The Maritime Board of Trade

The annual meeting of the Maritime Board of Trade at St. John last week demonstrated the usefulness of that body, its growing importance and the interest which our best commercial men take in its deliberations.

News and Notes.

In the first race for Canada's Cup at Toronto on Monday, the Canadian yacht, Beaver, took her boom shortly after the start, the American boat Genesee going over the course alone.

Mr. Alex. McNaughton, ex-travelling auditor of the I. C. R., died at Moncton Sunday. Mr. McNaughton for a year on account of ill health has been working in the audit office.

An accident happened at South Maitland, N. S., on Sunday by which four men lost their lives by drowning. The Engineering Contract Co., of New York are building a bridge there for the Midland railway and use a coffer dam in connection with the work.

Mr. Chas. J. McDonald, Post Office Inspector for Nova Scotia and the Magdalen Islands, is expected at Charlottetown shortly. He will hold a rigid investigation into the matter of the mail bag which was found near Sable, P. E. I., the day after being robbed of $1,000.

The St. John Board of Trade gave the visitors an excursion up the St. John river on the steamer Victoria, with a dinner on board. This hospitable feature of the occasion was one that would do credit to any city, anywhere.

At the opening meeting on Wednesday evening there was an excellent representative gathering. The St. John Sun of Thursday said that with sixteen boards of trade represented at the opening, it was the most important and generally representative annual meeting yet held.

The sale of Crown Lands which commenced on the 30th of August, at Fredericton, will be by all accounts, the most important and generally representative annual meeting yet held.

Mrs. J. O. Carr of Hartland was present, but not as a representative, the board at that place not yet being organized.

A telegram was read from the Sydney, C. B., board of trade stating that the delegates from Sydney were unable to attend. An invitation was extended for the maritime board to meet next year, at Sydney.

Come, therefore, or write and tell us your local news.

The Rev. Lewis Jack. The Halifax Herald says: The father of the Presbyterian church in Canada is Rev. Lewis Jack, now of Chatham, New Brunswick. Mr. Jack was born at Culloden, Inverness, Scotland, in the year of Waterloo (1815). He was minister in Belleville, Aberdeen, for three years, when he volunteered for colonial service. His first work in New Brunswick was taking charge of old St. Stephen's church, St. John. His first regular pastorate in New Brunswick was that of St. James' church, St. John. Mr. Jack retired from the active duties of the ministry a few years ago, and is spending the remainder of his days in the hospital family of Dr. King, his son-in-law.

Mr. Jack was a daughter of the late Dr. McKean, of St. James, N. B. The family of five children are all living. Rev. T. C. Jack, North Sydney; R. S. Jack, St. John; Mrs. W. G. King, Buctonche; Mrs. W. M. Siler, Chatham, and Mrs. Robertson, who lives with her brother at North Sydney.

Mr. Jack was a leading member of the Synod of New Brunswick. In 1866 this Synod was united to the Synod of Nova Scotia. Mr. Jack was its last moderator, preaching his last "Synod" sermon on Sunday evening of his closing session. He took part in the funeral services of Dr. Morrison, at Chatham, on the 21st ult. He was the pastor of Dr. Morrison's boyhood, and the venerable father, who had been astutely proud of his stalwart portage, mourned for him as for an only child.

Two policemen, a drunken sailor and one or two aldermen caused a lot of excitement in town on Saturday evening and, as a result, the two "palants" of the police force were lost their positions, the beer-loving bar was in the look-up for several days and one of the aldermen is nursing his wounded feelings.

Messrs. Rambotham and Murphy are the policemen in question. They attempted to arrest a sailor for being drunk, but when the cards were shown there were three of a kind and it was hard to tell who had taken the most of the ardent—the policeman or the sailor. Of course, there was a mob scene and boys on hand. Of this crowd the majority were there to watch the fun or trouble, while a number attended with the express purpose of making trouble. One policeman refused to take the sailor along while the crowd was on hand. This annoyed the mob and had the effect of closing the gap between the policeman, their prisoner and the crowd. An alderman stepped in to make the crowd for their conduct, but was glad to escape through the crowd as one of the policemen threatened to lock him up also if he didn't go away. On Monday evening officers Rambotham and Murphy were discharged from the force for being drunk and Adam Dickson and Thomas Hannah temporarily appointed.

