GAVE ASSOCIATES SUITABLE SEND-OFF.

Members of Y. M. C. A. Honor Boys Who Go to Africa.

Many members of the Y. M. C. A. met at the association hall last night to do honor to two of their associates, Clem Bedggood and Edgar Nelles, who have joined the last contingent and will start for South Africa tomorrow. It was an informal gathering, of which slight notice had been given, yet quite a large number had the pleasure of assisting in giving the boys a suitable sendoff. The chair was occupied by Mr. John Bowman, president of the association, who made a brief, patriotic address, and Mr. William Benson, presented to each of the young men a handsome wrist watch, a pocket Bible and a knife. They made brief replies, and addresses were made also Messrs. Frank Holman, Wm. Marshall and George Tambling.

About 40 members afterwards sat down to a daintly-prepared supper, on Wednesday, that the British Govand at the close rousing cheers were given for the two representatives of the association who are going to do battle for the empire.

New York, April 18.—Judge Kenifick has taken from the jury a case in which the widow of a wealthy Brooklyn contractor, whose friends for 30 years believed him a single man, claims as hers by inheritance the $20,000 trust fund her husband established for the benefit of his mother. The legal point of ownership was such a fine one, Judge Kenifick thought, that, although the testimony had been before a jury he suggested the jury be discharged and the matter left to him for decision. The counsel for both sides consented, and will hand their briefs to Judge Kenifick. Mrs. Ellen Bray is the plaintiff in the suit. Caring for the Insane. In its administration of the great public charities, the Government of this Province may take an honest pride. The charge that it has been or is now negligent in providing for the Insane is obviously made for party purposes. It is said the asylums are overflowing and that in consequence many insane people are confined in the jails of the Province, but no statistics on the latter point are given. Middlesex is one of the most populous counties in Ontario, yet not a single unfortunate of this class is in the county but inquiry will probably show them feeble-minded or senile, and who should be sent to houses of refuge, not asylums. The responsibility rests not with the Government, but with those municipalities which have neglected their duty toward the indigent population. The county of Middlesex, we are happy to say, is not open to reproach in this respect. The question of compelling counties to erect houses of refuge has more than once been discussed in the Legislature. If something could be done on this line, the jails.

The new infirmary building at the accommodation for 60 patients, and the old university building at Cobourg, which is being renovated for asylum purposes, will provide for 150 more. Both of these will be available shortly and will greatly relieve the present congestion. The Government has been alive to the situation.

Breakers Ahead.

There seems to be a striking consensus of opinion that the new British duties on breadstuffs are not merely war taxes, but have been imposed with ulterior motive. The duties, all ap pear to agree, are to be used as a lever In the discussion of imperial trade relations at the June conference in London. Great Britain will be in a position to balance a remission of these taxes on colonial products against reciprocal favors from the colonies. The prospect opened up is one of absorbing interest. Should the British Government commit itself to an imperial preference there would be another line of cleavage in British politics, which would aggravate an already distracted situation. Undoubtedly the old school of Liberals, of which Harcourt and Morley are types, would take an uncompremising stand against the policy of differentials and would furbish anew the weapons of free trade, Even Lord Rosebery, the head and front of the Liberal-Imperialists, has declared that Great Britain would never jeopardize her world-wide commerce for the sake of her colonial trade. It would not be surprising to find a recrudescence of the "Little England" spirit and the emergence of a party avowedly anti-Imperial, taking the ground that colonial connection was not worth the price, if it had to be purchased by the sacrifice of free trade. On the other hand, the issue will tend to crystallize Imperial sentiment. Whether this sentiment will be powerful enough in the mother country to overleap fiscal barriers is one of the problems of the near future.

Meat-Eaters' Grievance.

Six dressed beef companies have sufficiently cornered the beef market to hold up consumers in the large cities of the United States. The average increase has been 5 cents per pound, so but it would have been better to have that many people with lean purses have become vegetarians through force of circumstances. The meat packers have cornered butter also. The New York World publishes the following table to show that the price of everything needed for the table has gone up from 15 to 25 per cent in a year:

"Chuck" steaks
Leg of lamb.....
Lamb chops amb chops lbc oultry lbc or barrel) $2.25

If the farmers and other producers got the benefit of the increase there would be no injustice, but the extra profit is intercepted by the packers who have been able, to some extent, to control the sources of supply. The combine might be controlled by removing the duty on imported beef, thereby exposing the market to foreign competition. Such a remedy is vastly more effective than resorting to the courts, as is proposed. The possible sources of an additional meat supply are Canada and Mexico. At present there is a duty of 2 cents a pound on beef. Any lowering of the tariff should also include all substitutes for beef, as fish and poultry. It proof kind, consisting of a slotted iron | For sale by C. McCallum & Co.

is probable, however, that the consumer will suffer a long while before the present Congress comes to his relief.

