PAPERS ON REASON AND FAITH.

(Contributed to THE TRUE WITNESS.)

God may make known His will to a single individual, which becomes an object of faith for that person and for others when the Church declares such a revelation as coming from God.

All the revealed truths which form the object of divine faith were not revealed at once and the same time, and divine revelation did not receive its entire perfection until Christ had established His Church upon earth.

Since the days of the Apostles many divine truths have been defined by the Church in her Councils, and the moment she defined those truths, they became articles of divine faith for her children.

We have already said a word about explicit and implicit faith, and we have but little to add in order to render them intelligible to all.

Thus far we have explained the nature of the object of divine faith, or what we must believe in order to be saved.

We have seen what the office of divine faith is relative to revealed truths, and the different forms under which it exists in the Christian soul.

We shall now briefly examine and see what is the nature of the assent or adherence that we are required to give to the revealed Word of God.

It is not to be understood that the office of divine faith is to believe in a revealed truth which is a human invention, or to reject as a human invention what is a revealed truth of God.

too often well founded, but the value of a purely remedial is no less because it is a proprietary medicine. A justifiable prejudice exists towards quack doctors, but it is right that this prejudice should extend intelligently to those who are earnestly and honestly trying to do their duty.

"The doctor then paid some high compliments to modern science, and closed his lecture as follows: "How to restore the health when broken and how to keep the body perfect and free from disease must ever be man's highest study.

denunciations are used to justify and intensify the still more dreadful English policies applied to Ireland. "If the English want to denounce dynamite and violent retaliation from the Irish, let them henceforth do it themselves. They have brought this appalling condition about, and they must bear the consequences."

"But we do not believe the English people are so bitterly stirred up against the Irish for their agitation nor even for their fondest protests. The English aristocracy are just business enough to attempt to foment passionate division among the races; but they will only bring sorrow on their own heads."

THE RESULTS OF COERCION.

We often hear the question asked on the other side of the House, why the Irish leaders and the Press, Irish and American, do not denounce the physical force party? The reason for this absence of denunciation is easily given. To denounce the physical force party would be equivalent to an admission that in Ireland the British Government exercised its authority in a kindly and friendly spirit...

"Where are the men who always denounced violence, and could do it more effectively than any other? Where is Michael Davitt to day, that his voice is not heard? Where is T. M. Healy, one of the best Irish representatives? Where is Timothy Harrington, M. P. for Westmeath, a man whose word was respected throughout Ireland?"

"These men are all in English prisons treated like dogs, compelled to perform the lowest servile labor, herded with criminals and 'punished' with days of bread-and-water for protesting against the 'dreadful' outrages perpetrated on them, and through them on the nation they represent."

"For a dozen years past, we have done our share of 'denouncing' violence; and we have always been in earnest. We have tried to generate a public Irish-American sentiment of conservative and moral agitation. What good has been done by it? Every indication of quietude on the Irish side has been seized on by the English as a sign of yielding. Coercion on top of coercion has been the answer to Irish mildness."

"England has made O'Donovan Rossa and all the rest of the dynamiters, and now she must make the best of them. We refuse to help her by any more 'denunciation.' When she had Rossa chained like a wild beast in the dark cells of Millbank and Portland she was sowing the seeds of that dreadful 'policy of dynamite' that scares her now for her palaces."

LANDLORDS FIGHTING FOR THE LAND LEAGUE IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS.
The extraordinary news comes from England and Ireland that the landlords have, of their own free will and action, endorsed the principles of the extinct Land League, and are urging and advocating the adoption of the radical plank in the platform of that "illegal and criminal" organization, viz., the abolition of landlordism...

The lesson is very instructive, and it is also very discouraging. The Land League, which was organized for the extinction of landlordism, will find in the speeches of Lord Lansdowne, Lord Darnley, and other Peers who took part in the discussion, gratifying evidence that their mission progresses to its accomplishment. It is, perhaps, forgotten that Mr. Parnell, in his first public criticism of the Land Act of 1881—delivered, if we remember right, from a platform at Cork—assured his constituents and all others concerned that the Government scheme if it fell actually short of their expectations would realize them all the same, for its inevitable effect would be the extirpation, sooner or later, of the landlords. The debate is one of the many signs that the arch-agitator was right in his forecast."

DYNAMITE AND THE WITNESS.

