CITY MEN HURT IN MISHAP AT PENOBSCQUIS

CAR OVERTURNS WHEELS PUT IN ROAD'S STRUCK

John McIntyre of North End Gets Fracture Of Hip

FOUND IN DARK

"Whitie" Gibbons Badly Shaken Up But Injuries Not Thought Serious

JOHN MCINTYRE, of 150 Victoria street, North End, a printer with J. & A. McMillan, and Edward Gibbons ("Whitie"), captain of the Alex's baseball team and one of the best-known players in the city, son of Thomas X. Gibbons, of 435 Main street, above Penobscquis, on the main road between Sussex and Moncton, suffering from injuries sustained in an automobile accident about 9:30 last evening.

HIP FRACTURED.

McIntyre suffered the worst injury, that of a fractured hip. Gibbons, whom it was first reported was very badly injured, appears now to have suffered more in the nature of a general shaking up and internal trouble, which Dr. Wheaton of Sussex this forenoon reported to be less serious than last night's hurried examination suggested.

Messrs. Roach, Ryan and Williams stayed with their injured friends through the night and this forenoon. Dr. Wheaton, who answered the late call on Sunday with all promptitude, rendered best possible first aid and was on the scene again early this morning.

CAR OVER TWICE.

According to the report of Ervin E. Williams, who motored to the scene of the accident last night and returned this forenoon, the five men were returning under ordinary speed when, about three miles beyond Penobscquis, the car plunged into a rut in the road, having the effect of bucking the front wheels. The abrupt check to the momentum of the vehicle hurled the car into the air, turning it over twice. There was a general breakage, and in the mix-up the men were either thrown completely through the smashed top of the car or were forced to escape from the wreckage through that opening.

WOMAN FINDS THEM.

It was pitch dark, and Williams, Ryan and Roach, though badly scratched and dazed from the rude shock, rendered what assistance they could to Gibbons and McIntyre, who appeared to be badly hurt and unable to stand. It was half an hour before the victims of the accident were able to find their whereabouts, as most of this time was taken in making the injured companions comfortable. A woman passing rendered assistance as they were instrumental in having the boys taken to the home of Warren Hall, nearby, where Gibbons and McIntyre were cared for, and where they were still being nursed today.

CAR WRECKED.

The sedan, which was owned by Arthur Roach and driven by him at the time of the accident, is badly wrecked. Roach, Williams and Ryan returned to the city by train today. Relatives of the injured young men, including Miss Nellie McIntyre, Sydney street fruit dealer, and Thomas X. Gibbons, city constable, remained at the Hall home in Penobscquis.

AUTOPSY TODAY ON BODY OF BABE

Remains of Infant Found in Bucket in North End Cellar

Boys at Play Report Discovery, and Officials are Acting in the Matter.

Coroner H. A. Porter said this afternoon that an autopsy will be made to determine the cause of death of an infant about two or three weeks old, found in a wooden bucket by several boys of the Fort Howe district early last evening behind an old chimney in an unused cellar near the residence of Patrick Joyce, 19 Somerset street. The decision of the examining surgeon will be made by the North End police, who will probably decide what action the authorities will take in following up the matter. If conditions prove that the child was born alive and the death was caused by unnatural means, the police will begin a searching enquiry. The belief was expressed today, however, that the child was stillborn.

Boys Make Find. The baby's remains were found when James and Charles Pyc, Thomas Joyce and Walter McNulty, four little boys, were playing hide-and-seek in the old cellar. Their find was reported to the North End police, who were notified by Coroner Porter. The detective department, under Office Biddiscombe, went to the scene and examined the infant's remains, which were somewhat decomposed. According to the boys' story, the bucket was in the same location a fortnight ago, but they thought nothing of it and did not make their startling discovery until last night, when they removed a canvas cover from the bucket.

SHOT IN ACCIDENT

Sadie D'Arcy, West Side School Girl, Not Believed Seriously Hurt.

Sadie D'Arcy, ten-year-old daughter of Hiram D'Arcy, 71 Champlain street, West Side, was taken to the hospital at 2:30 this afternoon, suffering from gunshot wounds in both legs and one arm. The injuries were not regarded as serious. First aid was rendered by West Side physicians at the child's home.

It was reported the little girl was walking along Champlain street on way to the new Albert school about 1:15 o'clock when neighbours heard two gunshot reports. Next it was found the D'Arcy child had been struck.

Mrs. D'Arcy, mother of the injured child, said that W. I. Penton had been shooting pigeons on his own property, Champlain street—a wide area—and that it was thought the shot had deflected into the street.

HOME FROM LOS ANGELES

Dr. A. P. Barnhill and Mrs. Barnhill of Douglas avenue returned today after a winter's sojourn in Los Angeles, Cal. Dr. Barnhill when queried as to conditions on the American side of the Pacific slope, said he could not say that things were up to the average. There were of course the unmistakable evidences of growth, but this year was not nearly so good as previous years. It really amounted to a depression. During the visit west the Saint John people frequently met Mr. and Mrs. Rupert G. Haley and other old home folks with mutual enjoyment.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., JUNE 1, 1925.

WESTERN PROPOSAL

One of the results of the campaign for Maritime and national betterment comes in the form of a Western proposal that there shall be an agreement between the Central Provinces on the one hand, and the Maritime Provinces and the West on the other, whereby the tariff would be taken out of politics and freight rates would be lowered by having the whole country absorb the extra cost of haulage over Canada's three great natural barriers.

This programme is put forward by the Edmonton Journal, and it is worthy of examination at a time when thoughtful men all over the country are seeking for some means of alleviating discontent East and West, and arriving at national policies which would be fair to the whole country, which would establish a greater sense of national justice and would directly promote a more general prosperity.

