

COUNCIL AUTHORIZES NOTE ON SUNDAY CARS IN JANUARY

At a Special Meeting Held at Noon Today It Was Decided to Allow People to Say What They Wish in Matter—Lieutenant-Governor Will Certify as to City's Population.

A bylaw to allow the operation of Sunday cars in London will be submitted to the ratepayers in January next.

At a special meeting of the city council held at noon today, a petition was presented asking the aldermen to make application to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council to fix the population of London at 50,000 or more, and also that a bylaw be submitted to the electors in January on the question: "Are you in favor of Sunday cars?"

Names on the Petition.

The petition was signed by the following citizens of London: Rev. R. W. Norwood, Sir Geo. Gibbons, G. N. Weekes, John Pringle, Arthur W. White, John Weld, Rt. Rev. Monsignor Aylward, Dr. J. B. Campbell, S. F. Lawson, R. C. Eckert, George H. Neil, L. W. Hambley, and Jeffrey Hale.

"I move that the prayer of the petition be granted," said Ald. Coles.

"We have a month in which to have the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council settle the question of population," explained Mayor Graham. "The council, however, must make a declaration on the question before Dec. 1, if a vote is to be taken this year."

No objection.

"I second Ald. Coles' motion," said Ald. Wright.

No objection whatever was made to the resolution, and it was carried unanimously.

Those present were Mayor Graham, Ald. Spittal, Ald. Wright, Ald. Rose, Ald. Coles, Ald. Moore, Ald. Blanford, and City Clerk Baker.

The Procedure.

Now that the city council have taken up the question of Sunday cars, the next step is to have the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council declare the population of the city of London to be over 50,000.

It will be recalled that some time ago it was enacted by the Legislature that when a city had a population of 50,000, a bylaw on the advisability of running Sunday cars could be submitted to the people.

The Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council should decide the question of population.

The city clerk will, on the instruction of the council, send the figures of the population of London to the Lieutenant-Governor. It is not necessary to do so at once, 30 days being allowed for this action.

The clerk will not act at once, but will wait until the Ontario, railway and municipal board dispose of the petitions from Baling and Pottersburg, asking for annexation to the city. With these suburbs added, there would be no question whatever as to the number of persons in London.

52,000 Population.

There would be at least 52,000, possibly more. The council are not certain that annexation will carry, and the sanction of the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council will come as a matter of fact.

Then the bylaw will be voted on. All those qualified to vote for the mayor and aldermen will be entitled to vote for Sunday cars.

If the vote is favorable, the city council is empowered to open negotiations with the Ontario, railway for the operation of the cars. This change will have to be covered by an agreement as to fares, schedule, and other matters.

Manager C. B. King states what so far as the company are concerned, all that they have to do is arrange a schedule. Nothing further is necessary in the way of equipment or anything of that nature.

NAVAL PROGRAM MAY MEAN LONG DEBATE

Looks Now As If It Will Not Be Put Through Until After the Christmas Holidays—Opposition May Put Forward Want of Confidence Motion.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Hon. George E. Foster has returned and the Conservatives are very glad to have him. There was a time when Hon. Mr. Foster was not especially popular on his own side of the House, but he is welcome now. The Government side has been having rather lively times since the opening of the session, and halls with joy the return of Mr. Foster. Mr. Foster will put his West Indian trade agreement through parliament so that it may come into effect on Jan. 1, which is the schedule time. He will participate in the naval program, which is about due, and will leave Canada in February for Australia to participate in the work of the imperial trade commission which is to begin its investigation there.

The Naval Program.

It looks now as though the naval program of the Government might not be put through parliament until after the Christmas holidays. There is more than three weeks left before the adjournment comes, and the bill will have to run the gauntlet of two chambers. In both the House and Senate there is bound to be long debates on the subject, and probably some amendments will be moved which will have to be discussed and disposed of. In the meantime the debate on the address had not yet been completed, and there are more amendments coming up off it.

Want of Confidence.

It now looks as if the Liberals would have to move a want of confidence motion, because there is to be no redistribution bill introduced in the Government, which is increasing the

SERIOUS DILEMMA FOR THE OTTAWA TEACHERS

Ordered by Board Not to Sign Pledge to Enforce Bilingual Regulations.

[Canadian Press.]

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—A sensation was caused among local bilingual separate school teachers today by the receipt from the Ontario Department of Education of forms to be signed by the teachers pledging themselves to enforce all the regulations of the department with regard to English-French schools. The circulars were distributed by the bilingual inspectors and the trustees have ordered the teachers not to sign them. The situation thus resolves itself into a serious dilemma for the teachers, who must either disobey the trustees or lose their certificates from the department.

"I move that the prayer of the petition be granted," said Ald. Coles.

MR. YOUNG RESENTS ATTEMPT TO BAR C.N.R. FROM CITY

Prominent Merchant Cannot Understand Attitude of London Free Press.

CITY NOT DEALING WITH ROBBERS

Wholesaler Also Expresses Resentment at Newspaper Treatment of C.N.R.

[Canadian Press.]

"As a businessman, I cannot understand the attitude of the London Free Press in trying to prevent the C. N. R. from coming to London," said Mr. R. J. Young, one of London's leading merchants, in an interview with The Advertiser this morning.

"I am sure that citizens in general will resent any attempt in any quarter to make it difficult for the C. N. R. to conduct negotiations with the city, and it is my idea that the city should meet these big railway men with anything but an antagonistic attitude. There is no doubt in my mind that the C. N. R. would be of the greatest advantage to the city of London."

London's Past Experience.

"London has had some unfortunate experiences in the past in the matter of dealing with the railways. For instance, it lost the car shops for eight years, and a wage bill amounting to at least $2,500,000, because of the small-gauged men that were holding municipal positions. It failed to arrange for improvements with the Grand Trunk for the same reason, and it is to be hoped that the present council will not waver, and will seek to treat these men with the most reasonable hearing that could be given anyone."

A Great Boon to City.

"The C. N. R. in my mind, would be the greatest boon the city has had in years. Think of what the Michigan Central, which could have been had for London, has done for St. Thomas. It has practically made that city. It is an insane thing to place anything in the way of the C. N. R. when that line is making an offer to the city. The city's interests should be safeguarded, of course, but the aldermen should not treat the railway representatives with suspicion, and let anyone make them believe that they have to deal with any London 'buck up.' You followed the career of Mackenzie & Mann should know that they are safe people to deal with, and that they give action quickly to any other railroad system in the country."

Make Other Lines "Buck Up."

"My prediction is that the C. N. R. would have the effect of making the other railways in London 'buck up.' You would soon see a new Grand Trunk depot and elevated tracks, and with not a doubt that there would be great action."

Benefit of Radial Lines.

"I think, and feel safe in saying, that every other businessman in London is in favor of more radial railways. They would be of enormous advantage to the city in general. For instance, the 'Fraction' Company, which has been in operation for one day off each week, but this request was denied them on the ground that they have as good as a day off when the changes in the shifts are made from night to day, and vice versa. The police accepted this ruling without comment, but have now prepared the petition asking that more money be paid if they are to work seven days a week. For the commencement are paid $2 a day seven days a week and are given two weeks' holidays. After the first year on passing

Up to the Citizens.

"I am ready to get out and cheer the C. N. R. coming to the city. I hope that every patriotic citizen will have the same feeling, and that these men will be given every consideration, and that every reasonable request they make shall be granted."

A prominent York street wholesaler, who desired that his name be expressed himself in practically the same terms. He went further, and said that the C. N. R. through line should be brought to London at any cost.

E. M. Macdonald at the Liberal Club

Those who enjoy a real good political speech should not fail to hear Mr. E. M. Macdonald tomorrow evening, when he speaks at the Liberal Club. Mr. Macdonald has the reputation of being one of the most effective speakers in the Commons, and as he comes at a time when the country is aroused over the charges against the Minister of Public Works, no doubt Londoners will hear more tomorrow evening of Hon. Robert Rogers and his gunmen.

The Liberal Club was fortunate in being able to have the member for Etobicoke, N. S., but Mr. Macdonald is to give two addresses on his visit here, having been first secured by St. Andrew's Society for their annual banquet this evening.

The meeting at the Liberal Club Saturday evening will commence as soon after 8 o'clock as possible, and a good attendance is looked for.

FRIEND OF FRIENDLESS WILL RETIRE FROM SOCIETY WORK

Mr. Joseph Sanders, Inspector for the Children's Aid and Charities' Organization Society, Is to Enjoy a Well-Earned Rest.

Mr. Joseph Sanders, for nineteen years Inspector for the Children's Aid and Charities' Organization Society of London, and one of the best-known authorities on charitable work in the Province, will retire at the end of the year, and will be succeeded by his son, Mr. Richard Sanders, Hamilton road.

For some years, Mr. Sanders has been contemplating this step, as he is well over three score years and ten, but he could not bear to leave the work he loved so well. However, the death of his wife a short time ago was a severe blow to him, and since then he has determined to retire, and spend the remainder of his days in rest and quiet, and has definitely announced his retirement.

The work of his department has grown rapidly of late, and it was a great task on his diminishing strength.

A Truly Good Man.

The passing of Inspector Sanders from public life will be deeply regretted by all who have known him. Of a kindly disposition naturally, his contact with suffering in various phases for several decades has broadened his sympathies, and all who were in want of sympathy or aid have found him a true friend and adviser. Hundreds of boys and girls, many of them grown to be useful citizens of society, have passed through his hands, and his correspondence is voluminous daily, containing letters of appreciation of their old friend and adviser. His frequent visits to the wards of the Children's Aid Society are always appreciated by the children. His work in connection with the juvenile court of the city is well known, and the late P. M. Frank Love frequently spoke of his kindly help in dealing with boys and girls who had transgressed.

In his 19 years' connection with the society, over 900 children have passed through his hands, and have been placed in homes.

MAKES COMPLETE CONFESSION OF MURDERING TWO BOYS

[Canadian Press.]

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 29.—J. Frank Hickey today made a full confession of the murder on Oct. 12, 1911, of Joseph Josephs, the 7-year-old Lackawanna boy, and of Michael Kruck, the New York boy, Dec. 12, 1902.

The confession was made to District Attorney Dudley. It was begun on the train that rushed Hickey, District Attorney Dudley and Police Chief Gilson from New York City to Buffalo last Wednesday, and was completed this morning. The whole horrible story has been reduced to a formal statement, and has been signed by Hickey.

MEMBERS OF POLICE FORCE SEEK INCREASE IN WAGES

All members of the police department, at a meeting held at the station last evening, signed a petition which will be presented to the police commissioners requesting that the officers' salaries be increased.

Some time ago the constables petitioned for one day off each week, but this request was denied them on the ground that they have as good as a day off when the changes in the shifts are made from night to day, and vice versa. almost uncanny, and the increase of less than 7 per cent was sufficient to keep most of them at home."

"Then what do you think would be the result if fares were raised from 30 to 50 or 60 cents to the lake?" the reporter asked.

"I think it would practically kill the summer traffic to the lake," was his reply.

"I do not even think that the fare could be raised by 10 cents with safety," he continued. "That 30-cent fare is as much a part of a journey to Port Stanley as the lake is, and the people simply wouldn't pay more."

Add to this the likelihood of the loss of the road's coal business, which in the past has formed more than 60 per cent of the receipts.

Jeopardizing Shipper's Interests.

Add to this the jeopardizing of 815 miles of railway connections, which shippers declare would be "absolutely killed" by electrification.

Add to this the burdening of the city of London with approximately one million dollars, which will pay interest if the promoters can secure the total receipts of the two lines now running to the lake and many thousand dollars more during the first year of its operation.

PUMPS STOPPED EAST END MAN AT THE POWER HOUSE DISAPPEARED THURSDAY

Are Capable of Generating 350 Horsepower Without Use of Electricity—Mr. Glaubitz Says That They Were Not Properly Installed.

The Blake-Yeates pumps at the Springbank power station, capable of developing 350-horsepower, according to Engineer McCormick, have not been in service for six months.

The city of London paid $7,290 last year for 250-horsepower hydraulic horsepower to be used at Springbank.

General Manager Glaubitz says that the pumps were not properly installed and cannot be used.

Mr. John M. Moore, engineer of the waterworks department at the time the pumps were installed, says the pumps were used with good results up to the time the hydro-electric came in.

A citizen who heard of the matter, asked The Advertiser to make an investigation.

Chief Engineer McCormick, of the pumping station, was called.

"How long is it since the Blake-Yeates pumps were used?" he was asked.

"We have not had the water up for two weeks," was the reply.

"Idle for Six Months."

"Have they been used in the last six months?" was asked.

"Not to any extent," replied the engineer.

The claim has always been advanced by Mr. Glaubitz that the pumps were not properly installed.

Mr. Moore said he did not desire to enter into a controversy when called upon.

"Were the pumps used until hydro-electric came?" was asked.

"They were," responded Mr. Moore.

"What is wrong with the pumps at present?"

"I believe they may have become loose, but could be fixed with little trouble," responded Mr. Moore.

FALL WORK DONE

Farmers Are Well Pleased With Their Season's Crops.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Whalen, Nov. 28.—The fall work in this district has been finished up in splendid shape and the weather of late has afforded the farmers fine opportunities. There are lots of apples in the orchards yet, but the reason is that no buyers have been in this vicinity.

Owing to the intensity of the rot, there will be a great scarcity of potatoes, next spring, unless they are shipped in from other places. Lots of the farmers who had 25 bags when they were first dug, have not five now.

CHARGE DISMISSED

Liquor Can Be Carried Through Local Option District.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Leamington, Nov. 28.—That liquor can be carried through a local option district as long as it is not offered for sale is the view of Magistrate Selkirk.

George Stephenson, of Point Pelee, who was arrested here while he had in his possession 14 bottles of whiskey, that he was taking to his home in Mersea Township, appeared before Magistrate Selkirk on Monday, charged with trafficking in spirituous liquors in a local option district.

