MAKE CHURCHES PAY TAXES EXEMPTIONS ARE NOT FAIR

Board of Control Will Get Report on Subject—Regulation of License Fees.

Mayor Cotsworth, at the board of control meeting yesterday, made the flat assertion that the city should abolish all tax exemptions. He said that the assessed value of churches and educational institutions which escaped being levied upon was $25,000,000. It was not fair to the churches themselves, since small churches with poor congregations were placed in the same class with churches backed up by strong assets. It was claimed by Controller Hubbard that certain commercial enterprises escaped assessment as educational institutions.

Mr. Forman's report on the value of exempted church property. That the city should have the right to decide the amount of fees to be charged for taverns and hotels, and that the license fee should be fixed in relation to the size of the establishment, and that while the receipts above one-half, as first decided on, the city had no power to demand more for itself.

The mayor and controllers all supporting, the city solicitor will draw up a request for legislation.

The request of the National Consumption Sanitarium Association for $50,000 towards a free consumption hospital was laid over to await Dr. Sheard's report to the local board of health on the subject.

Eight little girls from Hyeron School waited on the mayor yesterday to ask the use of St. Andrew's Hall for a concert in aid of the General Hospital. The board of control agreed. Opposition to the pumping station for the new Woodbine distal septal tank sewage system being located at the foot of Kenilworth-avenue was shown by a deputation from Kew Beach. It was asked that the sewer be located behind the houses on front of them, instead of in front of them, as property values would be depreciated.

Mr. Rust will report.

The first applicant for the prospective new civic post of commissioner of industries has declared himself. He is E. C. Ryatt, 105 Carlaw-avenue.

The Smelter Question. The government has got to get a gain regarding this smelter question. We are informed that some of the reforming owners have ceased working simply because they do not want to be submerged by some of the wealthy American hand in this matter, not want to listen to the whippersnappers and from the shoulder, that the country would have such an establishment of his full value, at least the country would profit thereby and thus obviate the necessity for this royalty tax.

SLEPT 50 NIGHTS IN WOODS.

Aylmer Constables Secure Strange Prisoner Armed With Pitchfork.

Aylmer, Jan. 30.—Constables Peters and Pierce have brought into town a most peculiar prisoner. The man who is apparently either a Russian or Austrian, is unable to speak a word of English. Farmers living east of here claim that he has been living in Haney's woods for the past month and a half. When captured he was haggard and without an overcoat, wearing only an old ragged suit. He made no resistance and seemed to be glad to get into the jail, after sleeping for forty or fifty nights between logs in the woods.

It is claimed that he roamed about the woods armed with a pitchfork, but as far as known has never done any damage.

People living near the woods used to leave food for him at the edge of the woods.

Sends an Extremely Violent Note to France—War Appears to Be Unavoidable.

New York, Jan. 30.—A. Willmetts, Caracas, despatch to The Herald, dated Monday, says: "A prominent Venezuelan, who has arrived here from Caracas, says that President Castro while supposed to be resting at Havana, has been actively engaged in fitting the garrisons and preparing for an expected invasion by France.

"Governors of the states have been called to the capital to discuss the situation and the army has been mobilized and the president of the states has issued a decree to fight, to the blame President Castro for going too far with M. Taigny.

"Conservative opinion is that President Castro is putting on a bold front at the last moment to save his independence from compliance with the exorbitant demands from France for an apology and a salute to the flag.

"President Castro has sent an extremely violent note to France, and has personally appealed to the Kaiser to intervene to save German interests in Venezuela. He made the same request to England, but was refused on the ground of British cordiality with France.

"Foreign representatives here believe that war is unavoidable and contend that the nations should take action, as by President Castro's declaration that diplomats lose immunity immediately relations are severed, he refuses to send ministers abroad, reducing Venezuela to the plans of countries accorded consular officers only."

A WOMAN'S BACK IS THE MAINSPRING OF HER PHYSICAL SYSTEM.

The Slightest Backache, Ache, or Neglected, is Liable to Cause Years of Terrible Suffering.