Reciprocity in Preachers.

A clerical writer in the Canadian Churchman complains very bitterly of the treatment meted out to him by the heads of the Church of England. He says he is an Englishman by birth and education, and that early in life he accepted a charge in the Church in Canada. Private business obliged him to return to his old home, and being an English graduate, he thought he would find no difficulty in again getting a curacy. The late Archbishop Benson, he declares, declined to give him even a temporary permit, while His Grace of York would only give him a license for two months! He felt so disgusted that he left England immediately. Returning, after several years' absence, he renewed his application. His Grace of York replied that he had consulted His Grace of Lambeth, and they both had decided to say no! He was very importunate, and wrote again and again, and finally a reply came from Lambeth that he would be given a license for twelve jail at present. There may be a few months. Advertising for a curacy, he in the jails of some other counties, found that most of the clergy refused to have anything to do with him as to be aged people, homeless or depen- he was only a twelve months candident, who are not insane, but merely date. He finally got a post, but was refused a license as he had not then 10s to pay for it. His Grace even wrote forbidding him to officiate unless he had the license. Finally he got the permit, but an extension beyond the time limit set was refused, though many influential persons, including three colonial bishops and twenty-six vicars and rectors, interceded for the This is, no doubt, a domestic matter which the adherents of the Church of England should settle among themthere would be few aged paupers in selves. It does seem to be a hard case, however, and it is to be hoped that it is not often duplicated. Man Broke His Neck in an Elevator-Detroit Man Killed by His Brother.

DIED IN OPERATING-ROOM. Toronto, April 18 .- James Whitworth, 44 years of age, who lived at 643 Queen street east, died while under the influence of chloroform in the operatingroom at St. Michael's Hospital Wednesday afternoon. He was suffering from intestinal cancer, and Dr. Primrose, assisted by Dr. Clarence L. Starr, was about to perform an operation. The patient had been put under the influence of the anaesthetic, and about 30 drops of it had been administered. He had passed into what is known as the stimulating stage, when it was noticed that his heart had stopped beating The doctors had not begun to operate, and they applied restoratives at once. They worked at the patient for about two hours without avail, and it is supposed that death came shortly after the administration of the chloroform was begun. Whitworth had been a patient at the hospital for three months and was in a serious condition when the doctors decided to operate. He leaves a widow and family.

Coming Attraction.

He Likes London, Canada, and Canadians-His Memoirs Will Be Published Soon.

Mr. J. H. Stoddart, the sturdy and sterling old actor who is almost the sole surviving representative of a generation of distinctively great players, is again to appear at the New Grand tonight in "The Bonnie Brier Bush," the play that has won unanimous appleaded guilty to both robbing the proval from press, public and pulpit. An Advertiser reporter, with pleasant memories of an interesting interview with Mr. Stoddart last November, again sought the genial old man at his hotel this morning. After the preliminary greetings, Mr. Stoddart burst forth with the exclamation: "I'm in love with London. It is a beautiful city, and I am pleased to be here again.' A question regarding Miss Stoddart, who was her father's companion on his former visit, drew forth information that her liking for Canada was quite equal to that of her talented parent. "Miss Stoddart writes me that she is very sorry to miss the trip through Canada. She did not care so much for traveling in the States, but she was delighted with Toronto, Ottawa, London, and Hamilton. I, too, like Canada and the Canadians. There's less bustle and excitement here, but there's more real domestic comfort. I may tell you, too. that my son, who is in law, is to soon marry a Canadian girl, a Miss Hilton,

"I like them so well that we are repeating our tour in Canada," answered Mr. Stoddart. "Canadian towns and the referee picked him up, and held cities have given us more appreciation, both in an artistic and pecuniary sense, than any other places we have been. Even in Galt last night we packed the house. It must be because of the large Scotch element in Canada."

