THE GUIDE-ADVOCATE welcomes all items of interest for this column. Call Phone 11, send by mail or drop item in GUIDE-ADVOCATE LetterBox.

DECORATE for the Fair. TAILORING always right at SWIFT'S. JAS. McMANUS shipped a car of heavy horses to Toronto this week. THE ALVINSTON FAIR drew quite a number of people from this district Wednesday. HAVEN'T you ever wished your running expenses would slow down to a walk? MR. W. M. LOWERY has sold his interest in the Petrolia Advertiser to his partner, Mr. A. W. Ellis. MEET your friends at LOVELL'S on Fair day. THE PRETTIEST QUARTETTE of girls to be found anywhere at Taylor's Lyceum, fair night. CUSTOMERS wanting printing for the Fair, are requested to get their orders in this week if possible. There is always a rush at the last minute. THE farmers of Lambton will be glad to know that the Ontario Government is taking steps to ascertain the cause of so many fires in the county. THE earliest example extant of a certain make of car appearing in history is where the Israelites went down and took the Fords of Jordan (Judges 3 : 28). Two piece bloomer suits for large boys. Sizes 34, 35 and 36. The new pinch back is correct.—A. BROWN & CO. PEOPLE sometimes forget that it costs the farmer more to produce his crops and livestock now than it did a few years ago. He should get higher prices. ALL renewals or new subscriptions to The Guide-Advocate up to Nov. 30th, will be accepted at the old rate of $1.00 per year. After that date the price will be $1.50. WHEN a rich man tells you that the greatest happiness is to be found in poverty, it would not be very much out of place to remind him of what David said in his haste. WHEN you come to the Watford Fair call and pay for your paper for 1917 and get in on the old rate of $1.00. Remember $1.50 will be the price after November 30th. AT TAYLOR'S LYCEUM, fair night, Mr. Roman will tell you some Irish and Scotch stories you never heard before. ON SUNDAY NEXT Oct. 8th, Harvest Thanksgiving services will be held in the Methodist Church at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Rev. F. G. Robinson will conduct both services. REMEMBER the Concert fair night and don't go without a box of chocolates, we have nice ranges of Neilson's at 25, 50 and 75c.—LOVELL'S. WE have just received notice of another big boost in the price of cardboard, flat paper, envelopes and all kinds of paper goods. Everything the printer uses has doubled and in many cases more than doubled in price during the past year. FARMERS having articles for sale, have found it pays to use The Guide-Advocate "Want Column." The cost is small and the results are quick. No successful business man hides what he has to sell from the public. Farmers might, to their advantage, make a wider and more profitable use of advertising. FAIR VISITORS will find that we carry one of the most complete lines of underwear in Western Ontario.—A. BROWN & CO. PARENTS are urged to send their children to school regularly. It is very discouraging to the teachers and a great handicap to the scholars, if the latter are allowed to stay home for a half day or a day occasionally as the whim takes them. Nothing but sickness should be allowed to interfere with regular attendance. Do not fail to hear the Elgar Ladies' Quartette at the Patriotic Concert, Taylor's Lyceum, Oct. 11th. If you want a cup of hot tea, or coffee and a sandwich on fair day, drop in at LOVELL'S. THE Fair Concert in the Armory on Wednesday night promises to be the best ever given by the society. The program will include humorous and patriotic songs, dancing, etc., by the best talent procurable. Popular prices. Don't fail to be there and come early. MR. D. ROCHE planted some potatoes in his garden last spring but they failed to grow. While digging the ground where they were planted on Wednesday he found that the seed was just beginning to sprout. If the weather continues mild he expects new potatoes by November. A TIE with every Boy's Suit sold on fair day.—SWIFT'S. YOU are invited to make our store your headquarters on fair day. Arrange to meet your friends there, leave your parcels there, and if you have any time to spare take a look at our boots and shoes. These goods were bought before the recent raise, consequently the price will prove attractive.—P. DODDS & SON

SEE the fair and then Swift's big store. UP-TO-THE-MINUTE millinery at BROWN'S. MEMBERS of fraternal societies who get carried along by their brethren for months and then just "drop out" will be interested in Judge Monck's ruling that they can be sued and made to pay up. It is a good doctrine, too. It is a mighty unfraternal thing to cheat brethren who have shown so much consideration as to keep members in good standing.—Hamilton Times. MISS FLORENCE BRENT of Watford received a letter from Rev. Percival Despres, France, stating that her brother, Pte. Hubert Brent, formerly of Watford, had been admitted to No. 13 Stationary Hospital, Boulogne Base, France, suffering from shrapnel wounds about the head. He enlisted in the northwest with the 46th Batt. and later transferred to the thirteenth Canadian Batt. M. G. S. and was on active service since June 17th. New silks and silk waists opened this week. Fair visitors should see these values.—A. BROWN & CO. IRL HICKS, the weather prophet, in his forecast for October says:—"About the 10th and 11th, storms will be central over a vast area, stretching up and down the great central valleys. Heavy gales will naturally attend these storms, breaking into possible fury as they pass over the lake regions." As the dates mentioned are those of Watford fair, the prediction will be watched with interest. A YOUNG man named Charles Blyth was charged before A. G. Brown, J. P., on Wednesday, with criminal assault on a little girl under five years of age. The assault was committed in Warwick township. On hearing the evidence the magistrate committed the prisoner to Sarnia for trial. County-constable Elliot made the arrest and took the prisoner to the county jail. BIG DISPLAY of Furs and Fur Coats fair day.—SWIFT'S. THE Watford fair promises to be a good one this year and the directors are doing all in their power to make it the best ever. The Pipers' band and Scotch dancers will be in attendance. The speeding events, patriotic drills, baby show and other specialties will no doubt be keenly contested. All that is needed to make the fair a big success will be two days of fine weather. AT Osgoode Hall, before Judge Latchford, Shields vs. Shields, W. E. Fitzgerald, Watford, for plaintiff moved to continue injunction. J. D. Bussell for defendant order made referring all matters in dispute to local master at London. Injunction continued to confirmation of report. Defendant John J. Shields to be allowed to harvest the unharvested crop and store it on the premises until report made. Costs reserved. SWIFT'S SPECIAL PRIZES for public school pupils in the County of Lambton—3 prizes of $1.00 each for girls or boys—5 minute speech on second day of our big fair. Subjects: Who Started the War? Who Will Win the War? What Effect will the War have on Canada. (One subject to each pupil.) POTATOES FOR SALE.—S. STAPLEFORD & SON will have a car at the Grand Trunk yards on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6th and 7th of New Brunswick whites of the finest quality. They are yours while they last at $1.85 per bag. The East Lambton Fair

Of course we're all going to Watford Fair on Wednesday next to see the farmers' prize produce and fancy turnouts and get some of that nice, hot, pink taffy once more and see the man with the toy balloons. Perhaps our noses will get blue and cold but we simply must have some popcorn and pink lemonade—its a tradition with us you see. Trials of speed—does that mean racing? We hope it does. We want to see the oldest man and the largest pumpkin and the fattest pig. And, oh, may we sample the snow apples, please? We'd like to have as much fun as the kiddies do, we can't of course, but we're going to try. We'll be very much interested in the children's corners. We'll take one long breath, pull down our vest and step in to see the "Ladies' Exhibit." One glance tells us that no mere man could have had a hand in this! Fancy a man trying to make Irish crochet! Why he just couldn't do it, that's all. No, Sir. Fair day surely has a flavor all its own. Hats off to the progressive farmers who make this jollification possible.