It must be manifest that all plans of this kind, if they are to be satisfactory, must be examined from the standpoint of different parts of the country. So far as the Maritimes are concerned, while the Journal's proposals would not remove all of the handicaps under which we labor, they would be of substantial benefit in some respects, and while its views regarding a tariff commission raise a question that is at once difficult and controversial, its whole plan may fairly challenge attention as one more constructive effort toward national betterment.

The Journal asserts that at the present time the Prairie Provinces and the Maritimes are paying practically the entire cost of the natural barriers separating them from Central Canada, and that Alberta and British Columbia are dividing between them the bulk of the economic cost of the Rocky Mountain barrier. It says: "The difficulty of these great barriers must be overcome. Our four widely separated groups must be brought more closely together spiritually and economically. Canada could say to the Prairie Provinces, to British Columbia and the Maritime Provinces: 'From this day on these natural barriers are Canada's burdens, not yours alone. No longer will their economic cost be on your shoulders exclusively. All the people of Canada will help to bear the burden of overcoming this handicap even as all the people are contributing to the cost of overcoming our industrial handicap.'"

This, the Journal points out, would mean in actual practice, federal absorption of all or a substantial portion of the freight charges over the three natural barriers on products grown, mined or made in Canada, the benefits of which policy would inure to those sections which receive in less degree the direct benefits of the tariff to which it would be a quid pro quo.

The cost thus absorbed, the Journal admits, would be heavy, and yet it contends that it would be small in comparison with "the full first cost of the tariff." So far as the tariff is concerned the Journal suggests an independent commission constantly conducting investigations of the protected classes of industries, and "making public, without previous reference to the government of the day, its conclusions as to the requisite amount of tariff protection," and the evidence in support of it. It evidently means that the tariff commission, by such publicity, would substantially control the tariff policy of the government of the day. In effect the Journal would lower freight rates over the three natural barriers as a bonus to the Maritimes and the West to offset a part of what they pay through a tariff which is of less benefit to them than to the Central Provinces. The West would contend that a greater volume of traffic resulting from the lower rates would maintain railroad revenue, a question which will be argued presently in Parliament.

GERMAN ASSURANCES.

What are German assurances worth? It is perhaps the voice of hope rather than the voice of experience which hails Germany's readiness to join in an international agreement against the use of poison gas or disease germs in war as "of incalculable value" to the cause of world peace. A German spokesman says that his country is now "solemnly desirous" of eliminating chemical warfare, and evidently his country at least is ready to sign another piece of paper. If it does sign, all of the great Powers except Russia will be bound by a new convention to prohibit poison gas. Germany's great industrial equipment has placed it in a position to transform many of its factories very quickly into plants for the manufacture of gas, and skeptical folk, remembering that it was Germany which introduced gas in the last war in spite of an agreement against its use, will be disposed to value any new pledge lightly, but they will recognize in the German attitude perhaps not so much a change of heart as a desire to make a good impression on other countries whose opinion has an important bearing on Germany's immediate future. It is difficult to think of the Germans as ready to relinquish any advantage, but even they may come to the conclusion that it is good policy to keep their word. For many years to come the world will naturally be suspicious of all German pledges with relation to international affairs.

The nation which deliberately sought to set civilization under its heel will find that it must walk long and circumspectly before its neighbors will believe in its sincerity. Confidence in this respect is indeed a plant of slow growth.

There is a breeze in Vancouver circles because of the refusal of the civic authorities there to sanction the erection of a statue to Robert Burns in Stanley Park. Some difficulty is made regarding a site, but the same authorities are said to be willing that a statue be placed in the park. It is a curious situation, and naturally the dispute has waxed rather warm, for those who have been favoring the Burns statue, while they make no reflections at all upon the late President, and readily concede his many good qualities and his eminence in American life, point out that Vancouver is in Canada and that Burns is an immortal figure revered among all the English-speaking people and even others. They submit that President Harding is not an outstanding figure in the British Empire and that, in any event, a proposal to do honor to him has no connection whatever with the merits of the dispute over the Burns statue.

In commenting upon this rather odd situation the Victoria Colonist says: "President Harding's record of service to the American people has no particular earmarks of claim to fame among the Canadian people. It may be argued that he was a friend of Britain. So it is hoped every American President will prove, but Robert Burns, on the other hand, is one of the race. There is permanence to his claim to fame. The Vancouver authorities have envisioned the situation somewhat obliquely. There may be reasons for having a statue to the late American President. There are no reasons against a similar honor being extended to the memory of Robert Burns, but, on the contrary, many in favor of such a course, for Robert Burns has done something and left his mark on all time in a way in which Mr. Harding could not emulate."

The community sustained a grave shock on Saturday through the death of Mr. J. Boyd McMann from injuries received in an accident at the foot of King street. Mr. McMann, who had been transient officer from eighteen years, was known to almost everyone in the community, and his passing causes very general regret.

The death of Ion Perdicaris in London recalls one of the exploits of Raisalul, the most famous of Moroccan handits. Raisalul in 1904 captured Perdicaris, who was an American citizen, and his son-in-law, an Englishman, and held them for ransom. The American Department of State sent a message to the Sultan of Morocco demanding "Perdicaris living or Raisalul dead." Britain and France sent warships to Tangier. The captives were released after a month, during which Raisalul was said to have forced the Sultan to pay the ransom and to grant him immunity for previous offenses.

Odds and Ends

"You never know what you'll find among the odds and ends."—From "Notes by a Wayfarer."

An Old Friend Bobs Up

It is a pleasure to read in the news of the day of the return of an old-time friend. For some years, the sea serpent has been strangely missing from New England waters, says the Boston Transcript. Now we have it on the authority of officers and crew of the steam trawler Foam that, when they were eighty-eight miles east by sea of Boston light, a monster looking like a giant eel, with a complexion of battleship gray, sailed around and around their vessel, glaring at them with eyes that gleamed like fire.

