TURKISH TACTICS.

The Warning of the French Ambassador Said to Have Done Good.

Paris, Sept. 30.-A semi-official note says that the embassies at Constantinople are unanimous in regarding the representations made to the Sultan by M. Carbon, the French ambassador, as having exercised a most effective influence upon the Turkish Government, and as being destined, shortly, to deprive the eastern question of much of fits acuteness. London, Sept. 30.—Lord George Hamilton, Secretary of State for India, has written a letter on the Turkish question. An extract from his letter is believed to be indicative of Great Britain's views on the subject. The writer says that Turkey cannot be kept together, and that her dissolution must result in the aggrandizement of Russia, whose vassal the Sultan now virually is. A dispatch from Constantinople says that Mr. Hampson, the British vice-consul at Moush, Anatolia, on his way from Moush, stopped at Erzeroum. He says that the situation in both Moush and Erzeroum is improving, owing to the fact that the leading Turks have determined not to allow any more massacres, their interests having suffered by the loss of the Armenians and the unloosing of the spirit of robbery. The Berlin Lokalanzeiger says that the Sultan has pledged his word to the German ambassador to Turkey that if any fresh disorders occur in Constantinople only the police and military will be used to suppress The employment of men arm summary execution of Matabele Chief ed with cudgels to disperse rioters will not be allowed.

He declared that a repetition of the disorders would lead Europe to intervene in consequence of the danger to which foreigners would be exposed. He advised the Sultan to exercise clemency to bring about the pacification of the Armenians, and to differentiate the peaceful masses from the revolutionary element. M. Cambon further stated that he had demanded the release of the thousands of innocent persons who were in prison, the convoking of the Armenian assembly for the election of a patriarch, and the execution of the reforms that had been promised by his Majesty. It is stated the Sultan promised to convoke the assembly and to extend the promised reforms

London.

London, Sept. 30 .- The Daily Mail asserts that there is no doubt that a Fenian revival meeting was held in the west of London on Sunday, at which a letter was read from William Lynch stating that he was prepared to finance a new movement entitled The First Irish Republican Federaon condition that an inner circle should be formed, of which he should have the control from America. "This was agreed to," says the Daily Mail, "and yesterday a manifesto was printed for circulation in Ireland. The ffices will be taken to London and Dublin, and an envoy will probably be sent to New York to see Lynch. The manifesto appeals to Irishmen to raise the standard of revolt, and vehemently denounces the "tribe of kid-glove patriots." What! Limping Yet! A CONSERVATIVE BEQUEST. An extraordinary episode occurred on an item of $5,000 for the St. Lawrence Valley Exhibition at Three Rivers. Mr. Foster demanded to know what this item meant. This, he said, was a new policy, and he hoped the Government understood where they would be led if they began to give grants to exhibitions of a local character. More he said to the same effect, and the item did appear so extraordinary that both sides of the House looked curiously toward the treasury benches to hear what defense there was for this bonus to the Three Rivers Exhibition. Mr. Clarke Wallace followed in the same strain. There was at least a hundred fairs in Canada, he said, which were as much entitled as this one to Government aid. Mr. Tarte gave the Government's explanation. He said that after what Mr. Foster had said the House would scarcely believe him when he declared that this vote, like many others, was for the carrying out of obligations incurred by the late Government. (Hear, hear.) The fact was, that when he had taken office he found an order in council had been

CATTLE QUARANTINE.

The item of $12,000 for cattle quarantine drew from Mr. Fisher, the Minister of Agriculture, an explanation of the arrangement with the United States authorities for the shipment of Canadian cattle from Portland and Boston for European ports. THE EVENING CAME. Scott was pitted against James, but was no match for him. He won the first two frames by 17 to 13, but after that lost continually to the finish. It was too one-sided a game to enthuse over, and the spectators were satisfied to watch the steady play of James, who put up a splendid game. He leads in games won, and has lost none, and any of the contestants who expect to place him back a peg will have to put up a brilliant game. Last night's score:

BIG YEAR FOR BALL. President Nick Young, of the Nation-League, announces that never before in the history of the game has the general interest been so great. The interest, he said, is rapidly growing all over that country, and, while steadily growing in the big cities, has increased so in the smaller cities and towns that the attendance at minor eague games far excels previous But for the fact of this being Presidential year, the crowds would have been even much larger.

Verdict for Plaintiff in Cowan & Co. vs. Melbourne.

The Defendant Will Appeal - The Grand Jury's Presentment to be Handed in Later.

THE CONCLUDING SESSION Middlesex Fall Assizes concluded yesterday afternoon, after one of the shortest sessions on record. COWAN VS. MELBOURNE.

The case of Cowan vs. Melbourne was an action brought by Jas. Cowan & Co., of London, against A. K. Melbourne, of Hamilton. Melbourne was at one time a member of the firm, and at one time a member of the company to sold out his stock in the company to of $10,000. Of the son, for the sum of $10,000. Of this amount a small sum had been deducted by consent of both parties to cover up any mistakes that might possibly have occurred. At the time of the transfer, June 30, 1891, an agreement was entered into between the parties concerned, by which it is alleged that Melbourne agreed to advance the interests of the firm he had withdrawn from, and further, not to enter into any business in competition with the firm west of Toronto, for the term of three years. The plaintiffs claim that this agreement was violated inasmuch as Mr. Melbourne started business, and had canvassed their customers for business, which Melbourne obtained to the detriment of Cowan & Co., and compelling the company to meet their creditors. They claim damages to the amount of $5,000. Mr. E. Meredith, acting for Mr.

Melbourne with Mr. Biggar, read a batch of correspondence which had taken place between the parties (who are relatives), to show that they were on the most intimate terms with each

William Landen, book-keeper for Cowan & Co., identified the batch of correspondence and invoices, which had mailed from his firm to the defendant. Among these were receipts for $250, the value of goods sold from the time Melbourne entered into business in February, 1893, up to the time the action was taken.