MacLachlan-Dowson

In the presence of a few immediate friends of the bride, at the home of A. G. Walker, Edmonton, on Saturday evening at 6 o'clock, Rev. Mr. Lewis, of Albany Avenue Methodist church, officiated in marriage Miss Edith M. Dowson of Edmonton, formerly of Asfordby, England, and Rev. Glenville H. MacLachlan, of Rimbey, Alberta. The bride was gowned in cream silk crepe de chine, carried a bouquet of sweet peas and orange blossoms. She was attended by Miss Viola Ribchester. After the ceremony and usual congratulations, the guests repaired to the dining room, where the wedding breakfast was served. Mr. and Mrs. MacLachlan left via C. P. R., on Monday for a short honeymoon at Penhold and Stettler. The groom is an old Watford boy.

WARWICK.

Mrs. R. J. Bugar, Toronto, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Collier, 2nd line. Mrs. D. A. Ross and Donald, have returned from a visit with friends at St. Helens and Blyth. Capt. Robert James, M. D., of the A. M. C., Niagara Camp, was home for a few days this week. Harvest Thanksgiving service will be held in the Zion Methodist Church, 2nd line east, next Sunday at 2.30 p. m. The Women's Missionary society of Knox Church, Main Road, will hold their annual Thank Offering meeting on Friday evening. Mrs. Forster will address the meeting. All are welcome. ASK to see our new overalls and work shirts. No better value in Canada.—SWIFT'S. The Rev. H. R. Diehl, rector of Adelaide will conduct Thanksgiving services and preach morning and evening in St. Mary's Church, Warwick, and in the afternoon in St. Paul's Church, Wisbeach, next Sunday, Oct. 8th. By special request Rev. R. M. Stevenson will deliver his lecture "Travels and Experiences in the South Sea Islands" on Friday evening next in Kingscourt school-house. A liberal offering is requested in aid of the Red Cross Society. POTATOES FOR SALE.—S. Stapleford & Son will have a car at the Grand Trunk yards on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6th and 7th, of New Brunswick whites of the finest quality. They are yours while they last at $1.85 per bag. Bring along your bags and take them away.—S. STAPLEFORD & SON. Another old resident of the township passed away on Wednesday morning in the person of Mr. Wm. Beacom. The funeral will be held from the family residence, lot 6, con. 2, S. E. R., on Friday, at 2 p. m., for the Methodist Church, Warwick, where service will be held. Interment in the Methodist cemetery, Warwick. On Sunday next special Thanksgiving services will be held in Zion Congregational Church. Rev. R. M. Stevenson will preach at 2.45 p. m. and at 7.30 p. m. At the evening service the subject will be: "Signs of the Times in Relation to Chronology, or Clear Proof that the End of the Times of the Gentiles is at Hand." All heartily invited. The Warwick branch of the Women's Institute will hold a meeting in the Forrester's Hall on Thursday, Oct. 12th. A bale will be packed in aid of the sufferers in Northern Ontario, who lost their homes by fire. Second hand clothing and bedding will be thankfully received from any person who wishes to contribute. Every lady in the community is cordially invited to attend. On Friday night, Sept. 29th, another fine barn containing the season's crops, together with some implements, was burned on the premises of Richard Moore, 18 sideline. The origin of the fire is unknown, but like a number of others in the county is supposed to be incendiary. Mr. Moore's loss is a heavy one, the building being comparatively new. A government investigation is being made to ascertain the cause of the numerous fires throughout this section. OUR half dollar fleeced underwear for men at $1.00 a suit, can't be beat.—SWIFT'S.

The Strathroy Age says:—It is stated on apparently good authority that photographers called at a farm in Warwick Township, one day last week and asked permission to photograph the barns. The lady of the house being alone at the time, refused, but the men, professing admiration for the looks of the building, said they would take a look at them anyway. They went into the barn and stayed for a little while, and that night the barns, with the season's crop, implements, etc., were completely destroyed. Warden Hall of Lambton, who was in Strathroy on Tuesday, states that unless the fire ceases, he intends, in conjunction with the county crown attorney, to issue an appeal to farmers of the county to arm themselves and protect their property by force. Whether the government will back up this method or not, Warden Hall says he does not know, but the number of fires is becoming a very serious matter to the farmers and to the whole country and drastic measures are being needed to combat the existing condition.

BROOKE

OUR big dollar wool underwear for men. Best in Canada.—SWIFT'S. R. G. Woods, third son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Woods, left Monday for Ann Arbor, where he is attending the College of Dentistry. At present he is making his home with his uncle, Dr. J. T. Woods Chelsea, Mich. C. Foster & Co. struck an oil well on J. P. McVicar's farm, southeast of Inwood, which is pumping two barrels an hour. They are pumping it night and day since the strike on Tuesday, September 26. Dr. and Mrs. Woods, Mt. Brydges, motored over Sunday afternoon and visited friends in Brooke. The Dr. is having extensive improvements done on his residence, fitted all up with the hydro. POTATOES FOR SALE.—S. Stapleford & Son will have a car at the Grand Trunk yards on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 6th and 7th, of New Brunswick whites of the finest quality. They are yours while they last at $1.85 per bag. Bring along your bags and take them away.—S. STAPLEFORD & SON. The case of Armstrong vs. the township of Brooke, which was to come up before Judge MacWatt at the county court setting on Tuesday last, was settled between the parties concerned. The action was one to recover the price of work done by the plaintiff, John Armstrong, on a drain in the Township of Brooke, amounting to a little over $200, and was postponed from the June sessions. The funeral of the late Mrs. Christopher Chittick was held from the home of her daughter, Mrs. S. McLellan, lot 27, con. 13, Brooke, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock to St. James church cemetery, 6th line, and was largely attended. The rector, Rev. S. P. Irwin, B. A., conducted the service. The pall bearers were two sons, Christopher and Joseph, and four sons-in-law, Messrs. Neve, Lethbridge, Trestant and Thompson. Deceased leaves to mourn her demise three sons and six daughters, namely William Chittick, Flint, Mich.; Christopher and Joseph Chittick, Deckerville, Mich.; Mrs. McLellan, Brooke; Mrs. Neve and Mrs. Lethbridge, Glencoe; Mrs. McFarlane, Toronto; Mrs. George Trestant, Detroit; and Mrs. John Thompson, Carsonville, Mich. Those from a distance who attended the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Trestant, Detroit; Mrs. McFarlane, Toronto; Miss Minnie Stewart, London; Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Carsonville, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Neve, Glencoe; Mr. and Mrs. Lethbridge, Glencoe, and her three sons. The Alvinston Fair Ideal weather on Tuesday last made a pleasant outing for the large crowd that attended the Brooke and Alvinston fair. The entries were numerous, the attractions good and everyone seemed to enjoy the day's outing. What kind of a pull has the T. Eaton Company with the postal authorities? For the past year they have been plastering the country with their catalogues at six cents for postage. The Simpson Company for a similar catalogue, but weighing four ounces less, has to pay fourteen cents for postage. The Eaton book if sent from Flesherton to Toronto would cost sixteen cents. Find the nigger.—Flesherton Advance.

WIFE TOO ILL TO WORK IN BED MOST OF TIME

Her Health Restored by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Indianapolis, Indiana. — "My health was so poor and my constitution so run down that I could not work. I was thin, pale and weak, weighed but 109 pounds and was in bed most of the time. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and five months later I weighed 133 pounds. I do all the housework and washing for eleven and I can truthfully say Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a godsend to me for I would have been in my grave today but for it. I would tell all women suffering as I was to try your valuable remedy." — Mrs. Wm. Green, 332 S. Addison Street, Indianapolis, Indiana.

