ERUPTION OF A VOLCANO BROUGHT DEATH TO MANY

Natives on Siberian Coast Overcome by Shower of Ashes—U. S. Fishing Vessel Was Boarded by Russians

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The outbreak of a volcano on the Peninsula of Kamchatka, on February 13 last, threw the whole country into utter darkness for more than 48 hours and resulted in the starving of scores of natives, according to the officers of the barkentine S. N. Castle, which reached this port late evening direct from the Okhotsk Sea. The natives, some of whom could speak English, told Capt. Pedersen and his men that they had no knowledge of the source of the terrible storm that had come upon them. They knew only that while they were crossing the valleys in the first flush of spring, a wave of dust fell upon them, followed by utter darkness that continued for two days and nights. Lava, almost hot, fell about them and there were such showers of black ashes that their progress was stayed and they were lucky to find undried cereals and springs. But the party of natives was in dire straits and some of them had succumbed to their hardships. In response to their request Capt. Pedersen sent off two boat loads of provisions which the suffering natives were unable to keep them on the way to Petropavlovsk.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The barkentine S. N. Castle, capt. Pedersen, arrived here yesterday from the coasting grounds off the coast of Siberia and reported that the vessel had been boarded by the Russian gunboat Mandjur, her ship's papers taken, and warned to stay 20 miles from the coast. The officers and crew were sent to Petropavlovsk in irons.

DR. SPANGLER THINKS THERE IS NO HURRY
Since the Medical Association Waited for Nine Years He Believes a Further Delay is Not Material

Dr. Harry L. Spangler was today charged by Dr. Stewart S. Skinner, registrar for the N. B. Medical Association with practicing in the city without registration. The doctor that in March, April, May and June had practiced as a medical doctor without being a registered physician. Hon. C. N. Skinner, appeared for the prosecution, and Dr. Spangler, who was accompanied to the court by about half a dozen citizens, said that the first he knew of the case was late on Saturday night. He wished to have the case postponed until he could secure the services of J. D. Hazen, who doctor said he had practiced in the city for the past nine years without being molested and now that it had been sprung on him with such short notice he thought the complainants might wait a couple of days until he got his counsel in the city. The case was adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

UMBRELLA MENDER'S BODY TERRIBLY MUTILATED

Man From Halifax Was Killed on the North Shore by an I. C. R. Freight Train

MONCTON, N. B., July 15.—Shortell, tramp umbrella mender, of Halifax, who was killed by an I. C. R. special freight train at Bedford, near Bathurst, on Saturday night, met a most shocking death, his body being fearfully mutilated. Little is known as to how he met death. Shortell and a companion, also an umbrella mender, according to the latter's story, lay down in Bedford station to sleep. Later, Shortell's companion says, he awoke and found his partner missing, and in a short time after the mutilated body with head and arms cut off, was found beside the rails. It is believed that he was attempting to board the train when killed.

Several Scott Act summonses were served on local dealers today from Shelburne courts.

THE VILLAGE OF HARTLAND WAS ALMOST WIPED OUT THIS MORNING

Fire Which Started at 12.45 in a Block Near the Bridge, Swept Main Street, Destroying a Score of Buildings at a Loss of $130,000—Less Than 25 Per Cent is Insured.

At 12.45 a. m., the worst fire in the history of Hartland broke out in the Tracy block, occupied by the Hartland Drug Co., Thomas Letson, harness shop, N. L. Haywood, law office and B. C. Cox, residence. The total damage done by the fire to the business section of the town is over $130,000. Of this amount not more than 25 per cent is covered by insurance. In all 15 buildings were burned, 12 families are homeless and the business of 20 firms is temporarily suspended. The Drug Co. had $1,500 insurance, the others had none. Another building destroyed was a store house and by Hagerman and Baird, farm machinery, was also destroyed. In this building J. W. Green had a stock of groceries for which he had paid $1,100 on Saturday last. Mr. Carr had some insurance, the others had none. Another building destroyed was the large three story general store owned by Keith and Plummer. This building was one of the largest in the county and is an absolute loss. No stock was saved. Keith and Plummer's loss is covered by about $50,000 insurance. However, they estimate their net loss at about $20,000. Mr. Plummer resided in the burning building. A Mr. Perkins also resided here, and J. E. Jevett had dental rooms in the building. The adjoining building, also owned by Keith and Plummer, and occupied by Miss Janet McMullin as a book store, and by Zibah Orchard as a residence, was burned. Miss McMullin's store was saved. The building owned by J. D. Shaw was also burned. Dr. McIntosh, who lived in this building lost all his household effects. Zibah Orchard whose hardware store occupied the ground floor also suffered loss. The total loss amounted to nearly $200,000. It is fairly certain that the fire was started by a cigarette.

even the officials whose presence are necessary. The jury will be compelled to camp out on improvised beds in one of the court rooms. It is the prosecution's aim to show that the straggling of the Lamana was only an incident among many blackmailing schemes on foot among the Italian population of this section. The four prisoners were brought here today from New Orleans where they have been since their arrest. They will remain during the trial in the court house jail which stands in a sugar cane field with no house excepting the office within half a mile. The prisoners are Ignace Campesiano and his wife, Maria, Colangelo Genovese and Tom Costo. Campesiano, is the man, who, under compulsion led a posse into the swamp where the boy's body was concealed.

FOUR ITALIANS ON TRIAL FOR MURDER

A Case Which It is Hoped Will Put an End to a Long Series of Crimes.

