Dufferin Officers' Ball Proved Brilliant and Fashionable Affair

Without doubt the most brilliantly successful ball ever given in Brantford was that under the auspices of Lt.-Col. Howard and his officers last evening at the Dufferin Rifles Armories.

The regiment has always been noted for the surpassing nature of such functions, but this occasion set a new high water mark even for them.

The decorations were most graceful and elaborate. Festoons of five green and red, the regimental colors, were looped to a large electric chandelier in the centre. The walls were laid out in panels, displaying artistically arrayed armour, swords and so on and each of the company armories leading off from the main hall were perfect bowers of beauty with artistic drapings and shaded lights. The dancing space was marked off by stacked arms, inverted and between them were ropes of red and green electric lights which also were extended to the ceiling.

A most pleasing feature was a large pavilion which had a striking background, composed of a drop scenery from the Opera House. Palms and other plants were in profusion and to watch from the comfortable seats the gay throng intermingling in an ever-varying blend of color and movement was a scene never to be forgotten.

There was a very large attendance—404 all told—and many were on hand from a distance, including officers in uniform from Toronto, Hamilton, St. Catharines, Grimsby, Paris and Burford.

The floor was in capital shape and the music supplied by 32 members of the regimental band under the conductorship of Mr. F. C. Johnson, was simply superb—that's the word and nothing short of it. The dances included one set of lancers, the tango, the hesitation waltz, and the old time waltz and two step. Encores were the order of the evening and the programme was lengthy, but thoroughly enjoyed until the last minute.

In keeping with everything else, the refreshment arrangements were most complete. Two buffets were run on either side of the band stand throughout the evening and this served to prevent any undue crowding of the supper room. The waiting was also thoroughly up-to-date and the viands excellent.

It was three o'clock this morning before the guests reluctantly left the

J. M. YOUNG & CO'Y

"The greatest mistake that young women make in choosing their careers is to put undue importance on the suitability of certain vocations for women. The real thing they should consider is their own individuality. Should they have the talent and taste for a certain line of work and concentrate all their energies on that work, they have just as much chance of reaching the top as a man has."

This is the philosophy of Miss Catherine Lee, who is acknowledged to be the cleverest woman press agent in America.

Miss Lee was born in New York and got her Master's degree at Columbia University. She started her career in a newspaper office and was making good, when chance threw a press agent's job in her way. Possessing the "gift" which is the gift of all successful people, she recognized its possibilities and promptly plunged in determined to win the rich laurels that crowned the efficient press agent.

"So far as press agent work is concerned, there is a great field for women, because every class of business needs publicity, and the one who can put before the public the views of the proprietor in such a way that they will be received with real interest, is a gold mine to her employer, and can command the salary she desires."

Geo. Rose and Wm. Herima have been sent for trial at Goderich on a charge of stealing foxes.

TWO BELTS BETTER THAN ONE IN THIS INSTANCE

The double-belted effect on this coat is a new and pleasing style note, and adds much to the smartness of the model brought out for Palm Beach wear. The coat is built of willow green mohair and worsted mixture and the lines of white silk piping are echoed by white pearl buttons. A white straw hat trimmed with white tulle and pink roses is very attractive with the green coat and the little maid's costume is made correct for the street by buttoned boots and white stockings.

Mrs. P. P. Ballachy's Tea.

"At the tea hour Wednesday, Mrs. Ballachy received with her sister, Miss Clara Doyle, who was the guest of honor. The pretty rooms were thronged with many guests, who came and went until the evening shadows closed in. Miss Doris Hardy, Mrs. W. F. Paterson and Mrs. Ramsey were in charge of the drawing room.

The same evening, Mrs. Fitzgallen Ellis entertained informally at a merry dance, when a number of young people thoroughly enjoyed dancing to Miss Conroy's skilful playing. The tango, hesitation, were to the fore. Later a dainty supper was served when Mrs. Montizambert was the hostess Wednesday evening at a smart little dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Armour Toronto.

A jolly little dance was given at the Conservatory of Music Wednesday evening, when Miss White, resident pupil was hostess, and then changed their little bridge club into an informal dance, which was much enjoyed by those present.

Mrs. E. C. Ashton was the hostess of a small and informal bridge Thursday evening in honor of her guests, Captain and Mrs. Rundle of London. The bridge winners were Mrs. A. T. Duncan and Mr. Bellhouse.

Dr. E. H. Eidt was elected chairman of the Stratford P. S. board.

Although the local markets are not large during the period of New Years and the appearance of Spring products, the incident weather probably kept many, who usually attend the market, away. Prices were little changed.

SPECTACLES.

A Million in Gold Used by One Firm Alone Each Year.

Spectacles are made for and used by all classes of people and yet few mechanics know much about the way they are made. The lens glass comes from Europe, but the making of the blanks into finished lenses is all done in America. This includes heating and curving between dies, grinding, drilling and mounting. Gold-filled frames are largely used, nearly a million dollars worth of gold being used per year for this purpose by one firm.

Practically the entire supply of high-grade lens glass comes from Europe, being imported into the country in the form of small disks or blanks. These disks are but little larger than the finished lenses, and come in various shapes; oval and round for spherical lenses and cylindrical for cylindrical and toric lenses. Optical blanks are probably the finest glass used in the arts to-day and is made especially for lenses. The requisites for good optical glass are that it shall be very hard, white and free from bubbles or striations and absolutely uniform in density or refractive index. All defects must be carefully guarded against by scrupulous inspection. The manufacture of optical glass has for long been a trade secret, but to-day a common spectacle lens is made from far better glass than could be had for the finest optical instruments half a century ago.

Some idea of the immense variety of lenses called for in modern optical practice may be had when we learn that 7,200 different combinations are regularly furnished in the sphere-cylinder lenses alone, and this simply in the uncut form.

Modern lens making necessitates heavy investments in machinery. Add to this the difficulty of finding experienced and competent workmen and it is easily seen why there are so few lens plants on this side of the water.

Since the perfection of gold-filled metal, the number of spectacles and eye-glass frames and mountings made of this material has shown a very rapid increase. Considering the importance of gold-filled wire and the many uses to which it is put, it seems surprising that so little is really known of this and how nearly it is sold in the form of gold-filled wire. The term gold-filled is somewhat misleading; merely reversing it almost thoroughly explains both the material and the process.

Filled gold as it is popularly called, consists of a gold shell filled with an alloy of base metal. The popularity of gold filled is demonstrated by the fact that nearly 1,000,000 lb. of this gold is used annually in our plant alone, and half of this is used in the manufacture of the gold-filled wire from which spectacle and eye-glass frames and mountings are made.

Silver Gilt for the Sardines.

The decline of the sardine packing industry in Brittany will in time reduce the world's available supply. A sardine is not a particularly beautiful object, but a sardine boat certainly is, and to see the sardine fleet coming in the brave little port of La Croisic over the tumbling waters of the bay is most delightful. Hardly less beautiful are the boats in port when the fine sardine pets, of an almost ethereal blue, flutter from the masts to dry. And a boat with a cargo of sardines is as delightful to the eye as a cargo of herrings. You don't think about death in that silver glitter.

Duel by Avalanche.

A curious duel by avalanche is reported from Courmayeur, on the Italian side of Mont Blanc. The young man, one a guide, who were in love quarrelled and decided that one of them should depart from this world. They chose a novel method. As there were many avalanches they agreed to stand in turn for several hours in the most exposed places. Eventually a young guide was swept away by an avalanche over 100 feet in area, but was only injured. The rival will be obliged to die or means for deciding their combat for the girl's affections.

Useful Insects.

The principal insects used in the commercial world are the cochineal insect (coccus cacti), from which a red dye is made; kermes (scarlet grain of Poland), long a source of carmine dye, and the lac insect (coccus lacca), from which shellac is obtained; the silk worm, for the production of silk; the honey bee, for the making of honey; and blistering beetles, dried ants, acid, from which thuridies, formic acid and other medicinal preparations come. Dried flies are also used as fish food.

Much Timber Damaged.

So far as can be ascertained there will not be a heavy timber cut in the Province of Ontario during the coming winter. As the price of the Michigan and Minnesota logs, W. H. Hearst, reports are made of considerable damage by the recent storms, by the blowing down of a large quantity of timber in the north. Prices of lumber are expected to drop considerably and the present available supply in the hands of dealers seems adequate to meet the requirements for some time to come.

Ponderous.

Evlyn—He's a very learned man. You wouldn't mind his weight would you?
 Natic—Oh, yes, I suspect it is at once.

Evlyn—Indeed?
 Natic—Yes, he makes me so tired.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET

The annual banquets of the Brantford Board of Trade have always been noted for their great success. They have always been entirely non-political, as they should be, and have served to bring many distinguished men here to give addresses.

This year the non-party character of the banquet will be well maintained.

Hon. Mr. Hearst, in the Conservative ranks, and Hon. Mr. Graham, in the Liberal ranks, are both men who have made their mark in public life, and both will be here on the night of the banquet on Friday in Canada.

Mr. Hearst, who comes from Northern Ontario, will be asked to tell the interesting story of the development and the possibilities of that region. As Minister of Lands and Mines it is included in his department, and no man is better posted on the subject, or can present it in a more entertaining way.

Mr. Graham will not have any subject such as the above, but he is at his best as an after-dinner speaker, and can be counted upon to make a speech of characteristic wit and charm.

The Board is fortunate in securing the presence of these two gentlemen, and there will be no doubt be a very large attendance.

BANK OF HAMILTON

The forty-second annual report of the Bank of Hamilton, printed elsewhere in this issue, makes interesting reading, not alone for the shareholders, but also for the general public.

There is no more important factor to-day with regard to industrial enterprise and private confidence than a well-run bank, and this the Hamilton institution has long proved itself to be.

It has been carefully and well managed, and the assets are such as to rightly inspire and guarantee public confidence.

LAURIER'S SILLY PROPOSAL

H. B. Ames, M.P., who has devoted much time to the question of naval defence and the construction of battleships in Canada, has given out some interesting information on this subject. Mr. Ames this summer visited Europe and investigated this question thoroughly. He strongly condemns the proposal to build dreadnoughts in Canada. This country should devote its attention to the construction of the smaller vessels, as Mr. Ames points out the building of dreadnoughts would entail a financial burden unbearable and a delay that is a menace to the Empire's security.

"The building of light cruisers, such as the Chatham, also torpedo boat destroyers and submarines, equipped with boilers, might be possible in Canada," said Mr. Ames, "but the company erecting a plant for the construction of these ships would have to be guaranteed work to the value of $3,750,000 annually, and the guarantee would have to cover a period of years. The building of a plant capable of turning out battleships would cost at least $37,000,000 and would require many years of work before it would be capable of constructing a single ship."

The cost of a plant to build dreadnoughts in England and the increased cost in Canada was shown by Mr. Ames to be:

- (a) Hull—shipyard and construction work £900,000 to £1,000,000
 - (b) Boiler shops and engine works 750,000
 - (c) Rolling mill, etc., for protective armor 1,200,000
 - (d) Works for manufacture of guns and gun mountings 2,230,000
 - (e) Accessories, such as proving grounds, torpedo and ammunition works 450,000
- Total cost—initial outlay, exclusive of works for making plates and angles... £5,630,000
- Of the same plant, if established in Canada at an estimated increased cost of 35 p.c. $37,000,000
- Sir Wilfrid Laurier's political emergency naval policy would entail an expenditure of $37,000,000 before a warship could be constructed. Not only that, but it would be five years before a ship could be constructed. When the shipyards were completed it would mean that from ten to twenty million dollars would have to be spent in dreadnought construction yearly to keep these works busy and make the investment sound.
- Greater expense, dangerous delay, and ineffectiveness are the features of the Laurier political emergency naval policy.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Thirteen Hungarian deputies were forcibly thrown out of the house. There's that unlucky number bobbing up again.

Wonder if Hon. Mr. Emmerson will read the U. S. Declaration of Independence in the Commons this year.

When the people of Montreal wake up each morning they wonder with regard to the papers there as to who owns which.

More reassuring news comes from the sick chamber of Sir James Whitney, and the people of the entire province will be sincerely glad of that.

The latest change of the Toronto Globe is that the Borden Government "lacks settled beliefs." This is incorrect, but it is true that they will be settled in office for some years to come.

