MONCTON MAN HURT JUMPING FROM TRAIN

Thomas Stevens Severely Injured by Perilous Leap—City in Darkness—19th Battery Inspected by Col. Fages—Wedding

Moncton, N. B., Sept. 20.—(Special)—Thomas Stevens, chef at the Hotel Minto was taken to the city hospital this morning suffering from severe injuries the result of jumping off a train which was running between 20 and 25 miles an hour. Stevens and a number of other young men were attending a dance at Paines Junction and about 1.30 this morning boarded No. 15 train for home. At Lewisville, Stevens asked Conductor Daley if the train stopped there. The conductor said it did not. At that time No. 15 was about 100 yards from Hall's Creek bridge and Stevens walked off of the car and jumped off. The young man was seen by him when coming back found him lying on the side of the track with the side of his head cut and his arm broken. He was picked up and carried to the office of Dr. McNaughton and later was taken to the hospital. Stevens was severely shaken up but his injuries are not considered dangerous. The city was in complete darkness for about forty minutes between one and two o'clock this morning on account of a high tension electric light wire carrying 1250 volts, breaking in Main street. Fortunately no one was about when the heavily charged live wire fell in the street. In order to effect repairs it was necessary to shut down the light system while the wire was spliced.

Yesterday Col. Fages, of the R. C. G. A., at Halifax inspected the 19th battery and reported they were in very good shape. A prize of $40 is given to the battery whose stores are in the best condition and the 19th battery got 88 points out of a possible 100. Col. Fages said that he was going to recommend the 19th battery for new 18 quick firing guns. The battery at present are using old 12 pounders. A quiet wedding took place last evening at the Presbyterian manse when Miss Hannah Murray of New Glasgow was united in marriage to James Gordon of Moncton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Clarke, pastor of St. Paul's R. E. church. The bride wore a traveling suit of lawn with hat to match. After a trip through the maritime provinces, Mr. and Mrs. Gould will reside in Moncton.

HOBBLE SKIRT TO GO, SAY DRESSMAKERS Planning a Dressmakers Institute for Chicago Public Schools

Chicago, Sept. 20.—The beginning of the end of the hobble skirt is noted by certain dressmakers gathered here today in convention. It is stated that the skirts already are fading out. A plan to establish a dressmakers' institute in connection with Chicago's public schools system will come up at a dinner of the dressmakers' union next Friday. Superintendent of schools Ella F. Young, representative of the Chicago Association of Commerce and other dressmaking schools in Boston and New York have proved successful in providing much needed expert assistance to the makers of women's apparel.

Rev. J. S. Sutherland Likely to go to Newfoundland Church—Was Formally at Sussex

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 20.—(Special)—Rev. J. S. Sutherland, pastor of St. John's Presbyterian church, this city, has received a call to St. John's, Nfld., which he will accept. Mr. Sutherland has been ten years in Halifax and before coming here was stationed at Sussex, N. B.

PENNY IN THE SLOT LIGHTS ELECTRICS FOR CLUB MEN

Berlin, Sept. 20.—The authorities of the village of Jocketa, in Saxony, recently installed electric lights in the streets. The light is cut off at 11 p. m., when it is supposed everybody is in bed. The authorities, however, discovered a number of clubmen who were "afraid to go home in the dark," and who kicked about having the lights extinguished at 11. To meet their demands the authorities have attached penny in the slot devices to the light poles. A tired clubman going home in the dark after 11 can now tumble his way to an electric light pole, drop a penny in the slot, and light his way home. If he lives far from the club, two successive pennies will do the trick.

English Polo Team Coming to Canada

Members of Team While in New York Purchased Nearly Fifty New Ponies—Arranging for International Meet

New York, Sept. 20.—The Ranleigh Polo Team of England, has left New York for Canada where it will play a series of matches against the Montreal Polo Club, The Grenfells, the Earl of Rocksville and C. A. Gill, who made up the party, took only a few of their ponies with them, as the others are being shipped back to London. The team will return to London following the matches at Montreal. While in New York, members of the Ranleigh team purchased nearly fifty new ponies. It is now regarded as certain that the English Association is to issue an early challenge for the International championship cup next year. One of the Meadowbrook Club a squad of picked ponies is being trained and are being kept in the pink of condition in the prospect of early series of matches next season. In the estimation of experts it is likely that the dates named will be either May or June.

INTERESTING EVIDENCE IN FIGHT PICTURES CASE IN THE POLICE COURT

Case Was Heard Again This Morning and Adjournment Made Until Tomorrow—Rev. W. R. Robinson and E. P. Raymond in Spirited Conversation—Ald. Baxter Makes Interesting Statement

In the presence of quite a number of spectators this morning in the police court the case against the five men connected with the showing of motion pictures of the Jeffries-Johnson fight were continued. Among the spectators were Messrs. Messrs. W. R. Robinson, W. F. Gatz, and A. A. Graham and A. W. Robb of the Y. M. C. A. The proceedings were lively and were closely followed by those present. The case was postponed until tomorrow morning.

While waiting for Mr. MacLaughlin to return, a charge was preferred against the five defendants, Messrs. W. Denny, J. O. Hooley, Thos. Daley, R. J. Armstrong and Roy Rotta to the effect that they corrupted public morals in the presentation of the fight pictures. The charge was preferred by Rev. A. A. Graham and was laid under a section in the criminal code.

Rev. W. R. Robinson, the "best" witness, told of having been in the Queen's rink on the first night of the picture show and gave a description of what he saw taking place. There were about 400 people present, including women. Mr. Robinson testified that the picture show was conducted in an orderly manner, and that the picture show was nothing but a "female" in the showing of the picture bottles seemed to be great.

HEAD OF K. O. P.'S OUT FOR THE U. S. SENATE

Hon. George M. Hanson of Calais Would be the Successor to Senator Hale in Maine

Calais, Sept. 19.—The papers of the state as well as individuals, that have been deciding offhand that Hon. Charles F. Johnson, of Waterville, is to be Senator Hale's successor in the United States senate, will doubtless be disturbed by the announcement that Hon. George M. Hanson of this city, who gave Congressman Frank E. Guernsey, of Dover, a close run for first place in the recent election, will be a candidate for the senate. Mr. Hanson made the announcement to his friends in this city prior to his departure for Indianapolis Wednesday evening on business connected with his office as preme chancellor of the Knights of Pythias and will doubtless do some more talking on his return from the west.

THE TIMES' NEW REPORTER

JUST LIKE NEW YORK This town is getting to be a "hot" one for "investigations," said Mr. Hiram Hornbush to the Times newspaper this morning. "It's getting just like New York. Beats all how the fashion spreads. I see the school-board is being stirred up some. Let's in the Day-light, so to speak. I guess you fellows here in St. John ain't as careful as you might be looking after them. When's that board of works investigation comin' off? Do you know what I think? I think you've let the bull machine get run down so's it's no good. Because some feller's an old feller, or he's got a pull, or he's been there so long, you just let things rip. You couldn't run a business that way, young man. Things's got to be shook up sometimes, just to let the feller's that workin' fer you know you're still on the job. That's how it is out to the Settlement, an' I call'te it ain't so different in town. Hey, what?"

