REPUBLICAN PARTY DOOMED IF RECIPROCITY CONFERENCE FAILS

Feeling at Washington That United States Government Is In Bad Corner.

PRESIDENT TAFT VERY ANXIOUS

Reported That He Has Assurance of House and Senate Leaders That They Will Support Treaty.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, Jan. 10—"The Pilgrimage to Washington" is taking a day's vacation. At the close of the Monday meeting of the Canadian ministers with the United States delegates in the reciprocity discussion, the announcement was made that on Tuesday the negotiators would not meet, and when your correspondent inquired the reason for what might seem a matter of hidden meaning, Mr. Chas. M. Pepper, of the Washington tariff group, explained that Secretary Knox needed the day to catch up with other urgent work.

That was all that either the Canadian or American trade commissioners cared to say. The result of their reticence has been a temporary waning of interest on the part of the army of resident newspaper correspondents who take occasional flings at the commissioners as they leave the council chamber, sizing up a twisted cravat as "ominous" or a burst of laughter as "significant."

What the Organ Says.

Meanwhile Republican representatives and senators, many of whom are convinced fully that some measure of reciprocity must come or the Republican party go, have pressed their newspapers to utterances of thoroughgoing optimism. The Washington Post, a Republican journal, which strongly supports Taft, contains a story that the President has received postive assurances from the leaders of Congress that a reciprocity treaty would receive their favorable consideration, and it adds with a fine accent of finality:

"This development will take away the last hope of a group of big manufacturers in this country and in Canada, who have been depending on either Congress or the Canadian Parliament putting a spoke in the wheel of reciprocity."

Indeed the above reflects at least one thing truly, that President Taft and his secretary of state are driving hard at a reciprocity bargain, manipulating, not through highly competent agents, but in their own person [illegible] by such diplomatic urgings as manifested by the invitation to Grey and Sir Wilfrid Laurier to to Washington for Wednesday's e House banquet.

The Pulp Plum.

he face of the President's activity, ll the agreeable smiles with which Canadian ministers mask their m. from the curious outsider, there rem[illegible]s the conviction that the game being played is for a prize beyond the ability of either a Canadian or a United States political party to grant. Free pulp and lumber, the choice plums on the Canadian Christmas tree, are in the secure grip of two provincial Governments and soon to be controlled by a third, and, therefore, practically removed from Federal interference; and yet in the face of such facts the majority of senators and representatives whom I have interviewed chose to request that the Republic should be handed these commodities free of export duties.

Coal and Implements.

Nova Scotia bituminous coal likewise is a pleasant contemplation when the duty is rolled away, and it is apparently regarded as strange that the same maritime province which gets one-third of its revenue from its fuel should look upon a reciprocal invasion of American coal as a catastrophe. Agricultural implements are let pass with but few words of criticism, for in the mind of several representatives from agricultural states their admission from Canada without duty would not at present embarrass United States manufacturers, nor likely, on the other hand, cheapen the prices for the United States farmer. In general, the Canadian arguments against free trade are but little understood.

Attitude of the Senate.

Despite the alleged statement of the President to "make sure of the senators' support to a reciprocity treaty," sectionalism and blindness to national considerations are certain to increase the difficulties of forcing a trade treaty past congress. The attitude of Senator Cummins, of Iowa, on Canadian farm produce, a position of nominal reciprocity but practical prohibition, is almost certain to have at least six Republican senators in support, no matter how loud the clamor of factory-covered New England for a Canadian food supply. Similar splits in the opposition of export observers kill the possibility of two-thirds majority.

Nor is it hard to conceive a similar blockade of any thorough-going reciprocity treaty were it introduced to the Senate in Canada.

Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, is an intent follower of the reciprocity conference this week, having long since given his allegiance to the principle of freer trade. But even such an enthusiast is not sanguine of results. To your correspondent he said last night in an interview:

"For me to state the fruits of the meetings is beyond my ability. While I have followed the overtures very closely I can only say that I trust the outcome will mean the drawing of the two countries into more intimate trade contract."

ESCAPES PUNISHMENT BY LEAVING TOWN

Carried a Big Gun and Wife Feared He Would Shoot Her.

A man whose wife resides in London, and who says he came here yesterday from Guelph, appeared before Acting Magistrate Beattie at the police court this morning on a charge of being drunk. It was stated that he carried a big revolver and that his wife feared that she would be shot. Six months ago the same individual came to the city from Brantford, where he had been following his trade as a shoemaker.

"Will you get out of town if I let you go?" said Mayor Beattie.

"I will take the first train to Montreal," said the man.

He was taken back to the cells until train time, and the magistrate gave instructions for a policeman to escort him to the station and see that he left the city.

SEPARATE SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS INAUGURAL MEETING

Various Committees For the Year Were Named Monday Night.

At the inaugural meeting of the separate school board, held last evening, Dr. Claude Brown was named as chairman for the coming year. His was the only name submitted to the members, and his election was unanimous.

The various committees were struck as follows:

No. 1 committee—B. C. McCann (chairman), W. McPhillips, W. G. Coles.

No. 2 committee—Jeremiah Loughlin (chairman), F. Forristal, R. M. Burns, M. P. Regan.

Representatives to the library board—M. P. McDonagh (two years), John Forristal (one year).

Representatives to the board of education—Dr. P. J. Mugan.

A considerable amount of routine business was transacted. Mr. Martin O'Sullivan was again selected as secretary-treasurer.

LIVERPOOL CHURCHMEN WAR ON MORMONISM

Will Ask the British Government to Stop the Proselytizing.

[Associated Press.]

Liverpool, Jan. 10.—A strong movement, supported by the Bishop of Liverpool and prominent churchmen, has been started against Mormon activity here. At a meeting, which was attended by many influential people, resolutions were adopted asking the home secretary, Winston Spencer Churchill, to take action against Mormon proselytizing, as already has been done in Germany.

IMPROVEMENTS TO THE OLD COURTHOUSE

Special Committee of County Council Consider the Matter.

A special committee of the county council met at the county buildings this morning to consider means of undertaking the proposed improvements to the courthouse, despite the anticipated antagonistic attitude of the city of London.

The council at its last session in December decided to spend between six and seven thousand dollars on the building, improving the ventilation and heating systems. According to Councillor Charles Macfie, of Ekfrid, a member of the committee, this expenditure may run to $10,000. Under an agreement with the city, made in June, 1908, which took effect in January, 1909, the county cannot spend more than $1,000 in any one year, without the approval of the city, as the city must pay 50 per cent of the cost. In fact, London pays 65 per cent of the cost, the extra 15 per cent being recognized as a rental.

County Solicitor J. C. Elliot, M. P., of Glencoe, was in this city this morning, attending the winter assizes, and was summoned to the meeting of the special committee. He will give his opinion on the position of the county.

This afternoon local lawyers will be given an opportunity of making any recommendations for the improvement of the courthouse.

FORTY HAVE PERISHED IN SPANISH DISASTER

GUN POWDER EXPLODES KILLING TWELVE

Many Fatalities by a Disaster at Argentine Capital.

Buenos Ayres, Argentina, Jan. 10.—Many fatalities were caused by an explosion in a gunpowder factory at San Martin today. Twelve bodies were extricated from the ruins of the plant soon after it was blown to pieces. The search for other dead was continued.

NEW COMMITTEE TO BE FORMED

One Will Be Needed to Build the New Hall For the City of London.

MORE ROOM NEEDED NOW

Water Commission Will Secure Additional Quarters Until the New Structure is Ready.

One of the first matters to be dealt with by the city council will be the question of a new city hall.

Backed by the very large vote in favor of a new civic edifice, the aldermen will make all haste to carry the mandate into execution.

They will call for tenders for the present structure, and the police station, and these will be disposed of.

In the meantime, suitable sites will be considered, and a decision arrived at as to the most suitable place for the new structure.

Then contractors will be asked to figure on the new building.

City Architect Nutter will prepare plans in the interim. He has several sets now in his office for perusal. Among them are the plans of the Regina and Calgary city halls, and several others.

It is stated that it will be at least two years before the building is completed. It is quite a hard task to erect such a structure in one year, and it is understood that every effort will be made to complete the building inside two years.

More Room Needed.

What will be done in the meantime is what is puzzling some of the officials. If the competing companies—and there will be several—want the city hall at once, the city may have to secure temporary quarters while the new building is being erected. At least one of the companies who are after the city hall will want it within a very short time, possibly by the middle of the year.

The waterworks department is certain to move out at a very early date. The commissioners have been looking over available stores, and at least two are ready for occupancy at once.

"We will secure quarters elsewhere at an early date," said Chairman Pocock. "It will be necessary for us to secure a suitable place, and I think we have several that will do very well. We will remain there until the new city hall is completed. It it is too far removed from the centre of the city, we may have to keep an office down town."

Will Rush Matters.

"We will go ahead with the new building as soon as possible," declared Mayor Beattie. "I do not know the exact date we will commence negotiations, but it will be very early in the year. We need the room, and we will have to hurry the construction work."

The work will be given over to a special committee. The board of works have a very great deal to do, but a special building committee, similar to those named when the hospital and nurses' home were constructed, will be named to take charge of this work.

The site has not yet been selected. The aldermen are already engaged in selecting sites. The property at the corner of Waterloo and Dundas streets has the call at present, and from what can be learned, it will be selected.

Some favor the "V" on Richmond street, but so far as can be learned these are in the minority.

ALL PUBLIC DRINKING CUPS SHOULD BE DONE AWAY WITH!

Medical Health Officer Huchinson Agrees With the Position Taken by the Medical Health Officer of Toronto.

Medical Health Officer Dr. Hutchinson and a large number of physicians stated to The Advertiser today that they agree most heartily with Dr. Hastings, of Toronto, that all public drinking cups should be abolished.

"I am most decidedly in favor of doing away with public drinking cups," said Dr. Hutchinson. "Such cups are one of the greatest means of transmitting disease, particularly such diseases as tuberculosis. I would never think of drinking at any of our public drinking fountains after some of the people one sees drinking there. The best substitute that I have seen for the public drinking cup is in Detroit, where there are fountains about the streets, where a single small jet of water plays. Those who are thirsty lean over and can easily obtain all the water they want without their mouths in any way coming in contact with the fountain."

Dr. Hutchinson stated that he had particularly advocated the doing away of the cups in the public schools, as he thought much disease was spread among the children by their use.

"Few people would care to use a public tooth brush," said a physician, "Yet it is just as sensible as the use of the public drinking cup. Take a drinking fountain like that on the market. Horses drink there and blow froth all about, and dogs drink there, and all sorts and conditions of men use the cups. I think it is a menace to the health of all who do."

In Use in Many Places.

Another physician stated that the plan in use in many of the big American railway stations was very sanitary, only it was useless unless people had pennies with them. In many of the stations drinking cups, made of waxed paper, are placed in glass cases where they are protected absolutely from all dust and dirt. People who want to drink can, by placing a cent in the machine, get a beautifully clean cup. As soon as they have used it if they have no further use for it is thrown away.

THE GRAND TRUNK AND MEN NOT WORRYING AT MONTREAL

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Judge Barron arrived here from Stratford yesterday for the purpose of opening the investigation into the complaints of the old Grand Trunk employees who had not been taken back after the settlement of the strike.

The judge on his arrival found nothing to investigate, and he had a conference with President Hays with regard to the company's position so far as other railway centres on the system are concerned. It is understood that nearly all troubles have been settled, and the difficulties left undecided are those in which serious disturbances occurred.

Vice-Presidents Berry and Murdock were here last week, but they have left for Toronto, presumably satisfied with conditions so far as Montreal is concerned.

SAG OF WIRES ON THE LINES WILL BE GREATLY REDUCED

The Niagara power wires on the transmission line will be shortened. It was pointed out some time ago that the wires were very slack—in fact, there was a sag of over 20 feet in some cases.

As a result it is claimed that the wires were swung close together by the wind, and when this happened short circuits resulted, and the power was shut off.

Sometimes the wires swing within two or three feet of each other, with the result that the energy jumped from one wire to the other producing to all intents and purposes the same effect as if they had touched short circuits.

The hydro-electric commission started an investigation, and it was decided, it is said, to shorten the wires four feet between each span. This will obviate the necessity, it is thought, of more towers, and effectually prevent any further difficulty along the line.

"There is no doubt that the sag was the cause of the trouble," an engineer informed The Advertiser. "As was pointed out in your paper some weeks ago, the slack wires have been causing the trouble. If the hydro-electric commission reduce the slackness a few feet, the difficulty may be got rid of, and a steadier current will result."

It is understood that the commission have large forces of men out working on the lines.

CHIEF CRAWFORD DIES IN SARNIA

Former Well-Known Londoner Succumbed to a Short Illness.

POLICEMAN AND FIREMAN

Son of the Late Sergeant James Crawford, for Many Years a Well-Known Officer Here.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Ont., Jan. 10.—Chief of Police John Crawford died at his home here at 11:30 this morning after an illness of only a few days with stomach trouble.

Chief Crawford was taken seriously ill on Friday and hopes were high that he would be around again, but his condition grew rapidly worse.

Mr. Crawford was 41 years old, and was appointed chief of Sarnia in June, 1909.

Since coming here he made for himself a host of friends, and the news of his death is heard with widespread regret.

The funeral arrangements have not yet been completed.

Born In London.

John Crawford was a son of the late Sergeant James Crawford, of this city. He was born in London, and lived here for many years.

For some time he was a member of the local fire department, and in the Sterling fire was painfully injured about the head.

Later he went to Ingersoll, where he was chief of police.

In his earlier days Mr. Crawford, who was a man of great physical strength, and a professional pugilist, was the heavyweight champion of Canada and one of his greatest fights was with "Paddy" Griffin, in London about 18 years ago.

Mr. Crawford had a host of friends in this city, and the news of his death was heard with the greatest surprise and regret, as it was not known that he was ill.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons and one daughter.

Mrs. Klinger, of London, is a sister, and Dr. Walter Crawford, of West Africa, and Mr. Edward Crawford in South Africa, are brothers.

BREACH OF PROMISE ACTION POSTPONED

Case of Burns vs. Moore Goes to the Spring Assizes.

Through an agreement arranged between the solicitors for the plaintiff and defendant, the breach of promise action brought by Miss Alexis Burns, of West London, against George S. Moore, an asylum attendant, for $5,000 damages, was this morning postponed until the spring assizes. The lawyers were not ready to go on with the case, so an adjournment was granted by Chief Justice Meredith, who presides.

PEACEFULLY SNORING IN A SNOWBANK

Policeman Rescues a Guelph Resident From Death by Exposure.

While on duty late last night P. C. McCullough discovered Hugh McLean, of Guelph, peacefully snoring on a big snowbank in a laneway off Richmond street. McLean had made himself as comfortable as possible, with the intention of sleeping off the effects of a cargo of liquor taken aboard earlier in the evening. In his pockets he had more than $50.

"You might have frozen to death," said Mayor Beattie to McLean this morning, "or you might have been robbed. As you are a first-timer I will let you go."

WATCHING THE PORTS TO HEAD OFF "REDS"

Government Fears Anarchists Driven From England May Enter Canada.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—Extra vigilance will be exercised by the immigration officials of Canada for the next few weeks, and particularly those at the ocean ports of St. John and Halifax. There is some apprehension that the anarchistic element which is being hunted out of England, to clear the motherland for the coronation, may seek a refuge in Canada. The countries of continental Europe are closed against this element, and with the British authorities hunting anarchists on account of the recent riot in London, they are expected to turn their faces to the continent of America. Though the inclination would be to go to the United States, it is believed that many of them might decide that the easiest way to New York would be by way of St. John or Halifax. As there is a Canadian embargo upon characters of this sort, the inspection at Canadian ocean ports will be more stringent than normal until the coronation is over, at least, and the inspection is at all times rigid.

The immigration to Canada has been recently on the increase. During the first six months of the fiscal year ending with September last 204,364 immigrants had landed, which is a growth of over 75,000 for the period. A hundred and twenty-nine thousand of the immigrants came from Great Britain and Europe, and over 75,000 from the United States. Where are immigrants are going is indicated by the fact that during the first eleven months of the calendar year there were 46,305 homestead entries made, an increase of over 11,000.

MAIL CAR BURNED.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Jan. 10.—Fire starting in the mail car of a Chattanooga-Nashville passenger train standing under the shed of the railroad station here today, destroyed both the train and the shed. The loss will be about $125,000.

MR. JUDD WANTS TO PRACTICE LAW IF APPPOINTED POLICE MAGISTRATE

It Is Said He Will Not Accept the Position Unless Permitted to Do So—Mayor Beattie and Mr. Hume B. Elliott Are Next in Line.

It is now rumored that Mr. J. C. Judd, K. C., will not accept the position of police magistrate unless he be allowed to practice his profession outside the police court.

The law states that this cannot be done.

The salary in connection with the position of police magistrate is now $2,500 a year, and this, it is claimed, will not compensate Mr. Judd for sacrificing his law business for a position on the bench.

Failing the appointment of Mr. Judd, it is claimed that Mayor Beattie stands the best chance for the position.

As a matter of fact his worship has a strong pull. That he is an applicant for the place is not denied.

He acknowledged the fact to The Advertiser today, and stated that it was now "up" to Sir James Whitney and the cabinet.

Mayor Would Accept.

"I would accept the position," he declared. "I have heard the rumors relative to the appointment of others, but nothing official has been given out. It is for Sir James Whitney and the cabinet to say who will get it."

Strong pressure is being brought to bear on behalf of Mr. Hume B. Elliot, it is said. Several very influential Conservatives have urged his appointment, and his friends claim that he stands an excellent chance for the place.

It is between the three men mentioned above. If Mr. Judd refuses on account of the fact that he cannot practice his profession, then it will be a merry battle between Mayor Beattie and Mr. Elliot.

If his worship is named he would not be compelled to resign his position as mayor of the city.

Under existing conditions he probably would be urged to remain in his present position.

LIABILITY WAS ADMITTED BY CO.

Case of Burchell vs. the G. T. R. Went to the Jury at Noon.

EVIDENCE FROM ENGLAND

Submitted for the Plaintiff—Aged Father of the Deceased Told His Story.

The solicitors for the Grand Trunk Railway, Messrs. McCarthy, K. C., and W. G. Foster, admitted the company's responsibility in the action brought by the parents of Cecil Burchell, who was killed while in the employ of the defendants as a fireman on a train which was wrecked at Ayr, Ont., in October, 1908, at the assizes this morning, and called no witnesses for the defence, thus allowing the matter to go to the jury at noon.