It is pointed out that among the Liberal members at Ottawa Sir Wilfrid Laurier is the only one who has ever sat in Opposition before. And his previous experience doesn't lead him to enthuse to any noticeable extent over the job.

In Regina some ladies have banded together in order to darn the socks and repair the clothing of the single men in that community. If the bachelors in that neck of the woods wish to stay that way they had better escape the place while there is yet time. If they listen to the voices of the darners they are goners for sure.

By an inadvertence, the Courier confused the candidate who is to run in North Brant for the Ontario House with the gentleman whom a party caucus first urged to accept the nomination. Mr. Scott Davidson is an auctioneer and resident of Paris. Thus once more it has been demonstrated that a resident of the county need not apply, as both Grit standard bearers are town men.

SAYS HE IS SON OF LORD STRATHCONA

James Smith of Brookline, Mass., to Claim Portion of the Estate.

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—Asserting that he is the son of Lord Strathcona, James H. Smith of Brookline will take steps, it is stated to obtain recognition of his interests in the vast estate. Mr. Smith refused last night to talk about it, but his wife said counsel had been engaged to represent him in presenting his claim to the executors of Lord Strathcona. Mrs. Smith added that no court action would be instituted unless friendly overtures were without avail.

She declared there was no doubt her husband was the legal son of Lord Strathcona. "He is a full brother to Mrs. Margaret Charlotte Howard, of London, who is reported as Lord Strathcona's daughter and heir," she said. "Mr. Smith was in constant communication with his father."

The Smiths and their three children live in a comfortable but unpretentious home on Strathmore road. Two of the daughters were in England last year.

200,000 MEN IDLE IN LONDON MONDAY

Unless Some Concessions Are Made to Strikers in Meantime.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Unless some concessions are made in the meantime, there will be 150,000 to 200,000 workmen in London idle by the beginning of next week. Already 8,000 coal porters and 2,000 carmen have struck, and the latter's union, which has a membership of 50,000 threatens to inaugurate a sympathetic strike. There will a lock-out of 100,000 men in the building trades to-day unless they sign an undertaking to work with non-unionists.

The price of coal is advancing, and the very poor people have the greatest difficulty in obtaining any. The weather is very cold. The coal porters' union forfeited public sympathy yesterday by refusing to carry coal to the hospitals, though up to the present they have not interfered with the hospital authorities carting the coal themselves.

J. J. Lucas, aged 22, a G.T.R. brakeman, was killed by a train near Brighton. His sister from Scotland had found him in Canada only a few weeks ago.

CANADIAN BIRTHDAYS

SATURDAY, JANUARY TWENTY-FOURTH

Joseph H. Choate, the famous American lawyer and former ambassador to Great Britain, who is eighty-two years of age to-day, has long enjoyed the reputation of being one of the foremost wits of the times. "Choate's latest" has for many years been synonymous with the best anecdotes told in New York clubs. He has been particularly effective in his pleasantries about the ladies. On one occasion at a dinner party he was asked by one of the gentlemen present who he would like to be if he were not himself. He paused a moment before replying, glanced significantly at his wife and then answered, "Mrs. Choate's second husband." Another time at a banquet he was seated under a balcony filled with ladies. He commenced his speech most effectively by remarking that at last he understood why man was described as a creature a little below the angels.

SUNDAY, JANUARY TWENTY-FIFTH

To-day one of the distinguished prelates of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada observes his sixty-fourth birthday in the person of the Most Reverend Edward J. McCarthy, Archbishop of Halifax. Archbishop McCarthy is a native of the Nova Scotia seaport and has been the head of the Church in the eastern provinces for eight years. A cleric of fine scholarship, an eloquent and forceful preacher and a man of sound business acumen, he is an able administrator of the archdiocese. His popularity extends to all classes of the community and among the Protestants of the province he is generally highly regarded as a broad-minded citizen.

Uncle Walt The Poet Philosopher

WHITE SLAVERY.

Oh, let us paw around some more and roast the frightful white slave traffic, and on the lecture platform roar, and write foul novels, tense and graphic. White slavery's the darkest maze that e'er a moral stick we shook at; so let's present a lot of plays unfit for decent folks to look at. The magazines in horror pant, the public prints are daily yawping, until I tremble for my aunt when she goes toward shopping. The fate she faces makes me cringe—a fate distressing, dire and shady; Some fellow with a cheap syringe may up and drop that fine old lady! The unprophetic girls to grab, the slavers lurk in nooks and crannies, and we must keep unceasing tab upon our gray and giddy gannies. Sane people say the white slave tales are made of air (that's superheated), suggesting that the villain males should like all other myths to be treated. But why be sane? The wisest game is just to shriek around and caper, and thus we win a transient fame, and see our pictures in the paper.

Meeting Postponed. The Board of Works will not meet this afternoon to consider the proposition of extending the West Brant ford dyke, as submitted by Mr. J. T. Hewitt, the owner of the property largely affected. The meeting has been postponed until some day next week.

PROMINENT MEN AS PALL-BEARERS

Funeral of Lord Strathcona Will be of a Private Character.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—Announcement was made last night that the ten pall-bearers to act at Lord Strathcona's funeral on Monday will include Lord Lansdowne, Lord Aberdeen, Colonial Secretary, Harcourt, Rev. George Adam Smith (principal of Aberdeen University), Sir William Osler, Sir Thomas Skinner and W. L. Griffith (Secretary at the High Commissioner's office).

In conformity with the wishes of the family, the funeral will be of a private character as possible, despite the fact that a national tribute is being paid to his memory. The coffin will be borne in an open hearse, which, with the mourner's carriages, will proceed from Grosvenor Square to the Abbey by way of Upper Grosvenor street, Park Lane, Grosvenor Gardens and Victoria street. The procession to Highgate will be by way of Whitehall, Trafalgar Square, Chancery Cross Road, Tottenham Court Road and Hampstead Road.

A. E. Meadows was elected president of the Port Hope Aqua Society, which passed a resolution of condolence on the death of Barlow Cumberland.

Boxing Bouts At The Gem

Clare Betts Won Decision From Fred Williams--Other Events.

At the Gem theatre last night something unusual in the way of attractions was put on, when boxing contests and two wrestling features made up a fine program for the fans. Kid O'Brien and Carpenter, two clever visitors from Michigan, furnished a lively three-round exhibition. In four hot rounds between Fred Williams and Clare Betts it was thought Williams had the best of it, but Betts was given the decision on what looked like fouls. Young Betts and Young Brennan also showed clever work.

In the 115-lb. wrestling bout Kid Hogan won from Meyers, while Smith bested Jack Sloan in the 145-lb. class.

Further boxing and wrestling programs are being arranged last night's affair having proved a big success.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., Jan. 24.—By defeating Victoria here last night by a score of 6 to 4, the New Westminster team practically knocked the champions out of the running for the championship. They furnished a big surprise by their victory, outplaying the Victoria team in the two last periods. It was the cleanest match of the season; only one penalty being handed out. Johnson was again a big factor in New Westminster's victory.

Captain Fined For Smuggling In Japanese

Three Were Found on Board His Ship and Were Not Manifested.

[By Special Wire to The Courier]

VANCOUVER, Jan. 24.—Immigration authorities are relentlessly examining boats arriving here in quest of Orientals not entitled to land and were rewarded this week when they forced to appear in police court at Vancouver three Japanese whose names did not appear on the manifest. As a result Captain F. L. Saunders was forced to appear in police court at North Vancouver to-day when he was fined $450 and costs, $150 for each Japanese, the alternative being three months imprisonment.

The charge laid was that of smuggling Japanese into Canada contrary to the immigration act. Onamura, a Japanese steward, was charged with aiding and abetting in taking Japanese from the ship in Vancouver on the ferry across to North Vancouver, and the magistrate fined him $50 for each Japanese or three months in jail. This is the first case of the kind for years, but the belief prevails that within recent months many Orientals have landed here without having passports from Japan as the act requires. It is also common gossip along the water fronts that some Chinese have been smuggled in.

TANGO NERVE' NEW DISEASE HITS BOSTON

BOSTON, Jan. 24.—The new disease is the "tango nerve." The disease, according to J. Jefferson Richards, a fashionable dancing master, results from tangoes leaning too heavily upon each other. Mr. Richards said that he was afflicted with the new disease and had just been informed of the fact by a specialist whom he consulted, and who is treating him.

PURE GAS NOT UNTIL NEXT WEEK

Official Announcement Made by the Gas Company Today.

"The local gas supply will not be put through the purifiers until the first of next week," was the announcement made by Superintendent Fair of the company to-day.

Owing to unexpected work which has had to be done, Mr. Fair said there had been some delay which could not be avoided in spite of strenuous work by the officials and the men.

He said there was no doubt but that the situation which had been complained of so bitterly, would soon be remedied. In Woodstock the experiment had been tried with great success.

Mayor Spence will visit the plant this afternoon and looks things over. His worship supported the view of Superintendent Fair, that the purifying process can be successfully inaugurated.

ANNUAL MEETING AT CONGREGATIONAL

Splendid Year Has Been Enjoyed by Church—Very Encouraging Report.

There was a large and enthusiastic attendance at the annual meeting of the Congregational Church held last Wednesday, when another year of progress closed.

The pastor, Rev. Mr. Kelly occupied the chair. Following the reading of the minutes of the last annual meeting, the various organizations of the church presented their reports, all of which were very gratifying.

The financial statement as presented by the Treasurer was most encouraging. The total receipts amounted to about $4,500, out of which Home and Foreign Missions were generously remembered. And after meeting all expenditures a slight advance was carried forward to the present year.

The reports of the Church Secretary Mr. A. Muir, and also the Sunday School Secretary, Mr. Hill, were very gratifying, each showing not only a considerable increase in enrolled membership, but also a much better average attendance.

The report of the Ladies' Aid society was submitted by Miss A. Hollinrake, who gave an excellent outline of the good work done throughout the year by the society, and extended thanks to the members of the congregation for the loyal support given them. The total receipts for the year were $634.8.

Mr. P. H. Secord reported for the Music committee, and spoke of the harmony and loyalty which characterized the choir, and its members.

Mr. Secord was followed by a number of others who each spoke praisefully of the efficiency and faithfulness of that body and of the help it was to the pastor and the church generally.

This spirit of achievement and successful endeavor characterized all the reports from the different societies of the church, and it was agreed that with the vigor and enthusiasm shown never has the church had a brighter outlook.

Increased confidence and appreciation of the pastor, Mr. Kelly, was expressed, and shown in a tangible way by a substantial increase in his salary.

The following officers were elected: Deacons: H. Vitch, James Clyde, H. Symonds, Geo. Adams, P. H. Secord, H. P. Hoag and Wm. Grier-son.

Secretary: Wm. Lewis. Treasurer: Malcolm Robertson. Envelope Steward: Frank Rouse. Few Steward: Geo. Adams.

Reporter: Miss M. Kerr. Collectors: Ward Foster, George Adams, Chas. Whitney, and W. J. Hill.

Ushers: J. C. Cole, W. A. Hollinrake, Geo. Harrington and Mr. Godfrey.

The Management committee was re-elected with the following additional members: S. G. Cole, W. S. Sterne and Messrs. Godfrey, Humble and Hunter.

Martin Burton, a well known Barrie lumberman is dead, aged 64. Three men were killed and $60,000 damage done by a boiler explosion.

The High Cost Of Living

A Courier subscriber submits the following to-day: Every one is grumbling, but still the price of grub does soar. Now eggs, they sell at 45, and still they may be more.

When you ask the price of sirloin steak, the answer makes you shiver. When the butcher says it's 25, but I have some nice fresh liver. Then you call the butcher names, he's a high-wad and a glut-ton.

You say you need a fortune to buy a pound or two of mutton, you know you dare not ask him for side bacon or yet ham, and you know darned well you can't afford to buy a roast of lamb. And then you get so angry, that with passion you near choke, you say you'll try some cod fish, you won't pay the price of pork. Then you glare upon the butcher, you're a cheat and thief, you mutter, and then back home you go again and you sit there and ponder, it's the middleman you cry, yes, that's the blooming sucker that makes the price of living high.

B.C.I. and A.O.F. Hockey Teams Each Scored Twice.

