ALIENS PUSH AHEAD TO THE ITALIANS MEN AND MUNITIONS FOR CADORNA'S FORCES

ENEMY BROKE LEFT WING OF ITALIANS

Enemy Surprise Attack Immediately Broke the Left Wing of Italians.

RETREAT IN ORDER High Military Genius Displayed in Safe Withdrawal of Italians.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Tuesday, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Everything for the moment has had to yield to military necessities, and this will explain the lack of details, which can now be given in brief, concerning one of the most momentous phases of the war. The supreme command has no desire to suppress the facts from the American, British or foreign public, but in such a supreme moment the first consideration is not to permit details which can afford the enemy the slightest clue either to what has occurred or what is in store.

One of the commanding officers informed the correspondent that the public should be placed on guard against reports which doubtless will be spread from scattered information. The fact is those who have actually witnessed the recent stupendous drama are extremely few, outside of the military authorities, and all these eye-witnesses, like the correspondent, are gladly respecting the decision which the supreme command feels the situation requires. Within these narrow limitations a few salient facts can be given.

Italian Left Wing Broke. General Cadorna's bulletin has struck the keynote of the main operation in stating: "The violence of the attack and inadequate resistance broke our left wing on the Julian front."

This was issued Sunday and sums up officially the sequel to the tremendous concentration of Austro-German forces detailed in earlier despatches just before the critical situation was reached and all telegraphing was stopped. The magnitude of the surprise offensive was heightened by the choice of a place where comparatively no fighting had occurred. Had the enemy chosen any of the fighting front near Gorizia or the Bainsizza Plateau they would have faced splendidly organized forces. But in "sneaking in" through the back door, as an officer described the operation, "they were like a thief who takes a house unawares and is able for a time to terrorize those taken in an unsuspecting moment."

As previously stated last Friday night the crossing of the Isonzo near Tolmino was carried out. The enemy forces then found themselves facing a hard army master of the passes leading to the eastern region of Venetia. At the same time the Austro-Germans made feints along the whole southern front so as to prevent the Italians from moving reinforcements to the extreme north. Their bombardment of Gorizia and all along the Carso, to Montebelluna on the north, was not followed by infantry advances, and was clearly a diversion of the development of Von Mackensen's turning movement on the north.

General Cadorna's bulletin must be accepted for the moment as all that can be said of what occurred on the Italian left wing. The correspondent, having witnessed the retreat and having been an unwilling participant for three days, can testify to the fortitude of the main body of the Italians and the splendid military tactics which the supreme command used to put in force without withdrawing enormous forces and material.

High Military Genius. In such a gigantic operation it is not surprising that everything did not move like clockwork or that all did not go in concert. But there were evidences everywhere of military genius of a high order which was able to extricate an army from such a surprise attack. The view now held in higher quarters is that now is the time for contemplating what has occurred but the time for gigantic efforts to stem the tide.

One encouraging thought is that everybody appears finally to have wakened up to the existence of the Italian front and the necessity of drawing back this stupendous exhibition of terrorism.

The Sugar Situation. On Tuesday The World called attention to the fact that some of the sugar refineries were using their raw product for the manufacture of alcohol at a time when there was a scarcity of sugar and when the necessity of the necessity of the food controller in this condition of affairs. In less than fifteen hours one of the big refineries had sent in an advertisement to all the city papers that they were reducing the price of sugar to everyone.

ENTENTE IS HUSTLING AID TO THE ITALIANS

British and French Reinforcements Sent—Shipping and Supplies at Italy's Disposal—Italian Stand Expected Soon.

London, Oct. 31.—Virtually one thousand square miles of Italian territory has been overrun, more than 120,000 Italians have been made prisoner, and in excess of 1,000 guns have been captured by the German and Austro-Hungarian armies in their eight days' drive from the Isonzo and Carnia Alps fronts of the Austro-Italian war theatre.

From the east the army of invasion on the centre of the battle front is now well within range of the Tagliamento River, where it has been presumed General Cadorna will turn and make a stand. The Italian commander-in-chief, however, has not brought his troops about to face the enemy, but is continuing his retreat, with the rearguard harassing the advance. Just where Cadorna purposes to give battle has not become apparent. Neither is it known how well the northern and southern flanks of his army are keeping pace with the retirement in the centre.

According to the latest Berlin official communication, announcing the heavy losses of the Italians in men and guns, engagements successful for the enemy have taken place on the Tagliamento plain, while the Rome communication announces that there has been fighting on the hills of St. Daniele del Friuli, along the Ledra Canal, at Pasan Schiavonesco and at Pozzuolo del Friuli, northwest of Udine, and from four to five miles east of the Tagliamento.

Meanwhile preparations to aid the Italians in their hour of extremity are being rushed by all the allies. Jules Cambon, general secretary of the French foreign affairs, expressing the opinion that the Italians will be able to stem the tide of the invaders with the aid of the British and French troops sent to reinforce them. The American Government is to waive all exports restrictions in favor of Italy, permitting that country to take whatever material she requires, regardless of prospective shortages here. A large amount of shipping also is being made available to Italy in conjunction with her own merchant marine in taking supplies overseas.

The new Italian premier, in a message to General Cadorna, has assured the commander-in-chief that all classes of the populace of Italy are with him in his hour of trial and will stand by him and the army until victory rests with them. A similar message was sent to the British prime minister.

ITALIANS PREPARE TO GIVE STRONGER COUNTER-BLOW

Supreme Command Looks Ahead to Retrieving Reverse—Every Energy Concentrates in Task of Neutralizing Everything Done by Enemy.

Italian Headquarters in Northern Italy, Oct. 31, noon.—(By the Associated Press.)—The supreme command is looking forward, not backward. This should be clearly understood in the absence of details of the recent operations, for these cannot be changed, whereas every resource of Italian military genius is now concentrated upon a brighter chapter ahead, which will neutralize what has been done by the enemy. "War is a game," said one of the highest officials today, "and if the enemy gives a hard blow you must give a harder counter-blow."

UNITED STATES AIDS ITALY AGAINST AUSTRIAN ATTACKS

American Government Arranges to Waive All Export Restrictions—Ships and Supplies Will Proceed to Mediterranean as Rapidly as Possible.

Washington, Oct. 31.—All export restrictions will be waived by the American Government in forwarding supplies to Italy to aid in meeting the Austro-German invasion. The Italian Government, it was made known today, will be permitted to take the kind of materials it needs, most to the limit of its tonnage capacity, regardless of prospective shortages here. The military and political situations in Italy and the aid America will render were gone over at a conference today between Secretary Lansing and Count Di Cella, the Italian ambassador. Italy's crying need for ships was given special consideration. Approximately 100,000 tons of shipping have been promised Italy by the shipping board. Four vessels already have been turned over, and the others will be delivered as fast as they are available. The shortage of ships is so serious, however, that the shipping board has to pick them up as it can find them, and the whole amount of tonnage promised may not be available for 30 days.

Italy's greatest need is coal, and next steel, for her munition factories. She has been drawing on this country for about 100,000 tons of coal a month, but now that English coal is harder to obtain, her requirements from the United States will approach 400,000 tons monthly. The country starts the winter, according to Italian officials, fully two million tons of coal short. The shipping the United States is able to release will be totally inadequate to meet the demand for coal and to carry food and munitions. It is likely, it was said today, however, that the Italians will make a trade with Spain for a large amount of the American ships. At the same time the Italians will put into trans-Atlantic service as many of their own ships as possible. Italy's food situation, it was said today, is not as bad as it has been pictured. The bread ration is larger now than in either France or England. If, however, the Italians wish to transport food in preference to coal and munitions they will be given export licenses to ship as much as they wish.

EIGHTEEN SHIPS SUNK DURING THE PAST WEEK

British Craft Sunk Total Eighteen—Fourteen Over 1000 Tons and Four of Smaller Size.

