HELPS THRIFTY TO PROSPERITY

Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation Offers Advantages in Insured Savings Plan.

Monthly Deposit of $8.71 Grows To Over $1,000 in Ten Years.

London and Western Ontario residents, who earn an average wage, no longer will be able to truthfully say that they cannot save $1,000. The Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation, one of Canada's oldest financial institutions, has made this an impossibility by adopting the insured savings plan. This thrift system is, perhaps, the best offered of the would-be investor today.

Almost 60 years ago, The Huron & Erie began aiding Canadians to build their own homes, through its mortgage loans department, and by efficient service, good counsel and high interest rates it has guided many district men on the road to independence.

One Of the Best.

After a thorough investigation, this reliable institution was convinced that the insured savings plan was one of the best that could be offered a man who sought to have a given amount of cash set aside within a given time.

A man earning an average sum can save $1,000 or more quite easily within 120 months.

Here is a specific example of the manner in which the insured savings plan benefits the ordinary individual:

John Doe, 25 years old, who has never saved a cent, realizes that he must adopt some system whereby he can have a certain amount of money within a certain length of time.

His objective is set at $1,000, which he expects to achieve by making a small deposit each month.

He applies to the Huron & Erie to open an insured savings account. After passing a simple medical examination, he makes a deposit of $8.71.

He continues to make a deposit of $8.71 each month, on a set date.

Will Receive $1,104.

At the end of 120 months he will receive from the Huron & Erie the sum of $1,104 in cash, cash dividends earned annually on the insurance issued in connection with the account (to guarantee his objective of $1,000), and interest thereon. For example, the dividend accumulations actually earned on like insurance in 1922, covering a 10-year period, were $60.88.

If Mr. Doe dies after making the first deposit, and his insured savings pass-book has been issued, his heirs will receive $1,000 in cash. If he dies after the 60th payment has been made, for instance, his loved ones will not only receive $1,000, but his accumulated savings of $456.81, and accumulated dividends plus the interest thereon.

The fixed monthly amount of $8.71 covers everything. There are no extras.

This plan is a combination of a savings account with a fixed objective, backed by the Huron & Erie Mortgage Corporation (chartered in 1864 with assets of more than $20,000,000) and an accident insurance guaranteeing that objective. The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada, which has assets of more than $48,000,000, guarantees the insurance feature.

Can Open Account.

Any person in good health between 15 years old and 60 years old, and not engaged in an exceedingly dangerous occupation can open an account of this kind.

The monthly deposits vary in amount according to the age of the depositor. For example, at the age of 15, the monthly deposit is $8.36; at 25 years, $8.71; at 30 years, $8.97. There are proportionate increases for persons more than 30 years old.

The monthly deposit is the same during the entire period. It is not increased as the depositor's age increases.

By saving 25 cents a day, the price of a cigar, a small box of candy, or a box of cigarettes—one can keep up one of these accounts. And the profits are exceptionally good.

The insured savings plan is a "live-to-win" plan.

Brilliant Production, Amazing With Clever Surprises, Evokes Enthusiastic Reception From Crowded House.

Attractive Costumes, Excellent Singing and Many Artistic Features Mark Performance.

There is merely the faintest suggestion of the war in the Dumbells' Revue of 1922," presented Monday night at the Grand Theatre, but it serves to make vivid the spirit which founded a show which has come to be rightly termed "a national institution." The review itself is amazing with clever surprises, full of laughter and humor, and even burlesque, but the prolog is a thing of perfect beauty.

An old French shepherd sits dozing, while behind him, gleaming amongst black shadows, lights indicate the outline of an old French chateau high up on a hill. Three white figures appear, the Canadian navy, the Canadian air force and the Canadian army, and of these the Frenchman asks: "What of the old Dumbells?" Then is heard the cheery laughter and song of the Dumbells, the spirit which pervaded, even in the darkest moments, the whole career of the Canadian Expeditionary Force in France.

But with the prolog all hint of the dark sombre tragedy of war is dismissed, and light and laughter abound in the revue which follows, a revue which is a swiftly-moving panorama of humor and jest and action.

Fashion Show Pleases.

Albert Plunkett introduces with a song "My Lady's Dress," a fashion show, in which beautiful models and the most charmingly picturesque of gowns chosen from every age, combine to make a gorgeous picture. And here it would be wise to stop, for the "Dumbells' Revue" is so full of a number of things that it is safest to stick to the east in describing it with only limited space.

Albert Plunkett sang "K-k-k-kiss Me Again," and was called back for encores which threatened to become without end. Personality helped to put the song across, and it was most evident that London audiences considered Mr. Plunkett as possessing one of the most attractive personalities ever seen here.

Ross Hamilton made a surprisingly beautiful Marjorie. His first song was "Widows Are Wonderful," and no one was disposed to contradict the words coming from a figure clothed with the utmost grace and style in clinging black lace and huge beaded picture hat, the final touch of dash lent by a magnificent scarlet fan. Marjorie made as equally beautiful a Spanish senorita, who whirled about the stage with all the grace and abandon of which a Carmen might be capable. One of the most charming scenes of the revue was the setting of an old-fashioned love song, of which Mr. Hamilton made a very lovely center.

Artistic Settings.

A strong sense of the artistic was displayed in the setting of "coaster characterizations," by Red Newman, who won an abundance of enthusiastic applause with his two songs.

In fact, the keen sense of artistic values displayed throughout was one of the most striking features of the whole performance. Every scene was a picture in itself, and the beauty of the exquisite gowns worn was further enhanced by the cleverness of the lighting effects.

To miss seeing the Dumbells' Revue would be to miss a performance which is unequalled for variety and excellence of humor and beauty. It is to be shown Tuesday night and Wednesday matinee and night.

BECK OPENS BIG ELECTRIC SHOW

Traces Development of Hydro in Kitchener Since Power Installed in 1910.

Council Expects Light Commission To Rent Wing of Municipal Building.

Special to London Advertiser.
KITCHENER, May 1.—Kitchener's big electrical exhibition was officially and formally opened tonight by Sir Adam Beck, who arrived here on the 8:14 o'clock train and was motored at once to the auditorium where the exhibition is being held.

In his remarks in connection with the opening, Sir Adam recalled that he was standing on the same spot where in 1910 Sir James Whitney pushed the button that turned on the first hydro power in Ontario. He stated that the great many machines and devices being operated in the building at the exhibition were operated by the same hydro power that was turned on officially at that time, and he emphasized that the present development of hydro in Ontario was symbolized in the varied exhibits of electrical devices and equipment being demonstrated all around the great arena of the exhibition.

As a result of a conference between the light commission and the city council here today, it was announced that the light commission will give a definite decision in connection with taking quarters in the new city hall Monday.

The city council offered the light commission concessions to meet all of the objections raised by the commission, and it is thought that as a result of this action on the part of the council the decision of the commission will be favorable to taking space in the new municipal building. The terms are that the commission can have the east wing of the building for a period of ten years at a rental of $1,500 a year. This alone, it is stated, will save the commission thousands of dollars, as the lease of the commission on its present offices expires one year from September 1, when their present rent will likely be doubled. The rental offered by the city for the city hall space is practically the same as that now paid for present quarters by the commission.

PLEADS GUILTY TO SLAYING OF WIFE

TORONTO, May 1.—Robert Stevenson of Ravenshoe was today arraigned before Magistrate Brunton on a charge of murdering his wife, Dencie, on Saturday. Stevenson pleaded guilty, but Crown Attorney Murphy overruled this, asking for a remand without plea of election. The court granted a remand until May 8.

William Stevenson, a brother of the accused, who was charged with neglecting to assist the police officers who were trying to arrest Robert, was also remanded until May 8.

BALTIC NATIONS FORM ALLIANCE

LONDON, May 1.—The Genoa correspondent of the Daily Mail is authority for the statement that a private agreement has been reached by Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia, tending toward closer harmony in their foreign relations.

