PREFACE.

The Committee having charge of the publication of this little work intended for the use of the trade alone, while bespeaking for it the patronage of their friends, deem it right to offer a few prefatory remarks explanatory of the origin of their connection with it.

Shortly after the close of the memorable campaign which ended in the rejection of the Dunkin By-law in August last, a desire was pretty generally expressed for the publication of the names of those who voted on the question.

At a general meeting of the Licensed Victuallers Association on the 28th September, it was unanimously resolved, that 500 copies of a list of all who voted "Yea" and "Nay" be published.

Such publication will to a large extent serve the purpose of a City Directory, and has become all the more desirable from the circumstance that the opposing party are said to have now in preparation, a pamphlet designed to exhibit the amount of property and wealth represented by those who voted for the Bill. We are content that they possess the majority of dollars, we hold a more precious possession, the confidence and support of the majority of men, the bone and sinew of the community. Let them boast of the money power, we take pride in holding the voting power.

But we dispute, at the same time, their pretensions to the possession of the bulk of the wealth of this city. Be that as it may, our opponents ought to appreciate our liberality in printing free of cost to them, what they consider their minority roll of honour, need we say how much higher we prize our own beyond all comparison?

We would further explain how this work has assumed much larger proportions than originally intended. It will be remembered that during the progress of the Dunkin agitation, reports of meetings and speeches on either side were read with great avidity by the public at large, and even yet the interest thus excited is far from having died out. Considering how difficult it is to obtain anything like an unbroken file of the City dailies outside of the printing offices, it was thought that a condensed collection of reports of the most interesting gatherings and addresses might be worth republishing in a more permanent form, and serve in after times, as a reflex of the sentiments and arguments of the chief actors on this stage, a kind of little Hansard in the shape of a preface to the main record.

While attempting this, the Committee regret the necessity they have been under, after collecting materials at considerable pains, of giving but mere abstracts or outlines of the addresses delivered.

The briefest retrospect of the situation at this time can only be attempted, and in the words of one of the Committee in a public letter to the ratepayers on the 21st of August.—"At a time when the country is suffering from the effects of a prolonged depression of trade and business scarcely paralleled in the previous history of Canada, a mischievous agitation of many months duration, like the dirgeful sounds which precede the hurricane, has at length burst upon you in all its violence, culminating in an extraordinary election which has now for a fortnight convulsed the community. Let all bear witness that we are not to be held responsible for any of the evils and losses, or for the serious derangement of the business and industries of this city, which have resulted and continue to result from this prolonged and exciting contest. In addition to business derangements, long years will scarcely heal the bitterness of feeling that allay the animosities between neighbours and friends evoked by this unprovoked conflict."

Early in the spring our opponents seemed arming for a serious conflict, but had not yet fully unmasked their batteries. One of their speakers declared their determination, "to make war upon the Licensed Victuallers." Other attacks followed. In answer to these, two or three vigorous letters from Mr. James Whyte, King Street, and from the pen of a "Licensed Victualler," and others, appeared. The Dunkin flag was at length run up, and the following requisition presented in due form, asking for the submission of the Act:—

"The undersigned qualified municipal electors of the City of Toronto, hereby require that a poll be taken in terms of the Temperance Act of 1864, to determine whether or not the qualified municipal electors of the said Municipality will adopt, under authority and for the enforcement of the said Act, the By-law following, which we hereby propose for their adoption, to wit:

"The sale of intoxicating liquors and the issuing of licenses therefor, is by the present By-law prohibited within the Municipality of the City of Toronto, under authority and for enforcement of the Temperance Act of 1864."

Previous to, and anticipating this action, the Licensed Victuallers Association held a general meeting on the 1st of June, and took active steps for a more thorough organization. The name was merged in the more comprehensive one of the Anti-Dunkin Association. An executive committee of nine was chosen, with full powers to manage the campaign, and to collect and expend all necessary funds: the committee consisted of the following gentlemen:—

Messrs. J. Severn, J. Timms, S. Richardson, D. Walker, E. O'Keefe, T. McGaw, G. A. Burns, T. Allen, J. Cosgrave. Mr. D. Walker, was unanimously appointed Chairman; Mr. O'Keefe, Treasurer; and Mr. S. Richardson, Secretary of the Association.

It was then resolved to prepare at once a counter petition to the City Council against the submission of the By-law, and which being reported and approved, copies were ordered to be printed and circulated under the supervision of special committees, as will more fully appear from the following extract:—

"At a general meeting of the Trade held this day (June 15th), the following resolution was unanimously adopted:—

'Resolved,—That sub-committees be now chosen whose duty it shall be to assist in carrying out more thoroughly the views of the Association, in the conflict with the promoters of the Dunkin Act in Toronto, by visiting forthwith, every licensed establishment in the city; seeing to it that each is supplied with a copy of a petition to the City Council, ascertain the progress made in signing said petitions; aiding to obtain additional signatures, and generally urging all within the sphere of their influence to increased activity and energy in the work of canvassing the electors to maintain the existing licensing law in its integrity.'

WARD COMMITTEES.

ST. GEORGE'S.—Mr. D. Walker, with power to nominate.

ST. LAWRENCE.—Messrs. G. A. Burns, Wm. Wright, — Small, W. Copeland, T. O'Connor.

ST. THOMAS.—G. A. Mitchell, R. Waterhouse, Jas. Wright.

ST. JAMES.—E. O'Keefe, M. McConnel, W. Ledley.

ST. ANDREWS.—J. Timms, Geo. Baker, Wm. Armstrong, Wm. Graham, S. Hunter, John Wilson.

ST. PATRICKS.—J. Ball, W. J. Collins, J. Brewer, B. Hincheliff, G. Jones, R. Jones, T. Mossop, N. Holman.

ST. JOHN'S.—R. McCleary, A. Burns, J. Patterson, James McFarland, J. Oulcott.

ST. DAVID'S.—R. Davies, T. Tillison, Gibson, Abell, Ayre and Wiggins.

ST. STEPHEN'S.—J. Cornell, J. Mallord, T. Scholes.

The petition ran as follows :—

TO HIS WORSHIP THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL OF THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE CITY OF TORONTO :

The Petition of the Undersigned Ratepayers of the City of Toronto humbly sheweth :

That your petitioners are informed that certain electors and others of the said City of Toronto have requested your Council to submit a By-law, pursuant to the provisions of the Temperance Act, of 1864, (commonly known as the Dunkin Act,) for the approval of the electors of this City.

And your petitioners respectfully submit that if such a measure were submitted it would be detrimental to business, and a serious loss to the inhabitants of the City through the cost that would be entailed in its submission, and that under the open vote much animosity and bad feeling will arise, and a fair expression of public opinion cannot be arrived at.

And your petitioners also respectfully submit that the large amount of Revenue derived by the City from the issuing of Tavern and Retail Shop Licences is a matter to be seriously considered by your Council in the present financial crisis, when a tax rate of nineteen and-a-half mills on the dollar has just been levied upon the Ratepayers for the current year, That while the City would have to make up the above loss by direct taxation in addition to the above burdensome rate, your petitioners verily believe that no benefit would accrue to the community by the passage of the said By-law.

That as the Crooks Act has been the most successful measure so far adopted, and as it has only been a short time in operation it should receive a fair trial before being supplemented by a measure that has been for (13) years on our Statute books, and wherever brought into force has proved to be comparatively worthless, and more calculated to increase rather than diminish the evils of intemperance, as evinced by the strongest evidence, more especially the report of the Commission of the Ontario Government.

Therefore, your petitioners respectfully submit that the said By-law should not be submitted to a vote of the electors. And your petitioners as in duty bound will ever pray."

The result was that in a short time, the petitions were returned from each ward, bearing in the aggregate the signatures of 5000 and more of bona fide ratepayers of Toronto, and then presented in due course to the City Council, who decided after deliberation, that they had no power to prevent the submission of the By-law to the electorate. Monday the 6th of August was appointed for the opening of the poll. Then commenced an active canvass on both sides. In this service the most trusty and active agents were employed by our Executive Committee, with instructions to report daily to the Chairmen of their respective wards, while others were engaged classifying the voters' lists, and registering the results of the returns of the canvassing agents.

The Dunkin party, on the other hand, were active and aggressive. They projected a series of meetings extending over several weeks. About the beginning of July they began building on the burnt block, corner of Yonge and Queen Streets, a kind of Amphitheatre capable of seating three to four thousand people, and of giving standing accommodation to as many more, with a covered platform to accommodate two hundred persons. Although not rivalling in situation, magnitude or architectural beauty the Amphitheatre of Titus, yet it served the purpose for many consecutive nights and weeks, of a convenient arena for the display of the skill of the intellectual gladiators who met in wordy combat on this novel stage. Bands of music were often in attendance, and the meetings thus partook of the nature of open air concerts varied by speeches.

The General Committee at first established their head quarters in the spacious offices adjoining the main entrance to the Grand Opera house, and only shifted their flag on the eve of the election, to the near vicinity of the drill shed, immediately opposite the premises of Mr. John Hallam, who on his side, lost no time in defiantly hoisting the Dunkin colours over his factory door.

The Opera House offices when first opened, seemed to attract the curiosity of various loungers. Among others an adherent of the Dunkin party from the country, in search of the Amphitheatre inquired "what place is this?" He was answered mysteriously, that this was another Rye House Plot; he seemed for a moment to muse, and then on being politely invited to retire, retreated with great expedition, as if scenting danger in this dark double entendre.

