SYDENHAM CLAIMS VICTIM

Guy Bicknell Aged 13,
Drowned at Wallaceburg
This A. M.

Body Was In Water 28
Minutes Before It Was Found

Special to The Planet.

Wallaceburg, July 18.—This town was again visited by a shocking accident this morning, when little Guy Bicknell, the thirteen-year-old son of George B. Bicknell was drowned in the Sydenham.

Young Bicknell, accompanied by a number of other young lads, was bathing in the river to the rear of the Wallaceburg electric light plant, when Bicknell got beyond his depth, and was drowned before assistance could reach him. The fatality occurred at 11:30 this morning.

The companions of the young lad were too horrified to render him any assistance, and it is said that two men stood on the banks and watched the poor little fellow drown. One of the men was intoxicated, and the other could not swim.

The body was in the river twenty-eight minutes before it was recovered. Chief of Police Charles Benn and James Annals dragged for the body for some time with no success. John Hunter also did considerable diving in quest of the drowned boy, but also failed in locating him.

Frank Deloney, an uncle of young Bicknell's, located the remains at the first dive. Dr. Hurd was called at once, and attempted resuscitation, but the boy had been in the water so long that all attempts to save him were futile.

BIBLICAL LITERATURE

Geo. Buskin, Agent and Missionary of the International Evangelical and Colportage Mission of Algona and the Northwest, is making his annual visit to Chatham in behalf of the work of disseminating Biblical literature through the Northern and Western districts, which, in measure, the missionary has been conducting for over 30 years. During the 24 years of the Mission's operations 44,000 copies of Scriptural books have been supplied in 22 languages, and many more of which no account have been taken, and 80 editions of the Bible have been published in 5 languages. $600 is necessary to complete the Ojibway and English dictionary for the Indians, who are scattered over an area of 300,000 square miles. The work is not denominational only as far as the name Christian goes. Its work is to teach God's ways among men as given to us in the Holy Scripture. The donations of Chatham in its behalf last year were $25.30, which the Missionary gratefully acknowledged. The Mission Depot is still open. The Mission Depot is still open.

TONES ARE SMOTHERED

Many citizens have been inquiring as to how it is that the tones of the bell in the new market clock tower are so indistinct. They can only be heard a short distance away from the market. This is not the kind of satisfaction the citizens would like to have for the clock, and they have spent on the clock, and this deficiency should be remedied, as no doubt it will be.

City Engineer Jones says that the tower being closed in, has a tendency to muffle the sound waves. Jeweler McIntyre, who installed the clock, says that after the bottom of the tower is closed in, the tones will be much clearer and distinct. The bell has certainly got a beautiful clear tone, if it were only a little louder.

CLEMENTS TAKES UP MATTER OF ABANDONED OIL WELLS

At The Solicitation Of Farmers In Tilbury He Will See That All Wells Are Properly Plugged—Inspector Here This Week

A short time ago Mr. H. S. Clements, M. P., at the earnest solicitation of a number of the farmers of Tilbury Township, waited upon the Government at Toronto, and asked that legislation be passed to provide for the plugging of all abandoned oil and gas wells in the Tilbury oil fields.

In order to assist the Government in preparing this legislation, Mr. Clements, at considerable trouble to himself, secured information on the subject from many American oil centres, and, as a result, the legislation was formed and put into force.

A few days ago Mr. Clements received a communication from one of the farmers in Tilbury, saying that the regulation was not being properly enforced. He immediately wrote to the Deputy Minister of Mines, Lands and Forests, explaining the complaint he had received, and asking that the matter be attended to at once.

Mr. Clements' letter was received and immediately answered by the Minister, who assured him that the Government was grateful to him for calling the matter to their attention, and advised him that the complaint would receive immediate attention.

Under the act, Mr. John Scott, of Petrolia, has been appointed inspector, and that official will be in Tilbury this week to investigate the matter fully.

It might be of value to the farmers of this district to know that if there is any cause for complaint in the future, a communication to Mr. Scott will be sufficient to have all causes for complaint and dissatisfaction instantly removed.

THE THIEF GOT AWAY

Detroit Crook Is Said To Have Made His Way To Chatham

He Evaded His Pursuers At Walkerville—a Thrilling Chase

Windsor, July 17.—A little occurrence took place in Walkerville Sunday night that is a puzzle to Chief Griffith and his force.

A man was supposed to have stolen $10 in Detroit. Two men, James P. Delaney and Warren Bole, saw him take it and set out to have him arrested. They followed the thief across the Windsor ferry and up Sandwich street to the bottling works in Walkerville and here they came upon the first copper they had seen that evening. Officer Burchiel was seen coming along by Parke, Davis & Co's laboratory. The two amateur sleuths cried for help and the crook, who was aware that he was being followed, pulled himself over the fence.

The policeman hurried over and, seeing the two men, arrested them after hearing their story. They were let go in the morning.

The man with the money was unable to get back over the fence, so he waited till the night watchmen went out and walked through with them. And then it is said he went to Chatham.

STUN-N-N-G

This morning Tailor J. W. Webb was noticed walking gaily down to his Fifth street shop with a bouquet of pretty flowers in his hand. Thereupon he became a marked man. Mr. Webb has held forth long enough on Fifth St. to know that the only secure spot for his sweet, innocent bunch of posies was in the safe.

But the veteran bowler was unsuspecting, and with a smile serene proceeded to place the flowers in a tumbler of water. By and by a certain dapper, well-groomed Fifth St. tea merchant dropped in at Mr. Webb's office.

"Nice bunch of flowers you have there, Mr. Webb."

Curiously enough, when the tea merchant took his departure, the "nice bunch of flowers" were also, but Mr. Webb did not notice that they were they were missing till some time afterwards.

Of these circumstances The Planet had no knowledge except by rumour, but later a reporter who dropped in at Dunn and Hayward's offices, noticed a beautiful bunch of flowers in a glass on Mr. Hayward's desk.

"Nice flowers, George."

"Yes, very beautiful, aren't they?" I must put some fresh water on them."

Mr. Hayward had barely passed to the rear of his office to get the fresh water, when a light agile figure, which for the moment looked much like that of one Saxon B. Arnold, barrister at law, etc., tripped in and out again. When the figure was gone—gone also were the flowers.

"Stung!" muttered Mr. Hayward between his teeth, when he returned with the water.

Later in the morning Tailor Webb was noticed peering in the windows of Doe Arnold's law office.

"Hi," he called in a stage whisper to the reporter, "Look in there. There's my 'nice bunch of flowers.'"