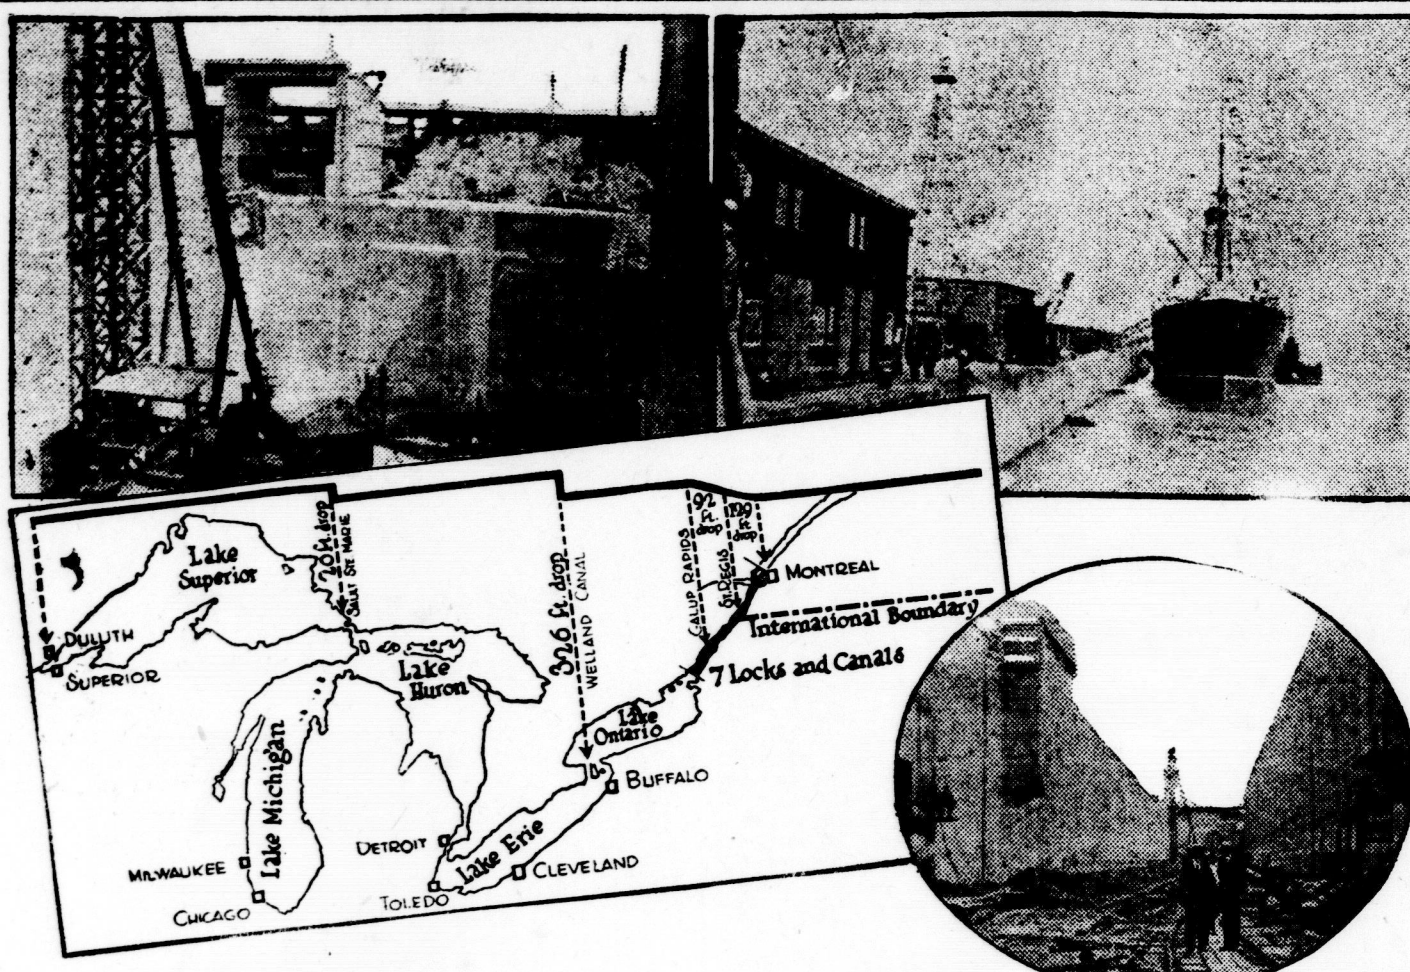

The agreement, he says, is likely to bring them closer to a new Russo-German combination and detach them from any co-operation with Poland in Eastern European relations.

MOORS REPULSE SPANISH TROOPS

LONDON, May 1.—Spanish troops have suffered a severe reverse at the hands of Moroccan tribesmen, a Central News dispatch from Madrid said tonight, it had been learned there unofficially.

The Spaniards are said to have been obliged to retire to their bases at Tetuan and El Arish. Native troops, the dispatch said, were reinforced just before fighting was resumed.

BUILDING OF HOMES MAY BE POSTPONED

Construction at Woodstock Delayed Owing to High Cost of Materials.

DEATH RATE DOUBLED

Many Oxford Pioneers Pass Away During Month of April.

Special to London Advertiser.
WOODSTOCK, May 1.—Building permits totalling $35,486 were issued during the month of April. This is an increase over last year, but despite this fact there is not likely to be much building operations here this year. Houses to rent are very scarce and many have contemplated building and asked for tenders. They were surprised at the high prices quoted both for labor and materials, and in most cases building operations were deferred another year on this account.

The death rate for April doubled over that of the same last month. A majority of the deaths were of people over 70 years of age. Births and marriages also showed a slight falling off compared with the statistics for April of last year.

CHATHAM, May 1.—C. H. R. Fuller, city engineer, this morning assumed the official role of city manager, under the new system of civic government.

His new role gives the city engineer general supervision over all city departments, his new duties being enumerated in a bylaw which was recently adopted by the city council. He has certain powers to make purchases of articles and materials which may be necessary from time to time for local improvements, acting on his own initiative. Will Wreck Famous Hotel To Make Room For City Hall.

Special to London Advertiser.

KITCHENER, May 1.—The Bowman House, one of the oldest hostels in the city, will be sold to P. K. Weber and wrecked to make room for the new city hall. The building was purchased for the sum of $2,500 with the understanding that it would be completely removed from the grounds in time to make room for the laying out of the space into a park. Building in Kitchener is going ahead by leaps and bounds, according to figures given out by the city engineer today for the month of April. The figures showed that permits valued at $280,220 were issued for the month, compared with $181,865 for the same month last year. The total building to date is $686,025. The total customs receipts for the month of April were $155,595.64 as compared with $153,257.93 for the same month last year.

SCHOOL QUESTION STILL UNSETTLED

Members of St. Thomas City Council and Board of Trustees Clash.

MUST DECIDE QUICKLY

Trustee Albert Conley Makes Eloquent Plea on Behalf of Project.

Special to London Advertiser.
ST. THOMAS, May 1.—Whether the city council as representatives of the people have or have not the right to assist in the choice of the site for the proposed technical school, if debentures are issued, was the question which led to a lengthy and at times, heated debate at a meeting on Monday night of No. 1 committee, called for the purpose of dealing with the recommendations of the board of education as to the grant.

While it was conceded that no member of the deputation of trustees, which waited on the committee expressed the feelings of a majority of the board, the remark of Trustee R. W. Johnson that the vocational advisory committee had the right, if it so desired, to put the school in Pinetown Lake or any place else if it so desired, and without interference from the council, led to the report by Ald. Patrick Meehan that if the council was asked to issue debentures for a large sum of money it should have some say as to where it should be put. On a motion of Ald. Meehan it was decided to leave the matter over for 24 hours until the board of education should have a chance to decide its final attitude on this question. If at that time the board saw fit to refuse the council's advice on this question, the whole matter will go to the people.

DENY PLANS TO KIDNAP BULLOCK

ATLANTA, Ga., May 1.—Officials at headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan here today declared they had no knowledge of any plans formulated by members of that organization to kidnap Matthew Bullock, the negro wanted at Norfolk, N. Reports from Hamilton stated that Bullock, fearing such action, had fled to another country.

GIRLS! LEMONS

BLEACH SKIN WHITE

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Orchard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day, then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.

Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

WANTS NEW POST-OFFICE FOR GALT

South Waterloo Member Makes Strong Appeal For Improved Facilities.

HESPELER RESIDENT DIES

Customs and Excise Collections For April Show $17,767.84 Increase.

Special to London Advertiser.
GALT, May 1.—William Elliott, South Waterloo's representative in the House of Commons, made his maiden speech Thursday last, and according to the official report of the debate made a strong appeal for improved facilities at the local post-office, either through an extension or the erection of a new building. The present quarters are overcrowded.

The city engineer's office reports that 25 building permits were issued during April amounting to $19,066. In these were included six for new dwellings, a most gratifying sign. To date the building activity shows an increase compared with the same period of 1921.

Hespler lost another of its highly-respected citizens on Sunday, when George Monday, aged 67, died after a brief illness. He had been a resident of Hespler for many years. A widow, five sons and one daughter survive.

The customs and excise collections at the port of Galt for April amounted to $23,250.30, compared with $45,519.06 for the same month of 1921, an increase of $17,767.84.

THE BIG JOB.

bear enough gentle pressure, wise supervision and tact, to successfully bridge that period.

THERE is also a big part here for the schools to play, and it is the wise educationalist who realizes that his position is one that puts upon him the responsibility of turning out boys who will be mentally equipped to meet the demands of the employment world. There are educationalists, and we have some of them in London, who take a keen and persistent delight in holding up the charge that the press is set against the "fads" of present-day schooling. We are not going to enter into a discussion of that point here, because it is beside the question.

Consider a few facts, though. A banker wants a junior clerk. What are the qualifications he desires? A neat, clean boy, one who is honest and honorable. One who knows what work means, and one who can run up a column of figures and give the correct answer, despite the fact that adding machines may be situated in every corner of the building.

A newspaper wants a junior reporter. What qualifications? Much the same as the banker desires, with a good knowledge of English, of Canadian and British history. It is possible to go through the entire list of wants of the commercial and business world today and prove to the hilt that the boys who are wanted when leaving school are those who have an all-round education, with special emphasis on fundamental subjects. Anything that does not tend to equip boys with these things cannot rightfully crowd into the front rank of the school curriculum.

