

ST. CLAIR FRANCIS HAS BEEN CAPTURED AT LAST

Utterly Exhausted and Helpless, With Feet Cut and Frozen, He Was Caught in a Barn in Small Village—A Story of the Pursuit

THOMASTON, Me., Nov. 28.—Minot St. Clair Francis, the negro convict and desperado, who was captured this morning in Bangor, reached the state prison here at 10.30 o'clock tonight, and half an hour later was once more locked in his cell after being absent without leave for fifteen days and six hours. He was in a bad condition physically, and upon the arrival of the train in Rockland tonight from Bangor, Francis, who was shackled to Deputy Marshal Leader, had to be assisted to a carriage by Warden Eaton and two of his officers.

A dense crowd had gathered at the station, to see the man who had terrorized the vicinity for the past two weeks, but there was no demonstration when he was half carried from the train. The carriage drove off once for the prison. Upon being taken into the warden's office, Francis was examined by Dr. Walker, the prison physician, who found that his feet were lacerated and swollen, and that his right wrist was sprained. He wore considerable clothing, having on two overcoats, a jacket, a vest, two sweaters, four shirts, besides two suits of underclothing.

After he had been given a warm bath, and had had his feet and wrists dressed, he was taken up to his cell and once more gazed through prison bars.

MAYOR SCHMITZ OF SAN FRANCISCO ARRESTED ON HIS ARRIVAL IN CALIFORNIA

Francis J. Haney

TRUCKEE, Cal., Nov. 28.—Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz of San Francisco, who with his wife is returning from a trip to Europe, was arrested here this afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Knox on an indictment of extortion found by a jury in San Francisco. The indicted official seems to feel his arrest keenly. Mrs. Schmitz seemed entirely unnerved at the arrest of her husband. The tears came to her eyes and she appeared to be very much worried. Mayor Schmitz did not emerge from the car drawing room, where he was closeted with Abraham Ruef.

Francis J. Haney is another San Francisco official who was accused of crooked work.

YOUNG BOY SHOT DEAD AT SALISBURY

Dennis Ayles, Was Hunting Moose With His Father; When Gun Was Accidentally Discharged

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 28.—News reached the city tonight of a fatal shooting accident at Salisbury, the victim of which was Dennis Ayles, the only son of Hillman Ayles of Cherryvale. In company with his father, the young lad was out moose hunting. John C. Milton's young son also accompanied them. The young man met death by his own gun. He was at some distance from the others when the accident occurred, and the lad's father, hearing the report, looked around and saw the boy fall. The shot had entered below the jaw, severing the jugular vein and passing out through the head. It is thought the discharge was caused by the boy pulling the gun over a brush pile.

PLAN A BIG HOTEL FOR FREDERICTON

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 29.—It is reported today that negotiations are under way for the transfer of the Barker House to a number of well known citizens who purpose forming a joint stock company with the object of purchasing the property and running one of the finest hotels in the maritime provinces. The purchasers are said to include some of Fredericton's wealthiest men and the intention of the buyers is to take over not only the present hotel, building but also the premises next door occupied by M. Pickler & Co. and combine the two into one. The entire lower floor will be turned into offices, which will make them among the finest in Canada. Arrangements are reported to be progressing most favorably towards carrying out the intended object.

THE ROOSEVELT WILL COME TO ST. JOHN

NORTH SYDNEY, Nov. 28.—All yesterday afternoon Diver Scott had been engaged in ascertaining and repairing the damage to the Arctic steamer Roosevelt resulting from her trip north. Diver Scott will continue his work, and expects to finish this afternoon. Outside the two flanges of the propeller a considerable portion of the keel is gone, but otherwise her planking is safe, and it is likely the steamer will not require any further repairs until she reaches New York. Capt. Bartlett expects to take the Roosevelt to the International pier this evening or tomorrow, when she will receive bunkers, sailing immediately afterwards for New York.

Peking, Nov. 28.—The negotiations for the transfer of Niuchwang from the Japanese to the Chinese authorities are almost completed. It is expected that an agreement on the subject will be signed today or tomorrow.

SHOT BY BROTHER WILL LIKELY DIE

Small Boy Playing With Gun, Pulled Trigger Ball Passed Through Young Man's Neck Lodging in Wall Behind—Blood Poisoning Feared

FREDERICTON, Nov. 28.—Shot by a rifle in the hands of his younger brother, Miles Hawkins, son of James Hawkins, a well known farmer of Douglas, York county, may die. The accident, which was of a most shocking and unfortunate nature, occurred last evening in the family home at Douglas. During the afternoon Miles Hawkins and his father had been out hunting, and on their return they were sitting in one of the rooms. Miles' rifle had been found by his younger brother, who was playing with it. Later there came a terrific report. The little fellow had pulled the trigger, and a cartridge which had been left in the magazine by mistake had been discharged. The bullet ploughed its way into Miles Hawkins' neck, passing within one-sixteenth of an inch of the spinal column and containing its passage through the neck from side to side, where it continued to the wall behind, through which it passed and out into the field. Medical assistance was summoned from St. Mary's, and Dr. Mullin hurried to the Hawkins home, where he found Miles suffering excruciating pains, while the family were almost prostrated from the terrible occurrence. The doctor did everything possible to alleviate the sufferings of the young man, and dressed the wound as carefully as he could. The accident occurred at 8 o'clock, and the doctor worked over his patient until midnight. Owing to the great danger of blood poisoning setting in it is impossible to tell whether young Hawkins will recover or not.

FREDERICTON GIRL WEDS BOSTON MAN

FREDERICTON, N. B., Nov. 28.—This evening, at the residence of the bride's parents, Charlotte street, Miss Bona, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Johnston, was united in marriage by Rev. Willard McDonald to Guy Chelms of Boston. The ceremony took place in the drawing room, which was prettily decorated for the occasion, in the presence of the family and invited guests. The bride was attired in a costume of baby Irish lace over liberty satin and wore a bridal veil with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of cream roses.

Miss Margaret Hall, niece of the bride, was maid of honor. At the conclusion of the ceremony supper was served and the newly married couple took the evening train for St. John and tomorrow will proceed to Boston, where in future they will reside. Among the St. John guests present were Mrs. D. J. Brown, Miss Brown, Miss Hazel Hall, Miss Dorothy Edgecombe and Frank Kinnear.

ROMANCE OF PRETTY WOODSTOCK GIRL ENDS IN WEDDING

BOSTON, Nov. 28.—The romance of Miss Margaret Stewart of Woodstock, formerly of St. John, and Edward P. Bulkeley, a wealthy club man of New York and Newport, ended today in the wedding at Lafarge cottage, Newport. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Emery H. Porter, rector of the Emmanuel Episcopal church. Bulkeley is 37 and his bride 23. The couple met in 1905 at Newport. Bulkeley was seriously ill and Miss Stewart, who had just graduated from the Newport Hospital, was called to attend. He felt that her devotion saved his life and fell in love with the handsome girl. The engagement was announced late last summer, after Miss Stewart had been called from her New Brunswick home to again attend him. Bulkeley is not yet in good health, but is slowly recovering.

THE FAVORABLE FINANCIAL SHOWING OF INTERCOLONIAL

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 28.—The financial showing by the I. C. R. continues to be satisfactory. The statement for the fiscal year 1905-1906, submitted to parliament Tuesday, shows a substantial surplus that year exceeding sixty thousand dollars, which is the most revolutionary and favorable change ever effected in any single department of the Dominion public service hitherto in any one year. Usually the months of April, May and June have either wiped out the I. C. R. deficit or created a small surplus, and as these months would be lacking in the present fiscal year the deficit was originally anticipated. The present fiscal year's showing from the revenue standpoint is excellent. From July 1 to Nov. 22, both inclusive, a period of less than five months, the total increase in passenger and freight earnings exceeds the hitherto phenomenal record of the corresponding period in 1905 by no less than $47,325. The volume of traffic is naturally less now than hitherto this year, and therefore the increase will be less, but the increase for the week ending Nov. 22 was actually $26,461 over the corresponding week last year.

MEN IN WOMEN'S CLOTHES TERRORIZE CHATHAM PEOPLE

CHATHAM, N. B., Nov. 29.—Chatham is suffering from an epidemic of sneak thievery and residents are alarmed at the boldness and frequency of the depredations. Men dressed in women's clothes go round the road at night and rob clothes lines, houses and stores. In spite of this open display, the police have done nothing and though the men are seen daily on the streets the police do not shadow them nor are they able to catch them in the act. Women are frightened and householders take every precaution to have things carefully locked up.

LIBERAL Convention Called

To the Liberals of New Brunswick: It is my desire to meet the Liberals of New Brunswick in convention. Nearly three years have elapsed since the last general meeting; it is also the judgment of many friends that such a gathering should take place for the purpose of perfecting party organization in all the counties of the Province. To that end, I would invite all Liberals who can make it convenient to do so to attend at Berryman's Hall, in the City of St. John, on Thursday evening, 27th December next, at 7.30 o'clock. This invitation is extended to all Liberals in New Brunswick who are interested in the success of the party and the good government of the country; but I would especially ask the Liberal Associations and Liberal Clubs of the various counties throughout the Province to select delegates, who shall be authorized to represent them at the convention.

There are many matters of importance to be considered, and it is therefore my earnest wish to have at the convention as many as possible of those who have a real interest in the advancement of Liberalism. Thursday evening will be devoted to the selection of a Nominating Committee and the arranging of preliminaries. It is possible that an opportunity will be offered for short addresses from representatives of the different counties. The convention will re-assemble on Friday at 10 o'clock in the forenoon for the transaction of the real business of the gathering. The day will be given up wholly to the work of organization, which, it is hoped will be completed in time to permit the delegates to return to their homes in the evening.

IN THE RELIGIOUS WORLD

CHRISTIAN FELLOWSHIP.

By Dr. Frank Page.

At St. John's P. E. Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., last Sunday the Rev. Frank Page, D. D., preached on "Christian Fellowship." He chose for his text Philippians I, 3, 4, 5: "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, always, in every prayer of mine for you all, making request with joy for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now." And he said:

St. Paul was in prison and he was writing to his favorite church. They had remembered him in prison, and he thinks them and is in earnest, as we all hear, at the very beginning of his epistle. Note the comprehensiveness—"always," "every," "all." "I thank my God upon every remembrance of you, always, in every prayer of mine making request for you all, with joy, for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now." For your fellowship in the gospel, that is, in co-operation in every sense. And then he goes on: "He which hath begun a good work in you will perform it until the end, unto the day of Jesus Christ." And he says, "Ye will be partakers of my grace."

What I want to speak especially about this morning is this "fellowship in the gospel." This is a favorite word of St. Paul, a favorite idea of his. We are to have this fellowship, and there is an idea about it that is not as common and universal and as strong in our generation as it was in time past. Let us look at it. It is of God. We read in one of his epistles: "God is faithful by whom we are called into the fellowship of Jesus Christ, His Son, our Lord." This fellowship, then, is into and with His son, Jesus Christ, and is from and through God himself. It is a fellowship with God; it is a communion; it is a partnership with Him. Not only is it thus connected with God, but it has to do with helping the saints, with assisting those who are Christians. We read that we "should take upon us the fellowship of the mystery of the saints." Then there is something for us to do. It is not merely nominal, but it is a fellowship of ministry, a service to the saints—to other Christians.

Again, in another epistle the apostle speaks of offering the right hand of fellowship. Some of our great churches, or bodies, today give the right hand of fellowship to those who are initiated into the fullest communion of the Christian. We have another form which we think is more apostolic—the confirmation; and yet, we should give the right hand of fellowship, with all its meaning, to those who come within our reach and to those within our church. The meaning of the word widens, for again he says in another epistle, "and to make all men see what is the fellowship of the mystery, which from the beginning of the world He created all things by Himself." There is a certain fellowship into which Christians are to come and be initiated, even from the creation of the world through Jesus Christ our Lord. Again, in this, his favorite letter, from which our text is taken, he continues: "If there be any consolation of Christ, if there be any fellowship of the Spirit." It is a spiritual relationship; it is a spiritual connection. This fellowship in the gospel is of and through the Spirit of God and those who are led by this spiritual connection were made component parts of the church, of the congregation and of the great and vast whole of God's people.

There are very striking thoughts connected with this idea. It runs all through St. Paul's epistles, and especially through this epistle to the Philippians. He says further on, "that I may know him and the power of His resurrection in the fellowship of His suffering." "That a bond suffering in. We suffer together, and we are to be each other and it puts us in an entirely different relationship. Pleasure? Well, it is a bond, but not much of a bond. Take two young men. They start side by side. Or, take a number of young men. One two, the fastest, set the pace and then comes the trouble of keeping up with the procession and when you fall, when your means and capacity to keep up with the others are lessened or gone, fellowship is lacking. The club; we go into that, we do our part, we help to entertain, we pay the fiddler or we help act the joker, but the pleasure does not bind any longer than it holds out. But the fellowship of suffering, it binds. Take your family. You do not know the bond there was between each member of it until some of the heart strings were sundered, until there was suffering. The sympathy; the friend who comes to you and grasps your hand in the hour of your darkness, and your encouragement. Those old comrades that have fought together; those men who have been baptized with the baptism of fire and have gone, as it were, almost through the gates of hell, shoulder to shoulder, and the fellowship of suffering. You can find association or bind yourself to a club, or a corporation, by taking so much stock, but the fellowship here spoken of, it is of God; it is powerful; it is everlasting.

St. Paul is not the only one who writes about this fellowship in the New Testament. The beloved disciple, St. John, has a good deal to say about it. It is he who says, "that ye may also have fellowship with us, and truly your fellowship is with the Father and with His son, Jesus Christ." Those outside of the church who wish to come with us, those who feel an interest in the church may have fellowship with us, and truly your fellowship is with the Father and with His son, Jesus Christ." What a high ideal, a high conception, it gives us of the church, this fellowship; this one body, one household, allied with each other; allied with God through Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit! Again, St. John says: "If we say that we have fellowship with Him and walk in darkness we lie, and do not tell the truth. But if we walk in the light, as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ, His Son, cleanseth us from all sin." Here is the test of that fellowship, the proof of it. How it shows itself to the world; how it declares that it is real. It is not sufficient to say that we have fellowship with Him, for if we say that we walk in darkness, in sin and wickedness and forgetfulness of God, we lie. It is the language of the beloved disciple, the gentle John. But if we walk in the light as He (Christ) is in the light, we, you and I and all Christians, have fellowship one with another. All are united and have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ cleanseth us from all sin. This is the test, this is the proof of the fellowship. The collect for to-day has the same idea. We pray in the short and beautiful prayer: "Keep thy household, the church, in continual godliness." This fellowship, this church, is a household and it is to be kept in "continual godliness." Mark the expression, "continual" as to time, going on through the ages from the early church, from the time of Christ, even looking back to the Old Testament Church, and going on in continuity—continual godliness. And then it means the different churches that believe in Jesus Christ, different branches of the church. And then it refers to the different churches or congregations, and then, also you can apply it to different members of the church. "Keep thy household, the church, in continual godliness." See, continual godly fellowship. Keep this fellowship in continual godliness.

Now, sometimes churches and those in churches, are inclined to boast or tell of what they have done, and they sometimes tell us what they are going to do. But here is continual godliness in very earnest all the time. The majority of men are not, but still with Christians the prayer today is that the church may be kept in continual godliness. We think of these things and we think how well we can do without people they will help us. It is not now and then and occasionally, but the household is to be cared for continually, day by day and month by month and year by year. The sun and the fixed stars and the moon shine continually in their proper times and proper orbits, but shooting stars and meteors give light and are gone, bright for a moment and then darkness; and so the plea is that God will keep His church in continual godliness. Phillips Brooks, once in a great address, which I heard, said that whatever they might say about the church of the last century that men of that century had preserved and handed on to us, this, the twentieth century, century. Take it, keep it, improve it, but be sure to hand it down as your fathers have handed it to you.