No woman can be strong and healthy unless the kidneys are well, and regular in their action. When the kidneys are ill, the whole body is ill, for the poisons which the kidneys ought to have filtered out of the blood are left in the system.

The female constitution is naturally more subject to kidney disease than a man's; and what is more, a woman's work is never done—her whole life is a continuous strain.

How many women have you heard say: "My, how my back aches!" Do you know that backache is one of the first signs of kidney trouble? It is, and should be attended to immediately. Other symptoms are frequent thirst, scanty, thick, cloudy or highly colored urine, burning sensation when urinating, frequent urination, puffing under the eyes, swelling of the feet and ankles, itching spots before the eyes, etc.

These symptoms if not taken in time and cured at once, will cause years of terrible kidney suffering. All these symptoms, and in fact, these diseases may be cured by the use of

WHERE DID MONEY GO TO?

Pennsylvania Will Have Investigation to Find Out.

Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 30.—Governor Pennypacker to-day approved a joint resolution of the special session of the legislature providing for a sweeping investigation of charges of illegal retention of fees by insurance commissioners for years past. It is charged that secret fees, of which the general public was ignorant, made the office worth $100,000 a year to the incumbent.

One of the important witnesses will be Robert E. Forster, actuary of the office, who recently admitted that he collected $33,000 fees last year in his branch alone.

Forster said that only a small portion of this sum was retained by him, the remainder going to an unnamed person.

ILLEGAL TRAFFIC IN GAME STRICT MEASURES TO STOP

Government Issues Circular, Which Gives Fair Warning as to Infractions.

The game commission is hot foot after the lawbreakers, with a firm determination to enforce obedience of the game laws. This isn't a bluff. The Ontario cabinet in council have dealt with the question, and the following letter has been forwarded by Chief Game Warden Timiney to most interested parties throughout the province:

"I have been instructed to do all possible to stop the illegal traffic in game, especially in regard to the sale of partridge or grouse. I am therefore, beg to inform you that hereafter upon any information that has been made, a charge will be laid, and the purchaser will not only be summoned as a witness, but will also be charged at the police court for a violation of the game law by making such illegal purchases.

"I also desire to point out particularly that your customers are as much liable to be fined for buying partridge or grouse as you would be for selling, and where a sale is found to have been made, the purchaser will not only be summoned as a witness, but will also be charged at the police court for a violation of the game law by making such illegal purchases.

"I, therefore, trust that in future all those catering to the public will realize the necessity of obeying the game laws, and by so doing save themselves and customers trouble."

Hon. Dr. Reaume, minister of public works, received a deputation of Muskegon residents yesterday. They want the Joseph River deepened so that it can accommodate the launches requiring deeper draft than formerly owing to the increasing popularity of gasoline boats. There is opposition to the proposal, the department having received a letter from Rev. E. M. Bland of Hamilton protesting against destruction of the natural scenery. As per custom the minister decided to consider the matter. The gentlemen in the deputation were Messrs. Frank Phillips, James Hardy, Prof. Baker, Bernard Saunders, Commander L. S. Crane and several others.

Too Many Immigrants.

There is a feeling in the city relief office that needy immigrants are too numerous. The Associated Charities of Toronto find it is a drain on their resources having to entertain them here as a centre for their chances of getting into some employment elsewhere.

Frank Walsh of the city department was at the parliament buildings yesterday to see Mr. Southworth and Hon. Mr. Montebell about it. Prof. Goldwin Smith, Rev. Dr. Ferry, Rev. Father Minahan, and Mr. Walsh, representing the Associated Charities, have been granted consent for a conference to-day touching some solution of the problem of getting our own poor people attended to first. An effort will be made to persuade the government to put forth greater efforts to induce immigrants to go right up the line where there is work waiting for them.

A free fight in which many persons were injured, took place on Sunday in the Free Kirk at Lathrop, a village in a remote part of California, Scotland.

The leaders of the church wished to disperse with the services of the minister, but Mr. Strathairn, but a strong section of the congregation were in favor of the minister's retention.

Recently the leaders closed the church and stood on guard at the doors, but Mr. Strathairn was successful, and by a little maneuvering he succeeded in entering the pulpit, however, the hostile section seized the minister by the collar. At this the minister's supporters became enraged, and a general riot followed. Lamps were smashed, windows were broken, and a considerable number of people were injured.