NAINVILLE, La., July 15.—Including the tunnelling of a jury which began today less than a week is expected to suffice for the trial for the four Italians charged with kidnaping and murdering Walter Latham, a New Orleans child. Not only does public sentiment make a speedy trial desirable but there are not enough accommodations here for

WOMAN WAS SERIOUSLY BURNED IN MONTREAL

Put Oil in the Kitchen Stove—Cabalt Miners and Operators Give Up Negotiations for Settlement

TORONTO, July 15.—A young married Greek woman, Lelidon Delasandra, was terribly burned last night as the result of a coal oil explosion. She built a wood fire in the cook stove and poured some coal oil from a small can into the flames. The flame travelled up to the oil into the can causing an explosion which saturated the unfortunate woman's clothing with oil. William Bostwick rushed in and at very great peril to himself picked up the burning woman and carried her to a hydrant some fifteen feet away and turned the water on while the neighbors formed a bucket brigade in an effort to attempt to extinguish the flames. Finally an Italian known as Charlie Matt, came with a blanket and smothered the flames, though by that time the woman's clothes were literally burned off her leaving her almost naked. A woman brought a skirt and another sheet in order to cover her until the arrival of the ambulance. A further sensation was caused when the husband of the woman who had loaned the skirt arrived upon the scene, demanding its immediate return. He attempted to tear it from the suffering woman and Sergeant Charlton had to seize him in order to restrain his violent efforts to obtain possession. The woman is still alive.

The Westfield Outing Association's salmon boat races have come to the notice of fishermen belonging to Lorneville and Dipper Harbor, and other bays. These fishermen are acknowledged to be the most expert in the building and sailing of salmon boats and now they are going to challenge the Westfield boats to a race. It will be seen whether or not they have kept a few of the finer points of the game from the suburbanites. The fishermen think that the race should be held on Grand Bay open to all, and be for a money prize. The toilers are anxious for a

MRS. AGNES MORRISON BURNED TO DEATH.

Shocking Tragedy at the West Side Saturday Night-- Fell While Carrying a Lighted Lamp, and Apparently Was Stunned as She Never Rose--Fire Discovered by Neighbor and Was Soon Extinguished.

Mrs. Agnes Morrison, an elderly lady alone in her home at 127 Queen street, West, on Saturday night was the victim of a shocking accident. After having retired for the night the old lady left her bed and lamp in hand was making her way to the parlor, when she apparently fell, breaking the lamp and was burned to death. The house where Mrs. Morrison met such a tragic death is a two story wooden building on Queen street, with Mrs. Walter Lowe, remains in the house with her, but on Saturday night Mrs. Morrison, who was about seventy years of age, was alone in the house. She had retired for the night about eleven o'clock. It would seem that she had gone to her bed for the night in her bedroom, which is on the first floor. The state of the bed clothes showed that it had been occupied. Washing, and to go to the parlor to get the kitchen, she passed through the dining room to the kitchen and fell forward in the kitchen, her head striking the wall between the rear door and the lamp and the door of the pantry. The lamp was shattered and her clothing caught fire. She was seen by a neighbor who saw the flickering flame through the rear door. She was taken to the attention of a young man named John Amos to the fact.

The work will be put under way at once, as it is hoped to have the building ready for occupancy for the first of the coming winter.

An alarm from box 112, West End, was rung on Saturday night about nine o'clock for a fire in the barn attached to the residence on King street, W. E. of Geo. Price of the customs service. The barn, which has lately been used as a woodshed, is thought to have caught fire from children playing with matches. The damage was not heavy.

Saturday last was the 25th anniversary of R. J. Walsh's connection with the firm of Waterbury and Hising, and just prior to the noonday meal hour was presented by George H. Waterbury in behalf of the firm, with a gold watch, chain and locket. Mr. Waterbury made a short address, complimenting Mr. Walsh upon his good standing in the firm. In replying Mr. Walsh thanked the days spent in the employ of Waterbury as a woodshed. It had been pleasant ones indeed.

Acting on a telephone message from Amherst, J. C. H. Policeman Scovill Smith was on the lookout for a woman named Mrs. McBeath, for whom the 140 train arrived here Sunday morning. The woman was not a passenger on the train, however. Mrs. McBeath left her husband some time ago and connected with him in his name. She is now wanted in Amherst by her creditors.

THE BEST SHOTS IN THE WORLD ARE THE KENTUCKY MOUNTAINEERS

The best shots in the world are the Kentucky mountaineers. The west has nothing to compare with them. When it comes to "pulling a gun" quickly and shooting accurately the most expert of frontiers had men would appear slow and clumsy by the side of many of these mountain outlaws. They learn to shoot almost as soon as they graduate from the cradle. Many of their sports relate to shooting. The proprietor of the crossroads store has a shooting gallery in his establishment, where in other localities you might find a slot machine. In one store I saw a wheel about half the size of a spinning wheel with pieces of cardboard containing numbers on the different spokes. The charge was "pilence" (10 cents) a shot, and the participant picked his number. The prizes ranged all the way from a box of cartridges to a bag of corn meal or a side of "sow bacon," according to the size of the piece of cardboard selected. The wheel was given a swift whirl by the store keeper, but judging from the shooting I saw I could not find out wherein he derived any profit from the contrivance, says C. T. Revere, in Everybody's Magazine.

REGULAR WALKING ARSENALS. During four times the combatants are regular walking arsenals. I saw old Shackleford when trouble was brewing between himself and old Lige Howard which threatened to involve the clan, but finally was settled peacefully. He carried a Winchester, 45.30, and his supply of six-shooters would have stocked a pawnshop window. He had one in each boot, two in leather holsters at his belt, one in a holster under the left armpit and another in a holster inside his shirt just where it buttoned in front over his chest—six revolvers in all. This accoutrements were in a sly, suspicious manner in which he might be surprised. I was told that the holster in the shirt front was the favorite one, as the weapon could be flashed with incredible rapidity.

