

SRC Sanctions Student Campaign

By JOHN DREW

Members of the new SRC showed themselves ready to speak up when the Council held their first fall meeting Wednesday night. Discussion was lively with ideas forthcoming on all the recommendations of the old council.

Student Campaign

A motion that the UNB students campaign the City in connection with the Building Fund early in the Fall term was passed. It was suggested that Freshman Week would be a suitable time to cover designated "zones" downtown.

Also passed were motions that the Applications Committee have power to interview candidates for SRC-controlled positions where it is considered necessary; and that the Creative Arts Committee be given financial assistance.

A motion of approval was carried for a constitutional change involving the right of the SRC to appoint a person to a position where no nominations have been received.

Motions Tabled

Motions tabled were: a reconsideration of Saturday night dances, and honorariums for the SRC executive.

The UNB Band was granted $800 for 36 new uniforms. The grant was in keeping with the band's "increasingly high musical standards".

New Committees

The remaining business of the evening concerned the appointment of SRC committees for 1959-60. They are:

SDC: Chairman, Doug Caldwell; with Barry Yoell, Kathy Hart, Paul Rennick, Charles Daughney, Hugh Millar and Dave Stewart; Financial Committee: Chairman, Ed Daughney, with Stephen Hart, John McLean, and Don Hammond; Applications Committee: Chairman, Doug Caldwell, with Al Brennan, Charlie Daughney, Carl Redstone, Ian Ferguson and Hugh Millar; Constitution Committee: Kathy Hart, Dave Petrie, Bill Sutherland, Hugh Miller and Fred Eaton; Student Awards: Carol MacPherson, with class presidents and a Faculty Advisor; Creative Arts Committee: Ted Boswell and Carol MacPherson; Public Relations Officer: Carol MacPherson; and Athletic Board Representative: Kathy Hart.

RUSSIA, ANYONE?

Montreal—Trans-Canada Air Lines has signed an agreement with Aeroflot, the Russian national airline, permitting passengers to purchase tickets from any TCA office for transport to any place in Russia or on any Aeroflot-flown route.

Party Tonight For Seniors

A Senior Class Party is to be held tonight in the Lord Beaverbrook Hotel commencing at 8.30 p.m.

Highlighting entertainment is a four-piece band under the direction of Ralph Campbell. Mr. Campbell, an accomplished organist, and his band, presently entertain three nights weekly at the hotel.

Tickets for the party can be bought at the door.

The Voice of UNB

GORDON IS BEST ACTOR; CLUB GOES TO SAINT JOHN

UNB Committee Set Up For SCM Financial Drive

A UNB Committee headed by Arden Doak of the Teachers' College staff, will campaign the Fredericton-Saint John area in an effort to raise funds for the Student Christian Movement. The objective has been set at $2,500.

Members of the campaign committee include Prof. D. C. Blue of the university's education department; Chester Mahan, UNB bursar; Prof. D. B. McLay of the UNB science department; Prof. Frederick Cogswell, assistant professor of English, and Rev. G. J. Minielly of the Wilmot United Church, Fredericton.

An active year has been reported by the SCM on campus. Under president Stephen Patterson and Craig Neylan, its first full time general secretary, the local unit has attempted to increase religious interest and probe current social problems. Its fall camp, a work-play-discussion weekend held annually in the Nashwaak Valley, studied "the Christian in the community."

The bi-monthly Sunday "open house" themes have ranged from "The Influence of Alcohol" to

"Segregation, Right or Wrong?"

A lecture series listed among its 12 titles, "Yugoslavia: the hole in the iron curtain," and the doctrines of Presbyterianism," with talks given by both students and clergy. One six-week study group discussed "the doctrines uniting and dividing Christians."

Morning worship services are held bi-weekly in the Arts Building chapel, conducted mainly by the students.

At the SCM observance of World Student Day of Prayer, Dr. Desmond Pacey, head of UNB's English department, remarked that he was pleased to see a growing interest in religion on the campus.

The Movement has also been visited this year by Dr. Ellen Flesseman, leading Dutch theologian and Miss Laura Pelton, administrative secretary of the SCM in Canada.

The group has held parties and dances. Currently the unit is engaged in a Canterbury Club-Newman Club-IVCF panel on "Christianity on the Campus". In May it will hold its spring camp.

Drama Society President Mike Gordon was chosen best actor for the second year in a row.