The Plaintiff's Case.

Sir George C. Gibbons and Mr. Geo. S. Gibbons acted for the plaintiff, and produced the evidence of the father of the deceased, Robert John Burchell, which was taken before a commission in London, England. Other witnesses called today were Edward E. Reid, a local insurance representative, who calculated the probable life of the deceased, and his parents, Henry Hanlin, James Hanlin, Charles Thompson, Thomas Thornton, Andrew Taggart, and James Nicholls, Oxford County farmers residing in the vicinity of Woodstock and Ingersoll, who employed Burchell after he came to this country, and Ald. R. W. Bennett, of the local railway brotherhood, who gave evidence as to the rules of the road, the usual time the average man is on the spare list, and other testimony along the same lines.

The Father's Story.

The story of the father, who is now nearly sixty years of age, and who is employed in England as a travelling salesman for the Rowntree chocolate people, was to the effect that he desired nothing from his son for himself, but that he did expect that the boy would, if necessary, provide for his mother and sister. The father's evidence showed that at one time he had saved between $1,200 and $1,500, but that he had lost practically all this money, and is now approaching his days of uselessness without funds other than what he may get from the firm in the shape of a pension when he retires.

Mr. Gibbons declared, in his address to the jury, that the jurors, in the face of the evidence as to the boy's good character, are justified in assuming that he would certainly have assisted his parents had he lived.

An Insurance Case.

Unless a change is ordered, the next case to be heard will be that of Martyn vs. the London and Lancashire Guarantee and Accident Company. This is a suit entered by the daughter of Ed. Martyn, of English street, a contractor, who died of bloodpoisoning as a result of stepping on a rusty nail. He carried an insurance policy for $5,000, but the company claims that notice was not given according to the agreement.

The defence is that notice was given as soon as the plaintiff learned of the existence of the policy. The deceased lost consciousness a few hours after being taken ill, therefore could not inform his family, it is alleged.

CALLED TO CALGARY

Rev. S. E. Marshall Accepts Pastorate in the Western City.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Hamilton, Jan. 10.—Rev. S. E. Marshall, well-known in the London Methodist Conference, has accepted a call from the Central Church, Calgary, to become its pastor in June, succeeding Rev. G. W. Kervy, who retires to become principal of the Methodist College of Alberta. Mr. Marshall was formerly stationed in Guelph, Woodstock and Berlin.

PUBLIC REPRIMAND FOR CAPTAIN SIMS

U. S. Commander Too Pro-British in His London Speech.

Washington, Jan. 10.—President Taft today decided that Commander W. W. Sims, the United States naval officer who at a recent dinner given in London by the mayor of that city, declared that if Great Britain ever were seriously threatened, she could depend on "every man, every dollar, every drop of blood" in this country, should be publicly reprimanded.

MR. WELCH OPPOSED TO ANOTHER VOTE

Says the People Made Plain What They Wanted in Regard to North Midland Railway.

The North Midland Railway Company will have bylaws to gunarantee bonds submitted in the near future in the various municipalities through which their line will pass.

"Yes, we will have such bylaws submitted," said Mr. A. E. Welch. "We are at work on them now, and when the proper time comes the people will have an opportunity of voting on them. The details have to be worked out as yet, but we are very busily engaged on them.

"I cannot see the necessity of submitting another bylaw to the people of London. At the recent municipal election, the ratepayers pronounced most emphatically on the question. They showed by over 900 of a majority what they wanted. It is quite true that the vote was taken on a plebiscite, but we were distinctly told that if the vote were favorable the whole proposition would be sent to the Legislature for ratification. I sent the vote to our representatives in England, and as a result of it, we are in splendid financial condition to go on with the work. I cannot see the necessity of another vote, as I consider it would be a waste of time and money. However, we will take the matter up with the council just as soon as they get in working order. Then we will discuss the proposition thoroughly."

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS TO VACATE THE CITY

Magistrate Beattie Allowed Short Shrift to Lizzie Walters.

Looking as neat as though she had just come out of a bandbox, Elizabeth Walters, who gave her age as 21, and her home as Hamilton, appeared before Magistrate Beattie at the police court this morning, and was given just 24 hours in which to get out of London.

The young woman has been in jail here for a week, having been arrested at an early hour one morning while she was walking about the streets homeless.

She was charged with vagrancy. This morning she told the court that her husband was a brass worker in Hamilton, and that she had come to the city from there.

"You have been misconducting yourself," said the mayor, "and we don't want you. If you are here tomorrow morning I will send you to the Mercer for a long term."

She was bailed in the sum of $50 until tomorrow, on the understanding that she is to leave the city before that time.

William J. McHeney, of Southampton, when asked if he were drunk, said he didn't know. McHeney had to hold on to the rail of the prisoners' box to steady himself while he was talking, and the court thought he had better remand him until tomorrow. In a few seconds McHeney sank to the bench and was sound asleep, and his snores were so loud that he had to be awakened and led away to the cells.

WANTS QUEEN'S NATIONALIZED

Move To Change Existing Relations With Presbyterian Church.

Kingston, Jan. 10.—Mr. J. R. Shannon, B.A.; Rev. Dr. Strachan, B.A.; Andrew Hayden, M.A.; E. R. Peacock, M.A.; J. McDonald Mowat, B.A., and R. W. Brown, M.A., have issued an appeal to Queen's University graduates in regard to the advisability of changing existing relations between Queen's and the Presbyterian Church. They claim that a university which is doing national work must be nationalized.

A Coal Test.

An important test is being made on the Grand Trunk at the present time to find out which variety of coal will produce the best results. Coal from Pennsylvania and different parts of Ohio is being tried out, and the result of the tests will determine what coal is to be used in the future. Of late, it is stated some grades of the Pennsylvania coal have been producing very poor results, and many complaints have been made by firemen about the difficulty of keeping up steam. As a result of these reports a special staff of inspectors has been appointed to thoroughly investigate the grades of coal and prepare statements of the results obtained.

COMMITTEES ARE NAMED FOR EVANGNLISTIC WORK

Important Meeting of Elders of St. Andrew's and the First Presbyterian Church.

A united meeting of the elders and managers of St. Andrew's Church and the First Presbyterian Church, was held in the lecture room of the First Church last evening, to appoint committees to take charge of the different departments of work in connection with the special evangelistic services which will open in the First Presbyterian Church on Feb. 1. Rev. J. Gibson Inkster opened the meeting with prayer, and Rev. Dr. Ross was appointed chairman of the evening, with Mr. Bapty as secretary.

The first committee appointed was the workers' or inquiry room committee. Rev. Dr. Ross and Rev. Mr. Inkster were appointed members of this committee, with power to add to their numbers, as required. The prayer meeting committee will have charge of prayer-meetings on the Monday and Tuesday evenings preceding the opening of the special services, and short prayer services before each special service of the campaign. The members are Messrs. Gunn (convenor), Fraser, McVicar, Little, Gibson, Bryan, Tempton and Anderson.

Advertising Campaign.

The advertising committee, which aims to reach with printed matter every person living in tenements, or boarding-houses, within a radius of the two churches, was empowered to expend any amount not exceeding $150 in a vigorous advertising campaign. The members are: Messrs. Mallagh (convenor), Dr. MacArthur, Cairncross, Allenhead, McPherson, Reid, Falls and Gillespie.

The finance committee includes Messrs. Allen (convenor), Diprose, Rolands, Gilleen, Wintwam, Govenlock, Hamilton, Grant, McDonald, McCormick, Wright, Young, Shuttleworth and Dr. Wood.

The musical committee, which will select song-books, select a special choir and make all arrangements for the musical part of the services, includes: Messrs. Bapty (convenor), Marr Morrison, Lochead, Turnbull, Jarvis, Bland, Sharp, Reeve, Wheeler, Adams, and Crouch.

The reception or ushers' committee includes Messrs. Irwin and Taylor as joint convenors, with power to select their own committee.

A nineteen days' campaign has been arranged for, under the leadership of Dr. Patterson and Mr. Weaver, who will arrive in this city in February. The question of dividing the time between the two churches was left with the workers' committee.

"The purpose of the campaign," said Rev. Mr. Inkster, "is not to make an appeal to the people of the city of London, but to our own people, and to the young people in this district who are not attending any church." The advertising committee aim to cover thoroughly some ten blocks in the centre of the city.

A FEW DOSES WILL REGULATE KIDNEYS

The Most Severe Backache or Any Urinary or Bladder Misery Will Simply Vanish.

The blessed relief that follows the use of Pape's Diuretic is a revelation to sufferers from backache or kidney, bladder and urinary disorders.

The time to cure kidney trouble is while it is only trouble. Before it settles into Dropsy, Gravel, Diabetes or Bright's Disease.

Pape's Diuretic acts at once upon the kidneys, bladder and urinary system; cleanses, vitalizes and regulates these organs, ducts and glands, and completes the cure within a few days. The moment you suspect any kidney or urinary derangement, or feel a constant dull backache, or the urine is thick, cloudy, offensive or full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, you should begin taking Pape's Diuretic as directed, with the knowledge that there is no other remedy at any price, made anywhere else in the world, which will effect so thorough and prompt a cure.

Misery in the back, sides or loins, sick headache, inflamed or puffy eyelids, nervousness, rheumatism and darting pains, heart palpitations, bilious stomach, Prostatic troubles, dizziness, sleeplessness, listless, weak, worn-out feeling and other symptoms caused by inactive, sluggish kidneys, simply vanish. Uncontrollable urination (especially at night), smarting, discolored water and all bladder misery ends.

Your physician, pharmacist, banker or any mercantile agency will vouch for the responsibility of Pape, Thompson & Pape, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who prepare Pape's Diuretic—50 cent treatment—sold by every druggist in the world.

TEN PER CENT BASIS FOR C. P. R. STOCK

Montreal, Jan. 10. Official announcement was made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company yesterday, that in view of the position of the land account and other assets of the company the distribution from these sources, beginning with the next quarterly dividend, will be at the rate of 3 per cent per annum, instead of 1 per cent, as heretofore. This will place the stock practically on a 10 per cent basis.

TECHNICAL COMMISSION.

Ottawa, Ont., Jan. 10. The commission on technical education will sail for Europe near the close of February, and proposes to spend two months in Great Britain, one in France, one in Germany, and one divided between Switzerland, Belgium, Denmark, and Holland, looking into the question of technical education. Before starting abroad there will be some further hearings in Ottawa, Toronto and Sault Ste. Marie and a series of meetings in Quebec.

Miss Edna Cameron had one of the finest exhibits at the national apple show in Chicago. Miss Cameron's home is at White Salmon, Wash., and she is the executive secretary and field representative of a commercial league composed of 400 business men and ranchers in her state. She is said to have ridden more than 300 miles on her pony to gather the apples for her exhibit.

SAY SELDEN PATENT WAS NOT VIOLATED

Sweeping Victory in Court For Independent Automobile Manufacturers.

THE DECISION REVERSED

Finding of Circuit Court Leaves Appeal to Supreme Bench Only Recourse of Licensed Dealers.

New York, Jan. 9.—The so-called independent automobile manufacturers won a sweeping victory in the United States circuit court of appeals Monday in a reversal of the decree of Judge Hough in the circuit court, wherein the Selden patent was upheld.

The higher court's ruling declares that the defendants "neither legally nor morally" owed anything to the patentee and holds that the improved Otto engine, used by the defendants in motor vehicle construction, is the equivalent of the Selden engine; but that its use is not an infringement of the Selden patent. Accordingly, Judge Hough's injunctions against the Ford Motor Company, Panhard & Levasser and others, restraining them from using the Otto engine on the ground of infringement, must be dismissed by the lower court.

Opinion of Court.

The opinion of the circuit court of appeals, written by Judge Noyes, says in part:

"While the conclusion of non-infringement which we have reached leaves the patentee empty-handed with respect to the patent for the short time it has to run, it cannot be regarded as depriving him through any technicality of the first reward of his labors. He undoubtedly appreciated the possibilities of the motor vehicle at a time when his ideas were regarded as chimerical. Had he been able to see far enough he might have taken out a patent as far-reaching as the circuit court held this one was.

"The Brayton engine was the leading engine at the time, and attention was naturally drawn to its supposed advantages. He chose that type. In the light of events we can see that had he appreciated the superiority of the Otto engine and adapted that type for his combination, his patent would cover the modern automobile. He did not do so.

Made Wrong Choice.

"He made the wrong choice and we cannot, by placing any forced construction upon the patent or by straining the doctrine of equivalents, make another choice for him at the expense of these defendants who neither legally nor morally owe him anything."

The Selden patent seeks to control the manufacture of virtually all gasoline automobiles in America. Many of the manufacturing companies hold licenses under that patent; but there are many others which operated independently and in defiance of the patent.

The licensed companies were formed into the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers, which excluded the independent companies from its undertakings, such as automobile shows and the like, and extensive legal complications were precipitated.

Under Monday's ruling the ground for contest between the licensed and unlicensed dealers is removed unless the scope of the Selden patent is changed by a subsequent ruling of the United States supreme court.

A. L. A. M. Issues Statement.

The following statement was given out by the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers:

"As the courts have disagreed on the merits of the Selden patent on gasoline automobiles, it was announced today that the Columbia Motor Car Company and George B. Selden are arranging to apply for a writ of certiorari with a view of having the case go to the United States supreme court for final decision.

"Judge Hough sustained the patent and held it infringed in the United States circuit court for the southern district of New York, Sept. 15, 1909, but today the decision of the court of appeals was filed, which, while holding the patent valid, decided that the defendants in the case, the Ford Motor Company, Panhard & Levasser and others, had not infringed. The opinion was handed down by Judges Lacombe, Ward and Noyes."

LADY ABERDEEN WAS HONORED IN FRANCE

Presented With Medal in Recognition of Her Fight Against White Plague.

Paris, Jan. 10.—Lady Aberdeen was in Paris this week to receive the medal offered her in recognition of the brilliant work she has done since she and Lord Aberdeen went to the Vice-Regal Lodge at Dublin, in fighting the dread disease of consumption.

The ravages of the white plague are attracting as much attention in France as in England and Ireland, and the results obtained by Lady Aberdeen's masterly schemes for preventive instruction, etc., have been noted with enthusiastic admiration, whose practical form of showing their appreciation was very gratifying to both Lord and Lady Aberdeen.

Held a Reception.

The French branch of the International Council of Women took advantage of their president's unofficial visit to Paris to hold an informal council meeting, followed by a reception, at the house of Madame Jules Siegfried—the mother of Mr. Andre Siegfried, who is so well known in Canada as the author of his able book on Canada from the political point of view.

The different sections of the French National Council are presided over by Madamoselle Sarah Monod, daughter of the celebrated Pasteur whose ancient Huguenot name is a proof in itself of the non-sectarian lines on which these clever women work together for the public good. Some notable work has been done by French women during the past year.

One after the other took up their tale of achievement and progress, and listening to such quietly amazing stories as that of the triumphant suppression of the odious system of night shifts enforced on overworked seamstresses obtained by representations made to the Minister of Labor by Madame Pegard, one was struck by the evident difference between the French suffragette and her English sister. The French woman has not to struggle against a masculine opponent and she knows it.

Men Are Willing.

The men are perfectly ready to grant her anything she can prove she wants, and if France has no feminine voters today it is because the majority of French women have not yet realized the strength of the weapon they might wield if they would.

At the meeting of the I. C. W., which has recorded its desire that the right of voting should be given to women, appreciative mention was made of the work done by M. Fernand Busson, who has written much on the feminine situation in different countries, and has already brought up the question of votes for women in the Chamber of Deputies.

An amusing mention was made of the action of the Academie des Sciences in refusing admission to Madame Curie. Unfortunately no member of that august body was there to see the gently indulgent smile that was evoked at the memory of the petulance displayed by these learned gentlemen, any one of whom would probably gladly exchange his own seat in the institute for the fame world wide of the woman on whom its doors are being closed.

MANAGER'S SISTER IS INDICTED FOR PERJURY

Alleged to Have Tried to Shield Her Brother By False Statements.

New York, Jan. 9.—Aside from progressive work of organization and reconstruction in affected institutions which will necessarily extend over the week, New York's banking situation is normal; timid depositors are reassured; the stock market is optimistic; and Joseph G. Robin, whose operations caused by the flurry, is still in the Tombs.

With powerful financial interests behind the Twelfth Ward Bank and the Nineteenth Ward Bank and with the absorption of the Madison Trust Company by the Equitable Trust Company, these three institutions whose integrity has been questioned because of affiliations directly or indirectly with the Carnegie Trust Company, which was closed as a result of Robin's operations, weathered the day not only successfully, but with such aggressiveness that there were no runs and almost normal deposits.

Some uneasy depositors were out early to get their money, but Sunday night's consultation between financiers had laid a strong groundwork which proved adequate to avert any serious complications.

Another member of the Robin family entered the Tombs during the day. Dr. Louise Robinovitch, sister of Robin, was indicted for perjury, and remanded in default of $5,000 bail. She had sworn in an effort to have Robin committed to an asylum and his estate taken over by a committee, that she and her brother, known as Edward Robinson, were his only heirs at law.

But investigation disclosed an aged couple which the prosecution contends are the parents. On this discovery the indictment is based.

"REDS" AT MONTREAL

Threaten to Blow Up Archbishop's Palace and City Hall.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—Considerable excitement has been caused to Mayor Guerin and Archbishop Bruchesi by the receipt of letters informing them that there is an anarchist plot on foot to blow up the city hall and Archiepiscopal Palace during the present month. The letters were identical in form, and signed by "F. Lapointe, trader," and gave the names of the alleged anarchists as Napoleon Therrean and F. Tella, with their addresses.

Both the archbishop and mayor turned the letters over to Chief of Detectives Carpenter, who had also received a similar letter. While Chief Carpenter at once ordered a couple of his best men to look into the matter, he did not take it very seriously, figuring that it was probably a hoax or the imagination of some person who had been reading about the recent anarchist troubles in London. The detectives could find no trace of the men mentioned at the addresses given, and their idea is that the city hall and archbishop's palace are about as safe as ever. Chief Carpenter said it was known that there were a few anarchists in the city, but they were a harmless brand, and seldom got beyond the excitement of street addresses from a barrel. While some cognizance must be taken of the matter, little importance is given to it.

A Merry England Society is being organized throughout England to keep up the public May Queen festival and to preserve and teach national songs and dances and study of pastoantry.

