DETROIT RIVER TUNNEL.

The Construction Work Commenced This Morning on the Line That is to Join Detroit and Windsor.

DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 25.—Work on the railroad tunnel which is to be constructed under the Detroit River between Windsor and Detroit began today when a force of workmen were set to work sinking the initial shaft on the American side. A similar shaft will shortly be sunk on the tunnel line on the Canadian side. While there is still much preliminary surveying and testing to be done, the location of the tunnel is practically decided upon.

The actual length of the underground portion of the tunnel will be two and six tenths miles and the distance from surface to surface almost exactly three miles. It is estimated that between two and three years will be occupied in the construction.

The Detroit River Tunnel Company was formed through the merger of the Michigan and Canada Bridge and Construction Company and The Canadian and Michigan Bridge and Tunnel Co. The officers of the new company are: President—W. H. Newman, New York; Vice President—H. B. Edwards, Detroit; Secy.—D. W. Pardee, New York; Treasurer—Charles F. Cox, New York.

CHILD BECOMES RECTORS BRIDE.

A Clergyman Marries Fifteen Year Old Girl.

Approved by Girl's Parents—Bridegroom's Courtship Caused Dissensions in His Church and He Resigned.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 24.—Attended in white, with a large picture hat on her head and her skirt barely touching the floor, Miss Alice A. Hall, fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Barclay Hall, of No. 704 East Chelton avenue, Germantown, became the bride of the Rev. Charles Thatcher Pfeiffer, formerly rector of the House of Prayer, in Branchtown, this morning.

The wedding, which was attended by more than two hundred friends of the couple, and which, because of the youth of the bride, attracted many others, occurred in the Church of the Annunciation, at Twelfth and Diamond streets. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Daniel I. Odell, who was assisted by the Rev. John Matthews. Following the brief ceremony the nuptial mass was said, Mr. Odell being the celebrant.

Mr. Pfeiffer, who is thirty years old, met Miss Hall about eighteen months ago, when she was a pupil in the Sunday school of the church in Branchtown and he was the rector. Miss Hall was devoted to her Bible studies and possessed a remarkable faculty for memorizing passages from the scriptures.

Mr. Pfeiffer's attentions to the young girl soon became marked and caused much gossip. This led to dissensions in the church, and the rector's popularity waned. Miss Hall's parents, however, found no fault with the attachment between their daughter and the clergyman, and today's marriage had their approval.

A crisis in the relations of pastor and flock came when Mr. Pfeiffer tried to introduce into his church a new form of ritual. He is a high church man, and his congregation was accustomed to a low church form of service. Because of this difference it was the opinion of both the rector and the vestry that he should resign the rectorate, and this he did last March.

Mr. Pfeiffer was assistant rector until two years ago of St. Luke's church, Germantown, of which the Rev. Dr. Samuel Upjohn is rector. Then he went to the Branchtown church, and later on to Calvary, N. Y., where he is now rector of Calvary Protestant Episcopal church.

Death of Edwin Thomas After a Short Illness—The Colpitts Family Reunion Largely Attended.

(Special to the Star.)
MONCTON, N. B., Aug. 25.—Edwin Thomas, son of constable Thomas, died this morning after four months' illness of a complication of diseases. Deceased, who was 24 years of age, had been employed as a clerk in the I. C. R. mechanical office and had many friends. He was a brother of Wilfrid Thomas, a well known athlete who died a year ago, and of Mrs. W. H. Fry, of St. John.

The Colpitts family reunion at Forest Glen yesterday was attended by about five hundred including representatives from nearly every county in the province, several from the United States and one, Mrs. George Colpitts, from England. The report of Robert J. Colpitts, who has just returned from England, contains much valuable information in regard to the family in that country. It was decided to have another gathering of the family about five years hence and a committee was appointed to arrange the same.

Jennie Watson, the five-year-old little daughter of Fred Watson, 86 Sheriff street, who was badly burned yesterday afternoon, as a result of playing with matches, died in the hospital this morning at 4 o'clock, from shock to the system consequent on the severe injuries received.

Judge Ritchie delivered judgment for the defendant in the Keirvin v. McIver case, the hearing of which lasted until three o'clock this morning. He held that the horse was placed at Keirvin, that the latter worked the horse for its feed, and that it was not there as a boarder. He said two people saw the horse there, and that was better than 100 people who didn't see it. The judgment carries costs.

The case of Bustin v. Byrne was heard this morning in the county court before Judge Forbes. Messrs. Bustin & Porter were examined and the cross-examination of the latter will be continued this afternoon. B. T. C. Knowles for the plaintiff and D. Mullin, K. C., for the defendant.

Hon. A. R. McLellan and McLellan left this morning for the St. Lawrence, Albert county. Mr. McLellan has been in Fredericton to attend the funeral of the late Senator Wark whom he had known for many years. The ex-governor was of the opinion that the two vacancies in the senate would not immediately be filled.

FRENCH CAPITAL HAS A SENSATION.

That Rivals the Famous Humbert Case.

Clerk in a Bank Gets Away With a Fortune and Pretty Actress—Is Arrested in South America.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—A special despatch from Paris to the Herald says that Paris is agog over a sensation such as has not been equalled since the Humbert case.

Until the 4th of July Jean Galley was an employee of the Great Paris Bank, the Comptoir D'Escompte, earning the monthly salary of 300 francs ($400), on which he maintained a wife and two children. At present he is in the hands of the Brazilian police, and sailed from France on the Maconic Temple, which left Las Palmas on August 2 for Buenos Ayres.

At the Comptoir D'Escompte Jean Galley was employed in the transfer department. It is charged that by a series of clerical manipulations he succeeded in appropriating large sums, the amount of which was at first stated to be about a million francs ($200,000). Aboard the yacht it is further alleged Galley kept the company of Mme. Schot, an actress who left her husband a few years ago. For some time before starting on their voyage to South America the two had been on the best of terms. On August 1st Galley started on his annual fortnight's holiday, but he did not return on the appointed day, and an examination made of his books revealed the alleged defalcations which led the Comptoir D'Escompte to call the police.

Detectives found that Jean Galley was also known to some of his acquaintances as "Victime De La Guerre," or "Baron Jean de Grandval," had chartered the steam yacht Carrian and embarked. After this discovery was made detectives all over the world were instructed to keep a lookout for the man and everywhere the yacht might touch the police were transferred to arrest Jean Galley and his companion.

The yacht carried ample provisions for a long voyage. Before embarking Galley had sent aboard 4,000 kilograms of ice, several bottles of mineral water, and every requisite for an extended cruise in warm latitudes. The yacht carried packages of personal luggage were embarked at Havre and weighed 20,000 kilograms. For the journey from Paris to Las Palmas Galley utilized an automobile hired from a garage in Paris.

A letter received in Paris from the arrested at Las Palmas, stated that the Garrian was bound for Bahia or Buenos Ayres, and the police telegraphed to these ports Thursday. The police have just now received news of the arrest of Galley at Bahia.

The chief of the Bahia police cabled that he has arrived there and that the persons arrested say they are of Belgian nationality. Galley says his name is Jacques Grandee and Mme. Schot calls herself Victoria Masson. Mr. Hamard, chief of the Paris detective service, has cabled to Bahia for further news and has cabled to the French detectives nearest Bahia to go immediately to that town to take possession of the prisoners as soon as extradition formalities are accomplished.

CLEVER THIEFS STOLE BAGGAGE.

Daisy Has Confessed. But Won't Say Where

The Large Amount of Valuable Baggage Stolen During the Past Two Years Has Been Stored.

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—The Inter-Ocean today says—The mysterious disappearance of hundreds of trunks and other baggage from railroad trains and stations in charge of St. Louis and Denver during the past two years has just been revealed through the arrest here of Roy Aldrich, alias Roy E. Sprey, of California, and a woman giving the name of Daisy Dean, and her home as Denver. They were arrested on a charge of stealing furs from a store in the Maconic Temple. When their rooms were searched the police found a large number of trunks and suit cases and a profusion of the most expensive clothing and toilet articles for men and women.

Miss Dean confessed to the police yesterday her participation in a scheme which has caused a large number of railroads to lose a vast amount of valuable baggage.