"Keep thy household, the church, in continual godliness." The great apostle, then, to us, thanks God in writing to these Philippians, "for your fellowship in the gospel from the first day until now." A continual service; and he goes on with reference to the future, assuring them that the church will not only be as in the past, or even the present, but he says, "He that hath begun the good work in you will perform it unto the day of Jesus Christ." God has begun a good work in you; He will perform it unto the end. The apostle continues, "Ye are partakers of my grace." True, the household is a lack of fellowship. In the gospel we read, the servant who has been forgiven by his lord refuses to forgive his fellow servant who could not pay what he owed. There is a lack of fellowship, a lack of brotherhood, between St. Paul and the Philippian church in prison writes to them to thank them for their kindness. What an example to any pastor and to any church. What a temple of fellowship. Brother men, every pastor and pastor desires to have a relationship such as this between the people of God and God Himself through the Spirit and through Jesus Christ. He desires this fellowship as pastor, with those who are his people, his household, then, is in his care. Then let us look and see if we have this fellowship one with another, and if we, through Jesus Christ, and by the Holy Spirit, have this fellowship working and acting in our hearts and in our lives, leading us onward with that continual readiness for which we prayed in the prayer the church gives us today.

THE ROMAN CATHOLIC. THE HALIFAX WESLEYAN has the following on the troubles of the church in France: "We believe in the separation of church and state, but the world does not make us rejoice over France despoiling the property of the Roman Catholics. It may be true that the clergy have interfered in politics, but that is no excuse for depriving the church of its property. Let the property be taxed if necessary, and if there is an undue interference in politics, let the government imprison those who do so, but to confiscate the property is going too far. If that were done to any Protestant denomination there would be a hue and cry. Let us be just towards all men."

THE ABBE NANTOT in a recent issue of La Justice Sociale, gives among the reasons for the present state of things in France, "that all the efforts made there in recent years to promote great moral aims—such as checking tuberculosis or putting down intemperance and moral literature—were set foot, and are still kept at work, most exclusively by Protestants, or Jews or other non-Catholics. It is the rarest exception to find any Catholic amongst their active supporters."

THE ANGLICAN. DR. JACKSON, Bishop of Jarrow, said in an address at Consett that he had been a total abstainer from boyhood. It was a popular delusion that Temperance reformers were fools and fanatics, but they were content to bear the blame, if they must, in their efforts to subvert the empire of intemperance and slavery before the working classes.

THE MISSIONARIES. THE MISSIONARY BOARD of the Methodist Episcopal Church which met at Buffalo the other day voted $52,093 for foreign missions and $226,807 for home missions, for the year 1907-7.

THE BOARD OF METHODIST MISSIONS in Toronto yesterday, appointed the Rev. T. Ferrier, of Brandon, superintendent in the west of Indian schools and institutes, and Dr. Carman and Dr. Sutherland commissioners to visit Japan next spring.

THE ARCHBISHOP BOND MEMORIAL FUND for which $50,000 is asked, is to provide a chair in the Montreal Diocese College for New Testament Literature. It will perpetuate the name of the late Archbishop in connection with an institution whose work and well-being held a foremost place in his thoughts and affections up to the very close of his life. By raising candidates for the ministry, it will help to meet the most pressing need of the Canadian Church; and it will give strength to an institution whose history the late Archbishop referred to as the "brightest page in his Episcopate."

THE REPORT OF THE COMMITTEE of the Anglican General Synod on church union when met at Kingston on the 20th inst., declares for an episcopate, but says if new ministers of the united church were ordained by a bishop that would be acceptable to their views. The committee ask leave to approach the Presbyterians, Methodists and others with the proposal.

THE ENGLISH HYMNAL continues to be a bone of contention, one of its contributors being the Bishop of Bristol. The character of some of the hymns objected to may be gathered from the following:

Jesu's tender mother,
Unto Him who chose thee
At His Incarnation.

In the other hymns were the words:
For the sick and for the aged,
For our dear ones far away,
For the hearts that mourn in secret,
All who need our prayers today,
For the faithful gone before us,
May the holy Virgin pray.

THE HYMN BOOK Rev. Mr. Dearmer, one of the compilers, speaks of it thus: "The hymn book is a comprehensive one, and includes everything that legitimately comes within the scope of Christian worship. It contains a great deal more than any other Nonconformist source than any other hymn book, and just gives a broad and tolerant collection from which people can select what they want."

THE PRESBYTERIANS. FATHER COOK, of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, Woodstock, Ont., at the Jubilee of Rev. Dr. McMillen, of that town, when he got the remarks concerning his Protestant neighbor: "He has preached the broad doctrine of the cross and the spirit of Christ." "We hope that as the Lord has blessed him in the ministry He will bless him when he goes to his fathers, may his departure be a glorious sunset. He has been an example for all to follow, and his life has been a benediction. He has labored with an eye single to the Master's service."

THE PRESBYTERIAN says: The decision of the privy council regarding the employment of Christian Brothers as teachers in the separate schools (where local government is an important and far-reaching one). It will put about 250 teachers out of business. If we are compelled to have separate schools, the standard of education must be maintained.

THE VIRGINIA BAPTIST CONVENTION held at Richmond on the 14th inst., broke off with Rev. Dr. the American Bible society and refused to use its publications. The trouble grew out of the printing by the Baptists of Bibles for the Asiatics in which the Greek word "baptize" was translated "dipped." The American Society contended for the translation "sprinkle" and refused to aid in the circulation of the Baptist Bibles.

PIETY SPEECHES is how the Christian World describes the addresses delivered in London by members of the National Council of the Nonconformist churches. The speakers were representatives of the Baptist and Congregational churches and the subject discussed was the Education Bill. Rev. Dr. Clifford was the principal speaker, and "his flaming address aroused the audience to hottest indignation against the House of Lords and the devices of the Archbishop of Canterbury," and which was "endorsed by roars of cheering."

In the other speeches such sentences as the following are reported as eliciting the warmest approval: "As long as the bishops remain in the House of Lords they have a legal right to do as they have done; the sooner they are cleared out of it the better." "The House of Lords if a gilded chamber that represents nobody but themselves." "Prize-giving in the House of Lords is a gilded chamber and should be abolished." "Don't be hood-winked. No more concessions." "Pitmen could be brought up to London more statesmanlike, more courteous and more sincere than the lords." "Clear the road and finish the business."

THE CONNEXIONAL IDEA is steadily growing regarding the need and advantage of which Rev. Dr. McLaren, of Manchester speaks thus: "I see," he continued, "that some of my younger revolutionary brethren have been talking a great deal about the New Testament primitive idea of all the congregations in one city being one church. I am not a revolutionary, but just because I am an old fogey I want to go back to the old original idea of a Christian Church, and that will never be reached until all the congregations of Baptists, at any rate, in our city are so united in heart and sympathy, regarding each other's property and adversity as their own."

THE METHODISTS. THE MISSIONARY BOARD of the Methodist Episcopal Church which met at Buffalo the other day voted $52,093 for foreign missions and $226,807 for home missions, for the year 1907-7.

THE BOARD OF METHODIST MISSIONS in Toronto yesterday, appointed the Rev. T. Ferrier, of Brandon, superintendent in the west of Indian schools and institutes, and Dr. Carman and Dr. Sutherland commissioners to visit Japan next spring.

REV. JOHN J. TEASDALE well and favorably known throughout the Maritime Provinces and a former pastor of Centenary church, has been engaged as assistant pastor of the Dundas street church, London, Ont. It is gratifying to learn his health has so far been restored that he is said to be preaching with much of his old-time vigor.

A MEMORIAL WINDOW in honor of the Rev. William Black of blessed memory is suggested to be placed in the new Methodist church at Amherst, as it was from that town he went forth on his great life work. It is thought that $500 will be sufficient.

THE WORLD'S S. S. CONVENTION will be held in Rome, in May, 1907. The regular sessions of the convention will be held afternoons and evenings. The mornings will be given to conferences, committee meetings, and institutions of work, in four languages—French, German, Italian and English. One of the features of the convention will be an exposition of Sunday school literature and appliances upon a mammoth scale, under the supervision of the Rev. C. R. Blackall, D. D., of Philadelphia. When the convention is over, these books, maps, charts, helps, and Sunday school appliances will be distributed, without price, to missionaries and others in need of such material.

A TEMPERANCE MEETING recently held in Halifax at which Prof. Sawyer was the principal speaker, called forth the following from the Maritime Baptist: "As an outcome of the labors of Mr. Sawyer in Kings county the Halifax Herald has committed itself to honesty in elections. The vote polled by Professor Sawyer opened the eyes of the press. The people are still honest. The good results of the work of the two men who stood for temperance and purity in elections, came largely of the stand taken by the ministers in the county, and their public and private outspoken advocacy of temperance and purity. When the ministers of the gospel in our country, towns and cities follow the example of the ministers of Kings county, temperance will triumph and bribery will be smitten to death."

FINAL FOR HIM; NOT FOR CHURCH

Crapsey Says He Will Not Make "Cowardly Retraction"

He Appeals From Those in Authority in the Church Itself to the Great Body of People

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Nov. 25.—Bowling to the will of the church, but refusing to make a "cowardly retraction" of the belief which induced the church to terminate his ministry, the Rev. Algernon S. Crapsey, rector of St. Andrew's Church of this city, today renounced his ministry in the Protestant Episcopal faith in a letter to Bishop Wm. D. Walker of the Western Diocese of New York. In this letter Dr. Crapsey reaffirmed his belief that the "motion of the origin of Jesus that a son of man was born without a human father is without foundation in history."

He also asserted that "when I say of Jesus that He ascended into Heaven, I do not mean and cannot mean that with His physical body of flesh, blood and bones, He floated into space and has for two thousand years—been existing somewhere in the sky, in that very physical body of flesh, blood and bones."

Declaring that he is about to carry the case to the free intelligence and enlightened conscience of the world, he counsels the "hundreds of clergymen and thousands of laymen in the Protestant Episcopal church who have received the same conviction" as he has not to be dismayed and to stay where they are.

"I appeal," he says, "from those in places of authority in the church itself to the great body of people." He asserted that he does not blame his judges and that, though he bows to their will and feels that it is final for him, he says:

"I am equally certain that it is not final for the church."
When the great tribunal of free thought has decided this contention, he adds, the men who administer the church of earth will conform to this decision.

"Having let go of the 'temporary and unstable interpretations of the gospel' he declares that he holds more firmly to the Gospel.

CHRISTIANITY THE SOLUTION OF PROBLEM

Strong Sermon by Rev. P. J. Stackhouse on Labor Question

Referred to the Alleged Employment of Children Under Fourteen in St. John Factories

(From Monday's Sun.)
"Christianity and the labor problem" was the subject of Rev. P. J. Perry Stackhouse's sermon last night. The preacher said that the problem was a moral one, the solution of which was to be found not in force, but in love.

He commenced by stating his opinion regarding labor unions, saying that though the unions had done much harm by ill-advised actions, yet much of the betterment of the condition of the working man is due to them.
It has been estimated that there have been a thousand strikes per year in the United States during the last year. In view of this one must be impressed with the seriousness of the labor problem. Socialism, toward which many look for the solution of the problem, is becoming stronger both in Europe and America. The figure of the socialist vote in the United States shows an immense increase between the latest general election and the one previous.

The church unfortunately is not looking upon the working men as their friend. But, whatever the failures of the church, we have in Christianity the only solution of the labor problem. Christianity stands for the dignity of labor, although there was a time when a man who did not work and yet his face unwashed was regarded as a saint.

Jesus put a crown on labor when he said, "My Father works and I work also." A man should regard all the work he does as God's work. A woman who thinks that looking after her children is as much God's work as running here and there attending religious meetings, has the right conception of the matter.

The church has overlooked the material side of religion. This feature of his work was emphasized by Christ. He fed the hungry and healed the sick, and characterized as the true Christian the man who does these things. The solution of the problem is not to be found in shorter hours or higher wages.

In St. John we have a compulsory school law and a factory law which prohibit the employment of children under fourteen. It is said that some factories in the city violate this law. The men who get rich by the sweat of children are guilty of a crime against childhood, and in the words of Christ it would be better for them if there was a mill stone hung around their necks and they were cast into the sea.

"You will never solve the labor problem by legislation or by force. In the recognition of the brotherhood of man we have the only solution."

ST. PAUL'S OUT OF PLUMB

London Cathedral Endangered by an Underground Railway Flood

LONDON, Nov. 24.—The architect to St. Paul's Cathedral has discovered that the southwest tower of the cathedral is leaning 13 inches to the south, and that its movement to the southward has by no means ceased.

The flooding of the underground railway in the vicinity of the cathedral has made constant pumping necessary. This operation, by withdrawing the moisture from the soil, has caused a gradual subsidence of the south side of Lurgate Hill and of St. Paul's churchyard.

The discovery probably will compel the abandonment of the proposed sewer near the cathedral. Experts say that the excavation for the sewer would materially increase the risk of further subsidences.

Nearly two years ago it was discovered that the cross which surmounted the dome of St. Paul's, nearly 400 feet above the ground, was three feet out of plumb. Mr. Howden, secretary of the London Association, then said:

"St. Paul's is built upon a foundation of pot earth, under which is a bed of water bearing gravel. Beneath that again is the London clay. The danger has been caused by the gravel bed sinking, owing to its moisture being withdrawn."

Ladies Auxiliary of Trinity Church Gave Him a Gold Cross, Set With Amethysts

Rev. Canon Richardson arrived in the city yesterday at noon from Fredrickton and left on the six o'clock train last night for Montreal and Toronto. An interesting presentation was made yesterday at a meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Trinity church, when the coadjutor bishop elect was presented with a magnificent pectoral cross of gold.

The presentation was made by Mrs. J. Morris Robinson, who read the following: "Rev. Canon Richardson, coadjutor bishop elect—We, the senior members, the Girls' Guild and the junior members of the Women's Auxiliary, also other members of the congregation, have sincerely pleased in presenting you with this cross adorned with a token of our love and esteem and high appreciation of your work amongst us, and we pray that God's blessing will rest upon you and prosper you in the new field of labor you are about to enter, and in any way the Trinity branch of the W. A. can assist you in your new sphere of work we will feel glad to be called upon."

"FANNY L. ROBINSON," "President."
The Episcopal Cross is a splendid piece of work in gold. Over the cross are wrought grape vines while at the extremities are amethysts representing the grapes, four at each of the points, and twelve at the base. In the centre of the cross is a plain circle of gold within which is engraved, "I. H. S." The cross bears the following inscription in the back "John A. Richardson, St. Andrew's Day, 1906. Presented by the W. A. of Trinity Parish."

Early today counsel for President Smith procured a transfer of the case from Judge Armstrong's division of the criminal court to Judge Ritchie's. After the noon recess, when the court room was deserted, President Smith went before Judge Ritchie, offered his plea, and the fine was imposed.

President Smith addressed the court, saying that his latest marriage occurred in 1890 and his marriages, since then, were entered into with the sanction of the church and, as he believed, with the approval of the Lord. According to his faith and the law of the church, the unions were eternal.

In the tacit general understanding that was had in 1890 and the years subsequent thereto regarding what were classed as the old cases of cohabitation, I have appreciated the magnanimity of the American people in not enforcing a policy that in their minds was unnecessarily harsh, but which assigned the settlement of this difficult problem to the onward progress of time.

