ACTOR RETURNING TO HOME TOWN

"The Lawd" in Green Pastures Will Present Marc Connelly Play
Here

When Richard B. Harrison, 70-year old star of The Green Pastures pilots his rusky troupe into this city late this October there to present the Marc Connelly play, the occasion will be a homecoming—after 50 years—for the elderly actor.

It was in London, of fugitive slave parents, that "the Lawd" was born on September 28, 1864. There, as a youth, he sold newspapers, and upon the death of his father, became the sole support of his mother and three other children. Eventually, making his way to Detroit while still in his teens, he was befriended by Edward Weitzel, a newspaper man of that city. Mr. Weitzel arranged for him to study under the best available dramatic teachers. During this period he supported himself in a limited variety of ways open to him. Like another distinguished member of his race, Roland Hayes, he was at one time a hotel bell-boy.

Successively a train porter, pullman car waiter and jack-of-all-trades around a Chicago police station, Harrison continued his studies, finally in 1892, at the age of 28, making his platform debut. For years thereafter he toured the southern United States and sections of Canada on Chautauqua and Lyceum circuits, delivering readings in tents, churches and schools. About ten years ago he accepted a faculty position with the Agricultural and Technical College of Greensboro, N.C., where he remained until the opportunity to play "the Lawd" came to him five years ago.

Although the Green Pastures has twice been presented in Toronto and was enthusiastically acclaimed on both occasions, it was not until a week ago that the producer, Laurence Rivers, was able to arrange for the presentation in London, permitting "the Lawd" to return home. And so, on Monday, October 29, the white-haired benevolent old gentleman, now world famous, after having portrayed the deity more than 1500 times on stages from Massachusetts to California and from Toronto to Texas, will, at last, have an opportunity to appear before the folks back home.

AMAZING TORONTO VICTOR

ABOVE is shown Sam Richardson, grinning 15-year-old Toronto school-boy, who captured the broad jump for Canada at the British Empire games in London, Eng., yesterday. The colored sensation topped the greatest jumpers in the Empire with a leap of 23 feet 6 1/2 inches. It was an amazing feat for one so young. Richardson will likely be a member of the Canadian school-boy track team which will visit Australia this fall.

Night Comes Walking

By Esther Popel

Night comes walking out our way
In a velvet gown.
Soft she steps to music gay,
As only lovely ladies may,
While hidden cricket pipers play
In Ardwick Towne.

And in her hair, wind-tossed an free,
A million stars are tucked away—
The glint of silver carelessly
Encrusting polished ebony—
A true coquette and bold is she,
This lady gay!

The gleam of laughter in her eyes
While low she bends o'er growing things,
Is caught by rosy fireflies
Who flit about her, fall and rise
Like stars gone crazy in the skies
On magic wings!

Night treads softly out our way
In her sable gown,
Holds her breath while babies pray,
Chuckles, seeing love at play,
Then with Down she slips away,
In Ardwick Towne!

THE ALPHAS GIVE $4000 FOR UPLIFT

Fund Goes for Foundation to Help
In Racial Causes

CHICAGO, Ill. — (ANP) — The special convention of the Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity held here August 19-22 for the purpose of defining the aims of its Education Foundation revealed the determination of this group of college men to come to grips with the most pressing problems of the day.

Most significant was the appropriation of $3,625 for the work of this foundation during the years 1934-35. Of this amount $2,300 was allotted to scholarships and fellowships alone.

The foundation has in addition the duties of studying the various federal agencies, such as the PWA the AAA, and the FERA to discover the ways by which Negroes may obtain the maximum benefits from them, of seeking to raise the level of scholarship among Negro students, of obtaining equitable educational facilities in the middle Atlantic States where colored students are denied admission to white land grant colleges and of encouraging Negroes to exercise their right of suffrage and to break down the barriers which exclude them from this right.

The dominant note of the convention was the conviction that the interests of college men and women are inextricably interwoven with those of the race who have not been granted the same opportunities. Consequently appropriations were made for such organizations as the Joint Committee on National Recovery and the N.A.A.C.P. addition the fraternity has taken out a life membership in the Association for the study of Negro life and history. In all, the fraternity will spend during the coming two years more than four thousand dollars for education and for advancing the political and economic interests of the race.

The convention was the guest of Theta and Xi Lambda chapters of Chicago which has an active membership of more than 150 college men. Attorney Sydney Brown was the chairman of the committee of the special convention where the fraternity elaborated a program which it is believed, establishes a high watermark in the serious endeavors of college fraternities.