Last evening before a large crowd of enthusiastic supporters, the A.O.F. and B.C.I. hockey teams met for the second time this year. In the time allotted for play, both teams scored two goals, and as a further tie could be secured to play the tie off it is not yet known which is the better team.

FOUR BROTHERS ALL OVER EIGHTY

AYR, Ont., Jan. 24.—It is not often that one hears of four brothers all of whom have passed the age of 80, but such is the record held by the Gammon "boys," well known in this vicinity.

The eldest, Alfred, was born in Kent County, near London, England in 1828 and is at present living at Plattsville. The second, Richard, was born near Hamilton in 1830, and resides at Mount Pleasant. The next to him is William, who was also born near Hamilton, in 1832, and is living in the Village of Washington, near here. The youngest is George, also born near Hamilton in 1834, and now residing in Brantford. The brothers all met at the home of the youngest brother last Fall and held a reunion.

In Memory of the Immortal Bobby Burns

Most Successful Affair Was Held Last Evening by Sons of Scotland Residing in Brantford.

The sons and daughters of Bonnie Scotland, turned out in full force last night at the Temple Hall in celebration of the Burns Anniversary held by the Sons of Scotland.

Scotia Camp No. 33 were the promoters of the entertainment which consisted of a concert, supper and dance. The spacious hall resounded with the good old Gaelic dialect which the Scotch folks carry with them wherever they go.

Burns would have felt proud if he could have seen the happy throng. The bagpipes called and the Scottish blood responded. Hornpipes, Scotchies, barn dances and Scotch reels swayed the merry-makers and pleasant faces, typically Scotch were seen everywhere. There is evidently a goodly number of the canny folks in Brantford City.

Mr. W. G. Raymond, although not a Scotchman, gave a very interesting address on the merits of Burns and his oration was voted the best heard in this city. Mr. Broatch, chairman of the evening, spoke enthusiastically in this regard especially of the Highlanders. It is significant that Shakespeare the greatest English poet, has no such patriotic anniversary.

Among those present at the head table were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. G. Broatch, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Creighton and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. McAulley.

In a patriotic speech the chairman, Mr. G. Broatch, said he was proud to be able to say, "I am a Scot." He was also proud of his association, an association which kept him in touch with Scottish traditions and characteristics. To be a Scotchman was a glorious birthright. Scotch character would be carried into their citizenship and the spirit of it would be felt. The society was doing its part to bring about the brotherly feeling referred to by Burns when he wrote:

And come it will for a' that,
Where man to man the world o'er,
Shall brothers be for a' that."

Burns was compared by the speaker against Latimer and Luther and he claimed that Burns was a greater benefactor than either of these ancient men of learning.

The Scotch had been potent factors in making history in the little isle across the sea and Scotchmen had since time immemorial been promi-guine stamp. "A man's a man for a' that."

Scotch melodies, harmonious and full of the vaunted Scotch spirit were rendered during the evening by a group of excellent vocalists. An instrumental duet by the Misses Johnson and Whitely, elicited an encore. The Misses Ross, proved excellent singers and the Scotch of the audience was thoroughly roused to demonstration in their appreciation.

The Brantford Quartette were as usual in request and "Rocked in the Cradle of the Deep" and other songs brought them a good share of plaudits. The fine old song, "Scots Wha Hae," was sung by J. Anderson, and the Scotch favorite by Burns was received in a manner consistent with its popularity. Piper Galbraith, on the national instrument, gave an exhibition of his ability. A trio by the Misses Ross and J. Anderson was given such vociferous applause that nothing but an encore would satisfy.

After refreshments the floor was cleared and the lads and lassies fra' Scotland indulged in the national dances. Music and revelry continued and when the gathering dispersed it was unanimously agreed, "Scotland for ever."

Mystery Man's Suicide

An inquest was held at Catherham on Monday on a mysterious foreigner who shot himself in a field off the Troydon road. He stayed at a local hotel and beyond saying he came from Brussels, refused to give his name or address or to sign the visitor's book.

A letter was found in his possession saying that he was ill and did not want his aged father to know it. A doctor having certified that the man was suffering from tuberculosis, the jury returned a verdict of suicide while of unsound mind.

The Y.W.C.A. and Its Three Million

It has been said by critics that the methods of the Y. W. C. A. have been ineffective and antiquated; it has been said that it lacks appeal; it has been said that it antagonizes the very class of girl which it wishes to help. But all these accusations are to be swept away. The Y. W. C. A. is to be made as efficient and up to date as its companion organization, the Y. M. C. A. Signs of this re-awakening are to be seen across the line and doubtless before long will be visible also in Canada. Here in Montreal our Y. W. C. A. has gone quietly and unostentatiously on its way, going good work but not doing all the work it should do. It is not time for our Y. W. C. A. to have a campaign and raise the money needed for the extension of its work? They had a campaign recently in New York, and raised three millions for their work. Let us see according to Current Opinion, what it is proposed to do with this large sum.

Purpose of the Fund

Of the $3,000,000 raised, $800,000 is to be devoted to the Young Women's Christian Association, which stands at the corner of Lexington Ave and Fifty-second street, New York. The President of the board is Miss Dodge and the board consists of thirty New York members and of the heads of committees in the various districts throughout the country. The business of the board is to carry on the affairs of the United Associations of the country, and to consider continuously the best means to help women where help is needed. In the National board building are dining rooms, reception rooms, committee rooms, class rooms and a library. It is a thoroughly equipped and architecturally beautiful structure.

Apart from the $800,000 to be used for the National board building, $2,200,000 is to be devoted to the local work of the Y.W.C.A. in New York city of which $600,000 goes to a new central branch, to take the place of present headquarters in East Fifteenth St. The central branch building will be a great up to date club house for girls. It will have a gymnasium and swimming pool, and it will have improved class rooms for all kinds of courses, from millinery to multiplication tables.

The sum of $500,000 will be spent on a new Harlem branch building and $350,000 will go into a boarding home. "There are no less than 500,000 working girls in New York city," remarks a writer in the New York Times, "and it is estimated that at least 100,000 of them have no homes of their own." The same writer continues:

Army of a Hundred Thousand.

"Of this army of 100,000, girls exposed to temptation and danger, earning as a rule so little that they cannot afford the comforts or even the real necessities of proper existence, the Y.W.C.A. has been able to accommodate only about three hundred. Of this number twenty are in the Colored Women's Branch, twenty-two in the West Side Branch and forty in the Harlem Branch. The rest are in the Studio Club, the Central Club for Nurses, and the Margaret Louisa Home.

"But the Studio Club is for girls who are studying one of the arts. The Nurses' Club takes only women practicing that profession while the Margaret Louisa Home is really for transients, as no one can remain there more than a few months at a time. So that at present only 82 out of the vast throng of New York's real working girls can find a home under a Y.W.C.A. roof.

"The organization proposes, therefore, to use $350,000 of its share of the campaign fund to build and equip a home for 250 girls where they can live for from $4 to $6 a week. The institution is expected to be self-supporting after it is fairly established. It will be on the East Side, north of Twenty-third street."

The Central Club for Nurses and the Colored Women's Branch of the Y.W.C.A. are apportioned $400,000 and $100,000 respectively. The West Side Branch will benefit to the extent of $50,000. The sum of $150,000 is to be set aside to help pay, during the first two years, increased expenses due to the great enlargement of the work. An auxiliary Equipment and Adjustment Fund of $50,000 is also provided. This accounts for all of the $3,000,000 raised for the Y.W.C.A. The money goes, in the main, it will be noted, into permanent investments in buildings and equipment.

Origin of Y.W.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association may be said to date back to the period following the Crimean War, when Lady Arthur Kinnaird established a home for nurses in London. That was in 1854. Four years later a Ladies' Christian Union was formed in New York. Under its present name the Y.W.C.A. may be traced to Boston and to the year 1866. It is not a charity but a society of fellow-workers. Its object is fourfold: "The promotion of the social, physical, intellectual and spiritual condition of young women."

Reeve R. J. Doak entertained the members of the Cavan Council and a number of the electors to an oyster supper in the town hall at Millbrook.

Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux has given notice of a resolution in the Commons providing for federal endorsement of the proposed World's Fair at Montreal in 1915.

The warmest kind of campaign is being waged all through Huron in connection with the vote to be taken on the Canada temperance act on January 29.

An auxiliary Equipment and Adjustment Fund of $50,000 is also provided. This accounts for all of the $3,000,000 raised for the Y.W.C.A. The money goes, in the main, it will be noted, into permanent investments in buildings and equipment.

Origin of Y.W.C.A.

The Young Women's Christian Association may be said to date back to the period following the Crimean War, when Lady Arthur Kinnaird established a home for nurses in London. That was in 1854. Four years later a Ladies' Christian Union was formed in New York. Under its present name the Y.W.C.A. may be traced to Boston and to the year 1866. It is not a charity but a society of fellow-workers. Its object is fourfold: "The promotion of the social, physical, intellectual and spiritual condition of young women."

Reeve R. J. Doak entertained the members of the Canon Council and a number of the electors to an oyster supper in the town hall at Millbrook.

LORD O'BRIEN RESIGNS OFFICE

Judge Who Eliminated Objections From Juries in Trials Before Him.

DUBLIN, Jan. 24.—So far from being the description of "Peter the Great" bestowed upon him by the specialists, on account of the manner in which he resolutely set aside objections in sympathy with defendants in cases which came before him, when Mr. Balfour was Irish Secretary and the Coercion act was in force, Lord O'Brien who has just tendered his resignation as Lord Chief Justice of Ireland, has, on more than one occasion, remarked that the title was quite justified.

"I certainly eliminated from the jury box," he has said, "those who were prejudiced. I did so without apology, and would do it again if in the same position. I ought to have been called the 'Great Unpacker.'"

It has been truly said that Lord O'Brien has had some bitter political opponents, but not a single enemy. He is a typical Irishman, genial, kind-hearted, and witty, with a brogue of exceptional strength. He was Queen Victoria's guest on several occasions during Her Majesty's last visit to Ireland, and he greatly amused the Queen on one occasion by describing how, when travelling abroad before his elevation, he inscribed himself in the books of the Swiss Hotels as Her Britannic Majesty's First Sergeant-at-Law. Although the title was strictly correct, its pompous nature threw the officials of Switzerland into consternation, and they had much to do to decide whether diplomatic courtesies were not due to this high and mighty personage.

A story, which Lord O'Brien is rather fond of telling against himself, relates to an occasion when he hired a hackney-car at Stigo for a drive after a weary day in court. He mounted the car beside the driver and the jarvey, believing the Attorney-General, as Lord O'Brien then was, to be inside the vehicle, remarked, "That's a hard man inside."

"Yes," said Lord O'Brien, "I believe he is a man with an indifferent reputation."

At the end of the drive the Attorney-General handed the "jarvey" a gold coin, and the surprised and delighted man, looked first at the coin and then at the Attorney-General, whom he then recognized, and said: "Well, after all, the devil isn't as black as he's painted."

THE KNAVES PLOT, THE FOOLS PAY

British Labor Leader Fears Britain Will Be Brought to Beggary.

LONDON, Jan. 24.—"Unless people put their heads together and stop the increase of armaments, England will be brought to beggary," said Ramsey MacDonald, M.P., yesterday of the Cabinet's decision to increase the naval expenditures in spite of the present anti-armament sympathies.

Winston Spencer Churchill, continued Mr. MacDonald, "is the worst Liberal First Lord of the Admiralty we ever had. He thinks, although good sense and good-will are growing everywhere, that an inflated price is imperative. The entente with France, instead of relieving us of part of the burden of armaments, is causing us to pile on more."

"The whole vicious business is due to the machinations of the armor-plate patriots. The beneficiaries always pretend to have special information of an alarming kind, and regularly play one country against another. Their figures are thrust before the Governments and vitally affect the naval estimates."

"One can understand the operations of knaves, but one cannot understand the endurance of the fools who pay the bills. The Labor party is going to ventilate the matter in

Scout Notes

In swimming competition with Hamilton on Friday evening next three Headquarters and one Dufferin Scout will be on the team representing the local Y.M.C.A. The competition will take place in the Hamilton Y.M.C.A.

Will Give Address.

