II.—ARTS AND AGRICULTURE.

AGRICULTURE.

In the Province of Quebec, most of the crops are reported as fully up to the average, and the hay harvest has been an abundant one. In Ontario the yield of hay, roots and Indian corn has, in general, been satisfactory; but in many districts cereals suffered from rust to an extent sufficient to cause a material diminution both in the volume and weight of the yield. Small fruits were abundant in Eastern Ontario, but in the western part of the Province they suffered from spring frosts. The yield of the larger fruits was light, but the quality was above the average.

The grain crops in most parts of the Maritime Provinces are regarded as satisfactory, although some sections have suffered from rust. Hay yielded abundantly, and the roots have been generally good.

In Manitoba and the North-West Territories the season has been, on the whole, unusually dry, and while in some districts where local rains have occurred the crops have been good, the general results are much below the average.

British Columbia has been favoured with excellent crops; the yield in all classes of agricultural products being abundant, and of good quality.

CATTLE TRADE—IMPORTATION.

The total importation of cattle into the Dominion during the year 1889, was as follows:—

	Cattle.	Sheep.	Swine.	Mules.	Horses.
By sea :
Quebec (Point Lévis).....	140	609	70
Halifax.....	10
St. John.....	2

Totals.....	3,984	34,036	2,132	16	2,041

POINT LÉVIS QUARANTINE.

Owing to a falling off in the western markets for imported stock, and the disease which prevailed in Great Britain, the importation of cattle through the Point Lévis Quarantine during 1889 was not equal to that of the previous year, the figures being as follow:—

	1888.	1889.
Cattle.....	198	140
Sheep.....	1,994	609
Swine.....	77	70
Total.....	2,269	819

The destinations were as follow:—

For Canada:—
Cattle.....	138	140*
Sheep.....	1,132	431
Swine.....	77	70
Making a total for Canada of.....	1,347	641
For the United States:—
Cattle.....	60
Sheep.....	862	178
Swine.....
Total for the United States.....	922	178

With the exception of an animal slaughtered on account of tuberculosis, all were discharged after undergoing the necessary quarantine detention, as free from contagious disease.

(*Of these cattle 116 were for the ranches in Alberta.)

ONTARIO CATTLE QUARANTINE.

In the Ontario cattle quarantine at Point Edward 128 thoroughbred cattle and 75 swine were admitted, for breeding purposes only, from the United States. These all underwent the necessary quarantine detention, and were forwarded subsequently to the parties importing them.

The cattle were valued at $24,050 and the swine at $1,145.

MARITIME PROVINCES CATTLE QUARANTINE.

The stock imported through the respective cattle quarantines of Halifax and St. John was as follows:—

Halifax, cattle.....	10
St. John, cattle.....	2
	12
Making a total of.....	12
And the number of horses in transit was.....	124

In all cases the quarantine regulations were carried out, and the cattle were discharged at the expiration of the time in good health.

NORTH-WEST CATTLE QUARANTINE.

The number of cattle imported through the various ports of entry in Manitoba and the North-West will be found in the following table, the returns being made from inspections of such ports during the year by the veterinary inspectors of this Department:—

	Cattle.	Calves.	Horses.	Colts.	Sheep.	Mules.	Swine.
Fort McLeod.....	3,229	216	646	62	184	2
Manitou.....	108	79	85	6	2
Emerson.....	151	1,254	2,635	8	18
	3,488	216	1,979	62	2,904	16	20

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

The veterinary officer at Victoria, B.C., reports in accounting for inspection fees, having inspected 30,523 sheep and 1,967 hogs, which were brought into that port.

EXPORTATION OF LIVE STOCK.

The exports via the St. Lawrence for the United Kingdom, for the calendar year 1889, were:—

Cattle.....	85,053
Sheep.....	58,983

The healthy condition of stock in Canada is evidenced by the fact that Professor McEachran reports not a single case of sickness of any kind was found by the inspectors of the cattle, before shipment, and this is the more noteworthy as they were brought from all parts of the Dominion.

The following table gives a comparison of the last eight calendar years:—

	Cattle.	Sheep.
1882.....	35,378	75,905
1883.....	55,625	114,352
1884.....	61,843	67,197
1885.....	69,158	38,534
1886.....	64,555	94,297
1887.....	64,621	35,473
1888.....	60,828	46,167
1889.....	85,053	58,983

I am informed that exporters were well satisfied with the season's operations, and that the quality of the cattle continues to improve. Breeders and shippers have now realized by experience that only the best bred cattle command high prices in the British markets, and the shipments during the year showed that this selection has been acted upon.

But I desire here to urge upon all stock raisers the need for improvement generally in breeding from pure bred animals only, and to consider the fact that the result will manifest itself in high prices, less consumption of food, and a ready sale.

Shipments were made from the Alberta District late in the season by the ranchmen themselves, and in the face of high freight, bad weather on the passage, and a depressed market on arrival, the quality of the cattle secured prices satisfactory to the shippers. Professor McEachran urges these shipments to be made earlier in the season.

The St. Lawrence route, from its superior advantages and the attention given on the vessels employed in the cattle trade to space and ventilation, seems likely to keep that trade in preference to any other route for British markets.

The total export trade of cattle from the whole Dominion, including cattle brought in, appears in the following table, taken from the Trade and Navigation Reports, dating back from 1874 inclusive.

 INVESTIGATION OF REPORTED DISEASES.

Professor McEachran reports, that with the exception of a few cases of tuberculosis, some cases of black quarter in calves, and a few cases of the "Pictou Cattle Disease," nothing else of serious consequence prevailed in any part of the Dominion during the past year.

In consequence of occasional reports of the reappearance of the "Pictou Cattle Disease," Mr. Jakeman, V. S., was instructed to visit the district where the disease was alleged to have broken out. He was subsequently instructed to establish a temporary station, where he could experiment, by placing healthy cattle with those that were diseased, to ascertain, if it is actually contagious or otherwise. Up to the date of this report, however, after contact and inoculation, the disease does not appear to have been communicated.

For the purpose of testing Pasteur's method of inoculation, as a preventive of disease, particularly in the ranching districts of Alberta, the opportunity was taken of Professor W. Johnston's (Demonstrator of Pathology, of McGill University) presence in Germany, last year, to request him to familiarize himself with the same. This information, after much difficulty, he was enabled to obtain, and he will be prepared to give instruction in the methods and precautions requisite in such inoculations, should necessity occur.

The urgency for caution in procuring the proper vaccine is pointed out, and if it should be desired to use it to any extent the need of an experimental station is pointed out for the purpose of testing it before use. The reasons alleged by Professor Johnston are as follow:—

1. It is absolutely impossible to commence the culture of anthrax vaccine without a proper building.
2. It is unsafe to use imported vaccine without first testing it by experiment.
3. It is probable that by experiment we may be able to cultivate the vaccine more adapted to our own stock than that supplied by the Pasteur Institute.

A variety of other advantages to be obtained from such a station are also given in Professor Johnston's report, which will be found as an appendix to that of Professor McEachran.

HOG CHOLERA.

In November this disease was reported as having appeared on several farms in Kent County, Ontario. Steps were at once taken to stay as far as possible its spread. The hogs affected had been in some cases already slaughtered, and the carcasses burned by the owners themselves. The local authorities issued a stringent by-law to prevent the animals running at large. The provincial authorities took immediate action also to prevent the spread of the disease, by isolation and disinfection, and the cholera soon after these measures, disappeared. Instructions were issued by my Department for the slaughter of the diseased, under the provision of the Animals Contagious Diseases Act.

HORSES.

A disease was reported to me (by the Commissioner of Agriculture for Ontario) prevailing among horses in the vicinity of Chatham. Owing to the amendment to the Contagious Diseases Animals' Act, by which the word "horses" had been eliminated from it, the administration with regard to this class of animals was placed with the Provincial Governments.

CATTLE DISEASE, ONTARIO.

In February last, a disease was reported as prevailing in a herd of cattle at Bracebridge, which, on investigation proved to be simply inflammation, and not of a contagious nature.

In May, my Department was notified of disease existing at Camden East, and prompt measures were immediately taken to ascertain its nature. A postmortem examination showed that the outbreak was nothing serious, and Professor Andrew Smith reported it was due to a parasite called Actinomyces, a disease comparatively new in this country. No further spread of this disease was reported.

ARCHIVES.

The collection is carried on methodically, the copying of the State papers in London making satisfactory progress.

The Colonial Office series of documents relating to Lower Canada, has been received down to 1807, and for Upper Canada to 1812, besides those of a more general nature, from 1755 to 1769.

Acquisitions of papers of historical value continue to be made, as opportunities offer.

The importance of this collection is being fully appreciated. Details will be found in the report of this Branch, forming one of the Appendices.

PHOSPHATES.

The necessity for the use of fertilizers, if we desire to keep up the production of cereals to their standard, becomes every year more apparent. It is earnestly to be hoped that the phosphates which we now allow to be shipped out of the country will be made use of in our own soil. Great Britain alone consumes about 400,000 tons of fertilising material, 270,000 tons of which are phosphates imported from foreign countries. This consumption is yearly increasing, and British manufacturers of fertilizers are now looking to fresh sources for their future supplies. Canadian phosphates, I am happy to say, are steadily gaining in confidence in Great Britain. The total amount of shipments of Canadian phosphates during 1889, is reported to me as follows:—

	Tons.
Exported to Europe	23,542
do United States.....	4,176
Making a total of.....	27,718

shipped, to which may be added, home consumption, 480 tons; held over at mines for shipment, 5,000 tons; giving a total of production in 1889, of 33,198 tons.*

The London Times, last year, alluding to this industry, said: "In view of the scarcity and increasing demand for phosphate, it may be well to point out that in our nearest large colony, we have a source of supply which ought to be worked by British capital for the benefit of British agriculture."

The export of 4,176 tons to the United States is an encouraging feature, as I find on inquiry it consisted of low grade phosphate that was formerly thrown away.

* In addition to the above 134 bags and 2 barrels were shipped to Europe, weight not specified.

It is also a favourable feature that the English market is calling for these low grades, whereas two or three years ago, it was difficult to sell anything below 80 per cent. I am informed that there is some progress being made in the use of phosphate on the soil in a crude state without treatment by acids, but the results of the experiments cannot yet be announced till a thorough test has been made.

AGRICULTURAL SOCIETIES.

The grant made by Parliament during the last session for agricultural societies in the North-West Territories, was distributed during 1889 to the extent of $8,877.84 amongst twenty-eight societies, only such as numbered over fifty subscribers being able by the regulations to participate in the allotment of the grant.

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

The establishment of Experimental Farms at different points in the Dominion, and the experiments being conducted with cereals, fodder plants, stock, fruit and forest trees, and other useful products, has already had the effect of awakening much interest in agricultural progress in this country, and the introduction of new strains of early maturing cereals, with other improvements, will, it is believed, prepare the way for more profitable farming, especially in those districts where the season for growth is short.

The tests made during the past season, with grain grown on summer fallow on the Experimental Farms at Indian Head and Brandon, are very instructive and encouraging, since it would appear that in the driest years, the soil is thus made sufficiently retentive of moisture to ensure fair crops.

During the early part of the year, a large number of sample bags of promising cereals were distributed among the farmers of the Dominion for test, and among these, several varieties of two-rowed barley. From the returns which have been made, and the excellent samples received from many of the growers, it is evident that over a large part of Canada, two-rowed barley of good quality can be grown, such as will command good prices for malting purposes in the markets of Great Britain. Should the demand for six-rowed barley permanently diminish, the farmers of this country will probably find it to their advantage to turn their attention to the cultivation of the two-rowed sorts, for the reason that the demand for them in Great Britain is very great, and that they always command higher prices there than the six-rowed. I have also had a thorough test made to ascertain the relative value of the two-rowed and six-rowed barleys for malting purposes. A sufficient quantity of two-rowed barley has been imported from Great Britain of the quality used by the best malsters there. This has been malted and brewed in Canada, and the results compared with a similar quantity of Canadian six-rowed barley of best quality. The two-rowed was found to yield 13 per cent. more of extract than the six-rowed, showing that the English preference for the two-rowed barley is well founded. Information on the yield and quantity of the different varieties of barley will be found in the reports on the several farms, and it is my purpose to have these investigations continued and the results given to the country as early as is practicable.

Among the varieties of grain distributed last spring was a new sort of early ripening oats, known as "Carter's Prize Cluster." These oats have proved so early and productive in almost every district where they have been tested that arrangements are being made for a very much larger distribution of this useful variety during the coming season. Other new and promising sorts have also been received, which are on trial, and those which prove of value will be distributed as soon as a sufficient quantity can be grown for the purpose.

Reports of the tests of the cereals received last year from the Government of India, are embodied in the Experimental Farm Appendix. Since some time will be required to acclimatize these products, the tests will be continued. It seems probable that among the varieties received several will be found to be useful and profitable introductions for this country. The seed of many varieties of grasses from the Himalaya Mountains were received too late for test during the past year; these will be tried during the coming season. At the request of the Indian Government, samples of Canadian agricultural products are being prepared, which will be sent to that country for test.

By the erection of a suitable building recently completed, the facilities for testing the vitality and germinating power of agricultural seeds have been greatly increased. The tests made last season of frozen grain for the farmers of Manitoba and the North-West Territories were found to be very useful, and as it is feared that the rust which prevailed in some districts during the summer may have had the effect of materially lessening the vitality of much of the grain, especially of oats, farmers everywhere have been invited to send all doubtful samples to the Central Experimental Farm to have their vitality tested.

During the summer purchases were made of desirable strains of cattle for the Central Farm of several breeds of value for dairying and the production of beef. Experiments are in progress to test the relative value of these several sorts of stock. To these such additions will be made from time to time as may appear to be required to make the work of the farm generally useful. The increase of these animals will, for some time, be required to build up the several herds at the other Experimental Farms, and when all are fully equipped the annual sales of useful animals in the several Provinces will doubtless be productive of much benefit.

The farm buildings on the Experimental Farms for the Maritime Provinces and the North-West Territories have recently been completed, and experiments with stock are now practicable. Arrangements are being made to introduce at each of these farms during the coming season some of the most useful breeds of cattle and to commence a line of work, which it is hoped will eventually result in a general and material improvement in the character of the stock raised, and in increased gain to the farmers.

The important subject of winter feed for cattle, both in the Eastern and Western Provinces, has been under careful consideration, and many tests have been tried with fodder plants to ascertain their relative value for feeding purposes. Experiments with ensilage have been conducted at the Central Farm, which have been very successful, and arrangements are being made for similar tests at the other Experimental Farms.

The buildings for the Manitoba Experimental Farm are under contract, and will, it is expected, be finished during the coming season. Provision is also being made for the erection of buildings at the British Columbia Farm. Active operations were begun on this latter site at Agassiz, B.C., early in the autumn, and already a large test orchard, in which all promising varieties of fruit will be tried, is partly planted, that will doubtless stimulate fruit growing, which promises soon to be one of the most important industries in that rapidly improving Province.

The experiments with fruit and forest trees, at Brandon and Indian Head, have been carried on with an encouraging measure of success and a general interest is being awakened in tree planting, which augurs well for the future. This useful work will continue to claim my special attention.

In the Experimental Farm Appendix to this report fuller particulars will be found of the work which has been undertaken.

WAGES AND COST OF PROVISIONS.

A list of prices of provisions, and rates of wages in the various Districts where Immigration Agencies exist will be found in the appendices, and for reference and comparison as well as for the information of intending settlers, they will prove very useful.

The limit or duration of a patent is fifteen years, but it is optional with the inventor or applicant by payment of a partial or proportionate fee to reduce this period to five or ten years respectively.

In the year 1884, 2,456 Patents were granted, of these 84 were granted for the full fifteen years; and fifteen for ten years, and the remainder, 2,357 for five years; of these last-mentioned, 2,048 were allowed to expire, and the remaining 309 were continued in force for a further quinquennial period by the payment of the required additional fee.

This fact shows that only a small percentage of Canadian patents remains in force beyond the period of five years from their date of issue.

Only one patent was re-issued during the past year.

Three decisions have been rendered since the last annual report. The first was that of J. Brook to set aside the patent, No. 6,375, granted to L. W. Whipple on the 31st of July, 1876, for improvements in machines for making napped fabrics, and owned by E. K. Broadhead, on the ground that the invention had not been manufactured in compliance with the 37th section of the Patent Act. After hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, respectively, it was decided to maintain the patent.

The second case was that of R. J. Doyle, to set aside the patent, No. 24,961, granted to F. Ransome on the 16th September, 1886, for improvements in manufacturing cements, on the same grounds as the above case—non-manufacture within the time prescribed by the 37th section of the Patent Act. The evidence established that the provisions of the statute with regard to manufacture had not been complied with, and the patent was accordingly declared null and void.

The third case was that of the Royal Electric Company of Canada, to set aside the patent, No. 10,654, granted to T. A. Edison on the 17th November, 1879, for "new and useful improvements on electric lamps, and in the method of manufacturing the same," and held by the Edison Electric Light Company, on the ground of importation, non-manufacture, and refusal to sell, contrary to the provisions of the 37th section of the Patent Act. This case was adjudicated upon by the Deputy Commissioner of Patents, who, after hearing the evidence and the arguments of counsel, respectively, decided that the invention had been imported contrary to the provisions of the statute, and that the patent was therefore null and void; but doubts having been subsequently raised as to his jurisdiction in the matter, I considered it advisable to order a re-hearing of the case, and on this re-hearing, and after weighing the evidence adduced, I rendered a decision maintaining the patent, holding that the invention had not been imported contrary to the provisions of the statute.

These decisions have been printed, as well as others rendered in previous years, and will be found both interesting and instructive to inventors and others holding patents, as showing the necessity of complying strictly with the provisions of the above mentioned section of the Patent Act.

In many instances patentees having represented and shown to the satisfaction of the office, that they were unable to comply with the requirements of the above section, by means beyond their control, an extension of time within which to commence the manufacture of their inventions was granted. An extension of time to import was also accorded to others where satisfactory reasons were shown to justify the granting of this privilege.

The attention of applicants for patents should be directed to the necessity for the greatest care in the preparation of their applications, a work which is generally advantageously performed by Patent Solicitors, not only in Canada, but in other countries where patent laws are in active operation.

The utmost care and diligence have been observed by the Patent Office in thoroughly scrutinizing all applications for patents, and in cases where the alleged invention possessed none of the patentable requisites of a patent, under the provisions of The Patent Act, the application was not entertained.

Since the last annual report, the Patent Office and Model Museum have been removed to the new departmental block on Wellington Street, and in view of the increased space thus obtained, it is to be desired that arrangements may be effected whereby the great variety of models in the museum may be properly classified, and exhibited to advantage.

An improvement has been effected in the manner of publishing the Patent Record. Each monthly number now contains the record of the patents issued during such month, instead of those of the preceding month as formerly. An additional useful and attractive feature has been added to it, by inserting a list of the Trade Marks and Copyrights issued during each and every month. These additional advantages will, it is hoped, increase its usefulness to the public generally, and particularly to all interested in patents of invention.

The work and proceedings of the Patent Office, as well as the receipts, continue to increase from year to year, and show this year, accordingly, a considerable increase over those of the past or any previous year. The increase of labour has been cheerfully met by the staff of the office, although their duties were rendered still more arduous, consequent upon the removal of the office and Museum to the new block as above stated.

The patentees of the last twelve years resided in the following countries:—

For the convenience of comparison, the same form of table as was used in previous years has been retained in this Report; and, therefore, in the first place, in the following statement, all arrivals, both of immigrant passengers and immigrant settlers, who have entered the Dominion, from 1880 to 1889, inclusive, are given:—

*It may be explained that this item of 8,913 is composed as follows:—From United States by St. Paul, Minneapolis and Manitoba Railway, 4,491; American arrivals at various agencies, 1,743; arrivals at Prescott, 1,370; Port Arthur, 514; across frontier, west of Grenna, 795.

No actual returns having been made via United States railways to the Manitoba frontiers, the same figures are taken as last year, these being apparently an approximate number.

Respecting the total number of settlers in Nova Scotia, during the past year (via Halifax) a careful revision of the tables rendered by Mr. Clay, gives the following results :—

Total arrivals :
Steerage.....	12,328
Cabin.....	6,627
		18,955
Less United States citizens by coasting steamers.....		7,906
		11,049
Mr. Clay's reported destinations are :—
Quebec.....	924
Ontario.....	2,591
Manitoba	1,386
North-West Territories.....	764
British Columbia.....	482
Prince Edward Island.....	106
New Brunswick.....	825
United States.....	1,576
		8,654
		2,395

From this we have the net result that Nova Scotia may be considered to have gained as settlers 2,395. The reason for eliminating the United States citizens by coasters, is that the probability is greatly in favour of the fact that as many went out as came in, and therefore other nationalities alone and the passengers by Ocean steamers have been considered as settlers, after deducting those who have declared their intention of proceeding elsewhere.

The total number of settlers in Canada via Halifax, (deducting those to the United States), according to this revised statement, is..... 9,473

As regards the settlers in New Brunswick, the Table of arrivals at St. John's Agency shows a total of 183, of whom 181 are already reported as via Halifax, or Quebec. The other two are from the United States. But Mr. Gardner reports 3,712 coming to the Province by other inlets, of whom 3,098 are Canadians returning from the United States.

The total number of settlers in New Brunswick in 1889, is therefore 3,714.

The total number of persons who went into Manitoba and the North-West in 1889 was 26,809, ascertained as follows :—

The number of immigrants reported as distributed by the various agents, and counted in summing up the year's operations, are those given by the agents at the points at which the immigrants enter into the Dominion, and the annual table of each agency has been amended so as to show the new arrivals, and those immigrants already reported elsewhere.

The following table gives the number of immigrant passengers through Canada to the United States, and the number of settlers in Canada, from 1867 to 1889 inclusive, including and excluding the arrivals reported at the Custom Houses, with entries of settlers' goods, which are reported elsewhere.

Much instructive information, combining very full and careful details respecting the immigration to, and immigrant settlement in Canada during the year are contained in the reports of the agents forming the appendices to my Report. The year's work has been satisfactory, and it is to be remarked that material additions were made to some of the European colonies in the North-West, which give promise of large future increase. This remark particularly applies to the German and Roumanian Colonizations. The reports from the settlers have been satisfactory, notwithstanding the drought which prevailed over a large portion of the North-West, reducing thereby the harvest to a considerable amount. The movement of immigrants from the United States to Canada is already very considerable, as shown by the number of 38,617 arrivals of settlers with Customs entries along the frontier during the year, and there is every reason to expect a large influx of settlers into Manitoba from Dakota, where the crops have proved a failure for the past two or three seasons.

The immigrants by sea arrived only by steamers, sailing vessels being no longer used for immigrant transport. The average time of the Allan mail steamers from Liverpool was 9 days, and from Londonderry 8 days; other than mail 10 and 9 respectively; that of the Dominion Line from Liverpool, 9, and from Londonderry 8 days; other than mail $10\frac{1}{2}$ and $9\frac{1}{2}$ respectively; that of steamers from London to Quebec, 12 days; Bristol Line from Bristol, 12 days; Allan Line from Glasgow, $10\frac{1}{2}$ days.

The immigrants who came out in 1889 were of a good class. All those who came to seek for work were employed, the demand for farm labourers and female domestic servants being largely in excess of supply.

The continued immigration to the North-West of colonies of Icelanders, Scandinavians and Germans, makes centres of attraction for further accessions for immigrants of those nationalities, the reports from these colonies being favourable. I would especially call attention to the Roumanian colony of New Toulcha, details of which appear in a report from Mr. Cullen in the appendices herewith.

The report of Sir Charles Tupper and those of the agents acting under his directions, afford many interesting facts respecting trade and industry in Great Britain, which affect more or less immigration annually, and these reports are published in an appendix herewith, forming a separate supplement.

The Canadian Pacific Railway with its facilities for transporting immigrants to the far West and to the Pacific seaboard Province of the Dominion, British Columbia, materially tend to the comfort of immigrants proceeding westward, the sleeping arrangements proving a great boon to those travelling to a distance.

The arrangements for the landing at and forwarding of immigrants from Quebec, are now so complete that the following description may prove of interest:—

For the convenience of steamers carrying immigrants to be landed at Quebec, there are magnificent deep water wharves at both sides of the river. Immigrants intending to travel by Canadian Pacific Railway, are landed at the Louise Embankment breakwater wharf, which is about 800 feet long, and at low tide has 36 feet of water. On this wharf is a baggage shed, 400 feet long, where baggage can be handled and loaded, but for the convenience of the immigrants who walk on a planked platform to the immigration building where the immigration, railway and other offices are, the Canadian Pacific Railway generally runs the baggage up on railway lorries and spreads it out on the platform in front of the building to be sorted and checked as fast as the immigrants procure railway tickets. It is then loaded into baggage cars and a special immigrant train, usually composed of colonist sleeping cars, is always ready to start, so that there is no unnecessary detention. The immigrant has only to exchange or purchase his railway ticket, claim and get checks for baggage, procure provisions for the journey at the counter, and step from the platform into a colonist sleeper in which he goes through without change, to Manitoba, and even British Columbia. There are rarely more than 400 passengers and their baggage on one train, so that frequently the immigrants by a single vessel require two, and sometimes three special trains.

The Immigration Hall erected by the Dominion Government in 1887, is a good two story building 400 feet long, with a wide veranda all around, and fixed seats where people are secure from sun and rain. It is admirably situated, almost surrounded by flowing water, pure fresh air in abundance, and plenty of spare ground adjoining. During the two years it has been in use, all who have passed through have given free expression to their satisfaction with the building and conveniences provided for the weary passenger, after spending ten or twelve days in the limited space available for air and exercise on board ship.

On the ground floor at one end, are sufficient double and single offices to accommodate all the officers connected with the various branches of Immigration Service, viz. :—Dominion and Provincial Agents, Port Physician, Customs, Ticket, Telegraph and Telephone Offices, all easy of access to any person either in, or outside the buildings.

The Main Hall, about 250 feet long, has ample room for 1,000 passengers with their hand-baggage, is well lighted by large windows, and many wide doors afford easy means of communication with the verandah. In this hall is a long counter and shop, kept by a person appointed by the Government, where immigrants can procure provisions for the journey at moderate rates. For the guidance and information of immigrants, price lists of articles for sale, and tables of the Canadian currency value of foreign money, are posted up in the several parts of the hall; these are printed in French, German, Scandinavian, Russian and other foreign languages. Arrangements have been made to exchange the money brought by immigrants into Canadian currency.

Postage stamps are also sold at the counter, and letters posted in a post office letter box and collected daily.

At the west end is a dining-room, seating 200 at once. As tea, coffee or milk with bread and butter costs 10 cents, and a full hot meal of meat and vegetables, 25 cents, everyone can be satisfactorily accommodated. A large kitchen, supplied with a new modern range, adjoins the dining-room.

The wing is divided into two apartments (male and female, entirely separate). Each contains six bath-rooms and a number of wash-basins, and always furnished with soap and towels.

On the second flat, are two large rooms, that can accommodate 300 people each; fixed seats run all round these rooms, and they will be found useful in case of over crowding from any cause. On the female end there are 15 bed-rooms and quarters for a matron and assistant. On the men's end there are 4 bed-rooms. These may be used by people who wish to rest a day or more before starting on a long rail journey, or those awaiting remittances from friends, &c., &c.

The building is supplied with the very purest water from a well in the rear, sunk below the river bed; it is pumped by steam into cisterns in the attics, whence every part is supplied freely with pure cold water. The drinking taps in the Main Hall are fitted with hose couplings, and sufficient hose is always at hand to reach any part of the building, either for washing, or in case of fire.

A range of closets at the rear is divided for males and females.

Counting the space of the verandahs under roof, the whole premises have ample accommodation for 3,000 people.

The accommodation for immigrants at the Grand Trunk Railway landing at Point Levis is not on so large a scale as at the new Government buildings on the Louise Embankment, Quebec. The Government had a very large three-story building at Levis, which was burned in June, 1882, since when, with the exception of a small temporary building that has been used as a dining-room ever since, the Government has no building on that side.

Baggage is landed direct from the steamships' deck into a large baggage shed, and as at Quebec, as soon as an immigrant has exchanged or purchased his ticket he claims his baggage here, has it checked and it is at once loaded into cars at the opposite side of the shed, no transfer being necessary.

A few years ago the Grand Trunk Railway Company erected a building on the wharf in the small space between the dining-room and baggage shed. In it are ticket offices for exchange and sale of tickets; a waiting-room of limited size, and some bed-rooms upstairs. The Company has kindly granted the Dominion Immigration Department the use of a double office fronting the place where immigrants land.

On the wharf, at one end of the temporary dining-room, is a small provision store and exchange office, where money is exchanged at current rates.

The South Quebec post-office is quite convenient, and the Grand Trunk Railway station also close at hand has two good waiting-rooms which are frequently used in addition to that at the wharf, as well as telegraph and telephone offices.

No unnecessary detention occurs in the making up and despatching of special immigrant trains.

As soon as passengers and baggage are ready they have but to board the special trains at the station and go through to destination without delay.

Mr. L. Stafford, the agent at Quebec, reports a decrease of 6,439 souls as compared with last year. In connection with this, Mr. Stafford says: "The prosperous condition, and high wages paid for labour in Great Britain had the effect of checking the emigration of the working class." He gives his usual tables, showing the nationalities, trades and callings, and destinations of the immigrants arrived at that port, and states that the class of farmers during the year were very superior, and that others destined for the far West, although not practical farmers, had grown-up families, with apparent means for settling on land.

General labourers had no difficulty in finding work, and as an evidence of the immigrants being of a better class the fact is stated that very few arrived with passages paid only to Quebec, the majority holding prepaid railway tickets to places in the interior.

Mr. J. J. Daley, the agent at Montreal, reports 5,480 immigrants arrived there by Ocean Steamers, and states that the Port of Montreal has been largely used as the landing place instead of, as formerly the custom, at Quebec. Those who landed there came by the "Beaver" Steamship Line; some also by the "Allan" and "Dominion" Lines availed themselves of the privileges offered, by remaining on board till Montreal was reached. The class of immigrants who arrived are described by Mr. Daley as "healthy, thrifty, intelligent, possessed of more or less means, wherewith to start in life." The general health of the immigrants was exceptionally good, and there was no difficulty in providing employment at good wages, for those who decided to remain in the vicinity of Montreal.

Mr. E. Clay, the agent at Halifax, reports the total arrivals during the year as 18,955, an increase of 131 over the arrivals of last year. Halifax being a port of landing similar to Quebec, does not retain a large number of the passengers arriving, but Mr. Clay gives all the details of the destinations, nationalities, and occupations of those arrived in this Port, remaining in Canada. Mechanics, farm and general labourers found employment in every part of the Province, and female domestics were wanted everywhere.

Mr. S. Gardner, the agent at St. John, N.B., reports the arrivals in that Province, at the agency in St. John, as 183, and across the frontier as 3,712. Those arriving at St. John, however, are already reported at Halifax or Quebec, and these figures cannot be used as new arrivals. He reports free grant lands being rapidly taken up, and the return, after temporary absence, of young men who have gone out from the Province but who prefer returning to the land of their birth. He gives returns from various districts in the Province in which there appears to have been a season of general prosperity, both as regards the agricultural as well as the manufacturing industries. Ready employment with farmers was found for all applying for work, and the demand for female domestics was a "thousand fold more than the supply."

Mr. H. Elkins, the agent at Sherbrooke, simply forwards a table, showing 143 arrivals during the year. These, however, as in the case of St. John, have already been reported at Quebec and Halifax.

Mr. W. J. Wills, the agent at Ottawa, reports the total arrivals at his Agency, as 3116, part of whom, possessed of means, purchased partly improved farms and remained in his district, whilst others went west ward. The demand for agricultural labourers is not so great as in former years, neither were the wages so high, but female domestics were far short of the demand. He speaks highly of the Scandinavians and Germans who arrived and he alludes to the rapid and steady progress of his district. To quote his own words, "The country appears prosperous wherever I visited."

Mr. R. Macpherson, the agent at Kingston, reports the immigrants arriving during the season, as of a good class, healthy, and placed out without difficulty immediately on arrival. The applications for farm labourers were not as numerous as in previous years, but the demand for that class as well as for female domestic servants, exceeded the supply. Mr. Macpherson reports that the farmers in his district are paying considerable attention to stock raising, and improving the breed of cattle, and that cheese and eggs now form a large portion of agricultural products exported from his district.

Mr. J. A. Donaldson, the agent at Toronto, reports 6,950 immigrants at his agency remaining in Ontario. The demand in his district for agricultural labour has been larger than for many years, and the supply was not equal to the demand. The same remarks apply to domestic help. He reports a total absence of the pauper element, and the charitable institutions of England who sent immigrants to his district provide him with an ample fund of money for the purpose of helping those sent out until they find employment. Mr. Donaldson reports trade and business as remarkably good and the value of property in every direction rapidly increasing. The country north and west of Lake Nipissing appears to have supplanted the Muskoka district for settlement. The general health of the immigrants was good.

Mr. John Smith, the agent at Hamilton, gives a large number of tables entering into details of every description respecting the immigrants who passed through his hands, the majority of those from Europe, being, as he reported, from the rural districts, and who readily found employment, the demand being largely in excess of the supply. He says, "The immigrants this year are a very desirable class of settlers", and well adapted to the wants of the Province.

As regards the agricultural industries of his district, he reports cereals and roots below the average, and the fruit crop as poor. In dairy produce a large business has been transacted. The manufacturing industries were very active, especially those of the iron trade, which is one of the leading industries at Hamilton.

Mr. A. G. Smyth, the agent at London, reports the arrivals as not quite so large as last year, but they were of a superior class. The demand for farm and general labour was good, and the immigrants sent out by charitable societies in England were well spoken of by Mr. Smyth. The tables given by him show the destinations, nationalities, and locations of immigrants passing through his hands during the year.

Mr. J. M. McGovern, the Agent at Port Arthur, explains the system adopted by him for ascertaining the destination of Western-bound immigrants on trains passing Port Arthur; information which shows the care taken to make his returns as correct as possible in view of the fact that their correctness has been called into question. He reports a large increase in Canadian migration, a falling off in that from Great Britain, and a marked decrease in Scandinavian immigration, the arrivals from that country being only about one half of those in previous years. This is probably to be accounted for from the fact that he noticed large numbers of them going through to points in the United States on the coast. Mr. McGovern reports a larger number of settlers into his own district than usual, some of whom settled on land, whilst the rest got employment at good wages.

Mr. Thomas Bennett, the Agent at Winnipeg, reports a falling off in the arrivals from Great Britain, and that the German influx alone out-numbered the total arrivals from the former country. He reports a large influx of other immigrants from Europe. Mr. Bennett speaks highly of the Icelanders who arrived during the year. This class although not possessed of large means, readily adapt themselves to the customs of the country, and speedily become valuable settlers. The large number of settlers from the older provinces of Canada, that went into Manitoba last year, he attributes to the result of visits made by the older settlers to their old homes by means of the cheap excursions afforded by the railway companies. They brought in with them a large amount of live stock and effects. There was no difficulty in finding employment during the past year for all that were willing to work; operations in the woods in winter succeeding agricultural operations.

Mr. Bennett appends to his report a number of letters from various settlers in his district taken indiscriminately from the bulk of his correspondence, as valuable testimonials to the prosperity attending thrifty settlers. In his report, also, are embodied Mr. Ohlen's report on Scandinavian Immigration; and that of Mr. Tetu, on French Immigration.

Mr. A. J. Baker, the Agent at Brandon, reports a much larger immigration in his district than for previous years. There was no difficulty in obtaining employment at good wages for all desirous of work, and a large number either took up homesteads or purchased land in his district. He reports great improvements in course of progress in Brandon, and a large increase in its business, due to the concentration of various railways at that point. He also reports a considerable increase in the area of land prepared for next season's crop.

Mr. R. L. Alexander, the Agent at Moose-Jaw, reports a considerable increase of settlers in his district, the greater number of them coming from Ontario, possessed of considerable means, and settling down on land. The settlers around Moose-Jaw he reports as realising the fact that mixed farming brings greater profit than wheat growing alone, and in consequence a large importation of valuable stock, both horses and cattle, has taken place in his district. The early spring in that section permits of early sowing, and consequently, an early harvest, and Mr. Alexander reports that while in other parts, wheat suffered from frost, the Moose-Jaw district has escaped for many years. Wheat was harvested there on the 29th of July, last year, and the winter was so mild that horses and cattle in most instances fed on the prairie. Sheep farming as a new industry there has proved a decided success, so far, and there are prospects of its becoming a large sheep-farming locality. He reports the settlers as contented and satisfied, and that good schools and comfortable dwelling-houses have been erected in various quarters, and that the settlers are fairly well supplied with religious as well as educational matters.

Mr. J. T. Stemshorn, the Agent at Regina, reports a larger number of settlers than for the three previous years, the greater part arriving from Ontario, and the next in number were Germans. The latter, who Mr. Stemshorn reports, arrived almost penniless, and received free transport from Winnipeg, have now all of them a house and home of their own, and have already purchased ocean tickets for friends in Europe. All the settlers who arrived are reported as doing well, and thoroughly satisfied with the country.

Mr. J. Z. C. Miquelon, the Agent at Calgary, reports great benefits resulting from the railway excursions organized for the benefit of eastern farmers, as one-fourth of those visitors made homestead entries before returning east. He reports a visit of Mennonite delegates from Dakota, as a result of which visit Mr. Stemshorn expects 100 Mennonite families to settle near Regina this year. He reports the stock throughout Alberta having brought large profits to its owners, and he estimates an increase of 25 per cent. in the total number of the herds and flocks in that territory. He says the town of Calgary is rapidly increasing, is an important centre, with a good market, and appears in every way to be flourishing.

Mr. M. Sutherland, the Agent at Vancouver, gives a synopsis of his proceedings for the first four months of the year at Medicine Hat, and from May to the end of the year the position of immigration matters at Vancouver, a new agency opened there to meet the requirements of the large influx of settlers in the Pacific Province. Mr. Sutherland reports large numbers availing themselves of the Canadian Pacific Railway en route for the western territories of the United States, and estimates such passengers as about 75 per cent of the whole. In conversing with the European element, among these immigrants, Mr. Sutherland found most of them wholly ignorant of the resources of British Columbia, and thinks that as soon as these are known, this tide of immigration will be directed to British Columbia as a place for settlement. Mr. Sutherland gives a synopsis of the different industries of British Columbia, in a very concise and instructive form. He reports plenty of employment for those who wish to work, no difficulty having been encountered by him in placing out all applicants during the year, and says: "all manual labour will find a good market for some years."

Mr. John Jessop, the Agent at Victoria, gives a large amount of valuable information respecting Vancouver Island. He speaks of the rapid increase of the population, owing to the growth and prosperity visible in every quarter, and he states, that every man able and willing to work had opportunity to do so. Owing to building operations through the whole province, mechanics and skilled labour had all they could do. Mechanics are certain of employment for several years to come. He reports numbers of Scandinavian and German applications for information about the province, and urges that information in their own language respecting it, should be circulated amongst them, owing to the peculiar advantages and inducements the Pacific coast offers to the hardy agriculturist and farmer of Scandinavia.

Mr. B. L. Baldwinson gives a very succinct report on Icelandic Immigration into Manitoba during the past year, showing the distribution of the settlers and the prosperity visible in the Icelandic settlement. These people he reports as thoroughly reliable, economical, hard-working, and considered an important element in the population of the province.

Mr. A. S. Gerald, who looks after Immigrants arriving at, or passing through Prescott, states that the number entering Canada at that port as passengers who have arrived by Steamers at New York, are on the increase, a fact which he attributes to the competition amongst the Ocean Steamship Lines. He is of opinion that quite a number also enter Canada at Brockville, but he has no means of ascertaining their numbers.

Mr. E. McGovern, who looks after Immigrants at Danville, reports obtaining employment for all coming under his notice.

Mr. Robert Clark, who looks after Immigrants for the Eastern Townships, travelling with them from Quebec, reports the Immigrants under his charge placed out satisfactorily among the farmers of the Eastern Townships district. He reports the demand for workmen of all kinds throughout the season as large, and the average rate of wages high.

Mr. John Sumner, the travelling agent on the cars, reports the class of immigrants during the year as very superior. The facilities have been improved by railway enlargement, and the shortening of time in the passage from Halifax during the winter months.

Mr. W. A. Webster, gives a full report on colonization in Manitoba and the North West comparing it with the neighbouring State of Dakota, where owing to drought, and a succession of bad harvests great destitution prevails. The average yield of grain, and prices obtained for the same, are compared and press extracts are given, bearing out the statements made by Mr. Webster.

Mr. Glyn Jones reports on the state of colonization in the South-western states bearing on immigration to our Pacific Coast, and shows that with the exception of Kansas very little agricultural operations can be carried on without irrigation. Kansas, although having many advantages, has its drawbacks, in blizzards, cyclones, and hot winds, which are apt to destroy the early growth of crops.

The report of the Montreal Women's Protective Immigration Society, and the Womens' Protective Immigration Society of Quebec, show the operations carried on by the ladies interested in those institutions.

A report on the immigration into Canada, and emigration to China, of Chinese, by Mr. W. S. Parmalee, shows the movements of that class of the population.

A very interesting report on the Mennonite Colonies of Manitoba is given by Mr. H. C. Jacobsen, and from the description given by him these settlers appear to be among the most successful and prosperous of all arrivals from the continent of Europe who have settled in the Dominion. He states that the children of the first Mennonites who arrived in 1874 and 1875 are now grown up, and there is not land enough for their fast increasing families in the original Mennonite reserve. There is a desire among them to spread out, and he suggests Southern Assiniboia and Southern Alberta as affording suitable localities for further Mennonite settlement.

Mr. Q. Bliss, who meets steamers at Halifax and Quebec during the respective seasons, reports having travelled with immigrants to Montreal where he hands them over to the care of the Agents. He reports the arrivals during the past season as of a remarkably superior class.

A particular report on the system of immigration adopted by the United States and the operations of Castle Garden, is furnished by Mr. J. L. Payne. The United States system is compared with the Canadian, which affords several facts of considerable moment bearing on the superiority of the system adopted in Canada, and in his conclusion he points to the probability that a considerable portion of what has been in the past, immigrants to the United States will be deviated to the Dominion from the fact that the great restrictions placed by the United States Government on immigration will have a tendency to close the hitherto large influx into that country.

Mr. J. H. Dyson, who looks after immigrants arriving at Richmond, reports permanent employment obtained by him for all arrivals there during the year. He states that most of those who came out a few years ago as farm labourers, now own and cultivate fine lots of land.

An interesting report on the German Colony at New Toulcha, is given by Mr. C. E. Cullen, and the details shown therein are a proof of what can be done in the North-West by a hard-working settler. The site of this colony three years ago was an unbounded prairie and the German settlers starting it were possessed of a very small amount of means.

A report of the work of the "Society for promoting Christian knowledge," in Montreal in connection with immigration, was communicated to this Department from the Rev. R. Acton, its Chaplain, which shows how the spiritual welfare of parties arriving on our shores is looked after equally with their temporal interests. The work of the Charitable Emigration Societies of England is alluded to and the fact of provision being made by them for sufficient landing money to enable the immigrants to pay their way inland on arrival. For this purpose, $700 was paid out from one society, during the year, by the Chaplain.

The work of the Rev. Mr. Bridger, Chaplain at the port of Liverpool, in consolidating parties before leaving that port is pointed out, and Mr. Acton expresses his opinion "that the immigrants now arriving, are of a decidedly better class, leaving but little to be desired."

An interesting report on French repatriation from the New England States, is given by Rev. Father Beaudry.

As rigorous an economy as was compatible with the efficiency of the Immigration Service. has marked the whole expenditure of the past season.

VI.—QUARANTINE.

The regulations relating to quarantine have been carefully adhered to and carried out during the past season, and the reports from the various quarantine stations both on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts show that the measures taken have effectually prevented any contagious disease from entering the Dominion. The St. Lawrence Quarantine Service has during the year been brought under the superintendence of one responsible medical head.