DOCTORS TAKE NEW ACTION RE PROGRESS

NASHVILLE, Tenn., — (ANP) — The 40th annual session of the National Medical Association which has just been closed at Nashville, Tenn., is in many respects one of the most outstanding sessions in the whole history of the organization. For the first time in many years and despite the effects of the depression, the association has paid debts old and new of over $1600 and is entirely out of the red and has a small balance to begin another year's work. This outstanding example of hard work, resulting in a successful issue, has been due very largely to the fine organization work of last year's president, Dr. M. O. Bousfield of Chicago, General Secretary C. A. Lanon of Brownsville, Pa. and the new president of the association, Dr. J. H. Hale of Nashville. These three stalwarts were ably assisted by Dr. Geo. W. Bowles of York, Pa., chairman of the executive board and Dr. R. T. Belsaw of Mobile, Ala., secretary of the executive board and Dr. John A. Kennedy, editor of the Journal of the Association, Dr. Harry W. Barnes of Philadelphia is the new president-elect of the Association and New Orleans, La. is the place of meeting for another year.

Some interesting legislation was passed at this session. Claims that the NMA has been ruled from within will be forever silenced by the passage of constitutional amendments affecting the makeup of the House of Delegates. Hereafter members of the House of Delegates will be chosen and certified to in the local organizations of the association on the basis of one delegate to any ten paid up member or fraction thereof in the local unit. This is expected to remove a lot of politics from the convention by having these delegates elected at home, and make the organization thoroughly representative of all its members in all sections of the country. This legislation was enthusiastically received by the membership and quickly passed over the faint protests of a few objectionists.

New constitutions are to be printed and sold to the membership at cost and a list of the active members of the Association is to be published for distribution to members.

Heretofore some friction has resulted from having several organizations meeting at the same time and place without any co-ordinating body.

Brantford Church for Indians first
Protestant Church in Canada

Loyalty of the Six Nations to Great Britain

It is well to remember that white loyalists were not the only residents within the boundaries of the United States who expatriated themselves or were expatriated in consequence of the war of American Independence and who settled in Canada.

The Six Nations (comprising the six tribes formerly the Iroquois confederacy) were consistently on the British side during the war and that prominent among them were the Mohawks led by Joseph Brant, brother of Molly Brant who had borne arms under William Johnson against the French and who seems to have followed Guy Johnson to Canada and taken part in opposing the American advance upon Montreal.

When peace was signed containing no recognition of the Six Nations or of native rights, the Indians complained with some reason, that their interests had been sacrificed by Great Britain. Under these circumstances Governor Haldimand offered them lands on the British sides of the lakes and a number of them—more especially the Mohawks, permanently changed their dwelling-place still to remain under the great father, the King of England (George III).

There were two principal settlements, one was on the Bay of Quinte, west of Kingston. A larger and more important settlement was on the Grand River, flowing into lake Erie, due west of the Niagara River.

A large number of the Six Nations Indians adhered to the English connection and left their old homes forever. Most of them became members of the Church of England and the first church built in the Province of Ontario is said to have been one for the Mohawks. Mr. Lucas in his book entitled "A History of Canada, 1763-1812" states "Before the War of American Independence the Mohawks had a church built for them in their own country in the present state of New York by the British Government to which Queen Anne in 1712 presented silver communion plate and a Bible. The plate was inscribed with the Royal Arms, in 1712, of Her Majesty Anne by the Grace of God, of Great Britain, France and Ireland and her plantations in North America, Queen to her Indian Chapel of the Mohawks 1712, and the Bible was inscribed, "To Her Majesty's Church of the Mohawks, 1712."

After the War of Independence two churches were built in Canada for the Mohawks, who had emigrated to remain under British rule, one begun in 1785 on the Grand River at the present town of Brantford, and one on the Bay of Quinte.

The Brantford Church was the first Protestant Church in Canada and a bell said to be the first bell to call to prayer in Ontario and a Royal Coat of Arms were sent out to it by the British Government in 1786. This church was known as St. Paul's Church of the Mohawks, and more generally called the "Old Mohawk Church."

Norma 'Dracula' Matthews a recent visitor to London, spent an enjoyable hour in a car with the lovely Miss Greta Nicholson

Mr. Henry Wright, notable for his bow legs has suffered a relapse. The immediate cause is the departure of a lovely young lady from Chicago L.W.

Mr. Chas. Bell will be ambling over to New York in the near future. We learn his heart throb, Miss Anne D'Belle has journeyed there.

Mr. William Wright, the answer to a maiden's prayer, also a heavy sleeper, is confined to his bed with neuritis brought about by the departure of Miss Helen Hines.

Frequent visits by some handsome boys from Buffalo to Toronto have disturbed the usual polish and poise of many Toronto boys including Raymond Coker.

Miss Mabel Green is a uodel customer at a corner drug store. She boosts business immensely. We think she gets a commission.

Miss Winnafred King of Leona, Ohio is leading a certain prominent young man a merry parade. Whoever heard of a love hexagon?

Mr. Melvin Grayson has a year to attend Central High School of Commerce. The reason is the addition of a new student. G.D.