The evidence showed that the man was not offering the liquor for sale and he was acquitted.

Stephenson had taken a trip to Walkerville, and purchased a winter's supply of liquor to "brighten up" things during the lonesome months down on Point Pelee. As soon as he got off the car at Leamington he was nabbed by Constable Lamarch and the liquor, which was in a suitcase, was confiscated.

FATAL PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Nancy Coussé Lived at Fingal for Half a Century.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Fingal, Nov. 28.—The funeral of Mrs. Nancy Coussé, was held in Fingal Cemetery this afternoon. Pneumonia was the cause of death. Mrs. Coussé, who was a native of Fingal, had resided in Fingal for fifty years. She was in her 75th year.

The deceased is survived by two daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) McClure, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., and Miss Jennie, at home, Richard Lawson, of St. Thomas, is a brother, and Mrs. Chas. Taylor and Mrs. L. Smith, of Fingal; Mrs. R. Cusack and Mrs. L. Slater, of St. Thomas, and Mrs. P. Cartoot, of Vancouver, are sisters.

PRESTON MEETING

Sunday School Workers Discussed Practical Methods of Extension.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Preston, Nov. 28.—An Institute for Sunday School Workers was held here last night by Revs. R. A. Hiltz and T. B. Howard, the Church of England secretaries for this branch.

The Preston Institute was the last of nine held in the Diocese of Huron. The local arrangements were perfect, the rector, Rev. R. Herbert, and the secretary, Rev. A. L. G. Clarke, worked hard, and the result was a large and enthusiastic gathering.

Rev. Mr. Hiltz spoke on teaching and teaching methods, and on class management. The diocesan secretary conducted a conference on aids to effective class work and also demonstrated the preparation and presentation of a Bible lesson.

Mr. Howard announced that it was proposed to hold a summer school at London, and also that the series of Institutes would probably be repeated next year.

LUCAN SCHOOL CONCERT.

[Special to The Advertiser.] Lucan, Nov. 28.—The Lucan School concert was a decided success, and Miss Alexander made a very fine impression. The other features of the concert were the very pretty flag drills given by about twenty of the high school girls, and the solo given by Miss Alice Meadows, also of the high school.

WHALEN.

Whalen, Nov. 28.—The wedding took place on Wednesday of Hector Millson, of Whalen, and Miss Maggie Hobbs, of Devises. The young couple are spending their honeymoon with friends in the States.

Miss Ida Hern left Monday for Rockwood to attend the funeral of her sister's child, Mrs. Russell Peart.

WINTER CLEARING OF MEN'S SUITS SATURDAY

82 Men's $15.00 to $22.00 Suits for $10.00

Opportunities sometimes come flying. This is surely a flyer. One of the opportunities that come along not every week or month, but only once in a season. When we make up our minds to make a clearance the price or cost of the goods receives little consideration. They have got to go, and the price does it every time. See these Suits in window today, and you will want to be at the door waiting Saturday morning for your choice. All are splendid imported tweeds and worsteds, also a few navy serges. All broken lines and odds and ends from fall season's selling. All are worth $15.00 to $22.00. All sizes, 34 to 44. You won't be disappointed if you come early Saturday. Your choice of 82 Suits, sale price.....$10.00

LONDON, FRIDAY, NOV. 29.

LONDON AND THE RAILWAY QUESTION.

The trunk line plans of the Canadian Northern in Western Ontario have introduced a new factor—an unforeseen one—into the local railway situation.

The Canadian Northern has been for some time active in the electric traction field in Ontario, but it was not known until lately that its object in acquiring and building radial lines was to make them serve as feeders to its steam railway system. Its decision to extend its steam line from Toronto westward through this part of Ontario to the boundary, was not formally announced until negotiations were opened for the purchase or lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway.

It was generally supposed that the surveying parties along the route were occupied exclusively with electric railway projects. Will our local contemporary, which is throwing an epileptic fit every day in its rage at the proposal to give London another trunk railway system, explain how the Canadian Northern's steam railway project is an attack on the hydro-electric undertaking? Even if it were true, as is alleged, that the men behind the Canadian Northern are behind the Electrical Development Company, which generates power at Niagara, how is the operation of steam railways from Toronto to Windsor, and from London to Port Stanley, part of a scheme to fight the municipalities in the electrical field? The steam railway is coming in any event; St. Thomas, which is in the hydro-electric belt, would welcome it with open arms, and hopes London will fall to come to terms with the C. N. R. people. The question for London is purely one relating to the transportation facilities of the city.

In return for the lease of the London and Port Stanley Railway, what is the C. N. R. prepared to give London in the way of rental, harbor facilities, running rights for the M. C. R. and Pere Marquette, passenger and freight rates, tank line connection, divisional shops, new hotel, etc., etc.? Hydro-electric has nothing to do with the case. To drag it into the discussion of the railway question is an impertinence, and an attempt to confuse the issue. At bottom it merely means that Mr. Beck is angry because he failed to stampede responsible citizens into approval of his scheme without examining it and without weighing any alternatives.

A BARGAIN IN BIBLES.

In these days when the cost of living keeps going up, readers of The Advertiser will welcome another great book bargain, in the best of all books at that. The dictionary sale reached the almost amazing total of 8,000 copies. What will happen in the present Bible sale, coming at the Christmas season. It is hard to estimate.

The dictionary is a key to literature and science. The Bible being the key to life here and hereafter is a very much more important matter. This time The Advertiser offers also a great value in paper and typography even than before. One look at the cover and interior of this splendid Bible makes a purchaser.

Probably everybody in this region of bells knolling to church possesses a Bible. But there are Bibles and Bibles, and there is always room for another in any house or trunk, especially if the old ones wear out, as is only right and proper, with use. The Bible offered by this paper to its readers is in a class by itself as regards illustration.

When printing was invented, a great change came into the world. Books, and especially the greatest and best of books, came gradually within the reach of the humblest and poorest. Modern machinery has sprinkled Bibles thick and cheap, like the gentle rain from heaven, over all the globe's surface. Even still, something was wanting. You could have a Bible for turning over your finger, but it is after all an oriental book, dealing with forms of life and objects remote, strange or incomprehensible to our minds. The illustrated Bible came, enabling the eye to help the understanding; but for long the expense of illustrations was almost prohibitive. Recent advance in the cheapening of photography and color reproduction bids fair to equal in importance the original invention of printing. Now at last the Bible, fully and competently illustrated, as in the unique edition offered by The Advertiser, becomes a real and altogether vital book to the simplest reader. In the Middle Ages the Christian read salvation in the pictures and sculptures of his cathedral. Now the effect of a sculptured and pictured cathedral, not less true to Bible fact, can be had by any man in his own house for $1.18. We see this in no boasting spirit, but rejoicing at the progress of the times and the promise of untold benefits contained therein.

The beautiful and inexpensive book contains not only hundreds of ordinary illustrations, larger or smaller, photographs and copies of paintings, but a large number of full-page, exact reproductions in colors of Tisot's realistic pictures of the Holy Land. It is about the size and set up of the Oxford Teacher's Bible, provided with much the same apparatus of commentary and maps, superior in its wealth of illustration. The printing both of text and pictures is as handsome as humanly possible.

A QUESTION OF VERACITY.

Hon. Robert Rogers asserts in the House of Commons that he made no promise of a railway to the electors of Richelieu, antecedent to the recent by-election.

Mr. Rogers has put Sir Rodolphe Forget on the defensive. Unless Sir Rodolphe has been misreported by every newspaper in Montreal, French and English, he told the people of Richelieu that he had the promise of a railway in his pocket, secured from Mr. Rogers himself. Here is an extract from his speech in Soré, as reported by La Patrie, which supports the Borden Government:

"I am not a politician, I am a man of business, and I am unable to make you a fine speech. I wish to study the situation with you, both Liberals and Conservatives, and to ask you what position you ought to take in the interest of your town and of your country. In the first place, let me tell you that I spoke to Mr. Rogers in the matter of securing this Maritime Railway for you, and that I demanded it of Mr. Monk at the time of the Hazen banquet. I secured promises—not election promises, but real promises—and I have pleasure in announcing to you that if Mr. Morgan is elected as your member on Thursday, you shall have the Maritime Railway, which you so much need in order to assure to your town the prosperity to which it is entitled. If I am able to promise you that you shall have that great improvement which has been promised you for twenty years. You shall have it during the next session, which opens in a month. The Government, on the request of your member, Mr. Morgan, will have the necessary subsidies voted—one hundred thousand dollars, if necessary—and you will get it."

This speech was made some days before the by-election; the report of it was spread broadcast, and there was no contradiction from any member of the Government. It may have been the chief factor in reducing the Liberal majority by 200 in Soré, where the Government shipyards are.

Another speech from Sir Rodolphe in explanation of his first speech, is now in order.

The Conservative press is mad at Sir George Ross because he refuses to wear the Conservative label it pinned on him.

Great Britain and Germany are working together to bring about a settlement in the Balkans. Another knock for the "emergency" grant.

There is a warlike feeling in Vienna. But there are 20,000,000 Slavs in Austria-Hungary who constitute 20,000,000 arguments against a war on a Slav state like Serbia.

It is to be hoped the city council will back up the snow bylaw to be reported by the board of works. Give the sidewalk-cleaning experiment a season's trial, at least.

The militant suffragettes poured corrosive acid into the letter-boxes in English cities. The probability that any love-letters were destroyed illustrates the delicate cruelty of these new tactics.

Lord Lansdowne's demand for "substantial advantages" in the Canadian market, as the condition of a preference on Canadian foodstuffs, has hit Canadian flag-flappers in the pocket nerve. Serves them right, for all their toadying to the "gentlemen's party."

CRUEL INSINUATION. [Baltimore American.] "Boggs told the boys he was very angry when they put a monkey in the picture with him."

HIS ARGUMENT. [Life.] "Of course," said the lawyer, "your honor is right in deciding to take time to look into the matter, but in the meantime, we are entitled to the assumption that the law is unconstitutional."

"How so?" asked the judge. "Why, because it was passed by the New York Legislature."

A FAREWELL. [Tennyson.] Flow down, cold rivulet, to the sea. A rivulet, then a river."

Flow, softly flow, by land and lea. And here by thee my steps shall be, Forever and forever.

Flow, softly flow, by land and lea. And here by thee my steps shall be, Forever and forever.

Flow, softly flow, by land and lea. And here by thee my steps shall be, Forever and forever.

A thousand suns will stream on thee, A thousand moons will quiver; But not by thee my steps shall be, Forever and forever.

SURE HARD LUCK. [Everybody's.] A man once was talking about hard luck, and his friend was listening with a sour expression. "Why, you don't know what hard luck is!" said the man. "I have always had it. When I was a kid there was such a bunch of kids in the family that there had to be three tables at meal times, and I always got the third one!" snapped the other.

"Why," said his friend, "it was fifteen years before I ever knew a chicken had anything but a neck!"

THE REAL EMERGENCY. [Ottawa Free Press.] The real "emergency" is to find something that will enable the Dominion Government to continue to enjoy the fleshpots for a while longer without appealing to people, as Mr. Borden promised to do on the naval question. Bob Rogers is more concerned with the emergency at home than he is with any emergency of the Empire.

CHEER UP. [Cincinnati Inquirer.] Be thankful, son, for your small lot, And do not make a kick; For lots of things you haven't got Would only make you sick.

SPELL OF WEATHER. [Pathfinder.] Mrs. A.—Well, if it isn't Mrs. B. What a stranger you are! Why, it's quite five years since I saw you. Mrs. B.—Yes. Why haven't you been to see me? Mrs. A.—Oh, dear, you know how bad the weather's been.

ROWELL'S GOOD WORK. [Toronto Star.] Mr. Rowell is doing splendid work in drawing attention to the history of self-government in Canada. It is not only the greatest thing in Canadian history, but it is Canada's greatest contribution to the history of the British Empire.

ABOLISH THE DEPOSIT. [Chatham News.] The election deposit is a relic of primitive parliamentarianism. It serves no useful purpose. The only result it accomplishes is to prevent laboring men, as such, securing a voice in the national affairs. The election deposit ought to be done away with in federal contests, as it has already been done away with in Ontario provincial elections.

TO A MASHER. [Thomas A. Daly in December Canada Monthly.] We're grand style, a bold smile an' a bold an' lands galore. An' O! ye're the divvill of a wild philosopher! I longed to whisper warnin' in the ear o' Nora Mooe— When ye passed her Sunday mornin' an' ye tipped your hat to her. But I'm thinkin' ye're winkin' an' the rellig' o' yer eye. Made about the same impression that a word o' mine could do. For my eye was full upon her at the hour ye went by. Ooh! I'd hate to have her look at me the way she looked at you!

She has fair eyes, but queer eyes; they're never twice the same. I never knew it rightly till I seen 'em in the dark— Well, of course, the dark was broken by the match's little flame. For the pipe that I was smokin'— while we strolled about the park. An' not watchin' the match in the hole. Sure it burned me so badly she couldn't help but see; Then it was I saw her two eyes, an' O! but they were grand— Ooh! I'd hate to have her look at you the way she looked at me!

LITERATURE. [Puck.] Friend—Make any money on your last novel?

Author—You bet! I sold that description of the Pallades in chapter three to the Quick-Line Railroad for $5,000. My story, the Plaster de Paris Hotel in New York, chapter ten, brought me three thousand dollars from the hotel people, and the United Resorts, Ltd., paid me another thousand for my rhapsody on the sunset in the Wampeggon mountains, chapter thirty, where the hero takes her in his arms. What's left of it I think I can hold down on a short story and make a ten-spot on it.

DADDY'S WHACKY-WHACK. [New York Press.] On the occasion of her last visit to a certain Baltimore household a young matron of that city found a little friend in tears. "What's the matter with little Marie?" she asked, endeavoring to console the weeping child. "Daddy has just given me whacky-whack," the youngster replied between sobs.

