MILDMAY.

(The Toronto World.)

With a population of 1200 Mildmay is exceptional. It has no defined boundaries, having no corporate existence even as a village. By choice of its denizens it remains a hamlet in the township of Carrick, County of Bruce, and its affairs are managed by the township council. It has a mixed population with Germans and their descendants, who cling to the mother tongue in the majority.

The first purchasers of the site on which it stands were James Clark, William Stinson, Adam Johnston and William Hall. Balaklava, in the immediate vicinity, was already a village, while all around was a wilderness of forest, and the original owners never dreamed that they had purchased the site of a future town. Mr. Adam Johnston knew, doubtless, that "mighty oaks from little acorns grow," but he didn't know that when he sold a small plot of ground to a shoemaker, Patrick Fitzpatrick, a Paddy with a double brand, he was planting such an acorn. But it was the hut in the woods in which Fitzpatrick started his shoe shop that was a germ of the future town. That was in 1855, and when in 1856 Samuel Carr visited the spot, perhaps to have his boots repaired he saw a chance for a mill on Otter Creek, a branch of the Saugeen, running within sight of the shoe shop. But while Carr was constructing the sawmill William Lambert, who was a carder of wool, came through the woods, probably to have his footwear overlooked by Fitzpatrick, and saw his chance to go in with Carr. He bargained for space to put in a carding mill, to be run by the same head of water. Wool was carded in the basement and lumber manufactured in the upper storey. So one little industry followed another. The next year Archie White was constructing wagons, and the year following he opened the first country store. In 1859 came the first blacksmithshop. Thus gradually was formed the nucleus of a village. But what cared Balaklava with its name suggesting the heroic? It had the post-office, the centre of news for the settler. It was the elder cock, but it soon heard the challenge of the younger one, which Mr. Samuel Merner, who built the Royal Hotel, had named after himself, Mernerville, and a fight for the mastery became a foregone conclusion, and the prize of the contest was the post office. That contest came off in 1869, and Mernerville, under the balmy name of Mildmay, suggested by Mr. Murray the miller, carried off the prize. Balaklava, tho beaten, was still in the ring when about four years later the Northwestern Railway was being pushed towards Southampton and ran close to the belligerents. Then for the location of the depot they entered upon a life and death struggle. Mildmay had the advantage in elevation for the site, and was enabled to crow over its rival. And Balaklava died. And the place that knew it once will know it no more forever.

And how appears Mildmay to-day? If you don't know ask a German who does: the intelligent denizen will tell you that it is a growing town with a future; that it has its Hamel Furniture & Upholstering Co., quite a large concern that turns out centre tables, bed springs, mattresses, couches and high grade furniture, importing quartered oak for material. It is run by water power obtained from Otter Creek, a branch of the Saugeen; that on this creek right there, one below the other, are no fewer than four water heads, and room for more further down; he will tell you of the Herrgott Bros' foundry and manufactory of threshing machines, which are in great demand, and of cider presses, and sundry agricultural implements.

Also of George Schwalm's saw and planing mill, and how they are contractors and builders in a large way. Also of the Actna Rolling Mills, that export flour galore, and of Conrad Seiling's saw mill still run by water power, but supplemented by steam against a dry season, and of John F. Eckel's chopping mill run by water power, and lastly of the electric light plant, and a saw mill farther down stream run by water power. He will tell you that there is room there for many more industries which will be welcome; that there is no town debt, since it is neither town or village, and no tax to speak of, and one perceives that it runs the whole township, which is its corporate limits.

Evidently altho the whole township is tacked to its tail, that has not hampered its development, as its fire cement pavements, complete fire department, electric light and public library of 2500 volumes show.

The same gentleman will also tell you that theirs is the banner farming and stock-raising township in Bruce County, and that they have water galore, not in Otter Creek alone, but in five or six natural flowing artesian wells.