There is hardly a neighborhood in this country, wherein some woman has not found health by using this good old-fashioned root and herb remedy.

If there is anything about which you would like special advice, write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

NOTE AND COMMENT

This is the way accurate time is maintained in a garrison town in France where they still fire a gun every day at noon. One day the commandant of the garrison had a guest with him at the moment when the gun went off. Said the guest: "How do you know when to fire the gun?" "I look at my watch," said the officer. "But how do you know your watch is exactly correct?" "I set it every day or two by the clock of the local watchmaker, who has astronomical time." Next day the visitor happened to be going by the watchmaker's place just before noon. The watchmaker was standing at his door. The visitor stopped to gossip with him, and said: "Well, how's business?" "Nothing doing," said the watchmaker. "Business dead. You see all that I'm doing now—standing in the door and waiting for the noon gun to go off." "What do you do then?" "I set my astronomical time by it."

An unusual deal by which the Province of Ontario has made a trade of land with a resident of Lambton has just been completed. Mrs. Margaret P. Armstrong, of Petrolia, owned a tract of land near the mouth of the Aux Saubles river in the township of Bosanquet. By the action of the waters of Lake Huron a new channel of the river has been cut through the property and the old river bed became completely filled in in some places. The department of lands, forests and mines looked into the matter and after some negotiations made an agreement by which Mrs. Armstrong gets the old filled in bed of the river and gives back to the province the title in her land now covered water by the new channel of the river. No money, except the usual dollar to make the contract legal, changed hands. About 20 acres of land was turned over to the Crown.

At a Critical Stage

With the fall of Combes the crown has been placed upon the series of attacks constituting the long offensive against the Germans on the Somme which has been going on since June.

The Germans had turned the town (before the war of 20,000 population) into a strongly fortified position and its resistance served to check the allied advances towards Bapaume and Peronne. Consequently the capture of this position means much more than the fall of Combes. It is not so much, either, that our troops are seeking to capture this or that particular position. They are out to break the German lines and Combes is a token that they have been broken.

Our United States friends are quick to see the change in the situation, and the New York Tribune accepts the latest developments as indication sufficient that Germany is beaten. The only question now is how long it will take to compel Germany to acknowledge what everyone else knows. A great deal depends upon the action of the German people themselves. Fed upon falsehood, a sad awakening lies before them, and they may wish to wreak their vengeance on those who have deceived them. The German leaders, from the kaiser down, now know that they are fighting for their lives, and may be depended upon to make desperate efforts. Many a battle that was lost in prospect has been won in fact, and there is much in history to encourage the Germans. There is all the more need that Britons everywhere should take the utmost pains to make sure that no advantage now possessed shall be lost and that the victory which has cost so much will be sealed and certain.

Boston Paper on Canada

Christian Science Monitor, Boston: "The Canadian board of munitions has furnished the British government with $100,000,000 worth of war material on its own terms."

Throughout the Dominion, meanwhile, construction is proceeding. Industry is humming. Trade is improving. Public works are being carried forward. Shipbuilding is being encouraged in British Columbia. Docks and terminals to cost $35,000,000 are building at Halifax. The crops for this year promise to break records. The Canadian dollar stands for its statutory equivalent in gold. Appreciation rather than depreciation, of values is going on. To borrow the language of one of its leading journals, "Canada is coming through the war magnificently."

The Dominion is surprising itself as well as other nations. It actually did not realize before the close of 1914 what its resources were. It was doubtful and fearful where it should have been confident and bold. It had not been driven before to the necessity of making a heroic effort. It did not realize its strength. Today, with its obligations multiplied with a war charge running to $30,000,000 a month, with 350,000 men at the front and 150,000 to follow shortly, with drains upon its revenue such as it never dreamed in the past it could afford, it faces the future in the fullness of self-reliance. Every day it is better equipped for the carrying on of its share of the war; every day it is longing more earnestly for an honorable peace. Awakened to a sense of its possibilities, it is yearning for the opportunities that will appear upon its horizon with the first glimmer of a peaceful dawn."

Potato Shortage; Buy Seed Now

Farmers of old Ontario and Southern Quebec are facing a serious shortage in potatoes. The condition of the crop throughout North America is such that they would be well advised to purchase now their seed supply for next spring. Good healthy stocks of suitable varieties may be obtained at reasonable prices in parts of Eastern Quebec and the Maritime provinces.

REFUSING RICHES.

Chances For Making Fortunes Have Often Been Turned Aside.

It is not an easy thing to say "No" to wealth when it is offered in handfuls, but there are people who have done it. In the eighties the best known and most popular actress in the world, perhaps, was Mary Anderson, an American who was as good as she was beautiful.

At twenty-eight she married and has never since been tempted out of her retirement except for a charity performance. In the hope of inducing her to go on the stage again an enterprising American manager offered her $50,000 for a season of thirty weeks—a fortune in itself. The lady refused.

Calve was offered $4,000 a week to go on the vaudeville stage. Her work was to consist of singing four songs—two at a matinee and two in the evening—which works out at about $150 a song. She also refused.

Jack Binns, who in the early days of wireless won worldwide fame by sticking to his post on a sinking liner and bringing help from the four quarters, was offered fabulous sums to appear on the music hall stage and show "how it was done." His reply was that he was an electrician and not an actor. So he "turned down" a fortune.

Mr. Gladstone refused several fortunes from enterprising publishers. He would only write what he wanted and when he wanted. Browning was the same.—London Answers.

SHAKESPEARE AND SLANG.

Later Day Phrases That Were Used by the Immortal Bard.

"Good night," a terse ejaculation that has taken ranking position among the slang of the day, had its source in no less authority than Will Shakespeare. It took a Hamilton college student to discover that the magic words were frequently used in Shakespeare's plays and with as much variety of meaning as we have been giving to them.

"The idea that 'good night' has the mark of modernity," declares this student, "is a sad mistake. In act 1, scene 3, of the first part of 'King Henry IV,' Worcester says he will disclose a matter of Hotspur which is as full of peril 'as to o'erwalk a current roaring lion on the unsteadfast footing of a spear.' To which Hotspur replies, 'If he fall in, good night.'"

Many other bits of modern vernacular are from Shakespeare, the student says, among them "Go to it!" "You cheese!" "I am for you," "Dead drunk" and plenty of others.

And regarding that once favorite phrase "Beat it" the student says this: "Every one from a former president to a newsboy has made use of these two words. Yet in act 2, scene 1, of 'The Comedy of Errors' Luciana exclaims: 'Fie! Beat it hence!'"

The Indignant Mandrill.

The blue faced mandrill which, or who, has ended an unhappy life in his solitary cage at the zoo was a victim to the human sense of humor. He had a long, broad, light blue nose with a pink stripe down the middle. The nose always caused a laugh. And when, in acute irritation, he turned his back upon the inevitable guffaw of the bright blue things, edged with rose color, raised a new shout of delight. He knew perfectly well that the laugh was the laugh of derision, the third and lowest of the forms of human fun. He visibly hated his visitors. Nature had so colored him to enchant the eyes of a mate, but men have other eyes than hers. Swift in his days of failure and despair might have looked with the look of the indignant mandrill.—London Chronicle.

Blending the Odors.