"Since the year 1890 a large percentage of the polygamous families have ceased to exist, until now the number within the jurisdiction of this court is small, and marriages in violation of the law have been and are now prohibited. In view of this situation which has fixed with certainty a result that can be easily measured up, the family relations in the old cases of that time have been duly left undisturbed. So far as my own case is concerned, I, like others who had entered into solemn religious obligations, sought to the best of my ability to comply with all requirements pertaining to the trying position in which we were placed. I have felt secure in the protection of that magnanimous sentiment which was extended as an olive branch to those old cases of plural relations which came within its purview, as did mine.

"When I accepted the manifesto issued by President Wilford Woodruff, I did not understand that I would be expected to abandon and discard my wives. Knowing the sacred obligations which I had assumed by reason of these marriages, I have conscientiously tried to discharge the responsibilities attending them without being offensive to anyone. I have never flaunted my family relations before the public, nor have I felt a spirit of defiance against the law; but, on the contrary, I have always desired to be a law-abiding citizen.

"In considering the trying position in which I have been placed, I trust that your honor will exercise such leniency in your sentences as law and justice will permit."
Judge Ritchie imposed the maximum fine, but omitted the jail sentence of from one day to six months, which he might have imposed under the Utah statutes.

SIX DROWNED IN RAGING SEA ON LAKE ONTARIO

Barge Sank After Pounding in Narrow Channel—Crew Tried to Launch Boats, Which Were Upset by Huge Seas—Sailors Clung to Part of Cabin, Which Was Swept Away.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 22.—Steam barge Resolute, owned by Haney and Miller, contractors of this city, went down off Western Gap a few minutes before 5 o'clock this morning. Six of the crew were saved and six met death in the raging lake. The only body recovered was that of Thos. Topping, second engineer, whose home was in Deseronto. Those of the crew who were rescued were in an exhausted condition, and for a time it was thought that Mrs. Callaghan, the cook, who was brought ashore in one of the life boats, would not recover from the shock. Medical assistance was sought, and after a time she was able to go to the home of a friend. The wrecked vessel was built by the Rathburn Lumber Company in 1883, and was valued at $15,000. Haney and Miller bought her last year. They carried no insurance. The crew lost all their belongings. The Resolute, with the schooner E. P. L. Locke in tow, sailed from Erie, and about two o'clock Tuesday morning anchored outside the entrance to the western pier. The Resolute, which had a cargo of 450 tons of hard coal, was in charge of Captain John Sullivan, acting superintendent of Haney and Miller's fleet of vessels, and Captain John Fahey was bringing the vessel up the lake. The Locke, which was anchored near the Western Pier, has a cargo of 650 tons of hard coal and is in charge of Captain Barney McIntyre of Port Dalhousie. The drowned are John Harrison, chief engineer, Deseronto; Thos. Topping, second engineer, Deseronto; David White, deck hand, Prescott; Harry Gregory, fireman, Bath, England; John Barney, fireman, Port Colborne; Nels Nielsen, wheelman, Sweden. The saved are Captain John Sullivan, St. Catharines; Captain John Fahey, Toronto; Andrew Hicks, wheelman, Toronto; Michael Haney, mate, Port Dalhousie; Edward McBeth, deckhand, Toronto; Miss Lizzie Callaghan, cook, Toronto.

EXPLORER PEARY WARMLY GREETED ON HIS RETURN.

The Gallant Explorer and His Men in Excellent Health—The Roosevelt Shows Signs of a Trying Voyage—Some Particulars of His Trip.

SYDNEY, N. S., Nov. 23.—Immediately upon the arrival of the steamer Roosevelt at anchorage this morning, Commander Peary boarded a tug and came on shore to meet Mrs. Peary who has been waiting here for the last two weeks. He appeared in excellent health and no worse for his perilous excursion up north. Those who accompany him are also in the best of health and spirits. The steamer Roosevelt shows few of the marks of venture on her hull. Nevertheless she tells the tale of adventure in her condition, and the loss of much of her interior woodwork, ladders, beams, and almost everything movable having been sacrificed to keep the party warm. On board the steamer were sixteen Eskimau dogs, the tiny craft of the last Polaris which has been lying there for thirty years, and numerous other relics. Commander Peary still believes the Pole can be reached and the same opinion is expressed by Capt. Bartlett. Shortly after the dash for the pole at 84 degrees 34 minutes, a gale the equal of which had never been experienced by any other party, sprang up and lasted for eight days. This broke the connection between the supporting parties, and had Marvon and Clark been able to bring up supplies which would have lasted 125 days, Captain Bartlett had no doubt whatever that they would have reached the pole and would have returned to the point of meeting within forty days. Asked about explorer Nansen's theory of drifting into the pole, in four or five years, by reason of prevailing winds, Commander Peary says that there were great possibilities in the scheme, but not for a man of his temperament where much waiting and patience were required.

Dr. L. J. Wolf, medical officer, said that beyond a little rheumatic fever the health of the men was excellent and just as well, if not better preserved, than in this climate. Speaking of Commander Peary's exploit, he said that he had not the slightest doubt that the explorer's system was the best, and by following it the pole would be reached. He regards the gale which broke up communication as an atmospheric accident. The strike at Hopdale is confirmed by the crew, who insisted upon remaining at that port until the necessary repairs to the Roosevelt were effected. This was done, but the ship leaked almost as badly as before. The statement that the men were badly treated in the way of provisions is denied. Although provisions were short, the rations of two meals a day were not regarded as a hardship. Food which consisted chiefly of pemmican biscuit, condensed tea, and condensed milk was not only palatable but nourishing. The steamer met with her first accident on the way north when the tubes of two of her boilers blew out, and she was obliged to depend upon the third. Her worst experience was north of Lincoln Bay, early in July, shortly after the start for home when she was crushed in the ice floes, and lost her rudder. The crew of the Roosevelt will be paid off here, the Newfoundlanders leaving for home and the Americans following the fortunes of the ship to New York. Capt. Peary, accompanied by Mrs. Peary, will probably leave for New York tomorrow morning, by train.

CANADA WILL CANCEL PRESENT POSTAL AGREEMENT WITH U. S.

Postal Authorities Not Satisfied With Regulations Governing Exchange of Second-Class Mail Matter — Is Injurious to Trade Interests of the Dominion.

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—The Canadian postal authorities have abrogated the convention with the United States for the exchange of second class mail matter, thereby making a beginning toward the settlement of an old dispute. Many years ago it was agreed by the governments of the two countries that each should handle all the newspapers and other second class mail matter originating in the other country free of charge. This arrangement operated decidedly to the disadvantage of Canada, for not only did the United States offer Canada ten times the weight of newspapers Canada offered the United States, but the Americans threw open their second class to printed matter that in Canada was treated as advertising merchandise and only carried at the rate of eight cents a pound. As it originated in the United States, it came to Canada as second class matter and was carried at the rate of one cent or half a cent a pound according to circumstances. This was regarded as giving the Americans a privilege in Canada from which Canadians themselves were excluded, and it allowed a flood of advertising matter to come in which had the effect of diverting a considerable quantity of trade which would go to Canadians to firms on the other side of the line. Efforts to get the United States authorities to change the second class were not successful. It was therefore decided that Canada would cancel the convention after May first next. This will give the two countries opportunity to make necessary changes in the classification of their second class matter, and it is expected that an agreement will again be made for the exchange of newspaper mail matter on a more equitable basis. If the new agreement is not reached before the first of May all American publications will pay postage of eight cents a pound to enter Canada and Canadian publications will be at the same charge for admission to the United States.

(Associated Press Despatch.) WASHINGTON, Nov. 25.—The Post Office Department will be guided by Congressional legislation in dealing with the issue raised by the Canadian Government in abrogating the provisions of the postal convention between the two countries relating to second class matter which according to Canada's notice will expire May 1, 1907. This provision permits the transmission through the mails of periodical publications, which include newspapers at the rate of one cent per pound. A joint commission of the Senate and House of which Senator Penrose is chairman, has been engaged since October 1 in taking testimony covering the whole subject of second class mail matter, and as an outcome of the inquiry, the general expectation is that some legislation will be enacted. If no legislation is enacted, then the two governments will fall back of the international union postal rates when the provision in the existing treaty expires, unless in the meantime Canada comes forward with a new proposition for the consideration of this Government. The International Postal Union rate on second class matter is one cent for two ounces. For some time past the Canadian government has found fault with the construction placed on clauses of second class mail matter by this government when it came to the matter of its application for transmission through Canadian territory. Probably one hundred different periodicals which are transmitted through the United States mails at second class rates have been denied similar privileges in the Canadian mail service, although some of them were subsequently restored to the privilege. American periodicals which enjoyed a large circulation throughout Canada, which with their attractive advertisements, it is suggested at the post office department, have worked prejudicially to the trade interests of the Canadians, and to the periodicals published there.

MORE LANDS IN THE FAR WEST

Capt. Bernier Takes Possession of 14 Islands—Awaiting Arrival of Sealers to Collect Customs Dues Upon Their Trading Supplies

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 23.—Canada is now the official possessor of a lot more land in the far west. A report has been received from Capt. Bernier, in which he announces he has taken possession of fourteen Arctic islands in the name of the British king and the Canadian government. These islands he has set upon are Melville, Prince Patrick, Eglington, Emerald, Bryan, Martin, Bathurst, Cornwallis, Griffiths, Lowther, Young, Garrett, Russell, Davy and Bylot.

Captain Bernier reported from Pond's Inlet, Baffin's Bay, Nov. 22. He was awaiting the annual arrival of the sealers to serve upon them the notice that Canada was the proprietor of the north land and to collect customs dues upon their trading supplies. He proposed to winter at Pond's Inlet and to leave for the north next July. He was going to make his way toward Lincoln Island and Jones Sound. By spring half the coal supply would have been consumed. A house has been built at Pond's Inlet and 875 pounds of selected provisions had been left there. Landing at Erebus Bay Captain Bernier had restored the Franklin monument and restored the headstones about the men's graves. Captain Bernier wrote: "The Arctic is safe and sound and has done very well. It is not expected of her that she can pass through ice of several seasons' growth, but with time she can go through all right. The captain of the Dundee whaler said he would bring letters into Pond's Inlet before we leave here next spring."

McLaughlin Brothers have a large crew of men again logging at Westfield, Kings Co. Willard McMullen, purser of the steamer May Queen, passed through here today on his way from Chipman to James to join his vessel.

WILL CONTROL COBALT MINES

Properties Will be in Hands of Few Capitalists

TORONTO, Nov. 23.—The announcement that the United Cobalt Exploration Co. of New York had taken over Foster and other noted Cobalt properties is explanatory of the suspicion that has been abroad for several days that all leading silver properties of Northern Ontario will ultimately be controlled by a few large holding companies, if not actually by one dominated by Guggenheims. It is not said that the purchase is included in the purchases by the United Cobalt Company, but it is understood that C. J. McCuaig had had overtures made to him for the possession of this property and that his mission to New York during the week was in regard to the proposition. One prominent broker says he is satisfied that the Trethewey control has passed, and that if it was not gone to the United Cobalt Company then another big holding company had taken it in. Excitement among Toronto brokers will not be assuaged until the market opens Monday, when some indication of the vastness of financial formations now going on may be obtained. Altogether the company has bought 308 acres of land in the heart of the Temiskaming silver producing area. These properties represent some of the best producing mines and prospects that the camp possesses.

LITTLE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH

Mother Left Them Locked up Room Where They Started to Play With Matches

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—As a result of playing with matches little Louis Philippe Dupuis, two years of age, was burned to death in his home today, and in trying to extinguish the flames his little sister, Marie Annette, was so frightfully burned about the arms and body that no hope for her recovery is entertained by the physicians of Notre Dame Hospital. The little victims are the children of Philippe Dupuis, 301 Champlain street. They were alone in the house when the accident occurred, the mother having gone to the corner grocery for provisions and the father, who is a painter, was at his work.

ANDOVER, N. B., Nov. 20.—The trial of William Boyer of the Boundary Line for selling liquor without license was held before Police Magistrate McQuarrie on Friday, and resulted in Boyer being convicted and fined. This case has been before the court for some time. Early in the fall Inspector McRae seized his stock of liquor and it has been stored in Andover awaiting the result of the trial.

The funeral of the young man Adams, who was found dead in a shed at the rear of Mr. Carr's premises in Fort Fairfield, took place in the Episcopal burying ground on Tuesday last. The young man had been drinking on Sunday, and by some of his companions was put in this shed to avoid being taken by the police. Next morning he was found dead. No inquest was held. The sad intelligence has been received that the young son of W. Hugh Brown of Carleton Place was kicked by a horse yesterday and is lying in an unconscious condition with no hopes for his recovery. He was found by the side of the road. Dr. Pratt was called, but little hopes are held out for his recovery.

DEAD LEVEL LINE THROUGH MOUNTAINS

G. T. P. Route Maps From Edmonton Approved by Government—Bud get Thursday or Friday

OTTAWA, Nov. 25.—The government has approved the Grand Trunk Pacific route maps from Edmonton through the Yellow Head Pass. This is the line which will enable the construction of a dead level line through the mountains. The Canadian Northern had a route map through the same pass before the Minister of Railways on Saturday. Hon. Mr. Emmerson reserved his decision for the approval of this plan until it was investigated to see whether it would occupy the available room in the pass to the exclusion of other lines. It may be necessary eventually to compel all railways to use the pass over one set of rails. The debate on the address will be finished and the business of the house will be in such a position that the Finance Minister will be able to bring down the budget and disclose the new tariff on Thursday. It will certainly come down not later than Friday.

THE TAKING OVER OF NAVAL PROPERTIES

Conditions on Which Canada is to Take Charge—Admiralty Has Big Scope

OTTAWA, Nov. 22.—The conditions on which Canada takes over the royal naval properties at Halifax are as follows: Canada undertakes the keep of the buildings, machinery, plant and yards. The dockyards and other properties turned over are to be open at any time to the inspection of the commander-in-chief of the North American and West India and special reserve squadrons. The yards are to be available for the repairs of His Majesty's ships at any time so far as the facilities permit. The places where coal is now ordinarily stored are to be kept free for the storage of such admiralty stores of coal as may be required. Admiralty ships are to have access at any time to wharves and facilities for coaling. The admiralty reserves power to take over the dock yards in case of war or any other emergency of which the admiralty authorities are to be the judges. They reserve the right to re-enter into permanent possession of the dockyards when they regard doing so in the interest of the navy. The Dominion is to take full responsibility for the terms of occupation. The dockyards taken over have a value of more than three million dollars. The property extends along almost a mile of water front in Halifax harbor. There are about a dozen wharves, some of them of large size. There is the navy yard proper, a victualling yard, barracks, naval hospital and grounds, admiralty residence, recreation grounds. In all there are more than forty acres of ground. There will be no naval officials retained, but the property will be placed under the custody of the marine department agent at Halifax as a base for aids to navigation expeditions. Negotiations for the taking over of the Esquimaux yards are also in progress.

LOWER MORALS, SAID DR. SPROULE
Dr. Sproule declared that transac- tions in Western lands and the disclosures in the London election case indicated a lowering of the morals of the country. The evidence showed that no less than sixty-eight men had been bought at ten dollars a head to vote for Mr. Hyman. He held these expenditures could not have been made without the Minister of Public Works knowing what was going on. Where did the money for these purchases come from? It was a wonder the Governor-General had not taken cognisance of these things and asked for the resignation of his adviser. The result of the London election had been declared by the Prime Minister to be the endorsement of the Autonomy bills by Ontario. The investigation showed that the Liberal victory in London was due to something else than the autonomy bills. Those who had been guilty of political corruption had not been punished but had been in most cases rewarded.

