

No troops have yet been sent from Caracas to meet the rebels, as the Government believes the state troops strong enough to deal with them.

TWO

HURLED RED PEPPER INTO EYES OF DEPUTY SHERIFF

Hot Water, Cuspidors, and Furniture Were Also Thrown During Raid.

[Canadian Press.]

Calumet, Mich., July 31.—Hot water, red pepper and various household utensils were used as a supplement to revolvers and bayonets in a fight between deputy sheriffs and men and women inmates of a Hungarian boarding-house at Wolverine mine late today. The battle ended with the arrest of three alleged rioters after troops had rescued the civil officers from a threatening mob.

The arrests were part of a series which the sheriff's posse has instituted within the last twenty-four hours, and the jail population was increased to one of its highest records.

The Wolverine posse consisted of Wm. Heikkila, an under sheriff, and four deputies. They carried a warrant for Louis Soder, proprietor of the boarding-house, charging him with being a leader of the party that attacked Gust Olson, a big fireman Tuesday night. The deputies found their man hiding in a cupboard. When Heikkila jerked open the door Soder fired a revolver. Heikkila wrestled the weapon from Soder, and they struggled toward the door when Mrs. Soder, the officers say, threw a kettle of hot water at them.

Another woman and two men joined the Soders, hurling red pepper at the deputies' eyes and converting chairs, cuspidors and other furniture into missiles of offence. Outside a crowd of two hundred mine workers had gathered, but the fracas attracted also two squads of state troops. The crowd started to rush the posse, and the militiamen drove them back with bayonets.

Two men were arrested charged with interfering with the officers and the three were rushed to the Houghton jail.

Seven arrests were made at the Red Jacket location on the northern border of Calumet tonight when troops stationed at the shaft drove away a crowd of strikers gathered about the home of Wm. Carmichael, a mine foreman.

Will Have To Pay For New School

[Canadian Press.]

Sault Ste. Marie, July 31.—The assessment of Catholic public school supporters here, all of whom are Italians, was confirmed today by Judge Stone. Some time ago Italians petitioned council to give them a public school building at the time that they would be public school supporters in matter of assessment. They gave as a reason for the demand that too much catechism was taught in the separate schools, and that they wanted their children to have a good education. The school was built but when the court of revision sat nearly all the Italians appealed their assessments as public school supporters. The court upheld the assessments, and the matter was again appealed to the senior judge.

Blame Militants For Bad Blaze

[Canadian Press.]

New York, July 31.—A London cable this afternoon said that the Suffragettes were suspected today when the luncheon tent adjoining the grandstand at the Goodwood race track was burned. The last of the season's fashionable turf events, and King George and Queen Mary have been attending.

The tent and all its contents were burned in a rather mysterious manner today, and the Scotland Yard men guarding the place blame the militants for the blaze.

Stratford Station Will Cost $60,000

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, Aug. 1.—The erection of a large new Grand Trunk Railway station at Stratford, Ont., at a cost of $60,000, was announced last night by General Superintendent H. E. Whittenberger of the Ontario lines. The station will be one of the handsomest structures of this nature in the division, and will include large express sheds, which will be constructed adjoining it.

Stratford is the headquarters of the Stratford division, and the new building will be constructed so that the divisional superintendent and his staff will have offices in the station. It will be a two-story structure, built of red brick, and trimmed with granite.

WHEAT IS CUT; RECORD CROP

Farmers in the District Around Whalen Are More Than Pleased.

CORN IS RIPENING FAST

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Whalen, Aug. 1.—The wheat harvest is over in this district. The hot, dry weather prepared the grain for hauling in, and three days after cutting it is as fine a crop of wheat as has ever been grown here.

Mr. Henry Squire harvested thirty loads off eleven acres, and Mr. George Squire expects to have 100 loads altogether.

Barley is nearly all cut, and is a good crop, while oats, owing to the heat of the past few days, are about ready to cut, and is an extra fine crop.

The farmers say that they never had better crops, and on inquiring from parties who have been visiting here from a distance, they say that they have seen no crops as good.

The corn crop is simply immense, and some farmers think it is the best they ever had at this time of the year. Owing to the harvest rushing in so quick after the haying, there is not much land plowed for wheat yet.

EKFRID PICNIC

Annual Outing of the Sunday School Was a Great Success.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

North Ekfrid, July 31.—The annual picnic of the North Ekfrid Sunday school, held in Mr. Roemmele's grove, was a great success.

In a fast baseball game North Ekfrid Bulldogs defeated the Appin nine, the final score being 19 to 22.

A picked team of married men against the bachelors was started, but on account of Catcher Roemmele, of the seniors, getting seriously hurt, the game was called off.

After the ball game lunch was served, a special lunch being served the ballplayers by Mr. A. Roemmele.

All present had a very enjoyable time.

THE SPEED CRAZE.

[Hamilton Spectator.]

Mr. Henry Ford, automobile manufacturer, says he foresees 500-pound motor cars going 200 miles an hour, as the result of the evolution of the motor car. "Lightness is what we are striving for more than any other thing," he says. "It will not be long before the present 1,200 pound motor car will be reduced in weight to 500 pounds. This will mean greater speed and somewhat lower price. Although I am not a speed enthusiast, I see no reason why motor cars should not eventually attain 160 or 200 miles an hour." If this ever happens, the ordinary roads, cars will have to be made to run on railway tracks or special concrete roads will have to be built to accommodate them. Cars running at such a terrific pace could never be allowed on ordinary roads.

London Defeats Guelph In Twelve Innings, 8 to 7

Crowd of 3,000 Sees a Game Full of Errors and Hits—Fitzpatrick Replaced Stark in Ninth, and Pitched Good Ball—Smith, London's New Third Baseman, Has Good Day With Willow.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Guelph, Ont., July 31.—In one of the most exciting games of the season, the London team beat the Maple Leafs in a 12-innings game this afternoon. It was a tight race and simple to the winners, the Leafs having no less than ten errors to their credit, and at that were only beaten by 8 to 7.

The Leafs gave the worst exhibition of the season, the principal offender being Shortstop Behan. He made several wild throws to bases that were costly, while his teammates also missed up some easy chances. The Leafs had all the breaks in the luck, for Beebe was given a terrific drubbing all through the game, and only fast work in the outfield prevented a defeat.

Stark began to pitch for Guelph, and was also hit hard, but would have won his game easily with anything like good support. Fitzpatrick replaced Stark in the ninth, after the Leafs had batted out four runs and tied the score, and did not allow another hit, but costly errors by Behan and Cook allowed the winning run to score in the twelfth inning.

Leafs Score First.

The Leafs scored first, getting a run over in the first inning, a two-base hit into the crowd by Harris, and Schaeffer's single. The Londoners came back in the second with three runs. After Neale had been thrown out by Behan, Deneau and Smith, both singled, but Beebe sent out a sacrifice fly to left, scoring the former. Linneborn singled, scoring Smith, and came home himself on two passed balls by Dunn.

PORTMEN OUTPLAY BERLIN WINNING DOUBLE-HEADER

Win the First Game by a Score of Four to One and the Second by a Score of Five to Two.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Berlin, July 31.—Outplaying St. Thomas at all stages of the game, Berlin grabbed both ends of a double-header before a large crowd today. The first fixture went 4 to 1, and the second 5 to 2. White's Hopes were hitting the ball when his meant runs. In the first Bramble outpitched. Howick, Bramble's homer over the centre field fence was the longest hit here this season, which scored two, and by bunting hits in the seventh and eighth the other two were scored. The Saints were never dangerous. An error and Ort's two-base clout gave the visitors their lone counter in the eighth. In the second local swatters got to "Wild" Bill Baker for five hits and scored himself to pitch. Two singles and Wilkinson's miff of Sweeney's fly were good for the other two. Two glaring miscues gave the visitors one in the second, and a pass and two singles counted the other in the sixth. Pitcher Schaeffer was master of the situation, and with three on bases in the fourth prevented any safe hitting and scoring.

The Leafs Came Back.

It looked at this stage of the game as though the game was on ice, but the Leafs were not through yet. They got one more in the eighth when Deneau got his fourth hit of the day. Wright dropped Smith's fly to right, but Deneau was nailed at right by a perfect throw. Beebe and Linneborn both singled, Smith scoring.