CURATE THE LAND OF SUNSHINE! CANADA-CUBA LAND AND FRUIT CO., Limited

Some of the letters just received, others can be seen by calling at this office.

Uxbridge, Jan. 29th, '06.
Mr. Geo. F. Davis,
Manager Canada Cuba Land and Fruit Co.
Dear Mr. Davis:

As you have requested me to give you some notes of my recent trip to Cuba and the property of the Canada Cuba L. & F. Co., I may say that I was somewhat sceptical as to the many rosy accounts which I had read in the press. I had also heard rumors of people going to Cuba and returning disgusted with the people, the climate, the land and the outlook in general.

I found the people quiet, sober and hospitable, not any too fond of work, and the greatest drawback they spoke only the Spanish tongue. I do not see how there can be any two opinions as to the climate, at any rate at this season of the year. I regard it as near perfection as can be found on this earth. The nights are always cool and the days are tempered by the delightful sea breeze which always blows.

As to the land—I travelled from the extreme West to the East and found lands good and lands poor, but I will say this, that I did not see a tract of equal extent that contained as much good land as the property of your company.

You have in your 70,000 acres, thousands of acres of very fine tobacco land in the vicinity of Hate Guane. I saw the lands, I saw the tobacco growing upon it, and I had the pleasure of testing the quality of the tobacco. I travelled over the lands of your company for several days and was favorably impressed with its general appearance.

I saw land that is suitable for vegetables, oranges, pineapples and other citrus fruits.

The only kind of soil that I failed to find was the heavy clay land suitable for the growth of sugar.

What surprised me greatly was the moisture held by the light soils. There had been no rain for three weeks before our arrival, yet by scraping half an inch off the sandy soil you found the earth underneath full of moisture. By using a spade, and we used it many times, we found a good stratum of clay at a depth of from four to six feet. If this is good land for citrus fruits, and I am informed that it is, you certainly have one of the finest propositions in the Island of Cuba.

I think that, should your company establish communication with Havana, Ocean Beach is certain to be come a great winter resort, its land-locked bay of Gaudiana affords delightful opportunities for yachting, fishing and bathing, the beautiful sandy beach is entirely free from stone and the sea is quite shallow for a long distance from shore, making it perfectly safe for children.

Very sincerely,
HORACE BASCOM, M. D.

(Extracts from Mr. Jones' letter of this date)

Ocean Beach, Jan. 18, 1906

"There are about 150 people here now. We are cutting our tobacco. I have one thousand tomato plants and eight hundred cabbage transplants, and if I do say it, never saw finer looking vegetables anywhere. Have potatoes nearly ripe—eleven weeks in the ground. My first crop of radishes from 15c worth of seed brought me just $4.00, not bad for a bed 6 x 15 in new land. Sold a few fine ones to-day 3 weeks from time of planting seed. The land does better as it is worked. Beets, carrots, turnips, peas, cucumbers and watermelons make a fine showing. Our cocoanut and date palms, bananas and blackberries are making fine growth. Mr. Neville has a good garden on his town lots that should convince anyone that the sandy soil will give results aforesaid regardless of what may be said to the contrary. The wharf is now out about 200 feet and being pushed out at the rate of 100 feet a week.

E. B. JONES.

Stouffville, Ont., Jan. 27, 1906.

The Canada-Cuba Land and Fruit Co.,
Toronto, Ont.

Dear Sirs,—

I have just returned from Cuba, where I visited and investigated your property, also spending some time in different parts of the island.

In my opinion you have as fine a tract of land as exists in the Island of Cuba to-day. Nature has done everything possible in the way of soil and climate, and all that remains to be done to make your colony a success is development along right lines.

The Island of Cuba has without a doubt an immense future before it, and by pursuing a wise and liberal policy there is no reason why your company should fail to get a full share of the general prosperity and thereby make Ocean Beach the Banner Colony of Cuba.

Yours truly,
R. S. CUNLIFFE, B.Sc., etc.

Flesherton, Jan. 29, 1906.