THE MASONIC GRAND LODGE

The Graft Of Ontario Is Increasing In Strength

One Thousand Members Attend Session Being Held In Ottawa

Ottawa, July 18.—The Grand Lodge of Ontario Masons are in session. They were welcomed to Ottawa by the Mayor and received an address from the city lodges. The address of the retiring grand master, J. H. Burdett of Pembroke, stated that the grand master has canceled the warrant granted to Royal Solomon Mother Lodge, No. 283, Jerusalem.

The following lodges were dedicated and constituted during the year: Gore Bay, 473; Tweed, 229; Teeswater, 270; Fidelity, 428; The Beaches, 473; Corinthian, 476; Victoria, 474; Harding, 477; Dundurn, 475; Alvinston, 323; Burlington, 165; Aldworth, 235, and Temiskaming, 463.

The report of the grand treasurer, R. W. Bro. E. T. Malone, shows receipts from all sources to have been $140,203.87, and disbursements, $34,351. The assets of grand lodge contain debentures totalling $109,531, and $5,338.50 in cash, aggregating $114,869.

R. W. Bro. Aubrey White, Toronto, submitted a report on the condition of Masonry. There are at present, the report states, twenty-two Masonic districts, with 388 lodges, of which 322 are under warrant and six under dispensation. The total membership of the craft is 37,628. During the past year there were 2,393 initiations, 512 affiliations, and 153 restorations, a gross gain of 3,467. During the same period there were 693 resignations, 396 suspensions for non-payment of dues and 416 deaths, leaving a net gain of 2,000. Lodges are cautioned regarding the class of candidates making application, and warned to be careful in the selection of the men who enter the ranks.

Hon. W. A. Sutherland of New York, honorary past grand master of the Grand Lodge of Canada; Thomas Penny of Buffalo and A. Cook of Brooklyn, all officers of the Grand Lodge of the State of New York, attended the meeting of the board of general purposes.

It has been decided to drop Central America, Costa Rica and Venezuela from the list of grand lodges having representation in grand lodge, as no communication had been maintained for twenty-five years. The matter of Greece, St. Domingo, Switzerland, Uruguay and New Granada was placed in the hands of M. W. Bro. J. Ross Robertson, chairman of the committee on foreign correspondence.

GIFT OF $10

Fire Chief Pritchard has received the following letter, which is self explanatory:

Chatham, July 15, 1907.

Mr. Richard Pritchard,

Fire Chief, Chatham:

Dear Sir,—We herewith enclose you cheque for $10, as an acknowledgment of prompt and efficient service rendered at the fire at our factory this morning.

This amount you may use as you see fit. We are,

Yours truly,

JOHN FIGGOTT &amp; SONS.

The Fire Chief and the members of the department wish to take this opportunity of thanking the Messrs. Figgott for their generous donation, which amount will be placed to the credit of the Firemen's Benefit fund.

Our wants are the source of all our joys and our woes.

SEVEN BODIES WERE FOUND

Brave Men Worked In Peril To Reach Them

The London Disaster—Suits For Damages Will Be Entered

London, July 18.—After a day and a night of terrifying struggle for the victims of Tuesday's frightful and ruinous disaster, when Red's Crystal Palace crashed, carrying calamity and death, seven bodies have been taken from the ruins of the chaotic wreckage.

The last body taken out was that of Clara Mullins, the beautiful girl victim, which was recovered exactly 24 hours after the shock shook London. This completes the list of dead.

Yesterday, under the direction of Alex. MacCallum, an investigation, which will be most searching, was instituted. The following well-known citizens and business men were sworn in as jurors to conduct an inquiry into the death of William J. Tumbin and W. T. Hamilton, and fix the blame: Fred Wood, dentist; William J. Curran, salesman; William Gibson, clothing manager; H. A. Sabina, furrier; R. G. Brown, shoe maker; Robert Kingmill, dry goods merchant; George Andrews, salesman; N. W. Emerson, druggist; Fred Crabbe, manufacturer; John Friend, confectioner; F. J. Darch, seed merchant; John Graham, gent's furnisher; B. J. Wright, hat manufacturer; Finlay Marshall, insurance manager.

The inquest will be opened next Wednesday evening.

That the calamity was a carelessness everyone believes. City Engineer Graydon is blamed. Why had he not inspected the building and seen to it that the work of renovation was rendered absolutely safe? Then the contractors are blamed. They, in turn, say that they followed the plans of the architect. Peter Simolies, the Greek who had rented the building, is blamed for urging on the work. And, last of all, W. J. Reid, the wealthy proprietor of the store, is censured because of the amount of crockery piled on the third story.

Mr. Reid's statement.

Mr. Reid, owner of the building, was not at home when the accident happened.

"I did not know a thing about it," he said, "until nine o'clock this morning, when I picked up a Toronto paper. I would not care about the money, but to think of the lives lost is too horrible. It can't be the fault of the building. It was built about 25 years ago. The best material was used. It was very strongly built. Only the other day several old citizens happened to remark on it, and their one verdict was that it was one of the best built structures in the city. As for being overloaded, that must be a mistake, as only small stock was carried under the circumstances."

Will Claim Damages.

Engineer Graydon is said to have prophesied there would be trouble if the plans were adhered to. His duties are not those of building inspector, although he did inspect them and granted permits.

The matter of damages is creating talk. Brodewer has already declared that he will sue for damages for his losses. Friends of the deceased are bitter, and declare they will seek restitution for the loss and suffering.

In the meantime, the authorities have ordered the rest of the building torn down. So far it has been impossible to get men to undertake the job. Other buildings may be endangered in the process.

The millionaire shoe-shine king, Peter Simolies of Grand Rapids, lessee of the Reid building, will be on hand at the investigation. Simolies is inclined to take a lenient view of the disaster, in the fact that the contractors took all the necessary precautions. To this man it seems attention is not turned. Simolies leased the building from Reid, to take effect July 15, at $6,000 a year, and Mr. Reid, it is said, will claim that he had vacated the building and also that it was against his specific instructions that alterations were made at the point where the building collapsed.

The body of Miss Mullins was found at 4:30 yesterday. She was found sitting with pencil in hand, just as if marking down a sale. Several of her relatives were at the scene, having kept their vigil since the building collapsed.

A new black stallion which Mr. Ben. Blonds recently purchased almost got away from him on Queen street on Tuesday. The hold-backs on the shafts of the buggy became loose, and as a consequence the buggy ran up on the animal's hind legs. The horse ran down Queen street for some distance, when Butcher Putnam with considerable nerve and presence of mind, ran out and caught the rear of the buggy, pulling it off the horse's legs, while another passerby caught the horse by the head.