PETES SWAMP RED SOX; DRIVE KILL FROM BOX

Score Six Runs Off Him in the Second Inning—Clermont Finishes the Game.

Peterboro, July 31.—By distributing 170 singles and a sacrifice fly with five passes, the Petes scored six runs off Joe Lill in the second inning of today's game, and took 10 more off Clermont. Tracey held the Brants to 5 scattered singles, and the visitors failed to get a man to third base. Lamond accepted eight chances in left field, and the Petes had two fast double plays. Fox's home run was the result of a hard-hit ball down first that Powell couldn't get near, and Ivers made no effort to field till Fox was at second. Joe Byrne returned to the game with a sore hand, and contributed some brilliant fielding.

RITCHIE IS WILLING TO MEET AD WOLGAST

Champion Says Conditions of Challenge Suit Him—Wolgast Posts $1,000.

Los Angeles, July 30.—Willie Ritchie is there with the "come-back" thing. The lightweight champion hands Wolgast an answer well calculated to curl the hair about Little Adolph's temples.

Saturday Wolgast posted $1,000 with Jim Jeffries, the same to go as a forfeit on a $25,000 side bet to Ritchie. One-half this amount was to bet that Wolgast would whip the title holder in a 20-round bout, the other half to go as a straight wager, that he would knock out, stop or force Ritchie to quit inside the limit.

"We call Wolgast's proposition," said Ritchie tonight. "We accept Wolgast's invitation just as it lays. The only stipulation we make is that half of the amount, $12,500, be posted on the day the articles are signed, the remainder to go up ten days before the contest."

"I will be tickled half to death to take on Ad again. I have been passing his case up because I feared that he was no longer a drawing card. But with a bet of this kind I can't afford to let him slip out of my hands. He'll have to make good now or run."

Ritchie has been enjoying a brief vacation at the seashore. He will drive his car back to San Francisco next week, leaving here on Wednesday morning.

"I am in the open market; no promoter has a string of any kind on me," said the champion. "I promised Coffroth that I would talk business with him on Aug. 4 and I will keep my word, but also I will be willing to listen to propositions from promoters from all over the country. I want to fight on either Sept. 1 or 9. Wolgast can have either of these holiday days."

DUNDAS CENTRE TEAM CHAMPIONS OF LEAGUE

Wellington Street Team Defaulted—They Can Now Play for City Championship.

Final Methodist League Standing.

Team	Won	Lost	P.C.
Dundas Centre	6	1	.857
Hill Street	5	3	.625
Wellington Street	4	4	.500
Askin Street	3	4	.429
First Methodist	1	7	.125

Wellington Street baseball team last night defaulted to Dundas Centre (No. 3 Club) by a score of 9 to 0 in the Methodist Baseball League at Queen's Park.

This makes Dundas Centre team the champions of the Methodist League, and they are now eligible to compete for the city championship.

The games in this league have been marked by a great deal of interest.

Dundas Centre only lost one game during the season, thus giving them a high standing. They have a smart lot of young ball tossers, who have a keen eye and good judgment. Mr. Walter Anderson, their manager and captain, deserves a great deal of praise for bringing the team to such a high state of efficiency. A man behind the sun who should also share with Mr. Anderson, is Mr. Ernest B. Graham, Mr. Graham is No. 8 Club's most energetic athletic worker, and through his efforts in years gone by he has led Dundas Centre on to many victories and championships, thus having won several hockey honors.

Hill Street Played Hard.

As for the Hill Street team, they were the greatest disappointment in the baseball season. They finished almost last-enders instead of at the top, as in former years. Titcher Baker, their manager and St. Thomas Canadian League team, was Askin Street's main support in years gone by, and his withdrawal landed Askin Street where they are today.

The next move in the Methodist Athletic Association will be to devise plans for their annual fall day, which is held on Thanksgiving Day at Queen's Park.

NATIONALS WIN ANOTHER PITCHED NO-HIT GAME.

Troy, N. Y., July 31.—Pitcher Vederstott, of the Troy club, shut out Wilkesbarre without a run or hit this afternoon. Not one of the visiting players reached second base, and only three reached first. They were Brannan, Pfeiffer and Hoffman, who each drew a base on balls.

FIVE TWO-BAGGERS AND SEVEN SINGLES WIN GAME

Ottawa Sluggers Get to Garlow and Hammer Him All Over the Field—Score Five to One.

Hamilton, July 31.—By garnering twelve hits, five of which were good for two bases, off Garlow, Ottawa beat Hamilton here today by a 5 to 1 score. It was Ottawa's superior playing in all stages of the game that won the first game of the series here. Garlow was a great pitcher, but he did not live up to his reputation of having only one bad inning in a game. He was hit freely in several frames, and it was only the good fielding of his team-mates that saved him from getting a worse wallop. He had good control through the greater part of the game, only al-

GEO. ORR OF GRANITES WON BUFFALO TROPHY

Defeated Bluet, of London, by a Score of 17 to 15, in the Consolation.

Buffalo, July 31.—The Granites, of Toronto, annexed another laurel at the International Lawn Bowling tournament at Delaware Park today, winning the Buffalo trophy. The final score stood 17 to 13 in favor of Orr, who defeated Bluet, of London. Orr, who defeated Bluet, of London, won the International trophy on Wednesday. In the singles, Newsome, of Brantford, defeated Clarke, of Niagara Falls, winning the Indian Head trophy. The final game of the Scotch doubles will be played tomorrow morning between Clarke and Phelps, of Niagara Falls, and Tovel and Longwell, of the R. C. Y. C., another Toronto rink.

Today's contests practically ended the tournament, and many of the players left for their homes tonight. All were enthusiastic over the success of the meet, and the praise accorded them by Buffalonians. It is planned by the local club to establish clubs in the near future in Rochester, Lockport and other nearby towns where the sport is popular.

Story of a Skull, Buried Six Centuries, Tells of the Perfect North American

The Wonderful Discovery of Naturalist Furstenan, of Denver, on Catalina Island—An Eight-Foot Giant Buried With His Life Treasures.

[BY W. H. ALBURN.]
Staff Correspondence.

Denver, Col., July 31.—For six centuries an Indian sphinx sat, buried in the sand on the shore of Catalina Island, off the coast of California. He gazed toward the sea and guarded the secret of the vanished race.

This mysterious figure has been brought to the light of day by Dr. A. W. Furstenan, world-wanderer and noted naturalist, and his secret is now revealed.

"He was the perfect American," says the scientist, "and he was probably the last of his race."

In Dr. Furstenan's Denver laboratory and museum, filled with strange specimens of animal life and relics of antique man from far lands and distant ages, are the material remains from which the doctor reads the old Indian's history as an open book and tells what manner of life he lived and how puny and decadent the modern Americans are in comparison.

Since leaving Berlin University Dr. Furstenan has spent most of his time delving with a pick and shovel. During a visit to California an old Mexican Indian told him a tradition of an ancient and noble tribe that dwelt in Catalina Island long before the white men came, a tribe that vanished, leaving no trace. The scientist decided that some trace of the "MUST" existed. So he went to the island and started digging along Avalon Bay.

Black, hard sand showed signs of burning. Delving into it, he found it was the site of an ancient sacred fire, kept alive day and night, year after year, perhaps, by a race that worshipped there and used it for a pyre to burn its honored dead.

His pick struck a human skull, with a strange, conical shell resting on it. He dug around and under and unearthed the skeleton of a giant, crouching, with his treasures in his lap.

These were arrow and spear heads, curious wampum made of carved fish vertebrae, rude knives and needles, mortars, pestles and carved shells, all different from ordinary Indian relics, and a strange flat stone, bearing unknown symbols, that may have been a calendar.

Dr. Furstenan and Skull of Original American

As the air touched the long-buried bones most of them crumbled to dust. There remained the skull, jawbone, teeth and bones of one foot, proving the size and strength of the man. And this is his story as the doctor interprets it:

"I was a chief of our island tribe. We were eight feet tall and very strong, but lived in peace, caring not for conquest. Our senses were keen, our nerves were steady. Our food was fish and the fruit, grain and roots that nature gave. Therefore we toiled little."

"We were perfectly fitted to our environment. Disease was almost unknown. I lived over 100 years—you see how my teeth, still sound, slowly wore down to the bone. Old age came easily, with little pain and death was a kindly friend. But a fierce, bloody race came and destroyed us."