CURED OF CONSTIPATON

Mr. Andrews praises Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills.

Mr. George Andrews of Halifax, N.S., writes:

"For many years I have been troubled with chronic Constipation. This ailment never comes single handed, and I have been a victim to the many illnesses that constipation brings in its train. Medicine after medicine I have taken in order to find relief, but one and all left me in the same hopeless condition. It seemed that nothing would expel from me the one ailment that caused so much trouble, yet at last I read about these Indian Root Pills.

That was indeed a lucky day for me, for I was so impressed with the statements made that I determined to give them a fair trial.

They have regulated my stomach and bowels. I am cured of constipation, and I claim they have no equal as a medicine."

For over half a century Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills have been curing constipation and clogged, inactive kidneys, with all the ailments which result from them. They cleanse the whole system and purify the blood. Sold everywhere at 25c. a box. 2

BESSEMER CAUGHT FOR HOURS IN ICE

Was On Her Way to Aid AnotherBoat When Stalled.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Port Stanley, Jan. 10.—After being stuck in the ice for more than 60 hours off Rondeau Harbor, the big Marquette and Bessemer coal ferry was released last evening. The Bessemer was on her way to release the collier plying between Erieau and Conneaut, when she was caught. The collier was frozen in on Friday.

The Bessemer broke through the ice to help her partner, but before she could return with the smaller boat, the big ferry was caught, and the two boats remained there until the northwest gale broke up the packed floes, and the Bessemer proceeded to Conneaut.

The Bessemer left Conneaut for Port Stanley with a cargo this evening. Neither of the vessels was injured, nor did the crew suffer any inconvenience.

FARMERS' BANK CRASH HIT OXFORD HARD

Numerous Depositors in Three Branches Throughout the County.

Woodstock, Jan. 9.—Oxford County has suffered severely from the failure of the Farmers' Bank. Besides the stockholders, with holdings amounting to $31,700, there are numerous depositors in the three branches. In the Embro branch there was on deposit and due on drafts $74,626. Of this sum over $22,000 were funds of West Zorra Township, and the rest mainly individual deposits.

At the Burgessville branch, with total indebtedness of $41,773, the Township of North Norwich had $750 on deposit, Treasurer Andrew Cohoe not being responsible. Money for half of the cheese made in the Burgessville factory was in the bank, amounting to about $1,300, and the funds of school section No. 3, Burgessville, had $1,200. The largest individual account was $1,150, and the Oddfellows had $1,436. There were over one hundred depositors at the branch.

Lakeside was the smallest branch, with only $32,222 owing from it. This mainly belonged to farmers in the neighborhood, who feel the loss heavily.

Considerable sympathy for Colonel Munroe is expressed throughout the county, and he will be a very heavy loser, as he held one thousand shares besides his deposits. Little stir has been made, all waiting quietly for the outcome, though the loss means much to some individuals.

JURY'S VERDICT AGAINST COMPANY

Toronto Street Railway Alleged to Have Maintained a Nuisance.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Toronto, aJn. 9.—A trial bill against the Toronto Street Railway Company for maintaining a nuisance was brought in by the grand jury after they had been out a little over an hour.

The nuisance consisted in the overcrowding of cars and the inadequacy of fenders and other safeguards.

Justice Riddell, in his charge, said that the accommodation provided for the public should be "such accommodation as a decent Canadian man would demand for his decent Canadian wife and himself."

The case will be called on Wednesday.

SALARY INCREASES ON INTERCOLONIAL

The Firemen and Engineers Have Received Advances.

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—The Intercolonial board of management has decided to grant substantial increases in pay to firemen and engineers. A general increase of 7½ per cent was decided upon, and this will mean an addition of $50,000, large amount, to the wages bill of the road. The application of the conductors and other employees for increases will be considered shortly.

CANNON SUSTAINED

"Uncle Joe" Wins a Victory Over the Insurgents.

Washington, Jan. 10. — Another hot fight over the rules of the House and another locking of horns between Speaker Cannon and his opponents on the floor came to a head yesterday. Ruling on a rules resolution by Representative Fuller, of Illinois, the Speaker held that the action taken by the House last spring, when his power was broken after the famous battle over the Norris resolution, "was not a precedent, but a revolution."

This defiance was arrested by an appeal from the decision of the chair. This called for a protracted roll call. The House sustained the Speaker by a vote of 233 to 53. The insurgent Republicans voted to overrule the Speaker, but got little Democratic support.

MAKE YOUR OWN HAIR TONIC

A SPECIALIST'S ADVICE.

In a recent issue the New York Herald published a special article on the care of the hair, in which was given the formula for a home-made Hair Tonic, which was highly recommended for its remarkable hair-growing properties, as well as for stopping falling hair, revitalizing the hair roots, destroying the dandruff germ and restoring grey hair to its natural color. This article was of special interest to me, as the formula was one which I myself have prescribed in countless cases with most astonishing results. I remember one case in particular in which I prescribed it for a man who had been bald for many years, and in less than two months after he began its use his head was completely covered with a luxuriant growth of rich, glossy hair, thus proving that hair can be made to grow on a bald head, notwithstanding the opinion of many persons to the contrary.

For the benefit of those who have not seen it before, I give the formula herewith: Six ounces of Bay Rum, two ounces Lavona de Composee, one-half drachm Menthol Crystals. Dissolve the Crystals in the Bay Rum and then add the Lavona de Composee; shake thoroughly and apply night and morning to the roots of the hair, rubbing into the scalp with the finger-tips. This preparation contains no coloring matter, but restores grey hair to its natural color by its action on the hair roots. If you desire it perfumed, add one teaspoonful of To-Kalon Perfume, which combines perfectly with the other ingredients and imparts a most pleasing scent.

At your meals, and at bedtime, drink this sparkling agreeable brew. Your digestion will improve. Your slumber will better refresh you. Every drop gratifies.

MR. SIFTON AND RECIPROCITY.

Mr. Sifton's remarks on reciprocity at Montreal last night will be welcomed by the high tariff wing of the Conservative party. It was unnecessary for him to announce that he spoke only for himself, as no one would ascribe the tariff views he expressed to the inspiration of the Ottawa Government. He put himself in opposition to a trade treaty of any kind with the United States. He went much further than his speech in this city the other day, when he merely declared against the unrestricted export of unmanufactured timber as a condition of reciprocity. Canadians of all classes would support him in his efforts to conserve the forest wealth of the country, but his doctrine of non-intercourse with the United States will not find favor except in a few industrial centres in Eastern Canada. At a time when the United States Government is evincing a friendliness for Canada never before known, and when it is seeking to insure perpetual peace with Great Britain by an arbitration treaty, a rebuff from Ottawa would have been little short of a crime. The Dominion Government is not compromised by its courtesy. It will make no bargain that it does not think will be approved by the Canadian people. But it will not take the moral responsibility of banging and bolting the door against the neighborly approaches of the United States, and nipping the new Anglo-American rapprochement in the bud.

Mr. Sifton says that trade relations with the United States of an "extensive character" would pave the way to political union. This is an old story, and wholly irrelevant in the present circumstances. The Canadian Government has declared that it will concede nothing to the United States that Great Britain will not share, and that the British preference will be maintained in any event. Lord Elgin negotiated a treaty with the United States to kill annexation sentiment in Canada, and succeeded. The Canada of today has proved its ability to stand alone and prosper, and to say that it would be forced into dependence upon the United States by increasing its prosperity through freer access to the American market, is not the sort of logic looked for in a man of Mr. Sifton's ability and reputation for hard-headedness. However, the prospects for reciprocity on a wide scale with the United States are too remote to be a cause for alarm in any quarter.

THE ROMANCE OF HUDSON BAY.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier has been turning over some of the most romantic pages of Canadian history in an address to the ladies of Quebec on the early fur traders to the country. Another romantic chapter is recalled by the Hudson Bay Railway project. The name of Hudson Bay has a newness and strangeness to the majority of Canadians. They think of the vast territory bordering on the great inland sea as a terra incognita, although it was a seat of English and French military and commercial enterprise over two centuries ago.

When Joliet made a voyage to Hudson Bay in 1679 he found three English forts already guarding that territory. The garrisons and traders sought to bribe him to remain with them, but he returned to New France and told his Government that French commerce and trade in the new world were in imminent danger of being crowded out on all sides by the enterprise and perseverance of the English traders.

Fort Hayes, Fort Rupert, and Fort Albany were established near the southern end of the bay. Subsequently another post was established by the English Company of Hudson Bay, with the aid of two French renegades, Radisson and Groseilliers, near the mouth of the Nelson River. In 1686 Chevalier de Troyes, with Iberville Le Moyne, and two brothers of the latter, captured Fort Hayes and Fort Rupert by surprise, and then advanced to Fort Albany, which was the most important of the three posts. Here they met with a stubborn resistance, but at length the weakened garrison surrendered and a French garrison was placed in charge of the post.

Fort Nelson, as the fourth trading station established by the English was called, gradually developed into an important post, and an English settlement grew up with the fort as a centre. The envy of the French was aroused and in 1694 it was captured and renamed Fort Bourbon. It was retaken by the English in 1696. In 1697 Iberville and Serigny Le Moyne set out with five ships to destroy or capture Fort Nelson and the English settlements on Hudson Bay. Iberville was fresh from a wholesale razing of English forts and settlements in Newfoundland, and he had returned to Placentia, the French strategic centre there, to prepare for further conquests. He found Serigny awaiting him with orders to proceed at once against the English. The little fleet included five ships of war, the Pelican, the Palmier, the Wasp, the Profond, and the Violent. Iberville was personally in charge of the Pelican, and Serigny commanded the Palmier. Sailing from Placentia in July, they lost their storeship early on the voyage, and the Pelican became separated from the three remaining ships. Iberville while pursuing his course alone, sighted three vessels which he supposed to be the three French ships of his brother. They turned out, however, to be three English boats, the Hampshire, the Hudson's Bay, and the Daring. Iberville closed with them, and succeeded in sinking the Hampshire with all on board. The Hudson's Bay surrendered, and the Daring sailed away in flight. But now the Pelican, while only two leagues from Fort Nelson, stranded on the coast. Worn out as they were, still the crew reached the shore with their weapons and ammunition. Here they would have perished, had not the three other French ships arrived at an opportune time. Thus reinforced, Iberville laid siege to Fort Nelson. Strengthened only by palisade work and garrisoned by traders and civilians, Fort Nelson was soon captured, and for a long time afterwards was held by the arms of France.

But now with the advent of the steel road planned by Premier Laurier, the busy marts of commerce will stand where Fort Nelson, Fort Albany, Fort Hayes and Fort Rupert stood in their picturesque rudeness more than two centuries ago. Cosy farm homes will dot the plains where once the Indian trapper held undisputed claim. Where the Hampshire sank, and bold Iberville won added glory for the lilies of France, the peaceful commerce of continents will ride. The trade of Europe and Asia will meet and ocean liners will exchange their cargoes on the historic shores of this northern, land-locked sea.

COMPETITION FOR FACTORIES.

The London Advertiser informs us that we misapprehended the drift of the action of the voters of that city in passing a bylaw to provide for fixed assessments on certain manufacturing properties. It says the bylaw does not affect all manufacturers, as we supposed, but only eight; moreover, in three or four cases the grants are merely renewals. It asks: "Can the Times says that no special favors of any kind have been given to manufacturers in Hamilton?" If favors have been extended, have they always been sanctioned at the polls?"

That is, of course, quite aside from the consideration of the wisdom of the practice. The Times is not ready to concede that a vote of ten to one of the ratepayers could make an ethical wrong a right, any more than a unanimous vote of the council could effect the transmutation. And it is the principle which we contend should be regarded. No popular vote should be permitted to take one man's, or one thousand men's, money by the taxing power to give it to another for h private advantage.—Hamilton Times.

The Times dodges The Advertiser's questions. There has been an outcry in several journals because the ratepayers of London voted for fixed assessments for eight industries. They contend that the city is unfairly competing for factories, and violating the spirit of the municipal act. As a matter of fact, the city voted in self-defence. Other municipalities are always bidding for factories by offering inducements which are bonuses in disguise. Hamilton has the reputation of being peculiarly active in this respect. The Times does not deny the soft impeachment. It changes the subject by discussing general principles of taxation. We agree with it that the assessment law needs reforming, but London has had to meet conditions as they are, not as they ought to be. The difference between London and Hamilton appears to be this: London is doing openly and legally what Hamilton is doing surreptitiously.

The Farmers' Bank put $1,156,100 into one mine. Faith in New Ontario has done wonders, but a little caution should be mixed with the banking business.

The New York suffragettes have begun to make trouble for the police. Like afternoon tea it is an English fashion, and nowhere are old country examples more powerful than in the republic.

Both parties in the west are clamoring for a reduction of duties. No one would say there was treason in granting the demand. Then why is it unpatriotic to try to get something in return?

No sweeping reciprocity treaty will pass the United States Senate, the stronghold of the "interests." But Canada has won the goodwill of the Washington Government by entering into negotiations, and good-neighborhood is worth a good deal—perhaps worth more than a commercial deal.

Judge Barron, of Stratford, will arbitrate between the Grand Trunk and the strikers not yet reinstated. The judge has had an almost unique experience in work of this kind, and comes to the present case with the confidence of both parties to the dispute. This in itself goes a long way toward clearing up the difficulty.

The Advertiser's special daily dispatches from Washington are from one of the best-informed newspapermen at the American capital. While the trade negotiations are being carried on secretly, there is a good deal of interesting information in the air, and our correspondent may be relied upon to catch it.

THE GIFTS I ASK.

[Henry Van Dyke.]

These are the gifts I ask
Of thee, Spirit serene:
Strength for the daily task,
Courage to face the road,
Good cheer to help me bear the traveller's load,
And for the hours of rest that come between
An inward joy in all things heard and seen.

These are the sins I fain
Would have thee take away:
Malice and cold disdain,
Hot anger, sullen hate,
Scorn of the lowly, envy of the great,
And discontent that casts a shadowy grey
On all the brightness of the common day.

These are the things I prize
And hold of dearest worth:
Light of the sapphire skies,
Peace of the silent hills,
Shelter of forests, comfort of the grass,
Music of birds, murmur of little rills,
Shadow of clouds that swiftly pass,
And, after showers,
The smell of flowers
And of the good brown earth—
And, best of all, along the way friendship and mirth.

AN ASPERSION.

In Austria they supply free funerals to M. P.'s, but that would not help much here, when so many of our dead ones continue to sit in the House.

ALAS, 'TIS TRUE.

He has to bring around the bills.

RATHER BEWILDERING.

[Detroit News.]

Ernest Seton-Thompson says the "barren" north land has 60,000,000 caribou. Another explorer has found in north Canada a mountain higher than any yet before discovered in America. Still another reports a hitherto undiscovered lake larger than Superior. A late report says that there has been no snow and little frost at Hudson Bay this winter. That's about enough for the present, until we readjust our ideas.

BRANTFORD'S LUCK.

[Brantford Expositor.]

Brantford's publicity commissioner was able to announce the other day that he was successful last year in landing five new industries practically without costing the city a cent. It is different in most other places.

CANADA'S WEAPONS AGAINST MONOPOLIES.

[Boston Herald.]

Canada has invented a most ingenious device for controlling monopolies. It is so very clever that one wonders why the United States has never thought of it.

Our big neighbor—whose problems are much like ours—has a new anti-trust law which makes the Sherman act look mild and harmless. Under this Canadian law six citizens may go before any court and declare that any corporation is oppressing or overcharging the consumer. If they seem to have good ground for complaint, the court orders the department of labor to investigate. A commission is named, the complainants selecting one member, the corporation a second member, and the Government a third. This commission has the power to summon witnesses and demand all necessary evidence, and to look up any persons who disobey or commit perjury.

Now comes the Canadian remedy for monopoly. If the commission finds the defendant corporation guilty of raising prices unlawfully, it can suspend any tariff duties which protect the corporation's product. Thus the tariff, which in the United States is too often used as a weapon against the consumer, in Canada is turned into a weapon against the offending corporation.

THE AJMESON RAID.

FIVE PITFALLS FOR PROFANITY.

[Boston Transcript.]

Three hundred Free Masons having resolved nevermore to swear, an expectant world waits for: (1) their furnace fire to go out; (2) a door to slam on their fingers; (3) the plumbing to freeze; (4) their stenographer to have influenza, and (5) a fall down the cellar stairs with two jars of preserves.

WINSTON CHURCHILL.

[Toronto World.]

Those who puzzle over the personal popularity of Winston Churchill, the home secretary in England, ought to consider his career. If all the world loves a lover all the world adores a hero. And Churchill has the heroic stuff in him which emblazoned Ramillies and Malplaquet on England's glory roll. They do not forget in England Churchill's exploits in South Africa as some Canadians appear to do, and his coolness at the anarchist roundup in London on Tuesday at the head of the police forces made him no political enemies.

EATING HIS NAME.

[London Evening Standard.]

A Servian teacher, M. Medakovitch, has instituted the most successful method of teaching yet discovered. In his school each pupil is provided with a chocolate alphabet, and as soon as he can put his name together correctly he is allowed to eat it. Word making is taught on the same plan. M. Medakovitch's pupils on an average can read fluently in three days.

ARE YOU READY FOR WINTER?

Able to Stand the Cold?

Fruit-a-tives Will Build Up the Whole System.

The reason why some people cannot stand our Canadian climate is because their bodily health is not good. Heavy clothing cannot take the place of animal heat, generated by the normal body. To be comfortable in winter, we must have sound digestion and pure, rich blood. The time to get ready for winter is NOW, and the thing to take is "Fruit-a-tives."

These wonderful fruit juice tablets do more than regulate the bowels and kidneys. They keep the whole system at its best—make every vital organ do its proper work—and thus give health, strength and vitality. Those subject to chronic Rheumatism and Sciatica, stubborn Constipation and Bilious Attacks, Pain in the Back, Headaches and Neuralgia, should make it a point to take "Fruit-a-tives," and cure themselves completely before the severe cold spells come on.

SUFFRAGETTES IN ROW AT NEW YORK

Police Had to Quell Disturbance On Broadway.

New York, Jan. 9.—Suffragettes today made a demonstration on Broadway, which was not quelled until the police were called.

Under the auspices of the League For the Civic Education of Women, Richard Barry, of Eau Claire, Wis., addressed a gathering at the Lyceum Theatre on "The Evils of the Women's Vote in Colorado." While the lecture was not advertised on billboards, it had received mention by the press, and the suffragettes were on hand with placards and yellow banners before Mr. Barry appeared.

