Portry.

On the Death of President Lincoln.

Gently! gently! for the life blood From its source is flowing fast;
And the Martyr's burning forehead
To his everlasting rest.

Not a word, a sign or token, E'en to her he loved so well; Ah! destroyer thou hast broken Every chance to say farewell.

Stricken while the gens of glory Glittered proudly on his brow—While yet nations read the story Of the rebels overthrow.

Stricken while glad shouts of triumph Filled the air and rent the sky—While he sipped sweet drops of pleasure From the cup of Victory.

Bear him gently for his great heart Throbbled with pity for the slaves,
And he pledged his word to free them That the land was strewn with graves.

Farewell, brave and kindly spirit—Thou hast won a world's renown; May thy soul with joy inherit Heaven and a glorious crown.

A Cool Apology.—They had a ball at R. the other night which brought out remarkable experiences. Among other events the following instance of a cool-spongy took place.

Bill P. is known all over B. and Bill was at the ball in all his glory. All his good music, pretty girls, and whisky. The evening passed off rapidly, as it always does, and Bill had, about one o'clock, become pretty lumpy. Stepping up to a young lady, he requested the pleasure of dancing with her.

She replied that she was engaged for the next set.

She said she was.

"Can I dance with you next, then?"

"I am engaged for that also."

"Can I dance with you to-night?"

"No, Sir," with some hesitancy.

"Go to Boston," said Bill, highly indignant, and turned on his heel.

After a few moments Bill is accosted by the brother of the young lady, and charged with insulting his sister.

Bill denies; but professes himself willing to apologise if he has done wrong, and accordingly steps up to the young lady, when the following conversation ensued.

"Miss L., I understand I have insulted you."

"You have, sir."

"What did I say, Miss L.?"

"You told me to go to Boston."

"Well," said Bill, "I have come to tell you that you needn't go."

Rayner tells.—A ludicrous incident occurred at "Woodland," on the Blooming-dale road, Jones' Hotel of that place is assailed with a hostler's son in an assault on his face. One day in January, while twenty or thirty fast gentlemen were standing on the front balcony of the hotel, an individual rode up the path on the thinnest horse mortal eyes ever looked upon.

Leaping from his phantom steed, the equesian said, turning to the hostler: "Here, John, give my horse some water." "Sir?" said John, with a look of astonishment.—
"Give my horse some water," thundered the stranger. "Your horse?" ejaculated John, with more surprise. "Yes, you fool, my horse!" said the stranger, looking savagely at him and commenced drawing the lash of his whip through his hand. John walked toward him as though he would demand an explanation, and had taken about six steps when he suddenly stopped like one surprised beyond expression. "Bless my soul," said he, "I ask your pardon, sir; but your animal stood on a line with that ear bitting post, and I didn't see him." The owner of the spectral beast tried to frown, but a roar from the balcony made him change his mind.

As DULL as a Hoe.—Why should the hue be made the whipping post for so many blundered scythes, axes, knives, and other tools? As dull as a hoe! Many a farmer works the year through with a hoe whose edge is thicker than an old-fashioned copper, and a few minutes turning of the grindstone would put it in good working order. A sharp hoe saves time and strength, and does one's work better than a dull one. No farmer will mow ordinarily longer than a day, without grinding his scythe; why not always keep an edge also upon the hoe?

ARRELS SESSIONS, 1865.

Grand Jury Report.

The Grand Jury having assembled for the discharge of their duty in examining the County and Parish Accounts submitted to them, beg leave to report thereon as follows:—

The bill of James Brown, St. George, for $5 50, was thrown out by the Jurors.
We recommend that the bill of A. W.
Smith be reduced to $60.

The Grand Jury have examined the County Accounts, and find a great many without vouchers, and they would suggest that no accounts should be received without proper vouchers. The Grand Jury would also suggest that no accounts should be paid unless they are properly vouched for.