So, it would seem, the sea serpent is back, arriving just in time to give new material for the advertising of the summer visitor and find employment in speculation whether the strange object in the offing is some long and sinuous piece of flotsam, or is, in truth, the old-time pet sea serpent. And lest the timid be frightened away to the mountains, let it be understood that in all the literature concerning the sea serpent, and much has been written about him, it does not appear that he has harmed anybody, at least since the days when the early Norse writers, old of the "Old Saga" that sometimes snatched men from the ships of the Vikings. But that was long before the sea serpent had come under the softening influence of modern civilization.

There has been, to be sure, much controversy over the sea serpent. There are those who maintain that there is "no such animal." These persons, who would rob life of another of its interests, maintain that mariners who say they saw a sea-serpent had really seen nothing but two sharks swimming one behind the other, or a school of porpoises diving along in single file, or a giant squid rearing a portion of its tentacled body above the waves, or even an attenuated mass of seaweed. The skeptics have precipitated controversy in learned bodies. But what is such cavilling in the face of the evidence that such men as the crew of the trawler Foam, and of those other hardy mariners who, in years past, brought to shore similar tales of encounters with the serpents of the deep? Are ards men who read dry-as-dust papers to cast doubts on the word and understanding of that doubtful old sea-serpent, Captain McQuibne of H. M. S. Daedalus, who, sailing the seas three-quarters of a century ago, came home with report that he had seen a veritable sea-serpent?

Nor are the men who read scientific papers all in agreement that the sea-serpent is something else. Messrs. Meade-Wald and Nicoll, fellows of the British Zoological Society, reported in 1906 that during the preceding year they had seen off the coast of Brazil a fin that rose fifteen or twenty feet above the water. With the aid of marine glasses they made out a turtle-like, and a neck the thickness of a man's body and seven or eight feet in length. It is to be noted also that erudite contributors to the Encyclopedia Britannica have refused to place the sea serpent in the realm of mythical monsters. These authorities have it that while in any case "sea-serpents" are doubtless something else, "there is still a residuum suitable to prevent modern zoologists denying the possibility that some such creature may, after all, exist."

For ourselves, perhaps because of friendly prejudice in his favor, we incline to the belief that the men on the Foam saw what they thought they saw, and that the gallant old captain of "the Queen's navy" knew what he was talking about when he told his tale of the sea serpent. In this view of the case, news brought to Boston by the trawler Foam may properly be counted as the announcement of the return of an old-time friend, and the acquisition of another attraction for that part of the country sometimes described as the playground of the Nation.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL. Police Constable Coughlan accompanied the ambulance to 16 Johnston street yesterday morning at 4:30 o'clock and conveyed Arthur Ingram to the General Public Hospital. When the officer arrived at the home of Ingram he found the man lying on a bed bleeding freely from two wounds on the head. The injured man informed the officer that his brother, Harry Ingram, hit him on the head with a lamp when he refused to give him a dollar. After the wounds were dressed in the hospital the injured man was taken back to his home. He refused to make a charge against his brother.

MAY DRY AND COLD

Saint John Weather Report Shows Rainfall Was Much Below Normal.

The small amount of rainfall this season seems likely to establish a new record. D. L. Hutchinson, director of the Meteorological Observatory in Douglas avenue, last night compiled the statistics for the weather of the month of May and found the total rainfall amounted to only 1.64 inches or 2.07 inches below the normal. The preceding months of the year were 1.87 inches below the normal in precipitation and the whole of 1924 was 2.38 inches below the normal.

The records show that May was not only a very dry month but a very cold month with a mean temperature of 57 degrees or one degree below the normal. The highest temperature of the month was 63 degrees and the lowest 33 degrees, so it can at least be said that there was no frost in May.

The rainfall of Saturday amounted to only one-fifth of an inch. Temperatures for Saturday ranged from 53 degrees to 45 degrees, and on Sunday from 59 to 46 degrees.

JOHN KELLY FOUND HANGED IN A BARN. Prince William Man Had Shown Signs of Mental Disturbance. FREDERICTON, May 31—John Kelly, of Lake George, took his own life at an early hour Saturday morning at the hotel in Prince William, conducted by his brother-in-law, Robert Long. The deceased, who was past middle age, suffered a stroke of paralysis last autumn and about a month ago sustained a bereavement in the death of his wife. Since that time he made his home with Mr. Long and had shown signs of mental disturbance. The latter is believed to have prompted his act of self-destruction. Three sons and a daughter survive in Peabody, Mass.

INQUEST TO BE HELD TONIGHT

J. Boyd McMann, Truant Officer, Killed on City Crossing.

Is Run Into by Messenger Boy Riding Bicycle—Jury is Selected.

H. A. Porter, coroner, announced this morning that an inquest into the death of J. Boyd McMann, who was killed about 12:40 Saturday afternoon when struck by a bicycle driven by Leonard McMullin, a Western Union messenger boy, and who died in the ambulance while being rushed to the General Public Hospital, would be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock at the police court, King street east.

Passes Automobile.

Just as the rear wheels passed him he started to move ahead, lifting his left foot off the ground preparatory to making a step, when a bicycle, ridden by Leonard McMullin, a Western Union messenger boy, struck him.

The wheel hit him on the right side and twisted him around in such a way that he fell flat on his back, striking the paving between the street railway tracks with the back of his head and fracturing his skull.

Policeman Harry Young, who was on the crossing, rushed to his side and lifted his head. He ordered one of those near to telephone for the ambulance while he supported the injured man as well as possible. Mr. McMann was rushed to the General Public Hospital, but examination there disclosed the fact that he must have died while in the ambulance. Blood was flowing freely from his mouth and nose when the policeman picked him up right after the accident.

Tangled in Bicycle.

