The Christmas Story

And she brought forth her first-born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them...

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

Luke 2:7-9, 13, 14.

Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, Where is he that is born King of the Jews? For we have seen his star in the east, and are come to worship him...

And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh.

Matt. 2:1, 2, 11.

Legitimate Demands of Negro Must be Met Moynihan Says

"If you think the legitimate demands of the Negro are being satisfied, you're wrong... There is no longer a question of what the white man wants to give; it is a question of what he must give."

These are the words of former Assistant Secretary of Labor Daniel Moynihan to CBS News correspondent Bill Stout in an interview seen of CBS Reports "Watts: Riot or Revolt?" The IBM-sponsored special program broadcast Tuesday, Dec. 7, 10-11 p.m. (ET) on CBS Television.

Moynihan is the principal author of the officially unreleased Moynihan Report, widely publicized as the basis of President Johnson's acclaimed speech at Howard University. The social scientist talks at length of the conclusions he formed in his study of Negro family life in America.

The broadcast, produced by Jack Beck, pointed out the national character of the urgent problem facing large cities where thousands of Americans are cut off from the mainstream of American aspirations and culture.

"Some Americans may be outraged," comments Beck about the program. "Some may be stimulated to think, everyone will be made uncomfortable; in fact no one will like the show."

"The problem it raises is whether or not the American people want to or will stand for being made uncomfortable."

THE EVERGREEN

There are many beautiful stories and legends regarding the origin of the Christmas tree. One of the most beautiful of the myths is the story of the three trees which grew near the manger where the Christ Child was born. The olive tree and the fig tree gave generously of their fruits to the infant child but the evergreen, not being blessed by nature, had no fruit to offer. The stars, seeing its plight, came down and rested in its branches, proclaiming henceforth it should be the emblem of that Holy Night.

AMA Warns Of "Drug Habit"

New York — It is becoming more and more socially acceptable to escape from tensions and anxieties through the use of barbiturates and so-called "minor tranquilizers". But, the American Medical Association warns, prolonged use of these sedatives can lead to drug-dependency.

Patients often mislead doctors about their need for or past experience with drugs, the AMA notes. They also endanger themselves by prolonged unsupervised use of barbiturates or by over use of nonprescription remedies without thought to their cumulative effect.

The drug habit, once established, is not easy to break and, says the AMA, the barbiturate-dependent person can be compared to an opiate-dependent.

A CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

by The Reverend Winston H. H. Clarke

Minister of Bethemanuel Church
London, Ontario

"A CALL TO GOODWILL AMONG MANKIND"
—St. Luke, second chapter, fourteenth verse: Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, goodwill toward men.

Over forty-five years we have experienced much fear and doubt, that goodwill among men has been a word not seriously considered, this failure on our part has led us into many divergencies. The basis for peace must rest on the principle of goodwill among men, and should not be taken lightly or inadvisedly. We are bound to admit that some men have power, while others lack it. We habitually attribute power to native talent or to education or to an individual high station in an affluent society, all of these are important, of course!

It has now become commonplace in our society to see men develop power far out of proportion to their human need for power. Many of the world's most gifted sons do not accomplish a great deal, while many of those far less gifted, come slowly into power that seems akin to a great natural force.

If we feverishly prepare for the celebration of Christmas, no greater call is more urgent than a clarion call to all men and nations to think on the tremendous power that can be developed and obtained through the practice of "goodwill", not only at Christmas but throughout all the year. Let us celebrate this Christmas in true christian tribute to His first coming. He ushered into this world a new plan for goodwill among men, for He lived a life of gentleness of spirit, in the beatitude He stated: Happy are the poor in spirit, for their's is the kingdom of Heaven. Our duty this Christmas is to realize that every beatitude is the promise of happiness to those who have ceased to make demands on life and so are open to its spiritual enrichments.

May the angelic voices again sound their vibrant and joyous call: Glory to God in the Highest, and on Earth, Peace and Goodwill To All the nations of the earth.

YULE IS TIME FOR CUSTOMS

As the world grows smaller, Christmas observances in different countries grow more similar. Santa Claus in red suit and white beard drives his reindeer-drawn sleigh to North, Central and South America and to many other countries as well.

