UNIVERSAL OZONATOR

For Air Purification in Banks, Restaurants, Cafes, Billiard Halls, Bowling Alleys, Etc.

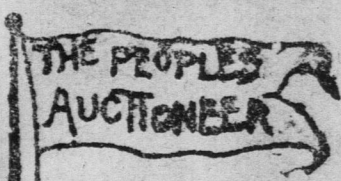

The Universal Ozonator produces about 4000 cubic feet of ozonized air per hour. A motor-driven blower draws fresh air into the ozone generating units and expels the ozonized air into the room. As the ozone diffuses very rapidly, this feature assures a wide distribution of the ozone. The two-point switch produces means for varying the amount of ozone. For deodorizing purposes the ozonator will be found invaluable.

Sterilize and deodorize all rooms or halls where human beings live or congregate, as:

- Offices
 - Banks
 - Theatres
 - Churches
 - Schools
 - Cafes
 - Hotels
 - Clubs
 - Bowling Alleys
 - Turkish Baths
 - Steamships
 - Factories
 - Restaurants
- To remove odors in:
- Storage rooms
 - Steamship holds
 - Subways
 - Basements
 - Kitchens
 - Tunnels
 - Vaults
 - Cellars
 - Lavatories
- To destroy odors of:
- Tobacco smoke.
 - Sewer gases.
 - Decaying fruits, meats and fish.
 - Cooking.

Are You Drinking Pure Cocoa or Cocoa Mixed with Starch?

Cocoa is made by grinding cocoa beans and pressing out some of their fat or "cocoa butter". The removal of the excess fat leaves the cocoa more perfectly digestible.

A common way to cheapen cocoa is by adding starch.

A leading English physician says that starch added to cocoa reduces the "nutritious gluten and stimulating theobromine."

Lowney's contains no starch. It is as pure as cocoa can be made.

It is produced in our spic-and-span factory at Montreal. Lowney's Cocoa conforms with every requirement that goes to make cocoa wholesome and appetizing.

You will never learn how delicious cocoa can be until you have tasted Lowney's.

CHAPTER XIII.

A brisk walk of five minutes brought me to the gate of Redpots, and I hesitated a moment, wondering whether Yorke would be in or not. Across the tangled scrap of common a light gleamed from the lower window of old Wilde's cottage, and I saw Lotty's shadow cross the yellow blind. As I looked, a heavy figure slouched across the bit of common, and I recognized Phil Flood the blacksmith. So the fellow still kept up his crazy freak, I thought, remembering what old Dizarte had told me on the day of Roger's sudden journey to Paris. It struck me as I went up the path and knocked at the hall door of Redpots, that his chances of getting the Wayside Cottage or Lotty either were growing less every day. Some of the young blacksmith's shiftless doings had come to madame's ears, and I had heard it whispered more than once that of late Miss Lotty had given him the cold shoulder.

Yorke was at home, I found, when the door was opened; he and Dr. Dizarte had just finished dinner. Would I go into the dining-room? But I declined to do that. Dizarte was an old gossip, and I knew that if I went in all chance of a quiet talk with Roger would be over. So I told the girl not to disturb her master, but that I would wait for Dr. Yorke in his own sitting-room. She accordingly showed me in there, and I sat down by the fire to wait.

It was a snug little room, although the furniture and fittings generally were rather worn and shabby. There were plenty of books and papers, and pipes and boots, not to speak of a disconcerting-looking skeleton stuck up in one corner. It was a grewsome object, no doubt, and had been known to bring two or three delicate lady patients to the verge of a fit of hysterics when they had been indiscreetly shown into Dr. Yorke's sanctum; but I was used to it, and did not give it a second glance. What did rivet my attention was something which lay on the writing-table, gleaming in the blaze of the fire. I got up to look at it more closely. It was a revolver—a beautiful silver-mounted toy weapon, looking hardly too formidable for a child's plaything. What on earth could Roger want with such a thing? I wondered, staring at it.

I suppose I should hardly have been human if I had not picked up the thing and fingered it though gingerly. I did not know much about firearms, but I did know that they sometimes had a trick of going off when least expected, and whether this dainty little toy was loaded or not I had not an idea. It was still in my hand when Yorke opened the door and came in. He greeted me in his own hearty fashion.

"Halloo, Ned, my boy, and how do you find yourself?" he said, shaking hands. "All right? That's well! Nothing wrong at the Mount, I hope?"

"Oh, no! I came to have a pipe and a talk with you, taking my chances of finding you in. I say, Roger, what's the idea of this article? Not going to 'burgle,' are you?"

"That?" He laughed, taking the revolver from me. "Jolly nice little thing, isn't it?"

"Oh, it's pretty enough! But what on earth do you want it for?"

"Want it for? Upon my word I hardly know. For nothing in particular. I saw it advertised, and thought I should like it—that's all. I was giving it a clean-up just before dinner."

"Is it loaded?"

"Oh, yes! Why?"

"Why, you wouldn't have caught me touching it if I had known—than's all! I say, Yorke, would a bullet from such a little thing as that kill a man now?"

"Kill a man?" Roger echoed, opening his eyes at me. "Rather! Stand over there by the window, and I'll soon show you whether it will kill a man or not!"

"Not much!" I retorted, laughing. "How long have you had it?"

"Only a day or two," York answered, as he put the revolver into its case, and, pulling open a drawer in the writing-table, deposited it there. "I haven't tried to kill any one with it so far."

Eczema Cured Three Years Ago
Best City Doctors Failed, But Cure Was Effected by Use of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mrs. A. T. Smith.

You apply Dr. Chase's Ointment for eczema and feel the benefit as if by magic. It may take some days to get the sores cleaned out and the healing process fully established, but from day to day you can see the old trouble gradually disappearing and know that you are getting rid of it.