Mr. Bourassa moved the adoption of the debate and will speak first on Monday. The House adjourned at 10:40. Mr. Crockett of Fredericton is asking if the re-survey of the two national transcontinental routes through New Brunswick have been completed, if the government has decided which is to be adopted. If the commissioners have recommended either route.

MONDAY'S SESSION.
OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The Conservatives in the house and senate today continued the attacks they began the first day of the session. The election was reflected on Mr. Preston's honor or honesty. Mr. Preston had been in politics a hard hitter and he was left bitterly pursued after he had left politics. Mr. Preston was a man of ability and one who pursued an object with great energy. The investigation had shown that Mr. Preston had not been able to agree with his staff. Therefore it had been deemed wise in the interest of immigration to remove him and he had been transferred to look after the Oriental trade interests of Canada.

The government had promised to call parliament in November. Parliament had been called in November. It had promised to have business ready. Business was ready. He had the authority of the Finance Minister for the statement that the budget would be brought down next week, probably on Friday.

If the opposition were willing to facilitate the work of law making there was no reason why the session should not be ended in the spring. The members should be in their homes when the robins were coming back.

MR. FOSTER TO THE FRONT.
Hon. Geo. E. Foster followed. He complained that parliament should have been called at the beginning instead of the end of the month. The enormous expenditure of the government was a man to give up his seat to be taken up in it. There was an elevator built at St. John at great cost, but it had not contributed much to Canada's commerce. There was a wharf at Hull, and it would be interesting to know how much commerce had gone across it.

HYMAN UNFIT FOR MINISTRY, HE SAYS.
The London election had been referred to by both the mover of the address and the Prime Minister. The latter had lightly referred to the fact that the Liberals had fought with the "devil's fire." Well, Mr. Foster knew one man at least who had been searching like the deuce. Sir Wilfrid had treated the London disclosures lightly. However, the London disclosures had been no light thing. They had resulted in the resignation of a minister of the crown if he had resigned. It seemed clear he was going to give up his seat, but the Prime Minister had urged him to remain in the government. Mr. Foster was of opinion that an offense which was serious enough to induce a man to give up his seat was serious enough to prevent a man acting as a minister of the crown. Mr. Foster held Mr. Hyman had no right to administer one dollar of public money until he had made his position good.

Mr. Foster charged the government with making use of public positions, judgeships, senatorships and other offices for the purpose of the party and to bribe men into influence their actions in elections. The time was ripe for a reform of public service. Men should be employed because they were needed and fitted for places they were appointed to.

ON THE TARIFF.
Mr. Foster said that the tariff which the Finance Minister would bring down shortly would be of the greatest importance to Canada. It would have a great deal to do with the continuance of Canada prosperity or with checking it.

Mr. Foster went over the argument that protected the farmer from the farmer, as it built up a domestic market. He hoped that the Finance Minister would hold to his declaration at Yarmouth that subsidies would disappear. Subsidies were all right as temporary stimuli, but a permanent policy they were improper. They ate a hole in the treasury fund without getting established on a permanent footing.

In conclusion, Mr. Foster referred to the fact that the insurance report had not yet come to parliament from the commission, though they had plenty of time. If the commission had put on more steam, had made fewer adjournments and less diversely in inquiry, the report would have been ready and laws could have been passed on the recommendations.

THE EVENING SESSION.
During the evening session Mr. Malden, of North York launched into the London election case. He said that someone was responsible for the election crimes. In the case of the London elections Mr. Hyman and the Liberal party were responsible for the crimes committed in London. Mr. Hyman knew this. That was the reason he resigned. Now it was thought proper to pass new laws to prevent political corruption. What was wanted was the enforcement of existing laws. It was proposed to make new insurance laws. However the offenses which the insurance companies had committed had been reported to the Finance Minister. He had not taken advantage of the law and compelled offending insurance companies to re-organize their methods. The Minister of Railroads had failed to re-organize the Grand Trunk Railway give the two cent rate which was required though his attention had been called to it. Again would he say that it was not new laws but enforcement of old laws that was required.

Mr. Malden said that the government from the throne had not indicated legislation to control telegraph and telephone rates, and compel interchange of business. There should be a law prohibiting the exportation of electric power, of copper and nickel and silver and other natural products. They should be made more of and treated to a finality in this country. If we did not the Americans would control the electrical energy, the copper mines and

United States, and its trade was only forty dollars per head. This was Canada's foreign trade. The internal trade, of which there was no record, was also great.

When Mr. Borden quoted with approval the counsel of ex-Deputy Finance Minister Courtney, Hon. Mr. Foster must have felt uncomfortable. When Mr. Foster controlled the expenditure he placed no check upon it, though the revenue was small. Now the government was blamed for spending, though it kept well within the revenue.

The government was charged with making large expenditures without producing great public works. Well, there was the new trans-continental railroad, there was the great bridge across the St. Lawrence at Quebec. Were these not great public works? Did the opposition want the government to build pyramids of Egypt or

MR. HYMAN'S RESIGNATION.
With regard to the London elections, I may say the matter will no doubt come up again. I may say now, Hon. Mr. Hyman has thought it advisable to resign his seat in consequence of what has happened in that election. But in the Toronto investigations, after all has been developed, everybody is glad to say, and I am proud to say, that not one word has been said against Mr. Hyman. The friends of Mr. Hyman know that he has taken the London matter very much to heart and come to the conclusion his sense of honor required him to resign his seat. To this conclusion I offered no objection. I thought he was entering a good thing, and I was satisfied with that. He tendered me his resignation as a member of the cabinet. I was not prepared to accept it. As he had been a victim and not an agent, and could not be reproached with any deceitful act, I thought he was carrying the thing too far in asking to be relieved of the duties which he was performing to the great satisfaction of his friends, and I think to the satisfaction of those who are not his friends. Therefore I asked Mr. Hyman to reconsider his determination. The matter is before him, and I expect to have an answer before long.

"Let us look into the matter a little further. Mr. Gibbons in his evidence threw a flood of light on the whole question. We know first of all that an election was held, which, according to evidence in the Toronto police court, was tainted with corruption, and it is somewhat remarkable that no protest was entered against it. It seemed that the sum of the whole offense was that the London Liberals had decided to adopt the Conservative practice and play with the devil's fire. As usual, the Liberals were the aggressors, though the Conservatives were direct enough to play with the devil's fire with impunity, when the poor Brits attempted to use it they got burnt.

INDISCRIMINATE ATTACKS CENSURED.
If he had been a Conservative he would hardly have mentioned the Queens-Sheburne election. It was hardly creditable on the part of the Conservatives to fasten upon Mr. Fielding an offense he had never committed. The constituency of Queens-Sheburne had given their verdict on the Conservative action in this matter. It was small business of Mr. Borden to charge Mr. Fielding with the offense of making federal office-holders his representatives in the election with power of attorney. Everybody who ran an election knew that he had to sign powers of attorney by his agents without knowing into whose hands they were going. That was the case in Queens-Sheburne.

Mr. Borden had read a letter written by Walter Scott, and had read into the incorrect meaning that he (Sir Wilfrid) had advised Lieut. Governor Forget not to call Mr. Haultain as premier of Saskatchewan.

Sir Wilfrid said he had never given Lieut. Governor Forget the slightest hint of direction of advice. He had only said that he had advised his friends in the past that Mr. Haultain had taken an improper position and was not worthy of their confidence.

The name of W. E. R. Preston had been mentioned. Mr. Borden had asked as to his present position. There had been an inquiry last year into the conduct of Mr. Preston. Not one fact had been brought out which in any ada was spending too fast. That was a warning of which the government would do well to take heed. Referring to the tariff Mr. Borden said that it was no use for Mr. Pardee to complain because agricultural interests were now asking for free trade. The Liberals when in opposition had taught them to make these demands. He reviewed the attitude of Sir Richard Cartwright and other leaders of the Liberal party, and to Sir Wilfrid's statement that the head of the Liberal ship was pointing toward the open sea of free trade.

FIELDING ATTACKED.
Mr. Borden said he had not made in campaigns any statements concerning electoral corruption in Hon. Mr. Fielding's election which the evidence had not justified. He carefully read the evidence before making a remark on the subject. Mr. Fielding had unjustly accused the Conservative party of unfairly criticizing the irregularities in this election and he had not given a fair statement of the case at Montreal. Mr. Fielding had violated the law in paying election expenses to Farrell, who was not his agent. Farrell's health had conveniently faded so he had to go to the United States and could not appear at the trial. An incident in the election was the fact that the two gentlemen who were public servants of the federal government, were appointed by Mr. Fielding to act, and they did act as his agents at two polls at the election. A similar accusation was made last year and Sir Wilfrid had the London elections had been referred to by Mr. Pardee, otherwise he would not have mentioned it, as he did not intend to say anything on the subject until the election was over. After the London election certain Liberal members attached to his, the chief Conservative whip's and the Conservative members' doors, a certain description with a piece of crepe attached, who was wearing crepe to-day? Mr. Borden asked.

"I may say that crepe has been preserved and is at the disposal of the gentlemen desiring it." Mr. Borden denied the charge made by Hon. Mr. Aylesworth that the fires of sectarian strife had been lighted by opponents of the government in the contest in Quebec county. If Mr. Robetaille had at the age of 23 been able to dig the grave of British institutions, as charged, he was a remarkable young man, though he might not have shown very good taste.

INFORMATION WANTED ABOUT LAND DEALS.
Mr. Borden wanted to know about 100,000 acres of land that Mr. Oliver had apparently sold to the Southern Alberta Irrigation Co. The gentlemen interested seemed to have the prospect of making a very good thing out of these lands so the country would be the benefit of the investment. Mr. Borden referred to the case of Mr. Preston and wanted to be informed as to his present position in the government's service. He wanted to know why the vacant place on the Nova Scotia supreme court bench had not been filled.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he could not often agree with the leader of the opposition, but he could heartily join with him in congratulating the mover and seconder of the address. The past year had been a phenomenal one for Canada. The elements had been kind. Providence had been good. Canada's trade had increased by leaps and bounds. On the first of July last the trade of Canada had grown to five hundred million dollars. This was larger per head than that of any other country. Canada's trade was ninety dollars per head, while next comes the crossed from $224,000,000 to $470,000,000, or by 109 per cent. Railways have lengthened from fifteen to twenty thousand miles. Railway freight increased from 214 million to 59 million tons, or by 138 per cent.

Now is the time of Canada's opportunity, and expenditure must be made to make it go forward. So long as expenditure is as wise and prudent as it has been under the present government it will continue to be for the growth of the country.

The tariff was the reason for calling the session early. The tariff was a great question in Canada. It affected all classes and all individuals. The tariff should be made for the benefit of all classes in the country. The manufacturers' Association were pressing for higher duties, while the agricultural organizations were in favor of a lowering of the tariff barriers. The government should hold middle ground between extremists, but the agricultural interest being the predominant one in Canada their claims should be regarded as predominant in framing the new tariff.

The speech mentioned changes in the election law. Both parties in Canada had made election laws and both had broken them. However, both parties and all candidates desired clean elections and would favor the making of laws for the most stringent laws for the purpose.

The insurance investigation had been referred to. Life insurance was not an investment, but a protection. In- surance companies were the trustees of the funds of widows and orphans, and the government should be taken in their investments. He hoped that the government would bring down a measure and show the income and expenditure of insurance companies and the state of their investments to government examiners and to the public.

MR. HYMAN COMMENTED.
Speaking of Mr. Hyman, Mr. Pardee said he had done the honest and straightforward thing in tendering his resignation. From the nature of the man he could not have done otherwise, though the law did not require it and if the case had been a protest against the London election, there had been no evidence brought out at the Toronto inquiry which would have vacated the seat. Mr. Hyman's action had been voluntary, honest and straightforward, and just what everyone who knew him would have expected of him. It proved him to be just the sort of a man the house thought him to be.

In conclusion Mr. Pardee congratulated Sir Wilfrid Laurier upon his sixty-fifth anniversary and upon the ability to dig the grave of British institutions, as charged, he was a remarkable young man, though he might not have shown very good taste.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER.
R. L. Borden congratulated the movers upon the eloquence they had displayed, though he could not endorse all their statements. Mr. Pardee had made a sweeping endorsement of the growth of the expenditure. However, the country would accept this with some hesitation when it was remembered that Mr. Pardee had last session defended the extravagant and improper expenditure of the Arctic expedition. It would, of course, have been a calamity to the country if the expedition had never gone out. Mr. Pardee had spoken of the growth of railway traffic. He might have mentioned that while the business of railroads had increased the deficits on the government railway had doubled.

Mr. Borden was glad to see a reference to improvement in election laws in the speech. He had made a move in a similar direction last session, and a committee had been appointed. However, its report was not as full as he should have liked to have seen it, and no law had been the result. The opposition would co-operate with the government this year in improving the election law.

Mr. Borden could not endorse the claim of Mr. Pardee that all of the great expenditure of the present government had been for the benefit of the country. The man who for many years had been Deputy Minister of Finance, as soon as he had been in a position to speak, had declared Canada was spending too fast. That was a warning of which the government would do well to take heed. Referring to the tariff Mr. Borden said that it was no use for Mr. Pardee to complain because agricultural interests were now asking for free trade. The Liberals when in opposition had taught them to make these demands. He reviewed the attitude of Sir Richard Cartwright and other leaders of the Liberal party, and to Sir Wilfrid's statement that the head of the Liberal ship was pointing toward the open sea of free trade.

The Parliament Buildings.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The session was formally inaugurated today by the Governor General. The indispensable preliminaries were gone through with and the desks cleared for the parliamentary action which will begin tomorrow in the debate upon the address in reply to the speech from the throne.

The most interesting feature of the day was the announcement of the resignation by Hon. Charles Hyman, of his London seat. The resignation had been foreseen and was expected, though hardly at this date. Mr. Hyman's letter announcing his intention reached the speaker this morning.

Another interesting feature of the day was the extraordinarily large attendance of members of both houses. Not only were the members numerous, but never before were so many of their wives and daughters seen at the opening formalities. There is every indication that the members have prepared for a siege. Many of them have taken leases of furnished houses for six months and will live with their families instead of boarding, as in the past. The anticipated length of the session has made this desirable, and the increase in the seasonal indemnity has enabled them to bear the extra expense which is necessary to secure this additional comfort in the business of law-making.

A good deal of legislation is foreshadowed in the speech from the throne. After the commons returned from the senate chamber, where the Governor General had delivered the speech, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who was supported by his supporters as he entered. The first business was the introduction by him of the formal bill respecting oaths of office, to show that the business of the people could be attended to before that of the session.

NEW MEMBERS INTRODUCED.
Hon. Mr. Fielding was the first of the newly elected members to be introduced. He came in between Sir Wilfrid and Sir Frederick Borden and took his seat amid great Liberal cheering.

John Toimie, member for North Bruce, was introduced by Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Aylesworth. Joseph Demers, member for St. Johns and Iberville, was introduced by Sir Wilfrid and Hon. Mr. Brodeur. There were cheers from the Liberal side, as each of these was presented. There were Opposition cheers when two newly elected Conservative members were introduced. The first, David Marshall of Elgin, who was introduced by R. D. Borden and Mr. Blain of Peel. Gerald White was introduced by R. L. Borden and Conservative whip, George Taylor. Last of all came the new independent Liberal member from Quebec county, A. Robitaille, who was introduced by Hon. Bourassa and Mr. Laforge. There was Opposition applause on his presentation.

