

A Chinese Fable.

The Story of Fighting in Formosa Gets Little Credence.

Agency for Russian Flour To Be Established in London.

Liberal-Unionist Candidates Warned Not to Leave the Country During June-General Election Expected.

BOOMING RUSSIAN FLOUR.

St. Petersburg, May 29.—The Russian millers' congress today decided to establish an agency in London for the sale of Russian flour.

BRITISH POLITICS.

London, May 29.—The Liberal-Unionist Parliamentary candidates have been warned by their leaders not to leave the country in the month of June, as an election is imminent within the month.

NOT JUST NOW.

London, May 29.—The Daily News, referring to the persistent reports of a forthcoming dissolution of Parliament, reaffirms that as far as the intention and expectation of the Ministry are concerned there is not the slightest foundation for the rumor.

THE NEWFOUNDLAND LOAN.

London, May 29.—The Canadian Gazette announces that Newfoundland having failed to obtain a loan in New York, a London syndicate has undertaken to successfully issue in London during June a 4 per cent loan of £500,000. This is subject, however, to the important condition that all the legal points must be proved to be satisfactory. Experts say that this condition is likely to prove fatal to the project.

HARCOURT'S POLICY INDORSED.

London, May 29.—The Standard's financial article this morning says: "The letter of Sir William Harcourt, Chancellor of the Exchequer, declaring the Government's purpose to cling to a gold standard currency is all that could be wished. It will do much to stop the mischievous doctrine agitation conducted in sentimental ignorance or in concert by men who in many cases want to find an easy way to pay their inconvenient debts." Continuing, the Standard says: "As the will of the bankrupt debtor the bi-metalists are now preparing a memorial to Sir William Harcourt."

A CHINESE FABLE.

London, May 29.—The Globe prints a dispatch from Shanghai which says it is reported there that fighting has occurred at Tamsul, on the northwest coast of Formosa. The report, however, is not confirmed.

At the Japanese Legation, Washington, which has been promptly and accurately advised by its Home Government of every move of importance from the outbreak of the war to the conclusion of peace, nothing has been received to confirm the news from Shanghai that the Japanese warships off Formosa have been cleared for action and that a renewal of hostilities is imminent. The officials in charge of the cable service of the State Department are also without information, and the story in its present state is dismissed as another Shanghai fable.

LIBERAL-UNIONIST RE-ELECTED.

Edinburgh, May 30.—The Parliamentary election in the West Edinburgh division, to fill the vacancy caused by the succession of Viscount Wolmer to the peerage, was held yesterday, and resulted in the choice of Lewis McVicar (Liberal-Unionist) by a vote of 3,783 to 3,075 cast for the ministerial candidate, A. O. Murray, the master of Ellbank. At the last election Viscount Wolmer (Liberal-Unionist) received 3,728 votes and Mr. Buchanan 3,216.

WILLFUL MURDER.

Verdict of the Coroner's Jury Formed Against a Woman in the Jones Murder.

Maniwa, May 29.—The coroner and jury in the Jones murder case arrived here from Baskatong last night and reported that at the request of the jury, after hearing the evidence of eleven witnesses, returned a verdict of willful murder against Emilie Robillard, wife of John Laframboise. She pleads that she is innocent of crime. Mrs. Laframboise was arrested at her home at 12 o'clock on Monday night. She has taken her 10-months-old babe with her. The prisoner presented a pitiable appearance on arrival here. Both eyes were blackened and much swollen and her face badly scratched. Much sympathy is felt for her family of seven children.

THE CRIME.

On Friday last the mutilated remains of Sarah Jones, of Baskatong, were found a short distance from her own home. The scene of the murder is 26 miles distant from Maniwa on the Desert. The murdered girl kept house for her three brothers and a younger sister. Miss Jones was 24, quiet and respectable. On Friday all the household, save Miss Jones, were away from home, and Miss Jones, fearing to remain all night alone, went to the house of a neighbor named John Laframboise. She left there next morning for home, and this was the last seen of her alive. Her remains were found the same forenoon a short distance from her home. Her head was badly bruised, one arm broken, and a stab, as from a knife, was found in her back. Her clothing was torn and disarranged and the marks of blood in the vicinity showed that a desperate struggle had taken place. She had apparently not been dead many hours when the body was found.

THE PRISONER.

The only suspected person is the prisoner, the wife of Laframboise. She is the mother of several children, but for some time past, it is alleged, has been jealous of the murdered girl on account of an intimacy which she maintained with her.

In the British House of Lords, Lord Halifax's bill to empower church officials to refuse to marry persons who have been divorced passed its second reading.

agined had arisen between Miss Jones and her husband. Not far from the mutilated remains was discovered a poker covered with blood. The shape of a woman's hand was imprinted where it had clung to the bloody weapon. The brother of the murdered girl asked for the arrest of Mrs. John Laframboise on suspicion. She was seen with Miss Jones shortly before 6 o'clock the morning of the murder, and was the last one seen near the place and also first to tell the neighbors of the murder.

SILENT PRAYER ONLY.

Settlement of a Disputed Point by the Woman's Council.

A Series of Very Important Resolutions Adopted.

Toronto, May 29.—At the morning session of the Woman's National Council it was decided by a vote of 71 to 41 after considerable discussion that the meetings in future should be opened by silent prayer only. A number of resolutions were discussed and carried, and it was decided to hold over until next year a resolution calling for shorter hours in factories.

At the afternoon session of the Council the consideration of resolutions was continued. One of these condemned the use of opium, and asked the Dominion Government to reimpose the duty. Another resolution asked the Dominion Government to undertake the collection of statistics regarding the work of women in their various spheres. Another advocated a change in the law regarding bigamy, whereby men, who, being married in Canada, and who subsequently marry in the United States, while the first wife is living, may be prosecuted in Canada for bigamy. Another resolution recommended the taking of steps to prevent the continuance of injury to which women and children in factories are liable. Another thanked the Ontario Government for appointing women inspectors for factories and workshops where women are employed. Another resolution recommended the local councils to encourage the study and practice of applied design in Canada.

All the resolutions were carried with more or less discussion. At a public meeting held tonight in the pavilion it was decided to meet next year in Montreal.

Rev. A. W. Richardson, of Brantford, has been chosen by the First Congregational Church of Kingston, as his pastor if he will accept the invitation, in succession to the late Rev. Dr. Jackson.

At the ministerial session of the Montreal Conference of the Methodist Church, held at Smith's Falls, the Rev. R. C. The exaggerated reports of discovery of lumpjaw among cattle sent to Montreal for shipment have been authoritatively denied. It was based on the fact that some animals affected with lumpjaw and rejected by the Dominion inspectors were sent by their owners to the abattoir to be slaughtered for local consumption, but the abattoir people refused to kill these animals.

INSURANCE MEN INTERESTED

In the "Taking Off" of Ex. Pope at Detroit.

Detroit, Mich., May 29.—Insurance agents representing various life concerns took the witness stand in Mrs. Pope's murder trial yesterday. They testified to a number of policies taken out by Mrs. Pope upon her husband's life. In one or two instances it was shown that the policies were canceled by the insurance men who suspected Mrs. Pope.

A sensational feature of yesterday's session was the statement of David Wright, a paper hanger, who testified that Mrs. Pope once offered him $5,000 of her husband's insurance money if he would get Pope out of the way. He said he and the woman had been drinking at the time, and, to appease her, he told her he would do the deed, but never attempted it.

The prosecution closed its testimony and the defense opened. The testimony taken related chiefly to attempts of an insurance agent to induce Dr. Pope to return his policies because of the suspicion that he might be murdered.

The Ocean Horror.

Particulars of the Sinking of the Colima.

Mad Rush for the Boats by Frenzied Passengers.

The Crew Behaved Bravely—One Heroic Woman.

San Francisco, Cal., May 29.—More particulars have been received of the sinking of the steamer Colima off Mexico.

The Colima carried a heavy cargo of general merchandise, and in addition to cabin passengers, who numbered between 25 and 50, carried a number of steerage passengers. There was probably on the vessel all told nearly 200 people. The ship was wrecked May 27. A ship boat containing five of the Colima passengers, arrived at Manzanillo on Tuesday.

