Montreal Stock Market.

THE ROOM WAS VERY DULL TO-DAY—
BANK STATEMENT IS NOT ASSURING.

The New York bank statement has nothing in it except decreases on all heads except circulation, the loss of money to the sub-treasury and to the interior have very greatly decreased the reserve. Cable quotations had some favorable points which, however, did not brighten the local Exchange. This was a very dull day, while New York business was slack and heavy. If there was any noticeable feature at all it was the advance of Royal Electric on small transactions. The money position does not hold out much hope for greater activity at the beginning of the week. As, however, at any moment, reports may be brought of the Boer forces surrounded and surrendered, the security market may at any moment get the turn that will both raise prices and broaden activity.

THE WAR.

Financial interests have been the most aggressive in precipitating the Transvaal war and they have been blamed by Joubert, the Boer general, as the only interests that have forced the struggle. Joubert's statement is not strictly true. The British principle which the American colonists fought for in 1764 of "No vote no taxation," has been persistently ignored many years by the Transvaal government. Rather than recognize this fundamental ground of British freedom, Kruger and the Boers had refused friendly advice, the friendly warning and finally took the initiative in actual hostilities. That financial interests have put their strength to the task of securing to British subjects freedom on this basis is not denied and it is to their credit that business in this case has gone hand in hand with freedom.

The capture of two thousand men, considered as an incident merely personal to Gen. White, is indeed a very serious mistake which he can neither remedy nor repeat. It will cost him much brilliant service in subordinate positions before he can win back the confidence he has lost, meanwhile he will find himself superseded, should another foolhardy manoeuvre be attempted. The next in command, whoever that officer may be, has his instructions to that effect, no doubt. As an incidental loss to British arms far too much importance is being attached to it. That a South African State, because it has had a general with some sense, but no science, has been able to outwit for once a great nation's army led by a general who may have science but lacks good sense, is really of no importance to the war plans at all. On the British side the course of hostilities will be prosecuted with not one iota less vigor than if no such blunder had ever taken place. Even if it were possible to conceive of some other similar mishaps, for instance that Gen. Buller be captured while hurrying up to the front, Britain must at this stage press on to victory. The rights of British subjects in the Transvaal cannot and will not be allowed to be ignored longer and British property in South African securities will be secured without delay from injustice. The result is not for one moment uncertain in a war such as this is, where both the might and the right are on one side, while the weakness and unfairness are ranged on the other. Championship of the weak, which is sometimes said to be an idiosyncrasy of the Anglo-Saxon race, is a spirit that finds no employment helping the weaker Transvaal because it is so tyrannical.

On the contrary, the whole Anglo-Saxon world is virtually a unit in this unequal struggle. Political parties in the mother country have heartily fraternized in the matter. In the British colonies as against the Boer tyranny there is not one dissentient voice heard, all are sending volunteer contingents to the front and are offering to send more should they be needed. Further the United States has endorsed British action. In view of all these instances of union there is no likelihood of foreign complications. These might have cropped up had Britain been alone, but they are powerless, and therefore will not appear against Anglo-Saxonism.

Under the influence of checkered war news the security markets have acted very well. Perhaps they have shown a little too much caution, for the fight is on to a finish and Britain must win.

BIG THREE STILL LEADING AND ACTIVE. — MARKET CLOSES FIRM WITH GOOD UNDERTONE.

Montreal, Nov. 4.

The week closed with little actual change in prices today's business being of a normal character.

Trading took place in the following issues Big Three, which was active at 12 cents, and sold to the amount of 8000 shares; Republic, a broken lot of which sold at 11½; Virtue, 1000 shares of which changed hands at 47, and Brandon Golden Crown which sold to the amount of 1900 shares at 28½. There was also a sale made in Montreal Gold Fields at 9, 1000 shares being the amount.

Development work on the War Eagle is again said to be retarded by the unsatisfactory manner in which the machinery and hoisting plant are working.

Centre Star, which is its neighbor is said to be looking well. The main chute is more than twice what was expected when the mine was purchased. There are several holders of Centre Star stock here, but they seem very unwilling to part with their shares even at the present price. It is good to hold, as it will before many days be selling around the 42 mark.

In our weekly review of yesterday we discussed more fully the various chances and prospects of the respective properties, and we cannot do better than refer our readers to the several issues enumerated therein and commend it to their careful consideration.

NEWS OF THE MINES.

MONTREAL BOUNDARY CREEK.

Mr. W. L. Hogg, who has just returned from a visit to the proposition of his company, is more enthusiastic than ever over the outlook. As the work of development proceeds the property gives evidence that it is a valuable bonanza. The Boundary Creek Times under date of the 21st October, says :

On Saturday last the writer was the guest of Mr. W. L. Hogg, who took a party to visit the mines. Included in the party were Mr. Edward Woodhead, a wealthy business man of Liverpool, England, Mr. F. J. Finnane, manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mr. John Hamill, of Armstrong, B.C. Under the guidance of Mr. Henry Johns, the manager, the party visited the workings saw the big ledges and were interested in the extensive preparations that are being made to install the big plant.

A few months ago Mr. Hogg floated the Montreal Boundary Creek Mining Company, limited, to acquire and still further develop the properties mentioned.

The properties owned by the company occupy a unique position, so far as cheap, economical shipping of ore is concerned. They are situated in Deadwood camp, about two miles from the city of Greenwood. The Deadwood camp branch of the Canadian Pacific Railway passes within 30 feet of the working shaft on the Sunset. There is a down hill grade to the smelter, which is being built within a mile of the company's properties.