If Boys' Week can successfully drive home to the boys themselves the positive and absolute need of getting every bit of useful education they can, the week will be abundantly justified. The under-equipped boy, in this day of intense competition in all lines, is starting out under a handicap too serious to be lightly regarded.

Paying Taxes.

PAYING INCOME taxes in London has been lifted out of the rut of ordinary things. Now it is a real occasion, and we do our coughing up to the accompaniment of wide somberness, red coats and blue trousers with yellow stripes.

For are not our local collectors protected by the strong arm of the law now that we are paying tribute to the state?

It gives a man a thrill to think that he is party to handing over so much money that it is necessary to bring in outside strong men to see that nothing is purloined from his offerings in the way of financial aid and assistance to the state. A while back paying taxes used to be a monotonous sort of business. Simply pay and get out without anything in the way of a thrill.

Now it's different. When a man has tossed every hang relative he can think of into the list and borrowed all the youngsters he can to swell his batting average, and piled all other deductions into the balance in his favor, he trots along with a check drawn in favor of the government, to confront the strong men of the law, who chase wild and murderous Indians up around the North Pole. No doubt it is figured out that it takes a good swindler to go through with the mounted police looking him square in the eye. Likewise, would it deter any wild and wicked man from coming along and running off with these much-stewed-down returns, so it works both ways. Thus, if Londoners can get any satisfaction out of the presence of the mounted police looking them over when they go to the public coffers to get rid of their money, let them be welcome to it.

LITTLE TISERS

The high school inspector presses upon the board of education at Walkerton the need for more accommodation at its school, claiming that it is inadequate to care for the number of pupils. As Walkerton is not showing an increase in population where are the additional pupils coming from?

School capacity and population should have a rather direct bearing one upon the other, but seemingly they have not in this case.

The three new senators from Ontario, MESSRS. PARDER, McCOIG and HARDY, are occupying one room just near the entrance of the Senate. The number of visitors from Western Ontario who find their way to Room 154 shows beyond any doubt that if these gentlemen have ceased to be Commissioners in name they are regarded very much by their constituents as still being in the public service of the community. Room 154 will be heard from in matters of public interest.

In this week's issue of the Listowel Banner a clipping is reproduced from the columns of THE ADVERTISER, to the effect that a well-edited weekly paper is worth $2 a year if it is worth anything at all. Right on top of the column the Banner has a notice: "The Banner doesn't necessarily agree with views expressed." Of course, we don't want to press the matter, but from where we sit we can almost see the Listowel man putting up his right hand in favor of the motion.

And now the Senate is going to tackle the problem of unemployment. This is intimated in a motion for the appointment of a committee "to inquire into the causes of unemployment in Canada, and to report to the Senate before the close of this session in regard thereto." The committee is headed by SENATOR ROMERTSON, late minister of labor. If the senators can dig up any new facts or reasons on this problem, then by all means let the senators dig, and may their digging be deep and thorough.

Every few days now there comes from the Senate at Ottawa a number of "Acts." These read: "An Act for the Relief of So and So," naming some of the many who are applying for divorce. These bills are becoming more numerous, and Canada can no more stand back and wrap the cloak of righteous indignation about her young shoulders as she upbraids other nations for the number of divorces that are applied for and granted. Meanwhile, the third person—for there must be a third person in these cases—is going free. There is a looseness there that needs some severe checking up, and it should be done quickly.

In the West the Kinc government is blamed for engineering the course of events that ditched the wheat board. That is the message H. W. Woon takes back from the capital.

OOR INGLESIDE

Folk travel noo for miles awa—
They're keen on pleasure bent—
Yet, gin they reach oor farthest shore
They're nae ava' content.
Oor choicest pleasures, doon on earth,
Are by oor hames supplied:
Oor foretastes here o' bliss aboon,
Are at oor Ingleside.

Oor guid Creator's wise decree
Ordained th' hallowed hame;
A' folk wae serves their fellows best
Revere that sacred name.
Th' greatest influence we feel
Is by oor hame supplied:
For weal or wae oor lot is cast
At oor ain Ingleside.

Oor forbears an' oor ain lo'd bairns,
We cherish an' haud dear;
Th' names o' mither, wife an' hame
Are sweetest we ha'e here.
Th' safest guards for oor dear lan'
An' ither lan's beside,
Are weel committed tae th' trust
O' iika Ingleside.

There're dangers, sair, in oor swift age,
O' breakin' doon th' hame;
Gin this is gane there maun arrive
Disaster fu' an' shame.
What has made Scotlan' what she is?
Tae ye I'll noo confide—

Tae bridegroom an' a' bride,

Mr. Woon was at Ottawa and appeared before the committee on agriculture himself. He knows, as every person who watched the proceedings knows, that the leader of the Progressives was no enthusiast over the re-establishment of the wheat board. The government referred that matter to the legal offices of the country, and there it was announced that the wheat board was illegal. In Mr. Woon prepared to go the limit of saying that the legal advisers can be influenced to say anything the government wishes them to?

MR. MANION was addressing Parliament last Wednesday, when he remarked there were three problems before Canada today. "One of them is the tariff. . . . Next is the matter of immigration, and last of all, perhaps as important as the others, if indeed not more important, is the question of transportation." It took the speaker a little while to get the thing right, but in the end he got into the proper groove. By the time the house and the country at large thoroughly realizes what Canada faces in its transportation problem, meaning, of course, the railway question, it will see that the last mentioned is so big that it will well-nigh obliterate the others in the place of supreme importance.

NO. 203—PERSUADING THE THINKER.

The "thinker," as has been explained in a previous article, can be recognized by the head and face, which are wider at the top than across the cheeks or jaws. Nine times out of ten they are the sort of people you would never call "robust." Their bones are small. They may be stout, but often they are thin. If an education has not been given to them they make it a point to get one anyhow, in the way or another.

In these people the mental predominates over the material. When you want to persuade a man or woman of this type your quickest road to success lies in starting him or her to thinking. Demonstration may aid, but it isn't the predominant factor as it is in the case of the "square" people.

If your subject has a convex profile you know that his attitude is practical and scientific, and quite naturally you should give him facts and very definite statements upon which to think. If he (or she) is concave you know your subject is more inclined to be theoretical or philosophical, and you wouldn't emphasize statistics, for instance, in the way or another. You would keep more to generalities and theories. But in either case you have to remember that you are dealing with a keen mentality. You must try to start them thinking and to steer their thoughts (by suggestion) in the desired line; but do not make the mistake of trying to do their thinking for them.

Here We Have Items of Local and District Interest
As Recorded in The Advertiser of 1897.

TUESDAY, MAY 2, 1897.

The Organized Charity Society now have their Pingree potato scheme ready, and it will be launched at once. Mr. Edward Daly has kindly given them free of charge, the use of six acres of desirable land between the barracks and the C. P. R. roundhouse. The deserving poor are to be allowed to cultivate this property, which is to be laid out in plots for their use.

A meeting of the representatives of the Masonic Lodges of the city was held in the library of the temple on Saturday evening to complete arrangements for a $10,000 subscription which the Masons of this district will donate for the purpose of erecting a pavilion in the new Victoria Hospital.

The Southern Congregational Church was formally dedicated to the worship of God yesterday, Rev. Mr. Unsworth of Scotland preaching two eloquent and impressive sermons to large congregations.

NO FILTH—NO FLIES

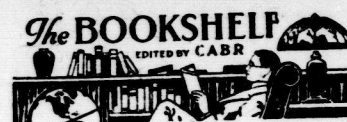

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

It from breeding and destroy all eggs and maggots.

Of course, it helps to swat flies and to catch them in traps. Such efforts should be energetically maintained, but the fight against the pest will be successful only when all breeding places are eliminated or treated to prevent the full development of the flies.

Where flies are plentiful it is reasonably certain fertile breeding places are nearby. Frequent removal or treatment of manure, proper care and frequent disposal of garbage and the prevention of accumulations of all other filth is necessary in eliminating flies. It is useless for municipal officials or civic organizations to start a swat-and-trap the fly campaign and overlook the manure piles in the stables, the frequent and proper re-

MY TRIP ABROAD. By Charles Chaplin. Illustrated. Toronto, Hodder & Stoughton, Ltd., publishers, 265 Adelaide street west. $1.10.

ANYBODY who expects to find in Charlie Chaplin's account of his journey to England and the continent a narrative similar in language to his comic antics on the film will be disappointed, but will see revealed instead another Charlie, and a very different one from the humorous star of the movies.

They will find a young man eager to see things of consequence and to meet people who count in the world, who has his own ideas about the world's problems and who wants above all things, to get at the heart of life and see and touch its inmost springs. If there is any fun going sure to be in it and, apparently, to be one of its most joyous instigators. But he is also a serious-minded young man, who frequently turns over and over in his mind serious and important matters and feels deeply about them.

He is sensitive to beauty, quickly responsive to any fine appeal to the emotions, sometimes sentimental, but usually level-headed and always very engaging. So engaging is he and so naive in what he writes and in his manner of writing, so direct and simple, that however much one may be annoyed in his early pages by the capital letters and the use of the capital letters to a forgiving state of mind and soon would not have it otherwise.