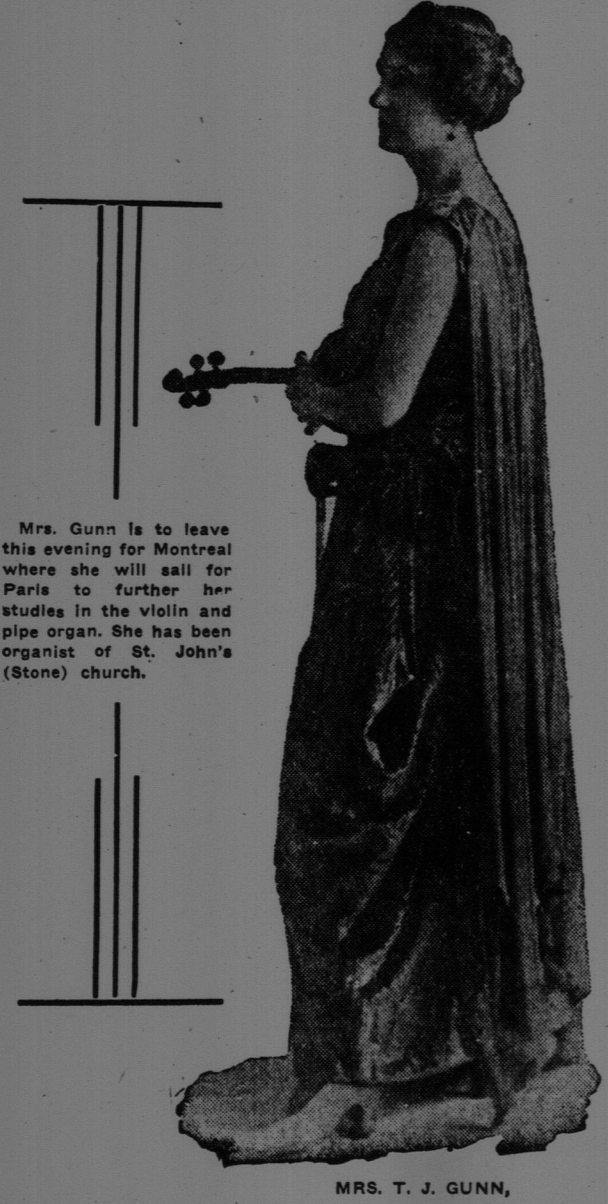

The bicycle was overturned by the collision and the young lad was thrown to the ground, falling in the opposite direction from that in which Mr. McMann dropped. The boy's legs were tangled in the machine and Mr. McMann's feet resting on top of both just after the crash.

The young fellow received a bad bump on the right side of his head when he struck the road and was badly shaken up. He was crying in a heartbroken manner when he found that Mr. McMann was seriously injured. Although the young fellow's nerves appeared to be badly shattered, he managed to explain to the police that he had not seen Mr. McMann until the accident occurred. He had been on his way to the station with a parcel from a store near the head of the hill and, consequently, there was more momentum on his machine than there would have been if he had started from the Western Union office near the foot of the street.

BARN DESTROYED

Soldier-Farmer Meets Severe Loss in Blaze at Hanwell, York. FREDERICTON, N. B., May 31.—Frederick Melton, of Hanwell, farming ten miles from Fredericton, met with a heavy loss early Saturday morning when fire destroyed his barn with all livestock and machinery. The owner and his family were asleep in their home some distance from the barn and first were made aware of the fire by neighbors who roused them, having seen the fire from their own places. Twelve head of cattle, two horses and two hogs were burned, together with all the machinery contained in the building.

One of the horses and two of the cattle got out of the building and ran about for a time but as animals frequently do, they bolted back into the burning building and were lost. The farm occupied by Mr. Melton, who was a returned soldier, had been

Body of Fredericton Man, Buried Over Year, Exhumed To Establish Death Cause

Canadian Press Despatch. FREDERICTON, May 31.—The remains of the late John D. Scammell, a veteran of the world war, whose death occurred over a year ago at Minto, where he was manager of the Farmers' Co-operative store, have been exhumed at the Fredericton rural cemetery here and a post-mortem examination has been conducted by Dr. H. L. Abramson, of Saint John, chief of the Laboratory Division of the Department of Public Health, in order to determine the cause of death. The post-mortem examination was necessitated in connection with pension claims which are being pressed at Ottawa in the interests of Mrs. Scammell, the widow, and her five little children, now residing at Doaktown. Through some error a burial permit was issued without the necessary certificate of death being obtained and there is no official record of the cause of death as required in pressing the pension claims. The death of the medical practitioner who attended the deceased and the disappearance of his nurse prevented the necessary statements being obtained in the usual way. While the veteran's death is attributed to tuberculosis contracted as a result of war service, it is necessary to establish this fact. Dr. Abramson's analysis following the post-mortem is expected to do this.

J. PEDICARIS DEAD

Was Captured by Bandit Raisuli in 1904 and Held For Ransom.

NEW YORK, May 31.—Word was received today by Dr. Talcott Williams, emeritus professor of journalism at Columbia University, of the death of Ion Pedicaris in Chislehurst, England. Pedicaris, whose capture by the Moroccan Bandit Raisuli in 1904 created an international episode with the United States government demanding of the Sultan his release, was a friend of Dr. Williams, and was a guest in his home after his release. Raisuli captured Pedicaris and his step-son, Cromwell Varley, an Englishman in their home on the outskirts of Tangier, holding them for a ransom of $350,000, and also demanding certain political immunities from the Sultan. The governments of Great Britain, the United States and France brought pressure to bear upon the Sultan and sent warships to Tangier. The Sultan finally yielded to all the demands and the two men were set free after a month of captivity in the interior of Morocco.

Fables On Health

INSOMNIA LARGELY A HABIT
INSOMNIA, or sleeplessness, is largely a habit.

A person retires with the set belief that he will not be able to drop off to sleep.

And when this is the case, all well-known remedies, such as counting the black sheep, jumping over the fence, or counting up to 100, often fail to send one into slumberland.

One prominent writer says he always sleeps with his head to the east. If he sleeps in a strange room he takes out his pocket compass, finds east, and then turns his head around, if it is not already in the correct position.