London, Oct. 31.—Fourteen British merchantmen over 1000 tons were sunk by mine or submarine in the past week, according to the admiralty report. Four vessels under 1000 tons were also sunk, but no listing of the vessels was given. The British losses of merchantmen for the current week show a considerable decrease as compared with the previous week, when 17 vessels over 1000 tons and eight under that tonnage were sunk.

RELAYS OF AIRCRAFT IN RAID ON ENGLAND

London, Nov. 1, 1:30 a.m.—"Aircraft crossed the south-east coast in relays between 10.45 and 11.30 last night and proceeded towards London. The statement adds: "There was heavy firing in the London area against the aircraft."

WEATHER WAS IDEAL FOR HUN RAIDERS

Londoners Expected Visit From Enemy Air-Craft, but Majestic Were Home When Raid Started.

London, Nov. 1.—The weather tonight was such that Londoners expected a visit from German aircraft. There was no wind and the moon was full, with slight clouds which obscured it at times. The theatres had emptied and a majority of the night pleasure seekers were on their way home, or at home, when the warning was given. It was noticeable that fewer people took shelter in the tubes and other public places than on previous occasions, perhaps because of the lateness of the hour when the raid started.

The Viaduct a Moose Yard.

The World's young man who got Works Commissioner Harris to say that it was not his intention to do anything to get the Moor street viaduct (the Don section) opened forthwith for the use of public, heard last night that the city hall chiefs had decided to use it in the meantime as a moose-yard; that Colonel Rolly Harris had brought back a large live bull moose from his shooting trip to Algonquin Park, and that with the assistance of Mayor Church he was got within the corral of the big viaduct yesterday evening. The yard is board-fenced at each end for 50 feet and is bounded on either side by 1700 feet of high stone railing, faced with red granite, covered entirely with a concrete floor, and enclosing about three acres of space. The only thing is that it is cold away up in the winds that sweep over the Don Valley, a hundred feet above the level of the viaduct. But the moose has long, long hair, a thick hide, great broad horns and is used to the Algonquin cold.

The reporter was further informed that City Engineer Fowell had now set out the moose hunt, and that the city hall expected him back with a cow moose within a few days; and that the breeding of moose for the Winchester Zoo in the viaduct moose yard would be inaugurated forthwith. Fortunately the reporter was able to get a picture of Mr. Harris' bull moose looking over the railing for his coming mate.

Mayor Church is giving every encouragement to the new proposition, inasmuch as it might be turned into some useful occupation to meet the $1400 a week interest that the ratepayers are now forking out for the money spent in building the viaduct, and for which the commissioner has failed to provide either street approaches or block paving for the roadway over the river.

City Controllers O'Neill and Foster would not give out much information about this moose industry, but said they were preparing statements to submit at the next meeting of the board. In the meantime Don Chisholm has been instructed to provide suitable fodder for the moose family. The three aldermen of Ward One, also those of Ward Two, with the officers of the Ratepayers' Associations at either end of the bridge are getting ready to wait on the leaders of the moose party at the city hall and get more definite information as to the situation. So are the members of the street cleaners' organization. Derry Kennedy says he saw the moose looking down at him as he drove underneath the bridge

ELECTION DATE FIXED VOTING DECEMBER 17

Government Issues Writs Making Nomination Day November Nineteenth—Yukon Territory Polls Six Weeks Later.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Writs were issued tonight calling for a general election Monday, Dec. 17. Nomination day is fixed for Monday, Nov. 19. This applies to all constituencies except Yukon Territory. In the Yukon nomination day will be Dec. 31 and polling day four weeks later, Monday, Jan. 28. All writs are returnable on Feb. 27, 1918. Parliament is summoned to meet on the day following.

The election will be without a parallel in the history of the Dominion. The granting of the franchise to soldiers and sailors and their female relatives at home has entailed the creation of entirely new machinery. Military and naval polls will have to be held in France, Belgium, the United Kingdom, the West Indies, Canada and on the high seas of Europe and North America. In every polling sub-division in the Dominion an enumerator will immediately have to set to work revising the electoral lists. The names of enfranchised female relatives of soldiers, sailors, and airmen, and of alien soldiers, disenfranchised by the War Time Elections Act, will have to be deleted.

MADE BIG HAUL OF PRISONERS IN LAST DRIVE

Over 12,000 Germans Captured by the French in Four Days' Offensive.

CAPTURE 180 BIG GUNS Ten Enemy Planes Brought Down—Enemy Railway Stations Are Bombed.

Paris, Oct. 31.—The official communication issued by the war office tonight reads: "To the north of the Aisne artillery actions occurred in the neighborhood of Pinon. The number of prisoners captured by us in the course of our offensive from Oct. 23 to 27 was 12,127, of whom 237 were officers. The cannon number were 180.

"On the right bank of the Meuse the Germans attempted this morning against our positions in the sector of Beaumont, a surprise attack, which we repulsed. Between the Meuse and Rezonvaux there was a quite violent bombardment during the course of the afternoon. "On October 30 six enemy airplanes were brought down by our pilots. Four others fell in a damaged condition within their own lines. Our bombing squadries last night dropped 7700 kilos of projectiles and explosives on the railway stations at Amnville, Bettembourg, Malzeville-lez-Metz, Longeville-lez-Metz, Jospny and Luxembourg. All our objectives were reached. "Eastern theatre, Oct. 30: The day patrol encounters occurred in the valley of the Struma and near Lyulitsa. The artillery activity was feeble."

BRITISH MAKE GAIN BY STADEN TRACK

Local Fighting Marks Battlefront—Gunfire East of Ypres.

London, Oct. 31.—The war office communication issued this evening reads: "In yesterday's operations north of the Ypres-Roulers railway we captured 191 prisoners, including three officers. "Today local fighting has taken place in the neighborhood of the Ypres-Roulers railway, as a result of which we have improved our line slightly. "A successful raid was carried out this afternoon by the North Staffordshire Regiment northeast of Loos in addition to other losses inflicted on the enemy. 40 prisoners were captured. Our casualties were slight. "Our artillery has been active during the day on the battlefield and has carried out a number of destructive bombardments of hostile positions and batteries."

CANADA'S MEN UNMOLESTED IN NEW LINES

Canadians Pass Comparatively Quiet Night in Newly Won Positions.

WEATHER CLEARING Heavy Artillery Fire by the Germans at Some Points in Flanders.

British Front in Belgium, Oct. 31.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Canadians passed a comparatively quiet night in their new positions near Passchendaele, the Germans apparently being content to let well enough alone after their series of costly counter-attacks yesterday. This morning a bright, warm sun was shining down upon the inhospitable marsh lands, rendering the work of consolidation much easier for the men who had lain out all night in the cold in their drenched uniforms. Heavy artillery fire continued at various points. The Germans' gun work being especially intense in the region between Schape Baillie and Poelcapelle, to the north of yesterday's attack. Here, in the little valley, the British were shelled from two outposts in fortified farms and withdrew, slightly to the west of these places. A captured German officer of considerable intelligence and individuality has made some interesting statements, among which was one to the effect that he expected the Americans next spring to continue the offensive on the Ypres front. He added that he was looking to America to build one hundred thousand airplanes. He declared that there would be no retreat or withdrawal of the Germans in Belgium, but that they will fall back fighting for each position. He stated significantly that there had been a decrease in the morale of the German troops and that the men were losing respect for their officers.

ENEMY FORCES IN EAST AFRICA ARE DEFEATED

Combined Operations of the British and Belgians Meet With Success.

ENEMY LOSSES SEVERE Germans Abandon Guns and Lose Men and Positions in Fighting.

London, Oct. 31.—The following official communication was issued this evening, dealing with the operations in East Africa: "In the western area the German forces have been driven from the Mahenge district by combined operations of Belgian and British columns and have retired to the vicinity of Manganira, on the Luwanga River, east of Mahenge. A German covering detachment was destroyed from Kinfolo, southwest of Mahenge, by a British column advancing from the south. The retreating Germans abandoned two guns. "Lwale, a German administrative centre of some importance southwest of Kilwa, was occupied Monday by a detachment of General Northey's troops. Twenty-four German Europeans were captured. "To the south our patrols are active in the vicinity of Mahiwa, while Portuguese are in positions of readiness on the Rovuma River. "It is confirmed that the enemy's losses in the recent fighting about Nyanga were severe. The minimum estimate, exclusive of wounded, is 53 German Europeans and 263 Askaris killed and 241 Europeans and 677 Askaris captured."