Mrs. A. T. Smith, 1 Mt. Charles St. Montreal, Que., writes:—"I had eczema on my leg for four years, and tried many remedies and doctors in Montreal and Boston, without any benefit. I used three boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment and was cured completely. This was three years ago. Since then I used Dr. Chase's Ointment for irritations and eruptions of the skin, and easily got rid of them with two or three applications. Dr. Chase's Ointment is a wonderful preparation."

Dr. Chase's Ointment, 50 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"Do you keep it there?"

"Yes—why?"

"Isn't an unlocked drawer rather risky, with servants about?"

"Pooh!" he interrupted. "Don't disturb yourself about that. They don't know it is there, and if they did there isn't a woman in the house who would touch it with a pair of tongs. It is safe enough; I mean to have my name engraved upon it."

Nothing more was said on the subject. Yorke made me take one of the deep shabby arm-chairs on one side of the big fire, and get out my pipe, while he hunted for the ingredients for some whiskey and water. It was mixed and smoking in the two tumblers, and he was standing at the table filling his own meerschaum, when he asked suddenly—

"And what is it that brought you here to-day, Ned? Anything very special?"

"Well, yes, it was!" I answered, with an effort recalling my resolution. "I wanted to speak to you rather particularly, Roger, and that's the truth. In point of fact"—and I hesitated—"there's something I've been anxious to say to you for some time now."

I stopped, for Yorke had wheeled round quickly, and was looking at me fixedly. The blaze of the fire shone full upon his face and revealed two things—first, that Alice Deeping was right in asserting that he was changed, and second, that he was half afraid of what I might say next.

CHAPTER XIII.

I suppose that deliberately to make an opportunity, and then to back out of it when made, is a thing which all but the most unpleasantly strong-minded have been weak enough to do at some time or other. It is very stupid, of course, but very natural. I am afraid. And it was so with me on the present occasion. I backed out ignominiously as I met that unusual look in Yorke's eyes, and came to the conclusion that I would not mention mademoiselle this time. I mumbled out something or other—goodness knows what—concerning the first fib that came into my head, and then rattled off into a string of gossip about nothing in particular. It had the desired effect, for Yorke, although he looked at me doubtfully once or twice, regained in a minute or two his ordinary expression, and, taking the chair opposite to mine, began to puff his meerschaum peacefully.

It was a long time since I had a down-right good talk with my friend, and, in spite of that reservation of mine, which pricked my conscience now and then, I enjoyed it thoroughly. The whiskey and water was out, and the pipes were nearly so, when, a pause in our talk, I asked Roger what he thought of the rectory news. My belief in that bit of Whitesford tattle which had mixed Yorke up with the rector's daughter had never mounted to much; but still I felt curious to hear what he would say of the engagement, and of course he must know of it. But, to my astonishment, he simply stared at me.

"The rectory news?" he repeated, blankly. "What do you mean?"

"Oh, you haven't heard, then?" I said.

"I've heard nothing from there but Mrs. Deeping's last account of her last symptoms, and I suppose you don't mean that. I wasn't there for more than five minutes. What is it?"

"Guess."

"Can't," said Yorke, puffing stolidly. "The old boy hasn't got a canonry, I suppose?"

"Not that I've heard of. Try again."

"Not I. You must tell me if you want me to know. What is it? Good?"

"The rector seems to think so. At any rate, Miss Alice will have to leave off flirting forever and a day."

"Eh?" said Roger, staring at me.

"What do you mean?"

"Put Yourself in His Place."

By RUTH CAMERON.

Sympathy is a virtue. Everyone knows that and to state it is a truism, but did it ever occur to you that sympathy is much more than that, that it is in fact an invaluable success asset in a great many relations of life?

Sympathy is the fine art of putting one's self in another one's place, and he who possesses that ability has a key to unlock innumerable doors.

A highly successful business woman who is a buyer in a large department store, was asked what quality in herself she considered had had the most to do with her success. She thought a few moments and then said, "My ability to put myself in the other fellow's place. It's been a habit of mine ever since I was a child to try to do that, and has helped me more than I can say. When I was behind the counter I always tried to put myself in the customer's place and see what would get at me best if I were a customer. When I was made a forelady I had to put myself in the shop girl's place. Of course that wasn't so hard, because I had just been there myself. When I began to do the buying I had to put myself in several people's places; the merchants I bought for, the firm I was working for, and, of course, the customer for whom I was ultimately buying. You've just got to keep doing that all the time if you want to succeed. The moment you begin to think too much of your own point of view, and forget to put yourself in the other fellow's place, you are lost."

You may be interested to know that this is the testimony of one of the highest salaried women in this country.

Of course the ability to put himself in the other fellow's place is the first stock-in-trade of the story writer. Without it he writes from the outside and is sure to be conventional and artificial.

The advertising man's chief aim is to put himself in the reader's place and find out what there is about the advertised article that will appeal to him most strongly and therefore ought to be played up.

Once in a while you get a thoroughly interesting letter. Sometimes these letters come from clever people, sometimes they are from everyday folks who do not lay claim to any unusual amount of brains, but in either case I think you will find that the writer possessed the ability to put himself in your place, and write the particular news and play up the particular kind of incident that would interest you.

We all desire to possess tact. Now what, after all, is tact but the ability to so identify yourself with the person you are with that you will not say or do anything to wound or grate or offend.

These are a few of the relations of life in which the ability to put one's self in another's place is a valuable asset. I have no space to write more but you can find them for yourself.

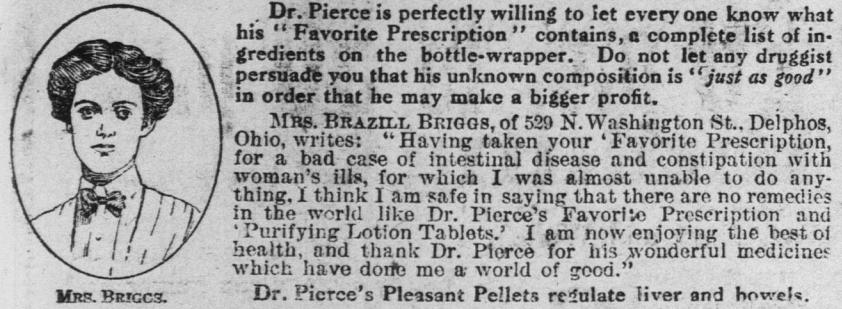

Have you this valuable ability? Can you put yourself in his place?