"Such was this prehistoric American race," says Dr. Furstenan. "And we are decadent. Our eyes and ears are dull. Our teeth decay, our jaws weaken and recede, our chests narrow, our stature dwindles. Colds, headaches, rheumatic pains assail us. The pressure and complexity of life wreck our nerves and fill our sanatoriums. Canned food and much clothing make us frail. After a fitful, discontented life, disease drives us to a painful and premature death."

"We do not fit our environment. If we could only get back to nature like that old Indian!"

ROMANTIC STORY OF THE RAND: HOW GOLD REEF CAME INTO BEING

Sir Lionel Phillips' Entertaining Address—Inland Sea Which Cradled Gold in the Transvaal—359 Millions Sterling Mined.

"Sir Lionel Phillips is one of the swiftest and most successful among the giants of the South African gold-mining industry; but he has not parted with his imagination, and in a lecture on the 'Romance of the Rand,' to the National Society at Cape Town, he so contrived that in the minds of his audience the marvellous completely dominated the sordid," says the Times correspondent in sending an account of this most interesting lecture.

"The Ridge of the White Waters is really a most wonderful place, and a most wonderful possession, not only from the point of view of material wealth, but from the geological point of view," said Sir Lionel.

"Let us imagine a period of time so far back as to be really unimaginable. In the dim past the Witwatersrand was an inland sea, and this sea, which was inclosed no doubt by mountains, played about against the hills and tore them down gradually, and deposited them on the bottom, 'not in thin layers, but deposited those rocks to a depth of over four and a half miles. That was the origin of the Witwatersrand. After this deposition took place there was an upheaval from below. The Rand extends for something like 60 miles in length. The inland sea to which I referred was very much larger; but we only know the portion of it that is mineralized."

A Titan in Nature's Laboratory.

LOSING TWO ARMS DOESN'T KEEP THIS MAN FROM SUPPORTING HIS FAMILY—READ HOW HE MAKES HIS LIVING.

Alex. Semereaux At Work.

Minneapolis, July 31.—When Alex. Semereaux, a railroad switchman at Odessa, Minn., lost both arms in a railroad accident two years ago, he didn't go to begging.

"Guess I'll have to talk myself into a living—salesman or something like that," he pluckily told his wife. He secured agency rights on a line of automobiles. He soon found, however, that driving a car was necessary to his business. He couldn't afford an extra man for "demonstrations." He decided to try himself.

Semereaux's left arm was completely severed at the shoulder, so he had a you.

"Titan in Nature's laboratory prepared his ground, Sir Lionel Phillips passed to the scarcely less Titanic operations of the engineers and chemists of today. Since the gold fields were discovered something like 2,550,000,000 have been extracted from 298,000,000 tons of rock torn from the bowels of the earth."

"If you take the 298,000,000 tons and bring them into cubic feet, and then consider a railway tunnel, say, 14 feet high and 10 feet wide, you can get a tunnel from Capetown to Khartoum to represent the amount of ore crushed on the Witwatersrand—a tunnel 3,400 miles in length. That even does not cover the whole of the energy that has been exercised, because, of course, in addition to the tons actually crushed, a large amount of waste material has been excavated from the earth."

"Sir Lionel Phillips calculates that the end of the century will not see the Rand mines exhausted. The rise in temperature as you descend is so slow in these mines as compared with what is generally found in other parts of the world that work will probably be possible up to 7,000 feet or 8,000 feet vertical."

"The economic consequences of the industry both to South Africa and to the world are difficult to estimate in all their ramifications. Sir Lionel summed them up statistically for one year (1912) by saying that £37,000,000 worth of gold had been produced. Of that £37,000,000 had been paid in wages, £7,865,000 going to Europeans, of whom 193,241 were employed on the mines, and £5,691,000 to colored people, of whom 193,241 were employed. These wages were distributed to traders, and went towards the sustenance of the population, filtering through the whole of the country."

"In stores consumed on the mines and for the working of the mines, including coal, £2,753,000. They were all purchased through local people, and therefore formed the trade of the Witwatersrand. These two items made up £23,200,000, and in addition to that about £3,800,000 was spent in developing either existing mines or opening up anything new, which left a balance of £8,000,000 paid in dividends, $6, roughly, out of £37,000,000. The proportion left for the overseas investor will probably not be regarded by that sanguine person as excessive; but nevertheless it is a potent lure."

The Capture of Cawnpore

Story of Havelock's Great Feat—Butcher of the Women and Children by the Rebels.

General Havelock was a Queen's officer of forty years' standing; but he had seen more service in India than perhaps any other officer in Her Majesty's Army. He had fought in the first Burma war, the Kabul war, the Gwalior campaign of 1843, and the Punjab campaign of 1845-1846. He was a pale, thin, thoughtful man, small in stature, but burning with the aspirations of a Puritan hero. Religion was the ruling principle of his life, and military glory was his master passion. He had just returned to India after commanding a division in the Persian war. Abstemious to a fault, he was able, in spite of his advancing years, to bear up against the heat and rain of Hindustan during the deadliest season of the year.

On July 7th, General Havelock left Allahabad for Cawnpore. The force at his disposal did not exceed two thousand men, Europeans and Sikhs. He had heard of the massacre at Cawnpore on June 27th, and burned to avenge it. On July 12th he defeated a large force of mutineers and Maharratias at Fathpur. On the 15th he inflicted two more defeats on the enemy. Havelock was now within twenty miles of Cawnpore, he had halted his men to rest for the night. But news arrived that the women and children were still alive at Cawnpore, and that Nana had taken the field with a large force to oppose his advance. Accordingly, Havelock marched fourteen miles that same night, and on the following morning, within eight miles of Cawnpore, the troops bivouacked beneath some trees.

On that same night, July 15th, the crowning atrocity was committed at Cawnpore. The rebels, who had been defeated by Havelock, returned to Nana with the tidings of their disaster. In revenge Nana ordered the slaughter of the two hundred women and children. The poor victims were literally hacked to death, or almost to death, with swords, bayonets, knives and axes. Next morning the bleeding remains of dead and dying were dragged to a neighboring well and thrown in.

At two o'clock in the afternoon after the massacre the force under Havelock was again upon the march for Cawnpore. The heat was fearful; many of the troops were struck down by the sun, and the cries for water were continuous. But for two miles the column toiled on, and then came in sight of the enemy. Havelock had only one thousand Europeans and three hundred Sikhs; he had no cavalry, and his artillery was inferior. The enemy numbered five thousand men, armed and trained by British officers, strongly entrenched, with two batteries of guns of heavy calibre. Havelock's artillery failed to silence the batteries, and he ordered the Europeans to charge with the bayonet. On they went in the face of a shower of grape, but the bayonet charge was as irresistible at Cawnpore as at Assaye. The enemy fought for a while like men in a death struggle. Nana Sahib was with them, but nothing is known of his exploits. At last they fled, and there was no cavalry to pursue them.

As yet nothing was known of the butchery of the women and children. Havelock halted for the night, and next morning marched his force into the station at Cawnpore. The men beheld the scene of the massacre, and saw the bleeding remains in the well. But the murderers had vanished, no one knew whither. Havelock advanced to Bithoor, and destroyed the palace of the Maharratta. Subsequently he was joined by General Neil, with reinforcements from Allahabad, and on July 20th, he set out for the relief of Lucknow, leaving Cawnpore in charge of General Neil—J. Talboys Wheeler.

Although having no social aspirations, old top, I was one day invited to the select social function—the annual ball and cotillion of the Pretzel Benders' Union. On inquiring whether full-evening dress would be an affair, I received this information:

"Sure, kid, put on your soup-and-fish, your sun-down rags, your O-Gussie harness. Every guy what gets into the blow-out has to do up in a hard-boiled chest protector, shovel-iron shoes and two-winged shroud. This is a swell affair and any gink what tries to yegg in the drum in his time-cloak tatters will get the rude ruse. Trust up in your Tiesie-killers, get me?"

YOUR HAIR IS FLUFFY, BEAUTIFUL AND LUSTROUS IN A FEW MOMENTS

Girls! Get a 25-Cent Bottle of "Danderine" and Try This Also Stops Falling Hair—Destroys Dandruff.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. Besides beautifying the hair at once,

Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair. But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug list or toilet counter, and just try it.