The scheme was simple. They would take a trunk, satchel or suit case containing only a shirt or some other article of clothing, and check it to some nearby point. After the trunk was placed in the baggage car either the man or woman would go to the baggage agent, hand him half a dollar, show the check and ask to be allowed to open the trunk or satchel in order to get out a clean shirt or some other article. In a few cases the baggage master refused the request. While getting something out of the trunk either the man or woman would exchange the check on the empty trunk or valise for one of the best appearing trunks or valises in the car. When the train reached the destination to which the dummy baggage had been shipped they would immediately present the duplicate of the check which they transferred to another trunk, get and take it to his room. When the owner of the trunk called for it he would be offered the dummy trunk of the sharpers.

Detectives of the railroads are now trying to trace the stolen property. The Dean woman admits that much of it has been stored in various places, but so far she has refused to reveal where.

POLICE COURT.

Colored Lady Fined Twenty Dollars for Assault—Druggist Charged With Selling Liquor Contrary to Law.

The time of the police court was taken up this morning in the hearing of an assault case in which the Chinese woman, named Lee, charged with assault against Everett Watters, of the West End.

Wm. Goldworthy arrested on a charge of drunkenness and begging was fined eight dollars or two months in jail. Officer Crawford said that Goldworthy had been on the drunk for a week.

Proctor Dukeshire, well known on Sheffield street, once more pays eight dollars or goes to jail for two months for drunkenness. One other drunk was fined four dollars.

A case which created considerable excitement was charged with assault against Margaret Francis, a colored lady, by Ruby Hudson. Both parties live on Sheffield street.

Ruby, who appeared in court wearing a black eye, and an expansive smile, said she was walking along Sheffield street on Tuesday morning with another woman, named Leah Adams, and a man, whose front name is Charlie, when Margaret seized hold of her and dealt her two in the eye to go on with. The blows knocked her down and Margaret offered her some more, but she wasn't having any, so took to her heels and ran.

Margaret in her story, admitted striking Ruby, but said she had great provocation, for when the three passed her, Ruby sang out, "You black—"

She then lost her temper and struck her. Sarah Morris, also colored, gave corroborative evidence as to the language and testified to the assault.

Annie Francis, who said she didn't know whether there was any relation of the prisoner's saw the assault, but didn't hear the language.

His honor fined the woman twenty dollars, which amount she paid.

J. Everett Watters, of Union street, West End, was charged with selling liquor on Sunday last without a prescription.

Mr. Henderson, the court clerk, conducted the prosecution, and E. S. Ritchie appeared for Mr. Watters.

Francis Keenan, who was in Watters' store on Sunday and admitted being served with liquor, it was not whiskey, brandy, rum or gin, but what was called "ferment," which he paid thirty-five or forty cents. He gave in no prescription for it.

Thomas Watters, assistant druggist, did not know what ferment was.

The case was adjourned until Tuesday morning.

Seven of the Halifax players in the golf tournament yesterday left for home last night. The others are going over the links today, with a number of the players.

LOST LEGION GETS RESTLESS.

Portsmouth Life Palls on the Men of Action

Believed the Peace Conference Has Failed—Supply of Tea Has to be Twice Renewed—Mind Reader Tries Sato.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 25.—The envoys and their backstairs conferees have been here two weeks now. The assembled company has begun to break up into groups and to get acquainted. We have found our congenial company at the tables in the dining room; have even begun to strike agreements as to our hour of dining, so that the company may assemble at the same time. There are Russian tables, Japanese tables, California tables, Irish tables and, most of all, international tables.

At one time last week we even took to adjourning to the palm garden to have our black coffee in hearing of the Tenth Artillery band. The weather cured us of that, for the nights are cool and changeable, and dinner dress is slim protection to the human chest. A week ago the commonplace was "How's your cold?"

There is no doubt that the lost legion and backstairs conferees in general want to go away. They'd like peace, certainly, but selfishly they are longing for action along the boulevards or Broadway or Unter den Linden or the Nevski Prospekt. Perhaps the selfish wish has been fostered by the pessimism of the last week. A fashionable, dressy, girl-haunted summer hotel is the last place on earth to attract the members of the lost legion. The palm garden stories now are all of action, of old times in ship and camp, of intrigue of courts and the delight of armies, of the places where a man is a man, not an annex to a summer girl and a canoe.

So Tuesday, when Sato came out of the elevator and posted a notice stating that the conference had adjourned again, the backstairs conference groaned. It mattered not that the delay is a good omen for peace. The backstairs members have made up their minds that there will be no peace anyhow, and that there's an end of it.

Baron Rosen and M. Witte were photographed Monday in the midst of those who wear white and yellow ribbons and of several other correspondents. The photographer has made a nice little arrangement of chairs for the group, and had set in the middle a mahogany settee for Rosen and Witte. When the big Russian appeared the rest of the group was in place and had the summer guests and a hundred unattached rubbernecks were lined up behind the camera watching. As Witte rolled down the piazza with that Boer gait of his every one applauded. It is easy to see who is the favorite envoy in this hotel. Witte did not like the settee; it seemed to suggest a throne too much.

"Niet, niet," he said, and without waiting for assistance he slung the settee to one side and shoved two chairs into its place. He sat down, crossed his hands over the head of his cane, and got ready to be taken. Mr. Witte, in this small action, showed that he is a man of decision.

A half dozen of the Russian envoys sat in the palm garden Monday playing that game, which the Cantonese Chinese call "Man-Cee-Yat-See." It's a sort of counting out game, something like "Simon Says Thumbs Up." One of the attaches who has lived in Peking taught it to the crowd. They played for half an hour and enjoyed it like children.

The supply of tea at the hotel has had to be renewed twice in the last week and the four samovars bought for the conference are kept busy all the time. Both Russian and Japanese attachés drink tea continually while they wait. Every afternoon at 5 o'clock Pokotloff's Manchurian servant and Witter's French one cross over from the dining room and return with two steaming samovars.

The Japanese is made in little pots, and their servants are busy all day running for hot water.

Zanoni, psychologist and mind reader, exhibited in the ballroom. He is a living psychic wonder. He admits it himself. Number one was the test which killed Washington Irving Bishop. He performed it without so much as disturbing a frill of chiffon on the pretty, slim summer girl who led him around. Each feat was more difficult than the last, until at No. 3, which

CLOUD BURST IN COLORADO CANYON

Many Persons Drowned in the Raging Torrents.

The Property Loss Is Estimated at Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars—Relief Parties Are Being Sent Out.

TRINIDAD, Colo., Aug. 25.—A cloud burst in the vicinity of Rhode Canyon through which originally a small stream of water runs, last night converted the canyon into a raging torrent which swept through the town of Berwind and Tobacco, wrecking everything in its path and drowning at least nine persons. The property loss is estimated at hundreds of thousands of dollars, suffered mostly by the Colorado Fuel and Iron Co., and the Colorado and Southern Railway Co. It is impossible to get accurate news of the loss of life and property, for the reason that communication with the stricken towns is constantly interrupted by the storm which still continues. Relief parties have gone from Trinidad and neighboring towns but cannot reach the canyon for several hours of the 16 miles of distance lying between the deluged. From all directions are coming reports of the disastrous effects of the storm which enveloped Trinidad and the territory adjoining it, but no further loss of life than at Berwind and Tobacco has been reported.

There will be a special meeting of the Theobald Club, at 131 Brussels street, at nine o'clock this evening.

Geo. Pike, an express wagon driver, laid a complaint against Officer Hamm for assaulting him. The alleged assault was supposed to have taken place on the Beatrice Waring, but as Pike did not stay long enough in court this morning to allow of the story being heard his honor dismissed the complaint.

was entitled "Voluntary contributions," he found money on the guests after the hotel had got through with the week. Mr. Sato attended. He sat in the front row and acted as the pleasant citizen who always obliges when a knife was to be hidden or a letter placed out of any part of the room, all unblinking to the medium, who was blindfolded, anyway. It is reported that Prof. Zanoni was engaged privately to read Mr. Sato's mind in the course of the evening, but that just under the scalp he found a shell of thought, resisting, projectile-proof armor plate, this being the most remarkable experience of his professional career.

LITTLE CHILD WAS TERRIBLY BURNED.