Of course the fact that his head is toward the east has no material effect on his body. The psychology of the thing, the establishment of a belief that "now I can go to sleep, because I always have gone to sleep this way" does have an effect, however. It relieves worry, and makes the man confident. So he sleeps. Some people, after rolling and tossing for an hour or so, and after their minds are in a whirl, get up, dress, and walk around the block. They say they get results this way.

Hot baths, just before bed time, prove effective for some. For others, however, the hot bath only aggravates the sensitive nerves.

Insomnia victims should remember that the worry in trying to go to sleep is often more injurious than the actual loss of sleep.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON.

Doctor Bill had some very queer visitors at his hospital and the Twins were very busy helping him to make splints for broken legs and wings.

One day a whole flock of little birds came together.

"What is the matter?" asked the kind little bird doctor. "Are you on a sightseeing trip, or did you come to see a sick friend?"

"We came to get fixed up," spoke up one little bird. "We're hurt."

"Hurt?" exclaimed Doctor Bill in surprise. "All of you? Hurt? What happened?"

"The roof fell in," said the little bird simply.

"The roof fell in? What roof? Whose roof? Where do you live?"

"Our roof," answered the little bird. "I know it sounds funny, but we all live under one roof, about two hundred of us."

"Oh, do you live in a bird house or a zoo?" asked Doctor Bill.

"No, of course not," said the little bird. "We live right outside in a big tree, but we have one roof. Didn't you ever hear about us?"

Doctor Bill scratched his head. "No, I didn't think so," he said. "What is your name? You look sort of like sparrows."

"We are called 'weaver-birds' and we live in Africa," said the little bird. "We live differently from most birds. We make nests for each of our families just like robins or sparrows do, but a lot of us build in the same tree."

"Then over the top of the tree we build a great thatched roof of grass. We all work together and it takes a long time, but when we get it finished, it looks grand. Just exactly like a cot-ped."

THE girl who is taken out to dinner isn't the one who is "out."

IN THE MORNING HER TONGUE WAS COATED HAD BAD TASTE IN MOUTH

Miss Pearl L. Zinck, Bass Corner, N. S., writes: "I was awfully troubled with my liver, and used to get such dizzy spells I would have to sit down while I was doing my work."

"In the morning, when I used to get up, my tongue was coated and I had a bad taste in my mouth and often times, throughout the day, I was troubled with pains in my stomach."

"I suffered in this way until a friend of mine who had used your told me of having taken them, so I decided to try them, and I can truthfully say that they certainly did me a lot of good."

"I cannot recommend them too highly to all those who suffer as I did."

tage where people live! We slope it down the sides and leave it high in the middle, so that it keeps off both sun and rain. Indeed, it looks like a great umbrella."

"Well, I declare!" said Doctor Bill. "And is that the roof you are talking about?"

"Yes, that's it," nodded the little bird. "Or was it, I should say. You see, this year when we went back to our nests, there were some more weaver-birds with us. So by the time they got their nests finished the roof was not quite big enough to cover everybody."

"So we all got to work and made the roof bigger. It looked simply fine—the biggest roof in the whole neighborhood. After working so hard we all went to bed to get a good night's rest, when crash! bang! We thought the sky had fallen and brought the stars and moon with it."

"It was our lovely roof!" went on the weaver bird sadly. "It got too heavy and took a tumble. It also took all our nests with it. All our eggs got broken and some of our wings and legs. Indeed, I think that it is a miracle we didn't break our necks. Can you fix us up, Doctor Bill?"

"Certainly," said Doctor Bill kindly. "Nancy, get the bandages. Nick, get the big jar of salve. And bring out some drinking water and a big dish of bird seed."

"This looks like the right place," said the weaver-bird. "What do you say, fellows?"

"Thank you!" chirped all the little weaver birds happily.

LOW WAISTLINE

Though many of the newest frocks are beltless, a low waistline is usually indicated by an inserted band or horizontal trimming.

COAT LONG AS DRESS

With the new ensembles, one notices that the coat is usually the length of the dress or only slightly shorter.

NEWEST LINGERIE

Some of the newest white lingerie frocks are given a new note by embroidery in colors.

DESTROY SEVERITY

Wings and panel draperies from the shoulders are a way of destroying the severity of a gown without complicating the lines.

COAT TO MATCH

The dress with long, straight sleeves frequently has a sleeveless coat to match, on long, straight lines.

AS spring is heralded along the roadsides, the vogue for chiffon evening frocks in the favored pastel tints increases. Indeed, the flair for wearing the petal and point frock for dance and festive occasions has so taken hold of the feminine fancies that it is most unusual to see a gown of straight lines in the heavier fabrics and more vivid tones.

Marjorie Daw, in a season of lace and chiffons—and their second cousins, crepe silks—has achieved distinction in selecting an evening gown designed along formal—and straight lines—in a most noticeably flaming shade of red velvet.

Embroidery in contrasting color schemes has enhanced the loveliness of the gown, and also is keeping with the mode. The floral decoration is here to stay for some time, or until a more beautiful and pleasing ornamentation may be found to succeed it, and that will be a difficult task, for the flower is a most interesting and lovely form of trimming.

The scarf which so often accompanies the gown is utilized as an effective accessory by Miss Daw, and adds a festive note in its floral decoration.

Eligible Bachelors Are Very Hard To Locate In London

By SYLVIA MAYFAIR, Canadian Press Correspondent. LONDON, June 1.—Two famous hostesses, a "fashionable" London baroness and a young girl, who think he is going to surprise everybody in a few days with a "surprise" marriage that they know about already were lingering over their lunch the other day when talk turned on the young eligible bachelors in London this season.

Naturally, the question is a pressing one, for the bachelors indirectly are responsible for a lot. There are at least a dozen early who owe their daily round of ease and luxury to the Harry Browns, the Corrigans and the Vanderbills of this world.