PLAYGROUNDS PROVING
A BOON TO THE CHILDRENBaseball and Other Games Feature of Thursday Afternoon's Sports.

Public playgrounds are a boon to children. Anyone visiting Victoria playground on Thursday afternoon would have been convinced of this if they could see the children, some building in the sand box, others on the swings and others playing baseball, basketball, volleyball, some throwing quoits and others taking things easy watching the ball game. The Victoria Mothers' Club, which is financing the playground, feel that citizens should take a greater interest in the welfare of the children. They are having a hard time providing the necessary money to meet expenses, and would appreciate the assistance of any of the public-spirited citizens who live in the south end of the city. On Thursday afternoon Mr. L. C. McLeod and Miss Bessie Hardie, who are the supervisors, intended having races in addition to the games, but decided to call them off on account of the heat. A game of baseball was played between those old foes, St. George's and Victoria schools. Also a game of basketball between two teams of girls and a game of volleyball between the boys.

St. George's Won.

In the ball game St. George's won by a score of 12 to 9. The line-up was: St. George's—H. Taylor c., G. Land p., P. F. Butler 1b., Woolley s., R. Humple 3b., Williams 2b., Keene 1. f., Beattie c. f., Milligan c. f., Warman r. f.

Victorias—N. Walters 1. f., H. Wood s. s., C. Ely 2b., H. Ross p., G. Wood c., F. Hollett 1b., E. Stewart 2b., G. Wray r. f., E. Hoag, J. Smith.

The basketball game between the Reds and the Whites was won by the Whites by a score of 7 to 2.

The volleyball game was won by the Nicholls, by a score of 3 to 0. The teams:

Nicholls—L. Pritchett, E. Stewart, E. Nicholls, R. Ross.

Whites—H. Wood, S. McPherson, G. Wood, L. C. McLeod.

Dog Bit a Girl

Rabies Was Feared

Child Developed Symptoms of Malady
But Is Now Recovering.

Little May McIntosh, daughter of Mr. James McIntosh, of 99 Smith street, is now believed to be recovering from a strange malady, which it was at first feared would prove fatal, and which it was thought developed from a dog bite received about two months ago. The little girl was playing near her home, when she was bitten by a neighbor's dog, which was soon afterwards shot and killed. The animal was promptly buried, however, and it was neglected to make an analysis of the head for signs of rabies. The physician who dressed and certified the wound in the child's arm stated that it might be forty days before any illness would develop from the bite. About two weeks ago, the child was taken seriously ill, and for several days her condition was very precarious. Some of the symptoms of the disease were similar to those of rheumatic fever, but for a while it was feared that hydrophobia might develop. The little girl is now improving and her recovery is fully expected.

TRAINMEN'S PICNIC

Several Hundred at Outing Arranged by Ladies' Auxiliary.

Under the auspices of the London Ladies' Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, a successful picnic, attended by two hundred people, was held at Springbank on Thursday afternoon. Many visitors were present from Stratford and St. Thomas, Stratford sending a special train over the Grand Trunk.

A committee of London ladies from Connaught Lodge No. 43, made arrangements for the outing, the success of which reflected greatly to their credit. Mrs. Maude F. Moore, of Stratford, grand president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, was among the visitors from out of town.

An interesting game of baseball was played between Grand Trunk and C. P. R. men from London and a picked team from Stratford and St. Thomas. The Londoners won by a score of 23 to 12. In playing Fred Reddy, of Stratford, fell and fractured his kneecap, the injury being attended by Dr. A. V. Beshner.

PANIC IN CANTON

General Lung Is Advancing Rapidly and Capturing Cities.

[Canadian Press.]
Hong Kong, Aug. 1.—General Lung, commander of the Government forces in the province of Kwang-Si, proceeding against the secessionists, has occupied the city of Shi-U-Hing on the West River, and captured the gunboat Tai-Kong, which was in the hands of the rebels. Communication with Shams-Hai has been cut and trains stopped. Troops have been hurried to oppose the advance of General Lung's forces, but the city of Canton is panic-stricken. There is an immense exodus from the city, and all business has been suspended.

GERMANY IS WILLING

Denied that Govt. Will Not Participate in Panama Exposition.

[Canadian Press.]
Berlin, Aug. 1.—It was officially denied at the offices of the Minister of the Interior today that the German Government had decided not to participate in the Panama Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. It was declared that action on the matter had been deferred for probably another month, but it was admitted that the chances of accepting the invitation were unfavorable.

Diamond Jubilee Sale

—IN FULL SWING—

It has been our custom to give these Great Clearance Sales twice a year. Hundreds of shrewd buyers know it and are taking advantage of this Diamond Jubilee Sale when the purchasing power of a dollar is nearly doubled. While the figures don't show such a saving, you must remember that, as manufacturers, our regular prices are one-fourth to one-third below the prices of other stores; and these are the prices that are reduced for this Sale. So you can readily see the saving will be big.

This is the season of the year when we give all the profit and part of the cost to our customers. Our Goods are all marked in plain figures. Money back if you want it. The reason of this Sale is that we want to clear out all our Summer Goods and make room for our Fall Stock. That's all there is of it.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ingersoll, Aug. 1.—Following an extended illness, the death occurred yesterday of Mrs. Reuben Porter, at the family residence, Thames street. She was 42 years of age and had resided in Ingersoll for a number of years. Owing to her long illness and critical condition recently her death was not unexpected. The funeral will be held Saturday afternoon to the Ingersoll rural cemetery.

It is probable that Oxford County oats will be exhibited in the big sheep exhibit at the Canadian National Exhibition. The winners of the first, second and third prizes of the standing field crop competition, conducted by the Ingersoll, North and West Oxford Agricultural Society, have this privilege. They have been warmly congratulated on the quality of their crops, and samples of the oats are said to be equal to any ever seen in this district. The big exhibit at Toronto brings together the winners of the various competitions throughout the Province, and it is probable that the successful farmers of this section may take advantage of the opportunity.

The advent of natural gas is impatiently awaited by Ingersoll people. The main line, it is understood, has been extended close to Woodstock and is expected to extend this far before the end of August. In this event it is expected the gas will be available the latter part of September.

COL. BRODIE DEAD

Father of the Thirty-First Greys at Owen Sound.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Owen Sound, July 31.—Colonel George Brodie, who formed and fathered the Thirty-first Grey Regiment, died here this morning after a short illness. For the last year or two Colonel Brodie had been getting weaker, and for some time had been confined to his home, death being the result of general decline. He was born two months short of 92 years ago in Suffolk, England.

Train Jumped Track
On 200 Foot Bridge

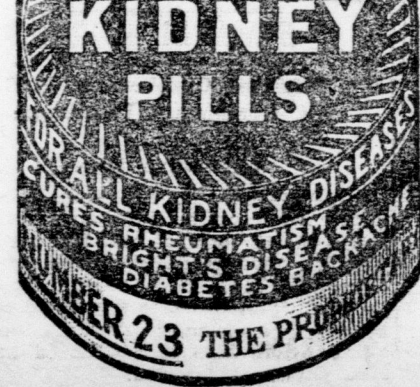

[Canadian Press.]
Muncie, Ind., Aug. 1.—A miraculous escape from death and injury took place early today when the tender of the New York Central Limited, No. 20, the fast eastbound train, jumped the track on the middle of a 200-foot bridge, five miles west of Muncie.

The train ran a third of a mile, when four Pullman cars left the track. Although two steel rails were driven through the floor of one of the Pullmans, not a single passenger or trainman was injured.

Gov. of Mexico
Is Buying Rifles

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Aug. 1.—On the manifest of the steamship Mexico, of the Ward Line, which sailed yesterday for Vera Cruz, Mexico, were 150 cases of rifles and 625 cases of cartridges, consigned to the military governor of the State of Vera Cruz. It was explained at the offices of the downtown firm that the ship had a permit from Washington for the shipment.

"The rifles and cartridges were shipped as such," said a member of the firm, "and we had a regular permit from the President to make the shipment. We sent a very large consignment of rifles and cartridges about two weeks ago in like manner, and under a similar permit. All our shipments have been for account of the present Mexican Government."