Assistant Superintendent Avery, of the Pacific Mail Company, stated that the Colima carried 192 persons, and only nineteen were saved. There were 40 cabin passengers, 37 steerage, 43 Chinese, and the crew numbered 72. Most of the cabin passengers were bound through to New York.

This was the steamer's 123th voyage to Panama. She carried about 2,000 tons of cargo, and was valued at $103,000.

HOW IT OCCURRED.

San Francisco, May 30.—A morning paper publishes the following: A special messenger came from Manzanillo this morning at 1 o'clock with official information for the Governor of Colima regarding the Colima steamship disaster off Manzanillo. Twenty-five houses were destroyed by a hurricane, and it was debated as to whether or not the ship should attempt to gain partial shelter in the shallow and treacherous Banderas Bay, which has rocks near the entrance, or whether to burst upon the open sea. One local Mexican passenger, Don Matias Moreno, says that while cautiously steering for what to all appeared was the usual entrance, a slight tremble was felt to go through the ship. It was so faint that it was hardly apparent, except to the trained senses of the pilot and captain. The captain ordered a slight change in the course, and gave other directions, which were obeyed by the officers and crew.

In a very few seconds after the keel was struck, the ship was holed.

GROUNDED ON A ROCK.

Lightly, and there was at once great excitement among the officers and crew, and fear on the part of the few passengers on deck. Following the danger signal, in less than ten minutes the great ship crunched on an unknown reef and suddenly foundered. The passengers sprang from their berths in terror and ran out to the decks screaming and praying in paroxysms of fear as the awful truth began to burst upon them. The wind howled, and a dense pall of fog hung over the ship as she was tossed by the surges and began to

FOUND HERSELF TO PIECES.

On the rocks. She rose and fell three times, and then a crash was heard. This was followed by silence for the space of a moment, during which time only loud sobbing was heard and muffled prayers. "Man the boats!" cried the captain. Another crash was heard from beneath the water. The boats had previously been made ready, with all the life-savers placed at convenient places, although covered from the view of the nervous passengers. Within three minutes the first crash had begun to sink the ship. The hull of the ship began to reel from its upright balance, to settle and to sink in its free hinder part. The scenes about the lifeboats were indescribable, according to all the testimony obtainable. The panic-stricken passengers and the ship's crew struggled for first place, although, to the credit of the crew, few of the sailors or ship's people lost their presence of mind, but gave the main attentions to saving the passengers.

There were a number of children on the list, and one of these was PITCHED OVERBOARD.

Into the frothing sea by a frenzied mother, who aimed for one of the boats while still upon the davits. A woman of evident wealth and refinement among the passengers, whose name is thought to be Broslin, or Croslin, displayed great presence of mind in the most trying moments, and passed through the frenzied throng, urging them to keep up hope.

Some of the passengers, not willing to await the chance of a place in the boats, seized lifebelts and boldly cast themselves into the sea and were dashed against the rocks.

San Francisco, Cal., May 30.—It is generally supposed that the boilers of the Colima exploded and that the steamer foundered so quickly that only those on the deck at the time had a chance to save their lives. The steamer's agents claim to have hope that the passengers have been saved, and believe that the wires are down, as no definite news has been received.

BAPTISTS IN COUNCIL.

Next Year's Meeting to Be Held in Montreal—Colleges Feel the Hard Times.

Toronto, May 29.—At the meeting of the Baptist convention of Ontario and Quebec this morning the invitation from Olivet Church, Montreal, to hold next year's meeting there was accepted.

Eight members of the convention were elected to represent the convention on the Dominion Alliance.

The principal business item was the presentation of the annual report regarding McMaster University, and its allied colleges. The report was satisfactory on the whole, though the effect of the commercial depression was visible in the falling off of interest on investments and the stationary attendance at Moulton and Woodstock.

Gratification was expressed at the fact that Rev. O. C. S. Wallace had consented to reconsider his refusal to accept the offer of the chancellorship.

THE METHODIST EVANGELIST.

The Princess Rink was well filled last evening, when Rev. Mr. Yatman took for his subject "Christ." Preceding his address he spoke on the temperance question, and strongly condemned the great amount of drinking that was indulged in on the national holiday. The saloon-keepers also came in for a strong censure. Mr. Yatman said: "They only want your money, and then they are through with you. I knew a man in New York who spent several hundred dollars in the saloons, and after this had all gone he begged for a drink in one of the saloons he had spent the most money in and was actually kicked out." He then spoke on the grumblers who were objecting because he (Mr. Yatman) was going to be paid. "Of course the preacher has to be paid, I don't know how much I am going to get or whether the amount will be large or small; it is to be a free-will offering. You may forget Mr. Yatman, but don't forget this grand old book I hold in my hand." Mr. Yatman took as the basis of his remarks the 53rd chapter of Isaiah, which, he said, was the central chapter in the Bible. In giving out the announcements of the week he remarked that on Saturday questions will be answered, but they were to be good scriptural ones. He would not, for instance, answer "Where did Cain get a wife?" This evening's subject will be "Heaven," and tomorrow night's "Hell."

—Since the commencement of the meetings 395 of his hearers have professed conversion.

FORAKER AT THE FORE.

McKinley Loses Control of the Party Machine in Ohio.

Zanesville, Ohio, May 29.—The net result of the defeat of Nash in the Republican State Convention is to dispossess Gov. McKinley and his friends of control of the State political machinery after January next, and to make ex-Gov. Foraker the party director of the State.

It also settles the fact that the Ohio delegation will contain at least two anti-McKinley delegates at large, in the persons of Gen. Asa Bushnell, who will wear the title of governor, and ex-Gov. Foraker, who will probably be alluded to as "Senator-elect."

WATERING THE STREETS.

Work Not Being Done According to Specifications—Carts Are Short—Coal Contracts Let.

No. 3 committee spent over an hour in the excessive heat last night discussing civic business. Ald. Powell was in the chair, and Ald. Garratt, Weld, Pritchard, Ardill and Skinner, Inspector Isaacs, Market Clerk Wilson, Chief Roe and Secretary Bell were present.

Two reports from Inspector Isaacs re the street watering were accompanied by a statement from Engineer Graydon that he had spoken to the contractors about the unsatisfactory way they were doing their work, but no improvement was noticeable. Mr. Isaacs' reports stated that Contractors Smart and John Morkin were out nearly on time. Those Morkin started about 7:30, while Maurice Baldwin did not begin until after 8 o'clock. Smart had done his work fairly well. Morkin had done fairly well, considering the size of his sections. Mr. Baldwin had not done his work as well as last year. Complaints had been received from ratepayers on York and Wellington streets. The specifications were not being carried out.

Ald. Pritchard found fault with "them" for having a watering cart standing by unpaired when the stock was short and the city could not be properly covered.

Mr. Isaacs said the cart referred to was not needing repairs. It was being used as an auxiliary and was frequently taken out.

The case of Mr. Baldwin was considered briefly, and it was admitted that his three sections three times a day. Ald. Pritchard said that the market was never watered properly. The square, he said, was generally half filled with people before the contractor put in an appearance.

Mr. Isaacs rose to answer, when Ald. Pritchard asked him what time the cart was used this (Wednesday) morning.

Mr. Isaacs—About—
Ald. Pritchard—About what, then?
Mr. Isaacs—Between 6:30 and 6:40.

Ald. Pritchard—Well, I know it was not touched until 10 o'clock. The committee can believe me or do the other thing.

The report was filed, and the engineer was instructed to have the specifications carried out as far as possible with the number of carts.

T. J. McDonough's application for watering Raglan street was filed. It could not be considered, as an area had been adopted by the council.

Mr. John M. Parsons and Mr. Morrison (Toronto) were before the committee in reference to placing a chemical apparatus on the truck at No. 1 station. Mr. Morrison spoke in support of the figures made by his firm, and to Chairman Powell said he did not think the proposition to put a chemical tank on the hose wagon at No. 1 station a practical one. This was the opinion of the chief of the department. No action.