University President, Dr. Colin B. Mackay, awarded the trophy to Mike last Tuesday as the Society rang down its final curtain on its most recent production, Arthur Miller's "A View From The Bridge".

Dr. Mackay had great praise for the Drama Society, stating that "the quality of the plays produced and the acting ability of the group has improved immensely in recent years". He added jokingly that if the Society should win the Regional Festival again this year his budget would suffer.

Art Exhibit Opens Sat.

The opening of an exhibition of paintings by J. Russell Harper, acting curator of the Lord Beaverbrook collection of paintings, will take place from 3 to 5.30 tomorrow in the Arts Centre. The exhibition will remain on display at regular Art Centre hours until March 26th.

Mr. Harper was born in Caladonia, Ontario, and has been interested in things Canadian and Canadian painting since his boyhood days.

He studied at McMaster University, the University of Toronto, Ontario College of Art, and has painted over the years for his own enjoyment. He has exhibited at the R.C.A., Canadian Society of Water Colour painters and the Canadian Society of Graphic Art. For two years he was in Europe on a Royal Society of Canada fellowship. He also has carried on archeological work and published articles and books on various phases of Canadian art and Canadian history.

Scholarship Honours McCord

David McCord, distinguished writer and guest speaker at UNB's Founders' Day Ceremonies earlier this month, is being honored by a new kind of scholarship in Harvard College.

The scholarship fund was named for Mr. McCord at the request of the donor, James N. White of Boston. It will provide financial aid for undergraduates "who have demonstrated unusual creative ability and stamina in writing, or in music, painting, drawing or sculpture."

Mr. White expressed the hope that "other things being equal" the scholarship might go, from time to time, to "students from Mr. McCord's Lincoln High School in Portland, Oregon, or from other Oregon high schools, or from Lawrenceville in New Jersey, from which his father was graduated."

Mr. White, director of the Wall Street Journal, the Carnegie Institute of Washington, and a trustee of Norwich University in Vermont, created the David McCord Scholarship Fund as a contribution to a program for Harvard

Provincial Festival

The Society left for Saint John on Wednesday morning to take part in the Provincial Drama Festival. This year there was no preliminary round in the Festival since there are only four plays entered. The plays will be competing for the honour to go to Toronto and compete in the Dominion Drama Festival to be held May 18-24 at the Royal Alexandra Theatre.

Entries

Besides UNB's entries of "The Moon is Blue" and "A View From The Bridge", there will be an entry from the Saint John Actors of Strinberg's, "Miss Julie", and one from the Saint John CYO, "Song of Burnadette".

In the past two years the UNB group has won the Regional Festival and gone on to the Dominion Festival. In 1957 the Dominion Festival was at Edmonton, where UNB won a Special Award and an Honourable Mention.

Drama Course

Commenting on the success of the group, Professor Alvin J. Shaw said, "The greatest single factor in the success of the Society has been the enthusiasm of all the members." When asked whether the UNB should offer a course in drama he said "A chair in drama should be approached with caution. Many people might join the course looking for an easy credit. As it is, all those in the group have a definite interest in drama with resulting high standards."

Adjudicator

Richard Ainley, a prominent critic from London, England, and a former professional actor, will be the adjudicator this year.

The plays in the Festival were scheduled in the following order: Wednesday night, "Song of Burnadette"; Thursday night, "The Moon is Blue"; Friday night, "Miss Julie" and Saturday night, "A View From The Bridge".

Band—Choral Concert Wed.

An admission-free Band and Choral Society Concert will take place at Memorial Hall Wednesday, March 18 at 8.30 p.m.

Those elected to the 1959-60 executive of the Band are as follows: President, George Bryson; Vice-President, Fred Smith; and Secretary-Treasurer, Mary Bernard.

Gary Saunders and Fred McDougall

As Prof. Wilson suggested in one of his recent Priestman lectures, anti-Russian slanting of American press and radio releases is a common thing. Anti-American slanting of Russian encyclopedia-dictionaries, however, apparently suffers from a similar editorial blight. A 1953 edition of such a publication yields these excerpts:

On Canadian politics:

"Liberal Party—(formed 1873); a party of big Canadian capitalists; closely connected with American monopolies; since 1921 almost uninterruptedly in power."

"Conservative Party—(officially called "Progressive Conservative"); (Formed 1854). This is a party of the more reactionary circles of Canadian monopolistic capital."

