WHEN the PRIZE LIST OF THE PRO-INCIAL EXHIBITION AT KENTVILLE comes hand we shall issue a Supplementary mber of the Journal with a reprint of it.

Mangel Wurzel is a crop that is insing in favour immensely in Europe, der high cultivation. As we improve it enrich our fields, it will also become ter known and appreciated with usappears that it does not succeed in stiff ys. Such lands are, in fact, unfitted all kinds of root cultivation, strictly aking. The preparation of the land ritical and expensive, the results duus, and the after-effects upon the suching crop unsatisfactory.

on lighter clays root cultivation may, a limited extent, be carried on to a fit. But, in such soils the writer of article in the Agricultural Gazette ch suggests these present remarks of points out the superiority of "Honse Ns" to Mangels. The bean (he says) is in clay, and does not mind a sour It yields, in straw and corn, dry ter equal in value to that contained to tons of mangels, and it leaves the in better condition for a cereal grain.

It is cheaper grown and more ly turned into money. Now what Horse Beans? The grain here rel to is not the semi-tropical crop in America as "bush beans" or beans," or "white beans," or icots," and a hundred other names, totally different plant, with a stout y stem, robust habit easy cultivated of the highest nutritious qualifit approaches in appearance and style, the "broad Windsor beans," the "long pod beans" of gardens, but belongs to a species quite different even from these. It is the Faba vulgaris, or, more strictly, the Faba equina, of botanists,the Horse Bean of Scotch Farmers, originally believed to be a native of Egypt, but known and grown and fed upon by the Britons, before they were visited by the Romans. It is a crop that is entirely unknown on the American Continent, except in the Province of Nova Scotia, where it has been grown by only a few persons. The solitary sample of Horse Beans at the Centennial Exhibition at Philadelphia, was from Annapolis, Nova Scotia. The reason of this is easily discovered. The plant will grow, but will not produce its grain, either in the United States or Ontario. It is essentially a maritime plant; it requires the comparatively cool moist air from the sea to keep it in health and vigour. Our readers will perceive that this is a crop peculiarly deserving of attention in this Province. That it grows quite as well here as in Scotland we can testify from having raised it year after year, and it has likewise been grown with success by Mr. McKinlay, at Sunnyside, Dutch Village, by Mr. C. B. Whitman, Bridgetown, Annapolis, who gained first prize at the Provincial Exhibition of 1872, and by Mr. T. B. Smith, who took the prize at Truro last year. Who the other three entries of Horse Beans were made by last year we do not know.

Horse Beans are valued in Scotland above every other kind of feed for working horses, and they merely require to be known in America, to attain an unlimited demand.

The gray Horse Pea is usually grown with the Bean in Scotland. We do not know whether any one is growing it this year, although a prize is offered for it at the Kentville Provincial Exhibition. We fear the Prize List has not been issued in time to induce competition.

We observe by a notice in the Colchester Sun, that Prize Lists of the Colchester County Agricultural and Industrial Exhibition can be obtained from Amos McCully, DeBort; Thomas Lindsay, Ingonish; G. V. McLellan, Central Economy; Amos Fountain, Great Village; Isaac Fleming and D. F. Layton, Folly; Chas. Loughead, Clifton; Robert Putnam, Fort Belcher Robt. McLeod, Economy; George Fulton and E. B. Dickie, Upper Stewiacke; James Putnam, Lower Stewiacke; J. B. Fraser, Shubenacadie; Nelson & Blair, New Annan; W. A. Patterson, Tatamagouche; Chas. L. COLCHESTER COUNTY EXHIBI-TION PRIZE LIST.

The Colchester County Exhibition which opens on Tuesday September 25th, and closes on the 27th, will likely be attended by many visitors from different parts of the Province. The Prize list has, as far as possible, been arranged to bring out the many varied industries of the County. In class 1, Horses, $199 are offered; in class 2, Cattle, $560; in class 3, Sheep, $96; in class 4, Swine, $81; in class 5, Poultry, $31.50; in class 6, Roots and Vegetables, $78.50; in class 7, Grain and Field Seeds, Grain Manufactures, &c., $40.50; in class 8, Dairy Produce, $25; in class 9, Woollen Manufactures, Flax, and Straw Goods, $91; in class 10, Fruits, $47; in Ornamental Plants and Flowers, $46.5 in class 12, Manufactures, $434; besides number of extra prizes have been offere The total amounts to $1735, the largest su ever offered at a County Exhibition in No Scotia. We hope our farmers and mechaniwill come out in full force. The Regulation are almost the same as at the Provinci. Exhibition in October last. We notice change in Rule 11, wherein we find the necessary attendants upon stock will not b admitted free but will receive tickets wit their names upon them for 25 cents whie will be good for the whole exhibition. The is a good arrangement and will prevent an one from entering an animal, whether fit fo competion or not, merely for the sake of th tree pass as an attendant upon such stock We hope that the Committee will also care fully carry out the last part of Rule 24. In Rule 15 a slight change is introduced; to prevent confusion and obviate the loss o articles, we find that no exhibit can be re moved from the Woollen Manufactures and Fine Arls Department without presenting to the heads of that department a " Delivery Card," furnished each exhibitor therein, at the time of entering his or her articles. We hope this experiment, for such we understand it to be, may prove successful, and that after the exhibition no complaint whatever may be made of articles lost, &c. The change in Rule 12 may keep out certain flocks of geese that were prize winners last October.—Sun.

We have received from W. D. Dimock, Esq., Secretary of the Provincial Exhibition of 1876, the following memorandum of an omission in the published Prize List of that Exhibition. We join in the Secretary's expression of regret that the admirable work done in the Sun office should have been overlooked in the printed Report, for we believe the Exhibition Committee, in carrying out their labors to a successful issue, had no more faithful or useful ally than the Editor of the Sun:—

"We regret that inadvertently "Specimens of Book and Job Printing" from the Sun office, Truro, that received a Certificate of Merit at the Provincial Exhibition last October, were omitted from the list of articles receiving such honor certificates published in the Annual Report of the Central Board of Agriculture. The Specimens exhibited by Mr. Alley were admitted by all to be exceedingly creditable to his office and in the mechanical execution were almost faultless."

THE arrangements for Stud Horses, for the season, so far as we have been able to ascertain, are as follows:—

Marquis of Lorne, will make the season of 1877 in the County of Hants, commenting about the middle of May, and will travel between Falmouth and Shubenacadie. Northup, Brown and Lawson, for the Board of Agriculture. He is of a beautiful brown color, stands 16 hands, with strong muscle and well set limbs, has good action and moves in a fine graceful style. He gained seven different prizes at shows in Ontario.