It has been proved that two odors which do not seem to have anything in common, that of putrefied cheese and that of pineapple, are so closely allied from the chemical standpoint that it takes but a few minutes to transform an intense stench into a sweet fragrance. This curious experiment is easily made and requires but a small amount of three chemicals—valerianic acid, sulphuric acid and amylic alcohol. Care must be taken not to spill over the fingers or dress any drop of the first two named liquids. Sulphuric acid is exceedingly caustic, and the stench of valerianic acid, besides being unendurable, is very difficult to get rid of.—London Family Herald.

Nons of the Shop For Her.

Butcher—"Ow is my daughter gettin' on with 'er masic, professor?"
Professor—"Well, I'm only teaching her the scales at present."
Butcher (indignantly)—"Teachin' 'er the scales! I don't want 'er to know nothink about the scales. She ain't goin' to serve in the shop. I mean 'er to be a lady. Teach 'er the planner or I'll take 'er away from yer.—London Mail.

CAUSE OF SHADOWS.

And Why They Are Darker in the Night Than in the Daytime.

Where anything through which rays of light cannot pass intercepts the light rays coming from a luminous body the light rays are turned back in the direction from which they come and the part on the other side of the object which intercepted the light goes into shade and a shadow results.

A shadow then is produced by cutting off one or more light rays. We notice shadows when the sun is bright in the daytime and at night when we walk along the streets lighted partly by street lamps.

The shadows we see in the daytime are caused by our cutting off and throwing back some of the light rays which come from the sun. These are not so dark as the shadows we see at night because the rays of light from the sun are so bright and are reflected from so many other objects to the side and in back of us.

When, however, we are walking along a dimly lighted street and come to a street lamp the shadows our bodies cause are quite black. The night shadows are darker because the source of light is less intense and the objects to the side of and in back of us (if we are walking toward the light) do not reflect so much of the light rays as they do of the sun's rays in the daytime.

The Proven Asthma Remedy.

Since asthma existed there has been no lack of much heralded remedies, but they have proved short lived and worthless. The ever-growing reputation of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Asthma Remedy has given it a place in the field of medicine which no other can approach. It has never been pushed by sensational methods, but has simply gone on effecting relief and making new converts.

Thos. H. Thompson near Oil Springs lost his large double barn, this season's crop and 1000 bushels of 1915 wheat by fire last week, believed to be of incendiary origin. Loss over $10,000.

For The Housekeeper

If you wish to have mashed potatoes in a hurry, cut the potatoes in small pieces before boiling them. They will cook much more quickly.

Garbage will not attract so many flies if it is wrapped in newspaper before it is put in the garbage pail.

Cooked or melted cheese is a valuable and nutritious food, and is more easily digested than when eaten raw.

When making tea, instead of the usual spoonful for the pot, add a lump of sugar. The tea will be just as strong.

When putting down cucumber pickles, put a green pepper in the jar. This will improve the flavor of the pickles.

By cleaning one room thoroughly each month, the house will be kept in good shape and that terrible task of house-cleaning twice a year avoided.

Before using cabbage, cauliflower, or lettuce, the heads should be turned down in salted water. This will cause any form of animal life to crawl out.

Cream cheese mixed with chopped celery and olives, formed into balls, rolled in chopped nuts and served on lettuce leaves with French dressing is a very good salad.

Hard and soft corns both yield to Holloway's Corn Cure, which is entirely safe to use, and certain and satisfactory in its action.

Tomatoes are delicious boiled in the gas oven. Put them on the boiler, put a small piece of butter on each piece, and cook them until they are brown and tender.

When a window is difficult to raise, pour a little melted lard between the frame and the casing.

Puffed paste can be rolled in a napkin, put in a cold, dry place, and it will keep nicely for a week.

Salt added to the bluing water will prevent the bluing from going into spots on the white clothes.

It Testifies for itself.—Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil needs no testimonial of its powers other than itself. Whoever tries it for coughs or colds, for cuts or contusions, for sprains or burns, for pains in the limbs or body, well know that the medicine powers itself and needs no guarantee. This shows why this Oil is in general use.

No warping or cracking is possible with our secret process semi-steel fire-box linings. Being in five pieces, they are easily removed or replaced without bolts or cement.

LIFE OF THE NARCISSUS.

A Plant That Teaches Us a Lesson in Patient Waiting.

Fifty weeks of saving for one or two of spending! Eleven months of living in darkness for one month of sunshine. Three hundred and fifty days as an ugly, brown, dirty bulb for fifteen days as a beautiful fragrant flower. If ever you want a lesson in patient waiting turn to the flower which is satisfied to remain obscure nearly all its life for the privilege of blooming for a few days—the narcissus.

The bulb existence of the narcissus is so much obscured that we forget all about how the flower is using it as a savings bank or a life insurance policy. What we think is a worthless, ugly clump in the earth is busy the year round storing up nourishment and strength to serve the flower during its blooming period.

If the bulb were not of a saving disposition there would be no blossoms. The flower in turn takes sunlight and oxygen and sends it into the bulb to store away for another period of blooming. It depends upon the bulb to conserve this strength, and the bulb's thrift never fails.

Don't make the mistake of calling the bulb the root. In reality the bulb is the stem of the flower, made out of a cluster of thick leaves. Planted in the earth the bulb sends down roots, which seize fast to the soil and drag the parent bulb down with them.

SPAIN'S ROYAL MAUSOLEUM.

The Escorial is Also a Palace, a Monastery and a Church.

Twenty-seven miles from Madrid on a bleak height surrounded by a sterile and gloomy wilderness stands the Escorial, one of the most remarkable buildings in Europe. It is 786 feet long and 623 feet wide, with tall towers at the angles. It comprises at once a monastery, a church, a palace and a mausoleum.

On Aug. 10, 1557, the Spaniards gained a great victory over the French at St. Quentin, and the Spanish king, Philip II., had the building erected in commemoration of the event. As the battle occurred on St. Lawrence's day, he had the building designed to resemble the famous gridiron on which St. Lawrence suffered martyrdom by being roasted to death.

The work was begun in 1563 and continued for more than twenty years. The building contains a vast number of treasures—paintings, sculptures, manuscripts, etc. Among them is a life size figure of Christ on the cross done in ivory by Benvenuto Cellini.

As it stands today the Escorial and its contents represent an outlay of more than $10,000,000. Here lie the bodies of all the Spanish kings since the Emperor Charles V., except Philip V. and Ferdinand VI.—Argonaut.

The Original Paul Pry.

Thomas Hill, familiarly called Tommy Hill, was, says Dr. Brewer, the original Paul Pry. It was from him also that Theodore Hook drew his character of Gilbert Gurney. Planche in his "Recollections" says of Hill: "His speciality was the accurate information he could impart on all the petty details of the domestic economy of his friends, the contents of their wardrobes, their pantries, the number of pots of preserves in their store closets and of the table napkins in their linen presses, the dates of their births and marriages, the amounts of their tradesmen's bills and whether paid weekly or quarterly. He had been on the press and was connected with the Morning Chronicle. He used to drive Matthews crazy by ferreting out his whereabouts when he left London and popping the information in some paper."

The Helmet That Fell.

Roquelaure, the deformed jester of Louis XIV., contrived to get out of many a scrape by his ready wit. One day he went to the king to ask his pardon for having struck off the helmet of one of his sentinels who had failed to give him the military salute. Louis, who knew his man, wondered that Roquelaure should crave his pardon for so venial an offense and said to him, "This is a serious matter, Roquelaure, but I will pardon you this time." It afterward turned out that the soldiers' head was in the helmet and fell with it to the ground.

The Blushing Brides.