Altogether it is an inviting spot for industries, business and residence. It has a Separate and a Public school, and five churches, Methodist, Presbyterian, Evangelical, Lutheran and Roman Catholic. It has an athletic association, with a park and large skating rink, and is one of the many towns that demonstrate the wonderful development of this section of Ontario.—W. J. S.

A Kansas City man recently wrote to a lawyer in another town of the State asking for information touching the standing of a person there who had owed the Kansas city individual a considerable sum of money for a long time.

"What property has he that I could attach?" was one of the questions asked. The lawyer's reply was to the point.

"The person to whom you refer," he wrote, "died a year ago. He left nothing subject to attachment except a widow."

NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL READERS

It is announced that the Ontario Educational Department that the Minister of Education had definitely decided to prepare a new set of Public School Readers for the schools of the Province.

The official statement says: "This view is in accord with the views of educationists generally. At the last meeting of the Ontario Educational Association the following resolution was adopted:

That the Ontario Readers, after twenty years of service, should now give place to a set of readers that would reflect more correctly our nationality of to-day; that would be more in accord with educational principles in character of matter, arrangement and adaptation to the needs of the various grades; that would be models of excellence in illustration, type, paper and binding, and that a separate reader be supplied for the work of each grade.

The reason birds do not fall off their perches is because they cannot open their feet when their legs are bent. When a hen walks, its toes close as it raises its foot and open as it puts it down.

MOST REVOLTING CRUELTY

A Young German Ship Apprentice Brutally Treated.

A despatch from Campbellton, N. B., says: From Bonaventure comes a tale of cruelty that would seem incredible but for the testimony of eyewitnesses. The victim is a young German, and his oppressors were, it is alleged, Captain K. S. Kristiansen of the Norwegian barque Agat and the first mate of the same vessel. The Agat arrived at Bonaventure on September 18, and finished loading on September 19. The cruelties came under the observation of Sievedore Gallagher and his men a day or two after they began loading. One morning they found the boy tied to a ring bolt on deck. Both his hands and feet were tied, and he could scarcely move half a foot. He was kept in this position for days, it is alleged, and the only food handed him consisted of burned crusts and water. He told Sievedore that the mate had thumped his head against the deck until it had driven him mad. The boy was taken aboard as he was, a rope attached to him, and lowered over the side of the vessel, then dipped several times into the water, and at length brought out, but not dead.

On another occasion the longshoremen saw the mate with an iron bar chase the boy up through the rigging, in a terrified manner. Baring his neck and shoulders, the boy showed Oswald Smith of Campbellton and others marks which he said had been inflicted by the mate with a red-hot iron.

Mr. Smith remonstrated with the captain for treating the boy as he did, saying that the boy could not understand his orders. The second mate, it is said, was about the only member of the crew who sympathized with the boy. He told Second Stevedore Garratt that if he was treated the way the boy was he would kill every man on board and then himself.

The stories of the cruelties were brought ashore by men loading the vessel, and they reached the local authorities, with the result that officers went on board the vessel and took the boy ashore. They also wired some of the facts to the German Consul at Montreal. The Consul wired back to have the mate and captain arrested, on information laid by the boy. Both the captain and mate were arrested and taken to New Carlisle and locked up, and their examination began on Tuesday before Magistrate Tremblay. The captain was fined $100 and the mate fined $100 and sent to jail for three months.

Another German boy, who was also the victim of ill-treatment on board the Agat, ran away. He was located by the authorities, and was one of the witnesses against the mate. It was brought out that while the boy was tied hand and foot a cat was tied to him, and that he was subjected to other horrifying cruelties.

FIFTEEN PERISH IN TRAIN WRECK. And Many Also Injured on the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad.