The account from George Burdick for extra pay for cleaning a watering cart was referred to Secretary Bell for further information.

A batch of correspondence re aerial truck was laid over. Two tenders and a number of photographs received by Chief Roe—one for a truck and one for an engine—were also held in abeyance.

Tenders for coal were received, and the figures of H. M. Douglas were accepted. He will supply grate, stove and chestnut for $5.35 a ton and deliver the soft at $4.50. Last year's figures were $5 a ton for the first four kinds and $4 a ton for soft.

Market Clerk Wilson's report contained minor recommendations.

ALVINSTON.

("Advertiser" Agent, P. A. McDiarmid.)
May 28.—Mr. Jas. Gardner, who had his ankle dislocated some time ago, is now able to be at work again.

Miss Laughlin, of Watford, is the guest of the Misses Russel, Center street.

The 24th of May was celebrated here in grand style. Cannon (the black smith's anvil) boomed all the previous night, and with early morn all was astir. The fire brigade turned out in full force in the morning and sprinkled all the principal streets after which all proceeded to the park to witness the baseball game between the Alvinstons and the Orioles, which resulted in a victory for the Alvinstons by a score of 12 to 3. Shortly before noon the procession formed and paraded the streets, causing much laughter by their striking costumes and actions. The afternoon was spent in games and dancing.

The concert given by the Ronald Stuart Concert Company was well attended, and St. John's Church will realize a neat sum of money as a result.

The Sons of Temperance will meet next Friday night, when the contest for the ice cream social will begin.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Luckham, of Glenora, spent Sunday in town with J. Martyn and family.

The village council have purchased 40 carloads of gravel from the G. T. R. and are having it placed on the streets. Between 50 and 60 pupils will write here on the entrance examination at midsummer.

Warning to Young Men.
How many young men bankrupt their constitutions, squander their vitality and ruin their health by pernicious practices, generally contracted through ignorance, Nervous exhaustion, debility, dulness of mental faculties, impaired memory, low spirits, morose or irritable temper, fear of impending calamity, a thousand and one are the result of such indiscretions. Epilepsy, paralysis, softening of the brain and dread insanity are not unfrequently the result of unnatural habits contracted in youth through ignorance of their destructive character, and persisted in until the constitution is wrecked and the unfortunate are surely entitled to the tender sympathy, the noblest efforts and the best skill of the medical profession to reclaim and restore such unfortunate to health and happiness is the aim of an association of medical gentlemen, who, having had a vast experience in the cure of the class of maladies herein hinted at, have prepared a comprehensive, scientific treatise, written in plain but suggestive language on the nature, symptoms and curability, by home treatment, of such diseases. The World's Dispensary Medical Association, of 665 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y., will on receipt of this notice, inclosed with 10 cents (for postage), mail, secure from observation, in plain sealed envelope, a copy of this useful work, which should be read by not only every young man in the land, but also by every parent, guardian and teacher having care of the young.

Wife Repairs the Tires.

Another Business Opening for the "New Woman."

Does Wheeling Injure the Livery Business?—The Bicycle as an Aid to Health, and as a Mode of Suicide—Where a Woman's Patience Counts.

"How many bicycles do you think there are in London?"
I put the question to a rider the other day.

"About 1,500," he replied, without stopping to think.
Then I put the same question to probably the largest importer of wheels in the city—a man who literally has his finger on the bicycle pulse, as it were. He did not answer quite so rapidly, and after a short mental calculation he said:

"Probably between 700 and 800."
"You add together the membership of the different clubs. Then allow for as many non-club riders, and even then I think you will be above the mark."

Strange as it may seem, the advent of the wheeling device a hitherto unknown quality in the average wife. Said a merchant the other day: "I had a great deal of trouble with my tires, and not wishing to stand the expense of repairs, I attempted to fix the leaks myself. I am a heavy man, and as a result the inner tube gets out of repair very often. I tried for a couple of days to locate a leak some time ago, and failing, left my wheel at home rather than pump it up every time I got into the saddle. When I got home I found the tire pumped up hard as a brick, and a tub of water waiting for me. My wife smilingly told me that she had fixed it in my absence. She had seen me take it apart so often and inflate the tube and hold it in water for a few minutes to look for the telltale bubbles, that she concluded that she could do the thing herself. And sure enough she was more successful at the first attempt than I ever was. Henceforth my wife repairs all bicycle leaks for me."

"How do you account for her success?"
"Well, I think a woman has naturally more patience than a man. She is also quick to discern, and naturally clever at patching. And so women threaten another calling fondly supposed to be pre-empted by man!"

Not long ago on the question of a payment of license a city alderman who is a livery keeper himself, made the statement that wheeling had so injured the livery business as to cause him to seriously think that the license fee should either be reduced or a fee should be charged the bicycle firms who keep machines for rent. While allowance must be made for the usual cry of "woe," no doubt there is something in the assertion after all. At least the closing-out sale of the largest livery in town, a few weeks ago, would give color to the remark. But while there are funerals to attend, pleasure drives to be taken, and especially where competition takes a great deal of labor, the livery business will continue. When the electric line connects with the cemeteries and with Springbank, and more particularly when the day of fancy, the liveryman might just as well shut his doors on the day of the week but one, and that one will be Sunday. Even now Sunday is the liveryman's busy day.

The average wheelman's first season is always his busiest, and his enthusiastic. Then he takes his longest trip, and thinks he enjoys them. Next year he has sobered down, and realizes, and is willing to acknowledge, that wheeling takes a great deal of labor. And labor in hot weather is what the average mortal seeks to avoid.

A wheelman will always tell you that wheeling is healthy. A doctor will say that a certain amount of wheeling is, but not too much. The liveryman, however, says that it is just as easy to commit suicide by way of the bicycle as any other. Only yesterday I read of a New York wheelman dying of hemorrhage brought on by over-exertion, coupled with weak lungs. The business man, or woman, or other person of sedentary habits, a couple of hours' exercise on a wheel in the evenings (especially in company) is better than a tonic. To the growing lad, persons with weak lungs or heart trouble, excessive wheeling, particularly when accompanied by the stooping posture, is, as the M. D. said, but one method of suicide.

If you buy a wheel, don't make it the aim of your life to see how many times you can make the circuit of Victoria Park in an hour. Don't ride with your hands on your knees! The handle bar is the proper place. Remember anybody can do it. It is no trick. And most people dislike to see other people show off. Besides, it is very dangerous to pedestrians.

Don't take long trips from Saturday night until Monday morning. It is impossible to make the Sabbath a day of rest on a bicycle.

Hot Springs, Ark., March 7, '95.
Dr. Radway & Co. New York:
Dear Sirs—I have been sick nearly two years and have been doctoring with some of the most expert doctors of the United States. I have been bathing and drinking hot water at the Hot Springs, Ark., but it seemed everything failed to do me good. After I saw your advertisement I thought I would try your pills, and have nearly used two boxes; been taking two at bedtime and one after breakfast, and I have done me more good than anything else I had used. My trouble has been with the liver. Pain right above the navel, like as if it were very hot. My mouth and tongue were most of the time. Appetite fair, but food would not digest, but settle heavy on my stomach and some few mouthfuls of food come up again. I could only eat light food that digests easily. Please send "Book of Advice," Respectfully,
C. J. BUDLONG, Evangelist.

AWAY WITH IT!

Last night a Conservative member introduced a bill into the House of Commons for the repeal of the Dominion Franchise Act.

This is the second bill with the same object that has been placed before Parliament. Mr. Charlton having introduced a similar measure a month ago.

As there now appears to be a revolt in the Conservative ranks against the costly, vexatious, and altogether unnecessary measure, it is possible that the voice of the Liberals, which has always been against the act, as especially hurtful to them and to every independent elector, may be listened to by the men at present in power.

And yet we fear that the act will never be erased from the statute book until a new Government is installed at Ottawa.

It has been used to bolster up the fortunes of unscrupulous men, and to prevent the will of the legitimate electorate from being carried out, and the politicians who have so turned it to account wish to have further opportunity in the same direction.

