$50,000 Fire Loss For Company at Wilkins Siding, Nova Scotia. FLAMES SPREAD TO HOMES OF WORKMEN. Plant of Sable Lumber Company in Ashes as Result of Mysterious Blaze - Swept Across Fields to Village - Damage Big.

Halifax, August 1.-The large box factory the Sable Lumber Co. at Wilkins' Siding, eighteen miles west of Liverpool, was destroyed by fire this afternoon and 300,000 feet of lumber in the factory was also burned. The fire broke out at one o'clock, from some unknown cause, over the boiler room and spread so rapidly that it was impossible to save anything. The force of 25 men, who were on hand attempting to move several loads, unable to do so because of the intense heat. One H. & S. W. box car, one of the I. C. R., and several of the lumber company's flat cars were buried. Attempts were made to prevent the flames from spreading over the barens that were dry as tinder. Here again all efforts failed, the flames reaching the houses some distance away and reducing eight of them to ruins, the occupants saving some of their effects. Twenty-five men are thrown out of work, and it is not known if the mill will be rebuilt. The fire is now under control, the large force of men having worked with superhuman efforts to stay its progress. The houses were owned by the company and occupied by its men. The loss will be fully $50,000. The factory was erected several months ago.

GOMEZ SPIES KEEP WATCH ON CASTRO

Ex-President's Family Refuse to Give Information About Him - His Movements Reported to Government.

Tenerife, Canary Islands, August 1.-General Cipriano Castro's wife and children and his brother-in-law, Senor Lazaro, all of whom are in Tenerife, refused today to give any information regarding the Venezuelan ex-president, except to say that he was in Hamburg on Wednesday of this week. It appears, however, that a transportation company has received instructions to arrange for the shipment of an automobile belonging to Castro to the island of Trinidad during the month of August. The Gomez administration, it is said by the port authorities here, has recently sent a number of spies to the Canary Islands, with the object of keeping the Venezuelan government posted concerning every action of General Castro.

The Wedgwood is a total loss, the captain reports.

BULGARIANS HARD HIT BY SECOND WAR

If Allies' Demands Are Granted Nation Will Be Crippled - Heavy Losses.

London, Aug. 1.-The Allies in their demands presented to the peace conference today, proposed the establishment of a frontier standing east from the Struma River, running midway through Rumelia and reaching the Aegean Sea, sixteen miles west of Dedeaquak. This would leave Bulgaria a coast line on the Aegean Sea of less than thirty miles. If these drastic terms are accepted, Bulgaria will lose two wars a little larger than she entered into them, but she will have to abandon a large amount of territory to Roumania. In addition the Allies maintain their demand for an indemnity. It is probable that the negotiations will be protracted and that the armistice of five days will be renewed. No objection is likely to be raised to its renewal, for it seems that the Allies both the Serbians and the Greeks have fought themselves to a standstill. A despatch to the Daily Telegraph from Belgrade asserts that the casualties of the Serbian army in the first month of fighting aggregate nearly 25,000.

SHUTTED U.S. GOVERNMENT OF LARGE SUM

Western Fuel Company Fixed Coal Scales at Wharf

A MILLION DOLLARS IS AMOUNT NAMED. Former Employee Tells Prosecuting Attorney He was Offered $50,000 to Vanish - Second charge.

San Francisco, August 1.-At a conference with the special counsel who will prosecute the Western Fuel Company case here this month, David C. Powers, formerly an employe of the company, and now the chief witness for the government, said today that he had been offered $50,000 if he would vanish. Powers gave the names of those who had approached him and the phraseology of the offer. Matt I. Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche, in charge of the case as assistants to the attorney general, declined to discuss Powers' story beyond saying: "We shall vigorously prosecute every person connected with this immense fraud." The president and directors of the Western Fuel Company are charged with having defrauded the government of customs dues aggregating nearly $1,000,000 by manipulating weighing sheets showing the tonnage of imported coal. This is the second charge of corrupt influence made since indictments were returned. When John L. McNab resigned as United States attorney he charged in a sensational letter to President Wilson that pressure had been brought to bear on Attorney General McKeogh to order the trial postponed.

Later, he said, an arrangement was made with the company by which he received a yearly remuneration for expenses of $855, which he used in association with comrades. Emperor William is taking a deep interest in the trial, and daily receives a detailed report of the proceedings.

U.S. CURRENCY STILL SEARCH FOR HIEVES IN JEWEL CASE

Private Detectives Watch the House of Suspect in Boston.

NO DEFINITE CLUE FOUND BY POLICE. Narragansett Pier Robbery Still Unsolved, but Victims Keep Up Hunt for Valuables - Agencies Busy.

Narragansett Pier, R. I., August 1.-Private detectives are tonight watching a residence in a suburb of Providence. This home is the long-sought "den" for the gang of thieves who obtained more than a quarter of a million dollars' worth of jewelry here during the 24 hours ending at last Saturday midnight, according to the theory of one of the four detective agencies engaged in the case. The man in the house cannot escape surveillance, but the police have no positive evidence upon which to proceed against him. Another detective agency is watching a house in South Boston, believing it to be either the headquarters of the jewelry stealing band or the home of their agents. Mrs. J. Hannal, who lost $150,000 worth of jewels, has placed her case in the hands of a firm of detectives at Providence. New York detectives are entrusted with the mission of recovering the jewelry of Mrs. Charles H. Bussey, estimated to be worth $125,000. Several detectives are still in town, but a great number who have been here were sent today to New York, Boston and other points, to which more or less vague clues led.

RIVAL CHINESE ARMIES PREPARING FOR BATTLE

Three Divisions of Cantonese Troops Are Marching on Peking.

GOVERNMENT FORCES EXPECT A VICTORY. Dr. Sun Yat Sen Optimistic of Future - Waiting for Other Southern Provinces to Join Rebels - Fighting Will Be Bitter.

Peking, Aug. 1.-The announcement from Canton that three divisions of Cantonese troops are preparing to march against the Northern forces is welcomed in Peking, as government officials say they will anticipate their coming, and it will enable the government troops to inflict a crushing defeat on the rebels without risking the sacking and perhaps the burning of Canton city, and the disorganizing of southern troops. Provisional President Yuan Shi Kai issued a manifesto today in which he asserted that most of the supporters of the rebellion belonged to the Kwo Ming-Tang party, and he demanded the cancelling of their membership, threatening that the law would be sternly enforced if he received an unsatisfactory reply. The President also ordered General Tuan Chih-Koel, commander-in-chief of the government forces in the Yang-Tze river region, to arrest and punish the rebel leaders. Dr. Sun Yat Sen, as in the previous proclamation issued by the government, was again mentioned in President Shi-Kai's manifesto.

A TERRIBLE MURDER IN WINNIPEG

She went to the next door neighbor who roused in and discovered the murder. No trace has yet been found of the revolver. The maid, Victoria Komonoweska, and a girl who was dismissed a week ago, Mary Manastka, are being held by the police pending an investigation.

SITUATION ON I. C. R. OMINOUS

Grand President Mosher States That if Demands Are Not Granted Strike is Sure to Come.

Halifax, August 1.-Prospects of a strike on the I. C. R., with all its attending inconveniences, are hourly growing more ominous. "It is the ironic comment of Grand President Mosher of C. B. R. E., when informed tonight of the probable decision to refuse the men's application for a conciliation board. If we are prohibited from a settlement of our grievances, by means of arbitration, we will reluctantly have to decide them by force. I sincerely hope that if this is Hon. Mr. Cochrane's decision he will change it very shortly. But if arguments cannot convince him, we must resort to something more substantial." -Ottawa, August 1.-Hon. Frank Cochrane was away today, but is expected back in Ottawa on Monday, when a number of matters affecting the Intercolonial Railway will be considered. The difficulty with the employes has been practically settled so far as wages and hours are concerned. There is some irritation among certain shippers over recent rate increases on the system, but this will, it is stated, be easily adjusted.

WILL DECIDE HOSPITAL MATTER ON TUESDAY

Com. Schofield Thinks Sanatorium will be Built on Merritt Street, Despite Protest of Property Owners.

A meeting of the commissioners of the St. John County Hospital will be held on Tuesday, when the question of proceeding with the work of constructing the proposed building on Merritt street will be decided. H. B. Schofield, chairman of the commission, said yesterday that so far his invitation to the property owners to take out an injunction restraining the commission from proceeding on the proposed site, had not been accepted, and that he thought the property owners if they had any case had prejudiced it by not taking action at once and enabling the County Hospital Commission to find out just what they could do in the matter. "My impression is," said Com. Schofield, "that the County Hospital Commission will decide to go ahead with the construction of the building on Merritt street, without regard to the attitude of the property holders in the vicinity. If the County Hospital Commission follows the course which Mr. Schofield believes it will, it will mean that if the protesting property owners take the matter to the courts there will be a long legal battle, which will cost the Protestants a pretty sum of money. It is claimed by some that the chief reason why the property owners have not made good their threat to take out an injunction is that they know that their case is not very strong.

HUNDREDS OF SHARKS DRIVE WEAKFISH FROM JAMAICA BAY

War is Waged on Cannibals of the Sea by Fishermen from the Old Mill — Bluefish Are Scarce, Too — Steamship Captain Has Battle with Big Fish.

New York, July 29.—The large catches of weakfish which usually are taken from Jamaica Bay at this season are not in evidence this year because of hundreds of sharks. Never before have the fishermen had to contend with such a great number of the big fish as are at present driving the smaller edible fish to cover and away from the good fishing grounds. The reason for the scarcity of small fish had been an enigma to fishermen until recently, when a fleet of Old Mill boats made a trip to Pumpkin Patch and discovered the sharks. The fishermen, including Thomas Lee, Joseph Wiley, William Brown, William Wiley, Richard Lee, J. Gerard and B. Bauman, went to Pumpkin Patch rigged heavy with clothes line and bay hooks. Sand porgies were used for bait for a great catch of sharks followed. Twenty-two were landed and more than sixty were hooked but lost. The twenty-two captured weighed twenty-six hundred pounds, the largest, which was caught by Captain Lee, measured five feet seven and one-half inches in length and weighed one hundred and seventy-five pounds. They are not man eating sharks. Captain William Wheeler, of the Jamaica Bay Yacht Club, an enthusiastic fisherman, declared recently that he never had seen so many sharks in one place in his many years of sailing in these waters. "There are thousands of them here in the Bay already, and it seems as if the number is increasing daily," said Captain Wheeler. "At this time of the year we generally are making large catches of weakfish, but so far I have not heard of a decent catch this year. The sharks are so big and ferocious they drive all the smaller fish to cover, and until they are either all caught or driven out there is no use fishing for any other kind of fish. Fishermen hereabout should get out and slaughter the big fish."