I saw Abe McCoy, of Hatfield-McCoy fame, some shooting that would make anything in Buffalo Bill's Wild West show look cheap. A fellow-survivor and myself had left camp the day before, and the following night we rode up to one of the most prosperous mountain farmhouses and asked for supper and lodging. Soon after our arrival another man rode up. It is probable he would not have stopped had he seen our horses, for that would have warned him of the presence of strangers. Once in the house he did not care to draw back. He interested us greatly, although we did not learn until the next morning that he was Abe McCoy, one of the leading members of the family that had impressed itself so indelibly on the bloody history of three states. He ate supper with us in silence, eyeing us myself in a sly, suspicious manner. He sat opposite to us at the table, and never was his back turned to us. There was the danger that we might be detected by marshals or revenue agents, and he took no chances.

DISTRUST NEVER FADED. It seemed to me that his distrust might fade after a while, but it did not. He brought his horse around to the front of the cabin, saddled and bridled, with the bit slipped out of the animal's mouth. At the slightest alarm he could have been in full flight in a few seconds. He sat around with the rest of us, but talked little, and never once did his eyes leave us two—the strangers in the group. That night my comrade and I went to bed in the room with the rest of the family, but McCoy sat in a chair tilted against the side of the chimney, with his hat pulled down over his eyes. The two six-shooters at his belt were in plain view, and I saw the butts of two others peeping from his boot tops. As I found out afterward he had two more, one in the armpit holster and another in the shirt front holster.

ALMOST BECAME TALKATIVE. He got up before we did, and before we ate breakfast were told who he was. We instantly tried in every way to get acquainted with him, and succeeded in convincing him of our harmlessness to the extent of getting him to ride with us when we left. But his watchfulness never deserted him, and he politely but firmly insisted that we ride ahead. By degrees we drew him out, and in his quiet way he became almost talkative. He told us he had been mixed up in the feud with the Hatfields.

"It's been so long since it began though, I don't know what it started 'bout," he admitted in response to a question. "I suppose you are quite a shot."

He asked me, as we came to the creek where we were to part company. "Yes, I kin shoot some," said McCoy, modestly. Then we implored him to give an exhibition of his skill. He seemed a little reluctant and once more a shadow of distrust flitted across his lean face. But we urged him frantically, and finally he yielded. The Harvard man raked out half a dollar. McCoy then placed us about thirty feet apart, and it looked as if he was making arrangements to take care of us one at a time in case he saw any signs of treachery on our part. "Pitch up the coin," ordered McCoy. My companion obeyed. Two shots cracked out. There stood McCoy, smiling grimly, unharmed as far as we could observe. Neither of us had seen him draw a gun or put it back, so marvelously quick had he been. Nor could we find the coin. But McCoy went right to the spot and picked it up. It was a hole almost through the centre and another near the edge where the milling had been shot away. The clerk stretched his neck and gasped. "Why, what was it?" "It was," the travelling man began, but he choked. "Prize—my job!" "Oh, pardon me a minute, the phone is ringing." And the clerk tipped softly away. A dismal stillness reigned.

WHAT HEY LOST. A travelling man was leaning against the counter in the hotel gazing disconsolately at the floor. "Lose something?" queried the hotel clerk. A nod of the head answered. "Was it very valuable?" "Twice with the nod." "Here you had it when you came in?" A third nod. His face was growing wistful. "You should have put it in the safe." "Could not have done that very well."

EARLY DENTISTRY. The art of dentistry was practiced among the Egyptians and Ethiopians, and there are evidences in mummies and skulls that in very ancient times teeth were filled and efforts were made to supply the loss of natural by artificial teeth. The first writer on the treatment of diseased teeth was Galen. The science was introduced into America by John Greenwood, who established himself in New York in 1788. In 1790 and again in 1796 he carved in ivory an entire set of teeth for General Washington.

INCREASE OF ENGLISH SPEAKERS. Within one hundred years the number of persons speaking the English language has grown from 20,000,000 to 125,000,000. During this time no other language has made the slightest advance. At the beginning of the last century the leading languages of Continental Europe were French, German and Spanish; the Spanish language at present is spoken by about 18,000,000 in Spain and 35,000,000 in America. German has held its own and is spoken by about 80,000,000 people. More than 20,000,000 persons speak the language outside of Germany. Twice as many persons speak Portuguese outside of Portugal as in the country itself. French in the language of 14,000,000 persons outside of France. It is estimated that at the dawn of the twenty-fifth century the English of 14,000,000 persons in the United States, while a similar number will be added in India, where the learning of the language has become compulsory.

ONION AS A DISINFECTANT.

There is written a London correspondent, a stratum of common sense in the advice given by a north country teacher to her scholars, "If you have cholera or scarlet fever in the house, put some onions under the bed and they will sweep away all disease." For the onion proved its virtue in a remarkable way year ago, when cholera raged throughout London. It was noticed with surprise that one of the most insular districts—Saffron Hill and its neighborhood—was almost exempt from the visitation. The majority of the inhabitants being Italians were getting onion eaters, and strings of this vegetable were found everywhere. The medical officer of health concluded that the onion, among its many virtues, contains a powerful antidote against cholera morbus and possibly other diseases.

ANOTHER INSTANCE.

Another instance of British generosity towards unsuccessful foes is found in the case of Col. Arthur Lynch, who has recently been granted a pardon by King Edward, General Botha, who led the Boer forces against the British, has for some months been premier of the Transvaal, and now Col. Lynch, who was one of Botha's ablest lieutenants, may occupy a seat in the British parliament. Col. Lynch commanded a section of the Irish Brigade on the Boer side during the war. While he was fighting he was elected a Nationalist member of parliament for County Galway, Ireland, but the announcement was made officially that if he set foot in England for the purpose of taking his seat he would be arrested. Col. Lynch waited until coronation time, when he supposed everybody would be in good humor. He then crossed the channel and landed in jail. He was convicted of high treason and was in 1903 sentenced to death. This was commuted to imprisonment for life. Early in 1904 he was released on license, which, however, did not remove his disqualification to sit in parliament. The pardon wipes out this and other disabilities.