In three weeks Mr. H. G. Hammond of Toronto will be in the city, and will give an address before the local Scout Council, scoutmasters and instructors.

The Swimming Competition.

Although the Headquarters Patrol got the majority of the events in the swimming competitions against the seniors in the tank on Wednesday, they did not carry away the most points. In the sprint the seniors got the first two places, making five points. The relay won by the Scouts took three points and gave the seniors two. The polo won by the Scouts gave them three points to the seniors' none, whilst in a team race the seniors got two points to the Scouts' one, giving a points majority of two to the seniors. This points to stability on the part of the seniors, who were poorly represented. Young Smith, for the Scouts, did well in the swims, coming third in 25 seconds. He swims crawl and ought to improve considerably under the supervision of George Mosley, who has a most promising bunch of amateurs in hand.

He is Modest.

Scoutmaster Macfarlan is apparently a man of deeds, not words, for his attitude before the commissioners lined up inside the Y.M.C.A. hall, and stranger had not the slightest difficulty in arriving at the scene of the manifestations of the local Scouts' brilliancy.

A WONDERFUL COLD CURE.

Just think of it, a cold cured in ten minutes—that's what happens when you use "Catarrhoxone." You inhale its soothing balsams and out goes the cold—sniffles are cured—headache is cured—symptoms of catarrh and grippe disappear at once. It's the healing pine essences and powerful antiseptics in Catarrhoxone that enable it to act so quickly. In disease of the nose, for irritable throat, bronchitis, coughs and catarrh it's a marvel. Safe even for children. 25c and $1.00 sizes at all druggists.

WITHIN THE LAW
By MARVIN DANA FROM THE PLAY OF BAYARD VELLER

Copyright, 1913, by the H. K. Fry company.

Even while this affair was still in the course of execution Mary found herself engaged in a direction that offered at least the hope of attaining her great desire—revenge against Edward Gilder. This opportunity came in the person of his son, Dick. After much contrivance she got an introduction to that young man. Forthwith she showed herself so deliciously womanly, so intelligent, so daintily feminine, so singularly beautiful that the young man was charmed almost at once. The fact thrilled Mary to the depths of her heart, for in this son of the man whom she hated she saw the instrument of vengeance for which she had so longed. Yet this one thing was so vital to her that she said nothing of her purposes, not even to Aggie, though that observant person may have possessed suspicions more or less near the truth.

It was some such suspicion that lay behind her speech as, in negligence, she sat smoking a cigarette, while watching Mary, who was adjusting her hat before the mirror of her dressing table one pleasant spring morning.

"Dollin' up a whole lot, ain't you?" Aggie remarked affably, with that laxity of language which characterized her natural mood.

"I have a very important engagement with Dick Gilder," Mary replied tranquilly.

"Nice boy, ain't he?" Aggie ventured insinuatingly.

"Oh, suppose so," came the indifferently answered Mary as she tilted the picture hat to an angle a trifle more jaunty.

"I don't get you, Mary. You never used to look at the men. The way you acted when you first run round with fraggote. And then you met this young Gilder—and—good night, nurse!"

"Well?"

"This old man sends you up for a stretch for something you didn't do, and you take up with his son like?"

"And yet you sure understand!" There was some such such gross stupidity in the musical voice.

Aggie choked a little from the cigarette smoke as she gave a gasp when she saw the truth suddenly dawned on her slow intelligence.

"Hully gee!" Her voice came in a tremulous shriek of apprehension.

"But you must understand this," Mary went on, with an authoritative note in her voice. "Whatever may be between young Gilder and me is to be strictly my own affair. It has absolutely nothing to do with the rest of you or with our schemes for money making. And, what is more, Agnes, I want to know what you meant by talking in the public street yesterday with a common pickpocket."

Aggie's childlike face changed swiftly by its expression from a sly eagerness to sullenness.

"You know perfectly well, Mary Turner," she cried indignantly, "that I only said a few words in passin' to my brother Jim. And he ain't no common pickpocket. Hully gee! He's the best dip in the business."

"But you must not be seen speaking with him," Mary directed, with a certain air of command now become habitual to her among the members of her clique. "My cousin, Miss Agnes Lynch, must be very careful as to her associates."

"He just stopped me to say it's been the best year he ever had," she explained, with ostentatious vanity.

"How can that be when the dead line now is John street?"

"The dead line!" Aggie scoffed.

"Why, Jim takes lunch every day in

"I have an important engagement with Dick Gilder," she said. "I'm at the Wall street Delmonico's, and only yesterday he went down to police headquarters just for a little excitement. 'Cause Jim does sure hate a dull life. Say, he told me they've got a mat at the door with 'Welcome' on it in letters three feet high. Now, what do you think of that! And, oh, yes!" she continued happily. "Jim, he lifted a leather from a bill who was standing in the hallway there at headquarters! Jim sure does love excitement."

"Mary lifted her dark eyebrows in half amused inquiry."

"It's no use, Agnes," she declared, though without utter sincerity; "I can't quite keep up with your thieves' argot—your slang, you know. Just what did this leather of your do?"

"Why, he copped the copper's kale," Aggie translated, glibly.

"Mary threw out her hands in a gesture of dismay."

"Thereupon the adventures instantly assumed a most ladylike and mincing air which ill assorted with the cigarette that she held between her lips."

"He gently removed a leathery wallet," she said sedately, "containing a large sum of money from the coat pocket of a member of the detective force." The dignified utterance was unthinkingly done. But in the next instant the ordinary vulgarity of enunciation was in full play again. "Oh, gee!" she cried slyly.

"He says Inspector Burke's got a gold watch that weighs a ton, an' all set with diamonds, which was give to him by admiral's friends! We didn't contribute."

"Given to him," Mary corrected, with a tolerant smile.

"What difference does it make?" Aggie demanded scornfully. "He's got it, ain't he? Just as soon as I get time 'im gold' after that watch—believe me!"

"No, you are not. You are under my orders now. And as long as you are working with us you will break no laws."

"But I can't see!" Aggie began to whine with the petulance of a spoiled child.

"When you were working alone did you have a home like this?"

"Or such clothes? Most of all, did you have safety for the police?"

"No; but, just the same, I can't see!"

"Agnes, the richest men in this country have made their fortunes, not because of the law, but in spite of the law. They made up their minds what they wanted to do and then they engaged lawyers clever enough to show them how they could do it and still keep within the law. Any one with brains can get rich in this country if he will engage the right lawyer. Well, I have the brains, and Harris is showing me the law—the wonderful twisted line that was made for the rich. Since we keep inside the law we are safe."

"And now I must be off to a most important engagement with Mr. Dick Gilder."

Barrie Agricultural Society elected Dr. Ounlan as president.

FROM OIL TO HYDRO
How Conditions Have Changed in This City in the Last Sixty Years.

As cities, towns and all communities keep up with the march of civilization, and assume more dignified proportions from year to year, and are ever watchful of the sure and steady advancement and improvements which arts and science introduce, it is natural that they should seek in every way to elevate themselves to the times in which they live. So Brantford, always in the van to promote happiness and general prosperity of her citizens, never slumbers in her interests.

Evidenced on Saturday

This was evidenced on Saturday evening at 8.01 when Ex-Mayor Charles H. Hartman pulled the starting switch at the Greenwich St. Hydro Electric station, causing nearly 150 ornamental lights situated in the central section of the city to light up the district as it never had been lighted before.

The citizen of to-day does not fail to appreciate what the harnessing of Niagara has done but could some of those who lived in the period when sickly oil lamps were the best available, return to the city, which when they departed, was comparatively a hamlet, they would be dumfounded.

Some who witnessed the lights on Saturday night almost showed some of the symptoms of that condition.

Oil Previous to 1854.

Previous to 1854 the people of the Town of Brantford had to turn night into day by the aid of lamp-oil, tallow and so forth; but having made great progress in all respects, they determined to supplant the crude material in use for lighting, by something more modern and convenient.

Accordingly the matter having been considerably agitated and ventilated, a meeting of the citizens was called. The following extract thus dwells on the matter:

"GAS COMPANY. If the expectations of the projectors of this company can possibly be realized, Brantford will soon repudiate tallow, sperm oil and all the multifarious and dangerous burning fluids now in use; illuminate her streets and light up her shops and private dwellings with gas. Not with that species of 'laughing gas' with which effervescent politicians have attempted to inflate the town during the past twelve months, but with the real Simon pure; an article useful, cheap and desirable. The nucleus of a company has already been formed, and although we think the capital stock has been placed at too low a figure, we heartily wish the projectors success in their undertaking."

Among those present on Saturday evening when the power was turned into the ornamental lights, besides ex-Mayor Hartman, were the members of the Hydro Commission: Mayor John H. Spence, ex-Ald. A. McFarland and Mr. George Wedlake.

While the ornamental lights are performing their function, the other street lights will not be put out, but be in use for a couple of weeks.

A visit to the Greenwich street station and for that matter, any power station, causes one to marvel at the accomplishments of science.

The Associated Boards of Trade of Timiskaming and Northern Ontario criticized the Ontario Government's educational administration.

knowing that if the enterprise be properly managed, it will be a lasting benefit to the town."

Oil and Gas Used.

During the period in which gas was used which was from 1854 until over twenty years ago oil lamps were used to light some of the outlying sections. There were in the neighborhood of twenty lights. Among the location of these lights were Corner of Nelson and Clarence streets, corner Chatham and Clarence Sts.; at the foot of Church and Terrace Hill Sts.; and the vicinity of Agricultural Park.

From a base the light superstructure which was four sided reached an enlarged area. Common glass was used. The globe was mounted on a round wooden pole about eight feet high.

The gas posts were of iron, and the globes were of different style.

Ex-Mayor Had Contract.

Ex-Mayor Hartman in 1881 had the contract for caring for and supplying the oil lamps with fuel. The Mayor at that time was engaged in the coal oil business.

Electricity Introduced.

As previously stated electricity was first used here for street lighting, and all other purposes about twenty years ago. The power was secured at the falls where the canal empties into the river. Until the Western Counties located here gas and electricity were both used to light the thoroughfares of the municipality.

By Citizens' Vote.

In October, 1912, the citizens by ballots said that Hydro-Electric must be brought to the city. The Hydro is now here and bears testimony to the good judgment of the people who cast a vote which helped to bring the commodity to the city.

ELLIS ON THE JOB

A Negro Was Hanged at Montreal This Morning.

MONTREAL, Jan. 24.—William Campbell, colored, was hanged this morning in Bordeaux jail for the murder of George Muir, on Aug. 14. The execution, which was the first to be held in this jail, which was only recently rebuilt, went off without a hitch. Arthur Ellis was the hangman.

Campbell was wanted in Cincinnati for the murder of two women settlement workers there.

Campbell was born in Virginia and his parents were slaves. Campbell, who slept well during the night, spent some time after awakening with Edgar Garetau, the prison chaplain.

When at 7.45 the doomed man was notified that his time had come, he showed no nervousness, but took his place in the procession leading to the gallows with head erect. While his arms and legs were being pinioned he seemed to sway, but recovering his composure in a moment, asked the executioner if he might address those around him. Ellis referred the request to Sheriff Lemieux who refused it.

After the black cap had been affixed, Father Garceau pressed a crucifix to Campbell's lips. When the rope had been arranged, Ellis stepped smartly back and waving the priest aside, kicked the lever releasing the trap upon which Campbell had stood. Campbell was pronounced dead five minutes after the drop.

Some excitement was caused when Campbell shot from sight by a guard fainting.

The execution was not the gala affair that hangings in the old jail yard, which was overlooked by a number of houses, used to be, as not more than twenty people were present.

Jealousy and greed figured as the motives which caused Campbell to kill Muir. A woman named Lillie Hibbert, who had been partial to both of them, finally decided to live with Muir. On August 14, Muir's dead body was found under a shed outside the city, the throat having been cut. Campbell was arrested and was found to be wearing Muir's straw hat. This hat was missing from the body.

Campbell also had a number of travellers' certificates which evidence showed had been originally stolen by Muir.

Campbell was sentenced to death by Judge Cross as the December assizes and the sentence was unsuccessfully appealed to the governor-general. An attempt was made yesterday to secure a reprieve on the alleged alibi testimony of a woman named Annie Jackson, but it failed.

Many people often want help, but do not know where to secure it. By consulting the ads of those wanting jobs they will be able to secure the help they want.