The Grand Jury have examined the Parish Accounts, and find the Audit Committee's report for the Parish of St. Stephen, that the Road Commissioner, John Egan, has charged ed $1 25 per day, and we think he should not have more than $1 per day for 78 days.

The Grand Jury would suggest that if the delinquent Auctioneers named in J. H.
Whitlock's report, came it show that they have not sold goods at Auction, should be proceeded against as the law directs.

St. George's Parish.
The Grand Jury cannot recommend the payment of $10 in account of Michael McCarroll, for truckage, we also consider the amount $35 charged as paid to Elizabeth Thomas, as vague and unsatisfactory, the other accounts of this Parish are correct.

St. George's Parish.
The Grand Jury do recommend and request that James Moran, the Overseer of the middle district of St. George, do furnish Dr.
R. Thomson's bill of items for the sum of $30 80, paid him by the said Moran for the upper district, or the demand be disallowed; also as the said Parish has paid for the burial of Wm. Lockman, the charge of Maxwell for making and burying the said Lockman be disallowed. We notice in the St. George Account of James Moran, Overseer of the poor, that $2 per week paid for the support of Wm. Lockman, when others were made by responsible parties for $80 per year—would recommend that the said Overseer be required to pay the difference himself. We likewise find in Collector Lee's account no vouchers for $40 expended on James Lee.

St. Andrews Parish.
The Grand Jury find there is no account of expenditure from Firewards; they would recommend that the Sessions appoint a committee to investigate Firewards account, and recommend form of Engine house to be paid; we also wish a committee appointed to investigate the county Road Commissioner's account district No 1, we find $38 96 charged for collecting.

Campbello & Grand Manan Parishes.
The Grand Jury find no accounts from these Parishes; the accounts from the remaining Parishes found correct.

As the Grand Jury have no means of ascertaining the correctness of accounts lacking vouchers, we cannot recommend the payment of the same. The Grand Jury is of opinion that the Collectors generally are very amiss in their duties, and consequently the County sustains a heavy loss; we recommend that they be instructed to comply strictly with the law regarding the collecting of rates.

The Grand Jury are of opinion that the charge of 25 per cent. in A. Elliot's account of dog tax, should be reduced to 20 per cent.

The Grand Jury from general information concerning before them, are of opinion that in several of the Parishes there are a number of persons selling liquor without licenses, and also that a large majority of those that have licenses do not possess the qualification required by law, we therefore would recommend that strict enquiry be made with regard to the above, and that a little more respect may be had and enforced with regard to the law regulating the sale of spirituous liquors.

The Grand Jury beg to report that they have examined the Jail and find to the credit of those in charge, cleanliness and good order prevailing.

The Grand Jury think very strange of the large accounts of Andrew Elliot and B.
R. Fitzgerald of St. Andrews, finding there is no such accounts from other Parishes.

The Grand Jury recommend that the sum $2,000 be assessed for County contingencies.
The Grand Jury cannot conclude their report without expressing the grief they feel in common with your Worship, at the great loss the County has sustained by the death of Thos Jones Esq. late Sheriff of this County, who has so faithfully performed the duties of that office for twenty-five years; a gentleman universally beloved and respected—While the Grand Jury regret the occasion that made it necessary, they would congratulate the County on the judicious appointment of A. T. Paul, Esq., to the office of High Sheriff of this County, with the hope that he may be long permitted to fulfil faithfully the duties pertaining to the office, believing that he possesses the abilities to perform those duties.

We recommend that the above report be published in the Standard.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Cory O'Leary on Family Affairs.

The Brooklyn Eagle has a correspondent who knows a thing or two. Hear him: It is a good thing for a man to pay attention to his family.

Provided he has one.
Married men generally have one. So have I.

It is the natural consequence of getting married.
Families, like everything else, are more expensive than they used to be. Shirts and clothes cost a sight, now a days, and children have mostly good appetites.