A despatch from Wheeling, West Virginia, says: Fifteen people were killed and fifteen injured in a wreck one mile from Bellair Junction, Ohio, on Saturday, caused by the head-on collision between Chicago Express No. 14 of the Baltimore and Ohio line and a freight train that had been given a siding to allow a clear track for the passenger train. The Chicago express, which was 3 1/2 hours late, and was due here at 11.30 a.m., was running at about forty miles an hour, under signals for a clear track ahead, when it entered the Bellair Junction yards at Shick's Station, a mile from the Bellair Depot. A west-bound freight had been given a siding at Shick's Station to await the express, but through negligence the operator at the signal tower had failed to close the tracks between the east-bound track, on which the express was travelling, and the track on which the freight was standing. The engine of the express, suddenly veered off, and before the brakes could be applied the engines of the passenger and the freight came together.

TOWNS SWEEPED AWAY.

Great Destruction of Life and Property in Spain.

A despatch from Madrid says: Unprecedented rains in Andalusia caused immense destruction of life and property. The Guadalquivir River has been converted into a raging torrent three miles wide, and bridges, houses and even entire villages have been swept away. The streets in the lower part of Malaga have been inundated and many families rendered homeless. Thirty persons were drowned at Malaga, 23 at Velez de Benamargosa, 13 at Colenar, and about 100 in other places in the valley.

A REMARKABLE OPERATION

Doctors Saved the Life of a Man Almost Decapitated.

A despatch from New York says: Three surgeons at St. Gregory's Hospital had a hard struggle on Tuesday to save the life of a man who was almost beheaded by an elevator in a building at No. 213 Front street. The patient, Bernard Rush, while taking a load of coal, from the first to the second floor, slipped and became wedged between the floor and the platform of the elevator. The elevator was stopped in time to save his head from being torn from the shoulders. At the hospital it was found that in addition to the large muscles of the neck being severed, several small arteries and veins were separated. The patient was conscious throughout the operation, which was performed without anesthetics of any kind. Rush was powerless to move his head because the largest muscles of the neck were snapped in two.

The physicians worked over the patient for nearly three hours, sewing together blood vessels and various structures of the neck. The jugular vein and the windpipe were not seriously injured, as clearly as though it was done by a razor.

According to the physicians, more than twenty-two blood vessels, nerves, muscles, veins and arteries had to be sutured. The operation was a tedious one, some of the vessels being so small that the finest cutgut had to be used.

The physicians said that the only thing that saved the man's life was that his head was forced backward. If it had been thrown forward it would have broken the spinal cord and several of the vertebrae, causing certain death. The man is expected to recover.

CYCLONE SWEEPS EUROPE

Whole Towns Under Water in the South of France.

A despatch from London says: England, which has suffered throughout September from the exaggerated clemency of the weather, is now receiving reports of a vast cyclone, chiefly affecting Western Europe. Atlantic steamship passengers bring accounts of much worse experiences than those met with by the Lusitania's passengers. Lisbon was overswept by wind, rain and thunder last Tuesday. The tornado travelled southward, striking Malaga and even extended to Casablanca, on the Moorish coast, where the French camp was wrecked Thursday.

The main body of the cyclone meanwhile went further east and slightly north and burst over the south of France Friday morning unheralded by storm signs. There the centre of the disturbance seems to have halted, and the downpour continued on Sunday. The damage to the vintage in the Department of Herault is now enormous. The valleys are flooded and whole towns are under water. Some of the rivers have risen twelve feet, and where they have receded human bodies have been found in the branches of trees. President Fallieres is visiting the stricken districts. Rain and thunder continue incessantly.

On the plain of Plorensac, near Montpellier, where President Fallieres arrived on Sunday night, over 2,000 vintagers, men, women, and children, were gathering grapes, when panting gendarmes rushed upon them crying: "Run for your lives!" All dashed for high ground, and in less than ten minutes a swirling mass of water swept across the plain. Thirty women and twenty men took refuge in one small farm house, where they remained for thirty-six hours without food. Military engineers in pontoons and boats are scouring the district rescuing people who have been imprisoned for days. The River Herault, which has flooded the entire plain of Agde, is still rising.

MANY DEATHS.