It again becomes our painful duty to check the Witness in its willful perversion of the truth. We can assure our contemporary that it is by no means pleasant to be obliged to throw discredit upon its reputation for veracity, impartiality and fair play, but respect for truth and a sense of duty towards the public, compel us to do so. Last evening our contemporary published a good sized editorial paragraph which contained a good sized falsehood and a contemptible charge against the young Irish leader: It said that "Mr. Parnell was either ashamed or afraid to admit the view of his friends in America, who, being at a safe distance, do not scruple to speak triumphantly at the overtore of their long promised dynamite war programme."

ple to the land, and the wiping out of landlordism. The landlords care nothing for the interest of the farmers and the tenants, nor for the welfare of the nation; their arguments for reform in the land system are not based on such considerations as those, but on the most barefaced selfishness. They have no longer their hundreds of thousands to spend in their gambling dens and other palaces of vice, and they cry out that they are feeling the pinch of impoverishment. This is how the Lansdowne deplored the impending ruin which threatened himself and his noble confederates:—

"Even if the Sub-Commissioners had not reduced a single rent, the value of every acre of land in Ireland had been enormously depreciated by the legislation of the last few years. Nobody would lend upon Irish property. The consequence had been that a number of small land owners, now finding themselves deprived of 40 or 50 per cent of their annual income, were on the verge of ruin, unable to meet the charges on their estates, unable to sell, or to emancipate themselves from their miserable position. It would be a public scandal if they allowed those men, many of whom had purchased their property on the faith of Government title from the Landed Estates Court, to become absolutely ruined from the legislation of 1881."

After this picture of distress of the order had been held up to the House of Lords, the Marquis of Waterford rose and had his say. He did not like the situation one bit, for there was not the slightest doubt but that they were fast going to the wall, and, according to the prophecy of Parnell, the "land market was rapidly falling." On this score the Marquis of Waterford said that "while he was glad to know the Government were in favor of working the purchase clauses, yet he did not see why they delayed in doing so, and he wanted to know why they wished for delay. Did they wish to delay it until the value of the property was so depreciated that the tenants could buy the estates for nothing?"

It is evident that the design of the land lords is simply to save themselves at the expense of the State from the further decline in the value of their estates, which is certain to continue. What an amount of strife, agitation, coercion and crime they would have saved if they had at the beginning accepted the proposal of Michael Davitt which is the same as their present demand. The Land League proposed that the State buy out the landlords at a fair valuation, and relet to the tenants at rents which, in the course of a certain number of years, would pay off the purchase money, principal and interest, and so leave the occupiers owners of the lands they farmed and lived upon. Will the same outcry which was raised against this proposition be now made against the demand of the landlords? To judge from the tone of the aristocratic and Tory press of England, it will not. The Morning Post actually admits that landlordism must go. It says that without, perhaps, seriously intending it, the Government have brought about a crisis in Ireland which necessitates the abolition of that landlordism, whose foundations they have sapped. Then again, we find the Echo declaring it eminently desirable that the larger portion of the people of Ireland should be enabled to obtain a permanent proprietary interest in the soil by the purchase of their buildings. And another Tory paper, the Globe, agrees with those who argue that the revolution which has been begun cannot and will not be checked at its present point. Everything indicates further progress. It moreover says that "the debate on Lord Lansdowne's motion is significant and puts in a strong light the change wrought by recent legislation in Ireland, and gives an indication of future conditions in that country. The lesson is very instructive, and it is also very discouraging. The Land League, which was organized for the extinction of landlordism, will find in the speeches of Lord Lansdowne, Lord Darnley, and other Peers who took part in the discussion, gratifying evidence that their mission progresses to its accomplishment. It is, perhaps, forgotten that Mr. Parnell, in his first public criticism of the Land Act of 1881—delivered, if we remember right, from a platform at Cork—assured his constituents and all others concerned that the Government scheme if it fell actually short of their expectations would realize them all the same, for its inevitable effect would be the extirpation, sooner or later, of the landlords. The debate is one of the many signs that the arch-agitator was right in his forecast."