CANADIANS, IN ADVANCE, WIN THREE FARMS

German Communications in Passchendaele Area May Break.

ENEMY'S GUNS FAIL Artillery Fire of Defence Proves Erratic and Scattered.

Canadian Headquarters in France, via London, Oct. 31.—As well as taking Mecheche and Crest Farm, the Canadians captured three other fortified farms on the left of their advance, after encountering determined resistance from the enemy, whose machine gun detachments had to be driven from concrete strongholds by the artillery. The positions were carried the positions after crossing an almost impassable morass. The wounded who had fallen from these fights tell of numerous heroic incidents among them one where a man, advancing under heavy enemy shellfire, facing the hell from deadly machine guns, stopped to bandage a companion's wound or pulled a man out of the trench, or water-filled shell holes which threatened death to the unwary at every other step. The enemy's artillery fire, while heavy over our whole advanced area, was erratic and scattered, our artillery with its crashing fire barrages dominating his batteries. The superiority of our batteries, which was already admitted by the Germans, was proved early in the engagement, when the fire from his artillery, which, for some time shelled our guns heavily, captured off quickly under our bombardments. Over one hundred prisoners, together with many machine guns, have been taken in the latest advance. The morale of the opposing forces is seriously weakening, appreciable deterioration being notable in the prisoners captured in the last 24 hours as compared with last week. A visit to the prisoners' encampment this morning showed youngsters 19 years of age among the new batches coming in. They report heavy casualties from our artillery during all last week, when our shelling and air-raid observation was so good that the enemy's guns had been moved eastwards from fear of being put out of action.

CONSCRIPTION ACT BESET IN COURTS

Quebec Anti-Conscriptionists Attack Constitutionality of Measure.

Montreal, Oct. 31.—Mr. Justice Bruneau, of the superior court, this afternoon granted a writ of prohibition to Paul Emile Mongeau, committed for trial for alleged seditious utterances.

In the petition for the writ Mongeau alleges that the Military Service Act, which he had attacked, is unconstitutional. The action of Judge Bruneau suspends action in Mongeau's case until the writ is returnable and argued upon its merits. The decision of Mr. Justice Bruneau has caused a great deal of speculation as to the exact position of affairs as regards the application of the Military Service Act, in the jurisdiction of the Montreal superior court.

In some legal quarters, as Mongeau has declared unconstitutional in the course of his petition, it is believed the act cannot be applied here until the final decision on the petition is rendered.

Other legal lights are arguing that the Military Service Act will not be affected at present.

Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, directly that he heard that the writ of prohibition had been granted, asked for a copy and also for copies of all the papers in the case.

The petition claims that the Military Service Act is unconstitutional, illegal and vexatious, because the royal authority vested only in the King has been superseded by the British North America Act of 1867, in which are contained the clauses relating to Quebec, military service as applied to Canada is for the defence of the country.

The petition further alleges that the imperial parliament never granted Canada any extra-territorial powers outside of the limits or borders of Canada, and that legislation otherwise by the parliament is therefore, illegal and unconstitutional.

Parties named in the petition are Judge St. Cyr, who committed Mongeau for trial, and Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice.

SALOONS CLOSE DOORS AT WASHINGTON, D.C.

Hallowe'en Merry-Makers Contribute to Hilarious Celebration of Event.

Washington, Oct. 31.—Washington went dry tonight with a mildly hilarious celebration of the hallowe'en merry-makers contributed most of the noise. Some saloons had closed their doors during the day, and many others, including the large and fashionable hotels, closed tonight long before 12 o'clock, the hour fixed by the law passed by congress last winter.

The law forbids the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors in the District of Columbia. It also prohibits drinking in public places, but does not interfere with the bringing in of liquor for personal use.

Men at Portland, Maine, Obtain Increase of Five Cents an Hour.

Portland, Maine, Oct. 31.—The strike of the Grand Trunk package freight handlers was settled tonight, after a hearing before the local adjustment commission. The scales agreed to are 33 to 35 cents an hour for ordinary freight, 38 cents for ore, and 40 cents an hour overtime for Sundays and holidays. This is an increase of about 50 per cent, and is a compromise between the demands of the men and what was originally offered by the company.

Copenhagen, Oct. 31.—A Cologne despatch to the Berlingske Tidende says that the Pope recently received a number of French bishops, including the Bishops of Lyons, Bordeaux, Chartres and Orleans, but not the Bishop of Paris, according to the despatch. The Pope's intention to obtain the assistance of the bishops in his peace propaganda has been heralded a new peace proclamation which the Pope is expected to issue with the assistance of the international episcopate.

HAMILTON NEWS

INCREASE GIVEN HOSPITAL RATES

Board of Governors Strike New Figures, to Become Effective at Once.

Hamilton, Oct. 31.—Hospital rates went a-souring at the meeting of the board of governors this afternoon. The understanding being that the new rates will become effective immediately, Dr. Leung, medical superintendent, pointed out that the rate for semi-private maternity patients had remained stationary for 10 years, and he claimed that $1.50 a day was not commensurate with service and attention. He recommended that the price be made $2 a day and the governors agreed to this. It was also decided to increase the rates for private patients, from $3 to $3.25 per day and the rates for "isolation" patients from $2.50 a week to $4.25.

Inquiries today elicited the information that the report on the proposed hydroelectric radial route thru Hamilton, prepared by members of the Canadian Society of Engineers, at the solicitation of a committee of private citizens, had been submitted. Just what it recommends has not been divulged, but it is understood that it dovetails with the comprehensive report prepared for the city by Engineers Tye and Cauchon.

On Saturday our line of cavalry posts thrown out in advance of our main positions was attacked by a force of about 3000 men with guns. Also outnumbered and enveloped on both flanks, detachments of the London Yeomanry fought with great gallantry, holding their position for six hours, until assistance arrived, and thereby rendering great service to their infantry comrades. Repeated charges by the Turkish cavalry resulted in only a slight gain of ground at the expense of heavy losses. The casualties were under 100.

WILSON TO HASTEN U.S. SHIPBUILDING

Conference of Builders, Labor Leaders, and Officials Plans Action.

Washington, Oct. 31.—A general quickening of shipbuilding operations on the Atlantic coast was promised today at a conference of builders and labor leaders with officials of government departments. The meeting was called to work out means of co-ordinating the efforts of all having to do with the shipbuilding program.

A committee of builders named today will co-operate with the government in obtaining materials and in dealing with the labor shortage.

Greater consideration of the wooden shipbuilding industry was urged on the shipping board today by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon. Labor and materials are available on the Pacific coast, he declared, for twice the amount of wooden ship construction under way in that district. Acting Postmaster - General Will Not Consider Demands of Employees.

The reply received by Dominion Secretary McMorde of the Associated Letter Carriers from the acting postmaster-general, Hon. C. J. Doherty, relative to the demands of the letter carriers of the Dominion for an increase of $20 a month to cover the increased cost of living, is a direct refusal to further consider the demands of the men. Hon. Mr. Doherty explains that some months ago when the postoffice department laid the claims of the carriers before the treasury board, that body did not see its way to grant the increase demanded, and that in view of the fact that parliament approved of the $100 bonus submitted by the committee on supplementary estimates, it is impossible for the postoffice department or the governor-in-council to add to the allowance provided. In conclusion, the acting postmaster-general states that the $100 bonus was not granted with the intention of fully covering the increased cost of living, but as a help to that end.

