No Country More Prosperous Than Canada, Says Larkin

HERIOT DEFEATS MARX'S DEBTS VICTORY

HIGH COMMISSIONER REVIEWS ACTIVITIES OF LONDON OFFICE

$2,170,000 of Foreign Debts Collected During Last Year.

MARINE INSURANCE Hopes Concessions Given to Halifax Will be Extended to St. John.

Ottawa, Aug. 2.—"Last year $2,170,000 of outstanding foreign debts due to Canada was collected through our office in London, and this year we hope to collect more than $4,000,000," said Hon. P. C. Larkin, Canadian High Commissioner to Great Britain, in outlining the work done by the overseas office, in an interview at Laurier House last evening.

Canada, said Mr. Larkin, was less dependent upon the rest of the world than any other country. No people in the world were more prosperous. There had been some criticism, he said, to the effect that Canada had not been advertised sufficiently.

Work Reviewed. Canada was one of the most independent countries in the world today, and an over-emphasis on the advertising of the country was scarcely in accord with national dignity.

Mr. Larkin reviewed the work of the overseas office during the past year. The preliminary arrangements for Canada's representation at the Imperial Conference were adjusted, the early work respecting the settlement of building at Wembley, and the discussions with the British Treasury Department regarding the settlement of war finances were carried on and concluded through the High Commissioner's office.

Negotiations with Greece and Rumania which terminated in the acceptance of the bonds of those countries in security for their debts were conducted by the London office. Adjustment of the amounts due to Canada from the French and Belgians, and the final settlement with the British Board of Trade respecting Canada's rights to certain enemy properties were negotiated through the Canadian office.

St. John's Case. Speaking of the concessions won on marine insurance rates by extension of the season of rates on hulls from Halifax, Mr. Larkin said, "We are hoping that the same rates will be extended to cargoes and that St. John will be put on the same basis as Halifax."

CANADIAN DOLLAR AT PAR IN NEW YORK

Indications Are That It Will Remain For a Couple of Months.

New York, Aug. 23.—According to the New York Times, Canadian dollars sold here yesterday at par for the first time since December 1922, and several commercial transactions for the account of small grain export houses were made at one thirty-second of a point.

Canadian dollars exchange has been moving upward gradually for the last two months. This has been due to Canadian financing in the New York market by which United States banks have been getting rid of some of their surplus money to the advantage of the Dominion and the promise of prospect for additional large pieces of Canadian financing in the future.

An additional factor of seasonal character is the demand on this side of the border for Canadian dollars with which to pay for Canadian wheat exports. The Times says dealers expect that the Canadian dollar will continue at par for a couple of months at any rate and one big dealer banking on the fact that October is the month when Dominion exchange is generally strongest in New York anticipates a premium of one-eighth during that month.

Leaves Today On Trip to America

PRINCE DODGES WAITING CROWDS

Southampton, Eng., Aug. 23.—The Prince of Wales, who is sailing for America on the Berengaria today, outwitted those intending to give him a ceremonious send-off by slipping quietly out of London by automobile, spent a few hours at the Isle of Wight, about 20 miles from here, boarded the Berengaria without hardly being noticed and immediately went to bed.

A solitary sailor standing at the gangplank was the only person to actually see the Prince embark. The stevedores had everything in readiness for him as soon as he boarded the ship, and he was hoisted on the ship at dawn in honor of His Highness.

At 10 a. m. the Prince breakfasted, his fare consisting of two English-grown peaches, one apple, some toast and tea.

PLEA OF COUNSEL BRINGS TEARS TO PRISONERS' EYES

Defence Lawyer in Chicago Case Says Crime was Senseless.

ASKS FOR LIVES

Crime Not Committed for Money, Hate or Spite, Says Darrow.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—The killing of Bobby Franks was a senseless thing, an unreasonable, unexplainable and foolish act that could have been conceived and executed only by a diseased mind, said Clarence S. Darrow, 67 year old veteran of criminal court battles, in his plea before Judge John R. Caverly for the lives of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb.

"Why did they kill Bobby Franks?" asked the gray-haired pleader, pointing a shaking forefinger at the judge. "Not for money. They had that. Not for spite; not for hate. They killed him because they might kill a fly or a spider—for the experience."

"Because somewhere," and here the strident tone sank to a pitch of regret. "In the infinite processes which go on in the making of the loaf or the man something slipped. And now these unfortunate lads sit here hated, despised, outcast, and with the community shouting for their blood."

Boys Break Down. The appeal proved too much for the self-control of the culprits. Throughout most of the afternoon they sat tense before Judge John R. Caverly for the lives of Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb.

But when Mr. Darrow's eloquence pictured disgrace to the families, the grief of mothers, the sorrow of fathers, the blasted hopes for the boys themselves, Loeb flicked tears from his cheeks and Leopold stumbled from the court room with bowed head.

THREE N. B. CASES FOR SUPREME COURT

Liquor Case Appears and Succession Duties Matter Are Included.

Fredericton, Aug. 23.—Among the important appeal cases to be tried before the Supreme Court of Canada in October is that of the Canadian Drug Company, Ltd., vs. the New Brunswick Board of Liquor Commissioners. This case is an appeal brought by the company from the decision of Mr. Justice Barry in favor of the commission, which was later sustained by the Supreme Court of New Brunswick.

Another important case is that of the Provincial Secretary-Treasurer vs. the Royal Trust Company, executors of the estate of Anna M. Ferguson, formerly of Chicago. This case involves the point as to whether or not mortgages held on property in New Brunswick by the deceased are subject to succession duties in New Brunswick.

The Supreme Court of New Brunswick has ruled in this case that the mortgages are liable to the tax. The case of the Prudential Trust Company vs. New Brunswick Oil Shales is also expected to be entered.

Additions to The Fund That Will Save The Lives of Babies

The citizens have not yet become interested, to the extent the story told by Miss Coates of the Victorian Order would warrant, in the milk fund for babies who would otherwise fail to get sufficient nourishment. The Council of Women have found it necessary to provide as much as $300 in one month. There are now more than 60 babies on the fund, and to supply one of them for a year at the present price of milk would cost about $45.

Child's Appeal Saves Father From Lash

London, Aug. 23.—How a child's pathetic appeal saved her father from the lash was told at Dublin Central Court by Mr. Justice O'Donoghue. He was dealing with Alfred Leonard, 35, sentenced to five years' penal servitude and fifteen strokes of the lash for robbing a woman with violence. Announcing that he would cancel the order for the lashing and hear a report from the prison doctor before confirming penal servitude, the judge explained that on the previous night a child, a little girl, came to his house and made a piteous appeal for Leonard, her father. She also brought a touching letter from her mother stating that the man had been 17 times in a lunatic asylum.

NOTE SAYS GIRLS HELD ON RUM SHIP

Message in Bottle is Picked up Off Coast of Maine.

Portland, Me., Aug. 23.—Two girls from Somerville, Mass., are held captive on a rum runner off the Maine coast, if the scribbled note found in a whiskey bottle floating at the mouth of the Kennebec river is to be believed. Officials are inclined to believe it is the work of a practical joker.

The note, signed Mary Hingham, giving Thomas Hingham of Somerville, Mass., address General Delivery, as her father, tells of kidnapping and virtual slavery. No dates are mentioned.

The note reads: "If anybody finds this note, will please let my father know. His present address is at Somerville, Mass. We were after jobs in a hotel at the beaches, and two men and a lady told us about a job on a rich man's yacht, and we went with them in a boat to a big black boat with two masts where they sell booze to other boats. We cannot get away. Two of the men are colored. We pray to God to help us and our prayers are to be answered. Will put it in a bottle. My father is Thomas Hingham. (Signed) 'MARY HINGHAM'."

Father Unknown. Boston, Aug. 23.—No Thomas Hingham or any family by that name could be found in a perusal of the Somerville city and telephone directories last night. The police of Somerville are investigating, without knowledge of such a man. The post office authorities will be appealed to.

CANADA PRODUCE SCORES IN BRITAIN

Big Demand For Dairy Products Results From Wembley Show.

London, Aug. 23.—(Canadian Press Cable)—It is learned here that a Canadian dry milk dealer at the Empire Exhibition at Wembley sold his output for the next five years to a British firm. The output is valued at $800,000.

Canadian cheese found a splendid market throughout the exhibition. Eight thousand pounds of cheese was bought weekly by the enterprising Wembley, who also introduced it at all their London cafes. The Canadian fruit display brought orders for more than 1,000,000 boxes of assorted fruit. Eighty per cent of the Canadian exhibitors are delighted that they came to Wembley.

Welcome to "Our Little Boy Blue"

Welcome, Little Boy Blue of touring autos. Yes indeed, thrice welcome, come blow your horn. We're glad to see the yellow and black of our big brother, Nova Scotia. We took our kixxon with family pride when the full yellow of Ontario turns past. It makes us feel awfully good to see the black and white New York number plates. We even the bright red of New Jersey sends a vacation-time thrill down our spine. To say nothing of brown Ohio, grey Florida, and black Maine, maroon Massachusetts, light blue Quebec and lavender Louisiana. But when we caught sight of that dainty light blue plate it sent a jet of joy down our frame that we had never felt before. Not that light blue is our favorite tint, not that it stands head of the color-card class perhaps, but because it comes from one of our provinces, our boy after, our isolated garden spot—the place where up to a few years ago the dour farmer legislator made laws to keep the auto on the mainland. We speak of Prince Edward Island; long may she thrive to send her light blue number plates over to the big ferry. Welcome again, ye from 'the island over.'