It is just part of the story of an engaging young man on his travels, who is always forced by the crowds and his friends into the middle of the picture, who is having the time of his life, the best time that anybody ever had.

His experience in Germany puzzles him and leads him to whimsical honesty with himself and his reader. On the way thither he is told that his pictures have never been shown there and that he is practically unknown, and he comments, with satisfaction, "This rather pleases me, because I feel that I can relax and be away from crowds." But when he reaches Berlin, goes, through the streets and stays at the Odion Hotel he says: "I have never been heard of. It interests me and I resent it just a bit." He and his friends go to the Palais Herminette, "the most expensive place in Berlin and the high spot of night life," and he comments at once that "My appearance does not cause any excitement." Presently he adds, when they are shown to an undesirable table in the most obscure part of the room, "This brings home forcibly the absence of my reputation. It nettled me. Well, I wanted rest. This was it."

In Paris, both on his way to Germany and when he stops there on his return, there are sufficient recognition, crowds and interest to fill every moment. He has a difficult time with the French reporters, who hang upon his movements and sometimes wait all day at his hotel. But the barrier of language proved well high fatal to the process of interviewing and the reporters did not seem to learn much about "Charlie's" impressions of France.

But it was in his homeland, England, and especially in London, that Charlie Chaplin enjoyed his greatest triumphs in public and in private and had his happiest experiences.

HEADS THAT ACHE AND PAIN

It is hard to drag along with a head that aches and pains all the time.

In nine cases out of ten, persistent headaches are due to poisoned blood, the blood being rendered impure through some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels, but no matter which organ is to blame the cause must be removed before permanent relief can be obtained.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS, which has been on the market for the past forty-five years, removes the cause of the headache by starting the organs of elimination acting freely, and when the impurities are carried off from the system, purified blood circulates in the brain cells, and the aches and pains vanish.

Miss Clara Murphy, Center Dummer, Ont., writes: "My system was greatly run down and my blood out of order. I suffered a great deal from severe pains in my head which made me very miserable. After having tried other remedies I purchased a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and was very glad to notice a decided improvement in my health. I took another bottle and it has done me an enormous amount of good. I have recommended it to some of my friends who were in a similar condition, and they all say it is a wonderful remedy."

B. B. B. is manufactured only by The T. M. M. Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.—Adv't.

FACE DISFIGURED NINE MONTHS

Itched and Hard Pimples Broke Out. Cuticura Heals.

"My face and neck all broke out in a mass of nasty pimples. My face used to itch and then hard pimples would break out and fester over. They itched and burned dreadfully at times, and my face was badly disfigured for about nine months. I tried different remedies without any effect. I saw an advertisement for Cuticura Soap and Ointment and sent for a free sample. It helped me so much that I bought more, and after using two cakes of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Miss Hattie E. Cruickshank, Lower Caledonia, Nova Scotia.

Why Does My Composition Require Such Polishing?

Editor "Women's Department" Tells Inquirer and Other Contributors Who Help To Make the Page Interesting Why Printed Reports Are Frequently So Different From Manuscripts Submitted — Says News-Writing is Just Like Cooking.

One correspondent to our Western Ontario women's activities column sends in most interesting and by reports asks the question, "Does my composition require so much polishing?" Doubtless, a number of our other readers wonder the same thing when they see the difference between the item in print and the manuscript they sent in. To the public, many times, "for as they are queer and for tricks at are strange, the heathen editor peculiar," be that editor man or woman. The reason is that there is a madman in the madness of a newspaper person of experience. In her words, there are "ropes" to follow in writing simple news items, as in dressmaking, cake-baking, house-building, piano-playing. One writes, "Does my composition require so much polishing?" (and without the divine gift, supreme achievement is not possible), but no one can be a truly great cook, pianist, singer, writer, without following definite rules that govern these arts. News-writing is an instinct with some people, as in the case of the inquirer who writes, "Does my composition require so much polishing?" Style writing is also, to a great extent, instinct, but it can be vastly improved by pruning and otherwise cultivating.

Climb Out of Rut. The first thing to decide in writing reports is whether or not the item is of interest to the public. If it is, it is news. If it isn't, it isn't news. It is news to the public, not to the writer. The writer who writes, "Does my composition require so much polishing?" is in a rut. WOMEN'S CLUBS

APPROVES PRACTICAL WORK.

Mrs. W. E. Millson, president of the London District Methodist Ministers' Wives' Association, strongly advocated practical outside work in addition to the supremely important Bible study for organized adult Bible classes, especially young women's classes, in delivering an address before the association at the May meeting Monday, on the subject of her experiences as a teacher. She pointed out that the practical work is interesting to the girls, and, further, affords them a means of self-expression in service for others. She referred specifically to assistance given by a class of her own, and the joy occasioned by raising the money for such a worthy cause. In the discussion which followed, among those taking part were Mesdames Lucas, George Dewey, Hedley, Mrs. Cressy, delighted with a solo. Following the business part of the meeting, which was held in Dundas Centre Methodist Church, afternoon tea was served, Mesdames Godwin, Colling and Millson acting as hostesses.

M. C. EXECUTIVE MEETING.

At the meeting held Monday evening in the Technical School of the executive committee of the London Union Mothers' Club, the president, Mrs. John A. Rose brought up for discussion suggestions from the recent convention of the Ontario Federation of Home and School Clubs.

ABIGAIL BECKER CHAPTER.

Abigail Becker Chapter, I. O. O. E., which has been devoting a generous share of time to sewing for child welfare, decided at the May meeting, held Monday evening at the home of the secretary, Miss Kate Fraser, 77 Stanley street, to send for the War Memorial Children's Hospital in view of the need of getting supplies made up at an early date. In the absence, on account of illness, of the regent, Mrs. T. C. Duncan, Miss Florence Wilson presided.

German; superintendent, Mrs. Charles Deacon; stranger's secretary, Mrs. John Jones; delegate to branch meeting, Mrs. W. H. Braddon; alternate, Mrs. J. P. Morris.

HEAR OF WORK FOR LEOPERS.

"Home" presented an exceptionally interesting program at the monthly meeting Monday afternoon of the Mission to Lepers, held in the Wellington Street Y. W. C. A. residence.

Mrs. Donald Campbell read an article from the National Geographical Magazine, dealing of a visit of investigation paid by an American expert to Burma to study the Chaulmoogra treatment for leprosy, of his up-to-date in a monthly or quarterly publication, but it is hopelessly on the shelf and should be in the waste-paper basket in a newspaper with two editions daily.

GOOD CHEER CLUB GRATEFUL.

The sum of $111 was cleared by the Good Cheer Club at a Sunday evening concert held under its auspices April 23, in aid of the War Memorial Children's Hospital, for which an objective of $1,000 had previously been reached. The club members are extending their grateful thanks to Wilfrid Shortt, the members of his 40-piece orchestra, and Rev. G. Q. Warner, and a who generously assisted in making the entertainment such a success.

Plan Memorial For Mrs. Tilley

The subject of memorial for the late Mrs. Tilley, one of the enthusiastic pioneer workers in the Home Daughters in London, was discussed with interest at the annual meeting and rally held Monday evening in St. George's Church school house, West London, of the London City Union of King's Daughters. The form of memorial favored was a reading desk to be presented to the King's Home institution in which Mrs. Tilley was much interested, to be used for the services held there.

MISS ELLA DAVIS PRESIDES.

At the close of the business, made up largely of reports, a social hour was enjoyed, the hostesses, the Golden Links of St. George's, serving refreshments.

FIVE FINE BABES CAPTURE PRIZES

Five physically efficient babies of the Victoria School district clinic can afford to crow in triumph this week. Announcement has been made that in the recent annual examination no less than five tots scored such splendid records it was simply necessary to post each and all for prizes. Baby Jack Biggs, 20 Cathcart street, carried off the laurels for little folks under 18 months. Baby Margaret Harrison, 41 Garfield avenue, captured the honors for best baby over 18 months, and Baby Leslie Gledhill, 315 Simcoe street, made the greatest progress during the year. Even his own mother, looking at the chubby, rosy infant, can scarcely believe he was the pathetic, under-nourished mite of a year ago.

This year there were to be no prizes for twins at the clinic examinations, which are taking the place of "baby week," but several pairs of prepossession twins arrived, so identical of their claims to special notice that finally it was decided to arrange a special class for them, Margaret and Alma Tapp winning first place.

At Rectory Street school only one result is available. Edith Marshall, 928 Princess avenue, captured the prize for best baby 18 months. An average of 70 babies has been examined at each of the three well-baby clinics.

CRUMLIN W. M. S.

Very interesting papers were given by Mrs. W. Smith and Mrs. R. F. Matthews at the Easter meeting of the Crumlin W. M. S., which was held at the home of Mrs. John Willis. A piano solo by Alison Catton, and a song by Edna Willis were much enjoyed. At the close of the meeting tea was served by the hostess.