Toulon has also suffered, and communication is broken. There have been many deaths, but the precise number cannot be ascertained yet. There were torrential rains in Lisbon on the occasion of the return of the Crown Prince from his African tour. Nevertheless the Queen ran out from a pavilion and embraced him under the deluge. One-quarter of Lisbon is inundated. Lightning struck the operating room of St. Joseph's Hospital, and two patients died of fright. At the theatres, where rehearsals were proceeding, the artists fell on their knees and offered wild prayers. Many of them were in such a condition that the performance had to be canceled.

The damage at Malaga is placed at $4,000,000. Parties of immigrants, who were waiting to embark, have disappeared, and there is no trace of them.

MOTORMAN KILLED.

Hugh Hayes of Ottawa Ran His Car Into One Ahead.

A despatch from Ottawa says: Hugh Hayes, York Street, Ottawa, lost his life on Saturday night by a rear-end collision between two Britannia Street cars. Hayes was a motorman on one of the cars and was not of long experience. By some inadvertence he failed to stop his car in time, and it crashed into the car ahead, which was filled with passengers, but which fortunately was little damaged. Hayes' car was badly smashed and Hayes himself was so seriously injured that he died in the hospital at noon on Sunday. Luckily there was no one on the car but himself and the conductor.

JAPANESE PASSPORTS.

Arrivals at Vancouver Must Have Them Direct From Japan.

A despatch from Vancouver says: Dr. Monro, Dominion immigration officer at this port, stated on Saturday evening that he had received instructions from the seat of government not to allow any more Japanese to land here without having passports direct from Japan to Canada. Further than that, he stated that he had notified the steamboat and transportation companies to that effect. Dr. Monro received his instructions on Saturday.

CROSSING THE WHEAT.

Prof. McBride of McGill Reports Cambridge Experiments Successful.

A despatch from Montreal says: Professor McBride of McGill University has just returned from Cambridge University, where he investigated the new process of wheat crossing. He believes that the question has been solved. He claims that the qualities of certain kinds of wheat are due to heredity and are not the result of the climate. By a process of cross-breeding he has got a product which combines the good qualities of Manitoba hard with those of English wheat. The large soft heads of English wheat and the hard qualities of Manitoba No. 1 make an ideal product and one which will double the yield of the Canadian wheat fields.

LOOK TO CANADA FOR SUPPLY.

Liverpool Merchants Hear the Canadian Commissioners.

A despatch from London says: At a meeting of the Provision Trade Association, at Liverpool, J. E. Worrall, introducing Mr. Ruddick, Canadian Dairy Commissioner, said the United States was becoming less and less an exporting country, so they must look to the colonies for their increase of food supplies. He hoped Mr. Ruddick would tell all Canadian shippers that Liverpool importers were in a position and determined to do business.

Mr. Ruddick, in the course of his address, dealt with various matters of technical interest to the provision trade. He was convinced the falling off in shipments of butter from Canada was only temporary, and when prices of cheese and butter become better a large quantity of milk could be turned into butter instead of cheese. Japan shipments would also become greater as the Government were assisting exportations from Canada.

KILLED BY FALLEN WIRE.

Dundas Man Struck Down While Walking on the Street.

A despatch from Dundas says: Samuel Sutton was killed by an electric light wire which had fallen, while walking down the main street about 7.15 on Friday evening. Mr. Sutton was a well-known resident, coming to Dundas from Freeport, Ont., where he was born. He was an employee of the Canada Mailing Company, and was about sixty years of age. He leaves a widow and grown-up family. The light rain falling in the evening made the wire more dangerous. He was taken to the town hall, a few yards from where he was stricken, and medical aid was summoned almost immediately, but the man was past aid. It is alleged that the fallen wire, which was a service wire of the Dundas Electric Company, was insufficiently insulated, and for that reason largely contributed to the fatality.

Five million of the new international stamps, good anywhere in the Postal Union, are ready for distribution in London.