Jennie Watson Set Fire to Paper at Her Home

Jennie, the five-year-old daughter of Fred Watson, 88 Sheriff street, was badly burned yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The little one had been playing in the yard, and according to her sister, Beads, must have come into the house and secured some matches. She was lighting some paper in the yard with these when Willie Upton, son of Jeremiah Upton, who lives next door, saw her, and went into the yard and put out the flames. Soon after this the little one lighted more paper, and set herself on fire, as the next seen of her was when, with clothes all ablaze, she was running round the yard. Geo. Oram, whose house adjoins the same yard, ran to the little one's assistance. Mrs. Upton brought out a mat, and she and Mr. Oram smothered the flames. The child's breast and arms were terribly burned, and Dr. Roberts was summoned. He saw that her condition was critical and ordered her removal to the hospital. The child's mother was away at the time of the accident, but was hurriedly summoned. She went to the hospital and remained there nearly all the evening, as the child's condition was extremely serious. Dr. Pratt was also called to the case, as it was some time before medical help could be obtained, and several physicians were rung up. Enquiry at the hospital this morning brought information that the child was suffering terribly, but it was impossible to say whether the burns would prove fatal.

TOWN IN DANGER FROM FOREST FIRES.

HOULTON, Me., Aug. 23.—Forest fires have been burning for the past three days in the vicinity of Monticello, and this afternoon the flames swept within one-fourth of a mile of Littleton. Citizens became alarmed at the situation and wired for a Houlton fire company, which left on a special train at once. Firemen and citizens are working hard to extinguish the flames, and if they do not get them under control by tomorrow forenoon nothing can prevent the entire town from becoming a mass of ruins.

SNEAK THIEF ROBS WIFE OF SENATOR MACKAY.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—A sneak thief obtained access to the room of Mrs. Robert Mackay, wife of Senator Mackay, one afternoon two weeks ago and succeeded in getting away with five diamond rings, a gold watch and $20 in money. The value of the stolen jewelry is placed at about two thousand dollars. Word was received from Toronto today that a portion of it had been recovered in that city.

Expert Tea Blending

HAVE you ever tried to blend colors to match the shade of the red rose? Pretty difficult, yet an expert can do it easily. Why? Because he can tell by looking at the rose what colors are required to produce that tint or shade. He can make that precise color every day in the week. Just as the artist in colors blends the tints of the red rose, so my artists in tea blend the "rich fruity flavor" of Red Rose Tea. With expert knowledge and intuitive skill he selects the particular picking of rich, strong Indian tea and the precise grade of fragrant, delicate Ceylon, and by skillful blending produces the peerless flavor of Red Rose Tea—a tea which for delicacy and strength is matched by no brand of Ceylon alone.

ATTY-GEN. PUGSLEY TAKES A HAND.

He Will Look After the Interests of McArthur and McVay

Another actor has appeared on the civic stage on which the Loch Lomond drama is being played. This performer is Dr. Pugsley, and he will probably take a leading part. Dr. Pugsley has been engaged as counsel for McArthur & McVay, and in order to become familiar with the work with which he will be called upon to deal he yesterday spent the afternoon at Loch Lomond.

There has been a lot of talk to the effect that McArthur & McVay are not willing to accept this $15,000 bonus, but the Star is informed that this talk is premature. The contractors will accept, so it is stated on good authority, and by the decision of the safety board no other course remains open to them unless they want to lose money on the contract. They have stated to the city that they cannot finish the work under present conditions, and the city is about to make an offer which will enable them to go on. If they decline this offer the work will be taken from them and the city itself will complete the contract according to statements made by several aldermen.

MRS. GLOSE WILL PURCHASE A FARM IN NEW BRUNSWICK.

Attorney General Pugsley has returned from C. Pratt Miller, agent general for New Brunswick in England, information relating to Mrs. Glose's scheme for the emigration to New Brunswick of poor law children. Mrs. Glose has been interested in this scheme for the past few years, and has made an arrangement whereby she will receive the aid of the New Brunswick government. Mrs. Glose has just received from a London banker a generous donation, which she will devote to the purchase of a farm of about two hundred acres in New Brunswick. The site of this farm has not been selected, but it is expected that Mrs. Glose will come here shortly. The local government agreed to assist Mrs. Glose by giving two hundred acres of land, and providing educational facilities to every group of children accompanied by two instructors who are brought here. This land would be wooded, but as children are unable to start in to clear farms, Mrs. Glose will have to have for the beginning an area ready for cultivation, and this has now been put in her reach. The children as they grow older and learn something about farming will be given a chance to clear their own land. Arrangements for locating the children and for the supervision of the different groups will be in the hands of a local committee.

THREE LAME DUCKS.

The river steamers have been having a little trouble this week. The Beatrice Waring struck a rock going up on Tuesday, which started some of her planks. She was repaired on coming back to the city and started out on her regular trip again yesterday. The Hampstead went aground on Wednesday near Day's wharf and bent one of her shafts, making it necessary for her to be towed to the wharf by the Elaine. The passengers were taken on board the latter steamer. The Hampstead was brought back to the city and is now being repaired at Hill-yard's dock. Early Wednesday morning the steamer Majestic met with an accident near Glenwood by which her rudder was broken, and after disposing of her passengers, she was towed into the city for repairs.

WORK ON THE FERRY

Dredging the Slips will be Begun Next Monday.

On Monday next the work of dredging under the ferry docks on the west side will be begun, and for three or four days thereafter the Ouagoupy will run from the east side docks to No. 2 berth at Sand Point, carrying foot passengers only. A platform has been built on the Sand Point wharf, and on the steamer stairs have been constructed to the top of one of the piddle boxes. This will afford an easy method of getting ashore. Teams will have to go round by the bridge.

In the following week the dredge will be employed in the east side slip, and for several days passengers will be landed at Reed's Point. Three new floats have been built for the Carleton side, and it is thought that these can be put in at one tide. Some of the floats rest at low water on piers, and on the tops of these piers or abutments much mud has gathered. This will have to be shovelled off into the spaces between the abutments, which spaces will be cleared out by the dredge.

There is also on the south of the east side slip a portion of an old wharf, and as this is under water a diver will be employed to cut it away.

W. O. RAYMOND'S BRILLIANT CAREER

His School Life Ends and He Will Be Ordained on Sunday Next.

W. O. Raymond, son of Rev. W. O. Raymond of this city, will be ordained to the Anglican ministry next Sunday at the Cathedral, Fredericton, and will immediately take up pastoral duties at McAdam. Mr. Raymond has attained a very high standard. He took his A. B. degree from the University of New Brunswick in 1903, winning the Douglas gold medal, and graduating with honors in Natural Science, and distinctions in English. The same year he entered the Montreal Divinity College, Montreal, and while there carried off many leading prizes. In his second year he captured every prize in the college, while in his final year he succeeded in winning the Gault gold medal, the Gault prize, and the Ellegood prize, and was appointed valedictorian of his class.

NO ROOM FOR THE NEW FIELD GUNS

They Are Now Stored in the Exhibition Building Until Another Place Can Be Found for Them.

The four guns for St. John's new field battery have arrived. They are not in the military stores building, for owing to the cramped quarters there is no room for them there. But they have been placed for storage in the exhibition building and are there at the order of Col. Geo. West Jones, to whom they were consigned. The guns and their carriages are painted green. They are twelve pounders, and with all the gear attached take up considerable space. But this is nothing to the space they will require for the whole equipment of the battery. There are about a dozen other wagons, ammunition wagons and chiefly, which are due to arrive at any time, and these with the harness for 70 or 80 horses, will almost require a building of their own.

HON. MR. GOODERHAM DIVIDED FORTUNE.

Value of Estate Was $9,325,017.—Province Gets $460,000.—Minister's Wife Receives Half a Million.

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 23.—Among his nine sons and daughters and relatives of two children, who died before him, the late George Gooderham, head of the firm of Gooderham & Worts, divided his fortune. The value of the entire estate is placed at $9,325,017. Upon this amount the province will derive about $460,000 succession duties. The executors are four sons and one son-in-law, T. G. Blackstock. The widow receives the family mansion, interest on $600,000 for its maintenance, and income of $20,000 for life and $100,000 in cash. The estate will be divided at the end of ten years, but each son and daughter receives $10,000 a year in the meantime. W. H. Brouse, son-in-law, and his children receive half a million. Mrs. Acheson, a daughter, wife of Rev. E. C. Acheson, receives a similar amount.

THE GLOBE'S NEW BUILDING.