HON. MR. COCHRANE AGAIN MENTIONED

He May Become Lieut. Governor of Ontario—Ottawa Rumor.

OTTAWA, Jan. 24.—The rumor is again revived about the corridors that Hon. Frank Cochrane can have the appointment of Lieutenant-Governor of Ontario if he desires it, and it is further stated that the Minister of Railways may accept the position when it becomes vacant this year.

Hon. Mr. Cochrane has made a reputation for himself as an administrator at Ottawa even more marked than was his great success at Toronto in provincial affairs. The heavy duties of his great department have, however, been a grievous tax on the health of the minister. Though much better in many ways at present than for some time past, it is generally believed that it would be in his own interests if Mr. Cochrane would relieve himself of the burden he is now carrying.

Speculation is still kept at the capital as to the successor of Lord Strathcona. The name most frequently mentioned here is that of Hon. Robert Rogers, minister of public works, and it is generally agreed that if he really desires it he can have the appointment.

Mr. Rogers, however, has made for himself a place in the national affairs of the Dominion that would be hard indeed to fill, and the rank and file of the party here would be opposed to his leaving the position he now holds.

The position is likely to remain vacant for some little time yet.

Blood Hounds Out for Bandits In the South

Loot of $100 Secured When a Train Was Held Up.

[By Special Wire to The Courier] FACKLERS, Ala., Jan. 24.—Railroad detectives and deputy sheriffs early to-day with blood hounds began search for three men who looted the mail and express cars of a Southern Railway passenger train near here, and, after starting the locomotive and the two cars on a wild run, disappeared on horses. The train ran without a guiding hand on the throttle to Larksville, Ala., 19 miles away, where it stopped when the locomotive went dead.

The two passenger coaches of the train were picked up early to-day by a train from Chattanooga, Tenn., which brought the officers and dogs.

The robbers obtained a sum estimated at $100 by blowing the express car safe. Their search through the mail car failed to produce anything, as only second-class matter was in the pouches. No attempt was made to molest passengers. Those who ventured out when the train was halted were sent back by a party of bullets.

The bandits did their work in a lonely spot. The locomotive and mail and express cars first were detached from the passenger coaches and run down the track a hundred yards. One of the robbers guarded the engine crew and mail and express clerks while the other two robbed the cars.

Arrangements Complete. Arrangements have been completed for the purchase of new electric pumps at the Brantford waterworks station, at a cost of $25,000. Hydro electric will be used.

In a way, the N. H. A. president has some reason to fear that some of the pros. may suffer injury. Any bad feeling between the players is too widely advertised these days.

The Federal League is making a big splash just now. But when the summer comes the Hot Stove League chatter may not be heard when cold cash commences to talk. So far the Federals have signed up maybe a dozen big leaguers, mostly veterans, and the league will have to fill up on minor leaguers, and perhaps not very good ones at that. For a really successful fight with organized baseball, the Federal League must invest five or six millions in baseball. And that's a big investment in anything.

So far, every protest to the N. H. A. has been thrown out by President Emmett Quinn. This may not seem justice at first glance, but it's not far from being hard, common sense. We would have one continual round of protests if only a few were allowed. It would be like a baseball game with the ump's changing his decision whenever a kick came in.

The American A. A. U. is after funds for the Olympic team and J. E. Sullivan wants the A. A. U. to grant $2000 towards the fund. The Americans want $150,000 for the team and are beginning to fear that they will find the same difficulty in collecting the money that both the British and German athletic associations have encountered.

A Kick About Coal Quality

is by no means a rare thing these times. But it is a rarity with us, because we take care to buy only the best grades of coal, as we know our customers would not buy from us any inferior qualities— not twice anyway. Messrs Riley, Fern and Reg. Percival interpreted the new rule in a somewhat peculiar manner. Berlanquet was allowed to nearly throw Darragh over the first row of seats, while Jack was taking aim for a shot, but Duford met a man coming straight down the ice, with plenty of space to get by, and visited the penalty box for a square body check.

Jess Willard and Gunboat Smith meet at Daly City, on July 4. The Gunboat has whipped nearly all the white hopes while Willard has collected a lot of advertising through the death of an opponent in the ring. This is probably expected to lure out enough fight fans to bring up the gate enough to give Gunboat Smith the $7,500 Willard's manager has guaranteed him.

President Emmett Quinn sprang a new one on the Ottawas when they arrived in Montreal Arena. It was in the shape of a new rule. According to this new rule body checking, one of the features of hockey since the game started, is practically ruled out. In future, if a player is skating up the side with the puck, the player checking him may not body him into the boards, unless the puck-carrier has room enough to pass between the player checking and the side. The officials having to interpret these rules have our sympathy, and the chances are ten to one they will get out of it by calling all body checking off. The rule came as the aftermath of the Lalonde-Hall incident, President Quinn evidently fearing a bad injury to some player.

QUEEN CHAMPION SWIMMER

PARIS, Jan. 24.—"If I weren't sitting on the Italian throne," said Queen Helene recently, "I could earn $400 weekly as a champion woman swimmer or as a trick shooter in the New York music halls."
Inquiry shows that nearly every European queen is capable of earning her own living by some accomplishment or other if forced to it. Queen Mary of England is quite adept at painting water colors and at dressmaking, the Kaiserin is an expert art photographer. Queen Wilhelmina of Holland is well known as a miniature painter and fancy cook. Queen Maud of Norway, who writes under the pen name of "Graham Irving," has gained success as a playwright and also has considerable skill as a painter and bookbinder, while everyone is familiar with the poetry written by Carmen Sylvia, Queen of Roumania.

BASEBALL, PLAYED AROUND THE HOT STOVE CIRCUIT

Colonel Hedges of the St. Louis Browns has tendered a contract to Earl Weitzel, a kid pitcher of Hazelton, Ind., who has performed pompously with semi-professional clubs of Southern Indiana. Weitzel is expected to report to Manager Branch Rickey in February for the Southern training trip.

Catcher Arthur Lavigne, of the Lowell Club, New England League, has been purchased by Manager Mike Finn of the Memphis Southern League Club. Patrick Lagan, an outfielder from the Bangor team, Maine-New Brunswick League, also has signed a contract with the Southern Leaguers.

E. W. Dickenson, president of the Michigan State League, believes that six clubs should limit the census of minor league circuit. The Michigan State League first demonstrated the advantage of this contention and Tri-State Leagues followed in the order named.

Mike Rosch, well known baseball character, has decided to again follow the charms of professional baseball. Accordingly Rosch has sold the Hotel McDonald of Binghamton, N.Y., and is now preparing to loosen up his muscles for an active 1914 "come-back." Rosch desires to become manager of a minor league club.

Run down and killed by a switch engine on the eve of his marriage, was the sad fate of Bill Clayton, pitcher for the Bloomington Club of the Three-I League for a brief period in 1913. Clayton accepted a position as brakeman in Salem, Ill., in December, 1913, and met his death while attending to his duties as track inspector.

Another case of Cupid banging out a safety hit stunned the friends of Joe Gedson, infielder for the Washington Americans, when it was learned that Joe eloped daringly with Miss Laurine O'Brien of Sacramento, California. Gedson and his bride were married at Keno, a suburb village, and returned to spread the news broadcast.

A committee composed of W. O. Duntley, John T. Conner, John P. Harding and Edward G. Heeman are completing arrangements for the return reception to be extended Messrs McGraw, Callahan, Comiskey and the globe-trotting White Sox and Giants following the extensive trip around the continent. Base ball letters have been mailed requesting candidates for the reception committee.

The Montreal Club of the International League has signed Jack Persice's former base ball instructor and semi-pro player of Canendegus. Montreal also has secured an amateur hurling phenom of Chicago, who will work with Persice in the International circuit. Frank Chance of the New York Highlanders gave Persice a brief trial last summer.

Clark Griffith when in quest of a brilliant player, sends his youngster to the Atlanta Club, which is one of Washington's farms. Atlanta generally spurns the services of Griffith's cast-offs, the Kids ramble to another club, make good and then the sly manager signs 'em up. Joe Boehling and Paul Musser are two notables who received this parcel post treatment.

Domestic comforts and a thriving hostelry, of which he rules supreme, caused President Callaway of the Atlanta Southern League Club to receive an unsigned contract from Chas Alperman, the captain of the Southern League champs last year. Alperman says there's too great a profit in managing a hotel to decide as to his baseball career at this early period.

Captain Adrian C. Anson has been crowned with a good-sized horse-shoe by G. M. Cohan, the celebrated New York light opera comedian. Cohan wrote the vaudeville sketch which is now being presented in an Eastern Circuit by the veteran player and the "Yankee boy" refused to accept one copper cent for instructing Anson how to buck and wing in up to date fashion.

Czar Ban Johnson is planning a device which will automatically detect an intentional base on balls given by a pitcher. A "catcher's box" is the plan in question and it is thought the little enclosure will help the umpires in determining whether or not the pass was voluntary, as it will show up the backstops who step to one side of the plate to receive the combination of wild pitches.

Buck O'Brien, former twirler for the Boston Red Sox, who was secured last season from the Chicago Americans by the Oakland Pacific Coast Club, will not return to Manager Devlin next spring, according to coast information. The original option has expired, it is said, but President Comiskey has allotted time for the Oaks to consider whether or not O'Brien will be welcome in their midst for the 1914 season.

To further scare the magnates of organized baseball the Chicago Federal League club has been incorporated for $250,000. James Gilmore, Chas Wegghman and W. M. Walker are named as the incorporators. The St. Louis Club has opened a regular business office in the heart of the commercial district, while Mordcael Brown, the new manager, will be given a brand new desk to direct his contracts to the major league noblemen.

Another streak of hard luck has been dealt to the Brooklyn Dodgers. Not content with robbing Brooklyn of Shortstop Tinker, Old Dame Fate also yanked Shortstop Bob Fischer to the Federal League. Following the sudden jump of Tinker and Brown, officials of the Dodgers immediately mailed contracts to the players wanted for the coming season, but Fischer squandered his offer, retaliating that he was to receive a snug fortune from the independents.

Thomas P. Daly has been welcomed into the camp of New York Americans as trainer for the younger pitchers. Daly was at one time a former-catcher in the National League and attained great fame while playing under Anson in 1889. Daly handled Governor Tener's spirals in those colonial days and also was a member of the globe-trotting Chicago team in 1904. Chase has engaged the veteran for the entire season. Daly to be given full charge of the new hurlers.

Starting his professional baseball career with the Des Moines Club of the Western League, W. R. Marshall, former catcher for the Chicago Cubs, has affixed the doctor symbol before his name and is now a full fledged physician with his home and office in Clinton, Ky. Following his stay with Des Moines, Dr Marshall was drafted to New York Nationals and assisted the Giants in winning the championship in 1904. In 1905 he played with the St. Louis Nationals and in 1908 he was a member of the world's champion Cubs.

"While it takes but three strikes to convince the umpire that your man is out, Willie Mitchell, hurler for the Cleveland Naps will testify that it takes an extra shoot to down a growling panther. As Mitchell was bent on a quail hunting expedition in Sardis, Miss., he pitched into a panther glaring from behind a tree. The beast started to pounce upon Mitchell, but after Willie had missed three times straight, the fourth shot took effect and now the animal's skin is adorning Mitchell's honor den.

The plea for Jake Daubert, famous first sacker for the Brooklyn Superbas has caused Tom Romanach, the Cuban shortstop, to smile in the direction of Garry Herrmann in deserting the Cincinnati Reds, who fixed his services. Daubert representing Brooklyn, practically signed Romanach during a recent visit to Havana, and when Herrmann was so informed, off he went declaiming war and warning that Romanach had accepted their terms last winter. Perched and I can't run that race on Sunday, Cap said to me, "Bill, don't show the white feather. We've got $12,000 bet on you and all the boys have bet their last cent on you. If you don't win that race they will have to eat snowballs next winter. You go down to St. Louis and run that race and fix it up with God afterward."