Mr. G. F. Davis,—

Having just returned from Cuba no doubt I should be able to give some information that will be profitable to those interested. I arrived in Havana Dec. 25th, 1905. The city is ancient in appearance—its Moorish architecture, narrow streets, peculiar conveyances, all present a very odd scene to Canadians. I found, however, an American hotel with sumptuous food of fare, congenial associations and delightful surroundings. Havana is thoroughly up-to-date in respect to electric and steam railway service, coaches, telephone, telegraph, banks, mercantile and commercial conditions being excellent.

The finest display of goods I have ever seen was in the shops on Obispo street. The Prado is a fine broad avenue of drives and trees, grandiose walks and flowers, and leads through numerous parks which would do credit to any city. The people are refined, well-dressed, polite, sociable, kind. The climate is delightful, very similar to our June, with no extremes of cold and heat. It is exceedingly healthful, especially for such as have catarrhal and bronchial trouble. I met a number who told me they could not live in the north and who are now hale and hearty and working land in Cuba.

I travelled from Havana to Ocean Beach overland by rail, valante and on foot, calling at a number of places to see the agricultural conditions. In this end of the island the savanna or prairie predominates, with here and there beautiful palms and palmettas and a few other varieties of trees scattered.

Grass is in abundance, and great herds of cattle in places are feeding and thriving on the natural grass.

There are many villages and tobacco and fruit plantations, but the greater portion of the land is not under cultivation. Many colonies, Canadian and American, are started and large tracts of land are fenced in with barb wire, showing they have been bought up. The general aspect of the country shows development. Your property at Ocean Beach is among the finest I saw, and considering the beautiful bay with its sandy beach, magnificent harbor and fishing ground, it is difficult to find its equal, even in Cuba.

Some have been frightened by the thought of having to fertilize, but it is largely due to ignorance of the subject. Some spend as much as the land is worth, but that is foolish. I have my information from Mr. Austin, manager of the experimental station at Santiago de las Vegas.

Commercial fertilizer is not designed to improve soil, but to feed the immediate crop. A part of the land at Ocean Beach will need improving, but most of it is rich and some of it is extremely so. The best way to bring up the land is by green manuring, three crops of which can be grown in a summer and plowed under. Mr. Whitehead is using commercial fertilizer at the rate of $4.00 per acre. The location you gave me is thoroughly satisfactory. The only objection I have to it is the distance from Ocean Beach, but I like the elevation, the drainage and the soil. I have excellent grass and a few Royal palms. I took a photo of my horse in the long grass, while he was feeding heartily upon it. He is all hidden by the grass except his back and ears.

One reason why there is not more grass on part of the land is the presence of pine and other trees, which to a greater or less extent shade the land and prevent grass growing.

I think the outlook excellent and I can thoroughly recommend it to any one who wishes to begin in a new place and a fine climate. If a family go they will require some means, as food is expensive and there are many expenses one does not think of before going.

There is no cold weather to provide for and one may grow vegetables very quickly. Mr. Jones has a fine garden which he says will support him soon. He has been there since September.

When your new boat is in operation giving swift service to Havana, you will have the finest thing I know of.

FATHER OF CONFEDERATION.

John Beverley Robinson's Title to Be Counted One.

Percy Marling of 260 University street, Montreal, writes to The Montreal Gazette as follows:

A recent speech of Sir Richard Cartwright before the Canadian Club at Ottawa gives many reminiscences of the venerable politician, and reviews in brief the events preceding and culminating in the confederation of the North American provinces.

It should not be forgotten, however, that nearly half a century before the period mentioned, or as far back as 1824, the Hon. John Beverley Robinson, then, I think, attorney-general for Upper Canada, in a letter addressed to Lord Bathurst (the then secretary of state for the colonies) afterwards published in pamphlet form in London under the title of "Plan for General Legislative Union of the British Provinces in North America," accompanied by extracts from a paper on the subject, written in 1807 by Chief Justice Sewell, wrote:

"It is the fear of perpetual strife from the unworkable inconvenience of having the parties of French and English, Catholic and Protestant, so nearly balanced, that dispense me most to doubt the policy of uniting the provinces of Canada at this period."