Work has been begun on the new Globe building. The site is being cleared, and the contract has been awarded to R. A. Corbett and A. L. Dodge. G. Ernest Fairweather is architect. The building is to have a frontage of fifty feet, and will be the same height and of the same style as the present structure. The whole will form very roomy offices. The Globe has for a long time felt the need of additional space for the job printing and news departments, and in the new building there will be ample accommodation with perhaps a little to spare.

FELL FROM BOILER AND BROKE HIS THIGH.

David Lowell, Watchman in Sayre & Holly's Mill Seriously Hurt Last Night.

David Lowell, night watchman in Sayre & Holly's mill, Long wharf, met with a very serious accident while attending to his duties there last evening. Mr. Lowell had climbed on top of the boiler to fix something that was not in order and while working with a rope overhead he lost his balance and fell off backward onto a hard asphalt floor. The result was that he received a fractured thigh, and his left arm was badly hurt. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock and the man being all alone in the mill at the time, was left lying on the floor in a helpless condition for some 15 or 20 minutes. Finally a small boy passed near the place and Mr. Lowell called him and sent him for assistance. A number of men came and carried the unfortunate man out to the main street, where he was put in a coach and taken to his home on Moore street. Dr. Roberts was called in to attend him. Mr. Lowell is a man of something over fifty years, and the fracture received is likely to prove quite serious.

REGARDING LINE THROUGH WESTERN PROVINCES.

Prince Louis of Battenberg Received at Ottawa—Earl Grey Off for the Northwest.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—Prince Louis of Battenberg and 300 bluejackets and royal marines arrived here today, and were accorded a splendid reception. The admiral was the guest of honor of the Canadian Club at luncheon, and later received a civic address at City Hall. In reply his Highness said the navy might always be counted upon to do its duty. The Prince left for Toronto tonight, and the bluejackets go to Toronto on Sunday.

C. M. Hayes and Wm. Wainwright of the G. T. P. were here today conferring with the government regarding the location of the line through the western provinces, respecting which it is said the C. P. R. has raised objections on the ground that the line as planned encroaches on C. P. R. territory. Earl Grey and party leave for the Northwest Sunday at midnight.

BOSTON SURGEON'S DIFFICULT TASK IN LABRADOR.

Dr. Kingman, Summering With Labrador Missionary, Only Physician in That District.

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—A Bostonian, Dr. Kingman, has performed a very unusual operation at Labrador, removing from the abdomen of a woman a tumor weighing 87 pounds. J. H. Wood of London, secretary of the deep sea commission, who has reached St. John's, N. F., exhibits a photograph showing the extraordinary malformation. Dr. Kingman, a gynecologist, who is spending his vacation in Labrador with Dr. Grenfell, a Labrador missionary of note, has proved a veritable godsend to wretched sufferers. For 500 miles to seaboard there is no physician. The government has been asked to take action in the matter. Without medical aid the woman had been 19 months with this enormous tumor, which should have been removed and diagnosed. Her suffering was extreme. The tumor was the largest the Boston surgeon, operating for 13 years, had ever seen. The woman is progressing well and will soon be back with her husband and seven children.

MONTREAL, Aug. 23.—C. W. Spencer, superintendent of transportation on the Canadian Pacific lines east of Fort William, has resigned for the purpose of accepting the position of general manager of the Canadian Northern railway's lines east of Fort William, with headquarters in Montreal.

GRAIN RATES HIGHER THAN THOSE ON C.P.R.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—President Shaughnessy of the Canadian Pacific, when shown a press dispatch relating to the reduction in grain rates on the Great Northern Railway and Mr. Hill's statement to the effect that the reduction was made to increase the profits to the producer, remarked that this was merely following the policy adopted by the Canadian Pacific long ago. The grain rates on the Great Northern are still one cent per hundred pounds higher than those that have been in force on the Canadian Pacific for some years past.

TRIED TO TAKE HIS OWN LIFE
Capt. Tucker of Staples Settlement Is Despondent Over Financial Trouble.

FREDERICTON, Aug. 24.—A gentleman who was in the city today brought the news of a sensational but unsuccessful attempt at suicide by a well known resident of Staples settlement a day or two ago.

Staples settlement is in the parish of Bright, and is distant from Fredericton about 30 miles. There is hardly a resident of the place who does not know of "Captain" Tucker, and on sunny people were shocked to learn that he had made an attempt to take his life.

From what can be learned Tucker, who is about 45 years old and married, has been somewhat despondent over financial troubles lately and he went so far as to try to cut his throat with a scythe. It is told that the timely interference of his wife is all that saved Tucker's life.

Later, Tucker was taken by Aaron Price, a neighbor, to Dr. Moorehouse, and there he received the medical attendance necessary. It is now said that Tucker will recover.

Miss Margaret L. Bridges of 300 Germain street, and Alexander J. Stewart of Philadelphia, were married at the home of the bride at 8 o'clock last evening by Rev. David Lang of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. They will leave for Toronto today.

CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

The London Times correspondent in the West Indies has reached the conclusion that "confederation with Canada is the West Indies' hope and destiny."

Various incidents suggest that the imperial government is beginning to look upon such union as a live question.

The destiny of the British colonies in the West Indies is altogether dependent upon trade relations. Agriculture and the arts dependent upon agriculture are the only productive industries possible in those islands, and the market for these products must be found in countries where there is competition. In the United States market, and in that of most European countries the competitors have tariff advantages.

The economic policy of Great Britain is such as to offer no corresponding preference over the competing countries.

The Jamaica producer finds himself as compared with his competitor in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, California and Florida at a disadvantage in the United States market. As compared with the competitor in the French Islands he is handicapped in the markets of France.

In Germany and other European states he is met by a prohibitive sugar tariff. Great Britain, to which he naturally looks for compensating advantages, offers him no better treatment than is offered to the foreign colonies which are preferred elsewhere. It is in such circumstances that the British West Indies turn either to the United States, on the hope of making trade terms amounting to commercial annexation, or to Canada, offering a large and growing market, which in the event of union would be free of duty and protected from severe competition.

From the Canadian point of view there would be certain trade advantages. We are producers of many articles required in the West Indies, such as are now largely supplied by the United States. Lumber, fish, dairy products, meats, breadstuffs, potatoes and certain lines of manufactures could be supplied to the British West Indies by Canada in much larger quantities under closer trade relations. The direct interchange of commodities would increase the business of the Canadian ports most conveniently situated for it.

The difficulties to be met and responsibilities to be assumed are serious. We should increase our vulnerable coast line, and add to the chances of collision with our neighbors. Our machinery of government would be exposed to a new strain when it has not yet proved itself to be a perfect one in the country where it was developed. We should take into the Dominion a number of communities unaccustomed to popular government and probably unfitted for it. It would be useless to pretend that these problems are not serious.

The question of defending our new available points would not, perhaps, be imminent. We do not now profess to defend our coasts, and the obligation to assist in the maintenance of the British navy would not be increased by this extension of the union. We are not wholly without experience in managing territories which are not self-governed. We have governed the Yukon, from Ottawa, and have done it rather worse than Great Britain has governed any of the West India islands. We have for a quarter of a century administered the Northwest as a sort of crown colony. But we have not had to deal with a colored population such as the majority of dwellers in the West Indies, and our territorial administrations were always understood to be temporary. There are without doubt considerable difficulties to be met and overcome. But the proposition is well worth an effort.

THE BEST ROUTE WANTED.

Mr. George H. Campbell, former president of the Halifax Board of Trade, tells the Sun that the people of his city are strongly opposed to the valley route for the Grand Trunk Pacific. "We believe," he says, "that the 'central route' is much shorter and of 'fewer engineering difficulties.'"

Much depends upon the question whether the people of Halifax are right in this belief. It does not seem worth while to discuss as a matter of opinion an element which is purely a matter of fact. The latest and fullest information available makes it appear that the central route is from ten to twenty miles the shorter of the two and that it presents greater engineering difficulties.

But that is a preliminary survey. When a more detailed and exact location survey is completed we shall know whether the distance said to be saved by the central route will not be lost in the effort to get the requisite grades and whether it will not then be found that the valley route is the quickest, cheapest and best from a transportation point of view. If this should happen we should expect to find Mr. Campbell an advocate of the valley route, for the same reason that he now advocates the other.

There need be no dispute between Halifax and St. John on this matter.

Certainly there is no ground at present for such dispute. The chances are that the route which is the most available for one port will be most available for the other.