"Yes, just a sop to lessen the feeling of general dissatisfaction," said Secretary McMorde to a reporter for The World yesterday afternoon. "Well, there the matter stands," he continued, "and I am not aware of the intention of the branches through the Dominion. Now, we all know how the Le-mieux Act reads as to the privilege and right which belongs to all labor organizations to have their grievances considered by boards of arbitration and conciliation. This letter you have just read entirely omits any reference whatsoever to the request we made in my letter of October 19 for a board of conciliation. If the government grants boards of conciliation for other labor organizations why this unjustified difference in the case of its own employees?"

The reporter was later informed by Secretary R. H. Cox of the local branch, that a special meeting is to be held a few days hence to deal with the acting postmaster-general's reply.

LATE M. K. COWAN, K.C., BURIED AT BRANTFORD

Funeral Services Were Conducted Yesterday at Late Residence, Castle Frank Road.

The funeral services of M. K. Cowan, K.C., were conducted yesterday at his late residence, 95 Castle Frank road, by the Rev. Robert Cochrane, of College Street Presbyterian Church. The remains were afterwards taken to Brantford for interment. The G. T. R., for which company Mr. Cowan was for many years collector, placed a special car at the disposal of Mrs. Cowan and family.

"Absolute fearlessness in the doing and declaring of what he thought was right was the outstanding characteristic of the man," said Mr. Cochrane. "Had he remained in public life, he would have been a great political leader. He was not only broad-minded, but he had a public spirit, and his questions far above the average and he was a powerful speaker. Possessed of peculiar forcefulness, he had a genius for making friends."

Beautiful floral tributes were received from Osprey Hall, parliament buildings, city hall, A. F. and M. I. O. O. F., and many of the clubs as well as from scores of relatives and friends.

The Grand Trunk Railway system was well represented at the funeral, nine men from different parts of Ontario being present in their official capacity.

The pallbearers were Judge Sutcliffe, Judge Rose, Mr. J. D. McKeay, W. F. Menden and W. W. Pope.

WILSON HAS REPLY READY

Street Commissioner Has Answers Prepared for Street Cleaners.

George Wilson, street commissioner, has prepared replies to the grievances set forth by the employees of the street cleaning department, which he will present to the board of arbitration at its next session. He says that representatives of the men and the commissioner have not been able to agree on many of the points in dispute.

Owing to the absence from the City of John G. Kent, no date has been set for the next sitting of the arbitration board.

NOMINATIONS CHRISTMAS EVE

Present Legislation Makes This Arrangement Unavoidable.

Nominations this year for municipal elections will be held on Christmas Eve, Monday, December 24, those for mayor and controllers in the morning and in the evening for aldermen and school trustees.

The city clerk will seek legislation to avoid the holding of nominations on Christmas Eve in the future. However, the council will this year, as usual, pass a bylaw to have the elections on New Year's Day and under this the nominations on Christmas Eve cannot be avoided.

TO CATCH SPEEDERS

The increasing number of motor accidents has alarmed the mayor, and at the meeting of the board of control he intends to move that the police be equipped with stop watches in order to time automobile speeders. He says that the chief can be given the exact distances between blocks by the assessment commissioner and the ordinary constable can put a stop to speeding if equipped with a split-second timepiece.

GOES BACK TO COMMITTEE

The question of proceeding with the Crawford street extension and the Gully crescent fill was referred back to the works committee by the board of control yesterday morning.

ONE DOLLAR BUYS ONLY FIFTEEN MILK TICKETS

Price Up Again This Week Following Controller's Assent to Producers' Recommendation.

Milk has gone up again! Now the housewife is only able to purchase 15 tickets for $1. This went into force on Monday morning due to the action of the food controller's committee in passing the recommendation of the Toronto Milk and Cream Producers' Association that milk be delivered at the dairies for $2.50 for an eight-gallon can. During October the price was $2.30 at the request of Mr. Hanna, but today the dairies have to pay $2.50. Knowing this was to come, the leading dairies of the city increased their rates on Monday morning.

The food controller's report on the milk situation is that there is absolutely no profiteering in the dairy business. The investigation was thorough and reports of the cost of distribution from dairy companies in different sections of Canada. He says that the present price is as low as it can be put in justice to the distributor.

The producer really fixes the price. When he raises the price to the distributor, he is in turn forced to raise it to the consumer. Everything has gone up in comparison with what it was a few years ago in the dairy business: horses, feed, glass, paper, caps, coal and wages.

R. S. Trimble, manager of Price's Dairy, speaking to The World, said: "If every housekeeper would only do her share towards reducing the expenses of operating, things would look brighter. A pint bottle or a half-pint costs just as much to wash and fill and cap as a quart bottle, yet the average housewife orders two pint bottles instead of one quart. And if they would all return the bottles, what a great saving to the dairies!"

HOTEL EXEMPTIONS

Board of Control Will Meet Hotel-keepers After Conference.

George Wright and Frank Disette appeared before the board of control yesterday to see what had been done regarding their request for reduced assessments for hotels and were informed that the board would meet with the hotelkeepers after a conference.

The assessment commissioner has reported as follows regarding the effect of a 25 per cent. reduction on standard hotel properties: Twenty-five per cent. reduction amounts to $1,509,992; 33 1-3 per cent. $2,013,203, and 40 per cent. $2,415,842.

Following is a comparison of the realty assessment for 1915 as compared with that for 1913:

Table with 3 columns: Land, Total realty, and 1915 assessment. Values range from $4,203,574 to $6,039,607.

ONE YEAR FOR BIGAMY

Returned Soldier Pleaded Guilty to Having Taken a Second Wife.

In the county court yesterday before Judge Winchester, Percy Langton was sentenced to one year in the Ontario Reformatory for being pleaded guilty to the charge of bigamy. Langton said that the Germans had driven him crazy and that he would not survive the year, but his honor was of the opinion that there were too many soldiers coming back here and doing such things as this. Langton was said to have married a woman named Mary Hunter while his wife was living. He was sentenced on Monday for having liquor in his possession and when he was sentenced yesterday he said he had served his country for three years in France. The judge stated that if there was one word more from Fischer Kerr, who appeared for the accused, he would send Langton to the penitentiary.

ENDORSE SENATOR IDEA

The resolution passed at the last meeting of the executive of the Ontario Municipal Electric Association urging the government to appoint a senator to look after the hydro interests was endorsed by the board of control yesterday morning.

LIVELY DISCUSSION OVER BOARD'S ORDER

Mayor Becomes Angry at Head of License Department as Gasoline Line Station is Being Discussed.

Warm words were exchanged for ten minutes at yesterday morning's meeting of the board of control when the matter of the establishment of a gasoline service station at the corner of Delaware avenue and Bloor street came up for discussion. Owing to the opposition of property owners in the district the board of control issued instructions to the license department not to issue the business license until further instructions were given, but the permit was granted.

In consequence the mayor was exceedingly angry and took Edward Davenport, the head of the license department, severely to task.

"If you were in the license department you would have been taken out and shot for disobeying orders," said the mayor.

Mr. Davenport started to explain that he could not understand the mayor's instructions. They were not full enough and badly written.

"You talk too much," said the mayor, after Mr. Davenport spent about a minute trying to explain his position. "If you don't obey orders we will get somebody there who will."

"You get somebody else to do it better than I can," was Mr. Davenport's reply.

A representative of the Canadian Oil Company said that the company did not wish to take advantage of the technically, but he was sure the property owners would not be injured to the extent they thought they would.

"If this goes thru," said W. Pike, "I will go to the court of revision and ask for a reduction of my assessment."

Sam McBride entered the argument on behalf of the property owners, and opposed the license department.

"They got this in an underhand manner," said Mr. McBride. "We never got it in an underhand manner," retorted the representative of the company. "I'll not take that from you."

The board canceled the permit, and passed a motion of the mayor to transfer the authority for issuing such permits from the city architect to the property committee.

TORONTO CUSTOMS FIGURES INCREASE

October Returns Are Two Hundred and Thirty-five Thousand Higher Than Last Year.

