WOULD CARRY CONTRA ON RECIPROCITY

Sir Frank Newnes, English Publisher, After Visit to Canada, Says Dominion is Strong for Trade Pact

(Canadian Press)

New York, April 13—Sir Frank Newnes, an English publisher, who was in New York today on his way home after a month's tour of Canada, found the people of the dominion overwhelmingly enthusiastic for reciprocity, he says. He travelled from Montreal to Winnipeg, visiting the principal centres of population, particularly with a view to ascertaining the sentiment of all classes on the proposed tariff agreement.

He summed up his conclusions as follows on his arrival here:—"The Canadian Parliament is only awaiting the action of the American Congress to make the long dream of reciprocity between the dominion and the United States a reality."

"So strong has the issue made the Laurier government that I am very ready to see Sir Wilfrid Laurier resign and go to the country on the question he would be overruled by the people."

"In the west I found the sentiment even stronger than in the east, with the exception of Winnipeg. In that city there is a feeling that, with present trade relations with the United States undisturbed, Winnipeg soon would become the world's great flour making centre, a fear exists there that, with the tariff taken off wheat, the great flour making centre at Minneapolis and St. Paul will continue to lead the world and Winnipeg's development will be checked."

RIOTERS RAMPANT IN FRANCE

Troubles in Champagne District Continue Despite Presence of Troops—Women Foremost in the Work of Destruction

(Canadian Press)

Epernay, Dept. of Marne, France, April 13—Despite the fact that the department of Marne is a vast armed camp with infantry, cavalry and artillery bivouacked throughout the night at almost every village in the champagne district, renewed rioting broke out today and the flame of anger and vengeance continues to sweep the grape growing region. The disorders began last Tuesday following the adoption of a resolution by the senate favoring the suppression of all territorial delimitations of the grape growing area, which greatly exasperated the people.

At Vinay the rioters hastily threw up barricades with barrels, cans and debris of all sorts and succeeded in holding back the advance of the troops, while another group of manifestants armed with torches entered the vast champagne depot.

The men smashed all the bottles of champagne they could find, wrecked the wine presses and then set fire to the buildings. Women were foremost in the work of destruction, changing matches of revolutionary airs and urging on the men.

The rioters destroyed the wine presses, the women lay down on the roads and defied the advance of the troops. Eventually the troops succeeded in getting control of the situation and dispersed the manifestants. At dawn many places in the wine growing district showed the horizon darkened by the smoking ruins of wine depots and burning houses.

At the same time exploding detonations summoned all the rioters to the scene. At the same time the rioters were ordered to resume their march of destruction.

Reinforcements of troops are arriving at Epernay on every train and immediately on detaining the soldiers are dispatched to the scene of the rioting. The rioters are forced to continually charge and disperse the reassembling manifestants.

TWO FIVE DIE FROM WIND STORMS

Unusual Incidents Mark Murder Trial

(Canadian Press)

Coburg, Ont., April 13—The second day of the Mathews murder trial was marked by several unusual incidents. The climax came when John Doherty fainting in the witness box during his examination by Peter White, crown counsel. Dr. Silverthorn, Toronto, one of the medical experts, ran forward and caught Mr. Doherty. The court was promptly adjourned by Justice Clute till the morning.

Doherty was being examined as to the number of drinks that he took with the prisoner, Henry Mathews, Jr., on the evening of the fatality. Mr. Doherty was in the witness stand for about fifteen minutes. Crown Attorney Kerr attributed the fainting spell to the poor ventilation of the court room. Doherty revived in about five minutes.

Editor of the Evening Times:

The Woman Suffrage Association of this city have found it impossible to make a full canvass, this spring, of the women who have the right to vote in civic elections. They therefore urge upon all such to use their franchise at the coming election on April 18, especially as the question of putting St. John upon another basis of government is to be decided.

Dr. James Christie will be tendered a complimentary dinner by the Oddfellows of the city on April 18, in White's restaurant. The dinner will celebrate the 22nd anniversary of the order, and honor Dr. Christie for the good work he has done for the order in the city.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE

THE FINER FRUITS OF DEMOCRACY
By James Russell Lowell

From an address on 'Democracy,' on the occasion of his inauguration as president of the Birmingham and Midland Institute, Birmingham, England, Oct. 6, 1884.

DEMOCRACIES can no more jump away from their own shadows than the rest of us can. They no doubt sometimes make mistakes and pay honor to men who do not deserve it. But it is democracy alone that fall into this error? I who have seen it proposed to erect a statue to Hudson, the railway king, and have heard Louis Napoleon hailed as the savior of society by men who certainly had no democratic associations or leanings, am not ready to think so.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

Did you ever have the experience of finding yourself suddenly thinking of some person or some place which you hadn't thought of for months, and which there was apparently nothing in the landscape, the conversation or your own trend of thought to suggest to you?

I'll answer for you. Yes. If you are my old friend, 'The average person,' of course, you are another question.

Do you ever attempt to seek out what has been the train of thought or the aeroplane of suggestion that has conveyed this place or person to your mind?