"Well, I ran that race and I beat Latham by 15 feet and came home with my pockets full of money. I then went back to the Presbytery and told them all and stuck to the church, and after eight years they ordained me as a minister. And then the other day Westminster gives me an honorary D. D. Say, that's going some for an old sport, that's never seen the inside of a college, isn't it?"

note, Rev Billy Sunday was one of the speediest men who ever played in the major leagues, according to Bill Peet in the Washington Herald. Back in the '80s, when he was playing with the Anson White Sox, Billy was Chicago's prize base sprinter. In those days the rival teams pulled off many a match, and many a time a record of the wagers placed resembled a salary list. Sunday won the particularly famous race from Arlie Latham, in St. Louis late in the '80s. In a book which he is soon to publish "The Spectacular Career of Rev Billy Sunday," T. T. Frankenberg of Columbus, tells of the race, quoting the evangelist as he told the story:

"When I played ball I could outrun any man in the National League," he said. "Arlie Latham could do the same in the American League, so we fixed it up to have a race one Sunday afternoon. But in the meantime I got converted. I went to Cap. Anson and said, 'Cap, I can't do it. I'm converted and I can't run that race on Sunday.' Cap said to me, 'Bill, don't show the white feather. We've got $12,000 bet on you and all the boys have bet their last cent on you. If you don't win that race they will have to eat snowballs next winter. You go down to St. Louis and run that race and fix it up with God afterward.'"

In a way, the N. H. A. president has some reason to fear that some of the pros. may suffer injury. Any bad feeling between the players' is too widely advertised these days.

The Federal League is making a big splash just now. But when the summer comes the Hot Stove League chatter may not be heard when cold cash commences to talk. So far the Federals have signed up maybe a dozen big leaguers, mostly veterans, and the league will have to fill up on minor leaguers, and perhaps not very good ones at that. For a really successful fight with organized baseball, the Federal League must invest five or six millions in baseball. And that's a big investment in anything.

So far, every protest to the N. H. A. has been thrown out by President Emmett Quinn. This may not seem justice at first glance, but it's not far from being hard, common sense. We would have one continual round of protests if only a few were allowed. It would be like a baseball game with the ump's changing his decision whenever a kick came in.

The American A.A.U. is after funds for the Olympic team and J. E. Sullivan wants the A.A.U. to grant $2000 towards the fund. The Americans want $150,000 for the team and are beginning to fear that they will find the same difficulty in collecting the money that both the British and German athletic associations have encountered.

Messrs Riley, Fern and Reg. Percival interpreted the new rule in a somewhat peculiar manner. Perhaps the Federals will grab the Cuban, so what's all the fighting about?

Connie Mack, who generally wins world's championships, comes to the front with a new Federal League version. Mack declares that the wealthy magnates backing the outlaw team have been literally drawn into a deep plot by siren-like schemers who have no funds of consequence themselves, have misinformed their superiors by telling them baseball profits are enormous and that the national game is a case of heads I win, tails you lose. Mack has not signed the nine champions of the Athletics team but he is not worrying over the frequent approaches by the independents.

...note, Rev Billy Sunday was one of the speediest men who ever played in the major leagues, according to Bill Peet in the Washington Herald. Back in the '80s, when he was playing with the Anson White Sox, Billy was Chicago's prize base sprinter. In those days the rival teams pulled off many a match, and many a time a record of the wagers placed resembled a salary list. Sunday won the particularly famous race from Arlie Latham, in St. Louis late in the '80s. In a book which he is soon to publish "The Spectacular Career of Rev Billy Sunday," T. T. Frankenberg of Columbus, tells of the race, quoting the evangelist as he told the story:

"When I played ball I could outrun any man in the National League," he said. "Arlie Latham could do the same in the American League, so we fixed it up to have a race one Sunday afternoon. But in the meantime I got converted. I went to Cap. Anson and said, 'Cap, I can't do it. I'm converted. I can't run that race on Sunday.' Cap said to me, 'Bill, don't show the white feather. We've got $1,000 bet on you and all the boys have bet their last cent on you. If you don't win that race they will have to eat snowballs next winter. You go down to St. Louis and run that race and fix it up with God afterwards.'"

"Well, I ran that race and I beat Latham by 175 feet and came home with my pockets full of money. I then went before the Presbytery and told them all and stuck to the church, and after eight years they ordained me as a minister. And then the other day Westminster gives me an honorary D. D. Say, that's going some for an old sport, that's never seen the inside of a college, isn't it?"

A Budget of News For Those Interested in Labor

By G. A. M.

Gleaned From the Exchanges and Other Sources

Comments Short Work Day

In an address last week on the four day, Secretary Redfield of Washington, D.C., of the Department of Commerce, said that not until workers leave factories without undue fatigue can employers successfully compete against all the corners in the world's markets. He declared that men who are half sick and partly poisoned through fatigue are economically unprofitable. The speaker protested against treating this subject from a mathematical standpoint. "We all expect our annual vacation in the summer. Business and professional men deem this period of rest necessary to keep up their earning power through the year. Yet we ignore this when it comes to the men whose business has gained much from the high development of scientific skill applied to machinery and to manufacturing processes, yet when it comes to the greater factor, the human element, we have stopped short."

It Is Unfortunate

Trades unionists throughout the Province of Ontario regret the serious illness of the Premier, Sir James Whitney, and will be pleased to hear of his restoration again. From a union standpoint it is unfortunate that the Chief Minister of the Crown should be incapacitated from attending to the duties of his office with the coming session of the Legislature so close at hand.

We believe we voice the sentiment of organized labor in stating that it would be unfortunate to have the leader of the government absent from the next session of the House, and that the organized workers of the province would prefer that Sir James handle the question of the contemplated workmen's compensation for injuries act in preference to any of his colleagues.

While on many occasions the representatives of organized labor have seen fit to differ with the Premier on more than one matter relating to the interests of the workers, it can truly be said that they generally have known where to find him. Sir James at least is conscientious and does not beat about the bush when meeting delegations from the various interests that frequently wait upon him in regard to securing changes in

Would Alter Compensation Act

Commissioner Yapple of the State liability board of awards, of Columbus, Ohio, which has in charge the enforcement of the new state compensation act, hints of a "fine Italian hand" in the shape of insurance companies, who it is alleged are behind the movement to change the law. This change consists of either eliminating or defining the term "wilful" as used in the measure. The State board has declared its opposition to a weakening of the act, and its many conflicts with the private insurance companies would indicate that they mean what they say. The President of Labor is alert to the danger of workers losing their present vantage point, and has entered an emphatic protest against defining the law. Governor Cox has referred the matter to Commissioner Yapple and Attorney-General Hogan to investigate. It is shown that while the law has only been in existence a few months, 10,000 claims have been passed upon by the board, and in only four instances have the beneficiaries rejected the decision and gone to the courts.

The Minimum Wage

The following are a few extracts from "The Unrest of Labor," by Jerome K. Jerome, in the Carpenter, for December: "They tell you that if you grant the minimum wage to one trade, the time will come when you will have to grant the minimum wage to all, and, between ourselves, I hope it will go on further. I am inclined to think they are right. For some workers the minimum wage has existed since the beginning of human kind history. The human laborer in 1912, is after all, only demanding what has been accorded to without question in the case of the ox and the ass since prehistoric times. I never heard a farmer suggest that the price of corn be bashed being what it is, he is quite unable to give his horse more than half its proper rations."

Believes In Christian Socialism

Bishop Corbridge Whitehead, of the Protestant Episcopal Church, in a recent declaration, made in Pittsburg, Pa., stated that any assertion to the effect that this denomination was opposed to socialism was absolutely false. "The Golden Rule was Socialism," by its promulgation and perversion to all the activities and relations of humanity can only hope to have true Christian Socialism. He believed firmly in the Golden Rule, but not the rule of gold. The Episcopal Church was taking a great interest in social service work and was willing to cooperate with any movement that made for the betterment of humanity as a whole. He was unequivocally in favor of Christian Socialism. We should aim for the greatest good for all the people and the social system that was the most equitable, no matter under what name it might be designated, was the one that all fair and sensible men and women would finally support.

Recently, the Employers' Association of New South Wales, comprising all the leading lights in the trusts and corporations, which has as its object to down the workman when a strike takes place by ordering the closing of all their shops and the laying off of their hands in the way of a lockout as a means of defeating the strikers by starvation, etc. and other barbarous and savage methods. The workers are meeting and strengthening their lines.

The Boy and The Blind Dog

(By Ed. Meyer)

We are all of us kept so busy under this seven day week that many things are missed in this farce-tragedy of life.

But now and then, one runs up against things, which, if we can have eyes and ears to hear, it is impossible to sidestep.

I had such an experience yesterday. While passing through one of the upper West Side streets, leading off Broadway, a picture in real life presented itself which contained all the elements of grandeur, pathos and beauty, necessary to make it an epic. Here is the story, just as it was without any artificial coloring: Down the street came a large shaggy dog of fine appearance (mostly shepherd in breed).

He was accompanied by a small bareheaded boy of unkempt appearance, and he was scarcely a bit taller than the dog.

The boy was leading his dumb companion as carefully as though he were leading a blind person. This caught my attention. I looked at the kid—then I looked at the dog. And the dog was blind! Blind in both eyes!

I wanted to say a number of things to this noble young street urchin—also to ask an equal number of questions. I also wanted to talk to the dog. But a lump came into my throat that would not down. I could not speak—and so just stood there and looked—and looked!

The youngster hesitated a moment and said:

"Mister, this dog is blind and I am taking him home."

After that simple brief remark, he and the dog passed on—into the squalor and poverty of tenement life.

Labor Notes

Sixty-five thousand workers are employed in the iron mills of the United States.

Reports from the coal producing centers of West Virginia show that for the first eleven months of 1913 for every 700,000 tons of coal mined, one miner was called upon to give up his life.

The following figures will show the immense profits of the railways of the United States for 1913. Total earnings amounted to $9,424,640,637.01, the total profits over all expenses amounting to $645,678,242.07; 1909 earnings, $2,443,232.40; profits, $742,987,190.39. 1910 earnings, $2,790,112; profits, $87,810,808.69; 1911 earnings, $2,810,298.45; profits $776,323,865.25. Under a system of government ownership and operation these immense profits instead of going into the pockets of millionaires, money lords and conpon clip-pers would remain in the pockets of the people. The trust lines operated at a safe margin would give service at cost, passenger and freight rates would be reduced, wages would be higher and safety appliances to protect the travelling public would be provided. It is hardly to be wondered at that the sentiment for government ownership of the railways is making immense headway. It will soon be a live political question.

The boilermakers of the Newport News, Va., Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company, who have been on strike since October last, have still got the big firm at their mercy, as all attempts to round up competent strike breakers in the large cities have ignominiously failed.

From a report of the New York State Department of Labor, to be issued by James M. Lynch, late President of the I. T. U., it will be shown that a larger number of trades unionists are out of employment than at any time within the last sixteen years. The number of union members included in reports to the department totalled 629,694, and the number reported idle was 101,149, a percentage of 16.1.

While there is not a great deal to read in the newspapers about organized labor in the growing town of Welland the individual who imagines there is nothing doing from the trades union standpoint in that neck of the woods is making a considerable mistake.

Workers throughout the Dominion of Canada will be interested in the statement that the government has declared in favor of the union rate of wages for all work on the Toronto harbor. The announcement is undoubtedly the result of agitation on the part of the trade union movement against the government's policy of allowing contractors to evade the provisions of the fair wage clause. This agitation has been especially vigorous against conditions on the new Welland canal, and the authorities' decision would indicate that they have taken the protests, and that a change is due.

Hon. Adam Beck is returning from England.

Industrial Canada

Ten thousand free meals were provided for Winnipeg's poor and destitute on Christmas Day. It is not explained where the balance of the meals between now and spring are to come from.

It is now plainly apparent that the Canadian Federation of Boot and Shoe Workers is practically a thing of the past. This was by long odds the largest and most powerful organization affiliated with the so-called Canadian Federation of Labor, and was the backbone.

In Moncton, N. B., the laborers employed on the Intercolonial Railway will form a federal labor union, to be chartered by the American Federation of Labor. At a meeting held recently to consider the matter, there was a large number in attendance, and the motion to organize was carried by a unanimous vote.

There is one firm in the province at least that is apparently looking up some of the old ways. On January 5th, the Oliver Chilled Flour Works, of Hamilton, added 250 men to its staff, and the superintendent announced that it was expected that within a short time the plant would be working up to its full capacity again.