Sir Philip Sassoon: Income, practically unlimited. Handsome. Wonderful Park Lane house. Country home Lympne, Kent. Rides well, and dances better. Music, literature, art.

Among those who motored to Rothesay on Friday evening and were guests at the bridge given by Miss Florence and Mr. Elmer Puddington in honor of Miss Annette Holly, a bride-elect of this month, were: Mrs. Douglas White, Hugh McLean, Miss Aileen Morrison, Miss Constance White, Miss Mary Murray, Miss Ruth Starr, Miss Elizabeth Armstrong, Miss Marion Henderson, Miss Louise McInerney, Mr. Harold Peters, Mr. Peniston Starr, Mr. Charles Bostwick, Dr. Ives Anglin, Mr. Ronald Jones, Mr. Atwood Bridges, Mr. P. Coombs.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Lupton McAvity and family moved last week to their summer home at Rothesay. Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Bullock has returned from Boston and is at her summer residence, Westfield.

Word has been received from Dr. O. A. B. Addy, who is visiting his brother in the West that he will be on the coast before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Smith moved on Saturday to their summer cottage at Millidgeville. Mr. and Mrs. Edwin E. Ellis and family have moved to Fair Vale, where they will spend the summer.

Dr. Doris Murray, who has been in Baltimore and other United States cities carrying on child welfare work, is expected home early this month. She will go to Europe for a summer tour, visiting Scotland and the Wembley Exhibition in England. Miss Margaret Murray, accompanied by Miss Beatrice Price, will also make a tour of Europe, visiting in Great Britain while abroad and at the Wembley Exhibition.

Dr. and Mrs. James Manning, who have been abroad for six weeks, are expected home within ten days. Mrs. H. M. Taylor, niece of Mrs. Richard Hooper, with her two children, John and Peter Taylor, has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hooper at their home, "Sapperton-on-the-Hill," Pine street. Mrs. Taylor came from Toronto, where she and Mr. Taylor formerly resided, to join the latter at Moncton. Mrs. Taylor had the misfortune to develop a severe cold with subsequent more severe trouble and was in the hospital for three weeks. She has been visiting Mrs. James S. Robertson for a day or two, prior to returning to complete her visit with Mr. and Mrs. Hooper before going on Friday to Moncton to reside.

Rev. Richard Opie, of St. Andrews, Charlotte county, was the week-end guest of Mrs. Neil MacLauchlan, at Pagan Place, the Queen Square Methodist parsonage, while preaching in that church for Rev. Mr. MacLauchlan, who was obliged to remain at conference at Sackville for special committee work. Mrs. B. F. Boyce, who has been visiting Mrs. J. W. Stevens, of Prospect street, Fairville, has returned to her home at Lake George, York county. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rockwell and son and daughter, Master Ronald, and Miss Hope Rockwell, have returned to North Devon after a visit to Mrs. J. W. Stevens, of Fairville. Mrs. Grover Keith, who was visiting in Campbellton with her mother, Mrs. C. Wellington Camp, has returned to her home, Orange street. Her father, Rev. Dr. Charles Wellington Camp is her guest, en route home from Wolfville.

Mrs. H. Harold Macmillan was the guest of Mrs. T. J. Gunn, for specially musical people, friends of the guest of honor, the party being held at her home and greatly enjoyed. Mrs. F. J. Hodgson and Mrs. L. M. Curran were joint hostesses of an informal party at the Sign O' The Lantern Tea Rooms Saturday afternoon, in honor of Mrs. T. J. Gunn, who leaves today for Montreal to sail for Europe on Tuesday. Mrs. Gunn will be absent for the summer, taking the summer course in the Nationale Conservatoire, Paris, France.

Dr. George P. Skinner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skinner, of this city, has arrived home from Montreal where he has been taking a post graduate course at the Royal Victoria Hospital since his graduation in 1923 from McGill University. Dr. Skinner will remain at home for one month, after

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

The address of President Col. Arthur F. Hatch was, in part, as follows: World trade conditions are improving. Old channels of commerce, dislocated and, in some cases almost destroyed, by the war, are resuming their natural course, and new channels are being formed.

SITUATION IN CANADA

Canada, in common with other countries, is sharing in this general improvement throughout the world. In Canada there are also encouraging domestic factors. Owing to shortage in other countries, recovery of exchange and other causes, the prices of farm products have risen considerably, with the result that the purchasing power of the agricultural population has been greatly increased.

to a greater extent than tonnage originating in Canada. The transportation situation is far from satisfactory. Under present conditions there is not sufficient traffic in Canada to enable two great transcontinental railway systems to operate with financial success.

The stream of Canadians is still flowing south, and while some are returning to their native land, many are arriving from Europe, on the whole, it is doubtful if the country is retaining the natural increase of the population.

POPULATION

The chief cause of Canada's material troubles is the failure of Canadians to provide for themselves a suitable policy of national development. The first necessity for Canada is to balance her trade with the United States.

U. S. EXAMPLE

Conditions in Canada are very similar to those in the United States. It is possible that we can follow a different policy from that which has been followed by the United States successfully.

Need National Policy

Canada embarks on a new policy of national development, there is no doubt that a period of great expansion and prosperity for every section of the country will follow.

Revenue and Expenditure

The treasurer is a member of both the executive council and the executive committee, and reports regularly to both. His report has shown you that the total revenue of the association for the year for membership fees is $205,990, and that the cost of operation was $203,888.15, leaving a surplus from fees of $2,101.85.

taxed and extended only by the development of east and west traffic, interchanging the products of the farms, factories, forests, mines and fisheries, and exporting the greater part of the surplus via the Pacific and Atlantic ports.

Taxation

Taxes in Canada are so heavy that they constitute a great burden on productive enterprises and on consumers. The total gross production of Canada for the last year for which official statistics are available was $1,485,487,745.

