SERIOUSLY INJURED

On Wednesday afternoon last Miss Addie Hunt, professional nurse, was very seriously injured in New York city, having both legs cut off by a rail way train.

A telegram to Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Stevens announced the accident, and they at once obeyed the call to "come at once." They were driven to Brock ville on Thursday and took the after noon train to New York. They found Miss Hunt in a critical condition in Flushing hospital, and the medical men then gave very little hope of her recovery. The first particulars of the accident reached here in a letter written issued this week. Anglican Lawn Social

The lawn social held on the grounds of the Rectory by the ladies of Christ Church on Friday evening last fully met the expectations of all interested. The weather was perfect, and the large attendance included many from neighboring villages. The lawn was illuminated with Chinese lanterns and a booth at which confections and fruit were sold was elaborately ornamented with flags, bunting and colored lamps. The company was most sociable and thoroughly enjoyed the hour spent amidst such beautiful surroundings, Piano music and selections from an excellent phonograph added to the pleasure of the evening. The refreshments included sandwiches, a variety of cakes, ice cream, tea and coffee, and they were promptly served by an efficient staff of waiters. The net proceeds of the social amounted to about $100.

The news was a his headquarters at that gentleman's ranch in California. From that point he made trips to mining villages in the mountains, to the chief cities, business centres and winter pleasure resorts, orange groves, fruit farms, plantations, etc., and after carefully considering the whole industrial situation, as he viewed it, he is of opinion that life until there is a decided change in the there is not quite so strenuous as here and that the returns are rather better. A trip to the Santa Catalina islands furnished him with material for a fish story that will put old Whitefish Joe out of business.

On leaving California this spring, Mr. Judson visited a number of the coast towns, including Seattle, Tacoma and Spokana. At Spokane he found our former townsman, Mr. Arthur Robeson, engaged in real estate business. He then yisited friends at Victoria and Vancouver, spent a month in the the Territories and Manitoba, and came home via the C.P.R. steamers from Fort William. The trip has agreed with him thoroughly, and he has probably only said adieu and not farewell to the Pacific Slope.

The poor people—so poor that they looked upon the people as their fate and expected no relief—are saved by the agency of quinine. England could not keep her European soldiers in India with-

Livingston and other travelers in Central Africa could have never made their discoveries without its aid. It is said of the great German explorer Schweinfurth that when he lost his entire pro perty by fire, valuable scientific intru-ments among the rest, he felt the loss of his quinine to be the greatest of all, and often thought with fear of the journey that lay before him, which, however, he persevered in.

The soldiers in the American civil was depended greatly upon quinine. The pio-neers in this country when it was first settled and civilized had as hard work fighting fever and ague in the then swampy, malarial districts as in fighting ns, and quinine was even more ne cessary than firearms.

The great interoceanic canal now in process of construction across the lathprocess of construction across the lath-mus of Panama requires the labor of thousands of men largely unaccustomed to the climate, and so much more sus-ceptible to its ill effect. Before the route was decided upon many surveys were made, and the men, naval officers and others engaged in this work, were exposed to al conditions of weather. But through the universal and proper use of through the universal and proper use of the medicine daily as a precautionary measure the mortality was no greater than among men in like employ in other localities: Out of a little over 6,000 white men employed in the construction of the Panama Railroad there were only 293 deaths, and some of these were the result of other than climatic causes.

The whole world is indebted to the cinchona tree, from which quinine is made. Who could have foretold that this tree, a native of the mountainous forests of South America, would be of such importance to the advance of civilization and Christianity?

Its safe transportation from one side of the world to the other and the succes attained in converting a wild into a cultivated plant and naturalizing it reads like a romance. One of the strange things about quinine is that it is not used as a medicine in the practice of the native physicians of Peru, Feuador or Colombia.

The native Indians did not even know of its curative property till enlightened by the Spaniards about 250 years ago They called the chinchona tree kina. from which comes the word quinine. What do you call it—kwine, kin-nine, keen-neen or kin-neen? What a lot of names the drug has had! China bark, cincona, countess powder, Jesuit's bark, Cardinal de Lugo's powder, Peruvian Great fortunes have been made out of it. At the time when Louis XIV, pur-chased the secret a pound of the bark cost about $50. As it came into general use it became a most important article of export from Peru. Now it is successfully cultivated in Ceylon and Java.

CHARGE WITH THE BAYONET.

American Infantry Arm Has the Shortest Reach in the World.