I was walking down the street alone, after a visit to the dressmaker's. I was thinking of a new spring gown and of nothing else when suddenly, quite to my own surprise, I realized that the thought of a man I hadn't seen for a year or thought of for the same length of time had popped into my head. At first it seemed to me that the coming of this thought at just that moment was absolutely unaccountable, and then I searched about in my mind and found that I had just passed the house where his wife's people had once lived.

My eye had undoubtedly lit upon the house and far below the surface of my conscious mind the train of thought had started that brought that man's image to me. The process of suggestion had been entirely unconscious of it, but it was there just the same, and I suppose it, always is even when we utterly fail to identify it.

In a somewhat similar fashion, often during a conversation, after a moment's silence, you or your companion will suddenly speak out on a subject quite alien to what you had been talking about.

Now you will find it a most interesting experiment to trace, or ask him to trace, the train of thought that carried you or him so far away from the previous topic.

And not only are such experiments interesting, but they are also excellent mental training.

After you have traced a train of thought a few times you will be surprised how much easier the process comes and how much knowledge you are acquiring of one of the most fascinating of studies, the psychology of your own mind.

MAKES TARIFF
ANNOUNCEMENT

A Few Changes to Follow Ratification of Reciprocity—Borden Gets Hard Knock

Ottawa, April 12--'On the adoption of reciprocity it may be necessary to make some further changes in the tariff and in connection with the British preference. But these will be in small matters, and not of an important character. They will not include an increase in the British preference to fifty per cent, nor will they include free agricultural implements. We hope to persuade the people of Canada that they should not press for these changes now. We desire to see the manufacturer successful. We desire to see all classes of the community prosper.'

'We are going to ask those who are urging for an immediate large reduction in the tariff, for the removal of duty on agricultural implements altogether, not to press these things now. We do not think these things can be done to the best advantage of Canada at the present time. We desire that these things would have a disturbing influence on trade in Canada, and we aim to make reciprocity something that will work unobtrusively for the general advantage of Canada.'

So spoke Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, when the commonsense resented this afternoon, in response to direct questions from the leader of the opposition.

Mr. Borden inquired whether it was the intention of the government to make any further fiscal changes during the present session. He asked further whether it was the intention to increase the British preference, and if so, to what extent, and for information concerning any proposed tariff changes affecting the British preference resulting from the reciprocity proposals. The effect of the latter, he held, would be the entire removal of the preference on British goods to the amount of over $3,000,000 last year; the reduction of margin on preference to British goods to the amount of over $1,000,000; the extension to favor the nations of the terms granted in the United States; and the preference accorded to Canadian products to the amount of over $1,000,000.

'May I ask whether the leader of the opposition is in favor of an increase in the British preference?' queried Mr. Nesbitt. 'When we take the much more clear expression of our position than we are likely to secure now,' was the evasive answer of Mr. Borden.

Hon. Mr. Fielding observed that it was a somewhat unique doctrine to advance that there was no necessity for communicating to the people any intimation of the party's policy until they secured it by government, and it was not one which was likely to appeal to the people.

'He appreciated the difficulty, however, in which the present opposition found itself. The representatives in one seat favored a certain policy, while in another seat the party was looking disheartened, and the debate on reciprocity would be continued, although she did not make the conditions to be able to bespeak any policy.'

The premier announced, when the house adjourned over the Easter recess this evening, that when it resumed next Wednesday the debate on reciprocity would be continued.

Mr. Alan Aylesworth may reconsider his vote at a certain point in the present parliament and fight another battle in North York on the reciprocity issue. The intimation of the minister of justice came at the conclusion of another stage-play challenge from the opposition and was received with prolonged enthusiasm from the Liberal benches.

IT IS NOT IN THE BLOOD

Medicine Taken Internally Cannot Cure Eczema—It is Caused by Germs

Eczema cannot be overcome by ordinary treatment and the old-fashioned way of dosing the system with drugs. Eczema is caused by a parasitic germ that bores into the skin. It is generally a contagious disease.

Until the parasite is completely destroyed and removed, eczema cannot be cured. Fully one-third of skin diseases are in the form of eczema.

Because of its remarkable cleansing, antiseptic, germicidal, soothing and healing influence, it is the only medicine for the treatment of skin diseases, especially where the form of ailment is of the chronic, irritating sort. I recommend it for the dry scaly form of the itching type, where there is a constant flow of scurfing excretion.

Rezall Eczema Ointment is very prompt in relieving pimples, blotches, skin discolorations, ringworm, acne, nettle rash, leather, hives, ulcers, insect bites, and for healing sores and wounds. It is a pleasant smelling, grayish-white ointment, and is very clearly for use. Two sizes, 50c. and $1.00. Sold only at my store, The Rezall Store, Chas. R. Wasson, 100 King street.

HANDSOME NEW ELECTRIC LIGHTING DEVICE IN KING STREET WILL BE ATTRACTION

It is possible that the idea of having King street illuminated at night by extra electric lights may yet be brought about. It will be remembered that after the Dominion exhibition last year an effort was made to have the extra lighting continued and several firms agreed to pay a proportionate share of the expense.