Mr. David Cowan, who had purchased Mr. Melbourne's interest in the firm, corroborated the statement as to has left for England. The doctor interest in the firm, corroborated the statement as to has left for England. The doctor interest in the firm, corroborated the statement as to have taking an English degree, and the good relationship existing between the families. Mr. Cowan further said that in March last when he had been down at Hamilton there had been something death. Mr. Melbourne was called, and said he had been a member of the firm of Cowan & Co. for 30 years. They had talked the matter over before he had started business, and there seemed to be no objection, as not a word had been said about it. If this had been the case he would never had started. After his refusal to sign the bond, he received a telephone message from Mr. Cowan's solicitor, in which he said he would issue a writ for damages if his people succeeded in settling.

Cross-examined by Mr. Gibbons. Mr Melbourne admitted to having sold goods to Cowan's customers amount-ing to a large sum, and he possessed the power to hurt Mr. Cowan's business more than any other man, if he so chose. He said he would sooner have started in business in London than in Hamilton.

Mrs. Melbourne was called, and said the Messrs. Cowan had visited them in Hamilton. They had talked about Mr. Melbourne's starting in Hamilton, and there was no objection made. Mr. Cowan had not thought Hamilton a

Mr. Meredith addressed the jury, and was followed by Mr. Geo. C. Gibbons, Q.C., who laid stress upon the fact that although the Messrs. Cowan had deferred taking action it was because they thought him their friend, When he proved that he was not, they pursued the same course as though he "How closely do you think the city merchants watch results? Mr. Melbourne has instructed his counsel to appeal the case. ZAVITZ VS. DODGE.

The final case was that of Edward Zavitz, of Metcalfe, against George, Mary E. and Thomas Dodge, of the same township. The action was brought to have set aside as frauduwas lent the land sold and the proceeds applied towards satisfying a claim he had against Dodge. In July, 1888, Dodge signed a note to Zavitz for $60 20, payable in six months, but as the sum was never paid, Zavitz had a writ of execution issued against last, were successful in every respect. The "Wedding March" was played by Mrs. Dan Bresette, who also favored the audience with some choice selections. The bride looked lovely, as she was becomingly dressed in a beautiful costume of quaker gray luster and satin. The presents were neat, tasty and suitable. The supper was such that anyone who partook realized that it was prepared by those only who knew how-poultry in abundance, cakes in profusion, besides a liberal supply of fruit, honey, chees and many other edibles. The five refused, as they were members of the union in Detroit, and it would not pay them to join the Windsor union. Thereupon, all the bricklayers employed on the work struck. Passenger Traffic Does Not Suffer so Much as Freight Business.

Conflicting Statements Regarding the Situation-Both Sides of the Story.

Toronto, Sept. 30.-All the railway telegraphers connected with the C. morning save one man, who does not belong to the order. All the places, however, are filled by other operators, and the strikers have not even succeeded in tying up a single freight train. But weeks have already elapsed, and nothing definite appears to have been done for their relief, is concerned. They refuse to do any operating until the difficulty between the brotherhood and the road has been settled, and this will likely have the effect of wiping their names off the pay roll. There is no question about the strike being general over the C. P. of hunger, yet nobody seems willing to step in and guide this band of re-

It is claimed by the strikers that all of those men who remained at the keys were students, who are utterly incompetent of receiving a train order, and who would undoubtedly work disaster along the road, if they are intrusted

DIFFICULTY AT OTTAWA. Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 30.—At Ottawa there are seven train dispatchers and three operators in the employ of the C. P. R. Three dispatchers and one operator were at work when the strike was ordered. All walked out of the office, with the exception of one dispatcher, not a member of the union. The two operators on day duty did not go to work yesterday; neither did two of the dispatchers. Under old scale surface workmen were that one regular train behind at these points will throw the whole system into general disorder. Appearances indicate that they have been watching the situation carefully, and have taken the most favorable moment for making their demands. Freight is moving in great bulk from the west, particularly in live stock and grain. The fruit business at this juncture is also heavy, and numerous freight specials are moving. The striking operators predict that there will be serious trouble on the Ottawa-Montreal division almost immediately, as the operator at Calumet, the chief crossing point, is out. They state that Assistant Superintendent Robillard tried to get some Ottawa man to fill the Calumet office, but was not successful, and it is also stated that he met with the same result when he tried to replace the statio operators at the union depot. wires were ticking as usual in the dispatchers' department this morning, but downstairs in the operators' room not a sound was to be heard. The operators admit that the company will be able to operate regular trains on some of the divisions for a few days, but claim that even now freight specials cannot be sent out. If matters are not fixed up, they say, which means acceding to their demands. that within a week there will be a general disorder. The strikers claim that they will have the active sympathy of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen when necessary, as the lat ter have grievances, as well as the operators.

EASTERN DIVISION. Montreal, Sept. 30 .- A majority of the Canadian Pacific Railway telegraphers on the main line between St. John and Vancouver have stopped work. On the Ontario lines the effect of the call to strike appears to have not been general, and things are better here than elsewhere. From Montreal to Quebec, and north to Chalk River, the majority of operators are out. The officials say they will be able to get hundreds of operators from the States in a few days. Mean-while they do not expect passenger travel to suffer, though freight may Quebec, Sept. 30.-Nearly all the C. P. R. trains last night were more or less behind time, owing to the dispatchers' strike. The Soo train was eight hours late. Trains are going out from Montreal on time. The C. P. R. officials say that new men are being das street.

engaged to take the places of the strikers, and they hope to have every-thing going smoothly. Mr. Pierson, assistant grand chief of the order, said his report showed that there was practically a tie-up on the road, and that the situation was becoming serious. The company emphatically deny this.

The Chronicle thinks the strike means at least a temporary paralyzing of the operations of the whole system, and inconvenience to the public.