The Executive Committee now engaged the services of Mr. E. King Dodds as chief organizer and lecturer, a gentleman of more than Provincial reputation as a journalist and public speaker. His stirring eloquence and readiness in debate gained him much popularity with the masses, and while shunning all coarseness of invective, his denunciations were not the less incisive and effective when occasion demanded.

We regret our inability to do justice to the merits of the principal office-bearers, but it would be ungrateful to pass in silence the valuable services of the Chairman, Mr. D. Walker, and of the Treasurer, Mr. E. O'Keefe, gentlemen whose personal character and standing, lent weight to their public utterances, and to their opinions in council. Mr. John Cosgrave debarred by domestic affliction from personal exertions at a critical time, proved himself on all other occasions, an efficient and influential worker, and so also of Mr. Geo. A. Burns, Mr. Thomas Allen, and Mr. John Timms.

Much valuable aid was also rendered by various members outside the Executive Committee, who served on special committees and in various other ways. The trade and public will not readily forget the names of Messrs. John Bailey, Mat Evans, Wm. Armstrong, W. H. Minhinnick, Mr. Howe, G. Haskings, N. Holman, John Elliott, Jas. Duffey, John Graham, Geo. A. Mitchell, Geo. Jones, Robert McCleary, W. Stephenson, Geo. Foy, Jas. J. Kelly, R. O'Hara, R. Laurence, J. Patterson, Walter Grant, Abner Brown, J. Schaeffer, A. Eichorn, W. Bell, J. Whelan, W. G. Montgomery, S. Hunter, Jas. Walsh, P. Small, and others.

Nor should the labours of the assistant organizer, Mr. J. Gladstone Dodds, be ignored; a gentleman fertile in expedients and of much electioneering experience, and of note in the sporting world. He it was who planned and successfully carried out the celebrated Yorkville serenade, which aroused the local hostility of the opposite party, their leader having come off "second best" in the legal proceedings to which his unjustifiable aggressiveness gave rise. In a cartoon of Grip, September 1, a good likeness of our friend will be found placed pipe in hand, vis a vis with a distinguished member of the city press.

We have endeavoured to avoid all undue strictures on the public utterances and acts of those gentlemen who took the first aggressive steps, and when the obloquy to which we have been subjected, in connection with our legitimate business is considered, the provocation to retaliate is confessedly strong; but to their attacks we have learned to be quite indifferent, satisfied that a discriminating public will recognise in many of their agents, little else than veritable specimens of that froth which the effervescence of the times occasionally casts upon the surface of politics' troubled waters, and on the crest of the Dunkin wave as well.

"The earth hath bubbles as the water hath, and these are of them"—his friend told Hamlet.

The Association as such is of no political party, and cannot be compromised by any opinions reflected from these pages, and for which the compilers hereof are alone responsible, as they likewise are for any defects of style or of grammar; being plain unlettered men, they make no pretensions to skill in bookmaking.

We now introduce our readers to the accounts of the principal meetings and speeches preparatory to the polling, as condensed chiefly from the excellent reports of the Mail Newspaper.

After the proceedings at the City Council above narrated, our opponents lost no time in opening their regular campaign in the shape of mass meetings, the first of which took place under their auspices, on the evening of July 5th, at St. Andrew's Hall. A large attendance on both sides. Hall crowded to its utmost capacity. VICE-CHANCELLOR BLAKE occupied the Chair. His remarks as well as those of most of the other speakers at this and at subsequent meetings are as follows.

ST. ANDREW'S HALL.—JULY 5TH.

THE CHAIRMAN.—Referred to evidence exhibiting the lamentable effects of intemperance; 40 or 50 hotels, he held, were sufficient for the purposes of this city. Last year, there were no less than 500 places in Toronto where liquor was sold. These of course, included groceries; but these dens he considered were the greatest bane of the country. He had received numerous letters praying that he would close up certain grocery stores. They were the worst places in this City. He went in heart and soul for shutting them up. If they passed the Dunkin Act in Toronto, it would be the knell of intemperance throughout the whole of Canada. He exhorted all present to aid in their endeavours to ring out the joy bells when the Dunkin Act was passed.

REV. MR. HUNTER.—There was a fire in their midst consuming everything that was noble and beautiful. That fire was the 500 liquor sellers of Toronto; they were pouring oil upon the devouring flames, and the only way to extinguish these was to take the oil cans from their hands. He urged the women of this City to do all in their power towards the passage of the Dunkin Act about to be submitted; their influence was most important.

MR. DYMOND, M.P.—One of the objections raised against the Act was that it was a law for the rich man and not for the poor man. The rich man could obtain his five gallons, but the poor man had to do without any. It is the poor man who ought to be grateful to them, for taking the temptation from him. The poor man—

[At this point a disturbing shout arose from the back part of the hall. The Chairman requested the individual to come to order; he would not be allowed at a public meeting to conduct himself as he did in his own bar. The meeting here became somewhat excited, the Anti-Dunkin men contending that the person who raised the disturbance was not a hotel-keeper.]

The Chairman announced his intention of explaining.

Mr. Dymond on concluding his remarks was succeeded by REV. A. SUTHERLAND.—Even if the Act which was to be passed was somewhat arbitrary, it was well to consider that many of their most beneficial laws were arbitrary. He would advise those who had their money sunk in the liquor trade to invest it in other business, from which if they could not derive so great a profit, yet they would confer untold blessings upon their fellow men.

MR. WATERHOUSE, came on the platform to combat Mr. Blake's expressions relative to the man who had caused the disturbance during Mr. Dymond's speech. He said, if that individual was an hotel-keeper as the Chairman had stated he was, he would have him censured and degraded as an insult to their calling. He held that they were honest in the business, and that it was not they who dragged men into the taverns; they came to them of their own free will. In Parliament some time ago, a motion for prohibition was lost on a division, by a majority of 104; that showed the popular opinion on the matter. If it was a tavern-keeper as was said, caused the disturbance, he would now place on the table, ten dollars for the purpose of exposing him. He thought it would tax the people to their utmost to be compelled to raise the five or six millions, the deficiency which would occur, if prohibition was passed.

At this moment, a person, not a tavern-keeper, rose and stated that it was he who caused the interruption complained of.

The Chairman said that nothing had pleased him more to-night, than the spirit in which his friend had defended his cause. He hoped that their friends would continue in the same spirit, until the battle had been concluded. He was satisfied now, the man who disturbed the meeting was not an hotel-keeper.

MR. G. MACLEAN, President of the Ontario Prohibitory League, said he knew that the publicans broke the rules which were directed against them. They sold liquor at hours when the law prohibited its sale. He had only known one in Toronto who had not sold liquor after seven o'clock on Saturday Night, (cries of "no, no,") there might however be more (cries of "yes, yes.")

MR. JAMES BEER, came to the platform and denied the statement made by Mr. Maclean. He for one, adhered to the law, and sold no liquor contrary to the law.

MR. MATT EVANS, also rose and signified by marked emphasis that he too was a stringent adherent to the law.

The meeting broke up in good order, it being evident that the first serious movement had now commenced, which was to bring the opposing forces speedily into line, preparatory to the decisive charge at the battle of the polls. The Licensed Victuallers now were preparing quietly but resolutely to meet the worst. On the way home from the meeting this evening, a little knot took the same route. One of these asked a citizen present, what motto he would suggest for their banner, which must now be unfurled. The reply was the following impromptu—

The flag that waved a thousand years,
O'er beer and bread and cheese,
Shall not go down before Blake's frown,
Or noxious Dunkin breeze !

That night the design was roughly sketched ; but as the cut cheese on the white ground bore a suspicious resemblance to the crescent on the Moslem standard, the idea was abandoned for fear that the symbol might be mistaken for that of the original prohibitionists and sons of temperance—The followers of Mahomet.

ST. LAWRENCE HALL.—JULY 10TH.

A large gathering called by the promoters of the Dunkin Act, several ladies were present.

MR. E. COATSWORTH, occupied the chair and invited the opponents of the Dunkin Act who wished to speak to take a seat on the platform.

MR. P. BOYLE, was the first speaker called upon, and was glad to see how the cause had been promoted by Christian Churches. His Church was in favour of temperance, and advocated the suppression of strong drink.

MR. O'KEEFE, rose to correct a statement of the speaker. He could tell Mr. Boyle that His Grace the Archbishop had declared, that he himself, and his flock were dissatisfied with the Dunkin Act. He thought it would be inferred from Mr. Boyle's assertion, that His Grace was in favour of the Act, which was not the case.

Mr. Boyle, on resuming, said he could assure Mr. O'Keefe that His Grace was in favour of temperance, and enjoined on young persons to keep the temperance pledge until they were twenty-one years of age. He also adduced the testimony of Cardinal Manning and Father Burke. If the Act was passed, he would be willing to allow compensation to those who would be heavy losers by the change in the liquor law.

Mr. O'Keefe, wished simply to refute the popular impression that those who were not in favour of the Dunkin Act were therefore in opposition to Temperance. He totally differed from this impression. He advocated the light wine and beer drinking as practised in Germany and France. In the former country, government encouraged beer drinking to the suppression of more ardent spirits. The Dunkin Act would suppress drunkenness in Toronto, no more than the Maine Liquor Law decreased intemperance in Maine, where more drunkenness was indulged in now, than before the State was subjected to its stringent liquor law. He was in favour of Mr. Rine's moral suasion movement, and thought it had done much good. At St. Andrew's Hall, he was surprised to hear Mr. Dymond make the statement, that the great proportion of Canadian barley was made into whiskey, whereas the proportion was only 3½ per cent. The great trouble in this country was poor and cheap whiskey. He would like to see the encouragement of beer and light wines. (cheers.)