S. world fliers from his island to Greenland hop, was still missing with his companion at eight o'clock this morning. The U. S. S. Raleigh, one of the searching vessels, reports that it is too foggy along the Greenland coast to permit the use of airplanes in the search.

North Carolina Sends Observer To League

Geneva, Aug. 23.—(United News)—The sovereign State of North Carolina has taken a hand in the tangle of international politics. Phillips Henry of North Carolina, who for want of precedent must be content for a while at least with no other title than mister, has arrived here and placed on file with the secretary of the League of Nations his credentials as special commissioner and unofficial observer of the League for North Carolina.

Henry's papers were signed by Governor Merritt and signed by Governor Merritt during the September deliberations of the League assembly, which he will observe the League for his Governor.

The presence here of an unofficial observer from one of the United States is interpreted by persons connected with the League as an indication of dissatisfaction in North Carolina with the United States government's refusal to join the League.

Pulled Wishbone to Decide Who'd Be Boss; Man Won; Now Wife Sues

New York, Aug. 23.—The wishbone, long of assistance to weather prognosticators, has been put to new use in Brooklyn. When George Bryonty was married on May 26, 1914, he and his wife agreed to pull a wishbone to settle the already looming question as to who was to be boss in the home. The weaver says he got the larger piece of the bone and his wife resented this. This, he adds, was really the beginning of the trouble that led Mrs. Bryonty to begin an action for separation. She applied to Supreme Court MacCrate for reasonable alimony and counsel fees pending trial.

She said that last February her husband assaulted her, that on June 13 last he kept her without food the whole day, and that two days later he drove her from her home. Mrs. Bryonty told the story of the wishbone.

"Three days after our marriage, we pulled a wishbone to see who would be the boss of the house," his affidavit said, "I won, but I really lost because I was not the boss. My wife said to me, 'This is America, where women have voices and men do as they are told.' She appeared distressed because I had won the larger half of the wishbone. That night, on retiring, I went to bed first. My wife came to bed later. She refused to put out the light. I asked her to do so several times. She refused. We disputed the matter for three hours. Finally she put out the light. 'Why can't we get this couple to pull another wishbone?' remarked Justice MacCrate.

Cannot Say What They'll do With Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars.

Boston, Aug. 23.—Bequeathed an estate running into the hundreds of thousands and hardly knowing what to do with it. That is the situation in which Miss Addie Cobbett and Miss Nellie E. Travel, society and amusements do not appeal to these two women, who for 40 years have toiled from 8 until 5 o'clock as bookkeepers in the shoe factory of their benefactor. They admitted that they had made no plans for the future. In fact, Miss Cobbett appeared to be almost too frail to enjoy any but the most quiet pleasures that money can purchase.

DEPUTIES DEFEAT ANOTHER MOVE TO ADJOURN SESSION

French Premier Wins by 350-209 Vote After a Strenuous Day.

SUCCESS ASSURED

Poincare's European Policies are Attacked by Socialist Leader Blum.

BY JOHN O'BRIEN (United News Staff Cor.) Paris, Aug. 23.— Premier Herriot received what was tantamount to a vote of confidence early this morning, when the Chamber of Deputies, by a vote of 350 to 209, defeated a motion by the opposition which called for an adjournment.

The motion came after a day of attacks on the European policy of ex-Premier Poincare, directed by the Socialist leader, Leon Blum. By various interpellations relating to the conference, Blum sought to show the wisdom of Herriot's policy and to demonstrate that Poincare's tactics had been the chief obstruction to the restoration of peace on the continent. Blum declared it was necessary to jettison Poincare's programme in order to reach an agreement on the Dawes plan.

RAIN IMPROVES WESTERN CROPS

Yields Well up to Average in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Winnipeg, Aug. 23.—Despite the set back to the crop in its ripening stages in many districts throughout western Canada, the recurring rains of the last two weeks have proved of great benefit to other points where moisture was needed to aid the grain in filling out. Given continued favorable weather, wheat cutting operations are expected to become general throughout three prairie provinces by the end of August. Early wheat cutting, which was halted by recent rains, is now being resumed and, according to reports from scattered points in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, yields are well up to the average.

In Northern Alberta the crops are reported to be ripening as fast as can be expected, although inclement weather still prevails.

OLD EDUCATION IS UNDER CRITICISM

Fails to Meet Needs, Experts Think, Says Former College Woman.

Miss M. L. Bolter is a guest at Sherbourne Club for a fortnight, says the Toronto Globe. Miss Bolter has been spending the summer at Columbia University, where she was one of a group who planned a course of study for deans of women's colleges and advisers of high schools and university girls in Canada and the United States. Miss Bolter was Dean of women in the University of British Columbia for the past three years. "Yes, in Vancouver, the University graduates take a vital interest in the affairs of the city," said Miss Bolter in answer to a query, "and they are responsible for many reforms. Seventeen years ago the University Women's Club was formed with eight members, and in that period, not only have the members increased, but 17 distinct reforms for women have been brought about through their efforts. They headed an agitation for every Saturday afternoon being a half-holiday and for the early closing of stores during the week before Christmas. They took a hand in the minimum wage laws, in the matter of mother allowances, in labor laws, in regulations governing juvenile delinquency, detention homes, and other questions relating to the welfare of women and children. And they all in addition to work of a purely educational character. A year and a half ago the university women organized a Business and Professions Women's Club of which Judge McGill is honorary president. In commenting on her summer's work at Columbia University, Miss Bolter stated that she found there a tendency to deplore the failure of the home to function as a center in providing a roof and food. It was felt that children no longer get their point of view from home but from the group they go with, and are not interested in standards but in what their particular set is doing.

HIS COLONY IN NEED OF WIVES

The "Last of the Samaritans," of Biblical days, a colony living near Jerusalem, is in danger of dying out. Unless the colony, now but 125 strong, permits marriages outside its own members, which has been forbidden for 2,000 years, it will soon become extinct. Cast aside at the time of the building of the second Temple, as not being Jews, these Samaritans lived aloof. They practice Judaism in a simple fashion and their dress is that of the Arabs. The picture is of a high priest. The characters are a mixture of Arabic and Hebrew.

Foretold Death of Everest Climbers

Katlungpo, No. Bengal, Aug. 23.—The death of Mr. Malloy and Mr. Irvine during their attempt to reach the summit of Mount Everest is not known, but it is a fact that if people are to live together in harmony they must be guided and helped vocally. Education has failed to produce the world of citizen wanted either in the world at large or in the community, said Miss Bolter, "and an effort is being made to have school life approximate ordinary life so that there may not be such a change of atmosphere when the boy or girl leaves school. Human relationships are being stressed in the teaching of all subjects and much attention is being directed toward vocational guidance and toward a training that will enable every one to bear his or her economic load. It is estimated that between 20 and 70 per cent. of the people who work are not in the positions that they are best fitted to fill, and it is evident that if people are to live together in harmony they must be guided and helped vocally.

MOTORISTS WILL APPRECIATE. Until a hoarding is placed around the Admiral Beatty lot, motorists would do well to look out for nails and other dangers that lurk in old "lath" and dismantling material. King street especially is used up, or was yesterday, a natural condition resulting from the hauling away of the ruined interior refuse. It is suggested that Commissioner Frink send his sweepers around these building jobs regularly, to make sure the disastrous single or lath nail is not lying in the path of the unwary automobile driver, like the German subs used to "get" the innocent merchantman a few years ago.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THE THEATRES OF ST. JOHN

NEXT WEEK'S BIG BILL AT IMPERIAL

London Concert Eight and Goldwyn Super-feature—Special Scale of Prices, But Still Cheap.

The return of the London Concert Eight to Imperial Theatre all next week in two performances daily—8:30 and 8:30—will give a delightful fillip to the waning summer. The reputation made by these charming overseas artists last spring—a reputation which they have left behind them all over Canada—will assure them bumper audiences again. The advertisement in this issue tells all about them. The Imperial picture show in connection with the double programme is an extraordinary one. It is Goldwyn-Cosmopolitan's super-melodrama "The Great White Way," verily an epic, a rhapsody, an act—three big shows rolled into one. Then the picture cleverly weaves the sporting writers, cartoonists, editors and others of the daily whirl of New York into the yarn—really truly prominent people. It is great.

The London Eight is a costly attraction and the Imperial must raise its scale to 26c-60c. The afternoon matinee 10c-40c. In the evenings during this coming week. There will be three changes of programme, both concert and films.

FLY THE FLAGS. The suggestion of Mayor Potts a short time ago that warring flags be flown for the visit of the men-of-war transformed the city, as it were, into a scene of unusual brilliancy, a gala effect. The experiment, not a new one by any means, should be permanent, inspiring to everybody, beautifully and encouraging. A clean flagpole and a respectfully clean flag are an asset to every citizen. A very special effort might be made, it is thought, to have all flag equipments freshened up for exhibition and for the all-Canada Canadian Club regatta in September, when at least 250 delegates from across the continent will be here to look us over.