While the C. P. R. officials claim that all the C. P. R. trains are running and that the strike of the dispatchers will not interfere with traffic in any way, reports from various points along the system show that there will be considerable inconvenience for some time at least. Reports on this head are conflicting, the C. P. R. officials claiming that everything is going smoothly, while Mr. Pierson P. ATLANTIC DIVISION. St. John, N. B., Sept. 30.—On this division, which extends from this city to Megantic, all the operators have obeyed the order to strike, and the company is considerably crippled, although at the general offices this is denied. THE MEN'S SIDE. Montreal, Sept. 30.-Assistant Chief Pierson, of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, who ordered the strike, said: "I did not want this duty imposed upon me. I said so to Mr. Shaughnessy, do the station agency work, and are still at their posts, so far as this work ties to come together and have an amicable settlement. I pleaded for this with Mr. Shaughnessy. I pleaded in vain. Do not suppose the order took the initiative. We got messages and telegrams from the members along the line urging the order to protect the men. The men complain that they are poorly paid for one thing. The C. P. R. pays wretched wages. They ask a train dispatcher to work for $35 or $40 a month. Think of it! In the United States they get $125 and $150. And they pay men differently on different sections of the line for the same class of work. Thus, one superintendent will pay $35 and another will pay $40 for the same class of work. The men wanted uni-formity of wages; and I presented a basis of payment which would introduce uniformity, but Mr. Shaugh-nessy would not listen to me. Again, the men are compelled to do work which is simply fit for laborers, while they are asked to put on a de-cent appearance. Thus they have to clared last night that the telegraphers' strike is practically over on the Ontario and Quebec divisions and all and to walk miles in the winter, and to walk miles in the snow to carry out this duty. These duties, they think, should not be imposed upon them. AN ACCIDENT Smith's Falls, Ont., Sept. 30 .- The passenger trains on this line worked their way through yesterday without any orders, but crossing at their usual places. An accident occurred at Norwood about 11 a.m., between two freight trains, which were picking their way along. Both trains badly wrecked. The system is completely upset.

Taxes on Improvements.

The town of Walkerville has an ex-provides that houses worth not less than $700, erected for the use of the owner, shall for the next six years be exempt from all taxes ex-

the common sense ground that a tax on improvements is a discouragement

A Significant Contrast. We print today the official corres-

"In brief, Sir Adolphe kicked against the letting of a contract for carrying mails at $9,000 a year, when he found the work could be well done for about half that sum. But when a Conservative M. P. importuned him, the Minister capitulated.

There is a better order of things under the new Government. Mr. Tarte was the first to run up against an attempt to traffic in contracts. He unhesitatingly condemned it, and took an action for criminal libel against the man who insinuated that he, as Mintransaction.

Britain Will Rule Africa. Sir Herbert Kitchener, chief of the Anglo-Egyptian expedition into the Soudan, has ordered that the First Staffordshire Regiment shall return from Dongola, recently captured, to Kosheh, on the way to Cairo. This action is probably rightly interpreted to mean that the power of the Dervishes has collapsed, and that it is not intended at present to make any movement nearer Khartoum. The deduction may be correct, or the movement may be dictated by economical consideration, on account of the scarcity of victuals at Dongola: but there can be no doubt that the Dervish power has been ruthlessly shattered. It has been proved that many of the tribesmen really had no heart in the werfare, and that they take kindly to the promises of the British commander that he will give them a settled form of government, protect them in their agricultural and commercial pursuits, and thus bring them pros-

The significance of the achievement of the British troops so far cannot be over-rated. By the establishment of British influence at Dongola, a point 500 miles south of Egypt proper, a permanent military station has been set up about half-way between Wady-Halfa and Khartoum. A connection has thus been made, by the agency of a chain of forts and depots, with the first named station, and the long line of the Nile has been made securely defensible against any attacks which rebellious Soudanese may attempt. After a time, no doubt, an advance on Khartoum will be ordered, and that important city-hitherto the center of Mahadism-will be taken possession of by the Anglo-Egyptian forces. The advancement upon Khartoum will be made with probably as great ease as has been the march on Dongola. To Khartoum from Dongola is a distance of some 260 miles-the greater portion of it through the desert, the remainder up the Nile.

It has been suggested that the time must soon come when Egypt will be able to stand alone, and the British forces will be withdrawn. On the contrary, it seems highly probable that British influence will remain paramount in Egypt and in the Soudan. With the possession of Khartoum, the British will hold the key to all North Africa. Nor do we believe that their influence will end there. In these leter days, we make history fast, and it need surprise no one if, in the next ten years, by advancing southward through Nubia and northward through Matabeleland to the British settleets along the Congo and neighboring streams and lakes, Great Britain toins all her African possessions, from Cape Town to Cairo. R is, we believe, the manifest destiny of the English-speaking race, to control that normous stretch of territory in the near future. Who that has read hisbe better for the downtrodden and enslaved peoples therein settled and better for the race that British rule and British justice should be thus established?

The collapse of another new flat building in New York city carries with it its own moral. This is how it stood: Walls, two courses of dry brick, filled with broken brick; mortar, mud; shallow foundations on made land. Men who would so endanger the public life as to design and erect such a structure are little short of murderers. They should be given a long term in the penitentiary as a warning to others. One Buddensiek should have been enough in a half-century, but the lesson of the disaster caused by his fatal penuriousness seems to have been speedily forgotten.

The Fight for the Presidency. The United States Presidential eleccampaign increases. There are a number of minor candidates for the Presidential chair, but though each of them will poll a number of votes, they are scarcely heard of. The real struggle is between Bryan, the nominee of the Democratic convention in Chicago, and the forces of free silver coinage, on the one hand, and Mc-Kinley, the Republican nominee, and the gold standard men on the other. During the last week several important developments have taken place. Though he does not expect to carry a single New England State, ister, was a party to any such corrupt Bryan has made a pilgrimage to Boston and other eastern cities, and has This is a good beginning. And these votes must come from the States of Delaware 3, Maryland 8, Ohio from Nassau. The Viceroy went 23, Indiana 15, Illinois 24, Michigan 14, ashore at full speed, and will be a 23, Indiana 15, Illinois 24, Michigan 14, Wisconsin 12, Minnesota 9 and Iowa 13, casting altogether 121 electoral votes. The real battle-ground, indeed, must be in the Central West-that is to say, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Iowaand if free coinage is beaten, it will be by a Western, not an Eastern,

The sanguine prospects for free coinage of silver presented in the above table are somewhat discounted by the fact that the great monied institutions, whether controlled by Republicans or Democrats, are almost unanimous for McKinley and gold; and so divided are the Democracy on the issue that it is very doubtful if they can begin to make up their losses to the gold side by Populist and Republican converts. A significant indication of how it will be in New York State is given in the split over the nominee for the governorship. Senator Hill, the Democratic boss, is a gold standard man, but he hated to openly break with the machine, and so he used his influence to have John Boyd Thatcher, a gold Democrat, made the candidate of the party for Governor. Mr. Hill's view was that it was possible and politic to support Bryan, while refusing to adopt the entire Chicago platform. But the party went into rebellion. They refused to support Mr. Thatcher, and he declined the nomination, which has now been given to a silver advocate-W. F. Porter, of Watertown. The change, in the divided condition of the Democracy, will not help the party to success in New York. Whether or not Bryan can win without New York and without many thousands of men who have bitherto, by their influence, and their purse, supported the Democratic ticket, remains to be seen.