My wife.
Boys will be boys. They can't help it.
They were born so. It is their destiny to tear their trousers and wear out two pairs of boots per month; keeping their blessed ma-consistently employed like a besieged garrison, repairing breeches, and their unfortunate pa-paying out currency, under strong conviction that there is nothing like leather—to wear out.

I tried copper-toed boots on my hair—The copper boots were well, and I have an idea that copper boots would be a good idea, but I could not find a metallic shoemaker to carry it out.

Mrs. O'L. also became attached to copper, and thought it would be an improvement and save sewing if boys' pantaloons were like ships and tea kettles, copper bottomed.
The suggestion was A No. 1, but we haven't tried it yet.

Copper so ran in my head at the time that O'Pake called me a copperhead.
This was the origin of the term.

Mrs. O'L. is a managing woman. She makes trousers for our son, Alexander. The mistakes, out of mine when I've done with him. He can get through three pairs to my one ordinarily, and I am obliged to wear out my clothes faster than I used to, in order to keep him supplied.

I once suggested that it might be within the resources of art and industry to make him a pair out of new material.

Mrs. O'L. said positively that it could not be done. It would ruin him. She concluded it was cheaper to cut up a pair I had paid twelve dollars for.

I subsequently found upon inquiry that new cloth for the purpose could have been bought for about two dollars.

I ventured to tell Mrs. O'L., expecting a triumph of male foresight over female lack of judgment.

She gave me a look of scorn, as she wanted to know if I had asked the price of "trimmings." I have been afraid of trimmings ever since.

Trimmings, I suppose, mean buttons and things.
In addition to clothes, the action of our house runs up other expenses.
But what is the expense compared with the joy a father feels, when after a day's laborious exercise at the office, wrestling with a steel pen, he returns to his domestic retreat, and a met at the gate by a smiling cherub, who, in tones that go to his fong parent's heart, and makes him forget his troubles, with, "Hollo pa, give me a penny."

Your head instinctively goes to the seat of your affections, your pocket, and draws forth the coveted coin, which is promptly invested in molasses candy.

only tillage or manure the currents have received is the application of leached ashes, once in about five years.

The Ellsworth American, contains an article on the inconvenience of undertaking any enterprise in a small village, owing to the disposition of its inhabitants, to pry into the affairs of others, which at the same time may least concern themselves. The smaller the town, the more the disposition to scandal and gossip. The denizens of large cities, escape those bores. The point is well taken by the American when it says: "One of those perplexing inconveniences attending all small villages, is that each man, if so disposed, can walk out any morning and find out what all his neighbors have for breakfast, or what tailor makes their clothes. The most aristocratic of aristocracies, is that of seven by nine villages, and the greatest hindrance to good neighborhood understandings, is your 'large language' in politics, religion, and social position. But these remarks are thrown in parenthetically, and perhaps had better not have been written, and certainly not, unless they have a tendency to correct some evils which disturb the peace and harmony of those who should be friends."

PHILOSOPHICAL FACTS.—Sound travels at the rate of 1,155 feet per second in the air, 4,960 in the water, 11,000 in cast iron, 17,- 000 in steel, 18,000 in glass, and from 5,637 to 17,000 in wood.

Mercury freezes at 32 degrees Fahrheit, and becomes a solid mass, malleable under the hammer.

The greatest height at which visible clouds ever exist, does not exceed ten miles.
Air is about 816 times lighter than water.
The pressure of the atmosphere upon every square foot of earth amounts to 2,898 lbs.— An ordinary sized man, supposing his surface to be fifteen square feet, sustains the enormous pressure of 40,140 lbs.

Heat rarifies air to such an extent that it may be made to occupy 5,500 times the space it did before.

The violence of the expansion of water when freezing is sufficient to cleave a globe of copper of such thickness as to require a force of 28,000 pounds to produce the same effect.

During the conversion of ice into water, 140 degrees of heat are consumed.