DISASTROUS FLOODS IN JAPAN

Over Six Hundred Perished. With Much Damage to Property.

A despatch from Victoria, B. C., says: More than 600 lives have been lost in floods in the last week in Japan, according to advices received here. The River Otomangawa, running through the town of Fukuhigama, near Kioto, overflowed its banks, rose to a distance of more than 50 feet above high water marks previously established and caused immense damage to property and loss of life.

The disaster was an exceptionally heavy blow to Japan, because it came as a climax to a succession of calamities on land and sea. The trouble began with a famine in the southern part of the empire, when thousands died of starvation and many persons died.

While the Government was doing its utmost to relieve the sufferers, Hakodate was burned, with a loss of 100 lives and nearly 100,000 being left homeless. Strenuous efforts by the Government were exerted to succor the survivors.

The floods then began in several parts of the empire, with great destruction of property and loss of lives. Public mourning following the disaster had not ceased when news reached of the arrival of the drowning of the Empress in the latest flood.

Despite its being already taxed almost to the limit, the Government is relieving those who survived the deluge but lost all their property in it.

Cassie Chadwick, whose doings in the financial world caused a sensation in America three years ago, is dead in the Ohio State Penitentiary.

Harry K. Thaw's second trial will begin on December 2. The agreement has been reached between District Attorney Jerome, Martin W. Limton, council for Thaw, and Justice Dowling, of the Supreme Court. Mr. Limton wanted the date fixed for November 1, but Mr. Jerome opposed this, and offered the date which was selected.

The quantity of water which is daily lifted from the seas, lakes and rivers of the world by evaporation is about 510 cubic miles, and the average amount of rain which falls on the surface of the globe during a year is 60 inches. The editor of this paper did not take these measurements himself, therefore does not vouch for their absolute correctness.

To live seventy years in the one place and never set foot on a railway train or see a trolley car, seems rather peculiar in Canada, but such has been the case with Mr. George Pennell, of Cargill, Bruce County. Pennell went to London to see the Fair this year, and he marvelled at the steam and electrical railways. Being shown a vaudeville performance, he maintained that one of the acrobatic turns put on was not the work of men but of machines. Many times during his life his friends have endeavored to induce Pennell to get on a train, but he always refused, saying he felt that he would be killed. It took a great deal to at last overcome his prejudice.

Police Magistrate, McEwing of Palmerston, on Wednesday sentenced John Price to 23 months' hard labor in the Central Prison. He was tried and found guilty of having indecently assaulted a girl about 14 years of age, Saturday evening, Sept. 28th. Price is about 25 years old, and is accused of having chased and approached a number of residents of Palmerston.

"My rubber," said Nat Goodwin, describing a Turkish bath that he once had in Mexico, "was a very strong man. He laid me on a slab and kneaded me and punched me and banged me in a most emphatic way. When it was over, and I had gotten up, he came up behind me, before my sheet was adjusted, and gave me three resounding slaps on the back with the palm of his enormous hand. 'What are you doing?' I gasped, staggering. 'No offence, sir,' said the man, 'it was only to let the office know that I was ready for the next bather. You see, sir, the bell's out of order in this room.'"

HIS KICK.

A traveller putting up at a small hotel out in California, brought the porter up to his room with his angry storming.

"Want your room changed, sir? What is the matter?"

"The room's all right," fumed the guest, scorchingly. "It's the fleas I object to, that's all."

"Mrs. Hawkins!" shouted the porter, in an uninterested sort of a voice, "the gent in No. 7 is satisfied with his rooms, but he wants the fleas changed."

The town of Gravenhurst has completed the development of a cheap power scheme. At a cost of $45,000 the town council have installed at South Falls, eight miles from the town, a plant which it is claimed, will supply electrical energy at $7 per horse power, the cheapest in Ontario. By doubling the capacity of the plant at a further cost of $20,000, it is possible to develop 4,000 horse power.