Three Rivers, Quebec, is the latest Canadian city to form a central labor body. The year 1914 starts auspiciously with the organization of a new Trades and Labor Council, some 600 trades unionists being present at the inaugural. A number of prominent labor men also came over from Montreal to take part in the proceedings.

International unionism continues to thrive and grow in the Maritime province. The Intercolonial Railway painters are the latest to step over the threshold. A largely attended gathering it was decided to get into line, and the necessary money was quickly raised and forwarded to the office of the Journeymen Painters and Decorators in Lafayette, Ind., to secure their charter.

Moulders' Union, No. 21, of Montreal Que., has progressed during the past year. There have been 120 initiations and 110 reinstatements. At the present time there are in the neighborhood of 375 members not working at the trade. The minimum wage is $3.25 for a ten-hour day, while in some shops moulders are enjoying the eight and nine-hour day.

The destruction by fire of the Canada Handle Merger at Stratroy, Ont., on January 5th, caused damage to the extent of one hundred thousand dollars and threw nearly one hundred employes out of work. This will be a hard blow to this thrifty and the factory was an imposing building. If it is moved to London, as announced, it will be a serious blow to the municipality.

National unionism seems to be thinning out in every section of the Dominion where it once used to make a big noise. In fact it has been getting smaller and smaller. In fact there is hardly any left in it. It is now but seldom, it ever referred to in the public press, and from Montreal and Ottawa, its one time strongholds, it is simply designated as a weak and wheezy whisper.

$3.50 RECEIPT FREE, FOR MEN

Send Name and Address Today— You Can Have It Free and Be Strong and Vigorous.

We have in our possession a prescription for nervous debility, lack of vigor, falling memory and lame back, brought on by excesses, that has cured so many worn and nervous men in their own homes—without any additional help or medicine—that we think every man who wishes to regain his virility, quickly and quietly, should have a copy. So we have determined to send a copy of the prescription free of charge, in a plain, ordinary sealed envelope, to any man who will write us for it.

The prescription comes from a physician who has made a special study of men, and we are convinced it is the surest-acting combination for the cure of men ever put together.

We think we owe it to our fellow-men to send them a copy in confidence, so that a man anywhere who is weak and discouraged with respect to his health may stop drugging himself with harmful patent medicines, secure what we believe to be the quickest-acting, restorative, upbuilding, and so cure himself at home quickly and quietly. Just drop us a line like this: "Friend, kindly send me a copy of your medicine, Detroit, Mich., and we will send you a copy of this splendid medicine free of charge. A great many doctors would charge $3.00 to $5.00 for merely writing out a prescription like this—but we send it entirely free.

are actually starving to death. Experiments in transplanting Atlantic oysters to Pacific Coast waters have been so successful as to encourage the Dominion Department of Marine and Fisheries to undertake similar experiments with lobsters. A number of shipments have already been made, and others will follow.

As the Atlantic lobster is much superior to the California variety their successful transplantation to the Pacific will add markedly to the value of the fisheries of British Columbia. As the fishing companies and canneries pay a starvation rate of wages it will mean still larger profits for the combines. Government ownership and operation of the fisheries would mean better wages for the workers and cheaper fish food for the public.

A worker by the name of Nicholson, in the Michel (B. C.) mining camp recently had the misfortune to lose both his eyes through a mishap. He was a member of the Western Federation of Miners. The union lost no time in taking up a collection to assist him as it was a needy case. Thus are the dividends of the mine owners earned at the cost of human lives and maimed workers, and when through intolerable conditions they are forced to strike, the militia are called out to awe them into submission. It might well be asked why it was necessary in such a piteous case for this injured miner's fellow-workers to have to aid him out of their scant earnings. Would such a scandalous state of affairs be possible under an equitable social system.

Advices from Vancouver show that conditions continue to grow worse in the Pacific coast city. An army of unemployed men continue to walk the streets and the city council is entirely insufficient to cope with the situation. The great question at present is what can possibly be done to tide things over until spring. The charitable agencies are simply swamped off their feet. Hundreds of the citizens are constantly furnishing food to the thousands who do not know where the next meal is to come from. Such a state of affairs has never been equalled in the history of the city. Hard times there have been before, but nothing to anywhere near equal the unemployment and destitution of January, 1914.

In a number of the business establishments in Montreal where the unions are well organized agreements are in effect between them and the employers to the effect that when times are slack, the hours of labor are first to be reduced before any of the hands are laid off. This is in order to give all the members an equal share in dull periods. In case further retrenchment is found to be necessary, married men are to have preference of employment. A man who has others dependent upon him such as a mother and younger brothers and sisters to be considered as a married man. This proviso is now incorporated in nearly all agreements of the factories and workshops at present only single men have so far been laid off. In the non-union shops of course, no such agreements exist, and men with families dependent on them are laid off while single men are kept on. This forethought of the union is providing for its more needy members is heartily commended by several prominent non-unionists and is in the long run for the benefit of the city.

The granting of miners' certificates to incompetent Mongolians, in plain defiance of the laws of the Province, is openly allowed by the authorities in British Columbia. In fact, at the present time, there is no pretext, whatever to compel compliance with the plain intent of the statutes. These facts are well known to the people on the Pacific coast, and when the time comes there is sure to be a reckoning with the politicians who are hitting at a white British Columbia. The workers and citizens of the province have for years put up a determined fight against Chink labor, and the present authorities are simply toying with fate when they allow the mine barons to supplant white labor in the mines with the lowest and most ignorant types of Chinese laborers.

The Voice is authority for the statement that recently twenty-five people were found sleeping in a three-room shack in Winnipeg, at the foot of McMillan avenue, near the Red River by the local health authorities, who visited the place at 3 o'clock in the morning; and the occupants of the hotel, which was declared to be so small that those inside could as they turn round, strenuously objected to being disturbed in their sleep. The health officers say all the place could reasonably hold was six persons. Many places of a similar nature are being discovered every night, and the conditions in many are indescribably filthy, and a menace to the health of the community.

Where Virtue Cannot Thrive

Poverty breeds slums. The slums destroy the health of their inhabitants. They distort their vision. And there can be no sane mind in an unhealthy body. Where the conditions of life are as brutish and foul as they are in the slum, virtue cannot thrive. Poverty in generations past may have been a spur to ambition sometimes. The grinding poverty in the slums of to-day nearly always crushes and destroys.

New Ways Table Salt May Be Used

By Ann Marie Lloyd

THE value of common table salt in the household is not always thoroughly appreciated. Salt sprinkled on the rugs or carpets before sweeping will not only prevent dust from rising, but it will freshen and brighten the colors perceptibly and remove all the particles of lint and thread that are apt to stick in spite of the most vigorous sweeping.

Sleep and Temperance Vanquish "Katzenjammer"

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

KATZENJAMMER" is a picturesque name which points its own medical moral. It indicates truly that the loss of sleep, over-fatigue, over-eating and, perhaps, even excessive drinking the night before, carry their own punishment the morning after.

Some poisonous and widely advertised remedies to be taken "the morning after" are also called headache remedies and nerve "quieters."

Contrary to the prattings, preachings and moralities of a lot of inexperienced, yet well meaning, Christian convictions, Katzenjammer-tollie retreats—is less a tribute to the rum demon than to other nocturnal excesses.

In lieu of quiet and sleep with their Rostrocruian restoratives, the warp and wool of the vulnerable human fabric has been exposed to structural high jinks, mad capers and general excess—three sorcerers whose spells do much mischief.

Katzenjammer, with its throbbing temples, dull brows, tawny tongue, cinematic taste and "talk" sensations in Nature's demand that you repent in sackcloth and ashes and cry Pœccavi!

How to Avoid It: Refreshed home bodies and domestic husbands; hard students, who burn the oil until the cook crows; sweet maids, who awake all night thinking of some gallant swain; fond mothers, whose husband angels who hover all night like spectral guardians around the infant's cot; these and other chaste and unadorned ones have many "mornings after."

A YOUNG man out West was very anxious to buy a Christmas present for his sweetheart, and he didn't have money enough to buy the sort of present he wanted to give her, so he went out and murdered a man to get the money.

He killed the friend quite calmly—did the young man in search of a Christmas present for his sweetheart—and when he was quite sure that his friend was perfectly dead he robbed the house of his friend and went down town and bought the present.

That evening, he went to see his sweetheart and took her the gift. I suppose he thought about that sweetheart all day, and how pleased she would be when she saw what he had brought her.

Advice to Girls

By ANNIE LAURIE

Dear Annie Laurie: I went out to a dance the other night, and on the way to the party my shoe came untied.

You think about those things when you're getting ready to go? But no, you're so crazy to start that all you can do is to hum ragtime and practise your steps, even while you're pretending to do up your hair.

self-satisfied young fellow, isn't he and self-conscious—hah! that what seems to be the matter with him? If he said too much to me about it I'm afraid I'd forget all about him and begin to think pleasantly of some one who is not quite so critical.

PRINCESS MARY OF ENGLAND

While at Norwich with Their Mother They Have Some Exciting Adventures with the Surviving Horrors of the Old Days of Torture—London Society Not Yet Very Lively.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Jan. 24. WEDDINGS in town and hunt and county balls in the country sum up the present doings of society. The King and Queen still are at Sandringham with their family. Prince and Princess Arthur of Connaught have gone to York, where the Prince will be on duty with his regiment for the next three months at least.

The royal children had a great day with the Queen at Norwich on Wednesday, where they made a private call on Bishop Follock. After luncheon Princess Mary, Prince Henry and the Princesses, the palace gardener and saw the cathedral, where they were greatly interested in the memorial window to Miss Russell, aunt of Mr. H. P. Hansell, their tutor.

In their desire to see everything they had an exciting little adventure. They descended the steps from the palace kitchen into the dungeon, where still are to be seen the rings to which chains were attached for the fastening of prisoners.

While there the keepers closed the doors and turned out the lights, so the children had the opportunity of realizing what it was like to be confined in such a terrible prison. Then they went to the ramparts and witnessed more horrors in the form of instruments of torture, the official in charge reciting in a monotone the usual stereotyped history without recognizing his charges to the great delight of the royal children.

King to Ride Again. It is expected there will be an influx of society before the beginning of February, when the King and Queen return to Buckingham Palace. It is understood that the King then intends to resume his series of morning rides in the park, and since society generally takes the lead from the sovereign, Rotten row is likely to enjoy a greater popularity for morning rides than hitherto.

The King, of course, takes these rides more from a sense of duty and upon the advice of Sir Francis Laking than from mere pleasure, as riding does not greatly appeal to him.

From Dublin comes the report that there is likely to be a gay season there this year. The Lord Lieutenant and Lady Aberdeen already have begun to issue invitations for several afternoon receptions, and the first drawing room affair occurs at the Castle on February 4. Next Monday Lady Aberdeen is to give a children's party and entertainment at the Castle, when the youngsters will dance in St. Patrick's Hall and have tea in the adjoining picture gallery.

Lord and Lady Aberdeen also intend to be present at the Duffield Hall in aid of the Dublin charities on February 2, as well as Lord and Lady Granard.

Much interest is being taken in the civic exhibition which Lady Aberdeen is promoting in Dublin. It is to be arranged on American lines and will picture conditions of city life vastly improved by modernized sanitation, heating, lighting, cleaning, and so forth. In connection with the exhibition Lady Aberdeen has offered a prize of $2,500 for a scheme for the reconstruction of the alum area of Dublin.

Princess and Duchess. While the Princesses of Pless and her sister, the Duchess of Westminster, have been drawing lots of money in aid of charity, appearing at performances in the new play "Pistole for Two," by "Tom" Gallon and Mr. Leon, along with professional players, including Mr. Arthur Bourchier and Mr. Olive Kelsey, at the Winter Gardens, Bournemouth, the Duke of Westminster has been entertaining a shooting party at Eaton Hall, Chester, his guests including the Duke and Duchess of Teck, Prince George of Teck, Lord and Lady Arthur Grosvenor, Lord and Lady Essex, Lady Iris Capell, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Wyndham, Major Ripard, Captain Richard Molyneux, Captain Harold Brassey, Captain Grenfell and Captain Ronald Graham-Murray. The Duchess of Roxburgh has been entertaining children on the Floors Castle estate. It is only a little while ago that these children subscribed for a present to the youthful Lord Bownmont of a spoon and silver porringer. The Dowager Duchess of Roxburgh, who stopped over for the new year at Floors Castle, has now returned to Broxmouth Castle.