JERE McAULIFFE STOCK COMING TO QUEEN SQUARE

What will be an event of real importance to St. John theatre goers will be the appearance of the McAuliffe-Taylor Players in St. John. M. S. P. steamer or Almonaco which left Southampton in the early part of the month. The sloop of His Majesty's horse, London, City which won the Godwood stakes this summer.

THIS IS GREAT DAY FOR THE NEWSIES

Some 400 Off This Afternoon to Torryburn for Picnic.

Fifteen and more motor trucks carrying hundreds of happy newsboys of The Times-Star and Telegraph-Journal were to leave the Century street offices early this afternoon for the Bishop's grounds at Torryburn, where the newsies' picnic will be held. Elaborate arrangements have been completed by committees and attention paid to every detail to make the picnic an event long to be remembered by those who attend. It was expected that fully 400 boys would turn out and complete the programme of sports that will include running races, potato races, sack races, three-legged races, baseball, etc., culminating in a grand tug-out. The boys are due back in the city at 8 o'clock.

Mayor Potts yesterday on return from Moncton added to the prize list by donating a suit of clothes and this prize has been allocated to the running race for the 14-year-old class, which has a heavy entry list. Members of the City Cornet Band will be in attendance and a special and amusing program for their benefit is designed. Dr. H. S. Eugene, Ore., Aug. 23.—Miss Althea Stoneman, a summer student at the University of Oregon here, is a school nurse. The school houses in her district are in motion from logging camp to logging camp in the pine forests about Bend, in central Oregon. When the timber in the radius of a camp is cut and the fathers of the children go on to new sites, the school houses are loaded on flat cars and taken along. Moving day for the schools usually is on Saturday or Sunday, regardless of when the rest of the camp bits. Miss Stoneman said the hundreds of children under her medical supervision were cleanly, although water was scarce on some locations.

LANG SCORED BY TOWNSFOLK BECAUSE OF AMERICAN TRIP. Munich, Aug. 4.—(By Mail).—Anton Lang, the famous Christ actor of Oberammergau, and his companions on the recent visit of these village players to the United States, have not been given a very warm welcome by their townsfolk.

There is criticism of the small amount of money brought back as the result of the trip, arranged originally to raise funds for the needy ones of the community, and the proposal that any of the money be used to erect a monument commemorating the visit has been assailed, according to a dispatch to the Waer Zeitung. Lang's enemies charge that he permitted himself to be duped while in the United States.

New Standards of Tire Performance Proclaimed By Car Owners

Just one thing is responsible for the remarkable public acceptance of Firestone full-size Gum-Dipped Balloons—the wonderful performance of these tires on the cars of users. Everywhere, from Victoria to Halifax, come reports of new and exhilarating experiences—of trips made over all kinds of roads in wonderful comfort and without fatigue, of perfect safety and of new mileage.

Follow the example of motorists of long experience and make the changeover on your car. Insist on Balloon Gum-Dipped Cords mounted on small diameter wheels, applied anywhere at low cost by Firestone service dealers. Or, if you are buying a new car, make certain of superlative ease, sure road grip and car conservation by demanding full-size balloon equipment. It is the combination of Firestone gum-dipping, Firestone design, construction and Steam-Welded Tubes that assure you the full measure of balloon tire superiority.

MADE IN CANADA. Firestone full-size GUM-DIPPED BALLOONS.

"Brakes More Effectively". Since February last we have been using Firestone Balloon Tires on our Buick Six Touring. We have found that these tires do not skid so readily and brake much more effectively than the high pressure tires. The mileage to date of these tires approximates 12,000, and from their present appearance they would seem to be good for at least another 12,000 miles. We have had no trouble from punctures. ALEX. McGARR, Slighting Autos, Taxis, Montreal, Que.

"Expects More Mileage". There is no comparison in the riding qualities of the two types of tires. My balloon tire having added greatly to the comfort. My tires have now covered four thousand miles, there is no sign of wear, and it would appear to me as though one might reasonably expect considerably more mileage from these tires than from the ordinary cord tire. WM. STEWART, Ottawa, Ont.

"No More Rumbles". I have had excellent results with these tires, they have eliminated the rumbling noise in my car, and make riding a real pleasure. Crossing car tracks and going over bad spots in the road is now like driving on a pavement. HUGH E. MACNAB, Halifax, N.S.

"Riding Qualities Improved". By equipping my car with Firestone Balloon Tires I found that the riding qualities were considerably improved, for they seem to absorb the shocks from the numerous bumps which are so noticeable with ordinary tires. I. PARROTT, Sackville, Sask.

"Through". One of our demonstrating cars has travelled over 10,000 miles with very little apparent tire wear which precludes any doubt as to the ultimate mileage expectancy. This is so unusual that we take pleasure in letting you know of the thorough satisfaction we are having with Firestone Balloon Tires. W. F. DONLIN, Sales Manager, Reo Motor Sales Company, Toronto, Ont.

"All Vibration Disappeared". As to riding qualities, in my opinion there is as much difference between ordinary pneumatic tires and full size Balloon Tires as there is between ordinary pneumatic tires and solid tires. All vibration and the continual annoying chassis rattles has disappeared, due to the tires absorbing the small holes and bumps in the road. JAMES H. LUCAS, Vancouver, B.C.

"Rides 50 Per Cent Smoother". This spring I equipped my Star Touring Car with a set of Firestone Balloon Tires. They have given me perfect satisfaction, and I can make much better time on the country roads, as they make the ordinary rough road like pavement, not necessitating slowing up for rough going. I certainly would not like to change back to high pressure tires. M. H. TESKEY, Killarney, Man.

"The Greatest Improvement That Could Be Added". I have given them a very fair test, having driven them 1275 miles within so short a time, and at a season when test was quite varied, having used them on icy, rutted roads, also on pavement coated with fresh snow, without the slightest tendency of skidding. They respond excellently to use of brakes and have fine steering qualities, all of which goes to make motoring a pleasure. This is my seventh car and believe that Balloon tires are the greatest improvement that could be added to make safe and pleasant motoring. W. R. TURNBULL, Brantford, Ont.

"The Ultimate Equipment". I wish to say that the comfort is totally different than any car I have ever ridden in. Might also add that the braking is simply wonderful. I believe that the balloon tire is the ultimate equipment for a motor car. GEORGE MOSER, Kitchener, Ontario.

TO EQUALIZE VALUATION.

Several years ago Hon. W. E. Foster directed the attention of the Legislature and the province to the desirability of having an equalized valuation in all the counties. Last year and the year before Mr. J. Y. Mesereau, a former mayor of Chatham, discussed the question before the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities, and he has done it again this year. President Trueman of Mount Allison also discussed the subject in his very valuable paper on the Administration of Public Education in New Brunswick. By concrete illustrations he showed how the present system interferes with a proper administration, and how it is necessary to try to bring about an equalization of treatment of schools by provincial grants, grants to teachers, and grants to poor districts. His remedy is an equalization for valuation throughout the province, through the commission, and making the county instead of the present school district the administrative unit. He contends that by this method, having one county instead of many district boards of trustees for administrative purposes, and a fair distribution of taxation, the schools in the wealthier districts would not lose anything, while those in the poorer districts would be brought up to a higher standard. There is no gaining his statement that the child in the poor district has the same right to a good school service as the village or town. The proposal to equalize valuations is not received with favor because it is not well understood. Wherever it has been adopted it has worked out more satisfactorily than the other system. There is another reason for a standardized valuation, which has been very well put by Mr. Mesereau. The present valuation statements do not give anything like a fair showing of property values in this province. We are not telling the world of our wealth in resources. It is not good advertising to conceal the truth in that respect. The province should adopt the principle of equal valuation, and the matter should be taken up for discussion by every Municipal Council. Pains should be taken to have the case presented to them as clearly as it has been placed before the Union of Municipalities, and there should be a combined request from all of them for legislation to bring the change into effect. It is a forward step in provincial and municipal business, and would be of much practical value to the province.

THE COURSE FOR TEACHERS.

President Trueman of Mount Allison, expresses the view that there should be a two years Normal School course for provincial teachers, and two years of actual teaching to show fitness before a license is granted. The Canadian Teachers' Federation, which met recently in Victoria, B. C., expressed the view that teachers should be raised to a professional status like doctors, lawyers and others, on the ground that their work is just as important as, and often more important than that of members of the other professions. The Toronto Globe observes that this suggestion is not being received with any marked degree of enthusiasm, but points out that it was not proposed to make such a change at once, but to keep moving in that direction. Ontario furnishes an instance to show that the standard of teaching is being improved from year to year. Dr. McNab, Inspector for South Renfrew, says that fifteen years ago there was not a second class teacher in all the districts of his inspectorate, while today there are very few who have not attained the second class. This, however, is not the result of a longer term at Normal School. What Dr. Trueman pleads for is a term long enough to ensure that the teacher shall have been thoroughly trained, and made more capable of understanding child-nature and guiding the child along the paths of true education than any other short term graduate could possibly be. At present, what Dr. Trueman puts forward may only be accepted as an ideal, but as the people generally get a clearer conception of the necessity of training the children for citizenship, as well as productive usefulness in the modern world, they will gain a correspondingly higher conception of what the qualifications of a teacher should be. This is in no sense a reflection upon the teachers of today; but, under the present system, far too large a proportion of those who take up the profession do it as a stepping stone to some other avocation.

POPULAR INDIFFERENCE.