DYNAMITE AND THE WITNESS.
It again becomes our painful duty to check the Witness in its willful perversion of the truth. We can assure our contemporary that it is by no means pleasant to be obliged to throw discredit upon its reputation for veracity, impartiality and fair play, but respect for truth and a sense of duty towards the public, compel us to do so. Last evening our contemporary published a good sized editorial paragraph which contained a good sized falsehood and a contemptible charge against the young Irish leader: It said that "Mr. Parnell was either ashamed or afraid to admit the view of his friends in America, who, being at a safe distance, do not scruple to speak triumphantly at the overtore of their long promised dynamite war programme."

would neither be ashamed nor afraid to admit it no more than Lord Derby was the other day, when his Lordship informed the peers of Great Britain that the poor naked natives of Africa were blown to atoms with dynamite by English soldiers, because one of the chiefs refused to pay taxes. How is it that the Witness never applauded Lord Derby for being neither ashamed or afraid to admit that dynamite was exploded not only in empty offices but in the most of human beings? We would like, while on this subject, to put a question to our contemporary. If England is neither ashamed or afraid to use dynamite against unprotected and unarmed natives so as to force the collection of taxes, why should the Irish people be denied the right to imitate such an illustrious example, especially when the object would be not simply to collect taxes, but to prevent further outrages on humanity and extermination of the race, as championed by the Episcopate of Ireland. If England can use dynamite in Africa, we fail to see why the Witness or the British Government should complain of O'Donovan Rossa using it in England. It has often said in its columns, "what is good for the goose is good for the gander," or does it depend upon whose ox is gored? Our contemporary next adds that "whoever did the explosion business, we know that it was admirers of Mr. Parnell that promised it and who have since gloried in it." On what authority does the Witness state that "it knows" such to be a fact? On none! but it knows it has uttered a deliberate false statement. The men who promised the explosion and have gloried in it, far from being admirers of Parnell, are as bitter opponents of his leadership and policy as the Witness itself, and that is bitter enough. They neither acknowledge Mr. Parnell nor follow his directions, nor does Mr. Parnell acknowledge them or follow their directions.

When Forster charged the Irish leader in the House with inspiring the organs of the "Spread the Light" party, Parnell gave the lie direct to the disgraced Minister, stating that he never even saw or read a copy of these papers. We suppose the Witness can take a hint from this passage at arms. Our contemporary can, therefore, rest assured that it would not be right to hold Mr. Parnell responsible for all or any of the extravagances of these alleged followers, and that "he had never any need to wash his hands of them." The Witness concludes its naughty article with expressing the belief "that some of the leaders of the Irish movement could lay their hands on a hundred men whose removal would leave Ireland as peaceful as it ever was and make prosperity again possible in that troubled land." That is just where our contemporary makes a grand mistake; hands would have to be laid not only on a hundred men, but on about four millions of people before the national protest against suffering and oppression can be allayed and suppressed.

ADDRESS PRESENTED TO THE LIEUTENANT-GOVERNOR BY THE IRISH NATIONAL ASSOCIATION OF QUEBEC.

One of the features of the celebration of St. Patrick's Day in the ancient capital was the presentation of the following address to the Lieutenant-Governor, and His Honor's reply:

To His Honor the Honorable THEODORE ROSE, TALLER, Member of the Queen's Privy Council for Canada, and Lieutenant-Governor of the Province of Quebec:

Your Honor.—While we, as Irish Canadians, glory in a portion of the history of that dear old land where we have sprung, and though we cling to her more fondly than she is now passing through one of those recurrent epochs of her deepest affliction, yet remember that we are citizens of this young and growing Dominion. As Irish Canadians we are proud of that charter, which secures to us that personal, that constitutional freedom, the boast of Englishmen. Nor do we forget that in the fierce struggle, at times peaceful, at times bloody, for that freedom men of our race, the O'Callaghans, the Baldwins, the Blakes, the Drummonds, bore no trifling share of the burden of battle. Having already, as men, in whose hearts are closely entwined the love of Faith, the love of Fatherland, paid our tribute to these twin objects of our affection, the duty still devolves on us as citizens of that Dominion, and particularly of this Province, to offer the homage of our highest respect to your Honor, as representing the authority of the Crown of this Province. We, therefore, feel much pleasure in now tendering to you that homage. For the welfare of Madame Robitaille and of yourself, please accept our earnest wishes.

M. A. EHRAS,
President
Irish National Association,
Quebec, 17th March, 1883.

His Honor replied as follows:—
To the President and Members of the Irish National Association of Quebec.

GENTLEMEN.—It gives me much pleasure, as the representative of Her Majesty in this Province, to meet the Irish section of the Canadian people, who so faithfully cherish the love of their fatherland and who take such an active part in its joys and its sorrows. Your nationality forms a considerable portion of the people of this Province, and by its activity, industry and intelligence, it contributes largely to the progress and the advancement of our country. After having been the object of the admiration of the Old World, through such illustrious men as Swift, Burke, Grattan, Moore, the great Daniel O'Connell, and a host of others, your nationality has furnished to the new world a large number of its most distinguished citizens. Gentlemen, as Irishmen you are represented here with advantage in all social spheres, in trade, industry, medicine, at the Bar, in Parliament, and in Her Majesty's Privy Council for Canada, and in Provincial Cabinets. Thus you form one of the most important elements of our Canadian community. I congratulate you on your success, and on this your national day I offer you my wishes for the prosperity and happiness of your race. I thank you most cordially for the address which you have just presented me, and for the good wishes it expresses for Madame Robitaille and myself.