The Grand Jury

Hand in Their Presentment to Col. Macbeth.

Have Little Fault to Find-Lunatics Should Not Remain So Long in the Jail-The Asylum in Fine Shape.

The county court house presented a rather deserted appearance this morning until the arrival of the grand jury. Chancellor Boyd departed last night, and left the clerk, Col. Macbeth. to receive the jury's presentment. This they handed in this morning at 11 o'clock, and brought to a close probably the shortest assize court held there during the long term of Col. Macbeth as court clerk.

The document they handed the court clerk read as follows:

"It is highly satisfactory to us, and must be to your Lordship also, to find so few cases on the criminal docket. This indicates the high moral standard of the general public in our large and populous county.

According to instructions we have visited the jail, finding every department clean and in good condition, which has impressed us favorably with the able and careful provision of those in charge. There are confined at present 15 men and 4 women. Amoug these we are of opinion that the four women should be removed to the asylum, also one of the male prisoners. In fact, we strongly recommend that

"In concluding our remarks upon the pail, we deem it our duty to call attention to the dilapidated condition of the dead house.

"In acting under your Lordship's instruction, we visited the Asylum for the Insane, and were very cordially received by Dr. Bucke and the officials in attendance. We were shown through the institution, where we found everything clean and the inmates as comfortable as their condition would permit. We examined the farm buildings and stock, and were much pleased with the condition of the same. We were also interested in the irrigation system as a safe, economical and profitable manner of disposing of the sewage of the institution. The inmates number 1,030.

"It affords us very much pleasure to express our thanks to the sheriff, the Crown Attorney, the Crown counsel, the clerk of the court, as well as the other court officials, for their courtesy and assistance to us while in the discharge of our duty. (Signed.)

The grand jury were then paid off. The expenses involved are as follows: Grand jury, $94 30; petit jury, $326 80; constables, $75 30. The jurymen were paid $2 per day each, and allowed 10 cents a mile one way. The constables received $150 each per day. The grand jurors received three days' pay, and the petit jurors only a fraction of that, as they were allowed to go as soon as

The plans also provide for an addition in the rear, allowing more space in the choir and clergy's vestries, and more room for the organ. It is likely the work will be proceeded with without calling for new tenders or altering the plans. The architects are Moore

Different Stories Told by the New Ottawa Opposition.

Attempts to Mislead the Public.

Ottawa, Sept. 30 .- The Federal expenditure for the current fiscal year and the Liberal professions of economy form the basis of a remark in the leading article in today's Mail and Empire that "the proposed expenditure contemplates a deficit of $8,000,000." Mr. Geo. E. Foster, the financial oracle of the Opposition, stated yesterday Rowley, accountant of the Canadian afternoon that the proposed expenditure exceeded the probable revenue by Fannie Smith, sister of Mr. W. H. $2,500,000. These gentlemen are clearly unison. The fact is that the consoli-dated fund expenditure under the supternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Mr. Rowley ply bill will be less than the late Government proposed last session to Par-liament. The consolidated fund expenditure is the test, and the figures under last session's estimates were $38,308,000, and under the present estimates $38,225,000. The reduction is insignificant, but it answers the charge that the present Government are outdoing their predecessors. Then there are supplementary estimates now going through amounting to $2,889,857 nearly all of which is required to meet legal obligations incurred by the late Government, and more than half of Ottawa, nephew of the groom, acted as best man. The ushers were Messrs.

Archibald Bechep and Walter Smith, provided $7,000 for cutting a rock and $45,000 for something else, and various other sums. There is this to be borne in mind: The new Government have adopted the main estimates of their predecessors for the purpose of getrelieving the public service, but it was distinctly stated by the Finance the right to expend the estimates as they thought fit, and, consequently, hundreds of thousands of dollars voted this session will not be spent. There was, however, no time to revise the estimates, and $38,000,000 are taken, but only $37,000,000 may be spent. It must always be remembered, however, that the late Government bequeathed many debts and obligations which the new Government is in law bound to

YOUTHFUL OFFENDERS.

Judge Edward Elliott Discharges Iwo With a Few Words of Advice.

Judge Edward Elliott had the unpleasant duty this morning of picturing to two youthful offenders the magnitude of their offenses, counseling them against further transgressions. Robbie answered in the same tear ful way and trembling voice. The judge then admonished the youngster, saying that he was an unusually intelligent boy, and there was no reason why he should not become a bright and useful member of society. He hoped that the leniency of the court in his case would not be misplaced. He then gave instructions for committing the boy to the care of the Children's Aid Society until he could provide for himself. Wesley Jerome Elliott, the young man from Strathroy, who pleaded guilty to the thefit of a watch, is about 18 years old. When asked if he had anything to say regarding the crime to which he had pleaded guilty, he replied: "Only this, that I stole the watch and know I did wrong; and it's a trick I'll never do again."

The judge said representation had been made to him that the accused had previously borne a splendid char-Taking this into consideration with his youth, the judge suspended sentence on his entering into his own recognizances in the sum of two hundred dollars to appear when called upon. If he never came up before the judge again, sentence would not be passed, but if he did, he would be punished for the crime to which he had pleaded guilty. The judge wished the prisoner to understand that the leniency of the court on this occasion was purely a matter of indulgence to him to induce him to lead a good life, and become a better citizen. then discharged young Elliott and ordered him taken back to Strathroy.

DISASTER AT MILWAUKEE

Barge Sunk and Four Sailors Lose Their Lives.

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 30.-The barge Sumatra, consort of the B. W. Arnold, bound down from Chicago with a load of railroad iron, foundered off the Government pier here this morning. Four sailors were drowned. The captain, mate and cook were rescued by the life-saving crew.