ALD. HALLAM, cited some cases to prove that the Dunkin Act would have the effect of promoting temperance and order, and concluded by stating that they would know no defeat, and if they were defeated at the polls, they would turn around and submit the Act again.

MR. E. KING DODDS, next addressed the meeting, and in rising was loudly cheered. He said he had not been invited to the meeting by the Temperance people, but had simply dropped into the Hall, and was asked to take a seat on the platform. At the one hundred lectures he had delivered throughout the Province, he had always made it a point to invite on his platform, the advocates of the Temperance cause, he however, and his friends, had not met with a reciprocal treatment. He was in favour of the Rine movement, and acknowledged the great good it had brought about. He himself was a temperate man and was able to remain one without uniting himself to any temperance lodge. He advocated that law which allowed drinking by the single glass. Ald. Hallam and the other advocates of temperance wished drinking to be carried on by the five gallons. Mr. Blake's statement at St. Andrew's Hall, that tavern-keepers had now had thirteen years warning was absurd, since Dunkin's Bill had remained a dead letter. Mr. Dodd's combatted the arguments and took exception to the conclusions of Mr. Boyle in his references to the Archbishop and Cardinal Manning, and pointed out by extracts from the Boston Arqus, that the Maine Liquor Law had proved a failure. Of twenty-one convictions under the Dunkin Act in Picton for illicit traffic in liquor, seventeen had been quashed when brought before a Supreme Court. He thought that the raising of $47,000 additional taxes would appeal to the citizens of Toronto, before they cast their vote at the coming contest. (Cheers.)

MR. SPENCE wished to contradict Mr. Dodds in several points. He could produce the testimony of four ex-Mayors of Portland, who asserted that the law had worked admirably in Maine, and that there had been an apparent diminution of drinking.

The meeting closed by singing the National Anthem.

METROPOLITAN CHURCH.—JULY 16TH.

In support of the Dunkin Act, a large attendance.

MR. ROSE in the chair. He said he would vote for the Dunkin Act as the best measure they could now get. He would consider any scheme from the Licensed Victuallers, looking to compensation for their losses, if the Act passes.

MR. GARVIN had no sympathy with compensation; because the Act was arbitrary, it should not be rejected. Every good Act was arbitrary. Anti-Dunkinites as every one knew, made the most bold and untruthful statements at their meetings.

MR. GURNEY said that after much trouble he had succeeded in making sober men of his boys, but taverns and grog shops sprung up around his establishment, and the result was he could not now name one of those young men who did not get drunk. Although the necessary hotels would be obliterated by the Dunkin Act, yet he was prepared to see them sacrificed for the sake of having the corner groggeries annihilated.

DR. WILMOT.—The time was now come to put down the evils of intoxicating drink; to use something stronger than moral suasion. He believed with Vice-Chancellor Blake, that what was called the vested interests of the Licensed Victuallers, should be swept away without any compensation whatever. He was willing to buy all the stock in hand of the whiskey sellers, and throw it where it should be thrown, into the gutter. Undeniable success had attended the Dunkin Act in those counties in which it was passed.

MR. ATKINS did not think there should be any compensation. It did not require any capital for a man to set up a whiskey shop. He showed by statistics that the Crooks Act had failed to suppress the increase of intemperance.

REV. MR. GALES of the Dominion Alliance. He meant to tell the Licensed Victuallers, that they never meant to stop at the Dunkin Act; nothing would satisfy them but total prohibition.

A meeting in the Dunkin interest was held in the church, at the west end, corner of Spadina Avenue and College Street.

THE CHAIRMAN said: The Dunkin Act was almost akin to prohibition. For the sake of the liquor sellers themselves, he appealed to his hearers to pass the Act.

REV. MR. SMITH said they would win if the people were only faithful to the principles they held. He had vowed eternal vengeance not against the liquor dealers,—because he did not hold with licensing men and then blackguarding them—but against the liquor traffic.

MR. DYMOND, M.P., followed with a speech strongly in favour of the Bill.

A GREAT MEETING AT THE RINK, ADELAIDE STREET, WEST.—JULY 18TH.

Called by the opponents of the Dunkin Act; over 4,000 persons present. A number of ladies very conspicuous among the audience.

MR. PHILIP ARMSTRONG was unanimously nominated to the chair. On the platform, on the back of which was displayed the British flag, were seated on the one side, Messrs. O'Keefe, Walker, Alderman Cornnell, Alderman Ball, Capt. Perry, Mr. Cosgrave, Messrs. S. Richardson, Evans and Waterhouse; and on the other side, Rev. Messrs. Affleck, Dewart and Gales, and R. Spence and R. Walker.

MR. E. KING DODDS, on invitation of the Chairman, stated the programme of the speaking—three on each side—and called upon their friends to give their opponents a kind and attentive hearing, and prove that there were gentlemen opposed to, as well as in favour of the Act in question.

MR. D. WALKER, the first speaker, was greeted with prolonged applause. He introduced himself as a hotel-keeper, not a public speaker. He was one of the monsters of iniquity of whom their opponents spoke. (Hear, hear and laughter.) The intemperate language of their opponents brought such as he on public platforms to discuss the issue. The best proof of the Dunkin Act being a failure, was that it had been so long inoperative. It had been announced that the names of those who dared to vote against the Dunkin Act would be published in a newspaper free of charge. This was the sort of intimidation which it was said would be employed. Some speakers had rated the number of intemperate men here from 500 up to 5,000, and even higher, to something like ninety per cent of the population. He resided in a hotel, and within 300 yards of ten others near the Union Station, yet he had never seen (and his neighbours would bear out his statements) an arrest for intemperance take place in that locality. He had heard strangers stopping in Toronto, frequently remark that they had never witnessed Sabbaths better kept, than in this city, or a more orderly place, (applause). Who occupied the higher position, the man who could deal in liquor, and handle it without becoming intemperate, successfully withstanding temptation, or the man who could not. He claimed that he stood upon a higher level than did any such man. Business men required hotels and restaurants for their daily accommodation. They were not prepared for the adoption of the Act in the City, unless provision was made for them. He thanked them for the kind hearing accorded him and resumed his seat amid loud cheering and cries of "Dodds."

REV. MR. DEWART.—He was not there to say a word in an unkind or an unfriendly spirit. This Act was said to be contrary to British law, but we now had laws which restricted the traffic. They were not trying to make men godly by Act of Parliament; but he maintained that they could increase the morality of society by Act of Parliament. Where the Act had been tried, it had been a success.

MR. EVANS a working man said, Legislation in France had been the cause of revolution, and they all knew what the poor law had done for England; there the poor laws were on the one side, and the aristocracy on the other. He would quote against the remarks of the previous speaker relative to temptation, the high authority of Herbert Spencer. Restrictive laws had never acted beneficially in the past and never would in the future. A law, providing that mothers should be thoroughly instructed how to take care of their children was quite as necessary as the Dunkin Act.

[At this point it was thought that the speaker was travelling from the question, and the noise and clamour having drowned his remarks, he withdrew.]

After some observations from Mr. Spence, MR. E. KING DODDS was loudly cheered on coming forward. He said that standing in the presence of that vast gathering of the electors of the City, he was prepared to agree with his temperance friend that this was the all absorbing question of the day. Standing in the presence of his opponents, who were great at all events in quantity, if not heavy metal in quality, he was free to say that he had addressed ninety-five meetings of electors of the Province of Ontario, and over one hundred of his temperance friends had kept him company through his tour. He denied that any speaker on the other side had discussed the Dunkin Act. On the 6th of August they would begin to record their votes not for prohibition, but against a retail law and in favour of a wholesale law, to vote down the single glass and elevate the demijohn of five gallons. An employer of labour not far distant from that building had insulted the intelligence and respectability of his workmen, by saying that all his employe'es got drunk (cries of shame). The working man was as respectable in his way, as the gentleman who wore patent leather and broad cloth, and was as capable of taking care of himself.

A vote of thanks having been given to the Chairman, and three cheers for the Queen the meeting dispersed.

AT THE COLISEUM, ALICE STREET.—JULY 23RD.

A meeting in the interest of the Dunkin Association.

The Chairman invited any of the opponents of the By-law who wished to speak against it to come forward. Mr. Gibson and Mr. Waterhouse came forward.

MR. KNOWLTON.—It had been said the Dunkin Bill had been a failure wherever it had been passed. Prohibition in Maine, was said by the same class of people to be a failure. It was not, for he knew it on authority, that in three counties in Maine, there was not a grog-shop, and there was not a prisoner in the gaols. He prophesied the carrying of the Dunkin Act to be followed by another agitation for the passage of a prohibitory measure.

MR. GIBSON, of Toronto, characterized the Act in question as most injudicious and expressed himself in favour of the complete extinction of the liquor traffic. He favoured the removal of the cause and the destruction of the effects would follow. He was one who assisted in the starting of a well known Temperance Division, which was composed entirely of working men. How was it, he wished to know, now that instead of working men, clergymen appeared on the platform in favour of the measure? Why was it that the clergy did not appear in the lodges? Was it because the clergy loved the uppermost chambers? (cries of order.)

A voice, I rise to a point of order; this meeting has to consider the Dunkin Act.