That the act should be repealed, and the $200,000 or more which every revision costs saved to the taxpayers, surely no reasonable man will combat.

What kind of treatment to the electorate is it to have lists "revised" so far ahead of an election that hundreds of men in every constituency are disfranchised, while hundreds more, who have moved away, and have made their homes elsewhere, are brought back at great expense to decide an election?

By all means, let the infamous measure be repealed.

WOMEN IN COUNCIL.

The meeting of the National Council of Women of Canada in Toronto this week is a striking object lesson.

The gathering is made up of delegates from the various women's associations of the Dominion—the members are women of all religions and of all provinces, moving in almost every walk and condition of life, brought together, as the president, Lady Aberdeen, so well put it, to advance the world-wide movement for the elevation of the status of women and the improvement of society in consequence of that elevation.

That such an organization should have been formed under the direct guidance of "the first lady of the land," and with the strongest indorsement from men of such diversified views as the Governor-General, Lieutenant-Governor Kirkpatrick, Archbishop Walsh, Rev. Dr. Potts, Hon. George W. Ross, and Prof. Clark, of Trinity College, all of whom either spoke at the opening of the convention or sent words of cheer and encouragement by others—must be marvelous in the eyes of many Canadians. Doubtless there are people who yet think that the interests of the human race can be best served by dwarfing and restricting woman's influence and woman's interest in the world outside the domestic circle. But, as Lady Aberdeen put it so well in opening the proceedings, surely the fact of women of Halifax meeting women of Vancouver and discussing matters of supreme interest to both will have a widening influence upon the life of Canadian women, and will have a most beneficial effect upon the children of the present day when they grow up.

The National Council of Women have shown that they are not less womanly because they take an intelligent interest in the affairs of the country in which they live.

ANOTHER GREAT SHIP CANAL.

Thomas Martindale, of Philadelphia, a former Londoner who has made his mark in the commercial world of the neighboring republic, has an article in this month's Godey's Magazine, strongly commending to Congressmen the early completion of the Atlantic coast-wise ship canals. Mr. Martindale is chairman of the executive committee of the Philadelphia Ship Canal Commission, and he says he has become profoundly impressed with the importance, feasibility, and immense possibilities of the project, the comparatively slight cost being offset, in his opinion, by such large profitable returns in sight that it is a daily surprise to him that the work was not long ago undertaken and completed. In addition to the project for running a ship canal across the State of New Jersey, from New York city to Philadelphia, it is proposed to make a deep canal at Cape Cod, and to enlarge the existing Delaware and Chesapeake Canal to a depth of 27 feet, without locks. Thus, Mr. Martindale points out, the commercial seaboard of the Eastern States would have a grand interior "water street" (as the Dutch call their canals) connecting Boston harbor with the nation's capital, and assuring the eastern seaboard cities—New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Baltimore—the benefit of the cheapest freights to and from the great West, and giving to the four great cities named above a sure protection in time of war against hostile invasion, greater than any system of ports could accord.

It is an ambitious project, but as it received the indorsement of Gallatin in 1807, Calhoun in 1837, and Grant in his second message to Congress, and as so progressive and energetic a man of influence as Mr. Martindale now champions it, and supports it by many strong arguments, the great ship canal may be undertaken at an early date.

TOO GREAT POET'S LICENSE.

Mr. Davin, M.P., maintains that Finance Minister Foster did not hold the brief of the members of the combines when the tariff was juggled with last year.

The secretary of the combine managers asserts that Mr. Foster did hold their brief, and that they influenced him to change the tariff to suit their views.

It seems to us that the secretary, and not Mr. Davin, is in the best position to state the facts.

In his zeal to excuse the high tax system, the Regina bard has been taking a poet's license with the truth.

EDITORIAL POINTS.

The Grand Army of the Republic attended divine service in the Catholic cathedral at Philadelphia on Sunday, and the Union Jack, the only foreign flag displayed, was given a conspicuous place in the decorations. This is an eloquent rebuke to the silly tearing down of the Stars and Stripes hoisted in honor of the Queen's birthday.

Says the New York Sun: "It may be worth while to put on record the names of the two Canadian belligerents who butted their heads against the American flag last Friday, the birthday of the foreign Queen who reigns over Canada. One of them was Lieut. Dennison, of the Seventh Fusiliers, who tore the flag from the window of a German-Canadian who had put it there. The incident occurred at London, Ont. The name of the other man is Major Hannich, of a Toronto regiment, who, when taking his regiment out from Windsor for a steamboat trip upon a boat bearing the American flag, called for a hauling down of that flag. The steamboat, however, was an American one, which could sail under no other flag; and so the major of the Forty-eighth had to swallow his indignation as he went aboard of it."

Our contemporary need hardly lie awake at nights because of our few Canadian jingoos. They should not be taken too seriously on either side of the line.

Who says there is no money in being knighted? Theatrical managers assert that now Henry Irving is entitled to be called "Sir," he is a far more valuable asset than formerly. The actor who is made a K. C. B. is in as great luck apparently as the actress who loses her diamonds and has the fact and herself advertised thereon.

Michigan legislators have passed a law to prohibit treating. Doubtless it will save some of them a large amount of money. However it is a custom more honored in the breach than the observance.

Reports come that Russia's wheat crop will be a big one. As the Canadian farmer will have to face Russian competition in the open markets of the world, it was very thoughtful of Mr. Foster to increase his taxes.

The new editor of the Christian Guardian, Rev. A. C. Courtice, B.D., has got out his first number, and an able number it is. His inaugural, modest as to himself and complimentary as to his predecessor, is typical of the man. The "Advertiser" wishes all success to the old "Guardian" and the new Editor.

Cuba has warned Spain that she never will be contented until she has home rule. Ditto, the land of the shamrock.

"The Political Oven" is what Hon. Wilfrid Laurier calls Parliament in these hot summer days. It is a shame to call Parliament together at so late a date as to require members to sweater and roast in Ottawa during the dog days. But the scared Ministers care little for the welfare of any one outside of their own selfish circle.

It is safe to assert that the Dominion Parliament will not adjourn till after the middle of July. Where is the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals?

Some horticultural experts assert that the year's grapes may not be so very sour after all.

Was Franklin wrong when he said that a hereditary legislator was as absurd a creature as a hereditary mathematician?

A writer in "Temple Bar" makes a new division of mankind—those who are looking for work and those who are seeking to avoid it.

Ald. John Jones said the other day that London, Ontario, was the most democratic city in the world, a larger proportion of residents owning their own houses than in any other city. You seldom hear such offensive phrase as "upper classes," "lower classes," "middle classes," or "working classes," used by our speakers, and there is no reason why you should. A citizen should object to being appealed to as a member of a class, but rather as a citizen in full equality with any other. We know of no city where there is comparatively less of servility on the part of those only moderately well-off, or comparatively less of snobbery on the part of those more well-to-do than in London, Ontario. May this self-respecting, democratic demeanor and sentiment long prevail.

The art of not seeing, according to the London World, is also worth cultivating. Some things are better overlooked.

Mr. Patterson got out of the Cabinet early in order to avoid the rush.

There is a bull movement in wheat, but the N. P. continues to bear heavily on the farmer.

Carlyle used to say that in idleness there is perpetual despair. But why should any healthy man be idle in this attractive and comparatively undeveloped world?

To be a Cabinet Minister in the Federal Government is a very comfortable berth.—Brockville Recorder. It is, when there is smooth sailing. But when the ship of state has sprung a leak, and the hurricane of popular disapproval is driving it on the rocks of defeat, and there is no one at the helm, while all the deck hands are below trying to plug the holes—it may not be such a comfortable place after all.

The New York World says that if there is any land in the world worth having, and not pre-empted, Britain will get it. It will be in good hands.

And now Mr. James Burden and Miss Adele Sloan intend to outlive the Castellane-Gould nuptials with a million dollar wedding. Such marriages are made on earth.