Posters calling for votes for women were conspicuous on signboards of the theatre, and it required a squad of Broadway policemen to pull them down and keep them down. Led by an earnest young woman bearing a yellow sign, a long line of suffragettes paraded the street and harkened to addresses at frequent intervals. Dodgers headed "The Truth About Barry," and "The Truth About Colorado," were handed around the city, and the streets were full of the yellow bills. These led to a threat of arrest for the distributors, and the clamor about the officers grew deafening. In the theatre itself the dodgers were scattered through every row of chairs.

Mr. Barry's audience was about 200 strong, and half of these were women prominent in the suffrage movement. Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, Miss Inez Millholland, the Rev. Anna Shaw and Mrs. Herbert Carpenter occupied conspicuous places. Mrs. Annie Nathan Meyer presided over the meeting, and Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder and Mrs. Gilbert Jones aided her.

G. T. R. INVESTIGATION OPENS NEXT MONDAY

Stratford, Jan. 9.—The G. T. R. strikers' investigation did not open here today as anticipated, but the first sitting will probably be held next Monday. Judge Barron went to Montreal in connection with the inquiry.

The heads of city council committees, selected at this morning's inaugural meeting, are: Finance, Ald. Stevenson; board of works, Ald. Roberts; fire, light and cemetery, Ald. Pauli; market and hall, Ald. Knechtel. Mayor Brown did not deliver an inaugural address.

After labor, refreshment. Retiring Chairman F. G. Scrimgeour, of the public school board, treated the members of the board, the male principals of the ward schools, and Secretary Davidson to a much-enjoyed banquet at the close of the final meeting of the 1910 trustees tonight.

LUCAN STAGE COULD NOT REACH THE CITY

Roads to the North Were Very Badly Blocked On Monday.

Yesterday was a hard one for many of the stage drivers who come daily into the city. The majority of the stages did not reach the city until after 12 o'clock, and their horses were so played out that they required fresh ones to make the return trip. The worst roads were those lying directly north of the city, and they were in such a condition that the Granton stage did not arrive until after 1 o'clock, and the Lucan stage did not reach the city at all. Harry Guest, the Granton stage driver, states that the roads and conditions were the worst yesterday that he has ever experienced. In some places the snow was drifted to such a height that it was impossible to pass before it was removed. In other places the road was nothing but a solid sheet of ice, and the horses had great difficulty in keeping their feet. The Lucan stage, for the first time this winter, was unable to reach the city and the trip was cancelled.

The other stages, which come from nearer points, all met with difficulty and arrived two and three hours over their scheduled time.

This morning the majority of the stages had arrived before 11 o'clock and the drivers report the roads in better condition than yesterday. The Lucan and Granton stages will likely be a couple of hours late.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

World's Best Dressed Beauty May Leave Stage For Love

MME. CECILE SOREL.

Paris, Jan. 10.—One of the most famous of Parisian theatrical favorites faces a very perplexing problem. She doesn't know whether she should trade her position as queen of the stage for a noble husband, love, and a mint of money, or stick to the footlights. She has long enjoyed the reputation of being the world's best dressed woman, and has whole handfuls of precious stones. It is said that she sleeps on a $30,000 bed.

Her languishing wooer is said to be an English earl.

More American Fairy Tales

For the Youngsters and Oldsters, Too.

JIMMIE AND DAN, THE FAIRY TOAD.

Jimmie O'Grady was running away from home, and Jimmie was only ten years old!

Jimmie's mother felt very badly to have her little son go forever, as he said he was going to do.

But Jimmie had been punished!

His mother cried until she was sick in bed, but away went Jimmie O'Grady, carrying a small bundle wrapped in a red handkerchief in one hand, and a big stick in the other hand to fight robbers.

In one pocket he had cookies to eat. In his right-hand pants pocket he had his knife and some nails and screws and twine.

In his left-hand pants pocket was what he valued most of all; his playmate his true friend, his chum—A HORNED TOAD.

The toad's name was Dan. Jimmie and Dan were all in all to each other, for Jimmie's mother was very poor and he had no other playthings.

Jimmie walked on and on until the sun rose high in the sky and made him very hot and tired. Then he stopped to rest under a big maple tree. The tired little boy leaned back against the fine old maple tree, with his big straw hat tilted over his eyes, and soon fell fast asleep.

Pretty soon Dan, the fat little toad, popped out from Jimmie's left-hand pants pocket. Then he topped out on the grass. His sharp eyes looking at Jimmie again and again to see if the boy would wake up—and Dan hopped onto Jimmie's knee, and slowly, lightly, crawled and crept to Jimmie's shoulder.

Dan kept perfectly still for a moment. Then he stretched and stretched his neck, and standing as high as he could on his hind legs, placed his mouth close to the boy's ear.

Dan, the horned toad, seemed to be whispering to Jimmie, the runaway boy. Pretty soon Jimmie began to talk in his sleep, as if he were answering his mother:

"Why, no, mother, I am not going away for I love you too much. I dreamed that I had, and that you were so worried about it that it made you sick in bed."

Jimmie yawned and stretched himself, and Dan fell to the grass; but the boy never noticed it. First he put his hand in his jacket pocket for cookies to eat, and then he said, "I must give Dan some, too."

But Dan wasn't there. Jimmie looked and saw his pet horned toad hopping back toward home. Jimmie started after him and they ran all the way home!

Can it be, children, that the horned toad was a fairy?

ABOUT THE MENU.

The porridge is suggested for luncheon where there are younger children. It will be found more delicious, because better cooked, perhaps, than at breakfast, and its novelty as a luncheon dish will make it appetizing.

The cabbage salad must be made from very tender, crisp cabbage. This must be shaven fine, covered with ice-cold water for an hour, drained well, chilled, mixed with a little onion juice, minced red pepper chilled, and either a little hard-boiled egg or minced ham or tongue. For the dressing, mix half a teaspoonful each of salt and mustard, a generous pinch of paprika, one teaspoonful of sugar, add occasionally with tarragon vinegar until two tablespoonfuls have been used. All ingredients must first be chilled.

MARY'S COOK BOOK.

Home-Made Peanut Butter.—After freeing the peanuts from the shells and skins run them through a food chopper, into which is inserted the finest knife in the set, then salt to taste, and work in about a half tablespoonful of butter. One quart of peanuts will make sufficient peanut butter to fill a large jelly tumbler.

Creole Steak. — Take ordinary round steak, beat it a little, cut in small pieces, flour and brown quickly in hot lard, with a couple of finely cut onions, then put in a deep saucepan, season with pepper (red if you have it) and pour over all as much tomato as will season nicely, let this simmer several hours slowly. When done add a little flour thickening to make gravy and a few spoonfuls of cream. Serve with dry rice and baked potatoes. We are all fond of this dish and it is wholesome and good.

Cranberry Pie. — Line a rather deep pie plate with a plain crust. Put on a border of richer paste, fill with cranberris cooked according to directions for stewed cranberries, and put strips of crust over the top, making squares or diamonds, as preferred. Bake until the crust is brown.

The Penniless Millionaire

BY DAVID CHRISTIE MURRAY.
(Copyrighted: All Rights Reserved.)

"That's a matter in which I shan't presume to advise, sir," said the inspector, taking up the photograph from the place on the table to which Stornway had disdainfully thrown it. "I'm charged, at any expenditure of trouble and money, to find the lady, and to let him know where she is. The young gentleman desires me to act with every delicacy."

"Wa'al," said Stornway, dropping into his very broadest accent, "you won't find her very easy skeered. Skeered! She's got the topknot of the devil, as they say in France. I've warned my gal against her, and I've had to tell her as much as it's becomin' for an innocent home-raised young woman to know, and perhaps a trifle more. That chap's in a bad way, is he?"

"He is, sir," said the inspector.

"Well, I guess I'll go and see him," said Stornway. "I suppose it wouldn't be kind to light out on him with what I know right now. I'll just go and cheer him up a bit. I can throw in the bitters at a time when they'll be good for him. He seems to have had dose enough for one day."

"Well, now, Mr. Stornway," answered the inspector, "I applaud that view. I really do applaud it. Trouble's said to be a good thing, but it's a drink that palls, sir."

"If you'll do me the favor to wait while I speak a word to my head clerk I won't keep you more'n a minute."

The inspector nodded assent and Stornway withdrew. The inspector could hear his deep voice booming in the next room, and merely with an instinct of whiling away the time, he drew the photograph from his pocket and pored over it studiously. He rather prided himself on his skill as a physiognomist, and, going over the beautiful face before him, with the things Stornway had told him in his mind, he saw, or thought he saw, signs of sensuality, of cruelty and daring which had not been visible to him before.

"You're right," he said, apostrophizing the absent Stornway. "She'd stick at nothing. She's clever, she's uncommon clever. She's as pretty as they make 'em, and I'd just as soon face a tiger in a jungle as I'd face you, my lady, if I was in your way, and you could safely put me out of it."

Stornway's return put an end to his meditations, and when the master of the place had made a great noise of splashing and sputtering at a washing bowl behind a screen, he emerged towelling himself vigorously, arranged his hair and beard with a pocket comb without the assistance of a mirror, slipped into a frock coat, took a well-brushed, well-worn silk hat from its peg, and announced himself as ready to depart.

"I'd as lief walk as not," said Stornway, and the inspector assenting, they made their way on foot toward the Strand.

"Retired from active service, I think you said, Mr. James?"

"Retired on pension last year," said the inspector. Thirty-two year record."

"You keep in touch, I suppose?" The inspector assenting, the big American turned on him gravely. "Nothing new about the business in which, as I suppose you know, I'm interested?"

"Bernheim case?" said the inspector. "No, there's nothing new, and it's my belief that when there is you'll hear bad news. In all my experience I've never known such measures taken to find a missing man. If Mr. Bernhard Bernheim is alive I'd almost undertake to eat him. You see, I put it this way. We learn from financial that Mr. Bernheim went in for native life a great deal, and that he was a little bit addicted—I don't say how far, for I don't know—a little bit addicted to opium. Well, when a craving of that sort has once got hold of a man he's always liable to yield to it. Now, by your own account, as I understand, he had money about him."

"Yes," said Stornway; "seven or eight pounds."

"Seven or eight pounds?" echoed the inspector. "Why, there are men who'd cut your throat for seven or eight half-pence down in the East End of London. Aye, dozens of 'em. There's some say 'Held for ransom.' He'd have paid any ransom before today if he'd been alive, or at least the people who had hold of him would have tried to enter into negotiations with his friends. No, sir, he's done for, you may depend on that. The next news you get of Mr. Bernhard Bernheim will be the news of the finding of his body."

"I'm very sorry to say that I'm much of the same opinion," Stornway said simply. "I'd got fond of him, as you mostly do when you've had the chance to help a fellow. Hillo! I'm blest if here ain't old Fan Ko."

That solemn old pagan was indeed walking the pavement of St. Paul's Churchyard a few yards in front of him. Stornway darted forward and slapped him on the shoulder. Fan Ko turned, impassive as an idol, but seeing who had greeted him, he grinned and cringed, and looked as if he would have wagged his tail if Nature had provided him with such an appendage.

"Hallo, Fan Ko," said Stornway, "where b'long your pidgin, eh?"

Fan Ko held up a gaudy bouquet of cheap flowers, and smiled and cringed anew.

"Missee Ethel," he said.

"This chap," Stornway explained to the inspector, "is under a kind of obligation to my daughter. Fact is, she saved his kid from being run over by a trolley car. And would you believe it, Half a dozen times in the year this blamed old heathen tramps about fourteen miles, out an' home, to carry her a bunch of flowers."

"Well," said the inspector, "that shows all right."

"I do like grattitood," said Stornway, "and this chap has shown more than a boatload of Christians. Your pidgin b'long Miss Ethel, eh, Fan Ko?" Again Fan Ko smiled and cringed. "Well, China shan't walk. Hi, cab!" You drive this man to this address. What's your fare? There you are. Show me your number, if you please."

Quite a little crowd had gathered round. Fan Ko, as the cab bore him away, waved the bouquet in token of farewell.

"Yes, sir," said Stornway, "there are few human sentiments that appeal to me like grattitood."

CHAPTER XI.

"Where to, lady?" asked the porter at the London Bridge station, as he poised Angela's trunk upon a barrow.

"Brighton," said Angela.

"You've missed the 11:30," returned the porter, "and there isn't another till 2:15."

"Yes, I know," she answered, with great affability. "Isn't it vexatious? Will you please put my trunk in the luggage office and bring me the ticket?"

"Certainly, miss," the man answered, accepting the shilling she proffered. He set out at once upon his errand, returned in a minute or two, surrendered the ticket, gratefully accepted the change, and watched the dainty lady as she tripped away.

She was so strikingly handsome and so charmingly attired, and altogether so uncommon a figure to be seen alone in the city streets, that many people turned to look at her. She was used to being looked after and admired, but she would willingly have dispensed with this thoughtless homage at that particular moment. She was on unknown ground, but there was no sign of indecision in her manner. When she had walked a few hundred yards she hailed a cabman.

"I am a stranger in London," she said sweetly, "I want you to drive me to the nearest quiet hotel, where I can have a private luncheon."

Wake Up to the Possibilities of the Last West

It is estimated that over a hundred million dollars was made in western town property last year. Hon. Sydney Fisher, Minister of Agriculture, is quoted as stating that in another ten years the four provinces of Canada will produce 1,000,000,000 bushels of wheat annually, or one and a half times more than the whole of the United States produced in 1909. The grain area of the Prairie Provinces, according to the New York Commercial, is greater than the seven states of Wisconsin, Minnesota, the two Dakotas, Iowa, Nebraska and Missouri. A glance at the official maps of Northern Alberta, issued by the Interior Department, will show that a large per cent of the southern portion of the province is settled, and much of it under cultivation. The enormous developments of the future will necessarily take place in the country lying to the north of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. EDSON is the nearest point by which this new empire can be reached by rail. EDSON is right in line where progress is taking place. The future of EDSON as a great commercial and distributing centre is assured.

WHAT THE MONETARY TIMES SAYS ABOUT

EDSON

The Monetary Times, of Toronto, which is undoubtedly Canada's leading financial journal, and very conservative in its indorsation of investments, says in its issue of Saturday, November 26th, 1910:

"The rapid growth of new towns in Western Canada has ceased to be the source of wonderment that it was a few years ago. Now, when there is talk of a railroad in a certin district, almost immediately people will begin to flock to it, and by the time that steel really reaches the place, a village and considerable of a settlement is already there.

"Edson, Alta., is 130 miles west of Edmonton, on the main line of the Grand Trunk Pacific. It is a divisional point on that line, and so far is the end of the railroad, and will remain so for some time, thus making it the supply depot for all construction gangs working westward. Five months ago, Edson was only a town of tents. It now has two banks, a score or more of stores, two hotels, a dozen restaurants, and a great many other places of business. North of Edson lies the wonderful Peace River country, known everywhere for its fertility, and the fact that Edson is destined to become the outfitting and distributing centre for this vast undeveloped inland empire would be sufficient in itself to make Edson one of the leading cities in the northwest. . . . . This line should be completed in a few years. There is a movement on at the present time for the construction of a wagon road from Edson to the Peace River country, and it is expected that this road will be ready for use of the hundreds of settlers, who have already located in the Peace River Country, during the coming winter."

Invest Your Money Where It Will Bring the Best Results

A wise investor cannot afford to let his money lie in the bank at 3% interest, while an empire is in the making in the West. Investors in western town property no longer consider 100% per annum as an enormous profit, but as a natural and looked-for increase in values. Those who have realized these excellent profits have been the people who followed the progress of the Grand Trunk Pacific as it worked westward, and bought in the railway company's townsites at the bottom price. The object of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is not so much how much money it can make out of the sale of this land, as how much traffic it can produce.

Excellent profits have been made by investors of moderate means, but the indications are that, with the increased development in coal mining and the rush of immigration in the spring, the activity in real estate will be even greater in the future than it has been in the past.

EDSON today offers a better opportunity for a safe, sound and profitable investment than any town in the west.

FINAL TRAINING OF THE CHILDREN

Interesting Address By Inspector Thompson in Chelsea Green School.

A TEMPTATION TO EVIL

Must Not Be More Prominent Than the Means for the Uplifting of the Child.

The regular meeting of the Chelsea Green Mothers' Club was held in the Presbyterian Church, the president, Mrs. George Fleming, presiding.

A motion presented by Mrs. Welsh, "that the club request the trustees of Chelsea Green to adopt the penny savings system as in the city schools," was carried, and Mrs. Clarke, the secretary, will present the question to the board.

The members present also received the tickets for the lecture to be given by Earl Barnes on Thursday next to the Mothers' Union.

Then followed a most excellent address on "Moral Training and the Co-operation of the Parents." In his address Mr. Thompson very clearly outlined where the responsibility lies regarding the existing conditions and environments presented to the young boys and girls of the community, showing that not the school alone, nor the home, nor the church, can be declared at fault if these conditions are such that temptation to evil is more prominent and familiar to the every-day experience of the children and youth than the prominence of all that would tend to uplift and strengthen in resisting "the things that do not make for the noblest and highest."

Not any force alone is responsible, but the school, the home, the church, society, the state, and every individual in the state, each and all, should do their duty honestly and manfully. Of course, said the speaker, conditions in a new country like Canada do not as a rule conduce to the same moral stamina in the people as in the older established countries, where the parents' reputations and characters are such that the family grows up, given "a far start" on the road to morality and uprightness by the power of public approval and knowledge of this "parents' uprightness."

Do What Is Right.

A child must be trained to do what is right, from its earliest infancy, so that when the reasoning develops he will then do right because "it is right."

The instincts with which children are endowed must be used and developed, used to the utmost, but moulded by wise and careful guidance into proper channels. Enlist these given instincts always. Then the thought must be guided, trained and guarded, for the thoughts tend to actions and "as our thoughts are so are we." We must give the children the highest, the best, to think about, else the mind will centre on that which does not elevate but rather pulls down.

Character expresses itself in the body. Hence much could be said in favor of the manual training work gradually being introduced into our schools. Manual work trains the mind. Idleness breeds lawlessness. The superfluous energy found in every healthy normal being must be worked off in some way. We must, by some act, work out our thoughts. Put noble thoughts in the mind for the mind's action on moral character is mighty. Keep hands busy and the body trained. Employ always motives that will bring about the best results. Pleasure, fear, love and conscience must all be brought into play in dealing with the work desired. Not only the intellectual side of conscience but also the emotional.