Fortunately no damage was done to either the horse or the rig.

PROBABILITIES.

Toronto, July 18.—11 a. m.—Light variable winds, fine and very warm to-day and Friday.

LOCAL

Misses Ethel McGeorge and Alice Birch are spending a few days in Detroit.

Architect J. W. Wilson is marking out the plan for the new Brass Works Factory on the McKeough property in North Chatham to-day.

Wait for the Big One! A. O. F. Excursion to Pt. Huron, Aug. 12—Chatham's Civic Holiday. 415 enjoyed the trip in 1904; 800 or better will enjoy it this year.

Rev. Mr. Graham, the new pastor of Victoria Ave. Church, will address the members of the league to-morrow night on the subject, "The Ten Commandments." Miss Duffy will sing a solo.

Turner's thermometer to-day registered at the highest, 90 in the shade. The minimum temperature was 72. Tuesday and Wednesday the thermometer went as high as 92 in the shade. The indications are that this hot wave may last for some time.

Mr. A. J. Macgregor, of Chatham, accompanied by Dr. Rutherford and Messrs. Gordon and Glenn, also of that city, who left home on Sunday for an automobile trip, are guests of St. Catharines friends to-day. They leave this afternoon for Buffalo—St. Catharines Star-Journal.

The Warren Bituminous Paving Co. have completed St. Clair street pavement. The job has been well done and the citizens are pleased with the work. It has been suggested that if Dover and Thames streets were paved the citizens of North Chatham could boast of just as up-to-date locality as their cousins on the south side.

CONCERT AT BETHEL

Quite a successful concert and social was held at the Bethel Methodist Church last night, at which a number from the city were present.

Rev. Mr. Cowan acted as chairman, and addresses were delivered by himself, Neil Watson, of Mull, and others.

A recitation was given by Miss McDonald, and songs were sung by Anson, Eschirhart, of Detroit, and Mr. Baker, of Chatham.

The musical program for the evening was supplied by the Blenheim orchestra.

BOWLERS RETURNED

The rink of Chatham lawn bowlers who went to London to take part in the tournament have returned.

They were successful in defeating Dunville by a score of 19 to 10, but they were beaten by Stratford. They were eligible to compete in the consolation, but did not remain for this portion of the program.

The Chatham rink was one man short. Rev. A. H. MacGillivray was taken ill and could not accompany the bowlers on Monday. The rink was composed of Jonas Gosnell, John McCorvie, with R. G. Fleming as skip.

Mr. Fleming was present to see the reactors at work in the ruins of the Reid building. He says that it was a gruesome sight, but that the crowds were so dense around the building that it was impossible to get near it.

FOR SALE—Gasoline Power Launch for sale at a bargain; made in 1905, was in perfect condition; 23 feet in length; good reasons for selling. Apply to Harry O'Rourke, Raleigh St., or Chatham P. O.

HOUSE NUMBERING

It is now months since the citizens of this city were promised that steps would be taken to get things in shape for house numbering in this city.

Nothing further than a complaint made by Ald. John Stephens at a recent meeting of the City Council has been heard of it.

The City Engineer was asked last spring to get the plans up for the work. Why has this not been done? What excuse have the Council for allowing this important matter to hang fire?

If Mr. Jones is really so busy that he cannot attend to this work, he should notify the Council to that effect, so that someone else may be given the work. The numbering of the city may not be a scientific undertaking, but Mr. Jones and the aldermen should understand that it is a very necessary and practical one.

WANTED HIS MONEY

On Tuesday evening a very sensational experience befel Mr. Geo. Watt while returning home from up town. George attended a lawn social at Kent Bridge, and returned to the city at about 2 o'clock in the morning. He left his horse at Jamieson's stable and continued his way home. As he passed the alley between the Rdnkin House and Jamieson's stable he noticed a man standing a short distance down the alley. The man was a short, stout man, wearing a slouch hat and a soft white shirt. He followed George at a distance of about ten feet. George became uneasy and, turning around, asked the man what he meant in following him; to which he replied, "I want you to give me a dollar." George refused him and told him to move away or he would call a policeman. The man then moved on down King St. and again met Mr. Watt at the corner of Fifth and King Sts. He called to George to stop and ran towards him, but George seemed very light and swift himself at that particular moment, and made a fast run for home. The race between them was a tight one and continued over the bridge to Grant St. Here the pursuer stopped.

OUR SWELL CITY CLOCK

The new city clock was inspected yesterday afternoon by Ald. Potter, chairman of the Property committee, and City Engineer Jones. In an interview this morning Ald. Potter said:

"It is the finest piece of work I have ever seen." The bell at first seemed to be somewhat muffled, the enclosure preventing the sound from carrying far. This has been rectified by tearing away boards from the sides of the tower. Architect Wilson, with a gang of men, is busy altering the tower and making larger openings, through which the sound waves may freely pass.

The tower will be lined with sheet iron, and it will be closed underneath. It is expected that when completed the bell will sound almost twice as loud. Both inspectors were much pleased with the construction of the clock, and said that it was a credit to the contractor, E. J. MacIntyre, as well as to the manufacturers, the Howard Co., of Boston.

FORESTERS SOCIAL

An excellent lawn social, under the auspices of Court Waverly, was held Tuesday night at Fletcher.

A very large crowd was present and a most enjoyable time was spent. After a hearty supper the program began and the numbers were heartily applauded throughout. R. A. Harrington occupied the chair and made an able chairman. The Fletcher orchestra was called upon to open the program, after which an address on Forestry was given by Stewart Lamont, of this city. Ed. Pritchard received much applause from his comic songs, and Miss Verlyn Lamont, the popular young reader of the Maple City, won unstinted rounds of applause through her several excellent numbers. Songs were sung by Dr. Oliver of Merlin, and J. D. McAlpine, and a speech by H. S. Clements, M. P., were also given and much appreciated. The program was closed by singing God Save the King, after which all returned home much pleased with the evening's entertainment.

CYNICISM SMART.

Very Latest Thing For Up to Date Lovely Woman.

It is the fashion of the day to be a cynic, and a woman cynic is—She no longer throbs with good toward men or exudes loving kindness. That is too much to expect. She speaks of love's young dream with a curl of the lip and has not one tear to shed over the misfortunes of childhood. It is easier to be witty when this pose is assumed.