KINTORE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

Thirty-six attended the April meeting of the Kintore Women's Institute, when a splendid program was given as follows: A paper by Mrs. C. Yake; one by Mrs. J. Bradshaw on "Beautifying the Lawn"; one by Miss Lenora Armstrong, "Conservation of Health"; information re the hospital work by Mrs. John Henderson, and a vocal duet by Mrs. (Dr.) McDonald and Mrs. Alex. McDonald.

Bed jackets were brought in by the members made up to send to the Sick Children's Hospital, while over 60 were taken away to be made before the May meeting. A committee was appointed to arrange for the program for June 2, when this institute will visit Thorndale W. I. On May 31, Embro W. I. is expected to visit Kintore and give the program.

ZONE WOMEN'S INSTITUTE.

Members of Zone Center Women's Institute turned out in full force to hear the demonstrated lecture on the culling of hens given by Kent County's agricultural representative, W. Smith of Chatham. The correspondent of this institute comments: "They were not disappointed, and the results of the lecture are already apparent in the community in a keener interest in this branch of mixed farming."

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Peter Weaver, and to the executive was added a second vice-president, Mrs. H. Lunn. Misses Gibson and Harcourt were appointed as musical committee. Letters of thanks were read for the institute's contribution to the restroom at Thamesville, and from Mr. McRoberts' family for sympathy expressed during their recent bereavement. Mrs. Sifton of Mulrirk will be the speaker at the May meeting, which it was decided to make a public gathering in the town hall. Zone. Mesdames Guino and Lawson will be the hostesses.

Fog, Weather Hold Up Party

Salvation Army Household Workers Fail to Arrive—Forty-four Coming.

Fog and weather have been responsible for holding up the eagerly anticipated arrival in London of a dozen young women, trained domestics, the first party to be brought to London under the supervision of the Salvation Army. Expected on Sunday, Adj. J. W. Atkinson of the new Salvation Army Domestic Lodge, corner of Ontario and King streets, was notified Monday that the boat, the Metagama, on which they, with a number of others sailed, had been prevented from making port, owing to fog, until early Monday morning. He will proceed to meet them in Toronto to "personally conduct" them to London.

For once "things are turning out better than expected." Instead of twelve young women for London, as at first expected, Adjutant Atkinson states there will be fourteen to step in and help bear household burdens, and make homes the brighter (it is hoped).

"Have you places for them?" the Women's Department of The Advertiser asked the adjutant. "I've enough for the next two parties." While the Salvation Army has been bringing out household workers to Toronto and other Canadian cities for some time past, this is positively the first experiment where London is concerned, and the first experience of the new domestic lodge in handling such a situation.

Where did the girls get their training and experience? The adjutant does not know till he meets and hears from them. He understands, however, that they have been in service before coming to Canada. In any case, they have been carefully selected.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooke are sailing from Montreal, May 5, on S. S. Montcalm, on an extended trip to England. An interesting feature of the evening was the presentation of a club bag to the guests of honor.

A jolly event, enjoyed by twenty-four girls and boys, was a party given the end of the week by Mrs. Will Orchard, Beaconsfield avenue, for her son, Master Wilfrid. Progressive members occupied the first part of the evening, Rose Boatman and Eric Jarvis capturing the prizes. Supper was served in the dining-room at a large table, centered with American Beauty roses, in a silver basket. Blue birds, and the favors, dainty baskets filled with sweets, also added a charming decorative touch. Mrs. G. A. Young, Miss Ethel Quick and Miss Adelaide Orchard assisted in serving.

The dolls' party, given by the Senior and Junior Mission Circles of Askin Street Church at the home of Mrs. F. A. Clark, Euclid avenue, was a successful affair of Saturday afternoon and evening. The 26 dolls, which were dressed by the members of the circles, are to be sent to schools in China to be used as prizes. The living-rooms were made doubly attractive with spring flowers and red roses were used on the table with yellow candles held in crystal sticks. In the afternoon Mrs. Herbert Childs assisted the hostess in receiving, and Miss Winnifred Dunn ushered the

The White Desert

The whistles screamed. Up the grade, four engines to a plow, the jets of steam shrilling upward, coughing columns of smoke leaping blackly up the mountainside.

A jarring crash that all but threw the men of the first crew from their feet, and the Death Trail had been torn. Then churning, snarling, roaring, the snow flying in cloud-like masses past them, the first plow bit its way deep into the tremendous mass, while sweating men, Barry Houston, among them, crammed coal into the open, angry fireboxes, the sand streamed on greasy tracks—and the cavalcade went on.

A hundred yards—the beams knocking down the snow above and all but covering the engines which forced their way through.

A shout. A pull at the whistle, screaming forth its note of victory. Then, the blast of the whistles, the roar in a greater sound, a roar that reverberated through the hills like the bellow of a thousand thunders, the cracking and crashing of trees, the splintering of great rocks as the snows of the granite spires above the Death Trail loosed at last and crashed downward in an all-consuming ruin of destruction. Trees gave way before the constantly gathering mass of white, and joined in the downfall. Great boulders, abutting rocks, slides of shale! On it went, thundering toward the valley and gleaming lake, at last to crash there; to send the ten-foot thicknesses of ice splintering like broken glass; to pyramid, to spray the whole nether world with ice and snow and scattering ruin; then to settle, a jumbled conglomerate mass of destructiveness, robbed of its prey.

And the men shouted, and screamed and beat at one another in their frenzy of happiness in spite of the fact that the track had been torn away from behind them as though it never had existed, and that they now were cut off entirely from the rest of the world. Only one remained, with but a feeble bulwark of drifts before it. Night faded. Dawn came and then—the sun! Clear and brilliant with the promise of spring again and of melting snows. The fight was over. Morning of the second day—and again the sunshine.

Tabernacle was in the distance, while men and women waded through the soggy snows to be the first to reach the train. Eagerly Barry searched the thronging crowd, at last to catch sight of a gigantic figure, his wolf-dog beside him.

"Batiste!" he called. "Batiste!" Great arms opened wide. A sob came from the throat of a giant. "Mon Barre! Mon Barre!" It was all he could say for a moment.

"We've won, Batiste! The line's open—they'll be running trains through before night. And if she keeps her promise—"

"She?" Batiste stared down at him. They had drawn away from the rest of the excited, noisy throng. "She? You mean—"

"Agnes. You've been taking care of her, haven't you? I found her—she promised that she would tell the truth for me when I got back, that she would explain the lease and contract and tell Medaine that it was all a lie. She—"

But Batiste Renaud shook his head.

"No, Barre. Eet is the too late. I have jus' come—from there. I have close her eyes."

CHAPTER XX.

DEAD! Houston saw Medaine. Robine's nose in the distance, and his eyes followed her until she had rounded the curve by the dead aspens—the eyes of lost hope.

"Without a word," it spelled blackness for Houston. "I—suppose you've taken charge of everything."

"Oul! But I have look at nothing."

"I just had something here," Houston fumbled in his pockets. "She

Colors and Fabrics Combined

ONE color doesn't make a summer costume. No, and one fabric doesn't either. "In union there is strength" is the fashionable slogan for summer.

One delightful and typical costume seen in a Bond street shop was made of grey ratine striped with black and canary yellow. Its long cape was lined with canary-colored voile, and the same material was used for the blouse that accompanied the sleeveless slip-on. The sketches show you other ways in which two fabrics have but a single thought.

Two colors of the same fabric may also be combined with excellent results. Paisley patterned silks are shown with plain colors and so are striped and checked ratines and gingham. Where plain colors are used together the popular combinations are black and red, beige and red, tan and brown, sand and navy and two shades of grey.

their greatest speed.

At last came the little clearing—and the cabin. Batiste already was within.

Houston entered and dropped beside the older man already dragging forth the drawers of the bureau and pawing excitedly among the trinkets there. A watch, a ring, and a locket with a curly strand of baby hair. The giant sobbed.

"My Pierre—et was my Pierre!"

"What's that?" Houston asked suddenly, was staring in the direction of an old commode in the corner. At the door the wolf-dog sniffed and snarled. Batiste, bending among the lost trinkets that once had been his wife's, did not hear.

Houston grasped him by the shoulder and shook him excitedly. The giant's hands raised. His big lips twisted. A lunge and he had come forward, savage, almost beast-like.

"You!" he bellowed. "Where you get that? Hear me, where you get that?"

"From her, She—"

"Then come! Come—quick with me!" He almost dragged the younger man away, hurrying him toward the sled and its broad-backed old horses. "We must go to the cabin, out—yes! Hurry—Houston saw that he was trembling. "Eet is mine, the thing I look for—the thing I look for!"

"Batiste! What do you mean?"

"My Juliette," came hoarsely. "Eet is my Juliette!"

Already they were in the sled, the wolf-dog perched between them, and hurrying along the mushy road, two miles they went, the horses urged to

HALIFAX EXPLOSION WRECKED HER NERVES

The reader will, no doubt, remember when a few years ago there was a collision in the Halifax, N. S., harbor, and one of the munition ships was blown up, causing great loss of life and laying causing a great deal of suffering and distress among the inhabitants.

Mrs. Winfield Dill, now of Windsor, N. S., was living in Halifax at that time and went through this trying experience and the shock wrecked her nerves.