THE NEWSPAPER MUSE.

"A Muse" meant to the ancient Greeks the highest realm a poet seeks: "The muse inspired the bard to let Down deathless lyrics, and to trot His Pegasus up dizzy peaks."

The soul of Tragedy, who speaks In rolling numbers, or who shrieks Prophetic warnings—that is what A Muse meant.

But now, unlike those best Antiques, The Jokesmith with his jingles ekes Out his small living—is it not Sad? His poor Muse has only got One duty through unending weeks—Amusement!

DERBY, Conn., Aug. 24.—After plunging headlong twenty feet to the ground twice today in desperate efforts to end his life, Alfred D. Pearce, of London, England, who weighs 210 pounds, is alive and probably will recover. Pearce, who is a dealer in glass cutters and collar buttons, leaped out of a window early this morning, but received only slight bruises. At noon Pearce sprang from his bed and booted for the open window. Hallock grappled with him and a struggle resulted. Pearce finally shaking off Hallock and diving from the window. He struck on his head and lay limp. He was removed to St. Francis' Hospital, where he soon recovered. He says illness drove him to attempt suicide.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., Aug. 24.—Anne Riley, aged twenty, was lodged in jail at Bloomsburg today charged with shooting Robert Kile, of Centuria, who is now dying with a bullet in his head and another in his abdomen.

The girl, it is alleged, shot him to protect her father, with whom he was fighting. He had entered the Riley home, at Centuria, and when Riley put him out the two fought on the porch. He knocked Riley down and then the girl, it is charged, fired four times at him, two of the bullets hitting him. Woodstock Defeats Presque Isle.
WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 24.—The Presque Isle ball team played the Colts this afternoon and suffered defeat, 3 to 5. Graves was in the box for the Colts for the first five innings, but was batted quite heavily. Good was substituted, and only one run was made off him. Gallagher was catcher. Song was on the firing line for the locals and besides having speed his shots were effective. As usual Woodrow (who arrived from St. John to play with his team), played a brilliant game.

Tomorrow Good and Gallagher will not play but will be saved for St. John. The teams:
Woodstock: Woodrow, c; Song, p; Milmore, 1b; Dilling, 2b; Pickett, 3b; McRae, ss; McLean, rf; G. McLaughlin, lf; R. McLaughlin, cf.

CONTRACTS AWARDED FOR NEW BRIDGES

FREDERICTON, Aug. 24.—Chief Commissioner Lallois has not as yet awarded the contract for building the three masonry piers for the Fredericton and St. Marys highway bridge, within a day or two a decision will probably be reached. It is learned that the total cost of the three piers will be between $25,000 and $30,000 and that a decision was made this morning at the public works department of several contracts having been awarded, and two York county contractors have been the successful tenderers.

The contract for rebuilding the McParlane bridge at Albert county has been awarded to W. J. Foxworth of Temperance Vale, York Co. Mr. Foxworth has also been awarded the contract for rebuilding the Stanley Wilson bridge in Carleton Co.

The contract for rebuilding the Peadar bridge in Queens Co. has been awarded to Whitman Brewer of St. Marys.

ELMER YOUNG MAKES THREATS.

Will Take Proceedings Against N. S. Authority.

He Was Refused the Custody of the Baby Elma and Sailed for Boston Very Indignant.

DIGBY, Aug. 24.—Elmer E. Young is tonight on the broad Atlantic with his passport safely in his pocket. He registered a most emphatic kick against the action of the authorities, and shaking the dust of Nova Scotia from his feet, he left for Boston via Yarmouth this afternoon. His request to be allowed the custody of baby Elma was refused. The child is still at the almshouse, and as many persons are anxious to adopt it, a good home and proper upbringing about the child was refused. Mr. Young announced that he would begin proceedings from Boston with an end to secure its custody, but beyond stating that the child was born in Boston and is therefore an American subject, he was rather vague as to the line of action which would be adopted. He took back with him garments which he had bought for the child.

Before leaving, he called at the jail and asked permission to bid Mary Hope Young good-bye, but had to content himself with the assurance that she would be informed of his visit. No one but the jail officials are permitted to see the condemned woman.

Last night after sentence had been pronounced, everything which might be used in an attempt at suicide was removed from the cell, but today she was so bright that her spare garment and articles of toilet were restored to her by Jailer Hutchinson and she was as delighted as a child with a new toy, dandling about the gloomy room and laughing merrily, seemingly as indifferent as ever about what the future may hold in store. She tried to tell the new babe which Elmer E. Young had presented to her, with as much gaiety as if she were decking herself out for a stroll down Tremont street. Under the most awful penalty known to the law she has given no sign of weakening. With the shadow of the gallows over her, she apparently requires nothing beyond a pretty hat to bring forth manifestations of delight. If she knew she is a man of fortune, it is deemed, she possesses in a marked degree the ability to disguise the ordinary symptoms. The fact that can be said is that she is to all who know her, she is a mystery.

SOCIETY WEDDING AT ST. STEPHEN

Miss Alice Amelia Bates of St. Stephen United in Marriage to Prof. McKusick of South Dakota.

ST. STEPHEN, Aug. 24.—Canada gave to Uncle Sam today one of her most important daughters in a marriage at four o'clock this afternoon at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. D. Hume Bates, the parents of the beautiful young bride.

The contracting parties were Professor Marshall N. McKusick, Jr., of Vermillion, South Dakota, son of Hon. M. N. McKusick of Canada, and Miss Alice Amelia Bates of St. Stephen.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. C. Goucher, pastor of the Union street Baptist church. The bridesmaid was Miss Sadie Calhoun of Calhoun Mills, N. B., and Winthrop of Calais supported the young groom.

The halls, drawing rooms and dining room were beautifully festooned with ferns and flowers, the marriage ceremony being performed beneath an arch of ferns and white sweet peas, with crossed flags and a true lover's knot forming the apex. The bride was attired in white embroidered chiffon over silk and the bridesmaid wore champagne chiffon over silk.

Ten young ladies of a club to which the bride belonged were ribbon bearers. The assemblage was a brilliant and fashionable one, the young bride being a popular member of society circles. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held and lunch served, and later the happy couple, accompanied by the young ladies who had assisted, made the first stage of an extended wedding journey together. The presents were fittingly expressive of the esteem in which the young people are held, and included checks for one thousand dollars, a valuable case of silver, an abundance of cut glass and other articles of value, among them a token from fellow teachers of the bride in the Baptist Sunday school.

Prof. and Mrs. McKusick will reside in Vermillion, S. D.

CONFIRMS REPORT OF C. P. R. PROTEST.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Sir Thomas D'Almeida, chief of the report that the C. P. R. has protested the route as located by the Grand Trunk Pacific from Portage La Prairie to Touchstone Mills, in a document sent to the governor general and council the C. P. R. claims that the present location for 230 miles is a violation of the spirit and letter of the policy of the government, which has always contended that the competing lines of railway should be kept 35 miles apart. They also say that no part of the section in question is more than 10 miles from the C. P. R. main line or branches.

TARIFF COMMISSION

BEGINS IN WEST.

Undecided Which of Ministers Will Accompany Premier to Regina and Edmonton.

Ottawa, Aug. 24.—It is still undecided which of the ministers will accompany Laurier to Regina and Edmonton. Seemingly the ministers are reluctant to make the journey, and the choice is whittled down now to Mulock or Patterson. It is certain that only minister will accompany the premier. There is an intense feeling of disgust in ministerial circles at Oliver's actions on shipping away to the Yukon without notifying anybody. The plea is put forward on his behalf that it is essential that the minister of the interior should familiarize himself with present conditions in the Yukon, but this is not an acceptable excuse for a man responsible for the selection of Edmonton as the capital of Alberta, and largely for the coercion of the two new provinces as regards educational affairs.

The tariff commission has compromised upon the date of commencing its tour of enquiry. It is likely that the commissioners will first go west, beginning their investigation at Winnipeg about the 8th or 10th of September, then continuing out to the Pacific coast.

