ROYAL COUPLE VISIT UNIVERSITY

Informality Keynotes Royal Visit

By BOB WHALEN
"Royalty, Royal Visit, Royal Couple" — What a beating these dignified words have taken this last month! As one of the reporting staff said, "Every time I press the E-key of my typewriter the letters L-I-Z-A-B-E-T-H automatically follow." But now that Caesar is come (and gone) the whole affair is more enjoyable in recollection than in the actual crowded moment.

Speaking of crowds the University had a creditable turnout. Still to Her Highness, it must have appeared like a friendly few after the big bustling cities included in her tour.

At twenty-five Elizabeth hardly has the regal qualities with which her mother so impressed people in '39, but all the same the heiress-apparent to the British throne was in no way, neither in beauty, royalty, nor in charm of personality a disappointment. In evidence everywhere was her poise and almost timid graciousness.

At the Library, the University had literally rolled out the red carpet. Flower arrangements by Madge Smith blended inconspicuously with the Library background. Dr. and Mrs. Trueman, the Lieut-Governor and Mrs. MacLaren were innocently entertaining the visitors when, on the suggestion of a member of the Royal party there was begun a tea-party, which threatens to overshadow even Boston's — in local legend at least.

While the library staff was borrowing milk for the occasion and brewing tea, the Princess escorted by Dr. Trueman went outside among the assembled students and faculty. Following her at some distance was Prince Phillip with Mrs. Trueman.

Both the Prince and Her Highness stopped to chat with various members of the group. Reactions were varied but awe and curiosity were the general feelings. One member of the combined Honour Guard of U.N.T.D. and C.O.T.C. which flanked the driveway by the Library, was heard to remark after the Prince had spoken to him, "I wonder what he'll think when he sees me in Saint John again tonight." U.N.B.'s naval contingent also formed part of the Saint John Honour Guard. In the eyes of the spectators, Phillip played to perfection the role of Prince Charming. Evidence aplenty for this was temporarily recorded on the faces of the co-eds to whom he spoke. In one instance the young miss (in this instance not a co-ed) to whom he had just spoken, all but collapsed in the arms of some less lucky females who were practically sobbing in reverent tones, "He spoke to you!"

While all this was taking place, Elizabeth was meeting many of the students as well as one lucky young member of the alumnae, who was presented to Her Highness, curtesy and all.

Back inside the Library the now-famous tea was ready. A not very reliable source related that over the tea-cups, the subject of the beautiful birds-eye panelling of the new wing brought from Phillip the remark that he and the Princess had received "tons of mahogany" as wedding gifts. "Sometimes," he said "I think we should sell it and get something we like." Whether true or not it indicates something of Phillip's assertive personality. Perhaps unlike Victoria and her consort, Albert, this Royal pair will be known as Phillip and Elizabeth not vice versa. The American newspapers who traditionally love this sort of prophesy, affirm that this is so.

Observing that only three spoons were available, Phillip offered to share the one that had been given him. As all the tables were crowded with exhibits, the tea-tray had to be set on a sofa. But the feeling of the hosts was that the Royal couple, in spite of the shortage of silverware and impromptu circumstances enjoyed all of their visit including the tea.

Outside in front of the building, students shoved for a better look at the Royal car, campus police relaxed their cordon and the scarlet-coated mounties revved up their motorcycles in anticipation of their departure. Amidst all this tumult still standing in frozen silence, at their positions was the Honour Guard. Into this scene came the Princess and the Duke who after waving farewell to the crowd proceeded on their way — but not for long. For one unbelievable moment the crowd anticipated an even longer visit as the Royal couple were obliged to get out of their car once more while it was examined to determine the cause of the smoke, seeping from the hood. But the stop was brief, the smoke soon cleared and the entourage, preceded by the colourful motorcycle policemen made a spectacular view, as it wended its way down the hill and over the tracks amidst the cries of the still cheering Hillmen.

Loyalty Declaration Abolished at U. of C.

(CUP-Exchange)

University of California Board of Regents recently abolished the special loyalty declaration required of all university employees since 1949.

Forty-eight professors, instructors and other employees have refused to sign the University's new employment agreement. Some faculty members feel a second declaration of loyalty is unnecessary since they had already signed one. Others have reconsidered the oath and now think they made a mistake in signing it last year. Another reason for their refusal to sign pertains to the wording of the new contracts, wording which they feel no longer insures job tenure.