SHOT AND KILLED HIS FATHER IN A DRUNKEN ROW

Lewis McBride, of Saskatchewan Under Arrest For Crime—Both Father and Son Were Drinking

Gull Lake, Sask., Sept. 20.—(Special)—Lewis McBride murdered his father in a drunken frenzy at the homestead they occupied ten miles from this city Friday in town drinking freely. They returned to their homestead and in a drunken brawl Lewis discharged the contents of a double-barrelled shotgun into his father's stomach. The shot brought the younger man to his senses and realizing what he had done, he immediately sent to town for medical aid but it was too late. Mr. McBride, upon explaining what had occurred at the homestead, was arrested by Constable Fisher, of the royal north-west mounted police.

MRS. JULIA WARD HOWE ADDRESS THE WOMEN

Newport, R. I., Sept. 19.—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe, the venerable authoress, spoke for nearly half an hour today on "the increased opportunities for women to render public service" before the civic league of Newport. Mrs. Howe showed no signs of fatigue as she concluded her remarks. She was accorded an impressive rising vote of thanks by those present. Mrs. Howe, during her remarks said: "We measure force by force. We talk of forty horse power. If we could have a forty-horse-power we could have the most wonderful force the world ever knew."

CARROT A BEAUTY FOOD

London, Sept. 20.—The health-giving virtues of the homely carrot are now extolled by food experts. The carrot, it is said, brings sleep to the insomnia sufferer. It is excellent as a nerve tonic and mental stimulant. It is also excellent for the complexion because of its tonic effect on the blood.

TO EXPLOIT FISHERIES OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Sir George Douglas Has Been Investigating Conditions on the Pacific Coast—A British Company to be Established

Toronto, Sept. 20.—(Special)—Sir George Douglas, who is a leading merchant and ship owner of Gribshay, one of the greatest fishing ports east of England, and the city having just returned from British Columbia where he investigated the fisheries on behalf of a group of influential British capitalists, Sir George says he learned that the fishing industry on the west coast of Canada was almost entirely in the hands of citizens of the United States and of Japanese fishermen and as a result he will advise the parties who are interested to take steps to establish a fishing industry controlled by British subjects. This party will then approach the Dominion government with a request for a subsidy for the new company.

THE CROSS-ALPS COMPETITION WAS AGAIN POSTPONED

Brig, Switzerland, Sept. 20.—Today's winter was unfavorable for flying and the cross-Alps aviation competition was postponed. The snow fell in the mountains during the night and this morning a strong wind was blowing through the Simpson pass and rain fell. George Chavez, the Peruvian, and Weymann, the American, who were forced to give up after struggles with adverse air currents yesterday, demonstrated, however, that death to the aviator is not, as has been frequently declared, the only alternative of a successful flight after the start has once been made and both remain on the field prepared to set out for Italy at the first favorable opportunity.

ALDERSHOT CAMP AND TOWN

IN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING TO THE QUEEN'S OWN RIFLES. Cheering Crowds, Decorated Streets, Military Bands, Illuminations and Presentations—Colonel Sir H. M. Pellatt's Patriotic Speech.

The Aldershot News of Friday, September 2, contains a very interesting account of the splendid reception accorded the Queen's Own Rifles on their arrival at the great British camp.

Magnificent in its sincerity, heartiness and picturesque significance, was the welcome given to the Queen's Own Rifles—Canada's 'Gallant O. R.'—on their arrival in Aldershot on Saturday.

People came in thousands from all parts of the district to greet the citizen soldiers from across the seas and testify to the strength of the ties that unite them in feelings of love and loyalty to the Empire.

For hours they waited, unweary, for the arrival of the Queen's Own Rifles, and the excitement of a general desire to do honor to the Canadians which was found on every side.

Never before have such scenes of enthusiasm been witnessed, thousands of people lined the streets, which were gaily decorated with flags, banners, and evergreens, and brilliantly illuminated.

The music of military bands and the presence of representatives of all branches of the King's Imperial Army lent further importance to a scene of interest which gradually deepened till it culminated in the actual arrival.

It was in the last hour or two of waiting that the scene was most picturesque. The forgoing was the text of the verdict of the jury appointed to enquire into the death of Harry Brundage...

After the evidence was reviewed the Coroner advised them to agree one way or the other and they returned with the result as stated.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

THE HIGHWAY OF THE SEA. By Edward Everett. From an address on 'The State of the Country,' which was delivered in the Academy of Music, New York, July 4, 1861.

NAPOLEON saw that before he could take possession of Louisiana it would be wrested from him by England who commanded the seas, and he determined at once not merely to deprive her of this magnificent conquest, but to contribute as far as in him lay to build up a great rival maritime power in the west.

The government of the United States, not less sagacious, seized the golden moment—a moment such as does not happen twice in a thousand years.

Mr. Jefferson perceived that unless acquired by the United States, Louisiana would in a short time belong to France or to England, and with equal wisdom and courage he determined that it should belong to neither.

True, he held the acquisition to be unconstitutional, but he threw to the winds the resolutions of 1798 which had just brought him into power; he broke the constitution and he gained an empire.

Mr. Munroe was sent to France to conduct the negotiation, in conjunction with Chancellor Livingstone, the resident minister, contemplating, however, at that time only the acquisition of New Orleans and the adjacent territory.

But they were dealing with a man that did nothing by halves. Napoleon knew, and we know, that to give up the mouth of the Mississippi river was to give up its course.

On Easter Sunday, of 1803, he amazed his council with the announcement that he had determined to cede the whole of Louisiana to the United States.

Not less to the astonishment of the American envoys, they were told by the French negotiators at the first interview, that their country was prepared to treat with them not merely for the sale of the New Orleans, but for the whole vast province which bore the name of Louisiana; whose boundaries, then unsettled, have since been carried on the north to the British line, on the west to the Pacific ocean—a territory half as big as Europe transferred by a stroke of the pen.

Fifty-eight years have elapsed since the acquisition was made. The states of Louisiana, Arkansas, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota and Kansas, the territories of Nebraska, Dakota, Jefferson, and part of Colorado, have been established within its limits on this side of the Rocky mountains; the state of Oregon and the territory of Washington on their western slope; while a tide of population is steadily pouring into the region, destined in addition to the natural increase, before the close of a century, to double the number of the states and territories.