The customs revenue for October, according to a statement given at the Toronto customs office yesterday, was approximately $1,700,000, an increase of nearly $385,000 over October last year. The October total is the second smallest for the first ten months of 1917, the total being $21,244,847. September has the highest record, with $2,503,818, and April the lowest, with $3,605,910.

As compared with last year, the first ten months of 1917 shows an increase of nearly $6,000,000. This year's increase is very striking in view of the fact that last year's figures were considered unusually high.

"LEAF ROLL" MENACE

Disease is Chief Problem Facing Potato Growers in Ontario, Says Prof. Howitt.

Speaking at a conference of potato growers yesterday, Prof. Howitt, director of the Ontario Agricultural College, referred to one disease, known as leaf roll, the elimination of which was one of the greatest problems of Old Ontario. He stated that the climate in Northern Ontario would not allow the disease to drive there, and that potatoes be planted in the other parts of the province. In this way the disease might be eradicated.

PREMIER PRESENTS CAR

Sir William Hearst Hands Over Gift of Ontario School Children to Soldiers at Hospital.

"Amid the cheers of about 800 patients, Sir William Hearst, premier of Ontario, presented the Military Orthopedic Hospital, North Toronto, with a motor bus given by the rural school children of Ontario out of money raised at the fall fairs. The bus is a two-seater, capable of holding 15 persons, and valued at $2500. It is to be used to carry the patients to and from school. As one of the patients said, "It's the best thing that has ever been given to us."

Sir William Hearst in a few words paid tribute to the returned men, to the work they had done and to the comrades still in France. He said that the presentation showed that the boys and girls appreciated what the soldiers were doing, and that it was a matter of great use to a memento and to facilitate the carrying of the patients to school.

Lieut.-Col. Wilson, in replying, asked Sir William to convey to the children the deep appreciation of the men for the gift. Following the presentation photographs were taken of the car and the men.

REASON OF LATENESS

Attendance at Synagogues Before School is Given.

According to the Hebrew religion, when a mother dies the boy or girl in the family are supposed to go to the synagogue twice daily, morning and evening, to pray for the dead. Boys attending school who are obliged to observe this religious rite are as a result kept late, and have in some schools at least been marked late. Some Hebrew parents have complained about this to Chairman Vokes, and asked that in special cases such as this their children shall not be classified as "late."

GRAND JURY FINDINGS

In the assize court yesterday true bills were brought in by the grand jury against the following persons: Jacob Kutposki, charged with attempted rape; John Romanak, charged with manslaughter; Re, Purdy and Byron L. Kennedy, charged with conspiracy to secure an abortion; John Phillips, charged with manslaughter; Cecil Clements and Isabella Cook, charged with procuring an abortion; Guiseppe Notario, charged with murder; and Gordon McCarthy, charged with manslaughter.

Important Notice To Hydro Users

At the request of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission of Ontario, Hydro customers are asked to use as little current as possible until further notice, particularly from Four-thirty to Six in the Afternoon on Mondays, Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, and so help to avoid a possible power shortage for munition plants and other essential industries.

You have been urged lately to economize in the use of many things—perhaps you are sometimes tempted to remark with impatience that little urging to economy is necessary the way the price of everything has gone up. But that is not the case with Hydro. The price has gone down—not up—since the war, in accordance with the Hydro policy of supply at cost.

This, with the advanced price of other illuminants and sources of power (together with the manufacture of munitions and other war supplies) has resulted in a largely increased demand for Hydro.

Had the Hydro System been operated for private profit this increased demand might have been met by advancing prices and imposing more exacting conditions on customers.

The Hydro has, however, always endeavored to keep down costs, and supply the requirements of the public.

The Hydro is supplying a very large amount of power for munition factories and other war supplies, as well as essential industries, and more will be required. These demands must be met at all costs.

At present we are advised that there appears to be a sufficient supply of power for use in the daylight hours and in the evening after the day load goes off. It is in the early darkness that economy is necessary, when the lighting demands tend to come on before the power load in factories goes off.

If you cannot always reduce your demand during the hours mentioned, do so to as great an extent and on as many days as possible. Every economy, however small, will help to achieve the result aimed at. If each of the 50,000 Hydro customers in Toronto uses even one or two lights less during these hours it will mean a greater reduction than though the whole of the street lights in Toronto were turned off.

By Co-operation You Have Made the Hydro a Success. Co-operation Cannot Fail. Will You Co-operate Now?

JUDGMENT IS RESERVED

Justice Masten Withholds Opinion in Grosvenor Church Case.

Justice Masten has reserved judgment on the application by the Grosvenor Street Presbyterian Church for an order compelling the city to pay $37,500 for the church property and in the following March passed the order expropriation proceedings. The city passed a bylaw in January, 1916 for the extension of Teravale street and in the following March passed a bylaw for the expropriation of the church property. The award was made in December, last, and the number of the city repeated the bylaw while it is willing to pay costs, also the stand that the state of the market does not permit it to go ahead with the $1,250,000 scheme of extending Teravale street. The services of the church and Sunday school have not been interrupted since. W. N. Tilley appeared for the church and I. S. Fairly for the city.

COOK GETS HALF

In the county judge's criminal court yesterday Judge Winchester fined James Marquis, a Greek waiter in the Toronto Cafe, Yonge street, $50, or in default three months in jail, for committing an aggravated assault on Lee Sing, the Chinese cook in the cafe. The money was paid, of which $25 is to go to the Chinaman.

NEW METHODIST HYMNAL

All Hymns Retained Have Changed and Hopeful Terms.

The new Methodist Hymnal made its initial public appearance yesterday. It is opened with the Lord's Prayer and closed with the Apostles' Creed. All hymns retained in the new book were passed by a committee of the church and Sunday school. The hymns were revised without a cheerful or hopeful expression in the new book. The old book had been in use for nearly 40 years. A number of Wesley's hymns have been cut out, but taken as a whole the new hymnal will be welcomed as an improvement on the old one.

CASE WAS DISMISSED

Justice Kelly has dismissed the action brought by the Toronto Type Foundry Company, Limited, against the A. B. Ormsby Company, against the sum of $1200, alleged due for a second-hand boring mill. The machine was not fitted for the work intended and the plaintiffs may remove it.

THIRTY-FIFTH GATHERING OF SALVATION ARMY OFFICERS IN TORONTO

The Salvation Army congress which opens tomorrow is the 35th annual gathering of this kind which has taken place in Toronto. It will be attended by five hundred staff, field and social officers. This year the attendance has been divided, the officers of the maritime provinces having already met at St. John, N.B. The staff from the whole of the Canada east territory and Newfoundland are meeting in Toronto, but the field officers from Ontario and Quebec only. Lieut.-Colonel Olway, who is the provincial commander for Newfoundland, and Mrs. Olway have already arrived.

SOLDIERS' INSURANCE

A special meeting of the city council held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at which the whole matter of soldiers' insurance by the city will be discussed and the report of the board of control suggesting drastic changes will be presented.

Public Rights in Danger.

When the harbor commission was organized the great argument in favor of going on with the work of reclaiming Ashbridges Bay was the valuable asset which would be placed in the possession of the people in the new land that was to be created. This land was never to be alienated, but leased for factory purposes, so that the growing value of the property in years to come would serve to recompense the community for the twenty million dollars that were to be spent upon it.

It was a public ownership plan, and it was supported by the people chiefly on that account. The people were to get the benefit of the development, whatever it might be, in the docks and wharves created, the shipping encouraged, the factories located, the increment of values which would accrue through the district. The only opposition that was heard to the plan came from those who considered that all advantages and opportunities for development of resources and resultant values should belong to private interests. The opposition did not persist. It adopted another plan. It decided to wait and let the people do the work, and then follow the old policy of stepping in and carrying off the profit.

Frank Spence is no longer on the harbor commission. As much as any one he was responsible for its inception. He was sound on the question of public ownership and the protection of the public interest in the harbor scheme. He was hustled off the commission that he created, and he died subsequently. But if he had lived his voice would have been raised against the present attempt to exploit the people. Private interests see their advantage, and they are determined to seize the present opportunity if they can—if they are permitted—and get hold of the new heritage the citizens have been acquiring.