The post is made of cast iron and was manufactured in the firm's foundry, Broad street. It is about thirteen feet in height, with four hanging globes and one upright globe, bearing the firm's name.

BRING OUT THE VOTE

A quiet, systematic and well-organized campaign is in progress to defeat the commission plan at next Tuesday's plebiscite. So thoroughly is it organized that some of those who are behind it are beginning to have some hope of success. They base that hope on what they regard as the apathy or over-confidence of the friends of commission, who are not so familiar with themselves with election-day manipulations by seasoned ward politicians. The whole ward machinery of some eight or ten of the aldermanic candidates will be used against commission. A strong sectional appeal is being made to prejudice the vote of the west side against commission. Certain of the civic officials are busy among their friends. Attempts are being made to influence the vote of the labor organizations. The chief opposition, however, comes from a small and compact group of aldermen, who work together in civic politics, and who claim to be able to throw against commission every vote that is cast for them. Against all these influences the citizens' committee must present a solid front in every ward. The fight will wax warmer as polling day approaches. The assumption on the part of some members of the citizens' committee that the enemies of commission gave up the fight when they lost the day at Fredericton was not well founded. The group of aldermen who have endeavored to block the way at every point are as bitterly opposed to commission now as then, and they know the game of ward politics far better than their opponents. The fight must be a fight to the finish. The people who are tired of existing conditions must turn out and vote for a change. They may be sure that every possible vote against a change will be brought out by their opponents. The victory for better government in St. John ought to be overwhelming. Whether it is so, or is won by a smaller majority than has been predicted will depend upon the extent to which the friends of commission bestir themselves for the next few days.

MR. HATHWAY AND OTHERS

Mr. W. Frank Hathway has discovered in Canada a sentiment favoring independence, and finds one cause for it in "the extremely selfish attitude of British plenipotentiaries as shown in the boundary and other disputes." Mr. Hathway either has not read or has failed to be convinced by the articles written during the past few years by eminent Canadians in which they produce evidence to show that British diplomats were neither selfish nor unmindful of Canada's interests in the negotiation of treaties affecting the interests of this country. One of the most interesting addresses delivered before the Canadian Club of St. John last year was a vigorous defence of British diplomacy in such matters as the Ashburton Treaty, the Oregon award and the Alaskan boundary. In the University Magazine a couple of years ago, Dr. Andrew Macphail published a series of articles very ably defending British diplomacy. In one of these articles he said: "No one in Canada has any special interest in entertaining or propagating the delusion that British diplomacy has been inept, or that the area of Canada was unnecessarily abridged by any negotiations which had been undertaken in the ordinary course of British diplomacy. And yet, up to a few years ago such opinion did prevail, and not alone in the minds of the most foolish or the most ignorant. The reason probably is that no one had any special interest in disseminating the truth. But remarkably recently there has been a comparable reawakening of feeling for everything pertaining to the empire, and a desire to be informed upon all the circumstances which led to its establishment. Scholars have undertaken investigations, but the results of their researches lie in the transactions of learned societies, which but slowly filter down through the magazines and newspapers into the common mind. Much labor and love has been bestowed upon the history of British diplomacy in its relation to Canada, and the record is now open to all who choose to read." The record was sufficient to convince Dr. Macphail, and other careful students, that British diplomacy had done remarkably well for Canada. In the University Magazine for the current month, in an article in which he shows that between April 11th, 1808, and May 21st, 1910, six separate treaties, agreements or conventions have been signed on behalf of Great Britain and the United States, and that there is now between Canada and the United States "an absolutely clean slate." Dr. Macphail reverts to the Ashburton treaty, the Oregon award and the Alaskan boundary, and once more emphasizes the point that the interests of Canada were not sacrificed by British diplomacy. He is in full accord with the statement made by the Rt. Hon. James Bryce in Toronto four years ago, when the British ambassador to Washington said: "I will ask you to suspend your judgment upon all those questions in which it is alleged that British diplomacy has not done its best for you. In these matters you have only heard one side of the case; and I feel it is my duty to my country and to the government which I represent to tell you this, and that I believe you are entirely mistaken if you think that British diplomacy has been indifferent to Canada or has not done the best it could for Canada." May it not be that Mr. Bryce, Dr. Macphail and others who have given close and special study to this matter are safer guides than Mr. Hathway's As to the feeling in favor of independence in Canada, Mr. Bourassa may have leanings that way, but he appears at present to be more deeply concerned about possible political advantage to himself from a disruption of the Conservative party. The Canadian people as a whole are content with British diplomacy, content with their present autonomy and their status in the empire, content with the "clean slate" between Canada and the United States, content with the excellent prospects for reciprocity between Canada and the United States, and for an arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States, and content also to let the people of the United Kingdom determine their own fiscal policy without any meddling on the part of Canada. Tomorrow, Good Friday, the Times will not be issued. Make the majority for the elective commission plan of city government an overwhelming majority. The Standard has discovered a powerful ally in the fight against commission government in the person of the St. John correspondent of the Eastern Labor News. It is pretty well understood in St. John that the St. John correspondent of the Eastern Labor News is a member of the writing staff of the Standard. Let it be stated once more, with all the emphasis possible, that the framing of the new city charter is not to be done without the fullest consultation, and consideration of what is most desirable in the interests of all the citizens of St. John. The citizens who are laboring earnestly for the adoption of the commission plan of government have no other thought or desire than to secure a better administration of civic affairs. The Buffalo Express says: "While Canadians—some Canadians—are abusing at the idea of closer relations with this country, the mother country across the water is not so timid. Leaders of both great parties in British politics hail the idea of a general arbitration treaty between Great Britain and the United States. Some of them evidently would consent even to a defensive alliance—though this country will not test their appetite so far." Of the Ontario prison farm system an exchange says: "The Guelph system has already been productive of significant results according to Dr. Gilmour, the head of the Central prison, who declared at the recent International Prison congress in Washington that he was agreeably surprised at the conduct of the convict at work on the farm. Little or no effort to violate the confidence of the officials had been made by the prisoners, and the guardianship was now practically only nominal." The Globe yesterday published a criticism of the course pursued by the Citizens' Committee in regard to the commission plan of government. The Standard this morning printed the Globe's article in full on one page, printed part of it again on the editorial page, and part of it once more in a display article on the first page. Thus both the Globe give triple joy to the Standard. But the citizens of St. John have not yet lost faith in themselves, and will therefore proceed to put an end to the present system of city government, and frame a charter that will give them what they want. Both the Globe and Standard will discover in due time that the rights of the people are quite safe in the hands of the people.