SIR HENRY MORGAN, BUCCANEER

By CYRUS TOWNSEND BRADY,
Author of "The Southerners," "For Love of Country," "The Grip of Honor," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1905, BY G. W. DILLINGHAM COMPANY

Sir Henry Morgan, deposed from the vice-governorship of Jamaica, with the most brilliant of his secret enemy, again holds the black flag. They capture two Spanish frigates, conveying a heavily loaded galleon, but are wrecked on the coast of Venezuela. Captain Alvarado, born of unknown parentage, but now the commandant of the Spanish frigate, Venezuela, loves the daughter of the governor, who has chosen De Tobar as Donna Mercedes Alvarado with a party to convey Mercedes to La Guayra. She discloses her love for him, and tries to jump her home over the cliff, but Alvarado saves her and acknowledges love has been buried there.

Alvarado's hand, having been buried there, and meeting the little party kill all except Alvarado and the two women. La Guayra is sacked and burned. Harlequin, getting a view of Alvarado's parentage, helps him to escape.

As he spoke the old man cut the bonds of Alvarado, belted upon him dagger and sword, thrust a charged pistol in his hand, covered his head with a steel cap and threw a long look around him. The two then went forth into the night. Avoiding the notice of others, they hastened along the beach.

Harlequin, for there were none to keep watch or guard—until they came to one of the ladders by which the buccaneers had entered the town. Down it Alvarado, first wearing again on the cross on his honor to respect his agreement with Harlequin, and again receiving the man's assurance, dropped hastily to the ground.

There was no one to look, and he dashed recklessly across the narrow strip of sand to the shadow of the cliffs, along which he ran until he came opposite the place of his mother's death. The white water was rolling and crashing on the beach and the body was gone. With a heavy petition for the repose of her soul, he ran on until he reached the turn of the beach. Unlike the priest, however, he did not pursue the mountain road, but after going a short distance he left the way and plunged to the right through the trees directly up the side of the hill.

His face was cut and slashed by Morgan's dagger; his soul had been racked and torn by the scenes he had gone through; the plight of Mercedes stirred him to the depths; his heart yearned over the slaughtered hero, the ruined town, but with a strength superhuman he plunged at the hill in spite of the force of the rolling waves in the darkness with frantic energy until he found the traces of a slender, rocky path which led over the mountains.

The boatwain cunningly suggested that it would be just as well to let Alvarado remain in solitude without food or water until the next day, by which time, the boatwain argued, he would be reduced to a pre-emptory condition of humility and servitude. Morgan found this advice good. It was quite in consonance with his desires and his practices. He would have killed Alvarado out of hand had he not considered him the most favorable card with which to play the game he was waging with Mercedes for her consent to marry him.

So far as he was capable of a genuine affection he loved the proud Spanish maiden. He would fain persuade her willingly to come to his arms rather than enforce her consent or overcome her scruples by brute strength. There would be something of a triumph in winning her, and this vain, blood-stained old brute fancied that he had sufficient attractiveness for the opposite sex to render him invincible if he set about his wooing in the right way. Here again Harlequin, upon whom, in the absence of Teach, he depended more and more and in whom he confided as of old, advised him.

"I know woman," said that worthy, "and all you want is to give her time. Wait until she knows what's happened to the rest of them and sees only you have power to protect her, and she will come to heel right enough. Besides, you haven't given her half a chance. She's only seen you weapon in hand. She doesn't know what a man you are, captain. Sink me if I'd your looks, instead of this old, scarred, one-eyed face, there'd be no man I'd give way to and no woman I'd not wish she'd be so anxious to talk to you in the morning that you can make her any thing. Then if you can starve that Spanish dog and break his spirit so that she'll see him crawling at your feet he'll sicken of him and turn to a man."

"Scuttle me," laughed Morgan, "I didn't know you knew so much about the sex. Well, I'll stay away from her till the morning. I shall be busy any way trying to straighten out these drunken sots, and do you put the screws on that captain and leave the lady alone, but see that she lacks nothing."

"Aye, aye; trust me for them both," Harlequin found means during the day—and it was a matter of no little difficulty to elude the guards he himself had placed there to inform Mercedes of the escape of Alvarado and to advise her that he expected the return of that young man with the black dog on the victory at 10 o'clock that night. He didn't know you knew so much!

had he be of good cheer; that he did not think it likely that Morgan would think of calling upon her or of sending for her until morning when he would be too late. He promised that he would watch over her and do what he could to protect her; that he would never leave the fort except for a few moments before 10 that night, when he would go to admit Alvarado. What was better earnest of his purpose was that he furnished her with a keen dagger, small enough to conceal in the bosom of her dress, and advised her if worst came to worst, and there was no other way, to use it. He impressed on her that on no account was she to allow Morgan to get the slightest inkling of her whereabouts. She lay helpless on a couch in the apartment, and ministering to her distracted the poor girl's mind, yet such a day as Mercedes de Lara passed she prayed she might never again experience. The town was filled with the shouts and cries of the buccaneers wandering to and fro, singing drunken choruses, now and again routing out hidden fugitives from places of fancied security and torturing them with ready ingenuity whenever they were taken. The confusion was increased and the noise diversified by the shrieks and groans of these miserable wretches. Sometimes the voices that came through the high windows were those of women, and the sound of their screams made the heart of the brave girl sink like lead in her breast.

For the rest, she did not understand Harlequin's position. She did not know whether to believe him or not, but of one thing was she certain—whereas she had been defenseless, now she had a weapon, and she could use it if necessary. With that in hand she was mistress at least of her own fate.

As evening drew on, everything having been attended to, Morgan began to tire of his isolation, and then hung heavy on his hands. He was weary of the women whom he had hitherto consorted with. The other officers, between whom and himself there was no sort of friendship, were busy with their own nefarious wickednesses in the different parts of the fort. How, and he sat a long time alone in the guard-room drinking Black Dog, as usual, pouring at his side. The liquor inflamed his imagination, and he craved companionship. Summoning Harlequin at last, he bade him bring Donna Mercedes before him. The old man attempted to expostulate, but Morgan's mood had changed, and he brooked no hesitation in obeying any order given by him. There was nothing for the boatwain to do but to comply.

Once more Mercedes, therefore, found herself in the guardroom of the fort in the presence of the man she loathed and feared above all others in creation. She glanced at the clock, a recent importation from Spain, hanging upon the wall, as she entered and saw that it was half after 9. Ten was the hour Harlequin had appointed to meet Alvarado at the gate. She hoped that he would be early rather than late, and if she could withstand the buccaneer by persuasion, seeming compliance or by force for a short space, all would be well, for she never doubted that her lover would come for her. Even if he had to come single handed and alone to fight for her, she knew he would be there. Therefore with every nerve strained almost to the breaking point to ward off his advances and to delay any action he might contemplate, she faced the boatwain.

He was dressed with barbaric magnificence in the richest and plunder he had appropriated, and he had adorned his person with a profusion of silver and gold and stolen gems. He had been seated at the table while served by the maroon; but, as she entered, with manual complaisance he arose and bowed to her with something of the grace of a gentleman.

"Madam," he said, endeavoring to make soft and agreeable his harsh voice, "I trust you have been well treated since my charge."

He had been drinking heavily, she saw, but as she spoke her fair self would answer him accordingly. On his part he had determined to try the gentler arts of persuasion, and though his eyes were staring and his hand trembled when he raised his glass, he strove to forget it and play the gentleman. She answered his question calmly without exhibiting resentment or annoyance.

"We have been comfortably lodged and provided with food and drink in sufficiency, senator."

"I am yours," said the captain instantly. "Here, madam; here at my side."

"Not yet, Senator Captain. It were not fit that a prisoner should occupy so high a seat as this—"

"Until you are Lady Morgan?" he cried, his face flaming.

She buried her face in her hands at his suggestion, for she feared he would say to her, "You would show too plainly then, and then, because she dare not lose sight of him, she constrained herself to look at him once more. Her cheeks were burning with shame, her eyes flashing with indignation, though she forced her lips into the semblance of a smile.

"Yes, yes, does it?" continued the man, with boasting conceit. "You did not think I designed so to honor you after last night, madam? Scuttle me, but I would like to see your face as it looks now, madam. Fere God, it runs with your beauty. You are silent," he continued, staring at her with red eyes, drunken suspicion. "You do not answer."

"My lord," cried Mercedes, "I know not what to say."

"Say 'Harry Morgan, I love you, and I am yours.'"

"That is another present, senator."

"Where? Another? Who has dared?" roared the buccaneer, glaring about him.

"The servant, the negro."

"Oh," he laughed, "he is nothing. Black Dog we call him. He is my slave, my shadow, my protection. He is always by."