"Thoughtless daddy!" exclaimed the young woman, repressing a smile. "And where did he whacky-whack little Marie?" "On the back of my tummy," was the answer.

NO ESPECIAL EFFORT TO OBTAIN RECRUITS. Uncertainty of Naval Policy Curtails Activity in Naval Department. [Canadian Press.] Ottawa, Nov. 29.—The uncertainty of the Canadian naval policy has done much to curtail the activity of the naval service department in the last fiscal year, according to the annual report, just published. No special effort to obtain recruits has been made, and all told, they number 249. Of this number, 111 recruits and 38 others deserted. Many of them came from inland points, disliked sea life and quit. The cost of the expenditure was $2,400. A considerable incidental war was done in dockyards, but this, too, was curtailed because of uncertainty as to the naval policy.

Three Pictures of King Edward By Three Writers [By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

Three authors have lately busied themselves in reviewing the life work of the late King Edward VII. Everyone will remember what a sensation was caused in England a few months ago by the publication of Sir Sidney Lee's article in the supplement to the Dictionary of National Biography. As Sir Sidney was not only one of the most careful of contemporary scholars, but the official biographer of Queen Victoria, his depreciation of the late King's political influence and his belittlement of that peace-loving monarch's credit for his share in bringing about the entente cordiale with France, and a further statement to the effect that the late King "could not concentrate his mind on books" aroused a storm of criticism.

Among the books written in reply to the austere remarks of Sir Sidney Lee is a volume issued a few weeks ago, entitled, "King Edward in His True Colors." The author, Mr. Edward Legge, is very loyal to the memory of King Edward, and endeavors to make out that Sir Sidney is quite wrong in his depreciation of such an eminent advocate of peace. He even goes so far as to say that Englishmen are really living under an autocracy, but "happily he (King Edward) was a benevolent autocrat, and carefully concealed the iron hand beneath a velvet glove." While I admire Mr. Legge for his loyalty, I cannot understand why he considered it necessary to relate anecdotes in his book concerning the strained relations that existed between King Edward and Emperor William of Germany; nor can I understand why he dug up an old scandal like the bacarat case.

The third book dealing with the late King Edward's career is written from still another viewpoint. It is entitled "Monarchs and Men," and comes from the pen of the celebrated and mysterious German journalist, Maximilian Harden. In his sketches of European rulers he gives first place to Britain's "deceased monarch, but he certainly does not give a just estimate of Edward the Peacemaker, when he says that "until the year 1902 there was no such thing as a king who visited wives, and heated hell for his rivals." The thorough bad taste and evident prejudice and hostility actuating this German writer can be seen in this scurrilous paragraph from the book: "The Prince was anointed at the altar under the name of Edward VII. And an attack of appendicitis won for him some affection in sympathetic hearts. . . . In the first year of his reign he seemed to live entirely in the venerable pomp of mediaeval court ceremonies; he sat in his palace, studied works on costume, and looked up the old chronicles of the court for opportunities of fresh display. The second year witnessed the subjection of the Poor Republic, the most valuable success that had fallen to the British Empire since the taking of India. After that Edward looked after his country as a great merchant cares for his firm; he sought and secured alliances that promised advantage, exploited the weaknesses or follies of his contemporaries, and dissolved engagements from which no more was to be expected. Many Englishmen found that he ruled too much, followed a personal policy that, closely approached absolutism, and needed a Junius to tell him that the English constitution only protects a king as long as he does not infringe its spirit. . . . More important still, for the time being, was the entente cordiale with France, which, as soon as England felt it to be advantageous, might lead to an understanding with Russia."

bon, county court judge of Brantford. Judge McGibbon has had considerable experience under the industrial disputes act, and has already sat on boards which were appointed to look into trouble on the C. P. R., C. N. R., G. T. R., and I. C. R. The investigation will commence at once in Ottawa.

Schoolgirl's Exhausted Nerves Headaches, Dizzy Spells and Weakness Overcome by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

At about the age that most girls are working hardest at school studying for examinations there are important physiological changes taking place which are an additional strain on the nervous system.

Mrs. J. A. Gallop, 135 Victoria street, St. John, N.B., whose husband is a carpenter, states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food in our family for nervousness, headaches, dizziness and nervous dyspepsia, and have found them satisfactory in every particular. My daughter Bessie was going to school, and became quite run down in health. By the time she had used three boxes of this remedy her nerves were steady, her general health was excellent and she was entirely free from headaches and dizziness. We are more than pleased with the results of this treatment."

"More recently we used the Nerve Food for my granddaughter, who was out of school for nearly a year from nervous trouble, and noticed improvement in her condition at once."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50c, a box for $2.50, all dealers, or Edmunds, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

At about the age that most girls are

Don't Make-Up in Public,
Says Miss Billie Burke.
Hot Cakes For Breakfast.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN WANTS TO KNOW

Men Readers Like Girls
Who Can Talk Well and
Cook--Must Also Be Neat.

Billie Burke Says:

DON'T BEAUTIFY IN PUBLIC.

By Billie Burke.

The First Word: "Talent is perfected in solitude," Goethe said, and so is a good complexion.

If you want to make a success of beautifying, persist in it until the results are satisfactory, but do not take your whole family into your confidence by telling them at once what you are going to accomplish. Small brother is likely to say, "Gee, but your neck is scrawny, and all that dope you rub on it isn't any good," and little sister, with equal candor, while entertaining your "best friend," who is awaiting the final touches to your toilet—which, alas, you may have delayed until the last moment—is quite liable to tell him just how you beautify. For small sister, no matter how young, always takes an eager interest in each detail, and usually explains all about it at the least opportune moment.

Of course, everyone acknowledges in this enlightened day, that all things are fair in producing an excellent complexion, but always remember that brothers, friends and husbands enjoy the finished product, and not the process.

I know a man who discharged an employee because he detected a powder pad down behind the counter—"didn't approve of powder." The woman who is "just right" in his eyes—well, to say the least, an artistically applied complexion, and he would take the most sacred oath that she never uses powder, nor does a single thing to beautify. She is a fascinating widow, and knowing his little weakness in this regard, never will offend his taste by applying powder to her nose in his presence. And they will live happily ever after.

I am not advising deceit, but creams, etc., are not things to be applied in public. When we by common-sense methods have improved our personal appearances, and all our family and friends are remarking, "How you have improved!" then is not the time to brag about what you have accomplished.

Just One Last Word: We must beautify, but let's do it in secret.

APPARENTLY LOOK FOR ANGELS

Young Men, in Telling Cynthia Grey the Sort of Girls They Like Best, Seem to Require All the Virtues and Charms in Existence.

This week the young men who daign to read the correspondence column in this page, were asked to tell the fair readers (upon the special request of one of them), the sort of girl they liked best. A number of replies were received, and from them the following six have been selected for publication.

Must Be Good Cook.

Dear Miss Grey—Here's the kind of a girl I like: One that is an everyday girl; one that doesn't try to make you think she is something more than what she really is. I don't care for her looks, as long as she is neat, kind, loving, good-natured, full of fun, and a good cook—not one of those who has a good cook-book and don't know how to use it; not too extravagant, but one that knows the value of a dollar. Hoping I have not taken up too much space in your valuable columns, I remain, CHIG-A-DO.

Prefers "Accomplished" Maid.

Dear Miss Grey—I am a constant reader of The Advertiser, and having seen in Monday's paper the query of "The Hopeless Case," I thought I would tell her the kind of girls most boys prefer. I like a girl who is a good girl with auburn hair and hazel eyes. I think boys generally like an accomplished girl, one who can cook, carry in wood, and milk cows, especially if they purpose marrying her. I hope this will prove beneficial to our friend, SILEY BILLY.

Wishes Integrity and Kindness.

Madam—In answer to your query, "What can I do to make the fellows like me?" I would like to say, and one of the many young men of this city, the following is my taste of girls: girl of polite ladylike manners, neat, clean, truthful, and combined with sound integrity. She to be of a free and humorous nature, and possessed with kindness.

Also instead of in conversation speaking about things of no benefit, to be able to speak of things that edify.

E. S. C.

Advisees Sunday School.

Dear Miss Grey—I noticed your request in Monday evening's paper for a young man, or rather, young men, to pass their opinions as to the kind of a girl who "takes" as it were with the boys. I humbly submit the following as my personal opinion:

1. One who is fairly attractive as regards looks, and a neat and not flashy dresser. One who shows that she has some common sense by her appearance, for instance, by keeping her hair back out of her face, and leaving her face at home. Of course, I suppose it is hardly necessary to mention that she use water, last of all, on her face.

2. Keep off the streets as much as possible, unless accompanied by parents or young men (that is at night). Learn to play the piano, as that in itself is a great attraction to most boys.

3. One who has plenty of life, without being in a bold manner. A bashful girl is not more to be desired than the latter, as a bold girl gets the reputation among fellows of being "crazy."

4. Be careful where you meet the fellows you keep company with, as a fellow cannot be blamed for forming a wrong opinion of the girl he sees with a fellow who is not on the level. I might suggest the church or Sunday school as the best place to meet a fellow of the same level, and to be sure, the line of securing the necessary introduction to desirable young men, yours sincerely, READER.

Doesn't Expect Much!

Dear Miss Grey—in answer to your request published in Monday night's paper, I wish to submit the following statement, in answer to the girl that signs herself, "A Hopeless Case," thanking you for the space that I am taking up:

The kind of a girl most fellows like?

Well now that is rather a difficult question, but upon reflection I have decided upon the following, hoping this will meet the views of the girl that signs herself, "A Hopeless Case." The kind of a girl that most fellows like is a girl that does not think she is above her fellow companions, one that can talk intelligently about the things of the day, one that can hold her self-respect above reproach and can command the respect of others, one that does not indulge profusely in perfume and flattery, and thinks she is IT, one that knows how to conduct herself while on the street, one that can treat a man on the square, one that is not afraid or ashamed to let her parents know who she is keeping company with, and last but not least, one that does not go around with a man for the purpose of having a good time, and to help squander all his weekly earnings, and then laughs at him when his back is turned and thinks what a big fool he has been.

As to how you can make a man like you, as far as I can see it is impossible.

Problems of the Fair Sex Solved by Cynthia Grey

[Correspondents are requested to make their inquiries as brief as possible, and to write on one side of the paper only. It is impossible to give replies within a stated time, as all letters have to be answered in turn, as they are received. No letters can be answered privately.]

Is She Too Young?

Miss Cynthia Grey: As I am a constant reader of your column, I would be very much obliged if you would answer a few questions for me. 1. I am 17 years old, and work out. Do you think I am too young to have a beau? 2. I met a young man when I was on my vacation and since then we have been writing. Do you think I should continue to write to him? 3. One day when I was going down street with my chum we met a young gentleman and he started to flirt with us. I never let on I saw him, but my chum did. I told her if she was going to continue to do that I was not going to chum with her. And she got vexed at me about it. Did I do right in telling her that? I am very sorry to write again. I should like to make up my mind. Should I make up my mind to write to him?

BROTHERSOME PEARL.

A-1. It is impossible for a stranger to judge. Some girls of 17 seem quite mature and sensible enough; others are exactly the opposite. You should follow what your mother advises you to do. 2. I see no harm in writing a friendly note occasionally. 3. While your chum acted somewhat foolishly, perhaps you were a little hasty. I should advise you to "make up" as you call it, only give her to understand that you still object to flirting.

Study His Tastes.

Dear Miss Grey: I am a constant reader of your column. Please tell me what kind of a book would be suitable for a young gentleman for Christmas. Kindly give title and where they might be obtained. A-There must be a stationery or book store in your town where you could obtain lists of popular books, and the dealer would no doubt send away to the publishers for any book he did not carry in stock. You should consider the young man's tastes before making a selection. Is he fond of poetry, works of travel, science, or any particular subject? If so, choose a book accordingly. Or if you desire a book of popular fiction there is a wide range to select from.

Writes a Neat Hand.

Miss Grey: Would you please answer the following questions: 1. Would you kindly publish the birthday calendar for Aug. 18? 2. What do you think of my writing? Thanking you in advance for your kindness, I am yours, BLUE EYES. A-1. "No great events are fore-shadowed by your calendar. Some difficulties caused by your writing are possible, but these can be avoided. Materially, you will be fortunate and some pleasant friendships found. 2. The handwriting is a strong character, and can become what you wish if guided by their best ideas. 3. It is very neat and legible. Blue Eyes.

Griddle-Cake Recipes

Wholesale Flannel Cakes.

Two cups of milk, one egg, one teaspoonful of baking powder, a pinch of salt. Beat eggs very light. Add the milk and baking powder, and mix together with salt and baking powder, should be put to it. Bake at once.

Feather Cakes.

The best way to make feather griddle cakes is to add to a pint of water and milk a teaspoonful of salt, a half teaspoonful of yeast and flour enough to make a batter. Let stand all night. In the morning add one egg, one cup of thick sour milk, two eggs well beaten, one level tablespoonful of butter, one level teaspoonful of soda, and flour enough to make a consistency of pancake batter. Let stand twenty minutes and then bake.

Entire Wheat Cakes.

The wheat griddle cake is cooked the same as the sweet milk cakes. The ingredients are one-half cup of entire wheat flour, one cup of flour, three tablespoons of baking powder, one-half teaspoon of salt, three tablespoons of sugar, one egg, one and one-quarter cups of milk, one tablespoonful of melted butter.

Rice Cakes.

Rice griddle cakes require two and one-half cups of flour, one-half cup of cold, cooked rice, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one teaspoonful of salt, one-half cup of milk, one cup of sugar, one and one-half cups of melted butter. Mix and sift dry ingredients. Work in rice with tips of fingers; add egg well beaten, milk and butter. Cook the same as other griddle cakes.

Medical Hints

By a Physician.

PERNICIOUS ANAEMIA.