For the entire region west of the Alleghenies and east of the Rocky mountains, the Missouri and the Mississippi form the fragments of this colonial empire, detached from its main portion and first organized as a state, undertakes to secede from the union and thinks that by so doing that she will be allowed by the government and people of the United States to revoke this imperial transfer, to disregard this possession and occupation of 60 years, to repeal this law of nature and of God; and she fondly believes that 10,000,000 of the free people of the union will allow her and her seceding brethren to open and shut the portals of this mighty region at their pleasure.

They may do so, and the swarming millions which through the course of these noble streams and their tributaries may consent to exchange the charter which they hold from the God of heaven for a bit of parchment signed at Montgomery or Richmond; but if I may repeat the words which I have lately used on another occasion, it will be when the Alleghenies and the Rocky mountains, which form the eastern and western walls of the imperial valley, shall sink to the level of the sea, and the Mississippi and the Missouri shall flow back to their fountains.

ALDERSHOT CAMP AND TOWN IN ENTHUSIASTIC GREETING TO THE QUEEN'S OWN RIFLES. Cheering Crowds, Decorated Streets, Military Bands, Illuminations and Presentations—Colonel Sir H. M. Pellatt's Patriotic Speech.

The Aldershot News of Friday, September 2, contains a very interesting account of the splendid reception accorded the Queen's Own Rifles on their arrival at the great British camp.

Magnificent in its sincerity, heartiness and picturesque significance, was the welcome given to the Queen's Own Rifles—Canada's 'Gallant O. R.'—on their arrival in Aldershot on Saturday.

People came in thousands from all parts of the district to greet the citizen soldiers from across the seas and testify to the strength of the ties that unite them in feelings of love and loyalty to the Empire.

For hours they waited, unweary, for the arrival of the Queen's Own Rifles, and the excitement of a general desire to do honor to the Canadians which was found on every side.

Never before have such scenes of enthusiasm been witnessed, thousands of people lined the streets, which were gaily decorated with flags, banners, and evergreens, and brilliantly illuminated.

The music of military bands and the presence of representatives of all branches of the King's Imperial Army lent further importance to a scene of interest which gradually deepened till it culminated in the actual arrival.

It was in the last hour or two of waiting that the scene was most picturesque. The forgoing was the text of the verdict of the jury appointed to enquire into the death of Harry Brundage...

After the evidence was reviewed the Coroner advised them to agree one way or the other and they returned with the result as stated.

City Cornet Band in Boston. The character of the crowd on Boston common yesterday was somewhat different from the usual Sunday afternoon gatherings...

Frank Waddington, leader of the band, presented a varied programme. The Kyrie and Gloria from Mozart's 12th mass and 'Ireland, Ireland' were specially applauded.

address to you and to ask if you will accept it.

To Colonel Sir Henry M. Pellatt, Officers, Non-Commissioned Officers and Men of the 2nd Regiment Queen's Own Rifles of Canada.

We, the undersigned, councillors of Aldershot, desire to offer you a cordial welcome to our town.

We admire your patriotism in coming from the Dominion of Canada to the military camp at Aldershot to practise the profession of arms with the regular forces of His Majesty King George.

We are not unmindful of the ready help given to the mother country by the force of Canada in time of need, and you may rest assured that services so nobly rendered will be most deeply appreciated by Englishmen, and the spirit of unity which was then exemplified gives us the warmest wishes for the success of your mission.

We desire in conclusion to wish you all a very pleasant visit, and every success in your most patriotic enterprise.

Given under the Seal of the Aldershot Urban District Council this 27th day of August, 1910.

I hope that in the course of a few days that we shall have photographic reproductions of this address, and we shall have great pleasure in presenting them to you, so that each officer and man of your regiment may have one, I have now very great pleasure in presenting this address to you.

Colonel Pellatt's Reply. Accepting the address, Colonel Sir Henry Pellatt said: 'Mr. Chairman and members of the council, ladies and gentlemen.

At this late hour you must pardon my making any speech. At the same time, I cannot come among you without thanking you most heartily for the magnificent reception that you are giving us here to-night.

Perhaps it would be well to say briefly why we have come here. The whole world knows that Aldershot is the magnet for the training of our soldiers of the Anglo-Saxon race. It is here that the best of our men are trained to perfect themselves, and it is for that reason that we have come here—to try and perfect ourselves in drill, in equipment, and in fact, in everything that goes and is necessary to make a British soldier—(hear, hear)—and when we return to Canada we hope to be of some use to those who have not been so fortunate as to be with us, that we may assist them in doing their work, and in that way may derive the full benefit of the training that we hope to gain here and to bring back to assist our comrades in Canada. (Hear, hear.) It is true the Queen's Own is but one small regiment from the other side, but yet it represents a citizen army ready and willing at any time to come and help the Motherland should at any time that help be required. (Hear, hear.) I thank you again, Mr. Chairman, and ladies and gentlemen, for the extreme kindness in turning out to welcome us at such a very late hour, and I will ask your pardon for not making a speech.'

Mr. Calvert called for cheers for Colonel and Lady Pellatt, and these were given with much heartiness, thus bringing to an end a ceremony that is unique even in Aldershot.

The battalion then formed up, and to the strains of the composite bands, passed through the crowded streets of the town into the camp, receiving cheer after cheer on their way. Behind them marched the various units of the Aldershot Territorial Cyclist Guides and Fire Brigade.

The arrival. Shortly before the first train was due the up platform was cleared of all except the staff officers, councillors, and a few privileged townspeople. At 9.48 p. m. the first train ran through the station on the down link and was shunted to the up line, where a porter in an excess of excitement—or maybe in a facetious mood—called out 'Aldershot!' in the most approved style, immediately the train came to a stop by the up platform a hearty cheer was given, and Colonel Sir Henry Pellatt and his officers stepped out. Then the men detained, only ten passed of the opportunity to stretch their limbs again, and were marched into the station yard.

The glowing helmets of the Territorial Army Service Corps, the scarlet tunics of the Hants Regiment, and the khaki of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, were being exchanged the second train brought the remainder of the Canadians, and very soon the battalion was formed up in three sides of a square in the station yard.

In the meantime an interesting little scene was being enacted in one of the waiting rooms. Here Lady Pellatt and a number of other ladies accompanying the battalion were received by a party of Aldershot ladies, amongst whom were Mrs. Underwood, Mrs. Calvert, Mrs. Foster, Mrs. Leish, Mrs. May, Mrs. Robertson, Mrs. Stanger, and Miss Underwood, who presented Lady Pellatt with an exquisite bouquet of flowers, and a pair of gloves, and a pair of aprons and manderin hair, with shower base of maple leaves.

Presentation of the Address. The scene of special interest then changed to the station yard, where the colour lamp standard rallied an interesting group comprising the councillors, the Canadian ladies, the Canadian officers, and the officers of the headquarters and First and Second Divisional Staff.