She writes as follows: "I was living in Halifax at the time of the explosion, and it wrecked my nerves, so that I could not do my household work. I would take such nervous spells I would be under the doctor's care."

I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised, so I took two boxes, and they helped me so much I took six more, and now I am completely recovered. I can recommend them to anyone suffering from heart and nerve trouble."

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

Look Young! Bring Back Its Natural Color, Gloss and Attractiveness.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea with sulphur added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractive, fresh. By darkening your hair with "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with the tea, draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant.—Adv.

They might be there to this very minute if their goloshes hadn't suddenly dropped off while they were riding on the merry-go-round. Nancy was on a wooden camel and Nick was on a dragon, riding round to the merriest music—when pop! Off dropped the whole four goloshes at once.

"You!" he bellowed. "Where you get that? Hear me, where you get that?"

NATIONAL DEBT OF BRITAIN CUT BY $440,000,000

Sir Robert Horne Reports Big Reduction Effected Within Year.

TAXES TO BE REDUCED

Income Assessment and Duties On Tea and Coffee Lowered.

LONDON, England, May 1.—Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced in the House of Commons today the budget for the fiscal year 1922-23, embodying estimates for £910,775,000 revenue and £910,069,000 expenditures. The expenditures include £235,000 for contingencies. Reductions in taxation, for which there has been strong agitation, came as expected. One shilling in the pound is taken off the income tax, four pence off the duty on tea, which reduced the duty from one shilling to eight pence on the pound, and a corresponding reduction of one-third off the duties on coffee, cocoa and chicory.

The reduction in the income tax is a concession to the upper and middle strata of the community, while the other reductions are particularly for the large section of the population whose incomes are below the income tax paying level.

Referring to the agitation, the chancellor said that his mind had not been made up in the past few days, because for a long time it had been decided which direction the reductions should take. The important surprise, which the chancellor gave the house was the announcement of a temporary change of policy regarding the payment of debts.

After showing that the external debt now standing at nearly £11,000,000,000 had been reduced by £274,000,000 since March, 1919, he gave it as his opinion that the turning point had come, and the taxpayer should not be asked to redeem any debt this year. Explaining this policy, he continued:

Suspends Sinking Fund. "It involves, firstly, suspension of the sinking fund, and secondly, that we should meet our obligations towards the holders of securities by re-borrowing for the purpose. But this will not add to the general burden of debt."

The chancellor explained that the external debt consists almost entirely of debts to the United States and Canada, and certain Allies who owe Great Britain much more than she owes them. The debt to the United States was equivalent to £1,301,875,000 two years ago, when the exchange was $3.30, but, he pointed out, it was now reduced to £948,820,000 with the exchange rate at $3.40, and when the exchange rate was restored to par he hoped the debt would be £856,030,000. Incidentally, Sir Robert remarked: "We are saddled in the present year with a new burden in the shape of

Proposes 8 Per Cent Income Tax On Aliens Employed in Canada

OTTAWA, May 1.—The House of Commons today adopted a resolution calling upon the government to consider the advisability of levying an income tax of eight per cent on all aliens, not being residents of Canada, who are employed in Canada or derive income from services rendered in Canada, when such incomes exceed $1,000 per annum.

The resolution was proposed by W. M. German, Liberal of Welland, who stated that up to November, 1921, the income tax act of the United States was practically the same as that of Canada. In 1921 the United States act had been amended in such a way as to bear heavily upon Canadians who derived their income from work in the United States.

The result was that Canadians, living in Canada, but working in the United States, whether married or single, were only allowed an exemption of $1,000 and were taxed at the rate of eight per cent.

interest we have to pay on our debt to the United States. That we shall meet without question."

Would Be Windfalls. The house cheered this statement. He also called attention to the fact that the budget had not taken notice of any possible payments from Germany, because the government would regard them as windfalls.

The past year, said Sir Robert, had been one of unexampled trial, with a slump in the trade boom which followed the war, and a coal strike. The manufacturers could not dispose of their stocks, he pointed out, on account of the exhausted purchasing power of their customers. That such distresses had been met without worse calamities was an adequate testimony to the soundness of the country and the solidity of its financial position.

The revenue for the last fiscal year ended April 5, the chancellor stated, had been £1,124,000,000, which was £91,000,000 less than estimated. The expenditure had been £1,079,000,000, leaving £45,000,000 for debt reduction.

The amount of the income tax collected, £338,000,000, was a tribute, said the chancellor, to the financial soundness of the country, and the patriotic characters of its people.

The total debt reduction during the past year, Sir Robert said, was more than £88,000,000, and the total for the past three years was £274,000,000. He said he hoped the United States exchange would soon be at par.

Reassessment Proposed. The chancellor estimated the revenue for the coming year, on the basis of existing taxation, at £956,000,000, and expenditures at £910,000,000, of which £535,000,000 would be for debt services. Interest on the United States debt, he said, would be £25,000,000, and the total debt to the United States was £4,165,000,000.

Sir Robert proposed a reassessment for house and landed property for income tax purposes, becoming effective for the fiscal year, 1923-24, which would be a considerable advantage to the exchequer. The basis of assessment of farm lands, he said, would be reduced from twice the annual rental value to the annual rental value. He announced only small changes in the income tax, which he estimated would cost the government £1,700,000 in revenue.

Letter postage, Sir Robert announced, would be reduced from two pence to one and one-half pence; printed papers from one penny to one-half penny, and postcards to one penny. Certain reductions also would be made in telephone rates, he said, adding that the total cost of these reductions would be £6,500,000. These changes become effective on May 1.

ALMA COLLEGE PHYSICAL CULTURE CLASS GIVE DRILL

St. Thomas, May 1.—Physical culture classes of Alma College, given under the direction of Miss White, the gym teacher of the college, a fine demonstration Saturday night of physical education. A large crowd witnessed the work of the class, the demonstration being put on in the Y. M. C. A. hall.

The exhibition led off with the grand march, the whole school taking part, and ended with the whole class in group formation spelling out the words A. L. M. A. Seven parts completed the first section of the program, which was divided into two sections, the first section being confined to drills and exercises and the second being largely dancing.

Three classes participated in the demonstration, the junior, senior and advanced. The three parts of the program that were carried off the best were the Roman games by the senior class, the French drill executed by Winnifred Miller and the Dresden China Gavotte by Dorcas Roe and Marjorie McCrimmon. The whole demonstration was commendable and considered a tribute to Miss White the director.

BECK RIDICULES CLAIM BY SMITH

TORONTO, May 1.—Sir Adam Beck today characterized as "startling and ridiculous," the reference of the provincial treasurer, Hon. Peter Smith, in his budget speech the other day, to a contemplated expenditure of hydro-radial railways of $200,000,000, which he intimated that the Sutherland Commission had saved the province. Nothing approaching that amount, he said, was ever in the minds of radical proponents.

If all the radial railways in Ontario that are economically feasible and practical were built, the expenditure would not reach one-half of the amount quoted, Sir Adam added.

Goderich Residents Want Dr. King To Double $8,500 Government Grant.

Point Out Importance of Port As Link in Western Grain Shipment.

BY RANDOLPH J. CHURCHILL. HOUSE OF COMMONS, Ottawa.

May 1.—Dissatisfied with the government's appropriation of $8,500, contained in the estimates of the public works department for repairs to the docks at Goderich, a deputation from that town will wait upon Hon. Dr. J. H. King, minister of public works, Tuesday morning, to ask for an increase of 100 per cent in the estimate.

The deputation will consist of John J. Hunt, president of The Goderich Elevator and Transit Company, George L. Parson, secretary-treasurer of the company, and other representatives from that town.

On reaching Ottawa they will be joined by John W. King, M.P., for North Huron, Archie L. Hodgins and John D. Drummond, members for East and West Middlesex, respectively; Dr. J. P. Rankin, M.P., for North Perth and William J. Hamel, member for Muskoka. Senator W. Proudfoot will also join the deputation, it is expected.

A request will be made for at least $16,000 for the deepening of the harbor improvements to the entrance and for repairs to the docks.

Goderich, it will be pointed out, is the only large port on the south side of Lake Huron, its importance as a link in the shipment of Western grain, being as it is a terminal of the G. T. R. and the C. P. R., will be emphasized.

The deputation will also show that Goderich is a distributing point for grain and products for much of Western Ontario. The improvements asked for, it is claimed, are absolutely necessary if the shipment of American grain through Canada is to be continued.

SAYS REPORT BEING DELAYED

Ferguson Declares Timber Commissioners Should File Information.

Raney Resents Accusation of Plan To Withhold Findings.

TORONTO, May 1.—A clash between Attorney-General Raney and Hon. Howard Ferguson, growing out of a question as to when the timber commission's report would be ready and a lecture by Premier Drury that members were unnecessarily delaying the house by bringing up questions before the orders of the day, were the most interesting features in this afternoon's sitting of the Legislature.

In spite of the usual small attendance on Monday, a large number of private bills and considerable government business was taken up. Bills respecting the following municipalities passed through the house in committee:

Warton, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Fort William, Ingersoll.

Second reading was given to the Windsor bill, the bill respecting the Victoria Hospital for Retirees and the town of Cobourg.