In fact, when the first explorer lands of Mars, he shouldn't be too surprised to discover that Santa, and even Rudolph, got there. Sharing of Christmas customs, however, only serves to point up the fact that this is a holiday for everyone, and a holiday which draws ideas from all lands and times, uniting them in both religious and secular observances of the season.

In Mexico—

Celebrating the posada is a Mexican custom focused on the Nativity.

"Posada" means "lodging" or "inn," and for the nine "posada" days from December 16-25, churches, hotels, social groups and families throughout Mexico act out the story of the nativity.

A procession of pilgrims comes to the place where the celebration is scheduled. They carry clay figures of Mary and Joseph, and they seek shelter from the "innkeepers" within.

At first the innkeepers refuse, then they admit the pilgrims to feast and rejoice. Figures representing Mary and Joseph are placed in a replica of the manger. On Christmas Eve, the figure representing Jesus is added.

In Holland—

Gift-giving season in Holland traditionally begins on December 5 and is called "Strooivand" or "strewing night." Children place their shoes by the fireplace, filled with carrots and hay for St. Nicholas' horse—in the expectation that on the morrow the shoes will contain candy, fruit and toys.

In Scotland—

Christmas feast favorites in Scotland include shortbread, a rich cake or cookie, and haggis, a kind of pudding. New Years Eve, or Hogmanay, is the principal day for gifts and greetings when children go singing from house to house, in hopes of a treat. New Year's visits are paid—and it's customary for the visitors to bring along a pocketful of coal.

In Portugal—

Christmas is the occasion for a family celebration among the Portuguese. Families gather on Christmas Eve for dinner at the home of the oldest living relative. After the children have gone to bed, a crib or creche is placed before the fireplace, and around it are grouped the children's shoes which serve the same function as Christmas stockings.

Remembers Bethlehem

"O Little Town of Bethlehem," a U.S. carol, was written by Episcopal Bishop Phillips Brooks in 1868, while he was rector of Holy Trinity Church in Philadelphia.

On a trip to the Holy Land two years earlier, he had seen the "little town of Bethlehem" on Christmas Eve, and the vivid memory of this scene later led to the writing of the carol.

Pay no attention to what critics say. There has never been set up a statue in honor of a critic.

It is in loving—not in being loved—
The heart is blest;
It is in giving—not in seeking gifts—
We find our quest.

Christmas Cooking Ideas For The Holiday Gourmet

Although we always like to have a good supply of cookies on hand all year round, Christmas is the time when we try to out do ourselves and have the best. The personal touch of a lively box of these goodies as a gift for a special friend or shut-in means a great deal. With the convenience of a freezer, we can eliminate the need for all that last minute bustle by baking now, freezing, and then using them over the entire season.

If you wish to freeze cookies we recommend packing them into a box or container which will protect the cookies from damage through crushing. Wrap the box tightly in heavy duty foil. When you come to use them simply remove the box from the freezer and leave at room temperature for 4 to 5 hours. Do not unwrap or the cookies will become soggy.

Try some of our favorites for your baking this year.

Research Is Vital To Picture Industry

To the average moviegoer each event taking place in a motion picture is usually believable, but often there are those who have excellent memories and the least slip in accuracy can cause embarrassment to the movie makers.

Therefore, it becomes important to have technical advisors and a research team at work. The following questions are an indication of the type research that was done for Metro-Goldwyn - Mayer's "Operation Crossbow."

Could George Peppard have flown a P-38 in 1943?

Was an American agent parachuted into German-occupied Holland in 1943 as part of Winston Churchill's "Operation Crossbow," aimed at finding and destroying Hitler's last effort to win the war?

A Toast
To Health

San Francisco, Calif. — Scripture and science were invoked recently to prove that wine is good for you (when imbibed in moderation) as well as being pleasing to palate.

California's Wine Institute points out that Hippocrates, the great Greek physician who lived 500 years before Christ; St. John, and Pasteur agreed that wine seems to have health-giving properties.