The United States have rather laid aside the saber in favor of gunnery, but now comes the lesson of the far east. The Americans are sharpening their sabers and searching for old ones that have remained in store since the civil war. This is the result of an order from the war secretary. And an agitation against the new rod bayonet may possibly produce yet another order. The agitators would like to see it replaced by the old knife bayonet, or at least lengthened if it be retained. It was chosen for its lightness and it was not only thin but also short. As the n Springfield rifle is also short the leng of the arm for bayonet work is it shortest in the world. That would n matter if battles are really to be but if once it is believed in an army that men will often have to defend their live with their bayonets the moral question is at once introduced. No army could afford that leakage of confidence which would be the result of using a mistrust

This is to say no more than will mee with general agreement. It is not by any means necessary to assume that the "lessons" which the Americanr are acting upon are true. Before we can be convinced that the bayonet will really play again a Napoleonic part we must be properly informed as to the quality. properly informed as to the quality the Russian gun and rifle fire, which, the first place, was directed to stop Japanese rushes.

Whatever be the truth about that, if is extremely interesting to see that a is extremely interesting to see that a consilerable part of instructed military opinion in America is in revolt against the changes which have their counter part in Great Britain—a shorter barrel led rifle and a shorter bayonet reach The new Springfield rifle is six inches shorter in the barrel than the Krap Sorgensen. The officel tests were thought Forgensen. The officed tests were thought to prove that the short barrel was as accurate as the old one, but the odd thing attached to the bayonet work at the time was that the new bayonet was not only not lengthened to compensate for the shorter rifle, but was actually made shorter than the old one.

Houghly, the length of the American rifle with the length of the length of sixty-nine inches, the Russian sixty-eight inches, the Japanese sixty-five inches, and the British sixty-one inches in the case of the old rifle and about five inches fess in the case of the new rifle. In these rough measurements parts of an inch have been disregarded. As for the rod bayonet, it is comparable as an infantry weapon with what the majority of our cavalry officers appeared to desire as a cavalry weapon after the Boer war.—Pall Mall Gazette.

Gold Mine 3,900 Feet Deep.

The deepest gold mine in the world is said to be at Bendigo, Australia. It is called the New Chum mine, and its main shaft is sunk to a depth of three quarters of a mile. The most difficult problem is how to keep the tunnels and general workings cool enough for the miners to work. The temperature is us-ually about 108 degrees, and this is, of course, greatly enervating. To make it possible for the men to work at all a spray of cold water is let down from above and kent continuelly playing on above and kept continually playing on their bodies. Speaking of the summer invasion of Americans, a London newspaper says that the streets will soon be full of "curiously quiet-looking men in weird coats, with padded looking men in weird coats, with padded shoulders, long boots, blobby at the toes and straw hats with no roof, and women with brown faces and eyes with very whites, green veils floating in the broce." It we really do look like this to our English friends, their professed fondness for us as voiced by Lord Lansdowne and Mr. Balfour is something to wonder at. Perhaps it is a case of "handsome is as handsome does" the deeds to render the Anglo-American alliance worth while for the Anglo end of it.

One soldier, who always sent an occount of the doings of the regiment, which account was always blotted out by the censor, laid a plan for revenge. At the foot of his next letter he wrote, "Look under the stamp." The censor did so, after spending considerable time in steaming the stamp from the envelope. And he found these words: "Was it hard to get off?"

The Antidote for Summer Dullness.

The retailer who complains that business is dull in summer time usually has only himself to blame—unless, indeed, York will be about the time of the West muffs or some other commodity that ness is generally attributable to the absence of a part of the population from the city during the hot months. The antidote is ready to hand. By forceful advertising the stay-at-homes may be induced to increase their purchases. New customers may be secured to take the places of the old who are temporarily absent. As the temperature rises the publicity appropriation should sympa-thetically follow it.

Aged Emperor of Austria Takes Part in Procession Ceremony.

A Vienna cable: Amid accompaniments of medieval pomp and ceremony the aged Emperor of Austria, King of Hungary and Bohemia, etc., Francis Joseph, took part in the yearly Corpus Christi procession in Vienna to-day. His Majesty was greeted enthusiastically by his people, but it was the universal dic-tum of the Vienese that their Emperor had aged greatly since they last saw him partake in this ceremony, two years ago, and the appearance of his Majesty suggested that this may be the last time the venerable monarch will appear as a participant in this festival of the Catholic Church. The procession started from the Hofburg, proceeded to the Cathedral of the Steffansplay, where the religious of the Steffansplatz, where the religious ceremonies were held, and then returned ceremonies were held, and then returned to the Hofburg. The ceremonies came to an end with the defiling before His Maj-esty of the troops which had taken part therein.