The serials in Scribner's for June perhaps are the most important articles in the magazine, for they are by Mrs. Humphrey Ward, Mr. George Meredith and President Andrews, of Brown University. The latter, in his "History of the Last Quarter Century," reaches the centennial year, in truth, a year of a hundred years, with its gladness in Philadelphia, its sadness in the Black Hills, and its shame in Washington and Louisiana. Mr. Stone's account of Chicago before and after the fire is interesting; so, too, is a "symposium" on the play, and the other contributions to the number, though not named here, are not to be overlooked.

Vacation time is near at hand, and the children will find pleasant suggestions of the woods and fields in the June number of St. Nicholas. One of the little verses that will awaken sympathy in the mind of every reader is "When Vacation's Nearing," by A. S. Webber. The serials of the number will first claim the attention of those who are following the adventures of the heroes and heroines. Mr. Stearns' "Chris and the Wonderful Lamp" is brought to an end with a most unexpected complication. In Mr. Pyle's story, Jack Ballister wins full recognition for his pluck in rescuing the heroine from the pirates, "Teddy and Carrots," the two little boys that James Otis is describing, are planning Teddy's release from the jail, where he was so unfeelingly put by the policeman. In "The Boy of the First Empire," the main event is the turning of the Paris populace against Napoleon, but the developments throw light upon the part played by Philip, the page. The short stories and sketches are up to the standard of the magazine. A bright story for the boys is "Our Tiny Feet," telling the adventures of a party of five boys who were cast away for a few days on an island in one of the great lakes. There are also the usual number of clever verses and jingles.

There is much freshness in the Century for June. The frontispiece is a hitherto unengraved bust of Napoleon owned by Charles J. Bonaparte, of Baltimore and modeled from life by Corbet during the Egyptian campaign. Prof. Sloane's narrative covers the gap between the conclusion of the Italian campaign and the first victories in Egypt. As usual, there is a profusion of portraits and of pictures by French and American painters, including Detaille and Gerome. A notable illustrated out-of-door article by John Muir, relates the circumstances of his "Discovery of Glacier Bay" in Alaska. W. D. Howells contributes the first part of a paper of quiet humor entitled "Tribulations of a Cheerful Giver." "The New Public Library in Boston" is the subject of two articles, one on "Its Artistic Aspects," by Mrs. Van Rensselaer, and the other on "Its Ideals and Working Conditions," by Lyndsay Swift, and illustrations accompany the text. The fiction has much variety, including the eighth part of Marion Crawford's "Casa Braccio," containing a remarkable chapter narrating a quarrel between a husband and wife; the second part of Julia Magruder's novelette, "The Princess Sonia," gayly illustrated by Gibson, and setting forth an unexpected relationship between two characters of the story. There are also three short stories. The poetry of the number includes two grimly humorous ballads.

The charm of listening to a famous man as he tells of the greatest influence upon his life comes very strongly upon one reading the article which the Rev. Robert Collyer, D.D., contributes to the June issue of the Ladies' Home Journal. It is in the magazine's series of "The Woman Who Most Influenced Me," and is at once the daintiest and strongest contribution to it. There are many other charming things in this issue of the famous journal.

House and Lobby

A Conservative Member Creates a Sensation Among the Faithful—Mr. Montague Cheers the Fainting Hearts of His Fellow-Protectionists—Labored Apology for and Vigorous Attack on the N. P.—First Division of the Session.

(Specially telegraphed by our own Representative.)

Ottawa, May 29.—In the House today Sir Donald Smith presented a large petition from the Board of Trade and the merchants of Montreal for a customs board of experts. This was received with many "hear, hears" from the Opposition.

A sensation was created by the introduction of a bill by a Conservative member to repeal the Franchise Act. Mr. Pelletier, the Ministerial member for Laprairie, was the innovator. In response to loud cries of "Explain!" Mr. Pelletier said that so long as the act exacted a land qualification, the Provincial Franchise Act should be used, because the provinces alone had the right to legislate with regard to their land. The bill was read the first time.

In reply to Mr. Edgar, Mr. Ives said: "From the best information at the moment obtainable, it appears probable that the following foreign powers will, under treaties with Great Britain, become entitled to like privileges in Canada as those granted to France by the treaty of Feb. 8, 1891, on its ratification, etc., viz.: Argentina, under treaty of 1825; Austria-Hungary, 1870; Belgium, 1882; Bolivia, 1840; Chili, 1854; Columbia, 1866; Costa Rica, 1849; Germany, Zollverein, 1865; Russia, 1859; Salvador, 1882; Sweden and Norway, 1826; Uruguay, 1855. It is also possible that the treaties with the following countries might be held to be binding on Canada in like manner, although doubtful, the wording in some instances being obscure, and in others being subject to further action, which, whether taken or not, it would require time and correspondence to ascertain: Egypt, under the treaty of 1889; Montenegro, 1882; Mexico, 1882; Persia, 1844; South African Republic, 1884; Venezuela, 1825; Zanzibar, 1868. The answer to the second question is given as near as possible in that to the first."

When Dr. Montague, the Secretary of State, rose to resume the debate on the budget, the House contained a larger attendance of members than at any period since the session opened. An expected division was the reason—thence of the session. The "Demosthenes of Dunville," who cheered and made an eloquent but winning speech which pleased his friends, who cheered him frequently. They were simply aching for a champion, and Dr. Montague of rousing any enthusiasm, and he did it—not by defending the record of the Government or the policy of the party, but by attacking the record and chaffing Sir Richard Cartwright on his difficulty in securing re-nomination in South Africa. He went back to 1850, and in a whirlwind of words scored the Opposition for opposing the C. P. R. construction. He divided his speech under four heads: The ability of the Liberals to govern, their purity as administrators, their economy, and their policy. No one heard anything under the first head. He read of several alleged jobs under Mr. Mackenzie, but never mentioned the old stand-bys, the steel rails or the Neebing Hotel. He charged the Liberals with increasing the expenditure during the Mackenzie regime. He declared that while always claiming electoral purity, they practiced electoral corruption. When discussing that live subject, the railway policy of 1880, and Mr. Mackenzie's opinion of the narrow-gauge railways, Mr. McMullen said Mr. Mackenzie was right. Dr. Montague raised a great laugh by retorting: "The honorable gentleman has always been a narrow-gauge politician." There was another loud laugh, and long, at the expense of Mr. Charlton, who, when Dr. Montague was accusing the Liberals of trying to humbug the manufacturers in 1887 by issuing a circular, remarked: "It's a pity you haven't got that circular," to which Dr. Montague replied: "But I have got it," and he forthwith produced it. It was an extract from Mr. Blake's Malvern speech.

Dr. Montague, dealing with the trade question, read an extract from an old speech of Mr. Davies, in which commercial union with the States was alleged to be advocated. He then tried to fasten on Mr. Laurier advocacy of the system of taxation existing in England, but in all the extracts read it was found that what Mr. Laurier advocated was the principle and policy of free trade as in England. There was no reference at all to the system of taxation, which is peculiar to England in the extracts read from the Liberal leader's speeches. Dr. Montague spent an hour in trying to prove in the most laborious way that free trade involved taxes on income, guns, carriages and houses, but if it was true, as he said, that this was a system publicly advocated by Messrs. Laurier, Cartwright and Davies, he should have been able to prove it easily by the extracts from their speeches. He took great pains to show that Sir Richard Cartwright's policy was death to protection. He repeated his assertion that England's prosperity was due to protection, and declared in reference to the denial of that statement that he had never stated what he knew to be false. Mr. Gibson asked what about the proclamation to the Indians of Haldimand, which Dr. Montague issued to the name of the Queen.

Dr. Montague ignored the question, and the Opposition set up a laugh. He went on to depict the miserable condition of the people of Great Britain commercially. He attributed this to free trade. In Ontario the farmers today held 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, and the price was 14 cents higher than in the United States, so that the farmers of Ontario were $20,000 better off in consequence of the National Policy or the duty on wheat. This statement was cheered by the Ministerialists.

After recess the Secretary of State glorified the National Policy by quoting industries which he said were established since 1873, but many of his statements were challenged. Dr. Montague spoke for four hours, but sat down without dealing with current issues.