MR. HYMAN'S RESIGNATION.
Speaker Sutherland stated that he had received a note from the member for London stating that he desired to resign his seat. The resignation was not in regular form, but he thought it well to communicate it to the house. There is a regular form which a member signs on resigning. It is understood that Hyman will do this at once and that the constituency of London will be declared vacant without delay.

The commons adjourned until tomorrow afternoon, when Mr. Pardee will move the address in reply to the speech from the throne and Mr. Demers will second.

It is expected that the budget will be brought down as soon as the debate on the address is concluded. The length of this depends on the opposition. It will probably be through out next week. The senate adjourned until Monday evening, when Senator Jaffry will move the address and Senator Roy of Edmonton will second.

MR. FOSTER TO FACE THE MUSIC.
Hon. Geo. E. Foster was in his place in the front row of the opposition seats, next to R. L. Borden. He had a new Derby hat on, and wore it at a jaunty and challenging angle. He smiled more than in his habit, and had altogether the air of a man preserving a good appearance pending the return of the jury. There is a good deal of curiosity as to whether the Conservative caucus will put him up as the financial expert to reply to Mr. Fielding this year.

George W. Fowler was not in his place and neither was William Brunet, whose names have been associated with that of Mr. Foster in recent press comments.

Mr. Laforge, another of the syndicate, got a few ironical cheers as he came in, indicating that the government side is prepared to bring up the Forester land transactions at the earliest moment.

while the Liberals declare he would win in a walk.

NOTICES OF MOTIONS
A big batch of notices of motions have been given which contain an indication of the media of the lines on which the opposition propose to operate.

Mr. F. O. Monk will again introduce his bill to permit the incorporation of industrial and co-operative societies. Mr. Col. Sam Hughes has given notice of a motion favoring the opening of a waterway from Cobekook to the head waters of the Gull River.

He has another in favor of "A full partnership union between Great Britain and her Colonies." A third favors the submission of a memorial praying for an amendment to the B. N. A. act that will prevent the representation of the Maritime Provinces being less than they had on entering federation.

FOSTER ASKS ABOUT LAND DEALS
Mr. Foster has some aggressive inquiries on the paper. He asks the positions Messrs. W. T. R. Preston and Mr. Wagner have in the employment of the Government, and the amount of their salaries. He wants the correspondence between Australia and Canada with reference to preference. He asks for full information with reference to the sale of 300,000 acres of land in the Province of Alberta to the Robins Irrigation Company.

Finally he asks for correspondence relating to the provisioning of the Govt. steamer Kistrel in 1905. Mr. Hughes, of P. E. I. will move for the submission of a memorial praying for an amendment to the B. N. A. act that will prevent the representation of the Maritime Provinces being less than they had on entering federation.

HYMAN RESIGNS PORTFOLIO TOO
MONTREAL, Nov. 22.—La Presse states today that Hon. Charles H. Hyman, the Minister of Public Works, forwarded his resignation of his portfolio to the Premier this morning, and also states that he will resign his seat as member for London.

FRIDAY'S SESSION.
OTTAWA, Nov. 23.—The second day of the session induced some electric sparks from the parliamentary atmosphere. The prophecy of a fighting session is likely to be realized, more like that of the hope of the Prime Minister that the members and the robins will arrive at home together.

The most interesting development of the day was the announcement that Mr. Hyman had tendered his resignation as Minister of Public Works as well as his seat. Sir Wilfrid said he had urged Mr. Hyman to withdraw his resignation from the government and was waiting to hear from him.

The debate upon the address has well begun and should be concluded early in the week. The budget and the tariff will probably be brought down by Mr. Fielding on Friday.

The opposition is losing no time in attempting to make capital out of the London election investigation. It was the main theme with all the Conservative speakers except the opposition leader. He satisfied himself with a sarcastic reference to it.

George E. Foster, who may expect to hear some personal criticism before the session is over, adopted the bold tone and condemned Mr. Hyman and the London campaign. He also regretted that the insurance commissioners had been so discouraging they had not been able to make their report to parliament yet. It was noticeable that there were no Conservative cheers for Mr. Foster during his speech.

Mr. Bourassa will be the first speaker on Monday. He wants the Minister of Justice to hear him, and today Mr. Aylesworth was in Toronto.

THE DEBATE ON THE ADDRESS.
Mr. Pardee of Lambton moved the address in reply to the speech from the throne. All could rejoice in the general and widespread prosperity which existed in Canada. All the members of the house would probably not agree, though he maintained that this prosperity was largely due to the wise expenditures by the present government. The Conservatives had gone so far as to chide the government with being recreant to its trust in increasing the expenditures. Mr. Pardee declared this charge would not stand, as the expenditure had increased only in proportion to the growth of the country. Though the expenditure had advanced from forty-two to seventy-eight millions under this government the net debt of the Dominion had been reduced by three dollars a head. We spend eighty-three and three-quarters per cent. more than in 1888, but the development justifies it. Imports have increased from $110,000,000 to $226,000,000. Exports have increased from $113,000,000 to $203,000,000. The aggregate trade in-

Speaking of Mr. Hyman, Mr. Pardee said he had done the honest and straightforward thing in tendering his resignation. From the nature of the man he could not have done otherwise, though the law did not require it and if the case had been a protest against the London election, there had been no evidence brought out at the Toronto inquiry which would have vacated the seat. INFORMATION WANTED ABOUT LAND DEALS.
Mr. Borden wanted to know about 100,000 acres of land that Mr. Oliver had apparently sold to the Southern Alberta Irrigation Co. The gentlemen interested seemed to have the prospect of making a very good thing out of these lands so the country would be the benefit of the investment. Mr. Borden referred to the case of Mr. Preston and wanted to be informed as to his present position in the government's service. He wanted to know why the vacant place on the Nova Scotia supreme court bench had not been filled.

THE OPPOSITION LEADER.
R. L. Borden congratulated the movers upon the eloquence they had displayed, though he could not endorse all their statements. Mr. Pardee had made a sweeping endorsement of the growth of the expenditure. However, the country would accept this with some hesitation when it was remembered that Mr. Pardee had last session defended the extravagant and improper expenditure of the Arctic expedition. It would, of course, have been a calamity to the country if the expedition had never gone out. Mr. Pardee had spoken of the growth of railway traffic. He might have mentioned that while the business of railroads had increased the deficits on the government railway had doubled.

Mr. Borden was glad to see a reference to improvement in election laws in the speech. He had made a move in a similar direction last session, and a committee had been appointed. However, its report was not as full as he should have liked to have seen it, and no law had been the result. The opposition would co-operate with the government this year in improving the election law.

THE PREMIER SPEAKS.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he could not often agree with the leader of the opposition, but he could heartily join with him in congratulating the mover and seconder of the address. The past year had been a phenomenal one for Canada. The elements had been kind. Providence had been good. Canada's trade had increased by leaps and bounds. On the first of July last the trade of Canada had grown to five hundred million dollars. This was larger per head than that of any other country. Canada's trade was ninety dollars per head, while next comes the

MR. BOURASSA ON THE WAR-PATH.

In resuming the debate upon the speech from the throne Henri Bourassa referred to the fact that a large volume of immigration was coming in. He thought the government should now make a better selection of immigrants and give Canada quality as well as quantity. He was surprised that the colonial conference to be held in the spring had not been noted in the speech.

Mr. Bourassa took up a speech by Hon. Mr. Aylesworth at Charlottetown, in which he charged Mr. Bourassa with having in the Quebec county campaign lighted the fires of sectarian hatred, and that those who rejoiced in the victory were rejoicing in a step toward digging the grave of British institutions in Canada.

Mr. Bourassa said it hardly became a minister of the crown to make a libelous political capital for his candidate in an Ontario constituency by denouncing him. Mr. Bourassa said that he was as much a member of the Liberal party as was Mr. Aylesworth. He had been an active worker for a long time. Quebec the position he took was that the people should have the right to select their own candidate and not have one forced upon them.

Mr. Bourassa asked if he could be charged with disloyalty for his position on the South African war. He took the same position that the British Liberals had taken, though a more moderate one. He took the same position that the leader of the Conservative party, Sir Charles Tupper, had taken, and the same position the leader of the Liberal party, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, had taken, ten days before the government had seen fit to reverse its position. Could he be charged with disloyalty for sticking to the policy of the Liberal party after the leaders of the party had decided to abandon it.

He did not think he could be charged with disloyalty to his party and chief. His attitude on the autonomy bills. He had not been as unreasonable or as disloyal to his chief as had been Hon. Mr. Sifton, who resigned, or the finance minister, who had threatened to resign.

It is because he had advocated the selection of immigrants and the placing of the best men on the western lands that he had been denounced. He thought not. The North Atlantic Trading Company and the Canadian War Values Loan Company were largely the "British institutions" he was charged with digging the grave of. None of these things had been referred to in the Quebec campaign. Sir Wilfrid had the right to object to any of the Liberal candidates, but he preferred Mr. Amyot because he had been the "choice" of the convention. The campaign run by Mr. Amyot's friends might have been the only vote for Bourassa was a vote for Bourassa, whose father had died a Protestant, and whose uncle had failed to pay his dues to the church.

Here were first of all the names of the candidates referred to as having been lighted in Quebec county. It was false as to fact and bad as to politics to claim in Ontario that there was in Quebec a young nationalist institution which aimed to destroy British institutions in Canada. Mr. Bourassa took Sir Wilfrid to witness that he had never in a Quebec campaign appealed to race or religion or inviolent against British institutions. The Montreal Herald was the one government paper that had done his and his friends justice in their position.

When he came out as a candidate twelve years ago he had done it on the condition that he would retain his freedom of action in the party. When he was no longer retained he would cease to be a candidate.

FOSTER ATTACKED.

Emmanuel Devlin of Wright, who followed, said the feature of the session so far had been Hon. Geo. E. Foster's sermon on political morality. In view of certain revelations that had taken place during recess Mr. Foster's preaching on Friday had rather taken away the breath of the members. Mr. Foster had referred to the resignation of Hon. Mr. Hyman. There had been shown, it was true, that some votes had been purchased in that constituency. Though he came from Quebec, Mr. Devlin said he hesitated to believe that any Ontario constituency could be bought as it was charged London had been. Though he had a legal right to retain his seat, Mr. Hyman had resigned it. Why had he done so? Because he was an honorable man and declined to sit in the house under the slightest stain. Would Geo. E. Foster do the same thing? Mr. Devlin thought not. There was a growing feeling among a large number of people in Canada that Mr. Foster should again submit himself to the electors to see if he still had their confidence and if they approved of his recent actions.

The opposition had announced that this was to be a fighting session. Well let the opposition come on with their cohorts. Before the campaign had progressed it would be found that some of their leaders would be missing.

Mr. Devlin congratulated the minister of labor for the prompt manner in which his officers had offered their services toward the settlement of the Buckingham trouble. Mr. Cocksbutt declared himself in favor of mutual reciprocity between Canada and the mother country. He regretted the government had not done more to promote it. The government seemed to have been indifferent in negotiation with Australia for better trade relations. Mr. Hyman was out of the house because of his political sins. The Liberals charged that the Conservative political practices were as bad as those of the government supporters. Mr. Cocksbutt asked if the Conservatives had invented the trick ballot. If they had used the thin red line, if they had made returns for polling division where no ballots were cast or if they had bought whole constituencies. He claimed not. Mr. Hyman's election was, not as supposed, Ontario's endorsement of the autonomy bills, but the result of purchase money judiciously distributed.

Mr. Clement of West Kent called the attention of the house to the fact that "recently" an all field of great importance had developed in this constituency. He also called attention to habit of the River Thames of flooding. Chatham and asked for a diverting ditch. E. B. Osier, said the last by-election in the first time votes had been bought in London. In 1874, Sir John Carling had been beaten by Mr. Walker, a Liberal, who had evidently been playing with the devil's fire, for it was shown that for every vote that had been cast for him $7 had been paid. Mr. Walker had been unseated and disqualified, but had been rewarded by the grateful Liberals, who had appointed him to the highest office in the constituency.

Mr. Carling had run fourteen election in London and had never been protested or charged with corrupt practices. The only way to cure the practices of the Grits was to turn them out of office.

Mr. Boyce of Algoma referred to the resignation of Mr. Hyman with a good deal of satisfaction. Mr. Devlin had said this was going to be a fighting session, but from the speech this afternoon by Mr. Bourassa, it would seem that the fight was going to be in the ranks of the Liberal party. Mr. Boyce was glad to see in the speech that the laws were to be enacted to cure political corruption. The Governor General had referred to the unparalleled prosperity in this country. He might well have referred to the unparalleled and widespread condition of political corruption in Canada. Mr. Boyce charged the Liberals with being responsible for it. He accused them of making use of false lists, false ballots, false ballot boxes, and false returns.

EVENING SESSION.

Continuing after dinner Mr. Boyce said Mr. Hyman could not escape the dark blot of London. It was unbecoming in a man who had only been in the house three years to assail a man who had served the public time as long as Mr. Foster had. He should have awaited for the insurance commission to report before referring to it.

Alex. Johnstone, Cape Breton, said he did not think the public would be interested in the character of the present government elevator would be a monument of idleness until the C. P. R. made, use of St. Dr. Stockton said he had been prevented last season putting the circular in the hands of the public, for which the Arctic party had paid $1.25 a pound was not worth more than 25 cents in pounds in the open market. The government proposed election law referred to in the circular was the Queens-Shelburne case where the Finance Minister had been unseated. His solicitor had placed all sorts of technical delays in the way of the verdict. The law might be amended to correct this. Mr. Farrell for services rendered in a previous election: It was held the payment had been made to retain his services for the election under trial. The courts' action in this regard was a point to be noted in amending the law.

Continuing after dinner, Dr. Stockton again condemned the practices shown in London. He held that no established that votes had been stolen. It was discreditable to parliament that a Liberal member should bring up a document which had been proved to be a forgery. This was the circular sent out to Conservative organizers. That document had been discredited and should not be heard of again in parliament.

Mr. Johnston had been beaten in Kings, New Brunswick, when the polls closed, but was found to be elected next morning. The intimation was that the ballots had been tampered with.

Dr. Stockton said that it had been established that this report was false. The election had been honestly won. Mr. Johnston might have gone further into the electoral history of Kings and might have been about putting 400 fraudulent names on the Rothesay division list. That had been done by Liberals who had been rewarded by appointment to office.

Dr. Stockton made an extensive review of Liberal electoral shortcomings all over Canada since confederation. In some countries destiny was guided by bullets. In Canada it was desired that ballots should be honest. He promised Conservative aid to interfere unduly in Colonial affairs was shown by the action in the New Hebrides where "New Zealand" and Japan had been by the action in Natal where the Imperial Government had to recede from its position.

TUESDAY'S SESSION.

OTTAWA, Nov. 27.—The two houses of parliament today concluded the debate upon the address. In the commons it was adopted after three days' debate. The senate did it in one day less. In both houses a good deal was said today about electoral corruption. Almost every case of political irregularity since confederation was paraded as a horrible example. There were charges and counter charges, but the speakers on both sides argued that the electoral law should be improved and enforced. The government took Thursday for the budget.

At the opening of the sitting of the house today, Sir Wilfrid told George Taylor that Hon. Mr. Fisher was acting minister of public works.

Archie Campbell of York, resuming the debate on the address, declared the opposition were acting shamefully in trying to magnify the importance of the London disclosures. A powerful government with any amount of funds to employ in any way, not as supposed, Ontario's endorsement of the autonomy bills, but the result of purchase money judiciously distributed.