MUD DUMPING.

The dumping of mud in what is known as the Western Channel, is the Star understands, receiving some attention from the federal department of public works, and in all probability an order will shortly be issued prohibiting this custom and imposing a penalty for violation. Although very frequently paragraphs appear in the papers stating that different persons have seen scow loads of mud dumped in this passage, and calling the attention of the civic authorities to the fact, towing companies have for years followed the custom, and no action has ever been taken to interfere with them. Recently the common council passed a resolution asking the public works department to appoint marine police to look after the matter. This may, perhaps, be done, but it might reasonably be expected that the view taken by the department would be that important construction work should first be accomplished in the extending of the breakwater to Partridge Island. When that is done, which must be before the expiration of many years, the scows will be dumped anywhere between Partridge Island and the outer wall of the breakwater. If the mud only remained where it is dumped, there would be little cause for complaint, but owing to the harbor currents, it is carried into the eastern channel and helps in the filling process which is continually going on. This would be the case even when the breakwater is extended if the mud is dumped inside it, and great care will then have to be exercised to prevent this custom.

CANADA'S INCOME.

Canada's revenue is growing at the rate of one million dollars per month. This is shown by the statements issued from the finance department at Ottawa. The receipts during the short fiscal year ending March 31st, amounted to $68,000,000 and for the quarter since that date, to $23,500,000, making a total of $91,500,000 for the twelve months. During the fiscal year ending June 30, 1906, the total revenue was $80,000,000. The increase has thus been between $11,000,000 and $12,000,000 for the twelve months. The expenditure for the nine months now stands at $51,542,161 on current revenue, and $14,234,625 on capital account, making a total disbursement of $65,776,786. The surplus over all disbursements thus will be $25,723,214. The expenditure for April, May and June is $7,506,224 on consolidated fund, and $2,005,791 on capital account, or $9,512,015 in all. This makes the consolidated fund expenditure $59,138,485, and capital account $16,740,416, or total disbursements of $75,878,901, leaving a surplus over all disbursements of over $15,000,000.

GERMANY'S SHIPPING.

While the United States is bemoaning the weakness of its mercantile marine and is endeavoring by diplomatic measures to partially overcome the competition of its great rival Germany, the latter is building ships, and during the past few years has made a remarkable increase in commercial tonnage. The returns for 1906, which are the latest available, show that the expansion which has been going on since 1876 continues, yet in spite of the increased tonnage under the German flag, there is no falling off in the amount of business carried in foreign bottoms. German vessels are credited with 114,157 voyages in 1906, representing a movement of $1,385,538, which is an increase of two and one-half per cent. in voyages, and six per cent. in tonnage. Fully ninety per cent. of the maritime commerce between the German ports was carried under the home flag, and over fifty per cent. of the foreign business, a ratio which represents an enormous increase in favor of German shipping.

At an Amber street residence there appeared an unkempt looking individual who asked for employment. It chanced that his application was made to the lady of the house herself, who was superintending the transplanting of plants in the garden.

"ARE YOU A GARDENER?"

"Yes, ma'am," replied the unkempt looking individual, "if you was to hand me one of your husband's cigars I might sit down right here and smoke out them insects that's eatin' the leaves off them."

TRAGEDIES.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 14.—James Towns, of Purdyville, a 19-year-old boy, died here today of the result of a wound received by the explosion of a blank cartridge on Independence Day.

LYNN, MASS., July 13.—An explosion of dynamite at the plant of A. Towns & Co., caused the destruction of the wire plant by fire tonight. Loss about $30,000.

LONDON, July 13.—A despatch to a news agency from Odessa says that following a spell of tropical heat, violent storms have been experienced throughout the Southern portion of Russia. Reports from a large number of districts show that over a quarter of a million acres of cereals have been destroyed, a number of lives were lost, and heavy losses of lives were sustained. In Bessarabia large tracts of vineyards were ravaged and orchards all over the province suffered.

IT IS ESTIMATED THAT THE SOUTH RUSSIAN CROPS OF WHEAT, RYE AND BARLEY THIS YEAR WILL BE BELOW THAT GENERALLY DESCRIBED AS A "LOW TO MIDDLING YIELD."

BUFFALO, N. Y., July 13.—A special to the Times from Dorby says:—"The oldest and youngest sons of the Rev. A. Emil Lindman, pastor of Zion Reformed Evangelical Church, of Buffalo, were drowned in Lake Erie off Angelo yesterday, and another son who was out sailing with them had a narrow escape from death. Up to 11 o'clock today the bodies of the two boys had not been recovered."

KNOXVILLE, TENN., July 14.—A long distance telephone message to the Journal and Tribune from Johnson City, Tenn., says:

"Six persons met instant death and twenty were injured when eastbound vestibule No. 42, on the Southern Railway, collided with a switch engine on mile west of Johnson City at 7.30 o'clock tonight. The engine was in the charge of a hostler, who when he saw the fast passenger train coming toward him, reversed his engine and jumped to safety. Scarcely had he done so before the passenger train crashed into the light engine with fearful force. The engine of the passenger, baggage car, mail car and second-class coach were derailed and overturned. The switch engine was not injured from the rails and with a full head of steam started on a wild run which was not ended until a switch was thrown for it and it was derailed at Carnegie. The lives of the mail clerks were saved because of the fact that their car was of heavy steel construction. This heavy car, however, played havoc with the light second-class coach behind, which was entirely telescoped. The second-class coach was occupied by George Moore, while a labor agent for the Virginia and Southwestern R. R., who was conducting a party of twenty negroes from Alabama to North Carolina was perhaps fatally hurt and of the negroes six were killed outright, while all the others were maimed and injured. The injured include: Sam Bush, of Knoxville, right arm and slight internal injuries. Fireman Bryson, Knoxville, slight injuries. F. O. Sharpe, Knoxville, mail clerk, seriously injured. Archibald Moor, mill clerk, one leg slightly hurt. George Moore, labor agent, badly crushed, perhaps fatally hurt. Physicians from the National Soldiers' Home at Johnson City were first upon the scene. Relief trains were sent to the wreck from both Knoxville and Bristol."