There is a good deal of speculation in the United States as to the percentage of the vote that will be brought out in the presidential elections. In 1920 the native and naturalized citizens of voting age numbered 54,420,000. Of this number 28,674,000, or less than one-half, went to the polls. The New York Herald-Tribune makes the significant statement that "political slackness is more rife among the native-born than among the naturalized, for in 1920 the number of native-born voters exceeded the number of actual voters by 21,000,000." It is added that while some allowance must be made for the practical disfranchisement of negroes in some of the Southern States "the pernicious stay-at-home habit in the north and west is purely voluntary." The Herald-Tribune says that the bloc voters will all be out, each with his special axe to grind, and it urges all the people to go to the polls, on the ground that national problems can never be solved satisfactorily by dodging them. The habit of shirking political responsibility is not confined to our neighbors to the south. In Canada, whether in federal, provincial or civic elections, the proportion of the voters who actually cast their ballots is lamentably small. And yet, if the voice of the people is to find true expression in legislation, it can only be done through the universal exercise of the franchise.

Press Comment

CANNOT BE DONE.

There are a few things people expect, but which they will find very difficult to get. They cannot get increased wages from the government at the same time they get decreased taxes. They cannot have better schools without paying for them. They cannot enlarge federal bureaus and commissions without increasing expenses. They cannot match dollars with the government without putting "up the dollars." They cannot reduce taxes by voting big bond issues to pay for public improvements. They cannot live on a higher plane than their fathers lived without paying more for their living than their fathers paid. In other words, people cannot eat their cake and have it. Unless these facts sink into the public mind, and are acted upon, the tax burden will grow, the cost of living will increase and the problem of how to make both ends meet will grow more perplexing.

TAKING VACANT LAND.

The Municipal Review of Canada has an interesting article on what is called the unearned increment. Property not in use, but held for speculative purposes, is greatly increased in value by improvements made on adjoining property, and the public does not get its share of the benefit. Reference is made to a property in Toronto, purchased twenty-five years ago for $6,500 and recently sold for $250,000. It would be interesting to learn to what extent the taxes on this property were increased as it grew in value. It would probably be found that the increase in taxes was out of all proportion smaller than the increase in value. The custom is to tax vacant land lightly, while the toll and the money of adjacent owners enormously increase its value. It ought to be possible to graze the increase in the value of property of this class from year to year, and by taxation get for the municipality a reasonable share of the profits which accrue to the owner, who has himself done nothing at all to add to that value.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

The Prince of Wales leaves the shores of Britain today to visit the United States en route to his ranch in Western Canada, and he will visit several Canadian cities before returning to England. The press of the United States is already devoting a good deal of attention to his American programme, which will include a luncheon as the guest of President Coolidge in Washington. The Prince wins friends wherever he goes, and American society will make much of his visit. In Canada His Royal Highness will be doubly welcome, not merely because he is the future king but because on previous visits he won all hearts by his ability and evident desire to be just a man among men, rather than one set apart from the life of the people. He lives a strenuous life, and frankly confesses that this holiday is very much to his liking. In his journeyings he is gaining knowledge, making friendships and receiving impressions that will be of the highest value in later years.

THE DAY OF THE NEWSBOYS.

This is the day of the newsboys' picnic. Members of the staff of The Telegraph-Journal and The Times-Star will mingle with the boys in their sports, and endeavor to make the afternoon enjoyable for the lads who, though unattached, are a part of the organization which conveys to the young in all parts of the city the news of the day. Some of the older members of the staff may remember when they themselves carried newspapers, and between them and the boys there will be a perfect understanding. If we could look into the future, we would undoubtedly see some of these bright-faced boys grown to manhood and occupying positions of influence and responsibility. Without regard, however, to their possible future, they deserve their picnic, and may every one of them enjoy it to the utmost.

IT IS VERY SATISFACTORY.

It is very satisfactory to note that the municipalities of the province were more generally represented at the annual convention of the Union this year than in any previous year. The Union has justified its existence. It is worth while for the members of Municipal Councils to get together once a year to participate in such discussions and to hear such addresses as have marked the meetings of the Union in Moncton this week. There are problems, common to them all, which are the better understood at a round table conference where men may talk together and get each other's point of view. As a matter of fact our Municipal Councils should do more than they have ever done to shape provincial legislation, and they can only do this by getting together, studying the problems and arriving at a decision regarding policies which should be adopted.

CHRIST IN LONDON.

(Elfen Carfax, in Post, London.) Suppose the Christ on weary feet Should walk today the common beat What would He think of Regent Street? Suppose He saw the glittering signs of wealth; the glut of meats and wines through open pane, when Mayfair dines. Suppose that then the Christ should come South London way, and mark the sum Of misery in Lambeth slum. What wonder should His anger flare Against the church which kneels there, Forgets the things exceeding prayer.

HOPELESS DAWN.

(In the Tate Gallery.) The tabs that was spread by ready hands Waiteth in vain the fisherman's return; Exhausted, in the spray-flecked window, stands A candle now that there for hours did burn. A tardy morn succeeds a night of storm, A boat is missing from the village fleet, The brig shall never see that damnable form Hasten his children at the gate to meet. I see a shrunken mother, white with fears, Who saw the night out in the old arm chair. And, pilloved on her knees, a wife in tears— A moving, perfect picture of despair. —Alexander Louis Fraser.

ON THE IMMIGRANT TRAIL.

(Adventure Magazine) During the summers of '96-'97, there were Mormon immigrants passing through to Salt Lake City with wagons, trains three and four miles in length. Many of their men and women wearing wooden shoes had walked the entire distance from the Missouri River, some of them pushing hand-carts which contained all their worldly goods. There are some who will say they must have had wonderful faith in their religion to undergo and endure such months of grief and hardships. But I take a different view of the matter. They had got into a jacket and had to play it through—win or lose. Being at the same time a member of the garrison at Old Fort Casper, I remember how we kept on the jump up and down the line rescuing corralled immigrant trains from Red Cloud's horde of Sioux, Cheyenne and Arapahoe braves, and burying the dead they had left along the trail of slaughter when they caught any one of those parties at a disadvantage—which was quite often.

CRIME IN LONDON.

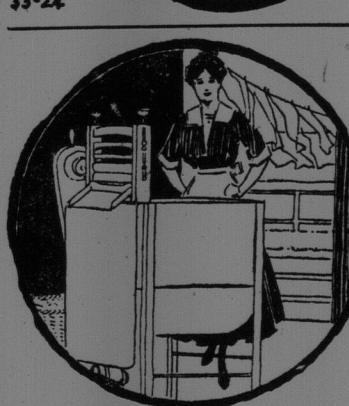

(Victoria Column.) Police statistics for London covering 1923 have just been issued. The strength of the police force there at the end of 1923 was 19,254, as against an establishment of 20,464. There has been a retrenchment policy in force, but it has not led to any general increase in crime. There were 15,283 cases of indictable offences during 1923 as compared with 15,979 in 1922. There was a decrease in the cases of burglary, shopbreaking and larceny, but an increase in housebreaking, counterfeiting and embezzlement. There was a decrease of 46 in the number of cases of attempted suicide. Minor crimes of violence showed a decrease. London is the largest city in the world; yet proportionately to population its murder record is by far the lowest. During 1923 there were 27 cases of alleged murder of persons above one year of age, as against 28 in 1922. No case of unprovoked murder occurred during the year; which is a remarkable tribute to the efficiency of Scotland Yard and the police force. There is no indication of increasing insobriety in London. During 1923 32,988 persons were dealt with by courts of summary jurisdiction for drunkenness, or drunkenness with aggravations, and this number was a decrease of 929 on the previous year. London is still able to furnish the greatest example there is of efficient police administration, though it must be admitted that the vast bulk of the population with which the metropolitan police force has to deal is of a type which respects the law and is used to the exercise of self-restraint.

MUTUAL DEPENDENCE.

"Suicide is the only thing that can be accomplished without using the efforts of others," says "Sam" in Forbes Magazine. "The point of the argument is that civilization depends upon the doing of many different jobs. The jobs create classes, because each job has a language and interest of its own, and people with the same interests will get together. The mechanic gets two thousand or so per year, because he preferred to start out with five dollars per day in hand instead of accepting the grind and the lean years of preparation. He reaps the exact reward of his own exertion, for the work he does there are a hundred or a thousand who can do as well.

THE ONE THING REQUIRED.

A colored preacher was comparing the church to a ship. "Now, brethren," he went on, "when you have de sail ready and de sails all up, what does you need fer to make de sail fill out and scoot de ship right along into de hebbony harbor? Huh?" "Wind," said de Deacon Simpson in a low tone. "Jesso!" continued de pastor. "Brooder Simpson will please circulate wid his high hat an' raise de wind."

LIGHTER VEIN.

The First Step. Doctor—Your nerves are weak. You must take a month off. Being at the same time a member of the garrison at Old Fort Casper, I remember how we kept on the jump up and down the line rescuing corralled immigrant trains from Red Cloud's horde of Sioux, Cheyenne and Arapahoe braves, and burying the dead they had left along the trail of slaughter when they caught any one of those parties at a disadvantage—which was quite often.

Few Notoches.

A jurist in Arizona heard a shot and in a short time came upon a rough-looking man cutting a notch on the handle of his gun. "Have you killed a man?" he gasped. "No," was the reply. "Then why the notch?" "I only cut 'em when I misses."