Mr. Gibson, after order had been restored went on to say, that he could not conscientiously support the Dunkin Act, although he was a temperance man. He was sure the passage of the Dunkin Act would be a failure (Interruption, give us the reason). The law in question would not sustain itself and was consequently bad, and could not be productive of good results. He alluded to the passage of the General Licensing Act, and held that after a law had been passed by our Legislators, it was not the duty of the people to pass laws which would in effect, repeal it. Such an Act was an insult to our Legislators, and if we wanted to have it repealed or amended, the people should go to the Legislature.

REV. W. B. AFFLECK was received with cheers. He said he took part in this discussion, simply as a rate-payer of Toronto. If he was sure that the passage of the Act would bring a moral and spiritual improvement, he would support it, but feeling that it would also be a financial benefit, he had all the more pleasure in supporting it. He was sorry that the opponents of the Act, instead of sending a man to support their views, had only sent the apology for a man, and expressed his opinion that it would have been well if the Anti-Dunkin Association had purchased a bar of soap and permitted the person in question to have a chemical experiment with it before he came before an audience. The opposition of many people to the Dunkin Bill he alleged to be because their craft was in danger. In Canada, prohibitory legislation was of such a nature that people could take it or refuse it as they liked. How then could the tavern-keepers cry out that the rights of the people were being taken away from them? What right had the licensed Victuallers to talk of equal rights?

MR. WATERHOUSE who was announced by the Chairman as a tavern-keeper, was then called upon and was received with hisses. He wished to know why he was hissed; he had come determined to defend his interests, and after calling upon him to speak, it was hardly fair of his hearers to hiss him.

A person in the audience got up and stated that the hissing was in consequence of a dog drinking out of a pail, (laughter).

Mr Waterhouse said that was all blarney, and he was not to be taken in by it. He had come to hear the Dunkin Act discussed, but except a talk about salts and senna and an attack on an old man, nothing had been adduced in its favour. When he saw the way in which the poor man was attacked, his blood boiled within him, and he could not help thinking the man who could attack him so unjustifiably deserved to be knocked down. He wanted to see justice to all. He could support himself independently of his liquor license, should it be taken away to-morrow. In all the audiences he had seen here, he had not seen a drunken man; had that been the case, there might be some reason for the agitation.

He then related the origin of the Dunkin Act agitation, in a general deputation of temperance people waiting on the Premier to ascertain his views in regard to passing a prohibitory Act. Regarding the evils of intemperance, tavern-keepers would as soon see old Nick come into their bar-rooms as a drunken man.

A voice, "Who makes them drunk?"

Mr. Waterhouse. Did his interrupter think that the tavern-keeper took a man by the back of his head and poured liquor down his throat; no, a man who had no will of his own, was not a man at all. He hoped the advocates of the Act would not again resort to the abuse of the tavern-keepers. He related a case of wholesale drinking at a private boarding house, where 18 galls. of beer were brought in, and the result was, that in less than four hours, everyone of the eighteen boarders in that house was drunk, and the old woman in disgust threw the keg into the yard. He then alluded to the tale told by Mr. Affleck in the Amphitheatre, the moral of which was that the Government had made pairs of pants too tight for the tavern-keepers to sit down in.

[In the midst of the commotion raised by these utterances, the speaker was interrupted by an impetuous innkeeper from Glen-garry springing to his feet at this juncture, and shouting aloud,

"Horo, Domhnall Ciomaineach, Rinn Alasdair, BRIGGIS dha."

Upon the Saxon ear unattuned to the music of the mountain tongue, such unaccustomed tones fell with a somewhat bewildering effect; and a few individuals misled by a similarity of sound fancied they heard above the din, the name of their favourite humourist called, and instantly the hall resounded with cries for "Briggs" but JIMUEL, genial jester! being at the moment over the hills and far away, could not respond to the invitations to rise, and so the exciting sounds gradually died away in faint echoes along the adjacent avenues and lanes; meantime the irate cause of this diversion stepped out into the starlight, energetically reminding his attendant associates of the proverbial difficulty of depriving any of his countrymen at least, of his nether garments.]

Mr. Waterhouse then resumed. Some village boys were once making a miniature city out of mud. A passer by was shewn various public buildings including the parsonage. Said the gentleman, "I never saw a parsonage yet without the parson in it, where is he?" "Ah master," replied a little urchin, "but we had not got dirt enough to make a parson."

Mr. Affleck. They used it all up in making the man who came here to-night.

Mr. Waterhouse then retorted upon the last speaker, saying it was not his place to abuse a poor old man behind his back. He then withdrew stating he could not stand on the platform with a man who could do the like of that.

Mr. G. M. ROSE having been asked to give an explanation as to what the Dunkin Act was, said that fourteen years ago, there was a great clamour for prohibition, and Judge Dunkin, as it was thought the country was not ripe for it, introduced the Act. The five gallon clause was inserted in order to meet the views, to some extent of those who were opposed to temperance reform. The provisions of the Act could be enforced by the provisions of the Crooks Act, which provided that no one should sell liquor without a license. The result of the passage of the Dunkin Act, would be the passage of an entirely prohibitory law.

REV. T. W. HANDFORD said he had had a great deal to do with elections in the old country. It was not on public meetings alone that success in such matters depended. It was in button-holing men who had votes and working like beavers.

GREAT MEETING AT THE AMPHITHEATRE.—JULY 30TH.

After the customary preliminaries.

MR. D WALKER was introduced. He had again to return thanks for the courtesy extended him in the invitation to be present to discuss the opposition side of the Dunkin Bill. It was with much diffidence he rose to address such an audience.

He replied to some arguments put forward by speakers who had referred to some remarks he had made on the first evening he visited the Amphitheatre. The Mayor of Napanee coming as he did a strong temperance advocate, with documents prepared by men under him, to prove his assertions, had denied the statement that he (Mr. Walker) made,—that a certain M.P. arriving in Napanee on a certain occasion, was served with brandy and soda, but it needed only to notice how far astray he was in other points, to shew how liable he was to be mistaken on that one. People could get all the liquor they wanted at Napanee by the back doors. He understood that the same gentleman had been in the pay of the Temperance people for a long time, and was so at the present moment.

The Chairman He is not paid by us.

Mr. Walker. Oh! but you pay him as a Temperance speaker, and that shews a little "twisting and turning." (Laughter.) A Reverend gentleman had said that granting licenses to those who sold liquor, was a signal that those people and the business they were engaged in, was dangerous. A stander by hearing that statement made, said, "Well my bread cart must be dangerous, for I pay a license for it." (Laughter). There must be a great many dangerous men and women in Toronto, according to that argument, for many of them had to be licensed, and all he presumed who came before the Rev. gentleman as candidates for matrimony, had to produce their licenses. (Laughter and hear hear.) His friend Alderman Hallam he believed to be a consistent temperance man; at the same time that gentleman had over the mark when he offered $100 to any man who could be proved to have spent five cents in liquor since he had taken the pledge. Recently at the opening of a road at Kinmount, the Alderman was anxious to be the first to send skins over the line, and after purchasing some skins at a grocery store wanting to be kind of liberal, asked him (Mr. Walker) to have a drink with him. Ald. Hallam paid the ten cents, and they partook together. He was not a candidate for the $100. The Alderman could send it to the Girl's Home or to the Dunkin Committee, (Laughter.) He remarked on the inconsistency not only of some of the thirty-eight signers, but of some of their speakers as well. Few of the former but had been or were now interested in the produce or sale of liquors; and some of them would not vote for the Act. One of them had his clerks round peddling liquors now. (Cries of name.) The name was Mr. W. P. Howland. He was not the only man on the list. There was another gentleman he was sorry to have to name. It was the same who used his (Mr. W.'s) name rather freely a week ago last Saturday. A person who was a dealer in liquor himself, should be careful how he applied such language to other people, (cries of name) he was loth to give the name but was obliged to do it, it was the Rev. Mr. Hunter. It was none of his business if a man used liquor at home, but when he came out as a lecturer on the other side of the question, he should be careful how he talked of other people. He (Mr. W.) was not ashamed of the part he had taken as Chairman of the Anti-Dunkin Association. He had some illustrious examples, in the late most noble Prince Consort, at one time Chairman of the Licensed Victualler's Association, and in H. R. H. the Prince of Wales, who lately presided at the supper of that Association. He called upon his hearers to vote in support of their birthright and manhood.

THE CHAIRMAN in Rev. Mr. Hunter's absence read a reply from that gentleman, characterising the assertion that he was in the habit of laying in or having brought into his house spirits or malt liquors, for use other than for purely medicinal purposes, as a deliberate falsehood, and challenged all dealers in the article, in Toronto, to controvert his statement.

MR. WALKER said he could prove it by Kerr the baker, and his man Gowans who delivered the article, that the intoxicating liquor was carried into Mr. Hunter's house under cover of a flour bag.

REV. PROF. GREGG said there was nothing in Mr. Walker's speech but personalities, and he did not mean to enter into them. He did not think he had done any good by dealing with nationalities. He believed the testimony of gentlemen from places in which the Act had been passed, and he hoped that its passage would be accomplished here.

MR. P. BEVERLEY, B.A., late of Oxford, England, said that he had attended several meetings, but was not to be led away by the sophistry he had heard at some of them. Temperance did not mean teetotalism, and he defied any clergyman present to prove that it did. After some further remarks time was called, and Mr. B. was obliged to bring his speech to a close.