Addressing Sir Henry Pellatt, Mr. Underwood, the chairman of the council, said: 'On behalf of the council and people of Aldershot, I beg leave to read this connected with lines of flags and banners, and crossing the roads were numerous lines of large flags, with, at the top of Union Street, another welcome to the Canadians displayed prominently in red letters on a background of white.

Messrs. T. White & Co. were responsible for the effective decoration of Wellington Street and Station Road, and Messrs. Solomon Bros. were equally successful in their treatment of Union Street.

At the Railway Station. Under the direction of Mr. Mansell, the courteous stationmaster, the London and Southwestern Railway Company helped to add to the cordiality of the welcome to the Colonials, and the station premises were lavishly decorated. Venetian masts, which had at the bases huge bunches of purple heather, intertwined with strings of flags, ran around the station yard, and the lamp standard in the centre of the yard was embellished with purple heather and sprigs of scotch laurel, and holly. On the roof fringing the yard were strings of heather.

The decorations were carried out by the engineers' department, under Mr. Strickland, and his two foremen, Messrs. Hammond and Carter, the whole work being under the superintendence of Mr. Mansell.

As the Canadians formed up to march through the streets leading to their camp at Rushmore, the crowds pressed forward, eager to grasp their hands and it was with some difficulty that they made their way through the closely-packed lines of cheering citizens.

The warmth of the welcome they received astonished and delighted them. One of the officers afterwards, in conversation with a representative, said they could not quite understand why such a popular reception should have been given them. Had we, he said, come home from a difficult campaign, we could have understood it, but coming as we did on an informal visit, the reception appeared to us off our feet. We fully appreciate it nevertheless, and to tell the truth, most of us were more touched than we would care to own. That welcome could never be forgotten, if we lived to be a thousand years old. It showed how closely united we all are at heart.

Equally enthusiastic was the welcome given by the troops who lined Wellington Avenue many deep. For the moment the authorities, conspicuously jingling their bayonets, and in fact, the fact that 'Lipin's Out' had long since been abandoned when the visitors marched through the lines, and that all the troops lining the route should have been in bed. The 1st Searchlight Company Royal Engineers was responsible for a kindly action that the visitors much appreciated. They mounted one large searchlight at the eastern end of Wellington Avenue, and another at the western end, and lighted up the route to the camp, mounted on the hill near the Bourley and picked up the head of the column, and lifted them into camp. Nothing is more uncomfortable in military training than to arrive on totally strange ground in the dark, and settle down to camp. Things and surroundings are apt to take on bewildering aspects, or no aspects at all in the darkness, and the broad beams of the searchlight gave the new arrivals much appreciated light, in which to find their tents and get settled down.

SUFFRAGIST PAYS FEES, SAVES 'VOTE' New York, Sept. 19.—Tom Jones, a desire to avoid voting duties and an ambition to vote in this country, Miss Inez Millholland, the Yassar graduate and suffragist, found herself in an uncomfortable predicament when she returned to this country by the Mauretania.

At first she set up a claim why such a residence, but rejected it when it occurred to her what effect it might have on her powers as a suffragist worker. 'Here am I, a resident of London,' she said to an inspector, 'and yet I must pay duty to the United States. Don't you think that it is rather a shameful thing that a woman should suffer under laws in which she has no voice?'

And then it occurred to Miss Millholland that perhaps she had committed herself. 'Oh,' she interjected, 'I shouldn't say that, either. I do reside in the United States.'

She then paid $102 customs duties, and was willing to do it.

A special meeting of the Woman's Council has been called to meet in the King's Daughters' Guild rooms tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock to receive the report from the woman's department at the dominion exhibition.

It takes a woman to make people believe she is happy when she isn't.

THE NEW STAR CEASES PUBLICATION
The Standard's Hope of Building up a Tory Evening Organ Has Been Blasted—Employees Are The Sufferers

Merchants who advertise in the New Star have received the following communication by today's mail—

St. John, Sept. 20th, 1910.

Dear Sir

With the issue of Sept. 20th the New Star ceases publication. The reasons for this are fully set forth in today's paper. The Standard has taken over all the Star advertising contracts and subscription lists and will carry out these contracts to the end of the month by which time a representative of the paper will have seen you for the purpose of arranging a more permanent agreement. This combined circulation will enjoy better value than would have been possible in either of the papers in the past.

We wish to thank you for your kindness to the Star in the past and to assure you that this has been heartily appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

H. V. MACKINNON,
General Manager Mackinnon, of the Standard and New Star, said today that the lack of capital resulted in the decision to cease publishing the New Star. This had crippled them for some time past and had resulted in much inconvenience.

Practically all the business of the printing and mechanical staff, Mr. Mackinnon said, were stockholders in the New Star Company and at a meeting held today they had decided that they could not carry their share of the loss. There was insufficient money to pay all outstanding indebtedness.

When asked with reference to a statement that there was some arrears in wages, Mr. Mackinnon admitted that there might be some, but that they had no money but what they were carrying in the bank in stock. It was possible, he said, that the New Star might resume at some future time.

OPEN WAR AGAINST SMUGGLERS' 'RING'
Combination of Modistes to Mult U. S. Government is Charged—Suspects Trained by Federal Sleuths

Boston, Sept. 19.—Provoked at the daring attempt of certain American dressmakers to smuggle costly gowns, military and lingerie through New York and other ports of the country, government officials at Washington have ordered a concerted effort on the part of treasury employees to break up the alleged "ring" of fashionable modistes who are violating the customs laws.

The war against these dressmakers is now being waged relentlessly until the practice of attempting to smuggle goods into this country from Paris and other fashion centers has been abandoned. In the United States there are some 200 fashionable dressmakers who, according to the customs authorities, are in combination to evade the duty on valuable goods purchased abroad. In Boston, the officials assert, there are half a dozen members of the "ring" who are constantly under the surveillance of the treasury officers stationed here. Their every movement is watched, and whenever they go abroad, which frequently they are constantly doing, they are accompanied by a customs officer to the United States treasury department because of the alarming number of offenses by dressmakers against the United States customs laws.

To Break Up Ring
The slogan of Secretary of the Treasury Franklin D. Roosevelt is "break up the ring" and that is just what the treasury agents, who are the sleuths of the customs service throughout the country, intend to do.

Mrs. Mary A. Dolan, also known as Miss Drayton, owner of a fashionable millinery establishment at 715 Broadway street, was arrested in New York on a charge of smuggling and is now undergoing a hearing.

The treasury officials claim that a number of dressmakers under surveillance in New York, Chicago, St. Louis, Cincinnati and Philadelphia.

When asked why the modistes try to smuggle goods through the port of New York, a local customs employee stated that Boston, no doubt, would be just as bad if there was a direct line running to this city from France.

"These women have plenty of money," he stated, "and they travel on fast steamers like the Cunard and the White Star. The reason they don't come to Boston is because we haven't got a steamship direct to France. Nine out of ten of these dressmakers travel from New York because of the excellent steamship accommodations. They can go across to Liverpool in five or six days and therefore they use the fast steamships almost exclusively."