The Boiler of the Engine Burst, Scattering Fire and Steam, and Rendering Rescue Impossible.

A Cleveland, Ohio, report: Later .- While travelling at the rate of seventy miles an hour the Twentieth Century Limited, the fastest long distance train in the world, ran through an open switch at Mentor, about 25 miles east of Cleveland, at 9.20 o'clock last night, causing one of the most herrible wrecks in the history of the Lake Shore road. The engine was hurled into the ditch. A part of the train was crushed on top of it, and the wreck was partly burned. The horrors of the wreck were doubled in the horrors of the fire. More than a score of people were killed and injured, and the famous train was largely demolished. The train was crowded, practically all its accommodation being taken entirely. It was behind time, and the greatest of speed was being made to make up the lost time.

A Greatly Praised Remedy

There is only one way to know whether all the good things said about Zutoo Tablets are true, and that is to try them.

If half what is said about this headache remedy is true, the tablets should be in every home and office, in every ladies' purse and gentleman's pocket.

And yet, not one individual after trial, has ever said that they are over praised.

For while no other remedy has ever made so many faithful friends in so short a time, no other has

EDUCATIONAL GRANTS

At the meeting of the counties coun cil last week, the report of the committee on education, on being presented, was referred to a committee of the whole council, Mr. Algaire in the chair. It embraced several clauses with the following recommendations:
That the County Treasurer pay the Gananoque, Athens and Kemptville High Schools the county equivalent as provided by law when required by

That the usual annual grant of $200 be made to each of the High Schools in the United Counties.

That special grant of $50 be made to the public schools of Westport, Mer-rickville and Lyn in aid of the continuation class, the money to be paid when the Inspectors of the districts certify that the said schools are conducted in accordance with the regulations of the Education Department for class "A" work.

A special grant of $250 to the Athens Model school to assist in replacing the equipment which was tatelly destroyed by fire in February

The committee had before them a statement from the Iroquois High School claiming $416.28 for the maintenance of pupils from Leeds and Grenville for the year ending July 1, 1906. As the committee had not sufficient information furnished them at present, and as the attendance cannot be made up until the close of the school in June, also that there is no money due the school until June 1906. it was recommended that the clerk be instructed to procure all further necessary information and to report to the Council at the November session the amount he finds due from these United Counties to Iroquois High School.

The committee had before them the annual reports from School Inspectors Kinney, Johnston and Craig, giving full reports of the number of schools, teachers, etc., all of which were recommended to be published in the minutes of the council. A lecture on "Shake speare," delivered at the annual meeting of the West Leeds Teachers' Institute, at Newboro, on Oct. 6th and 7th, 1904, was recommended to be pubished with the minutes.

The report was received and adopted.

The official referee for cheese and butter, located at Montreal, reports to G. G. Publow, Chief Instructor for Eastern Ontario, that out of one hundred and eleven faulted cheese received from the section east of Toronto only seventeen were from factories which were receiving instruction. When it is remembered that fully twothirds of the eastern factories are tak ing advantage of the instruction provided by the Department of Agri culture, and the Dairy Associations the above comparison shows strongly in favor of the good results following the efforts of last year and this spring. The chief instructors for both the eastern and western sections report that practically every factory which took instruction last year has made more or less improvement in buildings or equipment.

Recuperative Effect

Considered with reference to its re cuperative effect, there is not so much good in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsapar-The latter costs $1.; the former -well, that depends; how much did yours cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

Physical Culture.

Real beauty means that you must take care of your health, which is the foundation and structure of good looks, says the Chicago Record-Herald. It neans that you must chase away from the habit of "saying things" when you feel out of sorts. It means that you must take the straps and buckles of prejudice and petty opinions off your heart and your brain, and that you must be great and big of soul, loving humanity, appreciating life, enjoying, studying, working, achieving, dreaming and making each day better. The word beauty covers a multitude of goodnesses, fine qualities, sympathies, affections and honesty. It is not merely a matter of bombarding complexion ilis, wearing a dip belt and growing a pompadour as big as a Hubbard squash. It is by creating a definite goal of perfection toward which every good impulse will help you.