LOCAL NEWS.

Dr. Deschambault of St. Pierre les Beccquets has been for the eighth time selected as Prefect of Nicolet County.

Mr. Joseph Sirols, mayor of St. Anne de la Pocatiere, was elected on the 14th of the present month as Prefect of the County of Kamouraska. This is the gentleman's tenth term in this office.

The Very Reverend Abbe Jean Marie, Superior-General of the Trappist Monastery of De la Mayeret, France, is at present staying at the Seminary. The Reverend Abbe has come on an official visit to the new monastery of his order, which was founded at Oka a year ago, and brings with him two brothers from France who will remain here. Abbe Jean Marie has the title of Abbe Mitre, which permits him to celebrate Mass in Pontificals, the same as a bishop.

IRISH RELIEF FUND.

The following is an additional list of contributors to the Irish Relief Fund, under the management of the Oldsters Committee:—M. Kelly, $1; Mrs M Kelly, 1; Martin Hart, 1; Mrs M Hart, 1; O A Briggs, 1; W W Halpin, 1; J Mullally, 1; M Carroll, 1; M O'Connell, 1; J Hall, 1; Ald Tansey, 1; James Burke, 1; O Tansey, 1.

HAVE YOU TRIED IT?—If so, you can testify to its marvellous powers of healing, and recommend it to your friends. We refer to Briggs' Magic Relief, the grand specific for all summer complaints, diarrhoea, cholera morbus, dysentery, cramps, colic, sickness of the stomach, and bowel complaints.

Many sink into an early grave by not giving immediate attention to a slight cough, which could be stopped in time by the use of a twenty-five cent bottle of Dr. Wistar's Pulmonic Syrup.

A RUN FOR LIFE.—Sixteen miles were covered in two hours and ten minutes by a lad sent for a bottle of Briggs' Electric Oil. Good time, but poor policy to be so far from a drug store without it.

BELIEF FOR IRELAND.

At a meeting of the Montreal branch of the National League held on Sunday afternoon, it was resolved to transmit the sum of £100 sterling to the treasurer of the League. It was also decided to send the sum of £50 to Archbishop Croke, to be expended in the relief of the poor in the famine-stricken districts of the old land.

A GOOD MOVE.—The advocates of temperance should congratulate themselves on the introduction of "Johnston's Fluid Beef" into the leading saloons of the city. It has become quite a favorite, and has almost entirely displaced whiskey. At the Carnival His Excellency was amongst those who partook of the beverage, and expressed himself highly pleased with it. It continues to be the chief beverage at the House of Commons refreshment room.—Ottawa Citizen.

ST. PATRICK'S T. A. & B. SOCIETY.

The annual meeting of this society was held Sunday afternoon, when the following gentlemen were elected as office bearers for the term of one year:—Rev. M. Callaghan, President; Mr. Edward Murphy, First Vice-President (by acclamation); Mr. William Rawley, Second Vice-President (by acclamation); Mr. James J. Costigan, Secretary (re-elected); Mr. J. Coffey, Assistant Secretary (re-elected); Mr. M. Sharkey, Treasurer; Mr. Wm. Selby, Assistant Treasurer (re-elected); Mr. Thomas Foy, Grand Marshal; Mr. W. Gore, Assistant Marshal. Executive Committee.—Messrs. B. Emerson, P. O'Donoghue, F. C. Lawlor, B. Gunning, P. Reynolds, J. Callaghan, Jr., J. Byrne, J. Beresford, T. O'Connell, T. F. McNeill, W. P. Nolan and A. Brogan, N. P. A vote of thanks was passed to the chairman, after which the meeting was brought to a close. The new officers will be installed at the next meeting of the Society, which will take place on the second Sunday in April. The choice of officers made for the coming year is an excellent one, and the Society cannot fail to prosper under their guidance. The election of Rev. M. Callaghan as President is also hailed with satisfaction, as is also the choice of the members in selecting Mr. Edward Murphy as the first Vice-President. Mr. Murphy has been connected with the Society for 42 years, in fact, almost since its inception, and continues to take the greatest interest in everything pertaining to its welfare. The re-election of Mr. James J. Costigan as Secretary, was likewise a well-deserved compliment to that gentleman, who has had always, and still has, the interests of St. Patrick's T. A. & B. Society deeply at heart.