If one has the opportunity to get red cedar chips do not fail to obtain a supply. They are excellent for keeping moths from clothing.

THE MASTER

A horse falls down and the cars are stalled. The passengers fume and fret, While out in the street a dozen men Toil in the slippery wet. Swearing, urging and straining away, And the men would be there now If there hadn't appeared from somewhere The man who could show them how.

It may be only a car that's blocked. It may be a railroad gone astray. Or a nation gone to smash; Whatever the need, the need is there And tributes will come or fame. To the man of the hour, or minute— The man who can save the game— Who can save the game and play the game.

And who doesn't stop to count If it's really worth his valued while To play for a small amount. And on the final reckoning day The judges who judge the earth Will weigh the game that the player played. With scales of the player's worth.

It may be a careless game of play. A desperate game of strife. It may be the hardest game of all, The everyday game of life. But whether the stakes be high or low, And liveliest the risk or tame, A master's thought and a master's touch Can make it a master game.

NERVES ARE EXHAUSTED

And Nervous Prostration or Paralysis are Creeping Steadily Upon You.

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD

You hear of people suddenly falling victims of nervous prostration or some form of paralysis. But when you get all the facts of the case you find that they have had months or years of warning. They haven't slept well. There has been frequent attacks of nervous headache. Digestion has failed. They have been irritable, easily worried and excited, and have found memory and concentration failing. Had they but known that these symptoms tell of exhausted nerves, and that they realized their danger they would have restored the feeble, wasted nerves by use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. The great restorative treatment course by forming new, rich blood and rebuilding the wasted nerve cells. The medicine is more certain to prove beneficial, for each dose adds to the system a certain amount of rich, red blood. Nervous diseases come so slowly and can only be overcome by patient and persistent treatment. CHARGE THEFT OF BONDS

New York Police Make Arrest After Buying Back Securities. New York, April 12—Frank J. Plass, a jeweler, is under arrest charged with complicity in the theft of $85,000 worth of securities from Aaron Bancroft, senior member of the brokerage firm of George Bancroft & Co., on March 2 last. The case was handled with the utmost secrecy. Plass was arrested and arraigned personally by Inspector Russell, of the detective bureau and remanded to police headquarters. Aaron Bancroft was justled and knocked down by two men in the corridors of the Produce Exchange Safety Deposit Company while he was carrying the securities in a large envelope tied with red tape. One of the two helped him to his feet and handed him what he supposed was his envelope. When he opened it four days later he found a substitution had been cleverly effected and that the dummy envelope contained nothing but old newspapers. Two weeks ago counsel for the brokers received word that for $8,000 the securities would be returned. A meeting was arranged, the reward was paid over, but the thieves withheld $20,000 of the securities and hurriedly drove off in a taxi. The police now charge that Plass was one of the men in the cab. "I think they are not so much a club as a bundle of sticks," quoth the master of the party. "From William S. Walsh's review of 'Twenty-four Years on the Stage,' by Seymour Hicks, in May Columbian."

OBITUARY

Major General Wilson
Major General Frederick Wilson, a distinguished Canadian soldier, died in Montreal yesterday. He was in his 92nd year and had seen service in the Sudan, being on the Gordon relief expedition, for which he was decorated with the Egyptian war medal and clasps and Khedive's Star, by Queen Victoria. He also saw service in the Northwest rebellion, and in 1897 was appointed commandant of the Royal Military College, Quebec. In 1907 he retired from active service and was granted the rank of major-general by the Canadian government. He will be given a full military funeral. He married a daughter of the late Sir Hugh Allen.