Work Together

All of us have faith enough in our country to believe that she will struggle through her material difficulties. But, surely, we are entitled to more than mere existence. The right policy of national development will give them not only necessities but many of the comforts of life.

Smarter Hospitality With Pure Ginger Ale

The Clever Hostess thrills her Guests by being different. Hot Refreshment is out of the question in Summer. Ginger Ale is ready in a second, instead of robbing the company of your presence and flustering your complexion.

By far the biggest hit is made with SUSSEX RED OVAL—the Genuine Ginger Ale with the nip, the body and mellowness none match, because none are made the same way.

Perfectly pure Spring Water, real Ginger, real Lime and Lemon juice and Table Sugar. Have it by the case, it costs less and is always ready on ice. But demand the right brand.

Executive Report

The report of the executive was in part as follows: Revenue and Expenditure. The treasurer is a member of both the executive council and the executive committee, and reports regularly to both.

Wherever Work is Done

In every branch of national activity . . . agriculture and industry, home-life and play . . . the reliable Waterman's finds its part. It has no holiday, no off hours. Any minute you want it, every day in the year, it reports unflinchingly . . . ready for work.

Waterman's Ideal Fountain Pen. Every man is proud of his watch whether it is venerable with age or the smartest development of the horologist's art. And every man has a right to be proud of his fountain pen—that other member of his pocket family—if it bears the Waterman stamp.

Members in the three Prairie Provinces

The need of making citizens better acquainted with the history of the city and the site of many historic spots is referred to by a letter to the Board of Trade from Dr. H. A. Farris. He suggests that a booklet be issued giving this history and that markers be placed on the historic sites.

“Eddie” Sparks, the young backstop of the Water Dept. team, leads in the City League race, is leading the pack in the race for the Admiral Beatty Hotel trophy by cracking out six safe hits in last week's game for a mark of .600. In addition, Sparks is the leading run-getter with 6 to his name and stands well up in the leaders in the stolen base brigade. His all-round work has been a strong factor in his team's success.

“Charlie” Gorman stands close to Sparks in hitting with a mark of .500. Three other players, Conlon of the St. John the Baptists, Ira Hannah, Water Dept., and Earl Nelson, Royals' star, are also hitting at a .500 clip. Next to Sparks in the run-scoring list, Corrigan, Snodgrass and Campbell are tied with 5 runs each.

Cyril Moore and Johnny Corrigan are trading in the piffing bases stunts with three each. Conlon, Gorman, Sparks and Snodgrass have two each. Ira Hannah is leading the pitchers with 2 wins and no losses.

This Week's Games. The schedule this week calls for some stiff arguments. Tonight, weather conditions proving good, the Royals meet the St. Johns on the North End grounds with last place at stake. Tomorrow night, a great struggle is expected on the South End grounds between the St. John the Baptist and the Water Dept. The Saints are keen to stop the Watermen. It should be a great battle. On Wednesday afternoon in the North End, the Trojans meet the St. Johns in a holiday attraction, while on Thursday night in the South End, the St. Johns and the Baptists clash. On Friday night, the Watermen meet the Royals in the North End, while the Trojans and Baptists are clashing in the South End.

CANADIAN SHOT AT U. S. BORDER

Two Others Caught and Held on Drug Smuggling Charge

Declare Companion was Killed by Officers on Dominion Soil

COLEBROOK, N. H., May 31—In a battle between Federal officers and a band of alleged narcotic smugglers Friday night at Canaan, Vt., on the international boundary line, a Canadian named Bilodeau, was shot and fatally wounded, according to reports received here today.

D. R. Price and Louis Nadeau, companions of Bilodeau, who were in the car in which agents said they found $5,000 worth of narcotics, were held today in the jail at West Stewartstown, where they declared that their companion had run across the border line before a shot felled him.

The Federal agents declared that Bilodeau stopped the bullet on United States soil, but staggered onward for 100 feet across the line before he fell.

TWO STARTED TO RUN

According to the Federal agents' version of the shooting, they stopped the car, containing Bilodeau, Price and Nadeau, near the Hereford line house and told them that they were to be searched.

The men started to run as they left their machine and the officers opened fire. Nadeau and Price stopped at the first shot and submitted to arrest.

Policeman Dies Of 14 Year Old Wound

NEW YORK, June 1—Pasquale J. Ruffalo, whose left hand had been paralyzed since January, 1911, when, as a policeman of the Mount Vernon force, he was shot in the spine by one of two Italians he was trying to arrest, was buried on Saturday from his home, at Mount Vernon.

His death was due to the effects of the bullet wound. Only his courage and resolution to live enabled him to survive his injury at all, physicians said. He had earned his living for 14 years by peddling wares from a wheeled chair and his uniform cheerfulness won him many friends.

In spite of his wound, Ruffalo drew a revolver and fired two shots at his assailant, one of which killed Arturo Tiso, the man who shot him, while the other wounded his brother, Alexander Tiso.

POTATO GROWERS DO WELL WITH SEED

Association Declares Dividend For Last Year—Sold 5,178 Barrels.

FREDERICTON, May 31—Despite trade conditions which made demands for seed potato stock light along the Atlantic coast and in Ontario, the New Brunswick Seed Potato Growers' Association shipped 5,178 barrels of potatoes during their first year in business, including seed and table stock, according to the report of the secretary, O. C. Hicks, superintendent of the crops and soils division of the Provincial Department of Agriculture, presented at the first annual meeting of the association here.

Members in the seed stock pools received $1.44 per barrel for fall stock and $1.45 for spring stock of the Irish Cobbler variety. Green Mountains brought $1.14 and $1.25, respectively, while the total amount paid to members was $4,751.69. A balance of $413.67 due to members for potatoes is covered by outstanding credits at the end of the year on April 30, of $1,096.83.

In his address, A. B. McCah, of Florenceville, president of the association, said that the association was the only concern in the province engaged in the potato business during the past year which could declare a 10 per cent dividend to its members. During April, 70 cents per barrel was paid members for table stock.