"My conviction is that there is a remedy more certain to be effectual and in every way more expedient."

"I know not in what light the design of a general union of the British North American colonies may have appeared to His Majesty's government, but I have submitted to consideration, as I learn it was to have been.

"So far from looking on this plan with any of the prejudices or wishes of a friend or an enemy of the union of the colonies, it is not as a Canadian that I am impressed with a conviction of its importance, and entreat for it the attention of His Majesty's government."

SOCIALIST COUNTESS.

Lady Warwick Addresses West Hammers From Potato Cart.

Those who had seen the fashionable and expensive gown, fur-trimmed, and the decked table before gazed in rapture on the plaid costume, the predominant color in which was sage green. It was every bit as great a triumph of the dressmaker's art as the blue and white costume of Wednesday night, and fitted just as perfectly.

The countess was quickly introduced, and away she went with her speech. The West Hammers on the skirts of the crowd commented audibly in the most glowing terms on the loveliness of the speaker. It happened that the sun came out, and added to the glory of her beautiful golden hair. As on Wednesday night, the countess assured her audience she was sincere. If she were not she repeated, "Why? Thorne would not shake hands with her in the presence of the representative of the British people who is now engaged in a campaign in aid of the 'WH' Thorne, the Socialist candidate for South West Ham."

It is said that some of the Socialists have followed the countess all round the constituency, fascinated by her exquisite smile. On Wednesday night they had two chances of seeing her, for she appeared in all the beauty of her blue costume, at Silverton and Upton Park. Yesterday they had two more chances—and she wore a different dress—and to-night a thousand men or more at Canning Town will crowd the public hall to watch her every movement while she declaims.

Opposite a "tab."

It was just opposite a corner public house that the countess took her stand yesterday. With that exquisite grace for which she is noted the countess climbed into a potato cart, and sat on a wooden chair. She put the tip of her delicate white-gloved fingers to her beautiful lips, shook her head very wisely at the dock laborers crowding round, and gave a delightful little laugh, which made every man in the crowd forget his dinner.

It is, of course, very difficult for the countess to "come down" to the level of a West Ham kitchen chair, but she strives nobly, and the West Hammers recognize that she is doing the Socialist party a power of good with her red motor car and her lovely dress, to say nothing of her Socialist ideas, of which she gave the custom house laborers a sample yesterday.

One glance at the beautiful countess sitting on the kitchen chair in the potato cart made Socialists of all the waverers. They needed no invitation to step up closer. They closed round the cart, and whichever way the lovely countess smiled, she found a sea of admiring faces.

Packing Conference Discusses Most Important Aspects of Controversy—Davies Company Not in Favor of Permanent Consulting Committee.

To-day The World concludes its nineteen column report of the pork packing conference held last week at the Wm. Davies Co.'s offices. Farmers, drovers and packers now have all possible material on which to base their own conclusions...

Dr. Small: The only other matter before the meeting is in relation to the bonding privilege. Mr. Flavelle: There seems to be an impression for much. These are copies of letters sent to the minister of agriculture at Ottawa...

Mr. Flavelle: I fancy you are not taking this into account if you ask what we paid for hogs in Canada. The prices are based on weights delivered on our own yards. We would pay 25 cents per cwt. more for hogs that we would pay for watered. If you ask me for our price in Toronto in this case, I would say 25 cents per cwt. more...

Mr. Flavelle: They certainly have not been cooked. This company. And who would have any objection to getting someone else's hogs? Mr. Small: If you will notice a price as quoted by Harris, and the actual price delivered here over our scales...

Mr. Hodgson: We have not sought to influence the price up or down in a market where there are certain men in the trade who are considered fairly well known.

Mr. Flavelle: I have never said anything about combination in anything I have said about this business, while it may be interesting to you, it does not want to go away without that. I am expressing my satisfaction at the treatment we are receiving here. I think whatever our opinions may be, we ought to be willing to express our thanks to the very able and plain statements which they have been able to give us upon the subject under discussion. I am willing to move that if anyone will second it.