FIRE TRAP IS STILL IN DANGEROUS CONDITION

Inspectors Active After Recent
Horror Find New Law Violated.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, Aug. 1.—The Asch Building on Washington Place, the scene of the Triangle Waist Company fire in March, 1911, when 148 lives were lost, is still a fire trap, according to inspectors of the Bureau of Fire Prevention, who summoned to court today four occupants of the building on charges of violating the fire and labor laws.

The building is occupied by clothing companies, as it was at the time of the Triangle fire, and since that calamity it has been placarded freely with fire regulations, prohibiting smoking in the building, requiring doors to open outward, and other precautions. On a visit to the building yesterday the inspectors found the elevator man and another employee smoking, and found three doors fastened by spring locks, whereas the authorities had ordered that all doors be kept unlocked. A locked door was held responsible for the loss of many lives at the previous fire. The proprietors contended that spring locks, requiring no keys, would not hinder exit in case of fire, but the inspectors were not satisfied.

The recent factory fire at Binghamton has aroused the inspectors to renewed activities toward the prevention of another disaster of this sort in New York.

PREFERRED A WELL.

When the kitchen water pipes broke Aunt Mandy surveyed the damage resentfully. "Gib me a good ol' hole in de ground," she sniffed. "So Jack Harkness has proposed to you?" "Yes. How did you know?" "My fiance told me last night. He used Jack's love for you to give weight to an argument." "An argument about what?" "He was trying to convince me that love is blind." "The fact that he is your fiance should have convinced you of that."—Houston Post.

Quit Militia Or Leave the Unions

HOW I MADE
MY HAIR GROW

Woman With Marvellously Beautiful Hair
Gives Simple Home Prescription
Which She Used With Most Remarkable Results.

I was greatly troubled with dandruff and falling hair. I tried many advertised hair preparations and various prescriptions, but they all signally failed. Many of them made my hair greasy so it was impossible to comb it or do it up properly. I think that many of the things I tried were positively injurious, and from my own experience I cannot too strongly caution you against using preparations containing wood alcohol and other poisonous substances. I believe they injure the roots of the hair. After my long list of failures I finally found a simple prescription which I can unhesitatingly state is beyond doubt the most wonderful thing for the hair I have ever seen. Many of my friends have also used it, and obtained wonderful effects therefrom. It not only is a powerful stimulant to the growth of the hair and for restoring gray hair to its natural color, but it is equally good for removing dandruff, giving the hair life and brilliancy, etc., and for the purpose of keeping the scalp in first-class condition. It also makes the hair easier to comb and arrange in nice form. I have a friend who used it two months, and during that time it has not only stopped the falling of his hair and wonderfully increased its growth, but it practically restored all of his hair to its natural color. You can obtain the ingredients for making this wonderful preparation from almost any druggist. The prescription is as follows: Bay Rum, 6 oz.; Menthol Crystals, 1/2 drachm; Lavender de Compose, 2 oz. If you like it perfumed, add a few drops of To-Kalon Perfume, which mixes perfectly with the other ingredients. This, however, is not necessary. Apply night and morning, rub thoroughly into the scalp.

"Those life guards give you a sense of security," said one man. "Yes," replied the other. "If a girl has to be rescued you can call the life guard in." "Marjorie!" "No. I couldn't get her to talk about anybody I knew."—Judge.

Blenheim Party Had a Splendid Time at Rondeau Park.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Blenheim, Aug. 1.—The Blenheim Old Boys held their annual reunion yesterday at Rondeau Park. An unusually large number attended, and the very enjoyable time was spent.

The Old Boys were conveyed to the park in about 25 automobiles gaily decorated with flags and banners.

A very interesting program was run off, which included old men's races, baseball, jumping and numerous other schoolboy sports.

The baseball game proved very exciting when several former stars became grand up and played professional ball.

Britain Swarms With Americans During the Tourist Season

London and the Provinces Adjuncts of New York, Boston and Chicago—Their Love For Shakespeare.

London and the British provinces are rapidly becoming canted into adjuncts and suburbs of New York, Boston, and Chicago," says a writer in the London Morning Chronicle. American men and women swarm in the streets and market-places of the old mother country. They are distinct in face and dress, yet their sympathy, curiosity, and deeper enthusiasm excite the interest and win the favor of the cockney rustic natives. The author thus tells how he "places" Americans in Bow Street or on the Epsom Downs:

"There are ninety odd millions of Americans, and the business of placing them in their proper pigeon-hole is a fascinating employment, but also a baffling one."

"There can not, however, be much doubt about that sharp, ascetic, rather shriveled little woman with eyeglasses. She surely must hail from New England. And if you see an American girl with a buoyant freshness and elasticity of face, figure, and movement, you will probably not be far wrong in ascribing her to the South. When the freshness turns to gaucherie and the elasticity to something like a sprawl, the odds are that you are in Chicago. And when all is correct and circumspect and subdued to an almost European neutrality, it is a fairly safe guess that New York stands before you."

"But perhaps, after all, the voices of our visitors are a better index than their dress and bearing. American women seem to look and dress so much alike, at all events when they are on their travels, and the fashions over there are so appallingly universal, that it is a desperate undertaking to try to infer their State from their appearance. But there is no mistaking the soft, slow Southern drawl, or the Chicago 'burr,' or the precision of Boston, or the celebrated Far Western nasal rasp, or the adulated accents of New England, or the somewhat colorless and undistinguished clarity of New York."

Especially in London are the transatlantic strangers in evidence, and there the American flag flies as if over a conquered city. In fact,

"To be in London now is to have a chance of focusing the entire American Commonwealth. You find its citizens sitting in the stalls at the opera and the theatre; fluttering through the best hotels and restaurants; monopolizing the Bloomsbury boarding-houses; promenading the Row indefatigably on the off-chance of snapshotting the King and Queen; overrunning the coaches and motor-buses; doing all sights, Baedeker in hand; taking, in a word, all London, and most of England under their artless patronage."