Mr. Frank Mars is a hard man to convince. Miss M. G. gave him the air twice and he is back for more.

Miss Gwen Jackson is still baking pies for Ladysman Wright.

Just a Wearyin for you Davis sang his song again after the departure of Miss Ruth May Bailey of Freeport, Ill., and is still crooning about her hair.

"I have represented Christianity as the culmination of a great flowering-time of spiritual religion in Asia and Europe. I have done this because our opponents have tried to isolate our religion from the rest of our civilization, of which it is really the highest expression.

I have shown how much there is in common between the faith of the church and the noblest traditions of Greek philosophy and even the purest teachings of the other great world-religion, that of Budha. But do not suppose that I want you to be honorary members of all religions. We can no more profess a religion which is no religion in particular than we can speak in a tongue which is no language in particular. There exists a sort of religious Esperanto which is a lifeless, cold-blooded affair, like the morality of ethical societies. No, I want you to go whole heartedly Christian and if you belong to the C. of E. to make that your spiritual home. Just as we may preserve nationality without nationalism, so we may be loyal churchmen without intolerance. We have inherited a fine tradition as Englishmen and Anglicans; we shall serve God best by being good English men and good Anglicans." Dean Inge

TECHNICAL SCHOOL REGISTRATION THIS WEEK

Fall Term Opens Tuesday, Sept 4th

The school office will be open for registration and consultation in regard to courses each afternoon and evening until the opening of school.

For some years the attendance has been the largest of any educational institution in Western Ontario and the advance registration this year indicates that the September opening will find a greatly increased enrolment.

The school maintains a well organized placement department which has developed into the largest employment bureau in Western Ontario. Local and district employers depend on the Tech employment service to select for them reliable help with special training for their requirements. This service has been found so satisfactory that graduates of the Tech have the first chance of securing the most desirable positions in the city and throughout Western Ontario.

The Commercial Courses are the only commercial courses provided by the London Board of Education. They are designed to provide a good academic secondary school education, combined with a thorough training for office work and mercantile positions.

The students, by actual use, become acquainted with the most modern office appliances and equipment. The graduation diploma of the school certifies to a very thorough preparation for business life. There is a constant demand for graduates of the school in financial institutions, bond houses, insurance company head offices and general business and mercantile offices of the city and district.

The simplified staggered class organization which was introduced into the school to relieve the over-crowding has proven both popular and successful. The convenience of students and parents has been considered. Students, under the system in vogue in the Tech are not required to attend more than eight periods a day in two groups of continuous periods. Provision is made for a common lunch period in the centre of the day. All first year students attend between the hours of 9.00 a.m. and 4 p.m. thus making no change in their regular school day.

On account of the large enrolment parents and pupils are advised to register at the school before the opening day, September 4th.

WORLD'S GREATEST STATESMAN

It is time that people everywhere began to put Christ where he belongs as the greatest statesman of all time. We have thought of him as a teacher and a healer and a lover of little children, and he was all that. But he was and is the world's greatest statesman. If the world obeyed his statesmanship we would have a perfect form of business and politics and government.

He said, "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and all these things will be added." That is a purely economic statement.

He said, "All of you are brothers." That would create the United States of the world.

He said, "Love your enemies," That obeyed, would stop war.

He said, "They that use the sword shall perish with the sword." That fact, understood would put an end to the old falsehood that any nation ever wins a war.

He said, "Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, mind, soul and strength." That, obeyed, would be the living creed of humanity, putting an end to theological, man-made creeds that have hindered the progress of the mind of man for ages.

He said, "Except you become like a little child you cannot enter the kingdom of God." That statement, lived out, would stop human pride and the exploitation of the weak by the strong.

He said, "Go into all the world and make disciples." That is what has so far transformed humanity from the cave man to the Christ man.

He said, "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand." And perhaps after all that is what Christ would emphasize more than any one thing if he were here again. For what does the human race need to do more than to repent? Of its greed, and its hate and its lust and its pride and its selfishness and its materialism?

—Charles M. Sheldon

Twenty Years have now passed since the commencement of the world's great madness, and it appears that the heroism and self-sacrifice of our Empire's noblest sons and daughters has been in vain. Envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness are still evident in national and international life. We have "broken faith with those who died" to end war. Not until the people of the world pause in their foolish struggle for power and excessive wealth will the message of the angels at Bethlehem be heard. "Yet with the woes of sin and strife The world has suffered long; Beneath the angels' strains have rolled Two thousands years of wrong; And man, at war with man, hears not The words of peace they bring. O, Listen now, ye men of strife, And hear the angels sing.

O, Prince of Peace, Thou knowest well This weary world below; Thou seest how men climb the way With painful steps and slow. O, still the jarring sounds of strife That round the pathway cling; And bid earth's toilers rest awhile To hear the angels sing."