"Why are brides generally expected to be blushing as they walk down the aisle?"
"I suppose," replied Suffron Long, glancing cautiously about and lowering his voice, "that a good many of them blush to think how they are going to subdue the lords of creation after they've safely got them."

The Way of It.

"Well," said the advertising poster man to his assistant, "we've struck a case of paradoxical luck."
"How's that?" asked the other.
"Here's a wait to our progress, and we will soon be up against it."

Barn Fires Caused by Damp Grain Heating

Sarnia, Oct. 2.—As a result of inspections of recent barn fires throughout the county by Deputy Fire Marshal A. H. Dickie, it has been found that spontaneous combustion was the cause in nearly every instance, damp grain being stored in such quantities as to produce intense heat and eventually a blaze. This refutes the general suspicion that a German conspiracy was on foot to destroy supplies in western Ontario.

Put a few drops of ammonia in the water in which the silver is washed. It will keep it bright.

CHOP STUFF

Mt. Brydges fair to-day.

The Haldimand county papers have advanced their rates to $1.50.

Mount Forest papers have been reduced to four pages instead of eight.

The United States leads the world in scientific fish propagation.

James Moore, one of the oldest residents of Moore township, is dead, aged 88 years.

Caradoc Red Cross Circle has a membership of 210. Donations to date amount to $534.64.

476 Enniskillen farmers signed the petition asking for an estimate on the cost of hydro-electric.

Mrs. Jessie McIntyre has been appointed postmistress of Crinan, succeeding her husband, who died recently.

The West Lorne baker has decided to suspend business for a time owing to the high price of flour and outside competition.

Harry Joyce of Wabash has filled his granary with a carload of oats from Manitoba. The 2,000 bushels cost him 50 cents per bushel including freight.

Petrolia council wishes investigation into the recent numerous fires in the neighborhood. The matter will be laid before the detective bureau at Toronto.

A Sarnia doctor was convicted of using one license number for two cars, contrary to the motor vehicles act, and Tuesday paid a fine and costs amounting to $13.

Jean Brodie, infant daughter of J. N. Brodie, Muncney, had one finger and part of another cut off when she and her elder sister, Mildred, aged 4, were playing with a knife.

The Petrolia council and Hydro Commission are at loggerheads over the rate for street lighting. The Commission asks $3400 a year for the service which the Council thinks is too much.

After forty-three years continuous service, Mr. R. J. Parker for many years C. T. R. Agent at Forest and Thedford and more recently at Dublin has been superannuated, and is now living in Toronto.

Thedford Tribune—It is said the 149th Battalion, now at Camp Borden, is a couple of hundred men short of the establishment. Several other battalions up there are also under strength. It is our firm belief that a mild form of conscription in Canada is not far off. We have too many men in Canada—at any rate in Lambton—"Keeping the Home Fires Burning."

Petrolia Advertiser—James Booth, a former Petrolia citizen, who for twenty-six years resided in foreign countries, was in town this week renewing acquaintances. When the war broke out Mr. Booth's wife was living in Germany, where she has since been residing, although so far as Mr. Booth knows she is not suffering from lack of food. Mr. Booth will shortly return to England.

More persons have been hurt by auto accidents in Detroit this year than have been injured by all the Zeppelin raids on England during the entire war, including the big raid of Saturday night. There have been 2,721 accidents, minor and serious, from January 1st to September 1st, 59 being fatal. The Zeppelin toll has been heavier in deaths, 368 being killed, but only 870 injuries have been reported.

A general review of the flax situation throughout Ontario, which is at present being completed by Dominion Inspector G. G. Bramhill, reveals the fact that the crops this year will only average one ton to the acre of raw material. In other years, under better weather conditions, the flax has averaged two tons to the acre. For this reason there will not be as many mills operated throughout the country as was at first estimated. By actual figuring there are 200 pounds of finished fibre obtained from a ton of material. The average price for the finished article will be in the neighborhood of $450 a ton. This will give the farmer $48 an acre for what crops he has produced.

Hog Swallowed Watch

While leaning over the hog trough one day last week, feeding his hogs, Philip Bondy, of Auld, dropped his watch into the trough, and it was quickly gobbled up by one of the animals in its hurry to get its share of the feed. Mr. Bondy noticed the hog go and lie down afterwards, and in this way located the one which had his ticker. The next day the same pig gave evidence of an attack of indigestion, and this decided him that it was the right one. He butchered it, and in its stomach found the missing time-piece. It had stopped, but was in no way injured. He wound it up, and it has been going just as well as it did before its trip into the pig's interior.

Your Weekly Newspaper

PERHAPS you haven't been thinking much about it—just taking for granted that $1.00 a year is a right price for The Guide-Advocate, year after year, let other things cost what they may. But you are a reasonable being, and so can see that the price of a weekly newspaper should no more remain "fixed" year after year than the prices of such common things as

beefsteak	wheat	motor cars
sugar	eggs	lumber
coal	potatoes	horses
boots	clover seed	land

CAN you think of any other commodity except newspapers and their like whose price has remained unchanged and unchanging year after year? Why, then, should your newspaper's price remain forever the same—the same, for example, as when you could buy

- a cord of wood for $1.50
- a bushel of wheat for 50 cents
- a common fowl for 25 cents
- a dozen eggs for 10 cents
- a pound of butter for 12 cents
- a cow for $25

THE war has brought to a crisis a condition of things which has vexed publishers for years; the selling-price of their newspaper. It has sent prices of paper, ink, type and supplies skyward. It is costing us many more dollars a week now to produce The Guide-Advocate than before the outbreak of war. Where do we get off at?—in the slang language of today. The answer is: we must get more for The Guide-Advocate. And so on and after December 1st the subscription price of The Guide-Advocate will be $1.50.

You are reasonable, and so we count on you to meet the necessities of the situation cheerfully. Three cents a week for your local newspaper—it is worth the price, is it not?

Red Cross Collection of Old Papers

The young ladies who are collecting the car of papers for the Red Cross Fund are greatly encouraged with the peoples' response to their appeal for help. The first gathering has brought in about a quarter car load.

The next gathering in town will be made next week on Friday and Saturday. The citizens can spare the collectors a lot of labor by:

- (1) Having the parcels ready when called for.
- (2) Having them tied with strong cord.
- (3) Keeping in separate bundles: (a) the newspapers, (b) the magazines, (c) the smooth, glossy papers such as Church and S. S. papers, (d) pamphlets and reports, (e) card board, wrapping paper and all scraps. Break corners and flatten out cardboard boxes, and fold wrapping to 1/2 newspaper size.

The ladies ask the people of the country to make a special effort to bring in their bundles to R. Johnston's office on Saturday or early next week. Everybody help.

Why A Child Needs Glasses

MANY children are born with a defect of vision. Unless it is very great the child does not particularly suffer until the school period. Then the young mind becomes intent upon study and any defect of vision becomes a direct strain upon the brain. To relieve this the child will squint, or turn the head, in many cases using only one eye. This habit grows until we almost have a deformity of the eye.

Parents; do not let this be the experience of your child. We will gladly and thoroughly examine your child's eyes, and tell you truthfully how best to remedy it. See to it now.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

The O'Shaughnessy Strain

By JOHN BARTON OXFORD

Copyright by Frank A. Munsey Co.

Under proper conditions "Killarney" as a tune is all right. But there are circumstances which make even "Killarney" a consummation to be devoutly wished for—not!