Frederick I. Clements
Flags were displayed at half mast in Boston yesterday for the death of Frederick I. Clements, president of the Boston Fish Bureau. Mr. Clements was a native of Yarmouth; sixty years of age.

George T. McCoy
George T. McCoy, hatter-maker, of Moncton, died suddenly yesterday while at his work in the I. C. R. shops. He was working on a piece of machinery and he sank to the floor. He died before a physician, who was summoned, arrived. He was fifty years old and is survived by his wife and five children. Alfred E. McCoy, of the Times composing room staff, St. John, is a brother. Many friends will feel sympathy in the sudden bereavement.

The engine leaped from the track as a train neared Londonburg, Va., and striking a cross-truck, was thrown back on its own rails. It was found to be all right, and continued on its way as if nothing unusual had happened.

Daily Hints for the Cook

CORNMEAL HASTY PUDDING.

Put a quart of boiling water over the fire, adding to it a pinch of salt. Wet a cupful of yellow Indian meal with a cupful of cold water and beat out all lumps. Stir the wet meal into the boiling water and cook for half hour, stirring frequently to keep the mixture free of lumps. Eat with a hard sauce flavored with vanilla or serve with powdered maple sugar and cream.

HARD SAUCE.
Warm a heaping tablespoonful of butter slightly, but not melt it. Work into the butter a cupful of powdered sugar, stirring until light and soft. Flavor to taste, then whip it gradually the white of one egg and beat with an egg whip for ten minutes, or until the sauce is light and "fluffy." Set in the ice until needed.

SOUR MILK PANCAKES.
Soak in milk overnight, enough dry crumbs to make a cup. Add a cup of sour milk or buttermilk, a cup of flour, half a teaspoonful of baking soda, a pinch of salt and one egg. Beat all together and fry on a griddle.

Seeking Higher Wages

Editor Times-Star.
Sir—In reference to the International Hod-Carriers and Builders' Laborers' Union, recently organized in St. John, I want to say that it is something that has been sadly needed for a long time. The men, whom this organization aims to bring together, are the men to whom falls all the dirty work and practically all the hardest and most laborious work in the city. They are the poorest paid of all workmen. The conditions under which they toil and live are unquestionably bad, and growing worse. The very worst conditions are found among the unskilled class of workmen. If, as it costs the mason. He cannot buy a loaf of bread one cent cheaper than any other man, nor can he keep himself warm with any less clothing than his neighbor requires. Why should he be compelled to work so much cheaper? We want every laborer, whether a hod-carrier or wrecking buildings, excavation, digging of trenches, concrete for buildings, tending mason, building scaffolding, tending carpenter, cleaning debris from buildings and raising old buildings—no matter what he is working at—we want him to join the union. A condition has been reached such that we feel we must get an increase in wages in order to meet the increased cost of living. We are asking for two dollars per day after the first of May. This is a reasonable request, and we do not see any reason why we should not get it. As I said before, we must get the wages or accept a lower standard of living. Surely no one will feel like forcing us into a worse condition than we are living under at present. Again I want to urge all unskilled laborers to attend our next regular business meeting, which will be held tonight in Opera House, Union street, at 7 o'clock. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,
Yours truly,
JOHN A. WICKHAM,
Cor. Secretary.

SOLLOWS & CO'S REMARKABLE GROWTH

You talk of St. John's future. Look at Messrs. A. J. Sollows & Co., that enterprising manufacturing concern. Three years ago Mr. Sollows and his wife commenced manufacturing ladies' neckwear at their home. After three months they were forced to enter on manufacturing in earnest, when they acquired quarters in Prince William street, where they employed about six hands. Their business grew so rapidly that they had to move from there to larger quarters on the corner of King and Germain streets, where they occupied one part of the Foster building, second floor.
Two years ago Messrs. A. J. Sollows & Co., had installed the latest type of machinery for manufacturing hosiery, etc. These quarters they found small and today they are occupying the whole of the second floor and employ thirty-six hands.
In addition to making ladies' neckwear this firm are now making men's neckwear in the maritime provinces. The enterprise of Mr. Sollows and the goods he manufactures should win for him the patronage of the local trade.
THE VERY ONE.
A good story is told of the celebrated Prussian Field Marshal Baron von Moltke, who, like many another great soldier, was a chess player, but as much above the ordinary chess player as he was above the common soldier in the rank and file. The story appeared in the "Westminster Gazette."
A great Turkish player at a big hotel in Constantinople had been challenging and beating everybody within a wide radius. One day a meek-looking stranger walked in and watched the game. Upon his conclusion, he quietly offered to play. The Turkish grandee looked at him rather contemptuously, and remarked, "I will play you for a hundred sequins." The stranger said, "Very well, sir; I will play you for a hundred sequins." The game commenced, and during its course an unusual "Gambit" was offered by the stranger. Its acceptance by the Turk caused the latter to lose the game. He said to the winner—"Sir, I thought there was only one man in Europe who understood how to take advantage of that move." "Who might that be?" queried the unknown. "Baron von Moltke," snapped the Turk. "Sir," returned the stranger, "I am Baron von Moltke, at your service."