Mr. Clement of West Kent called the attention of the house to the fact that "recently" an all field of great importance had developed in this constituency. He also called attention to habit of the River Thames of flooding. Chatham and asked for a diverting ditch. E. B. Osier, said the last by-election in the first time votes had been bought in London. to the seriousness of the situation. It was at a loss to know just what to do. Although there were other sources of supply in the West, the Lethbridge mine was of the best quality and the settler had depended upon them for fuel. The government had provided police protection to enable the mines to be worked and about five hundred tons a day were being produced. If the transportation facilities were adequate, this should prevent tense suffering on the part of the settlers though that was not an adequate solution of the difficulty. Suggestions as to the solution of the problem would be welcomed.

Mr. Borden thought this was a case where the government would be justified in taking possession and operating the mines. He understood there was some difference of opinion between the federal and provincial government as to which should take this action. Sir Wilfrid said there had been no such proposal. He did not think the time had come for the government to take possession of private property. He thought the common law should be sufficient. It was probable the strike was at an end and the miners would again be at work.

The house adjourned at 3.30 p. m. In the senate Hon. Mr. Scott said he could not agree with Senator Loughheed that Providence unaided had given Canada the prosperity that had come with the Liberal government. The government had done something to help.

Mr. Loughheed had hardly been justified in stating that the Liberals had promised free trade and had practiced protection, and that the new tariff would embody high tariff principles. The government had never promised free trade. The Liberal party had and still had its aim in the direction of lower tariff.

The Conservatives had established a record in introducing Free Trade without destroying vested interests. All the Liberal Government had said it would do or had attempted to do was to modify the high protection of Conservatives and bring the tariff towards a revenue basis.

Mr. Loughheed should not be so certain about the coming tariff being so extreme. Mr. Scott would not go into the tariff but he would be of no breach of confidence to say that it would not be a high protective tariff. The last tariff had been a step toward lower duties and the British preference was a considerably further step.

The fact that the Government favored clean elections and wanted the best Act that could be obtained. Senator Loughheed had intimated that the British Government had not been justified in the action it had taken in the matter of the New Zealand modus vivendi. Here Mr. Scott said that he had looked carefully into the matter and thought the British Government had made only one mistake, that was in not making what assistance was possible to the miners who were forbidden by the statutes of Canada and Newfoundland. The United States evidently had recognized this mistake for the Americans had, under some pressure no doubt, agreed to make arrangements for these rights given to them under the modus vivendi.

Senators McMillan and Coffey spoke and the address was adopted.

WEDNESDAY'S SESSION.

OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—In the senate today Sir Mackenzie asked why in the contract with the Elder-Dempster company for service to steamers carrying cargo from Cuba to Canada, as Cuba was a competing country, Canada would probably object to the boats calling at Cuban ports on the northward voyage.

Sir Richard Cartwright said that Mexico furnished half the subsidy for the service and objected to steamers carrying cargo from Cuba to Canada, as Cuba was a competing country. Canada would probably object to the boats calling at Cuban ports on the northward voyage.

Mr. Fisher said that in respect to the charges referred to had been taken under Dominion statute in that behalf it would have been the duty of the attorney-general of Canada under the revised statute of Canada to have the local authorities in the due prosecution of the accused. Proceedings of a different character having been instituted, and no assistance having been requested by the public to prosecute, none had been offered.

F. D. Monk moved for a return of water powers on Soulange and Lachine canals and relating to the alienation of water powers in the vicinity of Montreal where there was water power to supply ample electrical energy for the largest industrial need of the Dominion, but owing to a monopoly concession had to pass for thirty to forty per cent, more for power than it cost in Toronto, where coal was used to generate, and there the company had a twenty per cent, dividend. It was of importance the government should have a policy on the disposal of water power. It was reported the government had alienated the power on the Beauharnois Canal to obtain control of a big French paper.

Hon. Mr. Fisher said that as far as the Beauharnois Canal was concerned the powers had not been alienated. The whole question of water powers was under the government's consideration. Mr. Monk wanted to know if any proposals to alienate had been received. Mr. Fisher said there had been applications for power from many enterprises.

Mr. W. F. McLean advocated government ownership of water powers. The government should have the right to adjust the charges for all powers from time to time.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he saw no reason why water powers should not be vested in municipal authority, but he would not care to have the care of distribution of electrical energy added to the work of the Federal Government already had. That was a matter of private enterprise. It was not for the government to take over water powers as far as it could be vested in municipal authority.

Water powers could be disposed of by public auction or directly through applications. His policy, Sir Wilfrid said, was to see that the power was kept out of our hands from such sources as will enable us to determine at what price electrical energy shall be distributed to the public. The question of prohibiting exportation of electrical power was under consideration.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth told Colonel

Sam Hughes that the government had received a report that Canadians had been arrested by the Uruguayan officials on a charge of seal poaching. They had been taken in small boats within the three mile limit while pulling for the shore, having lost touch with their schooner in a fog. The Canadian government proposed to see that the men were represented by counsel when brought before the courts of Uruguay. He did not think he should be required to answer Col. Hughes' question as to whether the government proposed to send the Canadian navy to effect the release of the men.

Mr. Chisholm of Huron was told by Hon. Sydney Fisher that the government had investigated the condition of packing houses in Canada and had found them satisfactory. He did not think it wise to table the report, as it contained much of a confidential nature.

Mr. Brabazon was told by Mr. Fisher that the government was taking steps to locate life-saving stations along the coast of P. E. I. The places where the stations were to be located had not yet been decided upon.

Dr. J. W. Daniel was told by Hon. Mr. Brodeur that the transportation commissioner had recommended the deepening of the entrance to St. John harbor. The government has the matter under serious consideration.

Hon. Mr. Fielding informed Mr. Wilfrid Laurier that the amount of $576,600 has been exported. Commission paid to the banks for collecting it amounted to $2,174 and excess charges to $4,200. The question of continuing the exportation was under consideration.

Mr. Smith of Nanaimo was told by Mr. Oliver that 2,198 Hindus had entered Canada by way of British Columbia and 125 had been excluded as medically unfit. Canada does not contribute to the maintenance of impoverished immigrants, and there is direction in the Immigration Act for the refusal of admission to "people coming without means of support, and immigrants who within two years of arrival become public charges." He was departed.

Hon. Mr. Aylesworth told E. L. Borden that the vacancy on the Nova Scotia supreme bench was caused by the appointment of D. C. Fraser as lieutenant governor of that province. The vacancy had not suffered through the resignation, as there were six active judges on the bench.

Hon. Mr. Brodeur stated that the government had no information that J. E. Blair of Liverpool and J. O. Campbell of Port Houlton, government employees, acted as scrutineers and agents of Hon. W. S. Fielding in the recent election in Queens-Shelburne. If they acted without the authority of Mr. Fielding he followed the usual practice of signing a number of powers-of-attorney in blank for the election, and it was possible they had acted under them without his knowledge.

Mr. Blair and Campbell, who were federal authorities are rendering toward bringing to justice those who illegally took part in the recent London election.

Mr. Aylesworth replied that if the local proceedings in respect to the charges referred to had been taken under Dominion statute in that behalf it would have been the duty of the attorney-general of Canada under the revised statute of Canada to have the local authorities in the due prosecution of the accused. Proceedings of a different character having been instituted, and no assistance having been requested by the public to prosecute, none had been offered.

Stirn Struggling Over the Ontario Bank Failure

Peterboro to Have Big Carpet Factory—Stolon Letters Found in a Hotel.

TORONTO, Ont., Nov. 27.—Formal application was made before Judge Winchester this morning by the attorney for an order empowering a commission to visit New York city and secure evidence from brokers there as to speculations of Charles McGill. The application was opposed by R. E. McKeay, appearing on behalf of Charles McGill, and by Frank Arnold for President Cocksburn, and after listening to their presentations Judge Winchester adjourned the motion until Monday next, when it will be decided. After further talk, Magistrate Denison proposed to take up the case of theft against McGill. Then Arnold said he wanted to go on with the charge against President Cocksburn, of making false government returns which he wanted to be tried in this court. The magistrate said he would not hear this case at all until he had disposed of the McGill matter. A. E. Ames was on the stand for a few minutes and went over some amount of returns from McGill. Bank books were not in court and Gorley was unable to proceed. It was ordered that the books be again produced tomorrow morning when Mr. Ames will also be present.

CHORUS GIRLS IN GREAT DEMAND

Growth of Musical Comedy in London the Cause. Soprano and Contralto Voices in Combination With Good Looks Extremely Rare.

LONDON, Nov. 27.—The growth of musical comedy in London has put the managers at their wits' end to find chorus girls, who combine an attractive appearance with a good voice. The demand greatly exceeds the supply. All agree that real soprano and contralto voices are very rare, and rarer still in combination with youthful, pretty faces. It is also an inexplicable fact that contraltos, when found, usually have homelier faces than sopranos. Applicants at theatres where voice trials are announced can be counted by hundreds, but not more than five per cent, have any singing voices, while smartness in dress and bearing are rarer than even good looks. Managers find it painful to look at the throngs and more painful to hear them. Some are confident, some indifferent while others are weary, nervous or painfully expectant. A majority of them are stage-struck shop girls, but many are domestic servants.

LOVE WOMAN DIES OF HUNGER'S PANGS

LONDON, Nov. 27.—A death, which was described as literally due to starvation, was investigated yesterday at the Lambeth coroner's court.

An inquest was held on a woman named Mrs. Bishop, about 70 years old, who was found dying in her shop in Upper Kensington lane on Monday last. A neighbor said that on the previous Wednesday Mrs. Bishop asked her for some food. She gave it, and then told the policeman that she was the old woman who was starving, and he promised to report it to his sergeant.

No evidence that any such report had been made could be found, and on Monday last a boy, who looked through the glass door of the shop, saw the old woman lying on the floor. She was removed to the infirmary, but died a few minutes after arriving there.

Dr. Marcus Henry Quarry, the medical superintendent of the infirmary, said that death was literally due to starvation, and the jury returned a verdict of "death from starvation."

THE NEWS.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOV. 20, 1904.

NEIGHBORLINESS.

In rural communities, in early days, the neighborliness of the neighborhood was the one solution of all social problems.

As a consequence of this free social contact the shiftless man was brought into touch with his neighbor.

The city has very largely lost this power. Neighborliness tends to disappear. Exclusiveness is the law of its life.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating - that is an accepted saying - and so far this particular pudding seems to have agreed alike with the palate and the digestion of the New Zealanders.

by class distinction rather than by human need. The neighborhood is not neighborly. Is it any wonder that even in a city full of good people evil tendencies should develop rapidly?

It is customary to cast the blame for such exclusiveness upon the organizations of society. But organizations are nothing apart from the individuals that compose them.

WOMEN'S SUFFRAGE.

Among the political and social innovations in New Zealand, which Mr. Charles Edward Russell has been investigating and discussing most interestingly in Everybody's Magazine, is women's suffrage.

Women voted in New Zealand. Not nominally, not only for school trustees, nor semi-occasionally, but regularly and openly and as a matter of course.

In addition to using his eyes, he asked questions and, according to his report, men and women alike agree that it is a good thing.

The women said they had not found it any more dreadful to go on to a polling-place and vote than to go to a store and buy bread; they had never seen nor heard anything shocking at a polling-place, but invariably they had been treated there with the greatest respect.

The proof of the pudding is in the eating - that is an accepted saying - and so far this particular pudding seems to have agreed alike with the palate and the digestion of the New Zealanders.

THE INSPECTION OF BANKS.

Mr. H. C. McLeod, general manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is but voicing a belief which has been forced upon most thinking Canadians by the recent failures of the Yarmouth Bank and the Ontario Bank and the exposures which followed when he declares, as he is reported in another column, that a system of external inspection is needed - an inspection made by expert and disinterested officials, not by regular employees of the inspected bank.

Apparently Mr. McLeod has not elaborated his advice to extent of framing a system which would be efficient and at the same time creative of public confidence. There is bound to be considerable difficulty in arranging a workable plan.

generally is loose and inadequate. In respect as we will, the best guarantee of safety still will be found in the character of the general manager and the board of directors of any particular banking institution.

UNIONISM AND CANADIANISM.

A unique situation exists in Hamilton, Ontario. An American labor agitator who has been conducting a strike of street railway employes there has been asked by the authorities to leave the country.

When this Hamilton strike began it was conducted on orderly and decent lines, and public opinion was strongly with the men, so strongly that when the company finally secured enough non-union workers to run some of its cars, the people boycotted the service.

Washington and Ottawa despatches intimate that a postal war is in prospect between United States and Canada over the rates on second class mail matter.

Under the existing low rates on this class of mail, far lower than the rates provided for by the International Postal Union, this country is flooded with American newspapers and cheap magazines, instilling American ideas and advertising American goods.

While the newspapers of the Maritime Provinces have been filled with glowing descriptions of the Canadian West and while the provincial governments and Boards of Trade have been watching the steady ebbing of the life blood of the country as the trains full of its best young men run westward - following without effort to arrest the flow - a British periodical, "Canada," published in London, has been studying conditions here through a representative and informs its wide constituency that these provinces, and especially New Brunswick, furnish attractions which intending settlers in Canada cannot afford to ignore.

AMERICAN IMMIGRATION LAWS.

It is not to be wondered at that the Brazilian Ambassador to the United States, on arriving at New York, yesterday, should have refused to answer the regular questions asked by the immigration authorities, or that Secretary Root should deem an apology from the American Government necessary.

HON. JAMES BRYCE AS AMBASSADOR.

The New York Sun is enthusiastic over the suggestion that the Right Hon. James Bryce shall be the next British ambassador at Washington.

As the Mail and Empire pertinently points out, patriotism seems too narrow a sentiment to a man like Mr. Bryce. He must have something more comprehensive. His sympathies are broad enough to enfold the whole English-speaking world almost as warmly as they do his own country.

STEAMER LOST WITH ALL HANDS; TWENTY-EIGHT PEOPLE DROWNED

Crew of Twelve, Belonging to One Town, and Sixteen Passengers Drowned—The J. H. Jones Foundered in Georgian Bay.

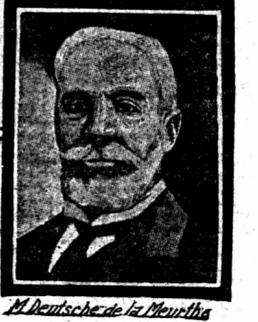

WARTON, Ont., Nov. 27.—The steamer J. H. Jones, owned by the Crawford Tug Company, foundered off Cape Croker Thursday afternoon, and all hands were lost. The crew consisted of twelve, all from Warton, and the passengers were from Owen Sound. The vessel was one of the staunchest steamers on Georgian Bay, was fitted perfectly and was commanded by one of the best and most experienced men on the coast, Captain Crawford. Part of the crew, the lifeboat and two unidentified bodies have been found by the Indians on the north shore of Georgian Bay. Boats are now out from Owen Sound, Penetanguishene and Parry Sound, looking for survivors and wreckage, but it is hardly likely anything or anybody will be found. The boat carried a good list of passengers.

(Associated Press despatch.)
DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 27.—A Free Press special from Warton, Ont., says: The steaming steamer J. H. The crew consisted of 12 men, all from Warton, and the number of passengers is estimated at 16. The Jones, which plied between Owen Sound, Warton and Manitowlin Island ports, was one of the staunchest steamers on the Georgian Bay and was commanded by Captain Crawford, a fresh water navigator of large experience. Part of the cabin, a life boat and two unidentified bodies have been found by Indians on the north shore of Georgian Bay. Boats are now out from here, Owen Sound, Penetanguishene and Parry Sound, looking for survivors and wreckage.