Bribery Charged
"The government is going after the dressmakers who are members of the ring, and you can feel assured that when the officers get started there will be something to say."

According to another customs employee, many of the modistes who travel to Europe from New York had certain inspectors from the United States custom house, Louis of New York discovered this practice soon after his appointment and caused a general inquiry among the inspectors.

"Now the members of the 'ring' come in to port to face new inspectors. The treasury department in answer states that while it is to be deplored that such strict rules have been put into force the people of the country have no one but the modistes who have been resorting to unfair methods to smuggle in goods to blame. The treasury officials say that while the rules may discommodate and inconvenience other passengers, the work of the treasury officers in breaking up the dressmakers' "ring" cannot be hampered.

Bruce of Toronto, one of the delegates to the Seventeenth Biennial Convention of the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Helpers, which convened here yesterday, was responsible for a dramatic moment at the opening of the session. Following the opening address Mr. Bruce arose and declared that the banner of the union had been slighted by neglect of the local committee to hang the British flag with the stars and stripes by the side of the American flag.

"Brothers from the north have been chosen to hang the British flag with the stars and stripes by the side of the American flag," he declared. "The Canadian delegation, who assured the Canadian delegation that the flag would have a prominent place."

A report reached the city today that a black mare had mysteriously disappeared from the Robinson farm at Coldbrook and had been missing since Saturday. It could not be ascertained whether the animal had been stolen or had wandered away. From what was learned it was in a pasture and it has been suggested that the mare might have strayed into a nearby swamp, as there are a number in the vicinity, and in such an event would not be found for some time.

Miss Nan Cormier arrived in the city today on the Montreal train.

FLOODS IN SOUTHERN SPAIN DO MUCH DAMAGE—DEATHS FROM RAILWAY AND TROLLEY ACCIDENTS
Madrid, Sept. 20.—Violent storms, accompanied by deluges of rain, have done incalculable damage to the vineyards and orchards in southern Spain. Eight villages, including Lora and Ubeda are under water. The lower section of Barcelona is flooded and the tramway service in that part of the city is interrupted. The waters have reached the altars of St. Paul's church. Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 20.—A New York Central freight train this morning plowed through a gang of laborers working on the tracks between Buffalo and Tonawanda. As a result three of the men are dead. The dead were brought to this city. All are foreigners.

Rochester, N. Y., Sept. 20.—Leonard Manning of 607 Front Avenue was instantly killed and Lewis Houghton, 601 Marshall street, was seriously injured in a trolley accident at Central Park and Portland avenue early today when an eastbound car, running from Central Park into Portland avenue, left the tracks at an open switch and ran for a few feet over the pavement before it could be stopped by the application of the brakes.

Libson, Sept. 20.—One hundred persons were injured today in a railroad train wreck near Oporto.

LATER.
Rochester, Sept. 20.—A canvasser of the packers subsequently increased the list of injured to 150. The great number of these were slightly hurt. None were killed. Dalton, Ga., Sept. 20.—Georgias "Cornfield Poet" John W. Grouseley, of Crow Valley, is dead at the age of 77.

ENGLISH SPORTSMEN ILL ON MIRAMICHI

THE ORIGIN OF THE THERMOMETER

Physician Summoned from Fredericton and is Now on His Way to the Camp—Boy Dies from Strange Malady—General News from the Capital

Like many other inventions of scientific usefulness, the thermometer, too, is said to have been devised by Galileo. Between the times that he discovered the spots on the sun, or the rings around Saturn, or when he was not busy himself with building the first telescope, he found the opportunity to think out the simple principle of the thermometer.

It was then called a weather glass, and in construction consisted of a bulb with a tube inverted, and opening into a cup. It was filled with a colored liquid, very like wine spirits, and as the temperature of the weather expanded or contracted, the liquid rose or fell in the tube. Galileo had two fixed degrees of heat and cold; the first being the greatest summer heat at Florence, and the latter, the degree of cold of snow or ice.

There is hardly a household nowadays that does not possess its thermometer to regulate the temperature of the home. But in the seventeenth century they were regarded somewhat suspiciously, and only those of the most unprejudiced minds who accepted them as of practical usefulness. The ignorant looked upon the wonderful little instrument that could tell how hot or cold the weather was as nothing short of the work of a magician.

Besides inventing the thermometer Galileo has done much for the advancement of man. So revolutionary and startling were his scientific theories that they led him to grief. He was the first man who openly and boldly asserted that the earth moved around the sun. For teaching this, and many other truths, he was cast into prison.

The marvels of the first thermometer must have been watched and studied with much interest by the inventor and the small circle of his friends who gathered around him. It must have been with a feeling of childish delight that even those who were leashed men saw the wonderful little column of colored liquid rise in the tube of the first thermometer, as the terrific heat of a Florentine midsummer gradually approached.

Fredericton, N. B., Sept. 20.—(Special)—An English sportsman who is hunting big game on the Miramichi with Guide Braithwaite was taken ill recently with an attack of appendicitis. A messenger was sent fifty miles to a settlement and telephoned to this city for medical aid. Dr. Holder went to Boiestown last night and this morning set out for the camp on horseback. The name of the sportsman was not given, but it is supposed to be H. E. Otter, of London, who passed through here on Sept. 6.

Dr. Atherton was called to Sheffield yesterday to attend the eighty-year-old son of Percy Barker who had been taken suddenly ill. The doctor found him suffering from a strange malady which he diagnosed as polyneuritis. Everything possible was done to alleviate the youth's sufferings, but he passed away last night. The doctor says it was the first case of the kind he ever saw, but he understands that there has been several deaths among children in Hamilton, Ont., quite recently. The boy had been on a picnic and upon his return home appeared to be suffering from a form of paralysis.

It is likely that the application of John Palmer Co. for a bonus will be submitted to a plebiscite of the electors.

Michael Welch, a lumberman, of Bristol, who was in the city yesterday, says that he and Leonard men saw the wonderful little column of colored liquid rise in the tube of the first thermometer, as the terrific heat of a Florentine midsummer gradually approached.

Mrs. Mary Chellis, of Lynn, Mass., arrived in the city on the steamer John Austin and will spend a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wiley, St. John, N.B.

WANTED THE UNION JACK WITH STARS AND STRIPES
Canadian Delegate to Plumbers Convention Provided For Committee Oversight at St. Paul

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 20.—(Special)—F. Bruce of Toronto, one of the delegates to the Seventeenth Biennial Convention of the United Association of Journeymen Plumbers, Gas Fitters, Steam Fitters and Helpers, which convened here yesterday, was responsible for a dramatic moment at the opening of the session. Following the opening address Mr. Bruce arose and declared that the banner of the union had been slighted by neglect of the local committee to hang the British flag with the stars and stripes by the side of the American flag.