Dr. Montizambert, the Medical Superintendent at Grosse Isle Quarantine Station, gives a full and detailed account of his operations during the past season, which have now been extended to include under one medical superintendent the whole of the St. Lawrence Quarantine Service. This enlargement of his sphere of action was carried into effect in accordance with the recommendations made by the provincial boards of health, and of the visiting executive officers sent by the boards of health of several Western States, to inspect the Canadian system of quarantine.

Dr. Montizambert reports the season, on the whole, as healthy, only 32 cases requiring admission to the hospital, out of 50,879 persons inspected.

Referring to the influenza epidemic, which was so prevalent at the close of the year, he condemns as unfounded the theory to which currency has been given, that this epidemic is a forerunner of cholera, and adds that any occasional instances of their simultaneous appearance must be regarded as a mere coincidence with no deeper significance. In view, however, of the westward march of cholera, he urges putting into force all the conditions and means necessary to secure the country from any possibility of an epidemic approaching by sea.

Dr. Montizambert explains very fully the working of the regulations as to vaccination of passengers arriving, and shows the necessity of carrying those out to the full letter of the law, in order to secure protection for Canada from the much to be dreaded epidemic of small-pox. In this connection he urges the expediency of endeavouring to secure vaccinal protection of passengers before embarking for their voyage.

Dr. Wickwire, the inspecting physician at Halifax, reports less sickness than usual during the year, and no case of the severer forms of contagious or infectious disease.

Dr. Harding, medical superintendent at St. John, N.B., reports no infectious sickness on any vessel arriving at that port during the year, and less sickness of any kind prevailed on board vessels arriving than for several years previously.

Dr. James Warburton, who has been acting at the quarantine station at Charlotte-town, P.E.I., since the death of Dr. Hobkirk, reports having inspected all arrivals from foreign and suspected ports, which arrived there, and that there was no case of contagious disease.

Dr. McLeod, the medical superintendent at Sydney, N.S., reports no case of infectious or contagious disease at his station during the year.

Dr. McMillan, medical superintendent at Pictou, reports no contagious or infectious disease at his port.

Dr. P. A. Macdonald, the medical officer in charge at Port Hawkesbury, N.S., reports only one vessel out of 1,123 arriving at that port during the year, having contagious disease on board. The patient in this case was moved to the Marine Hospital, where recovery took place.

Dr. J. Macdonald, the medical officer in charge at Chatham, N.B., reports inspecting 163 vessels, none of which required detention in quarantine.

Dr. Wm. Jackson, the inspecting physician at Victoria, B.C., reports only one case of contagious disease, which was at once removed to the quarantine station, where, after the necessary cleansing and disinfection of the ship the passengers were discharged.

A very interesting report on the Leprosy Lazaretto, at Tracadie, N.B., is given by Dr. A. C. Smith, the visiting physician of that institution. He reports twenty persons suffering from that disease now in the Lazaretto, five new cases having been admitted since his last report, and three deaths as having occurred during the year. Leprosy, he states is dying out in Tracadie, but as cases were reported appearing in the neighbouring districts, Dr. Smith made a special tour of inspection, which resulted in his finding a focus of the disease between Caraquet and Shippegan, and he traced from this centre several cases to other settlements. He strongly urges permanent measures of segregation as the only means of stamping out this loathsome disease. It would appear from the tenor of his report that there is some reluctance on the part of persons in suspected houses to allow the inspecting physician to enter them for the purpose of examination, and he strongly urges legislative action to assist segregation of the disease, not only in the interests of those living in afflicted districts, but to prevent the spread of leprosy, a subject now forcing itself on the attention of the world at large.

VII.—CENSUS AND STATISTICS.

The expenditure incurred in closing up census accounts amounted to $7,454.57 during the year 1889.

VIII.—CRIMINAL STATISTICS.

The returns of criminal statistics for 1889 are compiled and tabulated in a separate appendix herewith. The expenditure for the calendar year amounted to $5,342.86.

IX.—HEALTH STATISTICS.

In addition to the cities and towns referred to in the Report of last year, which had appointed Statistical Officers and sent in returns, I have now to state that Brockville, Ont., came under the Act during the past year, having complied with the necessary conditions.

Monthly bulletins are published regularly.

The expenditure for payments to Statistical Officers and burial returns in cities and towns during the year was $8,636.78.

In the appendices of my report will be found the reports of the various immigration agents and parties connected with immigration, of the quarantine and cattle quarantine officers, and a complete set of tables of rates of wages and prices of provisions and clothing at the various agencies throughout the Dominion.

The whole respectfully submitted.

JOHN CARLING,
Minister of Agriculture.

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
 QUEBEC, 31st December, 1889.

I. STAFFORD,
 Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The immigrants of 1889, particularly the families from the British Isles, destined for Ontario, the North-West and British Columbia, were of a very superior class of farmers; and others, who, though not practical farmers, had grown-up, healthy families, and had apparent means to purchase improved farms or settle on free grants. The aggregate of capital brought into the country by these people must have been very considerable. The Customs valuation of their effects amounted to $142,960.

There were limited numbers for the Hungarian and Bavarian settlements in the North-West, and more Scandinavians than usual expressed their intention to settle there. I have no doubt this immigration will continue, and is likely at no distant date to assume large dimensions.

The prosperous condition and high wages paid for labour in Great Britain had the effect of checking the emigration of the working classes from there. Their arrivals consequently show a falling off as compared with 1888 and 1887.

General labourers experienced no difficulty in finding work.

Farmers and farm labourers were in steady demand, and all who arrived found immediate employment.

The Eastern Townships required a considerable number of farm hands, and a limited number of miners, navvies and general labourers; but as immigrants of these classes, generally speaking, held prepaid railway tickets to other places in the interior, only very few were obtained.

The yearly increasing difficulty of obtaining a supply of good female domestic servants is felt by most householders in town and country. This is no doubt to some extent caused by the large numbers of young women and female children of the working classes who of late years seem to prefer the hum and bustle of the factory, to the quiet routine life of domestic servants in private families. The number of single women who arrived this year, and classed on the passenger lists as domestic servants, was considerable, but the majority were either members of families or held through railway tickets to various parts of the country where they had friends, and where their presence, generally speaking, was scarcely felt, and was inadequate to supply the general requirements of the country. Very few arrived who paid their passage only to Quebec, so that only very limited numbers of the applications for female servants at this agency could be supplied.

The advantages which the Canadian North-West offers to both capitalists, and energetic men with moderate means are now well known in Europe. There are openings there for all, either as farmers, ranchers, dairy-men, coal and other mining, lumbering, &c.; and railway-building will for years to come require large numbers of navvies and skilled hands to construct and operate them.

The older Provinces also offer many advantages to people of moderate means seeking comfortable homesteads. In all of them improved farms, with good buildings, convenient to markets, churches, schools, &c., can be purchased at a moderate price, offering great advantages to people having children of school age.

There is always in Canada a demand for industrious farm and good common labourers, and female domestic servants, and all of these classes are sure to find employment on arrival. If their passage is paid only to Quebec, they should have on landing from 20s. to 30s. to pay railway fares and provisions on journey to places where employment can be found for them.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

L. STAFFORD,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

No. 2.

REPORT OF THE MONTREAL IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. J. J. DALEY.)

DOMINION GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION AGENCY,
MONTREAL, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith this my twentieth annual report of the work of this agency, together with the customary tabular statements and statistics, for the year ending the 31st of December, 1889, to all of which your attention is respectfully requested.

Statement A, shows the immigrant arrivals and departures at Montreal agency, viâ ocean steamers and United States, for the year 1889.

Statement B, shows the number of children received at this agency, whom in charge of, and destination, for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

Statement C, shows the number of immigrants landed at the port of Montreal, by ocean steamers, for the season of 1889.

Statement D, report of immigrants wanted at Montreal agency for the year 1889.

Statement E, list of retail prices of the ordinary articles of food and raiment required by the working classes at Montreal agency for the year 1889.

Statement F, average rate of wages at the Montreal agency district in 1889.

Agricultural Labourers.

The demand for this class of labour shows a decided increase over last year, the arrivals being insufficient to satisfy the applications made at this agency. All able bodied men, accustomed to farm work, were immediately provided with good situations, at fair wages.

Female Farm Servants.

The same remarks would apply to female servants, as to male farm hands. The demand exceeded the supply, and the new arrivals at once found suitable places.

Labourers.

The past season was an exceptionally good one for the working man. Abundance of work, and good wages, for all willing and able to handle a pick and shovel, characterized the state of the labour market in the city and district of Montreal. The immigrants who remained here had no difficulty whatever in getting employment. Trade and commerce flourished in Montreal. There was a marked improvement, especially, in the shipping business of our port; also in the building trade, railway construction, municipal and other public works, as well as in private enterprises, which caused a boom in the labour market.

Female Domestic Servants.

The demand for this desirable class of immigrants is never satisfied, and was vastly in excess of arrivals at this agency during the year. I therefore found it utterly impossible to accede to the requests of a large number of applications made at the office for this class of help.

“The female domestic question” is a very important one, and should receive the serious attention of the Government Emigration Agents and philanthropic societies engaged in the work of emigration, on the other side, with the view of solving the problem, which can be done only by inducing a much larger number of this class to emigrate here. It should be perfectly understood, however, that only those who are suitable are required here, healthy, intelligent young girls, possessed of good characters as to respectability and competency. Those having such qualifications may be assured of a good reception and immediate employment on arrival. Good cooks, general servants, table and housemaids, having a thorough knowledge of their business, is the class most in demand, and these only should be encouraged to emigrate to the Dominion. That although we need a large increase in the number of suitable female domestics, yet we do not want and protest against receiving here the thriftless, the untidy, indolent and ne'er-do-well females of the large cities of the mother country.

Market Gardeners.

Many applications for men skilled in this line were received during the spring and summer months; and all new comers, having a practical knowledge of the business, met with prompt engagements and fair remuneration. The demand at this agency for this class is annually on the increase.

Mechanics.

There was a decrease in the arrivals of skilled workmen this year, as compared with last. Those who arrived, however, and settled down here, had no difficulty in getting employment at good wages. Mechanics of the following trades are most in request at this agency, viz.: good carpenters and joiners, stonemasons and bricklayers, blacksmiths and horseshoers, tinsmiths and plumbers. A limited number of each of the above trades having some capital, of a robust constitution, temperate and industrious, and not afraid of hard work—that is, to do a fair day's work for a fair day's wage, would have no difficulty in getting employment here, provided they reach here at a proper season, which is the early part of the summer—say the month of May. It should be borne in mind, however, that no encouragement is held out to large numbers of the mechanical classes to come here, as the local supply is almost always sufficient for all requirements. But as I have heretofore stated, a limited number of competent mechanics of the above trades arriving at the time above indicated would most probably succeed in obtaining work in this city or vicinity. Immigrants of the artisan class are recommended to accept the first fair offer of employment, failing to get work at their own special trade.

Professional Men, Clerks, &c.

Professional men, clerks, storemen, school teachers, book-keepers, and such like non-mechanics, are set down as undesirable immigrants, because there is no demand for their services at this agency, and throughout the Province of Quebec there is always a local supply of this class, vastly more than sufficient to satisfy all requirements, and all accessions made thereto from outside only tend to aggravate the position of affairs. Moreover, the new arrivals—English, Irish and Scotch especially—would be handicapped in the competition for situations here by the fact that they do not, as a general rule, understand the French language, a knowledge of which is essentially necessary to obtain employment in almost all commercial and industrial establishments in the city, the large majority of the population of the city and Province being of French descent and speaking the French language. During the year several of this class arrived and presented themselves at the office seeking employment. It was with the greatest difficulty I succeeded in placing a few as clerks; the others were obliged to accept any light job which presented itself, such as grooms, messengers, hotel waiters, &c.

Self-Help Immigration Society.

This society sent out several young men to my care during the summer, and a money order in favour of each individual to defray incidental expenses whilst waiting for employment, which fortunately was of short duration, as in every case employment was speedily procured. I am pleased to say that all the young men and lads sent out by this philanthropic society were of the right sort. Evidently, great care had been taken in their selection, therefore no difficulty was had in obtaining situations for them here.

Health of Immigrants.

I take pleasure in stating that the general health of the immigrants was exceptionally good; not a solitary case of sickness requiring medical attendance or hospital accommodation was observable. Moreover, no accidents of a serious nature, occurred to immigrants whilst en route either on shipboard or railway train, owing, no doubt, to the great care and vigilance constantly exercised by the steamship and railway officials, who are to be complimented in this regard.

No Complaints.

All the immigrants whom I interviewed on the subject of accommodation and treatment while on board ship, stated they had been well treated and were perfectly satisfied with the ample accommodation and good fare provided by the steamship companies; that the provisions supplied were of good quality and sufficient in quantity; that the officers and men were at all times courteous and obliging, doing all in their power to make things as pleasant and agreeable as possible during the voyage.

Correspondence.

I have to report a large increase in this branch of office work, the number of letters received and sent exceeding that of last year. The letters were from almost all the nations of Europe. From Great Britain and Ireland, however, the larger majority of the correspondence was received. The writers, who were evidently intending immigrants seeking reliable information respecting the Dominion and its resources, and principally as to the climate, soil, minerals, lands, both improved and Government free grant lands, rates of wages of mechanics and labourers, prices of provisions, rents of workingmen's dwellings, cost of board, steamship and railway fares, &c.—to which replies, which contained the desired information, together with Government pamphlets, were forwarded.

Accommodation for Immigrants.

Accommodation for the temporary reception of immigrants is now necessary in the vicinity of the port of Montreal. The majority of the immigrants, during the past season of St. Lawrence navigation, have been landed at this port, instead of, as formerly was the custom, at Quebec. The Beaver Line of steamers have for some years past brought all their passengers to this port; and the Allan and Dominion Lines have decided to bring all the passengers who desire to remain on board, and disembark them here also, of which privilege a large number availed themselves during the past season.

First impressions count for a great deal, especially with immigrants, in a new country; and in the majority of cases they are either favourably or unfavourably impressed with the reception tendered them upon landing. In order, therefore that a good first impression be made, it would be desirable that an immigration depot be provided for their temporary reception and accommodation at this port, or in its vicinity.

There was a large decrease in the number of immigrant arrivals this year, as compared with last; nevertheless, what was lacking in numbers was amply compensated for in quality. Those who arrived, and intended making Canada their future permanent home, were undoubtedly a suitable class of healthy, thrifty, intelligent people, possessed of more or less means wherewith to start anew the battle of life; and, as many of them stated to me, that they had fully made up their minds to work early and late to make a comfortable home for themselves and families, and would not be deterred or discouraged in accomplishing their object by the obstacles and difficulties with which all new settlers in a new country had to contend.

With your permission, I would respectfully request that the following report be incorporated herein.

"The following is the report read by Mr. George Horne, Chairman of the Immigration Committee of the Irish Protestant Benevolent Society, on Monday evening, 2nd, September 1889 :—

"Your committee have much pleasure in reporting that their labours have been comparatively light, no cases having come to their notice requiring any calls upon the funds of the society. The railroad depots, as well as steamers of the Beaver Line, were visited from time to time when immigrants were expected. We found the number of Irish Protestants arriving small as compared with previous years. Those arriving were of a healthy, respectable and comparatively independent class, having ample means for their immediate wants. They required nothing further than advice, which was cheerfully tendered by your committee and duly appreciated. Many of the farmers and farm hands were advised to locate in different districts in the Eastern Townships, where some procured small farms of their own, the labourers obtaining permanent employment.

"It is pleasing to mention that letters in (two cases) were received, expressing their thankfulness for the interest evinced in their behalf, and the advice given them, and published in the city press."

Similar reports and newspaper articles, corroborative of the above, could be quoted from the various other national and benevolent societies of the city and the city press, all being unanimous in the opinion that the year's immigration, although suffering a diminution in numbers, was nevertheless satisfactory, and a vast improvement on that of last year.

Conclusion.

In conclusion, I take pleasure in tendering my best thanks to the officials and staff of the various steamship and railway companies, and the Customs officers at this port, for valuable assistance rendered myself and staff in the good work of immigration.

The whole respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JNO. J. DALEY,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

JNO. J. DALEY,
Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

MONTREAL AGENCY, 31st December, 1889.

No. 3.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HALIFAX, N. S., IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. E. McC. CLAY.)

DOMINION IMMIGRATION OFFICE,

HALIFAX, N.S., 31st December, 1889.

SIR.—I have the honour to submit for your information my annual report for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

The arrivals at this port for the year are as follows:—

Cabin—Males.....	3,517
Females.....	2,817
Children.....	293	6,627
Steerage—Males.....	7,430
Females.....	3,054
Children.....	1,844	12,328
Grand Total.....		18,955

The above shows an increase over last year in cabin of 2,856, and a decrease in steerage of 2,725, and an increase over the grand total of last year of 131, as per Statement F.

Taking all together, I do not think a better class of people ever landed at this port.

Two families for Ontario wanted free transport, but as the Department declined to grant any they were assisted to their destination by charitable societies in this city.

Patrick Dyer, an immigrant who landed from the steamship "Sarnia," 13th, April while trying to board a freight car on the 16th, was run into by an engine, and so badly hurt that he was sent to the hospital, where he remained all summer, having been discharged a short time since as cured.

The steamship "Caspian," Allan Line, arriving 24th November, reported the death at sea, on the 17th, of A. Anderson, a foreigner, booked for Howard City, Michigan. Death was caused by heart disease.

A number of good farmers with their families have settled on improved farms in this Province during the season.

Mechanics, farm and general labourers, have found employment in every part of the province.

Capt. Andrew Hamilton, of the Tower Hamlets Mission, London, in writing of a party sent out by them last spring says: "All letters to me and their relations, from Nova Scotia, are delightful reading. I have seen no complaints in any letter. From Amherst the reports are splendid, and the farm lads speak of the future as glorious for them."

I have found it a very difficult task to place married men with large families, as our people prefer single men, but I am thankful to say I have been very successful in doing so.

The demand for female domestic servants has been greater than ever before, while the supply has been less. Of those remaining here, I can only say no complaints have been made, and most of them are doing very well.

I was very much pleased with the Scotch Crofters landed here in April, and from the knowledge I gained of them while on the journey to Quebec, with any chance at all, they are sure to succeed.

Miss Sterling's Home at Aylesford is filling a long-felt want, and great care has been taken in placing children, so that none but good homes are provided for these little strangers.

The children landed here were all strong and healthy looking, particularly those brought out by Miss Macpherson and Mr. Quarrier.

This has been a prosperous year for Nova Scotia in every respect. Farmers have had fine crops, with high prices; foundries and factories of all kinds have done an immense business, mechanics and labourers were paid a high rate of wages, with plenty of work; the different coal mines have been putting out very large quantities of coal, gold mines are being opened up all over the Province, railroads are being built and opened, new steamship lines are being formed, and thus prosperity rolls from door to door.

The ship railway, near Amherst, is being pushed forward as fast as possible, and has given emigration to hundreds of immigrants.

Our new immigrant sheds are not yet under way, but I am pleased to say the plans are out.

In July I visited different sections of Cumberland county, a full report of which was sent the Department at the time.

From Prince Edward Island I have had a number of applications for domestic servants, as also for a few farm hands.

Statement A shows the monthly return of cabin arrivals and departures for the year.

Statement B shows the monthly return of immigrant arrivals and departures for the year.

Statement C shows the yearly return of immigrant arrivals and departures for 1889.

Statement D shows the yearly return of cabin arrivals and departures for 1889.

Statement E shows a comparative statement of the immigration at Halifax, N. S., from 1869 to 1889, inclusive.

Statement F shows the number of boats by each line landing passengers at this port for the year, giving the number of cabin and steerage by each.

Statement G shows the sexes, nationalities and destinations of steerage passengers landed at this port for the year by the Allan and Dominion Lines.

Statement H shows the number of children immigrants landed at this port during the year.

I feel it my duty, in conclusion, to again thank the railway, Customs and steamship officials for the very kind manner in which they have received all passengers landing at this port.

I wish also to state that the lunch counter at Deep Water Terminus is proving a very great benefit to all classes of people landing here.

Trusting the above will prove satisfactory to you.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

EDWIN McC. CLAY,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ST. JOHN, N.B., IMMIGRATION AGENT.—

(MR. S. GARDNER.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
ST. JOHN, N.B., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report of this agency for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

While I have to report as last year a decrease of immigrants passing through this agency, I nevertheless show a large increase through other inlets.

The number of immigrants reported at this office via Halifax, St. Lawrence, and the United States, other than reported at the Customs Department, are, 183, viz.: English, 99; Irish, 2; Scotch, 70; Danes, 12; of these were farmers, 19, farm labourers, 51; general labourers, 2; mechanics, 7; domestic servants, 30; not classified, 74. The whole number settled in New Brunswick; the farmers buying farms, the farm labourers went into several counties in the Province. Some found ready employment with the farmers; others, having some means, took up free grant lands (this class much needed). One and all write they are much pleased with the country, people and climate, and only regret they had not come before.

The domestic servants were placed in the country districts and city, places being provided for them long before their arrival. For this class the demand is greater a thousand fold more than the supply, applications coming from all parts of the Province for these, and boys for farm work. This class also much wanted as before stated; almost without exception every farmer wants a boy and girl outside their own family to aid them in outdoor and indoor work, the farm work being now pushed to a greater extent than ever before, stimulated by large demand and good prices.

I am ever and anon asked from all parts of Europe and from the United States for a full description of the Province, its soil, climate, and employment for all classes of labour, more especially its agricultural capabilities, prices of produce, markets, &c., &c. This class state their means limited, and from what they read they could get a good start at farming in New Brunswick, by buying partly improved farms and with capital varying from £100 to £1,000 and £1,500 sterling, to all of whom I gave all the particulars—in a word, answered all and every question asked in addition to sending what printed matter I had bearing on the questions asked, also referring them to J. J. Fellows, 56 Holborn Viaduct, London, the general agent for New Brunswick, for a copy of C. H. Lugin's Hand Book, as he wrote me from Penzance, that he had made ample provision to supply the book to every one referred to by me, and all calling at his office should have access to all the material he had on New Brunswick.

The immigrants passing through this agency brought in cash $10,995, and other values $5,035; total, $16,030, fully 100 per cent. over last year, showing much improvement in the class of immigrants.

Total settlers in the Province by all other inlets other than Halifax and Quebec, so far ascertained and estimated by correspondents, and not otherwise reported, are 3,712, with 183 at this office, making a total of 3,895, a large increase over 1888. Of this number there were 3,093 Canadians, returning, a greater part from the United States; English, 93; Scotch, 15; Irish, 15; United States citizens, 4; Danes, 29; bringing with them in cash, $109,480; other values, $138,361; and, as last year, my correspondents wrote they are well satisfied. Many more came into the Province and settled, but could not get any near certainty as to the number, and these, as a matter of course, must have brought more or less cash and other values.

The trade by the International Line of Steamers between St. John and Boston about the same as last year, with an increase of ins over outs, but the New Brunswick Railway figures the larger outs, which indicates the travel in by water and out by railway. Ins, 19,732; outs, 10,969.

My observations on the general travel, the same as stated last year, will apply to this, and especially by the International Line of steamers. A still greater increase of our hardy sons of toil, agriculturists, mechanics—in fact, all classes. The entries in the Customs Department will confirm this, as well as what my correspondents assert, as the following will prove, and finding demand for every one who will work, still the supply not equal to the demand, owing to two or three very prosperous years for New Brunswick, and which is almost certain to increase, as every year new sources of industry are opening up.

The number of immigrants entered the Province, so far as heard from, by other inlets, not otherwise reported, is as follow:—

Albert County.....	26
Westmoreland County	207
Charlotte do	164
Victoria do	127
Restigouche do	29
Northumberland do	66
York County (including McAdam Junction).....	3,093
Total.....	3,712

Again, as last year reported, free grant lands are being rapidly taken up, and partly improved farms bought and settled upon by a number of young men residents of the Province, and by those returning after an absence of from one to ten years, after testing the uncertainty of the United States, and now being fully satisfied their former homes are best suited to them, bringing very little with them, but found no lack of employment with good wages, as some of the following reports will show.

From Victoria County several write thus:—

Sisson Ridge.

Quite a number have come in and taken up lands, and bought farms and settled, bringing their families and movables, and quite a number have applied for free grants, all a good class of settlers, bringing over $1,000 with them. Mr. Watson moved in, and bought mill property for $1,400. Then there have been large improvements in new buildings this year. Mr. Straton has built a large steam mill on the Tobique. James Porter also built a steam mill, 75-horse power all in running order. Three water power mills, equal to steam for manufacturing lumber. The country is improving fast and going right ahead. There are great prospects on account of the Tobique Valley Railway, and great expectations on account of the Grand Trunk building from Grand Falls to Moncton, which if built will open up thousands of acres of splendid farming land.

South Tilley.

This settlement is steadily improving, and I have no doubt in a few years this will be one of the finest settlements in the Province. We have as good land here as can be found in any part of Canada, capable of producing the heaviest crops of hay, oats, wheat, potatoes and buckwheat. Here let me say a neighbour sowed $2\frac{1}{2}$ bushels of wheat, and threshed 60 bushels of first-class wheat, and many others have done just the same. We are well off for railway accommodation, and the opening up of the Temiscouata line will open up one of the finest tracts of lands for farming. It is a pity our Local Government don't try to get this tract settled. It seems to me that something should be done to settle the country, and I have no hesitation in saying from what I hear about the Great North-West, that this is a better country for a poor man. In this country if a man's crops should fail in any one year, there is always some way to get the flour barrel filled, and in winter there is always plenty of good wood. We want settlers—good, steady men and women, who are not afraid to bear a little hardship for they are sure if they persevere, of making themselves pretty comfortable.

There are a number of farms here which can be bought at prices ranging from $150 to $1,000, some of which can be got on easy terms.

Scotch Colony.

This has been a good season, and the people in the colony are very much encouraged. There has been a good deal of improvement in the way of clearing ground and building; there have been some families who came out, and they report themselves well pleased with the country, a large family settled in Upper Kincardine, and possessed some capital, went into milling business, and are now running grist mill, oatmill, and saw mill, and they manufacture just as good oatmeal as any part of Canada. This country is being filled up quite fast, and I think there is good prospect for Victoria. A number of young men from this place went out to Colorado, U.S. to make their fortune, but they have returned well satisfied with New Brunswick, and in some cases not much better off than when they started. I might mention, the farms that have been offered in this colony for sale brought good prices, and this should encourage those clearing new farms. I can see great improvement in the colony the last five years, and this will apply to other settlements in Carleton and Victoria counties.

New Denmark.

The increase by new arrivals, as you will see, is quite small, and this is not to be wondered at, as no effort whatever is made by the authorities to attract immigration to New Brunswick. There is plenty of vacant land here, for over one hundred families could get located in New Denmark proper, and many more in the surrounding country. The settlement is making good progress every year; stock of all description is increasing; quite a number of horses are now raised; quantities of butter and eggs exported; thousands of bushels of oats and large quantities of hay find a ready market among the lumbermen; a large number of frame houses and barns have been built the past year. With the prospect of the Grand Trunk running through the settlement on its way to Moncton; with splendid rich soil, and water and wood, privileges not to be surpassed, New Denmark is destined to become a flourishing and prosperous settlement. I may add that if any real effort was made there would be no difficulty in filling the country up with a good class of Scandinavian immigrants.

Red Rapids

Our prospects for the colony are good in regard to railroads. The chances are, before you get my next report there will be a coal mine opened. Our crops for the past season are good.

Charlotte County.

The past season has been one of general prosperity in this section of the country. The farmer rejoices that his crops of all kinds have been good, and prices obtained remunerative. There have been more buildings erected, and of a better class, in our town than for a number of years past. This with increased activity in the various manufacturing industries of the towns has given employment to all and furnished a good market to the farmers for all they have to dispose of. In fact, our farmers are a thoroughly independent class, as the comfortable appearances of their houses and barns, with the much improved stock which they now possess, evidently show, and I think few countries can show a class of farmers as comfortably situated and as free from incumbrances on their holdings as New Brunswick can. Our climate is healthy, our soil is generally fertile, our privileges, socially and morally, are unexceptionable, and our people should be happy and contented, which, I think, the greater number of them are.

Westmoreland County.

Sackville—The country about here is especially prosperous at present. Labour is higher than it ever was. This operates against the farmer, when he gets low prices for his beef, &c., but it is an advantage to the labourer when he pays the lowest price for all he eats and wears. The reason for this local prosperity is the activity in factories, railway building and the increased employment in the mines in Cumberland, as well as in the stone quarries.

Albert County.

In reference to the growth of the different industries of the county, I think they will compare favourably with the past year. Immigration in this district has not amounted to very much this year, but we hope to see a large increase in 1890, as business is improving rapidly, particularly in shipbuilding. There are now four vessels building. There has been considerable attention paid to farming in this county for the last two years, and yet much room for improvement.

Northumberland County.

I send you a memo. of the number of immigrants that I know have arrived during the year. There may be more returned Canadians, but it is somewhat difficult to find them; yet I know of several who have come visiting their friends, with the intention of returning to the United States, but they found they could do as well, if not better, here than abroad, and stayed. Quite a number of young men and a few families have gone to British Columbia during the year, and find they can do much better than in the United States, which formerly absorbed so many of our people. Our old settlers are paying more attention to their farms than they used to do, and are prospering accordingly.

Business of all kinds has been fairly prosperous. The chemical pulp mill now in operation, and manufacturing an excellent article, which is in good demand, gives employment to a large number of hands, the experienced ones being Belgians and French.

Work in the lumber woods is on a large scale, and the usual amount of fishing is engaged in, and I hear of none being idle who want employment, even in winter.

Sugary Settlement.

This settlement is improving rapidly. We have a mill for the manufacture of hard wood (of which there is an abundance) in course of erection, which will prove a great advantage to the settlers, affording them a handy market for their wood. There is still a number of good lots vacant, which I hope to see speedily settled.

Restigouche.

The returned Canadians settled on farms previously owned by them or their parents. The American and Scotch immigrants were in some way connected with mills previously erected. I can give no estimate of what money they had, but do not think they had much.

The crops this year have been a full average, the season the finest ever known, employment plenty and fair wages. Increased lumbering going on this winter and good local demand for all produce.

Kent County.

There is no change this year in our settlement. Everything progressing; crops of all kinds have been good; no new settlers came here the past season; all here satisfied with their situation. The flowery description of the western Provinces has induced settlers to pass us over, but the tide will set the other way after a while, I think.

York County.

Nothing as yet from this county, except the returns of the number of settlers entered, in response to my usual enquiries. Will come later, no doubt, but I fear too late for this report.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

SAMUEL GARDNER,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE OTTAWA IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. W. J. WILLS.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
OTTAWA, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report of the operations of this agency during the year 1889.

The total number of arrivals was as follow, viz. :—

European Immigrants who reported at this office.....	1,159
do do sent direct from Quebec to other parts of this agency	67
Settlers from United States.	1,890
Total arrivals	3,116

Some of the immigrants with means who arrived here have purchased partly improved farms and remained in this district, whilst others went westward, moved doubtless by the exodus to Manitoba from this section. In this connection I may state that the majority of those who left for Manitoba came to me for information respecting that Province. In all cases I furnished them with pamphlets, maps and such other information as was in my power. Of the English immigrants who arrived here, 85 were sent out by the Self-Help Emigration Society of London, Eng., consisting of 46 men, 15 women and 24 children, the majority of whom were accustomed to agricultural pursuits. The balance were warehousemen and grooms, and on their arrival were disposed of at once in a satisfactory manner. A few young men subsequently left their employment and went to other parts of Ontario, and some to points in Quebec.

During the autumn, in obedience to instructions received from the Department, I visited 35 workhouse children, sent out by charitable institutions in England, Ireland, and Scotland, who had been placed out in my agency, viz. :—in the city of Ottawa, counties of Carleton, Renfrew, Lanark, Leeds, Grenville, Dundas, Stormont, Glengary, Russell and Prescott, in the Province of Ontario, and the county of Ottawa in the Province of Quebec. I can fairly state that great care was displayed in locating those children, as I found all of them in comfortable homes.

During my tour of inspection I noticed that the country is rapidly and steadily progressing; there have been a considerable number of both brick and stone houses of a superior quality, and excellent wooden barns and outhouses, constructed in the several counties since my last visit; and new villages have sprung up along the railways, whilst the older towns and villages are improving rapidly—in fact, the country appears prosperous wherever I visited. During the season the demand for agricultural labourers was not as large as in previous years, nor were the wages as large. Although it is at this season very hard for common labourers to find employment, I am glad to say that I have been able to place a good number of this class on the Gatineau Valley Railway construction. The health of the immigrants who arrived here was remarkably good, and no cases of infectious disease or of any serious complaint appeared amongst them.

The Scandinavian and German immigrants were very good specimens of their race, and the continental immigrants make an especially desirable class of settlers.

Thrifty and hardworking, they are well adapted to roughing it on arrival, and after a few years' residence they attain, in almost every case, an independence which they never could have expected in their native country.

In this connection, I wish to allude to the very valuable assistance rendered to all continental immigrants arriving here by the interpreter of my agency, Mr. Alfred Akerlindh, and I am also indebted to the unfailing exertions of Mr. Kosmack and Mr. F. X. Plaunt, of Vanbrugh, in attending to the same class of immigrants whose destination is in their vicinity.

The demand for female domestic servants has been as great as in former years, but the supply never approaches the demand. One drawback in regard to this class is that numerous females, who have been employed in factories or other light work, call themselves general servants on arrival here, but fail to answer the expectations of their employers.

The best class of domestics seldom arrives here, but some of those who do come, after a certain time get accustomed to work, and these are easily disposed of.

The expenditure of this agency has been kept at the lowest possible point, with every regard, at the same time, to the efficient discharge of the duties of the agency.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. J. WILLS.

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

No. 7.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE KINGSTON IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. R. MACPHERSON.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
KINGSTON, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report, with statements annexed, showing the working of this agency for the twelve months ending 31st December, 1889, viz. :—

Statement (A), showing the number of immigrant arrivals and departures at the Kingston agency, their nationalities, trades or occupations, and declared destinations ; also classified as to sexes, adults and children.

Statement (B), showing the monthly arrivals at this agency during the year 1889, classified as to routes, sexes, destinations, nationalities and occupations.

Statement (C), showing the average rates of wages in the Kingston district for present year.

Statement (D), showing the retail prices in this agency of the ordinary articles of food and raiment required by the working classes.

I may state that applications at this office for farm labourers have not been as numerous this year as in some previous ones ; still, the demand for this class, and for female domestic servants in my district, has always far exceeded the supply, more particularly so in the summer season, and I trust a larger number of both may come under my care the coming year. There will also be a demand for ordinary labourers in this district next season, to complete the laying of double track for the Grand Trunk Railway Company between Montreal and Toronto.

The immigrants generally, during the past season, were of a good class, healthy, and required but little medical assistance, were placed almost immediately on arrival, and but very few returned to me for further advice, after having been once placed. In reference to child immigration, I have inspected one hundred and thirty-two children brought from the industrial schools or workhouses of England this year, and placed chiefly with farmers in my district. From my knowledge of their healthy condition, the general satisfaction they are giving, and the care exercised in looking after their welfare, I am satisfied this class of immigration is beneficial.

I have to report that stock raising continues to increase in my district, and more attention is being paid by farmers than formerly to the improvement of this important branch of husbandry ; also, to the making of cheese and the export of eggs and poultry.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

R. MACPHERSON,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE TORONTO IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. J. A. DONALDSON.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
TORONTO, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit this, my twenty-ninth annual report, showing the work of this agency for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

The arrivals here during that period in number fall below those of 1888, and are as follow:—

Total number of immigrants arriving and passing through here, 10,749.

Of these 9,055 came by way of the Canadian ports of Quebec and Montreal during summer, and Halifax in winter, and the remainder, amounting to 1,694, came here by way of the various ports of the United States.

The total number of immigrants remaining in Ontario and dealt with at this office were 6,950.

Number passed through on their way to Manitoba and parts of the North-West, 170.

Number passed through on their way to the Western States, 3,629.

As stated in my last year's report, immigrants from Quebec on their way to Manitoba and the North-West do not now pass through this agency, but take the all-rail route, which accounts for the the small number here reported.

The demand for agricultural labourers during the season has been greatly in excess of the supply; in fact, it has been some years since we have had so many applications on our books for this class, farmers writing and coming from all sections of the country to obtain the necessary help, and in many cases being disappointed. Wages ranged from $15 to $22 per month for the summer season, and from $120 to $160 for the year. A larger number were hired by the year than has been the case heretofore, and especially married men with families.

The demand for domestic help, both in the city and country, has, as usual, far exceeded the supply, and we have found it utterly impossible to supply even a small proportion of those applying. Comparatively few girls of the domestic class now find their way as far as Toronto, and the majority of those who do, have friends to go to, so that we have been worse off for domestic help this year than ever before, and especially is this the case in the agricultural districts.

The greater proportion of those arriving at this agency this season have obtained employment in the country parts, those remaining in the city being principally parties sent for by friends.

Very few general labourers have arrived in comparison with former years, and there was a total absence of the pauper element, not a single person having arrived, as far as I am aware, who could be placed under this class. Almost all the societies in England who are now engaged in helping out immigrants are very careful in their selection, and have a small fund of money here for the purpose of helping those they send out, until they obtain employment, so that if they do not readily get work the burden of supporting them does not fall upon the charitable institutions of the city.

The trade and business of the city has been very good during the past year, and what few mechanics arrived obtained employment without much difficulty, though as a rule there is very little demand for this class. The value of property still continues to increase, and for miles in every direction land is being sold at very high figures for suburban residences, &c. As an instance of this I may state that a short time ago a farm of less than a hundred acres, a short distance outside the city, was sold for $180,000, to be cut up into building lots. West Toronto Junction, where a few years ago scarcely a house was to be seen, is growing into a large and enterprising town, and many extensive manufactories are now running there, giving employment to a vast number of hands.

Very few immigrants have availed themselves this season of the free grants of land in the Muskoka and Parry Sound districts, but there has been considerable enquiry, through this office, by parties who have been resident in this country a year or two, and who are moving up there. The country opened up by the Canadian Pacific Railway, however, north and west of Lake Nipissing, appears to be attracting more attention now than the Muskoka district, both on account of the better quality of land and from the fact that there is more choice. The mineral district also around Sudbury is causing considerable enquiry here, and we feel the need of descriptive pamphlets and maps of the whole of this northern country.

Though the numbers this year are below those of 1888, the quality of the immigrants continues to improve, and we have had as good a class this season as could be wished for. All appeared well and comfortably clothed, and from the value and appearance of their baggage had sufficient clothing to face the winter. A few invested money in improved farms, but the majority deposited in the bank until they had a little experience in the ways of the country.

The general health of the newcomers has been very good, the principal cases of sickness being among young children, from the effects of the voyage or weariness of the journey. Not a single death has occurred during the season.

The religious requirements of the new arrivals have been well looked after by the various ministers of the city, and services have been held on the premises whenever a sufficient number have been staying at the depot over Sunday.

The various railway companies have been very attentive to the wants of the immigrants while on their way to their destination, and every possible kindness has been shown by the officers on the trains and at the stations.

All of which is most respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN A. DONALDSON,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture,

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HAMILTON IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. JOHN SMITH.)

IMMIGRATION OFFICE,

HAMILTON, ONT., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following annual report with tabular statements showing the arrivals and departures of immigrants at this agency for the year ending the 31st day of December, 1889.

The past year shows a decrease of 1,575 immigrants settled in Ontario as compared with the corresponding period of the previous year.

There is a decrease of 617 immigrants passing through to Manitoba and the North-West Territories from the ports of New York, Boston and Philadelphia, the New England States and the States of New York and Pennsylvania.

There is a large decrease of immigrants passing through Canada from the United States Atlantic ports to the Western States, amounting to 17,418.

Statement A shows the arrivals and departures of immigrants, their declared destinations, nationalities and occupations.

Statement B shows the arrivals and departures of immigrants and their general destinations.

Statement C shows the arrivals and departures, the number of free meals, lodgings and free railway passes granted to indigent immigrants.

Statement D shows the monthly arrivals and the departures, the general destination, the value of settlers' effects and capital reported at the agency as having been brought into Canada.

Statement E shows the monthly arrival of immigrants viâ the St. Lawrence and settling in Ontario.

Statement F shows the monthly arrival of immigrants viâ the United States settling in the Dominion and those passing through to the Western States.

Statement G shows the arrivals and the general destination of the immigrants.

Statement H shows the number of children brought into and settled in the Hamilton district by the philanthropic societies.

Statement I shows the number of immigrants to whom assistance has been rendered.

Statement J shows the amount of capital reported as brought into Canada.

Statement K shows the number of free passes granted and the destination of the immigrants.

Statement L shows the number of immigrants settled in Canada and their destination.

Statements M N O and P show the number of immigrants and the value of their effects as reported at the Customs ports of entry.

Statement Q shows the total number of immigrants and the value of their effects as reported by the respective Customs ports of entry.

Statement R shows the number of immigrants settling in Canada and those passing through to the Western States.

Statement S shows the rate of wages paid in the district of the Hamilton agency.

Statement T shows the prices of the different articles of food and wearing apparel.

Statement U shows the number of loaded live stock cars passing through Canada to Buffalo, N. Y., and the number of empty cars cleaned, disinfected and returned to Canada.

The immigrants arriving at this agency during the past season compare favourably with those received during past years, the whole of them being healthy and self-reliant and free from the pauper element.

The number of mechanics arriving here and reporting themselves at this agency numbered sixty-eight, including those connected with the building trade, all of whom met with ready employment on arrival: the number arriving being inadequate to meet the demand, especially in the building trades, some of the contractors cabling to Europe for a supply of men.

The majority of the immigrants arriving at this agency was from the rural districts of Europe, being comprised principally of agricultural and common labourers with their wives and families, who readily found employment; the boys and girls being eagerly sought after for farm work and domestic duty; the immigrants this year being a very desirable class of settlers and well adapted to the wants of the province.

During the year there has been a good enquiry for situations for young men to learn farming, previous to purchasing farms in the Province or taking up homesteads in Manitoba or the North-West Territories.

The past year having been pretty free from strikes, work has been steady with wages at full scale prices, and with the open fall and winter months building operations have been continued up to the close of the year.

During the past year there has been a good demand at this agency for all classes of immigrants, and at no time has the supply equalled the demand, this being so particularly with farm labourers, causing great inconvenience to the farmers who were unable to obtain the required help.

Of the immigrants arriving at the close of the year, the greater portion were assisted out by their friends who arrived early in the season.

Agricultural Labour.

The demand during the past year, has been largely in excess of the supply both for married men with families and also for single young men. At present there is a good demand for all classes of farm labourers including stock men. Wages have ruled about the same as last year: engagements by the year run from $120 to $150, and for first-class hands $200 has been paid; the rate per month for good hands running from $12 to $15 per month, and for extra hands as high as $20 has been paid, commencing from the 1st of April to the end of October. The rate for harvest hands being $25 per month; these rates include board and lodging.

Female Domestics.

During the past year it has been utterly impossible to meet the demand for this class of immigrants at the increased wages offered; the rate for ordinary servants varying from $8 to $10, and for first-class general servants the wages rule from $12 to $15, whilst good cooks command from $15 to $20 per month.

The demand for this class of labour will continue, owing to the increasing industries established in the Dominion giving employment to females. Another cause for the scarcity of domestic servants is caused by the early marriage, incident to colonial life.

Mechanics.

There has been a fair demand during the past year, those arriving having met with ready employment, the number reported at this agency as having arrived by the St. Lawrence and viâ the United States being sixty-eight.

Mill Operatives.

There has been a good demand for this class of labour, some of the mills being hard pressed to obtain the necessary number of hands.

Manufacturer's Operatives.

During the past year there has been a fair demand for all classes of operatives, especially in the ready-made clothing department.

Common and Skilled Labourers.