Toronto Exhibition Prize List

The Prize List for the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, Ont., which this year will be held from Aug. 29th to Sept. 9th, both days inclusive, has come to hand Every class has been thoroughly revised and in many cases added to. The premiums to be distributed amount, including medals, plate and specials, to upwards of $40,000 in value, of which $35,000 is in actual cash. Field Marshal Lord Roberts, V.C., is expected to officiate at the opening ceremonies on Tuesday, Aug. 29th, and to be a constant visitor during the first week. The famous band of the Irish Guards, considered the finest military musical organization in the United Kingdom and the favorite household band of His Majesty the King, will give two con-certs on the grounds daily. Pictures and art treasures loaned by the King (Abbey's great Coronation picture being included) the Corporation of the City of London, the Republic of France, South Kensington Museum Right Hon. Lord Strathcona and Lieut-Governor of Ontario, Hon. Mortimer Clarke, will contribute to the most magnificent and most historical display of art ever made on this continent. Entries close Aug. 15th.

Miss Jennie Thomas, of Dixville. Que., was in a run-down condition - tired, and all dragged out. Thousands of women know just how she felt.

She was given a box of Dr. Hugo's Health Tablets for Women by her family physician. She took them two weeks and then wrote us in these words:

"I have received such great benefit from taking your tablets, I desire to continue taking them two weeks longer. The benefit secured from the one box has been so great, and I feel so much better now, I am satisfied only one box more will be necessary to effect what you claim for your tablets, that is, make me again a healthy woman."

She was sent the second box.

A deputation from Rear Yonge and Escott and Township of Elizabethtown was beard, regarding the abolition of toll gates.

Mayor Stewart of Brockville was first heard. He had been requested by the township representatives to accompany them. All recognized that toll gates should be abolished. They suggested that a deputation consisting of one representative from each munici pality in the county meet any committee the council might name to take the matter into consideration during the sessions of the Good Roads Association in Brockville.

Mr. Thos. Pertem, reeve of Eliza bethtown, and Mr. Brown, member of Rear Yonge and Escott council, also spoke briefly, urging that something be done to get rid of the toll gates in the county.

Mr. Bissell suggested that as Brockville and Prescott were interested in the matter, they should also send repre sentatives to this proposed conference.

Mayor Stewart said that as far as Brockville was concerned, representatives would be sent. In reply to Mr. Britton, Mr. Bissell briefly stated the objects to be attained by the Good Roads Association. He rentures the first wind the sentence of the sen beyond that which was attained by his wicked father. He ventures, therefore, to expostulate; he prays God to call to remembrance his life and conduct, as if it could only be through forgetfulness that God had determined evil against him. According to the highest standard of morality up to this time revealed, there was nothing unseemly in the self-vindication of the monarch, which has many parallels in the Psalms of David (Psa. vii. 3-10, xviii. 19-26, xvii. 18-86). Bradstreet's on Trade.

Montreal reports to Bradstreet's say: A quiet tone has made itself evident in all lines of trade during the past week. Wholesale business has hardly shown the improvement that has been expected and light sorting orders are only coming forward in most lines of trade. Crop prospects continue bright, and although trade has a quiet tone in the country, the outlook for the farmers is bright and there is little cause for fear. Collections are not better than fair. Deiny problems are not better than fair. Dairy products are coming to this market in much greater quantities and the export trade continues good. Prices in these lines show an easier tendency, but on the whole values are steady. Sugar shows an advancing tendency as the demand improves with the arrival of fruit.

Toronto reports to Bradstreet's say: The volume of wholesale trade actually moving at the moment is inclined to be light. There has been some improvement in the grocery trade. Building activity in this city and seemingly at most trade centres throughout the province has af-fected the wholesale trade, and the warm weather has given a better movement to summer goods. Until lately the year for dry goods non has not been a good one, but here has the warm weather has had an clivening effect. the fact that the export trade in the manufactured goods of the province, as of all Canada, is showing good growth, and much light will be shed upon the trade outook.

At Quebec: Unfavorable weather does not appear to have improved trade during the week, and country remittances No other medicine in all the world are still inclined to be slow.. Reports ale from the country are favorable to growing crops.

Winnipeg reports say: There is a fair-ly brisk movement in all lines of wholesale goods. A cool pell has not done any harm to the crops, but it created a lull in the wholesale dry goods trade. Retail trade throughout the country is ective, but the farmers are approach the busy season, when this will be less marked. The hardware trade continues brisk. The export trade in cattle is about to begin, and fairly large lots are preparing to move castward. The crops continue in splendid condition.