John Mudge and Charles Desmond were acting in a disorderly manner on Monday night. Officer Dickson attempted to arrest them, but they took his baton and got away. The baton was recovered and Mudge was arrested Tuesday morning.

Alderman Flanagan's store was visited by thieves on Friday night or early Saturday morning. They laid out a few pairs of boots and some dry goods for removal, but it is thought that they became alarmed and left in a hurry, leaving the goods behind. The entrance was made through the cellar.

The following night Mr. Thomas Flanagan's store was entered and a quantity of underwear and small articles stolen.

Newcastle Town Election. Hon. Allan Ritchie was elected the first Mayor of Newcastle by acclamation on Friday last and is to be congratulated on the honor thus conferred upon him. His position in the country and business men of the country and experience as a former member of the legislative council of the province are a guarantee that the choice is a good one.

In the choice of aldermen there has been an absence of unanimity which has made the first civic election in the shiretown quite interesting to the local public generally and exciting to the people immediately interested. The Advocate, the only paper published in Newcastle, appeared to assume that there ought to be no election because a number of citizens held public meetings to meet candidates. As might be expected, wires were pulled in connection with these meetings, and considerations other than those of obtaining the men best qualified influenced some of the nominations. The natural result followed and two tickets were found in the field. As this is a free country no serious objection could be made to this, but the local paper assumed its part and endeavored to make it appear that one of the tickets was composed of persons possessing the characteristics of Judas, Herod and other historical personages who would not be very popular on the Miramichi if they were here in the flesh. The Advocate's favorite was supported by the people's candidates, while the other ticket proclaimed them the temperance ticket. Members of the independent ticket were so harshly referred to by editorials and correspondence in that paper that outsiders, at first, were hardly led to believe that the best men were there; they were conducting their canvass in a clean and self-respecting manner, neither assailing their opponents personally through the press, nor seeking to have others do so, and remembering that naughty boys always throw sticks and stones at the best apples-trees. One of the Chatham papers appears to have also caught inspiration from the Advocate, for the latter paper in closing an article bearing the initials of "P. M." says: "The 'World' in its character of the candidates, represented these men all as negroes, and the people's candidates as white men."

If one were permitted, however, to judge the men in nomination free from personal bias, he would hardly feel like treating any of them otherwise than with respect, for they are all good citizens, and the fact that they desired to serve the town was no justification for any one of them being abused in the interests of his opponents. The candidates were as follows:—

"PEOPLE" AND "TEMPERANCE" TICKETS. Edward Sinclair, R. H. Gremley, John Morrison, J. H. Patterson, Charles E. Fish, P. Hennessy, James R. Lawlor, D. Morrison, E. Lee Street, John Clark, John C. Creighton, James Falconer, James A. Randle, M. Benson, John Ferguson, Geo. S. Stockhart.

Yesterday was polling day and the "battering" done by the respective sides was fully as vigorous and thorough as if it were a contest for the local legislature or House of Commons. All hand and paraphernalia of a free election campaign were in evidence and one could not but admire the energy which the leading men at the poll and about the town did their work. The result was the election of the gentlemen composing the independent ticket, the voting being as follows:—

Returning officer Call rejected three ballots which were for the independent ticket, two of which were good. J. R. Lawlor objected to the ruling. These will, no doubt, be decided favorably to Mr. Street.

In ANOTHER COLUMN will be found the advertisement of Wilmer Atkinson Co., publishers of The Biggle Books. In consequence of statement in the thoroughness with which the ground has been covered, The Biggle Books have won praise on every hand. The book-down, compasses, cream not shirk milk method, which celebrates the pages of The Farm Journal has been carried out in its preparation. For mechanical effect no expense or pains have been spared, and the highly finished paper, whereby competitors, in both meets, as well as those attending same, may be saved loss of time and expense in travel etc.

The Maritime Championships will be held on Saturday September 2nd, and the O.W.A.

The full-dress uniform is a scarlet tunic with yellow facings, blue breeches with yellow stripes, white helmet, cavalry boots, and cavalry overcoat.

INDIANS WHO DON'T LIKE WHITES. Their attacks on Sir Martin Conway in the Bolivian Andes last year, when he ascended Illimani and others of the highest peaks of the Andes...

On another occasion it was necessary to spend some time on a hilltop to carry out the translation required for the map the explorer was making of the country.

WHAT HE DISLIKED. Don't like to pay interest, eh? No, it's the principal of the thing that bothers me.