There has been a fair demand during the past year for able-bodied labourers, able to work in the rolling mills, foundries, railways, public works and building trades.

Juvenile Immigration.

The societies engaged in juvenile immigration, whose Homes are located in the Hamilton district, and referred to in Statement H, show a decrease of 203, as compared with the previous year.

The children arrived this year compare very favourably with any brought out in previous years.

The superintendents and matrons have been careful in the selection of the homes provided for the children.

The Children's Home, situated in Hamilton, and connected with the Homes of the Rev. Mr. Stevenson, England, of which the Hon. W. E. Sandford is president, has met with a sad and heavy loss by the death of Mrs. Evans, the late matron. The Home is now managed by her son, Mr. Sanford Evans, who has been engaged in the work for some time past, and during the winter and fall months he has made a thorough inspection of the children sent out from the Home.

Most of the societies engaged in sending out adult emigrants are well organized, care being taken in the selection of the emigrants before being assisted out to Canada.

The Self-Help Emigration Society, the Charity Organization Society and the Northumberland Village Homes make ample provision for the care of their emigrants, on their arrival in Canada, until such time as they can obtain employment.

Agriculture.

The cereal crop is much below the average, with the exception of oats, which was a fair crop, but light in weight; both spring and fall wheat suffered from blight and rust. Grass lands afforded abundant pasturage in the early part of the season. A large hay crop was secured in good condition. Root crops are below the average, but well secured.

Live stock has done well, owing to the excellent pasturage and the large yield of hay; the herds are reported in good condition and free from all contagious disease.

During the year more interest has been taken in sheep, and a marked improvement has taken place in the number and quality of the flocks.

During the fall months there has been a fair delivery of hogs on foot, curers preferring to slaughter, in preference to buying them dressed.

There has been a good demand for all serviceable horses for street car purposes, heavy teaming and roadsters.

In dairy produce a large business has been transacted, with an increased production.

The year was unfavourable for fruit, with the exception of small fruits early in the season.

Manufacturing Industries.

There has been a good business during the year, with an increased output. The shops have been kept fairly active, and the rate of wages has been well sustained.

The iron trade still continues very active, the rolling mills running double shifts. Foundries have also been very busy, and in some instances orders have been declined, owing to the works being engaged on future and time contracts. The bridge and tool works have run to their full capacity, and the same may be said of the nail factories. There has also been an increased activity in the textile fabrics, and the mills are now in full working order.

Flour milling continues to be depressed, owing to the advantage of Western millers being able to avail themselves of the "milling transit rates," and also the advantage of through point rates to the Maritime Provinces and European ports, but the greatest drawback to the Ontario millers arises from an over-production of milling machinery, which, at the present time, is 100 per cent. more than is required.

The railways also show increased activity, with a large increase in the earnings.

In commerce an increased business has been transacted, and payments have been fairly met.

In reference to pleuro-pneumonia, Texan fever, and cholera or hog fever, existing in the Middle and Western States of the Union, every care and attention has been paid to the cleaning and disinfecting the empty cars before being returned from Buffalo to Canada, a return of which will be found on reference to Statement U.

I have also to report that a careful supervision has been exercised in the cleaning of local live stock cars, every assistance having been rendered by Messrs. James Stephenson and Charles Stiff, Superintendents of the Grand Trunk Railway; also, by Mr. J. B. Morford, Superintendent of the Michigan Central Railway, C. D.; also, by Mr. John Crampton, General Eastern Freight Agent, Michigan Central Railway; also, by the agents and officers of both lines.

During the past year there has been a large correspondence asking for maps, pamphlets, and general information in reference to free grant lands, Manitoba, British Columbia and the North-West Territories. The number of communications received and despatched for the year numbered 6,179.

The demand for agricultural labourers and female domestics has already commenced for the coming season and from present prospects it will be impossible to supply the demand.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN SMITH,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LONDON, IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. A. G. SMYTH.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,

LONDON, ONT., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit for your information the annual report of this agency for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

Form A.—Statement shewing total number of immigrants arrived, their nationality and destination.

Form B.—Statement showing the number of arrivals monthly.

Form C.—Statement for the year showing total of immigrant arrivals, sexes, nationalities, trades and occupations, and general destination.

Form D.—A condensed yearly return of arrivals viâ ocean travel and viâ the United States, their nationalities, occupations and declared destinations, and the value of effects, and cash brought in.

Form E.—A full statement of immigrant arrivals and departures at the agency, for the year 1889, tabulated monthly, showing arrivals viâ ocean travel and viâ the United States, the sexes, declared destinations, nationalities of those remaining in Canada, their occupations, and the number reported elsewhere, both for Canada and the United States, as well as not reported elsewhere; also, the value of effects and cash brought into Canada, as near as can be ascertained.

Form F.—The average rates of wages in this district for 1889.

Form G.—A list of retail prices of the ordinary articles of food and raiment required by the working classes at this agency. The price of provisions from actual enquiry and experience is the same for all classes of immigrants and Canadians.

The number of arrivals is not quite so large as in the year 1888, but much in excess of the year 1885.

The class of people have been quite superior this year, and the emigration societies who send parties out to this locality, to my care, are careful that all shall have a little means besides their effects. I especially refer to the Self-Help Emigration Society, the Rev. R. Mackay, honorary secretary, and the East End Emigration Society, — Mann, honorary secretary. Both have sent out some capital young men, and some very tidy, pushing families who are all getting well absorbed with our people and doing well.

The health of all reported at this agency has been exceedingly good. One case only had to have assistance, for an injury received on ship board, and now out at work and doing well.

The demand for farm and general labourers was good, especially in early spring and up to after harvest, and many more could have found good employment than we had apply. Good general labourers who are used to handling horses soon make good farm servants, and are much sought after.

Female domestics, both for town and country, are as usual in good demand.

The prospects for the coming season are good, and no doubt all farm and good general labourers will get employment at good, fair wages.

The Dominion Guide Book has been of great service, and much sought after; also, the guide books for Manitoba and the North-West, in the Scandinavian, German and English languages, are in demand at this agency, and no doubt have assisted to bring out many from Europe to Canada.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. G. SMYTH,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture,

ANNUAL REPORT OF PORT ARTHUR IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. J. M. MCGOVERN.)

PORT ARTHUR, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of the various matters in connection with immigration, that have received attention at this agency during the past year; also tabular statements showing the number, nationality and destination of immigrants, number and nationality of settlers in the district of this agency, rate of wages paid in this district, prices of provisions, clothing, &c.

Statements A and B give number, nationality and destination of immigrants, en route to the Western Provinces.

Statement C shows increase and decrease of arrivals, as compared with previous years.

Statement D gives number and nationality of settlers in the district of this agency during the past year.

In previous years my monthly reports to the Department gave the number and nationality of immigrant arrivals, but not the destination; in the early part of the past year, I received instructions to ascertain the destination of all immigrants going westward via this agency, and report, monthly, the number for each of the Western Provinces, viz., Manitoba, the North-West Territories and British Columbia, also the number reported and not reported elsewhere. It was difficult to obtain this information, particularly in the months of March, April and May, when a large number of colonist trains were passing through at all hours of the day and night, and each one of them, as well as the regular passenger trains, had to be checked and all passengers questioned. A considerable time and most careful attention was required in examining the trains, and it was frequently impossible to get through the work in the short time they remained here. At such times, either myself or assistant, who performed the duties in a most satisfactory manner, accompanied the trains a sufficient distance to obtain the information, or when notified that large parties were expected, went east to meet them. Some difficulty and considerable unpleasantness was experienced on account of having to question each passenger, but the information required by the Department could not be obtained in any other way, and I am pleased to be able to report that the work was most thoroughly done, and that to the best of my knowledge not one train was missed during the year.

I make these explanations to show that the greatest care was taken to have the returns sent from this agency, copies of which showing the totals are attached to this report, as correct as it was possible to make them, as I am aware that the correctness of such returns have been frequently questioned.

The number of immigrant arrivals from foreign countries was not as large this year as last, but the large increase from the older Provinces makes the total number of settlers that went, via this agency, to the North-West and British Columbia, 2,818 more than in 1888. The checking of trains to get the statistics required gave me a good opportunity to judge of the class of settlers en route to the Western Provinces. In the early part of the year a very large majority of them were people from the Eastern Provinces of the Dominion, principally from Ontario, and you will notice by Statement C that there was for the year an increase of 4,496 in the number of Canadian arrivals as compared with the previous year. There is undoubtedly a large number of the best class of young farmers leaving Ontario every year, believing they can be more successful on the western prairies, and it can now be justly claimed that nearly all of them are settling in Manitoba and the North-West Territories.

The great majority of this class of arrivals came by colonist trains in March, April and May; the total for March was 3,690, and they brought with them fully 650 cars of stock and effects. The figures for the two following months were 2,790 and 1,314, with about the same proportion of stock and effects; this large amount of capital and the practical experience possessed by these people must prove very beneficial to the different parts of the North-West, where they had secured land and intended to settle.

During the same months there were a few colonist trains from the Province of Quebec, and on the 20th of March a party of 400 by special train in charge of the Rev. Father Beaudry. Those and the rest of the arrivals from the Eastern Provinces were a fair class of Canadians, some having considerable means and should all make good settlers.

The immigration from Great Britain was some 1,400 less than last year, and the people, as a class, did not appear to be as desirable as those arriving in former years.

A large party of Crofters arrived on the 19th of April; physically² they were a fine body of people, and as they were in good time to put in a crop, and get a return for the first season's labour, they should, in a few years, overcome the many difficulties experienced by new settlers who have only a limited amount of capital. Two other parties, one on 25th April, in charge of the Rev. Mr. Bridger, and the other on 6th June, with the Rev. Mr. Winter in charge, were probably the best, considering their number, of the arrivals from Great Britain.

There was, as compared with last year, a slight increase in the numbers recorded at this agency from Germany, France, Russia, Hungary and the United States; but the returns show a marked decrease in the number from the Scandinavian countries, the arrivals being only a few more than one-half as many as in the previous years, which is very much to be regretted, as the Scandinavians are splendid immigrants, and I notice that they have been going through by the Canadian Pacific Railway in large numbers to Pacific coast points in the United States. There was also a very considerable falling off in the Icelandic immigration, and it is evident, from the past year's experience, that unless the most powerful and greatest exertions are made, the Dominion will not, in future, secure a fair share of the best class of immigrants from foreign countries, as no efforts are being spared to induce them to settle in the neighbouring Republic. Manitoba as usual secured a far larger number of settlers than either the Territories or British Columbia, the proportion being fully three to one. I noticed that a good number of those for the Territories were people who wished to obtain land for ranching or farming purposes, which was a good indication that they would become permanent settlers, but I am afraid that many of those that went to British Columbia may be disappointed and not remain there, particularly the English people, as they had, in many cases, been misinformed about the country before leaving home.

I believe that if there was a very cheap return rate made for these people many of them could be induced to return to the Prairie Provinces instead of going subsequently to the United States.

The number of immigrants remaining in the district of this agency during the past year, as shown in Statement D, was much larger than usual. Those that took up land or obtained partly improved farms are doing fairly well, and the others were given employment at good wages. There is a great demand for female domestics, here, at wages from $10 to $15 per month, cooks receiving as high as $30, and a large number could find immediate employment.

There was very little sickness among the arrivals, and it was only necessary to furnish medicine and medical attendance in four or five instances. Two deaths occurred, both infants, one body was interred here, and the other coffined and taken by its parents to their destination.

There was an unusually large number of letters received at this office during the past year, and I always endeavoured in replying to give the fullest information. The various other duties have received my best attention and I trust that the explanations here given will meet with your approval.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. M. McGOVERN.

ANNUAL REPORT OF WINNIPEG IMMIGRATION AGENT.

WINNIPEG, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my annual report for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

In comparing the arrival of immigrants with that of former years, I find a falling off in the number from Great Britain, owing, I believe, to the flattering inducements offered by the Argentine Republic, to the tenant farmers, through the strenuous efforts of their agents, thus causing a diversion of the emigration from the British Isles, to the warmer climate of that Republic, which, otherwise would have found its way to the broad and fertile prairies of Manitoba and the North-West.

But, while we may regret to acknowledge this to be the case, we have the satisfaction of knowing that a larger increase of the better class of foreign immigrants have found their way to our Province and Territories, than in any previous year, the Germans alone outnumbering the total arrivals from Great Britain, while a large influx of Swedes, Norwegians, Danes, Belgians and other foreigners have been added. These people have settled in their different colonies, and judging from the fact that they are still arriving, they must be pleased with the prospect before them, and will encourage others to follow.

A large number of Icelanders have also come to Manitoba, during the present season, and have been placed in the colonies at Gimli, Glenboro, and otherwise distributed through the country. Although they have not brought much wealth with them, they are a most industrious class of people, learning our language quickly, adapting themselves readily to the laws and institutions of our country, and becoming useful settlers in a very short time.

The numbers arriving from Ontario were as usual very large, and the amount of live stock and effects brought in surprisingly great. This is, to a certain extent, I believe, the result of visits made by our settlers, who, through favourable excursion rates afforded by the different lines of railway, which will eventually add materially to their traffic account, were enabled to re-visit the homes they had left behind and speak for and in the interests of our great Province. If the same low rates were extended to the people located in the more Eastern Provinces, it would tend to bring those who are desirous of a change, to this portion of the Dominion, instead of allowing them to drift into the neighbouring Republic. Nor can a stronger proof be given nor a more encouraging test of this Province and Territories, than that the citizens of the garden Province of our Dominion, should prefer to leave their old and comfortable homes and institutions and commence anew here, with perfect confidence in their future success.

CROPS.

The past season has been one of extreme drought, and in some districts the farmers have suffered severely, while in other parts they had excellent crops. But, judging from reports of the farmers and samples of grain which have been sent me from every district between Winnipeg and Calgary, there is ample evidence that even in a very dry season, by cultivation and careful summer-fallow of the land intended for growth of grain, excellent crops may be produced. In many instances a farmer would have a good crop, while his neighbour might have an exceedingly poor one, climatic influence being equal. proving that in this country as in all others, the successful farmer is the one who does not expect a good return without careful cultivation.

LABOUR.

The labouring class of immigrants with rare exceptions, had little difficulty in finding employment, either with farmers or on the new lines of railway in course of construction, and I am glad to be able to state, that no sooner were these operations discontinued than work in the woods was offered, and all who were willing have found employment for the winter.

Female help is still scarce, and a large majority of servants are obtained from the Scandinavian and Icelandic arrivals, who give excellent satisfaction, obtaining very good wages in return for their services.

The lads or young men who came or were sent out to learn farming, were fairly good and gave satisfaction to their employers, except a few who should never have been allowed to come, being both mentally and physically unfit for this country. In view of this, I would urge that a very careful inspection be made before an authorized officer on the other side, who would prevent any such persons coming to this country, not likely to be either able or willing to work when they reached here. This point cannot be too strongly urged upon the different societies sending these boys out, and that none be sent out merely for the sake of getting rid of them, as one really bad boy injures the reputation of many good ones, and casts an uncharitable reflection upon the kind assistance and good intentions of these home societies.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Many letters of inquiry, regarding climate, soil, land regulations, wages, &c., have been received from Great Britain during the past season; besides numerous letters from people in the Western States and Territories, asking for pamphlets and general information about this country, to all of which I have replied. One inquiry in particular, I may mention, was from Washington Territory, from a man who had returned from a trip over the line of the Canadian Pacific Railway from Victoria, B.C., to Winnipeg, and who was so much impressed with what he saw that he requested me to give him the fullest information as to land regulations, &c., and, if satisfactory, he would come and could bring with him at least one hundred more. I have written, also sent him a supply of pamphlets and hope to have a favourable report from him soon. I would here mention that the supply of printed matter in the English language at my disposal this season has been very meagre, what I had being of 1886 and 1887. I would, therefore, strongly urge that a supply of the latest possible date be placed in the office of every agency, for the purpose of distribution, and that these pamphlets be well written and carefully compiled, with attractive illustrations, giving the most practical information of each Province in the Dominion, obtained from reliable sources. This method, I believe, would result beneficially, and if these publications were placed in the hands of intending emigrants who would in turn pass them over to their friends, the cost would be amply repaid. This is proven by the great amount of advertising done by the Americans on their lines of railways, and at the different points thereon, in every train and on every steamship line, in all available places. I believe it would be possible to double our immigration yearly, as compared with the present figures, especially when we consider the extent of our railway system and the facilities afforded immigrants in order to reach any part of the country in which they desire to settle.

I regret to say that the building used here for the reception of immigrants, since the old sheds were burned, is not at all suitable, and is utterly inadequate for the purpose required, there being no adequate capacity to accommodate the number of arrivals, nor can it afford proper sanitary protection to the occupants, and I trust the Government will see the necessity of erecting new buildings suitable to the requirements of this important station, so as to be available early next season.

Table "B" shows number of applications received for the services of immigrants, which number might fairly be doubled.

Table "D" shows average rate of wages paid during the year, and table "E" gives list of retail prices of the ordinary articles of food and raiment required by the working classes here.

I beg to submit the following letters received by me from settlers, reporting their progress, taken indiscriminately from many others of a similar character:—

KILLARNEY, MANITOBA, 21st November, 1889.

SIR,—I arrived in Winnipeg, from Toronto, Ontario, about the 1st day of June, 1878. The route I took to get to this country was via the Beatty Line from Owen Sound to Duluth, thence via Northern Pacific to Fisher's Landing, and from there via Red River steamboat to Winnipeg. About the third day after my arrival in Winnipeg I engaged with Messrs. McIntyre & McCullough, boot and shoemakers, as cutter and salesman, and remained with that firm until they sold out their business in the summer of 1880 to Messrs. Dodd & Macdonald, with whom I remained only a short time, holding the same position with them I had with the old firm. The year previous to my leaving Winnipeg I homesteaded and pre-empted 320 acres of land near Manitou, in Southern Manitoba, and went there to live thereon and cultivate the same, in the spring of 1881, and remained there till I had completed my settlement duties. I raised a crop of grain every year I was there, and did fairly well, invested what I realised out of the crops in improvements on the farm.

In the spring of 1884 I rented the farm to an in-coming settler, by the year, and I then went and located in the thriving town of Nelson (South Manitoba), distant about eighteen miles from my farm, and started a boot and shoe shop, which I carried on there for over three years and made money. (I then sold out to good advantage to a Mr. Wm. Cochrane). I then proceeded west, on the Pembina Branch of the Manitoba South-Western Colonization Railway Company, which was then being constructed. I drove from Nelson to Moose Mountain country myself and a friend, prospecting for a favourable location to start either a hotel or a boot and shoe business. We only remained there a couple of days, and then returned eastwards once more. On our way we stopped at the proposed farm site of Killarney, where the grading had been completed and track laid. I remained one day, and finding that the railway company had located the town site of Killarney, called after the beautiful Lake of Killarney, which is close to the town, and which lake and town will doubtless become at no very distant date a popular summer resort, after due consideration, I made up my mind to build a hotel, and accordingly I commenced building operations early in February, 1886. I at first only erected a 25 by 40 ft. building, and about the 1st of May of same year the hotel was opened and in full swing, since which time I have done a good business. The following year (summer, 1887) finding that the original building was far too small for my fast increasing trade, I was obliged to erect an addition much larger than the main building, which, with the addition, is 40 by 75 ft. and is capable of accommodating comfortably thirty-five guests. Mr. Robert Rolston ran his stable in connection with my house at that time, but in the fall of 1888 I resolved to erect a commodious stable on the opposite side of the street, owing to Mr. Rolston's stable not being large enough to meet the increasing trade. I purchased two lots from the railway company and erected a stable thereon at a cost of $1,400. The stable will accommodate twenty-eight horses. This branch of the business has paid me very well on the whole. I am very well satisfied with the country and my success in business. I have enjoyed better health since I came to Manitoba than I ever had in Ontario, and can safely say that any man who comes to Manitoba that is willing to work and attend to his business properly is sure to be successful.

JAMES McCANN.

ALEXANDER, November, 1889.

DEAR SIR,—I came to Brandon in the spring of 1883 with a capital of two hundred dollars ($200), and that was all I had. I had to get everything to start with out of that amount. I got a homestead and pre-emption, 320 acres of good land, three miles from Alexander station, and 16 miles from Brandon. I have now on my farm a good frame house 1½ stories, 18 by 24 ft. with kitchen well plastered and painted, worth about seven hundred dollars; also a frame stable 24 by 48 ft., 1½ stories; granary 14 by 18 ft., frame. In stock, I have 7 head of horses, 48 head of cattle, 18 pigs; fowl, I do not know the number. We have about 180 acres under cultivation, and all the machinery required to run a good farm. We milked last season 18 cows. I am well pleased with the country, and think it just the place for a poor man to get a start. I might just say that I never lived on a farm a day in my life till I came here, so I think under the circumstances, I have done very well, I will be glad to give anyone any information I can at any time if required.

W. H. ACTON.

POPLAR POINT, 19th November, 1889.

DEAR SIR,—Yours of the 14th instant received. In reply I would state that I have succeeded very fairly well, both at farming and at business making a very good and comfortable living. I think any man willing to work and rough it a little may do well out here.

GEO. M. JACKSON.

GLENBORO', MANITOBA, 26th November, 1889.

SIR,—By birth I am an Englishman, having been born in the great metropolis, and came to Manitoba in the year 1882. I worked at my trade, &c., until 1884; this year I went west and took up a homestead and pre-emption, but meeting with a series of misfortunes of one sort or another, I had to abandon them in 1886, one accident, a broken arm, compelling me to remain almost idle for over a year. In 1887 I came with my brother to this village and started a business of our own, with very little capital. Since that time we have done well, having a good business well established, and more than recovering from the reverses of 1885 and 1886. I believe that in almost any other country, being placed as I was, it would have been very hard work to have got along; especially to have made so much progress; for, besides the store, my two brothers have each a homestead of 160 acres, and I have a homestead and a quarter section of North-West Land Company land, together with a little live stock. This is nothing uncommon, for farmers and merchants who started a few years ago with nothing are in many cases now worth thousands of dollars.

With regard to the people of this Province, they are for the most part kind and hospitable; but, as elsewhere, one will find the unscrupulous, who are waiting to take advantage of the new-comers; so caution need be used. I would heartily recommend Manitoba mechanics, unless they are in a comfortable and permanent position at home, to turn farmers. Those who come should be sober and hard-working, not to be discouraged if they do not make their fortunes in one year, or even do so good as they expected. The secret of success is "patience." The best time to come is the spring.

ROBERT W. BROWN.

Note.—This man is a harness maker.—T. BENNETT, Agent.

BURNSIDE FARM, ELKHORN, 21st November, 1889.

SIR,—I think that any man that has a little capital to start him can do very well in this country. I came out in the fall of 1883, and my wife and five children in the spring of 1884. What money we have invested in this country we have had a larger interest for than we ever got in the old country from the same amount, besides having a large house, stables, granary, horses, cattle, &c. Of course, this year the crops have been bad about this part, but we have 140 acres ready for wheat next year, when, if we have a good crop, it will put us straight a bit. It is a splendid country for cattle, and they can be kept at little cost. I have a half section here, and I bought a farm in the North-West, and the first year it half paid for itself. We are all contented with the country, and would not care to live in the old country, after living six years in this nice atmosphere. Of course, the winters are cold, but we never suffer from the cold, as we have a good tight house of twelve rooms, which two stoves will keep warm in winter. I might mention the first ten acres I cropped I got 75 bushels of oats to the acre. This was in 1885. In fact, I got twice as much from 10 acres as I got this year from 120.

A. P. STEWART.

P. S.—I might mention that my garden did better this year than it ever did before, and it was never watered. I had peas, beans, cabbages, brocoli, onions, carrots, corn, tomatoes, pumpkins, cucumbers, &c.—

DELORAINÉ, 22nd November, 1889.

SIR,—Emigrating from Western Ontario May, 1880, I came direct to the Turtle Mountain district, being one of the very first settlers in the settlement. I have, therefore, a pretty good idea of the capabilities of the producing qualities here. I have reaped seven crops off the farm I am on, principally wheat, oats and barley. Until the present year I have never had less than 20 bushels of wheat per acre, 40 bushels of oats and 20 bushels of barley. Some of my land has been cropped five years in succession, the aggregate production being for the five years 126½ bushels per acre of wheat; oats, 235 bushels per acre, and vegetables of all descriptions are very successfully grown. The present year has been a decided exception, owing to the excessive drought that has prevailed. A young man coming to this part of Manitoba, with a few hundred dollars, can buy land improved or unimproved, and make no mistake if he means business. Stock-raising is very profitable in connection farming, especially cows. I have the present year averaged per cow $55, which goes a long way in making up for the short crop. Owing to the very fine, open fall, I have not yet fed my cows any hay. They are doing well, and will do so until snow covers the ground.

R. W. DAWSON.

TOBACCO CREEK,
LINTRATHEN P. O., 17th November, 1889.

SIR,—I came to this district in 1878. I purchased land from a speculator, moved here with my family in 1880, from the county of Wellington, Ontario; experienced considerable hardship to get here; brought my stock, horses, cattle and sheep with me. Had 40 acres broken first year, and had excellent crops; had 200 acres under crop this year, which is remarkably good for such a dry season. Wheat, oats and barley about 26 bushels to the acre. I might say that I have not had a miss or a frosted crop since I came here. The worst frosted wheat that I raised brought 51 cents per bushel. I must say that I have prospered since coming here. It must be remembered that this locality is not subject to summer frosts as much as some parts of Manitoba, neither does the drought seem to affect us much. The winters have been unexpectedly pleasant, especially for the last four years. To answer your questions in a short way, I have experienced better health and better prosperity since coming here, and am quite satisfied with the country.

R. H. COLE.

HEASLIP, MANITOBA, 2nd December, 1889.

SIR,—I came to this country with my eldest son in the spring of 1881 at the request of an old friend. I brought with me about $100 in cash. My son and I made entry for Section 32, Township 5, Range 19 W., and after paying entry fee, $40, it left us $60 to start the world with. I bought a yoke of oxen for $120, paid cash $50 and gave my note for balance. I rented 28 acres of land just broke the year before. We backset this and got my seed to pay for it in the fall from my friend. We put this in, and then went to our homesteads about the 25th of May. We broke 62 acres that summer and backset about 40 acres of it. We put up hay enough for the next winter and spring; got out logs and put up a house 19 ft. by 25 ft. and stables 15 ft. by 30 ft. We then went back, cut our grain and had it threshed. We had 42 bushels of wheat and 63 bushels of oats per acre. We kept seed and feed for next spring, and sold the balance, the wheat at $1.20 and oats at $1 per bushel. I paid note on oxen, rent and seed, and took over $100 back to Ontario in the fall when I went back after the rest of my family. I came out again in the spring of 1882 with my family, my wife, and five other sons. I brought out one yoke of oxen and one span of horses and some farm implements. Since then my eldest son and I have made second entry for land and two of my younger sons have taken up land. I also bought 480 acres of Canadian Pacific Railway land, making in all 2,240 acres. We now own as good land, I suppose, as there is in the world. I have also some property in the city of Winnipeg and some in the town of Deloraine. I have 10 head of horses, 36 head of horned cattle and 42 hogs and pigs, and all the farm machinery required; a good farmhouse, a stone stable, 30 ft. by 40 ft. cow stables and a good granary, and better than all I owe no man $1, and my sons have equally as good stock and buildings. My sons and I are worth, to-day, at least $25,000, a pretty good showing for eight years in a new country? I am well satisfied with the country as regards health and climate and glad I left Ontario, but I will close now, although I could write volumes in regard to the advantages of this country for new settlers.

S. A. HEASLIP.

RAPID CITY, MANITOBA, December, 1889.

SIR,—My experience of Manitoba as a field for immigration cannot be surpassed, I think, in the world. I was nursed on a farm and have followed that business all my time. I have been farming for myself now for thirty-two years, and I have had very good prosperity all my time, but I must say in the three years and eight months I have been in Manitoba I have made more money than in six years in the old country. I farmed in Pembrookshire, South Wales, twenty-eight years before I came here. The land is so rich it needs no manure so far. It is a great pity that there is so little done in representing the country and giving the truth about the place. Some people come out here just long enough to go back with a lot of untruths and do harm; but anyone who is willing to work out here is bound to succeed. I am certain that with enough money to make a good start and go in for mixed farming they are all right.

Hoping this will be of some use to you to further the interest of our country, and should there be any cheap passages to the old country I shall try to get across. I think I could get one hundred good strong farmers out the coming fall.

PETER JAMES.

MONTGOMERY, N. W. T., 29th November, 1889.

SIR,—I came from Brandon to this part in June, 1882, having driven as the Canadian Pacific Railway was not built at that time; amount of means to start with all told, two hundred and fifty dollars (£50), and to-day I would not sell out for ten times that amount. I would say that for any man with a small amount of capital and willing to take hold and work, this country has no equal in the world.

Now, any person coming to this country now, one dollar will go further than two did at the time I settled, as the prices of all necessaries have lowered over one-half since the boom days of 1882. This part of the country since I am here has had good and bad seasons, this last summer being very dry; but I had 850 bushels of grain, 50 of potatoes, and 100 of turnips, with enough garden stuff for family use, off 60 acres, and I intend to sow 100 acres next season. But to be successful as a farmer in this country, you must go into mixed farming, as all kinds of stock do well; butter, eggs, etc., always bring a good price, and as the women always handle these things to the best advantage, therefore the married men will be apt to succeed best (I have tried both ways).

This has been a very fine fall, and the plough was going up to the 23rd of this month. It is cold in this country, but I don't think any person ever left the country for the cold. I might state that I came from Ontario and was brought up on a farm. Now there is a number of vacant lots, Government land, in this township, 16½ milles from Whitewood Station, C. P. R., and whole townships between here and the Moose Mountain, Ranges 2, 3, 4, west of 2nd Meridian. There is church held regular here every Sunday; and a post-office mail on Fridays; and a good school in the township, 13-3, west of 2nd. There is plenty of timber on the Moose Mountains to the south, and a new emigrant shed at Whitewood, for the accommodation of settlers, till such time as they can get located. Any information that I can give will be cheerfully given, about the land, or how to get along, as I am one of the first settlers, and know the country for a good distance around.

A. B. POTTER.

SOURIS, 10th December, 1889.

SIR,—I have three sons, and having had experience in Ontario farming have been in a much better position than many as we have all worked together, they having farms adjoining mine and the last two years have been bad seasons; have not had any hired help to pay for. We had 300 acres in crops in 1888, unfortunately half of which would not pay for cutting; the past season we had 350 acres, all of which was cut and harvested by our own strength. Of course the crop was light, the wheat averaging from 10 to 12 bushels per acre, and oats 18 or 19 bushels. Hay with us has been very scarce, having bought nearly 30 tons. This is the first season we have had to do so.

I may state, two of my sons took up half sections; the youngest not being quite old enough at the time, but had a chance when he came of age; but the officials treated him very badly in the matter and he did not get it. However, he bought a half section adjoining his brother off the Hudson's Bay Company, so we all have land, and by working, as I have stated, we have had fair success. You know money is not made very fast at farming, and we have been handicapped in being so far from the railroad. However, this is changed now, as we have the road made through one of my son's land.

I am writing a long letter—not thinking you will care to publish it—but if you care to use my name I can state truthfully I am satisfied the steps I took when I settled here, nearly nine years since, were the best I could take, and I would not go back to Ontario or to England unless something very enticing indeed was offered me. Indeed I am positive this is the best country for a farmer.

I was going to state in the first part of my letter that these glowing accounts have done injury in making the immigrants dissatisfied, as they have not found this country a bed of roses, and not being accustomed to the mode of farming, and in very many cases not to work, they have not been so successful as many of those advertising letters would justify them in thinking they would be.

W. WERIMAN.

ALAMEDA, ASSINIBOIA, December, 1889.

SIR,—I am, so to speak, an old settler, having come here to Township 2, Range 5, southern Manitoba, in May, 1877. I purchased a team (oxen), two cows with their calves (heifers), the cows being again with calf, which left me in two years with four cows.

The first year I broke ten acres and put up a small house and stable, and raised 50 bushels of potatoes; my wife realising from the sale of butter $30, and had yet enough of that article to do us and our children (2) during the winter. I purchased some pork, and with what game I could shoot we managed to see the next spring all in good health and full of hope and ambition.

I sowed with wheat the ten acres I had prepared, with five acres of oats on the lea which proved very good, but I cannot recommend sowing on lea except in cases of the like where the settlers cannot afford to have the land previously prepared. I had the cutting of my grain paid for in work with a neighbour, also the cutting of my hay, for I had not the means to buy a mower, as the machinery was then very dear and I did not like running in debt for such articles. I started with a capital of $400 and in five years I was the owner of 160 acres real estate, $200 in cash, six or eight good hogs, about thirty-two head of cattle, any number of barn-yard fowl, six or seven hundred weight of butter, plenty of garden vegetables, and two more young farmers; and some, in fact the majority have done better than me. I sold my farm, and I decided to take up another farm at the Souris coal fields, so here I am on a good farm once more, in no debt, seven of a family and my wife.

Timber is very scarce, but enough can be procured, or at least has been so far, to accommodate the new settler for the erection of out and office buildings.

Coal can be had at the Souris coal fields where it abounds in almost unlimited quantities. The settler can either dig it out of the river bank where it is exposed, or he can have it at the rate of $1 to $1.50 per ton out of the mine, which I started a few years ago by myself on my own farm. It is inferior to the Scotch or English hard coal, but makes a good hot fire and burns bright and pleasant, and lasts about four times as long as Irish peat.

The Dominion Land Office for this District is at Cannington Manor, and farmers can make entries either by agent or in person. If by agent they must first have permission to do so from the Dominion Land Commissioner, Winnipeg.

The same Union Jack flies from the mast-head as in "Merry England," "Scotia Dear," or the "Emerald Isle," and there are people here of the same blood and race as there are at home, and you can make friends here just as true as steel, hearts of oak, just as well as at home; and this much I will say for myself, that I will be glad to see new faces come to live beside me and do all I can towards locating them and otherwise make them feel at home.

In conclusion, I would say that for the industrious settler with £100 or more, the more the better, that has not a good home and comparatively independent, I would say, come and make a home here. Patriotism is very good, but to come to the fine point, a happy home with complete independence is, or ought to be, the summit of ambition. There are plenty of good farms, just close here, can be got free for $10, and close to the great Souris coal fields.

H. HASSARD.

WEMYSS HALL FARM,

MIAMI, MANITOBA, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—My brother in Morden, and M. Honeyman of the same place, advised me to come out here and take up land; also said they had a number of farms before them for sale. I acted on their advice, and left Scotland last March, and arrived in Morden the 30th of that month; immediately on my arrival I went and saw the farm I now occupy, and at once purchased it at $8 per acre, (320 acres with house and buildings included) and although late in the season I managed to grow a fair crop, and have had about 1,000 bushels of wheat, 400 bushels of oats, some barley, potatoes &c. Next year I will have about double the quantity in crop. Have now two pair of horses and one pair of oxen. Since I came here a railway has been made and opened for traffic and a rising town springing up (Miami), two churches, one grain elevator, one hotel and stores of all kinds erected, so I am favourably located for every kind of merchandize, and a good market for my grain, and only three miles distant. Every convenience the same as in Scotland. We are much ahead of the old country in farm implements of all kinds; we can plough two acres a day with the single plough, and with the double furrowed plough fully four acres a day. April is the month for putting in the seed and August the harvest month, so we have plenty of time for ploughing in the fall before the frost sets in severe. I only wish that I had come to this country years ago, and can truly say no Scotch farmer will ever regret coming here, for with from £300 to £500 of capital they are their own landlords, and the taxes are a mere trifle; the soil is above the average of Scotland; for wheat-raising it far exceeds. I could say much more, but presume this will be enough

D. B. PENNYCOOK.

I trust the foregoing will be found satisfactory, and hope another year, with improved facilities, to be able to make a better showing.

Appended herewith is Mr. Ohlen's report on Scandinavian immigration, and Mr. Tétu's report on repatriation.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

T. BENNETT,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

REPORT ON SCANDINAVIAN IMMIGRATION.

WINNIPEG, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I beg leave to submit to you some information regarding the Scandinavian immigration and colonisation during the year 1889.

Please find attached statements A, regarding number of immigrants; B, by what route or line they arrived; C, general destination of immigrants and recapitulation.

The colonies have not made such progress during the year as was expected, owing to, in the first place, the severe drought in the summer which was the means of keeping a good many from settling.

The Scandinavian Colony in Winnipeg is largely increasing and is making good progress.

Work has been plentiful all summer and fall for all who required it.

The Scandinavian road-masters on the Canadian Pacific Railway, Messrs. C. P. Panzer and O. Johnson, have a large number of Scandinavians under their employ.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

EMANUEL OHLEN.

REPORT ON REPATRIATION.

WINNIPEG, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my annual report for the past year, which, under the circumstances, cannot be as fully detailed as my previous reports.

As you are aware, I was removed in May last from the Emerson Agency to Winnipeg, to take charge there of French immigration.

Acting under instructions, I arrived here in the early part of May, and, for reasons reported to the Department at the time, I was prevented from taking any active part in my duties until the middle of June, when I found the tide of immigration had already set in.

From circumstances, beyond my control, I regret that I am not in a position to furnish you with the usual data of French immigration, the difficulty of obtaining correct statistics, arising from the fact that none of this class of immigrants occupied the immigration building, and, generally, on their arrival, were met by friends who took them in charge to their destination; also that the immigrants who were booked through to western points did not generally leave the cars on account of the short time at their disposal.

I would remark that, in nearly all cases, those who remained here purchased or rented improved farms in the older settlements, and from the fact that no assistance was asked for, it is satisfactory to be able to report that they were in good circumstances and of a superior class, well supplied with agricultural implements and stock, which they brought with them in most instances.

Since the opening of the Northern Pacific and Manitoba Railway no attempt has been made to check the arrivals or departures viâ the United States, as formerly done by me at the boundary line.

I am glad to state that during the past season a fair number of French and Belgian immigrants arrived in the country, some of them with considerable wealth, and I am now in correspondence with persons of standing and influence interested in our immigration, who are looking for the investment of capital. A considerable number of immigrants from these countries may be expected next season.

As I presume the agency report will supply all the necessary details, I have nothing further to add regarding my branch.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

J. E. TÊTU,

Assistant Immigration Agent.

ANNUAL REPORT OF BRANDON IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. A. J. BAKER.)

DOMINION GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
BRANDON, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of the operations at this agency for the year ending 31st December, 1889:—

On authority from the Secretary of your Department I proceeded to and took charge of this agency in the first week of April last, and, therefore, only managed the same for the last nine months. My predecessor, Mr. Thomas Bennett, now agent at Winnipeg, was the agent for the first three months of the year.

The immigration to this District, (so far as I could ascertain), for the present year, was much larger than for previous years.

In giving you statement as below of immigrants arriving at this agency, I can only give you the number accommodated in immigration buildings. But a much larger number arrived here of the more wealthy class who received advice and assistance in their location and settlement from the officials stationed here.

The principal portion of those accommodated in the building was of the labouring class, and with the exception of some three or more of young lads not inclined to work had no difficulty in obtaining employment at fair and remunerative wages.

The farming class, who were desirous of homesteading or purchasing lands in this district, were many, and generally had their dealings with land office or real estate agents in this city, but in some cases received assistance and advice from this agency.

Besides the number accommodated in the buildings at this agency—being principally from Europe—there were some thousands of young men from Ontario influenced by agents of this Province to come to the North-West, which had a tendency to reduce wages for a time in the earlier part of the season.

A number of persons from Great Britain and other foreign countries visited this district during the past year, and expressions from them gave assurance of a larger number emigrating to this district and country during the coming season than formerly. Also a large number of excursionists from Ontario and other Eastern Provinces visited Manitoba and North-West Territories during the past summer, and indications freely announced by them lead me to believe that a large number of the farming class will purchase or otherwise settle in this district during the ensuing year.

There is a great enquiry for female help, and the want of such is much felt by all classes of the community. Could not an arrangement be made with parties in Europe, (particularly with some of the immigration societies), to send out certain numbers ticketed through to the agent here as might or would be required.

The crop of wheat for this year has yielded per acre about the same as last year, but not nearly the average per acre of former years, occasioned by a continuous drought throughout the growing season. Oats, barley and other cereals are also a small average considering that of former years.

There has been a large increase of stock, horses and cattle, and a few enterprising farmers have imported some very fine thoroughbred stock from the Old Country and Eastern Provinces. The stock of sheep has been largely increased by many farmers, and seemingly well adapted to the country and very profitable.

The city of Brandon has very much improved during the past year of 1899, as by a statement made there have been over two hundred and thirty-eight thousand dollars expended in the erection of buildings alone, besides many other improvements. The Northern Pacific, Canadian Pacific Railway, Souris Branch, and the Great North-West Central Railroads, are all now about in running order from the city, whereby it is expected that a great increase in business will take place, in consequence of the opinion that the city will become a railroad centre for the Province. It is also expected that about four hundred thousand dollars or more will be expended during the next year, 1890, in the erection of buildings and otherwise improving the city.

By enquiry I am informed that, notwithstanding last season being very dry, a large increase of land has been cultivated and put in readiness for next season's crop.

With the exception of two deaths occurring, of Icelandic children, the health of the immigrants in general was good.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

A. J. BAKER,

Dominion Immigrant Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture,

ANNUAL REPORT OF MOOSE JAW IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. R. L. ALEXANDER.)

MOOSE JAW, 31st December, 1890.

SIR,—I have the honour to present you with my annual report for 1889.

The good crops of 1887–88–89 in this district have been the means of correcting a hitherto erroneous idea, viz., that no crops can be grown here; that has been circulated, not only in the older Provinces, but also in Manitoba, which has been detrimental to the interests of this district.

The Board of Trade of the town of Moose Jaw, aided by the Town Council and for the Agricultural Society, issued a pamphlet showing the advantages of the district for intending settlers, and the success of those already settled here. These pamphlets backed up by certificates printed therein, of some of those who have been farming here during the past five or six years, together with the publication of a weekly newspaper, "The Times," in the town of Moose Jaw, have had the desired effect of disabusing the minds of the people in the east of the false reports regarding this part of the North-West. In consequence of these publications and the cheap excursion rates given by the Canadian Pacific Railway large numbers of farmers and others from Ontario and the more easterly Provinces came here, stopped off, examined the district, and saw for themselves the many superior advantages offered, and were thoroughly convinced that this was one of the best parts to locate.

The increase of settlers at this agency far exceeds any year since 1883; the greater number of whom came from Ontario, and are all first-class settlers, all possessed of considerable means, some having purchased lands but the greater number have homesteaded. During this year there have been 143 entries made for homesteads and pre-emptions, (this does not include some 20 or more who have made a Second Entry). The majority of those making entries have remained and are busy cultivating and preparing for crop next year, the others have returned to arrive in the coming spring bringing their families and effects with them.

During the month of March there arrived at this station nineteen car loads of settlers effects, valued at $40,600 and in April there were nine car loads, valued at $17,500. There were 97 settlers arrived in March and 87 in April, only eight of those came from the United States.

It will be seen that the value of those car loads of settlers effects is pretty large, but the majority of them had not what is generally known as settlers effects, but contained very valuable animals, both horses and cattle, many of them thorough-breds, and some imported stock. The farmers have realized that greater profits are to be had from mixed farming than by grain growing only.

Acting under instructions from you I left here in the beginning of May last and went to Winnipeg to aid in the immigration department there. Consequently, during my stay there, which was during the months of May, June, July, August and September, I was unable to correctly keep a record of settlers and their effects. I returned to this point on the 9th October and was agreeably surprised to learn of the large number and well-to-do settlers that had arrived during that period.

Encouraged by the good wheat crop of last year, and the high price received for it, there was a very large acreage of wheat sown, and a large quantity of good wheat has been grown in the district.

The root crop was not so good as last year, potatoes are scarce, not attributable so much to a crop below the average as to the fact that in 1888 potatoes were plentiful and prices low, there were only a very small acreage planted, whereas, wheat was a good crop and prices high. There is not so much attention given to the raising of roots as to cereals, especially wheat, which is sure to bring good figures and can always be sold for cash. This place is acknowledged to be one of the best wheat markets in the Territories.