ST. GABRIEL IRISH RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

The regular weekly meeting of this association was held in the St. Gabriel Church Hall on Sunday, the 18th instant, at 4 o'clock p.m. After the regular routine business was transacted the following subscriptions were handed in:—John McMenamin, $1; John Brown, 1; James Harrington, 1; James Gallery, 5; Edward McGauvran, 3; Patrick Lynch, 1; John Egan, 50; Timothy Sullivan, 1; Charles Sweeney, 1; James Curran, 1.

The following letter was then read from the Rt. Rev. Dr. Logue, Bishop of Raphoe:—
LETTERS, 6th March, 1883.

DEAR SIR.—I have received your kind letter enclosing a draft for £198.84. from the St. Gabriel branch of the Irish National Land League. I beg to tend my heartfelt thanks to you and all your generous associates, for this magnificent aid which you have sent to our suffering people.

I trust God will richly reward you and them for your great charity.

The condition of our poor people here is very deplorable, there are thousands depending on charity, for every bit they put in their mouths, and greater numbers still absolutely without need to grow their land. Thus nothing could be more gloomy than the prospect which at present opens up before the people. Their pension of still greater suffering in the future, if they do not find the means of raising a crop. Were it not for the generous charity of our warmhearted countrymen in America, England and Scotland I would abandon in despair my endeavor to save the lives of the people. There seems to be no chance of getting any aid from Government. So we must struggle on with the aid of our charitable friends as best we can.

Please to convey my most sincere thanks to the members of your branch of the Irish National Land League, wishing you and them every blessing.

I am, dear Sir,
Yours most faithfully,
MORRIS LOGUE,
Bishop of Raphoe,
Donegal,
Ireland.

Mr. James McNamara,

THE ALBANI RECEIPTION.

The reception tendered to Madame Albani last night on her arrival in this city must have been highly gratifying to that lady, showing, as it must have done, the esteem in which she is held by the Canadian people, irrespective of creed or nationality. In accordance with the arrangements made for the reception, Acting-Mayor Farrell and a number of the City Council left for St. Johns at six o'clock by the Grand Trunk Railway, in Mr. Hickson's private car, which had been kindly placed at their disposal. There they awaited Madame Albani, who travelled from Boston by the Central Vermont Railway in the private car "Garfield," the use of which the managers of the road tendered her. A large crowd assembled on the platform at St. Johns, and as the train bearing the prima donna rolled into the station the cheering was loud and prolonged. Here the members of the civic deputation were introduced, and the trip to Montreal was occupied in pleasant conversation. At the Bonaventure Depot a vast crowd had assembled and on the arrival of the train bearing the great diva the cheers which greeted her there and during her progress to the Windsor Hotel were at times deafening. On alighting from the car Madame Albani was escorted to her sleigh by some two hundred snowshoers in their picturesque costume and bearing lighted torches in their hands. The pressure of the dense throng was so great that progress was difficult, at length, however, the sleigh was reached, and accompanied by the snowshoers, the deputation and the band, with thousands of eager followers, Madame Albani and her husband, Mr. Gye, were driven in triumphal procession to the hotel, where she was waited on by a deputation from Chambly, her native place, and an address presented to her and responded to by Mr. Gye, her husband.

The following sonnet has been dedicated to Madame Albani by Mr. John Levesque:—
TO MADAME EMMA ALBANI.
O voice! I heard beside the Rheclien,
In cradled childhood's bubbling laughter
And merriment,
Thou clearest grandly thwart the polytones
Of woman's passion, ever sweet and true!
Soft as the water lapsing through the weir,
Pure as the chiming of celestial bells,
Pure as love's whisper 'mid the asphodels,
And as the peal of clarions strong and clear;
Thou art, America's water-wisdom,
The hapless Gile, and poor Marguerite,
Mignon distraught upon the village street,
And Lydie dying in a wilder pain.
Now that thou comest in thy prime to me,
O voice divine! I bow and worship thee.

IS LIFE WORTH LIVING?

How frequently the question arises in the heart, and how unwilling are we to discuss the question on its merits, for hope is ever present, and holds forth some prospect, and the answer is never quite reached until solved by the realities of the future. Corns are a common ailment, and the question also suggests itself, "Is there no remedy?" To this question there is answer, Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, "the great corn cure," will give prompt and painless relief. No danger of failure. Putnam's Corn Extractor. N. O. HARNEY BROTHERS.