"C.C.F.—(formed 1932); It is a rightist socialist party. The reactionary leaders of the party are the agents of Canadian and American-English imperialists." (Vol. 2, p. 26).

On Tim Buck:

"Buck, Tim; (1891); Distinguished worker in growth of Canadian labor movement; leader of Canadian Labor Progressive Party. One of organizers of Labor Party of Canada formed in 1922, and reorganized in 1924 into the Communist Party. Repeatedly subjected to repressions . . ." (Vol. 1, p. 133).

On Banditry:

"Organization of armed bands, and the participation in them, for the purpose of murder, robbery, political terror. In U.S. the ringleaders of the bandit gangs often organized into syndicates closely connected with police and judicial organs. This set-up favors criminal violation, and makes police and judicial organs virtually powerless. In the U.S.S.R. separate outbreaks of banditry represent the vestiges of capitalism." (Vol. 1, p. 140-1).

On Western dignitaries:

"Pope Pius XII—(1876); Pope of Rome since 1939. He rendered, and continues to render, all kinds of support toward fascism. Connected with imperialist circles of U.S.A. in their fight against the forces of democracy and progress." (Vol. 2, p. 650).

"George III—(1738-1820); English king, 1760-1820. Was one of the inspirers of extortionary colonial policy of England. He actively supported European reaction in its fight against French bourgeois revolution toward the end of the eighteenth century." (Vol. 1, p. 410).

"Dulles, John Foster; A reactionary political worker in U.S.A. Belongs to Republican Party. Head of large law firm. Closely allied with larger monopolies. Dulles played important role in reconstruction of German war potential, and in the rearmament of Hitlerite Germany and Japan, their remilitarization, and their inclusion into the war bases of American imperialists . . . Took direct part in organization of American aggression against Korean People's Democratic Republic, and Chinese People's Republic." (Vol. 1, p. 502).

"Steinbeck, John E.; (1902-); American writer; In the novel "The Grapes of Wrath," (1939), gave vivid picture of ruin of farmers through the campaign of the monopolists. Later, he reverted into the camp of reaction. In the novels "Cannery Row", (1945) "Wayward Bus", (Jayne Mansfield not mentioned—Ed.) (1947), he attempts to explain social processes with inborn vice and unchangeable instincts of people." (Vol. 3, p. 322).

'Con' To Close Social Season

Next Friday, March 20, marks the last social event for the college year. The occasion is the annual Conversazione — better known as the "Con". Social Chairman, Joanie Young, has announced that the decoration theme for this dance will be an oriental one—complete with pagodas and jewelled Buddhas. Long, long ago, 1923 to be exact, the decorations for the Con, which was then held in the Arts Building, were along the same lines that are being used in 1959. Music for the dance will be supplied by UNB's own Collegians, and the event will run from 9.30 p.m. until 2 a.m. The receiving line will form at 9.30 and will break up at 10.30.

A limited number of tickets will be available for students wishing to bring guest couples. These will be on sale in the SRC office in the Student Centre, at the following times:

Wednesday, March 18, 12 to 1.30 p.m.

Thursday, March 19, 12 to 1.30 p.m.

Friday, March 20, 1 to 2 p.m. As the number of these tickets available is limited, get yours early to avoid the rush.

One final word of warning to those planning to attend the Con: "If you're drinkin' in the gym The C.P.'s will turn you in. Can't you hear the SDC Calling yo?"

UNB CO-ED AWARDED WOODROW WILSON FELLOWSHIP

Barbara Pepperdene has been awarded a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship for postgraduate studies during the coming college year. "Barb" is a fourth year arts student, honoring in Anthropology and Sociology and Psychology. She plans to do further work in the field of Anthropology at Radcliffe College next year.

Barbara, who now claims Chatham, N.B. as her home, came to UNB in the fall of 1955 from Sussex High School. On entering university she won a Beaverbrook Entrance scholarship. She also holds a Leonard Foundation Scholarship and was awarded the Freeze Scholarship for second year English. During her four year sojourn "up the hill", Barb has taken an active part in a variety of campus activities. The latter include Canterbury Club, Choral Society of which she is secretary-treasurer. She has also shown a good deal of enthusiasm for her own field of study; Barbara was one of the main organizers of the newly formed SAP society and she served as its first president for the past year.