There is the physical side to be carefully watched in this moral training, but just as important is the religious side, and since the body itself outwardly shows what the real self is much work must be spent on the highest development of the physical, and each and everyone who has the best love of his country at heart will see that in every possible way all that uplifts and ennobles is given his support, while all that tends to lead downward in any way is suppressed, for the boys and girls are "the men and women of a great tomorrow."

At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Inspector Thompson for the excellent work presented. Refreshments were served and the meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

Miss Emily Haynes kindly assisted at the piano.

TO DANCE OR NOT.

Toronto, Jan. 9.—Hon. J. S. Duff, provincial minister of agriculture, has not returned to the Parliament Buildings from his home in Cookstown. But when he gets to town tomorrow he will find awaiting him the petition of the students of the Ontario Agricultural College and the Macdonald Institute, 285 in all, asking that they be allowed to dance at occasional college functions. It is taken for granted that some latitude will be given the students in this particular, but until Mr. Duff receives the petition and considers it, nothing can be stated with any positiveness as to what shall be done.

FIERCE BLIZZARD STRIKES BRANDON

With Thermometer 18 Below Zero the Wind Is Simply Terrific.

Brandon, Jan. 9.—With the thermometer eighteen below zero, one of the fiercest blizzards seen in years has been raging since early morning. With the terrific east winds blowing it is almost impossible for pedestrians to make headway along the street. Workmen had great difficulty in getting to work and many working girls did not make an attempt to come down town.

Business in the city stores is practically at a standstill.

The early trains on all roads had great difficulty in getting out and indications are that these will get stalled as reports from the country are bad.

Winnipeg Getting Colder.

Winnipeg, Jan. 9.—It is turning colder here with some snow, but nothing approaching a blizzard as yet.

SENT TO MIMICO

Small Boy Stole From Lockers in the Y.M.C.A. Building.

A small boy who was arrested here some time ago charged with stealing money from the Y.M.C.A. building by breaking into one of the lockers, was ordered to be sent to the Industrial School at Mimico when he appeared in the county judge's court this morning. His parents reside in Hamilton, but the boy is said to be very wayward.

Judge Thomas H. Simes, of Portsmouth, N. H., heard 1,000 cases during the past year, a greater number it is thought, than any other police justice in New Hampshire heard.

For the nine months of the fiscal year ended with the last day of the calendar year the revenue was $85,665,833 83, as against $73,390,080 97, a betterment of $12,275,752 86.

The expenditure for the nine months shows an increase of $5,596,003 63, the figures being $58,994,133 07 for 1910, as against $47,398,129 54 in 1909.

The public debt shows a decrease of $878,661 99 on the month, but it is $4,601,879 55 more than in December last.

MILLIONAIRE'S PROTEGE MAY BE DEPORTED

Twelve-Year-Old Hari-Singh Barred, Although Friend Offered Bonds.

New York, Jan. 9.—Unless the secretary of commerce and labor makes an exception in his case, Hari-Singh, a 12-year-old boy from Simla, will be deported alone to Liverpool, from which port he came last week.

Hari-Singh is brooding over his detention at the island chiefly because there is no one who can speak his language. The only words he has spoken since his detention have been to Samuel E. Stokes, a missionary, who brought him from the quiet of the Himalayas.

Mr. Stokes is the son of the late Samuel E. Stokes the millionaire, of Philadelphia, who was one of the chief stockholders of the Stokes-Parrish Elevator Company. He was called to this country by the lawyers attending to the settlement of his father's estate. Hoping to give Hari-Singh a peep into America, he brought him here from India.

When he arrived here with his little Hindoo charge, the immigration officials detained the boy. Mr. Stokes offered to put up a bond that he would take the little fellow back to India as soon as his father's estate was settled in Philadelphia, but this offer was refused. It is expected that the Washington verdict will be different.

Pere Marquette Dispatchers Have Their Wages Raised Very Substantially.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

St. Thomas, Jan. 10.—The dispatchers of the Pere Marquette have received notification of a substantial increase in their wages, which goes into effect at once.

The Pere Marquette has placed all the dispatchers in the same salary schedule, whether senior or juniors, making their pay $130 a month. Hitherto the seniors were receiving $100 and the juniors $90, which would make the rate $15 more than the Wabash and M. C. R. dispatchers are receiving. The advance is to date from the first of the year.

The Pere Marquette men requisitioned for the same schedule as that governing the M. C. R. and Wabash, but Mr. Trump went two better.

The arrangement is very satisfactory to the men.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

John McGuire, of 792 King street west, is a son-in-law.

LIKED ARMY MEN.

New York, Jan. 9.—The arrest of Mrs. Margaret McCormick, who is held on a charge of bigamy, should have a peculiar interest for army men.

According to the police, Mrs. McCormick frequented army posts and at each post her custom was to pick out the handsomest and richest non-commissioned officer and marry him. Then she moved to another post, and repeated, it is alleged.

Her last victim, it is said, was Sergeant John A. McCormick, stationed at Fort Dupont, Pa. It is alleged in the warrant that she wooed him under the name of Margaret Douty, married him on June 14, 1910, and left with some of his belongings soon afterward.

Sergeant McCormick traced her to this city and asked for her arrest.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING

Young Eastern Ontario Farmer Meets Tragic Death.

Cornwall, Jan. 10.—Angus McDonald, son of the late Angus McDonald, of St. Andrews, is dead as the result of being shot in the groin while hunting. The unfortunate young man, who was 23 years of age, went shooting on Friday afternoon, and as he did not return at night a search was instituted, and his lifeless body was found about a third of a mile from home on Saturday. The wound was a large one, and it is evident that he must have attempted to pick the gun up muzzle first, when it discharged. The young man had recently returned from the west, and was the only support of his widowed mother. Dr. Hamilton, coroner of Cornwall, was called, but decided that an inquest was unnecessary.

As a result of the boilermakers' lockout launches from the Clyde shipyards have almost ceased.

LONDON INTERMEDIATES WIN FROM PARIS AND EVEN UP IN RACE FOR DISTRICT TITLE

Local Crew With "Crow" Carrothers at Point Overcome Advantage of the Two Goals Gained By Paris in Match On Friday Last and Pair Are Now On Even Terms Again---Losers Take Credit For the Finest Work Last Night and Attribute Defeat to Parkinson and Carrothers, Who Put Up a Great Exhibition.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Paris, Ont., Jan. 10.—The hockey enthusiasts here today are still trying to puzzle out how it all happened last night when London won from Paris 7 to 5.

One and all agree that the London seven was a good one all through, playing pretty combination work and the finest kind of defence from start to finish.

The real playing was done by the Paris boys, the fighting being three-quarters of the time right around the London goal posts, shot after shot being made.

Sometimes through hard luck, but more often by the expert work of Parkinson in goal and the keen assistance of Carruthers on point, these were nipped in the bud, and the score held down.

Although all here thought Sinclair played a great game last Friday on point, it is agreed that Carruthers did even better.

It is hard to pick any individual player for honors last night. Every man on the teams played the game every minute of the time. London certainly has mastered the art of combination, and with their strong defence should not be afraid of any aggregation they run up against.

Paris will go up to London next Friday, however, with their one or two weaknesses strengthened and without that overconfidence that lost them the game last night.

Referee Fred Waghorne, of Toronto, knows the game, and saw that it was played on the rules laid down. Three times were London men and once a Paris player sent to the boards for tripping. Offsides were numerous but mighty few got past Waghorne.

The teams:

London—Parkinson, goal; Carruthers, point; Wagner, cover; Orr, centre; Lackey, rover; Cossey, left; Collins, right.

Paris—Fraser, goal; W. Peebles, point; Thompson, cover, Kempthorne, centre; G. Gill, rover; W. Gill, left; A. Peebles, right.

CHANGE IN RULES IN SPORT PUZZLES

All Answers Will Be Kept Until Wednesday and Winner Drawn From Heap.

BIG BATCH ALREADY IN

Dozens of Opinions Arrived at Advertiser Last Night and Today—Send Yours.

This is the second appearance of the mutilated man on The Daily Advertiser sport page. He made his initial appearance Monday, his features marred somewhat more than they are today. Do you recognize him? If so, tell the sporting editor who he is. Write today, as letters delivered later than tomorrow at noon will not be considered. The identity of the man will be revealed Wednesday, when a picture, the features untouched by the artist, will be printed. Mail your answer today.

Last night and today answers came to the sporting editor from all directions, some of them being in before 5 o'clock.

WHO IS IT?

The paper was scarcely on the street when the fans commenced the bombardment of opinions, and before the completion of the series the postoffice authorities will probably be delivering the answers on lorries.

It has been called to the attention of the sporting editor that those who reside outside the city, and others who, although in London, do not get an opportunity to read the paper until evening, are at a disadvantage in the contest, as many answers are in before they see the puzzle. In order to overcome this and give every man an equal chance, a change has been decided upon. All answers received will be kept until Wednesday, when they will be placed in a sack and drawn for. The first correct answer will take the prize of one dollar.

HOCKEY TONIGHT.

The second game of hockey in the Manufacturers' League will be played at Westminster Rink tonight, between Lawson & Jones and R. C. Struthers teams. Mr. A. E. Brener, of the City Hotel, has awarded a handsome trophy to the association. The team winning this year will be the holder of the trophy and the championship. All of the clubs will put up a battle royal. It is a query as to what team will win out.

Varsity Beaten by University of Rochester, 37 to 25.

Rochester, N.Y., Jan. 10.—The University of Rochester basketball team defeated Toronto University's five in a remarkably fast game here by 37 to 25. The Inter-Collegiate rules, which governed the contest, put the visitors at a disadvantage, as they showed they were accustomed to a more strict interpretation of the rules.

STRATFORD LOSES TO ST. MICHAEL'S

Had 2 to 0 Advantage, But Were Hauled Down in the Final Period.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Stratford, Ont., Jan. 10.—Stratford was beaten last night 5 to 3 by St. Michael's in one of the nicest games pulled off in the local rink for some time.

The Indians had the college boys on the go the first half by 2 to 0, but with their characteristic second-half aggressiveness St. Michael's came back in the second period and beat Reg. Rankin for five tallies, Stratford getting one in the meanwhile.

A PAIR OF WINS IN AN EVENING

TWO VICTORIES in one night. That's going some, even for London.

WHERE ARE THE PESSIMISTS of Friday night? They've likely changed to the "I told you so" class.

THE JUNIORS look pretty good, and with more practice at combination work and a little more experience, they should stand a good chance for the district honors.

WHEN WE REALIZE that the Ingersoll team piled up a 21 to 4 score against St. Thomas, it makes us wonder just what kind of a team St. Thomas has.

LELAND WALDEN, of the London team, looked like the "Hope of the White Race," when he stacked up against Kelly, the negro, at the checking game.

KELLY, THE NEGRO coverpoint of the Ingersoll team, has a wicked shot, but otherwise he is a lemon. He is a brother of "Bud" Kelly, who played on the Ingersoll intermediates for the past three seasons, but is now with Peterboro. Both Kellys are noted for their clean playing.

IT WAS A BUSY NIGHT for the goalkeepers, and both Manzer and Watts played a good game. At one time Watts ran about twenty feet out of his goal to get the puck.

WALDEN'S BACK-CHECKING was a feature. In the first half he had difficulty keeping his feet, but during the second period he skated all around his opposing wing man, and was largely responsible for the last two goals.

OWING TO THE SIMILARITY of the uniforms of the two teams, Referee Gunn became confused, and on two or three occasions called a London man offside, mistaking him for an Ingersoll player.

A GREAT DEAL of unnecessary hissing was done by some of the crowd when Referee Gunn ordered London players off the ice for rough work. This spirit toward a referee will not do much to uphold the city's reputation as a clean hockey town.

CHANTLER AND GILLIES are good defence players, and both were responsible for some brilliant individual rushes which resulted in goals. Chantler would do better if he overcame the tendency to rough work.

THE PICK of the Ingersoll team is Bearss, who plays rover. The rest of the team were suffering from stage fright, and were too much inclined toward rough playing.

STRONGEST POINT GETTERS OF STRONGEST ATHLETIC CLUB

MARTIN SHERIDAN.

MELVIN SHEPPARD.

New York, Jan. 10.—Melvin W. Sheppard, the middle distance runner, was the strongest point getter for the Irish-American Athletic Club in 1910. The annual report issued today shows that he gathered 122 points. Martin Sheridan was second, two points behind, and D. F. Ahearn third with 116.

SOL MINTZ LOOKS FOR LONGBOAT VICTORY

Says the Big Fellow Is Right For Race With Shrubb—Worked Hard at Toronto.

Toronto, Jan. 10.—Sol Mintz writes from Pittsburg: "I look for Tom to win Jan. 10, at Duquesne Garden. The big fellow has had a lot of work, and is in good condition. It will be a great boost for Tom if he beats Shrubb at 15 miles. It is a nine-lap track. Shrubb is also here, and I understand he is training hard. Tom is better than ever."

When Mintz says that Longboat has been training hard, he is not making a guess. The big Indian, who has been let severely alone lately, has been pounding the blocks at the Armories steadily for two weeks, and is in pretty fair shape.

Lange was making his first trial at the wheel when he was arrested.

A MODERN MIRACLE

He Had Eczema 25 Years and Doctors Said "No Cure."

Yet Zam Buk Has Worked Complete Cure.

This is the experience of a man of high reputation, widely known in Montreal, and whose case can readily be investigated. Mr. T. M. Marsh, the gentleman referred to, lives at 101 Delorimer avenue, Montreal, and has lived there for years. For twenty-five years he had eczema on his hands and wrists. The disease first started in red blotches, which itched, and when scratched became painful. Bad sores followed, which discharged, and the discharge spread the disease until his hands were one raw, painful mass of sores. Just think of this state of affairs continuing for twenty-five years!

In that time four eminent medical men tried to cure him, and each gave up the case as hopeless in the end. Naturally, Mr. Marsh tried remedies of all kinds, but he, also, at last gave it up. For two years he had to wear gloves day and night so terrible was the pain and itching when the air got to the sores.

Then came Zam-Buk. He tried it, just as he had tried hundreds of remedies before. But he soon found out that Zam-Buk was different. Within a few weeks there were distinct signs of benefit, and a little perseverance with this great herbal balm resulted in what he had given up all hope of—a complete cure! And the cure was no temporary cure. It was permanent. He was cured nearly three years ago. Interviewed the other day, Mr. Marsh said: "The cure which Zam-Buk worked has been absolutely permanent. From the day that I was cured to the present moment I have had no trace of eczema, and I feel sure it will never return. Having suffered for 25 years, I had naturally concluded that my case was incurable, and I regard my cure as a modern miracle."

If you suffer from any skin trouble, cut out this article, write across it the name of this paper, and mail it, with one cent stamp to pay return postage, to Zam-Buk Company, Toronto. We will forward you by return a free trial box of Zam-Buk. All druggists and stores sell this famous remedy, 50 cents a box, or three for $1 25. Refuse harmful substitutes.

WEST AND STURNEY OFF FOR PETROLEA

Londoners Will Play First Match of Big Series Tonight at Oil Town.

Joe West and Ben Sturney left this morning for Petrolea, where they will play Hyatt and his partner in the first of a handicap series for a side bet. A return match will be rolled in this city on Friday night, and as the Londoners have given a handicap of 500 pins on the twenty games the result will be watched with interest.

The game between the Imperials and the Blue Labels, which was to have been played tonight in the City League, has been postponed, and tomorrow night the Ramblers clash with the Medicos. Thursday West will take the Medicals to Ingersoll, where they will meet a picked team.

Special prizes are being offered the city league teams this week.

CHATHAM LEADS IN O. H. A. GROUP

Chatham, Jan. 10.—Chatham assumed the lead in this group of the O. H. A. by defeating the Watford Intermediates last night by 6 to 2. The tally at the half was 2 to 0. The teams played fifteen minutes before tallying, the home crew registering the first. The teams:

Chatham—Bueso, goal; Gilmer, point; Brundage, cover; Gemmill, right; Higginbotham, left; Meyrs, centre; Livingston, rover.

Watford—Brown, goal; C. Dodds, point; Eylliott, cover; L. Dodds, right; N. Roach, left; Stateford, centre; Thorner, rover.

HORSEMEN, BREEDERS AND DRIVERS MINGLE AT MEET

Harry K. Devereaux Talks to Harness Men at Buffalo Turf Session.

[By Associated Press.]

Buffalo, Jan. 9.—Preliminary to the announcement tomorrow of the stewards of the grand circuit, an informal convention of representative horsemen was held in this city today.

About a hundred owners, track officials, trainers, breeders and drivers, who had responded to an invitation of H. K. Devereaux, of Cleveland, president of the grand circuit, discussed freely numerous phases of harness racing. The advisability of returning to the plan of having a presiding judge for each association, which obtained prior to the incorporation of the circuit in 1907, instead of one judge for the entire circuit, was one of the questions scheduled for consideration.

STRATHROY WINS

Take Special Train to Sarnia and Annex Fast Match, 7 to 4.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Jan. 10.—Strathroy won an Intermediate O. H. A. match from the local team by a score of 7 to 4 here last evening. Strathroy brought down a big band of rooters on a special train. The contest was one of the fastest that has ever been played here.

BILLETOR WINS

Toledo Man Defeats Bingham, of London, England, at Wrestling.

[Associated Press.]

Bay City, Mich., Jan. 10.—After one hour and fifty minues of hard wrestling here last night, John Billetor, of Toledo, lightweight champion of the United States, caught William Bingham, of London, England, English lightweight champion, napping, and with a hammerlock, put Bingham out of commission for at least two months. His shoulder ligaments were torn.

Bingham's manager defaulted the second fall with the understanding that he is to have a return match, thus leaving the championship title undecided.

INGERSOLL DEFEATED BY LOCAL JUNIORS IN FAST GAME, 5-3

London Team Ran Up a Score of 3 to 0 in First Half—Took Matters Easy at Beginning of Second But Finished Strong —Pork Packers Put Up a Fine Exhibition.

The dopesters, after watching the game between Ingersoll and London Junior O. H. A. teams, in which the locals won by 5 to 3, last evening, figured that the Forest City should have little difficulty in galloping away with the laurels in this group.

While Woodstock has beaten London, Ingersoll has shown that it cannot give London anything that the Forest City cannot return, and the Pork Packers have trimmed the St. Thomas outfit for the biggest tally in the association this season.