The Sumatra was bound for Milwaukee loaded with railroad iron, and intended picking up the Hattie Well here. She was leaking on her way up, and had the pumps working all night. The sea was running high, and the crew had great difficulty in keeping her from sinking. When she reached South Point she got in the trough of the sea, and in a short time her hatches were washed off and her carried away. The steamer sounded her whistle and the tug Simpson at once put out for the wreck. Just as the Simpson reached the Su-

A Fashionable Wedding.

I oronto's Four Hundred Crowd the Cathedral.

Miss Lilly Gooderham Married to Chas. W. Beatiy-Presty Gowns and Dazzling Jewels.

Toronto, Sept. 30.-By far the most fashionable, most extensive and most expensive wedding which Toronto's and sign boards blown from their fasfour hundred have ever witnessed was celebrated in St. James' Cathedral ported. yesterday afternoon. It was the wedding of Miss Lilly Gooderham daughter of George Gooderham, president of the Bank of Toronto, to Chas. W.Beatty, son of Vice-President Beattv. also of the Bank of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by the Bishop of Niagara, assisted by Rev. E. C. Atcheson, brother-in-law of the bride. Violet Gooderham, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Maud Beatty, Irene Gooderham and Lilly Phillips were bridesmaids. Little Elsie Ross and Master Dean Atcheson, godchildren, and niece and nephew of the bride, were in attendance on the bride, clad in pretty fifteenth century page dresses.

The dresses of all concerned were most brilliant, and diamonds sparkled and jewels shone in the concourse. The crowd was enormous and hours before the deremony began those without tickets crowded into the lawn and almost created a panic.

And now for the rare and splendid dresses. Bright and rich were the costumes, and they sparkled with jeweled trimmings. The dress, which naturally attracted most attention, was made of ivory satin duchesse, with a court train, hanging from the shoulder. The skirt was finished by a ruche of tulle and orange blossoms, the front being handsomely draped with a deep tiounce of old Venetian Pointe. The bodice was also draped with old lace, caught with orange blossoms. The belt and collar were embroidered with pearls. A wreath of orange blossoms, a veil of embroidered Brussels and a net caught by a diamond star, completed her costume, a costume which will continue to elicit admiration and criticism in a thousand female conversations for the remainder of the week green shot Bengaline. The bodice

The traveling dress is of blue and trimmed with white satin, and black embroidered mousselaine de soie. The bride wore a black velvet cape, trimmed with jet and chinchilla, and a small hat. The four bridesmaids were white duchesse satin, trimmed with white lace and pearl ornaments. Jewel veils trimmed with white lace applique. Mrs. Gooderham, mother of the bride, wore a dress of vellow satin duchesse, brocaded with white flowers. The bodice was of black Lyons velvet, slashed with vellow and trimmed with Chantilly lace, and jet, with bonnet to match in purple and green broche. The boembroidered chiffon. A purple figaro, trimmed with white lace applique. After the ceremony and a reception at the bride's parents' residence, the wedding party left for a tour in the Southern States. The presents were the richest ever known in Toronto.

Cleveland, Sept. 30 .- A special from Akron says: During the meeting addressed by Senator Teller last evening a sensation was caused by a let-ter read by Gen, E. B. BICYCLE STOLEN BY A GIRL. Toronto, Sept. 30.—Gertrude Sterling, a girl only 16 years of age, was yesterday convicted of the theft of a bicycle from Miss Edna Baxter, and sentenced to twenty days in jail. Miss Baxter left her wheel in Eaton's alleyway on Sept. 1, and went in the store to make purchases. During her absence the wheel was stolen.

The report that Port Huron capitalists were withdrawing their accounts from American banks and transferring them to Canada, cannot be verified at any bank in that city. The only instance cited where any large amount has been taken to Canada since Bryen's nomination was that of a Canadian dredge owner, whose dredges have been working on the Michigan side the past season.

PROF. ALEXANDER'S LECTURE. Prof. Alexander gives his celebrated lecture on "Love, Courtship, Marriage and Jealousy" tonight at Music Hall. The professor has proved himself to be a popular lecturer during his stay in London, and his lectures have been well worthy of the patronage they have received, but none of them have attracted so much favorable comment from the press and public wherever it has been given as that to be delivered tonight. The subject is one of interest to married and single, young and old, and the manner in which it is presented has gone far towards making the reputation of the professor as an earnest, capable and witty exponent of the gospel of common sense. The professor continues his lectures this week, lecturing tomorrow at 2:20 to ladies, and every evening to men. WEDNESDAY'S POLICE COURT.

The police magistrate this morning had not many cases to deal with. It was a miserable day outside, and the inside of the court was almost as dismal. James Kelly was charged with vagrancy and begging at the corner of King and Richmond streets. He pleaded hard to be let go and given a chance to get out of the country. By questioning him the magistrate learned that he had been in the Central Prison for being drunk and dis-orderly; had been at the Alexandria Home in Waterloo, and had served two years in Kingston Penitentiary for robbery at Sarnia, which he said admitted. The magistrate remanded him for one week to make further inquiry as to his identity. Robert was charged with a breach of the bylaw for tieing his cow to a tree on Tecumseh avenue, South London. PRESBYTERIAN MISSIONS.

The half-yearly meeting of the Western Canada Presbyterian Foreign Mission Committee convened yesterday. in Toronto, Mr. Hamilton Cassels occupying the chair. The meeting was a large one. Business relating to the general field occupied most of the day. Applications for appointments as missionaries were considered, and, as the finances of the fund are slightly in arrears, it was decided to make a spe-cial appeal for aid to the churches. The establishment of a training school for lady missionaries was discussed. Forms were adopted for securing detailed information regarding mission work,permanent records of which will be kept by the secretary. Rev. Dr. J. Frazer Smith, who was formerly connected with mission labor in Honan, China. was appointed mission treasurer for India. The meeting will continue in session today.