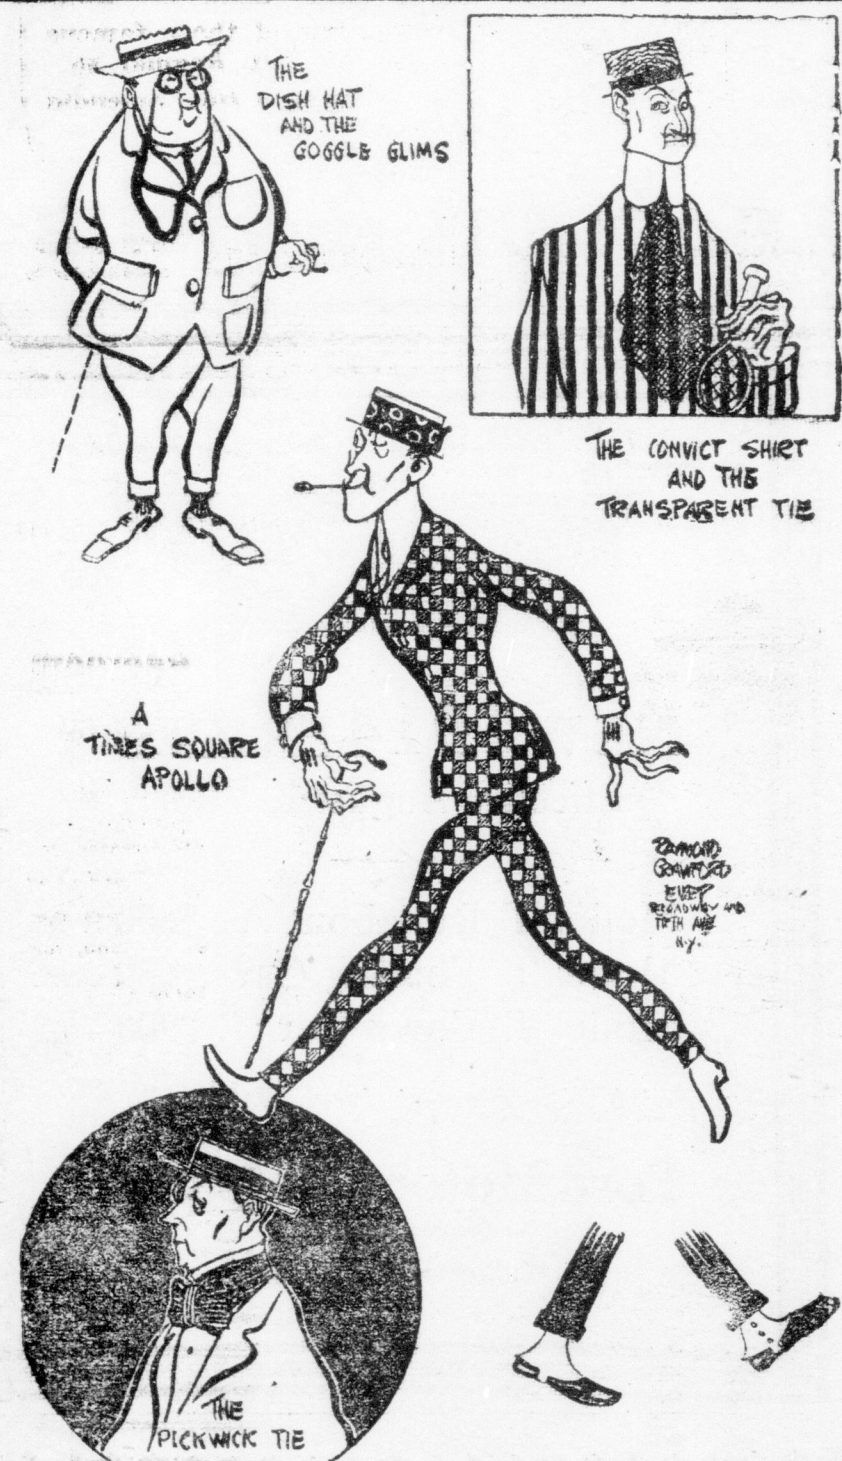

"And London, you may be sure, lays itself out for them. It seems to be almost a British axiom that the road to an American's pocket lies through his or her patriotism. The Stars and Stripes accordingly floats temptingly from the largest shops, prices are marked in American as well as English money, sales are advertised specially for the convenience of American visitors, and the most unmitigated English establishments blossom out into the quaintest devices for entrapping the dollar—vow that they sell 'American candy,' and will even experiment with some fantastic machine that calls itself an 'American soda-fountain.'"

Eighty per cent. of the visitors to the great literary shrines of Britain are Americans, we read, and their 'annual invasion' 'is rich in profit and amusement' both to themselves and their English cousins.

"But it is in the provinces, and

The Dressy Male Guy as You Can See Him in N'York Just Now--They Call It Art in Clothes

By Norman—With Drawings by Raymond Crawford Ewer

The latest fashions? On Fifth Avenue, naturally. The latest eccentricities in male attire? On Broadway. That's the difference. Lots of odd sights to be seen on both thoroughfares these midsummer afternoons.

If you want to know the very, positively, undoubtedly, just-thought-of thing in straw hats, just glimpse the figure in the upper left-hand corner of the picture. The brim is something like a soup-plate with a serrated edge.

The gentleman, as he was sketched, was standing in front of the Holland House, than which there is no more classy place to stand in all N'York. Note, as Exhibit B, the present mode in facial glassware, the heaviest, most disfiguring rims, of horn or tortoise shell, that can be draped around a pair of lenses, and a ribbon just a trifle wider than the necktie.

Also, the beltless Norfolk, peg-top trousers, square-toed, flat-soled shoes and near-invisible cane. All the newest modes.

The next-to-the-latest straw hat—one which had a great vogue at the beginning of the season—has a very narrow band, and is constructed of arched straw plaits. Any male person over 22 years of age who puts on one of these things makes himself look more like a hopeless idiot than he could in any other way except having his brains taken out.

Silk shirts with inch-wide stripes of black, dark blue or purple, on a white ground, are being much worn. The newest scarfs are very summery—made of some lace-like material that is quite transparent.

Long-point collars are at the height of their vogue, extremists displaying the points outside the coat lapels. Checks are all the go in suits, and men's clothes are being made ALMOST as tight as women's.

The high stock tie, of the sort affected (in his portraits) by Mr. Pickwick, was until recently worn only with evening clothes, or with the one-button cut-away, but of late is being seen along the Rialto in conjunction with sack coats and negligee shirts.

Spats are perhaps THE distinguishing mark of the man with whom clothes are an art rather than a passion. White spats, worn with black shoes and dark trousers, are seen only here and there on Fifth Avenue, and never at all on Broadway.

$18.75—American Walnut.

not in London, that Americans really rule the roost; and it is the provinces, and especially the Midlands, Stratford-on-Avon and Warwick part, that might fairly be described as American England. On the streets, at the hotels, along the fragrant and incomparable Warwickshire lanes, and more particularly and insistently at the show places, you get the same answer to the inevitable question: 'Eighty per cent. of our visitors are Americans.'

"I looked the other day at the register of the Red Horse Hotel, at Stratford-on-Avon, the famous old hostelry where Washington Irving stayed, and where there is a room wholly given up to memorials of him, and turned over twenty pages without finding more than half a dozen English names and addresses. All round me the streets were echoing to American feet, American voices, American enthusiasm. Indeed, the reverence with which Americans kneel at Shakespeare's shrine, and the guilelessness with which they fondle his 'relics,' would move even a German to pity. And no doubt the pockets of the good people of Stratford-on-Avon were rattling with American money."

"We are very old people, we English, and very bored and callous; and these ingenious Americans, with their eternal eagerness, and buoyancy, and questions, and their insatiable interest in all they see, break in upon our magnificent indifference with a primitive hoydenishness that is quite exhilarating. One gets from them the same sort of joy relief and diversion as to be had from a romp in the nursery."

MISNOMER.

[From The Chicago Tribune.] The little boy in one of the forward pews touched his mother's elbow. "Mamma," he whispered, "what makes the organist look so cross?" "Sh, dear," cautioned the maternal parent; "he is playing an organ voluntarily he doesn't like, perhaps, and one that he didn't know he would have to play."

That held the boy about ten seconds. Then he touched her elbow again. "Mamma," he said, "it must be an organ involuntary he's playin'."

CYRIL SLAPDAB, THE CHAMPION BILL-POSTER, IN A BALD JOKE.

1. "That's got it exactly in posh!" tooted Cyril, gazing at the poster with professional pride. "Now to give a final slap!" And he flourished the paste brush.
2. But unfortunately he rather overdid it. Yes, he caught the bald topknot of a passing old fossil, and there were fierce remarks and high words forthcoming fifthwith.
3. "Don't say those, professor," chirruped Cyril, a nutty notion occurring to him. "Out of evil cometh good! bend down your tuppenny!" And he carved off the handle—
4. Leaving the business end of the brush sticking to the bald pate, and, believe me or do the other thing, the old gent was fitted up with a lovely lot; so he was!

"You say that man has exaggerated ego?" "Yes," replied the physician. "And delusions of grandeur!" "Undoubtedly," "I suppose it's only a short time, then, till he will be on his way to the asylum!" "Not necessarily. I think we will avert that by putting him out as a stump speaker. If we can persuade his audiences to take him seriously, his misfortune will be the making of him."—Washington Star.

One Year On A Glacier

Thrilling Story of Polar Adventure—Seventeen Days' Blizzard.

[From the London News and Leader.]

The first account has come in of the experiences of Mr. Frank Wild and seven companions, all under thirty years of age, who, forming the second base of Mr. Mawson's Antarctic expedition, with characteristic pluck elected to be landed on a moving Antarctic glacier rather than return to Australia. A year later they were rescued with great difficulty, in circumstances already narrated by Captain Davis, of the Aurora. The chief result of their exploration was the discovery of a great tract of land, with 350 miles of coast line, probably extending to the Pole itself, which has been named Queen Mary's Land.

Speaking to Reuters representative of the experience, Mr. Wild said: "We left Mawson at his base in Adelie Land on January 19 of last year with orders to form a second base on Sabrina Land or Knox Land. The former we soon ascertained did not exist, and impenetrable pack prevented us from getting within sixty miles of Knox Land, with the result that instead of two miles we cruised for 1,300 miles and still found no chance of landing. On Feb. 11 we sighted a glacier, which had probably been mistaken by Wilkes for Termination Land, and on the 15th found a landing. This being Shackleton's birthday, we named it Shackleton Glacier. It looked an impossible spot. It was clearly a moving glacier, and its terrible cliffs a hundred feet high were badly broken and crevassed.