The game last night was very fast, and while it looked a lot like "shinny" in the early periods, the youngsters forgot the rough end of it in the second period and went at the thing to win. They had held the visitors scoreless in the first half and commenced taking things a trifle easy in the second. However, when they realized that they had to keep on the offensive there was nothing to it but a victory.

London Has Fine Team.

London has a bunch of very fast players, and they will no doubt develop into the best of material for the intermediate section in another season. Three of London's five goals were scored in the first half by Dinsmore, Chantler, Dinsmore, and in the last halfby Gillies and McKay, being the order in which they were registered.

Combination play figured to a great extent in the deciding of the contest, Walden, McKay, Gillies and Chantler starring at this work.

There was a great deal of tripping in the first half, and at times two of London's men were on the fence. One of the goals was scored under these circumstances.

Wilson, Houghton and Bearss shot the goals that put the Ingersoll crew in the running. The teams:

Houghton	Point	Chantler
Kelly	Cover	Gillies
Bearss	Rover	Morrison
Henderson	Centre	McKay
Wilson	Right	Walden
Radford	Left	Dinsmore

AUTOMOBILE SHOW IN LONDON SHORTLY

Will Be Held Under Auspices of the Ontario Motor League.

Arrangements are being perfected for the automobile show in this city some time in March.

Mr. R. M. Jeffrey, of Windsor, who is promoting the show, stated to The Advertiser that there was no doubt that a show would be held, and that it would be a distinct credit to the city.

"We are perfecting our plans," he stated. "The show will be held under the auspices of the Western Ontario Motor League, and will as a result be a decided success. We are meeting with the heartiest co-operation from those interested. It looks like a splendid affair, and should prove of great benefit not only to the city but to the automobile manufacturers."

PACKEY DICKERING WITH AD'S MANAGER

Wolgast and McFarland Are Likely to Come Together February 22.

TEST CHAMP'S WEAK ARM

Stockyards Fighter Can Weigh in at 135 Pounds, and Take 20 Per Cent of Purse.

Cadillac, Mich., Jan. 9.—Manager Tom Jones, for Lightweight Champion Ad Wolgast, is in Milwaukee perfecting arrangements for a ten-round boxing match with Packey McFarland or any other good fighter, to take place before the long battle with Moran for the title.

The tentative date for this encounter is Feb. 22, the anniversary of the day Wolgast won the championship. Wolgast's manager has agreed to allow McFarland to weigh in at 135 pounds five hours before the fight. The champion himself is below the 130 mark.

It is expected that the house will be worth something like $20,000, and of this Wolgast is conceded 45 per cent, while McFarland will draw perhaps 20 per cent.

Not involve Title.

The title will be in no way involved in this encounter, as Wolgast is merely making McFarland a means of trying himself out and testing the strength of his feeble arm. The member has shrunk considerably in the past year, and handicaps the champion in getting away with the old, deceptive uppercuts and left jabs.

The battle with George Memsic before Tommy McCarey's club in Los Angeles has been set back to March 17, and Jones is arranging for a go ten days later with "Knockout" Brown, the latest sensation in Gotham ring circles. The bout will occur in either New York or Milwaukee.

If, after these three fights, Wolgast finds that his arm is strong, he will be prepared to meet all comers at practically their own terms. He plans to get back into favor with the fight critics and promoters, and do it quickly.

"Judith Zaraine."

C. M. S. McLellan's play, "Judith Zaraine," was produced at the Grand last night before a fair-sized audience with rather indifferent results. True, the cast was a superb one, with the famous Lena Ashwell, the English actress, in the leading role, and the acting was sufficient to carry any dramatic effort through for one listening at least. But if the play's the thing, then "Judith Zaraine" is not a bewildering success. Mr. McLellan evidently intended to expound a principle, but he learned before he was through with the job that he was writing melodrama, and swimming with the current he allowed the gospel to get away from him that the romance might be wrought.

The play is laid in "Minetown," Pennsylvania, which probably means that the locale shall be interpreted as Homestead. The United Mining Company is the insatiable trust, which drives an independent miner, John Isaacs, out of business, and to suicide. Three thousand men are also driven out of the independent mine, and replaced by trust employees.

Judith Zaraine, John Isaac's secretary, is a strong-minded young woman, very beautiful and very idealistic. The miners go on strike in protest against the action of the trust, and Judith, like a modern Joan of Arc, is at their head. So skillful is she in her leadership that she attracts the notice of the powers that be at New York, chief amongst whom is David Murray, known as a cold-blooded financier, and also of the commander of the troops sent to quell the riots, one Col. Pontifex. Murray goes down to the mines from New York to study the situation in the guise of a reporter, and he falls in love with Judith. Pontifex is thirsting for blood, because he holds stock in the United Mining Company, and naturally his dividends are being affected. Strange as it may all seem, Pontifex will not listen to the head of the corporation, but determines to bring on a fight in the early morning, that he may shoot down the strikers.

The colonel knows Murray, but no one else in the town does. The militia do not want to kill their fellow-workmen, but the colonel is determined on bloodshed. If a few hours' time can be secured until Murray has a chance to communicate with his partners, there will be no battle. When Judith at last learns the true situation, she determines, like Charlotte Corday, to use the knife and put the colonel out of the way. But she is frustrated in her design by Murray entering the room instead of Pontifex, and then Murray determines either to stop the fight or kill Pontifex. In the end the colonel backs down, the men are reinstated, and Murray marries Judith.

It is scarcely an injustice to the man who wrote "Leah Kleschna," to say that there is not a bright line in the new drama. From beginning until near the end it is as gloomy as Hamlet, and for the greater part of three hours Miss Ashwell is before the audience without even the forerunner of a smile. There is plenty of melodramatic shooting in the riot, and certainly as bloodthirsty a bit of stage play as has ever been perpetrated even by Lincoln J. Carter, in the scene in which Judith's brother is shot, and he is brought in by order of the colonel so that the girl may be cowed by the sight of death, and compelled to give up her leadership of the strikers.

But the cast saves the play. If it is a rehearsal of time-honored incidents of industrial strife across the border, every move is portrayed with such finish that criticism is robbed of its point. Miss Ashwell is undoubtedly a great artist, and no part can dim the luster of her genius. In but one scene last night did she have more to do than simply keep up a running fire of platitudinous conversation, but the opportunity, slight as it was, served to reveal her great powers as an actress. Mr. Charles Waldron, as Murray, is an actor of wide powers, and a very pleasing address. He may have slurred some of his lines last night, but he has so much to say that is uninteresting to his audience that it is not to be wondered at that some of it is of no interest to himself.

A most striking piece of work was that of young Donald Gallaher as "Carl Borinsky." A more clever bit of emotional acting has never been seen on the stage of the Grand. The boy is worthy of the star. Mr. John E. Kellard certainly looked and acted the part of the brutal soldier to perfection, while Gordon Johnstone, as "Jack Borinsky," gave a satisfying interpretation.

Mr. Howard Kyle, as Conrad Borinski, made the best of the part, which is colloquial.

After a survey of the plot and its incidents, a proper deduction would probably be that a pretty face is better on one's side in a strike than either a fund or carloads of rifles.

"The Cat and the Fiddle."

In "The Cat and the Fiddle," the musical extravaganza hit which has been so widely heralded for the offering at the Grand tomorrow night (Wednesday), no producer has so far given so much for the money. It is a delightful musical play, abounding in sparkling epigrams and smart witticisms and is rich in melodies that are haunting and catchy. It is a musical spectacle, which is said to be one of the season's greatest successes. Harry B. Watson and forty others, mostly girls, and a number of new song hits are promised.

"Paid In Full."

At the Grand Opera House on Saturday, matinee and night, the attraction will be Eugene Walter's "Paid in Full," a play of contemporaneous American life by everybody considered the greatest and the most entertaining drama produced in this country in years, and beyond all question the most popular. No other play has ever earned such a reputation as "Paid in Full" has attained. Its success is truly sensational. It is the reigning success everywhere that it has been in New York. Five companies played it all last season. The same are appearing in it now. This is a greater number than ever before had played the same piece at the same time. Seats Thursday.

Grace George.

No American actress has ever received the universal praise for her work as a comedienne that has been accorded Grace George, who will present her new comedy of New York life, "Solace for the Goose," by Geraldine Bonner, at the Grand Monday evening next, Jan. 16. William Winter speaks of her as giving a "charming presentment of gentle, yet spirited, womanhood." Arthur Brisbane, of the New York Journal, writes: "We recommend the excellent acting and the extraordinary pleasing personality of Grace George." Louis E. Defoe, of the New York World, says: "Grace George is America's foremost comedienne." Adolph Klauber, the critic of the New York Times, declares: "Grace George is insistently delightful. She is piquant, spirited, full of dainty airs and graces, exceedingly pretty to look upon and thoroughly charmingly feminine and attractive." These comments indicate the position that Miss George holds upon the American stage. In England she is also recognized as the greatest of American comediennes, and her work elicits the same meed of praise. The admirable company supporting Miss George includes many players of known ability. Seats Thursday.

WANTS TO REMARRY BUT FEARS HUSBAND

Hamilton Woman Wants Various Governments to Declare Him Dead.

A VERY PECULIAR CASE

Nothing Like It Has Ever Come to the Notice of Canadians Lawyers Before.

Hamilton, Jan. 9.—A point of law has just arisen unlike any previously known in Canada, and several lawyers in the city have evinced sufficient interest in the case to spend considerable time and study in bringing about a satisfactory solution. Jozefa Hlista, who conducts a boardinghouse at 121 Sherman avenue north, was married in Galicia 14 years ago, when she was 18 years of age. Twelve years ago her husband emigrated to Pittsburg, and a year later was followed by his wife. The couple lived happily together in the steel city for a year, when the husband suddenly and mysteriously disappeared.

Finding herself deserted, Mrs. Hlista traveled to Cleveland, and thence to Akron, Ohio, finally landing in Hamilton after a sojourn in Brantford of one year's duration. In this city she has lived for seven years, and in that time she has accumuated enough money to live happily for the rest of her life. To make this more desirable, a young Galician is paying court to her, and he finds favor in the eyes of his fair fellow-countrywoman.

Respects Religion.

The only obstacle in the way of what would undoubtedly be a happy union is that fact that Mrs. Hlista is a devout Roman Catholic, and under no consideration will she marry against the wish of the church. According to Canadian law, she is at liberty to go through a second form of marriage after seven years of silence on the part of her first husband. For nearly twice that length of time her husband, if he is alive, has kept his whereabouts a secret from his wife. During the past few years she has advertised extensively in Austrian and other foreign papers for information concerning her husband, but without success, and neither his nor her relatives are cognizant of the husband's place of abode if he is alive.

Knowing that Rome would discountenance a second marriage without positive proof of Hlista's death, and being averse to a civil marriage, the woman approached Armin Czech, manager of the European information bureau, who at once communicated with the Vatican and the Austrian Government. He received a letter from Cardinal Merry Del Val, pontifical secretary of state, which made it plain that unless Mrs. Hlista could prove the death of her husband, she could not remarry within the church. His eminence, however, made certain stipulations concerning a possible agreement between the Austrian and Canadian authorities in the matter, and the reply of the Austrian Government is consequently awaited with interest.

Lawyers Interested.

In the meantime, several Hamilton lawyers have become interested in the case, and after investigation declare it to be the first met with in the Dominion. In all reported cases on this question, said one, proceedings have been taken for some additional purpose besides that of declaring a person legally dead. The great majority of cases have been those in which recovery was sought from insurance companies. The only way in which the woman could attempt to get a declaratory judgment as to her husband being legally dead would be to institute an action for administration of his estate.

"If Mrs. Hlista wishes to remarry she can do that safely, anyway," said the same lawyer. "The facts of the case will be a complete defence in the event of her husband turning up and attempting to make trouble for her later on."

TO ADVERTISE CANADA'S NAVY

Government to Launch Campaign of Publicity.

TO GET MEN FOR SHIPS

Striking Posters To Be Exhibited in All Sections of the Dominion.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Jan. 10.—The Canadian navy wants men, and early next month this fact will be emphatically called to the attention of citizens of the Dominion by means of striking posters. These posters will appear on dead walls from Sydney to Vancouver. They will have impressive dimensions, being nine feet by fourteen, and will show the cruiser Niobe, with an armed marine at one side, and a Canadian Jack Tar at the other, all being worked up in handsome colors.

The big posters will be supplemented by smaller ones of similar design, but containing a picture of the cruiser Rainbow as the central outstanding feature. There will also be interesting and instructive pamphlets distributed. These will set forth the opportunities afforded young Canadians to enter upon a naval career and the advantages which such a career will afford.

Campaign of Publicity.

This campaign of publicity is to be undertaken for the accomplishment of two objects. One is to get men for his majesty's ships of the Canadian navy, and the other to popularize the navy in Canada.

It is not merely from the seacoasts or the shores of the lakes that men are expected to enter the navy. There is a demand for mechanics and artificers of all sorts, which will afford opportunities for the inland dweller.

Though but a bare beginning has been made with the Canadian navy, and only two cruisers comprise the floating equipment, there are today places available for some 330 men and boys. When the construction programme has been completed, and the ten proposed cruisers and destroyers have been launched from Canadian yards and put in commission, there will be over two thousand young Canadians afloat wearing the blue uniform of the British Jack Tar.

No difficulty is anticipated in getting all the young men wanted. Though no effort has been made to get men so far, the presence of the Rainbow and the Niobe in Canadian ports brought many volunteers, and from the large number offering 50 were taken on the Atlantic for the Niobe, and 30 on the Pacific for the Rainbow.

Good food, an interesting life, agreeable associates, fair pay, and a pension to retire on, are the attractions which are expected to bring men of the type desired.

Recruiting offices are to be opened throughout Canada, postmasters being used as recruiting officers. Each postmaster will get a fee of $2 for every man he secures who is accepted.

In Ontario recruiting authority will be given to postmasters at Algoma, Belleville, Chatham, Goderich, Hamilton, London, Peterboro, Owen Sound, Parry Sound, Pembroke, Toronto, Port Arthur, Sarnia, Sault Ste. Marie and Windsor.

At Ottawa, Halifax, Victoria and Vancouver young men who desire to enter the navy can apply direct to the headquarters. At other points they will make application to the postmaster, who will give them the educational test, and turn them over to a doctor, who is to see if they are physically sound. They then can take the oath to serve seven years, buy a ticket to Halifax or Vancouver, and when they get there the travelling expenditure will be returnd to them.

The handbook sets forth an attractive picture of life afloat. "The Canadian navy," it says, "is just born, an offshoot of the British navy, the greatest the world has ever seen, with great traditions and heroic deeds which it may be your privilege to emulate in the near future. Every class of man is required for a man-of-war, each ship forming a self-contained little town; seamen, engine-room ratings, artisans, cooks, stewards, blacksmiths, carpenters, and life in the navy scores every time, inasmuch as it provides a career; it is not like open-air life on shore, where you are at the mercy of the weather, or like an office or factory, where depression of trade may necessitate a reduction of the staff, weather or no weather, trade or no trade, in the navy you are always going to find three square meals waiting for you every day, and, when pay-day comes around, your pay will be ready for you, and, above all, when the service is finished with you, you will receive a pension which will make you independent for the rest of your life. If you are sick you will receive the best of attention, and your pay goes on just the same. Of course, you must not imagine there is no work in the navy; there is work and plenty of it at times, but there is always something fresh about it; an element of danger comes in at times, which makes it fascinating; it is not like the cut-and-dried routine of a shore job.

Time To Play.

"There is plenty of time for play. In your home port you are provided with a recreation ground and with materials for your games, and games of all sorts encouraged. On board ship, after working hours, you get boxing, wrestling, fencing, training in gymnastics and jiu-jitsu, or if you are of a studious turn of mind, you will get every assistance and encouragement in pursuing your studies. The ships have their own theatrical troupe and entertainments and concerts are given periodically. In fact, more amusement can be obtained in the navy than in any position that you can take on shore.

"Take a ship in harbor and the daily routine would be somewhat as follows: Hands turn out about 5 a.m. and lash up and stow hammocks. Have a cup of cocoa, and then clean ship and have short physical exercise. Then breakfast and time for a smoke. About 9:15 ordinary work of the ship begins, such as gunnery, torpedo training, etc., until dinner at noon. By 1:30 the ordinary work of the ship is underway, and continues until about 4 p.m., after which time is principally at a man's own disposal, and all those not required for duty are granted leave until the following morning at 7 a.m."

The pamphlet goes into detail as to duties and pay. For the seaman class boys of 15 to 17 are wanted, and parents are assured that the training will improve boys physically and mentally. In the beginning boys will undergo two years' training at Halifax or Esquimalt, where they will be thoroughly grounded in their vocation, take occasional short cruises, and generally fit themselves for places on a man-of-war. Each will get a free outfit of clothing and holidays, and where a boy's home is distant, the Government will assist his return at holiday time by paying part of the fare. He is paid $9 a month. At the age of 18 boys are rated as men, and become ordinary seamen, and will then receive $15 a month. Men can advance themselves through the various petty officer grades with increasing pay to the grade of warrant officer. Specially smart men will be selected to go to England, and take special courses of gunnery and torpedo training.

The monthly rates of pay for the seaman's class are: Boy, $9; ordinary seaman, $15; able seaman, $21; leading seaman, $25 50; petty officers, $30; after three years, $33; after six years, $37 50; chief petty officer, $42; after three years, $46 50; after six years, $51, after nine years, $55 50. There will be extra pay for gunnery and torpedo qualifications, varying from $1 50 to $12 a month.

Boys will be required to serve in the navy from seven years from the age of 18. At the end of the first seven-year period they will be permitted to re-engage for a further period of seven years with an increase in pay of $1 50 a month. Further enlistment for seven-year periods will be allowed, and after 21 years' service a man is eligible for a pension. "However," the pamphlet says, "a man who has his profession at heart should rise to warrant officer long before this, and in that case, his pay varies from $75 to $135 a month, and he is able to retire at the age of 50 to 55 years on a substantial pension for life, and in the event of his death a pension will be granted to his widow and children.

Boys who show special aptitude will be selected for training in signalling and wireless telegraphy. They will receive higher pay than seamen, running up to $58 50, which is the pay for a chief yeomen of signals after nine years' experience.

Men will be enlisted as stokers at from 18 to 25 years, and in addition to training as stokers, they will be drilled with rifles and field guns. They start with $22 50, and in this work a man may rise to the grade of chief stoker with $60 a month after nine years' service.