The symptoms of this disease are pallor, weakness and debility. They suggest the need of a blood examination. The examination shows the blood to be poor in corpuscles and in coloring matter.

The decrease in corpuscles is greater than the decrease in coloring matter. The best sign is that given by the blood examination.

Arsenic dieting, and persistent use of proper laxatives, are of great service. Some cases seem to get well. They look and feel well. But later the disease grows worse again.

The research work being done on this disease is mainly to find a cause and cure.

Neither is known now.

A STYE.

A stye is due to an infection of the root of an eyelash or of an eyelid gland. It is not different from a small boil. It is not helpful in any way. Eye-strain is one of the contributory causes. Unclean lashes and lashes which should be removed are another cause.

Robespierre Gloves

To discover a novelty in gloves is a feat worth chronicling. The newest gloves bear the name so familiar this season—Robespierre. These kid gloves are given the novel touch in the turn-over cuffs, which display a lining contrasting in color to the glove.

A tan glove, for instance, will have a red or a king's blue lining, while a white glove will be made very pretty with a Nile green shade or a soft lavender tint.

For very dressy wear these turnover cuffs may be lined with lace, just as were the gloves of the dandies of Louis XVII's time. To complete the velvet suit when calling or "teasing" these new gloves are most attractive. To stick in them, by the way, there are dainty little gloves, handkerchiefs, either embroidered or with colored borders to match the turnover cuffs. Only a few inches square, to be sure, yet these handkerchiefs are wonderfully useful to touch the lips after a cup of tea. So soft and fine are they that one almost forgets them when they are tucked in the palm of the hand.

POTATO GRIDDLE CAKES.

Twelve large potatoes, three heaping tablespoons of flour, one teaspoonful of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one or two eggs, two teaspoonfuls of boiling milk. Peel the potatoes, wash and grate into a little cold water (which keeps them white). Then strain off water and pour on boiling milk, stir in eggs, salt and flour mixed with the baking powder. If agreeable flavor with a little fine-chopped onion. Bake like any other pancakes, allowing a little more lard or butter. Serve with stewed or preserved fruit.

BOARD OF WORKS NAMES ARE A FOR CLEANING OF SIDEWALKS

Business and Residential District Included in the Proposed Snow Bylaw.

At the meeting of the board of works held last evening the limits of the snow bylaw were defined by Ald. Blandford, and recommended to the council for acceptance.

The area for compulsory shovelling of sidewalks is practically the business and residential district in the central portion of the city. One district in South London is included, but none in West London, and few in East London.

The area is as follows:
Grosvenor street to Waterloo.
Waterloo street to St. James.
St. James street to Colborne.
Colborne street to Dufferin.
Dufferin street to Adelaide.
Adelaide street to Queen's.
Queen's street to English.
English street to Dundas.
Dundas street to Glebe.
Glebe street to King.
King street to Colborne.
Colborne street to York.

York street to Wellington.
Wellington street to Simcoe.
Simcoe street to York.
York street to Ridout.
Ridout street to Central avenue.
Central avenue to Talbot.
Talbot street to Mill.
Mill street to St. George.
St. George street to Grosvenor.
Grosvenor street to South London.
Ridout, from York to Elmwood, both sides of the street.

York street, west to the bridge.
Stanley and Becher streets, and the Ridgeway. Both sides of these streets.

Ald. Blandford pointed out that both sides of the streets named as boundaries must be shovelled. "I think this is a reasonable area," he stated. "No objection can be made to it. I would have liked to have enlarged the district, but I realize that this is about as much as we can enforce this year. The ratepayers will have to be educated to it, to a certain degree, and this is about all we can handle now. Next year the area, I hope, will be extended."

The committee agreed with the report of Ald. Blandford, and recommended that a bylaw be prepared along the lines suggested.

day on $500 bail.

Justice Minto, of the high court of justice, at Toronto, signed the order for his release, and just about dinner-time he was brought down from the county jail to the police court, where, before Magistrate Gorman, Rev. Walter Rigsby and Rev. Mr. Morrison signed the necessary sureties.

Crown Attorney Bucke and Attorney LeSueur, the counsel for the defence, were the only ones present, with the exception of those previously mentioned.

Kyoshk appeared very happy, and a contented smile played over his face. He was taken to Mr. Rigsby's home at the reservation, where he will reside until his retrial for the murder of John at the spring assizes.

Kyoshk was released at noon yesterday.

Sarnia, Nov. 29.—Although a London morning paper saw fit to deny a report from Sarnia concerning Steven Kyoshk, the fact remains that the erstwhile prisoner is now at the home of Rev. Mr. Rigsby, at the Sarnia reservation, drawing the first breaths of freedom he has inhaled for nearly a year.

Kyoshk was released at noon yesterday.

Skin Diseases

ARE PAINFUL AND UNSIGHTLY.

Among the most prevalent are Salt Rheum, Eczema, Tetter, Rash, Boils, Pimples and Itching Skin Eruptions.

These troubles always arise from the blood being in a bad condition and it is absolutely impossible to eradicate them from the system unless you put your blood into good shape. This you can do without the slightest trouble by using Burdock Blood Bitters.

It drives out all the humor from the blood, and makes it pure and rich. Thousands of people have used it during the last thirty-five years and have been cured. Mr. Robert Gamble, Jones Falls, Ont., says: "I write with the greatest of pleasure to recommend your great blood purifier, Burdock Blood Bitters. My wife and I had itching sores on our face and ears, and tried everything to help them, but found no relief. We saw your B.B.B. advertised and got a bottle, and before it was half gone we both were getting better, and when it was all gone we were cured."

Burdock Blood Bitters is manufactured only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

Wake Up! You Lazy Stomach!

Make Your Stomach Cheerfully Do Its Work Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Digest Your Food and Assist the Stomach.

People who complain they are worn to a frazzle are nearly always dyspeptic and are recommended to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets. The stomach gets lazy, food ferments and sours, gas belches up, there are symptoms of bloating, the blood becomes thick and sluggish, the liver is strained, the head is heavy, the mind is blank, and the dining-room is a chamber of horrors.

One of the greatest evils of our modern life is the quick lunch. To this evil, as much or more, than any other, may be traced the preponderance of the stomach troubles of our times. Instead of taking time to thoroughly masticate the food before swallowing it, the average person rushes through the meal, bolting the food, deglutition taking place while it is only partially mixed with saliva, and only half masticated, thus leaving the stomach to do the work the teeth should have done.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets contain digestive elements, a single grain being capable of digesting 3,000 grains of food, including meats, eggs, grain, vegetables, starches and mineral matters. They prepare every article of food by thorough digestion for ready absorption and assimilation by the lacteal glands, which pass it into the blood, whence it is conducted to all parts of the system, rebuilding and vitalizing it.

Every druggist has Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets in stock, and sells them at 50 cents a box. A new romance of the bravest girl one could wish to read about. Louise Herick, Wall describes "A Christmas Tale in California"—a true story to which the enchantment of the forest gives air of romance. Some will say that it reflects the real Christmas spirit better than do snow and reindeer and frosted pine. The "Christmas Echoes from Provence," by Edith M. Thomas, are illustrated verses that form a most attractive feature. In the "Lighter Vein" department will be found humor appropriate to the season. "Lords Spiritual in Jerusalem" will tell Christmas readers of the peculiar conditions of Christian worship in the Holy Land.

New Story By Mrs. Burnett.

A new serial novel by Frances Hodgson Burnett will be one of the leading features of the Century for 1913. The story has to do with a New York newspaper boy, who, just as he attains the proud position of "Harlem society reporter" for a great newspaper and is learning how to find out what is going on in society through the confectionery shop and the florists, is informed that he is heir to a great English estate. The scene is then changed to England and introduces an aged duke who adds zest and complication to the story. And, of course, there is a girl in it. Mrs. Burnett is here engaged in covering her familiar international ground—she being pre-eminently the international novelist—but she has found new paths for each country and all who have read "The Shuttle" and "Little Lord Fauntleroy" will follow her new story with keen interest. Writers of short fiction whose best work will be found in the Century during the coming year include among many, Owen Johnson, Eddie Phillips, Ruth McEnery Stuart, and Ellis Parker Butler.

The New Year of St. Nicholas.

St. Nicholas will continue through the new magazine year Hildegard Hawthorne's inspiring department of "Books and Readings." Progress, Ed-ward P. Blyden's horizon-widening "Nature and Science," and the St. Nicholas League of the world-wide membership.

Red Book.

That talented Englishman, Owen Oliver, has a clever little love story in the December Red Book Magazine. It is called, "Calling in the Doctor." It tells of the efforts to get married of a young woman who is heirless to a tremendous fortune.

Scribner's.

The Christmas story by Thomas Nelson Page which leads the December number of Scribner's is called "The Stable of the Inn," and tells the story of the Nativity. N. C. Wyeth has for it two beautiful illustrations in color.

RIGID PROBE INTO BIG FACTORY FIRE

Underwriters May Now Enforce Demands to Improve Conditions.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Sarnia, Nov. 29.—The police force here is coming in for much censure in connection with the big fire which destroyed the hub and spoke factory. The report that the alarm was turned in from Port Huron has been absolutely confirmed, and it is said that the underwriters will demand an investigation.

It has been suggested that instead of throwing the brunt of the blame on the police, that the investigators go after the council, or that committee of the council which allowed such conditions to exist.

"Take, for instance, the water pressure," said one citizen to The Advertiser. "It was at least 20 minutes after the fire department got there before the water was turned on the fire. The hydrant at that point is said to be defective. Then the blame must rest on those whose duty it is to look after such matters."

The Canadian underwriters have warned the town time and again that the fire protection system here is far from being adequate, and in most cases the communications have been received and filed.

LITERARY NOTES

The December Century is itself a Christmas tree—laden with fine gifts for all that approach it. Pictures, of the kind for which the Century is famous; short fiction of unusual interest, reflecting the tenderness of the Christmas thought; Christmas verse, illustrated in color articles of substantial interest—all combine to give this number a peculiar richness to befit the season. Lucy Furman's story, "The Christmas Tree on Clinch," shows how the Christmas idea ended a Kentucky feud. Virginia Youniss Remick's "The Miracle of Little Noel" is the Christ-

Well-Dressed Men With Slim Pocket Books

It is a great mistake to assume that all the well-dressed men you see on the streets have large pocket books. That they can afford to pay thirty or forty dollars for a suit or overcoat. Now-a-days it is not really necessary to pay so much, for we can make in our shops for fifteen dollars a suit or overcoat to your measure that for quality and style is equal to any thirty to forty dollar article, and if you are not satisfied we will cheerfully refund any money you have paid.

A Choice of Any Material Made-to-Order Suit or Overcoat

Only a few years ago we founded the first $15-made-to-order-suit-or-overcoat establishment in Canada, and we made good with a vengeance. We imported our materials direct from the mills in Scotland, where the best woolsens in the world are manufactured. We employed workmen who know their business and satisfied customers did the rest. The result is plainly to be seen. We opened branches in several of the larger cities in Canada, and in Detroit and Cleveland. In time other concerns flattered us by imitating our price $15—but have tried in vain to imitate our quality. Old customers come back—new ones come in every day—and every one is satisfied. If you have never realized that you can get as good as you need for fifteen dollars—come in and see us. Leave your measure, and we will do the rest to your satisfaction.

TRAMPS SLEEP AMID FINE ART

London, Nov. 28.—Collectors of antique carved wood and panelling have a rare opportunity of obtaining some fine specimens from an old Southwark house, which was once the home of earls, but has now deteriorated into a dwelling for tramps. The house is situated in a grimy alley off Lamb street, where Dickens lived as a boy. From a flagged pit opens a tall dark door always ajar for the lodgers seeking a five-cent bed.

On each half of the paneled door hangs a sound old knocker, and above the door richly carved corbels, such as could not be matched in some of the finest of the old Westminster houses, once supported a canopy, but now only a few deal boards laid across. Inside is a beautiful staircase, either Jacobean or Caroline, twisting up to painfully scrubbed corridors, off which the lodgers sleep in the old-paneled rooms. Many of the original spiral balusters are left, concealing their graces under paint. The whole place is paneled from top to bottom, all hidden, too, under gray paint, so that it is necessary to look long to discover the refinement of the carvings.

LEGAL QUERIES.

MELBOURNE.—A sells house and lot to B. When A leaves can he remove storm doors, screen doors, double windows or any of them from the premises. Answer—No. Can he remove picture rail from wall? Answer—No. Can he be compelled to replace the same? How should B proceed, no agreement being made in regard to above? Answer.—The agreement for the sale of the house included the appliances of it. B can sue A for damages if he refuses or neglects to replace them. Consult a lawyer.

WINTER TOURS TO THE LAND OF SUNSHINE AND SUMMER DAYS.

At this season of the year a great many are planning their winter tour, some to the Sunny South, others to California, where a considerable number prefer the flowers and sunshine of Florida, together with the very even climate.

Owing to modern railway facilities, an extensive trip, both interesting and educational, can now be made in speed and comfort at comparatively small expense.

The Canadian Pacific Railway offers particularly good service to Detroit, where direct connection is made for Florida, via Cincinnati, Ohio, and Atlanta, Ga. Jacksonville, Fla., is reached second morning after leaving Detroit. Excellent connection can also be made to Florida via Buffalo.

The Canadian Pacific—Wabash Route will be found the ideal line to Chicago, where direct connection is made for the Southern States. New Orleans, La., is reached second morning after leaving Toronto.

Direct connection is also made at Chicago for points in California, Mexico, Texas, Arizona, etc.

The dining, parlor and sleeping car service between Toronto, Detroit and Chicago, is up-to-date in every particular. Connecting lines also operate through sleeping and dining cars. Those contemplating a trip of any nature will receive full information from any C. P. R. agent. W. Fulton, City Passenger Agent, 161 Dundas street, corner Richmond, London.

CHRISTMAS SAILINGS.