AFTER 41 YEARS RETIRES TODAY

Samuel McLaughlin Has Been Familiar Figure in Railway Life

Latterly Has Been in Charge of Cattle in Transit Through Saint John.

Samuel McLaughlin, of Stanley street, whose summer home is on the Red Head road, one of Saint John's older citizens and identified with government-trailway transportation circles for 41 years, officially retires from the service today, under the provisions of the C. N. R. Provident Fund Act. Mr. McLaughlin's retirement will remove a familiar face, an obliging official and a competent and faithful servant of the public. His friends are wishing him many years of well-deserved relaxation.

CHARGE OF LIVE STOCK The duties assigned Mr. McLaughlin for more than two score years were particularly those having to do with the care of live stock in transit through this city. Many head of food-cattle and breeding stock have been distributed through Mr. McLaughlin's direction overseas.

It is an odd vocation indeed that does not once in a while provide its novelty. With Mr. McLaughlin these rare occasions have been the passage through Saint John of buffalo a few weeks ago, en route to South Africa from western preserves; also a few years ago the importation of Yaks, an experiment in wool or hair culture for western Canada, the Yaks coming from Europe.

Mr. McLaughlin came to Saint John from Ireland when a mere lad, and joined the government service in 1884 as an upholder of his port-city home, a father of a family and a useful citizen, the retired transportation man has been a valuable asset to the community.

According to the evidence, the horse moved to an ornamental tree in Princess street and practically destroyed it.

POWER COMPANY CLAIMS $11,770

Alleges Discrimination and Overcharge by City for Use of Water

Asks Public Utilities Board to Compel Cut in Rate—Hearing Set for June 24.

An application was made to the Board of Public Utilities this morning by the New Brunswick Power Company for an order compelling the City of Saint John to grant the company the rate for water enjoyed by other large manufacturing concerns and for the return of more than $11,000 which the company contends it has overpaid the city since 1917.

The application will come up for hearing by the Board of Public Utilities on June 24, at 10:30 a.m., notice to this effect having been sent to the Power Company and Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Commissioner of Water and Sewerage for the city.

COMPANY'S CLAIM

The statement filed by the company, through its solicitor, Dr. F. R. Taylor, K. C., asserts that during the period since 1917, when the company began the manufacture of gas and electric current, after the ratification by the legislature of the taking over of the Saint John Railway Company by the New Brunswick Power Company, the company in the manufacture of gas and electric current has purchased from the City of Saint John large quantities of water and has been charged by the city a rate differentiating from and greatly in excess of the rate charged to other large manufacturers.

SAYS DISCRIMINATION.

It is set out that the Power Company has protested to the city that other concerns enjoyed a rate of 1/2 cent per 100 gallons of water, while the Power Company had to pay 1 cent per 100 gallons and therefore the petition charges discrimination.

It also sets forth that the Power Company is a very large taxpayer and has not, like other large consumers, enjoyed any exemption from taxation, but "is taxed a larger sum because its earnings warranted, the city during said period having received a larger sum in taxes and charges than your petitioner has paid to its shareholders in dividends."

In Paragraph 9 it is declared that since January 3, 1917, to March 31, 1924, the company has used 235,411,469 gallons of water for which it has paid to the city $23,541.14 and claims that it is entitled to a return of the sum of $11,770.57.

Number On List For Work Is 530

Employment figures for May, given out by the employment service of Canada office here, show placements of 123 men and 223 women for the month. The large number of women is accounted for by the spring cleaning period. The number now registered is 530. This is in excess of the number on the list at the end of May, 1924, when it was 480.

SURPRISED YANKEES TOO.

The chair-car "Oronecto" of the C. N. R. attracted much attention from local people and Americans arriving on the mid-day train today. It was wired atop with radio aerials. Inside every seating was furnished with ear-phone plugs. The receiving set was a large and powerful one and the operator said that the rumble of the train did not affect the hearing of aerial programmes in the least. It was the first of the radio-fitted cars to leave Saint John. It was attached to No. 14, the Halifax-Moncton express.

BEREAVED SON ARRIVES.

Lawrence McMahon, manager of a Toronto bank, arrived in the city today being summoned because of the accidental death of his father, J. Boyd McMahon, trustee officer, who is in King street on Saturday afternoon. He was met by his brother Julian, a ministerial student at Lennoxville, P. Q. A daughter, Mrs. Magie of Detroit, will arrive later. The funeral of Mr. McMahon will take place from Trinity church tomorrow.

FINE STANDS

A fine of $8 was allowed to stand against E. Watson by Magistrate Henderson in the Police Court this morning when a charge of using abusive language to James Carleton, building inspector, finally was dealt with. C. S. Hanington, appearing for Mr. Carleton, asked that the maximum penalty be imposed but His Honor said that in view of Mr. Watson's expression of regret over the matter and his public apology to Mr. Carleton for the incident, he would find him guilty but allow a fine of $8 to stand.

EARLY MORNING FIRE

Fire resulted about 6 o'clock this morning from the blaze in a chimney grate burning through the floor and spreading between the floor of the upper flat and the ceiling of the lower flat in the building at 222 Prince William street, owned by J. T. Finigan and occupied on the upper floor by John McDermott and family and on the ground floor by J. M. Daley, barber. No. 1 fire station men responded to the call and had the blaze subdued at 6:45 o'clock. Considerable damage was done to the floors and the contents of Mr. Daley's barber shop were damaged by smoke and chemical. His loss is covered by insurance as is also Mr. McDermott's and that on Mr. Finigan's property. The ceiling of the adjoining Blueose restaurant was damaged slightly by water.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET.

The annual inter-scholastic track and field meet between Rothesay Collegiate and the local High School will be held at Rothesay on Saturday, June 6, it was announced today. It is not known whether Fredericton or Moncton will send entrants this year.