Mr. Flavelle: I take great pleasure in seconding this resolution. It is due the firm for having taken the time and their confidence and discussed the question in so friendly a manner with us. We appreciate their manner with us.

Mr. Flavelle: I am frank and I think that I do not believe this company would be willing to subject the business to the risk and danger that they have subjected it to eight years ago in seeking to carry out that very purpose. We tried it with fidelity, with faithfulness, with persistence, until philanthropy ceased in the business sense. We do not think the present method is good. We do not know that at the moment, as far as the producer is concerned, he is not suffering thereby. Now, on the broad question that Mr. Dryden has been good enough to speak to, and that the minister has been good enough to second, I can only say that Mr. Small...

Small has indicated this to you, when I tell him the facts—appreciate the kindness and courtesy of these remarks. If we have no newspaper or other outlet, why not come again? If there are matters that Mr. Dryden would like to discuss, am sure Mr. Small and I will be very glad indeed to give our time to him personally, or to the committee, and give over any matters that this desultory conversation has not touched upon.

Mr. Flavelle: For years we have been fed and watered. The market is for fed and watered. That is the fact. The market is for fed and watered. That is the fact. The market is for fed and watered. That is the fact.

I think whatever our opinions may be, we ought to be willing to express our thanks to the very able and plain statements which they have been able to give us upon the subject under discussion. I am willing to move that if anyone will second it.

Mr. Flavelle: I take great pleasure in seconding this resolution. It is due the firm for having taken the time and their confidence and discussed the question in so friendly a manner with us. We appreciate their manner with us. We appreciate their manner with us. We appreciate their manner with us.

Mr. Flavelle: I am frank and I think that I do not believe this company would be willing to subject the business to the risk and danger that they have subjected it to eight years ago in seeking to carry out that very purpose. We tried it with fidelity, with faithfulness, with persistence, until philanthropy ceased in the business sense. We do not think the present method is good. We do not know that at the moment, as far as the producer is concerned, he is not suffering thereby. Now, on the broad question that Mr. Dryden has been good enough to speak to, and that the minister has been good enough to second, I can only say that Mr. Small...

Mr. Flavelle: Neither governs it. Mr. Hodgson: We have taken the son of David Rowntree of Weston, Ontario, who is at present dealing largely in such cows, which he ships to outside points.

Mr. Flavelle: I am sure that is very satisfactory, and so far as we are concerned we welcome conference. Mr. Small: It is very difficult to accomplish, but continuity of supply is one of the things we should keep all the time.

Mr. Flavelle: I am sure that is very satisfactory, and so far as we are concerned we welcome conference. Mr. Small: It is very difficult to accomplish, but continuity of supply is one of the things we should keep all the time.

Mr. Flavelle: I am not sure that I have any objection to getting someone else's hogs. Mr. Small: The next week $6.40 and $6.50. Mr. Hodgson: Where does the discrepancy exist? Mr. Flavelle: In the difference Mr. Small: Just the difference Mr. Flavelle explains. In one of the weighed over our scales, fasted hogs, in the other case the hogs are weighed just after they are slaughtered...

Mr. Flavelle: They certainly have not been cooked. This company. And who would have any objection to getting someone else's hogs? Mr. Small: If you will notice a price as quoted by Harris, and the actual price delivered here over our scales...

Mr. Hodgson: We have not sought to influence the price up or down in a market where there are certain men in the trade who are considered fairly well known.

Mr. Flavelle: I have never said anything about combination in anything I have said about this business, while it may be interesting to you, it does not want to go away without that. I am expressing my satisfaction at the treatment we are receiving here. PROCEEDS AT A RAPID RATE

In the Wall Street Market - Toronto Market is Dull and Somewhat Sympathetic.

World Office, Tuesday Evening, Jan. 30. Toronto traders were again under the influence of the feverish conditions on Wall Street.

Most of the speculative activity was confined to the purchase of a few shares of the offering. There was nothing, as far as domestic securities were concerned, to necessitate a change of position.

A few new traders played short in the shares of a few of the companies, but otherwise the market was very quiet.

There was a slight improvement in the price of the bonds, but this was due to the fact that the market was very quiet.