"Have you had Otis Skinner here yet?" asked Mr. Stoddart, abruptly changing the subject. On being told that Skinner was coming next week, Mr. Stoddart said: "Well, you'll see St. John, N. B., April 18.—The second one of the most beautiful productions batch of teachers for South Africa are in America. Mr. Skinner has been gathered here, and will sail on the successful in this play on the strength of a great performance and a magnificent company. I sincerely hope that roto team he will have a big house, for in these days, when so much rubbish is seen on the stage, anything so elevating should be well supported."

Mr. Stoddart also said a good word for Miss Kathryn Kidder, who comes next week in "The County Girl." Mr. Stoddart told the interviewer that it was not necessary to say much of his past career, as he has now in process of publication by the Century Company a volume of memoirs, which should appear next fall. The work was undertaken at the suggestion of Wm. Winter, the distinguished critic.

Two installments will appear in the Century Magazine for May and June. "I have lived a proper life," said Mr. Stoddart. "Not that it's anything to brag about. I loved my home and family. I had a lovely woman, and she was taken ten years ago, but she left me a good daughter. I have not lived in New York for many years, but on my New Jersey farm, going direct from the stage door to the train.' Mr. Stoddart expressed himself strongly on the subject of the Passion Play. The proposal to produce it was an outrageous one, he thought, and it would never be tolerated by the people of America. He noted with ap-(b) He must have resided in the proval that the play had been stopped

The idea of writing a drama on Ian MacLaren's "Bonnie Brier Bush," said Mr. Stoddart, originated with Charles Cooper, a New York magazine artist, who urged Mr. Stoddart to secure a dramatization, taking Dr. MacLure as the central figure Dr. Watson's consent was gained, and a play was made by James Macarthur, editor of the stitution of learning in Canada must Bookman, and Tom Hall, a magazine writer since deceased. Mr. Stoddart, however, soon recognized that the charon the character of Lachlan Camp-Provision is also made for the regis- bell as the one around whom the action should center. The services of Augustus Thomas, a practiced play- night for Halifax. wright, were secured, the play was rewritten to make Lachlan Campbell the predominant role, and the subsequent success of the play is now known all over the English-speaking world. Mr. Stoddart concluded the interview with the declaration that if "The Bonnie Brier Bush" lasts two more seasons, he would then take leave of the stage and spend his remaining years under the trees and in the fields of his little farm.

Mr. Reub Fax, the humorous Posty of the play, is still with the company. He and Mr. Stoddart are inseparable.

LONG WALK FOR OYSTER SUPPER

But He Earned the Bivalves in the End and the Man Who Doubted Paid the Shot.

Ninety miles' walk, more or less, for plate of oysters is certainly a feat dertake, but it is the record made by a well-known young man who is a member of the office staff of a large wholesale grocery. Over a month ago he made a wager with an equally wellknown young tobacconist that he could Today's meeting of No. 1 committee walk five miles in 60 minutes or less, the stake being an oyster supper for the bettors and half a dozen friends. The pedestrian immediately started on a course of training, under the direction of a friend, who put him under a severe regimen and saw that he covtervals. It was during the progress of this training that the ninety miles, more or less, was covered. The event was postponed several times to allow the walker to train down a little finer, but last night was finally fixed upon and the feat was pulled off, with a victory for the pedestrian. The course was determined by measurements from the city engineer's office, and was by Adelaide street, thence to Dundas and out to the asylum sideroad and return. The time, as caught by the official timer and his little watch, was 54 minutes 21 seconds, the record by miles being: First mile, 11:16; second mile, 9:56; third mile, 12:30; fourth mile, 10:05: fifth mile, 10:34.

All along the course the pedestrian's rapid passing created much surprise and amusement for the people on the street, but in spite of much guying, he thought of the oyster supper awaiting him and pressed bravely on till victory was within his grasp. The supper was held later in the evening and was an enjoyable affair. The professional walking records for one and five miles are respectively minutes 23 seconds and 35 minutes 10 seconds, while the amateur records are Fine Vici Kid, turn sole, usually 6 minutes 29% seconds and 36 minutes 27 seconds.

Santry was unable to continue, saying Sullivan put his knee into his groin disabling him. A doctor found him injured as he described, and he had to be carried from the ring. LACROSSE.

roto team promised an exciting and closely contested game, but these indications had a very short career, for the Canucks soon set so fast a pace that the English players got tired very quickly. Then it was an easy matter for the Torontos to score freely and easily. The entire first half was a keen battle, as the score of 4-2 in favor of the tourists would indicate.