BARBARA PEPPERDENE

Her participation in sports has been outstanding. For four years Barb has been the diver for the Girls' Varsity swim team, of which she is captain this year. In addition, she swam free-style and butterfly for the varsity team and played intramural basketball.

Barbara is the second student from UNB to be awarded the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship. The first, Robert Hawkes, graduated in 1956.

The fellowships are awarded for a duration of one year. They cover tuition and university expenses plus $1,500. They are available to Canadian and American students and are tenable at universities all across Canada and the United States.

SCANDAL

There were muffled sounds of a struggle in the other room and a girl's voice squealed, "Stop!" No response.

"Oh, please don't. Mother said—" No response.

"Oh, wait just a moment, please." No response.

"Let me go this minute."

"Now just one more yank and I'll have it out," consoled the dentist.

Our Conservatism

Each generation can count on at least one thing: strong criticism from its elders.

Traditionally the complaint of those older and wiser was that young people were too radical, too wont to try something new merely for the sake of its novelty.

These days, however, young people are criticized for something quite different: We are called too timid, too lacking in adventure.

In a word, our elders accuse us of being "conservative."

And we must admit that a fundamental conservatism does exist in our personality, for the scarcest thing on the contemporary campus is the truly radical student.

But is our conservatism a bad thing?

We think not.

We would be at fault only if we possessed nothing more than an intransigent resistance to change.

But our conservatism is a positive thing: it is simply a moderate, prudent approach to life.

We are more careful than our fathers were when they were young, for the ghastly wars and suffering of this century have taught us that the future is fraught with danger.

We are humble, and perhaps our humility will be our salvation, because we can use it to further the vital cause of tolerance. With T. V. Smith, we know what our fathers did not, that "the presumption of objectivity is man's darkest heresy." And like Percy William Bridges, we have realized that "it is the nature of knowledge to be subject to uncertainty."

If we have the time, we may be able to wipe out the potential causes of the next great war. If we have the time, we may be able to harness the world's resources to create a more equitable distribution of wealth and at the same time preserve man's vital freedoms.

Yet, if we are to accomplish these things, we must consciously avoid taking undue chances, which is something quite different to opposing change.

We want change, and we know that it is necessary. But we also know that we must approach the future as carefully as possible.

In other words, we must do it in a spirit of dynamic conservatism.

Letters To The Editor

Deserve Punishment

Sir: A recent editorial argues that Acadia University should have been less harsh with students concerned with the publication of a "blasphemous" article which resulted in the expulsion of one student and the suspension of another from the college paper.

It also implied that the article itself was an honest expression of opinion.

The offending composition was blasphemous and objectionable in the legal sense. It was also disagreeable and lacked entirely any honest intellectual content — except perhaps in the last few stanzas of poetry which Acadia University President Dr. Watson Kirkconnell himself commended.

However, the real blame rests with the newspaper editor who allowed the article to be published. Whether or not the composition had any "honest" merit — which is doubtful — its interpretation was an offensive one.

Priority of publication is based on editorial responsibility, not solely on an estimate of literary honesty. Editorial responsibility is measured in terms of common sense, decency, legal restrictions and responsibility to readers among other things. In this particular case, it includes a responsibility to the university.

Both students deserved their punishments. Perhaps the editor should also have been expelled. For as director of the Acadia student newspaper, he held a responsibility both to the university and to tenets of good journalism. He failed to uphold either.

Universities such as Acadia and UNB delegate precious authority and responsibility to the student newspaper. Freedom of the press is a valuable and necessary liberty. If the officials of these papers exploit this trust to the detriment of their readers, the officials and the public, they can expect to forfeit it.

BARRY TOOLE

NEEDS A HOME: This unhappy alligator faces eviction from the Lady Beaverbrook Residence for Men. The owners of the handbag-to-be, Barry Yoell and John Drew, say their pet can be had for the asking. However, the beer mug is not part of the deal.

Beaverbrook Residents Not Too Fond Of Olive

An alligator is now the first full-time female resident of the Lady Beaverbrook's Residence For Men.

She's Olive, a native of Miami Beach.

The story of her arrival in Fredericton began during the Christmas recess.

Went South

Two regular residents of the Beaverbrook building, John Drew and Barry Yoell, decided to hitch-hike south after the university closed down. On their way, they spent Christmas with a friend living in Washington.

As a result, their host wound up with an empty liquor cabinet, a number of former friends who weren't speaking any more, and a lack of faith in the possibilities of future peaceful coexistence among nations.