"I fully realized the possibility of it breaking away, but thought the risk worth taking. However, I asked all my people separately if they were willing to land, and trusting in my judgment they cheerfully consented. We had thought of landing on a fast flow five or six years old, which we had seen some days previously, but fortunately did not, or we should have all been lost. Landing our hut, stores, etc., and hoisting them up this dangerous cliff was a long and difficult business, and our next care was to move them from the broken edge to a spot 640 yards distant, where we erected our hut.

"During these operations the whole party worked fourteen hours a day, and six days after the Aurora had departed we were able to leave our tents and occupy the hut. During this period the temperature varied 40 degrees, dropping as low as minus 15 Fahr. We covered 185 miles in dragging stores between the glacier edge and the hut. The next morning we made preparations for sledging, but were detained until the middle of March by blizzards and snow drifts 15 feet in depth. In the meantime all the sea ice blew away, leaving us with a perpendicular glacier edge, up which it was impossible for penguins or seals to reach, and for five months we had to depend entirely on tinned foods.

"Compelled to Return.
"We soon found it impossible to go on, and turned back for home. Carrying only 50 pounds per man the going was so hard that we only covered a mile and a quarter in eight hours, down hill and singing three feet in snow. When two miles from our hut another blizzard held us up; one tent collapsed, and its three occupants were unable to move or get food for 36 hours.

"The winter was very bad, with constant gales, but we managed to keep well and cheerful. We had a regular routine, meals at stated hours, work in morning, and afternoon, off, and we amused ourselves with hockey, football, and skiing in fine weather, and chess, draughts, and cards when unable to venture out. Every Sunday I conducted divine service in the morning, and we did nothing except essential camp work. In August we again made preparations for sledging, one party of three going eastward and another to the west. The latter surveyed all the coast line to the point reached by the German expedition of 1902. The western party did most of its travelling on land at an altitude of

Craze for Ear-Rings

Many Titled Women Now Wear Them in England.

Earrings of late have become very attractive in London, particularly among smart women who boast the bluest of blue blood. They are worn in the street, in the house and in the evening, and appear in all the smart photographs. Long earrings are popular, and are worn by Princess Alexandra of Teck, the Duchess of Roxburghe, Lady Castlereagh, Lady Annet, Lady Gladstone, Mrs. George Keppel, Mrs. Cecil Bingham and Mrs. Winston Churchill.

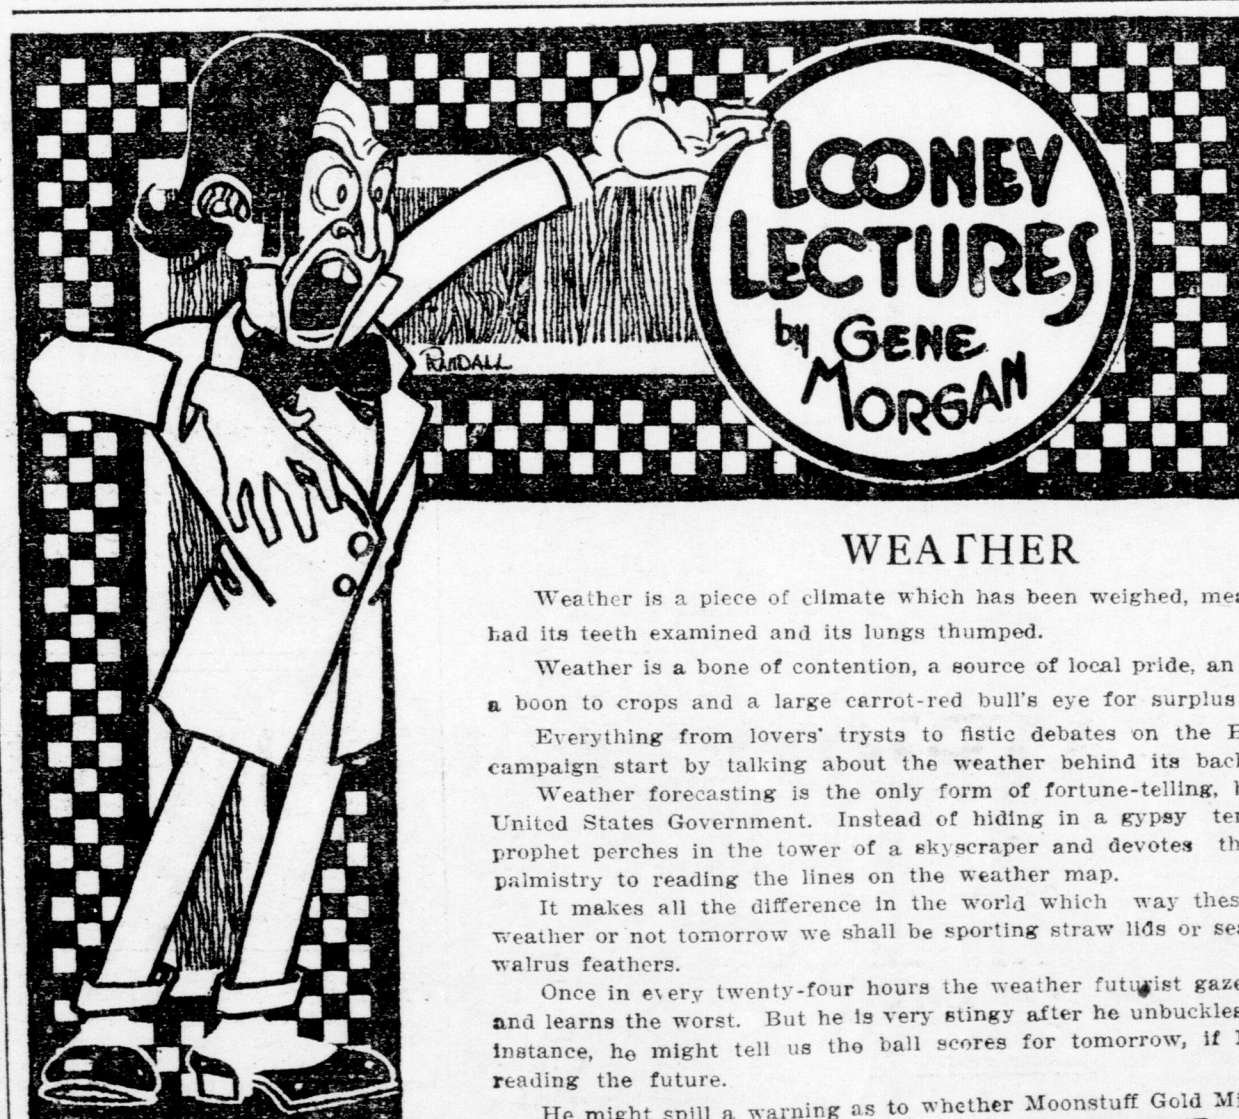

Some of these earrings are an inch and a half in length. A big diamond forms the stud, and from this hangs a pear-shaped stone—a pearl, ruby or emerald. But a few bold spirits mix stones with an effect that is bizarre. The other day at tea at a very smart hotel a smart actress appeared with a long pink pearl in one ear and in the other a long black one.

Another design is to have a bar of diamond fixed in the ear, from which fall three slender chains of diamonds, with a small ruby, emerald or sapphire at the ends.

WEATHER

Weather is a piece of climate which has been weighed, measured, assayed and its teeth examined and its lungs thumped.

Weather is a bone of contention, a source of local pride, an aid to memory, a boon to crops and a large carrot-red bull's eye for surplus profanity.

Everything from lovers' trysts to fistic debates on the Blaine-Cleveland campaign start by talking about the weather behind its back.

Weather forecasting is the only form of fortune-telling, boosted by the United States Government. Instead of hiding in a gypsy tent the weather prophet perches in the tower of a skyscraper and devotes the principles of palmistry to reading the lines on the weather map.

It makes all the difference in the world which way these lines twist—weather or not tomorrow we shall be sporting straw lids or sealskin coats and walrus feathers.

Once in every twenty-four hours the weather futurist gazes into a crystal and learns the worst. But he is very stung after he unbuckles his trance. For instance, he might tell us the ball scores for tomorrow, if he would, while reading the future.