Development Work.

The tunnel on the Sunset is 480 feet in length. There are four crosscuts from the tunnel, aggregating 175 feet of work. Ninety feet from the mouth of the tunnel is a winze 60 feet deep. The working shaft strikes the tunnel at a depth of 100 feet and continues another 85 feet. At this level (185 feet) there are 300 feet of drifts and crosscuts. The first shaft has been enlarged to a double compartment working shaft, 4½ x 5 feet in the clear. It is lined from the collar with 12 x 12 timbers to a depth of 25 feet, and then by 10 x 10 timbers. The whole work on the property, including the shaft, totals 1,350 feet.

The ledges are genuine Deadwood camp ledges, over 100 feet wide and traceable for long distances, with chutes of good values. The dip is about .65 degrees. The visitor to the mine has no difficulty in locating the vein. The railway graders cut through the bright magnetic iron and it has been again uncovered in the excavations for the shaft house. The railway follows the big ledge for a distance of 300 feet. It is at least 75 feet wide, where exposed at the shaft house and it has been traced to the Crown Silver, an adjoining property.

Generally speaking, the ore is magnetic iron, carrying gold and copper and yielding average values of 925. There are chutes of calcite carrying chalcopyrite which return much higher values. The ore will receive a glad welcome at any smelter. It is practically a self-fluxing ore.

The development work so far has not been directed towards blocking out the ore bodies, but rather to place the mine in a position to engage in this work on a large scale. It would be difficult to surmise the quantity of ore that can be taken out of a drift along one of the big ledges. From surface indications, the ledge on the Primrose, that has been cut by the railroad, is a continuation of the ledge running through the Sunset and Crown Silver. In addition to this there is another parallel vein to the west; fully 150 feet wide. It has not been opened up to any great extent, but has been exposed by surface work for 200 feet. The values are similar to those on the first ledge mentioned.

The Montreal-Boundary Creek company were fortunate in securing the services of Mr. Henry Johns. His long and successful connection with other big mining properties ensures careful and competent management. Mr. Johns is at present engaged in the work of preparing for the big plant that has been purchased by the company. The shaft house which is being erected will be a substantial frame building, 30 x 30; and 55 in height. Inside is the gallows frame, 45 feet high, built of timbers, 14 x 16, and of sufficient strength to haul two double-deck cages from a depth of 1,500 feet. The hoist house is 50 x 30 and 35 feet high. There is a wing 50 feet in length and 36 feet wide. Here will be installed the electric dynamo, engine and compressor. There are also a carpenter shop, 16 x 12; a blacksmith shop, 16 x 12; offices, bath rooms, bunk houses, boarding-house, etc. The manager's residence, which is nearing completion, is a model of neatness and comfort. It occupies a delightful position on a slope convenient to the mine. Indeed, no better site could be imagined than that occupied by all the buildings. It is in this respect a happy contrast to that at many other properties where there is nothing to relieve the monotony of barren rocks.

The Plant.

The plant for the mine is now on seven C. P. R. cars on its way to the mine, and is the largest yet purchased to develop a Boundary Creek property. It comprises a 20-drill compressor and a 25-horse power hoist with a Ledgewood friction drum and an inch steel cable. There are two 80-horse power boilers and all the necessary appliances that go with a mining plant. This plant will be installed and in running order by the first of the year.

Water.

Water for the plant and residences will be secured from Deadwood creek a mountain stream that empties into Copper creek. A pumping station has already been erected on the stream and a large reservoir will be built on the knoll above the mine. This will be sufficient elevation to throw a stream over the shaft-house—thus affording good protection against fire.

When Mr. Johns gets his plant working he intends to attack the big ledges on the properties. The shaft will be enlarged to the 200 foot level. From here a drift will be run along the ore to the Crown Silver, a distance of over 1200 feet. From this drift a large quantity of shipping ore will be taken. Work will be continued in other directions so that within a reasonable length of time the Montreal-Boundary Creek company's properties can be classed among the shippers.

Mining, in many respects, is a speculative business, but the Sunset group bear all the earmarks of making a big mine. Big ledges, good values, a powerful plant, a strong company, plenty of capital and a highly efficient manager are sure to bring such a result as will be satisfactory to the shareholders in the Montreal-Boundary Creek company.

CHICAGO MARKET.

MARKET WAS SPIRITLESS — EXCESS OF VISIBLES THIS YEAR EXPLAINED.

Chicago, Nov. 4.
In seeking to explain the bearish 10 millions increase in the visible since the beginning of July, Paine, Webber & Co. say there has been this year no later campaign to absorb the old reserves. This absorption last year depleted the interior stores of old reserves which therefore had to be replaced by a great deal of new wheat which in this way did not figure at this time in last year visible. Last year's increase of only 775,000 from July till now was thus abnormally small, which gives an unduly bearish appearance to the 15 million for the same period this year.

Liverpool cable says wheat and corn lower; steady.

New York openings today, 73½ for Dec; 76½ for March and 77½ for May, that is perhaps a shade higher than previous close.

In grain market Chicago openings were at the same figures as last night's close and there was a good deal of professional trading in Dec. wheat and in May corn which, however, showed little signs of improvement in price.

Provisions opened with porc a few cents higher. Receipts of provisions today were 11,14,000, cattle 200, sheep 1500.

N. W. cars, 723 against 894 last week. Broomhall estimates world's shipments on Monday will be about 7,500,000 bushels and a feeling prevails with some that it might be good policy to cover short wheat around 68.