In 87 municipalities where there are 287 licenses, local option campaigns are more or less advanced. In some places by-laws have already been put through the preliminary stages in the municipal council and everything is ready for the campaign. In the great majority of cases, however, the question will come up before the October meetings.

Mr. G. A. Putman, Superintendent of Institutes, says the attendance at the meetings of the Women's Institutes has been adversely affected because of the reckless speed of many automobilists using rural roads, and their disregard of regulations provided in legislative enactments. In a circular issued to all trainmen the Grand Trunk Railway insists that all train crews shall take their eight hours' rest after sixteen hours on the road. No man can be posted again until he has had a rest, and penalty for neglecting these instructions is dismissal. The circular admits of no misinterpretation, it being stated in one paragraph that rather than allow trainmen to leave a station without sufficient rest the train should be taken off.

GIRLS OF TO-DAY ARE WEAKLINGS.

FEW POSSESS THE VITALITY AND GILLISH BEAUTY OF THE OLDEN TIMES.

Never before was physical health and vigor so highly esteemed and so eagerly sought for as to-day.

No man finds happiness in a sickly wife, and the woman who wishes to enjoy the pleasures of life should spare no effort to maintain perfect health.

Is your daughter growing up strong and ruddy? Has she strength to drink in greedily all the pleasures that youth so zealously desires—or is she compelled to use the street car instead of enjoying the delightful exercise of walking—does she after the ball arise refreshed and vigorous, or is she exhausted, indifferent and perhaps irritable?

When strength and vigor can be so easily maintained by Ferrozone, when the glow of health is so quickly brought to the cheeks and elasticity to the step, it is plainly a mother's duty to see that Ferrozone is on hand to assist her daughter back to health.

Upon the wake of Ferrozone quickly follows a stream of rich, nourishing blood which imparts that power and surplus energy so earnestly desired by those in ill-health.

Stop and think what this means for your daughter—certainly a great deal, and it can be accomplished Ferrozone.

Every growing girl and young woman derives enormous benefit in many ways from this nutritive, vitalizing tonic.

It is specially suited for young women and is a guarantee of health and regularity as long as it is used.

Ferrozone is free from alcohol and perfectly safe to use. Prepared in the form of a chocolate-coated tablet and sold in 50c. boxes or six for $2.50, at all dealers.

There is probability of Mr. Alex. McNeil, ex-M. P., re-entering politics. The Conservatives of the north are discussing him as a probable candidate. It is said, however, that he will not accept a party nomination. Mr. McNeil is spoken of by men of all political leanings as a man of clean record, and there is no doubt his following would be strong should he decide to present himself before the electorate again.

HEALTH

TYPHOID FEVER.

Typhoid fever is a preventable disease; so absolutely preventable, indeed, that it is no exaggeration to say that somebody is to blame for every case that occurs, although, so devious are the ways by which the germ travels from its source to its destination, it is often very difficult to place the blame where it belongs. It is, broadly speaking, a country disease; that is, the first cases in an epidemic in a city are almost always attributable to a contamination of the milk-supply, or of the water-supply at its origin or along its course in the country. After the disease has got well under way it may be spread broadcast by other means—flies, for example.

In certain parts of the country it usually prevails more or less all the time in the form of isolated cases, but in cities it often breaks out in epidemic form. Apart from the water or milk contamination, typhoid fever is not infrequently carried to the city on salads and vegetables that are eaten raw.

The disease begins in from two weeks after the infecting material has been taken into the stomach. The first symptoms are indefinite—headache, loss of appetite, sometimes slight chills, and a general listlessness and loss of strength. These symptoms increase in severity for a week, accompanied by steadily rising fever, higher in the evening than in the morning. Diarrhoea is frequent; the headache is often exceedingly acute.

As the disease progresses the physical forces are greatly depressed. The tongue and mouth are dry, there is excessive thirst, and there may be delirium. In very severe cases the patient lies on his back, low in the bed, muttering indistinctly and plucking aimlessly at the bedclothes.