OCEAN FREIGHT RATES.

The prompt action of the Government in appointing Mr. H. L. Drayton, K. C., Chairman of the Railway Commission, to enquire into the question of North Atlantic freight rates with the British Government, is in marked contrast to the indifference displayed in regard to this question by the Laurier Government. In 1910 the late Government opened the matter up with a view to a conference between the two Governments as to the best method of securing power to regulate rates by joint action, as they could not be interfered with by either country separately. The British Government showed alacrity in responding to the suggestion and repeatedly recalled the subject to the Canadian Government's attention. The Laurier Government did nothing further, and appear to have been altogether too busy attempting to bring about closer commercial and ultimately political relations with the United States, to have had time for negotiating with the Government of Great Britain over a matter in which wise regulations would have greatly facilitated the direct commerce between the two countries, and proved of benefit to the producers, shippers and industry of both.

The Borden Government, on the other hand, are going into the matter by a business-like method of investigation. No better agent than the Chairman of the Railway Commission could have been selected. Mr. Drayton, who leaves for England today, has all the details of the problem at his finger's ends, and he knows that the projected lowering of freight rates will prove futile if high ocean freight rates absorb the saving to Western grain shippers that would be thus affected. Both Governments are determined to deal with the question, and there should be little difficulty in coming to an agreement with the transportation companies, under which ocean freight rates will be subject to adequate jurisdiction and control in the public interest.

MR. CARNEGIE'S GIFTS.

The latest public benefaction associated with the name of Mr. Andrew Carnegie is a gift of $2,000,000 to be known as the United Kingdom Fund. The income is to be employed for the purposes of New York has hitherto used it, for the advancement and diffusion of knowledge among the people, the erection of public libraries and the provision of church organs in the Old Country. In a letter to the Carnegie Dunfermline Trustees, who will in future be entrusted with the administration of the income, Mr. Carnegie explains the reason for the change.

"This transfer of administration," he writes, "from my wife and to my motherland is not made because the fund has not been wisely administered from New York hitherto, but because in the nature of things conditions which enabled me to keep closely in touch with the fund must soon change. It is my duty to consider the future."

Mr. Carnegie was born in Dunfermline, and he has always dealt most generously with his native town. His affection for Dunfermline he expressed in 1882, recounting a coaching trip undertaken in 1881, in company with a party of friends. Coming in sight of Dunfermline, he exclaimed, "What Benares is to the Hindoo, Mecca to the Mohammedan, Jerusalem to the Christian, all that Dunfermline is to me." He has also dispensed great benefits to his native country which, it will be noted, he calls his "motherland," in distinction to the United States, which he names his "wife land." During the past ten years his gifts to his motherland have exceeded $3,000,000 sterling. One of the most notable of these was $2,000,000, which was handed to the Carnegie Trustees for the Universities of Scotland. Other gifts have consisted of various sums, amounting in all to over £40,000, for the benefit of St. Andrews University, and Dundee College laid out during his Lord Rectoryship. The remainder has consisted of numerous grants for public libraries, technical schools, baths, and organs.

The total sum of the benefactions with which the name of Mr. Carnegie will always be associated amounts to $22,000,000. He has given hundreds of libraries to cities and towns in England, Scotland, Canada, New Zealand, Tasmania, the West Indies and the United States. These make practically a grid of monuments around the world to a man who some sixty years ago began his industrial career as a bobbin boy in a cotton factory.

POLLUTION OF RIVERS.

In the closing days of the last session Mr. George Bradbury, member for Selkirk, Manitoba, brought up the question of the pollution of rivers and streams in Canada. As a result of the debate Mr. Bradbury was named chairman of a committee to investigate the whole question preparatory to bringing in a report next session. Work of a somewhat similar character is being done at Washington at the present time by the International Joint Commission. Alleged pollution of the Detroit and Niagara rivers is receiving special attention. Some months ago, when certain public works were projected in the channel of the Detroit River, the Town of Amherstburg complained that it would receive the sewage of Detroit and have its whole river front contaminated. That complaint was regarded and a change ordered. Yet, if Amherstburg is not getting Detroit's sewage, some other point must be, and the same is true with respect to Buffalo and the shores of the Niagara River.

The Joint Commission at Washington is going very thoroughly into the matter, and has arranged for a purity analysis of the whole of the Great Lakes, samples of water being taken from hundreds of points and carefully analyzed. It is altogether likely that conditions will be revealed that at present are quite unsuspected. The pollution of the large navigable streams is a serious matter, but on a smaller scale there is the same importance regarding the purity or impurity of the smaller streams. Many of these are used to give water supply or to augment water supplies, and in the past only the result of an outbreak of typhoid has been effectual in some cases in stopping contamination. Mr. Bradbury's committee is dealing with a practical subject, and its findings will form an important matter with which Parliament can then deal by proper legislation.

WHERE COMPULSION FAILED.

In view of a recent reference in these columns to the system of compulsory arbitration between employers and labor unions in force in New Zealand it is instructive to note a review in the Toronto Mail and Empire of the situation in Australia, where the system appears to have failed. "It has not failed," it is pointed out, "in giving just decisions, perhaps, but it has failed to satisfy the parties to the disputes. Industrial conflict has been averted in many cases, but one party or the other has accepted the terms of the award in bitterness of spirit, and now a general rebellion is threatened by the laborers. There is an old saying to the effect that nothing is settled until it is settled right. In other words, nothing is settled until the parties are to some extent at least satisfied, and this predicated a compromise. The arbitration boards, in general, have convinced men against their will. They have not made more satisfied workmen, or more generous employers. They have patched up one trouble only to see it burst out somewhere else. Nevertheless, the Labor party, which is responsible for compulsory arbitration, has been loath to abandon this prescription for industrial ailments, but realizing that some improvements were necessary it proposed to put all the industries of Australia under the control of a central federal tribunal, to be presided over by the best judge in the land. This proposal was submitted to a referendum, but was overwhelmingly defeated. It now proposes to set up a number of courts to review the decisions of the arbitration boards. It is plain that this process can be continued indefinitely, but a like result would be obtained by multiplying the number of arbitrators. This is probably the best court in industrial disputes, for the parties will bow to public opinion more readily than to any court, however eminent."

CURRENT COMMENT

Canadian Municipalities.
 (London Free Press).

The Detroit Free Press thinks Canadian municipalities have been borrowing too heavily. The way the London market has just taken up Winnipeg and Vancouver loans does not bear out the contention. Neither the Detroit paper nor any other paper can cite a case where loss has come to those loaning to a Canadian municipality.

Result of Parcel Post.

(Winnipeg Telegram).
 A fall of nine points in the stock of American express companies followed the announcement that the U. S. parcel post limit of 11 pounds would be extended to 20. Begins to look as if the experiment of parcel post was too long delayed. It is a remedy for exorbitant express charges.

Theory Not Practiced.

(Hamilton Spectator).
 Despite charges of department extravagance by opposition journals, Finance Minister White can show a reduction of $25,000,000 in the public debt during the past year. Of course this substantial amount might have been doubled, judged by girl-theory, but not practice.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

THE JESUITS ESTATES ACT.

The agitation directed against the Jesuits Estates Act of the Quebec Legislature reached its height twenty-four years ago today, when a deputation waited on Lord Stanley of Preston, the Governor-General, and presented petitions asking him to exercise his personal prerogative by disallowing the legislation. Principal Caven of Knox College, acted as spokesman for the 150,000 citizens of Ontario and the 9,000 people of Quebec who had attached their signatures to the petitions. The arguments before the Governor-General were similar to those previously embodied in a Parliamentary resolution, which had been overwhelmingly lost. It was urged that the Jesuits Estates Act should be disallowed because it "endows from public funds a religious organization, because it recognizes the usurpation of a right by foreign authority, namely, His Holiness the Pope," and because the endowment of the Society of Jesus "is fraught with danger to the civil and religious liberties of the people of Canada." The Governor-General, after listening to the arguments, replied that he would not veto a measure "in the face of his own ministry and of a large Parliamentary majority comprising the bulk of both parties."

FIRST THINGS

CELERY.

The first edible celery grown in England was introduced by the French marshal, Tallard, during his captivity after his defeat at Blenheim by Marlborough 209 years ago today. Like tomatoes and other vegetables, celery was long considered to be a rank, coarse and peculiar smelling plant with a furrowed stalk and wedge-shaped leaves, which was to be found along ditches and in marshes all over Europe.

The French were the first to reduce it to cultivation, by which the stalks lost their acid and poisonous qualities and assumed the mild and sweet aromatic taste which makes celery so delicious in salads and as a relish. Marshal Tallard was very fond of the plant, and while held a prisoner in England, began its cultivation there. At first the English were horrified at the thought of eating what they called "smallage," and looked upon it as a pestiferous weed, but gradually a taste for it developed, and its cultivation spread to America.

To the botanist celery is known as Apium graveolens, while in French it is called celeri, in Italian, celerina, and in Latin the same as in German, the word being synonymous with parsley.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

THE KING OF THE GREEKS.

Few modern monarchs have descended the throne enjoying such a wide popularity among their subjects or facing such a future so pregnant with possibilities as Constantine, the new King of the Hellenes. Able, diplomatic, keenly intellectual, related to the most powerful royal houses of Europe, Constantine has added advantage of youth, for he will pass his forty-fifth milestone today.

To the King Constantine to give him his Greek name—the Hellenes look for the accomplishment and realization of their dream, the restoration of the ancient glories of the Byzantine empire. The last of the Byzantine imperial house was Constantine XII, and there is a tradition, firmly held by the Greeks for generations, that another Constantine would be the restorer of the empire, the vanished regime. To the blonde Dane, therefore, there opens up a vista that leads to an imperial throne in Constantinople, the Byzantium of the ancients, the linking of the present with a glorious past, and the triumph of the cross over the crescent. Vain dreams, perhaps, and yet strange visions have come true.

King Constantine was born in Athens on August 2, 1868, and was educated by private tutors from Germany, who taught him to speak German, French, English, Danish and Latin. Afterward he graduated from the Greek military academy, and traveled in Germany, France and Denmark, studying military maneuvers. Always in the forefront of his mind was the possibility of war with Turkey, and in 1897 the Crown Prince had warned the ministers and the people that the country was ill prepared for such a conflict, but his warnings fell on ears deafened by hatred and passion.