It is surprising that the harbor commission can self-reproach and misgiving. No doubt there will be plausible reasons given for selling the city birthright for a present mess of pottage, but the sale of these newly-created lots constitutes a swindle on posterity. The problems of the future will be sufficiently difficult without adding to them now on account of a temporary embarrassment.

The ownership of this property is a public franchise of the most important character. It is equally valuable with almost any franchise that any corporation might seek in the city. Yet the least important franchise cannot be handed over without a vote of the people. The people of Toronto have a right to have some say regarding the proposed alienation of these valuable lots. Even if they were to be sold the present is no time to throw them on the bargain counter for affluent corporations to pick up. The city council has no right whatever to hand over to the harbor commission the right to sell this heritage to unknown purchasers at present values.

A very good idea of the unknown purchasers may be gathered from the recent application of the local Standard Oil Company's representative, which the city council very properly refused. The importunate widow wasn't one, two, three with a corporation after an advantage; and now comes this application, which it must have required some nerve on the part of the harbor commission officials to endorse, following up the first bluff.

If the harbor commissioners have no purchasers in sight, but merely wish for power of attorney to alienate this public property, the matter should be considered on that basis. If the commissioners have some prospective purchasers in view, then there should be no anonymity about the transaction. The people ought to know with whom they are dealing. For all that anyone is aware it might be a German trust that wanted to establish itself by the new docks. If there is no purchaser in sight the commission had better, as it should in any case, stick to its original policy of leasing the property.

A Better Way.

When a big sugar firm announces that there is no scarcity of its product, that it will supply the demand, and not only so but reduce prices, we have an example set which is worth more to the country than all the religious revivals that ever back-slid. There is real practical piety somewhere in a corporation that plays the game, and it deserves credit and recognition.

The corporations could own the country if they would only be decent and do as they would be done by, just as Germany could have owned the world by peaceful penetration had she shut up her gun shops and dismissed her armies.

But the corporations have cultivated the German spirit of grab, and if they keep it up they must go as Germany must go.

This sugar concern knows a better way, and it better deserves a baronetcy.

Conscription of Patents.

Twenty thousand patents controlled by Germans or their allies have been taken possession of by the United States Government, and manufacturers, under certain restrictions, will be licensed to make and sell the same for the benefit of the public. Many essential drugs will be produced under government supervision from the German formulas; so will dyestuffs, badly needed by the American manufacturer; and so also will many other products heretofore completely controlled by the German patentees.

It is understood that the licenses to be issued by the federal trade commission, under the authority granted by congress to the president, will be accompanied by price regulation. The patents will not be taken from German exploiters to make American exploiters rich, but will be utilized for the benefit of the general public.

As we understand the Washington despatch the German owners will be compensated after the war.

and we therefore take it for granted that the United States Government will collect a reasonable royalty. If the holders of the flotation process patent are found to be Germans, we have no doubt that the federal trade commission will find a way to unfasten the grip of their monopoly upon the American mining industry.

So far as the flotation process is concerned in Canada we have reason to expect speedy relief. Hon. Frank Cochrane, on behalf of the union government, has announced that our mineral production, including war metals, shall no longer be held up by greedy and unreasonable patentees. The Dominion Government will take over the patents and license mine operators to use them upon payment to the government of reasonable royalties. It would not be surprising before this war is ended to find a general conscription of patent rights, especially where they are used by selfish individuals or corporations to curtail national production and cripple our contribution to the war.

Lord Beaverbrook's War History.

In the second volume of "Canada in Flanders," the official story of the Canadian expeditionary force, the story is told of some of the most important of the historic encounters in which the Canadian troops have taken part. The story of the French raids has a chapter to itself. St. Etloi has three chapters; and Saucy, near Wood, four. A perusal of these chapters will give a better conception in its massed effect than the fragmentary newspaper reports. Lord Beaverbrook accords to Capt. Maurice Woods and Capt. Tabbot Papineau the credit of reducing to satisfactory form the information gained from the great mass of documents which had to be studied, and which "entailed an extraordinary effort of intense concentration."

Lieut.-Col. Sims and Lieut. Bradley were also concerned with the preparation and collection of material, and Capt. Theodore Roberts contributed to the two chapters which deal with the second division from September till March, 1916.

In these two volumes the Canadian public has an admirable record and one, by reason of its official advantages, of the fullest character now available. The narrative is very full and detailed, and the various units are mentioned in connection with the distinguished services they rendered.

A splendid tribute is paid to the Dominion and other colonial troops by "a very distinguished French general." He contrasted the bravery of the French, fighting for their homes and native land on their own ground, and that of the men from overseas with no such incentives.

"Nothing," he said, "in the history of the world has ever been known quite like it. My countrymen are fighting within fifty miles of Paris to push back and chastise the vile and leprous race which has violated the chastity of our beautiful France. But the Australians at the Dardanelles and the Canadians at Ypres fought with supreme and absolute devotion for what to many of them must have seemed simple abstractions, and that nation which will support for an abstraction the horror of this war of all wars will ever hold the highest place in the records of human valor."

The latest exploit of the Canadians at Passchendaele fully sustains the reputation already gained. The volumes to come will be no less thrilling than the deathless record that has been made.

Union Government Has Brought Unity.

Union government must be credited with having already averted disunity and discord among our people. We may be within six weeks of an election, but politics are scarcely mentioned today except among politicians. There are no signs of bitterness or recrimination. Appeals to race and creed prejudice are absent from a general election campaign for the first time, perhaps, in forty years. The result of the election being a foregone conclusion, there is nothing to get excited about.

Had there been an old-time party fight and an old-time general election things would have been far different. We would have had Carvell slashing Melghe, Melghe chasing Calder with a razor, and Calder hurling bombs at Rogers. Poisonous gases would have dowed back and forth across the Ottawa, and our people would have had their attention diverted from the battles in Flanders to the battle of the Boyne. We would have stories in Toronto of the French preparing to invade Ontario, and they would be believing in Montreal that Ontario was getting ready to hurl an army against the Province of Quebec. The country would have been rent and torn to pieces with civil strife.

Now with the union government happily formed, under the presidency of Sir Robert Borden, the English-speaking people of Canada have agreed to shake hands, forgive their old party differences and combine to return the union government to power. Liberals and Conservatives realize that they have the one supreme end in view, and they cannot stop to argue and quarrel about Papineau and the Family Compact, the Canadian Pacific scandal or the Quebec bridge.

If the union appears to be against rather than with Quebec, we must frankly admit that upon the vital subject of conscription our friends in Quebec do not agree with the rest of Canada. They asked for a plebiscite, and they are now getting a plebiscite on the subject of conscription. To the will of the people we are sure they will bow with as good grace as may be, but the union government is strong enough to carry this election without any appeals to race or creed prejudice.

Perhaps it will do the government no harm to have a little opposition in the next house. Those who oppose conscription or who honestly believe that we have done all we should do in this war are quite within their rights in voting against the union government. They have as much right to vote against conscription as we have to vote for it, and nothing will be gained by calling them traitors or slackers or imputing to them some inferiority of origin. The only thing is for everybody who favors reinforcing our soldiers at the front to keep cool and vote for the union government.

"The young fellow took his mother in his arms. He assured her that the chances were he would return." "By his side," he said, "listen, mother. If I die fighting in France, I shall be better off than you will be here in this country if Germany wins the war."

The deepest valley is believed to be in Palestine; it is at least 1300 feet below the level of the sea.

The largest octagon ingot mold which has ever been cast in the United States, and perhaps in the world, has recently been made by one of the great steel companies. The actual weight is not given, but it is reported to be nearly 140 tons.

Ostriches in South America have three toes; those in Africa only two.