Contract was changed at the height of the oath trouble in May 1950 to read: "This is to (Continued on Page 6, Col. 2)

S.R.C. TREASURER ELECTED

To-day the S.R.C. of U.N.B. has a new treasurer. He is Albert Sewell, a third year science student. Sewell won out over his only opponent, Betty Lou Vincent, with a comfortable margin. Returns showed that he held a two to one ratio in first place votes in all faculties, including the arts faculty expected by many to be Miss Vincent's stronghold.

The position of responsibility will not be a new one for Mr. Sewell. Two years ago he was manager of the Varsity Hockey team as they romped to the N. B. P. E. I. title.

In accordance with a motion recently adopted by the student council, the treasurer of the S. R. C., will be paid a fifty dollar honorarium. This move was approved by the council in view of the increasing work and responsibility of the position. Mr. Sewell thus becomes the first treasurer under the arrangement.

Ex-U.N.B. Student Killed in Maine

Milford, Me., Nov. 10—George Liakakos, 21, of 141 Wentworth St., Saint John was killed early this morning when an automobile in which he was riding struck a tree near here. He was a former student of UNB.

The young student, attending the University of Maine, had come to Canada to live only four years ago, from Sparta, Greece.

On his arrival in Saint John four years ago he attended Grade 12 at the Saint John High School where he completed his senior matriculation. Later he attended the University of New Brunswick for one year.

$20,000 Fund For Post Graduates

The Bickell Fund, established earlier this year at the University of New Brunswick by a gift of the late J. P. Bickell, will be used primarily in the development of U.N.B.'s growing school of graduate students.

President A. W. Trueman revealed that the $20,000 fund will be devoted to fellowships for post-graduate students, six of which he announced this morning as being awarded. Termed readerships in the case of graduate students in the arts, the awards are valued at $500 for their one year of tenure. It is understood that similar sums are being made available for science post-grads under the name of demonstratorships.

The six U.N.B. graduate students to get this assistance, Dr. Trueman said, are: Robert J. Gibbs and Alan M. Hale, both of Saint John; Jacqueline B. Haines, Fredericton; James H. Horner, Milltown; Robert B. Richards, Campbellton; Eric D. Ross, Moncton; and George F. Whalen, Sussex. All are arts graduates. As part of their readerships they receive a remission of tuition fees as well as the $500. In return they work as part-time assistants in their respective departments of study.

John Paris Bickell, the donor of the fund thus used, died on Aug. 22 last. As a mining magnate and prominent Toronto financier he was a strong supporter of the University of New Brunswick and a good friend of its chancellor, the Rt. Hon. Lord Beaverbrook. He was also a large shareholder in University Press of New Brunswick, Ltd., newly established Fredericton printing firm.

All the newly-selected holders of these readerships received their Bachelor of Arts degrees from U.N.B. last May, and they are in the first year of study toward their M.A.'s.

Gibbs, working in English, is a son of Mrs. G. Bessie Gibbs, Saint John; Hale, specializing in geology, is a son of Mrs. W. E. Hale, Saint John; Jacqueline Haines, a post-graduate student in psychology, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Whitman A. Haines, Fredericton; Horner, an English student, is a son of B. A. Horner, of Milltown; Richards, also in English, is a son of C. R. Richards, Campbellton; Ross, enrolled in History, is a son of D. D. Ross, of Moncton; and Whalen, who is studying French, is a son of George B. Whalen, of Sussex.

EDITORIAL BACKFIRES

Toronto—(CUP)—The Bracken Trophy was returned to the Varsity, University of Toronto, after a trip to The Manitoban at the University of Manitoba. The trophy which is awarded yearly for the best editorial in a member paper of Canadian University Press was removed recently by "persons unknown" from the Varsity's office and shipped to the Manitoban.

Arrival of the trophy at Winnipeg was preceded by a letter, not on Varsity stationery but on a page with the Varsity printed across the top, explaining that the Varsity had won the trophy the previous year but felt that the Manitoban was more deserving of it this year. The letter was signed "Gabrahm W. Xonk for Barbara Browne, Editor."