Housework Drudgery!

Housework is drudgery for the weak woman. She brushes, dusts and scrubs, or is on her feet all day attending to the many details of the household, her back aching, her temples throbbing, nerves quivering under the stress of pain, possibly dizzy feelings. Sometimes rest in bed is not refreshing, because the poor tired nerves do not permit of refreshing sleep. The real need of weak, nervous women is satisfied by Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, as Mrs. Briggs and others testify:

It Makes Weak Women Strong and Sick Women Well.
 This "Prescription" removes the cause of women's weaknesses, heals inflammation and ulceration. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and induces restful sleep.

Dr. Pierce is perfectly willing to let every one know what his "Favorite Prescription" contains, a complete list of ingredients on the bottle-wrapper. Do not let any druggist persuade you that his unknown composition is "just as good" in order that he may make a bigger profit.

Mrs. BRIGGS, of 529 N. Washington St., Delphos, Ohio, writes: "Having taken your 'Favorite Prescription' for a bad case of intestinal disease and constipation with woman's tils, for which I was almost unable to do anything, I think I am safe in saying that there are no remedies in the world like Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Purifying Lotion Tablets.' I am now enjoying the best of health, and thank Dr. Pierce for his wonderful medicines which have done me a world of good."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

Household Notes.

A heavy meal should never be eaten when one is exhausted.

If a glass jar will not open, set it down in an inch or two of hot water.

When you cannot have an egg beaten, try using three forks instead of one.

A coat of clear varnish is a good thing to give straw matting before it is laid.

When cooking beef in a fireless cooker, do not put salt on until the beef is done.

A small quantity of salt or alum sprinkled on the carpet will keep insects away.

When cutting new cake dip your knife in cold water before cutting each slice.

If fruits are canned as soon as they are picked there will be less loss by fermenting.

Let the white woodwork have plenty of sunshine. Too much shade makes it yellow.

Dampness will tarnish brass articles. They should be kept in a dry, cool atmosphere.

CHILBLAINS SO BAD HE COULDN'T WEAR BOOTS

Douglas' Egyptian Liniment Cured Him

Though thousands suffer from chilblains every winter, few are laid up with them as was Mr. J. A. McFarlane, of Napanee, Ont. What cured him will surely cure anything in the way of chilblains.

Mr. McFarlane writes: "Douglas' Egyptian Liniment cured me of chilblains. My case was so bad that at times I was confined to the house, the affected parts being so sore and festering that I was unable to wear boots. Many remedies were tried without benefit, until I procured Egyptian Liniment, which gave immediate relief. "Whenever I feel symptoms of this trouble returning, one application of the liniment is sufficient to check it."

It's wise to keep a bottle of Egyptian Liniment always on hand, ready for immediate use when needed. In the case of frost bites, burns or scalds, it gives instant relief.

Daylight Bill.

Editor Evening Telegram.
 Dear Sir,—I read with great interest Hon. John Anderson's illuminating and instructive letter on the Daylight question, which appeared in Friday's Telegram.

I think in face of the array of brilliant names, he quotes in support of his contention, that no reasonable man can stigmatize his efforts as "freak."

The advantages are innumerable, the disadvantages infinitesimal.

For workers, especially in offices and stores two extra hours of daylight in the evening, to recoup with their families after the day's work, would make such an alteration for the better, in their lives, that once they experienced it, they would never willingly go back to the old system.

I agree with Lux in the Daily News, that the Importers' Association ought to take the initiative, falling that, we ought use all our influence in getting a Daylight Bill through the House, the coming session.

Now that Hon. John Anderson has set the ball rolling, I hope those interested will take it up, and agitate till they succeed in securing us this great boon.

Yours, etc.,
 CLERK.

Bullet on Way Twenty Years.

Shot from Jilted Girl's Brother, long Buried in tree, Slay's Texan When tree is cut.

Fort Worth, Texas, Jan. 8.—Fate, after following Henry Ziegland for twenty years, wrecked vengeance to-day in a remarkable manner.

Twenty years ago, near Honey Grove, Ziegland, who was a wealthy young farmer, won the hand of Magdala Tichnor, but jilted her a few days before the day set for the marriage. The girl, a celebrated beauty, became despondent and killed herself. Then her brother, Phil, went to Ziegland's home, and after denouncing him, fired at him, the bullet grazing Ziegland's cheek and burying itself in a tree.

Young Tichnor, supposing he had killed the man who jilted his sister, put a bullet into his own head, dying instantly.

Ziegland married a wealthy widow, and accumulated a fortune. To-day the planter and one of his sons cut down the tree in which Tichnor's bullet had lodged twenty years ago. The tree proved too tough for splitting up so a small charge of dynamite was used. The explosion discharged the long forgotten bullet with such force that it pierced Ziegland's head and he fell, mortally wounded, dying an hour later.

He explained the mysterious bullet to his son as he lay on his death bed.

If women really want the ballot they should cry for it. Broadly speaking, a woman can have anything for which she is willing to shed tears.

Money talks, but its vocabulary is limited. About all it can say is "good-bye."

What I Saw at Devine's
Great Change of Business Sale.

(By a Spectator.)

January month is not generally supposed to be a busy month along Water Street—nor is it now if we make one or two exceptions.

For all that, last week was certainly an interesting time at Devine's. Walking down town in the early part of the week I was surprised to notice crowds of people flocking at express rate to Devine's Great Change of Business Sale, and it awakened my curiosity so much I had to go in and see what it was all about.