STILL A MYSTERY. A final attempt was made last night to pierce the deep, dark, dense mysning. The building covers half a tery surrounding the two watering square, and is of white marble, with carts which seem to have gone where the woodbine twineth. Even the cathode rays of aldermanic intellect have failed to penetrate the gloom in which those carts are wrapped. Last night the special investigating com-mittee, appointed at Ald. Pritchard's request, besought ex-Ald. Fitzgerald to throw some light on it. Mr. Fitzgerald was chairman of No. 3 ccmmittee when those carts were supposed to be doing business. He had a feeble, flickering recollection that some of the carts were repaired during his term of office, and that there was a cart in pieces at Mr. George Heaman's yard, which the latter had no use for. The committee could get no further than this, and it was decided to read a report of the evidence, gathered at three sittings, at the council meeting on Monday night. It is evident that the watering carts will have to go down in history in the same category as Charlie Ross and other mysteries of the nineteenth cen-tury. Ald. Pritchard, Douglass, Carrothers, McCallum and Armstrong compose the committee.

Private information to The Advertiser from Hamilton states that it has been definitely decided that four of the Grand Trunk dispatchers at present employed there will be removed to London. This is a change which has been contemplated for a long time, and it becomes necessary under the new order of things by which Grand Trunk affairs west of Toronto have been largely centralized in London.

The accession of the Hamilton men will make no change in the office here. The work which is now being done at Hamilton will be done here instead. The acquisition of four well-paid men, such as dispatchers are, is a matter for congratulation.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

Opening Day - Lieut.-Gov. Macintosh's Statement of the Situation.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 30. - The Northwest Assembly was formally opened yesterday at Regina by Governor McIntosh. In the course of his address, he said: "Altogether agricultural and stock raising interests throughout the Northwest are eminently satisfactory, and although certain crops are not as large as in some years, other branches of farming industry have permanenty improved."

The progress of educational institutions in the Territories must be considered as very satisfactory. On Aug. 29, 1895, there had been proclaimed 384 public schools, 36 Roman Catholic public schools, 10 Roman Catholic separate schools, and 2 Protestant separate schools, in all 432 school districts. During thirteen months that have since elapsed 50 public schools, two Roman Catholic public schools, and one Protestant separate school have been erected, making a total of 485 schools, and estimated number of pupils in attendance was 10,710.

IN PENNSYLVANIA. Philadelphia, Pa., Sept. 30.—Last night's storm did great damage in this State, but the wires are down in nearly every direction, and it is difficult to obtain reliable information. Between this city and Baltimore, out of 100 wires only five are working. South of Baltimore there is not a single wire of any sort. In New Jersey the storm was also severe.

Newburgh, N. Y., Sept. 30.—During the terrific storm on the Hudson River this morning the passenger propeller Redfield, from New York for Hudson, collided with the tug boat Edwin Terry, off Coldspring. George Ham-mond and Robert Roosa, both of the tug Terry, were seriously injured.

New York, Sept. 30.—Last night's wind storm, though furious in this city and vicinity, as elsewhere in the East, did but little damage ashore. BUSINESS SUSPENDED IN SAV-ANNAH. Savannah, Ga., Sept. 30 .- During the storm business in the city was suspended. No person dared appear on the streets. The street cars halted, elevators stopped running, electric currents were shut off through fear or because of breakages, portions of big buildings were wrecked, vessels turned over in the river and church steeples toppled over, and the streets literally strewn with debris of every imaginable kind. The wind reached a velocity of 80 miles an hour.

Among prominent buildings damaged are: City Exchange, Savannah Theater, J. Rounke & Sons, Savannah guoana factory, Savannah pants factory, Somer & Hill Co., guoana factory; Solomon & Sons, wholesale grocery building; A. S. Brown & Sons, planing mills; Plantráilway system depot, total wreck; Plant system shops; central of Mas-sops; Chatham Academy; Presbyterian and Lutheran Churches; car sheds of the City and Suburban Railway Co., Savannah Brewing Company.

Hundreds of dwellings are either totally demolished or damaged, and many of the principal retail stores of the city are sufferers. There has not been such a general loss from a storm in this city in years. The loss of life, it is feared, will be great. Already ten deaths are reported. Within two hours and a half after the storm began the sun was shining and the rain ceased. AT CHICAGO.

Chicago, Sept. 30.-Great damage to property and many accidents resulted from the furious gale on the lakes. The most serious accident in the port of Chicago occurred this morning, when the schooner Seaman broke from her moorings in slip E, at the foot of Randolph street, and while being hurled about by the storm, wrecked and sunk half a dozen smaller crafts

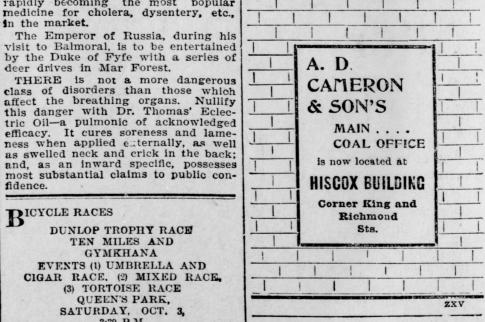

COMING ALONG.

"The West Indian storm," says Prof. Garret, of the Weather Bureau, today, 'has moved west of north, and is central this morning over northern Lake Huron. The western movement of the storm has been attended by destructive easterly gales along the Atlantic coast. Over the lake region the forthward advance of this storm has been attended by heavy rain and high winds, the highest velocity reported, 52 miles from the southwest being London, Ont., retired farmer, makes noted at Buffalo. During today and eastward over the St. Lawrence Val ley.'

A RECORD-BREAKER.

Lancaster, Pa., Sept. 30.-For over an hour last night this city and county were subjected to the severest wind storm ever known here. It is impossible to form any estimate of the number of buildings wholly or partially demolished or the monetary extent of the damage. The greatest single loss is that of the Pennsylvania Railroad bridge across the Susquehanna at Columbia, nothing being left of it but the piers, the iron span in the middle and the first span at each end. The bridge was a mile and a quarter long. and cost $1,000,000.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 30.-An equinoctial storm last night gave Washington the worst shaking up it ever had. The wind blew in a rotary, twisting, wrenching velocity of 75 miles an hour. Rain was driven in floods-it did not fall. Many buildings were either demolished or badly damaged. At the water front every boat received terrible wrenchings. The yachts were all torn loose from their moorings, and some of them went adrift down stream or were dashed against other boats and the sea wall. It is impossible to compute the amount of damage. At 11 o'clock p.m. a crash that could be heard a mile away told those in its vicinity that the Metrooplitan Railroad power house on Four and Half streets had fallen in. All the houses within half a block were shaken to their foundations.