The Greek army, armed with conventional French rifles, and equipped with $2 each, and with artillery long obsolete, was no match for the Turks. When the war was over, and Greece had been humiliated before the world, the Greeks turned upon the King and Crown Prince, and laid the responsibility for defeat on the door of the royal palace. Constantine was hooted whenever he went into the streets. Only four years ago the present King was driven from Athens by popular clamor because he had opposed the movement for the annexation of Greece to the Czar's army, but was soon called back, and was received with wild acclaim. He again assumed the leadership of the army, and in the recent war with Turkey led the forces that captured Saloniki.

King Constantine is a brother-in-law of Emperor William of Germany, but he is at "odds" with that monarch. Constantine was brought up in the Greek faith, and his wife, Queen Sophia, renounced the Lutheran religion to accept that of her husband. This action on the part of his sister aroused the anger of the Kaiser.

The ruler of Greece is almost a giant in stature, towering well over six feet. The King and Queen Sophia have had five children—Crown Prince George, now in his twenty-fourth year, Prince Alexander, twenty; Princess Helene, seventeen; Prince Paul, thirteen, and Princess Irene, ten.

WILLIAM WATSON.

William Watson, the distinguished English poet, died in Yorkshire fifty-five years ago today, the son of a merchant. His first volume of verse was published in 1856. The author of "The Woman With the Serpent's Tongue," has made several visits to America, and some of his impressions are set forth in his latest collection of verse, "The Muse in Exile."

The automobile was from Frederick and accompanied Mr. McDonald on the trip were Mr. H. S. and three young ladies. When the passengers crawled from under the car all were to be suffering from various injuries. Mr. McDonald received several and was scalded about the feet. Other passengers were the victim of burns and bruises.

AUTOMOBILE PARTY HAD A CLOSE SHAVE

William McDonald and Party had Narrow Escape from Death when Machine Upset—Badly Bruised.

An automobile accident which resulted in an almost miraculous escape from fatal injuries to the occupants occurred yesterday afternoon, when, while motoring to the city from Fredericton, the machine of William McDonald, of the Imperial Tobacco Company, skidded, clearing the road, and toppled headlong into a deep ditch. The machine was overturned and the passengers hurled beneath the car which, fortunately for the occupants, had the hood raised. But for this the weight of the automobile would probably have crushed them, most likely causing fatal injuries.

Travelling at a fairly good rate, the road being good, a pleasant motor trip was had until the machine had arrived within three-quarters of a mile of Grand Bay. Reaching this point the car swerved and ditched. When the machine was overturned the hood and supports prevented the machine from crushing the occupants to death.

The automobile was journeying from Fredericton and accompanying Mr. McDonald on the trip were Carter Tinas and three young ladies from the capital.

THE FURNITURE MEN SHOW GREAT INTEREST

Secretary Hoag Home from Manufacturers' Conven- tion—Some May Establish Factories Here.

Henry T. Hoag, secretary of the Board of Trade, returned yesterday from New York where he has been attending the convention of the Furniture Manufacturers' Association. He said he had talked with quite a number of manufacturers who had asked for detailed information about St. John and this province, and promised to look further into the question of establishing branches here if the information was satisfactory. Many of the manufacturers in the States are shipping furniture to Canada, and paying a duty of 30 per cent on their products, which they could save by locating in Canada.

Mr. Hoag arranged for a write-up of St. John in the official organ of the Furniture Men's Association and distributed cards to all the delegates to the convention containing the following useful knowledge:

"The Province of New Brunswick has unlimited birch and other hard wood lumber available for manufacturing. The railways and rivers afford easy means of transportation of lumber to St. John, where it can be manufactured and reshipped. Twenty ocean steamship lines will bring foreign logs, such as mahogany, etc., to St. John, where furniture can be manufactured cheaply and shipped to all parts of Canada, United States, and other foreign countries.

St. John has a number of large sawmills producing rough lumber, house trimmings, show cases, etc. There are excellent openings for furniture and wood working plants. Good sites are available where excellent shipping facilities are right at hand. Labor is cheap and not difficult to secure.

The secretary was very glad to get back to St. John as it has been very warm in New York.

BOARD OF TRADE MAY SEND DELEGATES TO MARITIME SESSION

Discussed Matter at Meeting of Council Held Yesterday Afternoon—Other Matters Dealt with.

At the meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade yesterday the matter of sending delegates to the Maritime Board was brought up, but no decision was reached. It is said, however, that if the Maritime Board will agree to cut out discussion of purely local matters, and appoint a committee to deal with all resolutions before they are submitted to the general meeting, the St. John board may agree to send delegates.

W. Frank Hatheway brought up the matter of the grocers' complaint about the L. C. B. freight rates, and it was referred to the traffic committee.

Mr. Hatheway also drew attention to the fact that the southern light on Briar Island was in bad condition, and spoke of the relocation of the harbor lights, which will be necessary when the Beacon Bar is removed. Both matters were referred to the Aids to Navigation committee.

It was decided to invite the British Parliament delegation to St. John, but it was discovered they were out on their way to Australia.

NOT SURPRISING IF PRESSURE WAS WEAK

Stop Cocks Taken from Ground so Corroded it is Almost Impossible to See Through them.

In renewing water pipes this season Com. Wismore has had several occasions for surprise that there are not complaints about the water service. At City Hall he has on exhibition several stopcocks taken from Orange street by which connections are made with the street main, that create, in many places the aperture for the water to enter the houses was no larger than a small pea. In some cases the old water mains which have been laid for many years were so corroded that it was almost impossible to see through them.

In making renewals the commissioner has established the principle that no new pipes shall be less than eight inches in diameter, in any important district within the city. Many of the old street mains which were laid many years ago and are now being removed are only two inches.

The Water Department is making extensive renewals on the West Side this year, and when the summer's work is completed practically all the old concrete street mains on the West Side will have been replaced by eight inch iron pipes. What is known as the concrete mains which were laid in Carleton many years ago consist of a thin pipe of sheet iron like a stove pipe, coated inside and out with concrete. In many places the sheet iron pipes are as good as when they were laid, but the concrete has rotted with age and permitted corrosion in other places. The life of these concrete pipes was supposed to be twenty years, but some have been in service for sixty years.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The colony of British Columbia was constituted by a bill passed by the British House of Commons which went into effect fifty-five years ago today. The colony comprised territory resumed by the crown from the Hudson's Bay Company, including the districts which had been known as New Caledonia, New Georgia, New Norfolk and New Cornwall. Vancouver Island was not incorporated with the colony until 1866, and five years later British Columbia was annexed to the Dominion.

M'CURDY & CO'S FINANCIAL LETTER

Montreal, August 1.—The markets during the past week have shown little or no change here, although there has been a strong tone in Wall Street.

The first annual report of the Montreal Tramways Co. has been issued and splendid results are shown. After considerable doubt was justified respecting what the week might turn out, but it would now appear that a crop of not less than 165,000,000 bushels is practically assured, and this may even reach 180,000,000 if the weather continues as favorable as at present.

During the week, there was a very good movement in the common stock of the Cement Company. Sales were quite active and the turnover of both common and preferred was much greater than for a long time past.

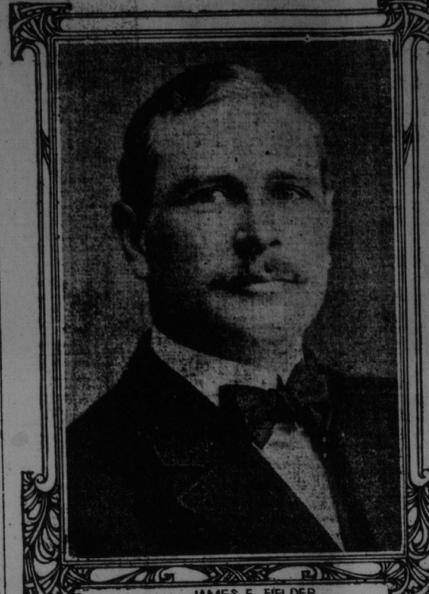

During the week a bonus in stock amounting to 10 per cent. in preferred shares, and 20 per cent. in common shares of Spanish River was announced. The stock went ex-right immediately, and is now selling at around 31, having declined from 40 ex rights.

The street does not appear to know just what to do about Spanish. It is about to join with Lake Superior Paper, and no seems yet to have made up his mind as to what will be the result.

MacDonald has not been a very firm feature either, and sales are taking place at 33 and 34, notwithstanding the excellent reports of sales which have appeared. In fact the entire market for securities is in a dragging condition from day to day, and very little tendency to advance is exhibited by any of the securities. It is said that the Quebec Railway is now selling the interest on all coupons which have been presented. The company has had till the end of July to do this, and took the full advantage of time.

Money seems as tight as ever, and bankers are not giving the stock market any more, and the stock market neither wants it nor will take it under prevailing conditions.

"I'M LEADER OF PARTY."—PRESIDENT WILSON.

JAMES F. FIELDER. President Wilson has put himself on record as the "leader" of the democratic party.

This fact was set forth in a letter given out by former Mayor Otto Witt, of Jersey City. Mr. Witt, progressive democrat, decided to run for the nomination of Governor of New Jersey. Governor Fielder is also in the race.