In favorable cases improvement comes in the third or fourth week. The fever declines, the tongue becomes moist, the patient takes an interest in his surroundings, and as convalescence is established, begins to clamor for food.

In no disease is careful nursing so important as in typhoid fever. Indeed, in many cases it may be said the patient owes his life more to the nurse than to the doctor, although with equal truth it may be said that in no disease is the constant watchfulness of the physician more needed.

But the duties of the nurse are not confined to caring for the patient. She has the grave responsibility upon her of protecting others from contagion. The poison thrown off in the discharges from the bowels and bladder, and these should be kept for at least two hours in a vessel containing an equal amount of some powerful disinfectant before being thrown away. They should never be thrown on the ground in any place where the rain would wash them into a stream or well or cistern. They had better be thrown into a hole in which is put at the same time a quantity of coppers or unslaked lime.

To Cure Chapped Hands.—Have a druggist prepare a solution from equal parts of alcohol, glycerin, and witch hazel. Keep the preparation by the kitchen sink, and after washing the hands and while they still are wet pour a little of the mixture into one palm. Rub over both hands and dry on the towel as usual.

To Remove Bug from Ear.—Let patient lie down with bug side up. Then drop in water, a drop at a time, slowly. As the water rises the bug will work out unless firmly held by wax, in which case a syringe or forceps may be necessary.

Help for Insomnia.—Wet a cloth or handkerchief in cold water and bind around the wrist, tucking the loose end in securely. The cold cools the blood before it reaches the head and whatever draws or cools the blood will relieve the brain.

Plaster for Burn.—Cover the burn with sweet oil, then apply cake of dough, made of flour and water. It will draw out the fire.

Home Made Hair Tonic.—Take one ounce sage, steep in boiling water for half hour; strain and add two ounces glycerine, quarter ounce powdered borax, quarter ounce lac sulphur, and a little perfume.

An eminent doctor recommends the following as a cure for sore feet: Alum, three ounces; tannin, one ounce; brown vinegar, one pint; rosewater, half a pint. Mix and apply a little as lotion after washing the feet.

FEATHERS WERE PINNED ON.

Poultry Breeder Was Sent to Prison for Cruelty.

At Sonneberg, Germany, the other day a well known poultry breeder named Morgenroth, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for having inflicted terrible suffering on a number of fowls exhibited by him at the recent great German Poultry Show held in that town.

Morgenroth hoped to secure firsts in certain of the highest classes with his birds, but the feathers of a number of cocks were not in accordance with the regulations governing the exhibits in these classes. He accordingly plucked the birds, and, having procured a sufficient quantity of the correct feathers, fastened them skillfully to the flesh of the fowls with pins.

In order to keep the tail feathers of cocks in an upright position, Morgenroth attached them to wires driven into the flesh of the birds. So indignant were the judges that they gave Morgenroth a severe flogging before handing him over to the police.

SERIOUS CONSEQUENCES AVERTED AT KINGSTON BY ZAM-BUK.

Blood poison might have proved fatal in the case of Mr. Thos. Foster, of Kingston, had it not been for Zam-Buk. Mr. Foster says—

"Last fall I had a nasty sore foot caused by the irritation from injecting eyelet in my shoe. Before I was aware of it the colored sock had poisoned the flesh and I suffered much in consequence. I tried many salves and ointments yet was no improvement until I began using Zam-Buk. This ointment drew out the inflammation and poisonous matter and healed the sore in several days after applying."

All skin diseases quickly yield to Zam-Buk. Sold by all stores and drug vendors at 50c. a box, or postpaid from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 31 St. George St., $1.25.

A writer says that whipping a child may make him stupid. It may be, but it is more likely to make him snuggly.

Help your children to grow strong and robust by counteracting anything that causes ill-health. One great cause of disease in children is worms. Move them with Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator. It never fails.