The early spring allows of early sowing and, consequently, an early harvest; so that while in other parts wheat has suffered from frost, this district has entirely escaped for many years. Wheat was harvested here on the 29th of July this year. Last winter was so mild that horses and cattle in most instances fed almost entirely upon the prairie.

The Moose Jaw Board of Trade applied for and have obtained a charter for a line of railway to run from this point in a north-westerly direction to Prince Albert and Battleford, and are hopeful that the line will be constructed before many years.

This road, if built, would open up some of the very best land for mixed farming, but more particularly cattle-raising.

In my report last year I referred to sheep raising as an industry that was being gone into, and I am glad to be able to report that, where tried, it has been a decided success so far, and others encouraged by the success of those engaged therein, are going into sheep-raising, and as many parts of this district are well adapted to sheep-farming I firmly believe that soon this will be a large sheep locality.

One man who had a flock of 1,000 sheep in the fall of last year only had to feed them once upon hay during last winter. He has now 2,000 and over, the product of the 1,000. They feed upon the prairie grass the whole winter.

The cheese industry referred to in my last year's report, has proved so far a success, the quality of cheese made being excellent.

Never before have I had so many enquiries both from the United States and the eastern Provinces after homesteads and pre-emption lands. Not only by letter but by many of those who have settled here with a view of making entries for their friends in the east so as to have places ready for them on their arrival. I know personally of four families who are coming here from Cass City, Mich., U.S., one of their number having come here during the past summer and made entries for them all.

In my report of 1887 I suggested the need of some buildings at this point into which immigrants and settlers upon their arrival here could put their effects, even if no living room was provided therein.

Considering the large number of settlers that came here during last spring and summer, and the almost certainty of a larger next season, I would humbly suggest, nay urge, the great necessity of some kind of buildings into which newcomers could store their effects, particularly baggage and small articles of household goods, until such time as these newcomers should be able to locate and remove their effects thereto. I feel that this is a real necessity here, and trust the Department will make some provision of this kind to be used by the new arrivals in the spring.

It is with much satisfaction that I am able to report the contented and satisfied condition of the settlers in general, caused largely by two things, viz., the good crops of the past three years and the influx of new settlers, the latter causing the settlers to be in much closer proximity and thereby being enabled to organize school districts, erect school houses and employ teachers, so that their children are being educated. During the past summer several new districts have been formed and very commodious school houses built; and there are now, in addition to these already organized, six new ones under contemplation. In the town of Moose Jaw a new brick school house has been erected at a cost of $7,000, which is a very fine structure and would do credit to many towns in the east.

Throughout the settlements, too, preaching stations have been established, so that in religious services as well as in educational matters the settlers are fairly well supplied.

Marked prosperity is to be seen on every hand among the settlers. New, commodious and comfortable dwelling houses have been and are being erected all over the prairie, causing the disappearance of the original rude "Shack" or "Dug Out."

Herds of fine cattle and bands of horses are to be seen dotting the prairies in every direction, which, seen in the distance, remind one of the bands of buffalo that not many years ago roamed where now those domestic animals hold sway.

Statements of few farmers and settlers of this district as given by them over their signatures speak for themselves as to the character of the soil, its agricultural and grazing resources.

ANNUAL REPORT OF REGINA IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. J. T. STEMSHORN.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
REGINA, N.W.T., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

Owing to the abundant harvest of 1888 a larger number of settlers arrived during the last twelve months, than in the three previous years.

My monthly returns show that the largest number of settlers come from Ontario—total souls, 292. They have settled in this district, are doing well, and are well satisfied with the country and prospects before them.

The next largest number of arrivals—total souls, 90—are Germans. A number of these came almost penniless, and were assisted by the C. P. R. Land Commissioner from Winnipeg here, by granting them free transportation. It is a pleasing fact that not one of them to-day is without a house and home of their own. A number have already purchased ocean tickets for friends left at home. To say that these people are satisfied with the country is expressing myself mildly, indeed.

There also arrived 56 English, 28 Scotch, 9 Irish and 5 Swedes. They also are doing well, and are well satisfied with the country.

Total number of souls arrived at the Regina agency, 480.

Total amount of effects and cash brought in the country, $94,700.

The general health of the new arrivals has been very good. There has been but one death, that of a little girl four years of age.

The prospects for the coming year were never better, owing no doubt to the new railroad running north. I have answered a large number of communications within the last few months from intending settlers. Fifteen families are now preparing to come, 1st April, from Grand Travis, County Michigan, U.S.A.

In addition to the above sum I may say that about $20,000 worth of farm horses were brought into this district from Ontario, and all sold to farmers here.

In closing this report I beg leave to draw attention to the assistance so readily granted at all times by the C. P. R. Land Commissioner and the C. P. R. officials in general.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN T. STEMSHORN.

ANNUAL REPORT OF CALGARY IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. L. Z. C. MIQUELON.)

IMMIGRATION AGENCY,

CALGARY, N.W.T., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—As you will see from my annual table of returns of immigrants for the year ending this day, the number of those who entered at this agency to settle was 727, being an increase of 283 over the year 1888.

During the past year the Canadian Pacific Railway Company having run three different excursions for the benefit of the eastern farmers, a large number from Ontario and the eastern Provinces availed themselves of the opportunity, and about one-fourth of these visitors made homestead entries before returning on the excursions and are expected back with their families next spring. The same company having moreover granted a great reduction in the passage money to 40 Mennonites of Manitoba and Dakota, they have during the past fall visited the portion of Alberta lying to the south-east of Calgary. Twenty of them made homestead entries before returning, and from their answers to my questions as to the probable number of Mennonites who are likely to settle next summer, I have been able to estimate that there will be about one hundred heads of families, or about three hundred and fifty souls.

Immigration from Great Britain during the coming season promises to be as good as in past years.

I regret to say that this year's crop has not been as good as in 1888, owing to the great drought which prevailed all through the North-West. Wheat has only produced an average of 20 bushels per acre, barley 35 bushels, oats 40 bushels, and potatoes 175 bushels. Last year many farmers took in double these quantities.

The first autumn frosts took place on 3rd September, when all that had been sown in proper and reasonable season was ripe.

The large numbers of horses, cattle and sheep covering the rich pastures of Alberta have brought very large profits to the owners, and I estimate there is an increase of 25 per cent. in the total number of the herds and flocks.

The town of Calgary has increased very rapidly, and the value of the buildings erected during the year exceeds $250,000, most of these buildings being constructed of stone from the inexhaustible quarries in the immediate neighbourhood.

Two companies supply the lighting of the town by electricity, and a company has obtained a charter for building a street railway.

It is already an important centre, at which the surrounding settlers may depend upon a good market for their commodities; and with the energetic men at the head of municipal affairs, the resident capitalists and its central position, it must soon become a flourishing city.

The coal mines of Canmore, 67 miles to the west, seem to have gained increased vigour, a new company having been formed, which will commence operations in spring and employ a large number of hands.

The whole respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

L. Z. C. MIQUELON.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VANCOUVER, B. C., IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. M. SUTHERLAND.)

GOVERNMENT IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
VANCOUVER, B. C., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I hereby have the honour to submit to you my annual report for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

For the first four months of the year my work lay at the Medicine Hat agency, and I am glad to say that the immigrants who arrived there during that time, belonged to a very superior class. In April the first contingent of German settlers, numbering 139 souls, came by special train from Winnipeg to locate in a colony situated in Townships 8, 9, 10, Ranges 2 and 3, west of the 4th Meridian, and 13 miles to the south-east of Medicine Hat, which was selected for them by the delegates to whom I referred in my last annual report. This colony, I am reliably informed, now numbers about 630 souls, and is likely to have a large addition to its population during the coming year, as those who are already settled feel quite certain of success, and show their confidence in the place by building churches, schools and a post office.

The total number of immigrants who arrived at the Medicine Hat agency during the four months was 690, belonging to the following nationalities:—

Canadians.....	124
English	163
Scotch	68
Irish	56
United States.....	56
Germans.....	169
Scandinavians.....	34
Belgians.....	20

According to your instructions, I left Medicine Hat on the 30th April and arrived at Vancouver, B. C., on the 2nd May, after a highly interesting journey through the Rocky Mountains, whose wild beauty and noble grandeur I shall not here attempt to describe. The only thing which I regretted, from an immigration point of view, was the circumstance that the route of that great enterprise, the Canadian Pacific Railway, does not pass through the most fertile part of British Columbia, and therefore easily leads to the impression that the country is nearly all barren rock, certainly picturesque, but unfit for agricultural purposes—an utterly erroneous idea, which I shall refer to more closely later on.

On my arrival at Vancouver I at once secured an office in a very convenient position near the Canadian Pacific Railway depot, and set to work. I visited the in-coming steamers and trains daily, and was much struck with the enormous influx of immigrants, partly destined for British Columbia or other parts of Canada, partly proceeding further south to the western territories of the United States. The number of the former is shown in my monthly reports (see annexed tabular statement). Of the latter I have not been able to keep track, but I may state that about 75 per cent. of those arriving here from the United States via the Canadian Pacific Railway are merely through passengers destined for the United States on the Pacific coast, who avail themselves of the cheapness and comfort of the Canadian route. It would be very unreasonable to expect that the Canadian Provinces should get more than a small percentage of this class of settlers; still, the fact of their passing through cannot be overestimated as a means of advertising the country. I have had conversations with a great many of them, and I am sure that not a few would have liked to have made British Columbia their home, had they but previously known the advantages that this Province offers.

I may add that most of the foreign immigrants travelling through, among whom the German and Scandinavian element was strongly represented, were wholly ignorant of the resources of British Columbia, owing to the absence of any immigration literature regarding the country in their languages and to the non-existence as yet of colonies of their co-patriots. I would therefore urge the preparation and distribution of pamphlets describing in various languages the advantages of British Columbia as a field for settlers. Such pamphlets have procured for Manitoba and the North-West some of its best and most hard-working inhabitants. I have no doubt that British Columbia, too, will attract a great many, as soon as descriptions of its glorious climate and many resources are well disseminated abroad; and I need not point out the importance of introducing bona fide settlers into a comparatively newly opened district.

The climate of British Columbia I have found very healthy as well as favourable to outdoor work, being extremely mild all the year round, and only during short, very rainy periods of the winter, work in the open air has to be suspended.

As regards the industries of British Columbia, I beg to lay before you the following facts: farming in British Columbia is in a thriving condition, but not as yet sufficiently advanced to feed the present population, wherefore much of the flour used in the Province is imported from Manitoba and Oregon. There is, however, no reason why British Columbia should not be able to supply its own wants, nay—with increased capital and a better class of farmers coming in, the day cannot be distant when we may hope to get a fair share, if not the larger portion of the flour trade with China and Japan. British Columbia has not less than 30,000,000 acres of land as well suited for wheat-growing as any in the world, and with proper development of its great resources it should be able to produce from 30,000,000 to 50,000,000 bushels of wheat for export. Owing to its softness, the wheat grown in British Columbia, especially near the coast, is not so suitable for the making of "Hungarian process" flour as that raised in Manitoba; but in the eastern parts of the Province, particularly in the Kootenay, Spillamacheen and Chilcotin districts, wheat is now produced to a limited extent which is equal to the Manitoba wheat for hardness, and by imitating the example of England, where the soft native wheat is improved through mixing it with the hard Manitoban or Russian grain, we, by proper handling and the establishment of really first-class flour mills, will doubtless be able to turn out a class of flour fit for any market.

As regards dairy farming, the Province now produces a fair quality of butter for its own use, but not sufficient as yet for the local consumption. The deficiency is supplied from eastern Canada and Oregon. The prices paid run very high, and this fact should be an encouragement to enter into the production of this article, not only to meet our local demand, but also to supply a large and profitable trade which lies at our door with China and Japan. When we consider that French and Danish tinned butter is shipped largely to those countries, and commands the highest prices, there is no reason why British Columbia should not be able to take up the competition, possessing all the natural conditions for producing a first-class article, and being so much nearer the market. The industry only wants opening up by some practical dairy farmers experienced in the canning business.

Fruit growing in the Province is already well established, and the New Westminster district is surely destined to become a great fruit producing locality—if not the garden of the Dominion. Apples grown in British Columbia have been shipped from Vancouver to Yokohama during the year, and have given so much satisfaction that a flourishing trade in this line may be looked forward to with confidence. A fruit-growers' association has been formed in British Columbia, which will doubtless give valuable assistance to the advancement of this industry, and in a near future we may hope to see it largely developed, on account of the fact that thousands of young fruit trees have been planted within the past two years.

There is abundance of hay all over the Province.

The immense forests of British Columbia make its supply of timber of the finest quality practically inexhaustible. No wonder that before any other industries were started lumbering mills were in full blast in different places. There are at present situated in British Columbia about thirty saw-mills, with an aggregate daily capacity of 200,000 feet, and many hundreds of men find here steady and well paid employment.

The salmon canneries of the Fraser, Columbia, and other rivers in the Province have long been famous throughout the world, and the fish being plentiful, and no wholesale destruction taking place, there is every likelihood of this industry remaining one of the most staple of British Columbia. Large numbers of men are kept busy here during the summer and fall, and with the growing experience the quality of the tinned goods is yearly improving. But besides this industry, other kinds of fishing might become highly remunerative. The fiords and the bays along the coast to the north are very rich in fish, and would probably also afford excellent opportunities for oyster beds, and the deep-sea fishing will no doubt, if well advertised, prove a great attraction for those splendid settlers, the Scotch crofters and Scandinavians, and thereby be a boon to the Province.

As yet mining on the more recent scientific principles by machinery is but in its infancy in British Columbia, though an infant that promises to become a giant of the most imposing proportions. What little, comparatively speaking, has been done in the way of mining, has all tended to show that nearly all minerals, including gold and silver, are to be found in the Province, as well as that inestimable advantage to a country with manufacturing interests—coal—and all in abundance, too, only as yet not easily accessible, owing to the want of good roads into the interior. But it may safely be said that ere long British Columbia will rival California as a mining region. Already now one or two smelters have been erected in the Province, which by chlorination process have succeeded in saving 90 per cent. of gold from refractory ores. Too much encouragement, therefore, cannot be given to the importation of mining machinery.

From what I have said here of the mining resources of British Columbia, it will be seen that all the Province needs is capital and energy. No place in the world promises greater chances for the capitalist, none has a more varied assortment of opportunities for the man who can work and wants to do it. In Vancouver city, for several years to come, all manual labour will probably find a good market, the town growing with almost astonishing rapidity, brick blocks taking the place of the old wooden buildings everywhere, and in the residential part of the city the houses are occupied immediately on completion. Besides, a number of street improvements voted by the city council for the coming year, and extensive works, undertaken by the Canadian Pacific Railway (wharves, buildings, &c.) will give employment to a great many. The manufacturing industry of the town will unquestionably be vastly developed, several large undertakings being already decided upon and soon to be started.

I am glad to say that I found little difficulty, during the year, in placing those who applied to me for work in good positions, with the exception of the book-keeper and clerk class, of which the market here, as in most places, is completely overstocked. As regards female domestics—on the contrary—the demand is greater than the supply, and although the wages offered general servants ($15 to $25 per month with board) would seem to be tempting, even well-to-do families have to be contented with Chinese labour or none at all, on account of the scarcity of white domestics. Large numbers of good girls would be taken right off the train by over-worked housewives.

Besides procuring employment for nearly all those who applied to me, I have registered names and addresses for later reference of allcomers, and have given the immigrants every assistance in my power. In this respect, however, I have been rather handicapped by not having any immigrants' home, as found at most of the Dominion Government immigration agencies. Vancouver being the terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and accordingly the place where most immigrants stay, at least temporarily, a building in which the poorer class may find shelter for a limited time, free of charge, is of the most pressing importance.

I would also respectfully draw your attention to the desirability of the establishment of a quarantine station at this point. The city having now many direct shipping connections, the danger of the importation of contagious diseases, when no proper quarantine system is in force, is very considerable.

In conclusion, I beg to say that I have received and answered during the year a large number of letters of enquiry from all quarters of the world, but especially from the United States, and I have great pleasure in adding that I have now on file several letters from citizens south of the boundary line, stating their intention to leave their present abode next spring and make new homes under the warm sun and delicious atmosphere of British Columbia.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

No. 18.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE VICTORIA, B.C., IMMIGRATION AGENT.

(MR. JOHN JESSOP.)

DOMINION IMMIGRATION OFFICE,
VICTORIA, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith the seventh annual Report from this agency, with statements.

Statement A shows the number of passengers arriving monthly at the port of Victoria, via Puget Sound, for the year. The total of these arrivals is 21,957. Taking the low estimate of 15 per cent. of these as actual additions to the population of British Columbia, we have 3,293 immigrants coming in by way of the Sound and Northern Pacific Railroad. Not one in fifty of these arrivals report at the Immigration Office, as they are largely made up of business men, capitalists and others, with more or less means.

Statement B gives the number of cabin and steerage passengers from San Francisco as 1,784. Twenty per cent. of those may fairly be taken as additions to the population, namely, 357. The total, therefore, via the Sound and San Francisco is 3,650. Taking the increase of population at 12,000, as hereafter approximately estimated, and there is left 8,350 who have reached British Columbia via the Canadian Pacific Railroad, direct to Nanaimo and New Westminster, from the Sound to Vancouver, and from the United States by way of Kootenay and Okanagan.

Statement C shows the number, sex, nationality and occupations of immigrants calling at the Immigration Office monthly. These, it will be observed, form but a small percentage of the actual arrivals at this port.

Data for estimating increase of population is so vague and unsatisfactory in this Province that even approximations are liable to be deceptive. The next Dominion census is fast approaching, however, when the real gains during the decade will be accurately ascertained. In the meantime, increase for 1889 may safely be put down at 12,000 souls. Of this number the city of Vancouver claims 4,000, or one-third. Five eighths of the remainder, or 5,000, may fairly be claimed by Victoria, Nanaimo, Wellington, Union and the rest of Vancouver Island; Victoria alone having increased fully 3,000 during the year. Two thousand five hundred is a small proportion for New Westminster city and district; while it is not at all likely that the remaining 500 will cover new arrivals at Yale, Kootenay and other districts remote from the coast. Probably 1,000 would be an under-estimate for increase in the great interior of the Province.

The tendency of immigration on the Pacific coast is northward, and increasing year by year. California and Oregon are fast filling up; while the collapse of booms in the southern part of the former state has served to intensify the desire to migrate to the new state of Washington and to British Columbia. This Province, being more remote, is only catching a sort of vanguard so far; but the momentum is certain to increase as the neighbouring state fills up westerly and the wonderful and varied resources of British Columbia become more fully known.

Canadians from the Dakotas and Western Territories of the Union are finding their way to the Pacific Province in large numbers. The terrible reverses and untoward events that have transpired in these sections have decided many to move and seek another home under the old flag west of the mountains. From the reports of several of these hardy and stalwart sons and grandsons of Canadian pioneers it is evident that this exodus is but just commencing. At present it is limited by the hope that prospects will mend, and thus enable those who are looking with longing eyes in this direction to save something from the sale of their lands, stock and effects with which to begin anew under more favourable climatic auspices.

Agriculturally, the year has been a very prosperous one. Not only has a larger area of wild land been pre-empted than in former years, but a great change for the better has been brought about by the gradual weeding out of inexperienced or careless settlers by new arrivals possessed of more or less capital in addition to farming knowledge and the disposition to make this industry the business of their lives. More crown grants have been applied for at the Provincial Land Office since date of last report than in any former year, not excepting the one just preceding the taking over of the Island Railway Reserve by the E. & N. R. Company. These grants number more than 500. Applications for purchase have also been much more numerous than formerly. The Government Gazette columns, as well as those of the local press in all parts of the Province, have been teeming with these notices. Area covered by these all through the year has been from 20,000 to more than 80,000 acres. This buying up of large tracts of arable land, however, is not conducive to agricultural settlement, as small occupiers are more or less prevented from locating, to say nothing of the great amount of discouragement thrown in their path by the withdrawal of extensive tracts of desirable land from pre-emption.

The mining outlook in all parts of the Province is decidedly encouraging and activity is correspondingly great. Vast deposits of good paying ore, silver and gold, besides several of the baser metals, notably copper and iron, are known to exist in many parts of Kootenay, Yale, Lillooet and Cariboo districts. In many cases the prospecting era is over, as the value and extent of the ore have been determined, and development is only delayed in some instances till better means of transport or smelting facilities are provided. Nor is this mining revival confined to the interior districts. On the coast of Vancouver Island, mining interests are equally flourishing. Output of coal is greatly increasing in old-established collieries year by year, while new ones are adding an additional quota of thousands of tons daily. Apart from local demand, which is increasing enormously, San Francisco continues to be the principal market. Other mining interests besides coal are also becoming important factors in the general prosperity of both the Island and coast mainland.

Lumbering interests are likewise receiving a great impetus in the right direction. Timber areas are being eagerly sought after, and, when found, quickly secured. New mills of enormous producing power are being erected, or contemplated, in different parts of the Province, while old ones, until recently considered large, are having their cutting capacity greatly increased.

Beyond the fact that the last salmon canning season was the best in the history of the Province, there is little or nothing to report with regard to the opening up of new fishing industries. Cod banks, extensive and prolific as they are believed to be, are still unexplored. Halibut are only taken for home consumption. The skil or black cod, delicious as it is even when deteriorated by salt brine, is yet almost unknown in the markets of the world; while a dozen or more other varieties of valuable food fish in incalculable numbers still roam the sheltered waters of British Columbia unmolested. A few enterprising Scandinavians, however, have established themselves in Queen Charlotte Islands for fishing purposes. Their further operations will be followed with considerable interest.

In connection with the fishing industry, which is bound to assume enormous proportions in the near future, it would be gratifying to report that a contingent of Scotch Crofters would soon take possession of some of the "thousand and one" nooks covered by salt spray on the west coast of Vancouver Island and the mainland. The proverbially slow movement of heavy bodies is well illustrated in the extremely cautious handling of the Crofter question by the Imperial Government. The commissioner may come and go, which he has done twice over; but negotiations seem likely to go on indefinitely. In the meantime British Columbia fisheries remain more or less undeveloped, and Crofter families struggle on in the effort to secure a bare subsistence amid the difficulties by which they are surrounded on the west coast of Scotland.

The illimitable possibilities of the southern belt of British Columbia for at least 150 miles north of the boundary line for fruit raising cannot be too widely known. Much has been accomplished in this direction during the year, in planting orchards and preparing land for that purpose in different parts of the Province, particularly in New Westminster district; but this has been chiefly done on pre-emption and homestead claims. A number of industrious men acquainted, more or less, with fruit culture, market gardening and poultry raising, having from $1,000 and upwards, might, with their families, secure a good living with a prospective competency in this line of business by purchasing a few acres of land within easy reach of any of our cities and going energetically to work thereon.

The labour market has been highly satisfactory for the greater part of the year. From midsummer to December every man able and willing to work had the opportunity of doing so. General labourers were in demand during the autumn months on sewerage works, park improvements, electric tramway construction, &c., &c., in Victoria. In this respect workmen in Vancouver, New Westminster, the Union colliery and other places were equally as well off. Building operations have been more extensively carried on in all the cities of British Columbia during the year just expiring than in any former one in its history. Hence mechanics in all branches of building have had an excellent season. Skilled labour in other lines, notably iron workers of all sorts, have had all the work they could do. Demand for farm labour is not a very important factor in the market, yet from early spring to late autumn this kind of work could be had by parties anxious to obtain it. The outlook for 1890 is exceedingly favourable. Good, steady mechanics, unless they should come in very large numbers, will be certain of employment as soon as building operations can be commenced in the spring. In this city several large and costly churches and business blocks, together with a great number of smaller buildings and residences will be proceeded with immediately. In other cities the prospects are equally good.

Domestic female servants are in greater demand than ever on account of the rapid increase of population in British Columbia cities; while the supply is comparatively nil. The uncertainty and unreliability of female domestic help is one of the greatest drawbacks in housekeeping in this Province; and oblige people to employ Chinese cooks and servants, not as a matter of expediency but necessity. Could some means be devised to bring out a hundred or more of the overworked and underpaid respectable girls from the old country every year, both employers and employés would be mutually benefitted.

Belgian coal miners are doing reasonably well. The best proof that they are contented with their prospects, is that on the recommendation of those already in the collieries, many of their friends and relations are constantly arriving. Coming in small parties these miners, if steady, industrious and experienced, will find no difficulty in obtaining work in the Union colliery all through the incoming year.

As one, among the many evidences of the growth and prosperity of this city, it may be mentioned that for the greater part of the year the influx of population has been so far in excess of residence building, that houses have been and are very difficult to obtain. Probably more than 500 new ones have been erected during the twelve months in the city limits or within easy walking reach of its business centres. The present winter months show an increase rather than a diminution of these building operations, arising from the fact that summer and autumn contracts for more pretentious edifices are nearly all completed. In this connection it may be mentioned that the want of increased hotel accommodation is keenly felt by travellers and tourists. It is no exaggeration to affirm that hundreds of summer and autumn tourists have thus been prevented extending their trips through to this city. The fact is fast becoming known through almost all Anglo-speaking countries that unless accommodation has been secured ahead of arrival, the chances are it will be difficult or impossible to obtain. A proposed seven-storied extension of the well-known "Driard" in early spring will partially supply this hotel demand; but the erection of a mammoth summer resort is an imperative necessity. The preliminary steps, however, have been taken to form a syndicate for this purpose; which project, it is to be hoped, will be successfully carried out in the near future. The above remarks are applicable also to New Westminster city, whose growth during the year has only been limited by houses not being erected fast enough to accommodate those who wanted them. Vancouver's advancement has been quite as phenomenal in 1889 as it was in 1888.

The Immigrant Home is still doing good service, and is kept in excellent order by the caretakers, Mr. and Mrs. Clarke. Admissions show a falling off in number, as compared with former years; yet at no time has it been entirely clear of inmates. Admissions were 91 in all; made up of 46 males, 18 females, mostly mothers of families, and 27 children. Of the 91 males, 38 were single men, 13 had their wives and families with them, and about 40 had families elsewhere to follow when a home could be made for them. Many of these broken-up families have become reunited and are doing well in different parts of the Province. Their occupations were pretty equally divided between parties seeking land, and mechanics and labourers. The stay of the latter classes was not as prolonged as in former years, from the fact that both skilled and unskilled labour was easily obtained. In this connection it may be mentioned that the value of the Immigrant Home property has greatly increased during the past two years; and in view of new docks being built for the accommodation of China and Japan steamships, directly opposite, and the establishment of a proposed sugar refinery close by, it is likely to become very valuable in the near future.

Office calls for the year numbered 561, made up of various nationalities; and still more varied as to information required and advice asked for.

Letters received and answered amounted to 740—the same mail occasionally bringing letters in English, French, German and Swedish. The office is again under obligations to Mr. Alfred Magnesen, bookkeeper and accountant for the wholesale grocery and commission house of Mr. Thos. Earle, M.P. for numerous translations of Swedish and German letters.

Nearly a thousand parcels of printed matter have also been forwarded to different European, Asiatic, American and South African countries. For this printed matter the office is entirely indebted to the Provincial Government. Early in the year 3,000 copies of an excellent ad interim hand-book, made up of the British Columbia matter in the "Memorial Volume" published by Mr. E. B. Biggar, of Montreal, were supplied. A few of these are yet in stock. By far the most comprehensive, useful and interesting publication yet received here, but too large and expensive for general distribution, was furnished in February last. This is the "New West," published by the "Canadian Historical Publishing Company, Winnipeg." It describes the country from Port Arthur through to the Pacific coast; fully one-third being devoted to the mountains and British Columbia. Illustrations and letter-press are equally good and attractive. This publication has done good service for this Province and the whole intervening stretch of country through to Lake Superior. The few remaining copies are carefully reserved for special enquirers and desirable future residents on the Pacific coast. Nearly 2,000 copies of another British Columbia issue of "West Shore" were also purchased by the Local Government for distribution from this office. This American publication is an old-established one on the Pacific coast, and is now issued simultaneously in Portland, Oregon, and Spokane Falls, Washington, as an illustrated weekly. The number in question is made up of the May and June issues, the former of which was largely devoted to Vancouver and the mainland, and the latter to Victoria and Vancouver Island, the two combined forming an excellent and profusely illustrated British Columbia pamphlet. These are also good stock, and are taken care of accordingly. A constant supply of maps and land laws are also obtained from the same source.

Scandinavian and German applications for information about the Province are as numerous as ever, and as usual all the former are unpaid and therefore cost double postage here. Nearly all these ask for a hand-book and printed matter in their own language, invariably so with Swedes and Norwegians. The need of a revised hand-book, particularly in Swedish, is therefore apparent. If it be a fact that British Columbia has been sufficiently advertised, yet another edition of the old hand-book in English and Swedish at least, is indispensably necessary, in order to give people seeking information something more than can be compressed into a page or two of foolscap or note paper. The "thousand and one" questions about climate, resources, schools, &c., &c., cannot be all satisfactorily answered in writing. A few lines, however, and a copy of "Information for Intending Settlers," will always answer so far as English-speaking people are concerned; while in the case of the Scandinavian, this hand-book in his own language, would be most gratifying and useful. A considerable annual expenditure for postage, incurred in sending descriptive pamphlets in English, may be saved in this office were such a hand-book issued; to say nothing of the probable loss of desirable immigrants, by these people not being able to make any use of the printed matter forwarded. The fact that from 150 to 200 applications for information about the Province, have been coming in annually from Sweden alone for years past, with scarcely any arrivals resulting therefrom, can only be accounted for on the supposition that these correspondents are still in ignorance as to the peculiar advantages and inducements the Pacific coast has to offer the hardy agriculturists and fishermen of Scandinavia. A partial remedy for this difficulty might possibly be found by putting all replies to correspondents into Swedish; but this would entail an expenditure that would in a short time go very far towards bringing out a hand-book in that language.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN JESSOP,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

No. 19.

REPORT ON ICELANDIC IMMIGRATION.

(MR. B. L. BALDWINSON.)

WINNIPEG, 31 December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to present herewith my annual report on Icelandic immigration into the Province of Manitoba and parts of the Canadian North-West, for the year ending the 31st December, 1889.

There have arrived in this Province during the past summer 680 Icelandic immigrants, consisting of 100 families, besides 160 single men and women between the ages of 16 and 40 years.

About three-fourths of these people came out by the Allan Line, while the remaining portion took passage by the Dominion Line whose managers have now established emigration agencies in various parts of Iceland with a view of securing a portion of the immigrant carrying trade to this country. All the immigrants came via Quebec as follow:—

In May.....	9
June.....	4
July.....	611
August.....	10
September.....	10
November.....	36
Total.....	680

The vast majority of these immigrants were of the agricultural class. There were, however, some mechanics and artizans amongst them, besides a goodly number of female domestic servants. All the immigrants arrived here in a healthy condition, but measles having broken out amongst some of them after arrival here caused some delay in their location and settlement.

The cash resources of the immigrants averaged, as nearly as I could ascertain, seven to eight dollars per head, while their bedding, household effects &c., amounted to about 50 dollars per family.

The total resources, therefore, brought in by these people may fairly be rated at $10,000.

The distribution of the immigrants from the Winnipeg agency was, in round numbers, approximately as follows:—

To the Gimli settlement (Lake Winnipeg).....	200
“ Argyle “ (Cypress).....	60
“ Thingvalla “ (Churchbridge).....	50
“ Clarkleigh “ (Municipality of Posen).....	25
“ Brandon.....	40
“ West Selkirk.....	10
“ Rat Portage.....	5
“ Carberry.....	5
“ Winnipeg.....	100
“ Situations.....	50
“ North Dakota.....	135
Total.....	680

Of those who went to Dakota, I may explain that some went to work there for this season only, and have already returned to and settled in Manitoba, while others have settled with their friends, who, in many cases, had sent remittances to Iceland, to assist in their emigration.

I calculate that 100 of those who came out during the present season will remain in Dakota for the present.

To offset this loss of the number of arrivals as above stated, I beg to inform you that about 13 families, besides some single men and women, consisting altogether of about 70 persons, have this year moved in from North Dakota where they had previously been settled. These people brought in considerable amount of cash, while they also brought with them carloads of live stock and household effects with which to begin farming in this country. The majority of these very valuable settlers located in the Territory of Alberta; the remaining portion settled in Manitoba.

From the above it will be seen that the actual number of Icelandic immigrants who have settled in this Province and the Canadian North-West during the present year is 650 souls.

It will be observed that this is a much smaller number than that of last year, 1888, when 1,100 people arrived here. Yet this year's returns may be considered highly satisfactory seeing that no active work has been done in Iceland during the present year, and that no special inducements have been held out by the Government for the immigration of these people or their settlement here. My object has been, as per instructions from your agent here, Mr. Thomas Bennett, to send as many families of the new arrivals out into the different Icelandic colonies as the means at my disposal would permit.

The wisdom of this plan has been heartily endorsed by the chief officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway here, to whom my immigrants are greatly indebted for their prompt and generous assistance in granting absolutely free transportation by their railway for all those who had no means to reach their friends in the settlements, and whose location and settlement would otherwise have been both difficult and expensive.

I may state also that the whole of this year's Icelandic immigrants have been most enthusiastically received on their arrival by their friends and co-patriots in this city, and have been well cared for during their short stay here.

There has been no lack of employment for all whose circumstances necessitated their hiring out. Farm labourers received on arrival, $15 per month; day labourers received from $1.25 to $1.75 per day; and many of these have had steady employment up to the beginning of the present month; while female domestics are always in good demand, $5 to $7 being the average monthly wages for new arrivals, who came here without any knowledge of the English language or the methods of working here. After three or four months' service in this country, however, when they have obtained some knowledge of the language and get accustomed to the work, $10 to $12 per month is easily obtainable.

I have received a number of written and verbal testimonies from this year's arrivals: Their good opinion of this country and strong hope in their future prosperity has been expressed without a dissenting voice.

Some who came out during the past summer have already sent remittances to their relatives and friends in the mother-country to assist in their emigration to Canada during the coming year. This alone is sufficient to show the improved condition of the industrious and frugal immigrants who come to this country. It acts as an incentive to further immigration, and is, in my opinion, the best payment that the Government can expect or wish for, in return for the comparatively small expenditure incurred in their immigration and settlement here.

I regret my inability to give any authentic account of the colonization of Icelanders in Canada. To do this properly it is necessary to visit and travel through the settlements during the summer and fall of the year. I may state, however, in a general way that reports from the Icelandic settlements, of which there are six in the Canadian North-West, show an increased prosperity as they advance in age and increase in membership. Each passing year adds to the contentment and stability of these people here. Out of the 8,600 Icelanders that are now in Canada about 5,000 are in the different settlements, engaged in farming, fishing and stock-raising. They have their own schools and teachers, their churches, and ministers of their own nationality. They take their proportionate share in the management of the different municipalities in which they are settled, and are gradually assimilating with the people of this country in all social life.

Those who reside in the various cities and towns are making fair progress. They are characterized as being thoroughly reliable, economical and hard working people, and are considered by the fairest judges to constitute an important element of the population of this Province.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

B. L. BALDWINSON,

Icelandic Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture,

REPORT OF SPECIAL AGENT, PRESCOTT.

(MR. A. S. GERALD.)

PRESCOTT, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the Annual Report of my proceedings at this port, respecting immigrants arriving here both by railway and by boat, the majority of the latter entering Canada from Ogdensburg.

The number of immigrants I have personally dealt with during the past year was 1,370. And I have communicated by letter and otherwise, with a further number of persons, asking information, especially in the northern part of New York State, and the counties lying along Lake Champlain.

Manitoba and the North-West seem a point of attraction to many of the small farmers across the border, influenced, no doubt, by the reports of friends who have gone there from their vicinity, amongst whom I, for several years, under your instructions, distributed a considerable amount of matter in printed form—pamphlets, folders and posters.

There is an evident increase in the arrivals from Europe entering Canada at this port, the great competition among the steamship lines via New York being doubtless the cause of this.

The arrivals here via Ogdensburgh may be tabulated as follow:—

From Europe.....	342
From United States.....	721
and
Canadians returning.....	307
Total.....	1,370

The above figures are only for those coming into this district, and not those bound for the Western States or Manitoba. I believe a large number also find their way in by Brockville, but I have no means of ascertaining their numbers.

The figures given by me, moreover, do not include settlers who have made entry at the Customs. The latter returns are sent to you direct from the Customs Department.

I have the honour to be,

Your humble servant,

A. S. GERALD,

Immigration Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture.

REPORT OF SPECIAL AGENT AT DANVILLE.

DANVILLE, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that I have looked carefully after all the immigrants who arrived in this section of the country during the past year, and have to the best of my ability given them all the assistance in my power towards answering enquiries made by them.

I placed out on farms four boys, and obtained employment for four others in the slate quarries. I placed three lads with the asbestos works near here, and procured employment in the Kingsey paper mills for two others who arrived.

The total number placed out by me, apart from those who came to places provided for them, was thirteen.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
E. McGOVERN.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT OF EASTERN TOWNSHIPS TRAVELLING AGENT ON CARS.

(MR. ROBERT CLARKE.)

CANTERBURY, QUE., 9th December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith my annual report as immigration agent. During the months of June, July and August, I met all the mail steamers and ships carrying passengers which arrived at the Port of Quebec. In the month of June some very satisfactory agricultural labourers arrived, all of whom I placed in good situations amongst the farmers of the Eastern Townships.

In July and August very few of this class came out, and I was not able to obtain more than ten per cent. of the men I needed to supply the demands I received for farm help.

I also placed a few very good domestic servants. A very promising feature of my work this season was in assisting to their destinations the families of men whom I had formerly placed. I was unfortunate in not being in Quebec at the opening of navigation, as several parties consigned to my care went to other destinations.

I would beg to respectfully call your attention to the unsatisfactory results of the prevailing system of the selling of tickets by the agents of the steamship companies. They, in order to gain as large a percentage as they can on their sales, try to induce intending immigrants to go to places at the greatest possible distance from their ports of sailing—a plan very detrimental to the interests of the Eastern Townships and the north-east parts of Ontario. The demand for workingmen of all kinds was great throughout the season, many farm hands getting $2.00 per day with board in the haying and harvesting; the average wages paid here during that time being $40 per month.

Good teamsters have no difficulty in getting from $20 to $26 per month in the winter season, with board.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

ROBERT CLARKE.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,

ANNUAL REPORT OF TRAVELLING AGENT ON CARS.

(MR. JOHN SUMNER.)

CARLETON PLACE, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my eighteenth annual report as travelling immigration agent for the Department of Agriculture.

The work performed by me during the year now closed has been of the same kind as heretofore.

The immigrants coming under my charge were less numerous than in years gone by, owing in a great measure to the division of transport between the Grand Trunk Railway and the Canadian Pacific, and possibly to the cessation of assisted movement on the ocean, &c., but what has been lost by the latter cause is more than made good by the superior class of people who have landed on our shores.

The movements of immigrant trains have been greatly facilitated by the completion of nearly 150 miles of double track on the Grand Trunk Railway, and another year will add still greater facilities.

There is the usual scarcity of domestic servants, but those coming are of a much better class than heretofore.

The refreshment rooms are satisfactory, and no complaint of any ill-treatment has been made to me by any immigrant.

The immigrants are brought up from Halifax in much shorter time than in previous years, and altogether the railway service has been very satisfactory.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN SUMNER,

Government Travelling Agent.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,

No. 24.

REPORT OF SPECIAL AGENT ON MANITOBA AND NORTH-WEST COLONIZATION.

(MR. W. WEBSTER.)

KINGSTON, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour herewith to submit a report of my operations in connection with the colonization of Manitoba and the North-West during the past year.

On the first of each month during the year (except the last half of January and the month of February, for which period I was not in the employ of the Department) I mailed to your Department a detailed statement of my operations.

During last winter I travelled more or less in every county in Eastern Ontario, and through several counties in Western Ontario, also on the south side of the St. Lawrence as far as Quebec. Before starting I procured from the Department an ample supply of immigration literature, which referred more particularly to the advantages possessed by Manitoba and our North-West over Minnesota and Dakota for Ontario immigrants; this I distributed to the best possible advantage. One result from this distribution was, that I received a very large number of letters from intending immigrants, asking further information, particularly in regard to details, such as price of land, quality of soil, water supply, cost of fuel, lumber, and all such practical questions as are generally asked by practical farmers. As a rule these enquiries wanted very definite information as to where homestead land could be got, which was the best district, &c., &c. These letters were promptly answered, and all the information asked for was given, where possible.

In addition I gave fifty lectures (most of those were given at the invitation of committees, councils, and farmers' institutes) in the Counties of Grenville, Leeds, Frontenac, Addington, and Northumberland. At the close of those lectures I distributed reports, pamphlets, and other information to all those desiring it. The local papers generally gave liberal notices of those lectures, and through that medium I reached a very large number of people. During the year I distributed over half a ton weight of literature.

During the year I received a number of letters from England, Ireland, and the Isle of Wight, the writers saying that they had read my "Report on Minnesota and Dakota compared with Manitoba and the Canadian North-West," and asking me to write them particulars, also to mail them literature. This was promptly done in each case, and I met several of those parties in Manitoba during the summer; as a result of this correspondence in every case they bought land and located.

Many of those Old Country correspondents, and all of them that I met in Manitoba during the summer, urged me strongly to go to the Old Country, and go into the rural districts, and present the information I possessed in a practical way, that there were thousands of small farmers who would avail themselves of it and emigrate to Manitoba, that they might become owners of the soil on which they lived.

A large number migrated to Manitoba last spring from the eastern counties of Ontario. During the month of April I was kept busy corresponding with, and meeting those parties, assisting them to make final preparations as to just where to locate, securing the most favourable rates for settlers' effects. My experience in matters of this kind was valuable as many of them had never travelled, and I received many expressions of gratitude from them on their arrival at Winnipeg.

Having completed those arrangements to my satisfaction, I left early in May for Manitoba, with a view of meeting as many of those parties as possible on their arrival at Winnipeg. I spent the latter part of May, and the month of June, meeting parties on their arrival at Winnipeg, taking them over the Province, and assisting them to make selections for their future homes. Many of those families I visited again in early fall. I was astonished at the progress made by them in a few months, they having good houses built, thirty to sixty acres of prairie broken ready for crop in spring, stables built, their cattle rolling in fat, themselves healthy, happy, and more than pleased with their prospect in their prairie homes, particularly as many of them had only 50-acre farms in Ontario (which they sold to a neighbour adjoining) whereas now they have from 160 to 320 acres of fine rich prairie. It was admitted by the Winnipeg papers that a more valuable lot of immigrants never reached Manitoba than those to which I have referred.

In the early part of last summer a very serious drought occurred in Manitoba, little or no rain falling up to 1st of July, many fields of wheat not receiving more than one inch of rain from seeding until harvested, and yet produced a fair crop. I know of no other country that could produce like results under similar circumstances, and it fully proves the enormous fertility of the soil; and notwithstanding this unprecedented drought, farmers continued to break prairie, a much greater acreage having been broken than in any previous season.

News reached me in Manitoba, early in July, that the drought in Dakota had in many parts destroyed the entire crop, and that in consequence much destitution prevailed there, that hundreds of farmers were ruined and must leave; in fact I had this information from farmers direct from Dakota, they having come up into Southern Manitoba to examine it; I showed several of these farmers over portions of the Province, and in every case they expressed themselves astonished at the fertility of the soil, at the fine crop of hay and grass, and at the number of live stock and their splendid condition, and also at the low rate of taxation as compared with Dakota, it being less than half. Several of these farmers told me they would leave Dakota and settle in Manitoba, owing to the foregoing advantages.

In consequence of the news of the utter failure of crops in North Dakota, I left Manitoba early in July determined to examine it county after county, as far as my time would permit, that I might know from personal observation the true state of affairs there; but the result of my observation must of a necessity be given here in a very condensed form, as it would take a large book to give it in detail.