There are greater opportunities for conversational distinction in finding "nor Lancelot brave nor Galahad pure" than in adoring their chivalry. A woman cannot, of course, be nearly so entertaining if she praises her neighbor's good works as if she suggests that she has an unseemly motive for them.

Deploable, but true!

It is not a consequence of woman's heart being desperately wicked. It is rather a consequence of the heart not being a warehouse for the storage of sweets. The gush of philanthropy is rather sugary stuff. Our mothers and grandmothers took a debauch of it, and the result is that this generation looks at it with a somewhat bilious and distrustful eye. The fathers have eaten sweet grapes, and the children want something bitter. This is natural, inevitable and perhaps not wholly distressing. It is not creditable to the same mind, it is not of any use to humanity, that people should indulge in transports over every decent action. That Scrooge should pay Bob Cratchit a fair wage is good and desirable, but we need not weep upon Scrooge's neck because he has ultimately done what he ought never to have left undone.

No real philanthropy will suffer in the end because it is regarded with the critical eye. We talk of sentiment and the cant of philanthropy in a scornful way, but there is a cant of criticism which is far more stupid and much more devastating. The mind which searches for and finds meanness everywhere is not the most enviable of possessions. We all know it only too well.

It meets the story of any action not motivated by self interest with a smile of superior wisdom. It has the lowest opinion of every one and everything except itself. Therefore it requires you to admire it for its peculiar wisdom, while in fact it is merely stupid.

"Every man," said Walpole, "has his price." (It is, by the way, interesting to remember that the man who said it was not to be bought.) But that price cannot always be paid in the things of this earth, and cynicism is so cheap a thing who wants to possess it anyway?

No one but the— But one doesn't like to say "fool." It doesn't sound pretty, does it?

A New Device For Wavy Locks.

To produce wavy locks without resort to a heating apparatus there is a little device which seems delightfully simple and has a very similar effect to that of marcel waving. It is light in weight, though of metal, with a patented fastening to prevent slipping. Strand after strand of hair is caught fast into deep undulations in these little steel devices, making a large natural wave without any of the burned, fuzzy appearance apt to appear in time where hot irons are used. After a shampoo the hair is very susceptible to such means of waving, and, if the curlers are slipped in while it is still damp and allowed to remain till the hair is dry, deep, decided waves will be the result, and these should not loosen for at least two days under ordinary conditions.

Colored Linen Popular.

Predictions indicate that more colored linens than ever are to hold sway, and indeed the prophecy has everything in its favor for its ultimate materialization, for some of the smartest linen dresses that have been designed this season were in soft colors made on simple lines with no trimming save a few stitched straps and dashes of hand embroidery done with coarse white linen thread. A good many of these little frocks are made with separate gumples or chemisettes with blouse and skirt attached by means of a fitted girder.

The Jeweled Slides.

Together with several other attractive fashions that have been revived from those of our grandmothers' day is that of wearing a band of black velvet around the neck.

As usual, however, we go our grandmothers one better, and the becoming band of velvet is made still more fetching by the addition of a jeweled slide.

These slides are of various shapes, the one shown in the illustration being one of the simpler designs. In some the crosspieces are curved, while others are so elaborately set with diamonds that they look quite like the one time popular sunburst.

With the single stone in the center, either a pearl or a diamond, the crosspieces of the slide are thickly set with tiny stones, so that the setting is scarcely visible, and the effect is quite stunning.

Some of the slides have little clasps for joining the ribbon at the back of the neck. This consists of a single straight bar the same depth as that of the slide, set in the same design. As yet the slides are to be had only in the most expensive jewelry, as the fashion is too new a one for them to have been duplicated in cheaper stores.

He Felt Complimented.

A man from Philadelphia, says a writer in the Ledger of that city, was visiting in a town of very few inhabitants. One day when he was about to make a purchase he discovered that he had exhausted his small change. The shopkeeper could not break the ten dollar bill offered him, and the man went out in the main street to see how he might solve the difficulty. He asked several persons, but no one had the requisite amount for the bill. At last an old white haired, seedy negro came along. In sheer desperation the man said:

"Uncle, can you change a ten dollar bill for me?"

"Uncle" looked dazed for a moment, then his shambling figure straightened. With a doffing of the hat and a bow worthy of Chesterfield he replied, with dignity:

"No, marse, I can't change no ten dollar bill, but I done 'preciates the compliment jes' the same, sah."

The Man With Forty Ghosts.

A popular novelist talked with regret about the old ghost habit of the past.

"Famous painters first and famous writers afterward alike had ghosts," he said. "These ghosts were pupils, disciples. They did the basic work of the master's picture or novel, and the master polished up, put on the finishing touches and signed his name to it. This practice, indeed, still obtains in architecture. It was a practice that allowed a popular artist a manifold increase of production and consequent increase of income. Dumas, the elder Dumas, had no less than forty ghosts—forty intelligent young men writing away for him about D'Artagnan, Porcos, Aramis and the rest. But Dumas was reckless, and the existence of his forty ghosts became known; hence a good deal of scandal. At the height of this scandal Dumas said to a lady one night:

"Have you read my last book, madame?"

"The lady, with a mischievous smile, replied:

"No, M. Dumas. Have you?"

"No, M. Dumas. Have you?"

His Delayed Proposal.

By H. M. KERNER.

Copyright, 1907, by M. M. Cunningham.

For a moment Nell's hand faltered. The pounding of the machines and the endless click of the shifting stencils seemed to pierce her very brain. She cast a quick glance down the long workroom of the Rotary Addressing company.

Out through the windows at the other end could be seen a patch of blue sky, blurred now and then by a puff of steam from the pipes of the adjoining building; a modest seven story structure. Here and there some building larger than their own reared its head to cut the skyline, and through the open window there came occasionally sounds from the street below, sharp notes in the monotone of the machines.

Within, long rows of girls leaned over their work, their deft fingers forcing envelopes into the hungry maws of the machines with only a pause now and then when a fresh stack of stencils were needed. Between the aisles paced the sharp eyed forewoman. A man had been in charge of the room once, but the firm had found that he was too easy, too commiserate of the women under his supervision, and they had moved him into the office, sending in his stead the angular Miss Pettit, who forced the girls in her charge to the limit of their endeavors. Her sharp eye detected Nell's pause.

"Burrows," she called acidly. She never wasted time on "Miss." "If you have one of your silly headaches, put in your time at the office and go home. This is no hospital."

Nell's nervous fingers clutched a fresh package of envelopes, and the pounding of her machine added its noise to that of the others. She could not afford to go home. The pittance that she received was just what she needed to get her through the week.