And even while she looked at the woful young face before her, the mother anticipated the smaller, festering sorrows that would spring from this great one-the shame and mortification; the mockery of those who had envied Katherine; the inquiries, condolences and advice of friends; the complacent, self-congratulation of Batavius, who would certainly remind them of every provoking admonition he had given on the subject. And who does not know that these little trials of life are its hardest trials? The mother did not attempt to say one word of comfort, or hope, or excuse. She only took the child in her arms, and wept for her. At this hour she would not wound her by even an angry word concerning him.

"I loved him so much, Moeder!" Thou could not help it. Handsome and gallant and gay he was; I shall never forget seeing thee dance with

They went downstairs together. The clean linen, the stockings that required mending, lay upon the table. Katherine sat down to the task. Resolutely, but almost unconsciously, she put her needle through and through. Her suffering was pitiful. Katherine trembled all over. "Today I cannot bear it, mother. No one can I see. I will go upstairs."

Ere the words were finished Mrs Gordon's voice was audible. She care into the room laughing, with the raell of fresh violets and the feeling of the brisk air round her. "Dear madam! she cried, "I entreat you for a favor. I am going to take the air this afternoon; be so good at to let Katherine come with me. Please, myn Moeder!" "Make great haste, then." For Lysbet was pleased with the offer, and fearful that Joris might arrive and refuse to let his daughter accept it. She hoped that Katherine would receive some comforting message, and she was glad that on this day, of all others, Capt. Hyde's aunt should be seen with her. It would in some measure stop evil surmises; and it left an air of uncertainty about the captain's relationship to Katherine which made the humiliation of his departure less

"Stay not long," she whispered, "for your father's sake. There is no good

When I promised Dick this morning that I would be sure to get word to you, I was at my wit's end to discover a way. But when I am between the horns of a dilemma I find it the best plan to take the bull by the horns. Hence, I have made you a visit, which seems to have quite nonplussed you and your good mother."

"I thought Richard had gone." 'And you were breaking your heart, that is easy to be seen. He has gone. But he will come back tonight at 8 o'clock. No matter what happens, be at the river side. Do not fail Dick; he

"The colonel does. At present I have no such intention. But I had to have some extraordinary excuse, and I could invent no other. However, you may say anything, if you only say it with an assurance. Madam wished me a pleasant journey. I felt a little sorry to deceive so fine a lady."
"When will Richard return?"

ride was not a very pleasant one. Katherine could not help feeling that Mrs. Gordon was distrait and inconsistent. Yet she kissed her kindly, and, drawing her closely for a last word, said: "Do not forget to wear your wadded cloak and hood. You may have to take the water, for the Councilor is very suspicious, let me tell Remember what I say-the wadded cloak and hood; and good-bye, good-bye, my dear!"

That night there was a meeting at the town hall, and Joris left the house soon after his tea. (Like as a father pitieth his chidren.) Oh, so great must be thy pity! My own heart can tell that now.

For an hour or more Katherine sat in the broad light of the window, folding and unfolding the pieces of white linen, sewing a stitch or two here, and putting on a button or tape there. Madam passed quietly to and fro about her home duties, sometimes stopping to say a few words to her daughter. It was a little interval of household calm, full of household work-of love assured without need of words, of confidence anchored in undoubting souls When Lysbet was ready to do so, she legan to lay into the deep drawers of the presses the table linen which hatherine had so neatly and carefully the table linen which camined. Over a pile of fine damask napkins she stood with a perplexed, with a perplexed, annoyed face, and Katherine detecting it, at once understood the cause. the dozen At the last cake baking, with the dish of cake sent to Joanna, it Back it has not come.' "For it you might go, Katherine.

like not that my sets are broken."

Katherine blushed scarlet. This was the opportunity she wanted. She wondered if her mother suspected the want; but Lysbet's face expressed only a little worry about the missing damask. Slowly, though her heart was almost at her lips, she folded away her work, and put her needle and thread, and thimble and scissors, each in its proper place in her housewife. So deliberate were all her actions that Lysbet's suspicions were almost allayed. Yet she thought: "If out she wishes to go, leave I have now given her; and if not, still the walk will do her some good." And yet there was in her heart just that elemest of doubt which, whenever it is present, ought to make us pause and reconsider the words we are going to speak or write, and the deeds we are going to do.

The nights were yet chilly—though the first blooms were on the trees-and the wadded cloak and hood was not so far out of season as to cause As she came downstairs the mark. clock struck 7. There was yet an hour, and she durst not wait so long at the bottom of the garden while it was early in the evening. When her work was done, Lysbet frequently walked down it; she had a motherly interest in the budding fruit trees and the growing flowers. And a singular reluctance to leave home assailed Katherine. If she had known that it was to be for ever her soul could not have more sensibly taken its farewell of all the dear, familiar objects of her daily About her mother this feeling culminated. She found her cap a little out of place, and her fingers lingered in the lace, and stroked fondly her hair and pink cheeks, until Lysbet felt almost embarrassed by the tender, but unusual show of affection.

A Real Summer Resort.

Kill two birds with one stone. Spend a pleasant summer holiday at Oak-ville and get rid of the liquor or morphine habit once and for all at the same time. It will cost you a little more than if you go to an ordinary summer resort, but probably not half summer resort, but probably not half as much as you would spend on liquor in half the time. "Lakehurst," with its fine house, shady grounds, water front and excellent board, is preferable to most hotels, and you can leave your liquor curse behind you forever when your holiday is over. Tell-Tale Telegrams Which Passed Between the Couple.

Ottawa, Sept. 30 .- When the House of Commons had under consideration the postoffice estimates, an extraordinary condition of affairs under the late Administration was revealed.