LEWISTON, ME., July 14.—The body of Tommie Sherry, the eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sherry, 46 Knox street, who fell from the Maine Central R. R. bridge into the river Saturday afternoon was recovered by the police this morning at 9 o'clock. It is supposed that the boy in crossing a narrow span lost his balance and fell into the Androscoggin.

ACTRESS WIFE SUES EARL.

Anna Robinson Wants Divorce From Rosslyn.

She Says the Correspondent is Wife of an American—She Settled $10,000 a Year on the Earl.

LONDON, July 13.—The Countess of Rosslyn has begun an action for divorce. The announcement that she has done so created no surprise here in the circles acquainted with the pair. Since shortly after their marriage things between the couple have been at odds and ends, and the divorce suit, which is now made public, is merely the sequel to practically a year and a half of separation.

Just about this time last year efforts at reconciliation were made by American friends of the pair, and for a time it looked as if they might succeed, but the Countess insisted upon holding on to her fortune too tightly to suit her husband. At least so it was rumored, and the reconciliation did not come about.

The original trouble is believed to have started through financial differences. The Earl of Rosslyn for years has been devoted to gambling at Monte Carlo. He followed her to a system which would surely break the bank, provided he had capital enough. After he lost a fortune there his wife told him she was quite capable of squandering her own money and refused to furnish further contributions for the coffers of M. Blanc. From that time there were constant jars in the household, and the upshot was that the Earl left his Norfolk street house and lived in London hotels or in Paris. The Countess said to a correspondent of the Sun tonight:—"It is quite true that I have entered a suit for divorce. The matter was served upon the Earl last August, but since then I have been so ill that I have been unable to proceed with the case. I have had just one continental trip feeling very fit, and I am now determined to see the matter through. The greatest sinners are statutory ones required for a divorce in England, including desertion, adultery and cruelty. The correspondent is well known in London and his husband in the United States Navy. The cruelty consisted of abusing me with physical violence. My proofs are absolute and I am confident that my petition will be granted."

It is likely that if the Earl contests the case there will be some interesting and spicy revelations on both sides. One hotel incident will largely figure in the trial. The greatest sinners are statutory ones required for a divorce in England, including desertion, adultery and cruelty. The correspondent is well known in London and his husband in the United States Navy. The cruelty consisted of abusing me with physical violence. My proofs are absolute and I am confident that my petition will be granted."

The marriage of the Earl and Miss Robinson, which came as a surprise, was from the Earl's side, a love match, but after a while through his efforts his sister, the Duchess of Sutherland, gave her consent to the match. The Earl and the Duchess invited her to her Scottish seat and she was made a welcome guest there. This happy condition was not long of continuing, and the divorce proceedings were in progress.

The Earl of Rosslyn played in New York under the management of Charles Frohman several years ago under the name of J. Rosslyn. He was married in London on March 29, 1895, to Anna Robinson, an American actress, who settled $10,000 a year upon him. He had previously been married in 1889 to Violet Aline Vyner. She left him and he got a divorce from her on the ground of infidelity and desertion, and she married Charles Jarrot, an automobilist.

Rosslyn served with Thorneycroft's Horse in South Africa, participated in the relief of Ladysmith, and was war correspondent for a London newspaper during the campaign. He is now 38 years old.

It was in March of last year that reports first reached this country that the Earl and his Countess had separated at Monte Carlo. He was reported as saying that "it was impossible," although otherwise a charming and delightful person. The Countess's opinion of the actor nobleman apparently was the same.

The Countess was formerly Anna Robinson, the daughter of a hotel proprietor in Minneapolis. She and her sister Margaret left Minnesota about fourteen years ago to go on the stage. Anna, being a beauty and in the chorus of the Weber and Fields shows, made many conquests. She was reported engaged to several persons. When she was about a year hence was coupled with that of several lesser English noblemen, as well as that of Leopold, King of the Belgians. She had money when she married Rosslyn. Most of it was said to have been won on the turf.

After her marriage she leased Turso Castle in Scotland in which to entertain her friends. She tried to break into society by that path but it wasn't a go.

BAD OLD PENSIONER WAS LIKELY MURDERED.

Milton Richards, Civil War Veteran, Found Dead in Burning House in New Hampshire.

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 13.—The county authorities tonight were investigating the death of Milton Richards, a civil war veteran and pensioner, whose body, terribly burned, was found early today in the ruins of the house near the village of Goffstown, where he lived alone. Although no formal report was made tonight by the physicians who held the autopsy on the body, it is understood that the condition of the body indicated foul play. The charred skull appeared to have been crushed as if by a blow, and there are said to have been other evidences of mutilation.

Richards, who was 65 years old, drew his pension money yesterday, and it is said that last night he entertained some Manchester acquaintances. Early today, Joseph Hall, a section hand on the railroad, discovered that Richards's house was on fire, and he called the Goffstown fire department which arrived too late, however, to prevent the building from being destroyed. Lying on the ruins of a bed in one of the rooms, the firemen found the charred body of Richards. He had apparently been lying dressed as he lay on the bed. The authorities tonight were working on the theory that the man was robbed and killed and the house set on fire to conceal the crime. A can which had apparently contained kerosene oil, was found near the bed. According to neighbors, Richards had been in the habit of receiving friends from Manchester and having a celebration on the night following the receipt of his pension money. Persons passing the house last night heard shouting and singing at a late hour.