ELECTION CARDS
To the Electors of the City of Saint John:

Ladies and Gentlemen:
You elected me last year, as one of your representatives. In return for the confidence placed in me, I have tried to serve you by endeavoring to lessen your burdens, and have already succeeded in having a flat rate of taxation, which means a net income earner can be assessed at a higher rate than $128 for five years more or less. I have also succeeded in having a personal property and improvements, and place it on land, which means building on all vacant lots. If I have not succeeded so well as expected, I have tried to do something for St. John for the people and I hope to again receive your valued support for Alderman-at-large.

CUSTOMS OFFICERS OF MARITIME PROVINCES FORM ASSOCIATION

REDUCED TO A SKELETON

'Fruit-a-lives' Save Her Life
Riviere a Pierre, Que., May 9th, 1910.
"I look upon my recovery as nothing short of a miracle. I was for eleven years constantly suffering from chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and constipation. The last two years of my illness I was confined to my bed nearly the whole time. I was so thin I weighed only 100 pounds, and I vomited everything I ate. My water would not stay on my stomach.
The doctors gave me up as the stomach trouble had become hopeless, and I was frequently unconscious.
At this time, a lady friend strongly advised me to try 'Fruit-a-lives' and how thankful I am that I did so. When I had taken one box, I was much better and after three boxes, I was practically well again and had gained 20 pounds.
I have taken thirteen boxes in all and now weigh 130 pounds and am absolutely well—no pain—no indigestion—no constipation—my heart is sound and complexion clear."

MUCH LEGISLATION IN THE CLOSING HOURS OF HOUSE

Pulpwood Exportation Ban in Effect on October 1—Bill Against Corrupt Practices at Elections—Supplementary Estimates
Fredericton, April 12.—The legislature finished its business tonight at 11 o'clock, after a resolution for presentation to his majesty and the singing of God Save the King as one of its last acts. Many important bills were considered during the afternoon and evening and some of them very hurriedly. The supplementary estimates did not amount to much, but included a grant of $1,000 for hunting near the late Cardozo bridge, of the St. John peninsula bridge, and $500 to the estate of the late Thomas Robinson, late member for York who died early in the session.
The government moved to amend the act of holding the act as a threat over the province, if they make a sale of their lumber license. Mr. Grimmer fixed the transfer fee at $1 per acre, and then fixed the time for the act to come into force, October 1 of this year.
Mr. LaBillion protests as to the injury that would be done to Dalhousie, if the act passed, made a strong impression which the provincial secretary endeavored to dispel by waving the flag and declaiming against pulpwood being sent to Maine.
Mr. LaBillion followed again in an eloquent and impassioned speech in defence of the pulp industry, and asked that action be delayed. It would simply mean ruin to them and would be disastrous to the town of Dalhousie, where hundreds of men and their families depended upon this industry for support. The government would simply tie the hands of this company and deprive some 3,000 hands of employment.
Mr. LaBillion made a strong fight for postponement of the act, but it did not come into force until October, 1912, but that too, was voted down.
An explanation of the bill to prevent corrupt practices at elections was given by Premier Hazen who said the bill was prepared by himself and the leader of the opposition and other members of the house. Under its provisions any twenty-five electors can make a deposit of $100 and petition the chief justice for an investigation into the conduct of the campaign. Two judges would be appointed, and if their report showed corrupt acts, the names of those guilty should be sent to the clerk of the county court, who shall prosecute them, and if they are found guilty, disqualify them from voting for seven years.
The bill does not provide for the unsetting or disqualification of a candidate.
Under a bill brought in today and passed, it will be possible for persons intending marriage to have their names published one or more times, according to the custom of their denomination, and further, that a form of certificate must be attached to every marriage license which is to be filled out, and also furnished to be provided by municipalities upon return of marriages can be made.
Mr. Borehill divided the house unexpectedly when the bill to guarantee bonds of the Southwestern Railway was being read a third time. He moved the three months' hoist. There were many members from both sides of the house absent, but Mr. Borehill, Copp, Byrne, Currie, Legree, Sweeney voted against the measure, and twenty-one opposition members and LaBillion voted in favor of it.
Mr. McLeod introduced a bill to amend an act incorporating the St. John Valley Railway Company.
Hon. Mr. Hazen introduced a bill to correct errors in previous acts and make provision for the collection of duties ordered paid to employees under previous acts.
Mr. Fleming submitted the supplementary estimates.
The items of the supplementary estimates were all agreed to.
Hon. Mr. Fleming introduced a bill

TO BUILD THROUGH CANYON
Spokane, Wash., April 12.—A most difficult feat of engineering construction will be attempted in the Marshall canyon when a $1,000,000 contract, let by the North Coast Railway Company to Watson, Flagg & Standifer Engineers, of Portland, Ore., is undertaken. It is proposed to build an entire new line through the canyon, involving a great amount of rock work and a feature of the contract is the stipulation that the present Northern Pacific track and the Spokane, Portland & Seattle rails, which traverse the canyon, shall not be disturbed while the new work is under way.
SAD DEATH—AN IMMIGRANT. Halifax, Recorder.—The death of Mrs. Hilder, aged about 35 years, occurred in her home at 1111 St. John street. She was the wife of a workman and had four small children, the eldest but 8 years old, came to Halifax about a week ago on the Scotian, and on the way she was taken sick, and later gave birth to a still-born child. Since her arrival in Halifax every attention was shown her, but she passed away. Mrs. Hilder belonged to Birmingham, England, and she and her family were bound for Peterborough, Ont.