"It's only Miss Pettit," he growled in mingled relief and disappointment. "I thought it was you."

"We must get her home, Jimmy," pleaded Nell. "She says she won't go in an ambulance. Please call a cab."

"The ambulance is plenty good for her," he growled, though to them the ambulance was but a shade less graceful than the patrol wagon. "Did not she talk to you like you were a dog this afternoon?"

"Get a cab for me," pleaded Nell, and Jimmy turned away.

It was not far to Miss Pettit's boarding place, and Nell hustled about making the tiny hall room more comfortable. Jimmy stood doggedly, too, waiting to take Nell home. Miss Pettit sank back on the bed with a sigh.

"That will do very well," she said faintly. "The doctor will bandage my ankle, and then the girl will put me to bed. You were very good to me, my dear."

"It's all right," said Nell coldly as she turned to go, but Miss Pettit caught her hand.

"Wait a minute," she said. "I want to tell you something. Jimmy here gave me a letter to hand you some weeks ago. I wasn't going to have any flirting in my room, so I didn't give it to you. Jimmy is a good boy, my dear, and here it is."

She sank back upon the pillow as Jimmy sprang forward. In his excitement he had forgotten Miss Pettit and his wrath against her. Now he only realized that Nell had not received his letter.

"And silence ain't a polite negative?" he asked. Nell smiled. Jimmy had loaned her some of his paper, and she recognized the phrase.

"If you want proverbs, Mr. Nelson," she said primly, "I can give you a better quotation—'Faint heart never won fair lady.' Ask me to my face like a man, an' mebbe I'll say 'Yes.'"

Give the Chef a Chance.

It is my belief that the man who has dined in the best Parisian restaurants without finding them wonderful, says Julian Street, is either a dyspeptic or a self reliant ignoramus who did not give the chef a chance. You know the story of the miner who, having "struck it rich," arrived in New York and, anxious to "do it right," went to Delmonico's for dinner. After studying the menu with growing despair he turned to a patient waiter with, "Just bring me $45 worth of ham and eggs!" Some of our fellow countrymen give similar performances in Paris. I have known them to go to famous restaurants and order plain broiled chicken or steak and fried potatoes, dishes so elemental that the greatest chef could hardly cook them better than Maggie in the flat at home could do it. A Parisian chef broiling a chicken makes a pathetic figure. The asking him to do so is like requesting a learned professor of higher mathematics to add a laundry bill.—Travel Magazine.

O'Connell's Hat.

At a meeting of the County Kildare Archaeological society some years ago a hat worn by Daniel O'Connell was exhibited. O'Connell's name in his own handwriting was written on the inside of the hat, which was of large dimensions, the width inside being eight and one-half inches and its longer diameter ten inches. The chairman of the meeting put on the hat, which entirely covered his head and went down to his chin.

What He Took.

Mrs. Backpay—Good morning, sir. Will you take a chair? Installation House Collector—No, thank you, ma'am. I've come to take the piano.—Philadelphia Record.

Daring Burglary.

Galt, July 17.—Burglars broke into the boarding car yesterday afternoon, and made away with money and jewelry. The robbery was a particularly daring one.

Nothing but Salt—and such Salt! You will find no other so delicate in flavour, so pure as WINDSOR TABLE SALT.

SUNSHINE FURNACE

NOT SHAKING. JUST A GENTLE ROCKING OF THE LEVER.

Shaking is a hard, back-breaking exercise, peculiar to common furnaces, while you can stand erect at the Sunshine—and moving the lever, to and fro, about half the length of your arm, a few times, is mere play. A child can easily do it.

Grates of the Sunshine are in two sections—right and left. By gently rocking the lever, a few times, the ashes are released from the right. Repeat the operation on the left and the ashes from that side drop into the ash-pan, too. You couldn't wish for anything easier than the Sunshine Method.

When this lever is not in use it can be disconnected from the grates and the opening capped. But when connected it fills up the opening so snugly that no dust from the falling ashes can escape.

Every detail is thought of on the "Sunshine"—that's what makes it the best.

If your local dealer does not handle the "Sunshine," write direct to us for FREE BOOKLET.

Come and Hear The Unrivalled Nordheimer Tone

A cordial invitation is extended to you to come in and hear the unrivalled tone of the celebrated "NORDHEIMER" Piano.

Run your fingers over the scale or play a selection and listen to the beauty of the "NORDHEIMER" tone.

Piano salesmen may talk about the various mechanical contrivances of a piano until they are "blue in the face," but all the talk in the world will not alter the tone-quality of a piano.

It is not necessary to take a "NORDHEIMER" piano to pieces and go into ecstasies over its wonderful mechanical features to prove that it possesses an unrivalled tone. It is there in reality. Your own ear tells you it is there—a tone so sweet and sympathetic, so clear and pure, and so rich and powerful—a tone that is of such rare beauty and quality that it lifts "NORDHEIMER" pianos above the commonplace and places them on a pinnacle of perfection in the musical world.

In after years you will congratulate yourself on the wisdom of your choice if the piano you buy happens to be a peerless "NORDHEIMER".

The One Price System assures a safe, satisfactory and square deal to you. Same price to all, and easy terms if you so desire.

Our Mr. R. V. Carter will visit Chatham frequently in our interests and will be pleased to furnish you with any information you may desire. Correspondence addressed to him in care of the Garner House will receive careful attention.

CATTLE MARKETS.

Cables Unchanged—Hogs Slightly Higher in U. S. Markets.

LONDON, July 16.—Liverpool and London
cables are steady at 12 1/2 to 13 1/2 per lb., dressed weight; refrigerator beef is quoted at 8c to 9 1/2c per lb.

TORONTO, July 16.—Receipts of live stock at the City Market, as reported by the railways, were 78
car loads, composed of 1,200 cattle, 562 hogs, 834 sheep and lambs, 271
calves and 9 horses.

Exporters.
Few were offered. One load was reported sold at 12 1/2c per cwt.

The demand for butcher cattle from the outside was strong, which helped to make an active market at steady prices.
The best stall-fed butchers' cattle sold from $3.10 to $3.40; loads to $3.40 to $3.50
in good condition. Large bottles at all dealers for 25c.

Richard Allen Drowned.
Fergus, July 17.—A drowning accident took place at Abney, one of the one-half miles below here, in the Grand River.

Richard Allan, second son of Col.
Allan, was in bathing, and, getting below his depth, was drowned. His brother and other companions were
along, but were unable to save him.
It was over an hour before the body
was recovered.