When Chickens Go Home to Roost.

A traveler passing through a colored settlement heard cries of anguish, and came upon a black woman who was laboring a pickaninny. "Wait!" said the stranger. "What's the boy been doing?" "He's done a nenty," answered the woman, with upraised hand. "He tuck an' let de chicken-coop do open, an' all de chickens done run away." "Don't worry," said the stranger.

Overland 7 STEPS That Mark an Amazing Achievement. ENDLESS claims could be made for the unequalled value offered in Overland and Willys-Knight Cars—based on what owners tell us. But claims are only claims. Facts, though, are facts. Here, then, are cold, unbiased facts that cannot be questioned. Government Reports of Automobile Registrations show that in Toronto in January, 1923, Willys-Overland occupied tenth position. Registration reports for the month of July, 1924, show Willys-Overland advanced to third position. Truly an amazing achievement. Certainly there can be only one reason: the public has found the greater balance of value in favor of Overland and Willys-Knight. These facts are even more significant when it is realized that Toronto is the centre of automobile competition in Canada—operating practically 10% of the motor vehicles in the Dominion. FRENCH-CANADIANS COMPLETE VISIT

Quebec Party is Entertained in Westmorland County.

Moncton, Aug. 22.—The last day of the French-Canadians visit to the Maritime Provinces was brought to a close tonight when the tourists entrained at 11 o'clock after a busy day. They were served breakfast at the University of St. Joseph's College, where addresses of welcome and replies were delivered. Dinner was eaten on board the train at Moncton and a lobster supper was served the 280 delegates in the open air by the people of Shediac. The day was ended with a visit to Scoudouc, the birthplace of H. H. Melanson, general passenger traffic manager of the C. N. R., to whom is largely due the success of the tour through Acadia. Mr. Melanson was presented a bouquet of 83 roses one for each year of life, by the residents of Scoudouc. It is interesting to note that this little unpretentious village is also the birthplace of College Bridge was reached at 6 o'clock this morning and mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's College at 7 o'clock, followed by breakfast in the college rectory. An address of welcome was delivered by Father Albert Vanier on behalf of the superior, who was not present. He was followed by Dr. C. Gaudet, Dr. Hurtelss, J. C. Martineau, vice-president of the Young French-Canadians, Rev. A. D. Cormier, of Shediac, the dean of the LaValle faculty, and Henri Bourassa, leader of the delegation.

The trains left College Bridge at 11 o'clock and arrived in Moncton at 11:50. The visitors were taken on a motor drive to Cocagne, Brule Point, Duchene and Shediac so that they might obtain a view of the beautiful coast of this part of New Brunswick.

DOCTORS WANTED TO OPERATE

Mrs. Quillon Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Saved Her from an Operation

Muskegon, Michigan.—"After doctoring for eight or nine years with different physicians without any relief at all, they said at last that medicine would not reach my case and I should have an operation. I had heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and often saw it advertised in different papers where some women had suffered just as I did and got well and strong again by taking the Vegetable Compound. I decided to see what it would do for me, and before I had finished the fourth bottle I was much better, the weakness stopped and the severe pains in my sides left me. I am now much stronger and do my own work and work in the factory besides. I am still taking the Vegetable Compound and give it all the praise."—Mrs. NELLIE QUILLON, 17 Morris St., Muskegon, Mich.

Women should heed such warning symptoms as bearing-down pains and weakness, for they indicate some female trouble, and a persistent and faithful use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will seldom fail to help.

VIRGINIAN SEES BIG PORT POSSIBILITIES

Major LeRoy Hodges, managing director of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, who spent yesterday in the city inspecting the port facilities, left last evening for Montreal to continue his work of studying the principal harbors of Canada. His intention in coming here was to pick up information which might be useful to the Virginia Chamber of Commerce in its proposed plan to make Hampton Roads a more widely used port for world trade.

He spoke highly of the possibilities of the port during his tour around the city. The summer climate of the city also came in for high praise from the visitor.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

BIMBO AND HIS PIG

"Does Bimbo live here?" he called.

"Let's go to see Bimbo the Clown," said Weeny, the circus elephant, and Nancy and Nick.

"Bimbo has a little pig called Squeaky and we're quite sure to have lots of fun."

"Oh, yes, let's," cried the Twins. "Clowns are jolly and kind, and we just love little pigs. Hurry up, Weeny, please."

"Let's see where Bimbo lives," said Weeny thoughtfully. "I think he lives between the five-and-ten-cent store and the movies, in Jolly Town."

So away he went on his big paddy feet as fast as he could go, with the Twins on his back, to Jolly Town. Jolly Town had nothing but candy stores, and toy stores, and ice-cream stores, and five-and-ten-cent stores, and movies, and right between the five-and-ten-cent store and the movies was a candy house with an ice-cream cone chimney and lime-drop windows. The steps were sugar leaves and the bricks were caramels. There was a candy stick tree with chocolate drop trimmings.

Weeny hurried up to the door and knocked with his trunk.

"Does Bimbo live here?" he called down the chimney.

"Yes, he lives here," answered a queer voice up the chimney. "But he's not in."

"When will he be in?" asked Weeny down the chimney.

"He won't be in," said the queer voice up the chimney.

"Why?" asked Weeny.

"Because he can't get in," said the voice. "He can't get in because I'm here."

"Oh, you must be a mean person to keep him out of his own house," said Weeny, severely. "You ought to be ashamed of yourself."

"I am ashamed," said the voice. "But I can't help it. I'd go out if I could get out, but I can't get out. I'm too fat. I fill the whole house and I'd knock everything to pieces if I tried to get out."

"Who are you?" asked Weeny.

OPPOSES CHANGE IN SCHOOL LAW

Premier Also Out Strongly for Public Ownership of Grand Falls

Moncton, Aug. 22—A clear-cut pronouncement in favor of public ownership and development of the Grand Falls and an equally clear-cut opposition to any change in the present school system in the province of New Brunswick featured the address of Premier Veniot this evening to the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities.

The union went on record as being in favor of mother's allowances, the cost to be divided equally between the Government and the municipalities; the appointment by the Government of an outside expert to investigate and make a survey of the educational system of the province and of doing all possible to stimulate trade through the port of St. John.

Hon. R. W. Wigmore, elected president of the union for the coming year and it was decided to hold the next meeting in the city of St. John, the time to be set by the executive. It was decided to have a bill prepared for submission to the next session of the Legislature providing for the establishment of a board of arbitration to deal with all inter-municipal disputes.

Premier Veniot.

On opening the evening session of the union the floor was given to Premier Veniot, who had expressed desire to speak on some of the matters coming before the convention. The Premier expressed his thanks for the privilege of addressing the convention and for the invitation to attend. He had felt it his duty to accept this invitation as matters closely touching the municipalities were being dealt with at all times by the Legislature and it was the business of the leader of the Government to get in as close touch as possible with the municipal legislators and get their views. It was only in such gatherings as this that common problems could be discussed without politics creeping in and it was in that fact that lay the value of the convention.

He referred to the paper read by Dr. Treuman in which equalization of valuation for the entire province for school purposes, was advocated and claimed the conclusions of the paper would not hold as the conditions were so much different here than in the United States and Ontario. If such a change was made it would destroy the county school fund and add a greater burden to the poor districts.

Hydro Matters.

Referring to hydro, the Premier said this had become a hobby with him as

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

BAKER AUGUST BLOPP MADE A GOOD SALE TO DAY—WHEN HE GOT RID OF A DOZEN MONTH OLD DOUGHNUTS TO A STRANGER WHO RAN OVER FROM THE NOON TRAIN.

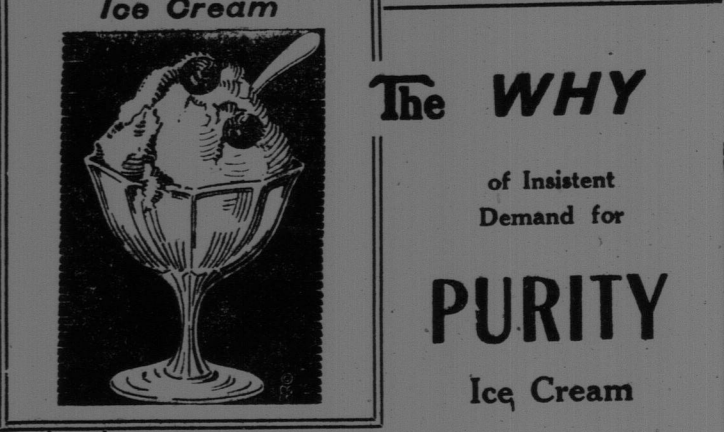

He believed the solution of our economic problem was the supplying of cheap power to bring industries. He had come to the point where he believed that the water powers of the province and particularly Grand Falls must be developed under public ownership and control and so far as he was concerned no private corporation would get an opportunity to control any of the natural resources of the province. The Hopewell Cape development, he believed should be jointly developed, if this was a commercial possibility by the joint provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, or if this was not done possibly by a private company, but only on the condition that the province should have some measure of control over the sale of the current. There need be no fear of a market, he said, for already British capital was looking this way to invest in newspaper mill and at least one Paris newspaper wanted to establish a newspaper mill here as soon as the power was available.