The second half saw the Englishmen overcome by exhaustion, while the Canadians stayed in the game to the last, feeling as fresh almost as when they began to play.

Essex relied solely on low throws, the old style of playing that has been displaced in Canada by combination work. The clever and lightning passing of the Torontos dazzled the Essex men. Mara, Querrie and Lambe again won the praise of the crowd for their beautiful stick-handling and clever checking. Charley Querrie scored five of the fourteen goals marked up in Toronto's favor.

So far the matches have drawn good crowds, and the attendance will be much greater later on, when the team visits the older lacrosse centers of the country.

Max, however, had made two more efforts to see Agnes during this time, but had been coldly refused an audience both times. Then, in despair, he wrote out a full explanation of all that had occurred on the evening of his mother's reception, but his letter was returned to him unopened, and he was obliged to accept his fate, believing that Agnes already knew the worst, and would never forgive him.

During the three weeks of Mrs. Remington's illness the young girl was hav-ing a great deal of trouble. She had found her mother very ill upon her return from Mrs. Remington's re-ception, and she suffered continual selfreproach for having left her at all.

But Mrs. Walton appeared to rally after a day or two, and they all thought that the worst was over and she would soon be as well as usual again.
It was a false hope, however, for, after a week of ups and downs, her disease suddenly developed alarming symptoms, and in another week she was dead. and in another week she was dead.

Malt Breakfast Food For Nourishing and Making

the Little Ones Happy.

The proper feeding and nourishing of the child just after weaning should engage the most serious attention of the mother. The great majority of prepared foods produce irritation of the stomach and bowels, because of their improper and unscientific manufacture. This irritation of the digestive organs develops into serious complications that often prove fatal.

Malt Breakfast Food is the ideal health food for our little ones. It is entirely free from starchy substances, easily digested and assimilated, is richer in flesh and bone producing elements than all other foods, and has a deliciousness that at once captivates the taste of every child. If you desire to see your child grow up strong, try the effects of Malt Breakfast Food for a few weeks, and note well the grand results. Your Grocer can supply you.

"PLAY BALL."

"Play ball!" The old cry echoes o'er the peaceful vale of Cherry Creek, and from the bleachers comes a roar as rows of rooters spring a leak! The batter grasps the willow club, the pitcher strikes an attitude, the catcher gives his hands a rub, the umpire stands with keen eyes glued upon the play; the ball has gone, and once again the season's on!

Way up the telegraph pole the eager small boy perches high, and in the fence each knotty hole—and they are many—frames an eye. The score card merchant's voice rings out, the voice through all the winter dumb, the peanut vendors loudly shout, the kid proclaims his chewing gum, and that same cushion man is there to save our pantalettes from wear.

The American League season of 1901 is reviewed very thoroughly, each club given, together with a list of the players in the league signed up to March 5, 1902. The official rules are presented in a more attractive form than ever before, being interspersed throughout with explanatory paragraphs wherever a possibility of paragraphs wherever a possibility of misinterpretation could occur: in addition to which, the rules of the various leagues are given where their codes differ. HAVE YOU NOTICED THIS? Probably half the spectators who attend ball games have vaguely wondered and perhaps ask neighbors why a batsman often picks up two bats and swings them several times about his head while waiting for his turn at bat. Seldom is waiting for his turn at bat. Seldom is the correct answer given, and the practice often is looked upon merely as a habit. George Davis, of the White Stockings explains the perfectly logical theory as follows: "After swinging two bats for several seconds the player's own bat seems much lighter as he faces the pitcher, and he feels this is likely to help him in hitting the ball. Players who use heavy sticks are more frequently the ones who try the plan, although this is by no means a general rule."

MAGNATES IN SESSION. New York, April 17.—The annual spring meeting of the Eastern Baseball League meeting of the Eastern Baseball League was begun here today, with President P. T. Powers in the chair. Representatives were present from Montreal, Toronto, Providence, Buffalo, Jersey City. Worcester. Rochester and Newark. The principal business to come before the meeting was consideration of the playing schedule and the appointment of umpires. The season will open May 1 and close Sept. 20.