Mr. Gillies, the member for Richmond, took the opportunity of making a long speech in defense of the action of the late Government in awarding the contract for carrying the mails between Port Hawkesbury and Sydney, C. B., at a cost of $9,000 a year. Mr. Gillies concluded with an appeal to the Postmaster-General to allow the $9,000 contract, held by a man named John Morrison, of St. Peter's, to continue until the date of its expiry, fifteen months hence. Postmaster-General Mulock said that the contract was one so manifestly here and was in a terribly excited con-improvident that he could not in the dition, so excited that on more than proper discharge of his duties allow it to continue in force. It was his intention to recommend its cancellation and that new tenders should be called for. For many years the contract had been held by Morrison or his son. On Oct. 18, 1892, Mr. Gillies wired son's contract on present basis for another year. Do this for me. It is absolutely necessary."

Later Mr. Gillies telegraphed Sir John Thompson: "Will you kindly see Sir Adolphe Caron immediately and get him to allow Morrison's contract for carrying the mails from Hawkesbury to Sydney to remain upon the present basis. It is absolutely important and I wish you to carry it out for me.'

Rev. Father McInnis wrote to say that the Morrisons had stood by the Government in the last two contests, and "the friends" entertained the hope that the P. M. G. would see his way clear to a renewal of Morrison's contract for another year "upon the pres-should be renewed."

On Oct. 22, 1892, Sir Adolphe telegraphed Mr. Gillies regretting that he could not renew Morrison's contract and adding: "It would be impossible for me to justify such an expendi-

SIR ADOLPHE YIELDS. A few days later Sir Adolphe yielded to the exigencies of the situation. On Nov. 9, 1892, he authorized the expenditure of $9,000 that on Oct. 22 he had declared it impossible to justify. He wired Mr. Gillies. "Present arrangement to continue until Dec. 31. New arangement to be for one year from that date if Morrison accepts terms offered."

In 1893 the Government decided to call for tenders for this service, Mr. Gillies wrote: "Please send forms of tender to the postmaster at Sydney, and, as there will be no infringement of the regulations, will you not send any to St. Peter's?"

Sir Adolphe replied that the request that no notice be sent to St. Peter's Dolson, a silver Democrat. could not be entertained. The tenders were invited in December, 1893, but the time between the reception of the tenders and the commencement of the service was so short as to permit of no real competition. On February 2, 1894. Mr. Gillies wired to the department:

On the same day Sir Adolphe wired Mr. Gillies: "Replying to your telegram of today asking to be informed as to the names and amounts of tenders, I regret exceedingly that it will be impossible for me to accede to your request in this matter, as the regulations of the department impose on me keeping inviolably secret all information regarding tenders until contracts are awarded. I will stretch a point and tell you confidentially that the lowest tender is $6,970, and the person making it is strongly recommended by Dr. Cameron and other influential gentlemen in the locality."

The tenders were: McInnes, $6,970; Mr. Edward Marshall, a retired farmer, Morrison, $9,000; Subsequently McInnes asked to be allowed to withdraw On May 29, 1895, N. Mr. Paint brought the matter to the attention of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, who asked Sir Adolphe Caron to investigate it. No investigation was made. On August 6, Mr. Paint wrote Mr. Mulock, stating that the work could be done for $3,600, if not less.

People From London, Goderich and Other Points Inspect an Unknown Dead

Toronto, Sept. 30.—"It may be weeks, yes months, before that young man is identified," said Mr. Stone, of the morgue, when referring to the unknown man who recently suicided in Toronto. "Detective Black may be correct in his view and the photo and face bear a striking resemblance, but to my mind the man looks like a newly arrived young Englishman, and if this be so it will be some time before his friends are heard from. The case all through is an extraordinary one, and has created a great amount of excitement among leople who have friends or relatives missing."

"Have you had any inquiries?"
"I should say so. Firce the publication of the picture of the suicide in The Toronto News I have had a score of people in to see the body. Some of these people were impelled by mere curiosity to view the remains, and these I rigidly excluded, but those who were in search of a missing friend I allowed into the morgue. On Saturday afternoon a lady, evidently a widow, accompanied by a young girl, called here and was in a terribly excited conone occasion she became hysterical. With trembling fingers she drew from her bosom a small photograph and held it out to me. She was so overnot satisfied until she had gazed upon she had seen the picture in The News, and that it so resembled one who was dear to her and had disappeared that she could get no rest until she had got rid of the dreadful uncertainty." AN ANCASTER INQUIRY.

She had seen the picture in The News, and the resemblance to her husband was so strong that she came all the way down from Goderich to see the body of the unknown. Her story, which was told 'midst outbursts of tears, was that she was married to a young man four years ago, and after two years of happiness her wedded life was blasted. Her husband one morning gathered together all her jewelry and $500 in cash and disappeared. She has never abandoned the search, and when she saw the picture in The News she believed that her long quest was at an end. When shown the body she at once said it was not that of her husband, and departed in search of a fresh clue. Mr. Stone says that the photo the woman exhibited bore a striking likeness to the un-

Through the kindness of the London Street Railway, the auxiliary, on ladies' day, cleared $177 65, and from the baseball game given by the aldermen and school board $23 38, making a total of $201 03. A vote of thanks was passed to the street railway company, and especially conductors for their kindness to the ladies on that day; also a vote of thanks to the Board of Education and Board of Aldermen. The members then adjourned to the new building. INTERESTING SOCIETY CASE.

The members of the Independent Order of Oddfellows of this city have learned that at the meeting of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the order at Dallas, Texas, last week, a couple of appeals brought by brethren of two of the city lodges against a ruling of the Grand Lodge of Ontario were upheld. One was brought by W. G. Parkhouse, of Palace street. For more than twenty years Mr. Parkhouse has drawn $156 annually from Dominion Lodge, sick benefit fund, and the lodge felt this such a heavy burden on its exchequer that it amended its bylaws so that no member could draw the full sick allowance of $3 a week for more than two years continuously. After that period the allowance was fixed at $1 a week. Two other members of Dominion Lodge were also affected by this change. Mr. Parkhouse appealed to the Grand Lodge of Ontario, but the appeal was dismissed. The Sovereign Lodge upheld this decision, ruling that a lodge, by bylaw, can reduce the amount of future sick benefits as against a member who is sick. The other case was that of John Baker, of Forest City Lodge, and was very similar. Mr. W. C. Fitzgerald was the solicitor for both appellants,