Up to the ages of 28, men with experience as engine fitters, boilermakers, smiths or coppersmiths, will be enlisted. They are put on probation with $22 50 a month pay at the beginning, and on confirmation in the service their pay will range from $51 to $75 a month, while the rank of artificer engineer, which is warrant rank, will carry pay varying from $90 to $142 a month.

Carpenters will be enlisted with pay of $37 50, and opportunity to rise to warrant rank with pay up to $97 50. Blacksmiths can go up to $54; plumbers to $49 50; painters to $43 50; coopers to $49 50; armorers to $66; electricians to $66, sick berth attendants to $60; waiters to $66, commissary stewards to $66, and cooks to $60.

To enter the navy a boy must be British by birth, or naturalization, and must have resided in Canada for two years. The lowest educational test requires the candidate to read a short passage in English or French from the Fourth Reader, or from a newspaper. To be able to write a similar passage of six lines in English or French from dictation, to show a fair knowledge of the first four rules of arithmetic. SIFTON AGAINST RECIPROCITY

Does Not Think the Bars Should Be Dropped at Present.

FEARS ENTANGLEMENT

Thinks That Canada and the United States Should Go Along Independly of One Another.

Montreal, Jan. 10.—In an address delivered before the Canadian Club yesterday, Hon. Clifford Sifton, chairman of the conservation commission, declared the time was not favorable for a reciprocity arrangement with the United States. He said in part:

"If we enter upon trade relations of an extensive character with the United States, and if the favorable anticipations which can be entertained turn out to be well founded, and our friends south of the line use us well and give us nearly everything we ask, what is the inevitable conclusion? Must not our trade and business and very life become mixed with theirs, so that we shall become increasingly dependent upon them, with the ultimate end of political union? And if these favorable anticipations are not realized and they will not treat us well, and want to grab and quibble on the interpretation of any reciprocity treaty, what will that mean? It will simply mean that ten or fifteen years from now we shall have to begin all over again, just where we are now, and start once again to put ourselves right. I do not hold with those who say that those who are opposed to a trade treaty between Canada and the United States are opposed to good relations between the two countries. On the contrary, my view is that the best way of continuing good relations between Canada and the United States is that each should do its own business independently and have no entanglements—nothing in the world to quarrel about."

Continuing, he declared that the present was not the time to let down the bars.

"It it's true," he said, "that it is essential in the interests of this Dominion of Canada that we should conserve our resources and work out carefully, painfully and perhaps slowly, the best method of making them available in order that we may have a strong, virile and well-nourished population, it must be clear that this is not the time to take down the bars and turn these resources over to the United States."

Mr. Sifton said the statement was his personal conviction only, there being no political connection whatever with it.

EATEN BY WOLVES.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 10.—Several residents of the west coast of Prince of Wales Island, Southeastern Alaska, have been killed and eaten by wolves during the last year, according to Mr. Charles A. Sulser, a brother of Congressman Sulser, of New York, who has just returned from the north.

Mr. Sulser says that the wolves having killed off all the deer, have become desperate with hunger, and now come up to the doors of the miners' cabins.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

DEMAND OF OATS WAS VERY BRISK

Fifteen Loads Sold This Morning at From $1 to $1.03 Per Cwt.

LOTS OF DRESSED HOGS

Prices Remained the Same as on Saturday—25 Loads of Hay Offered on the Square.

There was a fairly large supply of hay and grain on the market this morning, and the demand in both these lines was excellent. There were about 25 loads of hay in, and the majority went at $13 per ton. The lowest price paid was $12.

The 15 loads of oats were quickly sold to eager buyers, although some of the farmers kicked on the low price, stating they could sell them in the country at better prices. The best loads were bought at $1 02 and $1 03 per cwt, while the poorer quality went at $1. One load of wheat sold at 85c per bu.

Dressed Hogs.

There was a plentiful supply of dressed hogs in, the prices remaining the same as on Saturday. The demand was good, and it is expected that it will continue all week.

Outside of the hay, grain and dressed hogs, there was little of anything else on the square.

Butter and egg prices show no changes from Saturday, and there is no change in poultry prices, and very little demand for anything except chickens.

FINANCIAL.

[From Charles Head & Co., by private wire to J. J. Tearney.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(10 a.m.)—There is no feature to the cables from the other side this morning. Trading locally is likely to continue the same professional affair, but sentiment is more bullish as a result of support extended by the larger interests during the past week, who are apparently inclined to favor the side of higher prices. The short account is big, so that the technical position is designed to help along the efforts of those who are working for a further rise, even though the public is as yet but a small factor. Sight should not be lost of the fact that there is good buying of bonds, incidental to the growing ease of money, and the trend will be reflected in the better class investment stock. The banks are getting cash on the operations with the sub-treasury and the interior, pointing to another favorable statement this week. Business conditions might be a depressing influence were it not for the fact that Wall street largely discounted the reaction by the slump of 1909. Over-production in the iron and steel industry is responsible for the lowest prices in years, while the same factor, coupled with a decrease in domestic consumption, makes for discouraging conditions in copper. The progress of railroad rate increase case before the interstate commerce commission is watched with interest by the stock market circles, where a speedy decision is hoped for, though further delay may be necessary. The trust cases are now up for hearing, and the supreme court will doubtless expedite the same in order to help business. We would buy the good dividend-payers on all reactions.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—(Noon)—Most of the interest was centred in Canadian Pacific, which rose to 205⅛, and established a new high record for the stock. E. and C. Randolph and W. H. Goody & Co. supplied a good deal of the stock on the advance. Brokers active in Union Pacific asserted that a good part of the recent selling of that stock came from banking interests identified with the management, but this statement did not find many believers. The rest of the list ruled steady with little feature.

INFORMATION ASKED OF ONE JOHN RICHARDS

Ann Arbor, Michigan, Lady Writes a Letter to Mayor Beattie.

Information regarding the whereabouts of John Richards, who resided in London many years ago, is being sought by Mrs. Clara A. Reul-Wellner, of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Mayor Beattie received a letter today from the lady asking him to locate Mr. Richards if possible. She stated that some forty years ago he lived in Ann Arbor, but moved to London. His wife, Anna Richards, accompanied him, but she died shortly after coming to this city. Since that time Mrs. Wellner lost track of him, and she is anxious to find him. The old gentleman must be 85 years of age by this time. His only known relative was a nephew named Brundage.

"I do not remember him at all," declared his worship. "I do not think I ever heard of him. I will endeavor, however, to secure some information regarding him."

Personal Mention

Dr. Murray McGregor, of Evanston, Alta., is in the city, visiting friends.

Mr. Arthur Allin, an old London boy, who has been in Toronto for the last couple of years, was in London Saturday. Mr. Allin was on his way to Chicago, where he will take a post-graduate course in Chicago University.

Owing to the death of Mr. John W. Pocock, Mrs. S. B. Pocock did not receive on Tuesday, as had been announced.

Mrs. Harry A. Morrow (formerly Miss Mabel E. Jones) will receive for the first time since her marriage on Thursday afternoon, Jan. 12, at 29 Stanley street (corner Horn), and afterwards on the first Thursday in the month.

Mr. Evan Cameron, a son of Sheriff D. M. Cameron, who returned home for a holiday a short time ago from Trenton, where he is located as an engineer on the Trent Valley Canal, was operated on yesterday at the home of his parents for appendicitis. His condition is greatly improved today, and it is expected that he will be around again in a short time. Mr. Cameron, who had not taken a holiday for quite a time, returned home recently, and expected to be back in Trenton in a few days.

Miss Lorna Reid, daughter of Mr. A. T. Reid, of Toronto, who has been visiting at Canon Dyson Hague's home here, received word that her little sister Nancy was injured in a tobogganing accident, and returned home yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Smith, of Regina, Sask., formerly of this city, are visiting at the home of Mrs. Smith, Richmond street.

Mr. Joe Hutcheon has returned to Toronto, after spending the holidays with his parents, 524 Horton street.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Goodwin, of Lindsay, formerly well known residents of London, are renewing acquaintanceships, and visiting at their son's, Mr. E. L. Goodwin, 33 Pipe Line road, for a couple of weeks.

Miss Ethelwyn Langford, of Niagara Falls, is the guest of the Misses Shannon, Queen's avenue.

C. O. C. F. COUNCIL.

At the regular meeting last evening in Carling Block, the officers for the ensuing term were installed by Fred F. J. Fitzgerald, grand vice counsellor, assisted by Grand Marshal Mrs. Gidham. After installation, a social evening was spent with Grand Vice-Counseller F. J. Fitzgeräid in the chair, who opened the proceedings by an excellent address. Among the visitors present were Past Grand Counsellor T. C. Davis, Major Snelgrove, Toronto, member of the grand executive; Fred Nash, A. Legg, and others from the various councils in the city.

During the evening presentations were made to Mr. Ernest Ruse and Mr. William Loughrey, in appreciation of their assiduous and painstaking work in connection with the excursions of the past summer.

Afterwards a pleasant evening was spent with music, addresses from the visitors, and dancing and refreshments.

RECIPROCITY

And the wariness of Senator Beveridge's estimation is reflected by a large and influential Republican section. Regarding that most serious concern of all the negotiations, namely, the effect of the reciprocity on imperial relations, it naturally plays no part in the small talk and chance discussions about the corridors of the Washington capitol. Against the claims for the British preference, one of the leading Republican senators, a reciprocity man to the core, pointed out to your correspondent what was doubtless arithmetically accurate, that although Britain purchased from Canada half her exports in 1909-10, amounting to over 149,000,000 of dollars, Canada's purchases from Great Britain were but 25 per cent of her imports, despite the preference. He pointed out the fact of Canada's choosing to purchase 60 per cent of imports in the United States in spite of the competition of preference as the golden guarantee of what would happen were the tariff wall torn down.

A Clam Chowder.

Just a little incident of the day.

A group of Washington newspapermen approached Hon. Wm. Paterson for an interview on reciprocity matters, but were promptly informed by that gentleman that he was "as tight as a clam" on such matters. "How about Mr. Fielding?" the newspapermen inquired. "He is tight as a clam, also," said Mr. Patterson.

A moment later, Chas. M. Pepper, the American tariff expert, came along and was "held up" for a statement.

"Why don't you ask Mr. Fielding and Mr. Paterson?" said he in reply.

"Because," replied a reporter, "he informs us that the Canadian delegation has turned to 'clams.'"

"In that case," observed Mr. Pepper, turning away, "you'll allow me to make it an international clam chowder."

The Merchants' Bank of Canada have opened a branch in South London. The office is situated near the corner of the Wortley road and Askin street.

A Slack Season.

The juvenile court has had a very slack season. Since before the Christmas holidays there has not been a case and as a result Inspector Sanders, of the Children's Aid Society and Probation Officer Stevenson are rejoicing.

Aged Woman Injured.

Mrs. Fish, an aged resident of the Proof Line road, near Arva, received a serious fall last Friday, breaking her hip as a result. She is close on 90 years of age, and it was feared at first that her age would interfere with her recovery. She is now under the care of Dr. MacNeil, of Arva, and hopes are entertained that she will rally from her injuries.

Three Matches Decided.

Three matches were decided at the Thistle Curling Club last night in the tourney for the Warren Thomson trophy. Skip Bert Glover met and defeated Skip William Fulton in the first round, while Skip Fred Allen won from Skip S. D. Swift in the second, and Skip L. E. Tillson beat Skip Alf. Talbot in the same set. Dr. Andy Scott and Bert Glover meet tonight at the rink.

A Local Stage Crew.

Three of the stage crew of the play, "Judith Zaraine," presented at the Grand Opera House last night by Miss Lena Ashwell and her company, are former Londoners. They are Thomas Brierly, Joe Maiorana, and Harry Anderson. They were entertained by the local Stage Carpenters' Union after the performance. They were formerly with Wilton Lackaye, in "The Battle," and later with the Bessie Abbott Opera Company.

Two London Inventors.

The current issue of the Iron Age contains a long illustrated article describing an invention of two Londoners, Messrs. A. E. Blashill and H. Grey, for the manufacture of single-strand barb wire. It is claimed that the invention will revolutionize the manufacture of barb wire, and the patentees have received requests for patent rights from all over the world, including continental Europe.

Hurt in the Cells.

Daniel Sinclair, a young man who gave his home as Glencoe, sustained a deep cut across his forehead last night, when he fell off one of the benches in the cells at the police station, as he was trying to sleep off the effects of a large quantity of liquor he had imbibed early in the evening. Sinclair said he had been working in Ingersoll, and was on his way home, when he stopped off here, and got too many drinks. He was let go. Richard Ross, an old offender, was fined $3 or 10 days for being drunk.

The Visiting Nurse.

Miss Watson, the visiting nurse appointed by the London Health Association, on the 1st of January, is now fully entered upon her duties, namely to teach in the homes the care of those suffering from tuberculosis. It is the desire that every one shall feel free to call upon Miss Watson's services, either for themselves or for anyone suspected of having tuberculosis. Miss Watson's present address is the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, Byron, telephone 3025.

Mission Opened.

The City Mission was opened at 143 King street last night. It will be interdenominational in character, and will be in charge of Mr. H. E. Wilson. There was a pleasing attendance last evening, which augured well for the success of the mission. Rev. G. A. McKenzie, pastor of the First Christian Workers' Church, was chairman, and among the speakers were Secretary Wilson of the Y. M. C. A., and Messrs. T. B. Escott, William Jeffrey, F. W. Matthews, J. Holman, J. M. Thompson and Rev. H. H. Bingham. The mission will be open every night in the year, and is admirably located for rescue work.

Card of Thanks.

The Women's Christian Association has much pleasure in thanking most heartily all those kind friends who very generously contributed Christmas donations to the homes under its management, and also gave to the relief committee, which every winter discovers and relieves much distress in the homes of many poor citizens. The cash donations are as follows: To the Infants' Home—From two Masonic lodges, $10; a friend, $20, to be applied for benefit of children. To the Home for Incurables has been contributed, by Masonic lodges, Independent and Canadian Orders of Foresters, Irish Benevolent Society, Canadian Order of Chosen Friends, and some insurance agents, the large sum of $160. Mr. James Burrows sent $5, Mr. T. G. Meredith $10, and Mr Smallman $5. To the Aged People's Home—Mr. Jas. Burrows, $5; a friend, $2; Mrs. Adam Beck, $5; Mrs. Perrin, $2; Mrs. Murray, $1; Irish Benevolent Society, $15. To the relief committee—From Mrs. Thornley, $5; Mrs. Rossie, $1. To the general fund—From Mrs. C. H. Jones, $2; Mrs. F. H. Heath, $1; Mrs. Meek, $5; Mrs. John Anderson, $1; Miss Boyle, $1. In addition to cash donations there was a large amount of clothing, flannelette, cotton, print, boots and shoes, groceries, fruits, flour, oatmeal and cereals, turkeys and other fowl, dolls and other toys for the little ones. To give even the names of the donors would occupy such a large space that we forbear, but wishing them all a good new year, we again thank them most heartily.

JUDGMENT ENTERED AGAINST TRAVERS

Toronto, Jan. 10.—A judgment for $16,875 was entered at Osgoode Hall this morning against W. R. Travers, manager of the Farmers' Bank.

JUDGE BARRON COMING FOR STRIKERS' REPORT

Will Be Here Next Week to Settle the Question of Reinstatement.

Local railwaymen expect that Judge Barron will be in the city next week to receive the report on the G. T. R. men who went out on strike, and who are not reinstated. It is expected that the case of each of the seven men will be heard separately. One of them stated to The Advertiser today that it is likely that the cases of some of the men through the district who are still out will be heard in London also. The local strikers claim that they have a very strong case, and expect to get their positions back.

EAST LONDON NEWS

KEPT RUSSIAN CHRISTMAS

As a Result Many Foreigners Lost Their Jobs.

Persons passing in the vicinity of the McClary foundry about 7 o'clock yesterday would have seen a wildly gesticulating and evidently excited lot of Russians, and though there was no visible cause of excitement, a closer inspection would have revealed the fact that the foreigners were making efforts to secure employment; or, at least, to regain their lost positions. The cause of the whole matter is the fact that the Russian Christmas was on Friday, and though warned by their employers that they must come back to work on Saturday morning, many of the Russians in the city took the opportunity to do a little celebrating, with the result that when they reported for work yesterday, they were told that, owing to their breach of factory discipline, their positions had been filled. The Russians could not see the matter in this light, and reinforcing themselves with a few more of their countrymen they returned to the McClary foundry, and seeking out Superintendent King, began, in their excited manner, to make all sorts of promises of future good behavior if they would only be taken back. Their evident desire to make good, and the fact that they had received a good lesson, appealed to Mr. King, and he singled out two or three and told them to go back to work, the rest he ordered to come around today, and they will be given their former places.

"They are good workmen," said Mr. King today, when an Advertiser reporter asked about the affair, "but we warned them on Friday that they must come back to work on Saturday as usual. Some of them did return, but a good many of them stayed away, so we resolved to give them a lesson, and a lay-off of a couple of days will give them time to think it over. We do not anticipate any trouble with them in the future, as it has been fully demonstrated to them that while they are in Canada they must celebrate Canadian holidays. Tomorrow we shall take a couple more of them back, and so on the next day until they are all back at work again."

AN EXPLANATION.

Mr. William Cooper, of 785 Hill street, whose house was nearly burned when the chimney caught fire on Sunday morning, denies that he was unaware of the fire, and although a couple of the neighbors assisted him, he was mainly instrumental in subduing the blaze.

LINE WAS BLOCKED.

People in Pottersburg, wishing to come into the city on Monday had to walk to the loop at the fair grounds before they could get a car. The rain Sunday flooded the tracks on Dundas street near the Empire Brass Works, and as it grew colder in the evening the water froze, burying the tracks under a couple of inches of solid ice, and thus making a barrier that the Dundas street cars could not break when they attempted to run to Pottersburg. One of the cars, after several vain attempts, became stuck, and it was impossible to release it on its own power. The wrecking car was called out, and it was noon before the ice was removed, and the cars able to reach the end of the line.

EAST LONDON NOTES.

Rev. T. B. Clarke, pastor of All Saints' Church, is confined to his bed with an attack of la grippe.

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN

Opened Last Night in Two Presbyterian Churches.