GET AWAY FROM THE CROWD

Robert Burdette, in a talk to young men, said: "Get away from the crowd for a while, and think. Stand on one side and let the world run by, while you get acquainted with yourself and see what kind of a fellow you are. Ask yourself hard questions about yourself. Ascertain from original sources, if you are really the manner of man you say you are and if you are always honest; if you always tell the square, perfect truth in business details; if your life is as good and upright at eleven o'clock at night as it is at noon; if you are as good a temperance man on a fishing excursion as you are on a Sunday School picnic; if you are as good when you go to the city as you are at home; if in short, you are really the sort of man your father hopes you are and your sweetheart believes you are. Get on intimate terms with yourself, my boy and believe me, every time you come out of one of those private interviews you will be a stronger, better, purer man. Don't forget this and it will do you good."

How Faith Helps

History teaches us that by faith in God, men, women and children have been enabled in all ages to do brave acts, to lead good lives, to face dangers with a quiet mind, and to die without fear.

TORONTO NOTES

Sport

Sam Richardson sensational 15-yr. old star of the British Empire Games will again cross an ocean to attempt to garner further honour for his country and himself. He, along with eleven team mates will invade the schoolboy athletic meet to be held at Melbourne Australia sometime in November. Richardson at the recent trials held in Hamilton had little trouble in qualifying for the team. His work as a jumper has raised much favourable comment in sporting circles both foreign and local. The Negro community of this city wish Sam bon voyage and success.

The Beverley Baptist Sunday School baseball team for the second consecutive year won the Juvenile Softball Trophy of the Baptist Church League. The team was undefeated during the season of play but was unfortunate enough to forfeit the first game of the finals which were to be decided on a two out of three basis. They came back and due to excellent team work won the remaining two games and the championship.

The formation of a Negro Athletic Association is now under discussion in the influential bodies of this city. Reports will probably be released sometime in the near future.

The Beverley Baptist Church will place in the Baptist Juvenile Hockey League an all colored hockey team this season. The boys of this organization are rapidly gaining public recognition due to their fine exhibitions of sportsmanship and fine playing.

Community

A group of race talent will make an appearance on Tuesday, September 11, in the auditorium at Hanlan's Point. Rupert Hodge and Henry Wright, brilliant character actors; the Jackson sisters, harmony trio, Reginald Maclean, pianist; Frane Mais violinist and Desmond Davis will entertain.

Miss Elsie Gomba of Toronto has gained much popularity in her role as singer with Red Hickey and his orchestra in the Flower Gardens at the Canadian National Exhibition. Miss Gomba is appearing under the name of Elsie Sist and has signed a long term contract.

Miss Ruth May Bailey of Freeport, Illinois was tendered a farewell party at the home of Messrs Davis and Frank Mais. Miss Bailey was returning to Freeport where she is a student of a high school of that city.

An afternoon party was given Labor Day in honour of Miss Helen Ball of Oakville at the home of the Misses Jackson at 848 Ossington Avenue. A delightful afternoon was spent at dancing. Unique refreshments were served.

Labour Day was featured by the dance at Pythian Castle Hall which featured the music of Kid Ossie and his band. Everyone went to their homes satisfied.

Visitors

Miss Ruth May Bailey, former resident of Toronto has returned to her present home in Freeport, Ill., after spending three weeks at the home of Miss Mabel Green, 350 Euclid Ave.

ATTENDS CONFERENCE OF MUSICIANS IN COLUMBUS, OHIO

CLEVELAND, — Mr. R. L. Goodwin, notary public of this city, also secretary of the local 550 American Federation of Musicians, has just returned from Columbus, Ohio after attending the Conference of Musicians. There were only two delegates of the colored race attending and Mr. Goodwin was placed on the Good and Welfare Committee. This was quite an honor. Mr. Goodwin was also commissioned to go to Lima, O., to organize the colored musicians of that city. This we consider another round on the ladder for our folk.

NEGRO NEWSPAPERS CO-OPERATE

Too much cannot be said about the remarkable cooperation of the Negro press without which the Association's educational and publicity work would have been seriously curtailed. The editors of Negro newspapers have been unsparing in donating space to the Association's news stories and devoting numerous editorials to its various efforts toward race betterment. Beginning with 50 colored newspapers the Association now sends its weekly release to 250 of them. They have regularly carried Miss Mary White Ovington's "Book Chat" since 1921. Some Negro newspapers carry as many as 12 or 13 N.A.A.C.P. stories weekly. At all times the colored editors have been unitedly behind the Association's program and have often headed up local campaigns for membership or against specific evils.

The Association started broadcasting its educational publicity over the radio when that medium was in its infancy. It broadcast the Dyer bill over the Edson Plant service, Newark, N.J. in 1921. In 1929 several programs were sent over the air from stations WOV, WEVD and WNYC. In 1930 in broadcast a program every two weeks for six months.