NEW PLAN TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES OVER BILLS OF LADING

(Canadian Press)
New York, April 12.—The establishment of a "central office" for clearing house in this city is the latest plan evolved as a means of settling the long existing differences over bills of lading between American shippers and European buyers of raw cotton.
Representatives of the sub-committee of the Bills of Lading Committee of the American Bankers' Association held a protracted meeting here yesterday with traffic agents of the Southeastern and Southwestern railroads and with the Liverpool office, as represented by a member of the Liverpool bills of lading committee.
The bill submitted was proposed, according to report, by the Liverpool cotton buyers. Local bankers are of the opinion that the acceptance will point a definite way out of existing difficulties and obviate the "bank guarantee" originally demanded by the Liverpool cotton buyers. After the issuance, last year, of a number of forged bills of lading by southern cotton brokers, "Yesterday's meeting was devoted, in part, to the consideration of a plan to establish a central office, and a committee was appointed to outline a system, under which the proposed 'central office' may be established, giving all factions representation.
Among the railroads represented at the meeting were the Rock Island, Illinois Central, Louisville & Nashville, Atlantic Coast Line, Seaboard Air Line, Southern Railway and Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

CLAIMS AS HIS OWN A VIOLIN FOUND IN DUST HEAP

(Montreal Herald).
The worn violin, bearing the name of a famous maker, uncovered in a dust heap in a dark hutch at the Windsor Station, is claimed by Ben Woolf, of Burlington, Ont., who has instituted legal proceedings to secure possession of the instrument.
Bearing the mark of Amati and purporting to have been manufactured in Cremona, Italy, about the middle of the seventeenth century, the violin was found among a lot of rubbish by Mr. Mortimer, of the C. P. R. baggage transfer department. At first it was believed to be a genuine, but later examination by experts led to the belief that it was nothing but a cheap imitation, worth probably not more than five thousand dollars.
Mr. Woolf writes the instrument, and since its discovery, has, at odd intervals, written saying that a violin which had been the most cherished of his possessions was lost in Cleveland, Ohio, some years ago, and would Mr. Mortimer kindly forward his find to Burlington at his expense, for he was sure that it was his missing treasure. A further development occurred yesterday, however, when Mr. Mortimer received a tactful letter from Hughes Cleaver, a Burlington lawyer, intimating that Mr. Woolf had conditioned his troubles to him; that he was convinced of the latter's absolute honesty, and that he would be obliged if Mr. Mortimer would give him an account of any expenses he had incurred in obtaining the bone of contention, together with the cost of forwarding the same to its rightful owner.

DISTINGUISHED LADIES INTERESTED IN THE MARYS FUND

(London Daily Mail).
Every Mary of the British Empire, be she old or young, lowly or exalted, is invited to subscribe to a coronation gift to Queen Mary, which is to be presented on the occasion of the greatest moment of her life.
The gift may be as small as a penny, no case must exceed 21. A list of all the contributions will be kept, but not the amount given by each. Contributions need not be made before the 1st of May, but it is better to be decided whether the gift shall take the form of a personal ornament to be worn by the Queen, or to be the purchase of a piece of plate to be placed at her majesty's disposal to allocate to whatever purpose she may determine.
Although essentially private in its origin, the fund is under distinguished auspices. The executive committee consists of:
Lady Mary Trevelyan, Portingwiden, Devon, Cornwall.
Miss Mary Grimes, 43 Beasborough Gardens, S. W.
Miss Mary Edington, 110 Eaton Square, S. W.
Miss Mary Gilmore, The Inch Liberton, Abolthian.
Lady Mary Dawson, Dartrey, County Monaghan.
The Hon. Mrs. Trevelyan, 40a, Connaught street, W.
Mrs. Catherine Burton, 6 Leonard place, Kensington, W.
Miss Mary Hancock, 19, Upper Chadwell street, Aylsholm square, E. 4.
Contributions may be sent to any one of these ladies, to the lady representative ready at county, or to the bankers, Messrs. Coles, Biddulph & Co., 43 Charing Cross, London, S. W.
Lady Mary Trevelyan, woman of the bedchamber to the queen, is the chairman of the committee. Miss Mary Edington is the secretary for England. Miss Mary Gilmore the secretary for Scotland. Lady Mary Dawson the secretary for Ireland, and the Hon. Mrs. Trevelyan the secretary for London. Their addresses will be found above.
Every letter should be marked on the envelope "Q. M. C. G." (that is Queen Mary's Coronation Gift). No contribution can be acknowledged unless a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Owing to a misunderstanding several contributions have already been sent directly to the queen. That must not be done. As already stated, the contributions must go to a member of the executive committee, a county representative, or the bankers.
Nobody knows how many Marys there are in the empire except that it is safe to say that the bearers of no other name exceed them in number. In lone Bute and Cumber, where Lady Bute sent out a cir-

AMUSEMENTS FOR OURSELVES AND OTHERS

THE OPERA HOUSE

Manager Roskham of the Chicago Stock Company has arranged to have the St. John High School football team appear in the great football game in Robert Edson's college play, "Strongheart," which will be presented by the popular company, next Monday in the opera house.