A three weeks' evangelistic campaign opened last evening in Chalmers Presbyterian Church, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Nichol, of Knollwood Park Presbyterian Church. There was a fair attendance and the meeting augured strongly for the success of the meetings to follow. Next week Rev. Dr. Ross will conduct the meetings, and the following week Rev. Thomas H. Mitchell will be in charge.

A series of evangelistic meetings was also opened in the Hamilton Road Presbyterian Church, a large number of the members of the congregation being present. Rev. J. G. Stuart, of Knox Church, South London, conducted the services, and spoke on the question of the organization of church work, and the duty of the Christian to the church.

BROKE THE WINDOW OF LOCAL HOTEL

Chris Moriarity Was Once Again on His Bad Behavior.

Chris Moriarity, a citizen whose name is not unknown on the police records, was placed under arrest last night by P. C. John Handysides on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. In the box this morning P. C. Handysides said that he had been told that Moriarity when refused a drink at a local hotel went around to the window at the side of the bar and deliberately put his fist through it.

"I will fine you $10, or 25 days," said the court.

The case of William Smith, who is under arrest in connection with a robbery in the East End, was adjourned until next Monday, as Crown Attorney McKillop said he was not ready to go on.

What Conservatism Means As Applied to Investment

Stability—safety—these are the features that the truly conservative investor looks for. Many make the mistake of thinking that conservatism in investment is accompanied always by the very lowest rate of dividend. Dividend is not an accurate measure of safety. True conservatism covers more than this—it is breadth of intelligence in selection. Intelligence in selection can only follow a close and careful study of the past and present and the future possibilities of the enterprise whose securities are under consideration—the bearing of general business conditions on its probable prosperity. Such true conservatism in purchasing will put one in touch with securities, frequently, whose dividends are surprisingly liberal. It is in accomplishing this care in selection—this true conservatism—that the widely informed, painstaking and conscientious investment house can be of assistance to its clients.

EDSON WILL GROW

New Town on Grand Trunk Pacific Has Many Natural Advantages.

One of the wonderful features of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway is the rapid development of new towns along its line. Perhaps the town that is at the present time attracting the most attention is Edson, the last divisional point west of Edmonton before the G. T. P. enters the Rockies. To adapt a phrase of Kipling's, Edson was born lucky. All the factors in the upbuilding of a big city are already at work there, and the start of a big city has been made. The immediate surrounding country has great natural riches in land, timber and mines. It will be a railway centre; lumbering will be one of the biggest industries; coal mining in the district even now employs some thousands of men, and Edson will be the outfitting point for the thousands of settlers that are starting to pour into the vast and fertile Peace River and Grande Prairie countries. Lots in the original townsite of Edson can still be obtained. Title to these is guaranteed by the Grand Trunk Pacific, and the opportunity for investment thus provided, with the assuredness of big increase in value, is being taken up by people throughout the whole Dominion. Such lots in many western towns have shown profits of several hundred per cent upon the original investment. Not one of these towns had at the start as many natural advantages as Edson.

THE REAL ESTATERS APPEAR VERY BUSY

It Is Said They Are Going Before the Legislature in Regard to North Midland.

The North Midland Railway agreement will be submitted to the people again.

This was recommended by Mayor Beattie in his inaugural address, and a canvass of the aldermen revealed the fact that they would nearly all vote that such action be taken.

The bylaw is now in the hands of the finance committee, and that body will take up the agreement at an early date.

It will be impossible to have the matter inserted in the present city of London bill, as immediate action would be necessary in order that it be properly advertised.

Some objection is being made to the information contained in the circular issued by the company in reference to the difference the new road will make in the price of Niagara power in London.

It is also understood that the real estaters are after the proposition and are now taking the matter up with the Government.

Important Insurance Appointment.

Mr. John M. B. Dillon, jun., late city salesman for Messrs. A. M. Smith & Co., wholesale grocers, has been appointed city agent of the Confederation Life in this city. Messrs. Heath and Richardson, the district managers for the company, are to be congratulated on securing the services of Mr. Dillon. b

The Best.

An Edmonton man called at the Grand Trunk office the other day and stated that the Grand Trunk Pacific roadbed and equipment between Winnipeg and Edmonton was the best in the west, and in fact, as good as any in America. He compared the roadbed to that of the Grand Trunk between Chicago and Montreal, which he conceded the standard.

MAYOR ENTERTAINED THE CIVIC BODIES

A Very Pleasant Affair at the Tecumseh House Last Night.

GOOD WILL THE KEYNOTE

Regret Expressed That Ald. Rose Has Been Ousted From His Seat—The Toast List.

Mayor Beattie last night was the host of a civic dinner at the Tecumseh House. There were about 25 present. Speeches and songs and stories made it a most pleasant occasion, and everybody went away happy. His worship presided. Among those present were: Ex-Mayor Samuel Stevely, ex-Mayor Joseph C. Judd, K. C., Ald. Stevenson, Ald. Saunders, Ald. Cooper, Ald. Bennett, Ald. Donnelly, Ald. Ashplant, Ald. Richter, Ald. Mitchell, Ald. Morgan, Ald. Eckert, Major Hayes, Harry Merritt, Inspector McCallum, Stephen Grant, John Aitken, W. A. McCutcheon, C. E. Wheeler, R. M. McElheran, G. N. Weekes, W. W. Gammage, Oliver Ellwood, Thomas Gillean, F. G. Jewell, Rev. W. T. Hill and others.

The Toast List.

His worship introduced the toast list. When the health of the King had been drunk, Mayor Beattie proposed the toast to "The Chaplain," which was ably responded to by Rev. W. T. Hill, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist. He expressed the great pleasure he experienced in conducting the opening exercises of the council for two years in succession, and also at being the guest of the mayor on such an occasion.

"The Corporation of the City of London" brought responses from Ald. Eckert, Ald. Cooper, Ald. Ashplant, and ex-Mayor Stevely. All declared that London was on the eve of great prosperity. They expressed the wish that harmony and goodwill would prevail, and that everything would be done to further the interests of London.

Mr. Stevely expressed regret that proceedings had been taken to oust Ald. Rose.

"I regret this action very much," he declared. "I do not think I would care to take a seat I had not won. It is particularly a hardship on Ald. Rose, who has been a painstaking and conscientious alderman. I regret that he has been disqualified, as I can testify to his excellent work on behalf of the city."

Civic Boards.

The toast to "Our Civic Boards" was responded to by Mr. George N. Weekes, chairman of the board of education; Thomas Gillean, chairman of the library board; J. C. Judd, chairman of the hospital trust, and Dr. W. J. Stevenson, of the board of health.

Mr. Weekes stated that the board of education were making a strong endeavor to give the best possible education to the children.

Mr. Gillan spoke of the progress made by the library during the past few years, and expressed grea pleasure at its growing popularity.

Mr. Judd thought Londoners ought to be proud of Victoria Hospital, the finest and best equipped in Canada.

Dr. Stevenson outlined the problems to be settled by the board of health. It was necessary to have a garbage system, and it was the duty of all to agitate until this was accomplished. The board of health were strongly in favor of a proper milk supply, and he spoke of the educational methods adopted in the department that had resulted in giving Londoners good milk, although not perfect as yet.

"New Members" was responded to by Ald. Bennett, Ald. Donnelly, and Ald. Mitchell. All promised to do the best they possibly could in the interests of the city.

The toast to "The Press" followed.

Toast to the Mayor.

Mr. Gammage proposed the health of the host of the evening, and paid a tribute to the good city government under his worship. He has proved himself to be one of the very best guiding officers the city had ever had, and he hoped that this year would be a prosperous one. Major Hayes, on behalf of the city officials, conveyed his thanks to his worship for the excellent entertainment, and for the kindness shown to them during he past year.

His worship, in a brief speech, thanked the guests for honoring him by their presence at the banquet. He thanked the speakers for their kindly references to himself. He was gratified at the results of the recent municipal elections. The best of the old council had been returned, and he was hopeful that the new blood would prove useful to him in the government of the city. A new era of progress for the city was dawning, and he was of the opinion that London's progress would be very rapid in the future.

During the evening a fine programme of music was rendered by the Tony Cortese orchestra. Mr. W. A. McCutcheon sang several songs in excellent voice, and was repeatedly encored. Mr. C. E. Wheeler acted as accompanist.

STANDARD OIL ILLEGAL DECLARES UNCLE SAM

Taft's Attorneys File Briefs Against Big Corporation.

Washington, Jan. 10—That the supreme court of the United States should hold the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, to be an unlawful combination in restraint of trade, because the States have so held it under their anti trust statutes, is the argument put forward by Attorney-General Wickersham and Special Counsel Kellogg and Severance, in their supplemental brief filed today in support of their case against the Standard.

Government counsel also maintain that congress meant to apply the Sherman Anti-trust Act "to cover any form or device employed to hold together corporations or naturally competing business establishments so as to eliminate competition."

The point is made that many of the States are enforcing these statutes and "unless the federal government enforces the Sherman Act we shall have the anomalous condition of these great combinations being held invalid as to intra-state commerce and excluded from the States, while as to inter-state commerce they may continue to do business under the shield of federal authority."

The government's brief contends that combinations effected by purchase are equally within the inhibitions of the law.

Like Northern Securities Case.

The attorney-general and his associates dismissed this contention of the Standard Oil attorneys that purchasers and acquisition of properties are not contracts, by the statement that it is the same kind of argument that was urged in the Northern Securities case, in which the court held to the contrary. The government's counsel insist that the status of the Standard Oil Company, of New Jersey, presents exactly the same situation as the Northern Securities case.

The government brief takes exception to the statement of counsel for the Standard Oil Company, that the shareholders were not the same in 1879, in 1882 and 1899 and shows that the shareholders in the various corporations that placed their stock in the trust of 1879 were 37 in number, of whom only five were stock holders of the original Standard Oil Company, of Ohio. In 1882 the number had increased to 42, but in 1892 it had dropped to 17. The brief of the government recites the difficulties experienced in trying to get the lists of stockholders of the Standard Oil Company. The refusal of Rockefeller and Archbold to produce the books is recited and the statement is made, referring to the testimony of Mr. Rockefeller, that when he said he "had not been the custodian of the papers for over 30 years," it was a mere technical evasion.

Covered by Transaction.

The brief of the attorney-general charges that "it is perfectly evident from this record that every possible means to cover up the transaction and the list of stockholders during this liquidation period was resorted to by the defendants and their counsel." The brief says:

"The fact is that during these years the presiding genius who successfully organized these illegal trusts for the purpose of evading the law was Mr. John D. Rockefeller, and that the only persons who had been with him and acting with him during all these years, were John D. Archbold, Henry H. Rogers, William Rockefeller, Oliver H. Paine, Henry M. Flagler and C. M. Pratt. These men never owned the majority of the stock in any of the trusts or combinations."

1,000,000 PEOPLE LOOK TO CHARITY

Armed Bandits Pillage in Famine District in China.

Shanghai, Jan. 10.—Present reports confirm earlier advices of the suffering from famine in a district in the northern part of the Province of Anhui, north and east of the Hwai and Kwo Rivers, about 7,000 square miles in extent, and containing a population of approximately 2,500,000 people. The famine was caused by the destruction of fall crops through floods resulting from the heaviest summer rainfalls on record.

Thousands of refugees have left the district, but many of those unsuccessful in seeking support elsewhere are already returning, preferring to die in their native place. It is estimated that a million people, hard-working farmers, will be dependent on charity until the spring crops. Robber bands, as early as September, desperate at the prospect of starvation, and some of them well armed, travelled through the country, pillaging, terrorizing and killing. Serious trouble was only avoided by the bringing in of troops over the new Tientsin-Pukou Railroad, and by many executions of robbers in the yamens or government compounds.

Twenty-three inches of rain, it is reported, fell in 24 hours at one time, and the resultant floods swept away hundreds of villages. Thousands are reported to have been drowned. A railway bridge is said to have been choked up with bodies and debris. The highest places, untouched in ordinary floods, were from one to three feet under water.

The people have been left so poor that they are able to plant only one-third or one-half of the usual amount of wheat sown. It will thus take several years for the region to recover. It is expected that the Government will send relief. The people and the gentry are also desirous of foreign aid, and Chinese and foreign relief committees have been organized.

SOME ROAST DUCK REVEALED A PLOT

Dramatic Story of How Plan to Blow Up Prison Was Disclosed.

Jackson, Mich., Jan. 9.—The leg of a roast duck, it develops today, was the price which led to the disclosure of the plot to blow up Jackson Prison and effect the delivery of fifteen or more of the most desperate men in the institution.

James E. Burke, or James Sullivan, as he is known in Detroit, the man who now lies in Ionia Prison, a cringing coward from the fear of a fearful death which he believes will be dealt out to him if he ever comes in reach of the men on whom he "snitched," gave the leg of a duck to Charles Thompson, one of the leaders in the plot in the prison here last Thanksgiving Day.

Burke had received a roast duck with other delicacies from his relatives in Detroit. He made a friend of Thompson when he "whacked up" with him on the holiday dinner.

Liked the Feast.

"That was the finest duck I ever ate in my life," Burke told the officials Thompson said to him afterwards.

The two became firm friends, and a day or two later Thompson said to him again:

"That was a good turn you did me in giving me that duck. I always try to pay back a friend, and I'm going to let you in on something."

It was then that Thompson disclosed the fact that explosives and the tools necessary to fire them and otherwise effect the escape, were already within the walls. Burke became a party to the plot from that day until he told the whole story to Warden Russell, after his transfer to Marquette Prison a few days ago.

James Burke was arrested with William Smiley and James Freelman, after the robbery of the Hillsdale postoffice in the spring of 1908. He was identified by Supt. Downey, of the Detroit police, as a man known in the records there as James Sullivan. The three men were taken red-handed in a farmer's barn near Hillsdale a few hours after the safe had been blown with nitro-glycerin. They were supposed at the time to be members of the Toledo gang, which had robbed postoffices throughout Michigan and Indiana in the months past, and were treated as desperate criminals.

A Bad Character.

A few days after they were placed in the Hillsdale jail an anonymous letter was received by Sheriff Bibbins stating that unless the prisoners were released the jail would be blown up. Electric lights were placed to light the walls of the jail after that, and every precaution was taken to guard the prisoners. They were placed on trial immediately in the circuit court, and rushed away to prison on the day of their conviction.

In the first reports of the frustration of the plot at Jackson Prison, the James Burke mentioned in connection with the deal was supposed to be James Burke, arrested with Thompson in the swamps of Mecosta County a few years ago, and also a prisoner at Jackson. It was the Hillsdale convict who confessed, however, while the Mecosta Burke, from the fact that he was a particular pal of Thompson's, is supposed to be among the men now confined in their cells at Jackson while the further search of the prison is going on.

THE NEXT GOVERNOR-GENERAL.

[Toronto Star.]

Why should not Canada have a governor-general of the type of Viscount Morley, or Augustine Birrell, of James Bryce, or the Master of Ellbank? There may be obstacles to the appointment of some or all of these, but we mention the names to indicate the type. It is not necessary that the governor should be a peer. The peers are ready to relinquish their power of hereditary legislation, and there is no reason why birth in a certain rank should be a necessary qualification for the governor-generalship of Canada. Morley would have been acceptable, with or without his peerage, which makes no difference in our estimate of the man.

HOW TO STOP DRINKING

Give Orrine and Destroy All Desire for Whiskey and Beer.

Can Be Given Secretly. Try It at Our Expense.

We are in earnest when we ask you to try ORRINE at our expense. We will give your money back if, after a trial, you fail to get results from ORRINE. This is a very generous offer. It gives the wives and mothers of those who drink to excess an opportunity to try the ORRINE Treatment. It also shows our confidence in the merits of ORRINE. ORRINE is recognized as the best and most successful remedy the world has ever known for Drunkenness or the so-called Liquor Habit. It is a very simple treatment, can be given in the home without publicity or loss of time from business, and at a small price. Read the following letters from Dr. Nolte, 8th and Race streets, Philadelphia. It will tell you about some of the wonderful results from the ORRINE Treatment:

"I have had a remarkable case of inebriacy under my personal observation. The patient drank heavily for fifteen years and reached a degraded condition, which caused the breaking up of his family and separation from his wife. Every hope was given up of ever saving the man from his strong desire for drink, and only a mother's interest finally persuaded him to voluntarily take treatment for his diseased condition. It was my pleasure to recommend ORRINE, your liquor habit cure, and the treatment was taken faithfully. This was two years ago, and the patient is now in a healthy condition and still abstains from the use of stimulants. I have sold ORRINE for a number of years and have always found it to be satisfactory. I believe you have an exceptionally good treatment for this disease."

ORRINE is prepared in two forms. No. 1 secret treatment, a powder, absolutely tasteless and odorless, given secretly in food or drink. ORRINE No. 2, in pill form, is for those who desire to take voluntary treatment. ORRINE costs only $1.00 a box. Write for Free ORRINE Booklet (mailed in plain sealed envelope) to ORRINE COMPANY, 977 Orrine Building, Washington, D. C. ORRINE is recommended and is for sale in this city by W. T. Strong, 184 Dundas street.

Thousands now use This Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily Made at Home—Costs Nothing If It Fails.

The speed with which this simple home mixture takes hold of a cough and conquers it will surprise you. The recipe given below makes more and better cough syrup than you can buy ready-made for $2.50.

Mix two cups of granulated sugar with one cup of warm water, and stir for two minutes. Put 2½ ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a 16-ounce bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. It keeps perfectly. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

This gives almost instant relief, and usually stops a deep-seated cough inside of 24 hours. Splendid, too, for whooping cough, chest pains, bronchitis, hoarseness, etc. The taste is pleasant, and it is just laxative enough to help cure a cough. Its tonic properties restore the appetite which a cough tends to destroy.

This recipe is now used in thousands of homes in the United States and Canada. Its popularity has resulted in many imitations—none of them as good as the old successful formula. It will not work unless you use the pure, genuine Pinex, which is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and contains the necessary quantity of guiaicol and other healing pine elements.

A guarantee of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Company, Toronto, Ont.

OLD COMMON SENSE

Change Food When You Feel Out of Sorts.

"A great deal depends upon yourself and the kind of food you eat," the wise old doctor said to a man who came to him sick with stomach trouble and sick headache once or twice a week, and who had been taking pills and different medicines for three or four years.

He was induced to stop eating any sort of fried food or meat for breakfast, and was put on Grape-Nuts and cream, leaving off all medicines.

In a few days he began to get better, and now he has entirely recovered and writes that he is in better health than he has been before in twenty years. This man is 58 years old, and says he feels "like a new man all the time."