The par value of this 7 per present large Reserve Fund

the expectations of an early

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, August 1.—Our market started out somewhat briskly the early part of this week but following the announcement of the U. S. Steel Corporation quarterly statement, there was a general tendency to realize profits on advance of the preceding days and since that time there has been a recession in values. The decline, however, does not represent any very material depreciation and is perfectly natural in the light of the three weeks' upward movement, the high point of which was reached on Wednesday. Taken as a whole European dispatches have been more favorable during the past week and pointed to an improvement in the financial situation. The foreign stock markets have all shown a better tone and the weekly returns of the great central banks demonstrate an increase in strength.
London leads in this respect to a great extent than do either Paris or Berlin, and on Thursday the Bank of England rate showed no reduction. Its ratio of reserves to liabilities is probably the greatest in its history with the exception of 1896. There has been a decided improvement in the Balkan situation and our cables from well informed people on the other side seem to regard that situation as past in so far as its bearings on the stock markets of the world is concerned. The only disturbing feature is the Turks'
continued occupancy of Adrianople, despite the ultimatum of the European powers. In our own bond market there is a decidedly better feeling. It is perhaps more apparent in the high grade bond department and there seems to be some disposition on the part of savings banks and other institutions to secure bonds without materially advancing prices. There is, however, no general offering and were such the case the purchases would probably be made in larger volume. With the improvement in the high grade securities we notice a better demand for all the speculative issues and particularly for convertible bonds.
The action of the Illinois Central directors in reducing the dividend had been anticipated by the failure of the company to earn its dividend in the current year. St. Paul declared its regular dividend and the Southern Pacific for June exhibited a gross income of $1,103,900 and a net gain of $258,000, as yet no allotments have been made in the underwriting of the New Haven issue which is being brought out by Morgan and Co., and the impression prevails that so much has been spoken for, that the subscriptions which have been made will be far in excess of the amount it is supposed to allot.
U. S. Steel quarterly statement broke all records except that of 1907.
The net earnings of $4,000,000 after the deduction of operating expense and interest on bonds of subsidiary companies, compared with $25,000,000 for this quarter last year, and the record for this quarter was $45,303,000 in 1907. In only two other years of the U. S. Steel Company's history have the earnings crossed the $40, 000,000 mark at this quarter and the announcement of the figures produced a profound impression. So much of a depressing character has been written in the past nine months relative to declining commercial activities in this country that a statement on the part of the United States Steel Corporation showing earnings far short of those which were published would have been regarded as a fact that had been discounted by the decline in the market but the issuance of this report has created a very general feeling of distrust in the flood of bearish literature and market gossip that has been published in the greatest profusion for a long time past. Producers have replied to the "further big demand for Copper Metal by again raising the price to 15 1/2 cents per pound for Electrolytic with the Michigan miners' strike still unsettled, the quantity available is so limited that there is a disposition to anticipate a still further increase in the price of this commodity.
Secretary McAdoo's ill-advised attack on New York bankers has reacted distinctly upon the administration and reflected favorably on the New York financiers, who have demanded in no uncertain tones proof of the assertion made, which they deny in the most emphatic way and as a result Secretary McAdoo this morning announced that he would deposit between $25,000,000 and $50,000,000 in the national banks of the south and west for the purpose of facilitating crop movements and that he would accept as collateral therefore commercial paper. This will be the first time in the history of the treasury that it has accepted security of this character, and the experiment will be watched with the most intense interest. The impression gained ground that if this course of action is followed out the anticipated stringency of money this fall will be greatly modified.
The Mexican situation seems to have developed a less alarming aspect.
Mr. Wilson's policy "hands off" seems to be firmly fixed.
Encouraging reports of business conditions predominate and the growth of the future is evidenced by the increased preparation for fall and winter trade. The banking exchanges this week made a somewhat different showing from those of last week. They show a loss of 3.7 per cent, as compared with the same week last year, and a decline of 3.6 per cent, as compared with the corresponding week in 1911. The contraction, however, in both instances was largely owing to the falling off in New York

AMBASSADOR WILSON ARRIVES FROM MEXICO

Defending his attitude in Mexico, declaring against sending a commission to mediate between the warring factions, blaming Mrs. Francisco Madero, widow of the erstwhile President, for publishing expurgated documents that fomented more trouble and asserting that the United States government had so many secret agents in the country they worked at cross purposes to him, Henry Lane Wilson, Ambassador to Mexico, returned to the United States aboard the steamship Mexico, of the Ward line. Mr. Wilson came in response to the summons of President Wilson to inform him of the true situation in the disturbed republic.

DEPRESSION OF VALUES
CONTINUE IN MARKET

New York, August 1.—Contrary to expectations in some quarters, the intention of the government to deposit funds at points in the west and southwest, so as to expedite the movement of crops to market, failed to exercise
more than a monetary stimulating effect on security values today. In financial quarters the statement of the secretary of the treasury dealing with this matter was received with some re-signment, there being a disposition to question the legal right of the authorities at Washington to accept commercial paper as collateral for federal deposits.
Other developments, including the first real "crop scare" of the season, and the government's unfavorable estimate for cotton were more disturbing, and far reaching. Advice, more or less authoritative, indicated further severe damage to corn by reason of the extended drought in the southwest and the cotton estimate was more than two points under that submitted a few weeks ago, though less than a point under the average of the past decade. Corn options rose excitedly at leading markets and shares of roads in the south and southwest were correspondingly depressed.
The movement spread until it embraced practically all railroad groups almost the sole exception being Baltimore and Ohio. Illinois Central fell lower than on the day of its dividend reduction, while New York Central and some of its allied lines, Atchison and Pennsylvania, all of which submitted adverse July reports, were under more or less pressure. A sharp

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
New York, Aug. 1.—The government report made the condition 79.6 or under general expectations and a shade under the ten-year average. Not long ago the government estimated that a condition of 100 per cent at this rate would mean a crop of about 232 pounds to the acre on this basis and on the government's estimated acreage of 35,622,000 acres the crop, expressed in bales of 500 pounds
gross, would figure out about 13,900, 000 bales as a mathematical deduc-tion from the condition figures published today. Such a crop would, of course, compare very bullishly with the average view of requirements, and particularly after two seasons of average yields of 15,900,000 bales with the old crop situation as strong as it is at present. We have never placed any reliance of mathematical deductions from condition figures as a crop indication, and today's market has not suggested that the showing created any fresh bullish sentiment of consequence. The condition, however, is low enough to emphasize the uncertain situation in the southwest, and should the weather continue dry in Texas we may still see something of a crop scare, although so far this season the trade has steadfastly maintained an optimistic view of the crop outlook. The market was very quiet before the report was published and while trading became a little more active during the afternoon it was by no means general.

TERRIBLE STORY OF
CRUELTY TO CHILD
TOLD OF IN COURT

London, Ont., August 1.—Mrs. Hattie Tait was this morning found guilty of cruel treatment of 12-year-old Lillie Worth, her step-daughter. She admitted making the girl strip and then with a whip giving her twenty-five lashes.
Doctors testified that the child must have suffered terribly. The woman's excuse was that the child had stolen some money and in other ways misbehaved.
A week ago the girl disappeared from home and two days later was found wandering around the picnic grounds at Port Stanley, feeding on scraps left by picnickers. She had walked all the way from London, a distance of 28 miles, sleeping at night in the fields.
break in Mexican Railway 2nd preferred called attention to the increasing financial embarrassments of the Mexican republic, with hints of an early suspension of fiscal obligations. The reaction ran from one to two points, with no material change in the later dealings, which were dull and circumscribed.
The local money market was practically unchanged, save for a stiffening of 90 day accommodations. The general supply was lighter, with a decrease of interior offerings. The cash movement indicated a gain for the week of about $4,500,000.
The general bond market was inclined to yield, with sharp declines in speculative issues. Government 2's and Panama 2's advanced 3/4 and Panama 2's 3/4 on call. Total sales, par value, were $2,300,000.

CUSTOMS RETURNS

The customs returns for July are as follows: Duties, $125,504.35, sick marine's fund, $221.64; total $125,725-99, which is an increase over the corresponding month of last year. The inland revenue returns here for July were $16,531.29. Last year the returns for the same month were $18,117.73.

LOVERS SWAP SPITS AND BUNNY HUGS IN OLD BURIAL GROUND

Dead in Front of Them, Heroic Young Sweethearts Buzz.
It was a beautiful night for spooning, and despite the fact that the Commissioner of Public Safety has placed extra electric lights in the Old Burying Ground on King street, east and a special police officer to patrol the graveyard, it does not prevent loving couples from telling each other how much they are loved.

The benches are comfortable, and with nothing across the street but the jail and the morgue, lovers imagine that they are alone with the dead in the burial grounds.

They perhaps do not know that they are between the lights in the grounds and the street, and pedestrians along King street east are given a fine view of living pictures. At one time last night no less than four pairs of turtle doves could be seen occupying the benches. They were clasped in each other's arms, and when their lips would meet it sounded like a cow hauling her feet out of the mud.

ANNUAL MEETING GRAND TEMPLE OF HONOR YESTERDAY

RECOVERED IN SEVEN FEET OF WATER

Recovered by James Macanley and Andrew Lamoreaux — Hands Clasped in Attitude of Prayer—Her Last Words a Petition for Divine Mercy—Com McLellan's Good Work Appreciated.

Hands clasped above her head in an attitude of prayer and standing upright in seven or eight feet of water, the body of Miss Tillie Brown, one of the victims of the boating tragedy on Loch Lomond was found yesterday afternoon about four o'clock at Cold Springs.

"God have mercy on me," were the last words of Miss Brown as she sank with her hands clasped above her head, according to the story told by Miss Georgie Paterson, the only one of the survivors who seems to have retained a clear recollection of the events immediately following the capsizing of the boat.

The discovery of the body of Miss Brown with her hands clasped in the attitude of prayer or despair was made a few minutes before four o'clock by James Macanley and Andrew Lamoreaux, two Carleton fishermen, who went out to the lake yesterday morning with Com. McLellan, who has on behalf of the city taken charge of the search for the bodies. It appears that the boats had been working at a lower part of the lake, and that these two men were rowing up towards Cold Springs with the object of dipping up a bucket of drinking water when they noticed something white in the water a short distance below the surface. On investigation they found that the white object was the shirtwaist on the form of a woman standing nearly upright, and they soon had the body of Miss Brown in their boat.

The other boats which had been working some distance away were soon at the scene of the discovery, but though they continued the search in that locality up till dark they were unable to find the bodies of Miss Davis and Miss Dowling. It was reported about the city last evening that the body of Miss Dowling had also been recovered, but how this report originated is not known.

During the day over twenty men and nine or ten boats were employed in the search. C. B. Lockhart, M. L. A., organized a party of fourteen fishermen of Carleton, and sent them out to assist in the work. Commissioner McLellan went out early in the morning, and took charge of the operations. The searchers had no definite idea of the location of the bodies, but from the stories told by Mr. Noble and Mr.

Advised by Board of Trade to Organize Co-operative Society Among Farmers — Idea Pleas'd Him.

An interesting visitor to the city yesterday was I. S. Randall, of Sheffield, N. B., who went down to the Board of Trade to protest that farmers and fruit growers were not getting adequate returns for their products, and wanted to know what could be done about it. In spite of the fact that competition in, or was supposed to be, the life of trade, and the soul of business, the advice given to the seeker of that grain conveyors, urgently required at West St. John, be constructed by the government. Our township representatives secured at great cost to the city and by the co-operation of your government are in grave danger of interruption and cannot possibly be increased without their conveyors.