In the last week in July I was in Walsh County, Dakota, and at Gratton, the county town. I attended a large public meeting, called for the purpose of appointing a "relief committee" to distribute food to the farmers in the west side of the county, estimated at 500 families, they having lost their entire crop from drought, and the year previous all by frost. It was admitted at that meeting that those farmers must be fed, and be provided with seed, else actual starvation would ensue. Now, it must be remembered that this is one of the Red River counties, but while this state of affairs existed in the west of this county, the east side, bordering on Red River, will grow half a crop.

I attended a similar meeting at Lacota, the county town of Nelson county, held for a similar purpose. On that day two cars of flour arrived from Minneapolis which was handed over to the "relief committee" to be distributed among the farmers. I travelled over this county carefully and found the farmers ruined and discouraged, having now lost two entire crops in succession. Most of the public schools in this county were closed for want of funds to operate them. In all my life I never saw such actual poverty in a farming country as I saw there.

I travelled through Ranway, Roullette, Bottinar, Benson, Eddy, Foster, Griggs, Stitsman, La Morere and Ransom counties, and in a large degree found the same state of affairs existing; and old settlers told me at Lisbon that the farmers of Ransom County are poorer now than they were ten years ago when the place was first settled. On the Fort Totten Reserve, the Government and Indians sowed a crop of wheat hoping to harvest 100,000 bushels, but they harvested barely 1,000 bushels!

I travelled over Richland, Cass, Triall, Grand Forks and Pembina counties; these all lay on Red River and will produce half a crop this year.

In those counties I found the taxes more than double what they are in Manitoba, averaging in Dakota $30 to $35 per quarter section, and in Manitoba $10 to $15. While travelling in these counties in Dakota I wrote two and three letters a week to newspapers in Manitoba and Ontario, giving the facts as I found them. Those letters were extensively copied in both Provinces, and must have come under the observation of a large number of farmers.

The farmers of North Dakota I found all banded together in what is termed a "Farmer's Alliance," that by being united they may be the better able to fight "Railway Extortion," "Land Monopolists" and "Combines." I attended some of those Alliance meetings. The farmers in their speeches denounced these monopolies, and claimed that it was impossible to make a living by farming in Dakota while these existed in their present form. At these meetings I always took advantage to talk up the superior attractions of our North-West, and to distribute literature.

I examined the report of the Commissioner of Agriculture of the United States in regard to Dakota crops, and found this fact: In 1886 (and that was one of her best years) the wheat crop averaged $11\frac{1}{2}$ bushels per acre, the money value being \$5.95 per acre. The prices of wheat were, in 1882, 80 cents; 1883, 72 cents; 1884, 46 cents; 1885, 63 cents; 1886, 52 cents; 1887, 52 cents. The potato crop averaged 73 bushels per acre. Add to these small crops and low prices, the high taxes and these "monopolies" that the "Farmer's Alliance" complains of, and I think any farmer in Canada, can well understand why the Dakota farmer is poor, complaining and dissatisfied.

I arrived in Ontario last September for the purpose of attending as many of the Agricultural Fairs as possible, as those are splendid opportunities for meeting intending emigrants, distributing literature, etc. I attended the fairs up to the last of October. I might say that between May 1st and November 1st, in the discharge of my duties, I travelled 7,000 miles by rail, 1,000 by water, and 1,000 by land, a total of 9,000, at a cost to the Department for travelling expenses of less than $100, and with all my opportunity for observation, I do not know of one Ontario migrant that went to Dakota this year to locate.

The American Emigration Agents, seeing this great falling off during the past three years in Ontario migrants, have made another "dead set" on Ontario this summer by thoroughly advertising by large posters and flaming bills. This time it is Montana they are trying to "boom." These flaming bills I find very conspicuously posted in railway stations in the remotest parts of Ontario. They are also advertising the country to the extent of half-columns in the county weekly papers, glorifying Montana. I have been off-setting this attempt by a liberal supply of our literature. This is a matter that requires looking after sharply.

During November I travelled over the Midland district and part of Muskoka, distributing literature, attending Farmers' Institutes, answering correspondence, and meeting and talking with intending emigrants. While up here I met three Canadians on their return from Dakota, where they had been for some time. They had "shaken the dust of Dakota off their feet" and were then on their way to Bruce county. The same day I met two on their way home from Michigan: they were going to Northumberland County. The last two are going to Manitoba in the spring to settle on land.

During December I gave a number of lectures, by request, always getting free halls, lights, etc. At those lectures I had a fine exhibit of grain, in straw and threshed, prairie hay, grasses, etc. This exhibit was much appreciated by farmers intending to emigrate. In these very counties in which I have been lecturing there was, eight years ago, quite a number who had emigrated to Dakota. That is all stopped now. The advantages of our own country have been practically set before them, and their good judgment has enabled them to see these advantages. I have striven hard to make that impression as deep and lasting as possible.

While in Dakota I made arrangements at several points with parties to distribute literature in their several sections as I mailed it to them. I am just now (December) in receipt of urgent letters from those correspondents, asking for more literature, and furnishing me names of places to mail matter to. I find the work I have done there is now beginning to bear a good crop of fruit.

The facilities so kindly afforded me by the Canadian Pacific Railway for travelling over their splendid system of roads, has reduced my travelling expenses to a minimum.

The press extracts appended herewith, give evidence of the distress existing in Dakota, and are in no way overdrawn.

[NOTE.—A number of extracts in addition to this were given by Mr. Webster, but are too voluminous for insertion.]

Let any intending Dakota settler read the following from the Utica Saturday Globe, of the 26th October last:—

“BISMARCK, DAKOTA, October 25.—The condition of the people in certain parts of the great North-West has never been so deplorable. In Western Dakota and North-Western Minnesota the suffering is so widespread that it has been decided to appeal to the principal cities of the Union for aid. Without this aid thousands must go hungry and many perish of starvation and cold. Already the charitable work has been begun in St. Paul and Minneapolis. Ramsey county, D.T., has a population of seven thousand people. Of these about six thousand are engaged in farming. The frosts of last year cut off the crops generally, and the farmers were obliged to mortgage their farms for seed, provisions, clothing, etc., to carry them through last winter. This spring, other paraphernalia, such as stock, machinery, etc., were mortgaged for seed to put in the crops. There has been a continual drought throughout the entire season and the crops have been almost a total failure.

“The borrowed funds are entirely exhausted as well as the credit of most of these people, and in Ramsay county there are about 500 families of farmers who are destitute. In Nelson and Walsh counties there is also great destitution and suffering, and there are probably in this district of North Dakota not less than 1,000 families who are nearly entirely destitute.

“There is a district in South Dakota that is in likewise condition. This district is embraced within Miner Lake, Sanborne and Beadle counties, but is surrounded by populous towns and cities like Sioux Falls, Yankton, Huron, Watertown, Pierre, etc., and it is thought that if application is made to these cities by the proper authorities in the several counties, sufficient relief can be realized to take care of the people for the present. But the devastated district in North Dakota is directly dependent upon St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth and the larger towns on the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad in Dakota for assistance.

“Grand Forks has already appointed committees and is actively engaged in supplying clothing and some provisions to the North Dakota district.

“The committee of the St. Paul Chamber of Commerce has decided to correspond with the mayors of Fargo, Jamestown, Bismarck and other Dakota cities, and ascertain whether any organized movements have been made towards relieving these people, and also to communicate with the State authorities of North Dakota to ascertain if there are any funds available which may be used for this purpose and what action will be taken by State officers in this matter. It is imperative that the devastated district of North Dakota should receive some assistance immediately. The supplies most urgently required are boots, shoes, hosiery, mittens, under garments, flour, corn meal, necessary groceries and grain for their stock. Arrangements have been made for the free transportation of products intended for distribution among the people.

“Two years ago the farmers of Marshall county, Minn., were unfortunate enough to lose almost their entire crops. Since that time they have been struggling to relieve themselves from the burden of financial embarrassment, but during the past year devastating hailstorms visited the eastern part of the county and practically laid everything waste. This disaster came after the previous visitation had reduced many of the farmers to the verge of starvation, and unless something is done to relieve the distress there will be much suffering this winter.

"The prevailing great distress among the farmers in the North-West has roused them almost to a fury, and at a meeting of the Legislature they will demand a strict usury law. The legal rate of interest in the territory is 12 per cent., but money is being loaned in this and other regions at 5 per cent. per month. Seed wheat was sold last spring in many instances at \$2 a bushel which was worth but 60 cents, and mortgages were taken not only upon teams but on farming implements as well. When the crops failed the mortgages upon the other stuff were foreclosed. Sheriffs and their deputies are out every day after mortgaged stock, the last cow being often taken. One institution, not being content with taking a mortgage upon crops and personal property, took in addition what was called a "preliminary mortgage" upon the homestead, which could not be enforced in law, but it serves as a club, and forces the settler to borrow money of them to "prove up," paying a bonus of $33\frac{1}{2}$ to 100 per cent. besides the old debt and 23 per cent. interest.

"The St. Paul Chamber of Commerce met last week to devise means of rendering assistance to the destitute people of Dakota. Governor Miller, of North Dakota, who was present, stated that the Legislature had, at his suggestion, confirmed the appointment of Mr. Helgerson as a special representative of the state to investigate matters. As such representative he had been sent out to acquire the fullest and most impartial information regarding the most effectual distribution of relief. Heretofore there had been little system in the handling of this relief. The year before last there had been an exceedingly poor crop, and last year a poorer one in some localities. Many of the people had come there with but little means and were illy prepared for failure of crops. Whatever property they had had been mortgaged to its full value.

"From various distressed districts, Mr. Helgerson read a number of reports. Ramsey county was in a peculiarly distressed condition. Mr. Helgerson read the following report of the county commissioners, prepared December 21 :—

"To the Commissioner of Agriculture: We have the honor to report that we have made an investigation into the condition of the people of our county and find the following to be the facts:

"That the bulk of the crop of 1889 was destroyed by drought—wheat, oats, barley and potatoes, with a short crop of hay.

"The county board has in consequence been compelled to issue in addition to the donations sent into the country from July 15 to date, 300 sacks of flour. The board estimates that there are 1,200 people who will require to be furnished with clothing and the necessities of life until July 1, 1890. In addition to these there are very many people who require aid in procuring feed for their horses; who have the necessaries of life for themselves, but have no means of buying feed, and will be unable to carry their stock or put in their crops without this aid. There are others who, if they could procure horse feed free of freight, would be able to pay for it and not ask further aid. That 60,000 bushels of wheat, 25,000 bushels of oats and 5,000 bushels of barley will be required for seed by people who have no means of paying for it, and who will have to procure it either from the Government or from charity. The bonded indebtedness of the county is $58,000 and the valuation $1,975,371.

"From a further statement from the same commissioner it appears that while in 1887 the total receipts of wheat at the elevators were 1,175,000 bushels, they fell in 1888 to 369,000 bushels, followed in 1889 by a still further decrease to 113,442. In 1887, 225,000 bushels were received at Coary, and in 1889 but 6,000 bushels were received in the same locality. There was an average yield this year of but two bushels an acre, the acreage sown being 57,562."

Just before closing this report I have received letters from correspondents in Dakota, telling me that there is a very strong feeling among a large number of farmers there that they must leave there or starve, and asking me for full information as to how Dakota farmers can take their live stock, as settlers, into Manitoba without paying duty, or being subject to quarantine detention—that is, in cases where the stock comes from localities on the frontier, or within such distance from the frontier, where there is known to be no contagious disease. This information I have received quite recently from the Deputy Minister and am now corresponding with parties in Dakota in regard to that matter.

I have the honour to be,
Your obedient servant,
W. A. WEBSTER.

The Minister of Agriculture,

No. 25.

SPECIAL REPORT ON COLONIZATION IN SOUTH WESTERN STATES.

(MR. GLYN JONES.)

TOMBSTONE, ARIZONA, U. S. A., June, 1889.

SIR,—As authorized by you I have investigated the question of immigration into Kansas, and also into Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona, and beg to state, that I visited those States and Territories for that purpose.

The immigration question in this part of the United States is not a very live one at the present time, and it may be said that the only part of the United States that is attracting much attention now is Oklahoma, which is a tract of land of nearly two million acres, situated between Kansas and the Indian Territory. It was only thrown open for settlement about a month ago; and probably it has been noticed in the newspapers that a great immigration has already taken place to it.

It is estimated that 100,000 persons have already gone there from the Eastern States and from other directions. The great tendency of the American people is to move westward. Newspapers in the east are full of complaints in regard to this. It is stated that at present in New England there are numbers of farms idle and unoccupied for want of tenants. Prof. Huxley of Oxford, England, wittily remarked, a short time ago, in connection with the movement of populations, that an American would hesitate to enter the portals of Heaven, if he thought he could not go further west.

COLORADO, NEW MEXICO, AND ARIZONA.

Colorado, New Mexico and Arizona may be classed together, and it may be said that there is very little immigration to any of them. Colorado of course gets more than the two territories, as it is better known.

No agriculture can be carried on in any of these districts without irrigation. Colorado has more irrigation works than the two territories, and the quality of the soil also is superior.

The rainfall is very slight, and consequently the land presents an ugly spectacle. It is almost arid, dotted here and there by ungainly cactus bushes, and other useless vegetation.

The valley of the Rio Grande has good soil, but there is absolutely no growth of any kind without irrigation. There is a great disappointment in store for every one who beholds the Rio Grande for the first time in the dry season. I could hardly bring myself to believe that I was gazing on the long, broad, majestic river of the map, when I could see nothing but a stretch of dry sand with here and there a pool of muddy water.

There is absolutely no immigration into New Mexico and Arizona, and it is anticipated that the next census, if correctly given, will show a decrease in both.

Colorado, however, is slowly increasing in population, and the chief reason for this is the constancy in the production of the mines.

I have communicated with various persons capable of judging as to the future of these high, dry, and barren Western regions, and there is well nigh a consensus of opinion that they can never succeed as agricultural States or Territories, and that they must always depend upon the mines for their progress.

There is, however, a great agitation at present, in and out of Congress, on the irrigation question, and a short time ago the Hon. Marcus Aurelius Smith, of Arizona, delivered a lengthy and able speech on the subject. In it he urged upon the Government the necessity of taking up the irrigation question as a national concern, and not to leave it entirely to private enterprise to carry on the work.

Between Mexico and Canada, there is a breadth of country measuring 1,200 miles across, which is practically useless without artificial irrigation, and it is claimed that this land, if redeemed, will support a population of 200,000,000. So far, however, the question has made but little progress. The representations of Western Senators and Members, and of others interested in the West, do not seem to find much favour in the East, and it is not likely the matter will be taken up seriously by the Government until there is shown to be a national necessity for so doing, and that will not take place until the Eastern and Central States have received their complement of population.

KANSAS.

The State of Kansas is a third larger than the whole of New England, having an area of 52 million acres.

The population of this large and important State is rapidly increasing by reason of direct immigration from Castle Garden, and of migration from other States. The following table shows the increase since 1860:—

	Population.
1860.....	107,000
1870.....	364,000
1875.....	528,000
1880.....	996,000
1885.....	1,268,000
1888.....	1,518,000

The assessed valuation of property in Kansas in 1888 was $353,000,000.

The ranching industry seems to be fairly remunerative in this State, but is not making any great progress. The following table will give an idea of the extent of the different branches of the ranching interests:—

Year.	No. of Cattle.	No. of Sheep.	No. of Swine.	No. of Horses & Mules.
1882.....	1,404,000	978,000	1,228,000	455,000
1883.....	1,604,000	1,154,000	1,393,000	482,000
1884.....	1,858,000	1,206,000	1,953,000	526,000
1885.....	1,978,000	875,000	2,461,000	589,000
1886.....	2,090,000	652,000	1,966,000	655,000
1887.....	2,261,000	538,000	1,847,000	737,000
1888.....	2,362,000	402,000	1,433,000	793,000

It will be noticed that while the number of cattle is steadily increasing, the sheep and hog industries are on the decline. The reason for the decrease in sheep is difficult to understand, as wool growing has always paid well, and some sage has remarked that it will always be remunerative as long as man is born into the world naked.

The value of the total products from live stock, to wit, animals slaughtered and sold for slaughter, wool, butter, cheese, poultry, eggs and milk, in 1888, was $37,-284,000.

Wheat growing is on the decrease. In 1879-1883—five years—132,070,000 bushels were grown, while in 1884-1888 only 99,404,000 were grown.

Corn growing is gradually on the increase, and during the five years 1884-1888 752,336,000 bushels was raised.

The average number of bushels of grain grown per acre in Kansas in 1888, were as under :—

	Bushels.
Wheat	14·3
Corn	29·0
Oats	30·0

Kansas undoubtedly has advantages to offer to settlers. Its soil is very productive, and is on an average three feet deep. It is a black sandy loam, lime and silica entering largely into its composition.

But it has many drawbacks. For instance, in winter its bleak and unprotected plains are swept by blizzards, while in summer there are cyclones and tornadoes like angels of death carrying destruction with them wherever they go.

In July, 1888, there was a very hot period accompanied by a high, scorching, south-west wind, which prevailed for several days, sweeping from the south-west corner up through the middle of the State, and cutting short the corn crop through the breadth of several counties.

Often the temperature mounts up to over 100°, with a hot wind blowing thirty to forty miles per hour, licking and curling with its flaming tongue the corn leaves, and all else that is not strong enough to resist its parching influence.

This condition seems very favourable to the maturing and spreading of the chinch-bug, which pest causes much damage to the corn.

The winter storms, known as blizzards, come with little or no warning, and probably cause more loss of life than any other kind of storms, owing to the intense cold which accompanies them.

This State also suffers considerably from spring and summer droughts, and every year there is much destruction of crops on this score.

The people of Kansas believe, or pretend to believe, that they have the finest country "in the world." This kind of belief is common to people of all latitudes; but for those who have beheld other lands, it would require much stretching of the conscience to describe Kansas as the best place "in the world."

Kansas as a place for settlement is widely advertised, the railway companies, the land companies, city and county authorities all vying with each other in the work, and consequently a fair share of the immigration to the United States is received by this State.

All respectfully submitted.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

T. GLYN JONES.

REPORT OF MONTREAL WOMEN'S PROTECTIVE IMMIGRATION SOCIETY.

MONTREAL, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—The Managers of the Montreal Women's Protective Immigration Society have much pleasure in presenting their eighth Annual Report:—

The work of the Society has gone on steadily and successfully; and, although no special change in the working has taken place, the Managers have every reason to believe that as each year goes by, the system of protected emigration for women becomes more and more appreciated, and its value more recognized. While it is to be regretted that the number of immigrants is less than last year, which decrease is only in proportion, however, to the general diminution of immigrants to this part of Canada, yet it is satisfactory to note that a superior class has arrived, showing that the Emigration societies recognize the necessity of a very careful selection of persons encouraged to emigrate.

The figures given by the Board of Trade show a falling off in the numbers of British emigrants for the ten months ending 31st October, compared with the similar period of 1889, of 6,440 to British North America.

The stoppage of the Government assisted passages to Canada has no doubt principally caused this decrease.

Only two unfortunate instances have occurred this season, of young women who were incapacitated, one by ill-health, and the other by partial blindness, from earning a living, and the only course open to the Managers in these cases was, after consultation with the attendant physician, to send them back to their homes. Anxious as the Society is to work for the welfare of women who wish to emigrate, in order to improve their condition, it cannot lose sight of the interests of the Dominion, by harbouring and encouraging incapable settlers.

Seven protected parties arrived in the Mansfield Street Home this year. It will be remembered that a protected party consists of young women, who bring special certificates of good character and other qualifications, examined with all possible care before they are allowed to join such a party; they travel in charge of a Matron. Five of these parties came under the auspices of the United British Women's Emigration Society, in charge of Miss Monk and Mrs. Turnbull as matrons. Besides the above, the Society has received immigrants through Miss Ross, Miss Macdonald, Mrs. Vatcher, Mrs. Foster, from the Self Help Fund, the East End Emigration Fund, and the Tower Hamlets.

From December 1st, 1888, until the same date in 1889, 236 immigrants arrived at the Home—164 were English, 51 Irish, 17 Scotch, 3 Welsh, and 1 Austrian; of these 160 were Episcopalians, 36 Roman Catholics, 24 Presbyterians, 10 Methodists, the remaining 6 belonging to other denominations.

The Managers have devoted special attention to the lady-helps and young women of a superior class who have been sent to their care. It is always more difficult to provide these with really suitable employment; and although they have in some cases been obliged to accept more menial work at first than they would wish, it is the duty of the Managers to improve their positions when the opportunity occurs. Out of the 236 immigrants, the Managers have, under personal supervision, 87 girls in the city, who are in comfortable situations, and receiving better wages than they did at home. After providing the first employment to their immigrants, the Society finds it impossible, however, to keep sight of all those sent to their care. They pass into the hands of other societies, and a clergyman or minister is requested in a special notice to kindly interest himself in the welfare of the young women. Moreover, when leaving the Home in Mansfield street, it is impressed upon every girl that she should apply to the Managers or Matron in any difficulty or trouble.

It being necessary to keep up the establishment during the winter months, when only very few immigrants arrive, the plan of renting rooms to a few steady boarders, mostly immigrants of former years, who are employed in daily work in the city, has again been adopted. The Managers of the Girls' Friendly Society retain one room in the Home for the special accommodation of girls belonging to that Society; of these, 22 have immigrated during the season.

Mrs. Mussen has, to the regret of the managers, resigned the important office of Honorary Secretary, of which she has filled the arduous duties for eight years, having helped materially to build up the Society from its commencement. The Home has, as usual, been almost daily visited by a member of the Board of Management, and their monthly reports show that they are perfectly satisfied with the way in which the domestic work has been carried on. The Secretary has, as during the past years, met the incoming steamers and trains. The thanks of the Society are due to the officials of the steamship and railroad companies, also to the Government immigration agents, for their continual courtesy and kindness in assisting to promote the comfort and safety of arriving immigrants.

REPORT ON CHINESE IMMIGRATING INTO CANADA, AND RETURNING TO CHINA.

OTTAWA, 17th August, 1889.

SIR,—Referring to Chinese immigration into Canada since the coming into force of the Chinese Restriction Act, I find that the number arriving, as shown by our register, is, for each fiscal year, as below.

My estimate of the number in the Dominion, derived from the best information obtainable and personal investigation at the time the Act went into force, was 15,000.

The total arrivals since that date, as you will see below, is 1,521; but the addition of these two sums does not by any means represent the number at present in the Dominion.

No record is obtainable of the number that have left the Dominion during the time in question, but I am of opinion, from verbal reports made to me last year when in British Columbia, that the number at present does not probably exceed 5,000.

After the completion of the Canadian Pacific Railway, a great many left for the United States, while a few returned to China, and of those arriving in the Dominion many have undoubtedly found their way to the United States.

You will notice that the number arriving during the past fiscal year was greater than all together previous to that time. This was on account of the prohibition placed upon their entrance into the United States, which came into effect on the 1st November last, the probable result of which is that many coming to America, came to Canada, and eventually found their way across the frontier.

There has certainly been no increase in the number in the Dominion, but a steady decrease since 1886.

I have now before me a copy of the Report of the Harbor Master at Hong Kong for the year 1888, in which it is stated that the number arriving at that port during the year from Vancouver was 1,746 Chinese. This is evidence that my estimate is not wrong as regards the number constantly leaving Canada being greater than that arriving.

REPORT ON MENNONITE COLONIES.

(MR. H. C. JACOBSON.)

WINNIPEG, 9th September, 1889.

SIR,—The Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg, having been advised that some of the Mennonites in the Eastern and Western Reserves contemplated leaving the country in order to settle on land in the United States, I received orders to pay a visit to the Eastern Reserve and to ascertain the real state of affairs amongst these desirable settlers.

I now have the honour herewith to submit to you my report with regard to the official visit which I paid to the so-called Eastern Reserve of the Mennonite settlement, situated in Townships 4, 5, 6 and 7, Ranges 4, 5, and 6, east of the First Meridian, in the Province of Manitoba.

I left Winnipeg on the 28th August last for Niverville, where I arrived in the evening and put up for the night. Here I got the necessary information with regard to the best and nearest road to be taken, and early on the 29th August I started on my mission.

I first saw Peter Dick near Niverville; from his place I went to Gerhard Kilüwer and then to Peter Penner, Gerhard Soatzky and Dick Penner.

I then struck off in a south-easterly direction towards the villages of Henboden and Grünfeld, and thence southerly to Hochstadt, where I put up for the night with David Soewen, an intelligent and prosperous Mennonite of the settlement. On the 30th August I proceeded to the villages of Schönsee, Grünthal, Gnadenfeld and Bergfeld, returning at night again to Hochstadt, staying over there with David Unger.

On the 31st August I started in a northerly direction for Schönfeld, Rosenfeld, Chortiz, arriving at night at the principal village of the Eastern Reserve called Steinbach. Here I remained over on Sunday, inspecting a cheese manufactory, grist mill, sawmill, and some large outlying farms, all erected by and belonging to Mennonites. This place deserves special mention. When some of the Mennonites who arrived in this country in 1875 located on the spot on which the village now stands, they assured me that then there was nothing but scrub and bush on the land, and some of these people who had all been accustomed to the open steppe or plains of Southern Russia, did not at all relish the appearance of the country here. Wise counsels, however, prevailed, and after considerable labour we now find here large open fields of good soil yielding excellent crops, good pasturage and nice plantations, both useful and pleasant to the eye. In the gardens of Abraham Friesen and Klaas Reimer, I could not help admiring a large number of plum, cherry and apple trees, which every year, I was told, bear abundant fruit. The plum and cherry trees were, a number of years ago, transplanted from the bush, and the fruit is said to improve every year. The two above-named Mennonites have also many maple and other shade trees planted around their farmsteading, giving a very nice appearance, indeed.

On Monday, the 2nd September, I continued my journey to New Aulagen and Bergthal, where I arrived in the afternoon. I would have proceeded to some other village that day, but I was anxious to have a conversation with the (Aelteste) or Priest of the Mennonites who lives here, and he not being at home I concluded to remain over night at Bergthal awaiting his return. I had a long and satisfactory interview with the Rev. gentleman next morning, the 3rd September, and intended to visit the villages of Blumenort and Blumenhof, but my time being limited I concluded to return that day to Winnipeg, which I did, where I arrived at night, after having on my way taken in the village of Blumengard.

The dwelling houses, barns and stables of the Mennonites are all after the same pattern and erected by themselves, substantially built of tamarac or spruce, plastered out and inside and mostly straw-thatched. They appear to be cool in summer and comfortable and warm in the winter. The dwelling house generally connects by a door with the barn and stable, so that during the extreme cold in winter the Mennonite can attend to his cattle without having to go outside. The lofts over the stable are filled with hay, and most Mennonites have also got a well of first-class water in the stable, which of course never freezes during the severest winter.

They all have vegetable gardens which in ordinary years produce plenty; this year, however, they have suffered considerably, both by the prolonged drought and the early frosts of the 2nd and 5th of August last.

All the Mennonites, according to their wealth, possess more or less cattle, horses, pigs and poultry, the latter in abundance. Some of the more prosperous have also started sheep farming, which they told me paid them well, and at different points I saw considerable flocks of sheep.

The grain crop in the eastern Mennonite Reserve is this year, I am sorry to say, rather poor, the cause of course being the extreme drought and excessive heat of the season. The highest average yield per acre, which I could ascertain, was eleven and a half to twelve bushels wheat near Steinbach. Numerous other points, however, did not show more than from three to five bushels per acre. At one threshing at which I was present, the farmer did not obtain more than about 130 bushels of wheat off thirty acres of land. The grain in places will decidedly go No. 1 hard, but there is also a good deal which will not grade, being shrivelled up by the excessive heat at the time it was in the milk. As far as I could ascertain all the Mennonites have used No. 1 quality only for seed.

Barley and oats are very short and light indeed, especially the latter, and what the Mennonites have harvested of these they will probably have to use for their own cattle and horses. Flax has not been cultivated at all this year, or where any was put in it never showed above ground. Potatoes are good in size and mealy, but the yield, on account of the night frosts in early August, as previously stated, will only be middling.

The health of the people is on the whole good, and notwithstanding the many drawbacks to their success this year, they mostly all seem to be content.

I met with some grumblers who appeared to be inclined to leave their lands and go over to the United States where they have friends and relatives; parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Idaho and Oregon possess each a number of Mennonite settlements.

The greatest grievance, however, about which the Mennonites in this country complain, is that they have not land enough for their fast-increasing families in their Reserves here, and that even some of the land which they possess, is in many places too stony and sandy for proper and advantageous cultivation. This I especially observed to be the case near the villages of Gnadenfeld, Grünthal and Bergfeld.

When the Mennonites emigrated to this country in 1874-75 and 1876 many heads of families who then took up 160 acres homestead, and some also 160 acres pre-emption, had with them children from 12 years and upwards. These children have grown into men and women now, have married, and have got issue of their own. The old homestead is not now sufficient to support the whole family. Where the father has had means he has bought land, either adjoining or at some distance, for one son or son-in-law, as the case might be. He is, however, unable thus to provide for three or four boys, or as many girls, and hence a keen desire on the part of the younger generation to look for pastures new. This is perhaps the principal reason why we have heard of dissatisfaction and emigration schemes amongst the Mennonites. My attention was first drawn to this matter about the middle of last year, when I communicated the same to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg. No further steps, however, were then taken. I knew then that the younger element amongst the Mennonites were on the move, or were going to move, sooner or later. The old people would willingly remain where they are; but if the young people go it may not be so easy to keep the former back, as these people dread and are averse to separation from their kindred.

In conclusion, I beg to say that at the different interviews which I had with the principal and most influential men of the reserve I did my utmost, according to my duty as Dominion Government official, to persuade these people that Canada, its lands, laws and institutions, were far better and more suitable for them than those of the United States, and I believe my mission has thus far been successful.

In the western or southern Mennonite reserve round Morris, Plum Coulee, Morden, Gretna, &c., however, the trouble is greater, notwithstanding that they have had better crops there than in the eastern reserve. The western reserve is much larger, contains a great many more young men, who are also more enlightened, numbers of them knowing the English language thoroughly. These wish to spread out, and unless good inducements are held out to retain them on this side of the boundary line they may do a good deal of harm.

I have thought out a plan by which the thousands of acres of good vacant Government land in Southern Assiniboia and Southern Alberta might be looked over by a deputation of influential and able Mennonites from the eastern reserve, with the assistance of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, the carrying out of which, of course, entirely rests with you.

A similar report has been handed in by me to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

HENRY C. JACOBSEN,

Dominion Government Intelligence Officer.

The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

REPORT OF TRAVELLING AGENT ON CARS.

(MR. Q. BLISS.)

COMPTON, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I herewith submit for your approval my report, and beg to state that, in accordance with my instructions, I met steamers at Halifax and Quebec from the 15th of March until the close of navigation at Quebec.

I travelled with the immigrants as far west as Montreal, there handing them over to the next agent.

I am pleased to state that I have had no trouble or unpleasantness with the people in my charge during the summer.

The immigrants who have arrived the past season have been of a remarkably superior class—the greater number going to Ontario and the West, while a few have remained in the Province of Quebec, the demand here being greater than the supply.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

Q. BLISS,

Dominion Travelling Immigration Agent.

The Minister of Agriculture,

No. 30.

REPORT ON IMMIGRATION AT CASTLE GARDEN.

OTTAWA, 17th June, 1889.

SIR,—Pursuant to instructions, I have made inquiries respecting the character of the immigration into the United States during the past decade, and the methods of classification pursued at Castle Garden. The facts that I have been able to gather are not without their phases of interest to Canadians. A glance at the official returns show that while there have been remarkable fluctuations, the aggregate stream of immigration into the United States has for some years past been very large. For the ten years, 1879–1888, these arrivals have averaged half a million a year in round figures, which must be regarded as a very large number; but it will be seen on looking into the matter that large as the accessions to the United States have been within the period referred to, Canada has relatively done much better. Half a million of immigrants each year has not amounted to 1 per cent. of the population of the United States, while the actual settlers who have come to Canada since 1879 have represented an average of 2 per cent. of our population. In other words, measured by the attractive force of population, Canada has done more than twice as well as the United States. It has long been known that as the foreign farm population increases in any country, it becomes a powerful force to draw others. It is but natural that the man who has found a comfortable home in the new land should become a power to induce his friends to follow him, and the history of all great immigration movements recognises this potent agency. If, therefore, a decline in the immigration into the United States is found to be taking place, the cause is not to be looked for in the weakening of this attractive force, but in something affecting the general ability of the country to absorb the large stream of population flowing into it. At Castle Garden, Mr. H. J. Jackson, the well-informed Secretary of the Board of Immigration Commissioners, said to me: “The policy of the Government has been changed of late years. It is a grave question whether we need or are able to absorb the large immigration that has been coming into the country during the last few years. In fact, we look with pleasure upon the falling off of 30,000 which is apparent up to this date this year (6th May).” The feeling towards immigrants seems to have undergone an entire change within the past ten years. At present the disposition of those in authority seems to be towards restriction and the rigid enforcement of the law, which contemplates that beyond the bare accommodations of Castle Garden, each immigrant must look after himself. As recently, however, as in 1881, the official report contained this clause: “Mention has already been made of the advantages offered to the immigrants through the Castle Garden landing depot. During the year 33,372 free meals were furnished for destitute immigrants, including the supplies given for consumption on their journey, to those who had no means beyond their railroad tickets. Besides this, cash to the amount of $12,642.95 was advanced to immigrants to assist in forwarding them to their relatives or to places where employment had been found for them.” In later reports no such evidences of liberality are found. It would really seem as if the United States were about to take active steps towards discouraging immigration into that country, rather than by special assistance and facilities afforded to immigrants, to encourage it. In fact, Mr. Jackson, in plain words, said they would gladly do what they could, within reason, to check the stream. More immigrants are arriving than they want.

CLASSIFICATION.

On the 3rd August, 1882, the President approved of a law imposing a tax of 50 cents upon every alien passenger landed in the United States. The State Legislature had passed an Act in the previous year making the tax $1 per capita; but the steamship companies resisted the payment strenuously, and numerous suits were pending when Congress passed the Act, which has since been upheld by the highest courts of the land. This tax, although paid directly by the steamship companies, is, of course, borne by the immigrants, with whom it has never been popular. The object of the measure was to provide funds for the protection and care of immigrants arriving in the United States, since Congress had not made ample provision for this purpose. In this regard, the facilities of Castle Garden, the splendid equipment of the Ward's Island hospital and asylum, as well as the efficiency of the immigration staff, attest to the good use being made of the money thus received. The method of classification pursued on the arrival of a steamer is simple and apparently satisfactory. Once inside of the circular landing depot the immigrants are obliged to pass through narrow passage-ways, where each one is made to answer the following series of questions: "Name; nationality; age; married or single; number in family; destination; if in possession of tickets or money; if inmate of almshouse or prison; condition of health; occupation." On the answers given to these questions depends entirely whether or not the immigrant will be allowed, in the legal sense, to land. The Act under which this system is carried on prescribes: "If on such examination there shall be found among such passengers any convict, lunatic, idiot, or any person unable to take care of himself, or, herself, without becoming a public charge, they shall report the same in writing to the collector of such port, and such persons shall not be permitted to land." This provision is by no means treated with laxity. During the year 1888 there were 501 persons to whom the privilege of landing was denied—23 being convicts, 37 lunatics, 10 idiots, and 431 were found to be liable to become a public charge. In other years even larger numbers have been prohibited, and returned to the countries whence they came. The chief ground of prohibition in the law is the liability of the person to become a public charge; and it has been decided by the courts that when the commissioners have passed judgment upon the character of an immigrant there is no appeal. The term admits of a wide meaning; but when brought solely within the interpretation of the commissioners, no room is left for quibbling, as there might be if the prohibition were directed only against "paupers." As matters now stand, the steamship companies have been defeated in all their attacks on the constitutionality of the Federal tax and classification, and nothing remains for them to do but to submit to its operation. It is important to know that the Board of Commissioners undertake the oversight of immigrants for one year after their arrival, and afford them hospital or other accommodation if required within that period. If unable to support themselves, a return passage is provided. Mr. Jackson intimated to me that if one of these immigrants should become a care on the Canadian public within the year the commissioners would feel bound to take him off our hands.

DISTRIBUTION.

No organized means are afforded by the State for the distribution of immigrants. They must look after themselves. Leading railway companies have agencies in Castle Garden, and take charge of immigrants who purchase tickets via their roads; but, beyond this, there is no system of affording the new comer information about the country. In this regard, Castle Garden does not compare favourably with the facilities for intelligence provided at Quebec or other agencies of the Canadian Government. Agents are not found at large American centres, to whom immigrants can apply for direction or assistance in obtaining employment. In this respect, the Canadian system again seems superior to the American.

CHARACTER OF THE IMMIGRATION.

There are two things in chief by which the character of a nation's immigration may be judged. These are: the occupations of the persons arriving, and the parts of the country to which they flock. If a country wants men who are farmers, or inclined to become such, and mechanics come in greater numbers, it may be reasoned, with some degree of force, that that immigration is unsatisfactory. It may also be regarded as unsuitable immigration, if the persons who are wanted to occupy unused lands flock to large and already heavily congested centres of population instead. Applying these two tests to the American immigration of the past decade, one reason at least will be found for the disapprobation so plainly manifested by those who have to deal with this problem in the United States. Taking, first, the occupations as published in the Federal returns, the following are the figures:—

Year.	Total Immigrants.	Skilled Labourers.	Per cent.	Farmers.	Per cent.
1879.....	197,954	21,362	10·8	19,907	10·0
1880.....	484,196	47,929	10·3	47,204	9·7
1881.....	695,163	66,457	9·4	58,028	8·3
1882.....	788,992	72,664	9·2	61,888	7·8
1883.....	603,322	62,505	10·3	39,048	6·4
1884.....	518,592	55,061	10·6	42,050	8·1
1885.....	395,346	39,817	10·7	27,585	6·9
1886.....	334,203	36,522	10·9	20,600	6·1
1887.....	490,109	52,403	10·6	30,932	6·3
1888.....	546,889	59,985	10·9	29,335	5·3

It will be seen that skilled labourers have more than held their own during the decade, while the percentage of farmers has steadily declined. Now, the United States does not wish to close its ports to those who will follow agricultural pursuits; but the Legislatures are being earnestly urged to check, if possible, the very large annual inflow of mechanics. Farmers are wanted; skilled labourers are not. How does the Canadian immigration compare in this regard? An accurate record of occupations is kept at the port of Quebec, and accepting those figures as fairly representing the Dominion, it will be seen that our immigration has been somewhat different from that into the United States. The figures for the port of Quebec are:—

Year.	Total Immigration.	Farmers.	Per cent.	Skilled Labourers.	Per cent.
1879.....	11,017	340	3·1	923	8·1
1880.....	14,359	539	4·1	903	6·3
1881.....	15,614	310	2·0	320	2·1
1882.....	31,032	3,286	10·6	1,420	4·5
1883.....	36,084	3,295	9·1	1,872	5·1
1884.....	25,490	2,669	10·4	1,911	7·4
1885.....	15,104	1,061	7·0	886	5·8
1886.....	16,764	2,196	13·1	1,110	6·6
1887.....	21,936	2,371	10·8	986	4·5
1888.....	18,712	1,469	7·3	998	5·3

These figures plainly indicate that during the decade in question the immigration into Canada, as judged by this test, has steadily improved—that is to say: the percentage of farmers has grown larger and the percentage of mechanics smaller. The showing is precisely the opposite to that afforded by the figures published by Congress, and must be accepted as a gratifying proof of the superior type of the Canadian immigration as compared with the American.

Applying also the test of distribution, a fact of considerable moment is brought to light. At Castle Garden a record is kept of the destination or objective points of each immigrant and the following figures are compiled from the official returns made up from that record:—

Year.	Immigrants.	Bound for Western States.	Per cent.
1879.....	134,278	19,540	14.5
1880.....	320,889	39,335	12.2
1881.....	441,044	69,444	15.7
1882.....	476,086	74,282	15.6
1883.....	405,909	53,626	13.2
1884.....	330,030	56,193	17.0
1885.....	291,066	54,961	18.8
1886.....	321,814	38,651	12.0
1887.....	405,405	38,728	9.5
1888.....	370,822	44,675	12.0

The Western States included in this calculation were: Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa, Nebraska, Kansas, Montana and Wisconsin. It is evident that those States likely to have any considerable areas of land open for settlement on a cheap basis have not absorbed a large percentage of the immigrants. On the other hand, New York and Pennsylvania have for the past ten years received 50 per cent. of all the aliens arriving at Castle Garden, and these two States must be regarded as unable to absorb with advantage the class who come. The showing, so far as Canada is concerned, is gratifying in contrast. Taking the number who have been reported as settling in Manitoba and the North-West, the figures are:—

Year.	Arrivals of Settlers.	Settled in North-West.	Per cent.
1879.....	40,492	11,381	28.1
1880.....	38,505	18,000	46.7
1881.....	47,991	22,001	45.8
1882.....	112,458	58,751	52.2
1883.....	133,624	42,772	32.0
1884.....	103,824	24,440	23.5
1885.....	79,169	7,740	9.7
1886.....	69,153	11,599	16.7
1887.....	84,526	21,635	25.6
1888.....	88,766	29,604	33.3

With the exception of the two years, 1885 and 1886, when settlement was very greatly interfered with by the Rebellion, it will be seen that settlements in the Canadian North-West represent a high percentage of the total immigration. Some allowance, however, should be made for the migration represented in the total; but after making all due allowance it must be conceded that a larger proportion of the immigrants arriving on our shores have moved to the precise part of the country where they are most wanted than has been the case in the United States.

SUBSTITUTION.

The last decennial census of the United States showed that population in the older and eastern portion of the United States had remained nearly stationary, which is a fact reconcilable with the immigration returns only on one ground. That ground is, that the immigrants who have made their homes in the old States have, to a large extent, taken the place of those who have moved westward. "There is a great domestic migration going on from the older States" said Mr. Jackson, "and their places are taken largely by immigration." No one in the United States is more competent to speak on such a matter than Mr. Jackson, and his testimony bears out the views advanced by prominent statisticians. The experience of Canada has been of a similar character.

HOSPITAL AND REFUGE DEPARTMENT.

On the establishment of the Commission in 1847 a purchase of land was made on Ward's Island for the purposes of the Hospital and Refuge Department. From time to time since additions have been made, until now 120 acres are held together, with some forty or more buildings thereon. Chief among the buildings are the Verplanck hospital, refuge for immigrants, surgical wards, fever wards, asylum for the insane, nursery, dispensary, dining hall, chapels, physicians' residences, etc. The situation of the island is admirable for the purposes of the department, and the accommodations afforded upon it are ample. The property as it now stands, with the title vested in the Commissioners of Emigration, is worth over $2,000,000, and the annual cost of maintenance is the chief item of expenditure by the Emigration Board. The expense account for the past ten years is as follows:—

1879.....	$ 77,911 00.
1880.....	87,076 00.
1881.....	99,276 00.
1882.....	124,066 00.
1883.....	124,828 00.
1884.....	111,989 00.
1885.....	89,455 00.
1836.....	61,493 00.
1887.....	87,875 00.
1888.....	98,872 00.