The bill by which Provincial Treasurer Smith sought to gather in any poolrooms, billiard rooms and bowling alleys which do not at present pay taxes to the province, owing to the fact that they are not licensed in the municipality in which they operate, was held up for redrafting, because it was feared the act would encourage such places of amusement where they do not at present exist.

Would Protect Province.

The bill of Minister of Public Works Biggs to amend the provincial highways act went through committee and will provide that damage actions against the province in connection with accidents on the highway, shall come before the ordinary civil courts instead of arbitration boards. It limits the time in which claims can be laid to ten days and in other ways seeks to protect the province from paying unfair claims.

When the house opened Mr. Ferguson asked what information the attorney-general had from the timber commission as to when its report would be ready. Mr. Ferguson claimed there were persistent rumors of plans on foot to delay the report so that it would be available for the government shortly after the session had concluded, just too late for its discussion in the Legislature. He said it was now four months since the evidence was concluded, surely, that was sufficient time for the commissioners to prepare the findings, particularly as considerable of it had been disposed of in the interim reports.

Attorney-General Raney said there was no justification for any statements that the report was being delayed unnecessarily by the commissioners or that there would be any delay on the part of the government presenting it as soon as it was ready. He had received word from Mr. Justice Latchford that the commissioners were working on the report, but they were pressed by judicial work which prevented them from giving as much time to it as they would otherwise be able to do. He thought they were not rumors Mr. Ferguson was hearing, but dreams on his part regarding any plans to delay the report.

"The whole thing is to break up this business of parking in front of houses and turning out the lights on the car and sitting there."

Drury Delivers Lecture.

Mr. Ferguson also asked if reports published in the papers about the roads of the province were paid for or just news matter. The premier suggested that the question be asked when Hon. Mr. Biggs was in the house, and Mr. Ferguson retorted that it was so seldom some of the ministers were in the house that he wished the question considered now.

Premier Drury here stated that the house was being robbed of valuable time by members getting up before the orders of the day were called and raising all sorts of questions. He pointed out that Mr. Ferguson had already been on his feet five or six times today. He understood that this Parliament was the only one in the empire where there were no provisions to prevent the abuse of the privilege of raising questions before the orders of the day are called.

TELLS RESULTS OF TESTS MADE

Toronto Accountant Testifies For Government in Merchants' Bank Probe.

Gives Analysis of Monthly Statements Supplied To Finance Department.

MONTREAL, May 1.—The results of a test of the October, 1921, monthly statement to the department of finance of the Merchants Bank of Canada, recently absorbed by the Bank of Montreal after losing virtually all its reserve fund through unprofitable loans, were detailed this afternoon in the police court before Judge Cusson, by George Edwards, chartered accountant of Toronto, employed to do this work by the finance minister.

The evidence of Mr. Edwards was submitted on behalf of the finance minister in the inquiry going on against D. C. Macarow, general manager of the bank, that he signed false statements in the government return. Only the examination in chief of Mr. Edwards, by C. A. Wilson, K.C., counsel for the government, took place today, and after the court adjourned until Thursday.

Mr. Edwards, guided by Mr. Wilson, outlined what he found out about the debts of the institution, its relation with realty subsidiaries, and its standing generally.

Other Witnesses Heard.

Three other witnesses were heard during the course of the day. H. B. Loucks of the chief accountant's office; William Meldrum, western supervisor, and William John Fiat, cash manager of the Montreal branch since November, 1920. The crown addressed a number of questions to each, relative to what information Mr. Macarow may have had on the condition of the bank in September, 1921, before the period the returns for which are the basis of the charge.

Counsel engaged in the case, in addition to Mr. Wilson, were: N. K. Lafamme, K.C., and G. Montgomery, K.C., for Mr. Macarow, and F. E. Meredith, K.C., for the Bank of Montreal.

Supervisor Testifies.

William Meldrum, general supervisor of the Merchants Bank, was the first witness called when the trial of D. C. Macarow was resumed this afternoon before Judge Cusson. Asked concerning dating the reception of returns at the head office from the various branches he said that no entry was made as to the date, but the return was checked off on a record. The September return, he said, was used for no other purpose than a reference.

For what purpose did you call for them? I do not know. That is not for me to say, what should be called in and what should not.

Mr. Wilson—As general supervisor of the Merchants Bank of Canada you could not give any reason why the general manager should have written his letter to the branches of Sept. 15, 1921, telling the returns of bad and doubtful debts to be made as quickly as possible for the month of September?

The crown prosecutor then read the letter, and continued—You were aware of that letter? Yes.

The purpose I think is plain enough? Yes.

Mr. Wilson—When those returns come in, it must be for some purpose—to find out the true situation of the bank, is it not?

"Certainly."

"And those are the important returns. They are not ear-marked, so far as the date of receipt is concerned. Can you tell us why some were rubber-stamped and some were not?" "I cannot."

Did Not Examine All.

Mr. Wilson—What are you supervising in that institution, anyway?

Witness—Supervising the business of the western branches.

Mr. Wilson—So when the September returns came in, whatever the uncertainty of the date of receipt may have been, did you go through the returns of the local managers for the western branches?

Witness—No.

"But none of these returns for September were used for the purpose of the monthly return to the government for September or October?" "That I do not know."

"Were you, in your capacity, looking through the local managers' returns for September, let us say, to find out whether those managers were using proper judgment, so far as bad and doubtful debts are concerned?" "Not all of them."

"If not all, which ones did you investigate?" "I do not remember."

Mr. Wilson produced a bulky volume and, reading from it, questioned the witness.

"I suppose the word 'Bad' means 'No good.' Will you show me an instance where you have taken an action?" "I cannot show you the September ones. I cannot remember now the ones I looked over."

Mr. Wilson—Did you keep it all in your head, then, or did you report in writing? "No."

Second Man Wounded in Burwash Break.

SUDBURY, May 1.—The body of William Mitchell, of Woodstock, who was shot while endeavoring to escape from Burwash on Saturday night, was sent to Woodstock tonight for burial. Another prisoner who attempted to escape with Mitchell is at present in St. Joseph's Hospital suffering from a bullet wound in the right arm. His condition is not serious.

The men made their ill-fated break for liberty while returning with over 200 other prisoners from a football game at the farm athletic grounds. Six guards shot over their heads in an effort to make them stop, but when this failed they shot to wound. It is not known who fired the fatal shot.

with the general manager, Mr. Macarow?

"No."

"Why did you not consider it necessary to discuss the returns of the month of September, 1921, when you thought it necessary to discuss some of them? Can you give any reason why?" "We don't take up specially in September."

"I am not asking you that. Is it not part of your duty to discuss some of these returns of the month of September?" "No. It is not."

There are other returns besides this and with the other information we have, we don't think it necessary to go over these so promptly."

Asks For Dates.

Mr. Wilson, resuming the examination of Henry B. Loucks, of the chief accountant's department in the Merchants Bank, tried to find out the dates branch reports were received, with a view to establishing how long the officials have to prepare figures of the bank's status.

Mr. Loucks said the government report on the 20th of each month. Showing witness the registers of the branch returns, he asked if the dates stamped on the several pages indicated when the reports were received.

Mr. Wilson turned up in the registers "bad and doubtful debt" reports from Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, and asked the witness if he could indicate the date they were received. Mr. Loucks was unable to do so.

Most of the heavy losses incurred by the bank which forced it to sell out to the Bank of Montreal were incurred by disastrous loans made by the Montreal branch.

Mr. Wilson—"Of course they were always received? The branch was in the same building with the head office?"

Mr. Loucks—"I presume so. Yes."

Mr. Wilson—"So they could be had at any time by the head office or by yourself or by any of the officials who were in charge of the general staff?"

The witness—"But these statements did not come to our department."

WATFORD COUPLE HOLDS GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nash Are Recipients of Many Delightful Gifts.

Special to London Advertiser.

WATFORD, May 1.—Fifty years ago, on Friday, April 28, 1872, at St. Michael's Anglican Church, London, England, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Nash were united in the bonds of matrimony.

Friday, April 28, 1922, fifty years later, they celebrated their golden wedding at their home in Stratford, Ont., which was beautiful with flowers and artistic decorations of a golden hue.

Before the wedding dinner, a presentation of a beautiful basket of golden roses filled with envelopes containing gold from members of the family, was made by Stewart Nash, youngest grandchild, while their son, Mr. H. J. Nash of London, read a wonderful address printed in gold.

A feature of the event was the attendance of the bridesmaid, Mrs. G. Simpson of Wainstead, Ont.

Thursday afternoon a reception was tendered them in Trinity Church by members of the congregation. Mrs. Nash was presented with a gold cross necklace, and her husband received a beautiful prayer and hymn book embossed with the donors' names.

Mr. and Mrs. Nash have resided in Watford since 1872, and can remember when it could boast of but one store. At that time an old Indian trail served as a road and wound out of the village towards London.