BROKE THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR THROWING THE HAMMER.

NEW YORK, July 15.—The American this morning says, Matt McGrath, the New York A. C. star, is now the world's champion steeplechase hammer thrower. He attained this honor at Celtic Park yesterday in competition at the Tipperary Men's Association games, when he threw the iron ball 175 feet, 8 inches, which breaks John Finnegan's world's record of 172 feet, 11 inches, by 2 feet 9 inches.

The new world's champion in all his trials previous to his record throw, got the ball over 170 feet. It was on his fifth trial that he made the mark. When the distance was announced, the 500 spectators gave McGrath an ovation. He is a member of the New York City police force.

NEW ASSESSMENT ACT UNPOPULAR

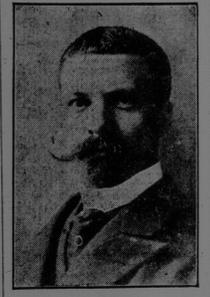

FREDERICTON Merchants Who Bear the Greatest Part of Burden are Very Indignant

FREDERICTON, July 14.—The Fredericton tax list for the new assessment act passed at the last session of the legislature has been made known. It was expected that in many cases the surprise would be great, and in this respect there is no disappointment. To say however, that several leading citizens regard the new system of taxation with the greatest indignation, is putting it in the mildest form. One of the chief merchants when asked his opinion, simply said it is a violent outrage and this seems to be the general opinion among this class of ratepayers. There is no denying the fact that outside of the banks, the merchants are the ones who shoulder the burden. The taxes of these individuals in many instances are more than doubled. The working out of the law produces some interesting and peculiar instances. Some of the richest pay less than they did last year, and some of those of moderate wealth pay more than such rich companies as the New Brunswick Telephone Company, and the Fredericton Gas Company. A study of the present list compared with last year's list forms interesting reading. The assessors appear to have done their work well and no blame attaches to them for not pleasing all parties. It is the act itself when put into practice that causes the dissatisfaction. Rev. Hudson Street, with Mrs. Street, will leave in the morning on a three weeks' vacation, which will be spent at Carleton, St. John. Bishop Richardson arrived home last evening and preached at both services at the Cathedral. Mrs. Bailey, wife of Dr. L.V. Bailey, had the misfortune to fall down stairs at her residence, University avenue, last evening. Besides dislocating her right shoulder, Mrs. Bailey received a bad shaking up and will be confined to her bed for a long time.

GREAT CROWDS TO HEAR BOURASSA

Did Not Definitely Announce Entry into Provincial Arena but Attacked Gouin and Laurier Administrations

MONTMAGNY, July 14.—A large crowd of electors, including many from Quebec City, assembled here this afternoon, expecting to hear an announcement from Henri Bourassa regarding his rumored entry into provincial politics. In this they were disappointed, as Bourassa was decidedly non-committal. But they heard an excellent speech from the member for LaBelle, in which he discussed, with no sparing criticism, the governments of both Quebec province and the Dominion. While Bourassa made no definite announcement, his speech gave the general impression that he was awaiting a favorable moment to descend upon the provincial arena. The meeting was called by Armand

MARVELLOUS FEAT OF INDIAN CHIEF

Swam Nine Hours Holding Daughter and Her Babe, But Both Succumbed Before Shore Was Reached

VANCOUVER, July 13.—For nine hours last night Chief Charlie James, of the Squamish Indians, swam shoreward in the Gulf of Georgia, burdened by the weight of his daughter and her babe. From three o'clock in the afternoon until midnight he held them one by either arm, but by the time he had reached shore at Point Grey, west of Vancouver, the young woman and her child had succumbed. The big Indian's endurance is probably one of the most marvelous on record. At three o'clock yesterday afternoon, six Indians including the three mentioned, were upset from a canoe. The seas were running high and the boat was swamped. The young Indian woman was thrown away from the boat with her child in her arms. Others clung to the craft. Chief Charlie swam to the assistance of his daughter and grandchild but was never able to regain the canoe. Laverne to give an account of his stewardship with his constituents of Montserrat. But Laverne was lost in the larger issue, and the crowd had gathered to hear what Bourassa had to say. The meeting was an interesting proof of the growing influence of the Labels member over his constituents. Bourassa in his speech referred to the Laurier and Gouin administrations. Mr. Laurier was followed with keen attention and frequent applause. Bourassa in his speech referred to some length to the Provost-Turgeon-Asselin affair and desired most emphatically that Hon. Mr. Gouin owed it to the province of Quebec as well as the Liberal party that no provincial election should be held to cloud the issue until another session of the legislature had been called and a serious investigation could be held into charges against the minister.

MANY NEW PUPILS EXPECTED THIS YEAR

Dr. Bridges Says That Something Must Be Done at Once to Relieve the Congestion.

Superintendent Bridges stated to a Sun representative Saturday afternoon that the present indications were that there would be a greatly increased attendance at the schools next term. As the present buildings are now being used to their full capacity and are overcrowded, something must be done at once to prepare for the expected increase in attendances. This lack of accommodation will be mostly felt at the High School, as the number of those to enter is larger than last year by about 70. At present there are two eighth grade class rooms in the High School, but these will have to give way to the ninth grade if the High School is to do its work efficiently, and will necessitate the preparing of accommodations in other parts of the city for the grade eight classes. It was suggested that rooms be hired for this purpose, but suitable rooms with the proper sanitary regulations carried out would be very hard to find, and even in such an event this would not relieve the situation for any length of time. If increased accommodation is not at once provided the rooms will be so crowded in some of the schools that the teachers will be much handicapped in their work and will not be able to teach with the best average results. Instead of saying, "Well we were crowded in our school days, and what was good enough for us is good enough for them," it is safe to say the outcome would mean much for the efficiency of the city schools. TORONTO, July 14.—The Street Railway Company decided today to accede to demands of the men for an increase of three cents an hour all around.