It was St. John who advised Timothy to "Drink no longer water but to use a little wine for the stomach's sake." And Louis Pasteur declared: "Wine is the most healthful and most hygienic of all beverages." — though doctors generally might favor Pasteurized milk.

A present day physician, Dr. Russell V. Lee, Professor Emeritus at Stanford University School of Medicine, says, "... The moderate use of wine while eating is the pleasantest and probably the most effective tranquilizer known to medical men."

CHRISTMAS

One thinks I like about Christmas is the fact that it seems to remind us of our better impulses. Men and women who through all other times of the year are hard and calloused, self-centered and entirely wrapped up in themselves seem to thaw out when they come in contact with the Christmas spirit.

Here is a reputation that I would like to have live after me, so ably expressed by Dickens in "A Christmas Carol." "It was always said of him that he knew how to keep Christmas well, if any man alive possessed the knowledge."

Perhaps it is well Christmas comes at the end of the year for it is at year's end we review our twelve months' labor, its regards, its losses, its benefactors. It is perhaps then we ascertain our shortcomings and the Christmas season gives us an opportunity to repent and make amends. If the Christmas Spirit is something that can cause such a thing to come to pass, the world is blessed by it.

EDUCATION FOR MARRIAGE A "MUST" FOR STABILITY

by Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service

Toronto (WMNS)—When young couples start having babies soon after marriage and before they've been able to establish stable relationships with each other, they are heading for marital shipwreck. This is what Prof. Ethel Nash, president of the American Association of Marriage Counselors told Women's Medical News Service at a recent meeting here.

Not only is the marriage endangered, says the professor, who teaches at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine, Winston-Salem, N.C., but an atmosphere is created in the home in which the children feel neither wanted nor understood.

What are the possible consequences for these children when they grow to adulthood? Professor Nash believes that "there is a very real danger that such unhappy family situations tend to perpetuate themselves. People whose own childhood and family relationships have been unsound," she says, "tend to find marital partners with similar unfortunate backgrounds. Having no pattern of happy marriages to follow, being full of unresolved conflicts that originated in the childhood, such couples are often quite unable to build stable marriages. The result: another generation of unhappy marriages, unwanted children."

Can this cycle be broken? It can be, says Mrs. Nash, but only if we face up to the reasons behind the breakup of one in two teenage marriages within five years of the wedding date, and usually after the birth of one or more children.

Reasons for Teen Divorce

One reason is faulty or inadequate education on human sexuality, conception control and family living. The marriage counselor points out that young people generally go from nursery school through college without being taught about the human reproductive system, sex drives, and differences between male and female sexuality.

Young people are surrounded by sexually stimulating ads, stories, movies and TV shows, Mrs. Nash notes. They observe values which seem to place a higher worth on a sexually attractive model or movie star than on any other person. "Is it any wonder," the marriage counselor asks, "that young people have faulty notions about what sex is, how and when it can be best expressed, how it can be guided and controlled to achieve maximum happiness?"

Similarly, few young people have anything like an adequate knowledge of conception control. With 45 per cent of women and 15 per cent of men marrying for the first time under 20 years of age, Mrs. Nash says, this information must be made available to young people before they wander haphazardly into parenthood and begin the cycle of broken marriages. (She notes that one sixth of all marriages, and one half to one third of all teenage marriages, take place with the girl pregnant at the marriage ceremony.)

"A partnership must be established between home, school, church, the medical profession and other appropriate community resources for honest, informed education in these areas," Mrs. Nash maintains.

Youth Pushed into Marriage

Another reason for disastrous marriages, according to Mrs. Nash, is that parents often push their children into early marriages. This is despite the almost universal recognition that the teen years are full of stress, that young people are trying to find out who and what they are, and are trying to reconcile new and unfamiliar physical and emotional drives. They are searching, in short, for themselves, Mrs. Nash says. Before they have found themselves, however, they are urged by parents or by other social pressures to find a mate, marry and settle down.