Say, for instance, when it is played on a cornet next door between 10:30 and 11 p. m.—played very badly, with many breaks and false notes. It had lost every iota of its charm for young Mr. Timothy O'Shaughnessy Scanlon. And when that evening the operator of the tortured instrument next door essayed some very uncertain double tonguing human endurance could go no further.

Scanlon, with a nervous shiver, irritably pushed the papers across the littered table in front of him, tore off his green eyeshade and jumped up to pace the room with his fingers stuffed into his ears.

The door of the little bedroom was pushed open, and Mary Scanlon, every gray hair on her head bristling with wrath, came in.

"How'll ye ever be doin' yer lessons, Timmy, if that spalpeen next door kapes his wheezy foghorn goin' like this?" she demanded, looking sympathetically at her distraught son.

"Sure, I can't be doin' 'em, mother," Timmy confessed. "It's worse than ever tonight. I'm near wild wit' the blamed uproar av it."

"What are yer goin' to do about it?" she asked with blazing eyes.

"What is there to do?" asked Timmy wearily. "I don't see nothin' but to move—to find some place where there won't be nothin' of this kind goin' on to disturb me."

Mary Scanlon's eyes narrowed. A disgusted pucker showed itself on the forehead just above her upturned nose.

"Ye'd be drove out, would yer?" she said between set teeth. "Ye'd let yer self be ousted out the house we've lived in for five years be them upstart Brennans that moved in next door only last month?"

Mrs. Scanlon turned on her heel and went irritably out of the room, slamming the door after her by way of giving emphasis to her momentary feelings.

This did not tend materially to soothe Timmy's overwrought nerves. Moreover, the wabbly double tonguing blatting forth again at that inauspicious moment, he strode to the window and threw it wide.

"Hey!" he yelled to make himself heard above the din. "Hey, hey, over there!"

"Killarney" ceased momentarily. There came the sound of a window in the next cottage slamming open.

"Well, what's the nature av the trouble?" asked Mr. Brennan calmly. "I'll have a writ out on yer for disturbin' the peace and bein' a public nuisance," quavered Timmy, his courage already ebbing.

"Will yer so?" taunted the other. "Mayhap yer'll be findin' I have a right be law to practice as much as I choose in the house that none av yer money is payin' the rint av."

Whereupon he slammed down the window and immediately "Killarney" blared tunelessly forth as if propelled into the night by a pair of gigantic bellows.

Mrs. Scanlon, hanging out the week's wash in the back yard next morning was accosted by Mrs. Brennan, who stepped to the dividing fence between the two cottages and glared savagely and forbiddingly at her neighbor.

"Mrs. Scanlon, ma'am," she counseled, "yer Timmy don't want to be startin' nothin' wit' my Eddie. He's likely to get marked up for life if he goes to talkin' to Eddie and to sarsin' him like he done last night, and all because Eddie is practicin' a bit on his cornet, which he's doin' fine on, if I do say it."

"Why, Eddie was all for goin' right over to your place and givin' Timmy what for right off for the nasty talk he give him. I had to hold on to Eddie and fair push him back and do all I could to quiet him down."

Something hot and choking seemed to rise to Mary Scanlon's throat, and strangling her.

"And glad I am yer do be broachin' the subject, Mrs. Brennan," said she. "Ye a word or two of me own for you. Yer Eddie had better learn that there's some other folks round here has a few rights; also it might be well for him to remember that Timmy has the blood of the O'Shaughnessys in his ma'am."

"While you was Eddie I was hav

MAGIC READ THE LABEL NO ALUM BAKING POWDER

hangin' on to ye in an awful time wit' Timmy, me fingers grippin' his coat tails, ma'am, and me pleadin' wit' his tearful, ma'am, not to go over and be indacent to the Brennans.

"They was new neighbors and per haps did not know as yet what was expected in a respectable neighborhood, they havin' just come here from hivin' knows where."

There were pancakes for supper at the house of Scanlon that evening. Pancakes for supper always made Timmy rather suspicious. Their frequent appearance usually meant that his mother had some special favor to ask of him.

Nor had the last of them disappeared before Mrs. Scanlon was telling him the tale.

"I had some words wit' that Brennan woman next door when I was hangin' out the clothes this mornin'," said she.

Timmy, looking at her set lips and hard eyes, felt uncomfortable premonitions, but he said nothing.

"Cruel, hard words she used," Mrs. Scanlon went on: "words no lady would 'a' thought of usin'. And—and the upshot was that I told her yer wouldn't do a thing to that fat Eddie of hers if he went to tootin' that trumpet of his again."

Timmy said nothing as he took his lamp, his green eyeshade and his books from the kitchen shelf and went upstairs.

Tonight, as if in insulting defiance, the cornet's blasts began as soon as Timmy's light showed in his bedroom. Something seemed to snap in Timmy's torturing head. He had no intention of doing what he did.

Nor did he stop to count the hazards when he tore out of the room and down the stairs, while Mary Scanlon's eyes glowed and her breath quickened and the color came and went in her cheeks.

Ten minutes later Timmy was back—that is to say, what was left of Timmy was back.

And there it all might have ended had not Mr. Brennan, by way of fittingly celebrating his triumph, come out on the tiny veranda directly beneath the suffering Timmy's windows and shattered the peaceful air of the night with great and crashing excerpts from "Killarney," played noisomely with the full power of his mighty lungs behind them.

This was too much for the O'Shaughnessy blood in Mary Scanlon. Forgotten was Timmy and his cuts and bruises. Forgotten was everything save that Eddie Brennan was there on the next piazza sending forth his brazen notes of victory and challenge.

Never was there an O'Shaughnessy who could have stood that. Blindly she groped down the stairs, blindly she caught up the broom behind the door, blindly she tore out of the house and straight, toward those hateful sounds.

At the same time an arm brushed her aside. "This is no affair of yours, mother. Go home, and leave him to me," said a cool, calm voice behind her.

"Yer didn't suppose I could stand it to hear him crowin' over me like this any more than you could, did you?" he asked. "Maybe he did lick the Scanlon half av ye, but he ain't trimmed the O'Shaughnessy half yet, and he never will, neither."

"Wot?" cried Eddie Brennan, his face black with wrath as he stepped to the edge of the veranda. "Ain't yer had enough?"

"We ain't even begun yet," said Timmy pleasantly and jumped on to the porch.

Stepping back and clutching the pickets of the dividing fence with both hands, Mrs. Scanlon gave voice to shrill and involuntary little squeals of delight as Timmy grabbed the mottled cornet, wrung it from Eddie Brennan's fingers and sent it crashing to the foot of the porch.

Locked tight in each other's clutches they swayed and staggered and stamped about the porch, but even in the stress of those crucial moments Timmy did not forget the hated instrument.

Over it they trampled time and again to a fine accompaniment of bending metal and breaking valves. And anon Timmy would manage to land a heel upon it with sufficient force to materially further its rapid progress toward the scrap heap.

Brennan, seeing Timmy's game, let out a bellow of rage. Also the sight of the broken and twisted instrument did not tend to calm him.

With a mighty effort he managed to break from the clench, stepped back and shot a straight arm left at Timmy's face, which Timmy sidestepped as it went past his ear with ominous and all too suggestive proximity.

WOMEN OF CANADA.

Fort Coulonge, Quebec.—"I am happy to tell you that your medicine did me wonderful good. I was troubled with weakness and I tried wines and other things but received very little benefit. I was young at the time and knew very little about medicines till a lady friend came to me with a bottle of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I became strong and a year afterward had twins."—Mrs. J. Brady, Fort Coulonge, Quebec.