WHAT I SAW.

The first sight that greets the shopper as he or she enters is a large sign which says that a "Genuine Sale is now in force." Piled high, piece upon piece, on a side counter, is an enormous bulk of Flannelette, perhaps in all some three or four hundred pieces—in Pink, Cream, White and Striped effects—splendid quality goods at from 7c. per yard up; and no doubt for anyone who wants Flannelette it is a great time to get it cheap.

On a large table in the centre of the store, around which an eager army of lady shoppers clustered, some marvellous bargains of Dress Goods Ends were being offered, and were going at what seemed to me very low prices indeed.

But the great attraction was the Whitewear section, where hundreds of dainty Children's Dresses, Corset Covers, 50c. Blouses, Princess Skirts, Embroideries, etc., were displayed.

Moving a little farther on towards the centre of the store, Boys' Suits and Overcoats are on sale, and are reduced down to cost in price to clear all out. These goods are great value, and whoever gets them no doubt will get a bargain. They seem to be going fast.

Of course, as a man, what interested me most was men's apparel, for I wanted a good suit at a low price. In these days, when the cost of living is so high, I find that it is too much of a grind to be giving $20.00 to $25.00 for tailor-made suits, so I thought of an American Cut Readymade. I was not disappointed, for here to my heart's delight were dozens of up-to-date Readymade American Cut Suits at half price. My purchase at $10.00 filled the bill and fitted me in every respect as well as suits I had been in the habit of paying $20.00 for.

Another great bargain is the Blankets, and no doubt shrewd housekeepers are not slow in taking advantage of the good value offering.

THE HELP.

This feature struck me very forcibly. As I entered it was not difficult to see that this well trained staff are ever on the alert to give courtesy and attention to every customer, whether he is a man with a million or a man with a dollar. They spare no pains in showing one through the whole stock and pointing out the bargains in every department. One feels at home and no way embarrassed when looking for any article.

THE STORE.

Particularly pleasing is the fact that all the goods are displayed on the first floor. There are no steep stairways to mount, consequently there is no getting out of breath following sales' help around. Everything is completely ordered for the customer's convenience.

THE CROWD.

All the week immense crowds thronged this busy centre, and as the days went on the numbers seemed to swell, until Saturday night it was almost impossible to gain admittance. Every inch of space in the rear of the store was covered with busy buyers, and in front the congestion was so great that the doors could scarcely be opened. Before leaving I asked the Manager a few questions, as follows:—

Did you expect such a crowd as this when you started? Well, he said, if these prices don't bring a crowd there is no use in a Genuine Sale.

How long do you expect to continue this sale? All January, he replied, until every article is sold right out.

What do you intend doing? I asked. My plans are all laid for a change of business, he said, but I prefer waiting a short time before giving details to the public.

Before closing let me say that the bargains are the best I've ever seen, and anybody who has a dollar to spend in Dry Goods, they cannot do better than go to the Hockey Player Fined.

$100 and Suspended for Striking at Referee.

Montreal, Jan. 14.—President Emmett Quinn, of the N.H.A., this morning handed down his decision on the episode in the game between the Canadians and Quebec at Quebec Saturday, when Joe Hall was alleged to have struck referee Melville. Mr. Quinn finds that though Hall did not actually strike the official he swung at him with his stick. Hall will therefore be fined $50 and suspended for two weeks. In addition the Quebec hockey club says Mr. Quinn has fined Hall $100.

Another "Hope."

Duluth, Minn., Jan. 15.—Claiming to possess a greater reach than Jack Johnson, weighing 218 pounds, and standing six feet three inches in height, Jess Westergard, the wrestler announced here to-day that he was going after the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

25 Cent "Danderine" for Falling Hair and Dandruff—Grows Hair

DON'T PAY 50 CENTS FOR WORTHLESS HAIR TONICS — USE OLD, RELIABLE, HARMLESS "DANDERINE"— GET RESULTS.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast.

A little Danderine to-night—now—anytime—will surely save your hair. Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application you will say it was the best investment you ever made. Your hair will immediately take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance; an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks' use, when you will actually see a lot of fine downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A Thunder-Storm.

Hark! o'er my head loud thunders roll
 See forked lightnings fly?
 'Tis God that speaks: be calm, my soul,
 Tho' tempests cleave the sky.

Tho' awful as the scene appears,
 I'll wait His sov'reign will,—
 Chase from my soul my coward fears,—
 And, worshipping, stand still.

'Tis His own voice that rends the sky,
 He pours the liquid fire,
 When once He speaks, his armies fly
 To accomplish His desire.

Upon His mighty throne above,
 He sways His iron rod,
 Sometimes for purposes of love,
 To draw us near to God.

O'erawed with such sublime reviews,
 Of majesty and power;
 Can I, a worm of earth refuse
 To worship and adore?

Far be my heart from doubting more,
 When stormy clouds appear,
 I am as safe when thunders roar
 As when the sky is clear.

How various are death's shafts, that fly
 Round each unconscious head!
 A pebble stone, as thunders night,
 May stretch us with the dead.

But this I'll own with thoughts divine—
 That though His ways are deep
 Though storms may rage or suns may shine,
 His mercy does not sleep.

$12,000 of Large Estate.

New York, Jan. 8.—A friend and a servant to each of whom was intrusted the care of a pet dog receive $10,000 and $2,000 respectively, under the will of Magdalena Herrmann, who died on January 3. Her estate is estimated at more than $10,000 in realty and a similar amount in personally, but bequests are made which approximate $200,000.

Adam Stein, a friend, receives the care of Prince, and $10,000; Barbara Heck, a servant, is to care for Bordin during his life and receives $2,000. Two nephews, of Michigan City, Ind., are the only immediate relatives of the testator.

Notes and Comments.