MR. GIBSON of Ingersoll. Regarding the argument of the last speaker, that the passage of the Act would restrict liberty, he said there was a law prohibiting the sale of whiskey to Indians. That was class legislation, against which no one had ever raised his voice. During the days of polling, it was declared no liquor should be sold, so that men should not vote with their senses dethroned, and urged that the working men would lose nothing by the passage of the Act, and taxes would not be increased.

AT THE DRILL SHED.—JULY 31st.

Meeting of citizens called by requisition. The advocates of the Act refuse to speak.

The Mayor declared this meeting open for discussion, and called on the requisitionists to come forward and give their reasons for signing it. A long delay and no response,

The following took seats on the platform, to the right and left of the Mayor. For the Act: Messrs. Hallam, Dewart, Maclean, Spence and Gibson. Against it: Messrs. E. O'Keefe, J. Ball, E. K. Dodds, and P. Beverley.

A long interval and no one accepted the invitation to speak. The Anti-Dunkin party claimed that those who proposed to introduce a new law, should open the ball, and the Dunkinites refused to speak, until their opponents opened the meeting.

The Mayor then after waiting, said he felt it his duty to proclaim the meeting closed.

This announcement was received with a storm of laughter, cheers and hisses. A vote of thanks to the Mayor was proposed and carried in the midst of the confusion, and the vast crowd, numbering it was supposed, at least 5,000 persons passed out of the building.

A large number then gathered around the front of the City Hall, and Mr. E. King Dodds standing on the steps delivered an animated speech, in which he animadverted in strong terms on the position taken by the opposing party, in refusing to advocate their cause, until those opposed to the passage of the Act, had first stated their objections. During the whole of this campaign, they had treated their opponents with courtesy. They had not told any of the working men of the City, when they came to their meetings, as had been told them a few nights ago, to go home, wash their faces with a bar of soap and put on better clothes. Let the people remember, that while as had lately been stated, a Judge could order a champagne dinner in a Temperance County, and afterwards advocated the Dunkin Act in Toronto, the working man would be unable, if that Act passed, to obtain his single glass of beer. He then called for three cheers for the Queen, which were heartily given.

ANTI-DUNKIN MEETING, AT THE COLISEUM.—AUGUST 2ND.

A crowded meeting.

MR. JOHN HEWITT was the first speaker. He said all who knew him, knew he was not in favour of drunkenness. He was opposed to the Act in consequence of its manifest injustice and unfairness, and because its passage would affect a business in learning which he had spent many years. He strongly advocated the use of moral suasion, but was opposed to coercive legislation in any movement that would rob a man of his rights. He opposed it also on the grounds of its interference with trade, in depressing a branch of industry in which he was concerned, and a further interference would follow if this Act was passed. [Mr. H.'s calm and temperate remarks were well received by the audience.]

After some remarks from Rev. Mr. Dewart,

MR. A. WATTS of Brantford was then introduced. He said it had been stated that the Act had been a success in his city: he contradicted that. The same number of licensed places were still carrying on the traffic as in 1876, and he had no doubt that there were more than twenty per cent. more places in which liquor was sold. The Act was a fraud. In Brantford any amount of drink could be got, and in Prince Edward, as the Ontario Commissioner had reported, the quantity of liquor sold had not been diminished. Regarding the anxiety professed by some people for the working men, he said they knew just as well how to take care of themselves, as the gentlemen to whom he referred did.

MR. E. KING DODDS in reply to Rev. Mr. Dewart, said if that gentleman was sincere in his conviction, that the liquor traffic brought in its train, poverty, crime and general destruction, how could he consistently now advocate the sale of strong drinks in larger quantities than were hitherto permitted. In reply to a statement of one of the Dunkin advocates on the previous night, he (E. K. Dodds) said, that Gooderham and Worts used last year, over 50,000 bushels of Canadian barley, and paid $52,000 in wages. Instead of the tavern-keepers alone being affected, many other classes would be. He then discussed the monetary aspect of the question, and pointed out the loss to the city in the event of the passage of the Dunkin Act; and concluded by calling for three cheers for "the liberty of the subject, and no rich man's law at the expense of the poor man."

 AT THE AMPHITHEATRE.

Same evening. A large attendance, Mr. Dymond, M.P., in the Chair.

REV. MR. HUNTER said, as to the report that had been spread broadcast through the land, and aired in every coarse tavern, that a keg of beer had been introduced into his house under cover of a flour bag, he gave it a distinct and emphatic denial, and he challenged the world to prove the truth of the report. It had been stated that the charges against him could be substantiated by Mr. Kerr, a baker of this City, who, he understood was present, he invited that gentleman to come forward and make the charge. (applause.)

The Chairman said, that as Mr. Hunter was a minister and a gentleman, he did not believe that the audience wanted anything more than they had heard. It ought to satisfy any one. (Loud cries for Kerr). He invited Mr. Kerr to speak.

MR. KERR said his name had been mentioned by Mr. Walker; he did not know that gentleman, and had never stated anything to him. David Walker's statement was false and slanderous (loud cheers). He never sent a barrel of beer under cover of a flour bag to Mr. Hunter's house. (great cheering.)

Cries for Mr. Walker. It having been found that he was not present—

MR. BROOKS of Leslieville, on invitation of the Chairman then spoke. For 13 years the Dunkin Act had been on the Statute Book, and he believed he spoke within bounds when he said that for 10 years it had been a dead letter. If they wanted prohibition, they should come out in their true colours, and agitate till they secured it. He spoke of the evil influence of bringing liquor into the home circle, and that more drunkenness would ensue by four or five men clubbing together and purchasing liquor in bulk and consuming it on the premises and not leaving while a drop remained. He concluded by characterizing it as a monstrous piece of legislation—a disgrace to that empire which has but one law for all its subjects.

The Chairman paid a compliment to the previous speaker's manner, and said that he agreed with everything but his arguments. He was always glad however, to meet such a gentleman on the platform.

MR. W. H. HOWLAND said, one might as well get into the fight publicly, as sit contentedly by recording his vote; he had been induced to come out and vote for the Act, in consequence of the charges which had been made against his father. He was going to work, and if it did not tell at the polls, it would be a strange thing. He proceeded at some length to review the arguments used against the Dunkin Act. Heart-rending cases were brought under his notice as President of the Hospital Trust, and he was sorry to say that in his opinion, Toronto was a drunken city. Half of the number of patients who were admitted to the hospital, came with diseases which had been instigated by whiskey.

HON. JAS. ROGERSON, a member of the Newfoundland Government, was introduced by the Chairman and warmly received. He dwelt on the stories of the Temperance cause, and related what had been done among the fishermen of the Maritime Provinces. It would be a bright day in the Dominion, when the beautiful City of Toronto stamped out the Liquor Traffic.

Two other speakers on the Dunkin side, made the closing remarks.

SCHOLES' HALL, CORNER QUEEN AND DUNDAS STREETS.

On the same night a meeting was held at this Hall, under the auspices of the Anti-Dunkin Association. The audience was a fair sized one, and composed chiefly of working men.

MR. JOHN REID in the Chair.

THE CHAIRMAN, after having called the meeting to order, said that he had occupied the chair at this meeting, because he had not been able to convince himself that the passage of the Dunkin Act would be for the benefit of the greatest number of the people. It would be unjust to pass it, inasmuch as it offered no compensation for the loss it would bring on hotel-keepers, a class of men who had done so much towards the construction of railways and other enterprises, and would be a means of stirring up animosities between fellow citizens. He was further convinced that the Dunkin Act would not accomplish the objects for which it was intended.

MR. BEVERLY being the first called on, raised his voice against the Dunkin Act, because it was tyrannical, inconsistent and iniquitous. (cheers.) This Act would cause a man to lose all he had earned, while carrying on a business upheld by the law. It was as iniquitous to offer no indemnity to hotel-keepers, as it had been to free the slaves in the south without compensating the owners of them.

MR. GIBSON on the Dunkin side, took exception to the arguments of the previous speaker. The impatience of the audience at his remarks caused him to beat a retreat,

MR. BRYCE, denounced Mr. Garvin's attack on Mr. Walker, at the Occident Hall on the previous night, and characterised Mr. W. as a gentleman who would not advance a statement he was not able to prove. The Dunkin Act was a fraud, a delusion and a snare. He held that there were as good men who took their glass daily, as those who do not. The Dunkinites would be the means of creating a revolution,

MR. MUNN said, he was opposed to the Dunkin Act for several reasons. It was tyrannical, and elevated the rich man, and crushed down the poor man. He would vote as his conscience directed him, and would not be dictated to. He believed in temperance, but the Dunkin Act was not going to increase temperance.

[Some of Mr. Munn's remarks were made in midst of great confusion, and it appeared he charged some Temperance man in the audience with selling liquor to a friend, and also with keeping it in the house.]

The individual referred to came on the platform, and said he had been charged with giving Mr. Emery a glass of whiskey while killing a pig for him; (laughter) this he strongly denied, and offered Mr. Emery $50 if he would come forward and prove it.

MR. D. WALKER said, the petition of the 5,000 against the Dunkin Act had predicted that its passage would have a bad effect on trade, and excite animosity among the citizens. That prediction had already been fulfilled. Trade and building operations were arrested as instanced in his own case, having by the advice of friends abandoned his intention,—since this agitation commenced,—of building a wing to the Walker House, which besides giving employment to mechanics and labourers would have demanded the purchase of $8,000 worth of furniture. He repudiated the charge of personalities. He did not hunt for the facts in regard to the charge of inconsistency he had made against a Rev. advocate of the Dunkin Act, the facts had been brought to him. He urged on the audience not to be intimidated by the threats of the Dunkinites.