"Brothers from the north have been chosen to hang the British flag with the stars and stripes by the side of the American flag," he declared. "The Canadian delegation, who assured the Canadian delegation that the flag would have a prominent place."

An Amazing Demand
(Westminster Gazette.)
We get a very impressive idea of the original size of the famous Cullinan diamond when we consider that it has already provided out stones weighing in the aggregate nearly 1,020 carats, or more than 62.3 oz. troy. Of these stones, the largest weighs 816 1/2 carats, nearly five times as much as the Koh-i-noor, four times as much as the Regent, and more than two and a half times as much as the Orloff, the magnificent jewel which blazes in the sceptre of the Czars of Russia. The second Cullinan stone which is of 309 carats, weighs more than the Koh-i-noor and 7/16 together. And now Queen Mary is the proud recipient of six more Cullinan fragments, the largest of which is heavier by nine carats than the Star of South Africa while the six together represent an original Cullinan more than 2,000 carats remain in one form or another.

Montreal Stocks
Montreal, Sept. 20.—(Special)—Power and Shawinigan were again the chief features of stock trading, 3500 shares of the former and nearly 2,000 shares of Shawinigan changing hands in the first hour. Power opened higher at 157 and after going off to 153 rallied to the opening level. Shawinigan touched 111 1/4 making new high levels for both issues. Balance of list was neglected. Steel sold up to 45, Cement at 21, Toronto, 125.

THE NEW STAR

The New Star announces to its patrons that it is about to cease publication.

This was a foregone conclusion when the paper was started six months ago.

The paper was started in a satisfactory basis. It was not from any desire to advance their welfare, but embarrass, if possible, the other afternoon newspapers, and perhaps continue a paper which might in time be converted into a Conservative organ.

The men were encouraged to take the New Star from the office of the Standard. The newspaper situation in St. John was well understood by the proprietors of the Standard, but they seem to have been willing to permit the new venture to start.

It is not nominally, under their auspices, and to permit working men to accept stock in an enterprise, foredoomed to failure, in lieu of the wages which they should receive.

The original Sun and Star would not have gone out of business if they had been paying propositions. It was hopeless to expect that a successor would fare better.

The men whose actual work has produced the New Star for six months deserved more than they have received from those who encouraged them to make the sacrifice.

Meanwhile the Standard seeks to profit by the transfer of the New Star's circulation and patronage to itself.

The whole affair, as far as it relates to the conduct of the toy organ was very small business. For the men who have been deceived, and who have lost, there will be general sympathy.

HIGH SCHOOL REFORM

Writing in the Canadian Courier, Mr. Norman Patterson contends that the collegiate institute or high school must be reformed.

The old time high school teacher educated boys chiefly for the professions. It is now felt that these schools must be so conducted as to educate boys for work on the farm and in the factory as well as for the professions.

An Ottawa despatch states that several hundred tons of pressed peat, prepared at the government's experimental plant, will be sold in Ottawa at the rate of $2.25 a ton delivered; and it is claimed that this price is equal to the best anthracite coal selling at $6.00 a ton.

It is further claimed that peat fuel can be sold at the works for $2.25 per ton at a profit. If these claims are well founded, it will only be a short time before investors will see in the peat bogs of Canada a profitable field for exploitation.

The verdict of the jury in the Brundage case declares that there was carelessness in the construction of the shooting gallery such as to cause a man's death by accident. It is difficult to reconcile these two statements, and the jury themselves apparently had such a feeling, since they recommended that no shooting galleries be permitted on the exhibition grounds in future.

It is true that the discharge of the gun was accidental, but had there been proper walls to the shooting gallery the boy on the outside of the wall would not have been killed.

Those who are trying to find out what Col. Roosevelt is after will be further mystified by his conference with President Taft. He met the president yesterday and stated afterwards that he had a very pleasant interview and an entirely satisfactory talk on the New York situation.

Sometimes it seems as if Col. Roosevelt was deliberately making trouble for President Taft, and again there are incidents which seem to suggest that the two understand each other. With the gains that are being made by the insurgents in the Republican ranks, and some unexpected victories by the Democrats in state elections, the political situation in the United States suggests very interesting possibilities.

W. H. Mathews, of Holton, Kan., made a pond in his grazing pasture opposite the home of Frank Jarrell. It rained a few days afterward and Jarrell, seeing the pond filled with water, painted on a shingle "No fishing in this pond."

Next day four strangers were seen sitting placidly on the shore of the pond with fishing tackle in their hands, waiting for a bite.

When the yellow streak begins to work out of some people they have a fit of the blues.

TORIES AND PREFERENCE

Some Conservative papers have lately made the statement that no person on the Conservative side of the House of Commons ever proposed to repeal the British preference.

The Winnipeg Free Press has looked into this matter a little carefully, and finds that as long ago as 1892 Mr. R. L. Borden declared in Victoria, B. C., that such a preference impaired Canadian industries and its value to the Empire was of a questionable nature.

In Halifax also Mr. Borden declared that "a mill in Halifax was worth as much to the Empire as a mill in Yorkshire."

Commenting on Mr. Borden's statements the Montreal Gazette said "it would be better to go straight to the point and abrogate the preferential clauses."

The Gazette further declared that "a straight business tariff should be adopted applying not to countries but to imports," which would obviously do away with the preference.

Mr. Blain, speaking in the House in the same year, 1892, said: "The tariff should be so arranged that every institution in this country which manufactures goods to be consumed by the Canadian people, should have sufficient protection to keep out the same class of goods made in any foreign country, and I have no hesitation in saying that the country should be England, the policy of Canada should be framed in the interests of the Canadian taxpayer, as against the people who are producing the same class of goods even in the old country, under the same flag."

Mr. Henderson, of Halifax, another prominent Conservative member, said of the British preference: "If we had a majority of fifty on this side of the House, we would very soon repeal it. I would have no hesitation any day recording my vote in this House to wipe out the present preferential tariff."

Still another Conservative M. P. declared himself "opposed to the preferential policy advanced by Mr. Chamberlain in every particular," "because," he said, "under it the manufacturing should be done in England and that Canada should grow the wheat."

He was, he said, "opposed to the preference idea in any form."

How many Conservatives today would abolish the preference?

The school board is now to be the theatre of an investigation. The charges made at last night's meeting must, of course, be thoroughly enquired into, and the blame, if blame there be, placed upon the right shoulders.

An Associated Press despatch states that the American Peace Society hopes to see the United States and Great Britain make a treaty of obligatory arbitration for an unlimited period of time, and hopes that the celebration in 1914 of a hundred years of peace will bring about such an agreement.

This is a practical suggestion of far greater value than any number of celebrations.

An Ottawa despatch states that several hundred tons of pressed peat, prepared at the government's experimental plant, will be sold in Ottawa at the rate of $2.25 a ton delivered; and it is claimed that this price is equal to the best anthracite coal selling at $6.00 a ton.