MILLS WILL PRESENT GAS AMENDMENT THIS WEEK

TORONTO, May 1.—Hon. Harry Mills, minister of mines, announced today that he expected to have his amendment to the gas act ready for presentation early this week. It will provide for a tribunal to handle the natural gas situation of Western Ontario instead of a gas referee. The minister has, however, decided in favor of a tribunal of three instead of five as was formerly suggested. One will be selected by the mines department, the other on the advice of the producers, and if these two cannot decide on a third the minister will select them.

The bill introduced by R. L. Brackin (Kent South) has yet to be disposed of. It does away with the gas referee, leaving the contracts made before this official was appointed still in effect without any tribunal.

ASKS PROBE OF CREDIT SYSTEM

William Irvine, Labor Member, Proposes Parliamentary Inquiry.

Tells Commons Scientific Sociological Laboratory Should Be Established.

OTTAWA, May 1.—(By Canadian Press.)—William Irvine, Labor, of Calgary East, moved in the house today: "That, in the opinion of this house, a representative parliamentary committee should be appointed to investigate the basis, function and the control of financial credit, and the relation of credit to the industrial problem."

Mr. Irvine said that at present no means were provided for scientific inquiry into this subject. Although the resolution did not go that far, what was needed was a sociological laboratory. The resolution did not hint at a new credit system, but was merely asking for an investigation.

The present credit system was largely to blame for the present unemployment crisis.

Return to a gold standard basis of value was being proposed, but in Mr. Irvine's opinion, it was unsatisfactory according to conditions prevailing. The national debt of Great Britain, he said, amounted to four times as much as the amount of gold in the world.

Mr. Irvine dealt with the recent loan negotiated for Canada in New York, and said that $2,500,000 was very good pay in commissions for half a day's work. He asked if there were no means whereby Canada could issue her own bonds on the basis of her own wealth.

There must be a better method

Border Officers To Make Inspection As Passengers Board Sarnia Ferry

Special to London Advertiser.

SARNIA, May 1.—That the new ferry to be operated this summer between Sarnia and Port Huron by the Northern Navigation Company will feature several innovations, was announced here today.

Principal among these is an arrangement with the United States departments of immigration and customs and the Canadian immigration authorities by which inspectors will travel on the ferry and carry out their inspections as passengers board the boat, thus obviating a deal of the delay which at present occurs to passengers and particularly to automobiles traveling the Canadian route to and from points in the United States.

Arrangements have not yet been concluded with the Canadian customs authorities, but it is felt that with the public behind the proposal very little difficulty will be met with as the department of customs has been found in the past ready to adopt any reasonable measure for the convenience of the traveling public.

In the past there have been complaints particularly by automobilists of delays in crossing the international border, and with a view to attracting American tourist traffic to the Ontario cities, every effort is being made to provide the best facilities.

On the suggestion of the prime minister, the motion was allowed to stand over owing to the absence from the house of the finance minister.

PREMIER SMUTS' CABLE TABLED IN COMMONS

South African Leader Wanted Dominion Separately Invited to Washington.

OTTAWA, May 1.—An interesting cable from Premier Smuts of South Africa, in regard to the appointment of a Canadian delegate to the Washington disarmament conference, was included among other correspondence tabled in the House of Commons today.

The cable was sent on Oct. 19 by Premier Smuts to Right Hon. Arthur Meighen, then premier of Canada. Premier Smuts remarked that he had noticed a delegate to Washington, sending a delegate to Washington, and urged that Mr. Meighen should reply on Oct. 23 that "in view of the brief time before meeting, do not think subject could be reviewed between London and Washington now to attain end you desire."

SAN FRANCISCO, May 1.—The tank steamer Whittier of the Union Oil Company, which went on rocks ten miles south of Point Arena last night is a total loss, the company was advised by radio today.

The steamer's cargo of 10,000 barrels of oil was lost also. The crew of 26 was saved.

UNEMPLOYED AND POLICE CLASH

HAMILTON, May 1.—One man was badly clubbed and a patrol load of prisoners, including one woman, were taken to the police station during a near riot in Hamilton this afternoon when trouble broke out in the heads of unemployed and the police. The fight started when the police attempted to arrest a man who was carrying a red flag. His companions attempted to prevent the police, whereupon there followed a general melee, which attracted hundreds.

QUASHES BIG FINE UNDER LIQUOR ACT

Judge Gauld at Hamilton Allows Appeal of Truckman Fined $500.

FINDS LAW NOT BROKEN

Declares Magistrate Mistaken As To Dates—Two "Dry" Acts Passed.

HAMILTON, May 1.—The appeal of Herbert T. Guess, truckman, against the conviction of Magistrate Jelfs on April 8, for unlawfully transporting liquor through the province of Ontario, was allowed by Judge Gauld today. Guess was fined $500 by the police magistrate and costs. His honor found that there was no violation of international law and stated that the magistrate was mistaken in stating that the liquor transportation act, under which the prosecution was made, was passed before the Volstead act. His honor also stated that there was no evidence to show that the purchaser, the Buffalo Exporting Company, Charles Russell, secretary, concealed his identity and that his worship was mistaken in stating that Russell was a resident of Bridgeburg.

"In Rex vs. Campbell, on appeal from the two convictions of Police Magistrate Jelfs allowed the appeals and then stated my view was that the appellant was not called upon before accepting a consignment with the customs papers to make any investigations as to the legality or illegality of the sale of the goods he transports and that I should follow the decision of Chief Justice Meredith in Rex vs. Yarrow, 21, O. W. N., 338," Judge Gauld stated. The Amelie Slave case of 1807, cited by the magistrate to support his contention that international law had been violated and similar cases are quoted by the judge to show that England had abolished the trade, but did not claim any right to enforce that prohibition against the subjects of those states which had not adopted the same opinion. Laws respecting piracy were also quoted together with several cases in the same light.

The whiskey in question here was not seized by the government in accordance with the principle laid down in Wheaton, at page 215, that "The General Consent of Nations, to extinguish the traffic, gives rise to the opinion that though once tolerated and even protected and encouraged by the laws of every maritime country, it ought henceforth to be considered as interdicted by the international code of Europe and America."

"The whiskey was, so far as Canadian laws and Ontario laws are concerned, being legally exported under the supervision of Canadian and provincial officers and, following the decision in Rex vs. Yarrow, I must allow the appeal and quash the conviction," the judgment concludes.

NAB 25 COLORED MEN IN RAID ON WINDSOR CLUB

Police Lay Charges Under Liquor and Lord's Day Acts Against Prisoners.

WINDSOR, May 1.—Twenty-five were taken in a raid at the Border Cities' Social and Recreation Club (colored) on Brant street shortly before 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. All were held by Windsor police for several hours on charges varying from a violation of the liquor law to breaches of the Lord's Day act. Two bottles of liquor were found, and a card game for stakes was in progress.

In police court today James Bowles, president, and Alfred Bell, vice-president, were charged with keeping a common gaming-house. They entered pleas of not guilty, and were remanded for trial one week under bail of $50 each.

Of the 22 other members found at the club, the following four pleaded guilty to charges of gambling in violation of the Lord's Day act: Noble Lockman, Wilbert Turner, George Turner and Henry Stewart. They were fined $5 and $8 costs each.

RANEY REPLIES TO LETTER OF LEWIS

Tells Legislator Government Will Expect Substantiation of Charge Regarding Huston Case.

PUBLIC LOOKS FOR PROOF

Attorney-General Withdraws Offer of Counsel to Represent Member at Inquiry.

TORONTO, May 1.—Attorney-General Raney, in reply to a letter from A. C. Lewis, M. L. A., in which the latter more or less disapproved of a commission to investigate the charges in connection with the death of Captain Orville Huston, calls upon Mr. Lewis to submit proofs of his charges to the commissioner.

Mr. Raney's letter expressed surprise that Mr. Lewis wrote that he did not feel himself "personally interested in the Huston case," and therefore, did not desire to avail himself of the government's offer to pay counsel to represent him at the inquiry.

Mr. Lewis also disapproved of a commission as not likely to discover any additional evidence regarding the manner of Huston's death.

The letter of the attorney-general continued: "Of course the government will not press upon you the offer to pay counsel to represent you at the inquiry, and in view of your refusal that offer is now withdrawn, but I cannot overlook your attitude towards the inquiry. Protected by your privilege as a member of the legislature, you launch charges of great gravity from your place in the house, and if I do not misunderstand you, you propose now to make no attempt to substantiate those charges, claiming that you are not personally interested."

After reminding Mr. Lewis of the charges made the attorney-general concludes:

"It will not do for you now to say that you are not personally interested. The public and the house will look to you to submit your proofs to the commission."

He was predeceased by his first wife 28 years ago, and is survived by his widow, Susan Sadler, three sons, A. K. Sadler, Lambeth; W. R. Sadler and G. A. Sadler of Detroit, and one daughter, Mrs. Walter Jordan of Revelstoke, B.C.

The pallbearers at the funeral will be all members of his Sunday school class at Askin Street Methodist Church, of which the deceased had been a consistent and active member for many years, the pastor of that church, Rev. J. T. Cosby Morris, conducting the services.

He explained that the Huston family will be entitled to have counsel to represent it at least in regard to the second part of the proceedings, that which will investigate the inquest held immediately after Huston's body was found at Fort Francis.