GREAT MEETING IN THE GRAND OPERA HOUSE.—AUG, 4TH.

Grand rally of the opponents of the By-law. Great meeting in the Grand Opera House, which was crowded from roof to floor.

Several ladies occupied seats in the boxes. The vast assemblage preserved the utmost good humour, and except a few interruptions and demonstrations more or less noisy, of approval or dissent, the meeting was well conducted. The Chair was ably filled by Ald. Canavan.

The decorations shone resplendent in the glare of the gas lights. Conspicuous was a legend in large letters placed there by some waggish adherent of the Bill, being the refrain of an ancient Gaelic song, reading and was supposed to refer to some dramatic performance of the Irish Shaughraun Company.

The speakers were limited to fifteen minutes each; and any two gentlemen favourable to the By-law having been invited to take seats on the platform, Messrs. Spence and Gibson came forward.

MR. BROOKS said it had now become a question whether they, as British subjects would permit any particular class in the community to interfere with their liberties. He stood there, not because he cared for the liquor traffic one way or the other, but because he would not allow any man to dictate to him, what he should drink or what he should eat. He had been asked why he came out to fight the Licensed Victualler's battle. The L.V.'s were very well able to fight their own battle without any assistance from him; but he recognized that they in fighting for their own interests were fighting his battle, and any ability or eloquence which he possessed, great or small, was at their service.

Could the Dunkin Act be enforced in Toronto? (Cries of no, never.) If this Act passed, who would have to ferret out the illegal sales of whiskey?

The speakers on the Dunkin side then stated their case, going over the usual arguments, and taking exception to those advanced by their opponents.

MR. BRYCE, did not object to men signing the pledge, but after they had determined to drink no more, he did object to their coming forward and trying to seal every body else's mouth. All the eloquence and ability were not on the other side of the question, as some would try to make the people believe. He cited a late eminent divine, whose aspirations were, that the working man should still enjoy his beer. A popular modern poet had sung of the grape as given—

“To cheer both great and small;
Little fools will drink too much
And big fools none at all.”

He appealed to his audience not to be found among either the one or the other of these classes. (Applause.)

MR. E. KING DODDS, was received with loud cheers. He alluded to a case of intimidation, said to have occurred in Brampton, in Mr. Gibson's own town, and that gentleman dared not deny it. He came now to prove to the Citizens of Toronto, that the Dunkinites were prepared to intimidate in this City as much as in Brampton, and he would call a living witness to prove the truth of his statement. He asked for John Gowans.

The young man Gowans then stepped forward.

Mr. Dodds continued, there stood the man, a man of a family who had worked here for years, and for daring to tell the truth, had been ordered by his employer, a Dunkinite of Toronto, to leave his employ, and to seek his way elsewhere. (Cheers and hisses.)

[Previous to this scene, a declaration had been made by Gowans before a Commissioner for taking Affidavits, &c., and published in the papers, to the effect that he had by direction of his employer Kerr, taken to and left at the dwelling of Mr. Hunter, a keg of beer, covered from observation by a flour bag.]

Mr. Dodds continued. He contradicted the statements of Messrs. Spence and Gibson, upon the authority of Commissioners in Brockville and Leeds, as well as on the authority of the Government report, stating that the Crooks Act was working well, and that under it there was less drunkenness than in those sections where the Dunkin Act had been in operation. It had been denied that the revenue of this City was what he (Mr. Dodds) had stated it to be, the other night. He had here Mr. Dexter's official figures to show that he had understated the amount instead of having stretched it. There were 230 retail licenses in this City, on which the Government charge was $10, two thirds of which went to the Municipality, in addition to which it levied a further sum of $50, making a total of $116.67, which went to the City. That, multiplied by 280 gave an amount clear of all encumbrance to the City of Toronto, of $32,667.60. From the wholesale licenses were derived two-thirds of $4,500 or $3,000, which added to the other amount gave the City a total for this year of $35,637. In conclusion, he asked them to join him in a cheer that would re-echo from the Drill-shed, in proof that they would stand no tyrannical legislation, but desired an equal law for rich and poor. (Cheers.)

Mr. HEWITT argued that total prohibition would never succeed in this country. The Minister of Finance had stated in reference to the protective duty on oil, that 1,200,000 gals., had been smuggled into the country while the duty existed, and no effort of the revenue officers could prevent it. If the liquor trade was driven out, the inducement to smugglers all along the line would be such, that the whole British Army could not prevent smuggling. The State of Maine had stood still in material wealth and population, while the surrounding States and Provinces which were without a prohibitory law had progressed. (Cheers.)

THE AMPHITHEATRE.

On the same night the largest meeting that had yet been held in support of the Dunkin Act since the campaign first opened, was held in the Amphitheatre,

On the platform appeared most of the same speakers who usually occupied that post. In addition to these was Mr. O'Leary, a popular temperance lecturer. Space will not permit more than a reference to the concluding remarks of this stranger, who took it upon him to ask every citizen to go to the polls on Monday and exercise his highest prerogative, the making of the laws of his country.

The Rev. Mr. POOLE also said he was certain that success would crown their efforts, and that the passage of the Act in Toronto, would be the key stone to its passage in the whole Dominion.

MEETING IN ST. THOMAS WARD.—AUGUST 10TH.

At a meeting held in the Dunkin interest, in St. Thomas Ward, on the 10th of August,

The Rev. Mr. AFFLECK said, he had never entertained a doubt but that they were going to win.

REV. MR. DEWART said, in St. James Ward alone, there were 1500 citizens to vote on their side.

ALD. HALLAM.—The Anti-Dunkinites were paying workmen for votes and debasing them by giving them intoxicating drinks and what was called a free lunch. He was certain that their opponents had almost worked themselves out.

FIRST DAY'S POLLING.—MONDAY AUGUST 6TH.

As early as 5 o'clock straggling voters singly and in knots of twos and threes, were to be seen making their way towards the poll. From that time the crowd began to collect around the Drill Shed, and the numbers kept gradually increasing until 9 A.M., when about 1,000 people were in front of the building.

The Anti-Dunkin party on the ground, or the "solid men" formed a cordon or kind of circular wall by tightly locking their arms, and were successful in preventing the Dunkin wave which was surging around them from making a breach while first recording their votes. It should have been first mentioned, that as soon as the doors were opened, a run was made for the entrance to the polling booth, which in a few minutes was surrounded, just as the outer door had been, the solid men being still masters of the situation.

The irrepressible Alderman Hallam was several times taken in hand by the crowd, and "run" from one end of the building to the other, by some persons who did not agree with his arguments, or respect the energy of his gesticulations. It is to be regretted that he was finally ejected and hooted across the street. At first the blame of the disturbance was attempted to be laid on the Anti-Dunkin party, until it became known that some extreme Dunkinites were the first aggressors. Alderman Hallam had publicly boasted, that he would poll the first vote for the Dunkin Act. A number of Anti's determined to disappoint him, met at the drill shed door at an early hour. When the Alderman therefore, and some of his friends arrived, they tried to charge through the solid men, but were advised to respect the rights of "first come, first served." Another Dunkin advocate on trying to squeeze himself into the polling enclosure, was roughly handled, and came off minus the tail of his coat. Another suffered an abrasion of the shins. After this, the excitement gradually subsided, and voting went on uninterruptedly on either side. The majority at the close of the first day's polling being 119 against the Bill. When the poll closed at 5 o'clock, 510 votes had been recorded, being at the rate of 70 per hour.

CLOSE OF THE CAMPAIGN.—THURSDAY, AUGUST 23RD.

Closing of the poll by consent, after fifteen days voting. Majority against the Bill, 1,116. Immense demonstration. Alderman J. Cornell, passing, loudly cheered by the citizens.

At ten A.M., the Mayor announced that 4,063 votes had been polled against the Act, and 2,947 for it. The majority against the Act was thus 1,116 votes. He congratulated the people of Toronto on the manner in which they had conducted themselves in a contest like the present one. A more exciting election had never taken place throughout the country.

The crowd rapidly dispersed, but before the scrutineers, both for and against the Bill, left the shed, they held a meeting, and passed a series of resolutions, thanking the Mayor and officials for their courteous and impartial conduct during the contest to all concerned.

THE ANTI-DUNKIN PROCESSION.

In the evening a grand torch light procession was held in honour of the victory, a report of which follows taken from the Leader. The vast procession was ably marshalled by Messrs. John Ball, R. Davies, Samuel Richardson, and Wm. Armstrong.

"Last night the largest procession that was ever seen in Toronto paraded the streets, in honour of the discomfiture of the supporters of the Dunkin Bill. Though got up in great haste, and, as it were, extemporised, the arrangements were such as not only to reflect the highest credit on the committee of management, but also to falsify the predictions and probably the wishes of those who foretold that its component factors would be all the drunkards and "whiskey-heads" of the city. Instead of rowdiness there was decency and order, and all who took part in the display were evidently upon their mettle to afford no handle to the opposing faction. The tavern-keepers themselves were determined that, as far as in them lay, there should be no disorder, and shut their bars, a large number for the whole night, and all till the procession had passed along the route.