On Dec. 18, the Canadian Pacific Atlantic Steamship Line will dispatch two steamers from St. John for Liverpool, the "Empress of Britain" and "Glasgow." The former is booked full third-class. There is, however, a number of berths available on the latter. An allotment of these rooms are held in London, and can be had on application to W. Fulton, City Passenger Agent, 161 Dundas, corner Richmond, London.

LOCAL DIRECTORS WILL SELL FRANCHISE FOR MODERATE SUM

Present Outlook For Canadian League Is Not a Bright One and London Team Could Be Purchased For Reasonable Amount—Directors Are Dissatisfied.

[BY JINX.]

It has been learned by The Advertiser that the directors of the London Baseball Club would jump at a reasonable offer for the club franchise of this city. One of the directors stated last evening that the club franchise of this city. One of the directors stated last evening that the club franchise of this city. One of the directors stated last evening that the club franchise of this city.

A POOR SEASON.

The season just passed has not been an altogether successful one. When it was all counted up, the club found that a deficit had to be faced. Had Ray Hynes been drafted, the directors would have had to dig down pretty far in their pockets to put the books on the right side.

It is also hinted that a couple of the directors are heartily sick of the whole thing and are anxious to withdraw. The troubles over a manager and other trifling matters last summer did not help the club any, and from all appearances the same situation will have to be faced over again in the spring.

Some Clubs Tottering.

There is no doubt that several big changes are due in the Canadian League. Both the Berlin and Guelph franchises are up for sale, and rumors come from St. Thomas every day that the franchise of that city can be purchased very reasonably. The situation at Brantford and Peterboro is also shaky, and it seems only a question of time before these clubs will be flying distress signals.

All attempts to get a foothold in Toronto have so far failed, and this has discouraged some of the clubs. A team in Toronto would do much toward bolstering up the weak spots in the circuit and would help carry on the smaller clubs through. However, there is not much chance of the Canadian League in having Toronto next season, and it is doubtful if a team will ever be placed in the Queen City. The attendance at the International League games in that city has been good with a winning team, and the management of the Toronto club is not likely to take the chance of jeopardizing it. If the Leafs had a weak international league team and a strong Canadian team the latter would get all the patronage, and the Toronto organization would have to fight for its life.

Montreal Doubtful Also.
The same thing would result if an attempt is made to place a team in Montreal.

PRESBYTERIANS OPPOSED TO AMALGAMATION SCHEME

Although a meeting of representatives from both denominations has been called to arrange the matter, it is doubtful if the Presbyterian and Methodist Hockey Leagues will amalgamate. The proposition has been put in a new light to the Presbyterians, and strong objections will be made by them. It is understood that the idea of uniting the two leagues was first discussed in a letter written by Rev. W. R. McIntosh, of King Street Presbyterian Church, to Mr. J. H. Chisholm, secretary of the Methodist Athletic Association. Mr. McIntosh's intention was to unite in holding an athletic meeting in the summer time. Hockey was not mentioned.

GUELPH MAY STICK IN CANADIAN LEAGUE

President Mahoney Has Accepted Offer of $1,000 From Citizens—New Manager Needed.

Guelph, Nov. 28.—The Guelph Maple Leafs will stay in Guelph for the season of 1913. That is, practically assured by the failure of President Mahoney to get the franchise transferred to Toronto, where the team could find a new home. The team had been in the absence of the franchise transferred to Toronto, where the team could find a new home. PEPPIRIN TEAM DEPOSITED $100

Money Was Placed With Sporting Editor of The Advertiser
This Morning, and It Is Now
Up To C. P. R. to Cover It —Conditions Named, Which
Are Fair to Both Clubs.

As a result of a statement that the C. P. R. tug-of-war team had given the Pepirin team until Saturday to accept the C. P. R. challenge for the city championship, the D. S. Pepirin Company's team, said, "We are greatly surprised to see that the C. P. R. team have given us until Saturday to decide whether we will pull or not. This is new to us, as we have not heard of a word from them whatever. In fact, they have not even given us a challenge, and we are the present holders of the city championship. We claim the right to dictate our own terms."

The conditions. "That the referee be Serg. McDonald, and that the limit of the pull be fifteen minutes. That each team use any style of belt or strap they see fit. That the date of the pull be agreed upon by both teams. That the teams be limited to five men, and not over 300 pounds. That the referee's decision be final. These terms are declared to be fair to each team," said Mr. McNeil, "and as their challenge stated that they would pull on any conditions, at any time, or any place, the terms should suit them."

Until Monday Night.
"We will give Monday night to accept this offer and cover our money with The Advertiser. This is a little longer time than they have given us, but in reference to the notice which appears in the paper."

It is plainly up to the C. P. R. in the language of the referee to shut up. The Pepirin money is in the hands of The Advertiser, the following receipt having been signed by the sporting editor and chairman William Evans, of the Pepirin team.

"This is to certify that the D. S. Pepirin Company, of London, have deposited with the Sporting Editor of The Advertiser, the sum of one hundred dollars, to be held as a wager against a similar sum to be deposited by the C. P. R. tug-of-war team. The money is to be divided equally between the two teams, and the winner to be the team which has the right to challenge the other team, and being the challenged parties."

BERTMAN PERRY, Sporting Editor.

Halifax Manager Confirms Report of Signing Men.
Halifax, N. S., Nov. 29.—Manager Ivers of the Halifax Hockey Club confirms the report that he has signed Tommy Smith, Billy Hague, and "Rus" Murphy, three stars of last season's Moncton Victorias, champions of the Stanley Cup. Manager Ivers states that, Toronto, Montreal Wanderers, Moncton and Halifax Crescents were among the clubs who succeeded in landing him. Manager Ivers also says he has concluded an arrangement with the N. H. A. whereby all contracts held by the Canadiens, Toronto, Moncton, Ottawa, Quebec, and Wanderers will be respected by the Maritime League on and after the first league game of the N. H. A.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 28.—Through a dense cloud of fog at Daly City this afternoon a wildly excited throng of night fans carried from the arena their first pugilistic lightweight champion, Willie Ritchie, was hoisted on the shoulders of his supporters, and his victory was so unexpected that 7,000 spectators made the hills echo with their cries.

With the sixteenth round only two seconds to go, Champion Wolgast fouled Ritchie, and the referee was quick to raise the local lad's glove in token of victory. The disqualification came about the delivering of the foul. Ritchie, however, was so unexpecting that he delivered two low left-hand punches to Ritchie's groin, and the action of the referee was only course to pursue the fight. He cleared position at the ringside, and saw the low punches land. Tom Jones, Wolgast's manager, let out a roar about robbery, but Jones were so palpable his contention will be taken as one of a bad loser.

On the other hand, Billy Nolan, Ritchie's manager, claimed that the champion deliberately fouled Wolgast by hitting him with his right hand. Referee Griffin, who proved impartial, made the following statement: "I was right on top of the men and the way Wolgast deliberately aimed that second low punch."

Round 1—Ritchie, with the men fighting close, scored several times to the head and chest, and before the champion essayed the offensive, they mixed fiercely in a neutral corner, and the result of a succession of short-arm blows to the mouth, Wolgast spat blood. As he took his seat, it was Ritchie's round.

Ritchie Ahead First Round.
Round 2—Wolgast opened the round with a rush. The champion kept well under cover, and after deluging Ritchie with several rights and lefts, drove two wicked rights to the jaw and a left uppercut over the heart. Ritchie broke ground and Wolgast drove two telling lefts to the stomach. The round ended with a powerful left to the stomach, which provoked comment. Wolgast drove two wicked rights to the mouth, which started the blood. Ritchie, however, was not hurt, and he came out with a right to the jaw. Ritchie fought back fiercely. The bell ended the round with both bleeding from the mouth. Round 3—Ritchie, who came out eagerly and exchanged right uppercuts to the jaw. Ritchie drove the champion against the ropes with snappy blows to the face. Wolgast stood in his own corner and covered up. It was Ritchie's round.

Round 4—A rally to the ropes and clever blocking by both men. Ritchie, however, sent his man down below the belt. Griffin stopped the fight and promptly awarded the fight to Ritchie.

Round 5—A rally to the ropes and clever blocking by both men. Ritchie, however, sent his man down below the belt. Griffin stopped the fight and promptly awarded the fight to Ritchie.

Round 6—Wolgast took no chances with the shifty native son. He kept at a safe distance. Two lefts reached Ritchie's damaged eye. At close range the champion hammered away at the body, landing once in the pit of the stomach with great force. Ritchie's hitting power was deficient. The champion took his corner grinning. It was Wolgast's round.

Round 7—Wolgast rushed in and planted right to the jaw. Ritchie winced. Wolgast began to talk to Ritchie. The champion whipped several punches to the jaw and body that all but floored the Californian. Ritchie appeared groggy. Wolgast's round.

Round 8—Ritchie came up with a sick and the champion sent in short range blows to the face. Wolgast's defense was perfect. Ritchie's blows failed him. Wolgast landed on body and jaw, and scampered to his corner. Wolgast's round.

Round 9—Ritchie's right eye was closed completely. The champion rushed and landed rights and lefts to the stomach. Ritchie winced under the blows. The wonder was that Ritchie weathered the storm. Ritchie landed a hard right swing to the face at the bell.

Round 10—They fought close together, with Wolgast doing considerable execution. He used short arm blows to the body. Ritchie showed surprising vitality. He landed straight right to the jaw. Ritchie was growing stronger, planting solid rights and lefts to the face. Wolgast swung wildly again. Ritchie's round, and the champion was slowing up.

Round 11—Ritchie carried the battle to the champion. A vicious rally followed in mid-ring. Wolgast swung wildly. Ritchie landed straight right to the jaw. Ritchie was growing stronger, planting solid rights and lefts to the face. Wolgast swung wildly again. Ritchie's round, and the champion was slowing up.

Round 12—Wolgast chopped his right to the eye and left to the stomach. Ritchie sent back straight rights to the face. He rushed Wolgast about the ring and drove his right to the stomach. Wolgast landed a hard left on the point of the chin without effect. Round even.

Round 13—Fighting level to head they exchanged face blows. They did little damage. Wolgast won. Both seemed strong. Wolgast seemed to force the pace. Wolgast rushed Ritchie to the ropes just as the bell ended the round. It was even.

Round 14—The round opened fiercely. Both men swung wildly. Wolgast sent a vicious right to the stomach and a left over the closed eye. Ritchie countered with light right to the body. Wolgast sent his head back with a left to the nose and almost closed Ritchie's good eye with a hard right. Wolgast landed a straight right to the stomach, and the champion was slowing up.

Round 15—Ritchie was able to see from one eye only as he came up. He sent a wicked left to the stomach, and they fought at close range. The referee tried them apart several times in this round. Wolgast drove two rights to the stomach and oozed the champion. Wolgast closed the round with a hard drive to the stomach. Wolgast had been given a taste of whiskey during each round intermission.

Round 16—Ritchie swung right to jaw as they met and Wolgast countered to the ropes. Ritchie's head was against the ropes with a right swing. Wolgast came up reeling. Again Ritchie's right shot to the body. Wolgast was against the ropes. Ritchie, however, lacked power to put in a finishing blow. The best Wolgast could do was to stand in the middle of the ring, his eyes glazed. With the men locked, Wolgast brought his left up from his seat and struck Ritchie low. The blow was clearly discernible and the crowd yelled its protest. Referee Griffin grasped Wolgast, saying: "Do that again and I'll disqualify you." He had barely finished when Wolgast duplicated the offense. He landed a right below the belt. Griffin stopped the fight and promptly awarded the fight to Ritchie.

Round 17—A rally to the ropes and clever blocking by both men. Ritchie, however, sent his man down below the belt. Griffin stopped the fight and promptly awarded the fight to Ritchie.

CONSTRUCTION COMPANY CHARGED WITH SLAVERY

U. S. Govt. Requests Canadian Authorities to Investigate G.T.P. Construction Camps.

[Canadian Press.] Winnipeg, Nov. 28.—If the request made from Washington, through United States Consul Jones here, be granted by the Ottawa authorities and a rigid inquiry be instituted into alleged conditions in the camps of the Foley, Welch and Stewart Construction Company on the Grand Trunk Pacific throughout the west, sensations are promised, that is if the complaining laborers substantiate their charges.

Conditions of virtual slavery are alleged to exist, once the men get into these camps. It is too far in the wilderness to get out readily, and those leaving are forbidden under penalty to be given food or shelter at other camps on the long tramp out. If the men quit a series of deductions are made from their pay checks for all sorts of things. Owing to such deductions it is usual for the men to get no pay until after they have worked a month or six weeks. Foreigners through their ignorance of English are the worst sufferers. The men are helpless and at the mercy of their employers, because there is no settlement nor trace of civilization for miles around, except at their camps.

Charged Big Prices. Among other items in the complaints of the laborers are these:

The long journey means their carrying light outfits, and the necessities which they procure subsequently at the company's stores are sold to them at exorbitant prices, as, for example: drivers' gloves $3.50 a pair; boots, $12 a pair, and cheap pants $12 a pair. The men are charged $7 a week for board, and the very poorest sort, which sum is deducted from their wages. One dollar per month is deducted from the pay of each man for hospital, of which there is one for about every three hundred miles, and facilities are the poorest for getting to them. The injured are often buried with scant ceremony. Hospital attendance is sadly deficient, and in some cases the burials of foreigners have not been human. Men suffering from minor troubles are put in the typhoid sections. Thirty-five cents a month is deducted from the pay of each man for the expense of handling for mail, which are very rare. The men sleep on boards, the hay being needed for the horses. For blankets they are charged ten dollars a pair. If a man escapes the clerk of the camp telephones to the next camp to say he is coming, and he cannot get work or food there. If a man leaves with consent he is paid by check which minor officials cash for him with a 10 per cent deduction. Foley, Welch and Stewart headquarters at Spokane deny there is anything wrong.