ANNUAL CRUISE BEGAN SATURDAY

Fleet Spent Sunday at Brown's Flats are Now at Hampstead—Slight Fire on Lou'na

The eleventh annual cruise of the Royal Kennebecensis Yacht Club began on Saturday under magnificent weather conditions. The afternoon was bright with sunshine and the five-tyeet showers were not heavy enough to make matters unpleasant. The breeze was strong and although a head wind, it was a great deal better than a weak breeze. At three o'clock in the afternoon the starting gun was fired on board the flagship of the squadron, the Hudson, and the boats one by one weighed anchor and left Millidgeville bound for the waters of Grand Lake. The yachts that went up river were the Hudson, Commodore Robert Thomson; Windward, T. E. Powers; Lovina, P. J. Likely; Armored, Peter Sinclair; Whizzone, Howard Holder; Yagabond, H. A. Merrill; Gracie M. W. McLaughlin; Robin Hood, E. T. Lantalam; Columbia, F. Garrett; Walter E. C. E. Elwell; Rose, Alder Evans; Lolita, S. P. Gerow. The fleet reached Brown's Flats Saturday night where they spent Sunday. They left there yesterday morning and anchored at Hampstead. This morning they left for Grand Lake. The only accident reported so far was a fire in the galley of the Lou'na caused by an oil stove running over. The damage was confined to the galley, the fire having been extinguished in a short time. The boys had a very pleasant day at Brown's Flats, the weather being all that could be desired. KINGSTON, Ont., July 13.—Joseph H. Thompson, Grand Trunk conductor, sentenced by Justice Riddell at Quebec to three years in Kingston penitentiary for violation of railway rules, resulting in wrecking of his train, has been pardoned and will be released at once on an order from the Minister of Justice.

COBALT MINERS YIELD A POINT

Will Not Demand Recognition of Union But No Immediate Settlement is Looked For

COBALT, Ont., July 12.—The conference committee representing the miners' union and the mine owners met again today at the office of the Ontario mine and further discussed the questions at issue. Nothing specific in regard to the negotiations have voted to keep the deliberations secret. While detailed reports are not made, considerable cannot but leak out regarding the progress in the conference. It is known that the negotiations are progressing very slowly, both sides evincing considerable reserve and suspicion. It is also known that the miners have helped matters considerably by yielding on the point of recognition of the union and the employment of none but union men at the mines. Feeling that this was a point the mine owners would find most serious to agree on, the committee of the union have given the mine owners a written statement to the effect that they will not demand recognition of the miners' union and that they do not ask that non-union help shall not be employed at the mines. Thus the mine owners are to remain open shops, employing union or non-union men as the owners may select. The miners have even agreed to allow the conference committee to consist of six miners, three union men and three non-union men. The discussions yesterday had largely to do with the causes which led up to the strike and an attempt to clear away misunderstandings. The questions of wages and hours were not reached. There is a difference of fifty cents a day between the two parties and two hours a day in time for underground work. The union agrees to ten hour days for surface work and the owners want the same for underground, claiming that so much time is lost getting from the surface to the work underground and from work back again to the surface, that the men really work little more than eight hours per day.

N. S. STEEL DIRECTORS GREATLY PLEASED

The Company Has Made Splendid Showing the Past Year

HALIFAX, July 12.—During the last few days President Harris, Thomas Cantley, J. C. McGregor, F. McKay and J. A. Stairs have been in Sydney Mines and yesterday held a directors' meeting of the Nova Scotia Steel and Coal Co. While in town the visitors were shown over the plant by T. J. Brown and were greatly impressed with the marked changes and improvements. The result of the conference has not been given out as President Harris expressed gratification at the splendid showing of the company this year. "In every department," said Mr. Harris this morning, "there has been rapid improvement and surprisingly good results, and so far as I can see a big surprise awaits the directors at the next annual meeting." Last month the total coal output for three collieries, not counting number four, was fifty-eight thousand six hundred tons. What pleased the directors most was the magnificent output of the blast furnaces, where six thousand tons of steel was the output for June, a record output of the works. It is possible that a compromise might be reached on the question of wages, with the matter of hours a more difficult proposition to solve. No immediate verdict either way is expected, but the prospects for peace are rather better than they were two days ago, and it is very evident that both sides are abstaining from all charges that would cause friction. The action of the Temiskaming Mining Company in accepting the union wage scale and hours is the first serious break in the ranks of the mine owners, and may have an important bearing on the progress of the peace conference. The Temiskaming did not sign the wage scale issued by the miners, and was therefore free to take any action thought best. Ed. O'Byrne, of the Western Federation of Miners has arrived in the camp and is in charge of the strike. He strongly encourages the men and promises them hearty support from the big federation. He addressed a public meeting of the strikers today and created a very favorable impression.

The steamer Madrileiro arrived in port this morning from Cienfuegos, Cuba, consigned to Wm. Thomson & Co. She loads deals for the Old Country.

A very enjoyable dance was held in the Orange hall at Westfield on Saturday night. About one hundred young people were present. Refreshments were served. The chaperons were Mrs. J. Verne McLellan, Mrs. Edward Sears and Mrs. D. J. Brown.

A Mrs. Lockhart called at the police station this morning and complained of hard usage from her husband. She is a young woman and appeared to be greatly distressed. She says that she is not being supported by her husband who has been drinking, heavily and that he has gone so far as to even sell the fire wood from the shed to purchase liquor. The police have notified Lockhart to come to court and give an explanation of his actions.

The court room was crowded to hear a case against Wm. White, who was charged with being drunk and profane and with kicking Policeman Crawford doing bodily harm. The policeman has two severely damaged eyes, and his body is sore where he claims White hit him, and kicks were also given by members in the crowd at the time of the arrest.