Social Notes of Interest

Rachel Senior Merrill, who has been acclaimed one of the leading violinists of North America and has everywhere won golden opinions for her marvellous musical talent and her personal charm, yesterday was the honor guest at a tea given by her hostess in the city, Mrs. T. J. Gunn. Mrs. Merrill has come to St. John to spend a few weeks visiting Mrs. Gunn, who was her chum and fellow student in New York when both were studying under Franz Kniesel. Mrs. Gunn invited several of her musical friends to meet her guest yesterday at the tea hour and the event was a delightful social occasion. Mrs. Gunn is a charming hostess. She received with Mrs. Merrill and was wearing a lovely gown of corn colored silk made in simple style with strong lines and for a corsage bouquet wore a beautiful orchid. Mrs. Merrill's gown was of white silk crepe with rose finish, a handsome and becoming costume. The reception rooms were very tastefully arranged and the color scheme of silver and lavender was most effective. Graceful flowers in lavender shades filled the silver basket that centred the mahogany tea table. Mrs. J. Z. Currie and Mrs. J. Milton Barnes poured tea and coffee and those assisting in serving were Mrs. Harold McMichael, Mrs. Clarence Girvan, Miss Ermine Climo and Miss Audrey Roulston. The door was opened for the guests by little Miss Dot McMichael who looked very dainty in pink. Mrs. F. A. Goddard ushered. The refreshments were delicious. Amongst the guests were Mrs. C. H. Peters, Miss Eileen Gillis, Mrs. Kent

Scovil, Mrs. Thomas Guy, Miss Louise Knight, Mrs. E. G. Spencer, Mrs. Walter Golding, Miss Blenda Thompson, Mrs. L. V. Lingley, Miss Beryl Blanche and others.

Mrs. Fred Foster entertained a few friends at a small and informal luncheon at her residence in Leinster street yesterday when the honor guest was Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, who is leaving shortly to make her home in Toronto.

Mrs. and Mrs. Joseph Hennecsey, who motored from Waterton, Mass., returned to their home yesterday, having spent a delightful time visiting relatives in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Miss Gladys R. Murray, of St. Stephen, who had been visiting Miss Marie Tapley at her summer home at Renforth for a few weeks returned home last night.

Mrs. Harold Mooney and son arrived in the city yesterday on the Montreal train, having come to St. John to attend the wedding of Mrs. Mooney's cousin, Miss Blanche Driscoll.

Miss Blanche Driscoll, who is to be one of the principals in a nuptial event in the near future, was pleasantly surprised on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Beatrice Murray, Clarence street, when several of her friends gathered and tendered her a novelty shower. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received by the bride-to-be. The evening was pleasantly spent with music and dancing and refreshments were served. Good wishes for her future happiness were extended to Miss Driscoll before the party dispersed.

The new building will be thrown open for inspection and a great array of attractions will be conducted for the patronage of friends of the orphanage.

Members of the committee visited the grounds yesterday and made final plans with regard to the location of booths and the arrangement of the fair generally. The fair is to run for the afternoons and evenings of Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. On the first day the Pythian Sisters will serve tea and supper and on the second day the members of the L. O. B. A. will have this important task in hand.

The sale of tickets has been brisk since the announcement that to be broad to them has been identified No. 2 will carry on and when No. 2 has been "spotted" No. 8 will then be in the limelight ready to give $5 to the first person that gives the correct solution. If the enquirer has the latest copy of The Telegraph-Journal or Times-Star then he or she will receive besides the $5, a year's subscription to The Telegraph-Journal.

Commencing this morning the three mysterious friends of the orphans will be expecting these solutions. They have the $5 ready and are undertaking their part in the scheme to help out Government reports show that 80,000,000 brooms are used in the United States annually.

SAW BURGLAR BUT MADE NO OUTCRY

Carl Bassen Feared Alarming His Wife and Young Child.

Watching a burglar help himself to $155, Carl Bassen, 139 Waterloo street, did not make any sound for fear of alarming his wife. The thief annexed the money from Mr. Bassen's trousers' pocket and then departed early yesterday morning. The police were notified a short time after the departure. A search of the room showed that the burglar had taken a napkin which had been discovered by the detectives this far. The authorities suspect that it is the same "gentleman" who on Thursday night last few summers and robbed several houses and then passed on to other fruitful fields.

Thursday night Mr. Bassen returned to his home between 11 and 12 o'clock and retired. He hung his trousers on a hook in his room. His wife and infant child were asleep in the same room. So that the child would not be awakened when the bedroom door was closed a napkin was placed between the door and the casing. This was always put on a chair at the entrance. The napkin was used when Mr. Bassen arrived home late on Thursday night, but early in the morning in the vicinity of 5 o'clock the infant awoke and Mr. Bassen was obliged to leave his room and get a bottle of milk to feed the youngster. In doing so he noticed that the napkin used as a jam for the door was not in place.

The matter of feeding the baby took only a few minutes and shortly afterward Mrs. Bassen and her child were asleep, but Mr. Bassen was awake. The fact that the napkin used as the casing was removed brings to the mind of Mr. Bassen that the thief was in his room at the time the child was fed its milk, for it was only about 15 minutes after mother and child were asleep when Mr. Bassen noticed the figure of a man walking in the room.

Mr. Bassen could not give a description of the thief as the room was in darkness but he could see the man prowling about. He saw the thief take the pair of trousers from the hook, extract the money from a side pocket and then with cut-like tread with his rubber soled shoes depart from the room. Mr. Bassen said that he did not make any outcry or try to prevent the "second storey man" in his work for the reason that he would have greatly alarmed his wife but he allowed the thief to get away with the goods, and (Bassen) remained quietly in bed until the electric lights, informed his wife of the theft and later on, which was about 4 o'clock yesterday morning, telephoned to the police headquarters and reported the matter to the detectives. When the police officers arrived on the scene there was no sign of the thief.

What To Do For Frail, Feeble, Old People

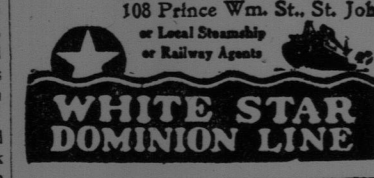

"When age begins to thin the blood all the vital functions slow down and impair the health. In such cases," says Dr. Emil Bauer, "I know of nothing better than your organic iron need most, is something to put back the iron in their blood. Without iron nothing you eat does you any good. Your food merely passes through you, it is the iron in your blood that enables you to get the nourishment out of your food."

"For old people who feel their former strength slipping away, I always prescribe Nuxated Iron, which contains iron like the iron in spinach, lettuce and apples and like the iron in your blood. It is a true tonic, blood and body builder, and in my own practice, I have had aged people tell me that they felt years younger when in only a few weeks' time."

Nuxated Iron, recommended above by Dr. Emil Bauer, may be had at any good drug store. Try taking two tablets three times a day for two weeks, and if you do not feel years younger with new strength, energy and health, your own druggist will gladly refund your money.

WEDDINGS

Collier-Kendall.

On Wednesday evening the 20th inst. a quiet wedding was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Van Horne, 70 Queen street, when Harry C. Collier, of West Coast, Newfoundland, was united in holy wedlock to Miss Martha Kendall, of Ramona, Newfoundland. Both bride and groom came to this city about a year ago and owing to their faithfulness and devotion to their work and their very friendly dispositions they have made many friends in the city. Mr. and Mrs. Van Horne, who are noted for taking great interest in and showing great kindness to strangers, had their home very nicely arranged for the occasion.

The bride received many useful and much prized gifts. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful necktie. The bride was becomingly gowned in beautiful navy blue dress with hat to match. They will reside at 78 1/2 Queen street. The marriage ceremony of the Methodist church was performed by Rev. A. D. Macdonald, pastor of Carmarthen street Methodist church.

LABOR M.P.'S COMPLAIN THEIR SALARIES ARE TOO SMALL

London, Aug. 22.—(By mail)—Members of the Labor party who have been elected to parliament find that the salary of £2,000 yearly is barely sufficient in fact many of them have to supplement their official income by week-end speaking engagements, lectures, and writing magazine articles. It is said by several members that one of the most expensive items is that of entertaining visitors from constituent circles who call to "see how their member is getting on" and incidentally to have a look around and be entertained on the famous rounds to tea or lunch.

BRIDGE CASE TO PRIVY COUNCIL

Province Will Ask for Appeal regarding C. P. R.
Structure at Falls.

Application will be made to the Privy Council in October for special leave to appeal the so-called "bridge" case, in which the Canadian Pacific Railway Company was granted decisions over the Province of New Brunswick, directed to the Privy Council in order that final decision may be reached as to the jurisdiction of navigation on the St. John River, according to a statement made here last night by Hon. W. P. Jones, K.C., of Woodstock, who represents the province. A petition and papers have been sent to solicitors in London for presentation in October. Special emphasis is being laid on the case in view of the proposed development of electric power at Grand Falls and the desire of the province to know whether it has control over the waters of the river. The Appeal Court of New Brunswick decided against the province and gave the jurisdiction to the Dominion of Canada, under the British North America Act, which, it maintained, transferred the rights conferred upon the province by the Assiniboia Treaty in 1842 to the Dominion Government.