Electricity moves with greater velocity than light, which traverses 200,000 miles of space in a second of time.

Thunder can be heard at a distance of 30 miles.
Lightning can be seen by reflections at the distance of 200 miles.

The News-Paper.

No family can afford to be without a good family newspaper, and it should be one that brings intelligence on all the subjects of the day in which they feel most deeply interested. Newspapers are for public information, and not for individual reputation, for in those of the most influence and character, the impersonality of the writer shuts out all opportunity adding to his literary reputation, even if the ephemeral character of the subjects upon which his labor is bestowed—scarcely lasting beyond a day—and the necessity of popularizing his style to suit the mixed character of his readers did not deny him the opportunity of obtaining additional distinction in the world of letters. But if his ambition covers a wider field than mere personal reputation, and his wish is to give the world the benefit of the intelligence and information he may possess, the press is the most certain means of direct and extensive communication with the public, for it reaches to every sphere and condition of society, and impresses itself vividly upon the public mind —because it treats of matters which are of daily and hourly interest, and constitutes in fact the current life of the people. This is acknowledged, both in this country and in Europe, where the first scholars in the world and the most clearheaded thinkers in every field of intelligence contribute to the columns.

SUGAR BEETS FOR MILCH COWS.—A correspondent of the Germantown Telegraph thinks that if farmers will try a single row of well prepared sugar beets this season, and feed them to their milch cows next winter, they will be sure to plant more next year.

In 1857, I got a good, ordinary cow, from the 1st of 11th month, (November,) hold a bushel sugar beets daily, mixed with half a peck of meal, (in very cold weather I scalded them,) and as much hay and corn-fodder as she would eat. Her average yield of butter per week up to the 10th of 1st month, (January,) 1858, when all the beets were used up, was 7½ pounds. I then substituted carrots for the beets, giving her the same quantity, together with the meal and hay as before; and her average for the next thirty days was less than five pounds butter per week, and the quantity of milk had also very much decreased. I then tried cut hay and meal scalded, and she averaged a triffe over six pounds, a week for three weeks, when her milk was mixed with that of other cows.

Nine tenths of the miseries and vices of manhood proceed from idleness; with men of quick minds to which life is especially pernicious, this habit is commonly the fruits of many disappointments, and schemes, not so much from the want of strength, as from the ill-direction of it. The weakest living creature, by concentrating his powers upon a single object, can accomplish something; the strongest by dispersing his energies fails to accomplish anything. The drop, by continual falling, bores its passage through the hardest rock; the hasty torrent rushes over it with hideous uproar and leaves no trace behind.

A BEAUTIFUL PRAYER.—Lord, bless and preserve that dear person whom thou hast chosen to be my dear husband; let his life be long and blessed, comfortable and holy; and let me also become a greater blessing and comfort unto him, a sharer of all his joys, a refreshment to all his sorrows, a most helper for him in all his accidents and chances of the world; make me amiable always in his eyes, and very dear to him. Unite his heart to me in the dearest union of love and holiness, and mine to him in all sweetness, charity and compliances. Keep me from all un-gentleness, all discontentedness and unreasonableness of passion and humor; and make me humble and obedient, useful and observant, that we may delight in each other according to the blessed word and ordinance, and both of us may rejoice in thee, having our portion in the love and service of God forever.—Basil Montague.

FROM THE STATES.

Boston, April 28.
The principal topic yesterday and to-day is the death of Booth and arrest of Harbord. It is stated that important developments in regard to the murderous conspiracy have been made by the latter.
Booth fractured his left leg in jumping from the box to the stage after killing the President, and was compelled to use crutches after his escape. He had a repeating carabine several pistols, and a bowie knife in the bag, and swore to would not be taken alive, which compelled one of his pursuers to fire upon him with fatal effect. His body is on board a gunboat off the Washington Navy Yard.

Advices from Montgomery, Ala., state that the rebels burned 95,000 bales of cotton before evacuating that city.