A GIANT BIRD. New York, N. Y., Nov. 29. — Parts of a giant bird, which winged its way over North America three million years ago, have just been brought to the American Museum of Natural History by Prof. Walter Granger, who has been making fossil investigations in Wyoming. The bird, according to Prof. Granger, was the largest feathered creature that ever existed in North America. The fragments brought here consist of the bones of the feet, found in the Big Horn Basin.

JAMES M. SHANLY DEAD

Was One of the Best-Known Civil Engineers in Canada.

[Canadian Press.] Montreal, Nov. 28.—James M. Shanly, one of the best known civil engineers in Canada, died yesterday. The deceased was born in Illinois 55 years ago, but came to Canada at an early age. He was educated at Galt Collegiate Institute and Toronto University. After graduation he started practicing in Montreal.

One of the first pieces of work done by the late Mr. Shanly was in connection with the Beauharnois Junction Railway, now a part of the New York Central's road, into Montreal. After this he was chief engineer of the railway which Judge Foster, of Knowlton, and Mr. Alphonse Charlebois, of this city, undertook to build from Vaudeville, on the main line of the C. P. R., to Ottawa, and afterwards bought by them and incorporated into that system now known as the Ottawa Short Line, although, as a matter of fact, it is a part of the main line of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Montreal to the Pacific Ocean.

After 1894 Mr. Shanly was chief engineer of the Baie des Chaleurs Railway, later known as the Atlantic and Lake Superior and the Central Railway of Canada, first called the Ottawa Valley.

He was a member of the council of the Canadian Society of Civil Engineers, and was also a member of the Engineers' Club. He is survived by Mrs. Shanly, who is a daughter of Mr. Robert Conroy, of Aymer, three sons and three daughters.

ABDUCTION CHARGE MAY FOLLOW WEDDING

Relatives of Sixteen-Year-Old St. Thomas Youth Greatly Perturbed.

[Special to The Advertiser.] St. Thomas, Nov. 28.—On the ground that 16-year-old Thomas Hornby, of this city, did not have the consent of his parents to his marriage with Eva Loucks, of Clear Creek, a woman much older, the youth's parents may bring a charge of abduction. Miss Loucks came out from England a short time ago.

On Saturday evening last, a local clergyman officiated at the marriage. At the time the minister found everything quite regular. The marriage license was produced; the bride, although she looks much older, said she was 19 on her last birthday, and the groom, although his relatives say he is only 16 years, gave his age as 21. They gave their future place of residence as 89 Malakoff street, city.

Since the wedding, however, the relatives of the young man have taken a strong stand in the matter, and the town authorities have been interviewed with a view towards securing an annulment of the ceremony. They tried for a time to induce young Hornby to give up his bride, but he refused, and later, when he appeared at his old home on Yorkmouth Heights, it is said he was looked up by his parents.

They claim that Miss Loucks is many years the senior of young Hornby, and point out that she recently married a Southwold man named Schram, who some time ago was sent to prison for six months on a charge of having two wives. Still more recently Miss Loucks took action against Schram in an effort to have him contribute towards the keep of their child, and she was successful in a small way.

CARVELL'S ATTACK TOO MUCH FOR ROGERS

Minister of Public Works Couldn't Stand Expose of Methods in Macdonald By-Election, and, With the Premier, Leaves House—Defends Outrages.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—Under the terrific attack of Mr. Carvell, Hon. Robert Rogers fled from the House today.

The subject under discussion was Roblin-Rogers Methods at Macdonald by-election. "Without a doubt, he (the Minister of Public Works) is charged with being the arch-priest of all the electoral tyranny and debauchery that went on," declared Mr. Carvell amid Liberal cheers.

A roar of laughter greeted Mr. Rogers as he rose to leave the House. "Hold on," quoth Mr. Carvell, in an effort to stay his exit. "I do not want the minister to leave. I have a few words to say to him."

But Mr. Rogers evidenced his conviction that discretion was the better part of valor. He vanished amid renewed Liberal laughter.

Rogers Bluffing.
"I wanted to tell the minister," proceeded Mr. Carvell deliberately, "that when he told this House a few moments ago that he had a series of other affidavits to defend the operations in the Macdonald election, which he would submit to the House some other time, he was putting up one of the biggest bluffs of his career. He has not got them, and he knows he has not got them."

"Oh, oh," interrupted Mr. Sharpe, of Ontario.
"I am not talking to the member for North Ontario," responded Mr. Carvell, "I am talking to the empty, to the deserted seat of the Minister of Public Works. It is he I am concerned with, and I do not want to bandy words with a back-bencher."

Then came Mr. Meighen, of Portage la Prairie, who entered his protest. "It may not please you, but I am going through with it," persisted Mr. Carvell, adding amid renewed laughter that he could well understand why Mr. Meighen "writhed under a mere narration of the facts in connection with the operation of these official kidnappers."

Mr. Carvell followed Hon. Robert Rogers, who spoke for an hour, and furnished what the New Brunswicker described as "the most remarkable exhibition that Parliament has witnessed since 1867, a trade of blows, bluster and threats, threats that the press should be throttled, and his army of detectives and political henchmen taken into every constituency, unrelieved by any semblance of such a thing as argument." Throughout his speech, Mr. Rogers received promptings by pencilled notes from Premier Borden, who sat next to him, but the Premier joined his minister in leaving the House when Mr. Carvell's arraignment followed.

Rogers on Elections.
Mr. Rogers opened by assuring the House that he would take an early opportunity to present to the House some of the persons employed by friends of the Liberal leader in the western Province of Saskatchewan to win the election there. These he characterized, with great unctiousness, as "British law and British justice in defence."

"It can't come too soon," observed Mr. Tupper, amid Liberal "Hee-hee-hee's."
"I am pleased to analyze and discuss the result in Macdonald," continued Mr. Rogers. All that was the trouble was that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was disappointed and pained at the defeat of his policy of larger markets there. The Liberals, he alleged, had tried to win the constituency by "appeals to passion and prejudice." Macdonald stood for "the grand old National Policy, under which we have built up our great and glorious Dominion" (Conservative cheers). Continuing, Mr. Rogers said that Sir Wilfrid had made his charge against the speaker's conduct of the election to "apologize for his defeat."

"In making his charges against me," proceeded Hon. Robert Rogers, "he makes charges that are not warranted by the facts, and charges which have been heralded from one end of Canada to the other by his reptile press. I speak of my own knowledge when I say that no arrest was made in Macdonald that was not fully and completely justified by the circumstances. The whole thing has been misrepresented by the reptile press. It is true a mistake was made—(Liberal "Hee-hee-hee's" and laughter.) "I am making his charges against me," proceeded Hon. Robert Rogers, "he makes charges that are not warranted by the facts, and charges which have been heralded from one end of Canada to the other by his reptile press. I speak of my own knowledge when I say that no arrest was made in Macdonald that was not fully and completely justified by the circumstances. The whole thing has been misrepresented by the reptile press. It is true a mistake was made—(Liberal "Hee-hee-hee's" and laughter.)

A Half-Breed Story.
The minister, proceeding, read affidavits from Thomas Steadman and Herbert Jarvis, both of Winnipeg, to the effect that they had been told by half-breeds that W. B. Sifton had offered them money to support the candidature of Mr. Richardson, and of Augustus Chamberlain, a half-breed, to the effect that he had secured several drinks of whiskey and been promised money.

"Why did the minister prosecute if he had charges?" asked Dr. Neely.

"Because this man Sifton was a public nuisance," said Mr. Rogers, "and he wanted to tell the Liberals that 'a counter petition of protest had been entered in connection with the election.' He expects to go on with that counter protest, or is it like his charges against Liberal workers?" queried Dr. Clark amid another roar of Liberal laughter.

Mr. Rogers said that the Sullivan who was arrested was a nephew of "old Cap. Sullivan," and revived Conservative spirits by telling the House that "Cap. Sullivan was the hope of the Liberal party in Ontario, and this Sullivan is the hope of the Liberal party in Saskatchewan. His operations in Saskatchewan have been the shame and every effort of the notorious Cap. Sullivan in Ontario. We will put our reasons before the courts."

"Give the Facts."
"Let's have some of them from you. I would be better to give facts than ask us to accept the word of the minister himself," put in Mr. Maclean, of Halifax.

"I have said I would do it at an early date," said Mr. Rogers. "I'm afraid you will never do it," retorted Mr. Maclean.

"I'll deal with your friend, Sullivan," shouted Mr. Rogers. "I'll put my friends against yours any day," commented Mr. Maclean.

Then the Minister of Public Works ran against an uncomfortable snag, for Sir Wilfrid Laurier had accused him of being in Saskatchewan this summer. It was on a line "with the things published in the reptile press," and there was no foundation in fact for the statement. "I was never in Saskatchewan at that time," Mr. Rogers declared.

Sir Wilfrid rose amid silence. "I certainly remember having read the report of a speech by the minister in Regina," he observed. "It's true I was in Regina," confessed Mr. Rogers, amid cries of "apologize" and laughter, "but what I mean to say is, that was before the writs were issued."

"I hope the minister will not say in future that he was not there," observed Dr. Clark, of Red Deer. "Let us have the truth in the House at least," put in Mr. Tobin, amid further commotion.

Sir Rodolphe's Promise.
Whereupon Mr. Rogers left Macdonald and turned to Richelieu. It was true that Sir Rodolphe Forget had gone to the constituency, and Sir Rodolphe could take care of himself. For himself, Mr. Rogers stated that he never heard of a marine railway at Sorel, and consequently could not have promised it, as Sir Rodolphe was reported as having stated.

"I made a mistake that I didn't go down to Richelieu," he concluded. "I would have returned with another scalp from the Liberal leader, but if there are any more constituencies opened, depend upon it we'll be there."

LOTS OF POTATOES

Farmer Who Did Not Dig Them Was Pleasantly Surprised.
[Special to The Advertiser.]

Zurich, Nov. 29.—Owing to the almost wholesale rot or blight of the potato, some farmers left great quantities of them in the ground, thinking it a waste of time to dig them. Just before the late storm, however, a neighboring farmer opened some hills out of curiosity, and found to his amazement that the potatoes were in a high state of preservation.

Being thus encouraged he plowed and raked out of the soil over forty bushels of potatoes without a blemish.

A splendid reception was given Miss Sipple, of Detroit, at the Dominion House last night by her former pupils. Miss Sipple is a native of Zurich, and devoted her time to musical instruction. A piano and organ were used in the instrumental selections, and her ex-students joined in vocal numbers. Miss Sipple leaves for her adopted home in Detroit on Monday next.

EXPAND PREFERENCE IS LIBERAL POLICY

And Reciprocity Reaffirmed by Mr. Carvell, Speaking for Opposition.

ONE FOR MR. WHITE

Finance Minister's Challenge Acts as Boomerang With Telling Effect.

Ottawa, Nov. 28.—The Liberal party today in the House reaffirmed its belief in the policies of reciprocity and British preference.

Hon. W. T. White declared in the Commons on Tuesday that the Liberals were afraid to resurrect their trade policy held prior to the election of 1911, and challenged them to declare whether or not they wished to still maintain in no uncertain words.

This afternoon Mr. F. B. Carvell, speaking for the Opposition, declared in unmistakable terms where the Liberals stood upon it, promised that the fight on the Liberal side would continue, and coupled with it, while the Government benches sat visibly uncomfortable and silent, a declaration of Liberal belief in the policy of a further expansion of the British preference, and in every other form of tariff relief that would make for the relief both of producers and consumers from restricted markets, and the high cost of living. It was a notable utterance, and was cheered to the echo by every Liberal in the House.

After discussing the Macdonald by-election matter, Mr. Carvell went on to refer to the trade issue raised in the speech from the throne. According to the Minister of Finance, he said, relief for the turning down of the agreement with the United States was to be found in the hope of a larger trade with the West Indies and Australia. But Canada's total trade with these countries was now but a drop in the bucket as compared with the daily increasing trade with the United States. Every day Canada, despite the tariff wall, was sending half a million dollars' worth of her products across the line. Mr. White had sought to drag the reciprocity question into the debate. He was living in the halo of glory of holy Toronto, where he was surrounded by his manufacturing magnates, his bankers and his railway friends. Apparently he thought the question of reciprocity could be made useful to the Tory party again.

A Good Policy.
"Let me tell him," said Mr. Carvell, "that from my standpoint, and the standpoint of millions of people in Canada, reciprocity was good economically in September, 1911; it is good economically today, and it will be good economically always. He is living in a fool's paradise. He cannot repeat with all the money of the manufacturers, and the transportation magnates' money, and the American money, and the British Unionist money. With it all, he cannot again defeat reciprocity as he did a year ago. He cannot do what Mr. Rogers charged Sir Wilfrid Laurier with doing—he cannot again raise one policy in Quebec, and another in Ontario. He cannot again join together the Nationalists of Quebec and the Orangemen of Ontario."

"He and his friends are now in power, and must have some regard for consistency. He will find that he cannot crucify the leader of the Opposition in Ontario, because he is a Roman Catholic, and in Quebec, because he is too British. The minister talks about Liberals having one policy in one part of the country, and another policy in another part of the country. I tell him that we want to resurrect reciprocity, and we want to resurrect more than that; we want to resurrect the British preference; we want to resurrect any policy that means cheaper food for the laboring classes of Canada; we want to resurrect any policy that will afford us a chance to discuss whatever will make for better economic conditions, and a reduction in the cost of living in this country. The Minister of Finance, surrounded by his followers, intoxicated with his own importance, grandiloquently asks, 'What have we lost by the rejection of reciprocity?' The Liberals have lost power, but we did not lose honor, and in the rejection of reciprocity we Canadians have lost money, and lost it by the millions."