Thousands of women right here in Canada who are now blessed with robust health cannot understand why thousands of other women continue to worry and suffer when they can obtain for a trifling sum Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which will surely and quickly banish all pain, distress and misery and restore the womanly health.

Young mothers who preserve the charms of face and figure in spite of an increasing family and the cares of growing children are always to be envied. "Favorite Prescription" gives the strength and health upon which happy motherhood depends. It enables the mother to nourish the infant life depending on her, and enjoy the happiness of watching the development of a perfectly healthy child.

"Take a look out here, Timmy, lad," said she, setting down the tray and stepping over to the window to raise the drawn shade, "and give a burrow for the O'Shaughnessys as ye look. Ye can study yer lessons in peace after this. There's three furniture vans backed up next door. Them Brennan folks is movin'."

"A Great Book That Every Woman Should Have." Over a million copies of the "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" are now in the hands of the people. It is a book that everyone should have and read in case of accident or sickness.

Send fifty cents (or stamps) for mailing charges to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., and enclose this notice and you will receive by return mail, all charges and customs duty prepaid, this valuable book.

MORE MEN THAN WOMEN HAVE APPENDICITIS

Surgeons state men are slightly more subject to appendicitis than women. Watford people should know that a few doses of simple buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., as mixed in Adler-ika, often relieve or prevent appendicitis. This mixture removes such surprising foul matter that ANY CASE constipation, sour stomach or gas. The INSTANT, easy action of Adler-ika is unsurprising. Taylor & Son, druggists.

A Callous Letter Carrier.

A woman from up state, who recently returned from a visit to friends in Brooklyn, remarked:

"I'm glad to get back home among my own kin and friends, where people ain't too busy or too unfeeling or too stuck up to take some interest in one another.

"Now, there's them postoffice folks down in Brooklyn! I found 'em actually hard hearted. Would you believe it, the man that brings round the letters to Mary's he's so queer and standoffish that when he handed me my husband's postal card telling me how mother had fell and broke her arm, he never so much as opened his lips to give me one word of sympathy! No, sir, not even enough to say, 'Too bad!'"—Exchange.

Taking No Chances.

"I have called," said the complacent visitor to the office of the merchant prince, "to obtain a statement of your assets and liabilities."

"Which of the mercantile agencies do you represent?"

"Neither. I am considering making an application for your daughter's hand, and it has always been my rule to be sure I'm right before I go ahead."

Long Winded Discussion.

LAWS THAT ARE NOT LAWS.

Many Statutes in England That SimPLY Could Not Be Enforced.

There are many written laws in England which the unwritten law permits us to break. One of the most surprising of these is playing football. Strictly speaking, football is illegal.

"Whereas there has been heretofore great disorder caused by a company of lewd and disordered persons using that unlawful exercise of fote ball at their pleasures" are the opening words of an act of parliament passed in 1602, and any one who "uses that unlawful exercise" is still liable to a fine of twelve pence.

"Why don't you take the pledge?" This piece of advice is offered every day by magistrates to what the police call "confirmed drunks" when they appear in the courts, and excellent advice it is. But, all the same, in offering it the magistrate is breaking a law himself.

According to an act of Edward VI's reign, which has never been repealed, people who conspire with or induce others to abstain from certain drinks and foods are liable to imprisonment as rogues and vagabonds. You may take the pledge yourself, but you may not advise other people.

Do you go to the theater? Of course you do. And do you stay to see the last act? Again, of course, you do. But by witnessing that last act you are breaking the law.

An act which has been on the statute book for more than 200 years declares that persons assembling or causing other persons to assemble in any "booth, theater or place of public entertainment" after 10 o'clock in the evening are violating the written law.—Pearson's.

GET READY FOR OLD AGE.

Start Saving at Once if It Be Only a Cent a Day.

I care not how humble the circumstances of any reader may be, they are not too humble to enable him or her to begin to save and to prepare for the time in life when the vacation of old age must be taken. Remember that the earlier you begin the more you will have and that if you save but a cent a day at the end of the year you will have set aside nearly $4. That is something to begin with.

Persons are heard to say, "I can't save; I don't know how, and I can save so little that it never will amount to anything!" All wrong. You can save, if you begin with only a single cent, a five cent piece, a dime or a dollar.

The principal point to remember is that your money will earn something for you if you will only set it aside for that purpose, and it will work day and night while you are sleeping, working or resting. One hundred dollars in the savings bank at the end of the year will be worth $104, as it will earn 4 per cent interest. The same amount invested in a good bond will earn you $5 or $6 by the close of the year.

Better than all, you will have established the habit of thrift and saving. When once you have accumulated a $100 bond or two the rest will come much easier, and you will be surprised and delighted to realize that you are not left without means of support. It is a good thought to be ready for the vacation that must come with old age.

FREAKS OF NATURE

We Know There Are Giants, but We Do Not Know Why.

THEY ARE A SORT OF PUZZLE.

Sometimes These Titans Are the Result of a Somewhat Mysterious Disease Called Gigantism—Og and Goliath and the Giant Races of Gath.

Giants and dwarfs abound in the region of the Caucasus mountains. Now, why are some people big and some little? In families heredity seems to govern the matter.

There are, however, occasional giants who are simply people of extraordinary size, in other respects normal. How to account for them nobody knows unless by calling them freaks of nature.

Such giant families are not unknown in history. Josephus and other profane historians indorse the statements found in many places in the Bible in regard to the giants of Gath, from which locality, it will be remembered, Goliath hailed.

"You used to tell me that I had the dearest little foot in the world," said she poutingly. "That was lover's talk," said he, "but if you don't quit paying $10 for shoes bless me if I won't believe I spoke the truth."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

ruler over no fewer than sixty cities "fenced with high walls, gates and bars." His indeed was a powerful monarchy, and the conquest of his realm by Moses is looked upon to this day as one of the greatest events in Jewish history.

Og, by the way, was accustomed to sleep in a remarkable bedstead—not of wood or metal, but of basalt. Whatever the circumstances under which the giant breed existed in Palestine at the time of the first arrival of the Israelites, it is certain that in later years they were scattered about among other peoples.

Coming into contact with other races they became, it would seem, either extinct or subordinated. From what little is said of them in history it is to be inferred that they were mentally inferior, though formidable fighters by reason of their great size and strength in an age when mere bodily prowess counted for much.

If Goliath be supposed to have been eight and one-half feet high (allowing for helmet and crest) his stature did not exceed that of the celebrated Winckelmeyer, the tallest man of modern times, who, born in Bavaria, died not so many years ago.

There have been lesser giant breeds in modern times, but in some instances they have been the result of artificial selection, as, for example, in the case of the wrestlers of Nippon, who, seen in a crowd, stand head and shoulders above the ordinary Japanese.

McClary's Pandora Range You'll never be disappointed or have to worry about your baking or cooking if your range is a Pandora. COME IN and I'll show you the Pandora's many sensible ideas for saving time and labor.

Economical Heating The large double feed doors fit tightly. The dampers are easily controlled. Fine ashes are drawn up the chimney and never escape through the rooms when grates are shaken.

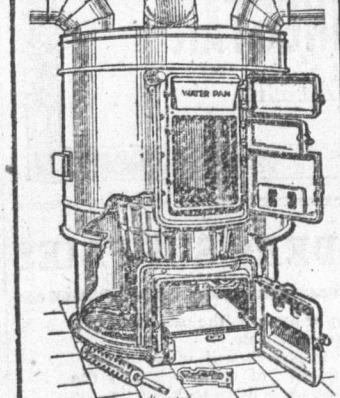

McClary's Sunshine Furnace is a heat-tight furnace. The ashes fall when the grates are shaken, for the walls of the fire-pot are straight. This saves heat as the radiation is not checked by a wall of ashes. Wouldn't you like to know more about the Sunshine? Call, and we will gladly give you the information.