April 28.
A Louisville despatch says the noted chief Captain Strzney was hung here to day. A fight occurred with some 20 guerrillas yesterday in this State, Kentucky, resulting in the capture two-thirds of the guerrillas, the principal leaders of whom will probably be hung.

It is not yet known what will be done with Booth's body. There will be no funeral ceremonies.

A rumor prevails that it was sunk in the Potomac river during the night. Highly important details of the conspiracy are being developed, but no publicity is desired for the present.

Boston, May 1.
The City of London at this port, and Peruvian at Father Point, have Liverpool dates to the 21st.

Fall of Richmond had declined Confederate bonds to 175. United States securities had advanced five to seven per cent.

The Clear-which of Russia was dangerously ill.

Sales of cotton for week 68,000 bales. Market opened at 1 1/2. Lower, but the decline was partially recovered.

Flour dull and tending downward. Wheat and Corn firm at a slight advance.

Provisions inactive. Consols 90 1/2 to 90 3/4 for money.

A Washington despatch says, the U. S. Consul General in Canada has notified the authorities that all the criminals connected with the assassination of President Lincoln must be surrendered up.

Johnston's army, surrendered to Sherman, numbers 27,500, including Burgard and many other high officers.

Gold 145.
May 2.
Advices from Raleigh N. C., states that the army of the Tennessee and the army of Georgia—Sherman's veterans—will take up the line of march for Washington about first of May.

Two corps would remain to garrison the cities captured.

The army of the Potomac is also expected to proceed to Washington.

It is expected the Federal military force will shortly be reduced to 100,000 men.

The military commission is engaged in investigating the assassination of the President.

A large number of arrests have been made. Proceedings private.

The iron-clad rebel ram Webb, proceeded down the Mississippi from Red River and passed New Orleans where her machinery got out of order, and she was deserted and blown up.

ST. ANDREWS, MAY 3, 1865.

THE LEGISLATURE.—The Session was opened on Thursday last—the new members sworn in. Dr. Vail elected Speaker, and His Excellency the Lieut. Governor delivered his Speech, which has been widely published, and has now become an old story.

The Speech like its predecessors, deals in generalities and is non-committal. It does not appear that there is any intention of bringing forward measures for a Maritime Union of the Lower Provinces—Railway Extension Westward—a Banking law—or other equally beneficial measures. Notwithstanding the great strength of the Government with its large majority in the Assembly—the leaders are moving very cautiously, they appear to be preparing for retrenchment in the public expenditure, commencing with the P. M. Generals Office, which is to be abolished—there are others which might be dispensed with, without injury to the public service, as well as a reduction of the salaries of some others; but these matters are only hinted at at certain times, and will not be entertained by the present or any other government.

The truth is "amor pecunie" is as strong and powerful at the present writing as it has ever been, in fact it has become a second nature, and as to men reducing their own salaries, the idea is—preposterous—Under the proper head, the daily telegraphic reports of the sayings and doings of the "collective wisdom," are given.

The late Parish Election does not appear to have been properly conducted. Many complain that several offices were not filled up, and that the Town Clerk's return to the Sessions was not correct. The names of some elected are omitted and others not even nominated have been substituted. The list as furnished by the Town Clerk to the Session, was approved, the vacant offices filled up, and the officers appointed sworn in, consequently there is no remedy now. A document emanating from a Parish election, and returned as correct by the Clerk, is passed by the Sessions, as the will of the rate payers. Were the people to take more interest in these elections, there would be no cause for the dissatisfaction which exists; but several of them have declared openly, that they would willingly resign the right into the hands of Magistrates rather than be subjected to the annoyances under which they have labored, and the loss of time and money to which they have been subjected; an intelligent rate payer observed at the late Parish Meeting, that he and others arrived at the conclusion, that these elections benefited a few at the expense of the many, and that the time had arrived to return the power back to those who formerly exercised it.