How can such marriages succeed? says Mrs. Nash. In most instances the teenagers have not yet resolved all the conflicts raging inside themselves; they have not evolved sound values or

Michael Marentette Appointed As Human Rights Officer

Michael J. Marentette has been appointed as Human Rights Officer for the new Windsor-Chatham Regional Office of the Ontario Human Rights Commission—the first regional office to be opened in the province. Mr. Marentette graduated from the University of Windsor with a B.A. in sociology in 1963 and subsequently spent two years as a high school teacher in Nigeria. During his senior year at university he served as Assistant to the Advisor of Foreign Students.

The new office will be located in the Ontario Department of Labour quarters at 2149 University Avenue W., Windsor. It will serve Essex and Kent Counties as far east as Chatham. Mr. Marentette will work closely with existing human rights organizations in this area.

Human Rights Conference in 1967

The annual Conference of Commissions for Human Rights will convene in Toronto in the late spring of 1967. The Conference is composed of thirty-two municipal, state and provincial human rights commissions on this continent, including Alaska, Oregon, California, Utah, Michigan, Pennsylvania, New York and many others. Ontario and the Federal Department of Labour were among the early members. Conference sessions are generally concerned with the administration of fair employment, housing and public accommodation statutes, and the sharing of problems experienced among the member commissions.

The invitation to meet in Canada during the centennial year was extended at this year's Conference, held in New York City from June 30th to July 2nd, and the recommendation enthusiastically endorsed by the delegates. It has been the custom of the Conference to gather in different locales throughout the United States and Canada. Next years meetings will be held in Colorado.

Dr. Louis Fine, Chairman of the Ontario Human Rights Commission, will be the chairman of the Conference.

Christmas

The minstrels played their Christmas tune.

Tonight beneath my cottage eaves;

While, smitten by a lofty moon,

The encircling laurels, thick with leaves,

Gave back a rich and dazzling sheen,

That overpowered their natural Green.

Through hill and valley every breeze

Had sunk to rest with folded wings;

Keen was the air, but could not freeze,

Nor check the music of the strings;

So stout and hardy were the band

That scraped the chords with strenuous hand.

And who but listened? till was paid

Respect to every inmate's claim;

The greeting given, the music play

In honor of each household name,

Duly pronounced with lusty call,

And "Merry Christmas" wished to all!

Who Will Take GRAMMA?

Who will take grandma? Who will it be? All of us want her; I'm sure you'll agree.

Let's call a meeting; let's gather the clan; let's get it settled as soon as we can.

In such a large family there's certainly one willing to give her a place in the sun.

Strange how we thought she'd never wear out, but see how she walks; arthritis no doubt.

Her eyesight is fading, her memory is dim, she's apt to insist on the sillient whim.

When persons get older they become such a care; she must have a home, the question is, where?

Remember the days when she used to be spry? Bake her own cookies and made her own pie?

Helped us with our lessons and tended our seams; kissed away our troubles and mended our dreams?

Wonderful grandma, we all love her so; isn't it dreadful, she's no place to go!

One little corner is all she would need; a shoulder to cry on, her Bible to read:

A chair by the window, the sun shining through, some pretty spring flowers still covered with dew.

Who'll warm her with love so she won't mind the cold; O, who will take grandma now she is old?

What! nobody wants her? O yest there is One, willing to give her a place in the sun;

Where she won't have a worry or wonder or doubt, and she won't be a problem to bother about.

Pretty soon now God will give her a bed, but who'll dry our tears when grandma is dead?

DAIRY

You Can Believe It!

AS LITTLE AS 2½ POUNDS OF IRON IN A MILLION GALLONS OF WATER IS ENOUGH TO CAUSE STAINING OF CHINA, PORCELAIN AND WASHABLE FABRICS.

THE AVERAGE WATER SUPPLY BRINGS OVER 70 LBS. OF DISSOLVED ROCK INTO THE HOME EVERY YEAR IN THE FORM OF WATER HARDNESS.

TO SOLVE THESE PROBLEMS, PRESENT WATER CONDITIONING EQUIPMENT, ACCORDING TO THE CULLIGAN WATER INSTITUTE, SOFTENS ENOUGH WATER EACH DAY TO FILL A ROW OF 8-OUNCE GLASSES REACHING TO THE MOON AND BACK, A DISTANCE OF 477,714 MILES.