An official statement given last evening by Hon. Wendell P. Jones, K.C., of Woodstock, who is staying with Mrs. Jones at the Royal Hotel here, was as follows: "Acting for the province, I have prepared a petition and have forwarded it to solicitors in London, Eng., together with certified documents in the case for the purpose of having application made in October to the Privy Council for special leave to appeal the 'bridge case,' as called, over the river at Reversing Falls. The appeal is being taken direct from the Appeal Court of the province and leave is being asked for the grounds that the questions involved are important constitutional questions and have to do with the jurisdiction in reference to navigation on the St. John River. 'The matters have much increased importance to the province by reason of the proposed development of Grand Falls for electric power purposes. It is desirable to have the question as to whether this jurisdiction to regulation of navigation is in the Dominion of Canada or in the Province of New Brunswick."

in the Province it is contemplated that, in the development of power at Grand Falls, structures will be erected in the river by the province. The province bases its claim upon the Assiniboia Treaty of 1842 which, it is alleged, gave to the New Brunswick Government the right to regulate navigation on the St. John River, where both banks thereof are within the province. The Court of Appeal of New Brunswick held that the Act of British North America had the effect of transferring any right which the province heretofore had under the treaty to the Dominion Government. This is the only question involved in the action. It is expected that, should special leave be granted to appeal, the argument will take place in May."

ARMORED MAIL
CAR BIG SUCCESS

Post Office Department Tests New Equipment by Staging Hold-up.

Brewster, N. Y., Aug. 22.—Six armed men held up the engineer of a New York Central train in a lonely stretch of the Putnam Division's line at Tilly Foster, two miles from here, shortly after dark and attempted to seize United States mails. Equipped, however, with the Government's latest anti-bandit paraphernalia, from zinc guns to bright magnesium candles, the mail clerks fought off the men without the loss of a single letter. At no time in the memory of Tilly Foster's oldest inhabitant had there been such excitement as prevailed. The few villagers of that old milling town, attracted by the loud shots from .45c, the sputter of machine gun bullets and the flare which lit up the rugged countryside, rushed to the scene as quickly as their feet or "fivers" could take them.

There they saw a dozen newspaper and "movie" photographers, already on the job, taking pictures of every stage of the hold-up. Newspaper reporters were there to ask the bandits how they liked their business. And officials of the post office and the New York Central were also on hand to see if the hold-up was a success. "300 Care to Be Equipped. It wasn't, so the post office intends to equip 8,000 of its mail cars similar to that used in the test, in order to prevent the recurrence of mail train hold-ups in the future. The scene chosen for the hold-up was slightly west of the abandoned Tilly Foster coal mine, about a quarter of a mile from the Tilly Foster reservoir and only a short distance from Tilly Foster's only store. It was there that the "bandits" regaled themselves with ham sandwiches, soda water and crackers before their big job. When the train's big headlight announced its approach from Brewster, the six men, dressed like the highwaymen of the "movies" lay prone on their stomachs in the high grass and shrubbery. They were armed with revolvers, when the locomotive was a dozen yards away, and two of the men boarded the cab and told Engineer J. Dalrymple and Fireman D. M. Cone they were sufficient warning and the train came to a halt. In the meantime the others made a rush for the mail car. But the clerks brought into play every piece of apparatus they had. They inserted the flare into the two holes on either side of the car, which lighted automatically and threw the country for several hundred feet into plain view. They saw the position of the "robbers" who were now clinging close to the car and firing at it. The windows are bullet proof.

The windows, however, were wired and bullet proof, and the car sides were made of steel. Through loopholes at both ends of the car, the clerks aimed and fired their rifles. The flare showed one of the "bandits" standing near the middle of the car. This was the signal of the cameramen when the firing was hottest. "Can't you see your own feet in the light now so we can get that picture. Cut out the smiling, will you." Finally, at the demand of the cameramen, all of the "bandits," who actually were post office employes, played dead. Chas. C. Gove, Deputy Assistant Postmaster General of Washington, said he was satisfied the test was a success. The "bandit-proof" car used by S. Gallagher, Engineer of Rolling Stock of the New York Central, and Pitt Hand, also with the Central, were among those who witnessed the "hold-up."

Is There Hope Beyond the Grave?

People of all ages have been greatly interested in our subject; possibly no subject has caused greater controversy. The great rapidity with which events transpire in our day force upon all a keener realization of the shortness of human life, and hence the question of the dead becomes of ever increasing interest. Some say the dead are dead, and that is the last of them; others say that they are not dead, but alive—the few in heaven and the great majority in hell fire and brimstone; still others say one never really dies but simply evolves on from one form of life to another.

Where have our soldier dead gone? Will their loved ones see them again? Is there any such thing as a second chance? Or is one judged at death for all eternity?

Iron, Metal and Machinery Market

Toronto, Aug. 22.—In a summary of the iron, steel and machinery markets, Canadian Machinery and Manufacturing News makes the following comment this week: The course of the metal-working industry still reflects a steadiness, which is sufficient to keep manufacturer and dealer alike optimistic in looking forward to the fall. Dealers in cold-rolled steel, sheets and plates, report business good. W. M. David of Baines & David, Toronto, after reviewing business in the last few months, found that sales in July exceeded those of June, a condition all unlearned of in steel products, while August proved equal to July in the total amount of sales. Canadian Car & Foundry Co., Montreal, reports the following orders shipped during July: For Canadian National Railways, 2 all-steel compartment sleeping cars, 6 all-steel mail and express cars, 20 all-steel first-class coaches, 400 steel frame box cars, and 23 caboose cars; for the Algoma Central Railway, 50 composite ballast cars.

The settlement of the London Conference has as yet had no actual reflection in market prices, in spite of anticipation to the contrary. However, it is practically certain something will "break" owing to the settlement at an early date, and in all likelihood there will be an advance in copper. Mill prices on brass and copper products at Toronto have advanced 3-4c in the last week. This advance has not affected warehouse prices as yet. It remains at $55 and spelter at $8.30. Antimony has been cut from $11 to $10, and aluminum has advanced from $23.50 to $24.50. There has been a slight change in price on cold-rolled steel, but sheets and plates remain stationary.

TO OVERHAUL LAURENTIAN.
The Government steamer Laurentian was placed on the marine railway at Toronto have advanced 3-4c in the old material market is now $18.80 to $19.10. The New York pig iron market has had a decided brightening during the last week, and prices are tending upward. Foundry iron is rapidly establishing a level of $20.80, furnace minimum, with the usual differential for the higher grades. Demand is increasing in wire products, and 846 is being offered freely on wire rods. The iron and steel scrap market is strong and practically unchanged.

A new shaving brush containing liquid soap in the handle makes the work easy.

Tom Mix Feature at Queen Square Delights Large Throng.

Western romance of unusual interest is "The Heart Buster," from the story by George Scarborough, which opened at the Queen Square Theatre last night for a two day run. Set in the heart of the cow country in Arizona, this picture the fifth in which William Fox has featured Tom Mix, can be truthfully acclaimed one of the best pictures of this star who never makes a bad picture.

The plot of "The Heart Buster" centres around Tom, in the role of Tod Walton, a young ranch owner, being desperately in love with Rose Hillyer, daughter of his neighbor. Rose has just completed her education in Europe and her homecoming is a cause of great excitement around her father's ranch. Speculation is rife, however, when she steps off the train accompanied by a foreigner of distinguished bearing whom she announces as her fiancée. When Tom knocks him down for kissing her.

From this point on you will be kept on razor edge. Tom recalls seeing the gentleman who has won Rose's heart engaged in a pursuit on which the lady frowns and although he tells the lady he will do anything to win her, she believes and Tom has the job of proving his accusations on his hands. This proves a hard task. For while he is doing it he must also prevent the marriage. His activity in this direction lands him in jail where he is rescued in an extraordinary manner by his faithful horse Tony. The rescue was none to soon as you will see if you attend a showing of "The Heart Buster," which we advise you to do if you don't want to miss one of the best pictures to come here in a long while.

Ether Ralston plays the part of Rose Hillyer entrancingly and as a blushing bride you will find her irresistible. Others in the cast are Cyril Chadwick, William Courtwright, Frank Currier, and Tom Wilson. Jack Conway directed.

Picture Firm Uses Floating-Bar Story as Publicity For Film

New York, Aug. 23.—An advertisement signed by the "Captain of the Twelve Mile Limit" which appears in the amusement columns of newspapers, is publicity for a forthcoming picture of the Universal Pictures Corporation, an officer of that firm acknowledged, and not an advertisement for the floating cabaret discovered by Sanford Jarell, of The New York Herald Tribune staff.

In fact Robert H. Cochrane, vice-president of the Universal Pictures Corporation, wished it to be understood distinctly that the corporation had no interest whatever in the transformed liner, except the value which the story had for it for advertising purposes. It had not occurred to him, he said, that the corporation could be interested even to that extent until a reporter for "The New York Times" called on him at his home in New Rochelle and informed him of a rumor that the Universal had planted the ship at the twelve-mile limit for the express purpose of being discovered in order to advertise "Wine" its new picture.