Lady Valda Machell, who is a sister of Count Gleichen and daughter of Prince Victor Hohenlohe-Langenburg, caused a profound impression by singing the solos in Farmer's well known oratorio "Christ and His Soldiers" at Kirby Stephen Church. Lady Valda, who has a fine contralto voice, is the wife of Captain Percy Machell, the owner of Craekenthorpe Hall, near Appleby.

Lord and Lady Barrymore, who have been passing Christmas and the New Year at Fota Island, Queenstown, are not yet done entertaining there, for they are giving a ball on January 29.

Americans in London. The American Ambassador, who has almost recovered from an attack of influenza, which happily proved slight, and Mrs. Page were present at a dinner given by Mr. John L. Griffiths, the American Consul General, on Monday to Senator James Hamilton Lewis. Several other American members of the Safety at Sea Conference and Mr. Sidney Buxton, president of the Board of Trade, also gave dinners to Senator Lewis. Among others present were Viscount Bryce and Mr. Winston Churchill.

'AN AMERICAN AMBASSADOR FOR AMERICANS' IDEA OF MR. GERARD IS VERY POPULAR WITH HIS COMPATRIOTS

In Carrying It Out the New Envoy in Berlin, When He Opens His Embassy, Does It to Admit and Receive a Group of Americans Instead of Representatives of German Diplomatic and Court Society—Other Americans Take Leading Parts in the Week's Doings.

(Special Dispatch.)

BERLIN, Jan. 24. THE outstanding event of the week in American circles was the eleventh anniversary banquet of the American Association of Commerce and Trade at the Hotel Adlon on Wednesday. This annual event is considered more or less a family affair and, as on former occasions, was confined to the membership of the association and very few guests, among whom were the American Ambassador, the American Consul General, the two exchange professors, Professor Paul Shorey and Professor Archibald Coolidge; Mr. Joseph Clark Grew, Mr. William Spencer, Mr. Charles Ferguson, Mr. Harry B. Hirsch, of the Belmont Iron Company, of Philadelphia; Dr. R. W. Dressler and Dr. Berthling, of the Amerika Institut, and Mr. Henry Theobald, president of the Computing Scale Company, of Toledo, Ohio.

Mr. Isaac Wolf, Jr., president of the association, who presided, emphasized the importance of keeping ever in mind the two controlling maxims of international relations as set forth by the secretary, the Golden Rule and the open door. "In the annual report of the association just issued," Mr. Wolf said, "Mr. George Atwood, the permanent secretary, has some pertinent advice to give to American firms wishing to increase their export trade, the crux of the situation as represented in the address being that American firms should send out bright, promising young men to study conditions in foreign countries. The salesman who can converse in the language of the country has an immense advantage over one who is tagged around by a guide or a translator."

"An American Ambassador for Americans" was the chief note struck by Mr. James W. Gerard in his first public utterance made after coming to Berlin, and his statement found very concrete confirmation this week in the fact that the first time the doors of the new embassy swung open it was to admit, not a gathering from court and diplomatic society, but a body of the Ambassador's compatriots. Officially the occasion was the annual meeting of the American Benevolent Association, but Mr. and Mrs. Gerard took the opportunity of extending the hospitality of the embassy to about one hundred and fifty Americans allied with this philanthropic cause.

The formal business of the afternoon was disposed of in the magnificent ballroom of the embassy, with the Consul General, Mr. Thackara, retiring president of the Managerial Board, in the chair.

After the name of Mr. Joseph Clark Grew, Secretary of the embassy, had been proposed and voted upon as the successor of Mr. Thackara, the remaining members of the Board were re-elected unanimously. Mr. Frederick Wile will serve again as vice president; Mr. W. Alton Derrick as treasurer, and Dr. Alice H. Lucas, Mrs. S. H. McFadden, Mrs. Morris Cottlow, Mr. Frederick W. King, Dr. John H. Cleves Symmes and Mr. S. B. Conger are the Investigating Committee. Ex officio members are the American Ambassador and the pastor of the American Church.

Receiving Days. The list has been sent from the Lord Chamberlain's office indicating the official reception days throughout the season of the wives of the Cabinet Ministers, Ambassadors and Ministers Plenipotentiary. Countess Brockdorff, mistress of the house of the German Embassy, is receiving three days each week, as this frequency is made necessary by the fact that every one expecting to participate in the defileur cour or the later court functions must first pay respects to this recognized social arbiter. She often receives as many as 500 persons in one afternoon, and is assisted in her task by Fraulein Gundorf, first lady in waiting.

According to this list Mrs. Gerard, wife of the American Ambassador, will not be receiving until February, this delay being necessitated by the still incomplete state of the new embassy. She then will have Monday as her official day.

German aristocracy is leisurely getting back to Berlin in time to participate in the round of court festivities. Count and Countess Adalbert Sierstorff are again in their Berlin apartment. The Count now has fully recovered from the automobile accident which befell him en route from his Rheinfelden estate.

Count and Countess Johanna Sierstorff have taken up their winter residence in the Hotel Bristol.

Home for the Winter. Prince Stolberg Verneigeroode, Prince Salm-Salm and Prince Salm-Reifferscheidt are among habitual stoppers at the Hotel Esplanade for the court season.

The Prince and Princess of Pless, Prince and Princess Biron von Cortlandt, Marquise Françoise de Jancourt of Paris, the Prince and Princess of Schouburg-Waldenburg and Count and Countess von Maltzan-Militzsch, with their charming daughters, who were introduced to society at a large ball given at the Hotel Adlon last season, Baron von Wasgenheim, the newly appointed master of ceremonies, the Landgrave of Hessen, Countess Schaffgotsch, Count Marshall von Yory, Count and Countess von Rentvold, Count and Countess Sarma, Count and Countess Guido Otto Henckel von Donnersmarck will occupy their customary apartments at the Adlon.

It is doubtful if the town palace of the last named family, in the Pariserplatz, will be opened this season, as the venerable head of the house is eighty-three years old and Prince Guido has not yet sufficiently recovered from his late serious illness to leave the quiet of his country home in Silesia.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Clark Grew entertained at dinner on Tuesday Mr. Edwin V. Morgan, American Ambassador to Brazil, now in Berlin, on his way back from St. Moritz, where he was one of the first at the opening of the winter sports season. Among those invited by Mr. and Mrs. Grew to meet Mr. Morgan were Mrs. Arthur Claffin and Miss Gertrude Claffin, of New York; Mrs. James N. Winslow and Mr. L. Lanier Winslow. There was dancing afterward, participated in by additional guests.

Mrs. Stille's Dinner. Another dinner and dance of the week was given by Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Stille, who had among their guests many distinguished persons from high military circles and the German world of art and letters. Mrs. Stille has left for Celerina, where she will be joined by Frau Otto Eysler, also of Berlin.

An illustrated lecture on Yellowstone Park was given by the Rev. Dr. A. A. Pfanzstiel, pastor of the Highland Park Presbyterian Church, of Chicago, and attracted a large audience to the American Church on Tuesday. The silver offering taken at the door will be applied to the Parish House Fund, which is being slowly accumulated toward the erection of a social centre for American students in Berlin. The fund in hand amounts to something like $13,000.

Berlin opera-goers are still under the sway of the "Parsifal" production at the Royal Opera, and so unprecedented has been the application for tickets that fourteen successive performances have been found to be entirely inadequate to meet the demand. By consent of the Kaiser the "Parsifal" period will be extended until January 25, at which time the work must be taken off to make way for the command performance of Meyerbeer's "Erfolglos," the first act of which will form the gala opera to close the Kaiser's Birthday festivities on January 27.

The Kaiser again witnessed "Parsifal" coming in for the last act to join Prince and Princess Eitel-Friedrich, whose appearance together in public is considered a refutation of persistent reports concerning an approaching separation.

Lord Roberts on Army Difficulties

100,000 Fewer Soldiers in Course of Last Ten Years—How to Solve Problem of Recruiting.

(Special Dispatch.)

LONDON, Jan. 24. AN article by Lord Roberts on the difficulties and duties of the regular army appears in a recent issue of the London Saturday Review. Lord Roberts shows that only by national service can the ranks of the regular army be filled, and he sums up his argument in the following paragraphs:

"It is clear that we cannot allow matters to drift any longer. In the course of the last ten years our soldiers, trained and partially trained, have fallen in numbers by over 100,000 men. Unless the system is maintained, the Army Council has been driven to resort to advertising in the daily papers for recruits, and a big contract for the purpose has been placed in the hands of an enterprising advertising agent.

"Though I am convinced that nothing short of soldiers of good character being given hope of employment on their return to civil life will give us the number of recruits annually required, I see no objection to this measure, for in these days of serious competition every one must cry his wares aloud and attract attention to any post which he has to offer, and I do think that there can be no better method of placing the advantages of an army career before a lad than by putting him through a course of army training.

"The great merit of such a training would be that the lad would test the life for himself, and in joining the army he would do so with his eyes open. If recruits were not obtained in sufficient numbers after every able bodied youth had seen for himself what an army career was like, it would be obvious to every one in the country that there was something wrong with the regular army as a career—and the country would insist on it that the defects should be remedied.

"In short, if we adopt universal training for home defence we shall not only solve the problem of recruiting for the regular army, but we shall possess military forces which will provide for the safety of the United Kingdom, the defence of the possessions of the Crown, and the preservation of the balance of power in Europe."

Soldiers of many regiments and a large number of prominent military officers and War Office officials will be present at an invitation dinner at the first public presentation of the British Army film at the Palace Theatre on Monday, January 26.

The film has been taken for purposes of advertising the army and stimulating recruiting. It was recently shown by command before the King and Queen, at Sandringham.

Colonel Sir Edward Ward, Under Secretary of State for War, will preside at the inaugural luncheon which will precede the matinee, and it was at his suggestion that Mr. Alfred Butt and Messrs. Keith, Frowse & Co., who own the picture, decided to invite to the upper part of the house for this performance detachments of various regiments.

MINISTER OF WAR GOES ON MISSION

Changes Are Very Likely in the Ethiopian Cabinet of the New Monarch.

(Special Dispatch.)

ADDIS-ABEBA, Jan. 24. LIDJ JEASSU, heir to the throne of Abyssinia, has at last returned to Addis-Abeba. For months he had been stopping at Dessie, the residence of his father, Ras Michael.

His return to the capital was immediately followed by the leaving of the influential and powerful Minister of War, Fitawrari Apte Giorgis, who was sent to the western provinces in order to settle a frontier question with the Anglo-Egyptian authorities. He also will have to look into the circumstances that led to and followed the assassination of an Englishman in the west, at Boroma.

It is said that this mission is not much to the liking of Apte Giorgis, whose absence is much regretted by natives and foreigners alike. It is also rumored that other changes are likely to occur in the composition of the Ethiopian Cabinet.

Lidj Jeassu, who is to become the new Negus of Abyssinia, is the grandson of the late Emperor Menelik, a son of his daughter and Ras Michael, of Wollo, one of the Emperor's chief feudatory lords. He was born in 1897 and was proclaimed heir to the throne by the Emperor Menelik himself in 1908.

"In short, if we adopt universal training for home defence we shall not only solve the problem of recruiting for the regular army, but we shall possess military forces which will provide for the safety of the United Kingdom, the defence of the possessions of the Crown, and the preservation of the balance of power in Europe."

'MONA LISA' FAILS TO ATTRACT PARISIANS

Before being restored to its old home in the Louvre, from which it was stolen a couple of years ago, 'La Gioconda,' which was brought safely back to Paris, is being exhibited at the Ecole des Beaux Arts.

But whether it be that the enigmatic smile of the 'Mona Lisa' has lost its legendary fascination or that the Parisian public, with its usual fickleness, has tired for the moment of the picture of which it has recently heard so much, to the general surprise but few persons have been seen to see Leonardo da Vinci's masterpiece.

On New Year's Day the numbers were but small, while a few days later there were not more than sixty callers at the Ecole des Beaux Arts. This may be explained to some extent by the fact that an admission fee of 50 cent. was charged.