This was signified by nearly one hundred prominent citizens and firms, including the following: J. J. Foster, H. C. Schofield, W. F. Burditt, Howard Robinson, J. Hunter White, C. W. Halden, W. H. Barnaby, Yassie & Co., Robert Reford & Co., Emerson & Fisher, Lewis Simms, Jas. Pender, E. C. Ekin, H. J. Fleming, James Fleming, R. T. Hayes, Schofield Paper Co., G. E. Harbour & Co., L. G. Arrested on Warrant.
On authority of a warrant issued some months ago, charging him with abusive and threatening language, Harry Rodgers, of 123 Chesley street, was last evening arrested and placed in the North End police station. When taken in charge last evening by Officer Garnett, Rodgers violently resisted and much strenuous work was had on the part of the officer before the prisoner was finally lodged in the jail. The charge against the prisoner was made by his brother.

ART OF SWIMMING MUCH NEGLECTED

Wednesday's Tragedy Should Awaken Citizens to Need of Places where Young Could Learn to Swim.

The number of drowning accidents about St. John this summer has caused comment regarding the dilatoriness of the city authorities in the matter of providing public bathing houses. The old harbor board, of which A. McGoldrick was chairman, had given the matter some attention, but had made no definite arrangements for opening swimming baths. Shortly after the new form of government was established the matter was brought to the attention of the city council by Com. Schofield, but it was claimed that no funds were available for a bathing house last year, and in the cold weather of January when the appropriations for this year were made the commissioner apparently forgot to make provision for the building of a bath house this year.

Com. Schofield is very much in favor of the idea of a public bath house, but the demands which will be made upon the locality indicated by Miss Paterson as the scene of the accident.

Hon. John E. Wilson, who has been out to Loch Lomond since Thursday morning assisting in the search, spoke appreciatively of the action of the city authorities in sending out Com. McLellan to search for the bodies, and providing additional men and facilities for carrying on the work.

Ottawa, August 1.—Two hundred delegates to the International Geological Congress, geologists representing nearly every country in the world, were entertained today at the experimental farm at lunch by the Canadian government. About three hundred persons sat down, including, besides the visitors, a number of local geologists and officials. An address of welcome from the city was delivered by Controller Parent. He was followed by Hon. George H. Peley, acting premier, who extended Canada's official welcome.

The address was delivered by Dr. Frank D. Adams, dean of the faculty of applied science, McGill University. At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon a memorial to Sir William Logan, who was the first director of the geological survey of Canada, was unveiled at the Victoria Museum.

Sir William Logan was born in Montreal in 1818, and after a distinguished career in England as a geologist, was appointed director of the geological survey of Canada, on its formation in 1842, and remained as such until his death in 1893. The delegates will leave in a special Grand Trunk train at 6:45 this evening for Montreal.

WM. R. CLOUGH IS NEW HEAD OF RAILROAD

Chairman Board of Directors of Northern Pacific
Line—Is New Position
Just Created.

New York, August 1.—William R. Clough, first vice-president and a member of the executive committee, is to be the successor of Howard Elliott, as head of the Northern Pacific Railway, according to authoritative announcement in Wall street today. Instead of being president, however, he will be chairman of the board of directors of the new Pacific and Hartford railroad, a method of railroad administration.

The office of president will be filled, it was said, by J. M. Hannaford, now second vice-president, whose duties will be confined to the operation of the road. George T. Slade, son-in-law of J. J. Hill and now third vice-president, will become first vice-president.

Mr. Clough, who is a lawyer and has for many years acted as legal advisor of the Northern Pacific, will have charge of the financial administration of the road. His officers will be in New York. J. F. Morgan and George F. Baker, who were members of the committee of New Haven directors who formulated the new administrative scheme for that road, are also directors of the Northern Pacific.

ARCTIC STEAMER ERIK HAS SAILED FOR CROCKER LAND

St. John's, Nfld., August 1.—The steamer Erik, with the Donald B. McMillan Arctic expedition on board, sailed for Crocker Land today. The damaged steamer Diana, on which the expedition started, was brought here from Battle Harbor and its stores were transferred to the Erik. A new commander, Capt. Kohon, who is experienced in Arctic navigation, sailed on the Erik, and the crew included a number of men who were not on the Diana.

Fair weather favored the steamer's departure and the explorers were hopeful of making a good run north.

SHIELDS OF VALUE IN RIOTS, OPINION OF POLICE SURGEON

Dr. John Wilson Gibbs Sees Possible Benefit in Training Squad to Its Use in Emergencies—Self-Protection Not the First Consideration.

New York, Aug. 1.—Trial of bullet proof shields for the police was advocated recently by Dr. John Wilson Gibbs, for many years a police surgeon, and also an athlete of distinction. Dr. Gibbs is a United States examining surgeon at present and has had wide opportunities to judge of the capabilities of men as he was physician also to pugilists and wrestlers.

"For every day use," said Dr. Gibbs, "I would regard the proposed shields for the London police, of which I have read in the cable despatches, as rather impracticable. They would hardly be necessary in regular patrol duty. Still I have an open mind on such subjects and tests might be begun with the shields here coincident with any experiments which might be made in London."

The necessity of reading the riot act in this city grows less and less, I think, however, that it might well be worth while to drill a squad for riot emergencies in the use of the shields. There are various evolutions which are shown in connection with the riot drills. Indeed it might be worth while to have a few shields in each station house for use in emergencies. When it is well known that the police are to go to regions in which there will be showers of missiles from the roofs for instance, I should think that such shields would be of value.

Conditions in London Different.
"The condition in London and in the city are radically different. In London there are chimney pots, which may be hurled to the ground, and missiles are easier to reach. In previous years, as I have good reason to remember, there were desperate characters who hurled bricks and stones from roofs and the surgeons had to take many stitches. These times are practically passed and excellent order is maintained in the city. For ordinary patrol purposes the shield which has been suggested would hardly be required, and, indeed, it might be in the way. It is possible that by systematic drilling the police might attain dexterity in its use and would be able to use it quickly. When there are personal encounters, however, the swiftest means of defence is the fist, after the manner perfected by John L. Sullivan. The policeman has his club and his revolver and ought to be able to handle not only one man, but two.

There are times when the policeman must be a very active aggressor and first thought should be for the defence of others and the upholding of the law rather than his own safety. I believe that there is no better body of men in the world than the New York police force, in spite of the fact that we occasionally find ruffians. The New York police force are courageous and efficient in time of danger. I know, for I have seen them in action in such riots as those of 1871.

Opinion of Major Keck.
Major Frank Keck, formerly an officer of the Seventy-first regiment, which has frequently been called out where riot was imminent, and who once was an officer in the army, said that he was much interested in the despatches concerning the shield for the London police.

"It would unquestionably be a great advantage," he said, "to have such a device, provided it were light and portable and was not carried as part of the regular daily equipment. No matter how light it might be, its weight it would in time become a burden if constantly borne. As the London police officials have taken this matter up so earnestly, I should think that it might be considered as serious by this country."

"Unquestionably this shield would be all right if the police were charging into a riot or were going to a place where they knew that bricks and stones were to be hurled at them. As a part of the daily equipment, I should not only answer no purpose but would be in the way. The National Guard is provided with shields for the use of clubs and stones, but these are not carried as part of the daily equipment. I should think that when it is called out it uses shields in the riot, however, and are dependent in riot duty upon revolvers and upon clubs the use of a shield might on some occasions be of value.

A riot as a general thing does not last long. A platoon of police could go into action with the shields and gain a good deal of protection from them. Such a shield should, in my opinion, not weigh more than five pounds.

The reputation of the metropolitan police as fighters is known all over the world. They have done splendid work in riots and their skill in the use of clubs is proverbial. They have accomplished wonderful results and have quelled disorder on short notice. All this they have done without any protection whatever and in recent years they have not even had helmets.

The freemen have helmets of hard leather for use in emergencies, and these are certainly effective. There is no reason why the policeman should not wear a heavy helmet or protect himself with a shield when bricks are flying. The police of this city, however, have always prided themselves upon their efficiency in quelling disturbances without any protection for themselves, and it seems to be a tradition of the department which the men would maintain.

William Devery Says "Huh!"
Asked what he thought of the New York city police adopting the shield suggested for the London police, William S. Devery declared that he did not see why policemen should be hampered any more than they are. This is how he said it:
"Huh! Aren't their hands tied enough already? If they want to give them something for protection why don't I supply the men with a half of hay?"
And Mr. Devery was in a good humor, as he had been fishing off Long Beach, L. I., with Judge Peter Schumuck of the Municipal Court, and Timothy E. Breslin, one-time battalion chief in the Fire Department. The catch amounted to 252 sea bass, sea porgies and blackfish.

TRANS IN A COLLISION ON GRAND TRUNK

Freight and Passenger Engines Crash, Injuring Many—Engineers and Firemen Jump to Safety.

Kingston, Ont., Aug. 1.—A Grand Trunk freight train and a passenger train on the Thousand Island railway collided near Gananoque this morning and one of the passengers, Mrs. W. T. Heaslip, of Toronto, was badly injured. Several ribs were broken.

The freight was backing up, and as the accident occurred on a curve, the engineer on the passenger train did not have time to stop the train. Henry Abrams, of Gananoque, was the engineer, and he jumped and saved his life. The fireman, Henry Case, Gananoque, also jumped, but was badly injured.

All the injured, it is expected, will recover. The engine was knocked off the tracks. Sheriff McCammon, of Brockville, was one of the many passengers who suffered a severe shaking up.

OWNERS GIVES THEIR SIDE OF THE QUESTION

Randolph & Baker, write Mayor Frink that Business does not Warrant Another Increase.

His Worship Mayor Frink has received from Randolph & Baker the following letter in reference to the mill strike:
"James H. Frink, Esq., Mayor, St. John's."
"Your Worship—Referring to your letter of the 28th inst. to the lumber manufacturers and to their reply through J. Fraser Gregory, a few words as to the situation may not be amiss."

"In the year 1910 the mill owners granted a general increase in wages of 10 p. c., and in 1912 another general increase of 10 p. c. was made. The deal pliers, who made the demand for an increase of 25 cents per day, were already receiving $2.40 for a nine-hour day, while our competitors in other places in New Brunswick are paying considerably less than that for a ten-hour day, and in Maine for eleven hours work."

"With a declining lumber market generally, a demand for increased wages at this time is not justified, and our business will not warrant an increase, hence proposals for arbitration have not been acted upon."

"Our position was fully explained to the representatives of the Labor Department when they were here some time ago."

"The present unfortunate condition arose on account of the deal pliers undertaking to enforce their demand by refusing to work. Our mill starts as usual on the day of the strike, but was compelled to shut down owing to the absence of the pliers."