Dr. Landerkin followed, and remarked that in an eulogy of Messrs. Mac-

Health Built Up

"I had a very bad cold which settled on my lungs. I was under doctor's care and was not able to get out of the house for eight weeks. I did not gain strength very fast and other remedies failing to help me to improve my case, I was induced to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. I have taken several bottles and my health is improved very much. Since I have taken Hood's Sarsaparilla I feel very much stronger than for a long time past. I have recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla to others, for it truly has been of great benefit to me." THE TURF

HOW THE DERBY WAS WON.

London, May 29.—The horses got a good start, Laveno making the running and Chibbiabos, Slow Step and Solario leading. Laveno, Beckhampton, the Brook, Curzon, Kirkconnel and Salvington were in the rear.

After running quarter of a mile Chibbiabos had a slight lead, followed by Beckhampton, Solario and Laveno. Slow Step and the Brook. The Owl and Villier's Recontour and Kirkconnel being next, and Salvington far in the rear.

Descending the hill The Brook was slightly in the lead of Beckhampton, Chibbiabos having dropped back, beaten.

When the horses straightened out in the line for home Curzon was ahead, leading Solario, Villiers, Recontour and Kirkconnel, but Sir Visto, who had been gradually creeping up, now steadily overhauled and passed the crowd, winning in the last 60 yards amid deafening cheers.

Laveno was sixth, Recontour seventeenth and Laveno eleventh.

Sir Visto finished three-quarters of a length ahead of Curzon, and there was half a length between the latter and Kirkconnel, Solario a good fourth. The time was 2:12 5-8.

The crowd was the greatest that has ever attended a Derby since 1889, when the race was won by the Duke of Portland's Donovan, ridden by Loates.

The weather was perfect in respect of sunshine, and intensely warm.

The Sportsman says that the horse Worcester, 5 years old, which won the Epsom Plate yesterday, covered the seven furlongs in 1:12. This, the Sportsman says, cannot be beaten in America, where the record for seven furlongs is 1:12.

The Derby stakes are 6,000 sovereigns, by subscription of 50 sovereigns each, half forfeit for 3-year-olds, colts to carry nine stone and fillies eight stone nine pounds, the nominator of the winner to receive 500 sovereigns, the owner of the second horse 300 sovereigns.

An Example

Of Merit

A man came in the other day, asked for a good five cent cigar. Same man came in again, asked for a quarter's worth (six cigars). That man always smokes the same brand, and that is OLD LEAVES. It's the best cigar that can be sold for five cents. Try it once and you will smoke no other.

GOLF.
A Scotch "golfer of twenty years' standing" writes piteously to the London papers to protest against the mispronunciation of his favorite game. He says it would be as correct to pronounce the "T" in "calf" or "half" as in "golf."

THE GRAND TRUNK.

Preparations for the New President's Visit to Canada.

Mr Charles May Reside a Year in Montreal and Personally Superintend the Business and Commercial Relations at Montreal and Stratford.

Montreal, May 29.—Sir Charles Rivers-Wilson, the newly-elected president of the Grand Trunk Railway, is coming to Canada in the course of a few weeks for the purpose of reorganizing the system. It is said that the new president will take up his residence in this city for one year so as to become more conversant with the inner workings of the entire system.

The president will be accompanied on his tour of inspection by three or four members of the new board. Arrangements are now under way for the reception of the officials referred to.

Mr. Samuel Barker, Q.C., who made the audit and report on the state of affairs on the road previous to the last election will accompany the party from England to this city. His name has been mentioned in connection with the new appointments contemplated in Montreal and Toronto.

It is said that Sir Charles will personally conduct the business of the system for the year of his stay here. On his return to the old country a detailed report will be presented by him to the new board, and it will be upon this that the new appointments, if any, will be made.

In addition to the reduction in the staffs in the general offices, the working staffs at Point St. Charles and Stratford are also to be considerably reduced.

"WHAT'S IN A NAME?"

Ask Some of the Members of the Twenty-First Fusiliers.

The Detroit News' Windsor column contains the following:
"What's fun for you is death to us." That's what the frogs said to the stone-throwing boys "once upon a time," and that what the men of the Twenty-first fusiliers are saying in this fine de siècle days to a lot of English girls.

On his return to the old country a detailed report will be presented by him to the new board, and it will be upon this that the new appointments, if any, will be made.

In addition to the reduction in the staffs in the general offices, the working staffs at Point St. Charles and Stratford are also to be considerably reduced.

DIED IN THE HARNESS.

A Methodist Minister Expires Soon After Attending a Funeral.

Paisley, Ont., May 29.—Today Rev. Wm. Torrance, pastor of the Methodist Church here, conducted a funeral at from 2 to 4 o'clock, but he was not feeling very well, and then a second doctor was called in, but to no avail, and the reverend gentleman passed away about 7 o'clock.

The bursting of a blood vessel is supposed to be the cause of death.

The deceased was very popular here among all denominations. He was about 50 years of age, and leaves a widow and family.

THE LOST CHICORA.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 29.—A special to the Press from Elkhart, Ind., says: An official of the Big Four Railway has just reached here from Benton Harbor and states that the hull of the ill-fated steamer Chicora was found lying at the foot of Lake Michigan, about three miles from the pier at St. Joseph, this afternoon.

Salt in the Human Body.

Science tells us that the body of every human being weighing 150 pounds contains one pound of salt; also that every one of us needs in a year about 15 pounds of salt. If you want your 15 pounds pure, use Windsor Table Salt. It doesn't cake. Try it.

House and Lobby.

Donald, Abbott and Thompson, former Premiers, Dr. Montague ostentatiously abstained from saying one word of Sir Mackenzie Bowell, his present leader. Dr. Landerkin scored the Secretary of State for belittling England and England's commerce, and read figures showing England's supremacy in trade. Dr. Montague had named Bowmanville and Listowel as places containing industries established by the N. P., and Dr. Landerkin asked how it was that these promising Ontario towns had decreased in population under the N. P.? In 1881 the population of Bowmanville was 3,504, but in 1891 it was only 3,377. The population of Listowel, which was 2,588 in 1881, had been reduced under the N. P. to 2,387. These were not indications of success.

At 2 o'clock the three weeks' debate ended, and the bells rang for the first division of the session, which was on Sir Richard Cartwright's amendment condemning extravagant expenditure and declaring in favor of a tariff for revenue only.

Mr. Calvin (Con.) voted against the Government, and Col. O'Brien (Ind-Con.) voted with the amendment. Then McGreevy voted with the Government and was cheered by the Ministerialists.

The amendment was lost by 71 nays to 67 yeas. The main motion to go into supply was carried and the House adjourned.

IN THE SENATE.

In the Senate today the second reading of the Insolvency Bill was moved by Premier Bowell. Mr. McCallum moved the six months' hoist. Messrs. Scott and Power opposed the bill because there was no general demand for it. After other Senators had spoken in the same vein, Premier Bowell would not admit that they represented the mind of the country. The Government had brought down the measure because of a promise made last session.

He argued in favor of the bill, and the passage of the bill. Senator Clemon moved an adjournment of the debate, and this was carried. The bill will not likely be heard of again. Premier Bowell said that the Senate seemed opposed the bill.

NOTES.

Delhi, Ont., May 29.—The large store and storehouse of W. A. Charlton & Co., Lynedoch, with nearly all the stock and many valuable books and papers, were destroyed by fire last night; loss on stock and buildings about $18,000; insurance, $11,000.

St. Louis, Mo., May 29.—A special from Gallatin, Mo., says an extensive fire occurred at Pattonsburg, Davies county, last night. Thirty-six business and dwelling houses were destroyed. Loss $100,000; insurance $30,000.

Fertilizers for Onions.

"Years of experience in raising onions and other crops either with stable manure or fertilizer have thoroughly convinced me that a liberal amount of plant food must be applied in order to obtain satisfactory results, half-dressed crops being unprofitable," writes W. Donaldson of Topsfield, Mass. He grew onions for eleven years successfully on one-quarter acre, using Scottbridge onion manure only, and raised at the rate of 650 to 1,013 bushels per acre, an average of 807 bushels per acre in the seven years. For the past three years this land has given heavy yields.

