden is riding in the car with the prime minister," was the explanation volunteered.

One Little Difference

"You're a German, are you not?" a local business man asked a commercial traveler who called on him last week.

"Yes, of course I am," he readily admitted.

"How is it that you are allowed to do business in Canada?" he was asked.

"I'm not selling German goods and as long as I report to the authorities once a month they have no objection, apparently."

"Would you treat a Canadian as well as that in Germany?"

"I'm d—sure we wouldn't," was the frank response.

CALLS ON BOYS IN FAIRVILLE TO LEND A HAND

WRITES OF COMRADES

More Nerve, He Says, Required For Enlisting Than to Carry Out Any Work Since Given Them to Do

In a letter received by one of his friends in Fairville, Sapper Leo Quigg, of the First Canadian Contingent, has a word to say to the young men of his own community and their duty in this great war. It ought to leave an impression, coming as it does from the very heart of the danger zone. Part of the letter follows:—

"Received your letter of September 9 and was very pleased to get it as my word from one 'own home town' does us a world of good. I am in the best of health and the same can be said of Dennis Hanlon, Frank Kelly, George Craft and John O'Keefe, although I do not see these fellows (except Craft), very often but I always meet somebody who can tell me about them. Charles Humphries is also in excellent condition and wishes to be remembered to friends.

"I would like to write and tell the boys of Fairville some idea of what it is like out here and that it is not as bad as some people claim it is, and also emphasize the point that we cannot get too many men. Not one of our bunch regrets the day, over a month ago, when we took the oath to do or die for the old flag, and I really think it took more nerve to do that than to carry through any job we have been permitted to undertake out here.

"The boys of the first Canadian division have done a good deal since coming to France last February and what is left of them are still anxious to do more and want to be here to the finish. Every man you meet here says 'regret the day, over a month ago, when we took the oath to do or die for the old flag, and I really think it took more nerve to do that than to carry through any job we have been permitted to undertake out here.'

BEGIN WINTER'S WORK

Gymnasium and Social Hall of Fairville Baptist Church Opened

Last evening the Camelot gymnasium and social hall, in connection with the Fairville Baptist church, was formally reopened for the winter season. There was a large attendance of young people as well as adults from the congregation.

Last winter the gymnasium only was available, but this year a social room has been fixed up, the walls sheathed, pictures hung and here games will be played during the long winter evenings.

Mr. Bond, of the Y. M. C. A., was in charge of the gymnastic exercises last evening, and interesting games of basket ball were put on by two teams of girls against two teams of boys. Drills and physical exercises were also on the programme.

Rev. P. R. Hayward announced that the Canadian standard efficiency tests had been adopted for the boys and modified forms would be applied to the girls in training. He also outlined the winter's work.

Harry Keen, of the Y. M. C. A., who will supervise physical instruction on Tuesday evening, also spoke and Geo. White, principal of Tower school, who has promised his assistance to the boys on Monday evenings and girls on Tuesday nights, in the gym. Carey Black referred to the excellent results such efforts were bound to achieve among the young people. The meeting was most enthusiastic.

SEA CASE IN POLICE COURT

Captain A. Hansen, of the three-masted schooner Valkyrie, appeared in the police court this morning to answer a charge of assaulting a young member of his crew named Karl Andersen. The complainant said that on September 19 he was sent to repair a sail, and while doing so a piece of rope fell down on top of the captain's cabin. The captain, he said, became angry and struck him in the face with his fist and then took a piece of rope and beat him over the neck and back.

Captain Hansen said he had to tell the sailor several times to place rope on the ship and not fling it down. He denied having struck him, although he acknowledged that he had attempted to do so. In answer to Magistrate Ritchie the captain said he sailed on his last trip from Ribe, Denmark.

As considerable business was pending in the police court, the case was set aside until Friday morning. D. King Hansen, Danish vice-consul, appeared on behalf of Captain Hansen.

One man arrested on a drunkenness charge was fined $8 or two months in jail.

The case against the Chinese was continued. Sam Ham was on the stand during the major portion of the hearing. It will be continued this afternoon.