New York, April 17.—The National League baseball season was opened here today on the Polo grounds, with a game between the New York and Philadelphia teams, which resulted in a victory for the home team by a score of 7 to 0. Pitcher Matthewson shut out the visitors. This and his fielding were the features of the game. Twenty-four thousand people passed through the turnstiles, Score:

New York, April 17.—Bob Fitzsimmons sent a telegram to James Jeffries, saying he was convinced that the only state where a glove contest between them could be held without interference was California. Fitzsimmons further said that he would meet Jeffries anywhere in California and at any time, to box for the championship of the world, and that he would leave the making transpements to Jeffries, he to do the best possible for all concerned.

Manager Donovan likes his catchers. Outfielder Barclay has caught on with the cranks, and Farrell is already in high favor. Oom Paul is more at home at short than he was at third. Hazleton is holding down first acceptably, and Hartman hits opportunely.

Selee has four good catchers on his pay roll, and will let two of them go, but he is having a hard time making up his mind which ones will be tincanned. ANOTHER SUPPOSED MATCH.

New York, April 17.—Jim Corbett has been matched to fight James J. Jeffries for the heavy-weight champlonship of the world in September next. Corbett's brother Harry, the San Francisco sporting man, so notified the ex-champion today by wire. He said that the match was as good as clinched, only the minor points remaining to be agreed upon before articles were signed and forfeits posted. Corbett had made arrangements to go to San Francisco to meet Jeffries, but the telegram advised him to start training for the contest at once. The ex-champion immediately made arrangements to follow this advice. For the next two weeks he will do light work in Woods' gymnasium, and will then go to Bay Side, L. ONLY A DRAW. ONLY A DRAW.

Waterbury, Conn., April 17.—Austin Rice and Dave Sullivan, of New London and New York respectively, fought one of the hardest battles of their lives tonight in Poly's Theater before 2,000 people, under the auspices of the Waterbury and Nutmeg Athletic Clubs. The articles called for 20 rounds at 128 pounds, and the fight went the limit. Referee Crowley declared it a graw. Sullivan took the Dwyer, and Attorneys McNamara and Cook.

At a meeting of the Eastern League magnates it was decided not to make any chause in the playing rules this season, and the Spalding ball was accepted as the official ball. There was a long discussion over the matter of division of gate receipts, but the owners finally decided to hold to the old scheme of a guarantee, with the choice of a percentage of the receipts for the visiting club. President Powers will have five umpires on his staff this year instead of four. The fifth man will be used in emergencies. The regular staff will be composed of Frank Rinn, John Eagan, Charles Snyder and Thomas B. Kelly. President Powers will appoint the fifth later.

ATHLETICS. A REMARKABLE RECORD.

The remarkable strength test record of N. W. Willard, of the School of Philosophy, Columbia, in the university gymnasium, is still the talk of the 'varsity, and the school of the 'varsity, and 'varsity, a nasium, is still the talk of the varsity, and of other colleges where physical development is regarded as quite as important as a knowledge of humanity and as a glimmering of Greek. Willard scored 1,827, eclipsing the former record held by Harold Weekes by 118 points. Willard's achievement was all the more remarkable from the circumstance that remarkable from the circumstance that the year before his standard was only 1,268, and that between the tests of 1901 and 1902, he had developed to such an extent as to increase his strength at all points by 559. Columbia's new strong man is an all-round athlete. Last spring he took an active part in baseball, and made the regular third base in the 'varsity. In the fall he struck into football, although the game was entirely new to sity. In the fall he struck into football, although the game was entirely new to him, and secured a distinguished place on the regular 'varsity team. He next tried his hand at gymnastics and strength on the regular variety team the tried his hand at gymnastics and strength tests, with the result already noted.

From an observation of the records it will be seen that in one year Willard's development of the leg and back lift alone increased 40 points, while that of the dips and chins increased 200. His friends attribute this remarkable development to Willard's strenuous exercise at football, and they point to Weekes and Morley as other notable illustrations.

Willard himself attributes his great strength to the fifteen minutes' dumbbell and Indian club exercises that he engages in before supper every night. The exercise is light, but it is regular. Unlike the general run of strong men, Willard is rather short, but he is strong and stockily built. He is 26 years old ond weighs 169 pounds. season if the workingmen divide their time between laying stone and watching basketball games by coeds in bloomers? Will it be necessary to build a double fence to save the time of the workingmen and the feelings of the coeds, who indignantly object to spectators? "SPYING" TO BE STOPPED. "SPYING" TO BE STOPPED.