Mulching Currant Bushes.

After you have thoroughly worked about your currant bushes in your home garden this spring, give them the necessary pruning, next give them a heavy mulch of stable manure, thick enough to keep the ground about them always moist and to prevent the growth of weeds. You will see how well this trifling labor will pay when the fruit begins to ripen. Treat gooseberries in the same way.

Raising Head Lettuce.

If you have not heretofore grown the finer head varieties of lettuce in your kitchen garden, do so this season. Transplant in rows about eight or ten inches apart and if you wish the greatest perfection for your home table, water them well grown to tip the heads and blanch them until they are crisp, white, tender and delicious.

Prepare for Spraying.

Any farmer who has a dozen or more apple or pear trees should have a spraying apparatus and familiarize himself with the use of fungicides and insecticides. The difference in value between a good and a poor crop will more than pay for the outfit, and it often comes handy for spraying other crops, such as potatoes, tomatoes, etc.

The Sweet Strains of Music.

On Tuesday evening we had a visit from Sonas's Band and sweet strains of music were prevalent in our midst. What sweeter music can we have than the hum of contentment that floats around the house, where the women are satisfied that their labor is being crowned with success. Ladies, do not try the temper of yourselves nor your servants by using an inferior article. Dish Cloth Soap will give satisfaction every time. Makes white goods whiter, colored goods brighter and does not injure the finest fabric.

Nothing Impure or Injurious contaminates the popular antidote to cold, throat and lung remedy and general corrector, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil.

It may be used without the slightest apprehension of any other than salutary consequences. Coughs, rheumatism, earache, bruises, cuts and sores succumb to its action.

They Never Fail.—Mr. S. M. Boughner, Langton, writes: "For about two years I was troubled with inward Piles, and by using Parnee's Pills I was completely cured, and although four years have elapsed since then they have not returned." Parnee's Pills are anti-bilious, and a specific for the cure of Liver and Kidney Complaints, Dyspepsia, Costiveness, Headache, Piles, etc., and will regulate the secretions and remove all bilious matter.

LOOK OUT FOR BLACK APES.

This is a good time of the year to visit with knife and saw and carefully inspect your plum and Morello cherry trees, to see if any black knot is to be found. If found, excise every limb below the knot growth and be sure to burn it. The spores will spread from the dead limb on the ground as well as from the ones on the tree.

The wild goose plum is not really a self-fertilizing sort and the few plums you get are probably the result of fertilization caused by bees. Plant another variety of plum, a Lombard, Green Gage or Pond's Seedling near it, and when the new tree begins blooming, you will find your crop of Wild Goose plums increasing.

We do not consider farming sufficiently in the light of a business, but rather as an occupation that one may follow without much capital or special knowledge.

In England, a man without experience, and without capital proportioned to the acres, would have difficulty in securing a farm, as owners will not rent or lease unless they know a man is competent to handle the land.

A Lost Gem

"You are not really thinking of spending the autumn in London, are you?" Charlie asked, in a tone of dismay, when Hannington had left the room.

"I don't know," said Molly, faintly. "I expected"—she looked aside and her voice trembled—"that we should go home. But they—I suppose they have other plans."

Charlie remembered that Bertie had told him that the Moncrieffs were going abroad for the months of August and September. His heart swelled with indignation and pity. They were going abroad to enjoy themselves, while she was left in the stifling heat of London, without the prospect of a change of any sort. Had they then, no heart?

"I hope," Molly went on, "that my husband will go to Scotland by and by. I'm afraid it is my fault that we have managed so badly. I misandered; I thought we were sure to go to Torremuir—but the place is to be shut up, I hear, and so our plans have failed. It was stupid of me—with a weak, little smile—to make the mistake. And John is—rather vexed."

"They would not have gone abroad if they had understood that you thought of going to them, of course," said Charlie, rather hotly. "Bertie was regretting only the other day that you could not join them at Torremuir."

Molly kept silence, and Rutherford suddenly felt, without being told, that Mr. Moncrieff must have failed, or even perhaps refused, to ask his son-in-law to Torremuir. He felt an unreasonable anger against Molly's father for not helping her out of her present difficulty; thought there was this to be said, that probably Alan Moncrieff did not know of it.

"I wish I could be of any help to you," said Charlie, rising to take his leave, and scarcely knowing how to express his vague good-will. "Can I take any messages—or parcels—or anything to Scotland?"

"No, thank you. Bertie will take mine." She looked up at him smiling, her eyes suddenly filled with tears. "Oh, Scotland, dear Scotland!" she murmured. "Oh, if only I were going back! If only I could see it again!" And then she covered her face with her hands, and burst into low, tremulous sobs that rent the listener's heart.

Charlie could not bear it. "There were two things he could do—he could fling himself at her feet and beg her not to cry, or he could take up his hat and walk out of the room—like a brute, as he told himself afterwards indignantly. But the former alternative would have been worse. He could never have come into Molly's presence again if he had so far forgotten her dignity and his own manhood. He walked straight out of the room and into the street, where a minute he stood, feeling absolutely sick with pain of heart, but knowing in a dazed sort of way that he had won a victory. It was not his part to comfort Mrs. Hannington in her troubles.

But he sought out Bertie, and, after some circumspection, impressed his views upon his mind as far as he could, so so without betraying how deeply he was concerned, Bertie heard and understood. And when, a few days later, he went down to Torremuir, he summed up courage enough to face his father and ask point-blank whether he knew that Molly was pining for fresh air, and that Hannington had said that they were going to stay in London all the autumn.

"I did not know anything about it," said Mr. Moncrieff, looking startled and pained. "She did write, hinting that she would like to come to us, but I thought that he would not care to bring her here so soon. Why are they not going away? They cannot be in want of funds, surely. Molly has her own money."

Bertie noticed that the name, so long unspoken, fell naturally from his lips, as though it had been much in his thoughts. "I expect that they do want money. Hannington lives in an extravagant way—he spends freely."

"Ah! He gambles, perhaps?" "I believe he does."

"He has not induced you to join him, has he, Bertie?" Bertie's face was pale. "She did write, hinting that she would like to come to us, but I thought that he would not care to bring her here so soon. Why are they not going away? They cannot be in want of funds, surely. Molly has her own money."

was gratified and astounded at its amount. "Father, you are very good to us," he said, raising his eyes to Alan's face with a look which his father found very satisfactory.

"Do you think it will be enough?" said Moncrieff. "Write to her yourself and send it."

"Are you not going to write?" "Well—no."

"You have written to her, father, have you not?" Bertie realized, with an odd thrill, as he asked the question, that his old fear of his father had gone for ever. A year ago he could not have spoken as freely and frankly as he did now.

"I have written once—a short letter. But I would rather not, Bertie. You can give her my love. Tell her to make what use of the money she chooses."

Bertie did not venture to remonstrate the way in which his father answered showed him one thing, that although Molly had been formally pardoned and very generously treated, she was not yet truly and tenderly forgiven.

He could not resist seeking his step-mother, in order to make her a partner in his gladness at the unexpected success with which he had met. He found her in the drawing-room—alone, as usual, with a book in her hand—and he poured his story eagerly into her ear.

"My father is awfully good to us," he wound up, in boyish fashion. "And we've behaved abominably to him. Isn't he good, Stella?" He always called her Stella, now; she was too dear to be called Mrs. Moncrieff, too young for the title of "mother."

"Yes, he is very good," said Stella, dreamily. And then she sighed. "He has not quite forgiven Molly, though. He will—some day, will he not?"

"Surely," she answered. "Can't you persuade him, Stella?" "No, dear, no."

"But you want him to forgive her?" "Ah, yes, indeed."

"If he won't do it for you, he won't do it for anybody else," said Bertie, quickly. Her fair face flushed; she looked at him with a question in her eyes. "Of course," the lad went on, quite unconscious of the effect that he was producing. "He thinks more of you, and your opinion than of any other in the world."

"Oh, hush, Bertie, hush!" said the lad, with an amused laugh. "He only told me that he has somebody to care for."