"We take this opportunity to thank Your Worship and the Board of Commissioners for your endeavor to promote a settlement of this matter."

BREWSTER'S MILLIONS AT
THE OPERA HOUSE, AUG. 7-8-9.
The story of this laugh-maker tells of the efforts of Monty Brewster to spend a million dollars left him by his grandfather, within a year, and preserve complete secrecy regarding his object. Naturally, if he lives up to the condition he receives a fortune far greater. A particularly realistic and interesting scene is the one during the storm at sea, when, on board his yacht, Monty manages to escape the last dollar in a most unexpected manner. A long list of characters will be represented in the cast by names well known on the mimic stage.

American Flag Trampled In Mud by Sol- diers.

WAVED IN FACE OF
THE BUGLE BAND

Guilty Man Court Martial-
ed by Officers but Later Reinstated—Regiment
Marched through Streets Singing "God Save the King."

Saskatoon, Aug. 1.—The local militia are in a ferment this morning over a flag incident which disturbed a parade of the 106th Fusiliers yesterday and the general attitude around the armories today is that of waiting for something to drop. When the parade was passing down Second avenue, the main thoroughfare of the city, a young girl in a passing automobile waved an American flag in front of one of the members of the bugle band of the regiment.

The man broke ranks, and snatching the flag broke the staff in two and trampled it under his feet, the majority of the regiment also passing over it. The young man was instantly taken from the ranks, and at the conclusion of the parade was court-martialed and discharged from the regiment.

The rest of the members of the bugle band, a majority of whom are young men, were waiting outside the armories, and as soon as they heard the decision they went inside and told one of the officers that they were handing in their clothes and would resign permanently from the regiment, if this decision was allowed to stand. They stated that the flag was waved right in the face of the bugle band.

The officers of the regiment held consultation, and the man was later reinstated.

Owing to the fact that the bugle band are to take a prominent part in the big parade in honor of six hundred delegates of the real estate board today, the officers, it is said, decided that they were forced to reinstate the man. The second decision was the signal for a triumphant outburst which lasted until late.

Members of the regiment in uniform marched through the streets near the armories with the Union Jack at their head singing "God Save the King" and "Rule Britannia."

BREKFAST SERMON ON CHRISTIANIZED MEMORY

Must Remember Christ's Words About Personal Worth.

FAITHFULNESS IS ONE REQUIREMENT

Supremely we Must Remember Christ's Words about God—Our Lord Excels in the Subject Matter of His Teaching.

verse, something of our racial possibilities, something of the wonder and beauty of the world. But there is a still higher, loftier range of knowledge. And this pertains to the Being who created and sustains the shining systems. What is He like? What is His character? What is His purpose in making the universe to flower at last into a human being? Who am I, with mystery behind me, weakness within me, the grave before me, and eternity calling me? I want to know what is that bests me behind and before. Is He good? Is He wise? Is He loving? Is He willing to stoop to my littleness? Is He patient to endure my deficiencies? These are questions involving the absolutely highest knowledge. Plato has no satisfying answer to them. Confronted by them, Shakespeare and Newton are as little boys, with trousers rolled up to the knees, attempting to wade the Atlantic from shore to shore.

But memory, when Christianized, does not have to wander aimlessly in quest of One who knows. For Christ not only gives us the answer, but Christ is our answer. Remembering His words we leave our sepulchres behind us and find refuge in the Divine Fatherhood. A new epoch dawned for our human world when, from his mountain pupil under the Syrian sky, Christ said: "Your Father." He began that day to take the terror from the face of nature; to woo unbelief from the heart of nations; to brighten the hope of humanity; to rob death of its terror; to set our wondrous life on the heights of being. We speak of God as eternal, immutable, invisible, incomprehensible, omniscient and omnipresent. Nor would we be little what theologians call the attributes; but we must not allow them to come between the soul and its Father or God. Men sometimes build such high fences about their estates as to shut off even a glimpse of their homes. Are we not in danger of building such high theological fences about the God of Christ as to miss the alluring paternalism, the winsome fatherliness with which He envelopes the creature of His hand? Or, going to the other extreme, is there not some peril just now of denuding the Fatherhood of God of saying reality? Is it not in danger of being sentimentalized into vacuity and robbed of its moral content? Let us not fall of our simple and sublime Christian privilege in this matter. Remembering Christ's words about God as our Father, we are sure of passing into that spiritual realm which blooms more and more into the eternal spring.

Christ's Words About Personal Worth. Another application of our truth is seen in Christ's words about personal worth. Next to the divine personality is the human. Bringing the human personality into conscious, mutual and joyful relations with the divine is the mission of Christ. He claims this as His inalienable prerogative. It is repeatedly expressed in the Gospels, but never more grandly than in the eleventh of St. Matthew. Kelm considered that this the pearl of all the Master's teachings. But when the floors of the Christian seat are strewn with pearls, who shall say which is the more precious? The passage reads: "I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hidest these things from the wise and understanding and didst reveal them unto babes; yea, Father, for so it was well-pleasing in thy sight. All things have been delivered unto me of my Father; and no one knoweth the Son, save the Father; neither doth any know the Father, save the Son, and he to whomsoever the Son willeth to reveal him." Whatever else these great words mean, they certainly mean this: Christ so relates the soul to God that only he can realize the higher tones and capacities of its mysterious nature. Failing of this, we fall of that for which we were created, and the result is arrested personality. And this, in our Lord's view, is a tragedy of irreparable moment. All other questions combined become small over against this one: "What shall a man be profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his life? or what shall he give in exchange for his life?" When the supreme good has been bartered away, what can resign the equilibrium signified by personal worth? For a man gone wrong puts a world out of joint, though only he himself may be guilty of the wrong. It is standing at right angles to life, he has simply missed his vocation, which was to be omnipotently alive, and, therefore, individually and socially serviceable.

Are we not in special need of remembering Christ's words concerning personal worth at this time? Unless we maintain a just balance between our utopian socialism and our stark individualism we shall become a generation of automatons. Let the new social consciousness, therefore, be tempered with an adequate appreciation of individual values, and let personal worth permeate the great mass movements. Neither the reign of tyrants nor the rule of the mob is Christian. The Kingdom of God is not a kingdom of kings any more than it is a kingdom of anarchists. It is within each soul before it can be in all souls. It is independent of thrones and dynasties. It is neither meat nor drink, but righteousness, joy and peace in the Holy Spirit. But just here is our misplaced emphasis in modern life. On the one hand we are saying that meat and drink are the essential things—no matter about the Kingdom of God. On the other hand, we are willing to have righteousness and joy and peace go for nothing rather than in the Holy Spirit. How is the Christian equipage to be realized? Only by remembering Christ's words about personal worth. This is at once the oldest and the newest remedy for human ills because the truest. God capitalizes the individual that he may eventually crown society. He does it, not by the survival of the fittest, but by the revival of the unfit, and so making it fit to survive. The meek shall inherit the earth for the same reason that a painter inherits the sunset or a poet inherits the spring. They are made fit, they are put in tune, they are richly receptive. Both heaven and earth are given away, provided there is anybody to receive them. Grim old Omer tells the exact truth when he says he sent his soul into the invisible for some hint of the great after-life. His soul returned and said: "I myself am heaven or hell." How could it be other-

WOMEN WIN BATTLE OF THE ALAMO.

Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier. Control of the ruins of the historical Alamo at San Antonio has virtually passed to Mrs. Clara Driscoll Sevier of the Texas Daughters of the Republic. Mrs. Sevier has outwitted Governor Colquitt, of Texas, in a fight over the famous structure. The Texas Daughters of the Republic want to perpetuate the memory of the Alamo by erecting a memorial monument and a park, while the Governor wants to restore the old fortifications in their crude state of more than half a century ago. Mrs. Sevier, who went to Austin, Texas, to fight for control of the Alamo, outwitted the Governor. She has been interested in the project for years.

wise? It is utterly impossible, except the universe be a cunning lie. Therefore, Nietzsche's strong man must go down before Christ's good man. "The human mind," says Emerson, "stands ever in perplexity, demanding intellect, demanding sanctity, impatiently equal of each without the other." His dream, moreover, was of a poet "who should unite the whiteness and purity of a saint with the power and uncton of the sinner, one who should bridge the chasm between Shakespeare and St. John." Well, Emerson's dream came true two thousand years ago. Bridging the chasm between Shakespeare and St. John, Christ also enabled the saint to pass over the bridge into the morning lands of God; to create a deeper, inner whiteness in his own soul by helping to save the sinner's uncton. For saints and sinners with divine contagion when the value of sainthood is taken at its true worth, and the heart of the truth is laid bare, God asks men to be loyal, to be true, to be faithful to the talent or talents committed to them. Now there is an essential need of both the gifted and the ungifted. They help to preserve the balance in creation. But more important than the number of talents we possess is the spirit of fidelity with which we administer them. He that is faithful in the little is faithful in the large; and he that is unfaithful in the small cannot have the large unequivocally committed to him. The secret furnishes a lofty insight into the character of God when he speaks of him as a faithful Creator. Our Master was faithful unto death because he was minutely faithful unto life. Fidelity is the text from which the great round world delivers its unending sermon. The foundations of the universe do not rest on stars, but on atoms. The constellations have their being only because of the loyalty and consecrated activity we move across the hills and valleys of the Real, only to find ourselves each step of the way nearer and ever nearer the rich and blessed country of the Ideal.

Supremely, we must remember Christ's words about God. Our Lord excels in the subject matter of His teaching. Other teachers hold their position as expounders of essential, and yet, in a sense, secondary truths. Socrates was a question box into which the pre-Christian centuries dropped their queries. Plato was the wonderland of human dreams, and all noble idealists have camped in Plato's land. Aristotle was an encyclopedia of the ancient world, and his big mental fingers have relaxed their mistaken grasp of things but slowly. Homer was a blind nightingale, and he still sings the heroism of the antique and far-away. Dante was the solemn faller of the Middle Age. He carried a key to the bottomless pit as well as a key to the golden doors of heaven. When he blew his trumpet of melody, both demons and angels answered his call. Shakespeare was humanity's fully accredited detective. His unerring imagination carried him into the haunted rooms of human life. After communing with ghosts, he translated the same speech into the Shakespearean tongue, which has a flavor all its own. Newton found a multi-universe—wonderland on worlds running, wild and stampeding space with their meaningless fury. Inventing a vast string called gravity, he gave one end of it an intellectual tone into infinity, linked all systems together, and then, bringing end to end, he tied a knot in his invisible string relating the whole. All these august servants of the race have made mankind their debtors. We may count it a privilege to have been born into the same world with them. Important as their service unquestionably is, yet in the ultimate we know that it is not of the very first importance. They have told us something about the uni-

Christ's Words About Fidelity.