Lost Millions.
Mr. Carvell then went on to point out some instances of the lost millions. One man, Mr. George Lane, a western cattle dealer, had himself lost between forty and fifty thousand dollars on this year's transactions of cattle shipped to Chicago. The farmers of the west lost millions of dollars last year by reason of the impossibility of marketing their wheat at any price, let alone the loss through not obtaining the higher prices ruling in the American market. During the last three months between two and three hundred carloads of cattle were shipped from the western part of Ontario to the United States. Over $100,000 was paid in duty on these shipments, representing a loss to the Ontario cattle raisers. Quebec and the Maritime Provinces last year paid on hay shipments alone $2,672,000 in duties to the American treasury. A member of the Commons could tell of personally losing in duties on hay sent to the States this year $40,000.

The farmers of Quebec and the Maritime Provinces were at the present time losing from four to five dollars a ton because they could not get the higher American prices. A large fish duties during the last year there had been paid $1,031,000; on laths and shingles over $250,000; all this representing loss to the pockets of the Canadian electors.

To offset this nothing had been gained. The railways still had to haul produce to the south, and the very first act of the Government after they came into power was to go on their knees to the Yankees and beg for a preferential rate on wheat over their railways. "I would not be surprised," said Mr. Carvell, "if we find the Minister of Finance sending a fish to Washington before the next election and trying to secure a reciprocal trade agreement there. It would be the best policy that Canada could adopt, outside an increase in the British preference."

After instantancing the increase of 25 per cent in the Canadian exports of

QUININE? NO! PAPE'S BEST FOR BAD COLD

DISPUTES ACT HAS PROVED A SUCCESS

First Dose of Pape's Cold Compound Relieves All Misery From a Cold or the Grippe.

Of 124 Cases a Strike Was Prevented in All But Fourteen.

It is a positive fact that a dose of Pape's Cold Compound, taken every two hours until three consecutive doses are taken, will end the Grippe and break up the most severe cold, either in the head, chest, back, stomach, limbs or any part of the body.

It promptly relieves the most miserable headache, dullness, head and nose stuffed up, feverishness, sneezing, sore throat, running of the nose, mucous catarrhal discharges, soreness, stiffness and rheumatic twinges.

Take this wonderful Compound as directed, with the knowledge that there is nothing else in the world, which will cure your cold or end Grippe misery as promptly and without any other assistance or bad after-effects as a 25-cent package of Pape's Cold Compound, which any druggist can supply—accept no substitute—contains no quinine. Belongs in every home. Tastes nice—acts gently.

ACTION IS BROUGHT AGAINST AUTO OWNER

Dr. L. Sealé Holmes, of East London, Sues Mr. Frank E. Osborne, of This City.

Messrs. Gibbons, Harper & Gibbons, acting on behalf of Dr. L. Sealé Holmes, have issued writ against Frank E. Osborne, of this city, claiming $500 damages for injuries to the person and property of the plaintiff through the alleged negligent driving of an automobile by the defendant.

About six weeks ago the plaintiff was riding a bicycle on Maitland street, near the corner of Dundas, when he was struck by the defendant's automobile and sustained painful injuries, as well as having his bicycle damaged. The accident, the plaintiff claims, was due to the driver of the automobile taking a wide turn at the corner and encroaching on the left-hand side of the street.

CANADIAN FROGS' LEGS A BROADWAY TIT-BIT

More Palatable Than Chicken or Young Turkey, Says a Noted Chef.

New York, Nov. 29.—According to the Herald, Wall street speculators, in the last two or three weeks, have become enamored with the latest tit-bit, Canadian frogs' legs. These succulent morsels have been sent down from the Canadian lakes of clear spring water.

Frogs' legs, as served in Broadway hotels heretofore, have originated in marshes or muddy streams. As a rule these have not satisfied the palates of the epicures of the financial district.

Several members of the New York stock exchange, who have summered in the Canadian woods, prevailed on their friends to listen to their experience, however. As a result, the Canadian frogs' legs have made their appearance in the cafes of the financial district.

The Wall street discoverers of this delicacy assert that the frogs that provide this palatable morsel are to be found especially in the environs of Quebec.

It is asserted that the reason they have never before been made appeal to palates of New York men is that the French-Canadian guides, who would supposedly be enthusiastic about them, do not fancy them.

Frank Lenz, chef of a restaurant frequented by brokers in Wall street, said yesterday: "The flavoring of these frogs' legs is delicious. The meat is more palatable than that of young chicken or young turkey, and it is more firm than that of the frogs which grow in marshes or streams of this state."

"In order to cook frogs' legs properly, one must get fresh mushrooms and butter," he says. "The frogs' legs should be placed right into the stew, so as to get the advantage of the juice of the mushrooms. There should be no attempt to bread the frogs' legs."

THE WORLD'S BUSINESS

Total for This Year Will Reach Enormous Figure of $35,000,000,000.

[Canadian Press.]

Washington, Nov. 29.—In the present year the world's international business will reach the enormous total of $35,000,000,000, according to a report issued today by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce. The estimate is made on official returns of exports and imports from virtually every commercial country in the world. Nearly every nation reported a greater exchange of commodities than ever before had been known.

The new figure will establish a record, for it is four billion dollars greater than the trade in 1910, and more than double that done in 1890, 22 years ago.

Seventy leading countries furnished their figures to the Government statisticians. Only Argentina and Russia reported decreases, both falling off sharply. The United States so far has shown a monthly increase of $18,000,000 over 1911. Canada, Haiti, Honduras and Santo Domingo do most of their shopping in the United States, according to the report, while China, India, certain of the Balkan States and Turkey look elsewhere for their purchases. The balance of trade (that difference of goods sold over those imported) still remains strongly with American manufacturers and producers, the figures showing that they enjoyed a balance on the right side of the ledger of approximately $16,000,000.

CHINESE SCENT A WAR

'Frisco Celestials Asked to Contribute Towards Expected Conflict.

[Canadian Press.]

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The Chinese Six Companies of the city of San Francisco and other Chinese organizations posted notices last night urging every Chinese to be ready to contribute at least $10 for a fund for a war between China and Russia. This action followed the receipt here of a cablegram by a Chinese newspaper telling of the imminence of war between these two countries on account of Russia's refusal to remove troops from Mongolia.

The dispatches said that reserves were being mobilized in Mongolia, and that troops were being drilled in Canton to be in readiness for an emergency call.

It was admitted at the Chinese consulate that subscriptions had been pouring in for the war fund for the last few days in amounts ranging from $100 to $1,000. Many were received by telegraph from Chinese in various parts of the country.

CZAREVITCH TO RIVIERA.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 28.—The Czarevitch will go to the Riviera for a period of convalescence in about two weeks. This announcement is taken as a sign that the boy is improving, as Russia has a cote d'azur near the Crimea where he would likely be taken if a fatal illness was feared.

HALIFAX CARS DEMOLISHED.

Halifax, Nov. 28.—Halifax had a heavy snow and wind storm tonight, which demolished street car traffic, and made communication by telegraph and telephone difficult.

The wind was 35 miles an hour from the northeast.

A Wonderful Case

Three Months in Hospital and Came Out Uncured.

Zam-Buk Cured Him in Few Weeks

Mr. Fred Mason, the well-known upholsterer and mattress manufacturer, of St. Andrews, N. B., says: "I had eczema on my knee, which caused me terrible pain and inconvenience. The sore parts would itch and burn and tingle, and then when rubbed or scratched, would become very painful. When the knee got warm it burned worse, and the itching and burning and smarting were almost unbearable. I tried various remedies, but got no better, so I decided to go to Montreal and take special treatment. I received treatment at the Montreal General Hospital for thirteen weeks, but at the end of that time I was not cured, and almost gave in. A friend advised me to give Zam-Buk a trial.

"Almost as soon as applied Zam-Buk stopped the itching and the irritation. I persevered with the balm, and it was soon evident that it would do me good. Each day the pain was reduced, the sore spots began to heal, and by the time I had used a few boxes of Zam-Buk I was quite cured.

"Since then Zam-Buk has cured blood-poison in my finger, and at a time when my finger was in such a terrible condition that I feared it would have to be amputated."

For eczema, blood-poisoning, piles, ulcers, sores, abscesses, varicose ulcers, bad leg, cold sores, chapped hands, cuts, burns, bruises and all skin injuries and diseases, Zam-Buk is without equal.

Fifty cents a box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Company, Toronto, for price. Refuse imitations.

PLEASANTLY SURPRISED.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Rodney, Nov. 28.—Prior to their departure for Calgary, where Mr. Bennett is foreman of a furniture company, Mrs. Bennett and her son Frank were pleasantly surprised by a party in Mrs. John McCarter's home, when they were presented with a handsome hand-painted fruit bowl and a travelling bag.

DON'T SCOLD CROSS, IRRITABLE CHILDREN

If Tongue Is Coated, Stomach Sour, Breath Feverish, Bowels Clogged, Give "Syrup of Figs."

Mother! look at the tongue! see if it is coated. If your child is listless, drooping, isn't sleeping well, is restless, doesn't eat heartily or is cross, irritable, out of sorts with everybody, stomach sour, feverish, breath bad; has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, or is full of cold, it means the little one's stomach, liver and bowels are filled with poisons and clogged up with waste and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

Give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs, and in a few hours the foul, decaying, constipated matter, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well and smiling child shortly.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child tomorrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full name "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Company. This is the delicious, tasteful, genuine old reliable. Refuse any cheap imitations.

HAS POOR OPINION OF U. S. DOCTORS

Says Practice of Medicine There Is Working Injury to Humanity.

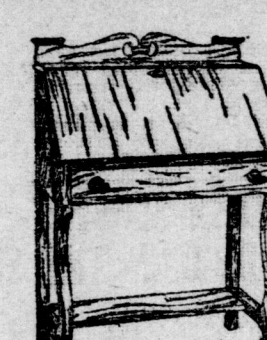

[Canadian Press.]

Montreal, Nov. 29.—"The profession of medicine in the United States, on the whole, is working positive injury to humanity," is the opinion of Dr. Lee B. Woodcock, of Scranton, Pa., an ex-medical graduate, who for the past ten years has been practicing across the border. Disgusted with what he calls the baneful influence of the profession, he has relinquished it, and has returned to his native land.

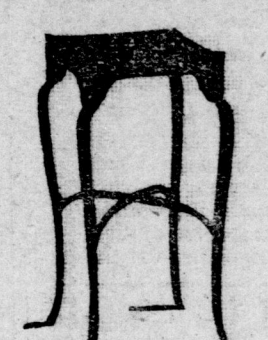

"One hears a great deal of fake remedies," said Dr. Woodcock, "but the fakes and quackery practiced in the medical profession proper across the line are far more inimical to surgery than methods of the quack. Here's a case in point: Five years ago I was called upon to act as a consulting physician in what was to me obviously a

LEAP FOR LIFE.

New York, Nov. 29.—Three waiters sleeping in the fourth story of the Hotel Workers, Union building, at 109 West Thirty-eighth street, had to jump for their lives early today when they were awakened by fire. Two of them landed safely on the fire escape a story below, but the third over-leaped the iron gallery, pitched the whole four stories to the ground, and was killed. The fire did comparatively slight damage.

AMUSEMENTS

Guy Bros' Minstrel Show.
Guy Bros' Greater Minstrels appear at the Grand tomorrow. It is seldom that any company carries as large a number of performers as do the Guy Brothers this season, among whom are Herman, known as the human bird;
Vally and Anold, a very clever dancing team. The Imperial Quartette will be heard here for the first time. The Davis Bros. have a musical act. Harry Simes will also make his first appearance here with this company. Don't miss seeing the grand street parade at noon tomorrow.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine."
"Alias Jimmy Valentine" appears at the Grand Wednesday night. In this remarkable play, which has been running two years in New York, the leading character is a professional safe-breaker, who has trained his finger tips to such a degree of sensitiveness, that he can detect the fall of the levers in a safe or vault by his sense of touch, thus being able to open it regardless of his ignorance of the combinations. The play is founded on a short story by the late O. Henry, called "A Retrieved Reformation." It is written in the straightforward manner of all Paul Armstrong's plays, and in the most successful manner, that prolific author ever wrote.

Madame Hallock Tonight.
Mme. Mary Hallock, the pianist, was born in a village in the Lebanon Mountains. At an early age she was placed in a private school owned by the German deaconess sisters in Beyrout, the most important seaport of Asia-Minor. The school was patronized by the different consular families for their children, as well as by the wealthier Levantine families, which so circumstances things that Russian, Greek, French, English, and other foreign children were found on the same school benches. It was on account of this cosmopolitanism that French was made the official language of the school,
and all the textbooks were in French.
The teachers being for the most part German, the German language was naturally much spoken. Besides this, it was the fashion among the pupils to exchange lessons in their several tongues, so that it thus transpired that Mme. Hallock was a linguist at an early age. She soon showed musical ability, and was the "star" at a school concert when barely 8 years old. If music is, as has been said, the trans-mutation of human experience into gold, who can doubt but that Mme.

Hallock's picturesque and unusual environment in her youth has had much to do with making her a pianiste of unusual individuality, a musician who fuses to be moulded to suit convention or vogue. Mme. Hallock will be heard here tonight.

Auditorium Recital.
The recital given last night in the
Y. M. C. A. Auditorium by Ernest D.
Gray, pianist-composer, and Boris Hambourg, cellist, was unfortunately attended by but a small audience, as the concert was a worthy one in every respect. Mr. Gray displayed admirable skill at the piano, and his compositions won much favor from those present. His "Ballade to Autumn," and "Rondeau Humoresque," were peculiar, among his best numbers. Mr.
Hambourg's mastery of the cello is widely recognized in musical circles,
and last night proved no exception.
"The Spinning Song," by Poppert and "Nocturne," by Crowell, elicited great applause.