The most likely reason for the Bracken Trophy being sent from Toronto to Winnipeg is the fact that the Varsity has reprinted several of the Manitoban's editorials and columns.

When the trophy was stolen it was replaced by a copy of a Varsity editorial complaining about the lack of "Hell-raising" on the University of Toronto's campus. The next issue of the Varsity carried an editorial challenging the culprits to return for the empty display case.

Tickets for Plays Now on Sale

Tickets for the bill of one-acts to be staged at Teachers' College on Nov. 22 are now on sale Up the Hill and at Neill's on Queen street. The price of admission is fifty cents.

Society President Wilma Sansom and Bob Coke play the leading roles of "Ethel" and "Pop" in Robertson Davies' "Overlaid". The "Twelve Pound Look", by James Barry, is under the direction of Mr. Alvin Shaw. Bill Barwick takes the part of Sir Harry in this drama, with Joanne Corbin playing Lady Simms, Jacqueline Webster as Kate, and Walter Fleet as the butler.

The farce "If Men Played Cards as Women Do" is directed by Stan Jobb, and has Don Bell cast as "John", Punched Walker as "Mark", Ross Wetmore as "Bob" and John Lloyd as "George".

These three presentations are now in the final stages of rehearsal, and promise to provide an evening of lively entertainment.

Radio Workshop At Carleton

Ottawa—(CUP)—The Extension Department of Carleton College is introducing a new course this year. Sponsored by the Journalism Department, a Workshop in Radio Broadcasting will be held Tuesday nights, beginning October 23rd. Some of the fifteen two-hour sessions will be held at station CFRA.

Instruction is offered in speech and diction, writing, production, and planning and broadcasting a series of programs originating in the Workshop.

Terry Kieley, Director of Special Events for CFRA is in charge and associated with him will be various members of the college staff and prominent radio personalities.

New Rep. System . . .

The Student's Representative Council is presently engaged with the momentous task of revising its Constitution. Such an effort has been long overdue and should tax the capacities of the various members.
An attempt is underway to gain aid from outside sources particularly with respect to the parts of the Constitution dealing with the various groups. Ten days ago a meeting of the presidents of all campus societies and organizations was called to consider the present S.R.C. regulations governing such bodies. Discussion soon was diverted to the overall picture of the Council and the meeting began to revolve around the make-up of the S.R.C.
The suggestion was advanced that representation of the Student's Council should be by ex officio rather than by class election, i.e. the various heads of the campus organizations should govern the overall policy of the students rather than a collection of students who have little direct contact with the organizations they control. That this idea warrants consideration is borne out by the fact that most Canadian Universities now have such a system in effect.

The main objections lie in the fact that the people who would make up the new Council would have their time well-filled with the matters concerning their own organization, and the possibility that the interests of such an organization might prejudice them in their S.R.C. duties. A certain validity must be awarded these views but experience and administrative ease which would be gained from the change seem to favor some sort of revolution.

Probably the greatest difficulty in instituting such a reform would be in deciding who the new members would be. There are strong indications that the size of the present Council, twenty-eight members, is too large. Hence, the best possible solution might lie in awarding seats only to the larger faculty associations and more prominent groups. In almost every case, more consideration is given to the capacities and suitability of candidates for society presidents than to those seeking office on the present S.R.C. Such a situation could be overcome by this proposed remedy.

Whether any change results from this proposal, the fact that the S.R.C. is attempting to bring about some sort of improvement is encouraging. There is evidence that many more changes are necessary. The financial structure of the group needs revision. Election procedure is outdated. Duties of managers and even of the S.R.C. Executive need defining. No general revision of the Constitution has been attempted since 1947. The present legislation was intended for a University twice the size of the present one and its designs are now out of style. At last, the Students' Council has decided to face this.

Friendly, yet Dignified

During the past week, the citizens of New Brunswick joined with the millions of other Canadians who have warmly welcomed their Royal Highnesses Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip. The visit of the queen-to-be and her husband has aroused much interest and has strengthened the kinship feeling that exists between Great Britain and Canada.

Probably the most significant fact about the whole visit has been the personal touch that has been injected into the normally ceremonious and formal atmosphere of a Royal Visit. The students of the University of New Brunswick were particularly fortunate in this respect because the Royal pair took time to walk and chat with many of the gathered students. No better vantage point for seeing them could have been secured than the paths of our own campus. A friendly yet dignified atmosphere prevailed.