The meet was in East Market Square, and at the time fixed—7 o'clock—a start was effected. Several four-in-hand goodly teams and well handled led, followed by a long array of hacks and buggies, filled with well dressed citizens. Six bands had been engaged, but many more fell in as volunteers, including several drum and fife—amounting, all told, to about a dozen. Many of the hacks and carriages were decorated with Chinese lanterns, but the most wonderful display of all was a Yorkville four-in-hand, which was a mass of greenery and lights, very artistically arranged. Small flags Union Jacks and tri-colours, decorated the horses' heads, and altogether the effect was striking and tasteful. In the procession also several handsome flags were carried, and no few transparencies, not such as would gain a prize at any school of design, but still such as to excite the amusement and applause of the multitude.

As soon as the torches were lit, and the procession had fairly got under weigh, it set off down King Street, east, up Parliament Street, through Queen Street east, down Jarvis into King Street, whence the course was down York Street through Front to Simcoe, then into King Street west to Brock Street. Passing up Brock Street the long line struck into Queen Street west, up Yonge down the Avenue into the Park.

Of course, it was impossible that such a vast number of vehicles and persons could walk in procession without some ludicrous incidents occurring. In one case a good deal of amusement was created in the procession, by an accident which occurred to Johnston's ginger beer waggon on King Street, near Berkeley Street. It seems that the hind axletree was cracked, and that the weight of the crowd on the vehicle was too much for it. When the wheel flew off six jolly-looking processionists who were in the waggon, were shot into the street—heels over head—with something of the same rapidity that the corks fly out of Johnston's bottles. Nobody, however was hurt, and up went a hearty cheer for Johnston's ginger beer!

As the processionists passed this office, hearty cheers were given for Mr. James Beaty, and the bands immediately played livelier tunes than before. When the establishment with a globe on the top of it was reached—the whole building, it may be remarked, being enveloped in Cimmerian gloom—the bands at once changed to the "Dead March," whilst most lusty groans were freely given, whose cause was easily divined. The members of the United Empire Club, were assembled in considerable force at the windows and the doors of the Club, and cheered and were cheered to the echo. A similar compliment was paid to Messrs. David Walker, at the Walker House, Front Street, and Samuel Richardson, at the corner of Brock and King Streets. Groans were also hurled at the empty Amphitheatre, in Yonge Street. Vocal efforts were also indulged in, and most conspicuously in Brock Street, where numbers of the Tenth Royals, in full uniform, observed the letter, but broke the spirit of the law, by marching in military order on the sidewalk and singing, 'When Johnnie comes marching home,' and choruses of a like sort.

Throughout the line of march no little chaff was indulged in. Occasionally, however, the feelings of an irate Dunkinite would overcome him and he would utter some remark more forcible than complimentary. This was most conspicuous at the entrance to Shuter Street, where a hoary-headed, but highly vituperative individual stood on end and deliberately insulted the occupants of every hack and carriage as they passed. 'These are glorious rejoicings for drunkenness' he would cry out, only to be met with shouts of derisive opposition.

Here and there on the route, not taverns only, but private houses were illuminated with Chinese lanterns. Conspicuous amongst them were, in King Street, Mr. Whyte's Mansion House, 'Gus Thomas' English Chop House, and Messrs Mitchell & Ryan's; in Yonge Street, 'The Royal,' and Mr. S. Richardson's at the corner of King and Brock Streets. Many other houses had all the gaslights lit up in every room, whilst here and there flags flaunted out of the windows.

The transparencies were numerous. A few of the most pithy are as follow:—'No Class Legislation.' 'The voice of freemen proclaiming 1,116 majority.' 'The Bill's not passed, nor ever will. We like old Dunk, but not his Bill.' 'Down with tyrannical legislation.' 'Germans ever to the front against Dunkin.' 'Advocates of Lager Beer.'

The crowds which poured out from all sides were astonishing. In many of the streets, especially in King, Queen, and Brock Streets, where the multitudes lined the sidewalks and carriage tracks in rows, three or four deep. The effect of the torchlight on the sea of up-turned faces, especially in Brook Street, was something wonderful, and this effect was added to in the Park, when the long procession marched in through the lines of spectators—prominent amongst whom were two lines of the Tenth Royals, who saluted as many of the carriages passed.

Arrived at the Park, the torches in endless phalanx shed a lurid glare through the darkness, whilst the strains of the bands and the cheers of the countless thousands enhanced the scene in a marvellous manner.

The business of the night was pretty well accomplished before the Park was reached—the demonstration being what was chiefly intended. Still some speeches had to be delivered, and were delivered by Messrs. D. Walker, E. O'Keefe, E. King Dodds and others. The subjects spoken of were, as might have been expected, the triumph of the principle of liberty over would-be despotism. These, when they could be heard, were greeted with loud cheers, the outsiders, who could not hear, swelling the cheers with their added voices. The great majority, however, devoted their time to gazing on the brilliant display of fireworks, provided by Professor Hand of Hamilton, whose name is a sufficient guarantee for their high excellence.

The proceedings came to an end about 11 o'clock, and the vast crowd dispersed in a most orderly manner. As yet, no accidents, save the ginger beer cart, have been reported, nor, as far as has been heard, have any cases of disorder come under the notice of the police. Altogether the demonstration was a grand success."

Such were the concluding scenes of this memorable conflict. The energy and ability with which it was fought out, are but dimly reflected from these pages. The outlay for legitimate expenses has been very large. To the generous and liberal hearted wholesale dealer, as well as to the humblest retailer who contributed ungrudgingly of his means to the general fund, the thanks of all concerned are eminently due. The unworthy few in the business who refused, coolly, if not offensively, to give a cent, we leave to public contempt. One at least, of these, did not disguise his hope of gaining more—by the passing of the Act—in carrying on a free and clandestine trade by the back entrance. The meanness of such is only exceeded by the action of the West Queen Street grocer, who having prospered in the liquor business, and in which he still deals, turned round and voted for the By-law. If intended for a cunning move, the Ruse did not succeed however, in turning the scale.

Strict impartiality demands that a niche be set apart in the wall, for another figure head who adorns the history of this remarkable contest. Instead of opening out in new and untried walks of industry in these depressed times, the tendency seems to be rather to combine or amalgamate old established trades. Thus solids and liquids can be clandestinely vended together, to suit customers, without the necessity of any special license to cover the shipment of the latter commodity,—the only cover required, being the harmless looking flour sack,

"The car contrived a double debt to pay,
The bread cart turned into a brewer's dray."

The Master of the Rolls who presides over this department, surpasses the performances of the ineffable Falstaff, by doubling the dietary allowance of that enormous sucker:-- might now be inscribed on the signboard of the Queen Street baker.

"A half penn'orth of bread to five gallons of sack."

The credit justly due to our German fellow citizens for their steadfastness in the cause, should not be ignored: the principle of freedom of the subject versus sumptuary laws, found in them able and resolute defenders.

Large as our fund may appear, it fell far short of the fabulous amount credited to us by our opponents. All just claims have been promptly met and satisfied. As is the case in almost all elections, some bills for imaginary services have doubtless been rendered. In clearing out the late Committee rooms, some apparently "rejected addresses" were picked up, one of them running,

"The Anti-Dunkin Association, Dr. to Dan Dwan.
For 1 week's toil, bringing up Woters....."
(The figures were illegible)

In bringing this duty to a close, the Committee have striven to economize, by aiming at brevity. Most abridgments of speeches are necessarily imperfect. This must be their excuse for the imperfections of this preface.

Not a few interesting incidents have been curtailed or altogether omitted, notably so, reports of meetings and speeches at Winchester Street Cricket Ground and Hinchcliff's Hall, as well as at other points. At Hinchcliff's, H. L. Hime, Esq., delivered an able address, and at St. Andrew's Hall, Mr. Richard Reynolds spoke eloquently and effectively.

The more serious business of the contest was occasionally varied by incidents of a comical character. An active Anti-Dunkin Committee man one morning in search of votes on Strachan Avenue, was directed to a group across the way. In this party was an individual whom the Dunkin men had taken out of gaol, and were now about to convey to the poll. On a parley ensuing, the Dunkinite in possession, chaffed his opponent; said he, "Sam, we'll let you have this man for five dollars." "No," replied Sam. "he will go with us, and get a comfortable ride in our cab, so much better than your rickety car." "Boys," spoke the free and independent elector, addressing his liberators, "I guess I'll go in the covered carriage, for if I went with you, I would vote against you, anyhow." He was accordingly carried off in triumph, and straightway voted the Anti ticket.