"I did not know—I did not think—" "That he showed it so much?"—happily misunderstanding her. "But he makes it plain to the whole household. He never takes his eyes off you when you are in the room."

"You silly boy," said Stella, turning away. "He does nothing of the kind." But in spite of herself she felt a curious warmth and stir of pleasure at her heart.

CHAPTER XXXV.
THE END OF IT.
Mr. and Mrs. Hannington found the check sent by Alan Moncrieff very acceptable indeed. Most of it went for John Hannington's delectation, it was true; but Molly got some sea-breezes, and was glad that her husband was in better temper than he had been for a long time. They came back to town late in September, and moved into a small furnished house, which they took for a few months. Bertie returned to London, in October, and went, of course to see his sister, but no confidences passed between them. He thought that Molly looked far from strong, but he took her word for it when she said that she was well. She would not talk about herself at all, and questioned him eagerly respecting Torremuir and his own doings. And Bertie was in an unusually bright mood; he had had a pleasant holiday, and was much gratified by a proof of trust which his father had given him.

A large bear, weighing, it is estimated, 200 pounds, was seen in the bush on the 4th line of Mono, near the Hockley road, on Monday, and since then the citizens of that section have been enjoying all the excitement of a genuine bear hunt. So far, however, Bruin has managed to escape.

Lady Mary Hamilton, the daughter of the late Duke of Hamilton, will be the richest heir in England. The rentals from her estate already amount to $1,000,000 a year—first Lady Mary Hamilton, a first cousin of Mrs. Robinson, Woolwich street—Guelph Herald.

The body of an old man named Richard Caughlin, residing near Thornhurst, was found in the Sydney River on Sunday morning, near Grant's ferry, 10th con., Sombra. It is uncertain how he came to his death, as he was lying in very shallow water. It is supposed he fell in the mud and was unable to extricate himself. He was 79 years of age.

Mr. D. Hughes Charles, for many years manager of the Bank of Commerce in Woodstock, has been transferred to Galt. His successor is Mr. J. de Courcy O'Grady, deputy inspector.

Mr. W. H. Robertson, inventor of the original "Little World," died in British Columbia a day or two ago. One of the present owners of the invention, Mr. W. S. Smith, of Galt, is at the point of death in Texas.

Charles Baby, aged 47, a member of the old French settler family of that name in Windsor and Sandwich, died in Montreal recently. He had been in the inland revenue service nearly 25 years. Eighteen years ago he was stationed at Windsor.

After a painful illness of more than three months Duncan L. Sinclair, of Dutton, died at the age of 56 years and 10 months. He had been a resident of the village for fourteen years. In politics he was a Reformist; in religion, an adherent of the Old School Baptists.

The death is announced of Mrs. Alexander Bruce, an old resident of Oxford county. She was in her 96th year and had lived in that section for upwards of 60 years. For the last fifteen years the family have resided on the Beachville road. She leaves a family of four children.

Samuel Martin, con. 2, Minto, Wellington county, met with a serious accident at a barn raising recently. He fell from the main plate to the floor, a distance of about 30 feet, bringing his collar bone and two ribs, one of the latter piercing his lung. Martin sustained other internal injuries.

Allan McPherson, a resident of Belmont, died very suddenly on Monday morning, in his 83rd year. His wife heard him give a short, quick breath, and was horrified to find that he was dead. Apoplexy is supposed to have been the cause. Mr. McPherson came from Scotland when a young man and settled on the farm in Yarmouth, where he resided until the last few years, when he moved to Belmont. He had decided to return to the farm the very day he died. Besides an aged wife, he leaves seven sons and a daughter. The interment took place on Wednesday to St. Thomas cemetery.

How to Cure a Headache.—Some people suffer untold misery day after day with Headache. There is rest neither day or night until the nerves are all unstrung. The cause is generally a disordered stomach, and a cure can be effected by using Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, containing Mandrake and Dandelion. Mr. Finlay Wark, Lysander, P. Q., writes: "I find Parmelee's Pills a first-class article for Bilious Headache."

DISASTER ON SPANISH RIVER,

By Which 33 Men Are Said To Have Perished.

Ottawa, May 29.—An evening paper publishes the following dispatch, which so far cannot be confirmed. News reached the city today of a terrible accident on the Spanish River, by which 33 men lost their lives.

They were in the employ of Messrs. Davidson and Hayes, and were asleep at the time of the awful catastrophe. These facts were elicited from a gentleman who arrived down from the vicinity today.

The accident occurred on Wednesday last. It seems from the meager details to hand that the men were encamped on a crib of square timber for the night. It was moored near the head of a rapids, and broke from its moorings to the waters below. So far as known the men belonged to Ottawa.

ITS FAME SPREADING.

A New Remedy in general Use in Manitoba and the Northwest.

Winnipeg, May 27.—The effects of the regular waves of sickness which sweep over this portion of the Dominion in the spring are noticeable in the increasing amount of 'sales' of the drugists' sales. There has been quite a run on the kidney remedy now so well known under the name of Dodd's Kidney Pills. The recovery from Bright's disease of Mr. Arthur Coley, of Somerset, through their use, an account of which appeared in the papers, gave a considerable impetus to the sale, and the remedy has become indispensable in many Manitoba households, its fame having penetrated into the remotest parts of the Province and Northwest Territories.

over three cars of freight for London, on Tuesday, one car being pig-iron. He thinks a good business will be developed on this —At Galt a tramp was found under the C. P. R. train that arrived here last evening. He was hanging on to the trucks and was politely removed. He was bound he was going to be ridden and came inside the car. The brakeman and conductor vigorously remonstrated, using their fists, and the intruder was thrown out the track.

He revenged himself by throwing missiles after the train, but did no damage. The passengers on the train were considerably excited over the affair.

—Because Japan conquered China, every Canadian has not carte blanche to cast the matter up to the brethren of the defeated Chinamen in this country. At least one Londoner found to his sorrow last night that the Chinese who came to Canada have a little spunk. A Mongolian went into a Dundas street fruit store last night, and as he passed in a group of four young men walked by and one of them remarked, "Jap lickie Chinaman." The reference to his country's defeat evidently touched a very sore spot, for the Chinaman, usually hard to offend, turned in a rage, and making for the nearest of the four, a stout man by the way, he implanted a kick that made the recipient very uncomfortable for some time. The act was not resented, the boys had no more to say and the Chinaman walked back into the store and proceeded to business.

THE W. C. T. U.

"The Children of Our City" was the educational subject discussed at the regular semi-monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon, and, as would naturally be expected in a meeting so largely composed of mothers, the subject was well handled.

Mrs. Tennant read a practical paper on "The Need of Temperance Training in the Home." This was followed by Mrs. D. H.
Williams, on "Methods of Temperance Training," and a most interesting discussion ensued.

Mrs. D. A. McDermid then took up the subject of "Purity Among Children," a subject that requires more strict attention than it has ever had in the past.

Several ladies gave texts of scripture that had proved specially helpful to them in the training of their children.

A bright little girl from the industrial school gave a recitation, and two other girls sang very sweetly.

It was decided to open a band of hope in East London, under the direction of the evangelistic committee.

A letter was ordered to be sent to Rev.
Dr. McLeod, the fearless champion of prohibition, expressing hearty approval of his action in sending in a minority royal commission report.

TWO SIDES TO A STORY.

The Toronto News has stated that disintegration exists in the Salvation Army in that city and throughout the Province, and cites in proof desertions of officers within the last few months. It gives the list of those who left as Captains Phillipot, Bolton, McHardy, Beatty, Hall, Markle,
Brigadier de Barritt, ex-Commissioner
Adams, Lieut. Hunt and F. W. Fry, Commandant Booth's private secretary. It further states that the tyranny of Commandant Booth is the reason of the alleged disintegration. The army has not disintegrated to any extent in London, if it has anywhere else. Instead it has gone ahead, and continues to grow rapidly. An officer attached to headquarters here states as a proof of the untrustworthiness of the rumor that only four of the alleged desertions took place within the last few months
—Markle, De Barritt, Adams and Fry.