The genuine spirit of friendship that was evident won the hearts of this ordinarily immovable student body and created enthusiasm seldom exceeded on this campus. Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip will long be remembered at the University of New Brunswick and the students wish them a continued and happy prosperity both as future reigning couple and as friends.

THE INQUIRING REPORTER

What was your impression of the Duke of Edinburgh?

(This question was asked of several of the students to whom the Duke spoke.)

Sandy Valentine — Senior Civil
One cannot gain an impression of anyone in the matter of talking to an individual for thirty seconds more or less. However the impression I did get are as follows:

Watching him closely as he walked among the students he seemed very much at home, free and easy. His eyes caught everything in sight. He asked some students their faculties and year, while others, like myself, what their crests were. The Duke's questions were frank and to the point, and questions that could be answered in a few words. Thus he seemed to carry the conversation, which has a tendency to show that he was making it easy for us to answer so we might not get flustered. His manner and smile when he spoke his first words made me right at ease. He makes one feel as though they would like to serve under him in the Navy (because he is what a man might call a "regular guy").

Noreen Donahue — Junior Civil
I was very pleased to be one of the few spoken to by the Duke. The friendly attitude of both Princess Elizabeth and Prince Phillip was very contagious, judging by the reaction of the crowd. They are a royal asset to any country.

Bob Coke — Senior Forester
When the Duke stopped to speak to me I was standing just outside the Library. He stopped and asked me who the Canadian Football team played against in this province. I told him we played St. Thomas, and two other teams in Moncton.

"Do you ever play outside teams — McGill or any teams in Ontario?" he then asked. I replied that we didn't, we were not in the same league as those in Ontario or Quebec.

Then he asked me how we were doing in the league, and I told him we were on top and stood a good chance of capturing the title. My impression of the Duke was that he was interested in people and was genuinely friendly. After the first few words he had put me so at ease that I felt that I was talking to just another fellow who was interested in hearing how our team was doing. To my mind he was every inch a Prince and worthy of it.

There are times when words are required to express an emotion and none can be found which fully give the impression desired. There are times also when actions are required by a situation and they too are either lacking or insufficient. This was the case in the event of the Royal Visit to the U. N. B. campus.

It is to be fervently hoped that the Royal couple did not leave us with the impression that we were disinterested, or merely gaping, curiosity hunters who peered with hostile eyes. They who are greeted everywhere by cheering crowds wherever they go, it is hoped, will not misconstrue our long periods of silence which were not caused by hostility or disinterest, but by a profound breath capturing admiration.

Standing there in the cold waiting for them, I believe, we all expected to cheer and cheer loudly as they passed by us. When however, we saw the future Queen of this country and her consort in reality, no longer as inanimate pictures on paper, but in person, the fact of their reality, their nearness and all of what they represent and are, struck home so forcefully that our voices froze in

AN OMISSION

Dear Editor,

With all due congratulations to the staff who edited the Forestry Brunswickan for an otherwise creditable job, I should like to take opportunity to point out a very grave omission. I say omitted because after numerous perusals, I can find no comment about it.

It, for the benefit of the students of the university who didn't make the trip to the swamps,— was the great victory of the English Rugby team over the Mounties.

- NOVEL CAGE TILT OPENS SEASON -

The 1951-52 basketball season at UNB was opened last Tuesday evening at the Lady Beaubien Gymnasium with a very unusual cage tilt. The Boston Paralyzed Veterans of America wheelchair basketball club proved too much for last year's varsity basketball squad whom they defeated 54-12. This novel hoop contest was played entirely from wheelchairs. The winners moved their chairs with great dexterity and it was soon seen that UNB was no match for these wheelchair wonders. On many occasions varsity players got "breakaways" but were overtaken by the speedy vets before they had got ten or fifteen feet. Varsity was at a disadvantage because they weren't used to shooting from the sitting position while the Vets proved that they could shoot from a wheelchair as well as most can from the standing position.

A very good crowd was on hand to see the wheelchairists perform and were not disappointed as the contest proved to be a real circus. The vets who were extremely skillful at screening and blocking with their chairs were able to work the ball in well and scored mostly on lay-up shots. They proved just as skillful at keeping varsity at a good distance from their basket and forced the Red and Black to rely mostly on long shots.