New York, April 17.—The trainers are up in arms. They have never liked it, but have remained discreetly silent when they found that fast works of their horses had become public property.

They know full well nowadays that it is impossible to work anything without the performance being duly noted. Some twenty representatives of "turf information bureaus" take their positions each day on the front benches of the Gravesend or Sheepshead Bay stands, and there they remain from break of day until the It is not at all likely that Jim Jeffries and Bob Fitzsimmons will ever meet in England, if they come together at all. According to a dispatch from Los Angeles, Jeffries has this to say relative to they remain from break of day until the Fitzsimmons in England. In my opinion the National Sporting Club over there could not hang up a purse that would make it worth the while to go across and box. If Fitz is on the level and means to fight, why doesn't he go to 'Frisco? We can get double the money there. If I should make up my mnid to fight him in England, it is dollars to doughnuts that he will switch o.. and demand that the mill be either settled in Japan or China. It is not the press reporters against whom this shaft of the trainers is leveled, but the tipsters' retrainers is leveled, but the thisters representatives. They report all work to their principals, and by means of the circulars which they send out are frequently responsible for cutting the price of a horse. This is more particularly the case with horses which, in the ordinary course of events, should be outsiders. How to maintain more privacy in their How to maintain more privacy in their training has long been a moot question with them. NOTED CHARACTER DEAD.

Russellville, Ky., April 7.—Charles H.
Forehand, better known as "Dr. Forehand," who made his living by selling lucky roots and herbs, was found dead in his hut in the suburbs. He was an exceedingly odd character, and has sold lucky roots all over the country, frequently receiving orders from Washington and other large cities. Robert Fitzsimmons possessed one when he defeated Corbett, and Kid McCoy was also the possessor of one during one of his victories. They have spoken to track superintendents on the subject. The Stratford Turf Association has made arrangements with the G. T. R. to made arrangements with the G. T. Both these and that from Goderich will stop at all intermediate points. The rates will be greatly reduced, and will, no doubt, prove a big inducement to sportsmen along the line of the excursion, for the Stratford races are known to be on a par with any in the province. OTTO WONDERLY.

Speaking about Otto Wonderly's riding on Wednesday, the New York Telegraph says: "The other races were won by Cochran, who is riding well: White. Wonderly and L. Smith. Wonderly and L. Smith had the best of the horse in The Referee and Candling. There was cosiderable criticism of Wonderly's riding at Bennings. That he can ride a welligidged race and a good finish is welling at Bennings. That he can ride a well-judged race and a good finish is well-known. Racing people who saw him ride last season were unanimous in the opinion that he would make a good jockey. They are waiting for him to cut loose and show his ability."

WONDERLY PULLED DOWN. New York, April 17.—Mars Cassidy, the starter, took a fall out of Jookey Wonderly at the post in the third race. Woderly was up on J. E. McDonald's St. Florian colt. Reeves, and did not seem able to keep him under control. Finally he let him go through the barrier, and when he came back Cassidy said:

"That'll be about two days for you, Wonderly." Wonderly."
So Wonderly will not be seen in the saddle again this side of Saturday.

LACROSSE. SHELBURNE APPARENTLY MAD.

Shelburne, April 17.—The Dauntless Lacrosse Club are highly indignant at the way they were treated by the senior committee of management in Toronto on Monday night. It is quite evident that a determined effort is being made by several of the senior teams to freeze the Dauntless club out, and in the case of two of the senior teams the main object is to secure Dauntless players. Paddy is to secure Dauntless players. Paddy Kelly, who represented the Dauntless at the meeting on Monday night, did not withdraw the club from the senior ranks. but only from the district to which the club was assigned, a district in which it would be unfair to ask Shelburne to play on account of the distance ed. What business have Orangeville and Shelburne in different districts, when the towns are only sixteen miles apart? The Dauntless are out to play senior, and will play senior or not at all. Why should London or Woodstock, new teams, without even an intermediate record, be admitted to senior ranks, and the Dauntadmitted to senior ranks, and the Dauntless, who won the right to play senior in 1900, and played senior in 1901, be side-tracked? Would not the fellowing grouping appeal to the common sense of any seasonable person as being an unselfish and fair distribution of the clubs: District No. 1—Orangeville, St. Catharines, Tecumseh, Shelburne, District No. 2—Brantford, London, Paris, Galt, Woodstock?

NOTES. The attitude of the club's representa-tives at the senior committee in Toronto on Menday, will be taken up at a meet-ing of the executive this evening.