We need, furthermore, to grow a Christianized memory with reference to fidelity. Christ has given inimitable setting to this truth in the twenty-fifth of St. Matthew. We knew it as the Parable of the Talents; it is really our Lord's expression of the law of fidelity. There is one deep, dark shadow on the picture; it is cast by the one-talent failure. While the five and two-talent successes create a luminous foreground, this one-talent traitor darkens the background by his tragical behavior. And the tragedy is all the deeper when we reflect that he might have received the same measure of divine approval as his more highly gifted fellows. It is here, of course, that the heart of the truth is laid bare. God asks men to be loyal, to be true, to be faithful to the talent or talents committed to them. Now there is an essential need of both the gifted and the ungifted. They help to preserve the balance in creation. But more important than the number of talents we possess is the spirit of fidelity with which we administer them. He that is faithful in the little is faithful in the large; and he that is unfaithful in the small cannot have the large unequivocally committed to him. The secret furnishes a lofty insight into the character of God when he speaks of him as a faithful Creator. Our Master was faithful unto death because he was minutely faithful unto life. Fidelity is the text from which the great round world delivers its unending sermon. The foundations of the universe do not rest on stars, but on atoms. WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in severe pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."

Read What Another Woman Says: "I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a heavy feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night."

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backache was less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured."

"You may publish this if you wish."—Miss CLARA L. GAUTZ, R.R. No. 4, Box 65, Peoria, Ill.

Such letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for women's ills. Why don't you try it?

Dress For The Week End Visit

It requires a certain clothes sense to select the correct wardrobe for a week-end visit. If, for instance, the home of the hostess is by the sea, the plumes and filmy stuffs, so fascinating in the country, would soon become bedraggled and messy from the dampness; the wardrobe must, therefore, be made up of tapestry and other things appropriate for aquatic sports and clothes that the saltiest of sea breezes will not spoil.

Materials That Are Tubable

In planning my summer wardrobe I long ago learned not to have any cotton or linen gown that could not go into the wash tub every week if necessary.
The chief charm of a summer dress is dainty spotlessness; this never can be maintained if a frock is made of such material as will not stand laundering.

Simpler The Hair The Better

The simpler the fashion of dressing the hair, and, of course, the simpler the better, the more careful must one be in the choice and placing of hair ornaments. Much depends on selecting combs and pins of the right size and shape as well as of the proper coloring. In light hair, amber hair ornaments or the so-called dem-amber so smart today, are most pleasing but in these care must be given to the details of shape and size, says a New York Press contributor.

CARE AND FEEDING OF THE STOCK BOAR

In the successful working of a herd of swine to obtain the highest possible returns, the care and feeding of the stock boar is of high importance. After the proper selection is made, the excellent quality of the boar is assured it becomes most important that all conditions be fulfilled to get the greatest benefit from its qualities. He may be of high class breeding and be a superior individual, but the care and feeding prior to and during the breeding season will regulate in a large measure the vigor and value of his offspring.

If a young boar has been selected for future use his welfare depends upon his care for the first six months. During this time he will be developing the largest part of his body, and therefore will demand the most care. The strength and vitality of his body will also depend on the foods, but the care he receives plays an important part in this development. He may be allowed to run with one or two pigs of his own size and will develop faster and show more contentment by being allowed this privilege. No special precautions need be taken as will be developing the foundation of the body for at least the first four months. After this he should be taken away from his mates and fed on the bulky, frame-growing ration longer than those intended for market.

Feeds used should be such as shorts and oatmeal, fed with skim milk, until he is three months old, after which he should be allowed a slight amount of barley in combination. A ration of one and a half shorts, one of peas and one of ground oats, one of peas and a half barley for youngsters about four months old. Either of these rations may be fed to the boar until he is three months old to develop him more toward the tendency of bodily growth. In combination with the grain foods, which will promote growth and speed the cost of maintenance, a pasture will also furnish exercise, which is an important, essential in growing thrifty breeding animals.

At nine to ten months of age the boar should be provided to give him sufficient space to take all the exercise he needs. In summer it is an easy matter to have him in a small pasture or paddock, and a shelter to protect him from the summer storms will be all that is needed. But in winter, when he must be kept fairly warm and allowed freedom at the same time, it is a hard problem. If he is perfectly quiet, as a few aged boars are, he can be allowed to run in an outside paddock with one or two aged sows until they approach farrowing. However, if there is danger of his being rough, he should be allowed the run of a large pen in connection with a shed. If he can be kept in a pen without a floor, except where he must sleep, better results in sound feed and less will be noticeable. Heavy boars are often of little or no value from having been allowed to stand too long on a cement floor or even a wooden floor. Here the heavy weight of the body and the unyielding nature of the floor.

When we visit the swine herd of the average breeder we find the three defects most common and noticeable in the care and feeding of the boar are underfeeding, overfeeding and lack of exercise. Few breeders realize how far-reaching any one of these defects is, and how much it is affecting the profit coming from the herd. Keeping the boar in an underfed condition is keeping him in a low state of vitality, and it will not be noticeable in a more intense form such as a sire. Overfeeding has much the same effect but we find it less prevalent. Lack of exercise produces sluggishness in the boar, which results in a general weakness or lack of strength in the offspring. The policy of the breeder should be to keep the boar in a fair state of flesh and induce strength by the choice of feeds of cheap, bulky, and yet nutritious nature and by permitting or even forcing exercise. Such treatment would raise a profit-paying herd to a higher degree than that experienced by many breeders who treat the boar as a necessary evil.

"I do not think," said Mr. Beckles Wilson, "that the possibilities of this delicious product are quite realized in Canada. A great and highly profitable market awaits us in the United Kingdom. The Canadian character and syrup are virtually unknown, but wherever I have introduced either the reception has been most gratifying. The stuff sold as maple sugar in two or three of the London confectioners is an abominable compound, with probably not more than one per cent of the genuine article. Fortunately, little is sold. Last year I obtained, through my friend, the late Mr. H. M. Price, of Quebec, a quantity of the pure product. This I distributed among a number of persons of taste, food-stuff authorities and medical men, asking them for their opinion of its merits. English people are ready to become enormous consumers. Canadian maple sugar and maple syrup will be the sweetest of a land."

"I understand a British syndicate has been formed to handle Canadian sugar and syrup."

"Yes," replied Mr. Wilson, "that is the case. A syndicate chiefly of Englishmen, who are now in London, formed last autumn, prepared to handle several thousand tons of the 1913 crop. You will understand that a pure supply was absolutely essential. When the matter was gone into it was found that this question of purity was indeed the vital point. The whole arrangement utterly broke down. Adulteration was so universal and virtually so unchecked by law that pure maple sugar could not be obtained."

"Just look at this thing quietly and in all its bearings," went on Mr. Wilson. "Do you know what the maple stands for, not in the British Isles, but throughout the world? The leaf is the symbol of Canada. The 'Maple Leaf' is now sung all over the world, and is used by every village band. To introduce into the Mother Country a Canadian article whose ingredients were fraudulent, whose label was misleading, and whose possibilities were being the product of Canada's national tree would be something more than a commercial blunder. It would be an insult to the Canadian character and not to be tolerated."

"It is not a question merely of commerce, but of reputation, the good name of the Dominion is at stake. Or all our products we can least afford that maple sugar should become a by-product of a synonym for 'false' and 'low'."

"How to stop Adulteration."

Mr. Beckles Wilson then adverted to the chief difficulty in the way of putting an end to an evil which is itself a great national industry. The production in Canada of maple sugar and maple syrup has fallen off by nearly thirty million pounds since 1850, and this in spite of the fact that the growth of the maple has increased to such an extent that the Dominion produces five times the actual output. How, then, to detect adulteration—that is the cardinal difficulty. So adroit is the adulterator with his molasses, glucose, West Indian sugar and bark, that he is able to baffle the chemist. In a recent official bulletin, Professor A. McGill, the Public Analyst at Ottawa, states: "In submitting these revised standards for maple products, I am conscious that the molasses, glucose and Indian mellec acid number (these are the standard recognized tests for impurity) rendered necessary by considerations of the public interest, before you in detail, makes it quite possible for fraud to be perpetrated in the maple sugar and maple syrup industry, with increasing difficulty of detection. This industry is a very important one, particularly in some sections of Canada, and it is of course a source of profitable employment to a farmer at a period of the year when farm work is not otherwise pressing. For this reason it is desirable that the small manufacturer who is not able to keep a fair competition of mixtures of cane and maple sugars."

"Recognizing the difficulty of affording as perfect protection as could be wished by inspection under the Adulteration Act, I would respectfully suggest the offer of a reward for information able to prove the manufacturer and seller of maple product which is adulterated. If a substantial penalty for adulteration of maple goods is especially named, one moiety of it should go to the informer in case of his making good his charges."

"I venture to think, prove a powerful deterrent to the fraudulent practices which now prevail."

"Here," Mr. Beckles Wilson commented, "is the matter in a nutshell. Canada is losing now at least six million dollars annually in this industry. The majority of Canadian farmers who make sugar tap far less than half, possibly fewer than a third of their trees. There are millions of acres of the mountainous land admirably suited to the growth of the sugar maple and good for nothing else. Quebec province alone should produce easily 200,000,000 lbs. ten times the present output. But why should the farmer go to the trouble, to the expense of keeping his trees and preparing his sugar when any rascal can undersell him with faked cane sugar and molasses?"

"The country must receive protection; they must get what they pay for. The adulterator of maple sugar should be mulcted in a fine of five times the amount of the adulteration. That would instantly and automatically put a stop to this nefarious business."

"If this were done," declared Mr. Wilson, "not only would the general public benefit, and the farmer benefit, but it would render possible, heretofore impossible—the introduction of the product abroad."

An Insect Injurious to Cattle Raising

Cattle raisers in almost all parts of Canada are familiar with the small lumps that appear on the backs of their animals during the winter months and from which white grubs or maggots emerge at a later date. Many theories exist as to the exact history of the insect, known as the Warble Fly, of which the white grub is the larva. The opinion generally held that the eggs are not laid on the backs of the cattle, and when hatched work their way beneath the skin, is proved by careful investigation to be incorrect. Dr. Seymour Hadwin, 1st Assistant Pathologist of the Health of Animals Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, who has studied the subject, claims that the eggs are not laid on the back but on the legs of the cattle. This appears to bear out the theory that the newly hatched insects are licked by the animals and thus taken into the system and ultimately find their way to the backs where they develop beneath the skin.