The stage has caused special interest here, and it is expected that the company will be greeted by a capacity house on Monday afternoon and night. The seat sale will open on Friday.

THE OPERA HOUSE

It is said there is not a dull moment in the brilliant performance given by Mildred and Roskham and their merry company in "Princess Iris." The curtain goes up promptly at 8:15 and until it is a continuous, fast and furious comedy and fantastic comedy seasoned with delightful specialties, electrical and color effects, containing beauty and all other little but important items that go to make up a perfect and exquisite performance.

May and Mack, two boy actors, are said to be in store for the patrons. Seats are now on sale at the Opera House.

NICKEL

The Nickel met with much success again last night when hundreds witnessed their way in the moonlight to the field and see the excellent new programme. The picture bill included another of those Kalem Indian classics entitled "The Trail of the Pomo's Charm," which for scenic grandeur and spirited action was equally as good as the great picture, "The Lost Ribbon," shown a short time ago.

The comedy element furnished by Lillian Walker and Leo Delaney play lover roles. The comedy element furnished by Lillian Walker and Leo Delaney play lover roles. The comedy element furnished by Lillian Walker and Leo Delaney play lover roles.

THE LYRIC

Of all the different performers found on the vaudeville stage it is a safe saying that few please more than the juvenile artist. For the latter part of the week starting this afternoon, at the Lyric Theatre, they will be seen in an act some what different from any presented at the Lyric for some time. It consists of dancing, singing, and fortune-telling.

The latter said to be particularly good. Of course comedy is contained in the attraction, so that the entertainment is not a dull one. As an extra inducement, the management has made arrangements to show Kalem's great drama, "The Mexican Filibusters." This will be followed by three other film subjects. A grand special performance is announced for Good Friday afternoon and evening.

LION ESCAPES FROM SHOW AND TRAVELS STREETS

Melbourne, April 12.—A lion was seen in Melbourne was provided with a sensation such as that which was occasioned last week by the appearance of a lion in the street. The lion was walking down Little Collins street, one of the best-known thoroughfares. The beast was engaged in a performance at the opera house, and during a matinee eluded its keepers and escaped into the town.

The people in the stalls, uncertain whether to be frightened, rose hurriedly from their seats, but a panic was prevented by one of the attendants, who touched the lion with a long wire fork. Immediately the animal turned his head towards the other wing, and trotted across the stage. As the lion was disappearing from view the curtain was rung down, and the stage manager, coming forward, calmly asked the audience to resume their seats.

The lion quietly passed out of the stage door entrance into Little Collins street. A lady, who saw him faintly, and other people filed in various directions. Pearson followed the lion from the opera house. When the corner of Swanston street was almost reached he noticed an open door of the Temperance and General Mutual Life Assurance society's building, and he entered it with his fork, the attendant said, "Go in there," and to his surprise the order was obeyed.

The door of the building was closed, and after a cage had been procured from the Zoological gardens, the beast was secured without mishap.

THE NEW KEITH THEATRE FOR ST. JOHN

H. L. Watkins, general manager of the Keith and Albee circuit arrived in the city yesterday and was engaged yesterday afternoon in making arrangements for starting the new Keith theatre, which is to be here. The theatre will be built according to the specifications published in the papers before.

It is expected that excavating will be done on the newly acquired lots, the aggregate measurement of which is about 75 feet front and over 150 feet deep, and upon which now stands several buildings, including the premises of Henry F. Iddolls, safe maker; Alfred Dodge, contractor; Emervort & Fisher, Ltd., storage department; M. J. Barry, liverman; G. S. Fisher & Co., roofers. Mr. Barry is expected to vacate his premises within a few days.

ENLARGING THE CHEST. Any one can increase the size of his chest two or three inches in as many months without the use of any apparatus except mechanical contrivance whatever. When he rises in the morning let him go out into the purest air he can find, raise his arms to the height of his shoulders, the palms downwards, then, while inhaling a deep breath, gradually extend them upward until the backs of the hands touch above his head. Do this a dozen times every morning and the result will be a chest development that will surprise any one who has not made the experiment.

Meeting Held at Miss Travers' Home—Membership is About 60—The Work Discussed and Organization Perfected

An enthusiastic meeting held yesterday afternoon at the residence of Dr. Boyle Travers, Sydney street, some fifty Catholic ladies of the city formed themselves into an organization to be known as the Catholic Ladies' Benevolent Society of St. John, whose object is a charitable work. The ladies assembled on invitation from Miss Mary G.