POSSIBLE PROMOTION. It is said among railway men that Mr. Ernest Ruse, assistant city ticket agent here, is the probable successor to the office of chief clerk in the district passenger agent's office in Toronto, succeeding Mr. Wm. Superow, who retires to become general manager of the Huntsville and Lake of Bays Navigation Company. The promotion would be welcomed by Mr. Ruse's friends in London, who would see in it the reward for many years of painstaking efforts to please and accommodate the public.

GREENE-MAINS. Mr. Charles W. Greene, clerk in the purchasing department of the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern Railway at Cleveland, was married here Wednesday, to Miss Annie Mains, daughter of Mr. Duncan Mains, of Central avenue. Rev. C. C. Owen performed the ceremony, and Miss Edith Greenway, of Dundas street, attended the bride. The groom was a popular member of B Company, and was supported by one of his comrades-in-arms, Mr. David Reid, of Windsor. The wedding was performed at the residence of the bride's father, which was prettily decorated. After the wedding luncheon Mr. and Mrs. Greene received the congratulations of many of their friends, and subsequently they left for Cleveland, where they will reside.

"SUMMERHOLM" IMPROVEMENTS. The only thing needed to make "Summerholm," the summer cottage belonging to the Young Women's Christian Association, an ideal resting place for the large number of young women who spend the summer vacation there, is a supply of good drinking water on the premises. To obtain funds to remedy this difficulty the "Summerholm" board will hold a sale of homemade cakes and candy in the Y. W. C. A., 296 Dundas street, Friday afternoon, from two to eight o'clock. Afternoon tea will be served for a small price, and a bright musical programme will be provided. All interested are asked to send contributions of candy or cakes Friday morning.

EVER GET "FULL?" On Other Things Than Liquor.

It is profitable for anyone to study food in order to regulate the health, not with medicine, but by building up healthy nerve centers with good food. A man who has made something of a study on this line writes from lowa "When I first tried Grape-Nuts City: it was at the table of a prominent state official, and the remarkable taste attracted me. I afterwards investigated the subject carefully and discovered that Grape-Nuts contains dextrose sugar. The starchy part of the food is transformed into starch sugar or dextrose. Those same results are produced by the digestive organs by the action of the saliva and the pancreatic juices on starchy foods. These facts convinced me that Grape-Nuts is a natural, predigested food and just what I required and needed. "I had been suffering from a full feeling after meals and generally more or less headache. All this trouble left when I quit using white bread, warm biscuits, etc. "It was about this time I came hom from school, broken down physically and mentally. I only weighed 120 pounds. At my earnest request mother began serving Grape-Nuts every meal and she said she had never eaten anything that agreed with her physical condition as did my "new food" as she termed it.

"In five weeks I weighed 133 pounds, a gain of 13 pounds, and I feel so strong that I have been able to do from 10 to 15 hours of hard work daily. My mind has never seemed so clear before and I am thoroughly convinced that there is no food like Grape-Nuts to produce health and a strong and clear brain." Lee Arlington, Box 1,755, Iowa City, Ia.

It is the government's intention to stock the waters in the London district with bass and trout. Mr. John Beal's application for position as cement sidewalk inspector was filed. Ald. Ald. Gerry agreed that this was necessary, and the motion carried. Some discussion arose re the opening of tenders for repairs to the county jail. The contracts should have been awarded at last night's meeting, but no representative of the county was present. The chairman and city en-

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Raymond at the London Opera House.

Raymond appeared before a large audience at the London Opera House last night and gave an entertaining and cleverly-executed exhibition of magic. Raymond is one of the most versatile performers in his line who have ever apeared here. Sleight-ofhand tricks rank with those of more pretentious magicians, while he has done some seemingly incredible feats in mindreading. Last night he performed his celebrated escape from the shackles. They were first examined by a committee, then placed on Raymond, his hands being fastened to his feet. Bent thus double. He was lifted by the committee behind a small screen, and in less than 20 seconds he stepped forth free. A special price matinee will be given tomorrow.