It was immediately evident that the Vets were too clever with their wheelchairs for the inexperienced varsity ten and at the half they were out in front 24-4. Rudy Hanusiak opened the scoring for the losers with a long heave from well outside of the keyhole which banked in off the blackboard for the first UNB counter. The high scorer of the game was Tooles of the Vets whose numerous lay-up shots netted him 24 points. He was followed with Leonardo who netted 7 baskets for 14 points. High scorer for the Red n'Black were Jerry Boulton whose 6 points were half of UNB's total of twelve. The only other varsity men to score were Hanusrak, Garland and Smith who each came up with one basket. The final half was much the same as the first and the Vets continued to pile up the points winning 54-12.

Line-ups:
Boston Paraplegics: Leonardo 14, Tooles 24, Segmouriam 2, Villa 2, Hogan 6, Lorigan 6.

UNB: Stairs, Hanusiak 2, Smith 2, Shepherd, Garland 2, Buchan, Boulton 6, Glass.

This game on Tuesday night was followed by another between the Vets and UNB on Wednesday night in which the Vets again trounced the varsity squad. This time however the paraplegics allowed UNB only 10 points while they scored 5, the same number as on the previous night. Again it was the skill with which the Vets handled their wheelchairs that proved to be the deciding factor. Bill Tooles duplicated his feat of Tuesday night by again topping all scorers with 24 points. He was followed by Lorigan with 12. Nobody on the Varsity team got more than one basket. The funds from this game were used to assist the patients at the Frederickton Polo Clinic.

Line-ups: Tooles 24, Hogan 10, Leonardo 6, Seymouriam, Lorigan 12, Villa 2.

UNB: Boulton 2, Glass, Garland 2, Stairs 2, Smith 2, Hanusiak, Shepherd, Little, Buchan 2.

SCHOLARSHIPS TO BE AWARDED

Ottawa, Nov. 9.—Scholarships valued at $6,000 for postgraduate study in physical education, recreation or physical medicine are to be awarded this year by the National Council on Physical Fitness, the acting chairman, J. H. Ross, announced here today. Set up three years ago to help overcome the scarcity of professional personnel with advanced training in physical education and recreation, the scholarships are for postgraduate study only and are restricted to Canadians who have had at least three years' full-time experience in physical education or recreation in Canada, including at least one year's experience since obtaining an undergraduate degree. The total value of the scholarships this year has been increased from $4,000 to $6,000. No award may be made for more than $1,200 or for less than $300. Deadline for applications is January 15, 1952.

In awarding the scholarships, consideration will be given, Mr. Ross stated, to the suitability of the candidate's proposed study in view of the work in which he will be employed and its contribution to his professional competence. Scholarship winners must agree to return to Canada to work for at least two years.

Application forms are obtainable from provincial government fitness or recreation offices or from the National Council's office in the Department of National Health and Welfare, Ottawa.

BOMBERS WHIP TROJANS 18-0

by Dennis Hammond

The UNB Red Bombers defeated the Moncton Trojans for the second time in as many starts on Saturday (Nov. 3rd) at Kiwanis Park in Moncton by a score of 18-0. Played on a field covered with from one to three inches of mud and water, the game was an exhibition tilt to fill in while UNB awaited the outcome of the St. Thomas, Tri-Service Game. This game was played the next day (Sunday) at Chatham with Moncton Tri-Service winning 17-5.

The Trojans using only fifteen men during the game put up a stiff defence but the powerful Red Bombers once again proved too much for them. (In the first game UNB whipped the Trojans 16-5). Almost the entire game was played in the Trojans end as Varsity stopped the Moncton team before they were able to make very much headway.

The Red Bombers scored very quickly at the start of the game when Miller plunged over after a number of plunges and end-runs set them up in scoring position. Joe Bird kicked the convert to make it 6-0. Near the halfway mark in the first quarter Joe Bird made a long end-run and scored the second UNB T.D. The convert was unsuccessful and the quarter ended 11-0 for the Red and Black.

The second quarter, although scoreless, again featured brilliant plunging by the UNB backfield. At the end of the half Sunny Clark and Ross Pollock were thrown out of the game after a mix-up between the two teams. They were, however, permitted to return to the game.