Victoria and Vancouver Bradstreet's: Gereral trade conditions here show little change. The volume of g as a business is not heave. Provincial indus-circuit tries are active, the lumber trade show-ing considerable improvement. Collections Provincial indus-Hamilton reports to Bradstreet's say:

He pauses, faintly surprised at the absence of any expression of surprise on Jeanne's part; she feels that his eyes are upon her, and Jeanne, open and candid Jeanne, who has never told a lie in her life, or known a concealment, is in

The tell-tale red dyes her face for one moment, then leaves it pale.

I've just had a lette—we get them an abour earlier up at the park than you, you know— saying that my brother Lane has met with an accident, and is dead."

Vernon Vane had been listening rather absently, but these hesitating, hurried words caused him to start.

"Lane—dead!" he exclaimed.

"Yes," he said. "Didyou know him?"
Vernon Vane's usual reserved manner enveloped him in immediately.

"I have met him," he said, coldly. "And he is dead!"

But, mingled with her fear is a tremuwill yield.

CHAPTER XII "Are you so very poor?" aske Jeanne, cagerly. "I am—so glad!" she says, drawing a long breath; "I am so glad!" she says, "Why—why?" he asks, keeping back the swift, glad light which flashes to his cores.

It is a month since vernon vane sat on Aunt Jane's kitchen table among the flour, and the June sun, as it sinks slow-ly and regretfully to its rest, turns the red bricks of the old house into a vivid crimson. Every door and window is rests against his heart.

"No. nothing—and 'pon my life I'm much obliged to you." said his lordship, gratefully. "It would have been a terrible bore, you know. Awfully obliged, I'm sure."

"Don't speak of it," said Vane, coldly, "Good-morning, Lord Lane."

"Oh—half a moment." said his lordship, "I say, Vane, just one thing more you—of course you won't think anything about our chat last night—about the other little lady, you know?"

Vernon Vane's lips tightened.

"Ingr ne says, and never look one and the mother if another thad found my queen, and laid a title thad you had been eater?" No!" he says, "I know my Jeanne—my Jeanne."

Then they go slowly back—very slow—Just as they are in sight of the house you, had to change their condition.

At the centre of the group is Aunt Jane, half triumphantantly, half tearfully, holding up the veil and orange-blos-soms, and clustered around her are Georgina and Mand and Mrs. Lambton.

It is also a month since faithless Clarence, now Viscount Lane, rode away and deserted them, but Mand and Georgina deserted them.

Vernon Vane emits his short laugh and makes for the foe.

"Good-morning, Mr. Vane," says Aunt Jane, holding out a floury hand and withdrawing it with a laugh. "Wasn't that Jeanne with you?"

"Yes," says Vane, with a smile. "May I come in?" and he follows her into the kitchen.

"You'll get all over flour," she says, as he sits himself upon a broad table and looks at her with a quiet smile on his handsome face. "Do you want to peer into the mysteries of puff-paste. Where is Jeanne?"

"Jeanne has fled," hessays.

"Yernon Vane emits his short laugh and makes for the foe.

"Good-morning, Mr. Vane," says Aunt deserted them, but Maud and Georgina have borne up well, and have been both never could endure him, and that they fondered why papa would persist in tsking him so often. To-morrow commences with new life which spreads before here."

In the hospitals, the brain.

"Then I must say 'yes?" says Aunt Jane, suddenly.

"And not a word about myself and my position?" he asks, with a faint smile.

"Well, not now" replies Aunt Jane.
"Jeanne does not know what it is to be rich. If you have enough to make her happy—"

"I have that, you can trust me," he good-natured lady. "And as to his not being rich, and all that, why, I'm sure it don't make any difference to people's happiness. Why, I remember when I was married, Lambton was only in a small way—"

"And, oh! do look at this beautiful dress, mamma!" interrupts Maud, rather hastily. "Isn't it really too sweet?" "No." says poof Mrs. Lambton, who is always looking back to the old times before the pill maker had made his fortune and became an old country gentleman. "No, riches don't make happiness, Mrs. Dostrell; I'm sure Mr. Vane is wonderfully clever. What was it your pa was reading about Mr. Vane's picture in the exhibition? They say it's a wonderful picture, any your pa said Mr. Vane would make a pot of money—"
"Ma!"
"Well, that's what he said, my dear. And I'm sure I hope he will for Jeanne's sake—and I hope they'll be happy!" she winds up, and there is a suspicion of moisture in the simple, kind-looking eyes, which immediately causes Aunt Jane to wipe hers, for it is as true that weeping is contagious as that there are often more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears than swills at the content of the more tears.

weeping is contagious as that there are often more tears than smiles at a wed ding.