This large outlay is sufficient to keep up the equipment of the department and enable the staff to deal thoroughly with all cases coming under their purview. The system under which this department is operated is simple and effective. On the arrival of a vessel a medical officer at once makes an examination of the passengers, and if any are found to be only temporarily indisposed they are furnished with accommodation in a building within Castle Garden. If, however, there are cases of serious illness on board, they are promptly taken to Ward's Island and distributed throughout the various wards, according to the character of the disease. The number of patients annually sent to the hospital vary from 5,000 to 10,000, while from 200 to 400 persons are each year admitted to the Emigrant Insane Asylum. In the latter institution the demented patients are cared for until cured, or until it is found necessary, by reason of the serious and stubborn nature of the malady, to transfer them to the general asylum of the State. The Refuge is set apart for the accommodation of unfortunate women, and is, to a considerable extent, the lying-in branch of the hospital. The patients admitted to any or all of these institutions are not necessarily immigrants who have just arrived, but may be those who have been in the country within the period of a year. It is for one year that the commissioners maintain a special degree of oversight, and agree to keep the immigrants from becoming a public charge. The volume of immigration into Canada is not so large as to require such special provisions; but at Quebec and Winnipeg in particular, arrangements have been made from year to year for the careful treatment of any immigrants who may be ill. In addition to these, the sanitary and hospital arrangements at Grosse Isle—the chief quarantine station of the Dominion—are most complete in their character, and afford ample accommodation for a considerable number of patients. Quarantine stations of less magnitude, but with excellent equipment for the care of sick immigrants, are located at Halifax, N.S., St. John, N.B., Charlottetown, P.E.I., Sydney, C.B., Pictou, N.S., and Victoria, B.C. These stations are so situated and equipped as to prevent contagious diseases being brought into the country under ordinary circumstances. It may be said, therefore, that while Canada has not so elaborate or expensive a system for the care of the sick and demented, relatively to the needs in this regard our provisions are in every essential regard as complete as those of the United States.

RETURN OF IMMIGRANTS.

The commissioners have been year by year, since 1882, growing more rigid in their methods and rules of classification, which have for their chief object the prohibition of those immigrants who might be regarded as in any way undesirable. As their decision cannot be reviewed, it will be seen that the law places a considerable power in their hands. The grounds for rejecting 997 in the year 1886 were as follows: 70 were insane; 20 were idiotic; 1 was blind; 88 were enciente; 8 were convicts; 18 were cripples; 355 suffered from diseases which prevented them from earning a livelihood; and 437 were without means of support. There are a considerable number who arrive annually, however, who could not, without hardship, be placed in any of these classes, and these the commissioners assist in reaching their destination. An average of $5,000 has been expended for the past ten years in charity and relief, and an equal sum in paying, or assisting to pay, the passages of immigrants inland or back to Europe. Those who are assisted in returning to Europe are in the main those who have within the year failed to find a livelihood, or have met with misfortune in some way. A few years ago the commissioners were very liberal in their treatment of poor immigrants, and advanced large sums on the security of friends to pay the cost of inland transportation. They also furnished about 25,000 meals each year gratuitously. This, however, has been stopped. Respecting the number of those who are prohibited from landing, the returns show that an average of 1,000 are so dealt with annually.

CASTLE GARDEN CONVENIENCES.

The system of handling baggage at Castle Garden seems to be complete. From 150,000 to 400,000 pieces are received annually, and without systematic handling serious confusion would occur. On shipboard each immigrant knows the number of the compartment in which his baggage is placed, and at Castle Garden the pieces in each compartment are transferred to a division similarly numbered in the landing depot. The immigrants know at once where to go for their baggage. In addition to this, all the leading railway companies have offices in Castle Garden, and apartments to which baggage may be directly transferred without trouble or cost. If, on the other hand, baggage is to be transferred to other parts of the city, the commissioners have made arrangements with an express company by which such work is done at low cost.

The labour bureau is also a useful branch of the Emigration Department at Castle Garden. Persons living in any part of the Union may send a notice here of their need of a servant or help of any kind, or they may come personally, and the officers in charge do what they can to meet the demand. Several thousands of immigrants are annually helped into situations through the medium of this bureau.

There are contiguous to Castle Garden several large boarding houses, under the supervision of the commissioners, at which immigrants are cared for and lodged at a small cost. The record shows that an average of 50,000 persons find accommodation at these institutions each year.

Associated closely with the boarding houses are several societies, having the philanthropic object of directing and assisting immigrants who may stand in need of such kindness on their arrival. These societies are chiefly national in character, and the German and Irish institutions seem to take the lead in activity and extent of work.

Facilities for the exchange of money and the purchase of food supplies are also found in the landing depot.

CONCLUDING OBSERVATIONS.

The facts which have been emphasized in the foregoing pages are significant to Canada. In many of the leading countries of Europe the emigration movement seems to be increasing rather than diminishing in activity, and the announcement that our greatest rival is no longer able to absorb the people landing by thousands on her shores points to the probability that a considerable proportion of that American immigration will be diverted to our domain. This, in fact, seems inevitable. The attraction which drew so many millions to the United States was the large areas of land open to free or comparatively free settlement. That attraction in any high degree of force no longer exists in the United States; but it exists in the wide and fertile plains of North-Western Canada, under more auspicious circumstances than ever marked the settlement of the Western States. The land laws of the Dominion are better than those of the United States. Free grant lands are a thing of the past in the United States, while millions of acres of the richest land in the world are open in Canada to those who will conform to the simple and inexpensive conditions imposed by the Government. Viewed from almost any standpoint, the weight of attraction is on our side; and in obedience to the well understood law that settlement will follow in the most inviting groove, a vast stream of immigration must soon flow into the great basin of the Canadian North-West. That immigration we not only want, but are eminently able to absorb. The pioneer settlers in that portion of Canada are doing well, and the fame of their good fortune is going abroad with immeasurably greater potency than the propagandism of immigration literature. The facilities for handling an enormous volume of immigration are at hand and in operation. An immigrant and his family may be carried from the seaboard to a homestead in less than a week, a fact which stands out in marvellous and happy contrast with the tedious, painful and ofttimes dangerous course which the settlers in the Western States were forced to take only a few years ago. A happy community of circumstances now invites the immigrant to our shores, and if he comes with the means and desire to make a farm home for himself, his chances of success are greater than in any other part of the world.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,
J. L. PAYNE.

REPORT OF SPECIAL AGENT AT RICHMOND, QUE.

(MR. J. H. DYSON.)

RICHMOND, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—During the last year 71 immigrants from the United Kingdom visited my office, and required my help either for situations or for directions for them to find some of their friends arrived here some years ago.

They came as follows:—

	Men.	Women.	Boys.	Girls.	Total.
From England.....	12	6	20	...	38
Wales.....	15	4	...	6	25
Ireland.....	4	4	8
Total.....	31	14	20	6	71

They all secured permanent employment on their arrival here, and they appear to be very happy with their lot.

The class of immigrants mostly required in this vicinity is that of farm servants. I could not supply half of the demands last year. It is a remarkable fact that most of the farm servants who came here some few years ago are now thrifty, and owners of fine lots of land, which they cultivate with profit and advantage to themselves. The vast and extensive slate quarries in this vicinity gave employment to every one of the immigrants from Wales this season.

The class of immigrants which reached me this season was a desirable one, and generally a decided improvement on that of previous years.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN H. DYSON,

Special Immigration Agent.

To the Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

REPORT ON THE ROUMANIAN COLONY OF NEW TOULCHA, (ASSA.)

(MR. C. E. CULLEN.)

(Communicated through Mr. T. Bennett, agent at Winnipeg.)

Q'APPELLE, 18th December, 1889.

In the summer of 1885 the German colony of New Toulcha was established about nine miles north of Balgonie. Of the thirteen families mentioned below none had more than $250 to start with—many had much less. As a fact, each two families had a team of oxen, with harness, a plough and a waggon, between them. Some had a little cash to spare, but most of them were hard up for the first twelve months. The land selected for them is well adapted for mixed farming, with plenty of nice poplar bluffs and hay sloughs as well as fairly good land for tillage. Acting on the advice given them by the selector of the land, each head of a family only entered for a homestead, thus enabling four families to be located on each section. This arrangement has tended much to the success of the colony, as it has enabled four families to build within view of each other, which has prevented that feeling of isolation so often complained of by new arrivals. It has also enabled them to co-operate more easily with each other in carrying out the work of their farms, and has facilitated the attendance of the children at school and the people generally at church. The settlers have erected a very compact and solid building, which is specially used as a school during the week and as a church on Sundays. Three years ago not an acre of land on which these families settled was broken, not a yard of fencing erected, and solitude reigned supreme where to-day the air resounds with the lowing of kine, the shout of the husbandman and the merry laugh of children; houses, barns, stables and other outbuildings have been erected, miles of fencing have been put up, and over 500 acres of land broken and 337 acres brought under crop.

I now give the names of each of these thirteen families and show how much land each has broken, how much under crop, and how much stock each possesses.

Jacob Siebold.—50 acres broken, 39 acres in crop—wheat 30, oats 5, potatoes 3, roots 1; oxen 2, cows 4, bull 1, young stock 6; mower and rake, Toronto steel binder.

F. Gintner.—46 acres broken, 43 acres in crop—wheat 25, oats 10, barley 5, potatoes 2, roots 1; oxen 2, cows 4, horses 2, young stock 8; mower and rake, Toronto steel binder.

M. Wagner.—30 acres broken, 22 acres in crop—wheat 15, oats 5, potatoes 1, roots 1; oxen 2, pony 1, cows 3, young stock 6.

P. Wagner.—20 acres broken, 16 acres in crop—wheat 10, oats 5, potatoes 1; oxen 2, cow 1, young stock 1.

Johann Siebold.—35 acres broken, 22 acres in crop—wheat 15, oats 5, potatoes 2; oxen 2, cows 2, young stock 2.

I. Kalick.—45 acres broken, 16 acres in crop—wheat 10, oats 5, potatoes 1; oxen 2, cows 2, young stock 3.

Radetski.—30 acres, 16 acres in crop—wheat 10, oats 5, potatoes 1; oxen 2.

P. Putz.—60 acres broken, 28 acres in crop—wheat 20, oats 5, potatoes 2, roots 1; oxen 2, ponies 2, cow 1, young stock 2.

G. Siebold.—40 acres broken, 26 acres in crop—wheat 18, oats 7, potatoes 1; oxen 6, cows 2, young stock 4; mower and rake, Toronto steel binder.

John Siebold.—35 acres broken, 32 acres in crop—wheat 20, oats 10, potatoes 1, roots 1; oxen 2, cow 1, ponies 2, young stock 2.

Auwiler.—55 acres broken, 37 acres in crop—wheat 20, oats 15, potatoes 1, roots 1; oxen 2, cows 2, young stock 3.

Alexis.—35 acres broken, 27 acres in crop—wheat 18, oats 7, potatoes 1, roots 1; oxen 2, cows 2, young stock 2.

A. Fechner.—20 acres broken, 13 acres in crop—wheat 7, oats 5, potatoes 1; oxen 2, cows 2, young stock 5.

Besides this each man has several pigs and a large number of fowls; some have turkeys, some ducks and geese. Herewith is a summary of their stock, showing that it has increased from an average of less than two each to an average of eight each in three years, notwithstanding the loss of several head from various causes.

SUMMARY OF STOCK.							SUMMARY OF LAND BROKEN AND IN CROP.
Settler in order above.	Oxen.	Cows.	Horses.	Bull.	Young Stock.	Total.	Settler in order above.	Broken.	In Wheat.	In Oats.	In Barley.	In Potatoes.	In Roots.	Total in Crop.

	30	26	7	1	42	106		501	218	89	5	18	7	337

Or an average of 38 acres broken, and 26 acres in crop.

The wheat will average 30 bushels per acre, or a total of 6,540 bushels; oats will average 60 bushels per acre, or a total of 5,340 bushels; potatoes 200 bushels, or a total of 3,600 bushels; barley 40 bushels per acre, or a total of 200 bushels.

Leaving out the root crop as consumed on the farm, the above crop is worth:

6,540 bushels wheat @ $1.00.....	$6,540 00
5,340 bushels oats @ 25c.....	1,335 00
3,600 bushels potatoes @ 25c.....	900 00
200 bushels barley @ 35c.....	70 00
Total.....	$8,845 00

Or an average of $680 per man. The stock I value at $3,870, or on an average of $300 per man. The homesteads I value at only $400 each, even with improvements. Farm implements, $200. The account at the end of three years then stands thus:

Average of crop.....	$680 00
Average of stock.....	300 00
Homestead.....	400 00
Implements.....	200 00
Total.....	$1,580 00

The above figures should speak for themselves as a solid proof of what can be done in the North-West if the settler only understands his work and sticks to it. All this has been accomplished in three years, two of which were unfavourable to farming in consequence of the want of rain. The estimate I have given above is a very modest one, and I have taken no account of household clothing and furniture, etc., with which all have supplied themselves on a far more liberal scale than they ever dreamt of in their former homes. How many old country farmers are $1,500 to the good at the end of three years, I should like to know? Let them only come here, I say, and imitate the prosperous settlers of New Toulcha.

IMMIGRATION WORK OF THE S. P. C. K. SOCIETY IN MONTREAL.

REPORT OF REV. R. ACTON, IMMIGRATION CHAPLAIN.

(Communicated to the Department.)

In presenting my third annual report of this branch of the work of the church, I am deeply thankful for the larger sphere of usefulness in which under Divine Providence I have been permitted to engage.

The object of this work is, primarily, the spiritual care of those members of the sister churches in Great Britain and Ireland, who, in the Providence of God, arrive as immigrants at the port of Montreal, intending to settle within the Province. Naturally, they are beset with difficulties, and the opportunity is then embraced of giving to them friendly counsel and advice. Many of our immigrants, after bearing the unusual expense of the sea voyage, land here with but little money, and unless they are more than usually spiritually-minded, the struggle for bread becomes the one engrossing object and subject of thought; their religious obligations are not indeed wholly forgotten, but they are subordinated for the time being to the more pressing temporal needs of themselves or their families. Experience has therefore shown, that in order to induce them more readily to harken to spiritual things, it is advisable to help them in material things. Speedy employment for them must be obtained; then a small house or lodgings. Sometimes it is necessary to write to the country parts in search of openings, and when successful, to assist them in getting there. Whilst our own church people claim my best attention, I have given to others, as far as possible, assurances of ready welcome, coupled, also, when time permitted, with offices of friendship and good-will. Thus the many despondent spirits that have been cheered; the many poor that have been hospitably entertained, by introducing them to our charitable organizations; the many who landed with anxious fears, because loved ones were left behind, and this was a land of strangers, yet went to their adopted homes with new light in their eyes and quickened hope in their hearts, because they had felt the touch of a friendly hand, and had listened to assuring words from a brother's lips; these and many like results have no place in my records, yet are among the most satisfying items of this work, viewed from a benevolent and Christian standpoint.

But coming to statistics, our records show that there landed in Montreal last year, for local settlement, 5,898 persons. Of these more than one-half were settled in the adjacent country parts, and the remaining portion in the city.

The nationalities were:—English.....	3,273
Irish.....	1,287
Scotch.....	397
French.....	402
Others.....	539
	———— 5,898

Their several religions were:—Protestants.....	3,829
Catholics.....	1,913
Others.....	156
	———— 5,898

Of the Protestants the great majority (about 3,000) were adherents of the Church of England. A portion of these were, however, church people in name only, and could not be recommended as such.

The distribution of families, exclusive of single persons, was as follows:—

In the city proper.....	128
On the island of Montreal.....	23
In the adjacent counties.....	78

Of servant girls—a much needed class—several superior parties were sent out by the Church Emigration Society in charge of a matron. The total number was 513. We hope to see more.

Of late, several of the ocean steamships have brought their passengers through to Montreal direct, instead of landing them at Quebec as heretofore, and thus an excellent opportunity is afforded me of dealing with the western immigrants (about 9,000) who, by this new arrangement, missed the opportunity of meeting with the S. P. C. K. chaplain at Quebec.

Owing, however, to the complete lack of landing accommodation at this port, the immigrants (with the exception of those landing by the Beaver Line) suffer much inconvenience and hardship. I am glad to say, however, that vigorous measures are now being taken by representatives of the associated charities and others, to induce the Government to remedy this deplorable state of affairs, and to provide accommodations for immigrants landing, equal at least to those at Quebec.

A noticeable feature of the English emigration this year is that it is being carried on largely through the instrumentality of the several emigration societies. This class of emigration is daily growing in favour, owing to the judicious and careful selections that are usually made by them. These societies generally take care also to provide their emigrants with sufficient landing money to enable them to pay their way, until the first wages are earned. For this purpose I have paid out to the emigrants from one society alone this season over $700.

The Church emigration societies are also doing an admirable work, by forming as they do an important link between the mother church and the church in Canada. To us it is of the first consequence that those who come from the other side should be “God-fearing and well instructed church people,” and it is one of the main objects of these societies to accomplish this. To the Rev. John Bridger, the active and efficient secretary of the S. P. C. K. Emigration Committee, at Liverpool, is committed the important work of consolidating the several parties arriving there, providing them with a chaplain for the voyage, and making many other important arrangements for their spiritual and moral welfare.

As a result of these various agencies for good, and also the withdrawal of the Government assisted passages, which were granted indiscriminately, it is not surprising that the immigrants now arriving are of a decidedly better class, and leave but little further to be desired. “The flinging upon our shores” of undesirable and worthless immigrants is happily a thing of the past.

I have again to tender my warmest thanks to Mr. Marquette, our local immigration agent, for his kindness in rendering me every facility for carrying on this work. Also to the Lord Bishop and the city clergy, for their constant interest and valuable assistance in all matters pertaining to the welfare of immigrants. Also to the Montreal branch of the British Bible Society, for donations of copies of the Scriptures; and to the Lay Helpers Association for their willing assistance.

In closing this report, while sadly conscious of many imperfections, I would yet express my great thankfulness to Almighty God for what has been accomplished, and also express the earnest hope that with the continued Divine blessing, and cordial co-operation of the clergy and laity of the diocese, this agency may be enabled to do its full share in supplying that need so long and so sorrowfully experienced: “The spiritual care and oversight of immigrants who, in the Providence of God, have been directed to the advantages of our land, and to the charge of our church.”

ROBERT ACTON,

Immigration Chaplain.

REPORT OF WOMEN'S PROTECTIVE IMMIGRATION SOCIETY OF QUEBEC.

QUEBEC, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I beg to submit to your notice the following report of the season 1889:

Before commencing the season's work, I visited the different children's "Homes" in London, Hamilton, Toronto, Peterborough, Belleville and Brockville. Was courteously received everywhere; the general request being that children coming out consigned to the "Homes," be met and any assistance they might require be rendered them. This the agent readily promised to do, and through the season has rendered assistance in various ways to numerous parties of children who have landed on our shores—many of them waifs gathered from the streets of the great crowded cities of the Old World, and brought out to Canada, provided with comfortable homes, and thus given a chance to become respectable men and women.

Ninety-three steamers have been met by the lady agents this season.

One hundred and forty-four girls who were travelling alone, besides those travelling with parties or in families, have been met and assisted in various ways.

Many who were prostrated by sea-sickness or other causes have been cared for at the "Louise Building."

We have only one death to report, that of a little child named Willie Jordan, who arrived by the "Caspian," 18th June. When the passengers landed the child was found to be suffering from bronchitis, so the family were detained at the "Building" and all that was possible done for him, but without avail. He died next day at noon.

The girls who were consigned to Quebec and who were thus under the particular care of the lady agent were retained at the "Building" until suitable situations were provided for them, and with few exceptions are all doing well.

Numbers of letters have been received from girls who were assisted upon landing; and are very gratifying, as they show that attention given is appreciated by the recipient.

Letters have also been received from the secretaries of different societies, such as "The Girls' Friendly," "The Travellers' Aid," &c., on both sides of the water, asking that assistance be rendered to girls who were being sent out.

Numbers of applications for servants have also been received, not only from Quebec, but from all parts of the Dominion; many of which could not be complied with, as the supply has not been at all equal to the demand.

Too much cannot be said in praise of the accommodations for immigrants in the new building on the Louise Embankment. The lady agent resides there, and all girls arriving for Quebec are under her personal care until provided with situations.

The agent is much indebted to the immigration and railway officials, officers and crews of the different lines of steamships, &c., &c., for innumerable acts of courtesy and kindness, without which the work would have been much more difficult.

Her Excellency Lady Stanley of Preston, accompanied by Mrs. W. M. Macpherson, President of the Women's Protective Immigration Society, of Quebec, paid two visits to the Louise Embankment—one, an official visit to the "Louise Building" on the 13th of August, and the other upon the arrival of one of the steamers, "The Vancouver," on 31st August. Her Excellency expressed herself as being much pleased, both with the accommodations for immigrants and with the treatment they received upon landing.

Mrs. Leighton and two children arrived by Steamer "Sardinian," 17th November. She was on her way to Toronto to join her husband, who had been for some time that city. When she arrived in Quebec she was found to be without means for the remainder of her journey. As the "Louise Building" was closed for the winter, the Women's Christian Association kindly took her in while her husband was communicated with. This is one of many instances in which the W. C. A. has come to the assistance of the Immigration Society, and too much cannot be said of their kindness to friendless women. After a delay of two days, word came that the husband was unable to send money for the ticket. So the ladies of the W. P. I. S. came to her assistance, furnished the necessary means, and sent her on to Toronto.

Steamer "Oregon" arrived at Halifax, 9th December. On board were four girls, sent out by Mrs. Foster, of Bristol, England, and consigned to Mrs. Corneil.

They were met at Lévis by Mrs. Corneil and taken to the W. C. A., Quebec, where situations were provided for them before they had been an hour in the institution.

One hundred and forty-eight girls have been thus met and looked after this season, 42 of whom were consigned to the sister society in Montreal. A card, with the address of the Mansfield Street Home, was given to each girl, and a letter or telegram was sent to apprise the matron of their arrival.

When I first came down to the embankment I was struck with the difficulty the immigrants had regarding the postage of their letters. I obtained a supply of stamps, which I sold to them, taking the letters to town myself to post.

Mr. Stafford kindly came to my assistance, and, applying to the authorities, a post box was placed in the building directly opposite the counter where provisions are sold to the immigrants. Upon the arrival of each steamer, I stood at the counter with a supply of paper, envelopes, post cards, stamps, &c., and the immigrants could stand there, write their letters and post them, themselves, which was a great satisfaction to them.

In many cases where they could not write, I wrote for them. From some of the steamers I have taken as many as 200 letters, but the average number from each steamer was 65.

Amount expended on stamps, &c., $169.50.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

E. BORLAND,

REPORT ON FRENCH CANADIAN REPATRIATION.

(REV. C. A. BEAUDRY.)

LA PRESENTATION, 1st September, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the report of my trip through the New England States for the purpose of studying the position of our countrymen who have emigrated there, in view of having them repatriated to Manitoba and the North-West Territories.

During the months of May and June last I visited the New England States with the intention of studying the question on the spot, and of making known the advantages of our Canadian North-West for such of our countrymen as might be desirous of returning and taking up farming.

During that visit I met nearly all the French Canadians of the following cities:—Nashua, Manchester, N. H.; Worcester, Mass; Gardner, N. Y.; Fall River, Providence, R. I.; New Bedford, Woonsocket Falls, Boston, Lynn, Lowell, Mass., and other places of less importance.

I found these places filled with French Canadians. The latest arrivals generally came from the poorest parts of the Province of Quebec, especially from the counties below Quebec.

The earlier arrivals and those already settled in the United States for some years, and known as skilful mechanics, receive generally good wages, and moreover many of them are now proprietors, and have no wish whatever to move. However, even among those there are some affected with home-sickness, and anxious to go back, with the intention of taking up farms.

Some others, although not proprietors, but who have saved money, always entertain the notion of having their children settle on good farms. This desire arises from the fact that those children raised amid the pure air of the country, soon emaciate in the impure atmosphere of manufactories. Another cause is, that the most important centres are filled with French Canadians, and as a consequence wages are all the time going down, on account of the great number of hands seeking work. At Woonsocket, for instance, a mechanic hardly gets $1.25 a day, and is frequently without work.

At Lowell, the Rev. Fathers Oblats being in want of about twenty-five men for the construction of their new church, over 400 mechanics applied for work.

Similar facts have taken place at Nashua and Worcester. If our French Canadians keep on deserting their Province of Quebec this state of affairs will every day grow worse.

The city of Lowell alone has received for its share since last year over one hundred French families, and about the same number went last year to each of the cities of Nashua, Fall River, Manchester and other New England factory towns.

The above information is correct, having been taken from the censuses of the parish priests of those cities.

There is no doubt that among the last arrivals a deduction must be made for families leaving villages who go and remain in large cities with the hope of getting work; but it is a fact well ascertained, in spite of the several political systems, and denials or affirmations of politicians, that emigration keeps on its devastation at the rate of a national plague. This disastrous stream could certainly be stopped and turned in favour of Manitoba.

Many of our people in the States acquire property in lieu of money. On account of their property some of them do not dare to return to their native place, and when they are decided to move they direct their steps towards the (American) west, being under the impression that the Province of Manitoba is a frightful country (a true Siberia), where every one of those who have emigrated has lost his time and fortune.

This consideration explains the fact that 30,000 French Canadians have chosen Dakota preferably to Manitoba.

The most stupid reports and slanders are made against our country for the benefit of Americans.

There is no doubt that the Province of Manitoba, if known in its proper light, would draw a large share of immigrants desirous of returning to their old way of living. By making this country known, hundreds of families would go there and try a future existence, and would be a source of wealth to that country whilst at the same time developing its resources.

To carry this out it is not necessary to spend large sums of money. If the Government would only be willing to appropriate a few hundred dollars to make the resources and advantages of our country known to our countrymen, and offer to them a few of the inducements made to European immigrants, a great benefit would be the result of such an action.

No. 8 of Le Colonisateur Canadien proves that the repatriated French Canadians are good colonists, and that they have as well succeeded, not to say more so, than any of the most fortunate foreign immigrants, and the money spent in favour of repatriation has been well invested.

As a practical conclusion, I humbly pray you to make our country known to our emigrated countrymen, and for that end I will gratuitously and pro patria take charge of judiciously distributing among our countrymen of the States all documents or pamphlets published by your Department, provided that postage stamps will be supplied to me. Moreover, if it is the wish of the Government, I will prepare gratuitously a summary of all questions, answers and objections, en vogue, against Manitoba, and that work would be specially for the use of the French Canadians of the United States. By having printed ten thousand copies of a pamphlet of thirty pages, which would cost very little to the country, a great practical result, I am sure, would be obtained for the future of that Province of Manitoba.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

C. A. BEAUDRY.

No. 1.

ANNUAL REPORT ON THE ST. LAWRENCE QUARANTINE SERVICE.

GROSSE ISLE.

(FREDERIC MONTIZAMBERT, M.D., F.R.C.S., D.C.L.)

Medical Superintendent.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit this my annual report for 1889.

The duties and responsibilities of the office which I hold have been enlarged this season. The inspection of the mail and other steamers at Rimouski—hitherto an independent service—was placed under my superintendence from the beginning of the season. The whole St. Lawrence quarantine service is thus rendered uniform as to administration under the one medical superintendence. This is in accordance with the recommendations made by Provincial Boards of Health and the visiting executive officers sent to inspect the service by the State Boards of Health of Michigan, Illinois and Minnesota.

The inspection service at the Grosse Isle station has been continuously maintained. The number of vessels inspected there has been 122 in excess of the number inspected last season.

Infectious disease was reported by or found upon the following incoming vessels from abroad, named in the order of their arrival: Steamship "Montreal," barque "Premier," steamships "Circassian," "Lake Superior," barque "Asia," steamships "Lake Winnipeg," "Sardinian," "Corean," "Parisian," ship "Lanarkshire," barque "Daggry," steamships "Corean," "Alberta," "Siberian" and "Grecian."

The diseases so reported or discovered were cholera, small-pox, typhus fever, yellow fever and measles.

The season on the whole was a markedly healthy one. The admissions to the quarantine hospitals numbered only 32, out of 50,879 persons inspected.

The steam tug "Champion" towed into the quarantine limits at Grosse Isle, on the 23rd of July, the ship "Lanarkshire," with small-pox on board. The tug left her there and proceeded up the river without awaiting—as the law requires—the visit and permit of the inspecting officer. A telegram to Quebec, however, caused the "Champion" to be met on reaching that city, and at once sent back to quarantine. Then the amount and circumstances of the exposure of the crew to infection from the "Lanarkshire" were carefully investigated, and action taken accordingly. This is in accord with the law for tow-boats which have communicated with vessels liable to quarantine. As a rule it is carefully complied with by tow-boat captains and agents. This failure of the "Champion" in the endeavour to evade it will probably prevent any recurrence of a similar attempt.

YELLOW FEVER.

The barques "Premier," "Asia" and "Daggry," all from South American ports, arrived at the Grosse Isle station infected with yellow fever. They were fumigated and disinfected.

The question is sometimes raised whether there is any danger from yellow fever in this latitude and climate. An average temperature of 72° Fabr. is generally held to be necessary for the development of that disease. The mean temperature during the hot season in Quebec, and Montreal especially, during a "heated term," is often higher than that which has been registered as the mean, whilst an epidemic has been at its acme in other places. In Spain and Portugal—which, like ourselves, have frequent intercourse with West Indian ports—yellow fever epidemics prevail from time to time. Thus Sternberg tells us that the city of Cadiz suffered in 1700, 1730-1, 1733-4, 1764, 1780, 1800, 1804, 1810, 1819-21. The epidemics of 1800, 1810 and 1819 were not limited to the city of Cadiz, but the disease extended to the interior, and caused a considerable loss of life in the Provinces of Granada and Andalusia, and also in some of the towns of Murcia and Catalonia, especially in Barcelona, from which city the disease was conveyed to the Island of Majorca during the last epidemic. Local outbreaks as a result of importation from the West Indies occurred in Gibraltar in 1828, Barcelona in 1870, and Madrid in 1878. An epidemic of the disease was inaugurated at Lisbon in 1856, and during the following year developed into a devastating scourge, which extended to the towns of Belem, Olivaes and Almada. According to Hirsch, yellow fever prevailed to a limited extent at Quebec in 1805, and at Halifax in 1861. Vessels arriving infected with yellow fever have caused limited outbreaks of that disease in the ports of Plymouth and of Southampton. The same thing occurred at Brest in 1856, at St. Nazaire in 1861, and at Swansea (Wales) in 1864. The mean temperature of this last city at the time was only 67° Fahr. Coming down to this year (1889) an epidemic has occurred at Vigo, in Spain. In that city and the neighbouring coast cities nearly 1,000 persons were attacked. From 10 to 12 per cent. of these persons are officially acknowledged to have died.

From such facts as these it would appear that, whilst there may not be much danger of an epidemic of yellow fever in Canada, yet to allow our ship labourers to enter and work in the hold of a vessel infected with that disease, in any of our seaports in summer, might readily lead to at least a localised outbreak. So might also the landing, of infected clothing, &c.. Acting on this belief, I do not allow any vessel with yellow fever cases on board, sick or convalescent, or reporting the occurrence of the disease on board, to pass the quarantine station until the atmosphere of her hold has been driven out by our steam fan, and she has been thoroughly fumigated and disinfected.

CHOLERA.

Asiatic cholera was reported by the S.S. "Alberta," from Iloilo, Philippine Islands, with sugar for Montreal. She reached the Grosse Isle station on the 16th September. She had had two fatal cases of Asiatic cholera, and six cases of choleraic diarrhoea at Iloilo.

As several vessels arrive annually in the St. Lawrence, and possibly others also at other ports, both of our Atlantic and Pacific seaboard, from Iloilo, Manilla and other Philippine ports, it may be mentioned that the Siglo Medico says, that between August, 1888, and July, 1889, 60,385 persons died of cholera in the Philippine Islands. The statistics being official, are pretty sure not to err on the side of excess.

This same disease has also, this summer, spread from its East Indian home westward into Persia and Mesopotamia. At this present writing it is stated to be rather abating in the regions of the Tigris and the Euphrates, but still tending to spread westward. The number of choleraic deaths in the new region it has attacked registered from the end of July, the beginning of the epidemic, to October 25, reached 6,867.

The following resolution referring to this matter was adopted at the recent annual meeting of the American Public Health Association, held at Brooklyn, in October: "Whereas Asiatic cholera leaving its usual restricted bounds threatens to advance by the same lines that it has followed in the last four epidemics: be it Resolved,—That the American Public Health Association desires to call renewed attention to this fact, and to urge that quarantine authorities on the Atlantic and Pacific seaboards and Boards of Health throughout the country make every effort to prepare for this threatening danger."

INFLUENZA.

In this connection the epidemic of influenza, which is prevailing at present in Europe may be referred to, and the theory to which currency has been given in the telegrams from St. Petersburg, that epidemic influenza is a forerunner of cholera need only be mentioned in order that it may be condemned as unfounded. It is true that an influenza epidemic has on several occasions been closely followed by a visitation of cholera. But it is also true that there have been epidemics of influenza with no cholera following, just as there have been epidemics of cholera with no influenza preceding. The two diseases are so dissimilar in causation and method of spread as to make any such sequence all but impossible. Any occasional instances of their simultaneous appearance must be regarded as a mere coincidence with no deeper significance. Epidemic influenza seems to spread by the atmosphere, either by some peculiar condition of the air itself or possibly by micro-organisms carried in it and breathed into the lungs. It is thus that it can sweep over a country with such marvellous rapidity, and strike in one city 100,000 persons within twenty-four hours, as it is stated, to have done in Paris this autumn. Cholera, on the contrary—although the micro-organisms freed from dried excreta may be carried on the wind—spreads mainly by infected water, infected persons, infected things. It follows always along the lines of human travel. Against influenza spreading through the atmosphere quarantines are useless. But cholera has never been brought to the American continent except on, and by, a ship. It therefore should be, and is, one of the diseases from which a country can be protected with certainty by efficient maritime sanitation.

AMERICAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION.

At the meeting of the American Public Health Association above referred to, I had the honour to be present as your representative and delegate. Many valuable papers were read at this meeting, and the discussions on them, and on other sanitary subjects, were full of interest. The Association is a growing one. The importance of conjoint and co-ordinate work and protection against exotic disease by all parts of the continent is fully recognized by it. The following resolution was adopted at this meeting: "Resolved, that in view of the rapidly increasing commercial intercourse and trade between this country and Mexico, Cuba and the Central American States, and the consequent growing importance of establishing and cultivating the most friendly relations between the health authorities of our own and those of the countries above named, a cordial invitation be extended to the sanitary authorities of Mexico, Cuba and the Central American States to send representatives to future meetings of this Association; that the Secretary be instructed to open correspondence with the proper authorities looking to this end."

LEPROSY.

The resolution urging preparations in case of the continuance of the present westward march of cholera has been already quoted. Another resolution was adopted requesting "Maritime quarantine officers to use the same vigilance and to hereafter enforce the same regulations regarding leprosy as are now pursued towards small-pox, yellow fever, &c."

OTHER QUARANTINES.

At the same meeting the reading of a paper by Dr. Wm. M. Smith upon "Improvements at the New York Quarantine Station" was followed by the visit of the Association to the inspecting station and the quarantine islands in New York harbour. There, at Hoffman Island we had pointed out to us the new and commodious dock, the new boiler house, kitchen, lavatories, dining rooms, dormitories, &c., and the, as yet unfinished, rooms for disinfecting by super heated steam, and at Swinburne Island the hospitals, officers' quarters, mortuary, and a crematory recently erected for the cremation of the bodies of those dying from infectious disease. I was informed that $150,000 have been expended upon these various works during the last season, and that about as much more would be required for their completion.

The State of Louisiana is laying out and fitting up a new and enlarged quarantine station on the Mississippi below New Orleans. It is to have a wharf with a frontage of 400 feet, with a minimum depth of water of 28 feet. On this wharf the cylinders for superheated steam, the tanks of mercuric chloride solution, and the fans, furnaces, &c., for fumigation with sulphur dioxyde, are to be placed. The last named appliance they find it well to take off their tug, even in the smooth waters of their narrow river.

Charleston, South Carolina, has this season refitted her quarantine station with deep water wharf, with all the most modern appliances upon it.

The Congress of the United States is now spending five hundred and forty-two thousand five hundred dollars ($542,500) in fitting up national refuge quarantine stations on the Atlantic and Pacific coasts with the newest appliances.

Dr. Smith, the health officer of New York Harbour, in a report dated 1st February, 1889, says: "It is believed that the repairs and improvements of the quarantine establishment" (of New York) "now in progress and contemplated will supply all the conditions necessary to secure the country from any possibility of an epidemic of infectious or contagious diseases which approach by the sea." This assurance from Dr. Smith is encouraging.

An expenditure by the Dominion of Canada of one-half the sum that is being spent by New York would enable me to give a similar assurance as to the St. Lawrence. But as I have been reporting in season and out of season for the last twenty years, no such assurance can be given until the quarantine station at Grosse Isle is provided with a deep water wharf, upon which the modern appliances for prompt and scientific disinfection could be placed, and to which infected vessels could be brought for such prompt and scientific disinfection.

VISIT OF PROVINCIAL BOARD.

The Provincial Board of Health of Quebec paid an official visit to the Grosse Isle station on the 26th of September. The members present were Dr. Lachapelle President; Drs. Lemieux, Garneau, Paquet, Craik, and the Secretary, Dr. Pelletier. They made a thorough examination of the Station and its appliances and workings. They were able to estimate the difficulties and delays caused by our present makeshift method of endeavouring to take the disinfecting appliances out on a steam yacht to an infected vessel in the offing. One vessel, I may here remark, was this season delayed for three days lying off the station. She was promptly inspected upon arrival, but had to wait for three days until the smaller disinfecting steamer could be used alongside of her for her fumigation.

The Provincial Board subsequently issued in print a report of their visit. From that report I now submit a translation of some of its paragraphs: "The council is more and more convinced that the prolongation of the wharf, as it has already recommended to the Federal Government, is absolutely necessary, not for the inspection of vessels, which would continue to be done in midstream, but for cases where, after inspection, the entire vessel requires to be disinfected. Were this wharf built, vessels would be spared the long detention caused by landing passengers and their effects by means of yachts, as is now done. Moreover, the appliance for disinfection being then installed upon the wharf, and not on a yacht as at present, the disinfection would be performed more easily and more thoroughly, especially when the sea is high." "The prolongation of the wharf, the installation upon that wharf of the appliances for generating sulphurous acid, as well as a large reservoir containing always in readiness corrosive sublimate in solution, and lastly, the construction upon, or close to the wharf, of an apparatus for disinfection by steam, are the great improvements which will make it possible to reduce the detention of vessels to a minimum, whilst ensuring the efficiency of the St. Lawrence quarantine; and the Provincial Council hopes that the Federal Government will recognize the urgency which exists of immediately supplying them at Grosse Isle."

RIMOUSKI SERVICE.

The Provincial Board also express in this report their satisfaction at finding that the inspection of the mail steamships at Rimouski has been placed under my superintendence, and they add, "Recommandation que le Conseil Provincial avait déjà faite au Gouvernement Fédéral."

Rimouski is the lowest point to which the Intercolonial Railway follows the bank of the River St. Lawrence. It is 180 miles below Quebec, and therefore about 150 miles below Grosse Isle. There the mail steamers and some extra steamers touch to land the mails, the passengers for the Maritime Provinces, and any others who may elect to continue their journey by rail. A Government medical officer boards steamships touching there. Thirty-seven steamships were so boarded this season. If the vessel is reported "all well" he allows the landing of the mails, and of such passengers as desire to disembark there, and gives the vessel a discharge from quarantine by a permit which exempts her from subsequently reporting at the Grosse Isle station further up the river, and which is in itself sufficient to procure her Customs' entry at Quebec or Montreal. If she be not "all well" he uses his discretion as to the landing of anybody or anything at Rimouski. He may withhold a permit and send the vessel to Grosse Isle to be examined and dealt with there. The medical officer at Rimouski goes off to vessels in the mail tender. As that tender leaves again for the shore the moment the mails are transferred from the steamship to her, he has to depend very much upon the statement of the ship's surgeon, and has not time enough to thoroughly check that statement by personal examination. It was found that under this system infectious disease was, from time to time admitted into the country.

The placing of the whole quarantine system of the St. Lawrence under my superintendence was, as I have stated above, urged upon the Government by the Provincial Boards of Health, and by the executive officers who were sent by the State Boards of Health of some of the western States to inspect that system. This has been carried out this season, and I have assumed, by your direction, these new duties and responsibilities. They entail, amongst other things, my going down by rail to Rimouski from time to time, and my coming up from that place on the mail steamers, inspecting them thoroughly between that place and Grosse Isle, an interval of about ten hours. My assumption of the medical superintendence of the whole St. Lawrence quarantine system ensures two beneficial results. First, there is uniformity of administration and method, and of the treatment of passengers and vessels throughout the service, and secondly, ship surgeons now never know on what incoming voyage they will find me coming off at Rimouski with the local inspector, to accompany them for the remainder of the voyage up the river, thoroughly investigating the exactness of their reports and the actual condition of the vessel whilst doing so.

SHIPS SURGEONS.

Some ship surgeons are doubtless thoroughly reliable. But the status, remuneration, quarters, &c., and the fact that with few exceptions they have no tenure of office beyond the voyage, deter the better class of medical men, as a rule, from taking the position. My experience of this season has proved that where, from the necessarily hurried nature of the medical visit they alone expected at Rimouski, detection seemed improbable, some amongst them thought the saving of trouble to themselves and possible delay to the vessel of more importance than even the sanctity of an oath. For instance, in the case of one of the mail steamers I came up on, her surgeon took and signed the oath before Dr. Gauvreau and myself off Rimouski to the truth of his written statement that each of the steerage passengers on board had signs of having "been vaccinated within seven years, or of having had the small pox within that period." After leaving Rimouski I made a personal examination of the steerage passengers, working in the steerage all day as the vessel continued her way up the river to Quebec. I found and vaccinated 198 persons not protected as the law above quoted requires. A large proportion of these were adults who made no pretence of having been re-vaccinated since their infancy; and seven were children, from four months to four years old, who had never been vaccinated at all.

On several other mail steamers a similar condition of affairs was found to exist in varying numbers. Eight hundred and eighty persons in all were thus vaccinated between Rimouski and Grosse Isle.

I was further enabled by the detailed inspection thus secured to detect some cases of infectious disease in addition to those reported, and to carefully examine and suggest some needed improvements in some of the hospitals on these vessels.

The effect of my extension of duty was quickly apparent. On the second and subsequent voyages I found that the ship's surgeons, not knowing on which occasion they might find me awaiting them at Rimouski, had performed their duties carefully and well.

There is every reason, therefore, to conclude that this extension of my duties has been productive of much benefit, and has removed what was a weakness and defect in the quarantine service.

VACCINATION.

The regulations as to vaccination were, on the whole much better obeyed by ships' surgeons this season. This was especially the case on vessels which had learnt by experience last year that these regulations would be faithfully enforced at the quarantine station. Only 1,059 vaccinations had to be performed at Grosse Isle this season, a marked reduction in number from the 4,000 of last year. The further number of 880 vaccinated on the mail steamers after passing Rimouski has already been given above.

Passengers were vaccinated this year in varying numbers on the following vessels by your quarantine officers: S.S. "Parisian," "Lake Winnipeg," "Geographique," "Assyrian," "Henri IV," "Nautique," "Siberian," "Grecian," "Vancouver," "Lake Huron," "Sardinian," "Prussian," "Carthaginian," "Dominion," "Erik," "Sarnia," "Oregon," "Lake Superior," "Corean," "Toronto," "Lake Winnipeg," "Canadian," "Toronto," "Norwegian," "Nautique," "Corean," and "Texas," ship "Lanarkshire," barque "Romulus," and towboat "Champion."

Amongst these vessels the following were instances where individuals who had refused vaccination by the ships' surgeon, were induced by your quarantine officers to submit to it from our hands S.S. "Parisian," "Lake Winnipeg," "Assyrian," "Circassian," "Lake Winnipeg," "Canadian," "Toronto" and "Norwegian."

Occasional passengers who preferred a quarantine of observation to vaccination were landed at the quarantine station from the S.S. "Oregon," "Circassian" and "Parisian."

In the majority of instances under the last two paragraphs the objections were stated to me to be to the manner of procedure of the ships' surgeon rather than to vaccination itself.

VACCINATION REGULATIONS.

With regard to the vaccination regulations in our quarantine laws, my experience of their working during the last two seasons they have now been in force confirms the opinion I have already had the honour to submit, namely, that the great object to strive for is the securing of the vaccinal protection of passengers before the vessel leaves her port of departure.