IT IMPARTS STRENGTH.
Just think of the enormous strengthening power Ferrozene presents—consider what it did for H.
V. Potter, well-known in Kingston.
"I was subject to spells of dizziness.
For eight months I had intense pain
in my right side between the shoulders. I was almost incurable with weakness and lack of vigor. Often I scarcely ate any breakfast and felt miserable all day. Nervous, easily excited, troubled with heart weakness, I was in bad shape. Ferrozene restored and nourished me back to health in short order." Whatever your weakness may be, Ferrozene will cure. Price 50c. per box at all dealers.

Sheep and Lambs.
The run being light, the market for sheep and lambs was very strong, with prices firm. Export ewes sold at $4.00
to $4.75 per cwt.; bucks and culls at $3.75 to $4.25; spring lambs sold at $5.00 to $5.25, and a few selected lots went as high as $6 per lb.

Hogs.
The run of hogs was exceedingly light. Mr. Harris quotes selects at $6.50 and lights at $6.35 per cwt., with market strong at these quotations.

East Buffalo, N.Y., July 16.—Cattle—Receipts, 250 head; slow, shade lower; prime steers, $5.25 to $5.50; shipping, $5.00 to $5.25; $5.75 to $5.90; stock
heifers, $3.50 to $3.75.
Veals—Receipts, 100 head; slow; $5 to $5.25;
low.

Hogs—Receipts, 1700 head; active; pigs
steady; others, low to 10c higher; heavy,
$4 to $4.50; mixed, $3.50 to $4.25; Yorkers,
$4.25 to $4.50; $4.50 to $4.80; roughs,
$3 to $3.50; stags, $4 to $4.50; dairies, $4
to $4.50.
Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 1400 head;
dull and lower; lambs, $5 to $5.25; yearlings, $5 to $5.25; wethers, $5.00 to $5.25;
ewes, $4.50 to $5; sheep, mixed, $3.50 to $4.

New York Live Stock.
NEW YORK, July 16.—Beefers—Receipts, 2146. No trading; feeling steady.
Dressed beef, fairly active at 20c to 26c per pound. Cable steady. Exports, tomorrow, 500 cattle and 600 quarters of beef.

Calves—Receipts, none; nothing doing;
feeling nominally weak; city dressed
veal, slow at 12 to 12c per pound; country dressed, 11 to 11c.
Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4236. Sheep,
steady; lambs, slow and 25c to 30c lower;
several cars unsold. Sheep sold at $2.50 to $5 per 100 pounds; lambs at $2.50 to $7.00;
culls at $1.50.

Hogs—Receipts, 2710. No sales reported.
Feeling steady to firm. Prime, state
and Pennsylvania hogs (late yesterday),
at $4.50 to $5.25 per 100 pounds; few light
weights at $5.75.

Chicago Live Stock.
CHICAGO, Ill., July 16.—Cattle—Receipts, about 4000; market for best steady,
others dull; common to prime steers, $4.75
to $7.25; cows, $3.25 to $5.75; heifers, $3.25
to $5.80; bulls, $2.15 to $5.25; calves, $3 to $5;
stockers and feeders, $2.50 to $5.00; market
steady to 20c higher; good to prime heavy, $5.25 to $5.50; butchers' good heavy, $5.25 to $5.50; good to prime mixed, $5.25
to $5.50; light mixed, $5.25 to $5.50; pigs,
$5.25 to $5.50; selected, $5 to $5.75; bulk of sales,
$5.25 to $5.

Sheep—Receipts, about 12,000; market
steady; sheep, $2.75 to $5; yearlings, $5.50
to $6.10; lambs, $5.50 to $7.75.

WHEN CHILDREN ARE SICK

They eat something that disagrees, catch cold, have cramps or colic. If there is pain just apply Ferrozene—
it's good to rub on, and for the inside
it's most comforting. Effective and pleasant, you can't find a household panacea to equal Ferrozene's. Used with satisfaction for half a century and in better demand every day because it does stop pain, ease suffering and cure the thousand and one ills that constantly arise in the family. Large bottles at all dealers for 25c.

His Little Scheme.

"You mortified me terribly," complained Mrs. Richley.
"How?" demanded her sick husband.
"Why did you tell the new doctor you were in the habit of eating corned beef and cabbage? We never have such common food as that."

"Well, I want him to fix his charges
on a corned beef and cabbage basis."

The great and growing popularity of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is due both to its scientific compounding and to the actual medical value of its ingredients. The publication of the names of the ingredients on the wrapper of every bottle sold, gives full assurance of its non-alcoholic character and removes all objection to the use of an unknown or secret remedy. It is not a patent medicine nor a secret
one either. This fact puts it in a class all by itself, bearing as it does upon every bottle wrapper The Badge of Honesty, in the full list of its ingredients. Many years of active practice convinced Dr. Pierce of the value of many native roots as medicinal agents, and he was convinced, both in time and in money, to perfect his own peculiar processes for rendering them both
efficient and safe for tonic, alterative
and rebuilding agents.

The "Golden Medical Discovery"
cures weak stomach, indigestion, or dyspepsia, torpid liver and biliousness, ulceration of stomach and bowels
and all catarrhal affections no matter what parts or organs may be affected with it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are the original little liver pills, first put up 40 years ago. They regulate and purge the stomach, liver and bowels.

WINTER ON THE PRAIRIE

HOMESTEADER'S SEVERE EXPER-IENCE IN THE FAR WEST.

Life in the Blizzards and Snow-
wrapped Stillness—Cattle Starving—Suffering From Intense Cold—Fences Covered With Ice—Lost for Three Days—Were Scared by Timber Wolves.

The severity of last winter on the prairie and the hardships of the homesteaders are graphically given in this letter of an Ontario boy who went through the experience himself.
He writes:

"What should happen on Good Friday—those measly oxen both croaked,
and we dropped another $175. Say,
you can't imagine how tough that
was. But we wouldn't miss this winter's experience for considerable."

"We have seen life on the wild west prairie with a blizzard raging for two days and cattle starving in another man's stable while he was off on a jamboree. We either had to let them starve and freeze or run a chance of doing the same ourselves."

Fed the Hay Roof.
"The owner had been away 12 days,
and we had to feed the hay roof off
the sheds. Some calves appeared on the scene and things began to get worse. We had no grub ourselves and no way of getting any. We multied up the best we could and drove the herd north in the teeth of a blizzard to hay stacks. Now we had our troubles with some of those big steers
putting them through four feet of snow."