The Steamer "New England" was burnt to the water's edge, at her wharf, in St. John, on Thursday Morning last. The fire it is stated was accidental, and caught in the porter's room; we are sorry to learn that three lives were lost, the baggage master and two cooks. Another accident also took place near St. John, on Loch Lomond lake.

Capt. James McLean of the city, with Capt. George and Couillard, Capt. Woodward, Mortimer, and Thompson and a Dr. Ruthbotham, were taking a row on the lake, the weather being calm. Sheriff Harding and Capt. Couillard were in a small boat, the others in a larger one; the Sheriff and Capt. Couillard afterwards exchanged with Capt. Thompson and went in the larger boat, which by some accident was upset and Capt. McLean, Couillard, and George were regret to add were drowned. The body of Capt. Couillard has since been recovered and was taken to New York.

The late SHERIFF JONES' remains, were conveyed to the grave on Wednesday last. The religious ceremonies were conducted in All Saints Church. Bells were tolled during the service—flags drooped, and the Church was crowded; the stores were closed from 12 to 3 o'clock. The funeral cortege was the largest ever seen here—it was preceded by the Coroner, Sheriff and Magistrates, and following the relatives, were the leading professional men, merchants, and persons from all parts of the County, and from all classes and creeds.

FIRE.—The house owned by Mr. Alexander McCurdy, about two miles from town on the road to St. Stephen, was destroyed by fire about 2 o'clock yesterday. (Tuesday.)

The fire is supposed to have originated from the chimney, which was on fire early in the morning; the house was partially insured, but the loss will fall heavily on its owner, who has been ill during the greater part of the winter.

NEW PAPERS.—We have received the first number of the "Morning Journal" edited by W. Elder A. M. and printed by Mr. Day, St. John. To say that Mr. Elder is editor—embraces ability, talent, independence and progressiveness. It is printed on new type, and will take its place in the first rank for ability and influence. "No pent up Ulica" contracts its editor's powers.—Success to it.

The "Acadian" is the title of another paper printed at Woodstock. It is neatly printed, having only received the paper before going to press a glance at its form was all that we could give it.

The Water Company Stock of this Town is the best paying concern we know of. The dividend declared is 8 per cent for the last year. Shares are at a premium, there are a few for sale.

The Examination of the Grammar School took place on Monday, and was very satisfactory; in our next issue we will give a notice of the proceedings.

We learn that a telegram was received to-day, announcing the death of the Hon. J. A. Street, at St. John.

The weather has been very wet for the last week, which has retarded farming operations.

ITEMS.

General business here, as yet is dull. The Mills, Foundry, Sash Factory and smaller Factories are pretty busy. Messrs. C. Connell, R. Brown and John McDonough are having their buildings finished. There is some prospect we believe, of other building being erected, so that we hope our mechanics will find employment. At the Iron Works, the handsome mansion of Norris Best, Esq the Manager, is being rapidly completed. (Carleton Sentinel.)

It is proposed to found and endow an institution of learning in the United States to be called "The American People's College, dedicated to the memory of Abraham Lincoln." The sum requisite is stated at $10,000,000. It is proposed to raise this in sums of ten dollars. If the idea is carried out, the institution is to be placed somewhere in the vicinity of Mr. Lincoln's tomb.

A sale of pure bred cattle took place at Southboro, Mass., last week, at the farm of H. H. Peters to whom the stock belonged. The sales, of 54 cows heifer calves, amounted to $11,352 or $210 each. The Boston Journal says one of the above was purchased for New Brunswick.

We learn from the Halifax papers that Mr. Tilley, who was present at the reception given to the Canadian Delegates on their way to England, was exceedingly well received and by his speeches created a very gratifying impression. He promised them that Confederation would have a resurrection in New Brunswick, and that she would reverse her action on that subject.

—The value of the estate left by President Lincoln is said to be estimated at about $25,000.