The matter of chief importance to the cattle raiser is not the exact course taken by the insect within the body of the cattle, but rather the economic effect of the grubs upon the business of cattle raising. To throw light on this phase of the subject Dr. Hadwin has written a bulletin, which is numbered 16 of the Health of Animals Branch, dealing with the economic aspect of warble flies. In this it is shown that enormous losses occur each year through damage to hides caused by these insects. Tanners consulted on the subject, extending from January through June, from 25 to 75 per cent of hides are warbled and that about 20 per cent of Canadian hides are more or less damaged. The extent of damage is variously estimated by 16 large tanners to be from about 50 cents to $1.00 per hide; the estimate of one Ontario tanner was 10 per cent of the value of the hide. The average value is equal to $180,000 per annum. The author observes that the man who undoubtedly loses is the farmer; the tanner does not want warbled hides at any price and several of them testify that they buy hides only during the season when hides are not grubby. He estimates the annual loss to be between 25 and 30 per cent.

This bulletin of twenty pages, which the first to have been issued on the subject in Canada, is helpfully illustrated. Copies will be mailed in response to applications made for it to the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

In discussing silos a table is embodied which shows the capacities of those of different dimensions. A hundred ton circular silo is shown to be 27 feet deep and 16 feet inside diameter. Silos of different materials are dealt with and their construction described. Cement silos properly constructed are referred to as being probably more durable and satisfactory than those built of wood.

A New Movement

A movement is on foot at present throughout Quebec to increase the production and to better the quality of eggs through the adoption of an improved system of marketing. This movement has taken the practical form of organized egg circles and up to the present there are in successful operation, the first one being organized at Hemmingford, Quebec, the second one being organized at Dunham, Que., and the third one at Shawville, Que.

In each place progress is naturally rather slow but it seems to be quite assured and the success of these egg circles will mean much for the poultry industry of the localities which they are serving. An egg circle is simply a means to secure a higher price for the farmers' eggs. It means co-operation. It brings results.

A number of farmers of a community get together and organize themselves into an egg circle appointing a manager and a board of directors. Two systems of collecting the eggs may be employed: The first (and this prevails among those at present in operation) is where each farmer brings his own eggs to the central point. The second is where the eggs may be collected by one collector who covers certain egg routes. The latter system is to be preferred, particularly where large quantities of eggs are being collected. It works on the same principle as the butter or cheese factories and in some sections of the province the co-operative selling of eggs will mean more to a greater number of farmers than even the butter or cheese factories do at the present.

When the eggs are collected at a central depot they are usually graded according to size and color, as every one knows that a uniform product commands a higher price. It would also be well if the eggs could be candled. This would insure a strictly high class product reaching the consumer, and, of course, the better quality there is in the eggs, the higher price they will bring. Eggs marketed from the egg circles command the highest price of all eggs in the Province. Several Montreal houses are willing to pay higher for the circle eggs than for the ordinary run of eggs and members of circles are now receiving 2c and 3c a dozen above the price which they would receive when they marketed under the old way. The difference in price between circle eggs and the eggs of farmers who do not belong to egg circles will be still greater in the winter time. It will be seen, then, that the organization of these egg circles is doing more than that. It is promoting the development of an important industry which has been neglected very much in the past, and through this improvement returns from the farmers' flocks will be increased very materially. The organization of more egg circles in the Province of Quebec will mean a vastly improved poultry industry with more farmers keeping flocks and with larger flocks on each farm; also the fowls will be kept under better conditions.

A practical co-operative system such as the organization of these egg circles will interest farmers who could be interested in no other way. It touches their pocket books and thus appeals to them quite readily.

Growing and Ensiling Corn

After describing the necessary cultural operations, varieties suitable for various uses, the corn ensilage is gradually being overcome. According to J. H. Grisdale, Director of Experimental Farms, who has tested the matter in many parts of the Dominion, corn for forage or ensilage can be grown to advantage in almost all parts of Canada occupied by stock farmers. Failure to secure satisfactory results has often been due to wrong cultural methods practiced, or unsuitable varieties grown, rather than to adverse climatic conditions.

In order to secure for the benefit of stock growers generally reliable information on the subject of corn ensilage, Mr. Grisdale was summoned by the Select Standing Committee of the House of Commons on Agriculture and Colonization, to give evidence based on his experiments and observation. This evidence was printed in a pamphlet of sixteen pages and sent out in large numbers, but there are still available for distribution a number of copies in the hands of the Publications Branch of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa.

CHANCE DENIES RESIGNING

New York, Aug. 1.—Manager Frank Chance of the New York American league baseball club denied emphatically today the report that he would resign as leader of the Yankees at the close of the present season.

Chance was at a loss to explain the rumor which originated in Los Angeles. He stated that he was perfectly satisfied with the present outlook for the team and the conditions under which he was working.

"My relations with President Farrell are most harmonious, and the support given both the club and myself by followers of baseball is all that could be desired. I am absolutely satisfied with New York as a baseball and home proposition. When I can give the local fans the kind of a team they deserve, my every wish will be gratified."

SHOOTING TODAY.
The St. John City Rifle Club will hold their regular weekly rifle match this afternoon on the local rifle range. When the members will compete for the P. R. A. silver medal and spoon. This match will also be the fourth and last match for the Dominion prize. It is, therefore, hoped that a large attendance will be on hand.

IN A NINTH INNING RALLY THE GREEKS TAKE GAME FROM BANGOR; ST. CROIX TRIMS FREDERICTON 7-4

There was a good attendance at the North End grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the Greeks win from Bangor in a last inning rally when the game had looked like a sure victory for the Bangor team.

Charles was the pitcher for the locals and the Bangor sluggers found him for a dozen safe ones, five of these being two baggers. Carney started the game for Bangor but was working bad in the second inning and when the bases were filled was taken out and Gibbs hit in with the result that Charles walloped out a single off him and landed in third base on a ball and error by Dolan and Tewehey. At the end of the third inning it looked all Bangor as they had made six runs to the locals' two. The Marathons came back strong in the fourth and although they did not get a hit they managed through three bases on balls and errors by Dolan and Tewehey to land three men across the plate. In this inning a two base hit and a single gave Bangor their seventh and last run in the game.

It looked like a hopeless task for the Greeks when they came in for their last inning but with a base on balls, a stolen base, a two bagger, and error by Tewehey a single tied the score, and then Riley planted a single which drove in the winning run. An account of the game by innings follows:

FIRST INNING.
Reed flied out to right. Connaughton drew a base on balls. Boardman hit to right for two bases. Connaughton went on going to third. Matthews put a foul fly to McPherson who batted. Matthews then placed a sacrifice fly to left, which scored. Connaughton drew a base on balls. Dolan hit out to pitcher. McPherson went out, second to first. Pinkerton hit safely to centre. Shanky was hit by a pitched ball. Pease flied out to Dolan in left, who made a pretty catch and a quick return to second, doubling Pinkerton out and retiring the side.

SECOND INNING.
Tewehey hit out to pitcher. Wakefield hit safely to left and went to second on a passing ball. Carney was out on three strikes but Flaherty not only dropped the ball but threw badly to first, and Wakefield scored. A wild pitch put Carney on third, and he scored on Reed's safe hit to first. Connaughton hit to left. Boardman flied out to short. Flaherty singled to left. Waterhouse hit to pitcher, who threw badly and the runners were safe. Riley beat out a hit along the third base line and the bases were filled. Carney was batted by Flaherty. Carney hit to right field, scoring Waterhouse and Riley, while Ramsey went to third. McPherson flied out to first and a double got Charles and retired the side.

THIRD INNING.
Matthews singled to centre. Dutton hit in front of plate. The ball was thrown to first and it went through Shanky, and Matthews scored, while Dutton romped to third. Flaherty then retired from the game and Blen went in to catch. Dolan hit to right for two bases and Dutton scored. Tewehey struck out. Wakefield flied out to centre. Gibbs singled to centre and Dolan scored. Reed singled to left and Gibbs went to third. Connaughton hit out, second to first. Pinkerton went out, pitcher to first. Shanky hit to short, and got first as Matthews did not have his foot on the base when he caught the ball. A wild pitch put Shanky on second. Pease and Blen hit out to the infield and retired the side.

FOURTH INNING.
Boardman hit to centre for two bases. Matthews flied out to centre. Boardman going to third. Dutton struck out. Dolan hit safely to right. Boardman scoring. Dolan stole second. Tewehey flied out to second. Waterhouse drew a base on balls. Riley got his base on balls. Ramsey went out, third to first, while other runners advanced a base. Charles hit a fly to left, which Dolan dropped.

Waterhouse scored and Riley went to third on the error, while Charles went to second. McPherson hit a fly to Tewehey, who dropped it, and Riley scored. Pinkerton drew a base on balls. Shanky hit to left. McPherson was forced out at that bag and Charles scored. Pease flied out to Pinkerton. Score, Bangor 7, Marathons 5.

FIFTH INNING.
Wakefield went out third to first. Gibbs singled to left. Reed hit to Waterhouse who put Gibbs out at second and Dutton hit out at first. Blen, Waterhouse and Riley went out in order.

SIXTH INNING.
Connaughton hit to left for two bases. Boardman sacrificed to first. Matthews hit out to first. Dutton drew a base on balls and stole second. Dolan flied out to second, leaving Connaughton on first. Ramsey drew a base and was put out stealing second. Charles struck out. McPherson hit out to pitcher.

SEVENTH INNING.
Tewehey, Wakefield and Gibbs went out in order to the infield. Connaughton hit safe to centre and was put out stealing second. Shanky and Pease flied out.

EIGHTH INNING.
Reed struck out. Connaughton came across with another two base hit to right field and went to third on Boardman going out second to first. Matthews went out third to first and once more Connaughton was left on third. Blen singled to centre. Waterhouse and Riley flied out. Tarbell went in to bat. Ramsey bled and singled to left. Charles flied out and retired the side.

NINTH INNING.
Dutton flied out to second. Dolan went out second to first. Tewehey struck out. McPherson fouled out to catcher. Pinkerton drew a base on balls. Carney hit to right field and scored on Shanky's two base hit to left field. Pease hit to Tewehey at second. Tewehey hit to right field and Pease scored, winning the game.