He might spill a warning as to whether Moonstuf Gold Mining stocks and Edible Asphalt Preferred will rise or fall. Instead he presents us with a mere hand out, such as "Fresh northerly winds" and "No relief in sight."

But here's a quaint fact: No matter what sort of weather it endures as a general thing, each section of the country is proud of its own particular breed. Some districts advertise that they enjoy summer all the year.

Other areas boast that the thermometer sinks to thirty fringes below zero, but that the humidity is so slight you don't notice it. Another state will admit it rains angors and dachunds, but that the rains is not very wet.

In one of our larger cities the weather vaudeville includes blizzards and heat prostrations all in a day, yet the natives cry variety is the spice o' life.

Weather records are kept and codified by the different bureaus of agriculture. But any oldtimer can easily knock 'em galley west by recalling the winter of '54 or the summer of the wart-shaped sunspot.

He has been among old friends since he arrived.

Personal Mention

Mrs. Thomas Lee and little daughter, Elva, 11 McClary avenue, are spending their vacation at Grand Bend. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Southcott, 1 Maryboro Place, are holidaying at Grand Bend, the guests of Mrs. C. A. Southcott, Exeter.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan McLean, of Hyman street, leave Saturday for Quebec. Miss Moore, of Orillia, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Fox, 340 Grosvenor street.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Egerton and two children, William and Ruth, who have been visiting in London for the past week, leave tomorrow morning for their home in Chicago. Mr. Egerton, who is a London Old Boy, is now connected with Rothschild & Co., in the above city.

Miss Gladys Comber, of Wellington street, is spending the week-end with friends at St. Thomas, having left to fill an engagement at the Irish and Scotch concert held at Pinafore Park by Rev. Father West, of the Holy Angels' Church, on Wednesday. Miss Gladys, who is a general favorite wherever she appears, was ably accompanied by her teacher, Mrs. Alice Henderson, and also by Pipe Major Jack Wilson, of the St. Thomas Pipe Band. She had to respond to numerous encores.

Prof. John F. Stiles, of the University of New Brunswick, a former London boy, is visiting friends here. The professor thinks the city has much improved in the two years of his absence.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johns, of Cleveland, are renewing acquaintances in the city.

PAVE WATERLOO ST. FAR AS HOSPITAL IS THE REQUEST NOW

Could Be Made a Link in the Proposed Plan of a Boulevard.

Doctors Also Say Poor Road Is a Source of Suffering to Their Patients.

Now that the asphalt pavement is being constructed on Waterloo street from Queen's avenue to the Grand Trunk tracks, the agitation for its continuance as far as Victoria Hospital has been revived in no uncertain manner. Waterloo street is the main thoroughfare to the hospital, and under existing conditions it is a trying ordeal to patients being taken there to drive over the road.

Doctors have petitioned and requested that a permanent pavement be put down on this street. Patients are jolted unmercifully, according to their claims, and aside from any "good roads" agitation the humanitarian side of the question is one they advance as the main reason why the street should be paved.

Another reason advanced for the pavement of the street is the fact that it has become one of the main avenues for the incinerator traffic, all north and east end carts using the street on their trips to the city's pet smelter factory. In order to stand up to the increased traffic it is claimed that it should have a permanent pavement.

There is a third reason for the paving, being done and that is the construction of the proposed "boulevard" of the city. Waterloo street is one of the prettiest thoroughfares of the city and the scheme has been advanced to make it part of the proposed paved boulevard drive. The proposition is, to continue the driveway along Ottawa avenue, from Waterloo to Wellington street, over the Wellington street bridge, and High street as far as Grand avenue and across Grand avenue to, say Wortley road, where a pavement is to be laid this fall. Such a belt line, if properly paved, would make one of the prettiest auto drives imaginable and would be a show-place for London.

According to City Engineer W. N. Ashplant if the Waterloo street south pavement were put through by the council the work could be completed this year. The asphalt construction gangs are already in the city and as the storm water scheme calls for no laterals or main arteries on the street there is no reason why it should not be rushed through to completion this fall, provided always, of course, that the city council initiates the work.

TORONTO BANNERS BARRED FROM THE STREETS OF LONDON

Tender of Embro Firm For Bridge Abutments Accepted by Works Board.

May Be Another Change in Material of Pavement for Wortley Road.

Street banners, the proposed banning of which was brought up at the board of works a week ago, had another inning at the session of the board on Thursday night.

A request that permission be granted to string a banner advertising the Toronto exhibition was the cause of another discussion on the merits of street banner advertising.

"If the Toronto people will let us string a banner across the streets of Hogtown advertising the London fair, then I am in favor of granting the request," said Ald. J. H. Saunders. "If they won't then I would refuse to grant the privilege."

Toronto Banner Barred. Ald. Saunders objected to certain sign manufacturers of the city making a business out of the city streets and paying nothing for the privilege. Chairman J. W. Bennett, who is opposed to street banners, reiterated his former statement that unless all banners were refused it would hardly be fair to allow some to go up and refuse others. The motion to allow the Toronto banner to be placed was defeated.

Bridge Tenders. When bids were opened for the construction of the concrete piers and abutments of the proposed Wharfedale road bridge, connecting West and South London, the committee recommended the acceptance of the tender of Bain & Ross, Embro, $16,000. The tender calls for reinforced concrete construction. F. L. Talbot's bid was one of $9,900 for solid concrete construction, while Frank Barber & Co. submitted an estimate for $3,400, and agreeing to act as superintendents of construction while the city purchased all materials for the work. The engineer's estimate for the concrete work for the bridge was $17,000. For the steel superstructure, which is to be called for later, the estimate is between $17,000 and $18,000.

Change in Pavement. There may be still another change in the pavement for Wortley road, from Stanley street to the city limits. At the last session of the council bylaws to authorize this work were sent back to the board for amendment. The council wanting concrete base substituted for a gravel one. City Engineer W. N. Ashplant reported that the concrete pavement, which the original bylaws called for, would cost $1.75 a yard, while sheet asphalt could be put down for under $2 a yard, provided the city itself put in the concrete base. The concrete pavement is one with a five-year guarantee only, while the asphalt would be guaranteed for ten years. A report on the exact cost of the asphalt will be submitted to the board at a special meeting on Monday night.

Bids for Sewers. On application of the engineer, the board decided to recommend calling for bids on sewerage on Partridge street, Matland to William street, Wellington street, Victoria to Huron, and Cheapside street, Richmond to Wellington street. The estimated cost of the work will be $7,687.

Other tenders to be called for will be: Thirty thousand "first" paving bricks for Talbot street resurfacing, between Carling and Fullarton streets. The old bricks from this section will be used for crossings. The engineer reported that the order for 40,000 of the 60,000 "second" bricks for crossings had been cancelled, because of the poor quality of the first 26,000 sent in.

Claim for Damages. William Ager, whose children were burned in a bonfire at Queen's Park while Ager was living in the buildings there, put in a claim for damages. The fact that he was living rent free at the time, and the children had no business where they were, was believed by the committee to be sufficient reason why the claim should be contested.

According to the garbage department report, 1,124 loads of garbage, at an average of 340 pounds to the load, have been destroyed since the incinerator was placed in commission.

MONDAY AFTERNOON

Mr. Chas. Brennan has completed all arrangements for the opening on Monday afternoon at 1:30, of the Big Moose Carnival. Everything will be in shape, and free features will be put on.

Two Killed During Motorcycle Race

Rider and Spectator Were Victims at Old Home Celebration.

[Canadian Press.]

Watertown, N. Y., Aug. 1.—Two persons were killed last night at an accident during a motorcycle race held in connection with the "old home week" celebration of the village of Russell, St. Lawrence County. The dead are Luther Gilbert, aged 23, motorcycle rider, and Irvin Bartholomew, 40 years old, a spectator.

The race was run through the main street of the village. Gilbert and Chas. Sharpstein, the participants, were speeding along the street at a rate of about 50 miles an hour, when Gilbert's machine struck a cross walk and hurled him 30 feet along the road, killing him instantly. Bartholomew, who was watching the race, rushed into the road to drag the fallen cyclist out of the way of the other machine. Sharpstein's machine struck Bartholomew just as he was about to lift Gilbert out of the way, so badly injuring him that he died within a few minutes. Bartholomew leaves a wife and one daughter. Gilbert was unmarried. Both lived in Russell.