THEIR NEW ROYAL A MACHINE, MANUFACTURED EXCLUSIVELY BY THEM FOR THE CANADIAN MARKET.

We have much pleasure in publishing the fact that the well and popularly known Harney Brothers, sewing machine manufacturers, have recently purchased an interest in the Gardner Sewing Machine Co., and have now placed on the market in Canada a superior machine of their own manufacture, named the Royal A Machine, which at the late Provincial Exhibition received such flattering recognition from the judges in the shape of prizes and medals. That this enterprising young firm, the name of which has been for years acquainted with our readers, will meet with their due share of patronage at the hands of the public, cannot be doubted. In the new Royal A, they have a machine which we can confidently recommend to take the place of first class American machines. This has long been the great aim of all the best sewing machine manufacturers of this Dominion. They therefore feel assured that they are beyond competition as regards quality, finish, and general workmanship. A few of the peculiar advantages possessed by the new Royal A are:—that it is entirely self-threading; has self-adjusting tension; self-setting needle and large arm, also cannot be run backwards. Their prices are about the same as first-class American machines, and you save the duty, and none but first-class American machines are equal to their new Royal A. In any respect. Their long connection with the Sewing machine business throughout the Dominion of Canada, we may say, in every department, from the factory to the office, experience on the road, among agents and dealers, is a sufficient guarantee that they are fully posted as to all the requirements of the business. In order to meet a long felt want in the trade, they have decided to deal largely in sewing machine supplies, such as needles and shuttles of all kinds, oil in bottles and cans, screw drivers, oil cans, needle cases and attachments.

Mr. W. H. Turner will be the general Eastern agent for the new management, a position which his experience proves him capable of filling.

We can only say in conclusion that we wish Messrs. Harney Brothers every success in their business.

THE WORK OF THE FLAMES.

THE WILLIAMS' SEWING MACHINE FACTORY DESTROYED BY FIRE—LOSS $200,000.

Shortly after seven o'clock on Saturday night, Chief Benoit, of the St. Henri, Fire Brigade, noticed a blaze in one of the windows of the Williams' Sewing Machine factory and at once ordered out his men, but long before they reached the spot the whole of the second story was in a blaze. In a few minutes the firemen had attached their hose to a hydrant close to the factory, and were at work on the burning building, but it was soon apparent that one stream was useless, the fire spreading with great rapidity. The St. Onegonde brigade soon arrived, closely followed by the Montreal men, an alarm having been sounded in the city. The only hydrant in the vicinity of the factory was already in use, and the only others available were over 300 yards distant. The St. Onegonde firemen soon had their hose attached, but they ran short, and had to borrow 250 feet from the Montreal brigade, who rendered every assistance in their power. Laying the hose, but as there were no other hydrants in the vicinity they could do no more, and therefore returned to town. The two upper stories were all ablaze before the streams could be laid on and the firemen, seeing that the factory was doomed, tried only to save the adjoining buildings. The carpenter's shop was about a dozen yards from the main building and connected by a

PASTORAL VISIT OF THE BISHOP OF PETERBOROUGH.

Bishop Jamot paid a visit to his people at Bowmanville, Ont., on Sunday, 17th inst., and, besides conducting the mission which had been opened on Friday by the Rev. The interesting ceremony took place after morning service, and was witnessed by large numbers of other denominations in the Union Church. The Bishop's sermon was delivered after the following address, from the pen of Mr. W. Ellison, was presented:

To the Right Rev. John Francis Jamot, D. D., Bishop of Peterborough.

MAYOR OF ALMONTE.—We, the Catholics of Almonte and its surrounding district, beg to approach you with sincere sentiments of reverence and devotion, and as loyal and devoted subjects of Her Majesty, to urge upon you your duty to offer your Lordship a cordial and hearty welcome on your first visit to the diocese; and we take occasion to express our warmest wishes for the success of your able administrative abilities and to your self-sacrificing, zealous and distinguished career in the missionary field. We avail ourselves of this opportunity to assure you that your Lordship with the great disadvantages under which we labor in this part of the mission, owing to the scant and deplorable lack of priestly ministrations, we are resolved to make every arrangement. Mass once a month is not enough to satisfy the ardent cravings of the people, and we earnestly trust that you will which we can only hope will result in the salutary waters being closed against us for thirty-nine Sundays in the year, must inevitably produce religious coldness and indifference with regard to our increasing numbers and special needs, which will increase with the rapidity of our priest, or make such other provision as will enable us to have mass once every two weeks, and thereby remedy the grievance which we have suffered so long.