WAR BRIDES

BY MAY CHRISTIE.
 There is something in the old-world Græna Green romance in the modern war-wedding!
 The bridegroom may not tear the lady from an indignant father's arms, nor set off in galloping post-chaise to the tune of pistol shots. Yet the delightful flurry and bustle of the old days is renewed, and the elements of tragedy are not in pistol shots, but in the far-off reverberation of the guns of France!

It was in Scotland, in the lonely island of Skye, that I first witnessed a typically irregular war marriage, and in the bride's romantic and as wildly beautiful as any human being has ever tried and failed to describe. Thousands of irregular marriages have taken place in Scotland recently. They dispense with the usual ceremony of registrar, and the only essential is that the bridegroom should seriously agree to marry the bride as his wife, and she to accept him as her husband.

It was a sunny morning, and the stormy waters that swirl in and out along the rocky shores of Skye seemed somehow quietened. The crying and the calling of gulls or sea-mews rose very faintly, and away on the sloping moor the heather drooping among the heather.

"A wonderful morning for a wedding," said the little bride in her soft Highland voice.

"Will you be thinking it is the calm before a storm?" said her old father, in his hesitating unaccustomed English. The plans had been carefully made. The bridegroom, a soldier in the regiment of Cameron Highlanders, had written all the way from France to say that "he was getting seven days' leave."

But when the boat came in, and he hurried across the narrow gangway, it was with the news that his leave had been cancelled, and he must return on the very steamer by which he had arrived in London, three to four days' orders from the war office.

"We must be married here on the pier," said the bride, "and I will wait for seven minutes, and Donald the piper will play the wedding march!"

The little bride showed signs of being tearful. "Seven months away in France and seven minutes to be married in London, it isn't right. And the wedding breakfast's all ready up at the house and waiting!"

But her protestations were overruled. "I take you as my wife!" said Angus, solemnly.

"Angus, I accept you as my husband," said the bride.

This was the knot irrevocably tied. For a Scottish marriage demands nothing more for its validity than the uttering of those simple words. Such a marriage is as legally binding as one with a swirl of handkerchiefs and a skirt of pines the wedding group bade adieu to the pier and the field.

With a swirl of handkerchiefs and a skirt of pines the wedding group bade adieu to the pier and the field. Donald, blowing his very best into his bagpipes, led the bride and groom to the little of the wedding moor, and the little war-bride was trying to be brave!

Before the immortal battle of Loos, that famous British officer, Colonel Cameron of Doonhill, assembled his men before him, 3000 strong.

"Cameron Highlanders!" said he, "the eyes of Scotland and of the world are upon you today, and you are to answer for a Cameron Never Can Yield!"

All thro' that terrible day the Cameron Highlanders were the only men who fought the good fight against overwhelming odds, and they were the only men who held the dying and the dead.

And when, at the end of the day, the roll-call was taken, out of 3000 who had set out so bravely only that morning, there were barely 300 to answer the roll-call.

"Cameron Highlanders," the colonel cried, "you were the only men who held the running down his cheek, 'this is the proudest-saddest-happiest day of my life.'"

But up in the lonely island of Skye a little bride is waiting—still waiting—for the return of her husband, who will come no more, and the air which whistles round the old, old, heart-breaking Highland lament!

It was in Paris, in the dusky coolness of Notre Dame Cathedral, that I heard the solemn words of the Catholic marriage service uttered by an old priest, whose eyes were dimmed with the fire of his age.

There were three young war-brides present, and they were waiting for the first time. One carried her arm in a sling and limped as he walked. The second was blind, and the third, almost a boy, had the glorious stained-glass windows of the cathedral clustered lovingly in the tree-trunks shade.

It was the bridegroom that noticed first. "La Horne" inscribed in glowing letters on the wall, he walked. "Odette, Odette, where are you?" he called, looking his way along.

There was a thrill of laughter, and Odette came running thru the trees. "You are young and beautiful, Odette—and tied for life to a useless man like me! Have you no regrets? For all you had only known this accident would come—mon brave," came the voice of Odette, with a deep note of feeling in it, "I should only have married you the sooner, and I love you even more!"

In a certain hospital in France lay a young British officer whose hands of life were running very low. A girl's name was constantly on his lips. "Stella, if you will marry me, I know she'll come!" he kept repeating.

From the quiet village where the quiet English courtship had run so smoothly, the young man came.

"Yes, if it will ease your mind, dear, the chaplain can marry us now!" she said bravely.

The chaplain performed the simple ceremony in the side-ward where the dying man lay.

"For richer or for poorer, for better or for worse!" So the bonds were tied. He fell asleep contentedly, holding her hand, and at dawn he died.

He lay in state, and when they buried him in the little English cemetery, where so many brave men lie, "Which are these who are arrayed in white robes, and whence come they?" read the chaplain. "These are they which came out of greatness, and have washed their robes and made them white." Therefore they are before the throne of God, and shall serve Him day and night in His temple.

The last sad rites were performed.

These are mere fragments from the Tragedy of War. There are those who criticize the war-marriage as foolish, ill-advised, even wrong. There are those who, with a deeper insight are the war-brides themselves if the tragedy and the pain and the anxiety are worth it.

CHAIRMAN OF NICKEL COMMISSION IS DEAD

Well-known Metallurgist Made Report on Ontario's Nickel Industry.

A telegram received at the department of lands, forests and mines yesterday contained the news of the death of George T. Holloway in London on the 24th ultimo. Mr. Holloway was the nominee of the British Government on the Royal Ontario Nickel Commission, and was appointed chairman of that body, the other members of which were Dr. W. G. Miller, McGregor Young, K.C., and T. W. Gibson. The report of the commission was issued last spring, and is regarded as a complete text book on the nickel question.

Mr. Holloway was an eminent metallurgist with long experience in the investigation of the properties of metals, and was head of the Imperial Institute. The work of the mineral resources committee of the Imperial Institute, the work of the commission occupied about a year and a half, from September, 1915, to March, 1917, and after its completion Mr. Holloway returned to England.

He was then, in May last, in poor health, and grew steadily weaker until the end. Mr. Holloway was a man of much personal charm and made many friends during his sojourn in Canada.

"On to have died that day at Lange-mark; in one fierce moment to have paid it all—"

"A Canadian Twilight, and Other Poems of War and of Peace," by Bernard Freeman Trotter, second lieutenant, 11th Lancers, killed in action May 7, 1917, with an introduction by W. S. W. McLeod, M.A., professor of English at an inns, McMaster University, McLeod, Goodchild & Stewart, publishers, Toronto, $1.25.

The book of verse that bears the above title is a fitting contribution to the list of Canadian authors by one who was a true poet and a brave soldier. Altho only 28 years of age when he gave his life for his country, he has left behind him a collection of verse by which alone he will always be remembered by the reading public. Never strong, his yearning spirit found an outlet in the little poem of the volume, when his frail health prevented him enlisting, as he cries:

"On to have died that day at Lange-mark; in one fierce moment to have paid it all—"

This is essentially a text-book for the Canadian citizen. Perhaps the most striking thing about the "Imperial Year Book," next to its remarkable compilation of so much data on such a vast range of subjects, into so small a compass, is its interest. A book of statistics is not only regarded as a dry volume, to be consulted and closed in the shortest possible time. This book satisfies the most exacting requirements from the standpoint of its admirably clear and effective typography and elaborate index, enable the people to locate the required information with the minimum of effort. This is the third edition (the first was produced in 1914), and it is a distinct improvement on its predecessors. The editor's purpose from the first has been to establish a work of reference that would be truly national, and the 1917-18 issue should mark the achievement of this purpose.

CICOTTE'S SUCCESS DUE TO HARD WORK

Took Ball as Joke for Ten Years, Then Settled Down.

"I fussed about in the major leagues for ten years and then I went to work. That is the way Ed Cicotte of the Chicago White Sox, the pennant-winning pitcher and unexpected blossoming forth as the leading hurler of the great American League.