There is no general compulsory vaccination or re-vaccination law in Canada.

Under these regulations the alternative of a quarantine of observation may be chosen.

It would seem, therefore, that the prevention of the introduction into Canada of vaccinally unprotected persons (who may contract small-pox after arrival) however desirable it may be in itself is not the main object of the quarantine laws on this subject.

The regulations requiring vaccination within a period of seven years, or a quarantine of observation, have for their main object—as it would appear—the prevention of the entrance into Canada of any vaccinally unprotected person who may have been exposed to the infection of small-pox shortly before sailing for this country, or upon shipboard during the voyage,—in other words who may have small-pox incubating in his system.

They are, I presume, founded upon some such considerations as the following:—

(a) The period between the contracting of small pox and the falling ill with the disease—the period of incubation—is, as a rule, about twelve to fourteen days. That is longer by some days than the average steamship voyage from Europe to Canada. A passenger may therefore take the small-pox at his home on the continent or in England, on his way to the port of departure, or whilst there awaiting to embark, and yet remain apparently well during the voyage, and only fall ill with the developed disease after he has reached his inland destination on this side. An instance of this which occurred last year may be cited as an example. A passenger by the S.S. "Parisian" arrived at Quebec apparently quite well, yet, she was in the incubating stage of small pox, contracted in Norway or England, which developed in her a few days later in Minnesota, causing an outbreak of that disease.

(b). The period of incubation of the protective vaccination is less than that of small-pox. A vaccination usually "takes" on the third or fourth day. By the eighth day the vaccine vesicle is completely developed, with its areola, the "zone of safety."

(c). When this stage of the vaccine vesicle can be reached before the termination of the period of incubation of small-pox the attack of that disease, otherwise about to declare itself, may be averted.

(d). Even when this stage of the vaccine vesicle is only reached after the actual appearance of the eruption of small-pox the attack of that disease may be modified or aborted.

It is evident, therefore, that the earlier we can secure the vaccination of passengers, the more complete will be the protection for them and for this country.

Vaccination during the voyage cannot be depended upon to prevent the development of small-pox from reception of its infection shortly before embarkation, unless it be performed the first day or two after sailing. If postponed by the ships' surgeon on account of other duties, or to allow the passengers to get over their sea-sickness, if only done late in the voyage, just to enable the ships' surgeon to make oath truthfully that it has been done, or a fortiori if only done at quarantine at the port of arrival, it may modify the severity of the attack, but it cannot be counted upon to prevent its occurrence.

My experience of the two years now last past, during which these regulations have been in force, has proved the well nigh invariable usage of ship's surgeons alike on our mail, and other passenger steamships to be the postponement of the examination, and of such vaccination as they may do, until the steamship is in the comparatively quiet waters of the Gulf—that is to say, until a day or two before the vessel is due at the quarantine inspecting point, the excuse usually given being that the recovery of the passengers from their sea-sickness had to be awaited. Personal observation has shown me that a very similar usage obtains on some at least of the principal steamships running to New York, and I am told by ships' surgeons generally that it is practically the rule for all vessels bringing passengers from Europe to all ports on this side. The difficulty of examining and vaccinating a number of passengers suffering from sea-sickness, with all its attendant disturbance of mind and body, needs only to be mentioned to be believed in; but it can scarcely be even approximately realized without having been experienced.

It may be assumed, then, that this cause of the tardy examination makes the carrying out of the vaccinal protection during the first day or two of the voyage, practically beyond the power of the ship's surgeon; and, as before stated, when postponed until later, the vaccination cannot be depended upon to prevent the development of small-pox contracted before embarkation.

To secure the protection for Canada sought for by these vaccination regulations, every proposed passenger should be examined, and protection in accordance with them established or ensured, prior to admission to the vessel, or before she leaves the calm waters of the port of departure.

The Government of England recognizes a duty to passengers leaving her shores, and to the countries for which they are so leaving her. In paragraphs 44 and 45 of the Imperial "Act to amend the Law relating to the Carriage of Passengers by Sea," it is enacted that, "No passenger ship, except as hereinafter provided (that is, where no medical man can be obtained), shall clear out or proceed to sea until some medical practitioner, to be appointed by the emigration officer, shall be satisfied that none of the passengers or crew appear, by reason of any bodily or mental disease, unfit to proceed, or likely to endanger the health or safety of the other persons about to proceed in such vessel. Such medical inspection of the passengers shall take place either on board the vessel or, at the discretion of the said emigration officer, at such convenient place on shore before embarkation as he may appoint; and the master, owner, or charterer of the ship shall pay to such emigration officer a sum at the rate of twenty shillings for every hundred persons so examined.

“If the emigration officer at any port shall be satisfied that any person on board or about to proceed in any passenger ship is, by reason of sickness, unfit to proceed, or is, for that or for any other reason likely to endanger the health or safety of the other persons on board, the said emigration officer shall prohibit the embarkation of such person, or if embarked, shall require him to be re-landed.”

A person in the stage of incubation of small-pox is certainly “likely to endanger the health or safety of the persons on board.” Every vaccinally unprotected person embarking may be in that stage from recent exposure, consciously or unconsciously, to the infection, yet there being nothing in his appearance to betray his condition, it would not be discovered by this medical inspection.

The enlargement of such medical inspection to include the examination as to the vaccinal protection of intended passengers, and the vaccination at that time—by the Government medical officer, by medical men employed for the purpose, or by the ship’s surgeon—of all passengers who may not demonstrate previous protection within the required limit, would be the best means, and indeed the only possible and effectual means that I can see, of protecting this country from the development after landing here of small-pox contracted before sailing.

An occasional case might still occur on shipboard, where the person only embarked at a late stage of the period of incubation, but even here the vaccination if performed before sailing might modify or abort the attack. And from the protection of all others having been already secured, there would be no danger of the disease spreading on the vessels.

Whilst by thus making sure of the vaccinal protection of all persons before sailing the great majority of the cases of small-pox now occurring on shipboard, and all those now occurring on, or just after, arrival at this side, would be prevented.

I beg to most earnestly recommend this subject, and the expediency of endeavouring to secure such vaccinal protection of passengers before sailing, to your favourable consideration.

RAG-WORKERS.

This disease, small-pox, is one of those to which rag-workers are exposed. In connection with this fact and referring to the difficulties so far experienced—as I have reported to you from time to time—in devising a mean of disinfecting rags in the bale, I may be permitted to cite here the rules issued by the Legislature of the State of Maine in a law entitled: “An Act to provide against the danger of the spread of Small-pox from Paper Mills.”

“Section 1. No owner, agent, or superintendent of any paper mill, where domestic or foreign rags are used in manufacturing paper, shall hire or admit any person to work in or about said mill who has not been successfully vaccinated or re-vaccinated within two years, or to the satisfaction of the local board of health.

“Sec. 2. No person shall work in or about any paper mill where rags are used who has not been successfully vaccinated or re-vaccinated within two years, or to the satisfaction of the local board of health.”

Sec. 3. The owner, agent, and superintendent in every paper mill where rags are used shall, every year, in the months of February and September, make out and deliver to the local board of health a list containing the names, ages, kind of work, and places of residence of all persons employed in or about said mill.

“Sec. 4. In the months of March and October, annually, each and every person who is employed in a paper mill shall be examined by the local board of health as to whether he or she is successfully and sufficiently protected by vaccination, and the local board of health shall, in all cases, be the judges of the sufficiency of the protection by vaccination."

The violation of these provisions is made a misdemeanor punishable by fine.

AMBULANCE.

A new and very commodious and useful ambulance has this season been supplied to the quarantine station, Grosse Isle. It is used to convey sick from the wharf where they are landed, or from the western division, where "suspects" undergo quarantine of observation, to the hospital. It replaces a worn-out ambulance waggon of obsolete pattern. It is a great improvement upon it in every way. It combines all the best features of the English, Scotch and continental models, with certain modifications to meet the local and peculiar requirements of the station service.

SEARCH LIGHT.

An electric search light for the inspecting steamer is much required. Vessels have to be boarded off Grosse Isle on arrival by night as well as by day. On dark and stormy nights this is often a matter of difficulty, not to say danger. On such nights the want of a search light has been much felt. The addition of such a light would greatly facilitate the prompt recognition and the boarding of vessels at night. It would also lessen the risk of injury by collision, or striking between the vessels. Such injury, for instance, as was mutually inflicted by your steamer "Challenger" and a Norwegian barque I was endeavouring to board in the gale of the 1st of June last. Moreover, amongst other advantages, the same engine and dynamo could supply incandescent lights throughout the steamer, obviating the present ever-existing danger of fire from the coal oil lamps. For these latter reasons the small expenditure for this purpose would seem desirable, if only as a matter of insurance against the possible heavy expenditure to follow injury or loss.

With regard to the steel cylinders required for disinfection by superheated steam, and other works and improvements of less importance at the station, I have had the honour already to submit recommendations for your consideration.

DEEP WATER WHARF.

The great deficiency and requirement of the quarantine station of Grosse Isle continues to be that of a deep water wharf. A wharf to which infected vessels could be brought to land their passengers and effects for disinfection; and on which could be placed the steel cylinders for the prompt and scientifically approved disinfection of clothing and effects by superheated steam, the elevated tanks for drenching with the mercuric chloride solution, and the steam fans, furnaces, etc., for changing the atmosphere in the holds and steerages and replacing it by one charged with sulphur dioxide. I have already in this report quoted the opinion on this subject, officially published by the Board of Health of the Province of Quebec. And I have cited an example of three days lost to a vessel from the imperfect nature of our present make-shift appliances for want of a wharf.

I can only repeat as I have done upon every possible occasion, that the deep-water wharf at Grosse Isle is the one essential, all-important, ever-pressing need of the St Lawrence quarantine service.

Until that is supplied, and fully equipped as above, the service cannot be depended upon, nor be expected to protect the country from the invasion of epidemic disease.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

F. MONTIZAMBERT, M.D., F.R.C.S., D.C.L.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE HALIFAX, N.S., QUARANTINE STATION.

(W. N. WICKWIRE, M.D.)

HALIFAX, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for the year 1889.

I am able to state that during the year there has been less sickness than usual brought into the port, in fact, not a case of small-pox or of any of the severer forms of contagious or infectious disease has been found to exist upon any steamer or other vessel; some cases of measles, mild forms of scarlet fever and of other diseases of a non-infectious character have been found among immigrants, from time to time, on their arrival, and were dealt with in accordance with the regulations as far as practicable.

It will be noticed by the subjoined list that the number of arrivals of ships at this port has been even larger than for the year 1888.

The arrivals for 1889 are as follows—

British steamers.....	371
Foreign do	68
British sail	504
Foreign do	167

To this number must be added 3,534 coastwise vessels; that is, arriving from ports within the Dominion, 316 of which were steamers.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

W. N. WICKWIRE, M.D.,

Inspecting Physician.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE ST. JOHN, N.B., QUARANTINE STATION.

(W. S. HARDING, M.D.)

St. JOHN, N.B., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for the year 1889.

I am enabled to inform you that I did not find infectious sickness in any vessel at the time of arrival at this port during the year. On board of two vessels, however, there had been small-pox before sailing for St. John. On careful enquiry in these instances I felt satisfied there was no risk from them; in fact, I found fewer cases of sickness of any kind on board of vessels which arrived during the past year than for several years previously.

It only, therefore, remains for me to inform you that I have during the year given proper attention to my duties by making careful enquiry into the sanitary condition of all vessels arriving and people in them, with the satisfactory result stated.

The number of arrivals during the year, according to my record, amounted to 1,609 (sixteen hundred and nine) in addition to coasters, which latter are not inspected.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

QUARANTINE STATION,
CHARLOTTETOWN, P.E.I., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward the report for this station for the past year. Navigation is now closed here.

I have inspected all vessels from foreign and suspected ports.

There has been no case of contagious disease. I have had no patients in the Quarantine Hospital.

The chimneys of the Hospital require some immediate repairs, as in their present state it is not safe to light fires in them.

There are also some other slight repairs required.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JAMES WARBURTON, M.D.

Acting Quarantine Officer.

ANNUAL REPORT OF SYDNEY, C.B., QUARANTINE STATION.

(W. McK. McLEOD, M. D.)

SYDNEY, C.B., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward my annual report on the Quarantine Station at Sydney, C.B., and I am gratified to be able to state that during the year now ended, no cases of infectious or contagious disease have been received at the station.

The Quarantine Regulations have been carried out and inspection of vessels from outside ports has been made, with the exception of such as have arrived from neighbouring ports, which are generally considered as coastwise.

The Hospital buildings and outhouses are in good condition, some necessary repairs having been made during the past season. There are, however, some repairs required to the wharf and road leading thereto. The addition of a small block at the wharf head, which would increase the depth of water by a few feet, is a necessary improvement.

ANNUAL REPORT OF HAWKESBURY, N.S., QUARANTINE STATION.

(P. A. MACDONALD, M.D.)

QUARANTINE STATION,

PORT HAWKESBURY, N.S., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year ending 31st December, 1889.

During the season only one vessel arrived here with contagion, viz., schooner "Ontario," from the Western Banks, with a case of malignant diphtheria on board. I had the patient at once removed to an isolated room in the Marine Hospital, where recovery took place.

The vessel was cleansed and fumigated as thoroughly as was possible under existing circumstances, and after a few days detention in quarantine was allowed to proceed on her voyage.

There were one thousand one hundred and twenty-three vessels arrived at this port during the calendar year, besides many which passed through the strait without reporting.

All instructions received from your Department have been carefully observed.

SIR,—I have the honour to report respecting this station for the year 1889.

During the past season all vessels arriving from foreign ports were inspected with the least possible delay.

The number of vessels inspected was 163. It was not found necessary to detain any of them in quarantine.

The hospitals are in good condition.

ANNUAL REPORT OF VICTORIA, B.C., QUARANTINE STATION.

(WM. JACKSON, M.D.)

QUARANTINE STATION,
VICTORIA, B.C., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I beg to forward my annual report for 1889. The American steamer "Premier" arrived at this port January 7th from Puget Sound, via Vancouver, B.C., with one case of small-pox, whom I at once removed to the Quarantine Station; all the passengers and crew had been vaccinated at Vancouver, of which I satisfied myself by inspection. The case of small-pox proved a mild one and was discharged at the proper time. After the necessary cleansing and disinfection I discharged passengers and ship from quarantine on the 11th January. Mr. Brown, caretaker at the hospital, has applied for and received leave of absence on account of sickness, he having provided a substitute.

No. 10.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE LAZARETTO, TRACADIE, N.B.

(A. C. SMITH, M.D.)

NEWCASTLE, N.B., 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report on the Tracadie Lazaretto for the year just ended.

There are now in the Institution twenty persons suffering from the dread disease, leprosy, nine males and eleven females. Since my last report five new cases were admitted, one being from Cape Breton, none from Tracadie, (heretofore so prolific in new cases), but four from the adjoining parishes of Caraquet and Shippegan. Three inmates died during the year.

I am pleased to again report that the general health of the patients continued good, and there was observable but little of the acute suffering peculiar to the advanced stages of the malady. Showing the primary symptoms of the disease were five persons; the rest were more or less advanced, but of the latter, not one is altogether confined to bed.

The man dismissed some years ago, as well as the girl set free last year, continue in good health; and I have to report that on the occasion of my last visit I released a patient who had also been admitted when young and on the appearance of the first symptoms of the disease. Although apparently free from the malady, I do not regard these cases as permanently cured, and shall therefore hold them under close observation in the future.

A visitor from the happier world of health to our lepers is first impressed with the thought that their life is indeed "a funeral march to the grave," overawed as he must be, by the serenity depicted on those poor faces. Yet this calmness is but the mute product of a happy change; for when in former years the Institution was in charge of a Board of Health, its inmates were an excitable and distrustful body, living without law or order, and sleeping on rude, wooden couches, infested with vermin, and scantily supplied with filthy coverings. Iron bedsteads, with clean, comfortable bedding and bed-clothes have since then been substituted; the hours of rising and retiring are regulated, a complete separation of the sexes is rigidly maintained, a watchful discipline extorted; and so the patients, feeling there is an assured and kindly help near by, are possessed of a contented mind and sustained in their hours of sadness by those consolations Charity and Religion alone can give. No attempt is ever made to leave the Lazaretto grounds without permission. One refractory individual did, it is true, escape some years ago to the United States, but he has recently returned, and assures me that he will shortly seek re-admission to the hospital. As illustrating the way many appreciate removal to their new home, I may state that the man McKinnon admitted from Cape Breton last summer, expressed regret that he had not come sooner. All this is accomplished, although the Lazaretto is an antiquated structure, with no modern conveniences; for the sisters, having a happy faculty of making the most of their surroundings, render the poor patients surprisingly comfortable.

Of late leprosy has been dying out in Tracadie, but, finding cases outcropping in the neighbouring districts, I made a special tour of investigation, and found a growing focus of the disease between Caraquet and Shippegan, tracing also from this centre several cases to other settlements, which in turn will, if overlooked, become new foci of the disease. Two other cases were found in a backwoods settlement near Tracadie, probably derived from the latter parish. As leprosy in every country spreads from centres, steps should be taken to stamp it out of these districts. On one of the visits referred to above, the Chaplain of the Lazaretto kindly accompanied me; but it was made so alarmingly unpleasant for both of us that we hoped the Government would secure the passage of an Act, authorizing the Inspecting Physician to enter the houses of suspected persons for the purposed examination, and, if such be found diseased, warn their neighbours, and, at the same time, take gentle steps towards segregation. All enforcements of the Act to be under the direction of the Department. If such an Act were on the Statute Book, it would prevent violent resistance to the discharge of a duty owed both the living and generations to come. In view, too, of the way this disease is forcing itself on the attention of the world, its seeming increase in the United States and Canada, and the growing desire of the people living in affected districts, both here and in Cape Breton, to have it carefully watched, I beg leave, most respectfully, to recommend to the Department the early enactment of such a measure.

As stated above, leprosy is dying out in Tracadie, so long its hiding-place: and, if the legal obstacle to its prompt segregation elsewhere were removed, it would soon disappear forever from our shore.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

A. C. SMITH, M.D., C.M.

Inspecting Physician to the Tracadie Lazaretto.

The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT ON QUEBEC AND THE MARITIME PROVINCES' CATTLE QUARANTINES.

(D. McEACHRAN, F.R.C.V.S.)

SIR,—I herewith submit my annual report, accompanied by the reports of the local Inspectors at Quebec, Halifax and St. John, N.B., and have much pleasure in reporting to you that no disease of a contagious nature exists in any part of the Dominion among live stock, and that very satisfactory progress is being made by breeders in improving their stock as well as in feeding and general management of them.

POINT LEVIS CATTLE QUARANTINE.

Owing to a combination of circumstances, particularly the falling off of the demand for imported stock in the Chicago market and the prevalence of disease in Great Britain, importation at this quarantine was less than the previous season:—

	1888.	1889.
Cattle	198	140
Sheep	1,994	609
Swine	77	70
Total.....	2,269	819

Of these animals 641 were for Canadian importers and 178 for United States importers, viz:—

	Canada.	United States.
Cattle	140	...
Sheep	431	178
Swine	70	...
Total.....	641	178

One hundred and sixteen cattle were for the ranching district of Alberta, North-West Territory.

The following schedules show the numbers and breeds imported, condensed from the more extended ones furnished by Mr. Couture, Superintendent of the quarantine hereto appended.

CATTLE.

Breeds.	Bulls.	Cows.	Calves.
Hereford	1
Shorthorn	2
Cotentine (French).....	1	2
Kerry	1	3
Jersey		6
West Highland	2	21	1
Polled Angus	6	93	1
Total	13	125	2

SHEEP.

Breeds.	Rams.	Ewes.
Shropshire	47	453
Cotswold	19	25

Total	79	530

SWINE.

Breeds.	Boars.	Sows.
Yorkshire	7	19
Berkshire	22	17
Tamworth	1	4
Total	30	40

I beg to report that with the exception of one animal slaughtered on account of being affected by tuberculosis, all were discharged as free from contagious disease.

With one lot of cattle which were observed to cough and have a variable temperature, special precautions were taken as to their isolation, and two cheap heifers were placed in contact with them, but fortunately it proved that it was merely some slight bronchial affection due, no doubt, to draughts or variable temperatures on the voyage. They were detained four months in quarantine and are now about to be discharged as perfectly healthy.

I have much pleasure in reporting that the duties of inspector by Mr. Couture and caretaker by Mr. W. Welch have been most satisfactorily conducted by them and the station is kept clean and its general efficiency maintained.

EXPORTATION OF LIVE STOCK.

The following returns of inspection of animals for exportation refer only to the port of Montreal and for exportation to Great Britain only, and has no reference to the exportation of animals to United States, which is of itself a large and important branch of commerce.

I have much pleasure in reporting that notwithstanding the large increase in the numbers of animals inspected, your inspectors failed to discover a single case of sickness of any kind in them—thus showing in a marked degree the healthfulness of animals in the Dominion—as these animals were drafted from different parts of Canada, from the Atlantic to the Pacific Ocean.

EXPORTATION TO GREAT BRITAIN.

Port	Cattle.	Sheep.
Montreal	85,053	58,983

MONTHLY SHIPMENTS.

	Cattle.	Sheep.
May.....	11,356	203
June.....	9,458	1,996
July.....	12,723	16,861
August.....	15,707	15,441
September.....	13,798	8,439
October.....	14,096	10,822
November.....	7,915	5,221
Total.....	85,053	58,983

I have much pleasure in reporting that the operations in cattle proved profitable to the shippers, notwithstanding the high rates of freight which ruled during the season.

The quality of the cattle also continues to improve, breeders, feeders and shippers are realizing by experience that none but well-bred and judiciously selected cattle will command the top prices in British markets, and are acting accordingly.

There is yet much room for improvement, and when the question is looked at from an economic point of view it will be seen that well bred-cattle consume less food relatively, give larger results, and always command the highest price in the market. Our farmers therefore cannot be too frequently or strongly urged to improve their stock by using pure-bred bulls only.

Owing to a temporary depression in the western markets for thoroughbred bulls they can be bought cheaply in Canada, and our stock-breeders should by all means take advantage of this circumstance to secure improved bulls to breed up their herds.

EXPORTATION OF RANCHE CATTLE.

The wholesale production of cattle of considerable merit as regards quality, form and condition on the ranches in Alberta is making satisfactory progress, and had it not been for the fact that space on the steamships was difficult to procure, owing to the increase of eastern shipments, fully 5,000 would have been exported.

The shipments were made by the ranche companies themselves. For the above reason, they were delayed to the end of the season, and not only encountered rough weather, but went into a crowded and consequently depressed market; yet, in face of high freight rates and a bad market, such was the quality of the cattle, that they realized prices which afforded a satisfactory profit to the producers.

In this connection I would venture to suggest, that an effort should be made to bring these cattle to market earlier in the season. The time occupied in transit from the shipping point on the railway to Montreal (over ten days) should and can easily be reduced to six and a-half or seven (the distance is only 2,333 miles); dryer and more comfortable yards should be provided at the stock yards here, and an effort should be made by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to promote this industry which is destined to become in the not far distant future one of Canada's greatest commercial industries. So far the stockmen of Alberta have no reason to compliment the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway on the facilities afforded by them in the transportation of their stock. However, it may be but fair to say that improvements are promised before the next shipping season arrives.

SHIPMENTS FROM MANITOBA.

Owing to there being a large surplus of cattle in Manitoba several thousands were shipped via Montreal. It is much to be regretted that the Manitoba cattle as a whole are inferiorly bred, coarse and consequently inferior, and are not calculated to impress dealers favourably. Yet it is a fact that there are several herds of thoroughbred cattle, including Shorthorn, Polled Angus, Hereford and Galloways, in the Province, from which breeding sires can be drawn for the improvement of the herds. The soil and climate of Manitoba are admirably adapted to cattle raising, which on all the farms can be made a profitable addition to the production of cereals, as well as affording winter employment for the men on the farm, and yielding manure for the crops.

EXPORTATION FOR FIVE YEARS.

Year.	Cattle.	Sheep.
1885.....	69,158	38,534
1886.....	64,555	94,297
1887.....	64,621	35,473
1888.....	60,828	46,167
1889.....	85,053	58,983

By the above schedule it will be seen that there is an increase of 24,225 cattle and 12,816 sheep over the preceding year.

I have much pleasure in reporting that, owing to the superior advantages of the St. Lawrence route for shipment, and the excellence of the steamers, and carefulness of shipowners and agents to carry out any suggestion made by your inspectors with reference to space and ventilation, the mortality of Canadian animals at sea continues to be very light, and, as a rule, the condition in which the animals land in Britain is very satisfactory.

I would however suggest that an effort should be made, by both shippers and ship agents, to provide better attendants to feed and care for the cattle at sea. This is really the weak point in this trade, and one which must be improved by some means, if the shipments of live stock are to reach the British markets in the best possible condition.

I have much pleasure in reporting that the duties of inspection were well and satisfactorily conducted by Inspectors M. C. Baker, V.S., and Charles McEachran, V.S., assisted by Mr. John M. Parker, V.S.

INVESTIGATIONS OF REPORTED DISEASES THROUGHOUT THE DOMINION.

I have much pleasure in reporting that with the exception of a few cases of tuberculosis in different parts of my districts, some cases of black quarter in calves, and a few cases of Pictou cattle disease, no disease of any kind has prevailed in any part of the Dominion during the past year; consequently, your inspectors have not been called upon to investigate disease.

QUARANTINES OF HALIFAX AND PICTOU, N. S.

As will be seen by the report of Inspector Mr. Wm. Jakeman, V.S., there were no exportations of cattle from Halifax, and but ten head of cattle were imported and quarantined at the station near Dartmouth.

PICTOU CATTLE DISEASE.

Owing to occasional reports having been sent to the Department that Pictou cattle disease was re-appearing, it was decided to send Mr. Jakeman to visit the district and make a report. In consequence of a few cases having been discovered he was subsequently instructed to establish a temporary station and to purchase a few healthy cattle and cause them to cohabit with the diseased ones, to prove or disprove its contagiousness. Such was the scarcity of cases that he had to wait for a month to obtain subjects for experiment.

So far as he has reported, three weeks after contact and inoculation the disease did not seem to be communicated.

There have been no other cases reported up to 16th December, and only one case to the 8th of January.

I have much pleasure in reporting that the duties of inspector by Mr. Jakeman and caretaker by Mr. Hyde have been very satisfactorily conducted by them.

October 13.—Per steamship "Caspian," 1 Clydesdale stallion, en route for Prince Edward Island.

November 24.—Per steamship "Circe," 27 Clydesdale mares and stallions, in transit for Manitoba.

In addition to the above, by request of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, of 20th July, I visited the counties of Pictou and Antigonish, N. S., to examine cattle said to be sick with Pictou cattle disease and, upon investigation found that several had died.

July 27.—By request of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture I visited the county of Victoria, Cape Breton, to investigate a disease said to exist there, and, upon investigation, found that a number of cattle had died from what was supposed to be black leg.

October 25.—Received from D. McEachran, Esq., Chief Inspector of Stock, a letter of instructions in re Pictou cattle disease, to ascertain its contagiousness, and requesting me to proceed at once to carry out instructions.

"I visited the district, but was unable to secure material sufficient to commence operations, and reported the same to Dr. McEachran. On 6th November I received instructions from Dr. McEachran to re-visit the district in one month from date of last visit, and put my instructions into force, which I did on 24th November this time finding five well marked cases, three of which I had then slaughtered, and after hiring a barn I bought three healthy cattle, had them placed side by side with the remaining two diseased ones. I then inoculated one of the healthy animals with the serum from the abdomen of a recently killed diseased animal, then leaving them in charge of Angus McIsaac.

"December 16.—I re-visited the cattle and found that one of the diseased had become much worse, although it continued to eat. The cattle bought for experimental purposes seem to be getting fat. The ox which I inoculated is, as yet, not showing any signs of disease, other than slight suppuration at points of inoculation." There have been no other cases reported.

CATTLE QUARANTINE, ST. JOHN, N.B.

Inspector Frink, who has charge of this station, reports only two Holstein cattle were received and quarantined at this station, which, after detention for ninety days in quarantine, were discharged as free from disease. He investigated an outbreak of some anthracoid disease in sheep, as well as tuberculosis in cattle, which he says prevails more or less in certain herds in New Brunswick. Otherwise he reports the health of stock in that Province as excellent.

I have much pleasure in reporting that Inspector Frink has performed his duties satisfactorily during the past season.

ANTHRAX.

I beg to report that in consequence of various forms of anthracoid diseases, especially black quarter, continuing to appear among stock, particularly in the ranching district of Alberta, N.W.T., it was considered advisable to send some one to familiarize himself with Pasteur's method of protective inoculation.

Accordingly Dr. Wyatt Johnston, demonstrator of pathology of McGill University, who was in Germany prosecuting scientific studies, was requested to do so. Unfortunately, as explained in his report, he was unable to gain admittance to the Pasteur Institute and laboratories for that purpose. However, he had other opportunities of acquiring the information necessary, and should necessity arise Dr. Johnston will be prepared to instruct your inspectors in the methods and precautions necessary in these inoculations.

I am happy to be able to report that only a few cases of black quarter have been recently reported, and in the meantime it is not urgent to introduce inoculation as a preventative of this disease to any part of the Dominion.

AN EXPERIMENTAL STATION.

I beg to call your attention to the necessity for the establishment of an experimental station for the investigation of disease in animals. So far your inspectors have had no opportunity of properly investigating by carefully conducted experiments under favourable circumstances any of the various diseases which from time to time are met with in domestic animals. The communicability of many animal diseases to the human family is now more than guessed at, yet, so far as Canada is concerned, no provision has yet been made for the investigation and exposition of such matters of the greatest importance to public health.

I may mention tuberculosis, typhoid and scarlet fever as diseases communicable through means of milk, according to European investigators.

The various media of infection or contagion would, at such a station, be carefully studied and explained in reports, not only of animal but human diseases.

The cultivation of vaccine from live, healthy heifers, for the prevention of small-pox, as well as Pasteur's system of inoculation for various diseases, by cultivated virus, could be here studied by your inspectors and medical and veterinary practitioners.

The station would, in fact, bear the same relation to the stock industry of the Dominion as the experimental farms, which are doing so much for the advancement of agriculture generally.

I append a report of Dr. Johnson on the subject of his visit to the establishment of M. Pasteur, in Paris. It also contains an estimate of the cost of an experimental station in the North-West. An amount of $30,000 would be required for the establishment, and $2,500 a year for conducting it. The question has an importance which calls for consideration. Such a station might be placed under the control and direction of the Faculty of Comparative Medicine and Veterinary Science of McGill University at Montreal. I feel convinced, in the first place, that such a station is necessary; secondly, that much benefit will be derived from it to public health and the live stock industry; and thirdly, that placing it under the control of McGill University is a sufficient guarantee that it would be properly and economically conducted.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

D. McEACHRAN, F.R.C.V.S.

REPORT OF PROFESSOR JOHNSON.

PATHOLOGICAL LABORATORY, MCGILL UNIVERSITY,
MONTREAL, 16th December, 1889.

SIR,—According to instructions received in your letter of 6th May, 1889, I applied at once for letters of recommendation to the British Embassy at Paris, and wrote at once to M. Pasteur to obtain information as to how I could obtain permission to study the preventative inoculation for anthrax at the Pasteur Institute.

Having written twice without obtaining an answer (owing to his letters having gone astray) I went to Paris myself to make enquiries.

I found it would be impossible for me to study the methods, for reasons given below; but thanks to the kindness of M. Pasteur and his staff I was able to study the working arrangements of his institute and laboratories and obtain much general information on the subject. I find that the permission to make and sell anthrax vaccine is a monopoly under the Government. The laboratories are in the Pasteur Institute, under the charge of M. Chamberland, who superintends the manufacture of the vaccine. The business management of the monopoly is in charge of M. de Ste. Marie, of No. 47 Rue Lafitte, Paris, without whose consent no one may receive practical instruction in Pasteur's methods of anthrax vaccination.

This consent is only given to persons recognized by their respective Governments, and only after such Government has pledged itself to obtain the original seed for their vaccine cultures from the Pasteur Institute, and to pay M. de Ste. Marie a royalty of 40 centimes (8 cents) for larger animals (cattle, calves, horses), and 20 centimes (4 cents) for smaller animals (sheep, &c.). This sum to be paid for any animal vaccinated at any future time, unless, as in the case in Australia, the Government pay a lump sum in commutation, the amount based on the probable number of animal vaccinations.

As the Canadian Government had made no such arrangement with M. de Ste. Marie, I was unable to obtain his permission to study the methods of preparing the vaccine, under Mr. Chamberland.

I afterwards went to Bologne to see M. de Ste. Marie, and he stated that, in any case, it would be unadvisable, for economic reasons, to attempt to manufacture the vaccine on a small scale. The Pasteur Institute sells the vaccine ready-made for 40 and 20 centimes, according to the dose, so that the royalty demanded is equal in price to the retail price of the vaccine ready for use. M. de Ste. Marie stated that it would be impossible to manufacture our own vaccine profitably, unless the demand were over 5,000 vaccinations (i. e., 5,000 animals to be protected) yearly, and that this demand last for several years.

For the culture of the vaccine much time is required, in addition to considerable manipulative skill, and it can only be done by an expert bacteriologist's work in a well-equipped laboratory with facilities for testing its strength upon smaller animals.

The anthrax virus requires to be grown in certain media under certain conditions of temperature for definite periods of time.

Two strengths are employed, the first (premier vaccin) weaker, and the second (deuxième vaccin) more virulent. The vaccinations are made by inoculating first with the weaker, and after about two weeks with the stronger vaccine. Inoculations should be made between November and May to confer immunity during the coming summer. It will be evident that a matter requiring so much time and skill and so much outlay for a laboratory cannot be carried on profitably, except on a large scale; and, therefore, I would advise that, unless the amount of anthrax in Canada is very great and likely to continue so, the vaccine be imported ready-made from the Pasteur Institute. This would insure the getting of a reliable, carefully-made vaccine, whose use would be attended with a minimum of risk, and it could be used until it can be shown to be advantageous to cultivate the vaccine in Canada.

The necessity for caution in the matter of obtaining good vaccine is shown by a recent experience at Odessa, in Russia, where, owing to the employment of a too strong vaccine without first testing its strength by experiment, it happened that 3,419 sheep died at the first vaccination out of a total of 4,414 vaccinated.

Now, while there is no probability of any accident like this happening with the vaccine supplied by the Pasteur Institute, I hold that it would be too venturesome to vaccinate a large number of valuable animals, even with the Pasteur vaccine, without first trying it on a smaller number.

Even this cannot be properly and systematically done except in an experimental station, and to attempt to manufacture the vaccine without having such a station would be utterly impossible.

If, on the other hand, such a station were established, we would be able to get much better results than with the Pasteur method. It has been found that slight modifications are necessary in different countries and for special breeds of cattle. Thus, in Russia, when the mortality from the use of the Pasteur Institute virus was twenty per thousand in a series of 13,000 animals vaccinated, a second series, with a virus prepared by slightly different methods, was attended with a mortality of only two per thousand. Even twenty per thousand is a trifling loss compared with the ravages of anthrax, an almost invariably fatal disease in cattle. I would therefore suggest that the first step to be taken should be the building of a proper experimental station, for the following reasons:

1. It is absolutely impossible to commence the culture of anthrax vaccine without it.
2. It is unsafe to use imported vaccine wholesale, without first testing it by experiment.
3. It is probable that by experiment we may be able to cultivate a vaccine more adapted to our own stock than that supplied by the Pasteur Institute.

Besides this, the station would enable the following very essential work to be done:

1. Investigation of the preventative inoculation methods in other diseases (than anthrax) of domestic animals, and supplying of cultivated virus. Instruction of veterinarians in applying preventative inoculation.
2. General investigation of all contagious and preventable diseases of domestic animals, and study of their communicability to man.
3. The more careful study of animals under quarantine.
4. Special training of quarantine officers in preventative measures and especially in bacteriology to enable them to properly investigate doubtful cases of disease.
5. Thorough investigation of specimens of diseased organs sent in for examination.
6. Original researches.

The essentials for such a station are estimated as follow, with their cost:—

1. A few acres of ground available in the neighbourhood, say $2,000 for 10 acres.
 2. A stable properly constructed, with separate compartments capable of disinfection, giving space equivalent to twenty loose boxes, house for caretaker; laboratory—in all, $10,000.
 3. Outfit of laboratory, $1,000. Total cost for building—equipping $31,000.
- The annual cost would be as follows:—
1. Salaries—Director, caretaker and assistants, $2,000.
 2. Keep of animals and cost of animals purchased for experiment. This would depend upon the amount of work done.
 3. Laboratory expenses, $500.
- Total annual expenditure $2,500.

The whole respectfully submitted,

WYAT JOHNSTON, M.D.

ANNUAL REPORT OF ONTARIO CATTLE QUARANTINE.

(ANDREW SMITH, V.S., CHIEF INSPECTOR FOR ONTARIO.)

TORONTO, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I beg to forward annual report of cattle and swine admitted into quarantine at Point Edward during the year ending 31st December, 1889.

The numbers have not been equal to some former years, but the estimated value per head is high, showing the quality of the animals imported.

The general health of cattle throughout the Province has been good. There have been a few cases of tuberculosis in cattle investigated, also a few suffered from a parasitic disease (actinomyces).

Within the past two months swine fever has appeared in the county of Kent, and it has been necessary to slaughter a number of swine in the district of Chatham. Horses have been exceptionally healthy.

I have the honour to be Sir,

Your obedient servant,

ANDREW SMITH, F. R. C., V. S.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

ANNUAL REPORT OF EMERSON CATTLE QUARANTINE.

(MR. D. H. McFADDEN, V. S.)

EMERSON, December 31st, 1889.

SIR,—In presenting my report on the Emerson quarantine station permit me to say that the Department in particular and the Dominion at large are to be congratulated on the very favourable showing I am enabled to make of the working of the quarantine regulations during the year 1889, a year characterized by the entire absence of friction on the boundary line, thorough efficiency in preventing the introduction of contagious disease, combined with strict economy in working.

A comparison of the tables showing the number of cattle, horses, pigs and sheep imported at this point for the years 1888 and 1889, respectively, will show a very decided increase under the three first heads and a decrease in the number of sheep; and a study of the reasons for this state of things will be cause for congratulation, as before observed.

There have been three consignments of sheep, amounting to 2,635 only, whilst eighteen hogs were brought in by actual settlers. The facts are, that our farmers and breeders are more nearly able to supply the demand, whether it be that for meat or for crossing strains for the improvement of the different grades. The tide has turned and shipments eastward of live and dead meat are by no means rare, whilst our breeders now no longer look to the United States for the means of improving their stock, such in every degree of excellence being at hand amongst our own people. The fact of there being an increase in the number of imported cattle for 1889, as shown on the comparative table, is not at all incompatible with this view of the case. On the contrary, it is on this very fact that the Department is to be congratulated, as the cause for it is distinctly traceable to the instructions of the Department as to actual settlers in respect of the ninety days quarantine. In cases where stock comes from points at any considerable distance south of the boundary line, and where the existence or non-existence of contagious disease is not known with absolute certainty, the most stringent quarantine possible, amounting even to absolute exclusion, may be applied without fear of hardship to our own settlers. To preserve us in our present happy immunity from the dread scourge of pleuro-pneumonia, even the latter measure is justifiable, if not commendable.

On the other hand, however, we have the now rapidly increasing stream of discontented and disappointed settlers in northern Dakota and northern Minnesota flowing to the boundary line and seeking admission to Manitoba and the Canadian North-West with the remnant of their stock, oftentimes their sole remaining possessions. Many of these people are Canadians seeking repatriation after a bitter experience of the wiles of the American emigration agent, by whom they were plausibly detained whilst en route from Ontario to the Canadian North-West through American territory; and their stock is either what remains of what they brought from their old homes or the progeny of such stock. To such as these, a ninety days' quarantine amounts to absolute exclusion. Their mainstay and the means to begin life anew lies in their stock. It is known that the States referred to, from whence they come, are perfectly free from all contagious disease. How, then, can they submit to be deprived of the use of them for three months, besides having to pay for their maintenance during the period of enforced idleness? To dispose of them by sale before leaving for another country would be equivalent to giving them away. That the above is a simple matter of fact statement of the case is amply shown by a comparison of the number of cattle crossing the boundary in 1888 with the number crossing in 1889.

Whilst the stringent ninety days quarantine was rigidly enforced, in 1888, only eleven cattle crossed the boundary line in my district; in 1889, with a relaxed quarantine for actual settlers, in the case of cattle brought from points near the boundary where no disease is known to exist, the number rose to 151—and, of course, many of the horses, &c., were the property of these desirable immigrants—indeed, much of the increase under this head is due to them.

And thus, whilst I advocate strict quarantine, even amounting to absolute exclusion, for all cattle coming from more or less unknown parts of the United States, the property of speculators,—yet, in the case of bona-fide settlers desiring to improve their prospects by taking up land in the Dominion, bringing the whole of their worldly goods with them, and coming from parts of northern Dakota or northern Minnesota (with which districts I am acquainted by actual contact in the exercise of my profession of veterinary surgeon), a strict inspection at the point of entry and short quarantine detention, I respectfully submit, is sufficient, especially as we have the additional safeguards, adopted by the Department, of an affidavit from the intending settler and the inspector's certificate to the Customs. Under these conditions, and with the elastic quarantine regulations promulgated by the Department for the past year, 1889, immigration from the United States has increased, and there has been an increase in the number of cattle, horses and pigs therefrom distinctly due and traceable to the administration of the said quarantine regulations, and this without the introduction of contagious disease in any form. My district is, and has been during the past year, absolutely free from contagious disease.

The disease of glanders amongst horses on the American side is even more prevalent than at the period of my last report; whilst on our own side stock and horses are in remarkably good health.

No. 14.

ANNUAL REPORT OF NORTH-WEST CATTLE QUARANTINE AND CATTLE INSPECTION.

(MR. THOS. A. WROUGHTON.)

FORT MACLEOD, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit this my annual report of quarantine operations for the year ending 25th November, 1889.

During the early part of the year I distributed the circulars I received from the Department in reference to the disposal of all carcasses of animals which had died of "black quarter" amongst the ranchers throughout the district, and seriously impressed upon them the necessity of carefully carrying out the instructions contained therein and the benefit they would derive by so doing.

The disease is enzootic in its nature—that is, it exists in certain localities and results from climatic or other agencies peculiar to that district. What those agents are it is impossible to say. The disease existed to some extent last year, when quite a number of young stock died. The older animals are much more free from the disease, and it is not nearly so fatal with them. I might say that all animals coming under the influence of the contagion for the first time, whether old or young, are liable to contract the disease. The reason that it is principally confined to young stock is due, in districts where the disease exists to any extent, to the fact that the older animals, when young, contracted the disease in some mild form, or may have had repeated attacks, which renders them in mature life exempt from the disease, even when inoculated.

This I consider a strong argument in favour of inoculation, and should the disease continue I think it would be advisable to supply stockmen and ranchers with the means of inoculating, and also to instruct them in the method of operating.

There is no doubt that a large percentage of the deaths this season amongst the ranche stock have been due to "black leg," but there is a tendency to attribute all deaths to this cause, which has given an erroneous impression as to the prevalence of this disease. I might just say that there is no occasion for undue alarm.

In districts which suffered to a considerable extent last year very few cases have been reported, while in districts which were free last year quite a loss has been sustained this.

The only part of the district in which the disease exists at present to any extent is in the vicinity of Pincher Creek. This section of the district last year, when the disease was most prevalent about Belly River, Willow Creek, and the south and east of the Porcupine Hills, was entirely free. They have, however, lost this summer and fall quite a number of calves—one man especially, a Mr. Sexton, having lost some seven or eight. I made a post mortem on one of his calves, and found death to be due to "black quarter." I advised him strongly to destroy all carcasses, and to isolate any calves which appeared to be ailing and out of health. I also instructed him as to subsequent treatment.