On this occasion we deem it a pleasure and a duty to refer with loving gratitude to the untiring labors of our missionaries, who, with their wives, and our spiritual and temporal welfare, although so fully occupied at Port Hope with the duties of the parent mission, he has shown the most generous and selfless interest in all matters concerning our best interests, which we can never forget as long as we have hearts to admire true benevolence or enthusiasm.

In conclusion we would speak of the happy results of the present mission, which we attribute to your wisdom, and fervent faith, which were a source of blessing to the people of the diocese over which you so worthily preside.

Sincerely hoping that your Lordship may enjoy a long and happy life, and that a bright future may await you, we are on behalf of the congregation your Lordship's humble and faithful servants,

AMERICAN NEWSPAPERS IN 1883.

From the new edition of Messrs. Geo. P. Rowell & Co's AMERICAN NEWSPAPER DIRECTORY, which is now in press, it appears that the number of newspapers published in this country all kinds issued in Canada is 698. There are no less than 74 daily papers, while the monthly number is 57. The weekly papers number 222, and the periodicals for the Dominion, though it cannot of course equal the United States and Territories, in which the journals and periodicals are so numerous, are nevertheless increasing in number. This is an increase of 55 in twelve months. Taking the States very by one, the newspaper growth in some is very considerable. Thus, in New York State, for instance, is 1899—a gain of 80 in the past year. The most remarkable change has occurred in the Territories, in which the daily papers have grown from 28 to 88, and the weeklies from 189 to 243—Dakota being the chief area of activity. The number of monthly periodicals in the United States grew from 674 in 1882 to 11,186. This is an increase of 55 in twelve months. POULTRY SUGGESTIONS.

It is well, in cleaning out the poultry houses not only to take the droppings from under the roosts, but to rake up whatever feathers, etc., have accumulated on the ground. Turn up clean, fresh earth with the fork, and scatter over chaff and hay-seed. The pleasure the fowls will take in scratching for seed, and in rolling in the fresh earth, will be ample satisfaction for the labor spent. The best way to kill and dress fowls is to hang them by the legs, pass a sharp-pointed knife, with edge from you, through the throat, just below the "deaf ear," cutting off the arteries running to the head; then turn the knife toward the neck-bone, and while turning back the head with the left hand, press the knife until the neck is broken. Take the wings in the left hand, and strip off the feathers with the right. They will pull off quite easily while the body is warm. If care is taken, the skin need not be broken. Never scald chickens in dressing, for unless great care is used, the thin outside skin will be rubbed off, which injures their appearance very much, and reduces the value of the fowls.

In selecting seeds for spring planting, do not neglect to get seed of the mangel beet, for these beets make the very best green food for fowls in winter. If the water in the dishes is thrown out each night, trouble and time will be saved in the morning. Give warm water to fowls if possible.—H. O. B. in American Agriculturist for March.

The most reliable preparation yet introduced to the public, for the immediate relief and cure of Coughs, Colic, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Whooping Cough, Croup, Asthma, and all diseases of the Throat and Lungs, is SPBRUCINE. In obstinate Coughs, Pulmonary Consumption, &c., &c., where Cod Liver Oil is recommended, a dose of SPBRUCINE taken with a dose of the former will make an agreeable and convenient vehicle for the administration of the Oil, and largely promote its efficiency. SPBRUCINE is put up in Bottles at 25 and 50 cents each.

ENGLISH FARMERS' DISSATISFIED. London, March 21.—The threat to blow up Canterbury Deanery is attributed to English farmers, who oppose the payment of certain church tithes.

"GOLDEN MEDICAL DISCOVERY" for all scrofulous and virulent blood-poisons, is specific. By druggists.

Dr. D. E. Salmon, for several years employed by the Department of Agriculture to investigate the disease of swine and poultry, has been called to Washington to conduct like investigations on a more elaborate scale. Land will be leased and animals provided for experiments on inoculation, &c. The investigation will be conducted with the special view of ascertaining the nature and means of the prevention and cure of Texas cattle fever, pleuro-pneumonia and hog and chicken cholera.