Cicotte omitted to mention that he used to drink beer. He never indulged in the flowing bowl, he called to explain why he won. He did not complain when over a umpire standing on the ball at the best of indignant batmen party whom it had been cast. He just grinned.

People in the east have said that he is 40 years old. Maybe he is. He has yet to announce his age. But the fact remains that he "came back" most unexpectedly. He has done something that no other hurler in the history of the great national pastime has accomplished.

After the season was well concluded, it was discovered that Cicotte and the "shine ball" were as far apart as day is from night.

WOMEN'S HISTORICAL SOCIETY'S DISPLAY

Exhibit of Christmas Parcels and Other Things for Soldiers Placed on View.

Numerous passersby were attracted yesterday to the window at 80 West King street, which was filled with a particularly interesting exhibit. That the articles on view were for soldiers was seen at a glance and that hands and hearts directed by love and patriotism had arranged the many things that were to comfort and delight the men overseas and on this side of the ocean was likewise apparent.

Bundles of socks prettily tied with red and green ribbon formed the foundation of the collection, the coloring bringing the festive season very near. Raised on standing rods were a number of "stretcher caps," one made of fur looking especially rich, but it was explained that it had been made of "bits" which had been sent in and that nimble fingers had done the rest. These caps of which there are some dozens are made with a curtain going three-parts around and persons and periods in the previous they are all warmly lined. The purpose of the stretcher caps is to protect the men who have been given first aid and whose bandaged heads will not permit of wearing the ordinary cap. Then in the window there were packages made of comfortable flannel, besides dozens of pretty "personal property bags."

The exhibit is the product of the Toronto Women's Historical Society, which under the convensership of Mrs. Horace Eaton, has done such exceptional work. One group of the socks was made by the women of the Industrial Farm, the first work along this line in which they have been interested. The wool was supplied by the Historical Society and the women of the farm proved to be willing and apt co-operators. The exhibit deserves more than a passing mention because it shows that the members of the "Historical" without losing their identity or giving up the line of work for which they are associated have found time and means to do their "bit" and to do it in a most practical and attractive way. Since the war began papers have been prepared on historical subjects, research work has been continued, exhibitions of old lace, samplers and relics, relating to the war, are being made and persons and periods in the previous life of Canada have been held at various meetings. The exhibit will be on view for a week, after which the work of another society will be shown in a similar way under the convensership of Mrs. Arthur Van Koughnet.

WOMEN'S VOLUNTEER CORPS.

The discussing of plans for the work of the winter and customary drill occupied the members of the Women's Volunteer Corps at their meeting in the Lansdowne School. The secretary-treasurer reported that returns from last month's dance are still coming in. Three new members were received.

RED CROSS WORKERS REACH STOCKING AIM

Eight Thousand Six Hundred and Twenty-Four Hosiery Bearers Patched to Soldiers.

Patience, persistence and publicity—these make up the irresistible trinity that crowned with success the effort to get the number of Christmas stockings asked by the Red Cross workers at 8 West King street, to send to the hospitals and trenches overseas.

Mrs. Skearns Hicks, the indefatigable guardian of the stores, sent out a call for 7500 stockings. The circles upon which she chiefly depended sent in the splendid response of 4200. Then there was a lull and the headquarters of the Toronto Red Cross displayed a disheartened and almost despairing atmosphere. "Then the papers took it up," said Mrs. Hicks to The World yesterday. "They stood behind us splendidly and told the people how anxious we were and the numbers who responded after that included people from all kinds of business-houses, factories and stores and even a little newspaper. It became a real educative campaign. Yesterday we sent the last cases. We had 10 women here packing and three men hammering. We got 8624—even more than we asked."

Every stocking represented a minimum average of $1.50, so anyone who wishes to contribute the value will find it somewhere in the neighborhood of $13,000. The offering, however, means much more than this for it represents Christmas cheer and Christmas greeting to nearly 8000 men, many of whom would have been left without a message from Canada were it not for the thought and work of the Red Cross contingent.

ST. MATTHEW'S CHURCH RECEIVES NEW RECTOR

Rev. C. A. Seager Inducted into New Charge by Bishop of Toronto.

Rev. Dr. C. A. Seager was inducted last evening into the rectorship of St. Matthew's Anglican Church, First Avenue, near DeGraw street, Bishop Sweeney performed the rites of institution, and Rev. C. J. James, rural dean of Toronto, conducted the ceremony of induction. Rev. Canon F. G. Sprunt, rector of St. Augustine's Church, preaching the sermon, in the course of which he touched at length upon the many-sided life of a parish rector with its challenge to all that is highest in the incumbent.

Bishop Sweeney, in the course of his inspiring charge to the congregation, dwelt upon the strength of the newly appointed rector, physical, mental and spiritual, and urged upon the congregation the duty of co-operating with their new leader in the varied activities of the parish, and especially charged upon them the duty of building upon the vacant lot of the church property a rectory which should stand out as an emblem of both their prosperity and their devotion to the rector.

Rev. Dr. Seager was for many years at St. Cyprian's Church, Toronto, whence he left to take up educational work in British Columbia, becoming principal of St. Mary's Hall, Vancouver. During August of this year he was offered the rectorship of St. Matthew's, answering the call of the Bishop of Toronto in October.

PRINCIPAL GRANT DINED BY LONDON OLD BOYS

Upper Canada College Ex-Students Hold Luncheon in Empire's Capital.

Canadian Associated Press Cable. London, Oct. 31.—The Upper Canada College old boys, under the chairmanship of E. R. Peacock, entertained Major R. L. Grant, the new principal, at luncheon today. Major Grant said that the school might be in the past, a Canadian school, but not narrowly Canadian and still less narrowly Ontario. He refused to consider the offer of the principalship until the governors had guaranteed really adequate salaries to the senior masters.

The health of Prof. Vander Spieken, the oldest boy present, was also a topic. The company included Brigadier Khaeker, Col. P. C. Macdonald, Mel. Brown, Donat Armour, Charles Hodgson, Majors Eric Armour, G. W. Badgerow, V. E. Henderson, Capt. E. H. Brown, L. P. Sherwood, R. F. Rogers, H. T. Goodwin and Lieut. Bond. Messrs. J. H. Plummer, J. D. Sprunt, Percival Ridout, W. H. Ingram, and Douglas Robertson.

You Can't Brush or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this get about two ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single grain and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, soft and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive, and never fails to do the work.

Edison Diamond Disc Re-Creation of Music

These Edison Re-Creations of music differ utterly from talking machine records. Recorded by methods known only to Mr. Edison and his trusted assistants, and made of a material new to chemistry by highly exact laboratory processes, they re-create every tone of the original music, including all of the delicate overtones, or tone colors, which give music its quality and beauty and which are distressingly absent from talking machine records.

The NEW EDISON

This new invention of Edison's---this miracle-performing instrument---is not a talking machine. Music's Re-Creation is not a term of exaggeration, but merely a just description of Edison's new art.

We want every music-lover to hear the Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph---not once but several times. We want you to hear every form of music as it is Re-Created by Edison's new invention.

Let his new art be judged by the same critical standards you would apply to the artists themselves, if you were hearing them instead of Edison's Re-Creation of their work.

Come to the Music Studio today---or at your convenience, we will gladly demonstrate and play for your approval the latest records.

This New Edison Diamond Disc Phonograph possesses many unique features. Among them is a genuine diamond reproducing stylus, which dispenses with the use of needles; likewise an ingenious tone modulator for use in small rooms or at late hours.

In creating the cabinets for the Edison Diamond Disc, the designers have followed classic lines. To the same extent that the superior musical quality of the Edison Diamond Disc appeals to the cultured musical sense, so also will the Edison Diamond Disc cabinets appeal to those who have a cultured knowledge of furniture design.

Hear these particularly choice records:
"My Laddie," by Anna Case.
"Mo-Anna," Hawaiian waltz.
"You Said Something When You Said You Loved Me," from the light opera "Have a Heart."

Should you decide to own an Edison, liberal, convenient terms of payment will be arranged.