AERIAL NAVY BILL
FOR GERMAN FLEET

Will Provide Maintenance of Twenty Zeppelin Airships.
Berlin, Nov. 28.—The discussion in the lobby of the Reichstag today centred on what is regarded as the certain appearance of Germany's first aerial navy bill. The recommendations made by the war office and the admiralty include the creation at the beginning of a fleet of twenty Zeppelin airships of about 920,000 cubic feet capacity, capable of travelling 51 miles an hour, and remaining aloft for four days and nights without an intermediate landing. They are to be capable of carrying and discharging
one ton of explosives.

TOOK SALTPETRE IN MISTAKE FOR SALTS

Zurich Young Woman Was Rushed to London Hospital for Treatment.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Zurich, Nov. 28.—A very distressing oversight was made recently by a young lady, daughter of a prominent merchant, who took a large quantity of powdered salt-petre, supposing it to be Epsom salts.
She was immediately taken very ill.
Medical aid was called, but as no relief was given, she was sent to a London hospital, where she received treatment.
She is now at home, and has not recovered fully yet.

WALKED IN SLEEP
DIED IN THE SNOW

Young Woman Was Missed at Breakfast and Search Revealed Tragedy.

Brookville, Nov. 28.—Getting out of her bed in what is presumed to have been a period of somnambulism, Miss Louise Moore, thirty-five years of age, daughter of Frederick L. Moore, a prominent farmer of Elizabethtown, met a terrible death early yesterday.
As she did not answer the call for breakfast, investigation was made,
and tracks in the snow led to the finding of her body in a field nearby.
She was attired in her nightdress, with but one stocking on, and the other in her hand. Dr. Hart, of Athens, was called, and found that death was due to exposure. Her father, four brothers and one sister survive.

District Personals

WINGHAM.

Wingham, Nov. 28.—Mr. Wm. Bingman, C. T. R. agent, formerly of Milverton, has been appointed C. T. R. agent
here.
The Exchange Hotel, which was partially destroyed by fire recently, owned by Mr. Lepard, has been renovated and is now open for business.
Four funerals were held here this week. They were those of Miss Holmes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Holmes, Kilnash, Mr. W. H. Knox of Morris,
Mrs. Alex. Porter, 77 years, and Mr. Ernest Simmons.
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stalker announce the wedding of their only daughter, Leu-ella E. Stalker, to Dr. E. H. Cook, early in December.
The sleigh bells have commenced to ring for the first time this season, as about five inches of snow fell. Citizens observed the snow bylaw, which was made by Mayor Spotton last year.
Miss N. Wade left today to visit friends in Brantford.

BLYTH.

Blyth, Nov. 28.—Mr. A. S. Bentley, of the Homestead Gold Mining Company, of Lead, South Dakota, who has been visiting his brother Mr. Jas. Bentley, left for a visit with relatives at Brooklyn and Jersey City. It is fifty years since the brothers last met, and they were very pleased to see one another.
Mr. P. Carter has traded his property here to Mr. Horney, of Westfield, for his farm property there. The moving will take place in a couple of weeks.
Quite an interest is being taken in the Morris Township local option fight by citizens here. Both sides know that whichever way it goes it will have an effect on the fight which will take place here in another year. Rev. Jewitt and Turner, from Blyth, gave addresses on the issue at Laidlaw's school on Wednesday evening.
The Oddfellows, at their regular meeting on Tuesday night, elected the following officers for the current term: N.
G. John Potts, V. G. W. Phillips, R. S.
A. W. Robinson, F. S. T. E. McTaggart, treasurer, J. Stothers.

BRUSSELS.

Brussels, Nov. 28.—Rev. D. B. McRae, of Cranbrook, who has accepted a call to Arncliffe, Bruce presbytery, will preach his farewell sermon next Sabbath. He has been 36 years on his present charge, and has rendered faithful and long-to-
be-remembered service.
Last Wednesday morning Henry Bateman, of Hespeler, died of tuberculosis.
He was in his 56th year. The funeral took place here Thursday afternoon. He was a brother to John Bateman, of Brussels.
East Huron Farmers' Institute meetings will be held here on Monday next.
Addresses are expected from Mrs. Mc-Turk, of Lucan, and Mr. Grose. Meetings both afternoon and evening.
The first sleighing of the season was on Thursday of this week, when cutters and sleighs were out.
Mrs. Hyslop, Dominion organizer for the W. C. T. U., will address a mass meeting in the town hall at 4 o'clock next Sunday, and will speak in the Methodist Church at 7.
Jabez Jermyn and family have moved to town from Morris Township, having sold their farm to Counsellor Elston.
Miss Alta Pryne was suddenly taken ill with her heart, and was under the doctor's care, but she has now practically recovered.
The monthly horse fair will be held Thursday of next week.
Miss Rattee gave addresses in the Presbyterian Church on Thursday on the moral reform work, of which she is an exponent.
The fine farm of Alex. Bryans, north of Brussels 2 1/2 miles, has been sold to Mrs. I. King, of Morris Township, for the sum of $6,500. There are 20 acres of good bush on the place, which is worth at least $1,200. Mr. Bryans will likely move to town.

EMBRO.

Embrow, Nov. 28.—"Why I Believe in Local Option" is the subject on which Rev. W. R. Osborne will speak in the Methodist Church next Sunday evening.
Mr. Alex. Gunn, who has been working at West Zorra cheese factory for some time, left recently for his home in Stratford.
The date of holding the entertainment for the Methodist Sunday school has been changed from Dec. 24 to Friday evening, Dec. 20. The change was made owing to Christmas eve being a busy night with everybody.
Mr. Fred Lriscoe, who has been with Mr. D. Day's apple packing gang for the past ten weeks, has left for Grimsby and New York, where he will spend a short time before leaving on a trip to his home in Ireland.
Mr. H. Rapp is moving to Stratford, and will discontinue the hotel business
altogether, owing to ill health.
Mrs. A. M. Riddle visited recently in London.
Mrs. Wm. Burtis, of London, is a visitor with Mr. and Mrs. E. Burtis.
H. Sutherland, of Ingersoll, was here recently.
Mrs. Jas. Goldspinks left on Tuesday
on a visit to friends in the old country.

PARKHILL.

Parkhill, Nov. 28.—Mr. Ezra Wikert and Mr. Geo. Bell have returned from the West, where they have spent the last few months.
Mr. Cecil Mollard, of Thorncliffe, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mollard, on Thursday and Friday.
Mrs. Joe Varley is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Hastings, of Stratford.
Work has commenced in drilling the well for the new water system to be installed here. So far, work has been very successful.
Miss Olive Hays is visiting at her home
here.
A public mass meeting will be held in the town hall on Sunday next by the Dominion Alliance. Rev. Dr. W. S. Mc-Tavish, field secretary, will address the meeting, while Master Ernest Morgan, of Toronto, soprano soloist, will render several selections.
Barnie Cunningham, of Elderton, was here on Thursday.

EXPERT WILL REPORT ON BREAKWATER

Mr. Willis Chipman Will Tell
City How Best to Protect West London.

WARREN CO. STOPS WORK

No Further Repairs Are To Be Made on Talbot Street—Rinks in the Parks.

Mr. Willis Chipman, consulting engineer, will be asked to report on the best methods of protecting the West London breakwater. At the meeting of the board of works last evening, the question was brought up in connection with the report of City Engineer Brazier, on the best way of dealing with this problem, and the board was invited to have Mr. Chipman give his opinion on the question.

According to Mr. Brazier, there were two methods of protecting West London. The first, and the one he recommended, was to build a sloping gravel and earth embankment, faced with cement block or stone. The cost of this work would be $24,000. The other was to build a vertical concrete wall reinforced and piled, to protect the suburb. This would cost about $60,000. Mr. Brazier thought the gravel embankment would be plenty good enough.

Ald. Moore advised the board to secure the services of an independent expert to report on the matter. "I suggested this earlier in the year," he said. "I think it the best possible thing to do, under the circumstances. Mr. Chipman is available at the present time, and we can secure his services at no great expense. I think we should be advised what is the best course to pursue."

Ald. Coles agreed with the proposition, and Mayor Graham and Chairman Robinson were named a committee to secure Mr. Chipman's services.

No More Repairs.
A communication was received from the Warren Fung Company, saying that owing to the cold weather it was impossible to complete the repairs on Talbot street this year. They had no objection to the city doing the work and charging it up to them.

"The guarantee on the Talbot street pavement expires this year," explained City Engineer Brazier. "I think we had better notify them to complete the repairs, and if they cannot do so this year, to obtain an agreement from them to do the work next spring."

This was agreeable to the board, and City Solicitor Meredith and Mr. Brazier were instructed to proceed in the matter.

More Room for Railway.
A number of plans were submitted, showing that it was necessary to remove the curbs and gutters at Horton and Richmond, Oxford and Richmond, Ridout and Elmwood, and other streets, in order to give the London street railway more room to make turns. The board recommended that the work be done, provided that the company pay the expense.

The G. T. R. Company refused to put in two flood-gates at the cove to take away the water in the spring-time, and the London street railway insisted in putting in one 30-inch tile to drain the cove, instead of a culvert 4 feet by 10, washed away in the flood last spring. City Engineer Brazier declared that it was necessary that something be done at once, and he was instructed to notify the companies to straighten out the tangle.

Rinks in Parks.
Ald. Coles was anxious to have skating rinks in the city parks, but as this matter was under the control of the parks commission, that body will be allowed to look after it.

Thomas Martin was awarded the contract for the Barwell street sewer, to cost $475.20, and the Queens Place sewer, to cost $425.50.

Those present were: Ald. Robinson, Ald. Coles, Ald. Moore, Ald. Coles, Ald. Elandford, Mayor Graham, City Engineer Brazier and Secretary Frank Hughes.

PRESIDENT DIPROSE DENIES THE STORY

Retail Grocers Are Not Opposed to the Pure Food Bylaw.

The story that the Retail Grocers' Association will oppose the pure food bylaw at the meeting of the city council on Monday is classed as a fabrication by the officers of the association.

President Diprose stated to The Advertiser that no one had been given authority to say that the Retail Grocers' Association would oppose the new bylaw. "Although I have not considered the proposed measure very carefully I have not heard of anything in it that will be opposed by the grocers. In fact, I think that the grocers are strongly in favor of such a bylaw."

Secretary Shaw said that there was

For Two Years SUFFERED SEVERE PAIN IN THE BACK.

Many people fail to understand the significance of a lame, weak, sore or aching back.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Take notice of the warning and cure the backache on the first sign, for if you don't do this, serious complications are sure to arise, and perhaps develop into Dropsy, Diabetes or Bright's Disease, the three most deadly forms of kidney trouble.

Doan's Kidney Pills go right to the seat of the trouble, cure the back and prevent any further trouble from the kidneys.

Mrs. D. J. McInnis, Carleton, P.E.I., writes: "For two years I had a severe pain in my back. I was so bad that when I would stoop down I could not straighten up for quite a time. I got a box of Doan's Kidney Pills and they helped me so I kept on using them until I had used three boxes, and now I am completely cured. I think they are the only remedy for disordered kidneys."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50 cents a box, a dozen for $1.25, at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. M. L. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

TWO CLASSES

Junior Bible Work in Centennial Methodist Church is Growing.

Mr. S. O. Lancaster's Junior Bible Class, composed of young men and ladies in the Centennial Methodist Church, has increased to such an extent that the Sunday school executive have decided to form two classes out of one. In the future the young ladies and young men will study scripture lessons separately. The former have secured Mrs. (Rev.) Graham as their teacher, while Mr. Lancaster will continue with the boys.

The same evening that the change was decided on, the Bible class held a social, when the members invited their friends to make merry with them. Mr.

MILLIONAIRE'S NIECE HAS DISAPPEARED

Fifteen-Year-Old Girl Is Believed to Have Been Kidnapped.

New York, Nov. 29.—The police of New York and neighboring cities are searching today for 15-year-old Marion Ego, niece of Jacob Doll, millionaire piano manufacturer. Her uncle believes that she has been kidnapped, and declares that he will spend an unlimited amount of money to find the little girl.

The police say that Miss Ego had complained to Mr. Doll on several occasions recently that she had been followed on the street by a strange man of middle age. She disappeared on Tuesday while walking home.

A THEATRE FOR CHILDREN

Only Institution of Its Kind Is To Be Opened in New York.

[Canadian Press.]
New York, Nov. 29.—A children's theatre, the only playhouse in the world devoted exclusively to the entertainment of children, is to be opened in New York next Monday. The funds for the enterprise were provided by Wm. K. Vanderbilt, but it is expected to be practically self-supporting.

The auditorium, which is placed on the roof of the building erected by Mr. Vanderbilt and others for their new theatre enterprise, will seat 800 children, and has 12 boxes. The wall decorations are in nursery style and grant arched windows, looking out over Central Park, give it an abundance of pure fresh air. Plays are to be given in the afternoon, beginning at 2:30 o'clock, an hour convenient for school children.

GAS, SOURNESS AND INDIGESTION VANISH

As Soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" Gets in Stomach All Distress Is Gone.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, dyspepsia, gas, heartburn and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember the moment Diapepsin comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvellous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

PRIZE GOES TO CANUCK.
Chicago, Nov. 29.—The committee to whom was assigned the decision upon the merits of the papers contesting for the economic prizes offered by Messrs. Hart-Schaffner & Marx, of Chicago, for 1912, has been unanimously awarded the first prize of $1,000 to Albert H. Leake, inspector of technical education for Ontario, for a study entitled "Industrial Education, Its Methods, Problems and Dangers."

This is the eighth year of these prizes, and the first time a Canadian has scored an award. All the papers were written under a nom de plume. The committee making the award represents the Universities of Chicago, Columbia, Michigan and Harvard. The study will be published by the committee and is now being prepared for the printer.

CANNERY FOR BLENHEIM.
[Special to The Advertiser.]
Blenheim, Nov. 29.—Blenheim will secure a $40,000 cannery if a bylaw to be submitted to the electors shortly carries, and there is every indication that it will. The British Canadian Cannery is behind the proposition, and in return for certain concessions agree to locate here.