Soon after, the harassed Washingtonian fled south and planned a murderous revenge.

He dispatched a live alligator to UNB, but he miscalculated. The reptile wasn't big enough to kill Messrs. Drew and Yoell. So they accepted her as a pet.

Still Growing

Since her arrival, however, Olive has grown and grown and grown. (At press time, she was 14 inches long).

She now inhabits a bath, but soon she'll have to move to the residence swimming pool. And unless somebody gives her another home, Amby Legere's swim team will have to remain inactive next year.

The disturbed owners say that if no one else claims the beast, she will be sent to The Editor of The Brunswickan.

Bowdoin College Glee Club Performs At UNB March 22

Tickets are now available for the concert by the Bowdoin College Glee Club scheduled for Memorial Hall at 8.15 p.m. on Sunday, March 22.

Free tickets for university students, faculty and staff are being distributed until Monday at the Bonar Law-Bennett Library, the Arts Centre, and by Professors Fred Cogswell, T. F. S. McFeat, R. A. Staal, Hugh Whalen, W. B. Baker, F. J. Toole and W. E. Hale.

Presenting Concert

The distribution program was announced by Prof. Hale, chairman of the UNB Creative Arts Committee, which is presenting the concert with the financial assistance of the Students' Representative Council.

The Bowdoin Glee Club consists of 72 male singers, and has enjoyed enthusiastic receptions in many parts of the Eastern United States. The concert at UNB will be the club's first appearance in the Maritime Provinces.

The program will include popular and classical works, and is designed by college students and staff for presentation to people with similar tastes.

Prof. Hale said that "it is expected that a large number of people other than those at the university will wish to attend the concert. Therefore, university people are reminded that, in view of the limited seating capacity of Memorial Hall, tickets should be acquired only if they are to be used, in order that everyone anxious to attend will be given the opportunity.

FALL SPORTS IN REVIEW

Football

By Bill Beirsto

The 1958 football season was by far UNB's most successful year since the Canadian game replaced English rugby. When the season ended, the team had won both the New Brunswick Football League and the Maritime Intercollegiate Championships.

The climax to a very successful season came on November 8 when the Bombers skunked the Mounties 17-0 before a capacity crowd. After going down to defeat 17-7 on their home field, only the very optimistic would give them an even chance to win the game in Sackville.

The Bombers then went on to Halifax to defeat Saint Mary's and end the season with seven wins and one loss. This win also gave them the Maritime Intercollegiate Championship.

The Bombers will lose seven stars through graduation this year. They are: Don Goss, Ralph (Sonny) Clark, Pete Madorin, Brian Arthur, Jim Forrest, Sterl MacLean and Steve Vaughan.

Don Goss joined the team two years ago and has spent most of his time in the end position, both defensive and offensive. He is one of the members of the fine defensive team that was unscored on in six out of eight games this year. Don's rough, hard-hitting play stopped many of the opponents key plays.

Sonny Clark has had four years on the Red and Black squad, the last two of which he was captain. Most of this year he played defensive tackle, but other years he has played various positions, including offensive end, tackle and fullback. Although he was forced out of play the latter part of the last two seasons, his leadership and team spirit were always with the team.

Pete Madorin has played for UNB the last three years. He was our regular quarter-back for the last two. In the words of Don Nelson, our coach: "I think he is the best split-T quarterback in the Maritimes." His finest hour was the day he led the team to the big victory over the Mounties.

Brian Arthur has spent three years at the halfback position. Two of these three years he was the team's leading point-getter and an all-star half. Last year he won the Corbett Gold Medal as the college's outstanding athlete. He is one of the hardest running backfielders in the Intercollegiate League.

Jim Forrest has been a member of the team for the last two years. He has been used mainly as a corner linebacker. Jim has developed into one of the top defensive ball players in the league. His terrific competitive spirit has made Jim one of the hardest fighting men on the team.

Sterl MacLean has been used mainly as a defensive halfback in his two years on the team. He has become a specialist in kick run-backs. One of the highlights of the season was his 85 yard runback of a kick-off in a game with Acadia. His work on the pass defense was one of the big factors in the success of the defensive team.

Steven Vaughan has played 4 years for UNB. He has been used mainly as an offensive end. He has terrific team spirit and his desire to win has made Steve a good dependable player, ready to step into any situation.