It is further claimed that peat fuel can be sold at the works for $2.25 per ton at a profit. If these claims are well founded, it will only be a short time before investors will see in the peat bogs of Canada a profitable field for exploitation.

A MUGH TALKED ABOUT WOMAN

The latest photograph of Mme. Lina Cavalieri, the song bird, who has disagreed with her husband, Robert W. Chanler, a grandson of "The Astors" about his million dollar fortune.

WHAT SHALL I PROFIT? If I lay waste and wither up with doubt The blessed fields of heaven where once my faith Possessed itself serenely safe from death; If I deny the things past finding out; Or if I orphan my own soul of one That seemed a Father, and make void the place Within me where He dwelt in power and grace, What do I gain by that I have undone? —William Dean Howells.

THE SECRET The gateway to the Land of Dreams Is often dark and low, Yet past that magic entrance lives Earth's golden Long Ago.

The Dream and Wonder is denied To us grown overwise, Unless we wait as children wait And stand with childish eyes, And watch some singing Fairy walk Our Valley of Regret And learn that Youth knows many things The crabbled old man forgets. —Arthur Stringer in Everybody's for October.

IN LIGHTER VEIN A HORSEY FELLOW Patient—"I have a sort of a kicking sensation in my stomach." Doctor—"Ah—um—possibly you ate too much horse-radish."

"How did you make Miss Passy think that you were the finest fellow on earth?" "I sent her twenty beautiful roses on her thirtieth birthday." —Cleveland Leader.

Anxious Mother—"Oh, professor, don't you think my dear little Reginald will ever learn to draw?" Prof. Crayon—"No, madam; not unless you harness him up to a truck—T-Bits."

HOOKED! "Pshaw!" exclaimed Miss Yerner impatiently. "I'm sure we'll miss the opening number. We've wasted a good many minutes for that matter of mine." "Hours, I should say," Mr. Sloman retorted rather crossly.

"Ours? Oh, George!" she cried, and laid her blushing cheek upon his shirt front.

SIZED HIM UP. Father S—was remarkable for his ready wit. On one occasion, while travelling on a steambot, a well-known sharp-er, who wished to get into the priest's good graces, said: "Father, I should like very much to hear one of your sermons." "Well," said the clergyman, "you could have heard me last Sunday if you had been where you should have been."

"Where was that, pray?" "Where the county jail," answered the bluff priest as he walked away.

WAILS FROM ENGLAND I know a dreaming Kentish wood Where scented violets grow— Where sea-winds stir the whispering trees We met there—long ago.

I know a path along the cliffs Where storm-birds wheel and cry, How white the hawthorn was that day! We kissed there—you and I.

I know the church that made us one Among the Kentish hills— All these I know, but do not quite know how to pay our bills.

ANOTHER DOMESTIC PROBLEM The prospective bride and groom (colored) were not known to the minister and so, to perform the ceremony conscientiously, he asked a lot of questions. The man, he learned, had come recently from the south and was working in a hotel in town where his desired bride was a waitress.

"Have you been married before?" to the conventional black. "Yes, sah." "Wife living?" "Yes, sah." "Where is she?" "Down south, sah."

"Why doesn't she live with you?" "Well, sah, she left me." "Why did she leave you?" "Don't rightly know, sah. I was away when she left."

And they sought another minister—Everybody's Magazine.

WOMAN—A CATEGORY. There are women who are witty; There are women who are grumpy; There are women who are worth their weight in gold; There are women who are truthful; There are women who are youthful— Was there ever a woman really old?

There are women who are haughty; There are women who are naughty; There are women who are bright and sweet as flowers in June; There are women who are meted— There are those who have heated, And their lives are altogether out of tune.

There are women tall and slender; There are women short and tender— There are women who are always raising their voices; There are women who are thrifty; There are women who are "nifty," There are women who are silent—but they're dead!

A New Real Estate Firm—Westmorland County People Going West

Sackville, N. B., Sept. 19.—It is understood that J. H. Williams and Fred Fawcett, V. S., have entered into partnership for the purpose of carrying on a real estate business.

They have rented the office in Music Hall block at present occupied by George S. Wry, painter and paper hanger. Mr. Wry has rented a store in the Pridham block, York street.

Rev. Dr. Borden, principal of Mount Allison Ladies' College, is spending a few days at his old home in Avonport, N. S.

Mrs. Nicholls and children who have been spending some time in Sackville as the guests of Mrs. Nicholls' parents, Senator and Mrs. Wood, intend leaving on the 22nd for their home in Winnipeg.

There will be quite an exodus for the west on September 28, Miss Frances Brownell, Joliette, goes to Edmonton, Miss Bertie Hicks, Upper Sackville, goes to Westaskiwini, where it is understood she will be one of the principals in an interesting event; Mrs. E. J. Dobson and children, who have been visiting relatives in this vicinity, go to their home in Blad-

Compass Talk

As surely as the compass of the seaman points to the north, so surely does the compass of the WISE housewife point toward BUTTERNUT BREAD.

A loaf of exquisite daintiness, ridged and browned on top and with a heart as sweet and pure as the waving grain itself.

Look for the label, it is a guarantee of the most exquisite flavor that ever delighted Epicurean taste.

A LIKELY LIGHTWEIGHT

JACK GOODMAN, THE NEW YORK LIGHTWEIGHT, will soon clash with "Packsy" McFarland, the Chicago brawler. A match imprudently arranged and the winner will most likely be pitted against the champion Ad. Wolgast.

The local pug skin chasers are beginning to enter a junior foot ball team in the league this season.

It was also decided to enter a basketball team in the city league. It was finally decided that the club should not enter a foot ball team in the senior league this season.

Local Teams Getting Ready

The most serious contender for the great prize is Reza's Orioles, who are being trained by a very experienced coach and player. They do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, colic, griping or any inconvenience whatever. It is particularly good for children, aged and delicate people.

Y. M. C. A. Active

At the Y. M. C. A. meeting held yesterday in their rooms, Prince William street, a committee was formed to consider the advisability of entering a junior foot ball team in the league this season.

It is announced that the Boston National headquarters of the Boston Athletic Club, which was secured from Edward Abbotichio, in the middle of the season and has played in a number of games with the Doves at shortstop, had been released unconditionally. Abbotichio was with the Boston Nationals once before, back when Al Buckenberger and Fred Tenney were managers under the Soda, Conant and Billings regime.

ORIGINAL OF FALSTAFF

Sir John Falstaff was the original of Shakespeare's Falstaff and in his day, was a continued but for the jets of the town and borough of Southwark. Though he had fought at Agincourt, when Jack Cade invaded the borough, he showed great cowardice. When Cade was very young off Falstaff had armed and fortified his house and garrisoned it with veterans of the French wars. On the arrival of Cade, however, he withdrew his garrison and fled to the Tower, leaving his neighbors to the mercy of the rebel. Falstaff's matrimonial adventures seem also to have been another source of unpopularity, for, having married a widow named Scrope, he seized her property and kept his own life time—London News.