"Twas a Famous Victory.
The plot was frustrated.
Sir Robert Bond will soon be at the head of affairs once more.
The Graballs must go, and "fired" they'll be next fall.
Well done, Bay Roberts! You made the record. Twillingate began the Union with 5 men after the first meeting. Bonavista began with 11. Bay Roberts began with 115.
To-day the two Councils together have nearly 1,000 enrolled. Bay Roberts will have— Well, wait and see. It will be well worth watching. Coley's Point and Spaniard's Bay are also on the move.
Mrs. Partington tried to sweep back the ocean with a broom. Sir Edward Morris's broom will be as ineffective in sweeping back the ocean of Liberal and Union sentiment in the country.
"It's the flag that guides the sailor on his way.
It's the flag that fills our fees with dismay;
It's the flag that always carries its way.
It's the Union Jack of Old England."
The sensible, law-abiding people of Bay Roberts will not stand for drunken disorder and insults to the flag. They will not pass with impunity insults to the Union Jack. They will not suffer with impunity an attack of the right of its citizens to parade the street in the company of guests they invite. They will put down with a firm hand drunken rowdism.
Since writing the paragraphs above, we have heard that the Bay Roberts Local Council held on Monday night the first meeting subsequent to its inauguration. It will be remembered that on the night it was started, 115 men joined the ranks, after several had been rejected as ineligible. At the meeting on Monday night out of the number who applied for enrollment, seventy more were selected. This gives the Bay Roberts Council 185 members. This is an extraordinary showing, for it must be remembered that up to the visit of Coaker and Lloyd, on Friday afternoon, there was no Council in Bay Roberts.
The great demonstration on Friday afternoon, when the whole population was out cheering, waving handkerchiefs, firing guns gave the Union movement a great push ahead. The attack of the Piccott gang on the parade also helped it on. The disorderly conduct of a score of Piccottites at the meeting in the Orange Hall was also helpful, as was also the attempt to take the hall from President Coaker to prevent him starting the Council in Bay Roberts. All these acts of hostility but strengthened the general sentiment favourable to the Union.
The feeling was however no transitory ebullition of excitement. Mr.

CONFECTIONERY

with a Reputation.

AYRE'S.

Coaker has struck a chord in the hearts of fishermen which elicits expressions of good-will and fellowship. He appeals on matters which affect their livelihood, their homes and families, and the heads of the fishermen make it clear to them that their interests are his, their interests are the Union's. They in short are the Union and if they are to make Newfoundland what it can be made they must unite to do it. What has been done by the people of New Zealand for themselves, the fishermen of Newfoundland can do for themselves.
The general effect of all this was that 115 joined on Friday night and made a great record in the annals of the Fishermen's Union.
The movement began on Friday, engrossed public attention all day on Saturday. The success of the parade on Friday. The outrages near Piccott's house and in the Hall were the subjects of conversation. Who engineered the plot; who supplied the whiskey and rum; who tried to drive Coaker and Lloyd out of Bay Roberts; who tried to smash up the meeting in the hall; who endeavoured to stop the formation of a Union Lodge were the topics discussed. It all contributed to swell the feeling against the Piccottites and in favour of the Union, and this feeling was manifested in the great meeting near the station and the demonstrations before and after the train steamed out to Carbonear with President Coaker.
The Port de Grave men showed their appreciation of the record established in Bay Roberts, and their resentment at the outrage perpetrated there by a score of Piccott heeleders, by purchasing all the powder they could find and obtaining all the copies of a certain Government organ they could lay their hands on, and going with them on Saturday night up in the mountains opposite Bay Roberts, making a bonfire of the papers in derision of the Graball Government, and firing off all the powder they had as a means of congratulating the law-abiding and orderly fishermen of Bay Roberts on their conduct and the record start they had made with the Union there. Is it any wonder then that seventy more stalwarts joined the F. P. U. on Monday night at Bay Roberts, who are determined to be united in an effort to better their condition? In the past they recognize the Union has done much for them. The stronger the Union is, the more it can do. They are determined to make it stronger. They are determined also to use their strength through the ballot box and to oust Sir Edward Morris and to put back Sir Robert Bond.

Her Mate Drowned.

LAKE SIMCOE STORM TOSSED.
A message to Messrs. Baine, Johnston, and Agri, yesterday afternoon, stated in effect that their barque Lake Simcoe, Capt. Wilson, arrived at Penambuco, after a tempestuous passage of thirty-two days. A succession of hurricanes were encountered. The vessel shipped numerous heavy seas which did considerable damage. The cabin doors and sky-lights were stove in, cabin and forecastle flooded, in fact everything movable about decks were swept away. The message also intimated that a portion of her fish cargo had to be jettisoned to keep the vessel afloat, her masts (?) and other gear had to be cut away and that James Finn, the mate, was washed overboard and drowned. The sad event occurred on Dec. 25th, eight days after the vessel left St. John's, and cast a gloom amongst the other members of the crew, with whom the deceased was very popular. Mr. J. C. Hepburn communicated with Rev. Dr. Greene, who made the sad participation to the relatives of the ill-fated seaman. "Jimmy" Finn, was 33 years of age, and well known in nautical circles and was about twenty years following up sea life. He sailed out of Baine, Johnstone's employ for a number of years and was well liked as he knew how to do his duty well and had a gentle manner. During the past eighteen months, the brothers of the Finn family lost their lives at sea. Thomas, in the Grace; John, in the Erna and this latest tragic occurrence. Widespread sympathy will be extended to the bereaved family and in which the Telegram joins.

Farewell Dinner to Governor.