There was no scoring in the third quarter and the final frame opened with the Trojans pressed back deep in their own zone. UNB got another point when Tessier tackled Tremble behind the Moncton goal line for a rouge. Near the halfway mark in the quarter Nick Lawler scored the third UNB T.D. on an end-run. Joe Bird converted and the game ended with the Red Bombers on the long end of an 18-0 score.

Owing to the elimination of the St. Thomas Football team, UNB now faces the Moncton Tri-Service club for the New Brunswick Football Championship. Last Saturday Tri-Service whipped the UNB squad 17-12 on their home field. This means that the Bombers must overcome a 5 point deficit in the game here this coming Saturday to retain the NB football crown.

Lineups:
Trojans: Wood, Ferguson, MacDonald, Greer, Harrison, Cormier, Roger Leblanc, Ronald Leblanc, MacDougall, Gordon Tremble, MacMullin, Goguen, Waldorf.

BADMINTON

Badminton enthusiasts are holding a meeting at the Lady Beaverbrook Gym on Monday evening at 9:00. This meeting is being held in order that plans may be drawn up for the organization of a badminton club. It is hoped that a large number will attend and all are welcomed.

Intramural Cage League Begins

The intramural basketball league started its fall schedule last Wednesday evening with the A section playing three games. It was decided to cancel the B section games as the UNB varsity squad was playing a second game with the Paralyzed Veteran's team. The cancellation evened up the schedule because there is only five teams in the B section.

The first game of the evening saw the Chemistry society trounce the Mooseheads 32-18. The scoring was well divided among the victors with Bill Ayer and Denny Valenta each scoring 8 points while John Little followed with 6 points. The Mooseheads were lead by ex-varsity star Jerry Boulton who collected 12 points. This game was a fairly rough encounter with 18 fouls being called.

The game between the Arts and Science and the Engineers produced a fast, rough game of basketball. The Engineers used their superior height to advantage in defeating the Arts and Science 46-38. This proved to be the highest scoring game of the night. The winners were lead by the ever dependable Bob Smith with 12 points.

RETAIN THIRD SUCCESSIVE TITLE

The UNB soccer team has once again retained its Maritime Intercollegiate Soccer championship. Acadia was expected to challenge the New Brunswick winners for the Maritime Championship in a game here last Saturday; however, they did not appear for the game and UNB won the title by default. This is the third successive Maritime Intercollegiate Soccer title to be won by UNB teams. In 1949-50 the Red n' Black whipped Acadia at College Field in Fredericton by a score of 6-1 to gain the first UNB Maritime Soccer championship. In this game UNB's former star Terry Kelly booted four goals. Last year the UNB eleven were again the Maritime winners. This time the Red n' Black trampled Dalhousie at Halifax by a score of 6-1 and again Kelly was a standout scoring three goals.

able men this year, including Terry Kelly they had a fairly successful season. In the first game of the season the Red n' Black stopped the Saint John Dry Docks by a score of 5-4 in a closely fought contest. However, in their second game UNB was defeated by a Moncton team 4-2. While playing for the New Brunswick Intercollegiate Soccer championship the Red n' Black defeated Mt. A in Fredericton 4-1 but were held to a one all tie at Sackville. As it was a total goal series UNB won the N.B. Intercollegiate soccer crown over Mt.A. by a Score of 5-2.

Acadia's default makes it three successive Maritime Intercollegiate Soccer championships for the University of New Brunswick. Thus the soccer team has brought the first Maritime Intercollegiate championship to UNB this year.

RUGGERS THRASH MT. A 7-3

by Dennis Hammond

The University of New Brunswick English Rugby team came up with their first win on Saturday at Sackville where they defeated the Mt. Allison University team 7-3. After going through the season with two losses and a tie, the Red n' Black rugby squad came to life to set the New Brunswick Intercollegiate Rugby champs back on their heels. The win proved that varsity had the stuff but it took too long to bring it out.

Although the Garnet and Gold played a slightly poorer brand of rugby than they did at College Field, the UNB boys showed great improvement which together with their never-say-die spirit proved too much for Mt. A. The losers didn't have the kicking power which aided them so much in the game at Fredericton while the UNB line, using longer passes were greatly improved. The Hillmen had the edge throughout most of the play and kept the ball confined to the Mt. A half of the field for the most part.