My face was covered with ice,
with peep holes for my eyes and an opening for my mouth. Then we carried back hay for the cows with horns and blankets to do this. Then we killed off some poultry and one pig and scraped up a little flour and fed the inner man. I had both knees and both big toes frozen badly, and
the tops of my fingers and my nose.

Well, we kept this sort of thing going 12 days and during that time he lost two cattle, two cows, one dog, 25 hens, one pair of ducks, and our respect.

His Yarn Didn't Go.
"And that is only one of the many hard knocks we have had this winter. But we got square with that son of a sea-cook. He was commissioned to bring us home $6 worth of potatoes. Well, he came back with a yam about them freeways and we had to swallow it, of course. But
when things got too thick we dared
to beard the lion in his den, the Douglas in his hall. We walked into
his shack and choked him against the
wall, made him apologize for some reports he spread, for things he called
us in the preliminary engagement,
and also fork over $6. Now he is our
best friend. Yes; but I always follow him in or out of a doorway."

"Enough? Not yet. The guy who wintered our oxen, or failed to winter
them is required to make a settlement. We do not yet know what we can do in this matter, but whatever it is we will do it to the full. He'll go back to Whitechapel if I pronounce sentence. We have certainly had some bad luck, but we are going to give it another go. We will work in Saskatoon this summer, if necessary, and make another start."

The Call of the Wild.
"We have done everything you read of in these wild western stories. We have ridden after wild cattle for 12
hours at a time; packed grub
through the Eagle Hills by pony;
looted it through our own backs; hauled it with oxen and often have done
without it. We have been after deer,
and have heard the howl of timber
wolves within half a mile of us, when we were five miles in the bush. We have squatted around the little tin
skove and smoked the pipe with old dog-faced squaws in their tents. We have slept out many a night, and have
trapped like the coureurs de bois.
(We shipped about $50 worth of furs on April 1st to Winnipeg.) We have seen the tracks of lynx and bear
within a stone's throw of our shack.
We have lived a glorious life to look back at it, but when it was being lived, it was far from glorious."

Lost For Three Days.
"Park was lost for three days and nights in January. The first night
he and Hill stayed all night on the prairie, within half a mile of a shack
and it was 53 below. Hill lost his nerve and Park had to put him in a snow bank and kick him to keep him
awake. He has since lost his toes.
Then Park got the mail at this shack
and started home alone—fifteen miles.
He was out two months and he would have been in the snow somewhere yet, only he kept in the bush and had a fire at night. When he got to the ranch I was just going to get the pony to hunt them up. I really did not recognize him, he was so emaciated. We soon got him all O.K. again. The people at home will not be any the wiser."

Brown Tail Moth in Canada.

The brown tail moth has made its appearance in the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia. A specimen of what was thought to be this insect was discovered some weeks ago in King's county and was sent to the Agricultural Department at Ottawa for report. The experts there have positively identified it. Since then a number of specimens have been found in Digby and at other points in the fruit region of this province.

Principal, Cumming, of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, says this is the first invasion of any part of Canada by this pest, and he adds that
the danger that it will spread and do untold damage is very real. Agents of the Department of Agriculture are holding meetings and pointing out to the orchardists what they must do.

A Bad Memory.

REBUTAL EVIDENCE.

State Offers Newspaper Report of Outside Evidence.

Boise, Idaho, July 17.—The rebuttal evidence during the forenoon session yesterday covered a wide range.
It started in California, returned to Idaho, and finished the session in Colorado.

Four witnesses supported the general attack now being made by the prosecution on the evidence by which the defence hopes to prove perjury
against Harry Orchard.

The defence by consent recalled
Guibunny, the San Francisco grocer
who testified that it was probable for him to have climbed from the Bradley porch to an adjoining roof.
The San Francisco depositions assert that the roof Orchard says he hid on was not built for six months after the Bradley explosion. Guibunny got mixed upon this testimony.

T. C. Cogswell of Wallace was called to testify to alleged mis-statements by Dr. L. C. McGee, who arrived here yesterday morning under arrest
on a charge of perjury. The state offered in evidence a copy of The Idaho Tribune of May 20, 1899, which contains an account of the blowing up
of a yam about them freeways and we had to swallow it, of course. But
when things got too thick we dared
to beard the lion in his den, the
Douglas in his hall. We walked into
his shack and choked him against the
wall, made him apologize for some reports he spread, for things he called
us in the preliminary engagement,
and also fork over $6. Now he is our
best friend. Yes; but I always fol-
low him in or out of a doorway."

"Enough? Not yet. The guy who

RED CROSS IN MARITIME WAR.

Hague Conference Reaches Important Decision for Lessening Losses.

The Hague, July 17.—It has been definitely decided that at the next
plenary sitting of the conference Sir Edward Fry (Great Britain) will present a proposition regarding the limitation of armaments. The proposition will be a repetition, in a more energetic form, of the order of the day on the same subject presented by
M. Bourgeois by the conference of 1891 and approved by that body.

T. M. C. Asser (Netherlands) will propose that the limitation of armaments be brought about in practical way through the permanent court
of arbitration by broadening the scope
of this court, and so far as possible,
making its findings compulsory.

A plenary sitting of the committee
on maritime warfare, Count Turrell presiding, was held here. After a lively discussion the committee reached the first important conclusion arrived at since the conference began its labors; it approved the project of a convention providing for the adaptation of Red Cross regulations to maritime warfare.

The clause most discussed was the use of wireless telegraphy on board
hospital ships; with some guarantees
this was finally admitted.

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.
Gentlemen,—Last August my horse
was badly out in eleven places by a barbed wire fence. Three of the cuts (small ones) healed soon, but the others
became foul and rotten, and though I tried many kinds of medicine
none they had brought about in four weeks' time every sore was healed
and the hair has grown over each one in fine condition. The Liniment
is certainly wonderful in its working.

WOMAN'S WORLD

MRS. EDWIN MOULTON.

President of the National Woman's Outdoor Art League.

One of the enthusiastic workers for
"a more beautiful America" is Mrs.
Edwin F. Moulton of Ohio, who is the present head of the Woman's Outdoor Art League of the American Civic association. Her work for civic beauty
began at the time of the Chicago
World's fair.

Mrs. Moulton's first public service
was some years ago, when she was made chairman of a new committee in the Ohio Federation of Women's Clubs.
This committee had for its object general civic improvement, including hygiene, pure drinking water, abolition
of smoke, public stations of comfort,
with the establishment of playgrounds,
parks, the preservation of natural scenic beauty, art in public schools, tree
culture, beautifying school grounds,
home gardens, etc.