AT THE GRAND TONIGHT. A special return engagement of J. H. Stoddart in "The Bonnie Brier Bush" is announced for the New Grand this evening. The atmosphere of the original stories has been subtly preserved. St. James street, between Waterloo and Mr. Stoddart is peculiarly fitted to the Colborne streets; and Joshua Garnier, role he assumes, that of Lachlan Campfor a nine-inch sewer on Oxford street, bell, whose loyalty to his church takes between Maitland and William streets, were ordered to be advertised under the will be recalled that in Maclaren's stories Flora Campbell leaves her father's home because she finds the nar-row life irksome, and therefore wishes to seek wider scope for her energies. This could scarcely be portrayed upon the stage, and the dramatist has wisely introduced the character of Lord Hay, whom Flora has secretly married, and this secret marriage he uses as her father's reason for driving her from home. "MAN TO MAN" TOMORROW. Although the scope of the writer of sensational melodramas has been well threshed out so far as new situations are concerned, Nain Grute, who wrote "Man to Man," the Butterfield & Bromilow production to be presented at the New Grand tomorrow afternoon and evening, has depicted a situation that thrills an audience as much from its novelty as from the real danger attached to its successful portrayal. It shows a cave in the Adirondack Mountains, where is kept a trained owned by an Italian mendicant in the east. The hero is lured to this cave and imprisoned with the bear, Business College asked permission to idea being to make it appear that he entered the cave, not knowing that in it was a bear, and that he was accidentally killed. The fight between the bear and the man is said to be one of the most sensational affairs that was ever seen on a stage, since there is al-way the danger that the bear will forget his careful training and crush the man with whom he is struggling. OTIS SKINNER ON MONDAY. Theatergoers of this city should look forward with considerable interest to the forthcoming engagement of Otis Skinner in "Francesca da Rimini," at the new Grand next Monday evening. It is nearly three years since Mr. Skinner was last seen here, and his welcome should be assured, because he brings a play which local theatergoers have not before had the opportunity of witnessing. The playwright, George H. Boker, patriot, scholar, social lead-er, diplomat and man of the world, was, above all else, a poet and dramatist. George Parsons Lathrop said of him that he was "unique among American authors in uniting with the graces and fire of genuine poet the diversions of a rich society man, the functions of a public official and a capacity for practical method as a mechanic."

Many scoffed at us at first and were inclined to be incredulous. England and America, have essayed the role of Peggy, the comical heroine of "The Country Girl," who outwits her jealous old guardian, and finally, through a clever ruse, weds the young man of her choice. Perhaps the best remembered scene in the piece is in the park, where Peggy disguised as a boy is taken for a stroll by her guardian.
The efforts of her lover to talk with her, and the desire of her guardian to keep her away from all men but him-self, are a basis of a series of compilcations which never fail to convulse the audience. Kathryn Kidder and a strong company bring the play to the New Grand on Thursday next.

MR. T. S. HOBBS AGAIN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

Members of Gun Club Honor Last Year's Officers by Re-election.

The members of the London Gun Club are anticipating a season of fine sport. They will open the year at Dorchester on May 17, when trout fishing begins, with a dinner at their club house, and by holding a field day. The member who can convince the committee that he has really made the largest catch of the day will be given a handsome rod and tackle.

Apart from the prospect of good sport, the members feel that the club is now in a very satisfactory condition, its finances particularly being in good shape.

They met last night for the transaction of annual business, and besides discussing the outlook in a general way, elected the following officers: President, T. S. Hobbs; vice-president, M. Masuret; second vice-president, Edmund Beltz; secretary-treasurer, S. Munro; directors, Dr. F. F. Drake, R. K. Cowan, Charles Bowman, A. E. Pavey, George D. C. O'Grady, and Jas. Duffield. Mr. Trebilcock resigned the office of secretary he held last year, and Mr. Munro took over the dual office of secretary-treasurer.

THE REASON WHY

Capital Punishment Was Abolished in the State of Michigan.

The Detroit News thus answers the following questions put by a correspondent: To the Editor:-Why do the laws of Michigan not punish by death a party who takes the life of a fellow-creature?

Why was it stopped? When was it stopped? And is there any specified time that It will be renewed?

Detroit, April 13. 1. Because the capital punishment in Michigan was abolished by act of the legislature in 1847, this being the first state in the Union to put an end to the taking of human life under forms of 2. Because a majority of the legislators believed that human govern-ments have no right to take life; that the existence of the death penalty led tender-hearted juries to acquit the community that inflicted it. 3. No change in the law has been made, though bills for that purpose have frequently been introduced in the legislature. None of these, in recent years, at least, has come near to passage, and most of them have not even been voted upon, there being no