EMIGRATION TO CANADA. London, March 20.—At a meeting of the Charity Organization Society to promote emigration, a letter from Sir A. T. Galt, High Commissioner for Canada, was read stating that the Canadian Government would not sanction the emigration to Canada of habitual paupers. She was willing to absorb destitute boys and girls, in reasonable numbers, and provide a periodical inspection of them and a record of their disposal.

Jacob H. Bloomer, of Virgil, N. Y., writes: "Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil cured a badly swelled neck and sore throat on my son in forty-eight hours; one application also removed the pain from a sore toe; my wife's foot was also much inflamed—so much so that she could not walk about the house; she applied the Oil, and in twenty-four hours was entirely cured."

A MILK FAMINE. New York, March 20.—There is a great scarcity of milk here in consequence of the action of the Orange County producers. The General Freight Superintendent of the Erie Railroad sent a despatch to the President of the Milk Producers' Association denouncing the work of the "spilling committee" and notifying him that parties spilling milk at any station on the road will be punished to the full extent of the law. A prominent dealer says the work of the "spilling committee" is nothing but larceny. He asserts that a number of farmers who desire to send milk to dealers have called on the sheriff to protect their property, but the sheriff sympathizes with the Association.

POOR JARVIS, N. Y., March 20.—The milk war is unabated. At Oliveville, Howells, Middletown, Hampton, Goshen, Chester, Oxford, Monroe and Turners, shipments to-day were practically stopped. Crowds of farmers and citizens surrounded the stations. The first few who came with milk had it spilled; the remainder took it home. The supply on the branches is also greatly reduced.

DIXIE'S HALLUCINATION. A FABRICATION PURE AND SIMPLE—A BEWILDERED LADY—HER LETTER TO MR. PARSELL.

New York, March 21.—The World's London special says: "Those likely to be the best informed regard the statement of Lady Dixie as to the attack upon her a pure fabrication, as not a trace of a struggle can be found on the damp mould. Two large men dressed in women's clothes could not possibly have reached her house without being seen, as a soldier, publican and gardener were all within a few yards of the scene of the alleged struggle at the time. It is alleged that they neither saw nor heard anything of it. Lady Florence herself is now bewildered about it. She has the reputation of being half mad. It is now known she wrote to Mr. Parsell on his release, avowing herself a strong Nationalist, and urging him to act with her."

Mr. W. A. Wing, Westport, writes: "I wish to inform you of the wonderful results which followed the use of Northrup & Lyman's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda. A cough of six months standing had reduced me to such an extent that I was unable to work. I tried many remedies without effect; at last I used this Emulsion, and before this bottle was used I am glad to say I was restored to perfect health."

Mr. McCarthy remarked that that man's name was in every London newspaper every morning at that time. At a great trades demonstration Joseph Lester referred to the members of that House as "those little-minded, decrepit, hunch-backed, one-eyed creatures who called themselves the House of Commons."

Winston, Forster Co., N. O., March 15, 1880. Gents—I desire to express to you my thanks for your wonderful Hop Bitters. I was troubled with Dyspepsia for five years previous to commencing the use of your Hop Bitters some six months ago.

Very respectfully, Bv. H. FERRELL. Rochester, N. Y., March 11, 1880. Hop Bitters Co.—Please accept our grateful acknowledgment for the Hop Bitters you were so kind to donate, and which were such a benefit to us.

Delevan, Wis., Sept. 24, 1880. Gents—I have taken not quite one bottle of the Hop Bitters.

Evansville, Wis., June 24, 1882. Gents—No medicine has had one-half the sale here and given such universal satisfaction as your Hop Bitters have.

A Rich Lady's Experience.

I travelled all over Europe and other foreign countries at a cost of thousands of dollars in search of health and found it not.

I had been sick an unreasonable long time, causing my husband much trouble and expense, no one knowing what ailed me.

Ludington, Mich., Feb. 2, 1880. I have sold Hop Bitters for four years, and there is no medicine that surpasses them for bilious attacks, kidney complaints and many diseases incident to this malarial climate.

My mother says Hop Bitters is the only thing that will keep her from her old and severe attacks of paralysis and headache.

That accounts for it. Harborside, March 27.—The officers of Dixmont insane asylum say that the weather prophet, Wiggins, was once an insane patient there.

COMMERCIAL.

WEEKLY REVIEW - WHOLESALE MARKETS.

The commercial situation has not undergone any material change since the date of our last reference. The heavy snowfalls, by keeping the roads blocked, has been a serious check to the movement of goods.

The market for iron has been very quiet. The price for spot iron and that for future delivery, leading brands being now offered at $25 on spot, and Eglington and Dalwellington at $22 50.