As a result a great wave of improvement swept over the state, men and women of all classes joining in it, and
of Mrs. Moulton was chosen chairman in Ohio for the Woman's Outdoor Art League when that body was organized
as an affiliated branch of the American Civic association. At the last meeting of the league she was chosen president.

As the wife of the city superintendent of schools Mrs. Moulton has been one of the social leaders of Cleveland,
O., where outdoor art is finely displayed. At Mr. Moulton's retirement from active duties last year they took up
their permanent residence at Moulton
Hall, Warren, O., which is now the national headquarters for the Woman's Outdoor Art League of America.

Laugh While You Eat.
No matter how strong the digestion
may be naturally, it is no very difficult matter to weaken it, and, no matter how feeble it may be, it is always possible to do something to strengthen it.

A good digestion resembles many of the other blessings of life in this—it is seldom really valued until it is lost.

When people have for years adopted
the foolish practice of bolting their food without taking the trouble as to its proper mastication they can hardly wonder that a new condition of things
arises which cannot be cured in a few weeks.

If we treat our acquaintances badly
we quickly turn them into enemies,
and if our ill treatment is long continued it may be impossible, even by the best treatment, to regain their friendship.

It is much the same with our digestive apparatus. If we wish to be in good grace with it we must treat it
with every possible consideration.

We must not expect it to do work it was never meant to do. The stomach is not provided with teeth, but it is provided, and so are the intestines,
with certain juices whose action converts food into a condition in which it will nourish and repair the tissues
and renovate the blood and increase its quantity, but—and this is the most important—in order to do this the food when it reaches the stomach must be in a
"gratable" state; it must be in a soft, pulpy condition, so that the digestive juices can have a chance of reaching it.

This they cannot do properly if such things as meat, for instance, are swallowed in lumps.

For this reason those whose teeth are defective will find artificial teeth an immense help—indeed, a very important factor—in the prevention of dyspepsia.

Worry at mealtimes and hurry directly after are two great factors in weakening the digestion.

One of the most important meals of the day is breakfast, yet how often we hurry over our food or scramble
through it in stony, frigid silence, scanning the columns of our favorite newspaper.

An old physician, writing seventy years ago, said some words which are as true today as they were then:

"Laughter is one of the greatest helps to digestion with which I am acquainted, and the custom prevalent
among our forefathers of exciting it at
table by jesters was founded upon true
medical principles."

"Therefore, endeavor to have cheerful and merry companions at your meals. The nourishment you take then will certainly do good and tend to promote digestion."

London Street Beggars.
Beggings has long been illegal in London, and offenders are liable to various terms of imprisonment. Nevertheless, thousands are in London, and live in comfortable idleness on the weak complaisance of the workers.
The annual report of the London Mendicant Society, just issued, states that it is probably no exaggeration to say that more than $500,000 is annually given to beggars in the streets of London,
and that probably the average beggar
earns more than the average workman.
The society, which exists to investigate the begging business, to help deserving cases, and to assist in punishing incorrigibles, possesses 72,520 records of street beggars.

TROUBLE ON THE PARK

"Cricketer" Thinks That His Club's Rights Are Being Imposed upon

This Is Wrong, in View Of Expenditures Made On the Crease

Would you kindly allow me space to say a few words about the trouble on the Park. Cricketers Guide, published in 1874, says:

"The first cricket club was organized in Chatham in 1839 under the name of the Kent Cricket Club. When the first lease of the Park was granted by the Government to the town a committee of the cricket club and one of the baseball club met Mr. Wm. Northwood, the then Mayor, and Colonel Baxter, on the ground to mark out the open space wanted for cricket and baseball, on which no trees were to be planted. This was found necessary by those interested in sports, as there was talk of laying the whole Park out in flower beds and walks.

"There was some talk of making a reservation in the lease granting the north end of the Park for a cricket ground, and the south end to the baseball club for a baseball ground, but Colonel Baxter intervened, saying he would have a clause inserted to the effect that the open space should be reserved for military purposes, which would answer the same purpose, as each club could have its own ground, except when required by the military."

The Park was then in a very rough and uneven state. The cricket club have ever since been spending money in levelling, sodding and underdraining, to say nothing of the work done by the members. The late Richard Savage worked on the ground for 27 consecutive years, doing each year as much work as the club's funds would allow, usually from $25 to $50.

The club also put in a porous tile underdrain with outlet under the footbridge at a cost of about $200. Things went on quite smoothly for a long time, cricket and baseball games being played simultaneously without any trouble or friction. For the past two years, however, the new generation of baseballers seem to have cast covetous eyes on the nice level ground of their neighbors to the north. They finally moved their diamond over, giving as an excuse that the military authorities would not allow them to play on the south end owing to the danger to the armory windows.

Representation was made by the cricket club to Colonel Peters, London, who said it would be a shame to stop cricket, and advised a net to protect armory windows. This, through the kindness of Mr. John Bagnall, was provided, and everything was again lovely. Now comes Caretaker Stevenson of the armory, who says the foul tips that at long intervals fall on the tin roof are destroying it. The writer saw two long games played lately and during that time one ball fell quite gently on the roof.

The last move in the game is that the baseball club have moved their diamond over onto the cricket crease. The cricket club have home and home matches with Detroit, Forest and Wolsey Barracks, London, in contemplation, but are holding them back until the ground matter is settled. The cricket club hopes it will not be driven off its ground and forced to disband.

CRICKETER.

HAY GOES DOWN

A load of blue grass sold on the market yesterday morning for $8.00. The farmers state that the hay crop is far better than it was expected to be. New hay is selling at $8 and $9 a ton on the local markets. Live hogs were commanding $6.65 per cwt. This is an advance of 15 cents since Saturday.

ASPHALT READY ROOFING

Gravel Coated Sand Coated

Is a wonderfully substantial roofing, combining every quality that should commend it to those who would roof well.

It contains no tar or paper, wool felt and pure asphalt, from Lake Trinidad, being the chief features of this splendid roofing.

When laid it presents a most pleasing and attractive appearance as all nails are covered. When properly laid it remains perfectly flat, requires no painting and carries a ten year guarantee from the manufacturers, which is by no means the life of it. Each roll has a six-inch smooth underlap through which the nails are driven, and is adhered to the overlapping sheet by means of the asphalt cement which we furnish with each roll.

The Price Is Low for a Good Roofing. It is especially adapted for flat roofs on factories, warehouses, stores, etc., and is also suitable for steep roofs on houses, barns, and stables. Call and see it, for we have not told you here half of what you ought to know before you buy a roof.