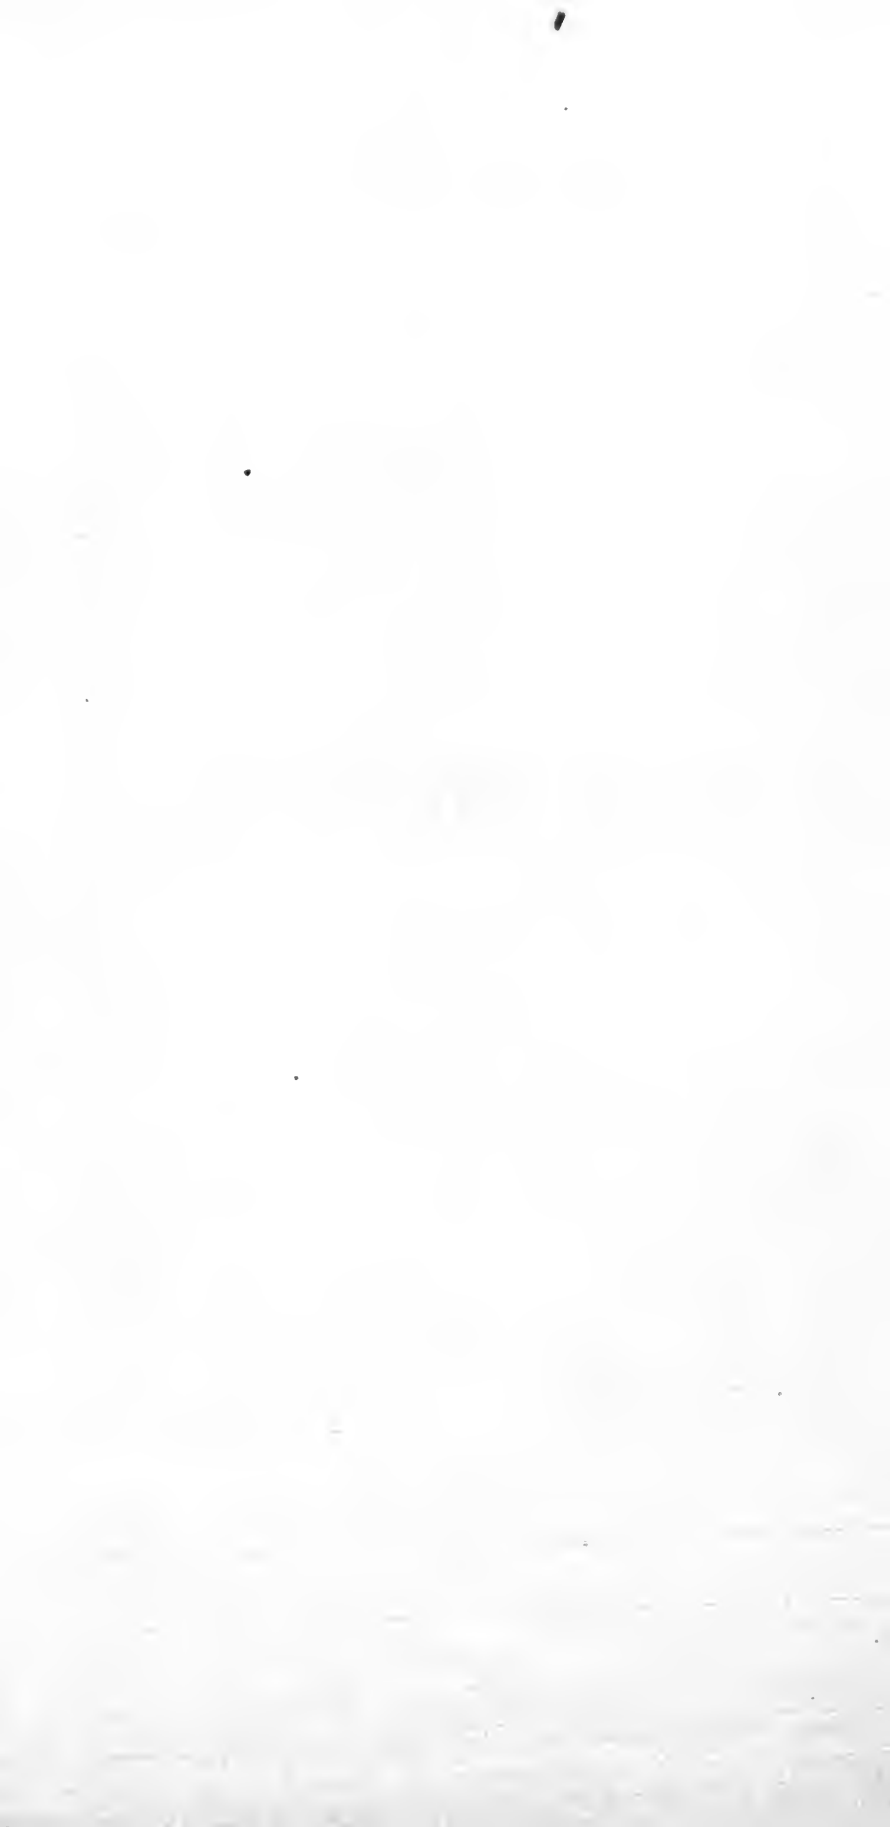

Another doubtful character had promised to vote against the Bill. On emerging from the drill shed, he was accosted by a leading Anti, who said, "I suppose you voted all right?" "Oh, yes," answered the other. "Come and have some refreshment," said his questioner, who then led the way into the tent of the Antis, where the voter's eyes were feasted with a sight of the viands which now met his gaze. But he was destined to see and not to taste, for his guide discovering his treachery, and finding that he had voted on the Dunkin side, at once exposed his duplicity to the custodians of the tent, who thereupon ignominiously ejected their pretended friend from the premises.

In glancing back at the long and loud harangues delivered on the opposite side, the majority of the Dunkin orators would seem to have inherited the distinguishing qualities of the historic Anthony Van Corlear, the sturdy trumpeter of New Amsterdam, and whose descendants at the present time may be found on many a temperance platform, proving their claim to the possession of that uncommon power of wind for which their great prototype was so famed in his day. To all such we take leave to suggest that should future occasions arise demanding calls upon their eloquence in this connection, they will imitate the example of one of their own prominent champions, and hereafter avoid diffuseness by concisely stating the liquor question in five words. We shall show how this is done. Wishing to part from our old antagonists in all kindliness, and even to smoke with them the pipe of peace, "for a' the ills they've done us yet," we will here impart to them the secret, without making any charge therefor. The liquor question then, is simply that which Ald. Hallam, when in jovial mood, once put to our worthy Chairman, at the Kinmount grocery, when "on hospitable thoughts intent," he asked,

"WILL YOU HAVE A DRINK?"

APPENDIX.

An Act to amend the law respecting the Rights and Liabilities of Innkeepers.

[Assented to 24th March, 1874.]

Her Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Legislative Assembly of the Province of Ontario, enacts as follows :

Lien on Bag- 1. Every Innkeeper, Boarding-house keeper gage, &c., for and Lodging-house Keeper, shall have a lien accommoda- on the baggage and property of his guest, tion, &c., fur- boarder, or lodger, for the value or price of nished, and any food or accommodation furnished to such power to sell. guest, boarder, or lodger ; and, in addition to all other remedies provided by law, shall have the right, in case the same shall remain unpaid for three months, to sell by public auction the baggage and property of such guest, boarder, or lodger, on giving one week's notice by advertisement in a newspaper published in the municipi-pality in which such inn, boarding-house, or lodging-house is situate ; or in case there shall be no newspaper published in such municipality, in a newspaper published nearest to such inn, boarding-house, or lodging-house, of such intended sale, stating the name of the guest, boarder or lodger, the amount of his indebtedness, a description of the baggage or other property to be sold, the time and place of sale, and the name of the auctioneer ; and after such sale such Innkeeper, Boarding-house keeper, or Lodging-house keeper may apply the proceeds of such sale in payment of the amount due to him, and the costs of such advertising and sale, and shall pay over the surplus (if any) to the person entitled thereto, on application being made by him therefor.

Innkeeper 2. No Innkeeper shall, after the passage not liable for of this Act, be liable to make good to any loss of goods guest of such Innkeeper any loss of, or inju-and property ry to goods or property brought to his inn, of guest be- not being a horse or other live animal, or yond $40 in any gear appertaining thereto, or any cari-certain cases. riage, to a greater amount than the sum of forty dollars, except in the following cases, (that is to say :)

(1.) Where such goods or property shall have been stolen, lost or injured through the wilful act, default or neglect of such Innkeeper, or any servant in his employ.

(2.) Where such goods or property shall have been deposited expressly for safe custody with such Innkeeper :

Provided always, that in case of such deposit, it shall be lawful for such Innkeeper, if he think fit, to require as a condition of his liability, that such goods or property shall be deposited in a box or other receptacle, fastened and sealed by the person depositing the same.

3. If any Innkeeper shall refuse to receive for safe custody as before mentioned any goods or property of his guest, or if any such guest shall, through any default of such Innkeeper, be unable to deposit such goods or property, as aforesaid, said Innkeeper shall not be entitled to the benefit of this Act in respect to such goods or property.

4. Every Innkeeper shall cause to be kept conspicuously posted in the office and public rooms, and in every bed-room in his inn, a copy of the second section of this Act, printed in plain type; and he shall be entitled to the benefit of the said section in respect of such goods or property only as shall be brought to his inn while such copy shall be so posted.

5. In the construction of this Act the word "Inn" includes an hotel, inn, tavern, public house, or other place of refreshment, the keeper of which is now by law responsible for the goods and property of his guests, and the word "Innkeeper" means the keeper of any such place.

OMISSION.

The report of the procession omits mention of the prominent part assigned therein to our friend Mr. Matt. Evans. A fine type of the English yeoman, he sat conspicuously aloft on the front carriage, holding a large broom, ornamented with ribbons, and surmounted by the Union Jack.

A FEW OF THE FIRST VOTES POLLED ON BOTH SIDES.

AGAINST THE BILL.

Ald. John Ball, Vanauley Street.
Robert Harrison, Niagara Street.
John Bell, Foxley Street.
John Fitzgerald, King Street.
James Duffy, Charles Street.

Sixteen votes having been put in on our side before the opposite party polled one.

FOR THE BILL

John Miller, Breadalbane Street
A. N. Wexelberg, Vanauley Street.
Isaac Stonehouse, Gladstone Avenue.
Arthur Farley, Queen Street.
Wm. Ternent, Victoria Street.