"Wash-day Dinners" never need be served by Pandora owners. Simply set the boiler down in the pot holes the long way of the range. Plenty of room is left for cooking and the boiler keeps on the boil. Should you have to add coal to the fire of McClary's Pandora Range you can do so without moving the boiler or disturbing the cooking. Let me show you the special features of the Pandora.

Every Shovelful of Coal Counts

The walls of the fire-pot are straight and ashes do not bank against them to stop the radiation of heat from the burning coal. The doors of McClary's Sunshine Furnace fit closely. The dust flue directs the fine ashes up the chimney. They never float through the house. Before you invest in a furnace come in and let us show you the Sunshine.

Results in the Field Competition For the Hanna Trophy

Mr. Keith Hillier, of Sarnia township, is the winner for 1916 of the Hanna trophy in the Lambton County Corn Growers' Association Field Crop Competition for the best four acres of corn in Lambton County—any variety.

Mr. P. L. Fancher, Dean of the Residence of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, was the final judge in the contest. The following is the standing of the first ten competitors.

NAME	TOWNSHIP	SCORE	VARIETY
1. Keith Hillier	Sarnia tp.	84	Golden Glow
2. H. Sheller	Sombra	82	White Cap Dent
3. W. J. Weed	Brooke	81	Golden Glow
4. P. W. Oke	Brooke	80	Golden Glow
5. Jas. Abri	Moore	79 1/2	White Cap Dent
6. T. A. Lampman	Plympton	79 1/2	White Cap Dent
7. Leslie Oke	Brooke	77 1/2	Golden Glow
8. J. McRae	Sombra	75 1/2	White Cap Dent
9. Wesley Ford	Moore	75 1/2	White Cap Dent
10. R. Brithwaite	Brooke	71	Golden Glow

Mr. Fancher in his report to the Lambton Corn Growers' Association states as follows:—

To the Secretary Lambton's Corn Growers' Association, Petrolia, Ont.

Dear Sir:—

In looking over the results of the Hanna trophy Competition there are a few things which may be noted.

In the first place there were only three main varieties of corn entered, White Cap Yellow Dent, Golden Glow and Wisconsin No. 7. In the first ten places you will note that there are not so many fields of Wisconsin No. 7 represented in proportion to the number entered, as either of the Golden Glow or White Cap Yellow Dent, which stood on about a par proportionately. The main reason and in fact the only reason for this, was the lateness of maturity only one field showing a good percentage of ripe corn for this year.

The White Cap Yellow Dent fields, while many were up in the first ten, showed lack of selection, uniformity and careful breeding. Most of the White Cap Dent fields had a large percentage of ripe corn, but showed a decided tendency to flintiness, to which it so easily reverts. In looking over the notes made on the Golden Glow fields, I find a decided variation in type, both in stalks and ears. Evidently there are two ideas prevalent. One tends to coarseness in ear and stalk, which gives greater size and less uniformity and quality. The other idea gives more nearly a medium sized ear and stalk with quality and uniformity.

Generally speaking, I found the fields well cultivated and free from many weeds except in a few cases. This was gratifying. But more pleasing still was the large percentage of ripe corn in the majority of the fields visited. Careful selecting, handling and storing of ears should result in much strong seed next spring.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) P. L. FANCHER.

To Lt.-Col. T. P. Bradley, O. C. 149th Os. Bn. C. E. F., Camp Borden, Ont.

I hereby certify that I have examined the books and accounts of the Battalion Fund of the 149th Os. Bn. C. E. F., and find the same correct and in accordance with above statement and the Battalion books. Vouchers and cheques have been produced for all expenditures, which were duly authorized.

The expenditures covered by the $3,000 grant from the Lambton County Council have not been gone into, as I understand that these accounts were duly audited and certified to by the County Council.

The fund known as the "Irene Barron Fund" and the subscriptions obtained to provide band instruments do not appear in this report, as the monies subscribed for these purposes were not turned over to the Battalion.

An account for $485.00 is still outstanding for badges supplied to the Battalion; this account, I understand, is to be paid by subscriptions taken up for this purpose in Petrolia.

(Signed) J. W. McLAREN,
Auditor.

Camp Borden, Ontario, September 21st, 1916.

In submitting the financial statement of the 149 Battalion, Lieut.-Col. Bradley writes:—"All of the regimental accounts and receipts, as shown therein, as well as any other documents pertaining to the expenditure of monies donated by people in the County, are to be placed in the safe keeping of the London Western Trust Company in London, for the personal use of the donors.

Too much cannot be said regarding the ready and willing response made to our urgent appeal for the funds necessary to recruit and raise a battalion of infantry in Lambton County when the available numbers had been apparently depleted by the exertions of battalions previously authorized.

On behalf of the officers and men of this battalion we wish to sincerely thank every one who has assisted in any way. Owing to the lack of sufficient time, and the great number of people involved, we would be pleased if our kind friends will consider this intimation as warmly or as personally as if it was directed to them."

THANKFUL MOTHERS

Thousands of thankful mothers throughout Canada—many of them your own neighbors—speak with the greatest praise of that splendid medicine, Baby's Own Tablets. Many mothers would have no other medicine for their little ones. Among these is Mrs. Albert Nie, St. Brioux, Sask., who says: "I have been using Baby's Own Tablets for the past seven years and they have done my four children a world of good. I would not be without them." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Spearman—Elliott

Mr. J. Mason Spearman, only son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Spearman, Forest, and Miss Laura Mae, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Elliott, 6 con. Bosanquet, were quietly married in London on the 15th inst. The ceremony took place at Christ Church Rectory, the Rev. C. R. Gane officiating. The young couple were unattended and they returned to Forest on Saturday, where they will reside on Main Street, and be "at home" to their friends after the first of November. The bride and groom are highly respected in the community, in which they have resided and their many friends wish them prosperity and happiness. The bride's traveling suit was of navy blue French serge and blouse of Champagne silk crepe de chine with large picture hat to match.

Hawkins—Marshall

A marriage of much interest took place in St. Paul's Cathedral, London, when one of London's most charming and popular girls, Amy Heartsease Marshall, only daughter of County Registrar Joseph Marshall, ex-M. P., and Mrs. Marshall, Cedar Terrace, London, was united in holy matrimony to Rev. Edwin Hawkins, formerly curate of St. Paul's Cathedral, now rector of Durham. The ceremony was performed by His Lordship the Bishop of Huron. There were no attendants, Rev. Harry E. Ashby, London, and Rev. Arthur Carlisle, of Windsor, performing the duties of ushers. The wedding was a quiet one owing to the fact that a brother of the bride, Corp. Marshall, is in the thick of the fighting in France. Lieut. Athol Marshall, another brother, at Valcartier, was present at the ceremony. Following the ceremony Rev. and Mrs. Hawkins left for an extended motor trip. On their return they will reside in Durham. The bridegroom is a son of Chas. Hawkins, Warwick Village, and he and Mrs. Hawkins, and his daughter Mary, attended the wedding. The day following the wedding the bride's father was notified that Corp. Harry Marshall had been admitted to No. 12, Casualty Clearing Station on Sept. 15th suffering from shell shock.