Although declaring that there was no truth whatever in the rumor, the notion appealed to Mr. Cochrane and he determined forthwith to make use of it. As a result of that determination the following advertisement was prepared and sent to the newspapers:

To the Public:

In order to clear the mystery created by my nameless ship, now outside the twelve mile limit, I have decided to offer everybody a chance to inspect it. If you want to see this ship, its rolling deck and its unusual equipment, if you would like to make use of it, you would like to make use of it. As a result of that determination the following advertisement was prepared and sent to the newspapers:

THIS IS WHAT MAKES FRIENDS FOR CITY

St. John Motorist Does the Right Thing for Visitors.

A St. John motorist, noticing a New York party of automobilists stalled on the Brookville roadside one day this week, pondering a guide-book, wheeled about at the nearest turning point and returning to the visitors, enquired if he could be of any service.

The New Yorkers—a party of six, ladies and gentlemen—were rather taken aback at the suggestion and thanked the local man profusely, remarking:

"Well yes, if you please; we're just wondering how we can see the city of St. John's most interesting features as we pass through, within the next hour on our way to Bangor."

The spokesman was looking up our city in an internationally-known publication on all parts of the world. It was naturally a rather concrete and predigested line of information in so general a volume, so the St. John man took out his fountain pen and dashed off a list of St. John's leading features.

The list was arranged in the order of the party's progress into the city. It began with Fernhill, one of the continent's most beautiful cemeteries. Then the dry dock and East St. John. The up-to-the-minute County Hospital, rated as one of the ultra institutions on T. B. in Canada. St. John's new twin harbor, like New York's; the city's elevated hospitals, its historical (war of Revolution) graveyard; classic Court House to be preserved; modern theatre, erection of United Hotels chain hostelry, coastwise shipping, terminal facilities, fishing industry, historic Port Howe, Reversing Falls, lumber mills, pulp mills, new orphanage, hydro source etc., etc. until the motorists got into the night.

"Are you the Mayor of this city?" asked one of the ladies as the man tucked his pen away. "If not you ought to be. It is not often we get such helpful attentions in our journeys. In Halifax Mayor Murphy did almost the same thing for us and now we are beginning to assume you Maritime people all think alike when strangers are here."

The Times-Star prints this little incident to illustrate the very great value to St. John and our country generally that lies in a purposeful act of courtesy to enquiring tourists. Even "butting in," so-called, is a forgivable act and visitors almost invariably appreciate it. St. John has no rubber-stamp cars or buses from which the place is lectured by megaphone, so it is up to everybody to do a little lecturing of his and hers when our good friends from outside places want to find out all about us.

It was afterwards learned by the Times-Star that the party of New York people referred to included a magazine writer of note—an angel unaware, as it were.

A Baby Bird And a Baby Boy

Here's a cute little story, dead straight, too.

Up in Sydney street, right next to St. Malachi's Hall, is a cobbler shop kept by G. P. James. Mr. James has a boy about five years of age.

Three weeks ago the little lad was playing about his daddy's shop when a teeny-weeny English sparrow baby chirped pitifully on the sidewalk through the open door.

The kiddie went out and closed it up, took it into the shop, put it in the sunny window and got the bird mended shoes to be called for and shared his cookie with it.

Throughout the day the two little fellows—baby sparrow and baby boy—were quite chummy. The sparrow couldn't fly much; he was not such a human pal was not allowed to eat at the bench.

That was three weeks ago. The sparrow, it is said, died. The cobbler shop, and Master James with it, moved to the new premises. The sparrow has grown famously under the care of the boy, and now he hops all over the place and makes little excursions to the sidewalk and roundabout, but cannot fly yet.

Moreover, the bird plays familiarly with his little chum, is not a bit afraid of the wind, and when customers visit the shop, perking up the sparrow, and showing him his beady eyes, to the amusement of all.

The baby sparrow, the boy boy and the kindly cobbler tell the citizens of the town that kindness and what it will do.

CLOSED THIS AFTERNOON.

SAYS CALIFORNIA'S FRUIT CROP FINE

Visitor From Pacific Coast Says Frisco Has Building Boom

Silas Harris, representative of the Guggenheim Fruit Company, of San Francisco, arrived in the city yesterday on a business trip. Speaking of the fruit crop in California this season, he said that it was the best that had been produced for several years. Not only was a bumper one but prices were remaining high not only for fresh fruit but also for the dried variety.

When he left San Francisco three weeks ago Mr. Harris reported that there was a building boom on several large municipal buildings as well as business places and private residences were being erected. There was little or no unemployment in San Francisco.

These conditions, however, he said, were a vast improvement on those of not so very long ago when business was at a low ebb and unemployment was prevalent. The cause of the boom he could not explain but was confident that it had come to stay for some time at least.

The usual business depression which accompanied a Presidential election year was missing thus far in California, although he expected that it might possibly be felt a little later on.

DISASTERS OF 1894 RECALLED

Tug Maggie M. Wrecked and Primrose Lost 30 Years Ago.

In the Times-Star on Thursday, in connection with the election of Capt. Arnold J. Mowry to the high office of grand vice chancellor of the Knights of Pythias, maritime domain, reference was made to the wreck of the tug Maggie M., in the Bay of Fundy 30 years ago. The file of the Daily Telegraph of August 21, 1894, brings back the story of that tragedy.

Thirty years ago, on Aug. 19, in a dense fog off Martin's Head, the tug Maggie M. struck on a reef and Captain J. A. Mowry, John L. Mowry, Herbert Mowry, engineer of the boat, and Captain Samuel Pitman were drowned. Many old time residents will recall the thrill of horror that came to citizens when news of the disaster was first made known.

Wellington Mowry, one of the survivors, related in the columns of the Daily Telegraph of August 21, 1894, that the fog was very thick when the start was made for Alma. He said the tug struck before the people on board had any idea where they were. The tug went on the reef with a crash and excitement reigned. The boat listed heavily to one side and the waves began to break over her. Captain Mowry ran from the wheel house and assisted others on the boat in launching a tender from the upper deck. Eight people jumped into it and shot off but he feared she had gone 40 feet she capsized. Wellington Mowry finally caught hold of the tug's rudder and climbed back aboard the ill-fated craft. He blew the tug's whistle to alarm residents on shore. He threw a life buoy to his father but a high sea lifted it and carried it out of his reach and his father drowned before his eyes. He said he kept the whistle going but was powerless to do anything to help the others. Captain Pitman and his two uncles clung to the boat for about an hour and then let go and sank almost at the same time. Just about the time when all hope was abandoned a boat appeared from the short and the men were rescued.

Wellington Mowry drove 30 miles to Sussex and came to the city by train. Martin's Head is about half way between Quaco and Cape Enrage. There is a sandy bar more than a half mile long with a large rocky head and reef running out in every direction. The tide runs around it with powerful force. In addition to the men who lost their lives the following were on board: Wellington and Arnold Mowry, Fred Lahey and Dr. Russ.

The Primrose Disaster

The 30th anniversary of another terrible St. John drowning tragedy fell on Thursday of this week. The accident occurred when the yacht Primrose was struck by a squall off Mahogany Island and capsized and eight men lost their lives. The names of those lost are: Samuel Hutton, owner and captain of the Primrose; Henry Bartlett, George Heathfield, Fred Price, Al. Akeley, William Russell, James Hurley and Henry Hoyt. Out of a crew of 12 the following survived: Howard Holder, Fred Evans, James McKewen, and T. H. Miles. There were five yachts in this race, the Maple Leaf, owned by Elijah Mowry, the Primrose, the Suno, the Clytie and the Gracie M.

The Daily Telegraph's account of August 22, 1894, tells of the appalling accident. The north wester that caused the accident began with sudden and terrible fury. The Maple Leaf, on which which was a large as marbles commenced to fall and then a terrific downpour of rain set in that drenched everyone in the yachts to the skin. The wind was reputed to have reached a velocity of 100 miles an hour. The Primrose went over with the first gust and the yacht was down and inside of five minutes carrying eight men to a watery grave.

DEATH OF GIRL.

The death of Mary Elizabeth Sadler, aged eight, occurred early this morning in the General Public Hospital, where she had been a patient since Sunday. She is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur A. Sadler, two brothers, Elmer and Arthur, and one sister, Marion, all of St. John, to whom the sympathy of many friends will be extended. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon from the mission church.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter to Mr. Hiram Hornbeam, "the people on the planet Mars are trying to talk to us."

"How do they know we're here?" demanded Hiram.

"They don't," said the reporter.

"How do we know they're anybody on Mars?" went on Hiram.

"We don't," said the reporter.

"If they knew we were here and we knew they were there," said Hiram, "how could we talk to one another and understand one another?"

"We couldn't," said the reporter.

"Then what are you blathering about?" asked Hiram.

"Didn't you notice some vibrations or something out to the Settlement last night?" asked the reporter—"something you couldn't explain?"

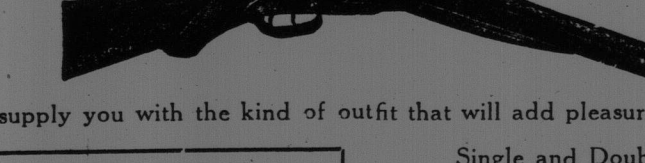

"Well, now," said Hiram, "I did fall out o' bed last night—when I looked out o' the window I seen a star shoot in?"

"Ah!" said the reporter. "That is most important information. I will put it on the wire at once. The scientific observers in other countries will receive it with joy. Undoubtedly it was a message from Mars."

"Good Lord!" said Hiram.

"Amen!" said the reporter.