Premier Sir E. P. Morris last night tendered a farewell dinner to His Excellency Sir Ralph Williams, who leaves here by the Numidian for England, having severed his connection with the Colony. Besides His Excellency there were present Chief Justice, the Hon. Sir William Horwood, Kt., Hon. Justice Emerson, Mr. Fitzherbert, P.S.; President H. Robinson, the Legislative Council, Speaker Warren of the House of Assembly, Hons. R. Watson, Colonial Secretary; M. P. Cashin, Minister Finance and Customs; S. D. Blandford, Minister Mines and Lands; John C. Crosbie, M.E.C.; M. P. Gibbs, M.E.C.; William Woodford, Minister Public Works; A. J. Piccott, Minister Marine and Fisheries; W. C. Job, P. T. McGrath, F. J. Morris, K.C., and J. A. Robinson. His Excellency proposed the health of His Majesty the King, after which the Premier introduced the health of His Excellency, and in the course of his speech Sir Edward expressed the opinion that His Excellency had rendered great services to the Colony during his stay here and that he was unflinching in his devotion to the interests of the country and its people, and he regretted his departure. He also paid a due meed of praise to Lady Williams. His Excellency replied, thanked all present for the kind wishes expressed, and promised to always be an interest in the fortunes of Newfoundland and her people no matter where his lot would be cast.

Splendid Entertainment.

The dramatic performance and musicale given by the Entertainers at the Presbyterian Hall last night was an event which the large audience thoroughly enjoyed. Those who took part in the dramatic performance acquitted themselves in a very clever manner, and the comedies and galesmen who appeared in the musicale were loudly applauded. Some gems of song were given with beautiful instrumental selections. The amount realized was large and will be devoted to the purchase of the furniture of the Empire. The entertainment will be repeated to-night and should again crowd the house.

Obituary.

The death occurred at Holyrood, last evening, of one of its most venerable and respected residents, in the person of Mrs. Kennedy, widow of the late Captain Kennedy, who died himself a few months ago. Mrs. Kennedy was in her 90th year, was widely known and greatly respected and is mourned by many friends. The deceased lady was the mother of Mr. R. J. Kennedy, Government Inspector of Railways, and Captains Walter, Michael, James and Thomas Kennedy, so well and favorably known here. To the bereaved family and relatives the Telegram extends its condolences.

Saw Husband First Time

In Three Years Just as he was Killed.
Dover, N.J., Jan. 13.—Deserted by her husband three years ago, Mrs. Frank Gibbs saw him for the first time since then, just as he slipped and fell beneath the wheels of a train he attempted to board, and was ground to death.
At the inquest into the accident, Mrs. Gibbs told how she was looking out of the car window on her way home on a Lackawanna train Saturday night, she caught sight of Gibbs as he fell to his death. She married Frank three years ago, she said, but shortly after the wedding he deserted her and she had never seen him until he met his untimely end.

"They Both Went Shopping." Mrs. McFuddle started out shopping on Christmas Eve. She had a ten dollar note and this is what she brought home: One young tree, a rocking horse, a drum, a horn, a train on track, a box of cigars, a box of candy, socks, stockings, handkerchiefs, gloves, perfume, slippers, oranges, apples, nuts, books, a kimono and an express wagon filled with packages.
Mr. McFuddle started out shopping on Christmas Eve. He had a ten dollar note, and this is what he brought home: One silver fizz, four dry Martinis, nine whiskeys, one sherry, one Bronx cocktail, one Sazerac, three sice gin rickies, four mugs of Tom and Jerry, six assorted doses of egg nog, eleven beers and a mess of free luncheon. And they were all in one package.

Cured by a Shock. Hears Himself Shout when He Looks Upon the Body of the Victim of a Railway Accident. Victoria, B.C., Oct. 5.—At Kamloops recently, Andrew Forsyth, after having been "stone" deaf and totally dumb for a period exceeding fourteen years, suddenly recovered both senses as the result of a shock. The good fortune of Mr. Forsyth was practically synonymous with the misadventure which cost John Edmunds his life. Edmunds had been helping himself to a ride on a train as it ran slowly through the city, and losing his footing, fell to death under the wheels. Forsyth was one of those who ran forward to gaze at the body, and in his horror he screamed. He heard his own shout and also the talk of others, and forthwith joined in the conversation, although his lips had framed no word for almost fifteen years. Neither the physicians nor Forsyth attempt to explain the miracle, except in saying that the sudden shock succeeded where medical and surgical science had proved of no avail.

70 MORE! Yes, Coaker and Lloyd talked Unionism and politics in Bay Roberts in the open air to a thousand people and on Saturday and Monday 70 more joined the F. P. U. They number now 185. How is that for Coaker and Mr. Robinson's "New Humanist." We related and relate facts. John Alexander writes fiction when he intimates that Lloyd intended to accompany Coaker on his whole tour. Lloyd left to go to Port de Grave only. At Port de Grave he received an invitation from Bay Roberts and went with Coaker. Now there are 185 men in the Union where there were none before, after talking Unionism and politics. The thousands of people who saw it all know that our accounts of proceedings were temperate and unexaggerated, and confined to fact. It was no fiction, as John Alexander falsely states.

OUR JANUARY WHITE SALE,

The Event of All Events.

As this important Sale event progresses, the interest and selling records increase. We have ample assortments still of the good values that have created this state of affairs.

We want to emphasize this fact: all the goods offered are of dependable quality—not cheap stuff, specially made to sell cheap—but the same good qualities that we sell all the year round.

The space at our disposal to-day will not permit us to go into details, but we hope that by mentioning some of the Departments and Goods involved, you will get some idea as to the extent, scope and importance of this January White Sale.

Hard Times.

Hard times will come ere long, some prophets do affirm; & o o n things will all be wrong, and grief will make us squirm. The seers may all be off their base, as they have been before; they like to scare the human race and make us sad and sore. And then, again, they may be right, their guesses may come true; if panics put us in a plight, 'twill be a howdydo! So let's be hoping for the best while fixing for the worst, and do our daily stunts with zest till our suspenders burst. Let's put in brine the useful scalds for which we work, with haste, economize as did our dads, and cut our foolish waste. It will not hurt us to believe that panics will arrive; the more of saving we achieve, the more we all will thrive. And if the panics do not come, but better times instead, if things keep up their busy hum, we'll be that much ahead. I sometimes think when I am sane, free from my keeper's care, a panic would not be in vain, e'en though it brought despair. For in these fat and golden years we cease to value cash; we go in debt up to our ears for every kind of trash. We buy a thousand foolish things, we are such easy marks; the dollars that we earn have wings and fly to beat the task. Perhaps we'd learn to value wealth and try to save the price, if panic came on us by stealth, and slugged us once or twice.