An idea had swiftly flashed into the young girl's mind. If she could get rid of the slave she could deal more easily with the master. The man was tall, strong and Morgan, it appeared, was not in full possession of his faculties or his strength from the liquor he had imbibed.

"Still," he urged, "I do not like to be wooed in the presence of another, even though he be a slave. 'Tis not a Spanish maiden's way, sir."

"You will see, lady," said the buccaneer, with a hideous attempt at gallantry, "in my law. Afterward—'twill be another matter. Out, Carib, but be within call. Now, madam, we are alone. Speak your English tongue!"

The conversation had been carried on in Spanish heretofore.

"Indifferently, senator."

"Well, I'll teach it you. The lesson may as well begin now. Say after me, 'Harry—I permit that, though I am a belted knight of England, made so by my merry majesty King Charles, God rest him. Drink to the repose of the king!' he cried, shoving a cup across the table toward her.

Resisting a powerful temptation to throw it at him and dreading that the stimulant might be of assistance to her in the trying crisis in which she found herself, the girl lifted the cup to her lips, bowed to him, and swallowed a portion of the contents.

"Give it back to me!" he shouted. "You have tasted it! I drain it. Now the lesson. Say after me, 'Harry Morgan.'"

"Harry Morgan," gasped the girl. "I love thee."

With a swift inward prayer she uttered the Latin words.

INTERCOLONIAL RELIEF AND INSURANCE ASSOCIATION.

Annual Report Submitted Shows Net Surplus of $13,890.22.

MONCTON, Aug. 24.—The sixteenth annual report of the Intercolonial Railway Employees' Relief and Insurance Association shows a net surplus for the year ending June 30th, 1905, of $13,890.22, and the order is in excellent financial condition. The total receipts for the year from all sources were $78,661.27, and the credit balance from 1904, was $12,329.56. The total expenditures were $74,200.65, leaving a credit balance of $16,790.18, which, less estimated outstanding liabilities, $3,900, leaves a net surplus of $12,890.22.

The claims against the association for medical and surgical attendance and for special treatment and hospital charges during the year have been considerably in excess of its income. The deficit in this fund was found to be increasing so rapidly that the general executive committee found it necessary to order a special assessment of 25 cents per member, and this reduced the deficit very materially. In view of the state of this fund the executive officers have under consideration the advisability of reducing the year's dues from $1.00 to $0.75. Fifty-three death claims were due to natural causes, and twelve were due to accidental injuries, and they totaled $430,750. Fourteen claims for total disability allowance, aggregating $6,250, were approved by the general executive committee—assessed and paid. The following are the death claims assessed and paid during the year ended June 30th, 1905: Moncton district—Theo. S. Leblanc, $250; Thomas Gay, $250; Lewis Hicks, $250; James McAuley, $1,000; John Crue, $250; Joseph G. Cormier, $250; Hugh Gray, $250; Angus Rushton, $250. Total, $2,750. St. John district—T. J. Murphy, $250; James Drummond, $500; Charles Brown, $500; William Boyd, $500; T. T. Trille, $250; Stephen Duncan, $250; Edward Shaw, $250; Edward Moriarty, $500; John Falls, $500; Robert A. Raimie, $500; A. Harrison, $250. Total, $4,250. Amount paid for sick and accident indemnities and for surgical and medical attendance: Moncton sick and accident indemnities, $5,907.75; surgical and medical attendance, $1,638.65; St. John, sick and accident indemnity, $1,140.50; surgical and medical attendance, $597.72.

STEAM PIPE BURST

ON DONALDSON LINER.

Causing Fatal Injuries to Alex. Smith and Seriously Injuring Others.

MONTREAL, Aug. 24.—Just as the Donaldson liner Lakonia was about to proceed to sea for Glasgow this morning, an auxiliary steam pipe burst, causing fatal injuries to Alex. Smith, third engineer, and Sydney Jackson, coal trimmer, while A. Miller, fifth engineer, was so seriously injured that he was taken to the General Hospital. The damage to the machinery was not serious, and the Lakonia will proceed to sea at daylight tomorrow. Smith had been some time in the employ of the company and belongs to Glasgow. Jackson had signed articles in this port, but no address was given. Miller also belongs to the other side.

The coroner held an inquest into the cause of the accident, which was not determined, the jury, however, finding there had been no criminal negligence.

NEW DRILL HALL IS NOW ASSURED.

St. John's new drill hall is now an assured fact, thanks to the efforts of Inspector General Lord Aylmer. When his lordship was here some few weeks ago, he stated after having inspected the present shack that when he went back to Ottawa he would certainly have something to say about it. He has carried out his promise, for word has been received here that operations will be begun in the very near future. This decision of the militia department is said to be the direct result of Lord Aylmer's representations.

No definite information has been received as to the site, but it is feared that the new building will have to be put up on the present barrack square. There is now available for the building the $10,000 which has been voted so often, and there is in addition a departmental fund which will enable the whether to be carried out until a further amount can be voted.

THE FIRST SHIPMENT.

HALIFAX, Aug. 24.—The Furness-Withy steamer Oriana, from Montreal to South African ports with a general cargo, is at Sydney taking bunker and three hundred barrels of coal tar from the Dominion Tar and Chemical Co. This is the first shipment of tar product from any Canadian port to Africa.

Miss Mae and Miss Bessie Vinton.

Frank R. Mackenzie on the stage in his costume in "If I Were King," and portraits of him off the stage.

Will pretty, dashing, independent Bessie Vinton, the richest girl in Springfield, the famous Massachusetts girl who spends at the Vinton house, pay $50,000 for a matinee idol husband?

Dr. will she contest the suit that Mrs. Mattie B. Mackenzie has brought against her, asking that modest sum for silencing the affections of her actor-husband, Frank Roderick Mackenzie, known to the theatre-going world as handsome Stewart Cameron? Bessie Vinton was never known to deny herself anything she wanted because of the price.

The girl who would pay $500, $2,500 or $5,000 for a horse if she really wanted it, and who dined up a Turkish den in her home at a cost of $10,000, is not likely to hesitate at paying $50,000 for a husband—if she really loves him.

That is the opinion of some of Miss Vinton's friends.

It is a very singular case, in which the papers were filed a week ago last Thursday at the registry of deeds in Springfield. Normally, it is an attachment for damages for $50,000 levied upon Miss Vinton's million-dollar estate by Mrs. Mattie B. Mackenzie, of Boston.

But behind it is a contest over a husband—the wife, in effect, putting a price upon her good-looking spouse and challenging the other woman to pay for him, or else she will keep him herself.

Of course, there is nothing very new in an American heiress buying a husband. Countess, and heiress are constantly being snapped up by American girls of means, at prices ranging anywhere from one to twenty millions.

So that $50,000 for a good, reliable, American-bred husband would seem to be cheap enough, especially considering that he is handsome and talented and will be ornamental wherever put.

Even a good horse brings that much! What is what Tom Lawson paid for his beautiful black trotter Dare Devil?

THIS $50,000 MATINEE IDOL IN THE CASE.

Matinee girls the country over have had a chance to see this $50,000 prize husband. On the stage he is known as Stewart Cameron. He has been with E. H. Sothern the past two years.

In that romantic play, "If I Were King," Stewart Cameron took the part of Jehan de Leup, the handsome courtier.

When Sothern played Hamlet Stewart Cameron had various minor parts. He acted as Sothern's understudy, and one day when the star was ill, out in a little Ohio city, Mr. Mackenzie played the part of the Prince.

Now the matinee girls had a chance to see a $50,000 husband could make love on the stage to the lovely Opheelia.

When Sothern was playing "The Proud Prince" during the past winter, Mr. Mackenzie had so worked himself up into the star's confidence that he was assistant stage manager.

Now that the play season is over Frank Mackenzie is having a real romance of his own at Par Rockaway. Bessie Vinton is there at her cottage with her horses and her servants. All the time that the young stage manager can spare from his theatrical duties in New York, he spends at the Vinton cottage or at a neighboring hotel.

Meanwhile down near the tip end of Cape Cod is Captain Little Mrs. Mattie Mackenzie, who pines for her decided little mouth at the mention of Frank Mackenzie and Bessie Vinton as if she would say: "She can have him if she pays for him."

What a depth of feminine subtlety—what sweet revenge Mattie Mackenzie is having.