Material wise, the club will be in

CHAMPIONSHIP WRESTLING

This Saturday night in Saint John the New Brunswick Wrestling championships will be held. UNB will have five entries and are looking for some winners. Representing the UNB club will be Pete Wilson, 147 lbs.; John Robbins, 160 lbs.; Daryl Priner, 174 lbs.; Jim Ross, 174 lbs., and Mike Rouse 191 lbs. The first three mentioned were novice champs last week-end in the bouts held at UNB. The winners in this tournament are qualified to represent New Brunswick in the Pan American Trials and the Canadian Championships which are to be held in Eastern Canada in May of this year.

pretty fair shape for next season. The offensive line will remain almost entirely intact, with some excellent prospects ready to fill any vacancies. Fans will see a radical change in style as Coach Nelson will use a wing-T formation and will rely on the arm and toe of Pete Rylander.

Defensively the team will have certain holes to fill, but this should present little trouble.

The regular 10 day pre-season practice will begin this year on September 14. Coach Nelson will once again have as his assistants Dave McIntyre, "Doc" Callahan and John Meagher.

Don Nelson sums up next year like this: "Our team will be in its fourth year of a building program. The team will be playing harder and better, providing now existing material will be ready for action. All in all, 1959 should be our best season yet."

Soccer

By John Drew

Familiar on the College Field touchline at Varsity Soccer games in recent years has been a rain-coated figure, sporting a cloth cap and good-humoredly taunting his team on the field to greater efforts. Now Jim Berryman, coach of the Soccer team for the past three years, is moving to B.C. to continue his career as an architect there.

Since he arrived here in 1956, this North Country Englishman has been responsible for a marked interest in Soccer in this area. In 1956-57 UNB only played in the Maritime Intercollegiate loop and lost out to Mt.

A. both here and in the swamp. But in 1957-58 Jim's coaching told as the XI began to shape up as a team, and, although they took Mt. A. on College Field, they suffered a heavactually as UNB outplayed Dal but lost the Maritime 3-1.

Jim Berryman

In the Sumner Cup, however, which UNB had never seriously entertained a chance of winning, the squad came from behind in every game to take the NB-PEI open title. It was this year, too, that Jim encouraged the formation of two Fredericton soccer teams and the Fredericton league which UNB won before the snow cut short the play-offs.

There is no doubt that Jim was largely responsible for the spirit which enabled the squad to come from behind in every championship game of the season which they won. In keeping with the current Canadian trend (last year there were 325 soccer squads in Canada), soccer is becoming increasingly popular at UNB with greater numbers turning out each year.

Jim has done much to stimulate this enthusiasm and the squad showed its appreciation of the fact when captain Dave Cooke presented him with a UNB beer stein on behalf of the team at a recent sendoff.

Golf

By John Sears

This year golf got underway on Friday and Saturday Sept. 26 and 27 with the intramural tournament. The men's division was won by Jim Boland, a second year Phys Ed student, with a 2 over par 72 while Charlene Hallett was victorious in the girls' division.

During the next week qualifying rounds for the selection of the team were held. This team, consisting of Tom Calkin, Dave Petrie, Ben Gray Jr., and John Sears along with manager Norm Goodrich, represented U.N.B. in the Intercollegiate Tournament held on the Antigonish Golf Course. The team was unsuccessful in its defence of the Maritime Championship. The host team of St. F.X. won the title with a total of 316 followed closely by U.N.B. with 319 then Acadia, Mount A. and Nova Scotia Tech.

The most enjoyable and most looked forward to event of the golfing season took place on Oct. 5. After being twice postponed, the annual grudge match between the students and the faculty was held. However, due to a rain storm, the match was called off after only six holes had been played.

J. Paul Sheedy's* Hair Looked Fowl Till He Pecked Up Some Wildroot Cream-Oil!

One day Sheedy's best friend decided to set him straight. "Paul", he said, "people are starting to make yokes about your sloppy appearance. There's no eggscuse for such messy hair. Here you've got a built-in comb and still your hair's a fright". "I know", clucked Sheedy, "wattle I do about it?" "Get yourself some Wildroot Cream-Oil", advised his friend. So Sheedy got some and now his hair looks eggactly right all day... neat but never greasy. Follow Sheedy's eggxample. Get a bottle or tube of Wildroot Cream-Oil. Guaranteed to make your hair look healthy and hensome!