Are Your Hands Chapped?

Read How Zam-Buk Heals. For badly chapped hands, cold cracks, frost bite, etc. Zam-Buk is the best known healer. Wash the hands or part affected in water as hot as can be borne. Dry with a soft towel, and then smear the Zam-Buk well over the part. If it is the hands, wear a pair of old gloves overnight. By morning the pain will be gone. Then use Zam-Buk a few more times and the cracks will be healed. Mrs. A. F. Phillips, of Ayers Cliff, Que., says: "I suffered terribly from chapped hands. At times my hands were so sore that I could almost have cried with the pain. I thought I would try Zam-Buk and see what that wonderful healing balm would do for me. I obtained a supply, and in a very short time my hands were cured." Mrs. W. M. Baillent, of Port Hawkesbury, N. S., writes: "Some time ago my hands were very badly chapped. Ordinary ointments did not heal them, and I was advised to try Zam-Buk. To my great delight, it healed my hands in a remarkable short time." Zam-Buk will also find a sure cure for ulcers, blood-poison, varicose sores, ringworm, inflamed patches, babies' eruptions and chapped places, cuts, burns, bruises, and skin injuries generally. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co. on receipt of price.

A Musical Love Story.

Of all the romantic proposals which have led to marriage between celebrities of the day, surely that of Mr. Kennerley-Rumford to Miss Clara Butt, whom he married in 1906, is one of the most striking. In the days when "Miss" prefixed the name of Clara Butt, these two singers were appearing at Queen's Hall, London, in an old English ditty entitled "The Keys of Heaven," wherein a devout lover offers the lady of his heart the keys of heaven if she will but walk and talk with him. The ditty is obsolete, so a coach and six is offered, then a black silk gown, which only moves her to derision. Then: "If I give you the heart of my heart, And we are married till death do us part, Madam, will you walk and talk with me?" "Kennerley-Rumford," says Mr. Harry Burgess in "My Musical Pilgrimage," "had asked the most momentous question of his life, to which an answer had not been given. As they stood before the audience, Clara Butt put such emphasis into her reply of 'Yes, I will walk and talk with you,' that there could be no mistaking her meaning; and it is doubtful if Kennerley-Rumford knows whether he walked off the platform or was carried off by invisible angels."

To Kill Prize Fighting.

Sacramento, Jan. 15.—A bill was introduced in the Legislature yesterday by Senator Brown of Los Angeles, which has for its object the stamping out of prize-fighting in California. The bill which makes prize-fighting a misdemeanor, provides that "boxing exhibitions" at which no admission fee is charged, may be held, the exhibition to be limited to ten rounds. Contestants are prohibited from receiving any prize other than a medal or trophy, not exceeding $35 in value.

The Privileged Graballs.

Editor Evening Telegram. Dear Sir,—Kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to state a few facts. The working men of the country are sick of the Morris Government. I have been around the country and working with the fishermen and it will require more than the Morris spokesmen of the Herald and the Plaindealer, to explain what the Government have done with the Fourteen Millions of Dollars collected the past four years. Ask the laborers to-day, if they are anything the better off and they will say not a red cent. I noticed it is reported that Sir Edward Morris got a great welcome here a few days ago. That is not the case. When he came on the town side, he was taken pretty cool. There was not a flag put up for him, except that of the man who lost his nerve under the fringe of Wixan Hill. When the fishermen and laborers get a chance to mark their ballots next fall, they will give Morris the welcome that is in store for grabballs. Morris's abilities as a statesman must be appreciated only by those who have picked up the dollars that Morris has wasted on fooling the country. The laborers have their opinions and they will vote according to them at the coming elections. Morris has not made good. The country will not allow him to finish his work. It is too risky. The fishermen and laborers will combine and look out for their rights under a new Government. It is now almost a crime to speak to a member. I would advise every voter who wants to approach a man to speak to him. He must button-hole him. That is what he is elected for. He is paid to listen to your opinions. He is a salaried representative. This is a fact people too often forget. It is not his opinions that are all important. It is yours. We are come to a pretty pass now when no opinions are to be aired except those of the grabballs. They act as though they were a superior political caste. They demand that their opinions and their interests shall enjoy a privilege. They claim favoritism, above the ordinary subjects of His Majesty. This must end. It must and finally. When the laborers mark their ballots, they are resolved to get their rights. They are going to do it now before it is too late. They will submit no longer to Tory usage. This is their land and they must have their due out of the fullness of it. They claim equal political rights, and they will take them by the ballot. I shall write again shortly.

Yours truly,
OLD TORY.
Placentia, Jan. 18th, 1913.

Prospering.

Will be introduced in Newfoundland. Kingston, Ont., Jan. 15.—At a meeting of the Grand President and Board of Trustees of the Grand Council of the C.M.B.A., of Canada, held at the head office here, it was announced that the present membership was 24,787, and the financial statement showed a surplus of $661,384.92. Arrangements were considered for the introduction of the association in Newfoundland.

Dear Sirs,—We have nothing but good to say of Mathieu's Syrup and can conscientiously describe it as the most popular and successful Cough Medicine we handle. Owing to the absence of any drug store in this vicinity there is a great variety of proprietary medicine sold in the course of the year, and Mathieu's Syrup pre-eminently leads in its own class. Yours sincerely,
D. MARTIN.

Newfoundlanders Interested in Canada's Hudson Bay Route.