EIGHT BALLOONS IN ONE; AN EXTRAORDINARY NEW FLYING MACHINE

The airship, or dirigible balloon, which has been constructed by MM. Surosof and Kappeler for M. Deutsche de la Meurthe, his just emerged from its first successful trials. The body of the balloon is made of a material of which rubber is the principal constituent, and, like the balloons of MM. Lebaudy, is of a fourfold thickness, so disposed as to have no longitudinal seam which can split. But the most novel and curious feature of the balloon consists of side chambers to the main envelope, which serve the purpose of wings, or aeroplanes, and are naturally much more stable than aeroplanes generally can be, though we are inclined to think that they must render the task of driving the air ship in a wind a much more difficult one. The driving motor has a capacity of 70 horsepower, and the screw which it actuates is very cleverly balanced, and is so hung as to be well forward. The idea of the construction of the car and of the placing of the machinery is due to Colonel Renard. The total length of the ship is about 150 feet, its diameter is about 22 feet, and its total capacity about 20,000 cubic feet.

STORM ON LAKE ERIE CAUSES MUCH DAMAGE

A lot of vessels had to seek shelter—One is Reported Missing.
CLEVELAND, Nov. 28.—A gale which raged on Lake Erie, the greater part of yesterday and compelled every of the big passenger boats to seek shelter. The City of Erie, which left Buffalo Monday night, did not arrive till 11 o'clock last night, over 12 hours late. Several vessels from the upper lake, which had been caught in the storm in that section and about whose safety great fears had been felt came in late yesterday. The only craft missing from the Toledo with a crew, Barge 118, bound from Conneaut with coal, in tow of the steamer J. B. Ends, which broke away from the steamer 15 miles northwest of Fairport yesterday. The tug Monarch, which was bound from Conneaut with a crew, was dropped her tow and was sent out to search for the missing whaler. The latter, it is thought, will ride out the storm safely and will be found at anchor.

MARK TWAIN BOOK

Worcester, Mass., Censors Think Eve Shouldn't Have Illustrated Her Diary.
WORCESTER, Mass., Nov. 27.—Mark Twain's book "Eve's Diary" was barred today from the Charlton Free Public Library because a woman attendant and a trustee were shocked by the pictures. Among the 100 books delivered today was "Eve's Diary" by Mrs. E. L. Carpenter, an employe, scanned the book cover to cover. There are etchings on every left hand page—fifty in all—and Mrs. Carpenter looked at them with varying emotions. After one good, long final look she took the book to Trustee Frank C. Wakefield. He also took a number of looks at the etchings, which depict Eve in all kinds of sumptuous costumes fashioned after the styles of her day and climate. One in particular which showed Eve reclining on a rock engaged his attention and decided him to bar the book and call the other trustees, the Rev. George O. Jenness and Lewis A. McIntyre. They will decide finally about the book, but Wakefield has no doubt it will be sent back. One picture shows Eve skipping through the bushes unrestrained, but not at all afraid. The bushes do not seriously cut off the view of Eve. Another noticeable etching shows Adam and Eve under the tree of knowledge, with Eve in the act of handing him a lemon.

What Does It Mean?

Dr. Hamilton Gives a Full and Satisfactory Explanation.
Look at your tongue! Sometimes it's heavily coated sometimes it's clear and red. Study this out and you'll find some interference with the functional activities of the bowels are not regular, the liver is sluggish and the blood is contaminated. Strong cathartic pills act so destructively on the intestines as to provoke indigestion, which often frightens people from taking medicine when they badly need it. To the multitude of dangerous purgatives now on the market, Dr. Hamilton's Pills are a notable exception, they never grip, cause sickly feeling or headache, yet they cleanse and purify the entire system in one night. No other laxative acts with such mildness and certainty. Giving proper stimulus to the liver and kidneys, strengthening the stomach and leading valuable aid to digestion, it's small wonder that such marvelous results accompany Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Mr. Geo. O'Hogarty of Amherst, N. S., writes: "Last winter I worked in a lumber camp and neglected my health. I was dreadfully constipated and had a headache that fairly made me reel at times. I was sick and miserable, and hadn't the slightest ambition to work or stir around. I felt heavy and dull and had a bad taste in my mouth. I sent into the city for Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which I knew were good for my condition. They fixed me up very quickly and have kept me in good condition ever since. There are other men in the camp that use Dr. Hamilton's Pills also. They wouldn't be without these pills for ten times their price." Every dealer in the land sells Dr. Hamilton's Pills—25c per box or five boxes for $1.00. By mail from N. C. Folsen & Co., Hartford, Conn., U. S. A., and Kingston, Ont.

GUATEMALAN TOWN WAS WIPED OUT BY FLOOD

Fifty Persons Are Said to Have Been Drowned.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 28.—James Donnell, a coffee planter, who arrived here yesterday, from Guatemala tells of the destruction of the little town of Tutupeo during a hurricane which recently ravaged the neighboring coast. Tutupeo lies in an out of the way part of Tehuantepec and its population numbers about 5,000. When the hurricane was at its height the town was inundated by a rise in the river on which it is situated all of the buildings were swept away. The inhabitants sought refuge in trees but many of them were washed away by flood. The news so far received from the scene of the disaster is not very definite in its character as regarding loss of life, but it is known that fully 50 persons were drowned.

MONCTON MAN MARRIED IN WEST

Lumber Shipments From Railway Town This Season Have Been Large—Banquet for Minister
MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 27.—At Calgary, Alberta, recently, Allan Scott, a former Monctonian, was married to Miss F. Blanche Lodge, daughter of the late D. G. Lodge of Charlottetown. Rev. J. A. Clark performed the ceremony at the home of the bride's mother. Nelson A. Steeves, aged twenty-one years, died on Saturday evening, and the funeral was held yesterday, interment taking place at Salisbury. At a congregational meeting of the Central Methodist Church on Sunday evening, a resolution, adopted by the joint official boards of the church, proposed the introduction of the free pew system and the substitution of the envelope and coupon system of financial sustentance. The resolution was adopted, but not unanimously. Lumber has been about the largest items figuring in the shipments from the port of Moncton this season, which has been an unusually good one for the port. The total shipments totalled nearly four million feet of lumber, and a million and a quarter feet have been shipped by rail since the seventh of January. At the regular monthly meeting of the Moncton Curling Club last evening, participation in the big Montreal bonspiel was one of the matters discussed. A decision will not be reached until the December meeting. Certain recommendations made regarding the playing of local and foreign matches were agreed to by the club members. In the vestry of the First Baptist church tomorrow evening a banquet is to be tendered to Rev. G. E. Whitehouse, the departing pastor. The banquet is given by the men's society which Rev. Mr. Whitehouse organized, known as the Christian Brotherhood.

MUTINY ON BOARD STR. JAN JACINTO

Firemen in a Desperate Fight, Ending in Murder. A Cuban Charged With the Crime—Others Under Arrest Refuse to Tell What the Fight Was About
NEW YORK, Nov. 28.—One fireman was killed and a dozen severely beaten in a desperate row between firemen in the stockhold of the Mallory Liver Jan Jacinto, as the vessel was rounding Cape Hatteras enroute from Galveston Monday night. By wireless telegraph from Atlantic City Captain Evans notified police headquarters here so that when the steamer docked today a squad of police was there to take the alleged murderer and five others to the police station. Emanuel Conchero, a Cuban, is held for the murder of Pietro Molera, who died in an hour after he had been struck over the head with a shovel. It was only the point of revolvers that Captain Evans and another officer subdued the fighters and rescued Molera. Conchero was then unconscious from a blow in the head. His wounds and those of the rest of the firemen who were mist hurt, were dressed by the steward. The ship's officers says that none of the crew of thirty firemen would disclose to them what the row was about. It first arose between Conchero and Molera over the piling of coal, and the others joined in the melee.

SALVATION ARMY HOME BURNED; FOUR KILLED

Over Two Hundred Men Were Asleep in the Building—Many Jumped From the Windows.
ST. LOUIS, Nov. 28.—Four men were burned to death and probably 25 were injured in a fire early today that practically destroyed the Light House Hotel, conducted by the Salvation Army at the northwest corner of 8th and Market streets. More than 200 men were asleep in the building when the fire was discovered, the greater number being on the second and third floors. All became panic stricken, and before the firemen arrived and could stretch nets many had jumped from the upper windows and were plucked up crushed, and unconscious on the street below. The four dead have not been identified as their bodies were too much burned.

TWELVE MONTHS OF TERROR

Terrible List of Casualties During Revolution in Russia.
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 27.—The government celebrated the anniversary of the "constitution" by executing eleven youths in this city and eight in other parts of the empire. The newspapers improved the occasion by publishing statistics about the casualties of the revolutionary struggle during the last twelve months. The following list summarizes the year's work: Total number of killed, 7,331; total number of wounded, 9,671; armed robbers of which 1,691 remain unpunished; 1,996; agrarian outrages, 1,629; total number of executions, 1,513; sent to hard labor, 851. In the fortnight following the publication of the manifesto 4,083 civilians were killed during outbreaks in eighty-four towns and cities.

REAL ESTATE TRUST OFFICERS ARE UNDER INDICTMENT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—Wm. F. North, treasurer, and M. S. Colquhoun, cashier, of the Real Estate Trust Co. at the time of its failure, were indicted today by the grand jury for complicity in the alleged crimes which brought about the collapse of the institution. For some time the returned against North charging him with perjury in making false statements as to the financial condition of the bank, and another bill charges him with accepting deposits when he knew the company was insolvent. Colquhoun is charged with accepting deposits under the same circumstances, and also with embezzlement.

OLDEST BAPTIST MINISTER IN AMERICA IS DEAD

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 28.—Rev. William Howe, a centenarian and the oldest Baptist clergyman in America, died at his home here today. Dr. Howe had not been ill. He was found lifeless in his bed by a relative. Dr. Howe had long been an unique figure in the Baptist denomination. Up to his last he was conscious and retained the use of all his faculties. Only a few months ago on the occasion of his 100th birthday, he attended a meeting of Baptist ministers in Tremont Temple, in Boston, and delivered a stirring address.

25TH ANNIVERSARY OF THEIR WEDDING

ST. MARTINS, Nov. 26.—On Friday evening last, 23rd inst., over 50 friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James DeLong to celebrate the 25th anniversary of their wedding, who were greatly surprised at the arrival of so many visitors; but the surprise quickly changed to pleasure as they realized the kindness which had prompted such a successful invasion. After some time spent in pleasant conversation and refreshments were served by the ladies. The company then adjourned to the parlor, where the Rev. C. W. Townsend, in behalf of the committee, and in the name of the subscribers read an address, setting forth the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. DeLong are held by a wide circle of friends, extending to them congratulations upon the completion of a quarter of a century of happy married life, and expressing best wishes for their future and the hope that the silver might be transmuted to gold. Mr. Townsend then, in appropriate and humorous terms, asked their acceptance of several beautiful articles of silverware. He also stated that an additional fund had come in, other articles to correspond would follow. The entire presentation represented nearly $50 in value. Among those unable to be present, who had sent letters and generous subscriptions were: D. J. Purdy, M. P. P.; Dr. Ruddick, P. P.; W. H. Thomas & Co.; Councilor Conley; John D. and George Smith of Concord, Mass., brothers of Mrs. John Linnox; Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. A. De Long; Councilor Cochran; Mrs. E. White, Sussex; Mr. Lowe, manager of the O'Neil Lumber Co.; Mrs. S. E. Vaughan and Mrs. Allan Love. In reply to the presentation, Mr. DeLong said a few words expressive of gratitude. Captain Pritchard made a witty speech and John Mcumber followed with a few remarks. Among those present were Rev. and Mrs. C. W. Townsend, Capt. and Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. Albert White, Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Black, Captain and Mrs. G. McDonough, Captain and Mrs. A. McDonough, George Vaughan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Abram Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. John H. Bradshaw, Mr. and Mrs. W. Cronk, Jr., Mrs. John Brown, Mrs. Aubrey Vaughan; Mrs. H. A. Fowles; Charles Bradshaw of Boston and many others, including a large number of young people. With the exception of a store in Plainfield, N. IMPROVEMENTS AT ROTHESAY

Changes of Special Interest to Older Residents
L. C. R. Will be Urged to put in an Extra Siding—Caw Nicked to Death—Opposition Movements
ROTHESAY, Nov. 27.—The spirit of improvement and enterprise so manifest in the central part of the village has shown itself below the bridge between Senator Dumville's residence and Riverside station. The owners of some of the houses here are making improvements and seeking purchasers, while others are content with making their own summer homes more comfortable. The field which was once a part of Kingshurst, the residence years ago of Senator Dumville and since then owned by Carson Flood, occupied as a preparatory school and owned by Jas. F. Robertson and now the property of F. E. Sayre, has been divided into building lots and the place where the tents of the Engineers Louise Hussars were erected year after year for drill time twenty years ago will learn to know the voice of the suburbanite. This field is still owned by Mr. Robertson, and it is understood that he plans a road which will be a common entrance to this new cottage centre, which would also touch at a platform by the railway if the L. C. R. people can be induced to build another one such a little distance from Rothestay proper. There is another reason why the supporters of this request say it should be granted and that is the busy mill erected by Greene Bros. & Co. near this point. Councilor Gilbert, who is interested in this enterprise, says they expect to saw wood which will be a boon to the village that accommodation from the railway in the shape of a siding that has been given again and again to encourage similar industries in other places. So pleased are the demands of business and pleasure there a change of another siding upon this busy section of the Intercolonial. The political meeting two weeks ago has, to use a homely phrase, "set the town on its heels" and there is much talk of elections, of prospects, of committees and their personnel. Even before the meeting was called by the attorney general there was a quiet informal gathering of the opposition. They met at the house of a Kingston committeeman at Perry's Point. They were searching for a candidate for the lower end of the county, and it is stated had several names under review. The material in their own ranks was so scarce or so indifferent that they paid a government man the compliment of considering him just because with his well known frankness he had criticised some political tactics that were certainly open to criticism. Whether they ever got a definite answer from E. A. Fawcett is uncertain, but he was the choice at last. This fact will show the government party that the opposition is not so inactive as some assert. One thing is certain, the shake up following the Liberal meeting is bound to do good. When the nominating committee meets a permanent active Liberal organization can be effected, which no doubt be represented at the coming convention in St. John. Dr. Pugsley's offer to subscribe for stock in a corporation to run a power ferry on the Kennebecasis has put new life into that movement, and the completion of the quarter of a century of happy married life, and expressing best wishes for their future and the hope that the silver might be transmuted to gold.

BUYING BIG TIMBER LIMITS IN NEWFOUNDLAND

Albert Reid of London, England, a wealthy lumber contractor and operator, was in the city this morning. Mr. Reid has been in Newfoundland, where he has invested in extensive timber limits in the Exploits river district. It is his intention to establish there large pulp and paper mills, which will rival those planned by the Harmsworths. Mr. Reid plans, if carried to present intentions, will be of much importance to the ancient colony. With him in the undertaking is associated Sir Arthur Pearson of Pearson's Magazine. Mr. Reid, who has seen the eastern corner of Canada from Halifax to Montreal, is most favorably impressed with the country. He is broad minded and energetic, a fluent and interesting conversationalist, and seems determined to carry his projects to a successful conclusion. In his opinion Canada is only beginning to realize her position as a possible factor of importance in the world's commerce. We are waking up, he thinks, and will in a few years come to our own as a world power.