The officer said that in response to a telephone message he went to the old burying ground Saturday night and there found White drunk and swearing while in the company of two other men. He advised White to go home, and White started but broke away from his two friends on Union street. Two more men got him and kicked him up Waterloo street, but he kicked again, and when told for the third time he made improper remarks to the officer and was placed under arrest. White kicked, and had to be thrown to the ground where he was struck by the baton when he kicked in answer to Mr. J. B. M. Baxter who appeared for White, the policeman said that the crowd closed in on the man and he was thrown away from him, and kicked him. When the prisoner was taken to the station, Dr. D. E. Derynham was summoned and White persisted having his wounds sewed up, so the officer said he caught him by the throat and held him down while the doctor put the stitches in the wound. The officer said he did not know any in the crowd who did the kicking, but he has a fair idea who they were and they would be seen later. The boots were used on him freely.

Gilbert Robertson said that White was seen badly in the old burying ground, and as they insulted a woman, he telephoned for the police. When the officer and White got in a mix-up, witness went for other officers to assist, and got two from Charlotte street, near the market. In reply to the magistrate, witness said that White had been acting badly in the burying ground for over half an hour and no policeman came that way. He saw some one pull the policeman's baton and throw it away.

Robert Ledingham, of Union street, said he saw three men proceed along the street. They fell and one of the number got up and kicked the man who was down. Someone was using most abusive language, and cried out, "Crawford you can't take me." He saw the baton go up and heard the prisoner say he was struck. The prisoner was bleeding. The man who did the kicking ran away. F. Kelly said he saw the officer strike the prisoner with the baton.

Ernest Shields, a clerk in Porter's grocery shop saw Crawford throw White to the ground and White said "My God, give me a show Bob, my eye's out." He was covered with blood. Wm. Maloin saw on Waterloo street and saw White coming along. He was not creating a disturbance. A man in plain clothes caught hold of him and he went down on his back. The man on top had White by the throat. He thought it was a fight and he tried to separate the men. The man on top pulled a baton and struck White with it. He tried to get the officer's hand from the under man's throat and he thought it was a fight. The man on top had the best of it and he went to aid the under man who was getting the worst of it. He recognized White and did not know at the time that his opponent was an officer. When he saw White get a thump on the head it went against his grain and he could not stand to see the under man getting the worst of it.

Policeman Crawford said he thought there were lots of witnesses.

The case was adjourned until tomorrow morning at ten o'clock.

SAYS THE OTTAWA HOTEL SOLD LIQUOR ON SUNDAY

Drunk Under Arrest Makes Tuis Charge—Case Against Gunner White for Resisting the Police

There were twelve prisoners on the police court bench this morning. The majority were drunks and were fined the usual amounts. One of the number said he called at a place named the "taps" and got three quarts of booze.

Another young fellow from Carleton was arrested on Saturday night, and when asked where he got the liquor he promptly said, "at the Ottawa Hotel."

He was taken in hand by the Liquor License Inspector Jones, and it is likely a complaint will be made against the hotel.

The magistrate said that it was the unfortunate who got drunk that had to pay for he did not have the pull that the man who sells the liquor has. Probably if there was a premium offered for getting these illegal sellers there would be something done, but now the police have only an oath to persuade them to do their duty.

Grace Heecham was arrested Saturday night on the charge of keeping a disorderly house on Sheffield street and Maggie Dugay and Minnie Ducit were arrested for being inmates. They all pleaded not guilty and were remanded.

The court room was crowded to hear a case against Wm. White, who was charged with being drunk and profane and with kicking Policeman Crawford doing bodily harm. The policeman has two severely damaged eyes, and his body is sore where he claims White hit him, and kicks were also given by members in the crowd at the time of the arrest.

YEO ON TRIAL FOR ASSAULTING A CHILD

Witness Testifies to Seeing the Crime Committed—Woman Punched the Prisoner.

CHATHAM, N. B., July 15—The trial of Richard Yeo, aged 50, charged with committing rape on Bessie Black, the three year old daughter of E. Black of this town, was commenced this morning behind closed doors. A large crowd had collected in the room but Judge Connors turned them all out. The first witness was Mrs. Isaac, of Newcastle. She said she was with Mrs. Patrick Whalen when the latter saw Yeo assaulting the little girl near the woods in the exhibition park. Mrs. Whalen called to Major Ramsay and all three gave chase to Yeo, who dropped the child and ran. Yeo dodged Ramsay but Mrs. Whalen caught him and knocked him down and after she had secured him she hit him two or three times. Mrs. Whalen is a large, strong woman. The other witnesses to be called this afternoon are Dr. Byrne, who examined the child, Mrs. Whalen, Major Ramsay and Isaac McDonald.

The court room was crowded to hear a case against Wm. White, who was charged with being drunk and profane and with kicking Policeman Crawford doing bodily harm. The policeman has two severely damaged eyes, and his body is sore where he claims White hit him, and kicks were also given by members in the crowd at the time of the arrest.

Fifteen Year Old Daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Campbell Missing Since Saturday.

The fifteen year old daughter of Mrs. Rebecca Campbell, of Somerset street, after being scolded by her mother, ran away from home Saturday. She has since which time Mrs. Campbell has been greatly worried about the young girl. It is thought she has gone to Moncton where she has relatives. Mrs. Campbell was informed that her daughter had gone to Moncton or Halifax and this morning asked the assistance of the police in locating her and having her returned to the city.

Mrs. Campbell says the girl was working in a printing establishment, but left it to go to work in a bakery. Mrs. Campbell told her to return to the printing office as she considered it a better position for her daughter. She also scolded her for leaving her position. Mrs. Campbell is employed as a nurse and was not aware of her daughter's departure from the city until yesterday as she did not get home until then.