Down in Newfoundland, where the business people are ever alert to the possibilities of new industrial ventures in far north waters, steps are already being taken to secure a substantial share of the steamship traffic that will follow the opening of the Hudson Bay railroad. The powerful steel sailing ships that have been built within the past few years will be promptly utilized by their owners or by charterers for this service as soon as the railroad to Fort Churchill or Fort Nelson is completed.

This new sailing fleet in Newfoundland is one of the most remarkable in the world. Until six years ago wooden ships were employed entirely for sealing and whaling, as the hulls could be built of solid wood many inches thick and the bows planked with balks to a thickness of two or three feet and then shod with iron bands as a further security in ramming the ice. In 1906, however, the idea was devised of constructing steel ships of special design and so buttressed internally as to give practically the same strength as the wooden vessel. The latter were mostly crafts making not more than five to seven knots in speed, and the largest only 700 tons burden, so that except for this work they could not be profitably employed and had to remain tied up at the wharves in St. John's for ten months of the year.

Whatever the period for which Hudson Bay is navigable, the fact remains that in the opening there every year and again in the fall, about the closing time, the ice and bergs will be met on the way, swept south by the Greenland fastnesses. To navigate successfully such ice-laden waters will be a task for which there are no men in the world so fit as Newfoundlanders, who have been expert at it for generations, and it is probable that the completion of the proposed northern route will mean a great deal to the seafarers of the island colony. Not alone do they venture their ships into the midst of the ice mass, but they will themselves rove miles over the crystal plains off in the North Atlantic day after day in quest of the seals which they hunt from these steamers. Ship owners, therefore, who intend utilizing these waters in the near future, will find in Newfoundland a splendid supply of the best material for the crewing of the ships that will be engaged.

The decision of the Canadian Government to construct the new railway is naturally directed much attention to the possibility of the successful navigation of that region for commercial purposes. The general impression elsewhere appears to be that the possibility of the route is substantially determined, but in Newfoundland, where practical problems arising out of the navigation of ice-cumbered waters are a matter of every-day study, the situation is regarded by no means so favorably, and there is much doubt expressed by Newfoundland shipmasters and experienced ice-voyagers as to whether it will be found commercially feasible.

Worst Stomach Trouble Ended.

No Indigestion, Gas, Heartburn or Dyspepsia five minutes after taking "Pape's Diapepsin."

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pape's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief.

This harmless preparation will digest anything you eat and overcome a sour, gassy, out-of-order stomach five minutes afterwards.

If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion.

Get from your Pharmacist a 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin and take a dose just as soon as you can. There will be no more sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no stomach gas or heartburn, fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, Nausea, Debilitating Headaches, Dizziness or Intestinal griping. This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Diapepsin is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes from all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

These large 50-cent cases contain more than sufficient to thoroughly cure almost any case of Dyspepsia, Indigestion or any other stomach disorder.

Hon. Edgar R. Bowring, Mr. J. A. Paddon and Mr. W. H. Greene have been elected Fellows of the Royal Colonial Institute.

Friday's Concert

IN THE COLLEGE HALL.
A concert in aid of the Society for the Protection of Animals will be held in the Methodist College Hall on Friday, 24th inst. This Society is doing a good and much needed work and deserves the liberal patronage of the community. It is hoped that a crowded house will greet the efforts of those responsible for the entertainment. A feast of good things has been prepared. The Misses Johnson, Herd, Strang, Anderson, Gosling, Arnaud and Winter, and Messrs. King and Cecil Clift will sing, while Mr. T. O'Neill and Miss Mary Doyle will recite. The orchestra alone will be worth the price of admission.

Quinine? No! Pape's Best for Bad Cold.

First dose of Pape's Cold Compound ends gripe misery.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Gripe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world which will cure your cold or end gripe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine. Belongs in every home. Tastes nice—acts gently.

Charged Brother

WITH LARCENY.

At 8 o'clock last night a young man named Porter came to the Western Station with his brother whom he charged with stealing a bottle of quinine from him. He said he had been missing things out of his house on 71st Street since Christmas, and was sure that his brother was doing it. He went to the rear of his residence with the bottle in his pocket. Const. Bussey took the man's statement and escorted his brother to the police station. The other will appear against him; and all his brother's entreaties could not move him before they reached the Western Station to call off the prosecution.

Obituary.

A bright and cheerful young life was on Thursday evening last snatched away by death at Outer Cove, in the person of Miss Kitty Stack, at the early age of 17 years. Her illness was of a short duration—only two weeks, and despite the motherly care given her, together with every medical aid available, her young life was taken, pneumonia having set in and proved fatal. Kitty, as she was familiarly called, was in every respect a model young woman and a devoted child of her mother church, charitable and kind to all in need, hence beloved by all her neighbors—rich, and the poor especially. She was the idolized daughter of Mrs. Catherine and the late Michael Stack (of Regatta fame, who died in 1898). Her remains were enclosed in a beautiful silver-mounted casket by Mr. Myrick of the city. Interment was in the family plot, Torbay, where Rev. Chancellor St. John officiated in St. Michael's Chapel and at the grave side, giving the final absolution. To her distracted mother and brothers the Evening Telegram tenders its sympathies in this their hour of bereavement.

Man Burned to Death.

Fire on Lingan Road, near Sydney.
Sydney, Jan. 14.—Fire last night destroyed the house of R. H. Elliott, on Lingan Road, near Sydney. The fire started about 1.30. One of the inmates being unable to make an exit was burned to death. His name was John McLeod, of Dominion No. 6, C. B. single, and about 25 years of age. The family had a very narrow escape.

CHIEF ENGINEER ILL.—Mr. Ernest Martin, chief engineer of the s.s. Fogota, was taken to the Hospital Monday. He suffers from appendicitis and will undergo an operation.

THE NAVAL RESERVE.—There are now about 120 Naval Reservists on the Calypso. Several recruits also recently went on and the ship has pretty well her full capacity on board. The men engage at rifle practice at the "butts" twice each week.