INDUSTRY TOO NEEDS HIGH QUALITY WATER. 800 GALLONS OF MINERAL-FREE WATER CAN MAKE THE DIFFERENCE BETWEEN FLYING A JET AIR LINER TO EUROPE OR MAKING AN EXPENSIVE REFUELING STOP. WATER INJECTION CAN INCREASE THE ALLOWABLE TAKE-OFF WEIGHT FROM 10 TO 18 ADDITIONAL TONS -- OR 9% TO 15% IN EXTRA PAY LOAD OR FUEL.

Of Mice And Men

HERE IS A MAN! — A pal of ours recently thought it would be a good idea to join the local Moose Club. He was given the application. Below the usual spaces for name, address, city, age occupation, is this sentence (in very small type). "I hereby certify that I am of sound mind and body, being a member of the Caucasian, white race, and not married to one of any other race, and a believer in a Supreme Being." Our pal really wanted to join the Moose, but threw the application form in the trash — where it belongs.

It can be argued that Canadian Moose are only following the constitution of International HQ at Mooseheart, Ill. There's only one thing about that argument, if that's the line Canadian Moose take, they would appear to be more mice than Moose . . . Welcome to Selma, Ontario.

Christmas Through A Child's Eyes

It was Christmas time a year ago. He had taken his young daughter downtown to the toy section of a large department store. The child was thrilled, of course.

When home, however, she kept talking about "those bells" and how pretty they sounded. He couldn't remember any bells but a few days later on, while passing the store, he noticed small bells over the doorway which rang gently as the door was opened. They did give out a beautiful tone. In his hurry and hustle he had missed them altogether.

How much better it would be for all of us if we could see Christmas through the eyes of a child. We would not miss the many little things which make Christmas so worthwhile. We gulp our turkey without realizing the loving care which has gone into its preparation . . . we give gifts without experiencing the full joy of giving . . . we look at pictures of men on camels and above them the Star of Bethlehem without fully realizing that Christmas is the birthday of a poor child born in a manger — our Christ.

With the above in mind, accept our wishes for an understanding Christmas and a full measure of happiness during the New Year.

Greetings and Good Wishes . . .

75,000 In Ontario To Get Pension At 69

Over 75,000 residents of Ontario will soon be eligible to receive the Old Age Security pension at age 69. 37,000 of these will reach age 69 during 1965 and should apply immediately in order that cheques may be received commencing January, 1966. Another 38,000 will reach age 69 during 1966 and should apply six months ahead of the 69th birthday so that cheques can be received commencing the month following the 69th birthday. This has been made possible as a result of a recent change in the Old Age Security Act. Beginning January 1, 1966, the eligible age will be reduced to 69. There will be a similar lowering of the age requirement by one year in January of each succeeding year until 1970 when the pensionable age will be 65 years.

Persons receiving Old Age Assistance or a Disabled Persons allowance do not need to send in an application form. The Provincial Department of Public Welfare will apply on their behalf.

Application forms may be obtained at any Post Office or from the office of the Regional Director of Old Age Security and when completed, should be sent to the Regional Director of Old Age Security, 25 St. Clair Ave. East, Toronto 7, Ontario.

Growing Old

This Christmas, Pete is fourteen, and he has told Us, "No toys please, this Christmas. I'm to old. This year, I just want clothes or money." And We know he is too old. We understand. But what will Christmas be like without toys? I tell his mother, "It will mean less noise." But will it still be Christmas not to see His eyes light up at what's beneath the tree Or hear him shout, "My bike! I got my bike!" Or, "Gosh, Dad, an erector set just like The one we looked at last week in the store. Gee, thanks!" No more of this? Not ever more. No baseballs to be thrown through windowpanes, No kites to catch in trees, no model planes To stick together with stickiest glue A father ever stuck the wrong things to, No chemistry sets to ruin his mothers sink Or blow the basement up or make a stink, No roller skates to mar the floors — and yet The toyless prospect only brings regret. I hope our friends won't think we're both insane; I've asked his mother for an electric train, And I am giving her a game of darts— For Christmas is a small boy in our hearts.