For four years—very soon after her husband and Bessie Vinton became acquainted—Mrs. Mackenzie has known of their love affair. She might have obtained a divorce at any time on the ground of desertion. That would have been just what Frank Mackenzie and Bessie Vinton wanted.

THE OTHER WOMAN TO BE RECKONED WITH.

What more truly feminine, tantalizing plot could she have formed than to keep her husband from getting a divorce while that other woman who had stolen his affections was eating her heart out for a man that she could not even say she was engaged to?

What sweeter revenge could any woman have?

To think that that other woman, rich, beautiful, courted by wealthy suitors who never before in her life had known any desire that she could not gratify, was now so hopelessly snared in love's net with a man who was another woman's husband!

Now comes the climax.

"You can have him for $50,000!"

The technical legal papers do not say this, but they imply it.

Will Bessie Vinton pay it for a husband?

The people of Springfield believe she will, rather than allow her who has made a name for herself to be told in court in the city where she was born and where she has always been looked up to as a social idol.

Ten years ago Bessie Vinton, then barely eighteen and a debutante, and her sister and drove the pair with a skill that in Henry Meyer. He had no money to speak of, but was fast making a name for himself as a rising young business man. They were engaged and about to be married when Mr. of the best people, the Vinton sisters were Meyer died.

About this time Bessie Vinton's mother died, and so did her older sister, Mrs. Her father had died suddenly, some said by suicide, though the matter was always more of the late Eliza Morgan, head of the envelope trust, paid court to her. It was rumored that they were engaged.

But for some reason that nobody has ever seemed to quite understand, they had a two to four horses in the stable. In the summer she would take her horses and several servants and go to her seaside cottage at Par Rockaway.

Her dead lover had introduced her on one occasion to Frank Roderick Mackenzie. Mr. Mackenzie had then but recently come from Boston to Springfield. He was the local manager of Bradstreet's Commercial Agency. He had attended Harvard College and the Harvard Law School, but never practiced law.

His salary was not large, about $800 a year, but he cut quite as much of a figure about town as the sons of millionaires with ten times that amount to spend.

That was the period of the bicycle craze when that was a fashionable fad. Frank played a leading part in "The Ensign," and was the general in "The New South." This latter part he played with great dash, which quite won the hearts of the feminine part of his audience at one of the local theatres.

Frank Mackenzie had a faculty for attracting young women even before he went upon the amateur stage. He had a pair of handsome black eyes, a clear complexion, black hair and an athletic figure, and carried himself with a jaunty air. Added to this was a rare faculty of inducing himself into feminine favor.

Bessie Vinton was captivated by the brilliant amateur actor. The acquaintance brought about by Harry Meyer was continued. Many of Mackenzie's friends advised him to go upon the stage.

Bessie Vinton, hearing of this, took up the idea with enthusiasm and urged Frank Mackenzie to study for the stage at once.

But he had no money, and was in debt. He had already far outlived his salary.

Somewhat he found the money to go to New York and take a year's course at one of the dramatic schools. It has been said that Bessie Vinton supplied the means for this.

Whoever Mackenzie came to Springfield he took a carriage and went to the Vinton home with all his baggage. His old acquaintances saw little of him. His wife, heartbroken apparently at her husband's attachment to the young heiress, went back to her parents' home in Malden, just out of Boston.

Frank Mackenzie's stage career began in 1902, when he secured an engagement with the noted actor, R. H. Sothern, who was then playing "If I Were King." Mackenzie took for a stage name Stewart Cameron, and played the part of Jehan de Leup, a courtier.

IS HE WORTH HIS WEIGHT IN GOLD?

When Sothern's company was at Springfield a year ago, and it became known that Frank Mackenzie was with him, there was a great attendance of Springfield young women, all anxious to see "Bessie Vinton's lover."

By that time the romance of the young heiress and the poor clerk-actor was a matter of common gossip.

"Society" in Springfield was greatly shocked that one of its most noted members should have her name thus linked with a married man.

She was cut on all sides. Bessie Vinton felt this keenly. She circulated the report that Frank Mackenzie was divorced, and that they were engaged. But the little deception was too transparent to be generally accepted.

Yet everybody wondered why Frank Mackenzie did not get a divorce and marry the pretty Bessie Vinton.

Now it is apparent why he did not. He could not. The wife whom he had abandoned would not give him up to her rival so easily as that.

His cup of bitterness, and his inamorata's, must be filled yet fuller after four years of deferred hopes.

There is a little account to be settled for a wife's broken heart, with a liberal bonus for a handsome young husband, an item of $50,000.

Will Bessie Vinton pay it, and get the man of her choice at last?

Her friends think she will.

For, after all, is not a woman's ideal husband worth his weight in gold?

Frank Mackenzie, tipping the scales at 160, would be worth just $43,000 if appraised as pure gold.

And what girl who is truly in love but could think her future husband worth every cent of that?—if she had it to give?

Some of the people of Butte are beginning to take an extraordinary interest in the search for the new medicine. Miners have given up positions to search for the ore, and superintendents of several mines where it has been found are besieged with applicants for jobs. Sick and decrepit men beg permission to work where the medicine ore is deposited.

He wondered if there was any basis for the belief of the miners that the "medicine ore" could cure anything and he began an investigation of a number of reported cures. Almost without exception, as he found, men and women who carried the mineral claimed to have derived benefits from it and could not be ridiculed out of the idea that it was a curative as well as a preventative. Then he made tests on patients of his own, with results that puzzled and astonished him if they did not convince him. He made a report of his investigations and conclusions to his fellow physicians and then the story of radiumite created a sensation. Since then doctors and scientists from all parts of the world have taken an interest in it, and many have visited Butte to investigate for themselves.

Queer Medicine Stones and Rheumatism Rock Found in Montana.

RADIUMITE, the new designation given to a strange mineral possessing peculiar medicinal properties, is being found in several of the large mines in the neighborhood of Butte, Mont. For years the diggers employed in the Butte and Lexington mines have been aware of the presence of radiumite in the workings and have become acquainted with one or two of its peculiarities.

They called it "medicine ore" and "rheumatism rock" and have been in the habit of carrying bits of it in their pockets at all times. They believe it is a sure cure for "miners' consumption," rheumatism, stomach ailments, kidney disease and various nervous disorders.

Although the miners themselves have had

While the Paris scientists were making their wonderful experiments with radium it occurred to a Butte miner that the little lumps of "medicine ore" might contain the rare element discovered by the Curies and in that way account for the cures and the faith of the miners. He spoke to several Butte chemists about it and they took sufficient interest in the matter to make a careful analysis and many tests of its displays are more brilliant under water the ore. ## ROB HOTEL ASTOR OF $200 A DAY.

Wholesale Arrests Among the Waiters and Checkers.

Thefts Cover Nearly a Year—Captains are Also Involved, and Several Prisoners Said to Have Confessed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Wholesale arrests of employees in the Hotel Astor have been made by detectives of the West Forty-seventh street station, and, according to statements made by Capt. Gallagher, confessions were obtained from several of the waiters and checkers showing that since last October the hotel had lost $200 a day through its help.

It is charged that systematic collusion has existed between the waiters, checkers and captains, and that the waiters received fifty per cent. of the proceeds and the captains and checkers each twenty-five per cent.

Beginning at seven o'clock an arrest was made about every hour, but the work was done so quietly that patrons of the hotel did not dream that anything out of the ordinary was going on. Nor did the other waiters and checkers suspect that their companions were under arrest. Detectives were scattered through the dining rooms and as fast as the necessary evidence was obtained a waiter was decoyed out of the room and taken to Mr. Muschenheim's residence which adjoins the hotel and there questioned by Mr. Muschenheim's lawyers and by the police.

The first men arrested were: Clarence Sheldon, a checker; Thos. Greenwood, a checker; John Campbell, a captain, and Michael Stohr, a waiter. Captain Gallagher said that each of the men told the whole story, and at 11 o'clock he said that at least twenty-five or thirty other arrests would be made before morning. Under the system employed in the hotel, it would be impossible for a waiter, or checker, or captain to be dishonest without the knowledge and cooperation of the others. Several of the waiters, it was stated, have been making as high as $25 a day through these methods.

It could not be learned, however, whether or not Mr. Arthur and McVey are willing now to sign an agreement.

Mayor White said this morning that nothing has been heard further about the injunction which Mr. Hamilton's client is to get out against the city.