The game which was played on a very muddy field, was the last game of the schedule and although UNB defeated Mt A this made no difference in the standings.

The first half ended with the Red n' Black out in front 4-0 on two penalty kicks by fullback Ross Sheppard. One of these was a remarkably fine effort being kicked from the edge of the playing field. During the second half each team scored one try but neither was successful in converting. Russell scored for the Mounties and Guy (Tex) Doiron ran over for UNB making the final score 7-3 for UNB.

This was by far the best effort put up by the Rugby team and the fine fighting spirit they showed was indeed a great tribute to them.

Lineups:

UNB: Ross Sheppard, MacNeish, Tim Bliss, John Bliss, Smith, Pinder, Brannen, Thompson, Lawyer, Sterling Shepherd, Merritt, Thorpe Wilson, Doiron, Donald, Walker, Craig.

Mt. A.: Goss, King, Allen, Schryer, MacDonald, B. Nickolson, D. Nickolson, Bourinet, Russell, MacLeod, Sullivan, Winne.

our throats. Once the couple had passed from view cheering was once more possible but when continually able to see them sound was impossible.

What exactly was the emotion I wonder? Personally I was struck with the thought that here they were, our princess and her prince — real people, human beings, and not just a fabricated illusion to obtain a people's loyalty. Here was a couple bound together by love who have before them the greatest task possible — that of service to a group of nations and never thinking of their private likes or dislikes but instead, those of their people. What is greater servitude than the rulership of many after all? The awe, respect, admiration and genuine love which they inspire, completely took away my voice and although I wanted to wave my arms and shout "long live Elizabeth and her husband" the words would not come. I think this was probably the feeling all of us experienced. The curiosity felt beforehand vanished leaving interest and sympathetic admiration.

Sympathetic is the word I believe, for the Royal Tour has been an episode of complete and utter self sacrifice on behalf of the Princess and the Duke, as the signs of weariness and strain prove only too well. I believe that we felt sympathy also for them in their difficult role, understanding their hardships and hoping that life for them will be happy due to the success of their strivings.

The events of the day will be remembered for a long time. Those to whom the couple spoke will remember it as long as they live. We hope that they will remember their visit to our campus and understand our feelings toward them. We were struck by the beauty of the Princess, a beauty which cannot be truly recorded in a photograph and by the light heartedness and charming manner of the Duke which was natural and heartwarming.

I believe also that we envy the Royal couple in their position of greatness but I also believe that none of us would wish to share in it. The position of nonentity carries so few responsibilities.

notify you that you have been appointed professor . . . for the period July 1, 19— to June 30 . . . with a salary at the rate of $— per annum."

Unexpected abolishing of the special declaration came when the Governor's appointee moved that the Regents no longer require it as a condition of University employment although they reaffirm their policy of not hiring members of the Communist party.

Objection to the motion was immediately made when it was acclaimed that the move would hurt the Regents' case in the legal fight against 17 non-signers. Their suit to get their jobs back is now before the State Supreme Court.

New members of the board, appointed by the Governor, are generally believed to be unanimously against the special declaration as a condition of employment.

rugby squad beat the N. B.-P. E. I. champs to the tune of —3 not a word was printed in the university's own paper. Something is wrong somewhere.

I had the privilege of witnessing this game, which I consider to be one of the best played by our English Rugby team for quite some time.

To pick a star would be impossible. There was none? There was just a team which played as a team, for the team.

Since I am a staunch supporter of the English game, I am perhaps a little prejudiced, but I can truthfully say that I enjoyed that game in its entirety more than any game I've seen while at U. N. B., English or Canadian. It is too bad that it wasn't played on the home field so that the spectator critics might have seen a rugby game as it should be played.

The purpose of this letter was twofold. First to chastise the Brunswickan for what all rugby supporters will consider an unforgivable omission; second to give credit where credit is certainly due. It was a great game boys.

Burton Simpson

Ed. note: The omission was the fault, not of the Forestry Staff, but of a regular Brunswickan reporter who did not make the deadline. Better late than never — story in this issue.

The master of ceremonies for a quiz show was interviewing contestants before the show and asked, "Now is there any couple here who have been married less than 24 hours?"

A 12 year old lad brought the house down when he quipped, "What would they be doing here?"