Mr. Hardup (entering the nurse's room) "Why, what are all you children doing for?" Small Boy—"Please, pa, Tommy's the bill collector, and he called with an account."

Nearly all infants are more or less subject to diarrhoea and such complaints while teething and as this period of their lives is the most critical, parents should not be without a box of Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery and Diarrhoea. This medicine is a specific for such complaints and is highly spoken of by those who have used it. Proprietors claim it will cure any case of cholera or summer complaint.

She—"I can't see why, because when a woman marries a man, she should know his name." He—"Just so. The fellow ought to be allowed to tell something he could call his own!"

ITCH. Mange, Friction Scratches every form of contagious itch in human animals cured in 30 minutes by Ford's Sanitary Lotion. It never fails by all druggists.

A crank is a man who knows all about a subject which you know nothing about.

A Good Medicine requires little advertising. Dr. Thomas' Electric gained the good name it now enjoys through elaborate advertising on its great merit as a remedy for all pains and ailments of the rectory organs. It has carried its name with it wherever it has gone, and is prized at the antipodes as well as at home. Dose small, effect sure.

Customer—"Look here! All the tens came off this coat the first I wore it." Aaronheimer (the tailor) "Yes? So many people admire that you shew it with pride and these buttons off."

Weak and Sickly People envy those in the best of health. No need to stay sick when by the use of the best tonic, "Ferrovin," you can get rich and renewed strength and vigor.

Richie—"Look at me! Twenty years ago a poor boy, working like a dog and now—look at me! See what I made myself." Smartie—"Yes, sir, you—Is this meant as a warning or an example?"

You cannot be happy while you have corns. Then do not delay in getting a bottle of Holloway's Corn Cure. It moves all kinds of corns without failure with it is unknown.

HEALTH HINTS.

Lockjaw Relief.—Warm a small quantity of spirits of turpentine and upon the wound. Relief will follow less than a minute.

For Cinder in the Eye.—When a cinder flies into one eye immediately close the other eye, put finger on it to keep it closed. Then keep injured eye as far as possible. Don't give in until it keeps it up.

Croup Relief.—Melt a small lump of butter in a serving spoon over a lamp. Add a teaspoonful of cod liver oil and pour slowly down the throat. This gives instant relief.

A NEW IGNITION BATTERY.

Owing to the constantly increasing severity of the ignition problem, the NATIONAL CARBON COMPANY, Cleveland, Ohio, deemed it advisable to design a battery especially for this class of work. The Columbia Ignitor "Red Top" Dry Cell which is the result of their experiments is without question the highest type of ignition battery on the market to-day. These cells give a hot snappy spark, recuperate rapidly and have long life. They are made in three sizes. This company will be pleased to send their booklet "Kinks," which treats on all Gas Engine troubles, free to owners of automobiles, Launches, Gas Engines, etc.

Tom Smith was walking down the street accompanied by his dog, whose tail he had recently "bobbed," when he met Will Scudd. The latter, seeing the stunted tail, pointed to it, and laughingly said—"Why, Tom, I never saw that before." "Of course not," replied Tom; "dogs' tails are always behind."

A Sure Cure for Headache.—Bilious headache, to which women are more subject than men, becomes so acute in some subjects that they are utterly prostrated. The stomach refuses food, and there is a constant and distressing effort to free the stomach from bile which has become unduly secreted there. Parrelle's Vegetable Pills are a speedy alternative, and in neutralizing the effects of the intruding bile relieves the pressure on the nerves which cause the headache. Try them.

Make a Fence of Strength

The heaviest, strongest wires made can't make a strong fence unless the locks are as strong as the wires. A fence, like a chain, is only as strong as its weakest spot. The New Frost Lock and Frost Wedge Lock are the most unyielding parts of a Frost Fence. They make the whole fence as strong as the strongest wire.

We guarantee to repair—free of charge—any Frost Fence that goes wrong.