ANNEXATION ABSOLUTELY IMPOSSIBLE, SAYS FRASER

Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia in Speech Before Canadian Club in Boston, Says Such Result Can Never Come in History of the World—Hon. A. B. Morine Speaks on Newfoundland Fishery Question.

BOSTON, Nov. 26.—The annexation of Canada by the United States is an absolute impossibility, but that a union of the two great nations was a possibility, was the keynote of the address delivered tonight before the members of the Canadian Club at their annual dinner by Lieut. Governor Duncan G. Fraser of Nova Scotia.

turn to his own land will ever find the latch sticking on the outside. The hundreds of thousands of American citizens whom you have known here will be there to welcome you home.

"We seek the best relations possible with our cousins to the south of us, for there is no thought at home of annexation. The time may come when these two great nations may join in a union for the mutual protection of the land and sea, but annexation can never come in the history of the world.

"There is, I believe, a mission for those two mighty nations to which we belong, and that is a mission under God for the betterment of our fellow-men."

"The Hon. A. B. Morine, who spoke on 'The Newfoundland Fishermen,' during the course of his remarks declared that Gloucester fishermen were all wrong when they believed that the Newfoundland fishermen would ultimately come to their terms.

"The relations between Canada and the United States were never closer than at the present time. Trade was never broader between them, and it should be broader in every manner than we find it today. Our relations with the United States are the same now as always, except that wiser counsels which have urged with you in the interests of reciprocity have failed in their endeavors and we have been obliged to seek other avenues for our commerce.

"Newfoundland wants free entry of her fish into this country and in return is willing to give free bait, simply the bait of Canada's fishery, to the United States with any other country in the world. This is the view of the majority of Newfoundland fishermen, a view in which I do not concur, but which under right and proper conditions will sooner or later bring about the fishing industry of the island and of America closer together."

Bleeding and Protruding Piles

CAUSED GREAT SUFFERING FOR YEARS—WAS LAID OFF WORK FOR WEEKS AT A TIME—CURED BY DR. CHASE'S OINTMENT

This letter is valuable because it emphasizes the fact that Dr. Chase's Ointment is a positive cure for bleeding and protruding piles. Because this ointment relieves the itching, which makes piles so agonizing, some people lose sight of the fact that it thoroughly cures every form of this wretched disease.

By means of its antiseptic and astringent action, Dr. Chase's Ointment heals up the ulcers in the intestines from which the blood flows, and gradually contracts the protruding parts until they entirely disappear.

Do not make the mistake of stopping treatment when the itching is allayed, but persist in the regular use of Dr. Chase's Ointment until thoroughly cured, as was the writer of this letter.

Mr. Duncan MacVicar, Caledonia Mines, N. S., writes: "For a number of years I have been troubled with bleeding and protruding piles. I tried several salves and ointments, which only afforded me temporary relief. Sometimes I would be laid off from work for weeks. One day last winter one of your books came into my hands, and I read the testimonials of Mr. Donald McLean, of Tarbot Vale, N. S., and Rec. S. A. Duprau, of Belleville, Ont. I decided to give Dr. Chase's Ointment a trial. After using two boxes of this ointment I found myself completely cured. What I suffered from that awful disease would fill a big book. You are at liberty to publish this, as it may be the means of convincing some poor sufferer, such as I was, that there is a cure for piles. To all sufferers from piles in any form I would recommend Dr. Chase's Ointment as the only cure."

Piles or hemorrhoids are among the most common, as well as the most torturing, ailments that afflict humanity. The keen distress caused by the itching, especially when the body gets warm, is almost beyond the powers of description.

There is positively no treatment so certain as a cure for piles as Dr. Chase's Ointment. This has been proven in thousands of cases, in many of which even surgical operations, with their expense, painfulness and frightful risk, had failed. FIGHT WITH TIGERS IN A CIRCUS CAGE

BERLIN, Nov. 24.—Jack Peters, the well-known tamer of wild animals, was terribly mauled at the Busch Circus this afternoon while performing in a cage containing four lions and two tigers.

Peters carries a revolver in his pocket and a heavy riding whip in his hand while in the cage, but towards the end of the performance he lays the whip aside to box with one of the tigers, the remaining five wild beasts sitting round and watching the contest.

After the boxing Peters was drawing off a huge pair of leather gloves which he wears to ward off the tiger's claws when both tigers suddenly sprang at him, striking him with their paws and biting fiercely at his limbs. Peters fought with desperation, parrying the blows and attempting to beat off his assailants.

During the struggle the tigers tore the flesh from his face, shoulders and arms, but finally Peters fired his revolver and used the momentary pause in the combat caused by the report to escape from the cage.

He presented a terrible appearance and was removed to a hospital in a critical condition. A wild panic seized the audience, and children and in the rush for the exits many people were injured.

He is expected to arrive in Montreal on the 29th inst. He is feared the damage to his health is serious. Lawrence grounding is the anticipated. There is a possibility of what action, it is feared, will be taken to take Kingmill as the ruler.

POISONED TO GET INSURANCE

Philadelphia Woman Arrested on Serious Charge

Killed Husband, Two Children and Two Tenants and Collected $1,000 Insurance Money

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 27.—The most remarkable case of wholesale poisoning of persons to secure insurance money that has ever been unearthed in this city is charged tonight against Bridget Carey, aged 32, who was arrested at a late hour. The woman is charged with having poisoned her husband Patrick, her two children, Mary, aged 8 years, and Annie, aged 6, who died a week ago, and Patrick and Cecelia Cook, tenants in the Carey house at 1943 Hamilton avenue. All of the alleged victims died within eleven months, and the police say that Mrs. Carey benefited by their deaths to the amount of $1,000 through the collection of insurance.

The woman's arrest followed an investigation made into the death of her two children, which occurred last week. It was said at the time that their deaths were caused by eating poisoned candy or candy that contained deleterious substances. An analysis of the candy, such as the children are said to have purchased, showed that it contained no poisonous substances and when Coroner's Physician Wadsworth made an analysis of the stomachs of the children, he found the contents had died of essential poisoning.

According to Captain of Detectives Donaghy it was learned that the children were insured for $125 each and that Mrs. Carey collected this amount after their deaths. The police officials say that they learned that the woman had secured rat poison, and on further investigation it was found that Patrick and Cecelia Cook, brother and sister, who lived with Mrs. Carey, had died within a few months under suspicious circumstances.

Miss Cook had been the lessor of the house and Mrs. Carey was a tenant. The police officials say that Miss Cook was insured for $200 in favor of Patrick Cook, her brother, and that on August 13 she died. Patrick had been insured for $500 in favor of his sister. He collected the insurance on her policy after her death, and Mrs. Carey took up the lease of the house. Thereupon Patrick insured his insurance in favor of Mrs. Carey and shortly thereafter was stricken ill and died.

When Miss Cook died a physician who had attended her was visited by Miss Carey, the police say, and asked her to sign a certificate for insurance attesting that she died of heart disease. As he had previously attended her for heart trouble and knew that she was liable to die at any moment, he signed the certificate, though he had not been in attendance on the woman just prior to her death. Miss Cook died on August 13, and on September 17 her brother died suddenly in much the same manner as his sister. The police officials say that Mrs. Carey secured the insurance.

After the death of the children the police learned that the woman's husband died suddenly about ten months ago and, from physicians who were called in at various times during the illness of the victims, they were urged to make a rigid investigation. The bodies of Patrick Cook and his sister have been exhumed and that of the woman's husband will also be disinterred.

CANADA WILL NOT SEE DUKE OF CONNAUGHT

Is Going to Far East on Inspection Tour

—H. M. S. Dominion May be Seriously Damaged

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—The Star's London cable says: The Duke of Connaught has no intention of visiting Canada, as the Canadian papers announce. He leaves in January on a tour of military inspection for the Far East, visiting Ceylon and Singapore. He must return in April from Hong Kong via Suez Canal and never had thought of returning via Canada, though his pleasant recollections of his previous Canadian visits would, if arrangements permitted, have been a strong temptation.

The admiralty has received advice that H. M. S. Dominion will not return to Chatham till February next. She is in the dockyard at West India. It is feared the damage from the St. Lawrence grounding is more serious than anticipated. There is no knowledge of what action, if any, the admiralty intend to take regarding Captain Kingsmill as the responsible officer.

FAST TIME OF THE OVER SEAS MAIL

MONTREAL, Nov. 27.—The Over Seas mail which arrived on the Empress of Ireland at St. John last Friday reached Vancouver at 8:08 Tuesday morning having made the run from St. John to Vancouver in 75 hours. The Canadian mail which was delivered at Halifax and carried by special train over the regular route to Montreal will reach Vancouver by the Thursday morning more than 48 hours behind the Over Seas mail. The call at Halifax delayed the Empress of Ireland nearly seven hours in reaching St. John. The Pacific Empress of China left port at Vancouver about one hour after the arrival of the Over Seas mail and is now well on her way across the Pacific. Passengers who lunched in London on Friday the 16th inst. have crossed the Atlantic Ocean and continent of America and breakfasted on the Empress of China on the Pacific all in less than eleven days which is certainly rapid transit.

After Mr. Cowie was heard it was decided to postpone further consideration of this clause of the bill until the next meeting owing to the absence of Ald. Scott. All the other sections of the bill with the exception of this one, were passed by the meeting with some slight amendments. It was decided to tax life insurance companies $40; fire, $15. The banking taxation, as recommended by the council, was passed in its entirety. This is similar to the St. John bank assessment law. In respect to the collection of taxation, Ald. Colter moved an amendment to the section regarding the allowing of discount on all taxes paid within thirty days. This amendment added that five per cent be added to all taxes not paid within one year. The amendment was carried on the casting vote of the mayor.

Tenders were received for the old engine house on University avenue. Two were received, one from Geo. Hazen, $25.50, the other, Geo. Clark, $106. The property was sold to the latter.

The meeting adjourned until Monday evening next.

SIX MEN COMMITTED FOR TRIAL AT BUCKINGHAM

BUCKINGHAM, Nov. 27.—Judge Choquette this morning formally committed six of the men who took part in the rioting here to attend trial on the charge of riotous behavior. The preliminary inquiry against the same men on the charge of manslaughter is now proceeding. It is expected that a number of others who were among the strikers will also be proceeded against.

Judge Choquette also discharged the case against Albert McLaren, holding that he had a right to place armed men to guard his property, and that there was no other charge against him. The attorneys for the strikers objected, and Judge Choquette told them that he would hear them if they would lay another charge against McLaren. The invitation was not accepted. Alex McLaren was held for a hearing, as he was mixed up in the shooting which took place.

ONLY A ROMANCE, - - - By Luella Wait.

Miss Guselle Robertson had ridden out from the summer camp under the shadows of the Spanish Peaks, Colorado, to do some sketching. A party of New York and Boston people were doing the camping out act in great style.

The girl worked for an hour, forgetful of where she was. Then there came a sudden and startling interruption. While Miss Guselle was hitching her bronco to the plum tree and descending the gorge a man about thirty years of age, dressed in a good but not looking, but possessed of a fine physique, was on foot, out of his camp on the mountain trail above her ten miles away.

I can get along here all right. Help me over against the wall. Thanks. Now, then, I'll want a blanket and some food, and I shall depend on you. You have the soul of an artist, and therefore plenty of romance. We will stop at romance. It will be an incident for you to think of, and it will save me making long explanations to camp again.

"H—! So he lived through it?" "But the men had no right to jump his claim when he was ill," said Miss Guselle, in a spirited way. "Jump his claim? Do you know who the fellow is?" "Not exactly, but he was very nice. He had to take my horse to get away from you."

It was ten o'clock when Miss Guselle fastened her pony to a wild plum tree at the head of a gulch two miles from camp and made her way down it and across a bridge of logs to a full hundred feet in massive ruggedness. Then she found a comfortable seat on a rock and began to sketch the grim wall and the half dozen trees whose roots had found foothold thereon. It was a quiet, solemn place, even with the brawling of the creek in her eyes, and the dullness of Meadville seemed to render imperative. But she quickly snatched the heart out of him. "No," she said; "I shall be wedded to my art instead of to a man. I want to do exactly as I please. I am not a woman, but a girl, and I will do as I please. I am not a woman, but a girl, and I will do as I please. I am not a woman, but a girl, and I will do as I please."

It was a horrible shock. She did not cry, she was too stunned and humiliated for that, she had only enough reason left to wonder how she could tell her parents that their sweet confidence had been misplaced—that their child always was and always would be a nobody.

"Leave that to me," he whispered jubilantly, "and cheer up." The old people jumped to their feet as the door flew open, and a look of intense relief crossed their faces at the sight of Ellen and Elton.

IN THE BONDAGE OF MEADVILLE, - - - By Rita Kelly.

"It's no use talking to me" Ellen exclaimed. "My mind is fully made up." The man rose and, walking over to where the girl sat, stood looking down at her intently. She shifted uncomfortably under his gaze, and finally slipped from her chair and fled ignominiously to the window, where she felt sure, he was too proud to follow her.

ON BOARD THE FLYER - - - By Marion Benton.

"We'll take those three seats—I suppose it's the best that you can do. Lawrence, you sit there. No, no—on this side. There's a draught on that side."

It was a horrible shock. She did not cry, she was too stunned and humiliated for that, she had only enough reason left to wonder how she could tell her parents that their sweet confidence had been misplaced—that their child always was and always would be a nobody.

Later she said something of the sort to Emily, who had brought Mr. Maguire an evening paper, picked up at Poughkeepsie.

THINKS AMHERST HAS A GREAT FUTURE

William Ewing, the well known McGill street seedman and florist, has just returned from a trip to Amherst, and Chignecto Mines, the property of the Maritime Coal, Railway and Power Company, in which he is financially interested. In the course of an interview Mr. Ewing said he was astounded at the progress of Amherst, which he had not seen in twenty-four years. It had become in the meantime a very important industrial centre, and he believed that with the impetus given by cheap power from Chignecto Mines it would soon become one of the greatest manufacturing cities in Canada.

A happy reunion of husband and wife took place in the Union Depot on Saturday last. Eight years ago a young citizen of Turkey, named Essagian, got married. Through the United States consular service Essagian sent money to his wife, who was living in Turkey. He has been established in business in Montreal and wished that his wife should join him. Mrs. Essagian landed in Newfoundland and from there she came to St. John, which was to be the meeting place. It was indeed a happy sight when the two met for the first time in eight years.

At the opening lecture in Geology this year, it was intimated by Dr. Bailey that this would be his last year of active service in this university. For forty-six years he has been a very proficient instructor, and the amount of work he has accomplished is very great. Dr. Bailey has always exhibited a strong sympathy for student life, and throughout his long course has often been called "the friend of the students." Perhaps the most popular course of lectures in his work are those in Geology. For many years, from pure love of the scientific work, and in connection with the geological survey of Canada, he has spent the summer months in geological study in Eastern Canada, and especially in New Brunswick. A great part of his lectures are results of his own investigation, and have therefore an added interest and value. Dr. Bailey is without doubt the best authority on the geological history of the Province of the Dominion, and his retirement will be a distinct loss to the University. — N. B. University Monthly.

"Jack" as we called him, came to Neepawa when we were stationed there, and became a member of the choir, and was deeply interested in the various departments of the church. After we left he married Miss Vera Harrison, one of the fairest daughters of the town, prominent in every good work, and an excellent helper in the church. "Jack" was doing well in Winnipeg, when he was taken ill, and succumbed to the disease. He was buried in Neepawa, Man. A manly fellow he was, beloved by everybody, and his passing is a great loss.—Wesleyan.