The disease seems to have originated somewhat suddenly in this country, and must have arisen de novo, and in my opinion is likely to disappear as suddenly as it appeared, much in the same manner as it did in Montana.

Reports were circulated that pleuro-pneumonia had made its appearance in the vicinity of Pincher Creek. I at once visited that portion of the district, and found no cause for the rumors—simply proving cases of "black leg."

The calf crop this year has been exceptionally good, and despite the losses from anthrax and other causes will, I believe, exceed the average. The past season has been unusually dry; however, the feed has been fair on the different ranges, and the cattle and horses are in good condition for passing the winter. Considerable trouble was experienced in securing hay for winter use in some parts of the district.

I am pleased to report that no contagious or infectious disease exists among cattle or horses, with the exception of a few losses caused by "black quarter," as above mentioned.

Typhoid influenza, which carried off quite a number of horses in the Milk River district in the summer, of 1888, and which was brought over to this side of the lines by some stray horses from Montana, U.S., has entirely disappeared, no cases having occurred this season. I made a special trip along the border during the summer to make certain that this disease had obtained no foothold in this country, and am pleased to state that I did not find a single case.

The settlers in the Macleod district are all more or less interested in cattle and horse-raising. Exclusive of the large ranching companies, there are many large private herds. The stock generally is of a good grade. The breed is fast being improved by the importation of superior and thoroughbred stock from the Eastern Provinces and other places.

A great improvement is noticeable in the quality of the horses on the different ranges, showing that the imported stock is having a telling effect. There is a good demand for first-class animals.

The shipments of stock this season to eastern points, and to the English markets, is fully up to the average, and fair prices have been obtained.

There was quite an accession of settlers this year, the majority being Mormons, who settled at the Mormon colony at Lee's Creek and at Spring Coulee. The Mormons have turned out this year a large quantity of dairy produce, for which there is a ready market here, and are greatly increasing their facilities for a large output of both butter and cheese next season. The settlers throughout this district are generally of a superior class, and are hopeful of a great future for this part of the North-West.

I attach hereto a list showing the number and different kinds of stock examined by me during the year as quarantine officer.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

THOS. A. WROUGHTON,

Veterinary Inspector, N.W.T.

No. 15.

ANNUAL REPORT OF FORT MACLEOD CATTLE QUARANTINE.

(MR. R. EVANS, V.S.).

FORT MACLEOD, ALBERTA, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I arrived in Macleod on the 10th October, and was occupied a few days in getting settled.

I then visited the quarantine ground in company with Mr. Wroughton, V.S., who, in the kindest and most courteous manner, gave me all the information he could in connection with my duties. We drove over the grounds together, and he pointed out to me all the cattle then in quarantine.

The condition of the cattle appears excellent.

I will, however, be more familiar with the requirements of the quarantine before spring, and as there will not be many cattle entering before that time, I will have ample opportunities of learning what may be done in that direction.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

ROBT. EVANS, V.S.,
Quarantine Inspector.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

No. 16.

REPORT OF MANITOU CATTLE QUARANTINE.

(MR. M. YOUNG, V.S.)

MANITOU, 6th January, 1890.

SIR.—In obedience to your instructions of the 9th ult., I have the honour to forward herewith a report of all inspections made by me of live stock crossing the frontier into this Province at the following points, viz.: Deloraine, Killarney, Manitou, Morden and Plum Coulées up to the 31st December, 1889. So far I have found all the cattle inspected to be free from any contagious disease or any suspicion thereof, and I believe in all cases they have been brought from localities free from contagious diseases among cattle. On the 11th of October I found it necessary to order the return of a broncho horse over the frontier on account of glanders. At the same time I quarantined another horse on account of his having been in dangerous contact with the diseased animal, but on re-inspection, no suspicious symptoms being developed, he was released.

On the 23rd of December I inspected a horse at Plum Coulée, which had been admitted at a point on the boundary south of that place, on or about the 1st of the same month (December) without inspection. I found the animal to be suffering from glanders, and caused him to be destroyed and the carcass buried.

From statements made by settlers who have already come in from the States, and from other reasons, there is every indication that there will be an extensive immigration from Dakota to this Province next spring, particularly from Bottineau, Devil's Lake and St. Johns, and judging from what I have seen of them I would venture to say, that although very few are able to bring in any capital, they will very generally make good settlers.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

M. YOUNG, V.S.

Government Inspector.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

STATEMENT of Inspections made by Mr. Young, V.S., Inspecting Veterinarian, up to 31st December, 1889.

No. 17.

ANNUAL REPORT OF TRANSIT OF UNITED STATES LIVE STOCK.

(MR. L. SLATER.)

St. THOMAS, 31st December, 1889.

SIR,—I beg leave to forward my ninth annual report on the transportation of United States live stock in transit and in bond, and passing through St. Thomas from Windsor to Buffalo by the Michigan Central, Canada Division, and also by the Grand Trunk Loop Line, Southern Division, from Windsor to Buffalo, and also from Point Edward to London, and south to St. Thomas via the Port Stanley Branch, and east on the Loop Line to Buffalo.

THE MICHIGAN CENTRAL, CANADA DIVISION, has had a very successful year in the carrying of United States live stock in transit and in bond from west to east through Canada during the year, inasmuch as there has been a large increase in the number of cars of cattle that have passed, over the previous year, and all have gone safely through without accident of any kind during the year. The trains have passed through with despatch and the rolling stock in use on this route is somewhat improved by patent couplings and air brakes attached to all trains carrying cattle; these trains make good time through Canada to Buffalo, where the live stock is unloaded and cars disinfected and returned west to be loaded again, all being Michigan Central Railroad Company cars, and all of one pattern, so as to work together on the same trains.

Hogs by this Route.—We had the J. P Squires & Co. hog trains passing east by this route during the first four months in the year, and the number of cars of these hogs that passed during that period was 2,630, then we saw no more of them until September, when we had 131 cars during the month, and on the last three months of the year we had 26 cars of these hogs during each month, making in all 2,839 cars. These hog trains are fitted up with all the latest improvements, such as patent couplings and air brakes, and pass east to New Cambridge, Mass., by way of Montrose. Other hogs that have passed by this route during the year: There has been an increase over the previous year, but I cannot report much improvement in the class of rolling stock in which these hogs are carried from Windsor to Buffalo, where they are unloaded and cars returned, when they have been disinfected, to the west for more hogs. All hog trains have passed safely and without accident during the year.

Sheep.—There has been a larger number of cars of sheep and lambs passing east by this route than in the previous year. There is not much change in the kind of rolling stock that these animals are carried in from west to east. They are mostly loaded in double deck cars of the old style. In some cases they are loaded in the single deck cars, and average about 160 head of sheep to the car. All cars of sheep do not go to the East Buffalo live stock yards; a good many cars of sheep that pass this point going east enter the Eastern States at Montrose. All have passed safely during the year, except one train, which came to wreck at Stevensville, thereby killing 84 head of sheep. The cause of the accident was a misplaced switch.

Horses.—The horses passing east by this route are all shipped in horse palace cars, which makes it much safer, as these horse palace cars are provided with stalls, and feed boxes, and water, so that the horses are fed and watered en route and have no chance to kick.

Live stock mixed, in car loads, passing east by this route, such as hogs and sheep, and a few young calves, all in the same car, have largely increased judging from the number of cars that have passed during the year; also live poultry on flat cars and in crates to hold two dozen chickens. We have had an average of 20 cars of live poultry passing east by this route per month. It is picked up in the western States and shipped by dealers to New York and Hoboken markets. There have also passed during the year 15 cars of mules to the east, and altogether this company has had a very successful year in the handling and transportation of United States live stock in transit and in bond, and passing through, not having an accident to a train carrying United States live stock during the whole year, and all trains are well appointed—have duly appointed guardians on all.

THE GRAND TRUNK LOOP LINE, SOUTHERN DIVISION, has had a very successful year in the transportation of United States live stock, in transit and in bond, from Windsor to Buffalo and from Point Edward via London, and south on the Port Stanley Branch to St. Thomas and east to Buffalo; but their shipments of live stock by this route were very light for the first four months in the year, whilst in the month of May the numbers increased, mostly in cattle. These United States live cattle are passing in a new kind of car, improved, and known as the stable palace car, and fitted up with air brakes and patent couplings, and are passing through in transit on fast time with 24 cars to the train.

Hogs.—This company have handled a good number of cars of hogs by these combined routes. These hogs are carried in the old kind of rolling stock, and are passing through from west to east, a few cars on a train, nearly every day in the year.

Sheep.—There have been a great many cars of sheep passing by this route, mostly in double-deck cars; also a large increase in the number of cars of live stock mixed, such as hogs and sheep and calves.

Horses.—The number of cars of horses that have passed show a small increase over the previous year. Live poultry passing through by this route shows a large increase over the previous year. This company has paid great attention to the carrying of live stock through Canada, and thereby has reduced the business to a good practical system, so that they have not had an accident of any kind to report during the whole year.

MICHIGAN CENTRAL, CANADA DIVISION, AND GRAND TRUNK LOOP LINE, SOUTHERN DIVISION.

Local shipments of live stock from local points on the respective railroads, and centring at St. Thomas.—I enclose a table showing the number of cars of each kind of live stock that we have shipped from this port during the year. The Michigan Central, Canada Division, ship to Montreal via the Canadian Pacific, and also to Toronto.

Michigan Central, Canada Division.—Shipments of local live stock from local points in Canada to Buffalo, show a large increase in the number of cars that have been shipped from local points to Buffalo, mostly sheep and lambs, also local shipments of local live stock, mostly sheep, by the Grand Trunk Loop Line, Southern Division, show a good business has been done from local points to Buffalo by these routes; all have passed safely and without accident during the year. All of which is respectfully submitted.

I have the honour to be Sir,

Your obedient servant,

L. SLATER,
Inspector.

The Honourable
The Minister of Agriculture,
Ottawa.

M. SUTHERLAND,

Dominion Government Immigration Agent.

VANCOUVER, 31st December, 1889.

A N N E X

TO THE

REPORT OF THE MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE
FOR 1889.

CANADIAN IMMIGRATION AND EMIGRATION.

SIR,—In considering the relations of the figures of Immigration from the published records kept since Confederation, it should be borne in mind that no attempt has been made to furnish the corresponding figures of Emigration; and there is now no mode by which these can be ascertained. But if the totals of the Ins and Outs by every Canadian railway and steamship line carrying passengers were obtained, the result would be the net Immigration or Emigration.

CANADIAN EMIGRATION AS SHOWN BY UNITED STATES CENSUS.

The figures established by the decennial censuses of the United States, as compared with corresponding facts in Canada, throw much light on the subject, and present points of great interest.

The following tabular statement shows the numbers of "British American nativities," as enumerated by the United States census at four decennial periods:—

British Americans in United States (U. S. Census volumes.)

Years.	Numbers.	Numerical Increase.	Increase per cent.
1850	147,711
1860	249,970	102,259	69·22
1870	476,572	226,602	90·65
1880	710,575	234,003	48·19

It appears from this statement that the period of greatest activity in the emigration from Canada, in relation to population, was between the years 1860 and 1870. The fact is also established that there was in the United States in 1880 the number of 710,575 persons born in British America, a figure equal to 16·40 per cent. of the population of Canada, at that time.*

It appears, on the other hand, that the total number of persons not born in Canada, but living in it—that is, immigrants, as found by the census of 1881, was 609,318; figures equal to 14·08 of the population, as enumerated.

I assume the substantial correctness of both the recorded enumerations. But I think it well to say that, if there is likelihood of either being in excess, it is that of the United States, for the reason that the enumerators were paid simply by the tale of heads, while in Canada such mode of payment was thought by Dr. Taché to be a strain of temptation too strong to be put on them, the numbers of persons recorded by each census enumerator in Canada being only one of the grounds on which payment was made for services, and care was taken to put that in such a way as not to be an inducement to exaggeration.

It may be generally stated that the immigrants to Canada, as shown by the census figures, are a set off, or counterpoise to the emigration of Canadian "nativities" to the United States; but the immigration is not, as has been contended, a simple substitution, or replacement, in the sense that it occupies the place of the out-goers. The records furnish sufficient proof of this, as I will presently show.

It is plain, from a study of the facts, that the movement of Canadian "nativities" to the United States, as shown from the four decennial census records above recited, has been in obedience to what it is not too strong a term to say is a law of population, which is common to the continent; and a law, moreover, that has equal force in the agricultural counties of England.

EMIGRATION FROM STATES IN SIMILAR POSITION TO CANADA.

To substantiate this position I will first take emigration from States in corresponding position to Canada, to the newer Western States, as established by the United States Census of 1880. I select what is termed the North Atlantic group of States. The emigration of "native-born," or citizens from the States named, was as follows; the percentage of such emigration to population in each of the States being as follows:—

*Emigration of Native-Born United States Population from the following named States by United States Census, 1880.

	Numerical.	Per cent.
Maine.....	182,257	24
New Hampshire.....	128,505	35
Vermont	178,261	41
Massachusetts	267,730	20
Rhode Island.....	49,235	24
Connecticut.....	140,621	26
New York.....	1,197,153	25
New Jersey.....	180,391	20
Pennsylvania.....	798,487	19
	3,122,640	Mean 25·65

We have thus established the fact of a numerical "exodus" from the above named nine important States of 3,122,640, or a mean of 25·65 of their total population. The great State of New York had lost at the period named no less than 1,197,153 of its native-born population—that is, 25 per cent. of the total of the State. New Hampshire had lost 25 per cent. of its population; Vermont, the depleting drain of 41 per cent.; and if we take the the central State of Ohio (which, perhaps, has the nearest analogies for the purpose of comparison with the Province of Ontario), we have the fact of an “exodus” of 941,219 of its native-born population, or 28 per cent. of the whole, at the period named.

* Note.—In this and the three following tables I have taken the calculations of percentages from "Scribner's Statistical Atlas," but I have made a general verification by comparisons with United States Census Volumes.

WESTERN STATES RECEIVING THE “EXODUS.”

It is next of interest, for the purposes of this enquiry, to see where this great “exodus” has gone. The fact is shown by the following table:—

Native-born immigration into the following named States, from the United States Census, 1880.

	Numerical.	Per cent.
Illinois	784,775	32
Michigan	445,123	36
Wisconsin	216,895	24
Minnesota	210,726	41
Iowa	625,659	46
Missouri	688,161	35
Kansas.....	652,944	74
Nebraska	259,288	73
	3,893,571	Mean 45

The United States Census affords the means of extending the figures of both the aboves tables to all States, but it is not necessary to go further to establish the fact of “exodus” from the group of States on the North Atlantic seaboard to the above named group of agricultural States. These latter had received from the former a numerical inflow of native-born population, amounting in the aggregate to 3,893,571, or a mean of 57 per cent. of their total population.

DISTRIBUTION OF POPULATION IN THE UNITED STATES.

It is next of interest, in this relation, to establish the general fact of distribution of population in the United States, which shows how enormous has been the drain from the old States on the eastern face of the continent, to the great prairie region, which has been called the Interior Valley, between the two great ranges of mountains.

Distribution per cent. of population in the United States, Census 1880.

Atlantic Plain.....	29·84
Appalachian Region	13·38
Interior Valley	53·50
Cordilleran Region.....	3·28
	100·00

Roughly speaking, the Atlantic Plain, which contained almost the whole population of the old thirteen States before the settlement of the prairie region, had, in 1880, only retained 29·84 per cent.; the Appalachian and the Cordilleran Regions embracing, generally speaking, the mineral resources of the United States in the east and west, contained only 16·64 per cent. of population at the period named, while the Interior Valley, embracing the great prairie region between the two mountain ranges, contained 53·50 per cent. of the whole population of the United States. It is thus shown that the filling up of vast areas of agricultural lands was the attraction which caused the great accession of population. This Interior Valley is the analogy of a large portion of the Canadian North-West, now commencing to be filled up.

SIMILAR MOVEMENT IN ENGLAND.

As bearing on what I have called the law of movement of population from agricultural districts, when population in them has reached a certain density we have corroborative facts of great importance from England. I recently read in the weekly edition of the London Times, of 27th March, 1889, a report of a paper by Dr. William Ogle, of the Registrar General's Office, of England, containing facts on this subject. He took fifteen of the leading agricultural counties in England, and, omitting from them every urban district with a population of 10,000 or upwards, he showed that there had been a decline in the population of these counties in the thirty years, from 1851 to 1881, of 1 per cent.; but, taking the period of fifty previous years, when the population was less dense, from 1801 to 1851, there had been an increase of not less than 73 per cent. Dr. Ogle particularly noted that there was no change in the relation of the birth rate to the death rate, the decline in population being due to migration or emigration, or both, amounting to an exodus. He especially remarked, respecting the County of Huntingdonshire, that being one which is intensely rural, that its population had increased between 1801 and 1851 by about 73 per cent., but that in the period between 1851 and 1881 there was a diminution of population of 11·8 per cent. The numerical migration or emigration from this county in the years named amounted to 25,937, arising from the fact that the land in the then conditions was not able to sustain the labour of those who left. This large exodus from that county consisted mainly of young people of both sexes. And it was, as Dr. Ogle further pointed out, the very flower of the population that left—that is, persons under twenty and thirty years of age, leaving a very much larger percentage of persons over fifty-five years, in proportion to population, a fact which has placed the population which remained in a weaker position.

MOVEMENT OF POPULATION TO UNITED STATES CITIES.

It is next of interest to notice the movement of population in the United States from the rural districts to the cities. This has been very remarkable, and it is very clearly shown by the following table:—

United States Urban Population in Cities of 8,000 and over, at the Decennial Periods named.

Years.	Total.	Urban.	Ratio per cent.
1790	3,929,214	131,472	3·3
1800	5,308,483	210,873	3·9

Years.	Total.	Urban.	Ratio per cent.
1810	7,239,881	356,920	4·9
1820	9,633,822	475,135	4·9
1830	12,866,020	864,509	6·7
1840	17,069,453	1,453,994	8·5
1850	23,191,876	2,897,586	12·5
1860	31,443,321	5,072,256	16·1
1870	38,558,371	8,071,875	20·9
1880	50,155,783	11,318,547	22·5

It is thus clearly established that the movement of increase of population in the cities has grown steadily and rapidly from the first census taken in the United States in 1790 to the last in 1880, from the ratio of 1 in 33 to very nearly 1 in 4. There cannot be any doubt that the great drain of rural population from the old States on the Atlantic seaboard would have been very much more severe if a considerable portion of it had not been retained in the cities by commercial and industrial pursuits; the urban pursuits themselves having been vastly stimulated by the demands arising from the wants of the great areas of territory opened up by agricultural occupation, a process which, while it made a serious drain of population on the one hand, caused a quickening of energy on the other. It is undoubtedly true that these industrial pursuits, thus stimulated, have been the chief cause of the attraction of the French Canadian emigration from the Province of Quebec to the manufacturing New England States; while the opening of the great areas of agricultural lands in the new States of the central region, which caused the drain from the older States, at the same time, but in a less degree, caused the emigration from Canada.

THE STATES CONTAINING CANADIANS.

Coming to the movement of Canadians to the United States, the volume of which in three decennial periods I have already stated, I have compiled from the United States Census of 1880, a record of Canadian "nativities" (eliminating Newfoundland) found in the following States of the Union, arranged in the order of numbers:—

"British American Nativities" in the following named States, Census of 1880.

States.	Numerical.	Ratio per cent. to total Emigration.
Michigan	148,770	20·93
Massachusetts.....	116,430	14·96
New York.....	83,517	11·75
Maine.....	36,989	5·20
Illinois.....	33,870	4·61
Minnesota.....	29,475	4·13
Wisconsin.....	28,808	4·05
New Hampshire.....	27,079	3·81
Vermont.....	24,611	3·46
Iowa.....	21,019	2·95
California	18,405	2·59
Rhode Island.....	18,156	2·55

States.	Numerical.	Ratio per cent. to total Emigration.
Connecticut.....	16,380	2·34
Ohio.....	16,026	2·25
Kansas.....	12,496	1·75
Pennsylvania.....	12,203	1·71
Dakota.....	10,661	1·50
	654,895
Aggregate per cent.....		90·54

In the above named nineteen States were found over 90 per cent. of Canadian emigrants at the date of the last United States Census, and very nearly 50 per cent. of the whole were found in three States—Michigan, Massachusetts and New York. The French Canadian immigration went mainly to the New England States.

It has been stated that the outflow of Canadians to the United States continues with even greatly increased energy, but I cannot see signs of that. We have an important test in the facts contained in the quinquennial census of the State of Massachusetts, taken in 1885. The figures in the following table are of interest:—

Canadians in the State of Massachusetts.

Years.	Total.	Numerical Increase.	Per Cent.
1870	66,216
1880	116,430	50,214	75·83
1885	143,768	27,338	23·48

AMERICANS IN CANADA IN RELATION TO POPULATION.

In considering the relative movements referred to, another comparison may be made: the Canadian "nativities" in the United States, according to the last United States Census, reached the figure of 14 per 1,000 of the population, while the number of persons of United States birth found to be settled in Canada, according to the census of 1881, was 18 per 1,000; and in the Province of Ontario, 23 per 1,000.

NATURE OF THE MOVEMENT OF POPULATION.

The nature of the movement of population from agricultural districts, in the United States, in England and in Canada, is not difficult to understand. If a farmer has a family of sons and daughters numbering from 5 to 7 they would not all, when they grow up, stay on the farm, for the reason (1) that it would not be able to support them according to their expectations; and (2) because they become seized with an ambition to set up and act for themselves. The sons, with perhaps the exception of one, who might stay on the homestead, would either move to obtain land for themselves or find occupations in urban pursuits; and the girls also, in the same way, to a large extent, would seek occupation or marry. It is thus we have seen that agricultural counties in England have increased in population until reaching a certain density, when it remained stationary or declined. When a population is sparse and there is unoccupied land, the land is rapidly taken up and the population rapidly increases; but when the vacant lands become occupied a surplus of population begins to be thrown off. In the Province of Ontario, for instance, we saw the population increasing with great rapidity, by leaps and bounds, when the country was filling up, from 1831 to 1861. Afterwards the increase went on more moderately, when there was less land to be taken up, and population became more dense. An emigration, then, began to be thrown off. These facts will clearly appear from a consideration of the following figures taken from the Censuses:—

Population and Increase per cent. in Province of Ontario.

Years.	Population.	Increase per cent.
1841.....	445,688	92
1851.....	952,004	109
1861.....	1,396,091	46
1871.....	1,620,851	16
1881.....	1,923,228	19

I take Ontario simply for an illustration. The same class of facts exist as respects other Provinces in Canada and individual States in the neighbouring Union. The experience of the Australasian colonies is to same effect. And Dr. Ogle shows, as before stated, the agricultural counties in England are governed by the same law of movement.

EMIGRATION NOT NECESSARILY A SIGN OF WEAKNESS.

Emigration from a State or Province, even when large figures are reached, is not simply or necessarily a sign of decline of prosperity or vitality in the population. It may be, in certain conditions, the reverse. England is a very wealthy country, with a dense population and a large emigration; New York is a very populous and prosperous State, with rapidly increasing wealth, yet it had lost by emigration or exodus from its borders, at the date of the last United States Census, in round numbers not less than a million and a quarter, or 25 per cent. of its native population; and Ontario is a prosperous and rapidly progressive Province which, when its population reached the figure of a million, and when it had begun to accumulate wealth, began to throw off an emigration, and its decennial increase dropped from the ratio of 92 and 109 to 16 and 19 per cent. It may be assumed beyond question that its realized wealth was not nearly so great when the decennial increase of population was 92 and 109 as when it was only 16 and 19 per cent., but then it had larger areas of vacant land to settle. It was in fact the accumulation of wealth and population which enabled the emigration to take place. Important improvements in agricultural methods, which may come from the Experimental Farms, or increase in urban pursuits, would imply a demand for employment of more dense population, as we have seen is the fact in England.

RELATIVE EXTENT OF EMIGRATION FROM STATES AND PROVINCES.

The relative emigration from the Canadian Provinces, as before shown, has not been nearly so large as that from the group of States on the Atlantic seaboard. We have seen by the figures established by the census returns that the emigration from the Canadian Provinces has been very nearly 2 to 1 less than that from the group of prosperous States of the American Union in a corresponding position. The inference from this undoubted fact is that the movement has not been influenced by the frontier line, except adversely. The immigration figures of last year, and particularly those accompanying Customs returns, show the beginning of a movement of a reflex current, which, judging from the past experience of the continent, will, in the immediate future, become a much more important stream, unless the vast areas of the Canadian North-West are not such as will attract settlement—which is not the fact;—or unless the movement should receive some important check.

NUMBER AND VALUE OF IMMIGRANTS AT LAST CENSUS.

The total number of persons living in Canada on 4th April 1881, who were born in other countries, such being, therefore, immigrants, was 609,318, equal, as stated, to 14·03 per cent. of the total population. In relation to this fact, although not strictly speaking a movement of population, it is within the scope of this report to show what this immigration implies in relation to increase of wealth of the Dominion. It has been stated on the authority of the Bureau of Statistics at Washington, and our experience generally coincides, that, as an average, each immigrant brings a value of $60 into the country. These 609,318 would therefore have brought $36,559,080. Counting each family at an average of five persons, we have in the number stated 121,894 families. It is a very moderate estimate to assume that the average immigrant family, successfully settled, becomes an annual producer of value to the extent of $400 each. I think this figure might be placed higher, as very often the women and children are also producers by wage earning; but simply assuming the moderate estimate I have stated, we have an amount of annual creation of wealth from these immigrant families equal to $48,757,600. If, further, we follow a method of the Washington Bureau and capitalise the value of the immigrants in Canada as shown by the census enumeration of 1881, at $1,000 each, we have the large figures of $609,318,000. The accretion of value in the Dominion, from immigration, is therefore simply enormous, and it has, undoubtedly in the past, vivified every interest and industry in the country, including the wages paid to workingmen.

INFLUENCE OF IMMIGRATION ON PERCENTAGE INCREASE OF POPULATION.

In considering the influence of the immigration as bearing on the figures of ratios of increase of population in Canada, it is well to keep in mind that the influence which moved the outflow has been quite distinct from that which has brought in the inflow; and that the inflow, as already stated, has been a counterpoise rather than a simple substitution. The outflow would have obeyed the law which produced it, if the inflow had not come. There is nothing to show and no reason to believe that the increase of population in Canada in the last decenniad would have been greater than that in the adjoining New England States of Maine, Vermont and New Hampshire. The first named of these States showed a decline in the same period of ·2 and the latter two a gain of only 5 and 2 per cent. respectively, instead of the large comparative increase of 18·97, or, in round numbers, 19 per cent. as shown by Canada. England and Wales showed only 14·34, and Scotland 11·14. per cent. increase in the same period; while Ireland, a more purely agricultural country, showed a decline of 4·69. There is no reason why the rural portions of the old Provinces, where there are no more considerable areas of unoccupied or unappropriated land open for settlement, should not have shown the same kind of movement of population as the rural districts in England, as shown by Dr. Ogle. There is no reason to believe that the vital force of the population in Canada is greater than that in the New England States or the rural districts of England. It is to the immigration, therefore, that we owe the large increase of 19 per cent. in our population during the last census decennial. If we deduct the immigrants from Canadian natives, that is, 14.08 per cent. of the whole, according to the census of 1881, we should only have an increment of 4.89, a trifle less than that of the New England State of Vermont. The difference between this figure and that which would appear if the natural increase were stated is the emigration in obedience to the law of movement before referred to.

In relation, therefore, to the two great factors of wealth and population in Canada, immigration is proved to have had a simply enormous influence; and the comparatively small cost that has been incurred in inducing and guiding it, is very trifling in comparison. It is scarcely as dust in the balance when compared with the demonstrable fact of value of result.

I have taken the figures of the immigrants found by the last census for the purpose of these remarks, for the reason that they avoid a controversy which has arisen respecting the published immigration figures of the Department; and also because these are simply returns of immigration, without including emigration; but a fair consideration of the meaning of those figures brings the same result.

MANITOBA AND N. W. IMMIGRATION QUESTION.

You desire that I should furnish you with some remarks on immigration statistics furnished by the Departmental reports in relation to Manitoba and the North-West between the years 1881 and 1886, inclusive; and that I should show, at the same time, how the figures compare with those of the quinquennial census of Manitoba in 1886, and that of the three Provisional Districts of Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta in 1885. The figures of immigration, as stated in the Departmental reports, for the years named, were as follow:—

Immigration to Manitoba and the North-West in the Years named.

1881	22,001
1882	58,751
1883	42,772
1884	24,040
1885	7,240
1886	11,599

Total in six years..... 166,403

In order to make a comparison of these figures with those of the census returns referred to, we must, to avoid duplication, have reference to the months in which the censuses were taken, the immigration figures being for calendar years. We have thus to account for nine months of the immigration in 1881, the other three months being included in the census returns; for seven months in 1886. The elimination from the immigration figures to make the parts of calendar years correspond with census years, to obtain an accurate basis of comparison, as above stated, can only be made by estimate based on an appreciation of the activity of the immigration movement during the months in question. I have, on a consideration of the facts, made an estimate, that the figures of immigration which the Department has to account for, in a comparison with the census figures according to its returns, amount to 152,962.

It is well to state that much less than the half of the whole of these numbers were set down as immigrants from places outside of Canada in the Departmental reports referred to, the remainder being simply migrants from the old Provinces of Canada. That is, roundly speaking, 76,480 immigrants, and 76,480 Canadian migrants from the old Provinces of the Dominion. The distinction is essential in considering the facts in relation to Canadian population; and it is of interest in relation to the considerations arising out of those particular figures. I take, however, the whole of the 152,962 as those which I have now to account for in a comparison between the immigration and census figures of Manitoba and the Territories.

The first point to establish to show the increase within the period referred to is the total population of Manitoba and the North-West Territories in 1881 and 1886 respectively. The figures are as follow :—

Combined Total Population of Manitoba and the North-West Territories.

1881.....	118,706
1886.....	196,424
	77,718
Increase	77,718

I may explain here that the natural increase of population is not taken into account in this report, for the reason that it was very small among the Indian and Métis population, which formed a large part of the factor of comparison for 1881, and natural increase was not a special feature of the crowds of persons who went in from that year to 1886.

I think it well to explain that in making a comparison of the populations of the Province at the two periods named, it has been necessary, for the purpose of accuracy, to eliminate the enumeration in the census district which was considered to belong to Manitoba in 1881, but subsequently ceded to the Province of Ontario, for the reason that it was not again enumerated in 1886; and I think it well further to point out, as so much misapprehension seems to have arisen, that the census of three Provisional Districts only was taken in 1885, while that of the whole of the North-West Territories was taken in the decennial enumeration of 1881. There was found in those portions of the Territories not taken in 1886, that is, in Athabaska, Keewatin, and the organized Territories, a population of 30,931 in 1881. It is clear, therefore, that these figures must be brought in to make an accurate comparison. If we allow for one year's progress of the three Provisional Districts at the rate of increase in Manitoba (and this is, perhaps, too little to allow, as it happened that the year after the Rebellion was one of very active settlement in these Territories), we shall have the figures adjusted as I have above stated them.

The issue then stands as follows :—

Immigration as stated by the Department.....	152,962
Census increase from 1881 to 1886.....	77,718
	75,244

HOW SUCH IMMIGRATION AND MIGRATION ARE ACCOUNTED FOR.

Divided as above stated, I have still to account, after deducting the census reported increase, for 37,672 immigrants and 37,672 Canadian migrants. I find the following sufficient reasons:—

The position of the Pacific Railway construction is first to be considered. The work had been carried through the Rocky Mountains and completed to the valley of the Columbia River long before the close of 1884, and a very active progress had been made, a progress approaching completion of the remainder of the railway, to the Pacific coast. I stated to the committee, from information I had received, that it was estimated as many as 40,000 persons connected with the building of the railway, in one capacity or other, went into the North-West during the period of construction, and it is undoubted that very large numbers continued to go forward with the progress of the railway work, after it passed the western boundary of Alberta and entered the Province of British Columbia, which was not included, the census returns which were taken in 1885 and 1886. I cannot say with precision, nor can it be ascertained what those numbers were, but I can allege with positiveness that they were large, and materially affected the figures of the balance above stated. Very many of those persons who entered the North-West viâ Manitoba during the construction of the railway did not stay. I explained to the committee that these had been counted as immigrants, and I still think properly so, when the fact of their character was at the same time stated. I cannot specify the number of them who left, but I allege positively that these materially affected the balance I have to account for.

It is known that settlement in the Province of British Columbia was active during the years named, and that very many immigrants and migrants went in viâ Manitoba by the Canadian Pacific Railway. We have no means of ascertaining the precise figures of these, but it may be alleged with positiveness that they were a material factor in the immigration figures above stated. The estimated population of the Province of British Columbia by the Department on 4th April, 1887, that is the first year after the figures of immigration at 31st December, 1886, was 114,286; the census records, in 1881, gave the population at 49,415. The difference between these figures is 64,827, and the consideration which arises from this fact is material to the matter in discussion. We shall have the next decennial census returns in a few months; therefore, it is perhaps not worth while now to enter into any argument as to the correctness of the estimate.

It is beyond doubt that during the years of the excitement of the "boom" in Manitoba many thousands from all parts of Canada, and from outside of Canada, went in to make their fortunes in all sorts of ways, and these were not improperly counted as immigrants. It is equally well known that after the collapse of the "boom" they again left in thousands. I cannot say how many, but the fact is very material to bear in mind, in order rightly to understand the question in issue. Such “booms” and collapses have been common in the settlement of the Western States of America, and the circumstances connected with that in Manitoba are neither a reflection on the correctness of the immigration figures relating to it, nor the suitability of Manitoba as a field for settlement.

It is well to bear in mind that a large portion of all those who returned to the old Provinces after the “boom” were Canadian migrants, and therefore they were not lost to the population of the Dominion.

It is next to be considered that the census of the three Provisional Districts in 1885 was taken during the year of the Métis Rebellion, long before the hot excitement of that event had passed away—a condition highly unfavourable even for finding the ordinary population of those districts, as it is known that many settlers left in consequence of the Rebellion who afterwards returned or had their places filled by others.

The whole of these circumstances are reasonably and amply sufficient to account for the disparity of figures between the census and immigration returns, without affording, as I have already said, any ground either for reflection on the figures or for disparagement of the country as a field for settlement. We have seen within a few months in the United States a rush of immigrants into the district of Oklahoma when it was opened up. That was an excitement somewhat similar to the Manitoba “boom,” and men under its influence went there by thousands; but when the collapse came they returned by thousands. There is nothing in that circumstance, however, affecting the propriety of classifying those who went in as immigrants; nor was yet even the exodus out a reflection on the suitability of that country for settlement.

Upon a careful review of the immigration figures, as they were reported to the Department, and the very great activity,—I may almost say the rush of the movement between the years 1881 and 1883, inclusive,—and after applying to them the test of criticism, I have no doubt in my mind as to their substantial accuracy. The importance of that movement which, year after year, I examined, could not have been described by smaller figures. But these were never claimed to be anything more than approximate, and were always so stated, the information having been obtained by questions and count, with the single intention of ascertaining the truth, as nearly as possible. I may further observe that the total movement of travel, in the years named, was much larger than the figures above stated, as was shown in the reports, but after the allowance which was made for this, and when the numbers of persons for whom the character of immigrants was claimed by the agents is examined, there is nothing which shows unreasonableness in the statements.

COMPARISON WITH AUSTRALIAN COLONIES.

The figures of immigration are very distinct in all countries which receive large numbers of immigrants, from those of emigration. Take the Australian colonies, for instance, entirely surrounded by ocean, a fact which affords easy means of ascertaining inflow and outflow. The latest returns which I have give the following results:—

Immigration and Emigration in Australia, 9 years.

Total immigration by sea from 1879 to 1887.....	1,846,592
Emigration by sea in the same period.....	1,283,787
Excess of immigrants over emigrants.....	562,805

And these figures are accompanied by a note to the effect that the emigration by sea was probably in excess of the figures recorded.* We have, therefore, the fact that not nearly one-third of the numbers reported to have arrived, remained. The disproportion between the immigration and emigration as shown by these figures is enormous. It far exceeds the disproportion as above shown between the increase of population accounted for by the census returns and the immigration reported by the agents of the Department of Agriculture, even in the not ordinary circumstances of Manitoba and the North-West Territories as above stated, and including the migration from the older Provinces,—the figures in Australia relating purely to immigration and emigration, as established by a sea line.

The figures of expenditure for immigration service by the Australian Colonies are also of much interest in comparison with our own. I have at hand such expenditure of all the Australian colonies from 1879 to 1887, inclusive. It is as follows:—

Expenditure for Immigration by the Australian Colonies.

1879.....	$2,121,544
1880.....	830,713
1881.....	623,483
1882.....	1,207,853
1883.....	2,446,346
1884.....	1,409,303
1885.....	1,267,994
1886.....	1,246,806
1887.....	1,124,320
	Total in nine years..... $12,278,362

We have thus an expenditure of over twelve millions and a-quarter of dollars for immigration purposes within the years named. These figures show an expenditure far in excess of that of Canada for the same service. The expenditure of Canada, for the same period (which was that of largest expenditure) for the same service, including all establishments in Europe and Canada, was $2,682,452.

The population of all the Australian colonies at the last general census of 1881 was 2,742,550; but it was then very rapidly increasing by immigration, the increase over the previous enumeration in 1871 being 38·87 per cent.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

JOHN LOWE,
Deputy Minister of Agriculture.

Minister of Agriculture.

APPENDIX.

BRITISH AMERICAN EMIGRANTS IN SECOND DEGREE IN THE UNITED STATES.

As cognate with the subject of the foregoing report, it may be interesting to look at the United States' claim, as stated on page 674 of the United States Census of 1880, relative to the numbers of British Canadians in the second degree, that is the children of the Canadian emigrants in the United States. The following table is given:—

Number of Persons in the United States, 1880, having one or both parents British American.

States and Territories (Population, 26,354,124).	Having British American Fathers.	Having British American Mothers.
Alabama	451	301
Arkansas	920	644
Arizona	500	533
California	20,333	19,275
Colorado	5,517	5,614
Connecticut	22,887	22,436
Dakota	10,145	10,230
Delaware	241	231
District of Columbia	538	519
Florida	561	433
Georgia	522	327
Idaho	682	614
Kentucky	1,205	1,003
Louisiana	1,350	878
Maryland	1,053	1,053
Massachusetts	152,350	157,248
Minnesota	40,311	38,628
Mississippi	460	302
Missouri	10,855	9,847
Montana	2,772	2,509
Nebraska	9,383	9,807
Nevada	2,793	2,784
New Hampshire	34,302	34,113
New Mexico	344	230
North Carolina	262	290
Oregon	4,328	3,560
Rhode Island	23,533	24,158
South Carolina	179	141
Tennessee	825	576
Texas	3,111	2,468
Vermont	43,253	41,500
Virginia	685	588
Washington	3,612	3,429
West Virginia	412	348
Wisconsin	44,939	43,015
Wyoming	537	524
Total by enumeration	446,151	440,276
Remaining States and Territories (population, 23,801,659) estimated	493,096	491,132
	939,247	981,408
Number of resident persons born in British America		717,157

These figures refer to the whole immigration, including Newfoundland, and it is distinctly stated in the rule given for computation in the page of the volume above stated, that the two sums of those having British American fathers and those having British American mothers are not to be added together, for the reason that the two columns run into each other and include the same persons. It is further expressly stated that the whole or the greater part of the 717,157 of the British American Emigrants are also included. There is then the presumption that the children of the Canadian immigrants numbered 218,170. Or to take another formula given in the volume referred to: for every 1,000 persons born in British America, 1,310 had a British American father, and 1,292 a British American mother. By taking 1,300 as an average, we have 215,000 persons in the States, born of British American parents outside of British America. For a full detail of the method of the United States Census Managing compilers, I refer to the volume at the page stated.

If we take the State of Massachusetts, census 1885, where there is large Canadian family settlement, and a population of 143,768 Canadians, we have the following results:—

Born in United States of Canadian mothers	27,278
do do do fathers.....	24,117

CRIMINAL STATISTICS OF CANADA

FOR THE YEAR ENDED 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1889.

These statistics are collected and compiled under authority of the Act relating to Criminal Statistics, Revised Statutes of Canada, Chapter 60.

The annexed report is composed of "Indictable Offences" and "Summary Convictions;" the indictable offences including the cases tried by competent magistrates with the consent of the accused, in accordance with the Acts respecting "Speedy Trials," "Summary Trials by Consent" and "Juvenile Offenders," Chapters 176, 177 and 178, Revised Statutes of Canada.

TABLE I is composed of the six following classes of offences into which crimes and minor offences are usually divided :—

Offences against the person; offences against property with violence; offences against property without violence; malicious offences against property; forgery and other offences against currency; other offences not included in the foregoing classes.

In this table there are fifty-six columns of information for each offence, if the prisoner is convicted, so far as are given by the returns; but in cases where the prisoner is acquitted, no further information is given than that simple fact.

TABLE II is a summary of the preceding table arranged by classes and provinces.

TABLE III gives the number of convictions returned by Police Magistrates and other Justices of the Peace out of Sessions, in accordance with the Act respecting "Summary Convictions," Chapter 178, Revised Statutes of Canada.

As this table is entirely composed of minor offences, there are only four columns of information in it, for each offence or conviction.

TABLE IV is a comparative statement giving the number of persons convicted, with ratio of criminality, for each province, since the year 1880.

TABLE V is a summary giving the number of cases disposed of by the several Courts of Justice of Canada.

TABLE VI is a comparative statement giving the number of cases disposed of by the Police and Recorder Courts, in the principal Cities and Towns of Canada.

TABLE VII is a statement showing the cases in which the prerogative of mercy has been exercised, during the year ended 30th September, 1889.

STATISTIQUE CRIMINELLE DU CANADA

POUR L'ANNÉE EXPIRÉE LE 30 SEPTEMBRE 1889.

Cette statistique est recueillie et compilée en vertu de l'Acte concernant la statistique criminelle, Statuts Revisés du Canada, chapitre 60.

Le rapport ci-joint se compose des "délits sujets à poursuite" et des "condamnations sommaires"; les délits sujets à poursuite comprenant les cas expédiés sommairement par des magistrats compétents, avec le consentement des personnes accusées, en conformité des Actes concernant les "procès expéditifs," les "procès sommaires" et les "jeunes délinquants," Statuts Revisés du Canada, chapitres 176, 177 et 178.

Le tableau I se compose des six classes d'offenses suivantes dans lesquelles sont généralement divisés les crimes et délits :

Outrages contre la personne; délits avec violence contre la propriété; délits sans violence contre la propriété; offenses malicieuses contre la propriété; faux et délits par rapport à la monnaie; autres délits non compris dans les classes précédentes.

Dans ce tableau, il y a cinquante-six colonnes de renseignements pour chaque offense, si le prisonnier est condamné, en autant que les rapports contiennent les détails voulus; mais dans les cas où le prisonnier est acquitté, ce simple fait est le seul renseignement donné.

Le tableau II est un résumé du tableau précédent, par classes et par provinces.

Le tableau III donne le nombre des condamnations contenues dans les rapports des magistrats de police et autres juges de paix, en vertu de la loi concernant les "condamnations sommaires," chapitre 178, Statuts Revisés du Canada. Ce tableau, composé entièrement de petits délits, ne contient que quatre colonnes de renseignements pour chaque offense ou condamnation.

Le tableau IV est un état comparatif donnant le nombre de personnes condamnées, avec la moyenne de criminalité pour chaque province, depuis l'année 1880.

Le tableau V est un résumé donnant le nombre de cas expédiés par les différentes cours de justice du Canada.

Le tableau VI est un état comparatif du nombre de cas expédiés par les cours de police et de recorder, dans les principales villes du Canada.

Le tableau VII indique les cas dans lesquels la prérogative du pardon a été exercée, durant l'année expirée le 30 septembre 1889.