And, indeed, now that the time has she starts and looks suddenly aside.

"Yes," continues Vane, leaning back with his hande behind his head, "I met him riding down the street excited and agitated—for the first time in his life, poor fellow! I wonder you did not see him."

And, indeed, now that the time has come for Jeanne to spread her wings, it is wonderful how many hearts are wrung in regret for her going. To say nothing of poor Bell, who has "never told his love, but let concealment, like a worm in the bud, feed on his damask cheek," there was every dog about the come for Jeanne to spread her wings, it in the bud, feed on his damask cheek," there was every dog about the place who got a kind word and a caress from her; old Griffin. who sat for hours and stared at the Nancy Bell, puffing at his pipe, and sighing his heart out; and, lastly, there was Hal—Hal, who during these last few days, would scarcely let her out of his sight, and, for all his whistling and shouting, looked doleful whistling and shouting, looked doleful whenever mention was made of the long journey which would follow hard upon the marriage ceremony.

WORK-WORN MEN

Can Obtain New Health and Strength Through Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Mr. Edgard Martel, 98 St. Peter street, Quebec, is one of the thousands of workingmen throughout Canada who cheerfully admit that they are /kept in health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. To the reporter who interviewed him, Mr. Martel said: 'The present condition of my health contrasts strikingly with what it was nine months ago. I consulted a doctor, who said that I was run down acity to come and force yourself upon through hard work, but his medicine did not help me any. A few weeks later, I was forced to quite work, and shortly after that had to remain in bed most of the time. One day a fellow workman called to see me, and induced me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Before the second box was finished I had a better appetite and relished my meals, and with this came new strength. In a few weeks I was able to go out again, and in about six weeks from the time I began using the pills I was able to return to work, my health. completely restored and my strength as vigoratious as ever it had been. I attribute my complete recovery entirely to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I think every hard working man would be better for using a box of these pills occasionally.

DANGEROUS DIARRHOEA

Prevalent in Summer Months-What a Mother Should Do.

Children are more likely to be attacked by diarrhoea during the summer months than at any other season. It is ed by diarrhoea during the summer months than at any other season. It is one of the most dangerous symptoms of illness in a child of any age. But it should be remembered that diarrhoea is a symptom, not a disease. Never try to stop diarrhoea, because it is an effort of nature to cleanse the bowels and get rid of the decayed food-stuffs in them. Diarrhoea is bad—but things would be worse for the child if diarrhoea didn't come. While a mother should never try to stop diarrhoea, she should stop the cause. Diarrhoea is a symptom of indigestion having set up decay in the food that is in the bowels, and the way to cure it is to cleanse the little tender bowels with Baby's Own Tablets. It would seem strange to treat diarrhoea with a laxative, if we didn't remember the cause of it. Both diarrhoea and constipation are the results of indigestion assuming different forms, and both are cured by Baby's Own Tablets. But the Tablets are more than a mere laxative. They are absolutely a specific for all the minor ills that come to infants and young children whether a new how here lutely a specific for all the minor ills that come to infants and young children, whether a new-born babe or a boy or girl ten or twelve years. Here's a bit of proof: Mrs. Geo. McGregor, Hamilton, Ont., says: "When my baby was teething he had diarrhoea, was very cross and did not sleep well. I gave him Baby's Own Tablets, and there was no more trouble. I now always give him the Tablets when he has any little ailment, and he is soon better." THE SWORDFISH.

When Angered It Often Attacks Vessels and Boats.

When angered, the swordfish, owing to its great strength and terrible weapon, is able and anxious to inflict serious damage upon its persecutors. Many Instances have been reported where if has attacked vessels and boats. In 1871 the English ship Queensberry was struck by a swordfish, the sword penetrating to a depth of thirty inches, causing a leak which made necessary the discharge of the cargo. One of the Gloucester fishing schooners, while on a trip to George's Banks in 1875, was attacked by a swordfish in the night time. He assalled the vessel with great force, and succeeded in putting his sword through one of the planks some two feet, and after making fearful struggles to extricate himself, broke the sword off, leaving it hard and fast in the plank, and made a speedy departure. Even with the sword in the vessel leaked badly, requiring prefty lively pumping to keep her free. The brig P. M. Tinker in 1876 was struck by a swordfish. The sword penetrated the copper sheathing, a four-inch birch plank, and through the timbers about six inches. The crew had to pump steadily until port was reached.