WEST DETERMINED TO CONTROL THEIR NATURAL RESOURCES

Rocky Mountain and Pacific States Protest Against Dividing With Those Who Have Dissipated Their Own Resources

Spokane, Wash., Sept. 20.—"More determined than ever before are the people of the Rocky Mountain and Pacific states in their endeavors to control their natural resources. They are willing to share them with those who assist in developing our wealth, but they protest against dividing them with those who have dissipated their own and now insist they have the right to participate in ours without compensation in the way of development."

In these words Governor Hay of Washington, who has just returned home from St. Paul, sounded the key note for "home control" which it is believed by many in this part of the country, will rapidly resolve itself into a movement of nationwide proportion.

Members of the timber trust told us how they should stand for conserving our forests for unborn generations while they are adding 20 cents a thousand feet to their stumpage prices.

"We heard reformers argue long and loud how they planned to sell power, coal and lumber to the people at practically cost, and in the next utterance they told us how they proposed paying 20 cents a share of the government's expense from the earnings of the natural resources of the western country."

The action of the supporters of Pinchot gave us the greatest warrant to believe that we were right in the position taken by the delegations from the western states, in which 95 per cent of the country's natural resources are located.

"The eastern conservationists want us to bear the cost of government while the profits from our natural resources flow to the federal treasury. Let them first give us the government the revenue they receive from their mines and power sites."

"We believe in forest preservation and reforestation. We also believe the states should participate in the benefits of their own powers. Our constituents give us these rights, but the Pinchotian demand is that the federal lands, where the water power sites are located, be sold to the pleasure of the United States government."

Afraid of Ghosts

Many people are afraid of ghosts. Few people are afraid of germs. Yet the ghost is a fancy and the germ is a fact. If the germ could be magnified to a size equal to its terror it would appear more terrible than any fire-breathing dragon. Germs can't be avoided. They are in the air we breathe, the water we drink.

The germ can only prosper when the condition of the system gives it free scope to establish itself and develop. There is a deficiency of vital force, languidness, a poor complexion, a hollow eye, when the germ is at work. You can sleep is broken, it is time to get up. The stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition are in a condition of clogging impurities, which the blood of the system is doing its best to cleanse. So that the germ finds us weak or tainted in which to breed. "Golden Medical Discovery" cleanses the blood, and all its ingredients printed on its outside wrapper. It is not a secret nostrum but a medicine of known composition and with a record of 40 years of care. Accept no substitute—there is nothing "just as good." Ask your neighbors.

AN OPEN LETTER

To His Worship, J. H. Friel, Mayor of St. John.

Dear Sir:—I note by this morning's Telegraph that a committee consisting of yourself, Alderman Jones and a number of others, has been appointed to investigate the streets' department. The rate payers of the city have no doubt but that this department needs investigating quite as much as the paving matter, that has been engaging so much attention of late; but, Sir, I feel this himself, as is indicated by his remark that, since he and yourself had acted upon the paving committee, who were heading the list for entrance to the first round of the ladies' championship.

Miss Thompson, of St. John, made the record in the tenth annual ladies' championship at the Toronto Club links today, premier honors fell to Miss Dorothy Campbell, of Hamilton, whose score for this competition was the exceedingly low one of 85. Though the Hamilton golfer was just one point behind Mrs. E. R. Carter, of Toronto, who won the competition with a net total of 88, she has the satisfaction of winning the gross score prize, and also heading the list for entrance to the first round of the ladies' championship.

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

WED. NICKEL
This is the latest weather. Last evening, and yesterday afternoon with the thermometer sinking towards the winter zone the crowds that filled the popular house of pictures and good games were larger and apparently more pleased than ever. There was a sparkling line of motion photographs, including Esop's cowboy hero Broncho Billy's Redemption; Edison's The Lady and the Burglar; and the most sensational, but pure and exhilarating, J. W. Myers brought forth a late hit, Toot Your Horn Kid, which was enjoyed because of its extreme novelty and the Macbrady children in a three-fold programme were warmly endorsed. Their offerings were: Mexico—a song and cartoon; and the Italian burlesque Ma Fluffy Da Ruff. The orchestra was a feature as usual.

THE LYRIC
The Lyric Theatre was well patronized yesterday and the warm cozy house was more than appreciated owing to the cold wave which so suddenly settled over the city. The programme was well received and enjoyed all the pictures being up to the standard. "The Widow" a comedy written by the J. M. P. Co., written by E. Golding of this city proved to be one of the most laughable mix-ups this company has yet turned out and applause throughout was frequent. Ben Smith the comedian is well worthy of the name. He kept the audience in a roar of laughter at his witty sayings and funny songs. He is well worth hearing, if one enjoys a good laugh. K—Weddings.

WEDDINGS

Ramsay-Ramsay
A quiet wedding took place in this city on Sept. 18 when Mrs. Catherine Margaret Ramsay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Foley was united in marriage to Thomas Andrew Ramsay both of the city, by Rev. P. McKim.
The marriage was performed at their future residence, 209 Waterloo street, where a wedding supper was served. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Howe, and was gown in a tailor-made suit of Copenhagen blue with hat to match. The bridesmaid was gowned in black silk. The groom's present to the bride was a check, and to the bridesmaid a ring set with sapphires and pearls. The happy couple received many beautiful presents among which was a case of silver from the employees of W. H. Thorne & Co. Ltd. where the groom is employed. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsay left on the Boston boat for Boston and other American cities.

Grimes-Phillips
The marriage of Miss Annie Phillips to Dr. Roy D. Grimes of Hempstead, N. Y., took place at Edmondston Wednesday in the presence of a large number of friends.
The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Florence Phillips, and Sheriff Grimmes, brother of the groom, acted as best man.
Sherman-McCollum.
A very pretty wedding took place yesterday at St. George, when Miss Jeanie Black McCollum became the wife of Grant Sherman Sherman. The wedding market was presided over by Miss McCollum. Rev. I. Lynds performed the marriage ceremony.

Sardine Fishermen Protest
The reduction of the price of sardines from 80 to 88 and 86 per hundred by the canneries, may cause a strike among the sardine fishermen of St. John and Charlotte counties. A large number of the fishermen arrived in the city yesterday and there was an annual meeting on the west side. It was decided to roll no sardines to the pier at less than 88 per hundred. The decision of the canneries was an error, as at their meeting at Eastport they had decided to pay the fishermen 80 per cent price of 86 per hundred. As the fishermen have been having a hard time of it this season, they are glad to see their decision to meet here. They decided that it would be 88 or nothing, and that they would give up the business if they could not get 88. About 300 men are affected.
